UCF professor resigns after child porn arrest

ORLANDO — Madjid Adam Belkerdid, the University of Central Florida electrical engineering professor arrested by Sanford police last month during a controversial sting operation involving a 12-year old juvenile, officially resigned his position as a full professor Thursday.

Belkerdid faces an Oct. 12 arraignment on charges of lewd and lascivious acts on a child and sexual battery on a child. Belkerdid, 48, has been on administrative leave from the university since his arrest Aug. 30. University officials said they planned to prosecute him for misusing computer equipment in connection with the alleged crime. He will remain an employee of the school until Oct. 22, using sick leave, but will have no official duties with the university.

After contacting a 12-year old girl via the internet and faxing the youth a picture of his genitals, Belkerdid was nabbed in a Sanford park when police set up a sting operation and wired the juvenile with a hidden recording device. Belkerdid allegedly touched the breast of the juvenile before police moved in and made an arrest.

Man arrested for sexual assault of child at retail store

LONGWOOD — Police arrested a registered sexual offender Thursday night following an incident at the Big Lots store on U.S. Highway 17-92 near State Road 434.

Jason Brubacher, 27, is being held without bond at the Seminole County Jail after he pushed a boy into the men's room of the store and sexually assaulted him. The boy's mother physically struggled with Brubacher long enough for police to arrive and apprehend him.

Brubacher was charged in Osceola County in 1992 with lewd and lascivious acts on a child under the age of 12. He was sentenced to five years in prison in December 1994. He also has two Osceola County burglary convictions and served prison time from January 1, 1995 to February 28, 1998.

Lake Mary considers skate park

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

LAKE MARY — Teenagers in Lake Mary may get a new place to skate.

Lake Mary residents have long complained about skateboarding taking place on the property of private businesses and City Hall. In turn, skateboarders tell city officials they need a place to skate.

That may change. The Lake Mary City Commission on Thursday voted unanimously for the city to seek funding to construct a skate park at the Lake Mary Sports Complex.

City seeks state funding to provide spot for skateboarders

The park would accommodate skateboarding, in-line skating, and free style bicycling. City Manager John Litton estimates the park would cost about $150,000 to construct.

However, those waiting to use the park will need to be patient. If Lake Mary's grant request to the Florida Recreation Development Assistance Program is approved, the city would have up to three years to develop the park. The city has not set a timeline for when construction could begin.

Lake Mary can apply for no more than $200,000 from the grant program for fiscal year 2000-2001, which begins Oct. 1 of 2000.

"For the young people in the city of Lake Mary who have contacted all of us, we thank you for your patience and want you to know we are doing everything we can to make this a reality," said Mayor David Meador.

Commissioner Thom Greene said the park could provide an opportunity to bring youth together. Once youth are using the park, Greene said he hopes D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) officers from the city's police department would also be able to discuss drug awareness and violence prevention.

"This would be a great opportunity for D.A.R.E. officers to work with the kids," Greene said.

Longwood seeks to move lawsuit to federal court

By Joe DeBentis
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Longwood City Attorney Richard Taylor filed a motion Thursday to have a lawsuit dealing with Longwood's Fall Arts Festival moved from Seminole Circuit Court to Federal Court in Orlando.

The suit, filed in July by Winter Springs attorney Mike Jones on behalf of a handful of residents on Warren Avenue, claims the city has unlawfully closed Warren Avenue and deprived residents free access to their homes during the two-day event held in November for the past 23 years. It also contends the city illegally entered into an agreement with a private organization, the Central Florida Historical Preservation Society which runs the festival.

Jones' suit seeks temporary and permanent injunctive relief to keep Warren Avenue open, claims the plaintiffs' civil rights are being denied, seeks $15,000 in damages, as well as attorneys fees.

Taylor said because part of the suit deals with civil rights, legal remedy for the situation would invoke federal law.

"Remedies under federal law date back to 1963 legislation dealing with civil rights," he said.

Since the lawsuit was filed, Taylor and other city officials have met with the plaintiffs once in an attempt to work out a compromise and avoid a date in court.

"The plaintiffs are demanding that the city leave all of Warren Avenue open from Milwee to Wilma and all of Wilma open from city hall to SR 434," Taylor said. "In essence, that will

Today is Raymond Gaines Day

LAKE MARY — Friday is Raymond Gaines day in Lake Mary.

Former Lake Mary High School Principal Raymond Gaines was given the honor Thursday in a proclamation by the Lake Mary City Commission.

"When my wife told me I had another appointment I wasn't expecting this," Gaines told the commission. "This is a highlight of my life. I am deeply honored that the City Commission saw fit to honor the students, faculty and staff of Lake Mary High School, because they're the ones who deserve this award."

Earlier this month, Gaines took over as executive director of secondary education for high schools for the Seminole County school-district after six years as a principal at Lake Mary.

Lake Mary High School in August received an "A" on the state's accountability report.

Gaines previously was the vice principal of Lake Howell High School for 17 years. He has been a teacher or administrator in Seminole County since 1966.

Boyd Kerns has replaced Gaines as Lake Mary High School's principal.

Sims faces death 22 years after killing Seminole County deputy

By Joe DeBentis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Nearly 22 years after he shot and killed Seminole County sheriff's deputy George Pfeil, 57-year-old Terry Sims has a date with Florida's electric chair.

Florida Gov. Jeb Bush Thursday signed a death warrant for Sims in Tallahassee. Barring an 11th-hour intervention or delays, Sims is scheduled to be executed on Oct. 26.

Bush also signed a death warrant Thursday for 40-year-old Anthony B. Bryan, on death row since 1986 for the murder of 60-year old George Wilson of Pasagoula, Miss. Bryan drove Wilson to Florida then shot him to death on Aug. 12, 1983.

Sims, a member of a group called the "Dixie Mafia," which robbed a number of Central Florida businesses in the mid-1970's, killed Pfeil on Dec. 29, 1977, during a shoot-out at the Longwood Village Pharmacy.

