SENATE QUITS RUN DEBATES FOR FUND BILL

Wickham Reports Sponsored As Im- portant Appropriation Bills Arise

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Congress put prohibition bills yesterday and worked on the appropriation bills that must be passed before the War 4 adjournment. The Senate seemed more than ready to sidetrack this subject to take up the War Department supply measure. Democratic co-operation came forward to help the administration in the Senate in relation to the vital Army appropriation measure—one of those which must be passed if the extra session is to be avoided.

The Howell bill, intended to help dry up the Capital City, went on the shelf. It may come down again but with amendments pending to legalize 4 per cent beer and to extend unlimited authority to physicians in giving whiskey prescriptions, its chances for immediate consideration today appeared slim.

The House passed the $100,000,000 independent appropriation measure after a day of debate. It contains the funds for the new power commission and it faces a contest in the Senate where an attempt will be made to withhold provision for the three commissioners whose nominations the Senate voted to reconsider.

Secretary Mellon Warns Against Any Bonus Redemption

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Secretary Andrew W. Mellon appeared before the Senate Finance committee today to warn them that a cash redemption of the soldiers' bonus would upset the nation's financial structure and "gradually disturb a world equilibrium."

The veteran secretary of the Treasury said the enabling of adjusted service certificates which had been urged as a relief measure would "seriously retard business recovery and by prolonging unemployment." He testified that the Treasury will close its fiscal year with a deficit according to present indications of not less than $71,000,000, and a cash payment of the face value of the certificates would cost about 2,400,000,000.

Italian Government Seeks Apology For Remarks Of Butler Against Mussolini

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Formal demand by the Italian government for an explanation of a recent speech by General Butler in Philadelphia had passed last night through the regular channels to Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler of the marine corps. In it lay a possibility that the American government might make a formal apology to Italy. Butler, at Quantico, Va., where he is in command of the 3rd Marine Brigade, declined yesterday to comment on the newest storm to arise in his path. Later, officers at Quantico said the general was "absent from the post" and could not be reached by telephone.

The formal protest came from Ambassador de Martino of Italy on the grounds that remarks General Butler is said to have made were derogatory to Premier Mussolini. The ambassador said the statement described them as "untrue and slanderous."

WOMAN DIES IN CRUSH TO SEE INDIAN LEADER

Mahatma Gandhi Promises Continuance Of Campaigns Of Civil Disobedience

BOOMBAY, British India, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, toothless, shriveled, wreath of a man, sat cross-legged on a stone floor yesterday, serving notice on the British Empire that India's campaign of civil disobedience would continue unabated, while outside a frantic crowd, mad for a glimpse of him, struggled so furiously that a woman was crushed to death.

Naked but for a homespun loin cloth, he leaned against a heavy mattress in the center of a circle of newspaper men, and expression of deep melancholy in his ascetic face, but an almost spiritual light in his eyes.

"We can suspend judgment on Prime Minister Macdonald's statement to the round table conference at London," he said, "but we cannot suspend the activities of the Indian congress party."

Regardless of Macdonald's proposals and of the approaching peace talks with delegates returning from the round table conference, he said, all activities of the nationalists—the boycott on foreign cloth, the refusal to pay taxes, the picketing of shops—will continue.

In a feeble voice almost lost in the clamor of the thousands outside he gave his emphatic endorsement to last year's resolution of the congress party demanding immediate measures for establishment of India's full independence. (Continued on page four)

He blew the engine whistle in an effort to rouse the family, but it was believed the father and children were trapped and overcome by the mother had groped her way down a smoke-filled stairway. The fire is believed to have started from an oil-lamp in the kitchen. The ruins of the house were still burning at noon today making search for the bodies impossible.

Religious Issue Said Costly To Kentuckian

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Injection of the religious issue into the last Kentucky campaign was blamed Tuesday for the defeat of former Senator Robinson and at least one representative. Gordon Huff, a Louisville newspaperman, told the state campaign funds committee thousands of copies of a special edition of the Louisville Courier-Journal, published in Washington, were distributed. Huff said he received as publicity director for the republican state central committee during the campaign and "everybody at headquarters" including himself, regarded the Forum editions as "a bad thing" that 70,000 of 100,000 copies received by the committee were burned after the election.

"Why did you consider them a 'bad thing'?" asked Chairman Nye. "Religious prejudice," Huff replied. "They revived the religious issue of the 1928 campaign and I believe they were not an issue in Kentucky."

