Y.M.C.A. Expenses $40,000 More Than Combined Revenue

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—(P)—Expenditures for service to young men and boys through the Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States and Canada have doubled since the World War, the year book and official roster for 1924-1925 revealing a turnover of nearly $52,000,000. The book, compiled by George B. Hodge, was issued today by the National Councils of both countries.

Total income for the year was $51,874,400, derived as follows: Contributions, 26 percent; membership dues, 12 percent; tuition fees and other departmental activities, 12 percent; property and endowments, 7 percent; business features, dormitories, camps and restaurants, 43 percent. The total cost of operation was $51,914,400, or $40,000 more than the income.

Participating in this service were nearly 100,000 business and professional men, serving without compensation on boards and committees, state organizations and training schools. Serving under these leaders were 5,258 employed secretaries. The total membership is given at 968,929, a decrease of two percent from the membership of 1923-1924.

Gains were recorded in attendance at all physical activities, while there was a decrease of 3 1/2 percent in the number of students taking educational courses. The 239,399 men and boys affiliated with Y. M. C. A. Bible classes represent an increase of 2.7 percent, but there was a slight decrease in the total attendance at Bible classes and religious meetings. Likewise there were slight decreases in the number of decisions for the Christian life and in the number uniting with the church.

Chinese Seek Parts Of Bear's Anatomy For Health Charms

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 2.—(P)—Chinese faith in the curative qualities of selected portions of a bear's anatomy has resulted in several unique assignments for government hunters operating in this state, declares Dr. Glenn R. Bach, field leader for the federal bureau of the biological survey in the Washington district.

Recently, a Chinese resident of Washington, D. C., requested the feet of a bear while some months ago another asked for a bear's gall bladder. In the case of the gall bladder, the information was volunteered that it was wanted as a health charm. Such a talisman when worn around the neck it was averred, assured the wearer 1,000 years of life.

Although the supposed curative qualities of bear's feet were not disclosed, the hunters have been instructed to forward the first set of bruin's feet available to the Olympia office for reshipment to Washington. They also have been instructed to use salt unsparingly in the curing process. This essential was neglected in the case of the gall bladder, with the results that the talisman arrived in such a condition that officials were prone to believe that the warmer the weather the more powerful the charm would prove.

Woman Will Run Against "Ma" Ferguson In Texas

FORT WORTH, Tex., Sept. 1.—It will be "Woman vs. Woman" in Texas next year.

For Governor "Ma" Ferguson in her campaign for re-election will be opposed by another woman—Mrs. Edith Willmans of Dallas.

Women never fight harder than when fighting each other and the Texas gubernatorial campaign promises to be a unique battle from start to finish.

Both "Ma" and Mrs. Willmans are noted throughout the state as "political amazons." Both are certain to take the stump, and the Klan is likely to figure prominently in the contest.

Attacks "Ma" and "Jim". Mrs. Willmans has announced she will be a candidate for the Democratic nomination, which, of course, is equivalent to election, and already has started to fight.

In the announcement of her candidacy she took a fling at "Ma" by saying that "Husband Jim" Ferguson is the real governor of Texas, Mrs. Ferguson only visiting the capitol occasionally to sign documents.

"No individual will dictate affairs of the state over my shoulder, if I am elected," Mrs. Willmans says, defiantly.

"If I go into the governor's office I will form an advisory council, consisting of the president of the senate, speaker of the house, heads of important departments and three prominent Texas women."

"Ma" Ferguson and Mrs. Willmans are exactly opposite types. "Ma" is strongly opposed to the Klan and made it a leading issue in her campaign.

Mrs. Willmans is a Klanswoman. Governor Ferguson is a quiet woman of the rugged type. She is frank and blunt in her few speeches and talks little about things strictly political.

Mrs. Willmans a Politician. Mrs. Willmans is a good mixer, possibly more of a politician in the accepted sense of the word, and delights in discussing state issues.

She is the only woman ever elected to the state legislature and is an attorney. Last winter she was secretary of the House Appropriations committee.

So can make as good an extemporaneous political speech any man, while "Ma" on public occasions usually reads a brief type-written statement.

