No. Viets To Step Up Infiltration

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — Key U.S. officials expect North Vietnam to increase its troop infiltration into South Vietnam in the near future after almost six months of decline.

Such action could pose a threat to President Nixon's timetable for withdrawing American ground combat forces from Vietnam, and authorities here are watching developments closely now that the weather is improving along infiltration routes.

According to some reports reaching Washington, the buildup already has started. But the situation is not yet clear as information on North Vietnamese troop flow along such jungle routes as the Ho Chi Minh trail linking North and South Vietnam through Laos is slow to come in.

Based on present prospects, however, some authorities believe Hanoi will not substantially strengthen its forces in the South by early next year, but will launch an offensive to put new pressure for concessions on President Nixon.

The week before the totals of battle deaths reported were 110 Americans, 227 South Vietnamese and 2,303 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

The weekly casualty report raised the number of Americans reported killed in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961, to 38,232 and the reported enemy total in that period to 566,501.

The U.S. Command said 724 Americans were wounded last week, increasing the total since Jan. 1, 1961, to 227,359.

Judge Sentences Black Panther

By F. RICHARD CICONE
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Judge Julius J. Hoffmann has sentenced Black Panther leader Bobby G. Seal to four years in prison for conspiring to cross state lines and disrupt the Democratic National Convention by inciting riots in its seventh week.

Judge Hoffmann acted Wednesday after a long series of hearings by Seal which at one point prompted the judge to have the defendant brought in bound and gagged.

The conflict between Judge Hoffmann and Seal's contention that William M. Kaufman, representing other defendants, was the lawyer who had the right to defend himself.

Judge Hoffmann cited 36 specific instances where Seal interrupted proceedings and sentenced him to three months in jail for each incident. He also set April 23 for Seal's trial on the riot conspiracy charge.

Alamonte Sewer System OK'd by HUD SS Package

HUD, $204,000 grant from the State Department of Health, and $118,000 to be raised from tapping fees. Nucleola again questioned the source of getting the 15-16 per cent of the total package.

A considerable discussion followed the announcement that HUD required assurance that $220,000 would be available from the city before they (HUD) contracted to expend any money. Nucleola mentioned the interim financing loan of $100,000 from South Seminole Bank, and stated that in his opinion the city would be borrowing $200,000. City Attorney S. Joseph Davis explained that the only requirement from HUD was that the city could give assurance of $20,000 before the funding from the government agency.

The total package of the sewer system is broken down, as follows: $995,000 Federal loan from HUD, $247,000 grant from the State Department of Health, and $118,000 to be raised from tapping fees.

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — The American businessman's son who was kidnapped and killed on a farm near Sao Paulo was already dead when his abduction was demanded $12,500 ransom, Brazilian police say.

Authorities said Patrick Dolan, 18-year-old son of the vice president of Swift and Co. of Brazil, was kidnapped by two men while on his way to school last Thursday and was shot and buried on their farm a few miles west of the city.

Police kept the kidnapping secret in hopes of recovering the youth alive. But they found his body Wednesday and later announced the arrest of Jose Dias Resende and his 25-year-old son.

LD Telephone Rates To Be Slashed In '70

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The American consumer, beset with rising costs and a shrinking dollar, is getting some welcome relief from his "Big Bell."

As a result of negotiations with the government, American Telephone and Telegraph will cut its interstate long distance rates by a record $150 million starting next year. AT&T is paring down rates on long distance service by the Bell Telephone system.

This reduction, coupled with another $60 million slated scheduled to take effect Feb. 1, means a total savings in 1970 of $225 million on phone calls between states.

AT&T said details of the cuts will be made known in the near future. But the $150 million reduction follows from a recent FCC order that the company's financial statement, made by the commission, Bell officials and outside experts.

I Rescued From Sloop; 32 Missing On Tanker

(BOSTON AP) — Seven persons were rescued from a sinking sloop off Manhattan early today while Navy and Coast Guard ships plowed rough seas in search of 36 men last reported on the sloop, an oil tanker that broke in two.

The bow section of the tanker, the 125-foot Kilo, of Liberty's fleet, was found Wednesday night by the British ship Borderland.

Ships faded for the 24 men as the hours passed. The Kilo's captain, in a garbled SOS message at 11:30 a.m. EST Wednesday estimated the sloop would not remain afloat more than an hour.

Apollo 12 Sets Moon Exploration

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — In two weeks Apollo 12 astronauts Charles Conrad Jr. and Alan L. Bean are to walk on the moon's Ocean of Storms. They are they and eight other American crews going back to the moon in the next three years.

The main goal is scientific exploration—to unlock secrets of the origin of the moon, and perhaps the earth and the universe. Is it worth the risk? The three astronauts who will fly Apollo 12—Conrad, Bean and Richard F. Gordon Jr.—agreed in private interviews that it is.

"Apollo 12 proved that man can land on the moon," said Gordon. "Apollo 13 will start the detailed geological exploration of the lunar surface."

Conrad and Bean plan to do a full up of scientific instruments powered by the first atomic generator ever placed on the moon. The devices are designed to relay continuous data for at least a year on such things as moonquakes, wind and the moon's atmosphere and magnetic field.

The moon women also will collect carefully documented rock samples during more than seven hours outside their landing craft. On later missions astronauts will explore other parts of geological interest, landing in the mountains and inside craters. The last four Apollo teams will have wheeled vehicles to roam several miles from their landing spot.

"Because we accomplished a landing on the moon didn't mean the end of the space program," said Gordon, who will orbit the moon while his companions rest on the lunar surface. "We have a lot to learn about the moon."

Computers To Settle Integration

By JOHN VAN GILSON
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — No more counting pins stuck in a map and guessing like mad, educators were told here Wednesday, because color-blind computers soon will program integration in keeping with any standards.

School officials from as far away as Oklahoma and Pennsylvania attended a two-day conference at which a pilot computer program to integrate Orange County, Fla., schools next fall was explained.

"The project will be programmed to eliminate integration models in the effectiveness of previous computerized integration models in Seattle and New Haven, Conn.," said Peter Pflaum, director of the Institute for Policy Studies at Florida State University and co-chairman of a $125,000 federal grant.

Pflaum explained computers will analyze residence patterns and assign children to schools according to whatever criteria officials decide to program into the system.

Among past mistakes that will be avoided, he said, will be allowances for rivers and other barriers.

"This is to consider the fact that people cannot fly, or walk on water, or that the world is entirely paved with concrete walls," Pflaum said.

Donald Ney, assistant superintendent for data processing in the Orange County schools at Orlando, said only human weakness can prevent development of an impartial computer integration model.

"The reliability of this model is no better than the integrity of the people operating it," he said.

Orange County was selected for the pilot program because of its exceptional pupil records and its reflection of school problems everywhere, Nay said.

Cyclamates Banned In Citrus Juices

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Some Florida citrusmen expressed dismay when the use of cyclamates in citrus juices, but none do so now, says the chairman of the House Citrus Committee, Rep. William O'Connell, D-Fla.

O'Connell said the House last week House Bill 1695, which would have extended authorization for experimenting with the artificial sweetener for a year.

"I called the clerk of the House and told him to send the bill back to me," said O'Connell, U.S. Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert Finch recently banned the use of cyclamates after laboratory tests showed some animals given heavy doses of the sweetener developed cancer.

"We've done it in an experimental sort of way and they (citrusmen) were not real surprised when this happened," said O'Connell. "I think they'll be able to regroup without any difficulty and use other artificial sweeteners."

O'Connell's committee is scheduled to meet Nov. 11 and 12 in Tallahassee, Fla., to study the Florida Citrus Commission on the use of cyclamates.

The committee agenda also calls for action on House Bill 459 by Rep. Ed Blackburn, D-Tampa. It would prohibit political activity by members and employees of the Citrus Commission.

Commissioner Earl M. "Duke" O'Connell, chairman of the Florida Republic Party executive committee, would be directly affected by the bill.

It prohibits commission personnel from holding party office or serving as a treasurer or manager of a candidate's campaign.