Pfeil, in full uniform, was on his way home when he stopped at the pharmacy to pick up a prescription. He walked into the store as Sims and Curtis Baldrée were in the process of robbing the facility, while accomplices Clarence Robinson and B.B. Halell waited outside in a get-

Skate

Lake Mary Chief of Police Richard Beary said a similar skate park already in use in New Smyrna has caused little disturbance, and also provides an example of what Lake Mary's skate park can become. "They have had really good luck," Beary said. "There have been very few problems, and it is drawing kids away from skating on private property." For a project that costs between $50,000 to $150,000, the grant would cover 75 percent of the cost while the city would pay the remaining 25 percent.

If the project costs more than $150,000, the grant would cover 50 percent of the cost while the city would be responsible for 50 percent. "We do get a lot of complaints right now about skateboarding on public and private property," Beary said. "This is a chance to address that." Commissioner Gary Brender said he wanted to see the city work with law enforcement to minimize complaints as well as potential injuries resulting from skating. "I would like to make sure that we approach this from a team effort to make sure we minimize the impacts," Brender said. The Florida legislature this year passed a law encouraging governments to make land available for skateboarding, in-line skating, and free style bicycling. The legislature also provided that no government or employee would be liable to a person who for damage or injury arising from the activity when it takes place in an area such as a skate park. The law does not obligate the city to build a skate park if funding is unavailable.

AP Test scores increasing for Seminole County students

By Bill Kerne Staff Writer

SANFORD — An increasing number of high school students in Seminole County and across the state are taking and passing exams for college credit. The number of Seminole County students passing Advanced Placement (AP) exams increased 7.8 percent from the 1997-1998 school year to the 1998-1999 year based on information provided to the school-district from the college board. Over the same period, the number of county students taking the exams also increased 7.4 percent. Out of 2,971 students in Seminole County taking AP exams last school year, 64.9 percent passed. This represents an increase from Seminole County's 64.5 percent passing rate in 1997-1998. "This is a test that really means something nationwide," said Seminole County School Board Chairman Larry Furlong. "Students get hammered with the (Florida Comprehensive Assessment Test), but you can take AP scores anywhere and people know what they mean." The statewide passing rate of 57.3 percent was the highest rate since 1984. The number of students taking AP exams increased 10.3 percent over one school year to 78,346 in 1998-1999. Nationwide, the passing rate has remained steady the last three school years at 64.5 percent. The 1.2 million students taking AP exams last school year increased 11.6 percent from 1997-98. The AP program gives students the opportunity to pursue college-level studies while still in high school and receive advanced placement and credit in college. The exams are graded individually on a 5-point scale. Many colleges, including Florida community colleges and state universities, offer credit to students who receive a score of 3 or higher on an AP exam. Statewide, the number of AP exams taken has more than doubled over the last ten years and the number of exams per student is also up. The most popular AP courses for Florida students were U.S. History, English literature, English language, and calculus. Lake Mary High School had the highest AP passing rate in the school-district, at 84 percent, a slight increase from its 83 percent passing rate one year earlier. The number of students at Lake Mary taking the tests also increased, from 542 to 567. Winter Springs High School, which started in 1997-1998 without seniors on campus, experienced the largest increase district-wide in the number of students taking and passing AP exams. In fact, only seven students at Winter Springs took AP exams in 1997-1998, compared to 102 last school year. Out of those taking the exam, 71 passed last school year, and four passed in 1997-1998. At both Oviedo and Seminole high schools, the passing rate increased five percent. At Oviedo, 67 percent of the students taking AP exams in 1998-1999 passed, up from 62 percent the previous school year. The number of students taking AP exams at Oviedo increased 37 percent to 692 in 1998-1999. Seminole High School had 63 percent of the students taking the exam pass in 1998-99, up from its 58 percent passing rate the previous year. However, the number of students taking the exam declined slightly from 1,161 to 1,173. "We're working hard to increase the number of students taking and passing the AP exam," said Seminole High School Principal Karen Coleman. "We want to encourage as many students as we can to attempt the course." Lake Howell High School's AP exam passing rate declined four points to 63 percent last school year. The number of students taking the exam increased slightly from 272 to 276 in 1998-1999. Lake Brantley High School's passing rate increased one point to 54 percent last school year, at a time when the number of students taking AP exams increased 4.9 percent to 804. Lyman High School's passing rate declined eight points to 56 percent last school year, but the number of students taking AP exams increased in one year from 348 to 357. Increasingly diverse populations of students are taking AP exams. Florida is third in the nation in the number of exams taken by African-American and Hispanic students. Over the last 10 years the number of exams taken by African American students in Florida has increased by 141 percent and the number of exams taken by Hispanic students has increased by 233 percent.

away vehicle. During an exchange of gunfire inside the pharmacy, Pfeil wounded Sims in the hip before being shot twice. The deputy died a short time later. Sims managed to escape while wounded and was not arrested until six months later following a June 1978 attempted armed robbery in California.

During a 1979 trial Baldree and Halsell turned state's evidence and testified against Sims, claiming that Sims bragged about killing Pfeil. Sims was subsequently convicted of first-degree murder. Baldree and Halsell met their fate two years later when they were both killed after being released from prison. Robinson, who evaded law enforcement until June 1983, was convicted in absentia during the pharmacy shooting trial. He ultimately surrendered to authorities after he was charged with shooting two FBI agents during an incident in Volusia County. Pfeil, who was 55 years old at the time of his death, left behind a wife and four children.

County OKs $440 million budget; cuts public information officer

By Bill Kerne Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Board of Seminole County Commissioners made minor changes to the county's $440.2 million budget in Wednesday's public hearing. The final hearing for the fiscal year 1999-2000 budget, which will take effect Oct. 1, will be held Wednesday at 7 p.m. Countywide millage rates will decrease from 5.2813 mills to 5.1647 mills under the budget, meaning that the owner of a $100,000 home will pay 8.75 less in taxes this coming year from the county. A mill is a $1 tax rate per $1,000 of assessed property value. The total county taxes for residents in unincorporated Seminole County, who receive additional county services such as fire, rescue, and transportation, will be 7.8039 mills, down from 7.9141 mills this year. "We were able to hold taxes steady and even decrease the millage rate," said Commissioner Randy Morris. "It's a good, solid budget." The Board approved spending $40,000 for construction of a 3,800 foot sidewalk on the north side of County Road 419 in Oviedo, near Jackson Heights

