

Easy Way To Get Clothes Clean

This month youngsters from kindergarten to high school will be scrubbed from head to toe.

To help you do the most effective job on back-to-school clothes, here are some bleaching pointers from the laundering experts at the Clorox Bureau of Information.

To whiten, deodorize and disinfect your youngsters' clothes, it is desirable to use a bleach. A liquid chlorine bleach also has a special cleaning ability that assists soap and detergents in getting clothes clean. It can be safely used for white and bleach-fast colored cottons, knits, rayons, and the man-made fibers such as Nylon, Acrilan, Orlon, and Dacron. Liquid chlorine bleach should not be used on silk, wool and non-bleachable resin finishes nor should it come into contact with the clothes until it has been diluted with water.

Try the "Bleachability Test" before washing brand new colored shirts, blouses, and dresses that do not bear the "colorfast" label. Snip a small piece of material from seam allowance. Soak in a solution of one tablespoon liquid chlorine bleach to one gallon of hot water. If color holds after five minutes, the article can be bleached safely and therefore can be thoroughly cleaned.

Newer Blankets Made Warmer

A blanket is an essential item of equipment which must be toiled to school. But what a difference in eye-appeal is offered by blankets today, as compared with a few years back. Today's blanket looks better, feels softer, and is easier to care for. Newest innovation in the blanket field is an open cellular weave blanket. The construction of this blanket is based on the thermal principle and is an outgrowth of the specially-designed underwear that was developed for Sir Edmund Hillary's conquest of Mount Everest.

This blanket may be used all year round, since it offers warmth in winter and coolness in summer. The reason: immobile air is the secret of insulation. In winter, air cells are trapped by the addition of a lightweight covering over the blanket and this weightless layer of air provides continuing warmth. In summer, without the top covering, this blanket helps speed away body heat.

Since they are made of 100% nylon satin binding, they go right into the washing machine, and may be either tumble-dried or air-dried. Because of their light weight, two blankets may be washed in one machine load, and they dry in half the time of wool blankets.

Yeehaw Section Ups Pike Take

ORLANDO, Fla. (UPI) — Sunshine State Parkway Engineer C. H. Peterson told the State Turnpike Authority Monday that the newly-opened section from here to Yeehaw junction is proving to be a money-maker.

Peterson said an estimated $1,000 a day in tolls is being collected on the 31-mile section against a cost of operation of $650 a day.

He said gross income through July of this year for the turnpike was $4,356,000 compared to $3,910,000 at the same time in 1962. Gross expenses through July of this year were $283,000 compared to $264,000 at the same time last year.

Long Haul

TUCUMCARI, N. M. (UPI) — William Mase, 30, was charged with stealing a tractor from a Syracuse, Kan., farmer and driving it 300 miles to Tucumcari. The trip took 20 hours.

Baby Dead, Three Critical In Head-on Crash

Congressman Syd Herlong told R. E. Porter by long distance telephone from Washington this morning that he had acceded to popular demand of Oviedo residents "and am most happy to recommend John Courter Jr. for postmaster there." He added he was "literally swamped" with commendations and recommendations to nominate Courter, long active in boys' work in that community. He also said he would "do all possible to make my recommendation stick." His nomination of Courter will go to President Kennedy.

Any 10th, 11th and 12th grade students residing in the area served by Seminole High School who have not registered for the coming school year should report to the school auditorium at 8:45 a.m. Monday for placement tests, course requirements and schedule assignments.

Oviedo's Kirby Bucklew announced today that the municipal swimming pool will close for the season this Sunday.

Altamonte Springs commenced work today on its new water tank, Mayor Lawrence Swoford reported.

Seems a safe bet that Frank Fasula will stay as local manager of the North Orlando Company, although 80 per cent of the holdings have changed hands.

John Malloy, Jack Dodd, Curtis Green, Art Muller, George Means, Clarence Henderson, Orié Mathews and Fred Institute attended the Citrus Institute at Camp McQuarrie Wednesday.

Last Saturday's championship game for the South Seminole Little League seniors between Bear Lake and Casselberry was rained out. Game has been rescheduled this Saturday in Casselberry.

Saturday's championship game between the Casselberry and Bear Lake Little League Senior Teams will be played at 10 a.m. in the Casselberry Ball Park.

Chances were improved today for the Houston Colts to come here for training next spring, what with negotiations breaking down at Daytona Beach. Reports now are the Colts are interested in Sanford or Cocoa.

Trooper Tommy Tomlinson told R. E. Porter this morning, after that fatal crash on Highway 46, that "something must be done now to stop this slaughter on the highway." He added the three accidents he investigated this morning brought to 180 he, himself, has probed since December . . . and he is one of three troopers assigned to this county.

Visiting square dancers from Daytona Beach, Winter Park and Orlando fell victims of a gag perpetrated by Sanford square dancers last night. Police staged a mock raid and "locked up" all the dancers at the city jail. But, strangely, a loud speaker system commenced playing that type of music for square dancers . . . and the dance proceeded in the jail (for a while). One of the dancers, Mrs. Cecelia Farmer, The Herald society editor, reports that all the dancers then received the coveted square dancers' badge of "Jailbird." Another square dance badge is for those who travel 200 or more miles for a dance and then receive the "Knobhead" award.

EDITORIAL COMMENT Happy Birthday!

The Sanford Herald is celebrating its 55th birthday today . . . 55 years of disseminating the news, good and bad, to its readers throughout Seminole County. In fact, during its first five years this county was a part of Orange County.

The Herald always has had and will continue to have a twofold purpose: (1) To publish factual news, without bias or slant, and (2) to work toward the betterment of our community without fear or favor.

The Herald believes that Seminole County, to grow, must aim to increase its economy before it can offer costly benefits such as recreational areas. And that is why The Herald steadfastly supports such proposals at (1) the St. Johns-Indian River Canal, (2) a port terminal which will serve the expected increase in water traffic with this canal, (3) a new four-year state university, (4) new industry. These are only a few of the many worthwhile projects which will benefit our community and our citizens.

In entering into its 56th year of service, The Herald pledges to continue with its double purpose: To publish the news and to support any worthwhile project which will lead to a better economy and a richer community.

Blood Bath Held Red Chinese Aim

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soviet Communist party charged today that some Chinese leaders would sacrifice half of humanity to build a new civilization.

The charge came in a leading editorial on the front page of the party organ Pravda.

"While some people in Peking are willing to sacrifice the lives of half of the population, half of humanity, the Soviet government holds dear not only the lives of half of the population, but every Soviet citizen.

"The destinies of every nation of the world are not allied to it." The editorial appeared to get the tone of a propaganda campaign to bolster the latest Soviet rejection of Chinese views. This rejection was made in a lengthy government declaration Wednesday which has sent Moscow - Peking relations toward a new low.

At least three homes in the area suffered heavy roof damage before the storm jumped about a mile and a half south and caused minor damage there.

Truck-Trailer Smashes Car At Geneva Bridge

A new model automobile with two women, sisters, and two babies, also sisters, crossed the Geneva Bridge on Highway 46 at 8:40 this morning, heading east.

A moment later one baby was dead, the women critically injured, the second baby seriously hurt and the new automobile was smashed. A truck driver was in the state of shock.

The automobile had been hit head-on by a tractor-trailer used for hauling lime rock. Trooper Tommy Tomlinson identified the parties:

Kim Weed, about one year old, dead on arrival at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Her mother, Mrs. Alveda Weed, reported "desperately critical" and removed from Seminole Memorial to Orange Memorial Hospital at Orlando.

Her sister, Mrs. Rebecca Alderman, reported "critical" at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Karen Weed, about 5, daughter of Mrs. Weed, seriously injured.

James L. Crozier, 37, of Wink's Garden, in a state of shock at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Trooper Tomlinson reported Mrs. Alderman resides at 57 University Circle, Deland, and it is believed Mrs. Weed and her children also reside there.