The only point of similarity in the two women seems to be that both are excellent housekeepers, for "Ma" still finds time to preserve large quantities of peaches. Mrs. Willmans law practice has been concerned mainly with cases involving domestic relations, but occasionally she handles a criminal case. She has three daughters and her husband is dead. While in the legislature she sponsored measures to compel all children up to 17 to attend school; to require good health certificates for all persons desiring to marry; to give financial aid to families when the father has been sent to an asylum; to provide more humane treatment of prisoners. Jazz music, sensational movies and extremes in women's dress grate on her nerves. One of the first laws she hopes to have passed is elected governor will be one giving a married woman the right to sell her property without the consent of her husband. She can't do this now in Texas.

FLORIDA FACTS

The University of Florida, at Gainesville will attain its twenty-first year at the close of the coming session. In 1906-1907, the first year of the University, there were only three buildings. Today it has sixteen, not including farm houses, barns and similar structures. Three additional buildings are to be constructed at an early date. The student body has increased rapidly. The number of Freshmen alone for 1925-26 will be almost fourteen hundred per cent more than the total attendance of students of collegiate rank during the first year on its present site. The faculty at the inception of the University consisted of fifteen members. Today it has increased approximately 700 per cent and the institution is prepared to give instructions in arts and sciences, agriculture, architecture, business administration, commerce, engineering, journalism, law, military science, pedagogy, farming, physical training, and to a limited extent, music. Rollins College at Winter Park finished the last term with a surplus of $5,000, declared to be an unusual occurrence in college financial circles of its class. The previous year had seen a deficit of approximately $50,000. This has been taken care of and in addition a $35,000 dormitory has been erected and $10,000 raised for the science hall in honor of Miss Lucy A. Cross. The hall for women at Southern College, of Lakeland, will be filled to capacity, it is believed, during the approaching term, beginning Sept. 23. Present matriculations indicate a tremendous overflow. Dr. Ludd M. Spivey, president, is making additional arrangements to care for the expected overflow. Stetson University, of DeLand, is likewise anticipating the large

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 1.—Press accounts from Swamscott don't indicate that President Coolidge is as silent a man as he has the reputation of being. He, or rather his "spokesman," meaning the same thing, is quoted as doing considerable talking. His talk does not contain much information, to be sure, but, as talk, it amounts almost to garrulity—around a column and a half of it every day—words, words, words.

The truth is, the president's taciturnity is largely fictitious. Every president has some such fiction built up about him. The present chief magistrate does have a faculty for saying quite a pithy little thing now and then. A few of these observations got into print, the public noticed them, got an idea he said nothing else, and the White House chroniclers, who were aching for some peculiarity

U. S. Border Policy Should Be Changed, Say Labor Leaders

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—(AP)—Abandonment of the "defensive" policy and adoption of a principle of self-restraint in the treatment of immigration and emigration problems by nations of the western hemisphere is the chief recommendation of the conference just concluded here between American and Mexican labor leaders.

As the first step toward application of the principle in all Latin American, the American and Mexican federations of labor have agreed to submit the program to their governments for consideration. Under the plan, the governments subscribing to it, would in seeking to control legal and excessive immigration across their borders, recognize at the same time the obligation to restrain their own nations from emigrating to other lands "in such a way as to menace the conditions of life and the institutions of other peoples."

Adoption of this principle, the conference concluded, would bring into being "an abandonment of the principle of compulsion and the adoption of the principle of voluntary action which underlies our action as trade unionists." In taking its last action, the conference adopted the report of a special committee which explained that it was unable to make more specific recommendations because sufficient detailed information was lacking.

Twenty-two states of the union are represented in the women's student body. Miss Hazel Mileham of Springfield, Mo., has been named dean of women for Southern, succeeding Mrs. Nancy V. Brooker of Tampa.

Who Bought the Brooklyn Bridge TO-DAY? ALMOST EVERY DAY the Brooklyn Bridge is sold to some gullible visitor to New York. Every day someone is swindled. Selling this famous old bridge has become a national joke. Suppose, however, the City of New York decided really to sell the Brooklyn Bridge—to give the buyer the privilege of placing toll on all who crossed it. They would advertise it for sale. And the prospective purchaser would know the offer to be genuine. He would know that the paper would not accept the advertisement if it were intended to defraud. He would know that the advertiser would not dare advertise unless his offer were honest. The advertisement would give the world confidence in the enterprise. Just as the advertising of all merchandise gives the world confidence in that merchandise. Only honest products can tell their stories where all may read. That is why it pays to read advertisements. You can rely on advertised goods. You know that a worthy manufacturer stands back of them. They are a guide to better buying. They teach you to spend wisely—economically—and with the knowledge that you are buying merchandise which is minus all vain regrets or misrepresented values. Read the Advertisements every day. NAVY PLANE IS STILL MISSING OFF MAUI ISLE

(Continued from Page One) Freighter Stuart Dollar and the liner President Polk, today were instructed to keep close lookout for the plane, although the lane of commercial traffic is believed too far north to be of much aid in the search.