Middle School. There is also funding for a traffic signal to be added near the school. The Board also approved a $30,000 grant to the 4C's Corporation, and a $16,000 grant to the American Bar Association. Seminole Vision, a program operated through the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, will receive a $10,000 grant. In the meantime, the Board cut more than $100,000 in programs that had been aimed at improving communication with residents. The county's "annual report to its citizens" was eliminated, at a savings of $40,000 because the information is also available on Seminole County's television station. In addition, the community information manager's position was also eliminated, saving the county $66,839 in salary, benefits, and operational costs. The Board on Wednesday eliminated a $10,000 grant for the International Council of Central Florida, a U.S. State Department program to host international visitors that was within the Economic Development Council's budget. Commissioners Daryl McLain and Randy Morris voted in favor of the grant. The International Council, based in Seminole County for 2 1/2 years, estimates that through August visitors hosted by the program have contributed $40,000 to the county's economy this fiscal year. "We had no idea a program that does so much good for so little cost would be in jeopardy," said International Council member Jim Daly. "It felt like a bucket of cold acid." Commissioner Grant Maloy proposed other cuts for the Economic Development Council that were not approved. Maloy proposed holding contributions to the Economic Development Council at $345,166, the same level as last year. Instead, the Economic Development Council's funding received an $8,166 increase.

destroy the festival." Longwood's legal counsel added that the city offered to take several steps to alleviate the inconvenience to the homeowners during the 48-hours of the festival. "We offered to provide them with gas powered golf carts to get in and out of their properties and to provide them with parking space for their vehicles just down the street at the police annex building," he said. In addition the city also offered to provide extra trash pick up along Warren to address the plaintiff's concerns about littering from crowds that have reached as many as 30,000 in the past few years. "There wasn't much compromise on the other side," Taylor said. "The bottom line is that the city's position is that it has the proper right to close down the street for the festival. Other municipalities have proven that legal right, including our neighbors in Mt. Dora and several other cities in South Florida." Taylor said he expects to hear a response on his motion to move to federal court in one or two weeks. The Fall Arts Festival takes place in Longwood in November.

Why leave the public in the dark?

For three dudes seeking re-election in the Year 2000, one would expect Daryl McLain, Grant Maloy and Dick Van Der Weide to be dollar and penny wise.

On Wednesday night, they were neither.

No, they said to county manager Kevin Grace's reasonable request to hire a public information specialist.

Grace has a bundle of PIO resumes on the desk. A Top Ten list had been selected, and Grace was eager to interview these candidates. Ideally, the county would produce the next Mike McCurry.

As press secretary, McCurry served admirably representing the Clinton White House. He was well respected. Remarkably, he honed Clinton's message while maintaining respectability. Even when he quit, he did so with dignity.

The county — we would hope — doesn't have as much to hide as the Clinton White House. Certainly, the county PIO wouldn't need to scramble and spin to keep a torrent of scandals from sinking government.

What a county PIO would do is save Grace and each commissioner valuable time by drawing attention to what the local government agency is doing — perhaps not doing — to improve the quality of life while saving tax dollars for the community.

When he was deputy manager three years ago, Grace suggested there be a county PIO.

Grace left the county by the time former Army PIO Mike Ertel was hired, but came back as county manager just as Ertel was leaving. Grace assumed a new PIO person would be hired. There was a three-month recruiting process. Next, was the hire.

Then, during Wednesday's 2000 budget hearing, Maloy suggested the county drop the PIO position. Van Der Weide and McLain agreed. Chairman Carlton Henley and former chairman Randy Morris — Sense and Sensibility — were amazed.

"And we're not the ones trying to be re-elected," Morris said.

Henley agreed, saying that he hoped that someone would be selected to do the job and that the job be better defined.

"There was no job description for Mr. Ertel," Henley said. "This is no knock on the service he provided. This was a new position — and an important one."

Each of the five commissioners is aware that SGTV, the county's cable service, lacks style and substance. A PIO with TV experience could make valuable improvements — perhaps serving as an On-Air emcee, introducing the agenda at public meetings and interviewing commissioners and county staff leaders.

The public would be more apt to watch the telecasts once they were fine-tuned. A PIO specialist might draft charts and statistical information on a variety of subjects. These could be on-screen bios of each commissioner — which district he represents, years on the board, age, committees, and date of re-election.

Seminole residents are going to lose all interest in local government news if the county doesn't care enough about its product to better communicate with the community. The commissioners also killed the annual report it had mailed this year to residents.

Maloy, Van Der Weide and McLain did no favors to the county residents on Wednesday by slicing the PIO job and annual report off the budget. It could be, they are slashing themselves from the county payroll. No one wins when the public is left in the dark.

Board approves schools' budget

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Seminole County School Board adopted its $560 million budget on Tuesday.

The budget for fiscal year 1999-2000, which begins in October, includes average pay raises of 3.5 percent for most school-district employees and funding for renovations to various schools.

Renovations will be performed at Idyllwilde and Woodlands elementary schools, Rock Lake, Millennium, and Jackson Heights middle schools, as well as Lyman High School.

Additional projects in the budget include renovations to the Educational Support Center annex, and district-wide technology and communications system improvements.

About 85 percent of the budget is composed of salaries and benefits.

The school-district will levy $129.9 million in property taxes. Tax millage rates are down 3.8 percent from fiscal year 1998-99. The bulk of the taxes, $82.5 million, are from the state's local required effort. The District's Capital Improvement fund accounts for $27.2 million in levies. The District will also raise $10.3 million for interest and other funds, and $9.9 million from discretionary levies.

An individual with a $100,000 home and a $25,000 homestead exemption would have total levies of $715.58.

The Board in August approved $1 million over the next five years in funding for the Zoo's expansion, including $200,000 this year. The district's Business Advisory Board is opposed to the Board funding expansion at the Zoo.

"They sent a letter saying that they are opposed to the Board giving financial contributions to a private, non-profit corporation at a time when we have unmet capital needs for school projects," said Board member Sandra Robinson.

The Board's initial $200,000 payment will come from Local Capital Improvement fund reserves available this year. The school-district is still negotiating a contract with the Zoo for the funding.

The budget was approved 4-1, with Bob Goff voting in opposition.