"They could use politics as a hammer to hold over the heads of citrus growers, and therefore I think the citrus commissioners should stay completely out of politics," said Blackburn, who said 31 political affected the work of the commission, said Crittenden. "I would be the first to long for any kind of order. I would never want to see the inner workings of the commission used for politics."

But, he said, commissioners are nonpartisan appointees who are in business, and "it behooves businessmen to work for whom he feels will help him."

Deadlock Break Is Sought

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida legislators are going to be polled again. And again, the subject is legislative session and primary election dates.

House Speaker Fred Scholz and Senate President John Mathews, Jacksonville Democrat, agreed Wednesday to check their colleagues about the possibility of breaking a long-standing deadlock by:

—Holding the 1970 regular session in February, probably on Feb. 2, as originally recommended by a joint committee.

—Setting the primary election dates for May 19 and June 9, thus giving representatives who must face reelection next year more time between the session and the balloting.

"We'll explore," said Scholz. Mathews agreed to do the same after he laddered with Scholz and several key House and Senate leaders over the deadlock. To date, the House has been overwhelmingly behind the Senate premier, while the Senate wanted them in May.

Rex Harrison
LONDON (AP) — Rex Harrison returned to the British stage Wednesday night after a nine-year absence, and while the critics roared the play they thought the actor was fine.

The play was George Haim's "The Lionel Lincoln."

In a review typical of those carried by the newspapers, Herbert Krimmer of the Daily Express wrote: "I cannot applaud Mr. Harrison for choosing the play but I congratulate him on saving it."

Harrison plays Lionel Fairweather, a hard-up artist threatened with jail unless he can raise $400 by nightfall.

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk has to do if he wants a breakdown of the $13.4 million budget is ask for it, says Senate President John Mathews and House Speaker Fred Scholz.

Both Jacksonville Democrats responded in this way to Kirk's swipe at them Wednesday, when he criticized a report on the Legislature's proposal received in his office.

Kirk said the Legislature's request for 1970-71 funds came to him with no breakdown on whom the funds were going. He made his criticisms in a letter to Mathews and Scholz.

"Details of the proposed budget are readily available to the public, the press, or your office if you so respectfully desire," Mathews said in a letter back to the Republican governor.

"The House budget is in very detailed form and is available to him. All he has to do is ask for it," Scholz said.

Mathews said a detailed legislative budget request was submitted to analysts in the Division of Planning and Budgeting.

Voter Apathy Sounds An Election Day Warning!

Generalizations are the booby traps set for the unwary after any election day. Nov. 4th was no exception.

Republican gubernatorial victories in New Jersey and Virginia did take place after President Nixon's politically hazardous trips to campaign for the winners.

Mayor Lindsay did get a second term in New York City, but no thanks to the Republicans in that urban sprawl.

Here in Florida there is a result to record, however which we are held enough to do some generalization about. That is the success of the education amendment and the vote.

Here was an issue that transcends any political motivation. At stake was the future of the educational process in the state of Florida where rapid increase in enrollment at institutions of higher learning is a fact, not a projection.

The drums were beaten in every mass media to get the voters to the polls. Opposition was limited and narrow. Sure, the weather did not cooperate. And the long-suffering poll watchers were on duty looking for a turn-out which did not materialize.

The fact that the bond issue was approved is, of course, a happy fact. But this election day is but the first of a series which will need the active participation of voters if the democratic process is to function at its best.

Here in Sanford there is the municipal election which will take place on Dec. 2. It is none too soon for every voter in Sanford to mark this day on his calendar as important.

Now for the generalization: On the record, voters in the United States fail to turn-out in the proportion which other nations where voting is routine enjoy.

In Florida the very sad proposition which is on the record following the Nov. 4th balloting for or against the education amendment, indicates that even when the most important issue—the future of education—is at stake, too many voters fail to do their duty.

In his prepared keynote address to the Western States Republican Conference, the unsuccessful 1964 GOP presidential candidate said Agnew's strong attacks on the peace movement leaders express "the sentiment of the vast, overwhelming majority of the American people."

Goldwater said the vice president was "accurate and penetrating" in calling the antiwar demonstrators "impudent snobs" and "should be treated, not vilified."

"The vice president's crime, it seems, was to describe an effete crowd of impudent snobs," Goldwater said.

"When a liberal makes any kind of outlandish charge against his nation or his President, it is taken as a proper exercise in the right of free speech and a legitimate expression of political dissent," he said.

"However, if a conservative or a supporter of the Nixon administration vigorously attacks an activity which is undermining an American military effort, he automatically becomes 'irresponsible' and 'intemperate,'" he added.

Goldwater spoke of an Agnew paragraph of a speech in which he called for Republicans to unite behind President Nixon and the Republican administration's Vietnam policy.

He also had his own characterization of participants in antiwar demonstrations:

"Many of them are concerned, warm-hearted but, I believe, misguided Americans who sincerely want an end to the war and bloodshed in Southeast Asia."

"A few, I suspect, are very sick people. Their attempt can be described as 'delirium tremens.'"

He said critics of President Nixon's policy may be pressing their luck.

Catching Up?

Browsing through some other papers a few days ago, we ran across a wise statement by the editor of the Wall Street Journal, Vermont Register, who observed:

"Much of the criticism we level at the young comes from forgetfulness. We too were once rebellious, deploring the times and a world we never made. The fathers of this sexual revolution were the ones who started the sexual revolution, who in gin mills and speakeasies and the divorce courts kicked first at the moral trapeze, and whose disappearance they now lament. And however rightly we may disapprove of things we say on the fields at Woodstock, can we say truly we wouldn't have been there, were we one and twenty?"

OUCH! Of course, Mr. Reyster brings it all back into balance at the end of his article in which he concludes: "What nags at you is not the complaints of the young against the old, but that thought that life is going to catch up, and then what will their children say of them?" — Lexington (Ky.) reader

Little By Little

"I read your little editorial," the reader said. Actually, it wasn't "little" at all. As editorial sizes go, it was medium to large. It reminded us of the time The New York Times sent back something we'd submitted with a note reading, "Sorry, we are unable to use your little piece." Unenlightened editorial, misinformed editorial, shallow editorial, stupid editorial, lousy editorial, stinking editorial — OK, OK, we've been here. But "little editorial!" — that's how you really hurt a guy. By assuming this, we realize that we invite its use even further. At least, however, we'll have the satisfaction of knowing that we acknowledged our sensitivity in advance. And we just might reply, "Well thanks a lot for your little comment." — Oak Ridge (Tenn.) Oak Ridger

SPOILING THE IMAGE

Crane's Worry Clinic

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D., M.D.

CASE 1-532: Lennie B., aged 8, is a spoiled brat. His parents are college graduates and live in a swanky residential suburb.

But they have failed to apply the basic rules of child psychology to their son so he is already a potential "hippie."

Recently, for example, Lennie was in a play group where a baseball game was launched. When Lennie came up to bat, he swung at the first three pitches, so the umpire called him "out."

But Lennie angrily protested, for he said:

"Daddy always gives me six strikes!"

And that shows his daddy's error, for daddy is now an accessory to Lennie's failure to harmonize with his own group.

Parents with spoiled teenagers should be aware of the following:

- (1) Be consistent. Don't praise today and then ignore the same tomorrow.
- (2) Since pain is the quickest deterrent of naughty behavior in youngsters, flick your child with a strap of your finger when he is doing wrong.
- (3) And do it as close to the time of the wrong act as possible so he will link pain with the misdeed instead of with you.
- (4) Thus, don't withhold punishment till daddy gets home at night, for the child then may not associate the pain with his naughty deed.
- (5) Gently teach him the rules of the game of life, as well as of sports, and then hold him to them. But don't expect adult comprehension in a toddler.
- (6) Adapt your approach to his limited mental age.
- (7) Praise him for his good deeds so your parent-child relationship is not always a negative or expiating experience for him.
- (8) Get him into Sunday school and other dedicated adults can help teach him the moral rules for social conduct.
- (9) Read for his 200-point "Test for Good Parents," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Then enclose these laws of proper parental behavior!
- (10) Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.