Wilbur Opposes PB-1 Flight WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Secretary Wilbur will not be disposed to have the naval plane PB-1 leave San Francisco tomorrow as scheduled for its attempt at a non-stop flight to Hawaii, if it should be determined that the men on the missing PN-9 No. 1, have been lost.

The secretary said he would want to confer with officers of the department before reaching a definite decision on the flight. He expressed the opinion that the order of the PB-1 to start would not be proper if lives had been lost in the non-stop attempt of the two PN-9 planes. The PB-1 did not accompany the PN-9 planes because of incomplete tests.

If the PN-9 No. 1, should still be missing tomorrow afternoon, Mr. Wilbur said the flight of the PB-1 would at least be deferred, if not for no other reason because of the surface craft searching for the missing plane could not be in position to guard the flight. He declared, however, he did not regard with grave apprehension at this time the plight of the missing PN-9, feeling it still had a good chance of rescue.

Such a small object in so large an area, he explained, is difficult to find. He recalled that the NC-3 in the trans-Atlantic flight of 1919 descended in a heavy sea off the Azores, and despite a vigorous search was not found, coming into port finally under her own power after being missing fifty-five hours. In that time she weathered a gale where the waves ran 30 feet high.

Crusade Seeks To Restore Religion In American Homes INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 3.—(AP)—Restoration of religion to its place as a factor in American home life will be the aim of the first Christian Family convention, to be held here October 1 to 10.

The convention is sponsored by the Christian Family Crusade, under the direction of Rev. William Garfield Holderby of Chicago. Gov. Ed Jackson and U. S. Senators Samuel M. Ralston and James Watson of Indiana head a state committee which is arranging for local entertainment of delegates from all sections of the country.

After the keynote of the opening day with pleas from men of national repute for restoration of worship and religious training in the American home, the meeting will be divided into three periods, of three days each, devoted to consideration of the relation of the American family to the home, the church and the nation.

Division of the United States into 20 areas is contemplated by the convention.

Will Reorganize Old Military Unit

DAYTONA, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The Halifax Rifles, former military unit located here will be reorganized in the early fall, according to an announcement made here. The company was organized in 1884 and many prominent citizens have belonged to it.

First musters of the company were held in a warehouse here and drills and athletic events were held here until the armory was built with the aid of the county about 1890. Members of the company did much of the actual work of the construction.

Captain C. M. Douglass was the first commander. Captain C. M. Bingham commanded the company during the Spanish-American War but at Tampa where the unit was sent the company was broken up temporarily and merged with other units. The company was then Co. K, Second Florida Regiment.

Captain Bingham rose from the ranks of the company to company commander and then was promoted to major. He commanded the Second Florida Regiment until about 1907.

The reorganization of the company will take place about October and Captain Douglass, the present commander will be assisted by Major L. J. C. Harton, former commander, in the building up of the personnel.

Use Ten Cow Hides For Five Foot Boot

DOEBELN, Germany, Sept. 3.—(AP)—What is claimed to be the largest cavalry boot in the world was recently manufactured to commemorate the 60th anniversary of the boot-makers' guild here. Ten large cow hides were required to supply the leather for the boot. The foot measures 5.9 feet and the shaft 16.4 feet. The boot will remain at the town as a permanent exhibit.

TRUE WORTH

That man is great, whatever be his labor, Who wins the admiration of his neighbor. Who, in spite of purse or dress or pomp or dominion, Meets all mankind and wins its good opinion. That man is victor in life's last December. If but the few his kindness remember. True worth is not by genius fashioned solely. Great souls are oftentimes found among the lowly. Brilliance of mind and skill of hand may grumble, And lack the glorious courage of the humble. Fortune by chance upon the shrewd may visit, But gentleness proclaims the soul exquisite. Chance may uncover genius, striking blindly, But 'tis an inward glory to be kindly. That man is great, whatever be his station, Who truly serves his God, his home his nation. —Edgar A. Guest.