Budget hearings were originally scheduled to be held Sept. 14, but Hurricane Floyd forced the Board to postpone adopting the budget until Tuesday.

Pastor ready to auction church

Good Shepherd seeks greener pastures

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Rev. Robert Bresemann is about to step into Sanford's Swedish history and into Good Shepherd Lutheran Church's future.

Pastor Bresemann expects to move the church from its present location on U.S. Highway 17-92 to an historic piece of property where Swedish settlers built a church a century ago on what's now Upsala Road.

The Rev. Robert Bresemann is leading his church in an effort to auction the current church property so the congregation can move to a new location with historic significance.

many auction where the highest bid is automatically accepted, the congregation can refuse an offer not deemed acceptable.

"We are praying that the final bid will be acceptable and sufficient to allow us to move forward in bringing people into the kingdom of God," Bresemann said.

"The auction allows us a better opportunity to place our property before a larger audience that would be interested in this type of commercial property."

Bresemann, a native of Chicago (a Cubs fan), began Good Shepherd a year ago. He has nearly 100 in the congregation.

Good Shepherd is a member of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, which has more than 11,000 congregations. The ELCA is the largest Lutheran Church in the U.S.

The majority of Sanford's first settlers were Swedish Lutherans. From 1926 to 1946, Lutherans worshipped in a tiny church located where Good Shepherd is moving. There is an old cemetery which Bresemann said will be better maintained. When the old Lutheran Church closed in 1946, the property reverted to the nearest Lutheran congregation - St. Paul's in Orlando.

"St. Paul's is giving God Shepherd a 4 1/2 acre piece of property for us to re-locate," Bresemann said. "It is with a great sense of appreciation to General Sanford and those Swedish settlers that we can begin our new church. We want to acknowledge the historical significance of the site."

In the past year of being established, Bresemann said that his congregation not only has doubled but has developed a Sunday School, added youth activities and held a vacation Bible school.

"As God has richly blessed us, we simply seek to be a blessing to the Sanford Community and reach out to the unchurched," he said.

Evangelist Richardson to speak at DeLand, Longwood churches

International Evangelist Carl Richardson will be the featured speaker at the Sanctuary Church of God in DeLand on Sunday, Oct. 31, 1999 at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m., and at the Longwood Worship Center in Longwood on Sunday, Oct. 31 at 6:30 p.m.

Richardson is heard daily around the world in 178 nations and the 50 United States through the internationally acclaimed "Oasis" radio broadcast, and directed the international radio and television ministry of the Church of God for over 12 years. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of the National Religious Broadcasters for 27 years, and is a frequent keynote speaker at their meetings.

Richardson's itinerary of conducting major church-planting crusades in world-class cities includes some of the globe's "hot-spots;" Moscow, Russia, Beijing, China, Seoul, Korea, Manila, Philippines, Hanoi, Viet Nam and Havana, Cuba.

His previous crusades in South Africa and India have attracted 40,000 people per night.

With the year 2000 approaching, Richardson has engaged in his most aggressive campaign ever, the Evangelism Beyond Borders "Million Soul Crusade."

Through his key-leader networking partners in many nations, the Rev. Richardson has now embarked upon a daring crusade of faith to help win and disciple a million souls by Jan. 1, 2000. His focus is on those Final Frontiers of evangelism where more than 3 billion souls... one-half of the world's population, exist in poverty and despair.

In Russia and the nations of the former Soviet Union, inside mainland China, and the nations of Islam, a practical strategy of planting 1,000 life-giving cell churches will put into effect the New Testament pattern of evangelism and discipleship.

Individuals are being ministered to daily with inner-city churches and home-mission programs in the United States, and schools, medical centers, daycares and orphanages, and Bibles being translated into native languages around the globe.

He and his wife Beverly, have worked together with their ministry staff from their International Ministry Center located in Brandon, Florida in the Tampa Bay area for the last 15 years.

For more information about Richardson's local appearances, call Sanctuary Church of God's pastor, J.D. Simmons, at 904-734-7777 or Longwood Worship Center's pastor, John Holloway, at 407-631-3730.

HOROSCOPES

Saturday, Sept. 25, 1999

Through unique circumstances which may not look the greatest on the onset, beneficial arrangements will come about for you in the year ahead. Stay the course and you'll like it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You, better than any other Zodiac sign, know the only way to get along with others is through good communication and compromise. You'll demonstrate exactly how this is done today. Trying to patch up a broken romance? The Astro-Graph Matchmaker can help you understand what to do to make the relationship work. Mail $2.75 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't allow yourself to get in the dumps over things you cannot control at this time. Do for yourself that which you can command and success will follow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Peer pressure could be rather severe today, but you mustn't yield to anything that does not serve your best interests. Set your own agenda and have a good time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Avoid getting into any activity today where you lack the authority to do what needs to be done. Concentrate your efforts where power and influence is unimportant.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If you use or put into practice an idea of an associate, be sure to give this person proper acknowledgment, especially if it turns out successful. It'll make you a big person.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Stay away from associates today who expect more from others than they give in return. They'll only upset you. Mingle with those who reciprocate and pay their fare share in life.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Should it appear to you that others are paying more attention to your companions than to you today, don't get annoyed. Conditions will quickly change as the day wears on.

TAUROS (April 20-May 20) This may be one of those days where there's no pleasing people, so stop trying. As you start concentrating on your own needs, others will start to appreciate you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Depending upon others to create fun and games for you today is a mistake. You're the one who'll come up with the most unique and interesting activities in which to participate.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Everything depends upon your attitude in dealing with people today. If you try to pass out orders, nothing will get accomplished. If you set the example, all will pitch in.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Don't allow someone with opposing views to get you off on the wrong foot today. Turn your ear, demonstrate cooperation and congeniality and the discussion will dissipate.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Ignore any promises to supply free help or service from friends today, because they could disappoint you. Rely solely on yourself for getting the job done.

WIN AT BRIDGE

From Vancouver to Bermuda

By Phillip Alder

The 1999 world championships for the Bermuda Bowl and Venice Cup will be contested next January in Bermuda. Why next January? Because the first Bermuda Bowl was held in you-know-where in 1966. So, this year's event has been postponed until 2000 so that Bermuda may host the 50th anniversary competition. (Guess where the 1975 Bermuda Bowl was played!)