The trooper quoted Crozier as saying that he was proceeding east when a car stopped in front of him, to make a right turn off the highway. He swerved to the left lane and hit the Alderman car.

Crozier's truck tires left marks for 418 feet, Tomlinson said, and knocked the Alderman car for 39 feet, with the truck coming to rest on the front of the automobile.

Tomlinson said any charges against Crozier are pending further investigation.

Early fog was blamed by Tomlinson for an accident on Highway 17-93 in front of Sunland Estates. He charged Nadine Shannis, 611 Camellia Drive, with failure to yield the right-of-way after her car struck one driven by Daniel Long, of Longwood. Tomlinson estimated damage at $1,400.

How Long Should You Study?

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

"I study five hours a night!"

Have you ever heard anyone make that complaint? Lots of students do "study" that long, too. Maybe you do yourself. But notice the quotation marks around the word "study"? It should be phrased: Lots of students think they study that long.

Sure you can point to the clock: "I sat down with my books at 7 o'clock, and I stayed there (except maybe for snacks) until midnight!" But the fact is that five clock hours rarely add up to five hours of studying, because most students don't study in the right environment. Their attention is constantly distracted, their minds wander.

Check up on yourself the next time you study. For all the time you spend on your books, how much of it is really concentrated? We'll take a look at the study environment you should have. If it's not the kind of study environment you do have, you can be sure that much of your time is being wasted.

There are two kinds of environment—the external and the internal. First the external:

—Study in a quiet room by yourself. NO television, NO rock 'n' roll records and NO radio. (It's actually better to have a slight regular background noise than none at all. A slight noise will make you raise your whole level of concentration.)

—There should be a good light, at least 100-watt, coming over your shoulder. If it's in front of you the glare will tire your eyes.

—Use a straight chair; a kitchen chair is perfect. In an easy chair, you'll relax too much and start daydreaming.

—Hold your book about 14 inches from your eyes and on a 45-degree angle from the table. (Your eyes will tire quickly if the book is laid flat, because then your eyes are closer to the bottom of the page than the top, and you'll be constantly changing your focus down the page.)

The internal environment:

—If you have any problems or if anything's worrying you, get it off your chest before you start studying. For example, if you're wondering whether so-and-so will go out with you Saturday night, call her up and find out! There's no point in sitting down to study if you're going to think about something else the whole time.

—If it's not the kind of problem you can take care of with a phone call (you might be waiting for him to call you), a good trick is to write down whatever is bothering you. Once it's down in black and white, you'll usually be able to stop worrying about it. Besides, problems rarely look very serious once they're written out.

—Of if you have a headache or if you're sleepy, take an aspirin or take a nap and hit the books later. Don't waste your time studying unless you're going to get something out of it.

The importance of study environment—external and internal—cannot be overemphasized. If a lot of your study time has been unproductive, your study environment has probably been at the root of the trouble.

(NEXT: How to budget your time.)

Fish Fry-Football Clinic Scheduled Sept. 7 To Benefit Oviedo Field

By Bernice Kelsey
The Oviedo Athletic Association today announced plans for sponsoring a Fish Fry and Football Clinic at John Courier Field on Saturday, Sept. 7, to raise funds to pay off indebtedness remaining on the field.

Tickets are available at the Oviedo Drug Store for the supper which will be served beginning at 6 p.m. Roswell Noegel is acting as chairman of this event with Mrs. Dot Courier in charge of ticket sales.

Also working on the supper committee are Emmet and George Kelsey. The free football clinic will get underway at the field at 8 p.m. under the direction of Coach Jim Palmer with Bob Ward as master of ceremonies.

Purpose of this event is to acquaint spectators with the fundamentals and rules of football. Demonstrations will be presented by the Oviedo Lions Varsity Team.

The public is invited to these events by association officials who, in announcing their plans, gave the following history of their organization:

A small group of Oviedo men interested in football first met in November of 1961 to explore the possibility of having football at Oviedo High School.

Feeling that enough interest and enthusiasm was shown, this group decided to hold several meetings to map out plans and ways and means of financing a project as large as building a football field.

The group elected the following officers and directors: John E. Courier Jr., president; James Colbert, vice president and John Evans, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Ben Jones, B. F. Wheeler Jr., Merritt Staley, C. W. Holder, Roswell Noegel and James Pearson.

Many persons in the area gave of their time, efforts and talents to accomplish what has been done at the field in such a short time . . . quite a large undertaking for a small group.

In January of 1961, a charter was granted, land was donated to the group and the various appointed committees began functioning immediately.

Construction work on the field was started in February and at the same time, a finance campaign was launched and a total of $8,500 was raised from 152 individuals and firms. Most of the soliciting was done by letter.

The field was completed on schedule and the first football game was played on the night of Sept. 14, 1962. The recreation area was dedicated, Nov. 2, at the Homecoming game and was named "John Courier Field."

On March 16, 1963, the finance committee again solicited funds to pay off the note and a total of $2,000 was raised. The association now owes around $2,900 and is trying to raise necessary funds to take care of this amount. There also is a need for more facilities at the field including additional bleachers, a press box, a score board, ball diamond and track field.

Freeman Hopes To Keep Job

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman plans to hold on to his Cabinet post "as long as the President wants me," Freeman, who returned from a month-long trip to Russia and other Soviet bloc nations Wednesday, said he had "no indication" the President did not want him. Republicans claimed Freeman's trip was to groom him for a diplomatic post.

He is Yeoman 2/c Henry L. Casey, who has been attached to the Wing staff since last July.

So far as can be determined, one of the great, valid arguments for a vigorous, all-embracing educational program hasn't been featured in the rooms of learned comment on the subject.

In the necessity for the peace and well-being of the American mother. As summer drags its dust-covered foliage on and on across the calendar, mother's nerves are twanged up to the breaking point, like banjo strings. The incredible cacophony of childish voices raised in all-out fraternal and neighborly discussion is more than human nerves should be expected to withstand all day, every day.

Witness what happens when dad hits the steps. He can stand the yak-lak just long enough to raise the decibel count two notches by demanding QUIET.

As one mother put it, busily X-ing another day off the calendar: "September is the loveliest month in the year."

Rusk Allays Fear

In the light of public discussion of the nuclear test ban treaty, one fact stands out.

Many Americans now believe there is no longer a basis for abnormal fear that the Russians may have tricked our negotiators into signing something that contains a hidden time bomb.

Analysis of his testimony before the U. S. Senate committee shows that Secretary of State Dean Rusk has given unqualified assurance that the test ban treaty contains no "trick arrangements, understandings or conditions of any kind."

Rusk also has declared without reservation that if the United States does detect infractions of the treaty by the Russians, this country has the capability — and the intent — to quickly resume bomb tests.

These statements by a man of Rusk's ability, experience and integrity should go a long way toward calming any jittery the public may have had.

Everyone knows, it's hard to do business with someone you can't trust. But all signs indicate that our representatives have been on constant guard against any fast shuffles during the treaty negotiations.

Why should anyone have been so suspicious of a hidden gimmick in the treaty?

For one reason, because of the "managed" news in the recent Cuban affair. Many Americans have felt they not only were kept uninformed in that case, but were actually misled as to the facts.

They have been wondering if they might not run into more of the same treatment in the test ban treaty. Secretary Rusk's frankness has dispelled that suspicion.

So now we can concentrate on keeping up our guard and watching like a hawk to make sure the Russians keep their word, as given in the treaty.

Our guess is that the Senate and the country will decide the risk is worth taking when you consider the alternative.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Haitians Want Sure Winner

High, razor-back mountain ridges cut the border between Haiti and the Dominican Republic which together share the island of Hispaniola.