Take The Trouble to Vote Tomorrow

Tomorrow the voters of school districts one and three will decide whether bonds will be authorized, making it possible for school facilities in Sanford to be improved and the educational advantages to be put on a better and more satisfactory basis.

Usually, in bond elections there is little opposition. The people, as a whole, are progressive and are desirous of seeing various improvements take place.

It must be remembered, however, that bonds sell better and usually bring a much greater premium when the majority in the election is a decided one and when the sentiment of a large number of taxpayers is expressed at the ballot box.

Sanford must have the improvement sought by this bond election. It is, perhaps, the most important bond issue this city has had in a good many years. The schools must keep up with the growth of the community, if the boys and girls are to have all the advantages to which they are entitled.

The total amount of the bond issue, which the voters of districts one and three are asked to endorse tomorrow, is four hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

The same condition exists in Sanford that is to be found in almost every other community in Florida. That condition is the crowded schools caused by the tremendous growth of the state and by the rapid influx of northerners who come here to make their permanent homes.

Sanford must look ahead a few years and provide suitable educational facilities for the years which are to come, if it would continue to be known as a progressive community where all the advantages are to be found.

Good schools and good roads play an important part in the building of any worthwhile city. Sanford cannot afford to neglect its schools. It must not take any chance in its school system and in the facilities and equipment furnished its school workers.

It is needless for The Herald to emphasize the importance of tomorrow's election. The people of the city realize what it means to the city. They will do their duty and will go to the various places and vote in favor of the bond issue, and again the word will go out from Sanford that the people here do things in the right way and that Sanford can offer as good educational advantages as any place.

The vote tomorrow should be a big one and the majority given to the issuance of bonds should be a heavy one. It will be if all those who are interested in the schools of the community take the trouble to vote.

They All Help Make Sanford Grow

The more real estate men a community has, the faster that community grows. So, when many new licenses to handle real estate are secured every day in Sanford, there is no cause for alarm on the part of other real estate men or on the part of anyone, for that matter.

Look at those Florida towns which are making the fastest growth and you will find almost every office is occupied by a real estate business and nearly every citizen devotes all or a great part of his time to buying and selling property. Walk through the streets of Miami, or of Sarasota, or of St. Petersburg and you wonder how they all are able to make a living. But they do and what's more they make exceptionally fine livings.

And when it comes time for income tax returns to be made, they are the ones who pay the most to the government.

With Sanford seeing hundreds of new men entering the real estate business, it is a good sign for the future prosperity and development of the town.

A recent issue of The Miami Tribune tells about the rapidity with which licenses to handle real estate are being obtained in the Magic City. It says: "Daily the roll of real estate men in Miami increases, for at the office of the County Tax Assessor Bob Simpson, seven hundred licenses were issued to brokers and salesmen during the month of August."

Suitcases in hands, with no arrangements made about a place to live, would-be realtors rush straight from the railroad station to the tax assessor's office and take out their licenses, clerks say, for they are afraid they may have an opportunity to turn a deal in the next block and be without a license. It is a busy realtor who lets the sun go down on him without having applied for his license and Miami realtors whether they hail from Miami or California, are not lazy."

The time is coming in Sanford when the same condition will exist here. Every day sees greater real estate activity in our city. And every day sees additional real estate salesmen and brokers entering the local field. Judging from the way real estate is moving they are all making money.

When Sanford gets twice as many real estate men as it now has, watch property values jump. And if the new real estate men are of the type of those who are already in business in this city, the real estate game in Sanford will always be on a high plane with fairness and squareness a predominant characteristic.

Trying to Keep Track. Babe Ruth to Bolshevism. The image of the Creator. We Lead in Telephones. By ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

THOSESE. G. r' osLu THOSE THAT keep track of what goes on, are busy. An army of 158,000 miners stop work and start a fight against capital employing them. Tens of thousands of other workmen suffering indirectly.

WE talk about joining a League of Nations to end war. It would be better to end the industrial war inside of our own nation. CAILLAUX WILL soon arrive to discuss with Andrew Mellon Secretary of the Treasury, the French war debt settlement. Caillaux expects to stay ten days here and go back with everything settled.