In Vancouver last June, there was a match between Canada and Mexico to decide one of the qualifiers. Canada won comfortably, 225-255. In this textbook deal, both declarers found the right line of play. What would you have done in their position? You are in three no-trump; West leads a fourth-highest heart three.

You start with six top tricks: one heart, four diamonds and one club. There is at least one more trick available in hearts, and at least two more on call in clubs. So, how can it cost to take the heart finesse at trick one? Well, with this layout it does. East wins with the heart king and, if in mid-season form, switches to a spade. West plays three rounds of the suit; then, when in with the club king, he cashes the last spade to defeat the contract.

Instead, win trick one with dummy's heart ace, then take the club finesse. It loses, but what can West do? If he returns a heart and East switches to a spade, you lose only four tricks: two spades, one heart and one club. And if West attacks spades himself, you score the king, getting nine tricks via one spade, one heart, four diamonds and three clubs.

ASK DR. GOTT

When doctors disagree

DEAR DR. GOTT: My gastroenterologist placed me permanently on Prilosec for reflux. However, my cardiologist says not to take it unless I have symptoms because it causes cancer. What is your opinion?

DEAR READER: In this particular situation, follow your gastroenterologist's advice, although I doubt that you will have to use the medicine indefinitely. Once the symptoms of heartburn and dyspepsia subside, you can probably get by with Prilosec two or three times weekly.

Reflux disease is associated in some patients with pre-malignant changes in the cells lining the esophagus. While Prilosec and other similar medicines will prevent symptoms, the drugs may not — in all instances — protect against these pre-malignant changes. Therefore, the medication does not cause cancer — but may mask the symptoms leading to it. In any case, such an event would be unusual.

Here's how I would resolve the issue: Insist that your cardiologist and gastroenterologist put their heads together and come up with a consensus. You — and other patients in such situations — do not need medical inconsistency. The doctors should resolve their disagreement and present you with a reasonable strategy. In short, they should offer a unified recommendation for your approval.

For example, some doctors would advise using daily Prilosec with annual endoscopy to make sure that the esophageal cells remain cancer-free. Other specialists might advise taking Prilosec when needed. Still others might urge surgery to correct the reflux, thereby obviating the other two options.

Put the issue back in your doctors' court. Insist that they agree on a solution. Then make up your mind, or — if necessary — obtain a third opinion. To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Peptic Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2617, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I took tetracycline for an infection. The drug book I read stated that consuming alcohol with the antibiotic could cause liver damage. My doctor and pharmacist said not to worry. Who is right?

DEAR READER: Many drugs react badly with alcohol. In my opinion, consuming alcohol-containing beverages while taking medicine is unwise. The liver detoxifies both alcohol and tetracycline, so, when taken together, the combination could theoretically cause liver damage in susceptible individuals.

True, such a reaction would be very unlikely; your chances of having trouble are small. To be on the safe side, however, you can simplify the issue by avoiding alcohol when you take medicine.

DeBary woman helps rebuild Central America

By Andre Sanders
Special to the Herald

Battling mosquitoes, combating torrid heat and humidity, and braving spartan field conditions where a cold shower is considered a luxury is not how most people would want to spend a few weeks away from the office.

But for the daughter of a DeBary couple, the inconveniences more than paid off for thousands of men and women and children who benefited from her efforts.

Amy Sgt. Christina A. Rohrs, daughter of retired Marine Corps Sgt. Maj. Francis and Genny Rohrs of DeBary, is one of the 12,000 National Guardsmen and Army Reservists in Central America providing health care, building new schools and health clinics and repairing roads as part of New Horizons — a military operation repairing last year's damage caused by Hurricanes Georges and Mitch.

These humanitarian operations are a series of two to three week annual training rotations where soldiers screen more than 45,000 patients, build five medical clinics, 12 schools and many more quality of life enhancing projects throughout Guatemala, Nicaragua, El Salvador and Honduras.

Rohrs joins medical, engineering and operational support soldiers from 42 states in helping to restore pride and hope to the people of Central America.

"I supervise the soldiers working in the tactical operations center. This is where information for our missions are gathered," said Rohrs, a 1985 graduate of De Land Senior High School. "I keep all of the units informed about the details of the mission and what role they will play. I also prepare daily reports about each mission."

Although the New Horizon exercises have been conducted for more than a decade, there were some parts of Central America that U.S. soldiers have never been allowed to enter. But, the storms of 1998 and recent earthquakes have changed that.

Now, the New Horizon operations are allowing U.S. soldiers a rare opportunity to interact with some Central American citizens and territories that were previously unapproachable.

"The soldiers here have had a lot of opportunities to interact with the people of El Salvador," Rohrs said. "By coming here, we've helped to nurture good relations between the United States and El Salvador, which is something I'm very proud of."

While Rohrs feels she and fellow soldiers are providing valuable support in these hurricane-devastated countries, she looks forward to returning to the life she left behind.

"When I return home, I plan to go on the next humanitarian mission and help out as many people as I can," said Rohrs.

With the last brush strokes on new school walls almost complete and literally thousands of Central American men, women and children provided critical medical care, Rohrs and fellow soldiers can feel good about a summer spent making a difference.

Assertiveness At Work Works

You've just received word that the boss wants you in his office. Now.

A sinking feeling in your stomach indicates that this will be an unpleasant experience. Your boss is known for being unfair, obnoxious, and lacking compassion. As you slowly walk toward his office, your co-workers stare sadly upon you as if you are about to meet an IRS auditor.

Unfortunately, this scenario could be happening in your office on daily basis. I have heard many Central Floridians tell their horror stories about negative experiences with supervisors or co-workers.

Given the poor interpersonal skills of your boss or co-worker, what is an honest, innocent and hard-working person like you to do about it? If you are assertive, you are more likely to have a successful experience, with your respect and dignity intact.

Basically, there are three different styles in which we interact with others:

• Passively — Passive people are those that let others "walk all over them." They do not look people in the eye, they talk in soft or apologetic tones, and they let themselves become manipulated by others. A passive individual puts their rights second to those of others around them. Passive people are more likely become victims of abusive behavior. Effectiveness in interpersonal relationships: Poor.