The ridges are not high enough to be snow-covered but high enough to discourage the palm. And in dense tropical forest, even the tops of these inhospitable ridges are inhabited by peasant families, sking out a bare existence on its plots handed down from father to son for the better part of 300 years.

Their telegraph line is the torn loam.

From these rugged mountains, Haitian rebel leader Gen. Leon Cantave, fighting against Batista in the early days of the Cuban revolt, hopes to bring down the dictatorship of President Francois Duvalier who likes to be known as "Papa Doc."

So far it has been a war of conflicting claims, charges and denials.

In the excitement of Cantave's first strike on Aug. 5, rebel forces jubilantly fixed his strength at 500 men. That number finally dwindled to 100 or perhaps as few as 15 or 20.

In the Organization of American States, the Duvalier government charged that Cantave's invasion had been aided and abetted by the neighboring Dominican government of President Juan Bosch who last May threatened to carry out an invasion of his own against Haiti.

The Dominicans denied the charge.

For the United States, the situation was an embarrassment. It has no love for Duvalier but on the other hand does not want Bosch accused of intervention.

In the total breakdown of Haitian communications there also was concern for the safety of scattered American families, wives and families of some of whom had been permitted to return to Haiti only days before.

For both Duvalier and his enemy, Cantave, there were frustrations.

If Cantave had expected beaten-down peasantry to flock to his colors, he was disappointed for the Haitian peasantry will go only with a sure winner.

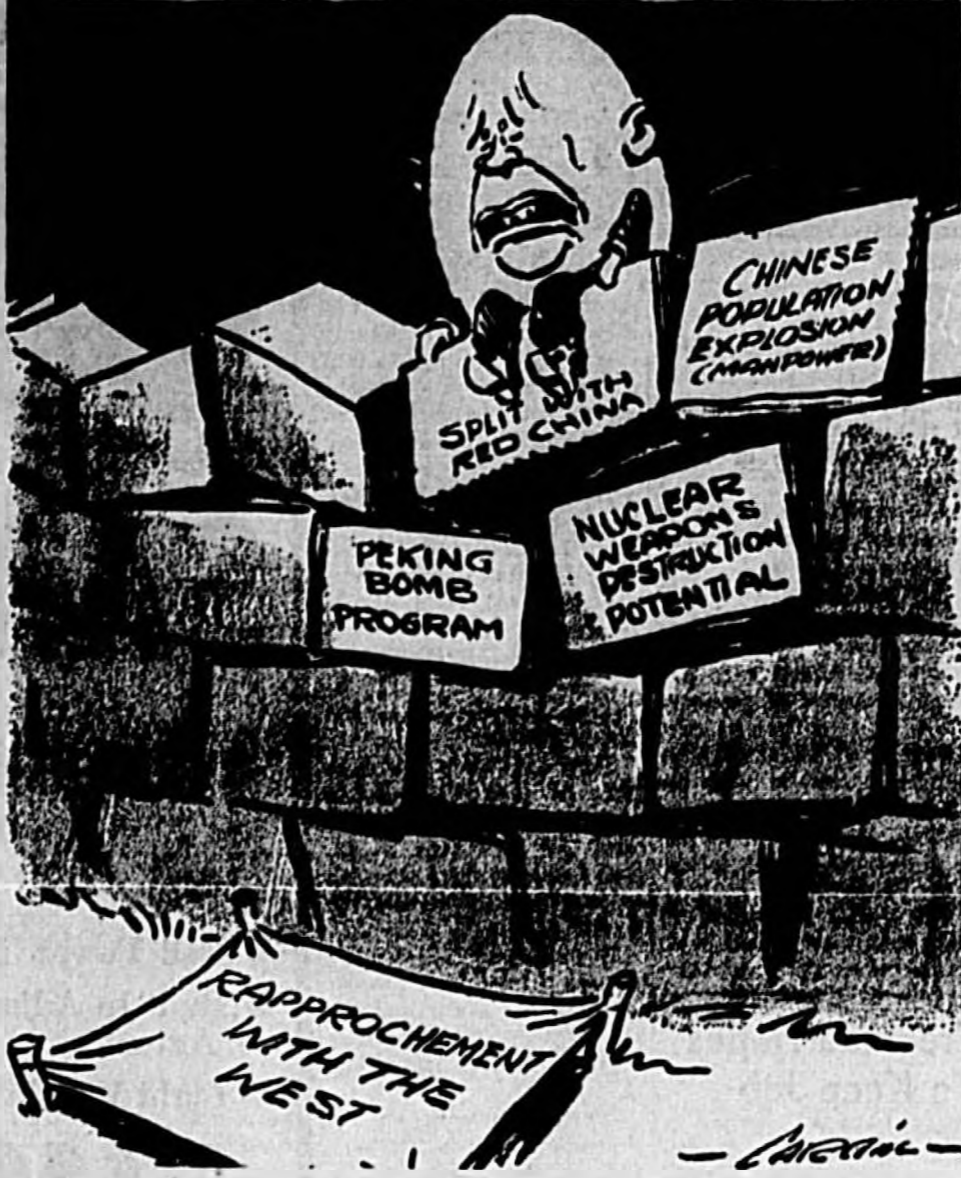

But Cantave, a professional soldier who fought the dictatorial ambitions of both Duvalier and his predecessor Paul E. Magloire, is popular with the Haitian army, a fact which made the army less than reliable for Duvalier.

Further, if rebel claims to have shot down a Haitian air force plane are true, then Duvalier has lost exactly half of his air force.

Duvalier himself showed little disposition to take on Cantave in the northeastern mountains from which the rebels appeared to be operating.

Instead, it appeared to be Duvalier's hope that he can sit tight in Port au Prince until his government "speculators" can bring in an expected $20 million from the coffee crop in October. This is supposed to be a good coffee year in Haiti where the coffee bean grows wild.

ANY OLD PORT IN A POSSIBLE EARTHQUAKE

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Don is such a jealous husband that his virtuous wife wonders if he may not be losing his mind. There are several typical reasons underlying such insane jealousy.

So he develops a constant jealousy of every man his wife (or sweetheart) may meet.

This type of chronic jealousy is typical of men at the middle-age bracket who dread that they are becoming totally platonic mates.

"I am falling my wife," is their secret thought.

So they subconsciously reverse this idea till it says, "My wife is falling me."

Then the wife's "falling" is translated to mean that she is falling to live up to her marriage vows. So they accuse her of being unfaithful and a two-timer.

Thereafter, they violently attack, often motivated by the additional idea that a vigorous offense is the best defense.

But many young husbands have also absorbed the erroneous idea that every wife MUST be wildly passionate.

The widespread dissemination of the Dr. Kinsey survey has aided this misconception.

Actually, women are NOT passionate creatures, despite the Kinsey data to the contrary!

For the Kinsey report treated women's opinions as if they were proved facts.

We medic do not let a wife tell us she has appendicitis and then send her directly to the operating room without our own examination and diagnosis!

Yet the Kinsey women were allowed to state their mere opinions of their own erotic hunger and then these opinions were tabulated as factual.

That was the basic scientific error in the Kinsey report.

For experienced Marriage Counselors and modern medicine know that the average woman is comparatively frigid as measured by the usual male standard.

More tomorrow, so scrapbook these vital cases.

PRIZE FOR A "HOLE"
William Callagher, in 1933, was awarded the Pulitzer prize for his "hole-in-the-shoe" photographs of Adlai E. Stevenson, taken when Stevenson was campaigning for the presidency of the United States in 1932.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The crowning event of Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman's trip to Europe, just concluded, was not his presentation of an Indian peace pipe to Khrushchev, who doesn't smoke.

It was, unquestionably, Freeman's offer to Yugoslavia's President Tito of $50 million in United States aid for earthquake relief in Skopje.

It isn't often that even a cabinet member gets to give away $50 million all in a bunch. But this was such a routine operation for our government that it got only brief mention.