Hal Boyle Says:

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — When a man has earned so many millions that other people can only guess at his number, he sometimes turns to simple pleasures for enjoyment.

Bob Hope, one of the wealthiest entertainers in history, gets a kick out of the fact that he has a "pretty big bedrock."

"I like to put it in while I'm thinking and working," he explained.

Ben Leslie Tompkins lives in England. Bob came to this country at the age of 4 and has emerged as one of his most loved and successful immigrants.

At 66, Hope, whose latest television special, "Roberta," will be aired over the NBC network Thursday evening, Nov. 6, is currently enjoying the highest ratings of his career and gets as busy as ever.

Bob, then a young vaudeville comedian, made his first big hit in Broadway in "Roberta."

When the musical first appeared there in 1933.

Looking back at his fabulous record—most of his present bank account—many people wonder why Bob keeps up his frantic performing pace.

For in the last 42 years he has:

- Traveled six million miles.
- Appeared in five Broadway shows, more than 50 films, 225 television shows and 1,146 radio shows.
- Given hundreds of benefit shows in hospitals, on college campuses, and at military service camps.
- Raised millions of dollars for charitable and philanthropic causes.
- Received more than 800 awards, citations and decorations, including 10 honorary university degrees.
- Had no mystery to Bob himself who he marries his cup-a-second routine.
- Working keeps your mental springs in shape and your adrenal pumps," he said. "As long as I'm healthy, nothing will ever keep me from working."
- "If I ever quit, I'd first get out of condition. Besides, I get more fun out of achievement records—most of his present bank account—many people wonder

Interpretive Report:

Australia - An Asian Omen?

By RICHARD WILSON

WASHINGTON, D.C.—What can happen to American prestige and leadership in a very brief time has been illustrated in the recent Australia elections. The Australians have turned sharply away from their all-out political support of America's role and leadership in Asia, at the same time President Johnson visited there in 1966.

Prime Minister John Gorton's majority in Australia has been barely able to survive a heavy reeling supporting the Labor leadership's demand for the withdrawal of Australian troops from Malaysia, Singapore and Vietnam and favoring letting Asia take care of itself in Vietnam.

Australia is clearly having serious second thoughts about its own involvement in the Asian situation. The Australian government's resolve to see the matter through has been undermined by a collapse in public support.

A strong element in the Australian reversal was the apprehension that America cannot be depended upon in the present political climate to persevere in such a difficult and circumscribed undertaking as that in Vietnam.

Thus we have the first concrete evidence that American credibility as the preeminent champion of the free world is fading. A nation like Australia which must continue to live continuously to and have profitable relations with Asia has the longest time to make a decision on Nixon's low-profile policy in Asia and the ultimate meaning of the American withdrawal from Vietnam.

Their reading of Nixon is doing may be different than his own interpretation of it. They may have concluded that he is in the process of liquidating completely an unsuccessful policy with no hope of reaching the goals he still professes.

When Nixon traveled to Southeast Asia in the late summer it seemed that the governments in Manila, Saigon, Bangkok and Djakarta sympathized with his policy of reducing the American presence and did not regard this as an elaborate bug-out.

They may now have concluded, however, that Nixon is on an irreversible course he can no longer control and that he had better look for new arrangements in an Asia where freedom has no longer been taken. Australian representation in Malaysia and Singapore.

If that had lived (he was drowned in a swimming accident) the Australian break with American policy might not have been so sharp. But with Johnson's political demise and with the massive shift in American opinion at the middle level, Holt could probably not have been able to sustain his pro-Johnson line. The Australian experience

Domestic Comment:

Students Are Going Legal?

By RAY CROMLEY

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The headlines go to student demonstrators, demonstrations and marches and to judge-baiting in Chicago.

Students are using mediators—usually skilled adults who help teach him the moral rules for social conduct.

Read for his 200-point "Test for Good Parents," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Then enclose these laws of proper parental behavior!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

But some quiet new shifts in tactics now being instituted by student groups across the United States promise to be considerably more significant in changing the nation's universities, and, if successful there, in bringing student influence to bear on national and international problems.

Students are turning to the law to get college rules, regulations and administrative procedures changed. They're employing highly paid attorneys from some of the nation's largest and most prestigious firms.

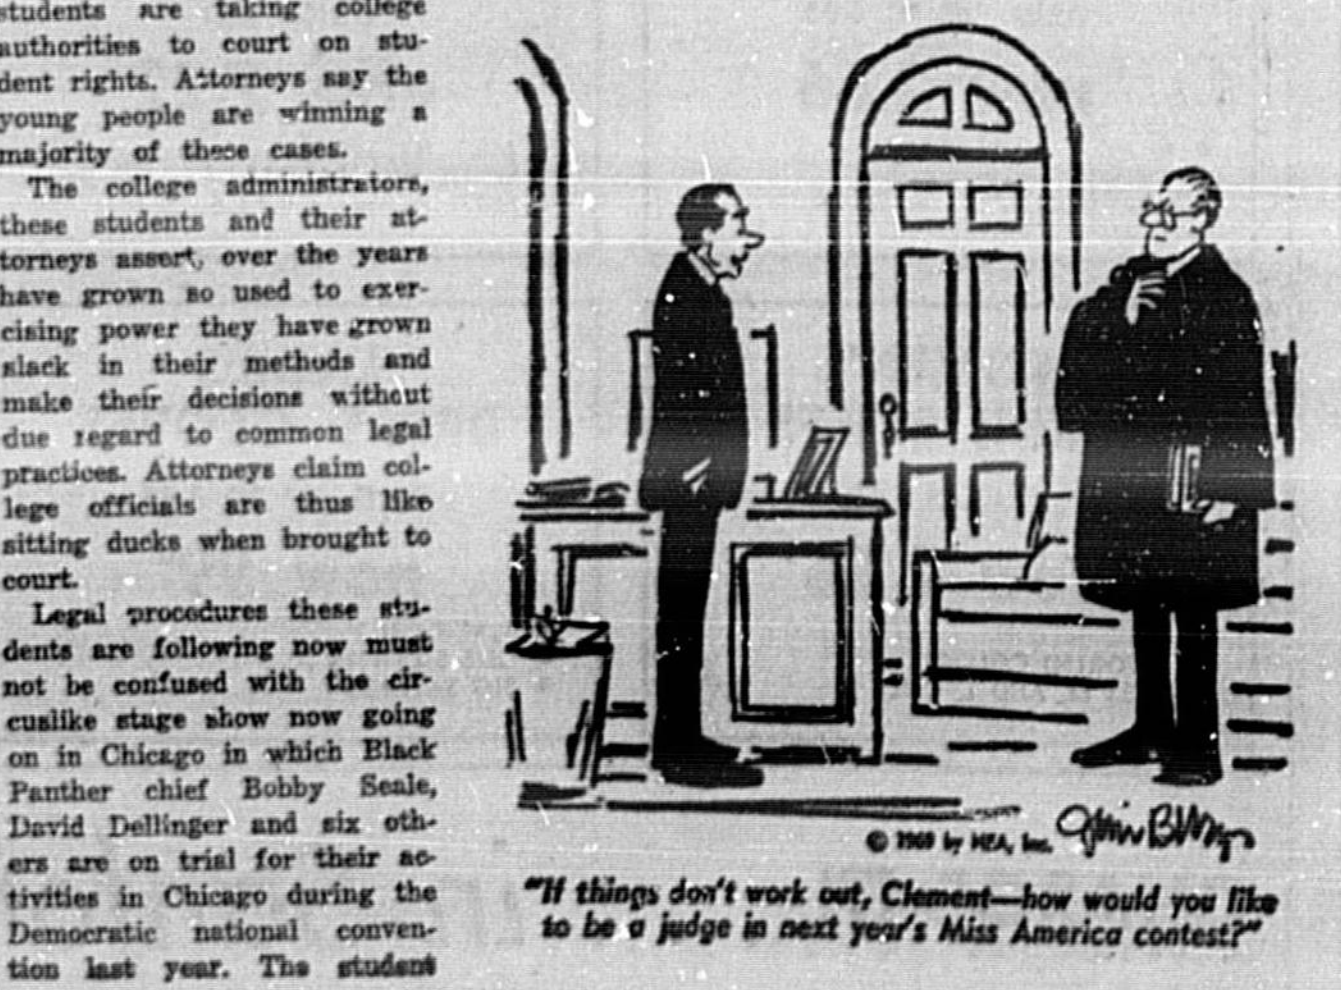

In a number of test cases, students are taking college authorities to court on student rights. Attorneys say a majority of these cases.