White Youth Fails On Third Attempt At Check Forgery

Successful in forging the name of J. T. Allen Jacobs, principal of the Sanford Junior High school, on two checks, one for $50 and one for $25, which were cashed by local merchants R. A. Walden, 25, white youth giving his residence as Knoxville, Tenn., is today in the County Jail as the result of his having been unsuccessful in a third attempt at cashing a similar check. He has admitted his guilt, and will be held for the action of the Fall term of the grand jury.

Alertness on the part of Jack Flynn, manager of the First Street, Pearly Wigly store was directly responsible for Walden's arrest yesterday afternoon. The youth appeared at the grocery store, made a small purchase, and tendered a $25 check on the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, signed J. T. Jacobs. The signature aroused the suspicion of Mr. Flynn, who remembered that Mr. Jacobs always signs his name J. T. Jacobs. A telephone call to Mr. Jacobs revealed that he had not signed the check. The youth walked off from the store during the time Mr. Flynn was telephoning, but he was apprehended a few minutes later by Mr. Flynn and Deputy Sheriff O. R. Kirtledge, who had been called by the police department at the request of Mr. Jacobs.

Questioned at the County Jail this morning the youth admitted that he had already secured $75 in checks which he had forged. He said he was successful in having a $25 check cashed last Wednesday, and a $50 check cashed last Saturday. At the time of his arrest only a small sum of money was found on his person. Sheriff J. P. McClelland said that approximately $25 might be recovered.

The youth had been employed by Mr. Jacobs for a few days as a gardener at Mr. Jacobs' West First Street home. He has been living in and about Sanford for the past two months.

AUTO ACCIDENT TAKES LIFE OF LOCAL GROCER

C.R. Long Is Killed At Goldsboro Crossing Early This Morning His Wife Loses Foot

The Atlantic Coast Line railroad crossing at Thirteenth Street in the heart of Goldsboro, colored settlement west of Sanford, was the scene of a fatal accident early this morning, when an extra express train proceeding north into the passenger depot yards, struck and completely demolished a Chevrolet sedan occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Long, Sanford residents who were proceeding to their home on West First Street. Mr. Long died in an ambulance, which called shortly after the wreck was speeding to the Forsyth Laughter Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Long suffered the loss of her right foot, and is in the hospital with chances for her recovery considered good.

The accident occurred at about 1:30 o'clock this morning, and as far as is known, no eye-witnesses were present. Officers J. V. Martin arrived shortly after the wreck and assisted in sending the injured couple to the hospital. A coroner's jury was formed this afternoon by Coroner G. P. Hendrick, and viewed the scene of the accident. They adjourned until Friday afternoon when members of the train crew will be questioned.

Mr. Long was well-known in Sanford, having been associated with his mother, Mrs. Grace L. Brown, in operating a grocery store on West First Street for some time. He is survived by his mother and his widow, Mrs. Cora Long. He was born at Hillsboro, Ill., in 1892.

Funeral services will be held at the Hickman Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, with the Rev. F. M. Martin, of the First Christian Church of Sanford, officiating. Interment will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

SETS FEATURE SUND RACES AT INGWOOD PLANT

General Spectacular Finishes Recorded At Meet Last Night

General spectacular finishes marked the dog racing program at the Longwood Kennel club last night, the event, on the whole, resembling a number of surprise parties. The fourth event, a quarter mile, was considered one of the most thrilling of the season, with less than a length and a half separating all entries at the finish.

Rocky Princess got away to a good start but weakened enough in the last turn of Flirty Meadows and Running Fox to breeze slightly. Pounding down the stretch the former won over some over the Fox with Miss Charlotte leading past Rocky Princess to show. Miss Marketta, favorite, was out of the box but ran a great race to show. The third event, a quarter mile, was another thriller, primarily because of the bitter fight staged by Bashful Eva and Robies Boy for second place, the former finally gaining the verdict. The race was won in good time by Excelsior Babes.

Another program of nine events will be offered tonight, the first race being scheduled for 8:15 o'clock. One of the particular features on the card will be the quarter mile even scheduled as the third race. Three excellent dogs, Countess Pat, Humming Special and Dick Forest are expected to stage a desperate struggle for honors.

CAMPBELL PLANS 'GRAND SLAM' IN RACING RECORDS

Englishman States He Is Thinking Of Go- ing After 4 Marks

DAYTONA BEACH, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Capt. Malcolm Campbell, veteran British race car driver, may try for a grand slam in world land speed records during his proposed trials here early next month.

He said Monday night that in addition to making an assault upon the automobile speed record of 231 miles an hour over a measured mile course, he also would attempt to beat the record for one kilometer. Both marks could be attacked simultaneously, inasmuch as timing traps for one kilometer could be installed in the one-mile stretch.