The money wasn't in good American dollars. It was in Yugoslav dinars, worth 750 to the dollar with few takers. The U. S. government owned these particular dinars, however. It had banked them in Yugoslavia, but didn't know what to do with them.

The play was that the United States had "sold" Yugoslavia U. S. wheat and other agricultural products for dinars. These surplus crops had originally cost the U. S. government and the taxpayers hard earned money as part of the price support program.

The U. S. government simply exchanged the surplus foodstuffs for surplus dinars, which could be banked without storage costs. Now it offers to turn over about half of its surplus dinars for earthquake relief.

Marshal Tito accepted the

Peter Edson

Political Notebook

gift as soon as it was offered and sent thanks to President Kennedy and the American people by Secretary Freeman.

Half of the $50 million is a gift, half a long term loan, the conditions of which have not yet been worked out.

There is no question the aid is needed. Half of Skopje's 170,000 population was left homeless, the dead may number 2,000, the injured many more.

Just after the earthquake hit Skopje July 28, President Kennedy instructed Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to have American military forces in Europe give what assistance they could.

A U. S. Army evacuation field hospital with staff of 200 doctors and medical corpsmen was flown in.

On Aug. 5 Frank M. Coffin, deputy administrator of the Agency for International Development, called a conference of seven top assistants in his State Department office to review what had been done and to see what additional aid might be needed.

Herbert Waters, AID assistant for material resources reported on the food, government excess property and voluntary private relief agency assistance that was available.

Red Cross, for instance, had immediately cabled $10,000 to Yugoslav Red Cross for emergency aid. It also had donated 20 tons of relief flown in by Air Force transports.

The supplies included 6,000 blankets, clothing, $37,000 worth of medicine and $30,000 worth of penicillin, donated by a pharmaceutical house that wanted no publicity.

By Aug. 7, Coffin was able to report that 3,000 tons of food, 7,400 blankets, 1,400 sleeping bags and 285 12-man tents were on the way.

The Army also sent a water engineer, Charles Potts, to supervise purification of drinking water for prevention of epidemics.

Coffin then made a tentative decision to make the $50 million in U. S. surplus dinars available for reconstruction in a city where 85 per cent of the homes were destroyed.

Two housing experts, Edgar P. Zimmerman of Red Cross and Richard Knight of AID were sent to survey the damage.

The $50 million offer was referred to an interdepartmental committee from State, Treasury, Agriculture, Bureau of the Budget and Food for Peace office in the White House.

The proposal also was transmitted to the chairmen of House and Senate committees on Foreign Affairs and Agriculture for their information, because Congress has been cold and critical of more aid to Yugoslavia.

When approval had been obtained from all agencies concerned, the decision was made to have Secretary Freeman transmit the offer, since he already was in Yugoslavia and since Ambassador George F. Kennan had resigned his post.

Yankees Still Have The Old Fighting Spirit

By United Press International
The New York Yankees are having a brawl as they merrily dance their way to another American League pennant.

As for those skeptics who have protested the lack of fight in the junior circuit, they would have had a ball themselves had they been at Yankee Stadium Wednesday night.

In the best extra-mural scuffle of the season, New York first baseman Joe Pepitone precipitated a general melee between members of the Yankees and Cleveland Indians after being hit by a pitch thrown by Gary Bell in the eighth inning of the second game of a two-night doubleheader.

The ensuing scene somewhat resembled a barnyard dance as players grappled with anyone in reach.

Pepitone, who earlier in the game had been hit by starter Barry Lantieri and then was brushed back by Bell before being hit again, was tossed out of the game when the umpires finally restored order.

Regarding the fight the Yankees are said to win, they took both ends of the doubleheader by identical 3-1 scores. The sweep, engineered behind the fine pitching of Al Downing and Stan Williams, boosted New York into a 10-game lead over the second-place Chicago White Sox.

In other American League contests, the Los Angeles Angels edged Baltimore, 3-2, in the second game of a two-night doubleheader after the Orioles had taken the opener, 7-5; the White Sox topped the Boston Red Sox, 7-1; the Washington Senators beat the Kansas City Athletics, 6-1; and in a day contest the Minnesota Twins routed the Detroit Tigers 10-1.

sorrow in beer a year ago but times have changed and barring some unforeseen catastrophe they should appear in their first World Series since 1959 six weeks from now.

To all intents and purposes, the Dodgers disposed of their last serious challengers Wednesday night when they beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 2-1, in a 16-inning thriller for their seventh straight victory.

The triumph took them three hours and 43 minutes to achieve but it was worth it because they are now 7 1/2 games in front with little chance of being headed off again.

A crowd of 54,125, largest of the year at Chavez Ravine, saw the Dodgers prevail when rookie Ken McLain doubled off Ron Taylor in the 16th and came home on John Roseboro's single along the left field line.

Southpaw Sandy Koufax failed in his bid to become the majors' first 20-game winner when he left after 12 innings with the score tied at 1-1. But he struck out 10 batters to raise his season total to 233, tops in the major leagues. St. Louis starter Curt Simmons departed after pitching 13 innings.

Elsewhere in the National League, the skidding San Francisco Giants dropped their fifth straight and tumbled to within a half game of fourth place when they were beaten by the Milwaukee Braves, 6-2, Houston blanked Cincinnati, 1-0, and Pittsburgh topped Chicago, 7-4.

The game between the Phillies and Mets was rained out.

11 NBA Games On Network

NEW YORK (UPI) — The National Basketball Association (NBA) will televise 11 regular season games and its annual All-Star game on a special coast-to-coast network next season.

The announcement of the planned "Game of the Week" television series was made today at the conclusion of the NBA's annual summer meeting.

The games will be telecast on 11 consecutive Thursday nights starting Jan. 2, 1964. They will be televised into all nine league cities, with the local site blacked out, and will be made available to television stations in other areas.

The annual NBA All-Star game at Boston on Tuesday Jan. 14, will be shown on the same special network.

Indications are good for a network approximating 60 cities," said Fred Podesta, assistant to president Ned Irish of Madison Square Garden, who will be managing director of the NBA network.

Palmer, Boros, Nicklaus Rated One-Two-Three

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — The long ball hitters—Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros among them—were favored today in the field of 90 teeing off in the first round of the $55,000 American Golf Classic.

Because the long and exacting Firestone Country Club course covers 7,165 yards, booming and accurate tee shots are the key to success.

The fairways are narrow and well bunkered, leaving little margin for error.

The odds-makers made golf's "big three" the favorites, quoting Palmer at 4-1, Boros at 5-1 and Nicklaus at 6-1. A lot of golfers did not agree with the Nicklaus odds.

"If big Jack hits 'em straight he is likely to run away from the field," predicted Joe Campbell. "It would take super golf on the part of Palmer, Boros or any other players to beat him if he is his usual self off the tees."

Nicklaus wasn't too happy with his driving Wednesday in his only tuncup round for the Classic.

"My tempo is off," he complained. Boros said he was "hitting the ball all right."

Triplet Released; Pro Career At End?

United Press International
Met Triplett, a veteran of eight National Football League seasons and once one of the game's best ground-gainers, apparently has reached the end of his professional career.

Only the fifth draft choice of the New York Giants in 1955, Triplett went on to become the fifth leading rusher in team history before he was traded to the Minnesota Vikings in 1961. Earlier this year he was traded from the Vikings to the Cleveland Browns.

It was the Browns who dropped the final axe on the aggressive, 31-year-old full-back, handing him his release Wednesday only two days before the squad was due to leave for a series of West Coast exhibition games.

SEC Troubled But Powerful

ATLANTA (UPI) — The Southeastern Conference, shaken by reports of scandal, integration and drop-outs, goes into the 1963 college football season still rated one of the most powerful conferences in the nation.