The college administrators, the students and their attorneys assert, over the years have grown so used to exercising power that they have slack in their methods and make their decisions without due regard to common legal principles.

Legal officials are thus the sitting ducks when brought to court.

Legal procedures thus students are following now must not be confused with the circus-like stage show now going on in Chicago in which Black Panther chief Bobby Seale, David Dellinger and six others are on trial for their activities in Chicago during the Democratic national convention last year. The student

God—American Way Of Life

My obligation as a member of the armed forces is to defend and preserve America; but is America worth defending?

I'll fight courageously to uphold you, America, idealizing faith and honor; but without these ideals, I find you offensive and will fight your degradation with the truth which is so distasteful to you at present.

Where has faith, honor, and patriotism gone? Are they vanished with those forefathers who fought to preserve those values we now enjoy? And how has God been pleased in our newly sophisticated society?

If faith in God an outdated and unadaptable concept? I now call you, America, to me to defend you when you disregard these things for which I stand!

You have succeeded in the elimination of God from the classroom; you are attempting to banish Him from governmental and military affairs entirely. Some would even have us forbid the very existence of churches or dictate what message they should preach. They (the churches) must not be offensive to any particular segment of the population, so you would have them done away with.

I thought you asked me to defend you, America; defend your freedom, your ideals, and your... I would be offended, tolerant, and forgiving, but to eliminate God is to ask me to destroy you. I will not participate in the willful destruction of you.

Yacht Club

Board of City Commissioners Sanford, Florida

Gentlemen:

I wish to take this opportunity to add my voice to those whom you may already have heard from in regard to leasing or authorizing in any manner the use of public property to a private organization. I refer to the yacht club which seeks the use of our valuable lake front for their own purposes.

It would seem that if a yacht club is to be erected on that site that every taxpayer in the city would be entitled to use it. This, I am quite sure, is not their intent, and I therefore very much opposed to this leasing. Why not suggest that this private club go about securing some land of their own elsewhere on the river; the same as others have done.

Barry Goldwater Needles Agnew

HONOLULU (AP) — If Vice President Spiro T. Agnew keeps up his criticism of antiwar demonstrators "he may find himself being booed for president."

Teens Pressured Into Smoking

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

AP Science Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Teen-agers in general think cigarettes are dangerous, but social pressures push four out of 10 into smoking them, a new study finds.

The teen years are crucial in the decision whether to smoke. The study, conducted by Lieberman Research, Inc., last March and April was sponsored by the American Cancer Society with the findings released today at the society's annual meeting.

Young smokers said they did so because it "makes you feel like a big shot... makes you look older... makes you feel like one of the crowd," or that smoking related them when they felt nervous, or helped them when they were bored or depressed. Far more boys than girls thought smoking made them more attractive sexually.

Deltona Youth Memorial Set

By MILDRED HANEY

When the building for the Deltona Youth, Inc., finally becomes a reality, a special memorial will be included in the dedication services for Eddie DeVary. DeVary, killed in a recent automobile accident in Georgia, was one of the young adults instrumental in the inception of the Deltona Youth, Inc.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy DeVary, parents of the young man, requested, at the time of his death, that donations be made to Deltona Youth, Inc. in place of flowers. It was voted at the regular meeting of the Fellowship Hall of the Deltona United Methodist Church, that a memorial presentation be made at the time of the dedication of the youth building.

For the benefit of those who may not have been present when the original incorporation was discussed, an outline was given as to the requirements. Although the law requires that the officers for incorporation purposes must be adults, it was pointed out by Guy Jackson, president, that this did not mean that the original plan of having teen-agers work with each other had been abandoned. Evidenced that the team will be active with each phase of the program and work with each officer, director and committee chairman. Other officers are Rev. H. Wright Kierley, youth president; Ann Healey, treasurer; Rita Monaghan, secretary.

Directors appointed are William D. Mathis, Charles McCarthy and Dr. Anthony Borevick. Other officers are: Schoolboard, Dr. Fred Weizand and Robert D. Johnson, two years; Florence Durand, Roy George Owen and Dwight Hawkins, three years.

The president chose as theme for the Monday meeting, "Where have we been and where are we going" and, after outlining what had been accomplished thus far, went to outline future plans which include:

"Ding Days in Deltona" on Nov. 22, to include a dog show at the Deltona Community Center at 12 noon and also an Obidience demonstration. The show is open to all breeds of dogs, not only AKC registered but "ugly varieties" as well. Judging will be by members of the American Kennel Association with final plans to be announced shortly.

"A week at Deltona Inn" - a full week at Deltona Inn with all expenses paid. This will include side tours of area places of interest with dinner at various restaurants. Transportation will be furnished for the winner, whether out of town or out of state. A Deltona resident should be the winner, they may, if they desire, choose a week at Marco Island, Florida, at a nominal charge each, will go on sale in the near future.

"A bake sale by the Adults for Youth at Deltona Shopping Plaza on Friday, Nov. 7, with all residents in the area, including teen-agers, requested to donate baked items.

Anyone wishing to make contributions to the Eddie DeVary Memorial Fund, may mail their check to the Deltona United Methodist Church, named "A" that special fund.

Next meeting of the organization will be on Monday, Nov. 24, at 7:30 p.m. at the Fellowship Hall of Deltona United Methodist Church. All residents of Deltona, whether parents or not, are welcome and invited to attend.

Settles $5.5 Million Contract Computer Puts Out Winner

By JOHN VAN GIESEN

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - Out of the other end of a confusing computer input jumped the state's data processing standards this week - a little better, perhaps, but certainly not fold-out, expanded or mutilated.

The Cabinet resolved a bitter bidding battle by awarding IBM Corp. a $5.5 million contract to install a computer system in a model state job leasing program backed by the federal government.

IBM won, but only after Computer Data Systems Inc. and RCA loudly protested that their bids were better.

"Anything you accept after the fact, you don't know if it would have been the same decision, if they had presented it to me. We don't know if they're going to save the state a million dollars or not. There's the way we can tell that."

Bloeker said that he is tired of the bickering that often goes with computer bids and would like to see it halted.

"We don't observe the same decorum in other companies," he said.

Corbett said he could see some benefit in the situation.

"I think, of course, this over-keeps us all on our toes. In any circumstance we have to play it right down the middle of the road. We have to do our own little better."

Anyway, Corbett said, conflicting computer bids are something that people in his division have to learn to live with.

"It's rather typical with this business," he said. "This is a highly competitive industry now, and a computer sale means quite a bit of revenue to the salesman involved. They don't have a crack at one every day."

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Hosford, J. P. Murphy

Miss Mary Louise Hosford and James Vincent Murphy of Hastings, Neb., were united in Holy Matrimony Nov. 5, 1969, at 2 p. m., at All Souls Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl Hosford, 150 Mayfair Circle, Sanford, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Vincent Murphy of Hastings, Neb.

Father William T. Keane was the officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony and Warren Keane, organist, presented a recital of appropriate nuptial selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose for her gown a lovely white gown elegantly designed of light velvet.

Carried in a modified, princess silhouette, her veil of imported silk tulle, bordered in lace, cascaded to a chapel sweep and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white detachable orchid corsage.

Miss Cindy Lippincott acted as bridesmaid, carrying a bouquet of blue and white carnations and white roses.

Bridesmaids were Terri Huck above, Wanda Runney and Sibohan Murphy, sister of the bridegroom. Their gowns and flowers were identical to the honor attendants.

Robert Murphy, Hastings, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Michael D. Savage, Monroe, La.; Tim O'Callaghan, Hastings; and Michael O'Saunders, Panama City.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hosford chose a blue lace dress complemented with matching accessories and a corsage of carnations.