"BABE" RUTH, more important to millions of Americans than all Europe, Asia and Africa combined, is dropped from baseball, fined, $5,000 for misbehavior. If Henry Ford gave up automobiles or the Rockefeller family said goodbye to oil forever, the news would not be so startling.

THE YOUNG American, Gertrude Ederle, again will try to swim the English channel, and probably succeed. Those who know that a human imitation of a sea otter is not important, will watch the effort of two United States seaplanes to go from California to Honolulu in one "hop." That is important.

THE NEXT generation will read about "the navy, patrolling the route," to save the fliers if necessary, and that will seem as strange as to send an automobile with a carrier pigeon in case it should fall down.

THIS COUNTRY witnesses its first Bolshevik funeral in a New York undertaker's "chapel." Ephraim Skiansky and his friend Isiah J. Hoogrin, both accidentally drowned, were buried in the Russian way, with piles of red flowers and playing of the "Russian Revolution Funeral March." No mention of religion.

THE CORPSES with the red flowers were taken to the crematorium, the ashes sent to Moscow. No clergyman was there to notify the cosmic powers that two more souls were on their way to be judged.

It might interest Moscow if Skiansky could come back to his ashes and make a speech on the things he has learned about government since he left here. EARNEST FUNDAMENTALISM—who makes the suggestion that there is anything of the animal in "man made in the image of his Creator" might consider the case of Mrs. Adeline Engler. According to the police story her husband left her, so, for revenge, she turned against her two-year-old girl. She bit the child's leg in several places and beat her so severely that she is in danger of death. Not much of divinity, but very much of the animal in that.

ENGLAND WILL spend $125,000,000 for electrical development $150,000,000 to bring the British telephone system up to date. In telephones, the world can learn from the United States. Look at a map of North and South America. Unless it is very big you will hardly see a little piece of ground called "Long Island." Yet Long Island, which includes Brooklyn and Queens, has more telephones than there are in the whole of South America, all those great republics. And Long Island has more telephones than there are in the whole of France.

MR. McCULLOUGH, who recently connected up telephone Number 500,000 in the Brooklyn Chamber of Commerce is to be congratulated on efficiency. If the business men of America would only do with flying machines what they have done with telephones, this nation would be much obliged to them, and safer than it is now.

VIENNA URGES the union of Austria and Germany. A union of all Germanic peoples into one great federal republic if possible, the German States to unite on the basis of our United States here.

BERNARD SHAW, who knows more about America than some of our home-made statesmen, reminds the latter that this country has its own legends of nations, made up of forty-eight States. Europe, instead of trying to drag us in should form its own league of states, refraining from war between those states as States in this country refrain from war. Suppose Pennsylvania were fighting Texas and wanted Europe to come here and help us stop fighting, would not Europe laugh and ask, "Well, why don't you stop?"

THAT SAME Bernard Shaw, in a mood of unusual but accurate humility, says that the world a thousand years hence will know nothing about him except that the great French sculptor, Rodin, in a thousand years, says Shaw, in a thousand years, says Shaw, biographical dictionaries will contain this: "Shaw, Bernard; subject of a bust by Rodin; otherwise unknown."

EVEN THAT'S an overstatement, for in a thousand years Rodin won't be remembered any more than Shaw.

Rodin in art, 1,000 years from now will be as unimportant as Kipling in literature or Shaw in philosophy.

THE BUSY MAN'S NEWSPAPER

"THE FLORIDA GAMBLE" DELAND NEWS

Under the caption, "The Florida Gamble," the New England Homestead answers the inquiry of a farmer who is anxious to learn that publication's opinion of a proposition advanced by a realty firm located in Florida. The item is self-explanatory, and follows: "I am a middle aged farmer with no money to lose. I am urged to invest in home lots in a Florida town that they say is going to develop rapidly. There will be a big advance in values and I am assured that I can sell out later at a profit. These lots cost from $1,000 to $3,000. I am asked to pay $100 down, pick out a lot from the plan, then the corporation supplies a ticket from Boston to Florida and return with his rides to other notable places. If on such personal investigation the lot does not prove to be as represented I am under no obligation to keep it." (E. F. C. Mass.)