Much of the between-season publicity has been unfavorable to the SEC. There have been accusations of game rigging and deliberate roughness (both now the subject of court suits), the announcement that Kentucky will introduce Negroes into the all-white conference, and predictions that Georgia Tech, and possibly others, will go independent.

The SEC rebounded from one harsh blow Tuesday when a jury held that former Georgia Athletic Director Wally Butts did not give team secrets to Alabama Coach Paul Bryant prior to last fall's game which Alabama won 35-0. Butts sued the Post for libel and was awarded $3,000,000 in damages.

SEC Commissioner Bernie Moore said the ruling in favor of Butts should help lift the "dark cloud" over college football, and the SEC in particular.

The Post also carried an article accusing Bryant of teaching his players to be deliberately rough as a means of winning games. Bryant, whose teams have been beaten only once in their past 29 games, has sued for $500,000 on this charge.

Kentucky announced it was lowering its color bars but school officials insist that there will be no grants-in-aid to Negro athletes this year and the first time any can be expected to be used in varsity competition is in 1965.

At least a half dozen of the other schools in the 12-team conference have said that Negroes will not be a factor in their scheduling. But it is doubtful that schools like Mississippi, Mississippi State and Alabama will go along with the idea.

Georgia Tech has refused to comment on a report that it will withdraw from the SEC this winter. The prediction is based on Tech's desire to play a nationwide schedule and to eliminate sharing its television and bowl receipts with conference members.

But all these problems do not alter the fact that the Southeastern Conference appears set for one of its finest football seasons.

At least four members of the Dixie dozen—Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia Tech and Florida — figure to rank among the national leaders this fall. Louisiana State and Auburn could add themselves to this list by solving a few problems.

It's generally conceded that Mississippi, despite the graduation of quarterback Glenn Griffing and All-America tackle Jim Dunaway, is the best bet to succeed itself as conference champion. The Rebels have their usual collection of husky, speedy players and a crisp schedule.

Family Celebrates First Birthday Of Youngster

By Mona Grinstead

Joseph Scott Tufts, son of Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph Tufts, of North Orlando, was very much surprised recently when the family held a party in celebration of his first birthday.

He didn't quite understand what was going on but was delighted with the cake with a big candle on the top and all the commotion made by his brothers, David and Glen, and sister, Shelly.

Special guests at the party were his grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Tufts Sr., of Poinciana Gardens, Stuart, and an aunt, Mrs. A. Sherwin, of Templeton, Mass. They were enroute to Massachusetts and stopped over for the celebration.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Bride-Elect

By Helen Sundgras

Miss Susan Hiers, bride-elect of Ronnie Williams, of Groveland, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Wesley Tyler, Mrs. Irene Jackman, Mrs. Bertha Hardin and Mrs. John Tatum Thursday evening at the Florida Power club in Enterprise. Beautiful decorations of pastel summer flowers, wedding balls and greenery were used.

When the honoree arrived, movies were made, after which carnation corsages were presented to her and her mother, Mrs. Harold Hiers, and Mrs. Ray Williams, mother of the groom to be.

After the crowning of Miss Hiers as "Queen of the evening" a clever and original skit was presented by Mrs. Irene Jackman and her daughter, Mrs. Darwin Bennett, of Deland, with organ accompaniment by Mrs. Catherine Sellers. She played "Sentimental Journey" as an introduction. The group joined in singing "School Days," "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," and "When I Grow Too Old to Dream."

Other games were played with winners as follows: Mrs. Frank Winkler, Mrs. James Hardin, Mrs. Sidney Emanuel and Mrs. Ray Williams.

Following the opening of the many lovely gifts received by the honoree, refreshments of fruit punch, cake, nuts and mints were served by the hostesses.

Finneys Enjoy European Trip

By Shirley A. Westworth
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Finney have returned to their home in Bear Lake after an exciting three week tour of Europe.

The couple's daughter and family, 5/Sgt. and Mrs. James Haynes, and three children, are stationed at the Sembach Air Force Base, near Kyser Slautern, in Germany.

When the Bear Lake couple arrived in Germany the two families immediately departed by car to see how many European scenic points could be visited during their vacation.

They visited Luxembourg, France, Belgium, England, Holland and Switzerland. In Germany the group camped one night in the famous "Black Forest" where the scenery and mountains were beautiful. They also found the Rhine Valley a veritable fairland of castles and scenery.

The next visit coincided with the celebration of Heidelberg Castle, which is held once a month commemorating the burning of the castle about 400 years ago. Colorful lights expertly directed at the castle produced the illusion that it is afire. The group sat on the banks of the Rhine while viewing the spectacular scene.

While in France the tourists enjoyed a boat ride up the Seine and arrived in time for the centennial of Notre Dame Cathedral, that occurs every 100 years. The Cathedral is now 800 years old.

Points of interest visited in England were the tower of London, steeped in history of the ages and the British unknown soldier's tomb, in Westminster Abbey. A visit was also paid to the French unknown soldier's tomb at the Arch de Triumpe.

Madame Tussard's Wax Museum, in London, was very interesting and the group was impressed with the lifelike qualities of the famous figures. As an example a true to life figure of a sleeping beauty, breathing peacefully as in sleep was fascinating.

In Holland the windmills were objects that drew much attention as well as the flowers and the general cleanliness of the country and its people. The group stopped to pick flowers in Flanders Field.

At the end of the exciting trips the tourists were not exhausted but felt like they could start all over again. They not only enjoyed the scenery but found the people to be extremely friendly except in France. The Finneys agreed that this was one vacation that they would like to do all over again next year.

To remove stains caused by axle grease or dirty machine oil, rub with cooking oil and let it stay 15-20 minutes to loosen any carbon, iron rust, and other soil particles. Then blot up the oil with a sponge or paper towels. Repeat this treatment, if necessary, and launder in hot soap or detergent suds.

Bridesmaids' Lunch Held At Mayfair Inn

Mrs. W. H. Stemper and daughter, Marty, honored Miss Carolee Osterholm and her wedding attendants with a bridesmaids' luncheon, Monday at the Mayfair Inn.

A white and gold color scheme was carried out in decorations with a centerpiece of white roses. Place cards were miniature white candles with tiny rose buds held in small gold candle holders.

Miss Osterholm presented her attendants with short white gloves and her maid of honor, Miss Stemper, with a silver charm inscribed "Carolee and Wally-1963."

The hostesses presented Miss Osterholm with a copper chafing dish. A luncheon of tropical fruit was served to the guests.

Invited to share the event were the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Robert Osterholm, her grandmother, Mrs. G. H. Rhind; the groom's mother, Mrs. Wally Phillips, Miss Merritt Phillips, Miss Jeanne Robson, Miss Bobby Munson, Mrs. Audrey Lovett and Miss Beth Morgan.

When a man has an armful of bundles, open the door for him. It won't detract from your status as a lady.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I usually agree with your answers, but I think you were wrong to tell that 14-year-old girl who was only holding hands with a boy at the baseball game that "any show of affection was out of place in public". What's wrong with holding hands in public, Abby? Isn't it a lot better than doing other things on the sly? Are you getting to be an old fogey or something? You sure let us kids down this time.

DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: I'm sorry if I let you down, but if it's any consolation, you have lots of company. There is NOTHING wrong with holding hands. But it leads to other displays of affection, such as slipping the arm around the waist. Then a big controversy develops over WHERE the waist begins and where it ends. Honest affection is beautiful but a hands-off policy in public is a good safe-guard for a girl's reputation. And a boy's, too.

DEAR ABBY: I visited my son recently and never was I hurt more in my life. My daughter-in-law works part-time for a doctor, and all the time I was there she worked, which was all right with me because it gave me a chance to cook, sew, keep her house and take care of her two adorable children. The killing blow came when her best friend called me up and told me that my daughter-in-law ASKED the doctor to let her work full time during my visit there because she hated me and did not care to be at home while I was there.