Mrs. Murphy, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a blue coat and dress ensemble enhanced with a carnation corsage.

Following a wedding trip to New Orleans, the newlyweds are residing at 281 Tompkins, Apt. 28, Albany, Ga.

Friends and relatives attending the wedding were from Sanford and surrounding areas, Nebraska, Louisiana, Texas, Alabama, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Oregon and Pennsylvania.

Woman Seeks Priesthood In Church

By LOIS VOSBURGH
 Syracuse, N.Y. (AP) —

"This is my thing," says Betty Schies, referring to her program to earn ordination as a clergyman in the Episcopal Church.

"No one can tell me this isn't my cause," she says. "Even my husband (Dr. William Schies) says he is getting used to the idea of being a pastor's wife, the dear."

Mrs. Schies is a student at Colgate, Rochester, where she has completed her first year. "Although there have been other women ordained, I believe that they were candidates for degrees in Christian Education and that I am the first to seek priesthood in the church," she says.

She speaks, with an extraordinary gentle manner, Mrs. Schies, who has two sons in college and an 11-year-old daughter, does not fit the traditional picture of a crusader. But her decision to seek priesthood was based on a desire to attack discrimination against women in her church. The new crusade is a result of her involvement in the fight to obtain rights for Negroes.

"My husband and I spent a year in Algeria with the Medicine program," she explains. "When we came back to this country, we returned with the determination to do something about the plight of the Negro. We have taken part in many of the marches and demonstrations in the South, including Selma, Ala., and Jackson, Miss."

"I still believe in better opportunities for the Negro people," she says. "But I am even more committed to the cause for equality for women. In the early workers for the integrated church."

Dr. and Mrs. Schies were early workers for the integrated program within the Episcopal Church, leaving a suburban parish and joining the parish of Grace Episcopal Church here when the Rev. Walter Welsh started his inter-city program.

"In working within the church, I found that women are more discriminated against than the Negroes," Mrs. Schies declares. "I think this is equally true in many other Protestant churches, but in our church, there is a difference. In other churches, it was apt to be 'de facto' discrimination. In our church, it is a matter of church law. I think the place of women in the Episcopal Church is far better than that of any minority group today. We can't vote. Canon law prevents us from even voting in the parish and blocks us from participation in the liturgy as lay readers. Women can serve communion."

Homemaker's Hints

Cooking plain buttered cabbage wedges? Try adding a pinch of salt, basil, dry mustard or tarragon, for imaginative seasoning.

When cutting up fresh apples or bananas for a fruit salad, be sure to sprinkle them with citrus juice to prevent discoloring.

If macaroni-and-cheese casserole is one of your specialties, try adding these seasonings: chopped pepper, parsley, chives, green pepper, olives or bacon bits.

Try these fruit combinations for a pie: Apricot and banana; rhubarb and strawberry; blueberry and peach; apple and cherry; pineapple and strawberry.