Present records for both distances were established here in 1929 by the late Sir Henry Seagrave, also of England, who later lost his life in a motorboat accident at Lake Windermere.

If successful in raising the records, Campbell said he probably would make an effort to raise the marks for five kilometers and five miles, both of which he set in South Africa two years ago in an unsuccessful attempt to break Seagrave's record for the mile.

"I am thinking very seriously of attempting four records and would like also to try for the ten-mile mark," said Captain Campbell, "but I'm afraid the beach here is not long enough for the latter. As it is, we would have to lay off two courses, one at the north end of the beach and the other at the south end, in order to get in the five kilometers and five miles.

"Because of the great distance required to attain a maximum speed on entering a measured course, and the great distance necessary to bring a car to a stop after leaving that course, it will be necessary to lay off one five kilometer and five mile course, near one end of the beach, and similar courses at the other end."

In previous attempts upon the mile record, drivers have taken a rolling start of four or four and one-half miles, and have required approximately the same distance to bring their cars to a stop after crossing the measured mile.

Campbell astonished officials here by saying he would be willing to run at a speed of 150 or 160 miles an hour between pinnacles on a pier, 14 feet apart, if it were necessary to take longer running starts on the five kilometer and five mile courses. Heretofore the speed trials have been run some distance south of the pier, which extends from the beach out over the water, but Campbell said that if he required more room, he would consider racing between the piling under the pier.

The intrepid driver spent most of Monday in conference with city officials and the racing committee, discussing the financing of the trials, piloting the beach and other details incident to the speed meet.

Monday night he was the guest of honor at a dinner given by the city, and later he attended a prize-fight.

His record-contending car is due here Thursday when a crew of mechanics will start to work tuning it up for the opening of the trials February 2.

ALL IS NOT GOLD—EN

BASEBALL STARS ARE ALREADY ON TRAINING SPREES

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Some of the boys are jumping the gun again.

With most major league clubs scheduled not to leave for spring training until after the middle of February, reports have started to trickle in of athletes in far-flung spots sweating and groaning to work off the effects of a soft winter.

Among these early starters are the "big boys." Babe Ruth himself, George Earnshaw, Philadelphia right-hander, and Jess Petty, veteran southpaw, signed last year by the Chicago Cubs.

Each has a particularly good reason for an early start.

Ruth had a good season last year. He hit .359 and drove off 49 home runs. But he didn't lead both major leagues. Pudgy Little Dick Wilson, Chicago club outfielder, prevented that. Wilson accounted for 56 homers, and the city arose from all sides that the big Babe had slipped.

Ruth is reported to be drawing down somewhere in the neighborhood of $80,000 a year, and that money he realises bills for a champion, not a near champion.

Moreover, Joe McCarthy, new manager, is leaning heavily on the Babe for a successful first season with the club. Ruth and Lou Gehrig, first baseman, McCarthy has said, are the only two men on the club who are certain regulars. The others must prove up.

Consequently, Ruth, now 30, is working off that excess fat daily in a New York gymnasium with his daughter Julia to good aim on.

Peity and Earnshaw are in Hot Springs, Ark., taking the baths.

Earnshaw, who won 22 games last year and was the hero of the world's series against the St. Louis Cardinals, carries a large share of the hopes of the Athletics for a third straight championship.

WALKER TO MEET JOHNNY RIKKO IN MAGIC CITY RING

MIAMI, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The second scheduled "big" fight of the current winter season swelled into official being Monday as "Pa" Stribling gained municipal sanction for a Feb. 24 show between Mickey Walker, middle-weight champion, and Johnny Rikko, Cleveland baker boy.

"Pa" laid his plans before the city commission Monday and got that body's approval of his fight. The affair will precede by 10 days Frank Bruen's show between Jimmy Maloney, Boston, and Primo Carnera.

The elder Stribling, who is marketing time with a little fight and wrestling promoting while he waits the arrival of June and the Southern championship fight in the South, has signed both Walker and Rikko for the fight several days ago.

Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, left here attempting to line up Jack Sharkey for his portage, but made arrangements for the Stribling show after his departure from Miami Beach last.

"Pa" signature of Garden officials for the use of their huge wooden stadium here ended speculation that the stadium would remain dark this year. While the Garden offered two fights here in the last two years and had a working agreement with the city to present three more in as many years, no desire for a 1931 show was voiced.