Do you think I should talk to my son about this?

HURT MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: First, your informant is more of a fool than a friend, and may even be a liar. So, ignore the report and enjoy your visit. P. S. With a "best friend" like her, your daughter-in-law doesn't need any enemies.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 11, but I am very big for my age. My problem is I don't know how to ask my mother for a bra. But that isn't the hardest part. She is handicapped with "M.S." and even if she said yes my Dad would have to buy it for me, and that would be very embarrassing.

Please tell me what to do because I am getting ashamed.

"JUST ME"

DEAR "ME": Confide in an aunt, a grown girl cousin or even a friendly neighbor lady, and I'm sure one of them will be glad to take you shopping. And it is nothing to be ashamed of, honey, so don't be timid.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S. G.: We do not count a man's years until he has nothing else to count.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Getting married? For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding", send 50 cents to Abby.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The last few columns have covered favorable assumptions from Marshall Miles' new book "All Fifty-two Cards." Declarer must find certain cards where he wants them, and he will make his contract only if the cards behave nicely.

Another type assumption is the pessimistic outlook. The contract looks easy, so you start to guard against bad breaks.

Now let's see what can happen to you at five hearts. The contract looks pretty good. You have lost the opening spade but can ruff your other spade and if trumps break favorably you will make an overtrick.

You also have no worries about a 3-1 trump break. You will only make five odd if you don't pick up the queen, but five is all you have bid.

How about four trumps in one hand. East almost surely won't hold them, but maybe West will.

Can you do anything about this? Yes, you can.

You win East's club lead with your queen and lead a heart. Then you finesse dummy's jack. If the finesse loses you will still make your contract. Actually it wins, but East shows out. Now you cash the king of hearts, get back to your hand with a diamond, ruff your last spade, and lose a trump trick in the cool of the evening.

Suppose that East had led a spade at trick two? You should ruff in dummy, return to your hand with club or diamond, and take the heart finesse just the same in order to guard against that bad trump break.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

When a woman has warmth and charm, she adds a great deal to any occasion. She makes friends with the greatest of ease and is often envied by other women because of her popularity.

The women who envy her would do well, instead, to emulate her.

She likes to meet new people and shows it in several ways. She is friendly and interested at the first meeting. She remembers the person's name, and goes out of her way to speak first the next time they meet. And she is always quick to introduce a new acquaintance to an old friend.

She talks enough to put other people at ease, but not enough so that she ever monopolizes the conversation. When someone else is doing the talking she listens with a responsiveness that is both satisfying and flattering.

She laughs easily, so that the little incident someone else tells for a laugh never falls flat.

Other women are comfortable in her presence, for she doesn't try to outdo them.

or give herself a big build-up.

She doesn't seem to need to always be right.

She is pleasant and agreeable with women as she is with men.

She can make small talk with anybody. It isn't especially stimulating — but it is friendly and interesting and lively.

Not one of the traits that won her the reputation for being a delightful person is difficult to acquire. Anyone can develop warmth and kindness if she cares enough to work at it.

Elrod Urges GOP Club To Get Early Start

By Jane Casselberry
Rep. Bob Elrod of Orange County was guest speaker Tuesday night at this month's meeting of the Seminole County Young Republican Club held at the Howell Park Civic Center.

Elrod, who is in the advertising business in Orlando and is past chairman of the Orange County Republican Executive Committee, was elected to the Legislature in the special election held last March.

He told the group that the future belongs to those who prepare for it and urged them to start planning now for the 1964 elections.

He stated that Democratic politics in the state have been on an "every man for himself" basis and said that though the Republicans are building a stronger organization in the state, GOP candidates for the most part still have to depend largely on their own resources, along with individual and club contributions, to finance their campaigns.

In an analysis of Republican victories in Florida, he pointed out that the five counties emerging as Republican strongholds also have had the highest rate of population increase. Only three

Casselberry Wins Ribbon In Derby

By Jane Casselberry
Johnny Casselberry of Den One, Pack 540 of Casselberry, received a red ribbon at the Wekiwa District Cub-D-Dee held recently in Apopka at the Elementary School when his homemade miniature racer finished second in the Pine-wood Derby. His car was winner in last year's derby.

The pack will also receive a red ribbon. Pack 540 was in charge of Skill Games which were made by Den Mother Frances Setje. Some of the skills which the boys competed to were darts, bean bag toss, ring toss, bowling, ring the milk bottle, fish pond and putting out candles with squirt guns. Wally Krohne is Cubmaster.

Mrs. Setje also participated in the Den Mothers' Kitchen Concert held later in the afternoon.

The group separated into packs for picnic supper and pack meetings. Crafts made by the various dens were on display throughout the afternoon.

Traffic Light Survey Set

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The Delaney Business and Professional Women's Club has been notified by the Volusia County Engineer's office that another survey will be made regarding the installation of a traffic light at High Banks Rd. and Hwy. 17-92 if the Board of County Commissioners find conditions warrant such a survey.

Members of the club have long advocated that a blinker or caution light be installed at the busy intersection.

Longwood Church Buys Property

By Donna Estes
The purchase of property measuring 108 feet by 400 feet on Oxford St. at Lake Wildmere in Longwood was announced today by the First Baptist Church of Longwood.

Rev. Jack Lindsay, pastor of the church, in making the announcement said that a new pastorage will be located on the property although no definite plans for the building have yet been drawn.

The first event to be held on the new grounds will be a Labor Day picnic beginning at 8 p.m. Preceding the supper there will be a ball game at Longwood Park between married men and single men of the church beginning at 2:30 p.m.

of the 18 elected Republicans are native Floridians, most being newcomers to the area as well as to politics. Elrod advised the club, in preparing for next year's elections, to look for candidates who would not only win but also could do an outstanding job; to run candidates in races where the opposition is weakest; to avoid primaries in order to save best efforts for the election; to get out and sell the candidate, door to door, and to get those on the committee's voter list to the polls.

Seminole County Rep. Jan Fortune reported on the State Federation meeting of Young Republican Clubs held last

Forest City-Bear Lake Area Clubs Set Opening Meetings

By Shirley Wentworth
Three civic clubs of the Forest City-Bear Lake area have announced opening meetings for the coming season of fall activity.

Scheduled for the Forest City Community Assn. will get underway on Monday, Sept. 2, with a dinner meeting beginning at 8:30 p. m. at the Forest City Restaurant.

C. M. Atchley, president who will preside over the business meeting following the dinner, has announced that he is looking forward to seeing the association become even more active in community work and events than it has been in past years.

The opening meeting for the Bear Lake Garden Circle will be held at 8 p. m. on Wednesday, Sept. 11, at the home of Mrs. Albert Jacobs on Lake Asher Circle in Bear Lake.

Mrs. C. L. Ironk, installed as president at the last meeting of the summer, will preside. Those interested in joining the circle at this time are invited to attend the meeting upon notification of the hostess.

Village Okays Gas Company Franchise

The North Orlando Village Council Monday night gave first reading approval to a proposed ordinance granting a 20-year franchise to Suburban Propane Gas Co. of Maitland.

Residents were advised that the franchise, if approved, would in no way affect those presently doing business with other companies.

Terms of the ordinance call for semi-annual reports and rebate payments to the village on three per cent of the company's gross receipts.

The gas company is given right to do any work necessary to maintain its system, including possible expansion, subject to rules and regulations as set by the council.

The village retains the right to purchase said system upon agreement of both parties concerned.

Objections that the franchise would block future possibility of the village receiving natural gas brought council opinion that rates and operations of the privately owned concern were felt to be better in the long run.

Baumholers Witness Crash

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Baumholer of Longwood, now on vacation with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Palmer and family in Boonville, Ind., write that recently they were first hand witnesses at the crash of a light "crup-olster" plane in which the pilot was killed.