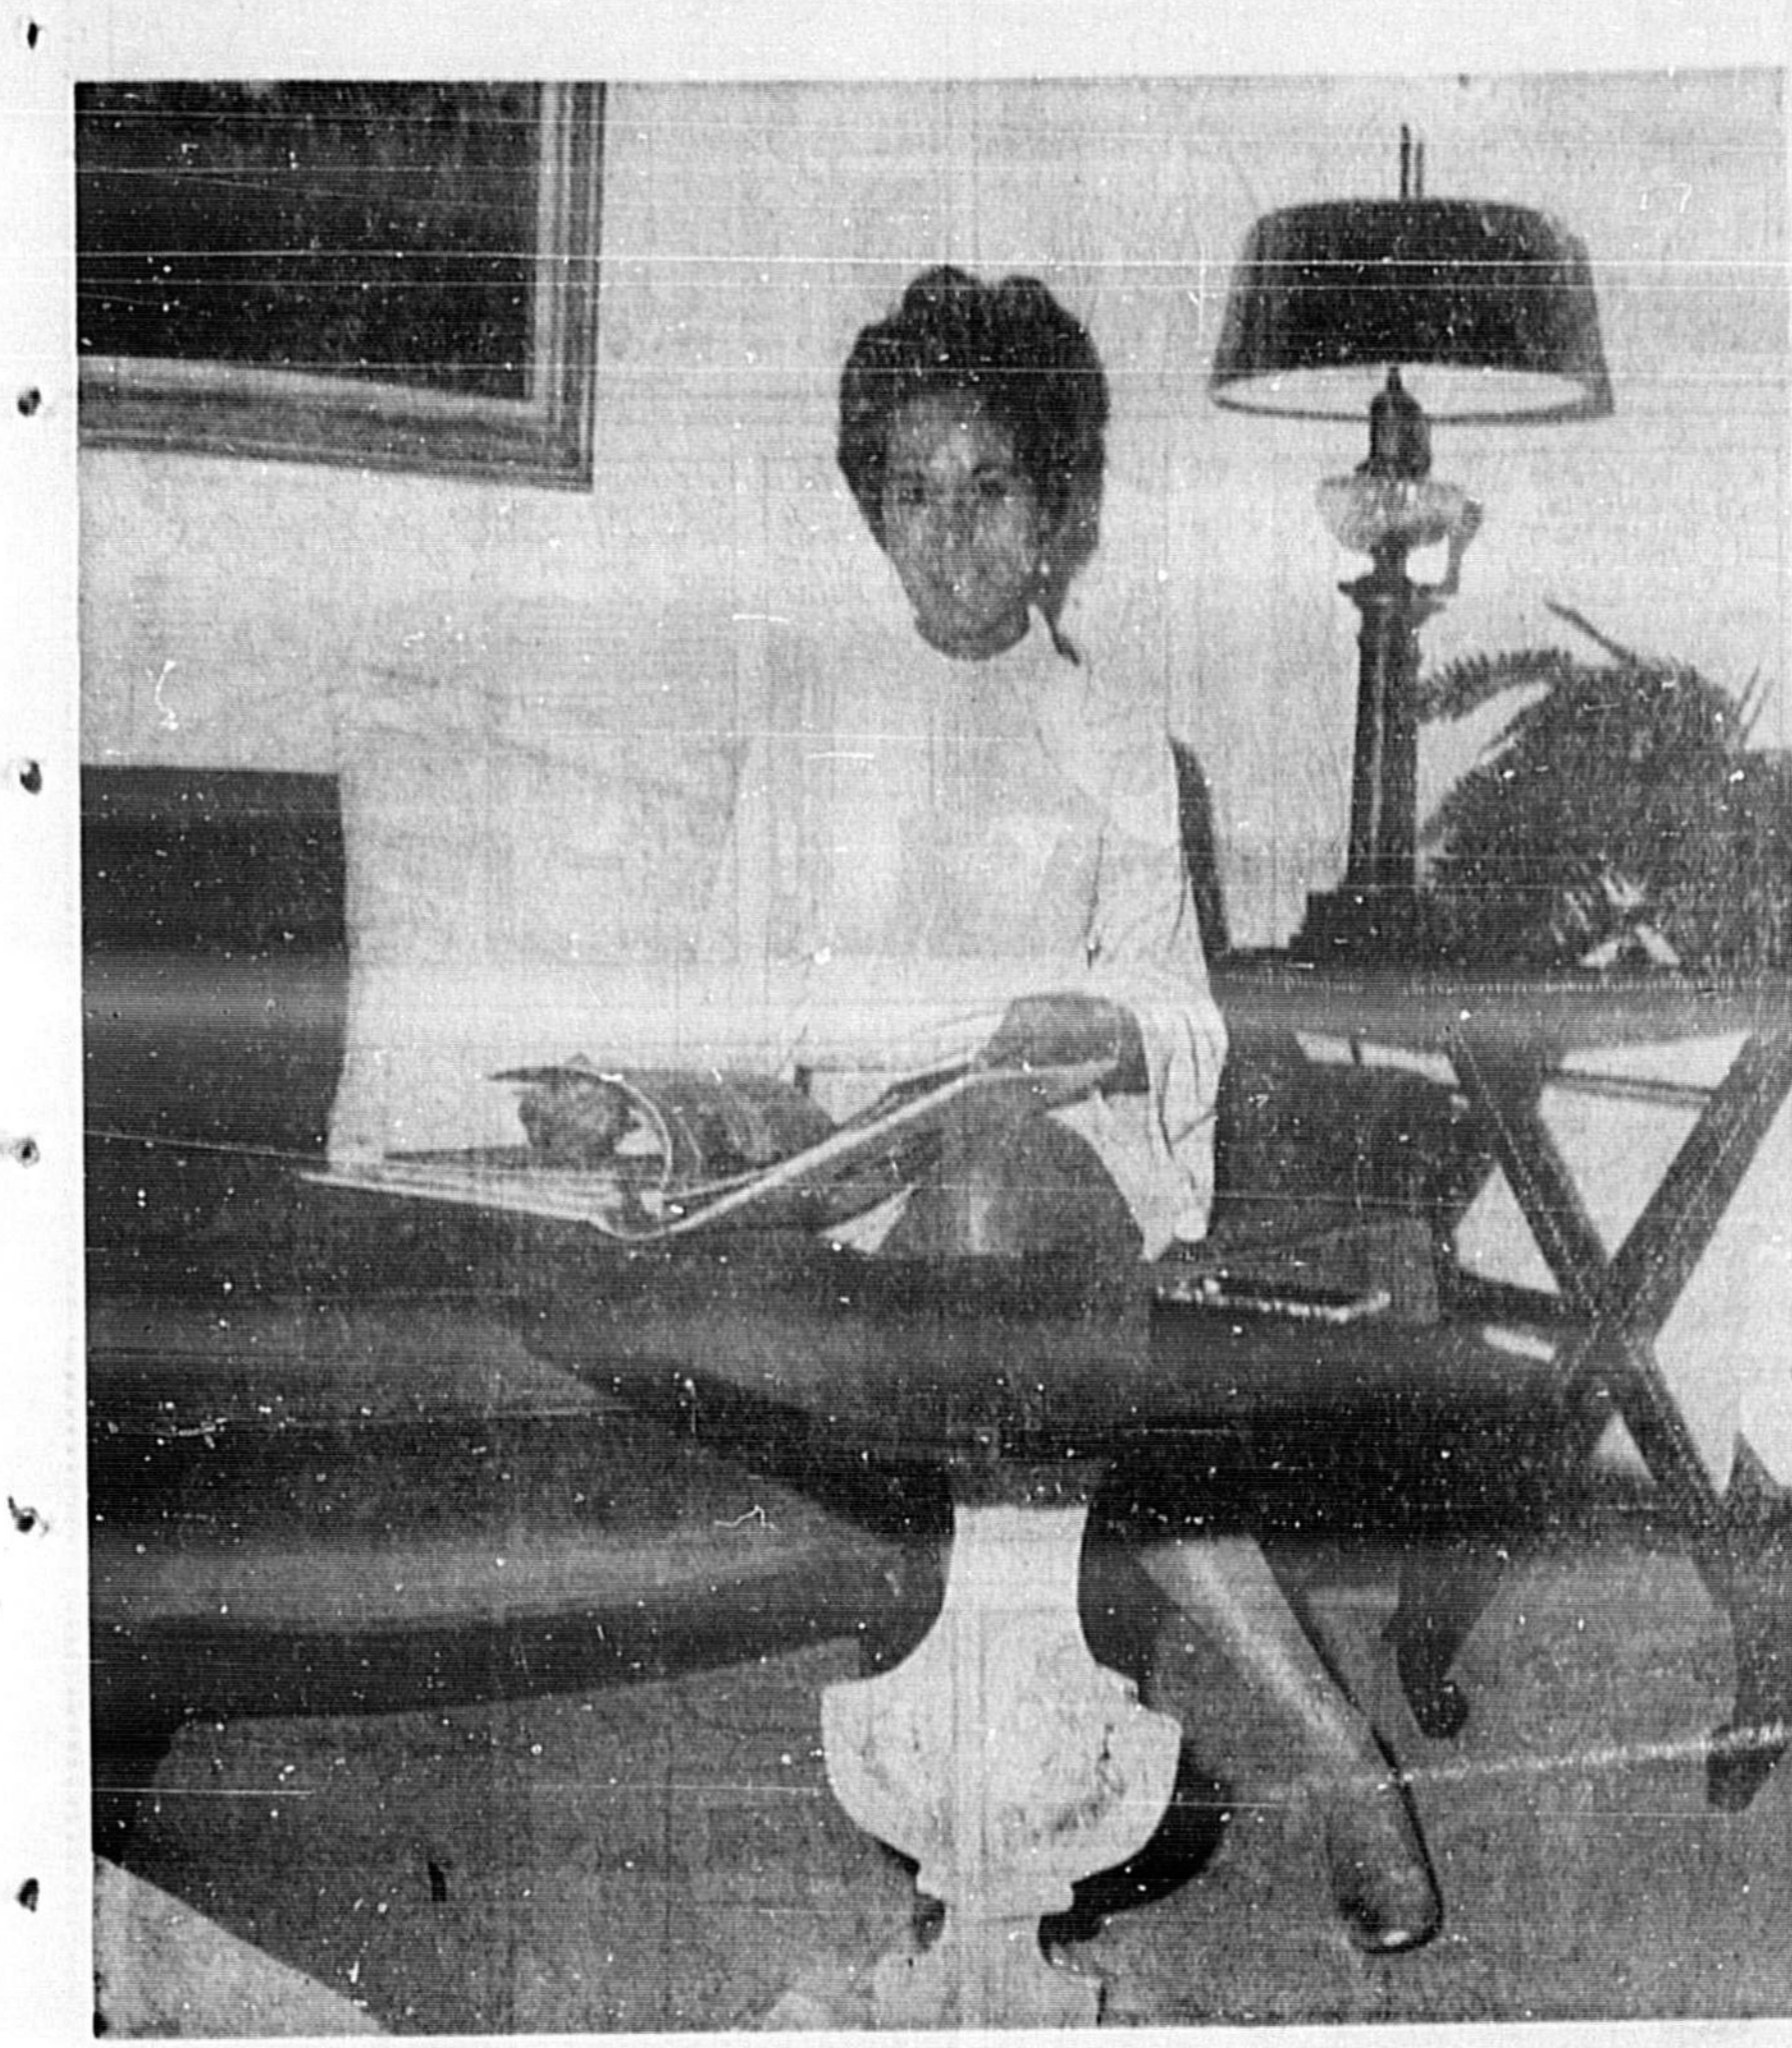

For lunchbox sandwiches try these: Cream cheese, chopped black olives and chopped walnuts on rye; minced sardines and onion with lemon juice on white bread; pineapple and cottage cheese on date-nut bread; minced ham and peanut butter on raisin bread; sliced chicken and bacon with Russian dressing on a hard roll; chopped egg and shrimp with covers or French bread.

UDC Chapter Announces Theme Of Essay Contest

The Norman deVere Howard Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met at the home of Mrs. David Caldwell for the October meeting with Mrs. Martin Iram as co-hostess.

Chaplain, Mrs. Victor Green, opened the meeting with prayer and led the group in reciting the ritual and salute to the U. S. Confederate flags.

During the business session, led by Mrs. H. B. McCall, president, it was announced that the 1969-70 Historical Essay Contest subject would be "Causes of the War Between the States." This is an excellent and informative subject for the young people in High School and college and some good research essays.

The contest is sponsored by local, state and national UDC and should produce a large number of entrants.

The Confederate poem entitled "Jefferson Davis" by Mrs. Fred Kirchhoff was read by Mrs. T. J. Taylor. It was announced that due to unavoidable circumstances the guest speaker, Albert Fitts, was unable to present the program. The group hopes to have him present his informative talk on "Confederate Constitution" at another meeting later.

A delightful social hour was enjoyed when the hostesses served punch, cake, coffee, nuts and delicious treats. Members present were Mmes. Green, Taylor, Fred Harris, L. D. Hastings, G. E. McCall, H. B. McCall, C. E. McKee, Tony Ray, Charles Stenworth, M. R. Strickland, W. B. Wallace and Glen Wimshis.