• Aggressively — Aggressive people attempt to get their way at the expense of others. This is done through yelling, blaming, and "getting in your face." The goal of aggressive behavior is to intimidate another into submission. Effectiveness in interpersonal relationships: Poor.

• Assertively — Assertive people confidently discuss their thoughts, feelings, and beliefs with others. They do not let others take advantage of them, nor do they take advantage of others. They look others in the eye and use a strong, but not overpowering, tone of voice. Assertive people are more likely to gain respect from co-workers. Effectiveness in interpersonal relationships: Excellent!

The next time you are in a meeting with a difficult boss or co-worker, try to be assertive. Look the person in the eyes. Speak your mind with confidence. Use "I" statements such as "I feel like you are not listening to my suggestions" or "I think that we would get along better if we could become more honest with each other."

A key to being assertive with others is believing in yourself. Self-confident people are more likely to be assertive. So don't sell yourself short at work. If you are an honest and hard-working person, there is no reason for you to feel manipulated by others.

The next time you walk into your boss's office, walk proudly and speak assertively. If you feel like you are having difficulty with being too passive or too aggressive, find a book or tape on assertiveness training or seek professional help.

Kids on planes are safest buckled in their own seats

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the letter from the Los Angeles plastic surgeon regarding facial disfigurement of children who are allowed to stand in a moving car, may I add my 2 cents' worth?

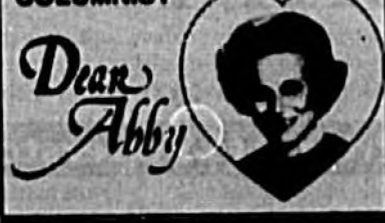

I am a flight attendant for a major airline, and while the captain does not usually "jam on the brakes," we do hit unexpected turbulence. Planes can drop 500 feet in a matter of seconds. Guess where a small child who's not in a seatbelt goes? To the ceiling!

I write this out of sheer frustration with uneducated — or perhaps lazy — parents. The FAA does not mandate that a child under the age of 2 be in his or her own seat. This is shameful and absurd. We, the flight crew, are required to ensure that all carry-on luggage is safely stowed, yet our most precious cargo, these little human beings, can be on an adult's lap. I applaud parents who pay the extra money and purchase a seat for the child, and extra money when they bring along a car seat. If there is an extra seat available, I always move other passengers so "lap baby" can have his or her own seat, explaining to parents that it is safer. Guess what? They give me a blank stare and say: "Oh, she won't sit still in her own seat. She'll cry. I'll just hold her."

Let me offer this graphic thought: Parents, if the plane does crash and your baby is on your lap, the baby becomes a human air bag for you. Your baby will die instantly. I had a passenger tearfully tell me that this happened to her. She is now crippled, and her only child (who would be 9 now) was killed.

I urge all parents and grandparents to write to Congress and insist that every passenger — even babies — be in a seat. The FAA's argument that families will not pay for the extra seat because the cost is prohibitive is unfounded. Most airlines offer a lower rate for children. The FAA says that people will turn to driving, which will cause more road accidents. This is conjecture.

I know this letter is long, but please pass along this important message. Believe me, it will be clipped by thousands of airline crews and shown to passengers.

A CONCERNED FLIGHT ATTENDANT

DEAR CONCERNED: You have issued a chilling warning to the parents of small children, and I sincerely hope it's one that will be heeded. A plane hitting an air pocket and suddenly losing altitude is not something we hear about every day. However, I recall that it happened to Air Force One a year or so ago, and to a commercial flight just this month — so it's something that should be taken very seriously. All passengers should stay buckled up while they are in their seats.

DEAR ABBY: I have been involved with a nice gentleman for more than a year now. I'm a single parent and own my own home.

My problem is that he still lives with his ex-wife and children. He says that because of the child-support payments he has been unable to get a place of his own. I love him very much and suggested he move in with me — but he never responded. This has stressed our relationship.

Abby, should I continue to wait for him, or should I cut the ties? He's told me for more than a year that he's been looking for a place of his own, but his pride won't let him move "just anywhere." He says, "Be patient — good things come to those who wait."

J.Y.V., TAMPA, FLA.

DEAR J.Y.V.: Perhaps, but not always. I vote to cut the ties. I strongly suspect that the "nice gentleman" you are involved with is still married.

For everything you need to know about wedding planning, order "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send a business-size, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.95 in Canada) to Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, IL 61054-0447. (Postage is included.)

County considers bids for employee insurance coverage

By Bill Kerne
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The Board of Seminole County Commissioners next week will consider whether the county's medical benefits will be provided by Cigna or United HealthCare.

Two separate bids from United HealthCare and a bid from Cigna will be considered by the Board on Tuesday. The county's risk management committee recommends awarding the bid to Cigna, which is the lowest bid.

United HealthCare replaced Cigna as the health insurance provider in 1996, the last time the county solicited competitive proposals for its medical benefits program. The current total cost for medical benefits is $8.1 million.

Cigna's bid would cost the county $7.15 million, while United HealthCare's two bids would cost the county $7.49 million and $7.27 million. Additional costs to employees to dependents, retirees, and other benefits would cost $2.29 million under Cigna, and $2.42 million or $2.35 million under United's two bids.

"You can't just look at the bid amount," said Cindy Coto, deputy county manager. "You have to look at what employees will pay not only in premiums, but if they use the services, you have to compare what the co-payments will be and what services would be available."

Out of the 150 most utilized drugs by county employees, 22 brand name drugs listed by United as "preferred" are listed by Cigna as "non-preferred," meaning that purchasing those drugs would cost more.

Cigna did provide the county with a list of preferred drug alternatives. United contracts with a drug manufacturer for its pharmacy benefit, while Cigna operates its own pharmacy benefit.

United does not charge co-payment on either bid for preventative care, while Cigna has a $15 co-payment. United's two bids have co-payments for physician specialist office visits of $15 and $25, while Cigna would charge $15. The out patient surgery co-payment for United's two bids are $50, while Cigna's co-payment is $75.

The urgent care co-payment for United's options is $25, while Cigna's co-payment is $50. United has open access for specialist referrals, while Cigna requests a referral.