This is simply one of the great number of similar schemes in Florida that are now being exploited through the mails and by agents. There has been a great boom in land values in some places in Florida. The craze is now spreading all over the state. It is being worked up by every artifice known to experienced real estate promoters, not to mention shysters. Strangers go down there, are convinced or hypnotized, and invest in the hope of reselling later on at a profit. It is a fearful gamble in which the insiders and those who know the ropes stand to win, while the inexperienced may find themselves burdened with heavy debts for unsalable lots when the boom bursts.

Because there has been a boom at Miami, St. Petersburg and Tampa is no reason for believing that lots on any old sand hill or swamp anywhere in the backwoods of Florida will prove a bonanza. We would not go into the scheme if P. C. asks about, for how can the buyer prove that the seller misrepresented sufficiently to compel the seller to refund the buyer's advance payment? If you get hooked on such a scheme and did not want to keep up your payments, you might find it difficult to quit doing so except at a loss of all you had previously paid in. The New England Homestead's judgment is that, in the long run, Florida may be terribly injured by the way in which it is being over-boomed. Every land boom has had its reaction, sometimes such a collapse that those who got stuck on land at high prices have had to hold it for years, pay taxes on it meanwhile, and finally were able to get rid of it only at a heavy loss.

If you want to go in at the present dizzy height of the Florida land gamble, buy only what you can pay for and part with only as much money as you can afford to lose. Then if eventually you are able to sell at a profit that will be very nice, whereas if you get stuck, have to carry it at a loss or are forced to sell at a fraction of what you put in, it will not seriously inconvenience you. You take the gambler's chance when you go in. You lose your money good-by at that time, and will take your loss or profit stoically whichever comes. The evil of this form of gamble is that people who cannot afford such chances borrow the money to go in or get hooked on the installment plan and may have a "dead horse" to pay for when the reaction comes. We do not wish to condemn any newspaper for offering what they believe to be good advice to their readers. This newspaper, however, appears to see in the Florida real estate activity nothing short of a gamble, with shysters and swindlers predominating among the dealers, and opportunity for the investor to be "fleeced" at every turn. The newspapers of the state have taken a definite stand against any "wildcat" or crooked promotion schemes. There doubtless are, however, some unprincipled dealers in the state, and no amount of watchfulness will entirely eliminate them. However, as a whole, the real estate dealers of Florida are honest in their dealings, and can be relied upon. Any investor who will trust his money to one of doubtful repute cannot blame the honest ones if he loses. Florida real estate must sell on its own merits, and we believe that really in and about any progressive community offers a good investment and will continue to offer a good investment for many years to come.

BUSINESS IN CITY GOVERNMENT

New York city's mayoralty campaign of this year will be watched with more than ordinary or local interest. Frank D. Waterman, of New York and Eustis, Florida, is before the people as a candidate for mayor, brought out by those who want more of business ability and less of political sophistry in city management. Mr. Waterman, in his very first speech of the campaign, said in a very few words some things that with advantage can be applied to other cities than New York, to which city he addressed his remarks directly. Mr. Waterman said: "I am a business man. Entrance into this campaign is to me simply another business undertaking. I look upon the government of our city as a business problem. To me as a business man it is amazing how our municipal business has been mismanaged and neglected. I am thinking how our city can be put on a business basis and run on that basis. I propose that during the next four years our municipal affairs shall be conducted in that business way which has built our city and made it commercially great. To me the one big question in this campaign is business versus politics."

That may be an unusual way for one who is running for public office to speak, especially in New York, a city that has been governed by politics for years and years. But it is the sort of talk that needs to be indulged in and the sort of city management, as described by Mr. Waterman, that needs to be encouraged. Politics is all right in its place and confined within its proper limits and sphere. When, however, as so frequently in the case, politics takes everything and gives nothing, it is time to call a halt, as is being done in the largest city in this country. The people have it in their power to put politics where it belongs, and to insist that in their public affairs proper business shall have a place, a very prominent place. In the pledges that Mr. Waterman has made to the people of New York are some that might be made to apply elsewhere, with advantage to the people. He promises, if elected, that he would build schools, lift schools and hospitals out of politics, insure a pure milk supply, try to lower taxes and assessments, drive the grafters out of public offices and give the city a business budget—surely, a big job. But it can be performed with the chief executive and the people co-operating. Merit, and not favoritism, Mr. Waterman said would govern and control his appointments to the small and fire departments. Personal and political favorites would not get no contracts, he declared. With the one big question: business or politics? in New York's municipal management, featuring the campaign in that city, the contest promises to be lively—and interesting.