Party Reflects Fun Of Childhood

Members of Xi Beta Eta and their buddies recently voted unanimously to give up the thought of growing old gracefully and instead to do their thing and "stay young at heart."

In keeping with their mood they gathered at the gracious home of Phil and Mary Boyd to celebrate their decision with a party to top all parties.

Wanda the Witch, crowned her broomstick, welcomed the youngsters dressed in their party best. The girls were adorable in their little pinafores and gingham dresses and the boys were handsome in their slacks and nice socks. Favorite stuffed toys and all day lolly pops accompanied some of the guests.

The party room was alive with the colors of Autumn and the decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season. The warm glow of a smiling pumpkin invited the young guests to enjoy the assortment of snacks and drinks prepared especially for them.

During the evening games were enjoyed by the guests, the highlight of which was a very spooky ghost story narrated by teeny bopper, Betty Richee.

Two Teachers Initiated Into Honorary Sorority

Two Seminole County teachers were initiated into the Beta Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, an international honorary society for women educators.

Assisting in the impressive candlelight ceremony was Miss Mabel Chapman of Sanford who is president of Beta Chapter.

After the luncheon, Mrs. Gwen B. Sarchel, Dean of Women at F T U gave an inspiring talk on "Personal growth."

Seminole County members attending the festivities were Miss Anna Bandy, Mrs. Jean Bowers, Mrs. Nancy Brock, Mrs. Jonna Bucklewe, Miss Mabel Chapman, Miss Edna Chittenden, Mrs. Carolyn Gore, Mrs. Lucy Laver, Mrs. Aldis Luncheon-initiation meeting at the Community Building, Venetian Gardens in Leesburg.

Garden Gate

DIRT GARDENERS CIRCLE
 BY MRS. W. A. YUNG

"When weeds are taut and hearts are sore
 And you can stand not one thing more
 Go out the grass and pull
 Some weeds, a patch and plant
 Some seeds;
 Go trim the hedge and dig
 a hole;
 And you will find peace
 within your soul."

The above poem adopted by Dier Gardeners Circle of Sanford Garden Club is especially appropriate for the present season. In our "weedy world" of November and December are good months for cleaning up the garden, renewing the mulch and planting annuals for color during the winter months.

Many annuals may still be planted from seeds but it is easier to buy the plants already started. There are many kinds on the market now including calceolarias, bachelor buttons, alstrom, snapdragons and petunias to name a few.

They should be fertilized lightly every two weeks. There is a new variety of perennials being sold by many garden supply dealers. They are said to be more hardy and to bear larger blossoms than the old type.

This is also a good time to plant bulbs of all kinds, including amaryllis, agapanthus, crinum, Easter lily, ranunculus, and gladiolus. When planting bulbs put a small amount of fertilizer such as 4-6-8 in the hole. Cover lightly with dirt to prevent actual contact with the bulb.

Most lawns should be fertilized in November using a mix-

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Nancy, our 20-year-old daughter, lives at home and we trust her. She works as a secretary. Nancy recently brought home a 28-year-old man and introduced him as a commercial artist and photographer.

Last week-end Nancy told us that he was to pick her up at 4 a. m. as he wanted an early start to take pictures of her in the sunrise at a mountain site 70 miles away. They returned at 8 p. m. The young photographer spoke about three words to us and left hastily.

Nancy told us that during the day she heard that the man was married with two children. I told her we should have been told that at the start.

When I phoned his residence his wife answered, and to my surprise she said he had been taken with our daughter, and was surprised that we were worried just because he was married. Later the young man phoned, obviously upset, and said he'd gone on many such professional trips with young ladies and this is the first time his motives were questioned.

I told him that our married daughter had her reputation to think of and that I knew many commercial artists and photographers and never heard of any who operated in that manner. He indignantly said that he would never ask our daughter to come for him again, and that we were way off base. Nancy

Jacoby On Bridge

Our friend, the University Expert, is typical of structured bridge players everywhere. Unlike "Hard Luck Joe," who continues to play on his own misadventures, the University Expert was born under the wrong star and is helpless before the "bigness" of chance.

Here is a hand from 1961 in which South bid perfectly and played perfectly and still came out with a lead match point result.

South's jump to six spades was a gamble but West had crowded the bidding and South decided to bid a trifle on his own account.

West opened the four of trumps and South started about the business of taking tricks. Three rounds of trumps were led first and then he started

Polly's Pointers

DEAR POLLY: Cathy can mend the tear in her chiffon gown by sewing the edges of the tear in a strip of net or other sheer material that is the same color as the dress. Cover the patch with either a flat bow of matching fabric, or a lace applique, which you can buy where fabrics and sewing materials are sold. A medalion could be cut from a piece of lace. It would look better if this trimming is repeated elsewhere on the dress to look planned that way and then no one would know which covers the tear.

DEAR POLLY: While my grandson was visiting me, he broke a string in his speakers and I had some of the same used as a tie-up. They were just slipped through the top holes and twisted together for this emergency.

DEAR POLLY: I have a sticky problem. A group of teen-agers continually peep my house with eyes. I have a cement porch, aluminum screens and a wood door and have tried all the cleaning compounds on the porch but the stains will not come off. The door has been sanded and repainted several times, but that is too expensive to continue.

DEAR POLLY: The window over my kitchen sink has been covered with glass and while preparing dinner, the sun shows in so hot and bright I had to pull the curtains and let the shade down. This cut off all air, so I continued to suffer. I finally bought adhesive-backed paper to cover and a pattern that went well with my valances. Cut the paper in sizes to fit over each glass pane. After they were covered, I could remove both the shade and the curtains and cut around the panes. Now the sun does not shine in my face and I still get air from the window.

I have had many compliments on how attractive they look. This also keeps the dust from showing as it did on the glass panes.

Female Cops

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — South Africa needs a supplementary female police force, says University of South Africa criminology Prof. P.J. van der Walt. But tasks given to women police officers should accord with their character and emotional make-up and it should not be expected of them to do the same as their male counterparts. If you need the kind of knowledge they give, read their book — it can prove your friend.

State Criticizes Altamonte Aide

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Auditor General Ernest Ellison leveled criticism at Altamonte Springs' tax assessor today and said the city had $48,000 in loans conflicting with its charter and wasn't collecting a tax. Ellison recommended city voters give "serious consideration" to electing someone to come under jurisdiction of the county tax assessor for city assessing purposes.

He said the city assessor had not prepared official tax rolls for 1967 and 1968, and had not complied with charter requirements to recapitulate the rolls with totals for real and personal assessments.

Also, he said, the delinquent tax list due April 1 was not ready by the May 31 audit. Tax refunds totaling $482, were made without explanation. In Altamonte Springs was not levying the 10 per cent utility tax on water sales although required by ordinance, the audit reported.

Although the charter limits borrowing money to two years, the city has $48,000 in loans outstanding for a fire engine and sewer project property which will be older than that before the notes mature, he said.

Ellison also noted Mayor W. L. Swafford claimed $306 on May 7 for "services other than official duty" individuals. Ellison said they should have been claimed as reimbursement for expense.

I now that it isn't necessary to write and remind you of that important high school football game tonight between Seminole and Lyman High Schools at the Sanford Stadium. Game time is 8 and the parents of the SIS griders will be introduced with their program. (I wonder if that means the same as their kids, eh?)

What an eye-opener . . . that legislative meeting last night at the Seminole County court house. Maybe we should have said "eye-closer" cause it didn't get through until after the bewitching hour (midnight).

It was standing room only . . . I'd guess somewhere over 200 hundred taxpayers from Orange and Seminole County wanting to "have their say".

Our own Bill Scott has provided the hard news; however, there were some "lighter moments". . . .

Confusion reigned supreme at one point . . . debating on a bill that wasn't actually a bill???? Sounds confusing? Senator Plante made the observation that "we can't vote on a bill until there actually is one." This prompted the exasperated chairman Senator John Ducker to reply, "Get we gotta vote on something."