They tell of arriving upon the scene near their daughter's home only minutes after the crash occurred and described the tragedy as "a horrible mess to see."

Mrs. Palmer is news correspondent for the Evansville (Ind.) Courier and covered the crash for her paper.

Saturday at the Cherry Plaza in Orlando.

Congressman Edward J. Gurney was featured speaker for a capacity attendance at the dinner held in the Egyptian Room.

The Federation meeting also was attended by D. E. "Bozz" Lukens, national chairman of the Young Republican Clubs, as well as many other party dignitaries.

Tuesday night's Seminole Club meeting was attended by approximately 100 persons and was conducted by the first vice president, E. Pope Bassett, in the absence of the president, Miss Audrey Flynn who is vacationing in Massachusetts.

Forest City-Bear Lake Area Clubs Set Opening Meetings

Community Club will begin with a meeting to be held at the Florida Power Corp. Employees Club on Bear Lake the evening of Thursday, Sept. 19.

William G. Carpenter, new president, will preside at the meeting which is to get underway promptly at 8 p. m. Carpenter has announced that this will be a reorganizational meeting and that it is hoped all old and new officers will cooperate in every way to make this a successful club year.

Suggestions will be accepted and brought before the membership at this time.

Big Boost

A big boost for the entire Central Florida area, as well as for Seminole County, came this week with the announcement of Sept. 3 as the groundbreaking date for Girls' Town in North Orlando.

Initial plans call for the design and building of the residence-administration hall with subsequent addition of a dormitory wing and construction of a student center, including an infirmary and supply center. Added later will be an auditorium, cottages for the older girls, elementary and high school, swimming pool and gym, vocational school and crafts, chapel, religious building, staff housing, directors residence and the play area.

The educational program, in addition to state-required academic curriculum, will offer a wide choice of cultural and practical elective courses. Girls will attend public schools in the area until the elementary and high school building is completed.

Exceptionally capable and talented students will receive future aid upon completion of a high school level education. A job placement bureau will help place girls in gainful positions and those having high scholastic aptitude will be granted scholarships to leading colleges and universities.

Long range plans for Girls' Town will include expansion of facilities to give special care for the mentally retarded, brain injured and emotionally disturbed.

Any needy and deserving girl, regardless of race or religion, will be eligible for enrollment at Girls' Town.

Troop 38 Plans Weekend Camp

By Julia Barton
Boy Scout Troop 38 of Altamonte Springs will spend Saturday and Sunday on camp at Rock Springs.

Highlight of the weekend will be an outdoor Court of Honor to be held at 8 p. m. Saturday. Advancements in rank and merit badges earned during the summer will be awarded at this time.

'Mom' Brings Scouts Back Home

(Editor's Note: Although our Casselberry Scouts returned late Sunday afternoon from their camping trip in the Smokies, we still have to bring them home in print via our reporter and their camp "Mom", Mrs. Jane Casselberry.)

After enjoying several days of beautiful weather at our Deep Creek camp, the rains came and with them the mud.

In spite of a few wet sleeping bags the boys were undaunted and enjoyed the challenge of putting up a shelter from a sheet of plastic (20 x 30') with poles and rope.

In this drizzle we visited Cherokee Wonderland, sort of a poor man's Disneyland. There is a gondola lift up the mountain side, a "western" town complete with gun fights, train and stage coach rides. The driver of our stage was a Cherokee Indian and it made me wonder if he would be "for us or agin' us" in the event of a showdown.

On Sunday morning three of the Scouts attended Catholic Mass in Bryson City and the rest of the group attended worship at the Methodist Church.

We packed up Monday morning and headed for Asheville where the group separated temporarily with the Casselberry family going to Blowing Rock for an overnight visit with Leonard's mother, Mrs. Mel Casselberry, and the bus going to the Daniel Boone Council Scout Reservation south of Canton, N.C.

The campers slept in Adirondack Shelters in this remote area and enjoyed a swim in the waters of Lake Allen. When we rejoined the group we found the young naturalists had been busy catching snakes and the inevitable salamanders (this time some orange ones with black polka dots).

There was quite a bit of excitement when Danny Dempsey, who was sleeping in an upper bunk woke up to find he had been joined by a large king snake who had escaped from captivity. On orders from the Scoutmaster the boys reluctantly released the rest of the snakes before boarding the bus Wednesday morning for Chattanooga.

Another passenger was added to the roster when we picked up Steve Kish, a member of the troop who has been spending the summer in North Carolina with his grandmother near Bryson City. Steve has hiked over most of the mountains in the Smokies and on the Blue Ridge Parkway as well as working at "Midget City," a tourist attraction which his family moved from Fern Park to Franklin, N. C.

Harrison Bay State Park on Chickamauga Lake was headquarters for Troop 311 which we were sightseeing in Chattanooga. The area was the scene of some of the bloodiest fighting during the Civil War. On Thursday morning the group went up on Lookout Mountain where the "battle above the clouds" took place, riding up on the world's steepest incline Railway.

The view from Point Lookout, a National Military Park, overlooks the city and the part of the Tennessee River known as Moccasin Bend. The park ranger pointed out spots of historic interest and the 20 miles of hiking trails winding around the side of the mountain.

Chattanooga is "cousin country" for Billy and Danny Dempsey and 12 cousins visited our camp that night as well as their grandmother, Mrs. Rita Dempsey Bryant, who had been following their adventures in The Herald to which she is a subscriber.

Mrs. Bryant and several other relatives brought with them a dinner that was one of the high points of the trip for all 31 campers in honor of Danny's Aug. 17 birthday. The tables were laden with fried chicken, potato salad, corn on the cob and cake and other goodies.

The scouts put on a camp fire program of humorous skits to entertain our visitors. Before starting for home Friday morning we toured the Chickamauga Battlefield with its many monuments and cannon and visited the museum for a vivid account of the battle that took place there between Union and Confederate troops. While we were having lunch at a roadside park north of Atlanta, friends from home, Mrs. Marion Velch and sons, Tom and John, stopped to say "hello" when they saw our bus. They were returning after a visit with relatives in Illinois. On the way up they were in an auto accident and she was hospitalized.

If Sherman had had the heavy traffic, expressways and one way streets of modern Atlanta to cope with, he would have never made it to the seal We finally located the scout office and secured permission to camp at the Bert Adams Boy Scout Reservation near Covington, which was nearer than our scheduled stop at Hard Labor Creek State Park.

Before going to the camp we went out to Stone Mountain where we saw the memorial to Confederate heroes carved in the face. We rode the Stone Mountain Railroad, an old-fashioned steam locomotive with full sized cars, all the way around the mountain. The trip proved to be an exciting one for the youngsters as we were attacked by "Indians" who fired ear-splitting cannons, raced through the cars chasing "southern belles," and even "scalped" the conductor!

We stayed in Adirondack shelters at the camp which is only two years old and has wonderful facilities.

The next night we decided to stop at Laura S. Walker State Park south of Waycross since it was getting late and we were afraid we couldn't make Ft. Clinch in time to pitch camp.

The tired wayfarers took a welcome dip in the pool and then set up camp. After supper there was birdy-bird cake with 12 candles for Danny Dempsey.

Next morning the Catholic boys attended 7 o'clock mass and we all got off to an early start, arriving in Jacksonville in time for worship at the Hendricks Ave. Baptist Church's beautiful modern sanctuary.

Stopping on U. S. 1 for a real restaurant dinner, we were pleased to find that all our civilized manners had not worn off during the two weeks of roughing it.

Arriving home Sunday around 3 p. m. we were greeted by waiting parents and Scoutmaster Ted Daniel presented camp patches to all those making the trip from Scout camps we stayed at along the way. Everyone complimented "Old Bessie," the bus, for the way she climbed mountains and held up on the trip. She came back bearing an EXPLO-SIVES sign on her bumper which may well refer to some of the tempers transported therein!