CELERYMEN DROP FINAL GAME OF YEAR TO SAINTS

Hewitt Gives Up Nine Hits But Is Tight In Pinches; Crawford Is Unsteady and Walks 7, Yielding 9 Hits

The Celerymen dropped the final game of the season here Wednesday afternoon to the Blackmen by a score of six to one. Hewitt, on the mound for the visitors, yielded nine hits but was tight in the pinches. Crawford was unsteady for the locals and was forced to retire in the ninth for Myers after two men were down and the bases loaded. He walked seven men during the game.

The visitors drew first blood, scoring in the opening inning. The locals made their lone tally in the fourth while the Blackmen countered again in the sixth, seventh and ninth innings.

The Blackmen opened the first inning with a tally when Messner walked and went to third on Shannon's single. Messner was caught at third and Shannon went to second on a short single to center and Joiner scored. Frisbie staying on third. Crawford was out when he raced to third, occupied by Frisbie. Levy went out, pitcher to first.

The visitors scored again in the sixth. Shannon struck out and Mitchell followed suit. Brown slammed out a double to left field and scored on Doyle's single to right. Doyle stole second, but was out at third when Dumas threw a perfect peg to Frisbie.

St. Petersburg tallied again in the next inning when Cox singled to right and after Morris had fouled out, scored on Block's double to center. Hewitt went out, pitcher to first and Messner went out, short to first.

In the ninth the visitors countered three runs. Cox hit a hot one to first and was safe when Crawford failed to cover the base. Morris hit one to pitcher, Cox going to second and Morris safe at first. Block walked filling the bases. Hewitt hit one to left field, which Joiner dropped and Cox scored. Messner going to third. Messner sacrificed to center and Morris scored. Shannon hit a line drive into Frisbie's hands. Mitchell walked. Brown walked, filling the bases for the second time. Myers replaced Crawford and Doyle flew out to right field.

SENATORS TURN BACK ATHLETICS FOR SECOND TIME

Timely Hitting By Champions Gives Them Two in a Row; Connie Mack Uses 4 Hurlers In Effort to Stop Onslaught

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(AP)—The haze over Philadelphia's vision of the 1925 American league pennant thickened perceptibly Wednesday by a second straight defeat by the leading Senators. Washington, by pounding out an 8 to 5 victory, increased its hold on first place to five and a half games and also handed the fast crumbling Athletics their eighth consecutive defeat.

Taking an early lead Washington gathered sufficient runs to withstand a desperate rally by the visitors in the closing innings. Threatened continuance of the attack in the ninth brought Zachary to the relief of Coveleskie, who for eight frames had things his own way and the veteran lefthander proved effective.

Connie Mack, with his dreams of a pennant fast fading for this year, went the limit to win. He started his pitching ace, Sam Gray but he lasted only two innings, during which he was touched for five runs. Mack threw three other hurlers into the breach and injected new blood in his batting order, but in vain.

The closing rally of the Mackmen failed by three runs to offset the margin which Washington gained by timely hitting and taking advantage of Athletic errors. In the first inning Washington shot two runs across the plate on three hits, and a fumble and in the next frame tallied three on two errors, a wild pitch and two singles. Another run came to the Senators in the third on a base on balls, an out and a hit while in the fourth another came on a wild throw by Poole on Rice's grounder and a hit by Goslin which counted as a double when Bishop and Miller collided in left field.

The Athletics threatened in both the first and second innings but failed to count until the seventh. In this frame a single by Miller, a triple by Cochrane and an out, coupled with a wild throw by Stanley Harris gave the Mackmen two runs.

The Senators also tallied once in their half of the seventh with a double by Peckinpugh and a single by Ruel.

In the eighth Philadelphia made three runs after two were out, hitting Coveleskie hard for two singles and two doubles. Several brilliant plays featured, one coming in the second when McNeeley captured a ball hit by Simmons as it struck the left center bleacher wall. The catch held the hit to a triple.

Washington has an off day today. It meets Boston here Friday in a postponed game, and again on Saturday and Sunday.