United HealthCare has 293 physicians in Seminole County on its provider network, while Cigna has 259 physicians on the list in Seminole County. For Lake, Orange, Seminole, and Volusia counties, United has 1,997 physicians in its provider network, while Cigna has 1,586 physicians in its network.

Out of the top 50 most frequently used United physicians, Cigna has all but seven in its network.

The Sheriff's Office, Property Appraiser's Office, and the Clerk of the Circuit Court this week submitted a joint letter to the Board in support of United HealthCare's coverage. However, the Office of the Supervisor of Elections favors Cigna's coverage.

Independent consultants for the county requested proposals this summer. The county then negotiated with Cigna, United HealthCare, and Blue Cross Blue Shield to lower their original bids.

"I think we have some good bids now," said commissioner Randy Morris. "I'm pleased with them. The original bids were way too high."

Would Orange gas hike pump Seminole economy?

Orange County commissioner Ted Edwards has proposed a 6-cents gasoline tax increase which would hike the rate to 48.4 cents a gallon. Edwards, who voted to kill the light-rail project, said the additional money would help build new county roads.

He estimates the hike would pump $30 million into the county and its cities - $20 million of it to the county.

The Seminole County gas tax - just as the current Orange County tax - is 42.4 cents. Chances of a hike in Seminole are slim to none. With three commissioners up for re-election in 2000, the possibility of an increase does not appear likely.

Does this mean Orange residents will cross the line to get their gas in Seminole? And what about those in Volusia County? Volusia has approved a 5-cent gas tax hike that goes into effect in May 1999. The new rate in Volusia will be 48.4 cents a gallon.

Auxiliary deer check stations for Ocala and Lk. George WMAs

Special to the Herald

OCALA - With archery season opening on Saturday and in an effort to more conveniently serve hunters using the Ocala and Lake George wildlife management areas (WMAs), the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) will provide 13 auxiliary deer check stations in addition to the check stations known as North Hunt and South Hunt.

All deer taken from Ocala or Lake George WMA shall be checked and tagged at a check station prior to being dismembered or transported out of the hunt area.

By checking their deer through one of the stations, hunters greatly assist biologists by providing information that helps them manage deer populations.

The data obtained through deer checked at the stations is extremely valuable to biologists who can apply it to the future management of the deer herd," said Mike Abbott, regional wildlife management biologist for the FWC's Central Region. "Of particular interest is the number of deer taken, general physical condition, age and weight."

During the archery (Sept. 25 - Oct. 24), muzzle loader (Oct. 29-31) and general gun (Nov. 13-18, 17-21, 22-28 at Lake George WMA; and Nov. 13 - Jan. 9 at Ocala WMA) seasons, auxiliary check stations will be operated in conjunction with private businesses at:

- OCALA WMA
 - Astor Owl - SR 40, Astor.
 - The 88 Store - FR 88, south of CR 318.
 - Advantage Sports Center - NE SR 19, Salt Springs.
 - Kelly's Kountry Store - NE CR 314, Scrambletown.
 - Harvey's Sporting Goods - NE CR 314A, Lynne.
 - Forest Hills Grocery - CR 42, Forest Hills.
 - Eureka General Store - CR 318, Eureka.
 - Parker's Fina - CR 42 East, Paley.
 - Country Store - Panther Road and CR 445.
 - Nuby's Texaco - SR 40 and CR 314.
 - LAKE GEORGE WMA
 - Pine Island Campground & Marina - Lake George Drive, Seville.
 - South Moon Fish Camp - South Moon Road, Astor.
 - Speedway 7 to 11 - Junction of SR 11 and SR 40, Delton Springs.
- For those hunting in the Ocala WMA, North Hunt check station will be open during Muzzleloading Gun Season (Oct. 29-31), and at the following times during General Gun Season: November 13th-28th, and on Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays only in December and January.
- North Hunt is located on CR 316 at Forest Road 88. South Hunt will be open seven days a week during General Gun Season only, and is located at Big Scrub Campground on Forest Road 588 and Forest Road 578.
- Neither North Hunt or South Hunt will be open during Archery Season.

SAC trio stars in UCF win

Guillan, Asby, Howell help women's soccer team blank Campbell

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - Former Seminole Athletic Conference stars C.C. Guillan, Cally Howell and Brooke Asby all had a hand in the scoring as the University of Central Florida women's soccer team handed Campbell University its biggest defeat of the season Wednesday afternoon.

Junior Claire Kohake and sophomore Jackie Kutudis scored two goals apiece as the Golden Knights shut-out their Trans America Athletic Conference rivals 5-0 at the UCF Arena soccer field in freshman goalkeeper Jessie Kuhlman's first start of the season. UCF improved its record to 6-3 while Campbell now stands at 1-6-1 for the season.

The first half started innocently enough with both teams battling for shots. It was not until 20 minutes into the game that Kohake knocked in the first goal off a corner kick from Howell (Winter Park/Lake Howell High School).

The goal turned out to clinch the game for the defending TAAC champions. Despite 10 more attempts that half, the Golden Knights could not repeat the goal, thanks in part to Campbell goalkeeper Jamie Olson who recorded 10 saves for the evening.

Not satisfied with just one goal, the Golden Knights scored a second goal in the 45th minute. Please see UCF, Page 2B

Seminole High School graduate C.C. Guillan (shown with Seminole head coach Tony Arena) scored a goal, while fellow former SAC stars

Brooke Asby and Cally Howell added assists as the UCF women's soccer team blanked Campbell, 5-0, in TAAC action Thursday at UCF Arena Field.

Scott Murphy went 4-for-4, including a triple and a double, scored three runs and drove in three to help lead the R.S.C. Regulators to a 17-6 victory over Smith Equipment at Pinehurst Park on Thursday.

Wolfys loses Thursday opener

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - During the Spring Season they were the only undefeated team in Sanford or Lake Mary.

Today they are in last place. Wolfys was no match for new entry Longhorns, being held scoreless until the fourth inning and getting only six hits in dropping a 17-2, five-inning decision in the opening game of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Men's Fall Thursday Night Slow Pitch Softball League at Pinehurst Park.

The team that finished second to Wolfys in the Spring, Stenstrom Realty Incorporated, got off to a better start, but not without a scare, as it had to overcome a 4-0 deficit after the top of the first inning and tied the game in the fourth inning to lead 1-0.