Life in the beautiful outdoors has its advantages—away from workaday cares and out of touch with world problems. However, traveling with Troop 311 we still had our basic problems, such as feeding 31 ravenous people three meals a day, keeping them in clean clothes (eight washer loads every few days), and tending to emergency cases of poison ivy, home sickness, cuts, boils and torn pants.

It was fun but we were all glad to be back and looking forward eagerly (?) to returning to jobs and school (ugh!).

Grant stood with staff officers on Lookout Mountain during the Civil War. Beulah Likely To Stay At Sea

HAROLD SCOTT, Jacksonville engineer (center), points to the spot on the map where the proposed St. Johns-Indian River Canal will join the Indian River in the vicinity of Maytown. District directors and local engineers (pictured) inspected the spot Thursday afternoon following a business meeting at New Smyrna Beach, when it was decided to seek financing on a state and local level rather than from the federal government.

Weather Men Will Try To 'Seed' Storm

MIAMI (UPI) — Forecasters said that Hurricane Beulah, packing winds up to 90 miles an hour, will probably remain at sea, and not strike the U. S. mainland. This gave weather researchers a good chance to "seed" the season's second tropical storm with silver iodide crystals in an attempt to rob it of its heat strength. At 11 a.m. EST the Miami Weather Bureau said the storm's center was located by aircraft radar about 60 miles northwest of San Juan, Puerto Rico, near latitude 21.8 north, longitude 69.0 west. It was moving on a north-westerly course at about 12 m.p.h. Hurricane hunter planes had not penetrated the "eye" of the storm this morning but its top winds were estimated at 90 mph (later reported 225 miles to the north and east of the center and 115 miles to the south and west. The hurricane's projected course, forecasters said, will carry it "well to the north of all the Caribbean islands and east of the Bahamas and there is no danger of high winds in those areas." "Present indications also are that the hurricane will not affect the U. S. mainland," the midday advisory said. The Weather Bureau, however, warned residents of the northern Leeward Islands to be on the alert for the possibility of heavy sea swells. In 1961, Hurricane Esther was seeded with good results. The limited experiment gave scientists hope that seeding on a larger scale might give them a weapon to fight nature's biggest storm.

Action On Rail Legislation Due Next Week

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Commerce Committee was expected to approve legislation today aimed at averting a nationwide rail strike next Thursday. Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said the bill would provide for "reasonable arbitration of the disputes involved and keep the railroads of the United States running." With the strike deadline only six days away, Congress was faced with the problem of having or not having to prevent a rail stop that could seriously damage the nation's economy. The timetable appeared to be for a vote in the Senate on Monday, a House vote on Wednesday and signing of the measure by President Kennedy before 10 a.m. Thursday. Chairman Oren Harris, D-Ark., said the House Commerce Committee probably would approve a bill Monday. He said it could be taken up by the rules committee on Tuesday and acted on by the House on Wednesday. Magnuson said he hoped the legislation would be "satisfactory to both sides." He did not disclose any details but he had said earlier that four different approaches were being weighed.

Trapped Miners Can Hear Rescue Drill

HAZLETON, Pa. (UPI) — Rescue workers, unaided by two failures and mechanical breakdowns, drilled an escape shaft within hearing distance of two buried miners today. "That drill isn't far from us—I can hear it real good," reported David Felin, 38, by telephone through a six-inch food-and-water shaft drilled earlier. Louis Marino, 32, Pittston, the drilling foreman, said rescuers expected to complete the shaft by mid-afternoon. "If we are on target, we should hit the men by 1 or 2 p. m. (EDT)," he said. Gordon Smith, deputy secretary of mines, said Felin's report was extremely encouraging. "That sounds pretty good, the drilling is nearly perfect," Smith said. "This hole may be in the pillar," the layer of coal immediately above the tiny chamber in which Felin and Henry Thorne, 28, have been trapped for 11 days. A cable on the 60-ton rig slipped off the hoist early this morning and interrupted drilling for an hour. Another breakdown halted drilling for three hours to Louis Bova, 42, entombed in another chamber near by. But work on that shaft resumed at 6 a. m. and the drilling had progressed 40 feet. Despite their long entombment, Felin and Thorne appeared to be in good spirits.

Negotiations For Shopping Center Continue

Bruce Strumpf, of Clearwater, announced today that negotiations are under way to finance a $15 million shopping center at Highway 17-92 and Onora Road but added that "a news release at this time actually is premature." Strumpf, representing the R. M. Thompson Construction Company, Clearwater, stated financial negotiations are not complete for the construction by his firm for Sanford Shopping Center, Inc., a subsidiary of Investment Property Builders, Inc., of Miami. "We have signed leases with Public Market and Eckerd Drugs," Strumpf reported, "and hope to commence construction in 15 days, but it all hinges on the financing and other pending leases." The proposed site, owned by Sanford Shopping Center, is north of Onora Road and on the east side of Highway 17-92. Strumpf added he will have a formal news release when and if negotiations are completed.

A hospital spokesman said the famed "movie czar" died at 6:10 p. m. EDT there. Memorial services will be held Monday at 11 a. m. Walker Sets New Altitude Mark In X15

EDWARDS AFB, Calif. (UPI)—Veteran X15 pilot Joe Walker soared to a new world aircraft altitude record of 66 miles Thursday, but said, "I could have gone higher if I had been in my usual way." Walker, who had been scheduled to hit 68 miles high, said he barely broke his previous mark of 65 miles because he was so preoccupied with testing a new "altitude predictor" instrument. "I flew strictly by the book—that is, I followed this new instrument," Walker said after his flight to 151,000 feet. "It indicated I would go 11,000 feet higher than I did. I relied on it, but it was definitely off," he said.

House Slashes Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A rebellious House today chopped $353 million from President Kennedy's foreign aid bill on top of $460 million previously trimmed from the measure in committee. The action, initiated by Republicans in a last-gasp effort to trim the big program, was a stunning setback for administration forces which previously had steered the measure almost unscathed to the brink of passage. The House first approved the half-billion dollar slash by a roll call vote of 222 to 188 and then passed the bill itself on another roll call vote of 224 to 186.

G. A. FELGAR

CPO Commended For Lectures

A chief petty officer based at the Sanford Naval Air Station has been commended for the "challenging reminders" he imparted to NAS officers and men in a series of lectures on "The Jargon of Communism." He is Chief Aviation Machinist 1st Class George A. Felgar, an instructor with the Sanford-based Naval Air Maintenance Training Detachment 1072. Felgar's leadership recently prompted a letter of appreciation from Capt. Robert M. Ware, commanding officer of NAS Sanford. The letter was presented during the Captain's inspection of the NAMTG detachment based at Sanford. The letter said, in part: "Your obvious sincerity and thorough knowledge of your subject aided immeasurably in making a success of the leadership program. It is believed that you have imparted challenging reminders to the officers and men of this station concerning the crisis of Communism." Felgar's interest in the subject dates back to 1959 when he participated in a series of similar lectures as a member of Attack Squadron 66 at NAS Oceana, Va. He followed up this experience with intensive reading and discussions and collected additional information while studying at the Chief Petty Officer Leadership Academy in Pensacola. As a guide for preparing his four lectures he used lesson plans from the Pensacola Academy and the Leadership school at Jacksonville Naval Air Station. He also drew heavily from the station and Sanford libraries. His own interest in combating Communism led him to develop his lecture series and offer it to the station as part of its continuing leadership program. Each lecture was attended by 125-150 persons. Felgar has been stationed here for the past 15 months. He lives with his wife, Mazie and their two children at 738 Lutzmann Circle South, Longwood. Boosted by his recent success, Chief Felgar made application for a commission under the Navy's Limited Duty Officer program.