And the time that the '60s goober' from the audience went up to the legislative table and picked-up a microphone . . . the woman stating her position couldn't be heard due to the lack of amplification in the meeting room.

Two School Board members and Ernest Goveley, administrative aide, appeared at the session to oppose five proposed bills under consideration for submission at Tallahassee.

All five were drawn up for submission by Rep. William Gibson in responding to what he said were many requests.

At another point, a shaggy-haired dog made the scene . . . and who did the TV camera's focus-in-on? The pooch, naturally. (And our illustrious delegation was un-staged once again: "Boss" that . . .)

There's nothing but nothing that adds more flavor to a meal than having someone else pay for it.

Kirk Tells 600 Volusia GOP Members Solons Drag Feet On Roads

By FRED VAN PELT
 Gov. Claude Kirk held an informal 10-minute chat about the "good guys" (Republicans) and "the bad guys" (Democrats) before an estimated 600 fellow Republicans at DelBary Civic Center Thursday afternoon. As usual, the "good guys" won.

In two instances the Republican Governor "held out" on the West Volusia GOP members, who filled the Civic Center to standing-room-only. Kirk lambasted the Democratic-controlled Legislature for failing to approve his proposed 16-year program. "We're on a starving man's diet," said the Chief Executive amid the current road program. He brought the matter to the DelBary arena by saying U. S. 1792 should have been four-laned long ago. A little more than two hours later in Fort Lauderdale Governor Kirk announced he is calling the State Legislature into a special 10-day session to act on his 16-year, $6.4 billion road program.

In response to an inquiry from the audience whether Mrs. Kirk is expecting, the Governor said to "tune in your radios two hours" in Fort Lauderdale the Governor announced he and Mrs. Kirk are expecting their second child. Governor Kirk gave over the first 10 minutes of his chat to paying glowing praises to U. S. Sen. Edward Gurney, who now speaks for the 10-day session.

Solons Favor Utilities Bill

By BILL SCOTT
 Orange - Seminole legislative delegation last night, by an eight-to-two vote, approved a bill to place Seminole County's municipally-owned utilities (with minor control of Florida Public Service Commission (PSC) before the Legislature for passage.

Voting against the bill proposed by Seminole County Taxpayers Association on behalf of Sunland Estates residents who are opposed to paying double the price of utilities brought from the City of Sanford, were Sen. W. D. Gunter and Rep. William Fulford, Democrats.

Mrs. Etha Norman, secretary of the taxpayers group, told 18 of the 11-member delegation (Rep. Lewis Earle was absent) that the city had increased water and sewer rates to customers outside the city and did not notify in advance of intention to do so.

Rep. Leonard Wood asked Mrs. Norman if the city was seeking retribution against her group because of past actions in stopping the extension of the city limits of Sanford.

The woman replied it could be arm twisting by the city to try to force residents to come into the city.

Referring to a statement by Harry Skop, Sanford mayor and candidate, contained in The Herald, Mrs. Norman admitted that city-owned utilities are tax-exempt and an additional sales tax would be charged if the PSC took control of city utilities.

Skop, speaking as a taxpayer and city resident, told the delegation the city is now making only 5.5 per cent profit on utilities and is allowed to make up to 10 per cent profit.

He continued, "every city in the state will be subject to the same rule if Sanford is placed under PSC control."

At this point, Sen. Kenneth Plante, inquired if it is known that the coming sewer system at Altamonte Springs with less than 400 connections would be under this bill if passed at state level.

Rep. Cecil Balthwell then amended the measure to read "with over 400 connections" and the measure subsequently passed on a roll call vote.

In another action, the group set Dec. 16 as the cutoff date for accepting new legislation and set the next hearing for Dec. 16 at Orlando.

Legality of the municipal elections could be challenged due to irregularities brought to the attention of Altamonte Springs City Council.

Crux of the matter is that the charter calls for posting of a proclamation 45 days before the Dec. 2 election.

A proclamation was posted on Oct. 19 listing the offices for two city councilmen but omitting the vacancy for the mayor's office. A subsequent proclamation was issued on Nov. 1 listing the mayor's office.

Mayor W. Lawrence Swafford contended that the error was due to inexperienced office help and intimated that it was of no consequence. Councilman William Nuckols disagreed, stating that if the elections were held based upon these proclamations a shadow always would be cast upon the office of mayor.

Council then voted 3-1 to issue a proclamation calling for the election of the two councilmen on Dec. 2 but having the election for the mayorality 45 days after issuance of the proclamation on Nov. 1.

Swafford contended the council issued the proclamation "without authority." Swafford said he intends to "ignore the proclamation."

The question then arises as to the legality of the matter. When contacted by The Sanford Herald this morning City Attorney S. Joseph Davis stated that Section 7 of the Altamonte charter calls for an election proclamation naming the time, place, date, vacancies for the different offices and posting 45 days before the election to be held on Dec. 2.

According to Davis any election can be challenged if there are considered to be irregularities but this does not necessarily mean the challenge will be successful. Davis further stated that the charter specifies that the office of mayor shall be filled and voted upon on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in December. Therefore, any irregularities must be substantive to justify overturning the election results.

But the average work week, overtime work and average pay all declined, signaling a possible economic turnaround later, said Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

You Said It, Buddy . . .

TERESA LINDA, CALL (AP) — Taking advantage of a new federal law, a young man has notified the post office he considers obscene a letter ordering him to appear for a production physical.

With tongue in cheek, Robert Blanch, 26, filed a notice with Postal Supv. Frank Ely on Thursday, demanding his name be removed from his draft board's mailing list.

Ely said the form will be forwarded to (5) Post Office Department in Washington "on a routine basis."

Bulletin

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's total employment edged up in October to an all-time high of 78.5 million, and unemployment declined slightly following the big jump of a month before, the government said today.

But the average work week, overtime work and average pay all declined, signaling a possible economic turnaround later, said Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Local Education Bills Opposed

Sex education, trashy school books, children standing on school buses, double sessions and approval of sex education materials highlighted a portion of last night's Orange-Seminole legislative delegation hearing at Seminole County Courthouse.

Two School Board members and Ernest Goveley, administrative aide, appeared at the session to oppose five proposed bills under consideration for submission at Tallahassee.

All five were drawn up for submission by Rep. William Gibson in responding to what he said were many requests.

Both Mrs. Bryant and Keeth opposed action to require parental consent for health and education courses being taught to their children; prohibit use of Sullivan Reading Series; provision of materials recommended by Sex Education and Information Council (SEICUS); prohibit children standing on school buses; and students attending double sessions in county schools.

They contended that if Seminole and Orange County schools are placed under such bills that a general law covering all state counties should be passed.

Mrs. Louise Breeze, Orange County school board chairman, also appeared to speak on the bills.

Mrs. Bryant said the offering of sex education will be required by the state by 1973 to be taught on a secondary level. She asked why a general law could not be enacted, not just local bills for two counties.

Sanford Port Leases Acreage

Seminole County Port Authority at yesterday's luncheon meeting approved leasing 3 1/2 acres of property at the Port of Sanford site now under construction on the St. Johns River near 14 to Continental Marine Engineering Company, Inc., at $2,013 a year for a ten-year period.

The Orlando firm wants to construct a 6,000-foot building of slabs and a roof to use in the manufacturing of concrete dry docks.

James Ryan, port administrator, told the authority members that lease price would amount to slightly over 1 1/2 cent a square foot for land purchased by the authority at $1,200 an acre. Ryan said with the new rental fees, this would mean an increase in property evaluation to $1,900 per acre.

The administrator said the dry dock firm was anxious to begin work and wanted to move in right away.

Jack W. Balthwell, chairman of a president, previously leased for four months a portion of Sanford Airport structure in which to construct a model for the floating docks.

Ryan indicated the company might want to lease additional port property for expansion at a later date.

Another subject discussed by the authority concerned the need for a land use study of the port property and it was decided to instruct Ryan to obtain cost figures from land appraisers before deciding on the study.

Ellsworth Bassett, authority chairman, observed it would help to get the land use study since industrial bids for locating prospective customers might be available.