In the late spring, the City of Sanford, now with R.S.C. as a sponsor, turned a close game into a Pin State victory with a nine-run fifth inning to defeat new team, Smith Equipment, 17-6.

Next Thursday at Pinehurst Park, the R.S.C. Regulators will battle Stenstrom Realty Incorporated at 6:30 p.m.. Wolfys will look to get back on the winning track against Celeste Industries at 7:30 p.m., and Smith Equipment will challenge Longhorns at 8:30 p.m.

The schedule for the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Men's Fall Wednesday Night Slow Pitch Softball at Pinehurst Park next week has Vivona's (1-0) battling Wilson-Eichelberger Funeral Home (1-0) at 6:30 p.m., I.F.I. (0-1) taking on Bear (0-1) at 7:30 p.m., and Brian's Lawn Maintenance (0-1) playing Wells Contracting (1-0) at 8:30 p.m.

The Longhorns-Wolfys game got off to an inauspicious start, with Longhorns scoring a single run in the top of the first inning.

But Longhorns went to work after that, scoring four runs in the second inning and eight runs in the third, on the strength of a grand slam by Jerry, to build a 13-0 lead and the only question left was what would the final score be.

Wolfys avoided a shutout when Jerry Governale hit a two-run home run in the bottom of the fourth inning.

Celeste Industries got off to the fast start with Jason Flanagan's two-run double being the big blow in the four run first.

But Stenstrom Realty Incorporated scored a run in the bottom of the first inning, then took the lead for good with a four-run second, high-impact home run by Scott Smith.

Stenstrom Realty Incorporated then took a commanding lead with back-to-back home runs from Dana Peck (a three-run shot) and Dale Peters capping the eight-run fourth inning.

The late game was tied at 6-6 going into the bottom of the fourth inning when the R.S.C. Regulators took the lead for good on an RBI double by Bobby Keefer and Duane Lee then added an RBI single to give his team an 8-6 lead.

The R.S.C. Regulators then ended the game with the nine-run bottom of the fifth inning. Scott Murphy opened the inning with a triple and then capped the big inning with a two-run single that ended the game. Bill Bingham had a two-run Please see Pinehurst, Page 2B

Thrashers send seven to Orlando

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - The Orlando Solar Bears of the International Hockey League (IHL) on Wednesday acquired seven new players on assignment from the expansion Atlanta Thrashers, Orlando's National Hockey League (NHL) affiliate.

All of the new acquisitions, with the exception of Kinnear, played during Wednesday's contest in the Heritage Arena in Chicago. The Solar Bears rallied from a 2-0 deficit behind third period, power play goals Please see Sun, Page 2B

Mike Frank went three-for-four, including a triple and a double, knocked off Gayton Black Ford, 13-6, in the opening game of the Lake Mary Men's Fall Friday Night Slow Pitch Softball League.

the Fall League championship in a playoff, opened the new season in fine fashion, rallying for a 13-6 victory over Gayton Black Ford.

The middle game was a slug-fest, with Zuma Beach/Signal Zero coming from far back to top Hills Gang, 18-11.

The nightcap was all Nice 'N Easy as it blasted Lunch Box Bagels, 28-5, in three innings. The league is scheduled to play Week Two of the 10-week season tonight with a triple-header starting at 6:30 p.m. at the Lake Mary Sports Complex located on Rantoul Lane across from the Mayfair Country Club and just south of Country Club Road.

The AAA League is also back for its Fall Season and will play at tripeheader every Wednesday night beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Lake Mary Sports Complex. A recap of its first week will be in the Herald early next week. Clayton Black Ford took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning on an RBI double by Ryan Ortiz and an RBI single by Sonny Woods.

That would be the only scoring until the top of the fourth inning when Blue Haven Pools and Spas exploded for 10 runs. Mike Fratnik got Blue Haven Pools and Spas on the board with a lead-off home run and by the time the smoke had cleared, Albert Cardoza and John Williams had added two-run triples to give their team a 10-2 lead and the outcome was never again in doubt.

The Hills Gang erased a 1-0 lead with two runs in the bottom of the first inning and then tacked on five more runs in the second inning to build a 7-1 advantage.

Zuma Beach/Signal Zero started its comeback by plating three runs in the top of the third inning and six runs in the fourth inning to go back on top 10-7.

The Hills Gang answered back with four runs in the bottom of the fourth inning to regain the advantage 11-10, but Zuma Beach/Signal Zero was not about to be headed, plating eight runs in the top of the fifth inning with Kevin Brubaker's grand slam being the big hit. to

The first was a cross off a deflected shot from Michelle Anderson. Her second shot was an impressive scissor kick shot off a pass from Alice Uhr 40 seconds before the end of the game.

"I was waiting for Alice, who made a beautiful cross and I finished the best way I knew how," Kutudia said. "It felt good to come off the bench and score for-2 on the evening. The women marched onto the field for the second half with one thing in mind: to dominate.

With coaches Amanda Cromwell (27-18-1), Matt Dillon and Michelle Alena looking on, Kutudia took a header from Abby Joydoka High School and sent the ball soaring past Olson to score her sixth goal of the season.

Outlan (Seminole High School) called the third UCF goal with an assist from Sara McDonald.

With seven minutes left in the game, Cromwell cleared the bench, sending in men-to-be game hero Kutudia who was 2-two goals like that. I hope to do the same again soon."

Kutudia and the rest of the Golden Knights will get their chance Saturday as UCF hosts TAAC leaders Georgia State at 3 p.m. at the UCF Arena Field.

The women's soccer team dedicated the evening's win to UCF men's soccer team player Anni Laitinen who's father passed away this week.

Bears

Both Karlsson and left wing Rusty Fitzgerald scored during the shootout to secure a 3-2 victory for Orlando.

Langlow played all 60 minutes in goal to earn the win, stopping 36 of 60 shots on goal during regulation.

The defending IHL Eastern Conference champion Soler Bears are back in promotion action tonight against the Melbourne Admirals at Wilson Park Arena at 8:30 p.m.

Orlando concluded the exhibition season on Saturday versus the defending Turner Cup champion Houston Aeros at the Bell County Expo Center in Bakers, Texas. Faceoff is scheduled for 8 p.m.