Miami sports fans and businessmen eager for the winter season to assume proportions comparable to that of other years from a fiscal angle, had about given up hope for a fight until Bruen, former vice president of the Garden, announced his scheduled show between Maloney and Carnera.

With the announcement that he expected to present the third battle of the palms, as Miami prepares for the running of the $10,000 Florida derby at Hialeah race track, other promoters came forth with prospective fights for the enjoyment of the winter tourists.

"Pa" Stribling and Lou Magnolia told of plans for wrestling matches, while the lesser promotional lights elaborated upon their plan.

In the meantime, Bruen, unable to get Madison Square Garden's signature on a lease of the stadium signed with the city to use Moore park, municipally owned athletic field, while the elder Stribling was juggling to a contract on his three-cornered deal to bring Rikko and Walker together in the Garden's bowl.

"Pa" said Rikko and Walker will come here within a few days to train for their battle. Bruen announced Monday night that Maloney and Carnera also will pit "raining" in on Miami acres before many days have passed.

Robert T. Jones, Jr., won, wearing a white polo shirt, white flannel knickers, pleated and without a belt; blue hose, and black and white moccasins.

But that's not a bit of sartorial lore and haberdashers' hope for spring.

KNICKERS TO BE PASSE DECLARE STYLE ARBITERS

Long Trousers Due To Come Back To Golf Courses, Is Report

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Knickers, if the Fifth avenue stylists know their pants trends, are slipping out of the golfer's wardrobe.

Long trousers are due to come back to the country's links. That is to say, on the legs of the man who likes to be different.

Plus-fours, of course, are still the last for the timid soul. The whole idea (the stylists' idea) is that the manly wielders don't really need knickers now.

The rough, for which they were designed on most courses, no longer is so rough that trouser legs are likely to emerge with skin guards of thistle burrs and a dry twigs.

Already plus-fours are not as baggy as they used to be and last fall no longer light of the links than Maurice J. McCarthy, Jr., former intercollegiate golf champion, braved the galleries in long pants—and lost his match to Jess Sweetser.

Robert T. Jones, Jr., won, wearing a white polo shirt, white flannel knickers, pleated and without a belt; blue hose, and black and white moccasins.

But that's not a bit of sartorial lore and haberdashers' hope for spring.

If you really want to know what's what!

Cape are increasing in popularity, especially in white or natural linen. Berets are what they call a limited fashion.

White flannel trousers are by long odds the current Florida resort fashion. Here again there's a great distinction. Most white flannel pants wearers probably will appear in the striped variety—the hotel grade, as one Fifth avenue clothing dealer called it. The really well-dressed man (meaning, presumably, the chap who had a villa) will wear 'em plain.

Panzama hats are first in popularity, chiefly in the offish shade with plain black bands. White felt hats are limited, but smart as contract bridge. Bonnets will remain the perennial standard among the strag hats.

Men's spring suits are Army Parkie, flannel, corduroy, and from there.

Coats—two buttons, plain felt hat, knee length, and from there.

Human Fish Will Give Exhibition In Lake On Wednesday

SMITHSONIAN GETS VALUABLE RUG

Norris Kellam, world champion endurance swimmer, and known generally as "The Human Fish," will give two exhibitions of his ability in Lake Moore, just off the Municipal Pier today, and announced his intention of remaining in Sanford another day.

Ruth had a good season last year. He hit .359 and drove off 49 home runs. But he didn't lead both major leagues. Pudgy Little Dick Wilson, Chicago club outfielder, prevented that. Wilson accounted for 56 homers, and the city arose from all sides that the big Babe had slipped.

Ruth is reported to be drawing down somewhere in the neighborhood of $80,000 a year, and that money he realises bills for a champion, not a near champion.

Moreover, Joe McCarthy, new manager, is leaning heavily on the Babe for a successful first season with the club. Ruth and Lou Gehrig, first baseman, McCarthy has said, are the only two men on the club who are certain regulars. The others must prove up.

Consequently, Ruth, now 30, is working off that excess fat daily in a New York gymnasium with his daughter Julia to good aim on.

Peity and Earnshaw are in Hot Springs, Ark., taking the baths.

Earnshaw, who won 22 games last year and was the hero of the world's series against the St. Louis Cardinals, carries a large share of the hopes of the Athletics for a third straight championship.

Unless "Rube" Walbers, left-hander, returns to form as a consistent winner develops from the crop of Athletic youngsters, Connie Mack faces the prospect of defending his honora with just two consistent winners. "Lody" Grove is one, Earnshaw is the other.

Consequently, it is vital to Mack that the big right-hander, who has been called a "second Smithsonian," be ready to go from the opening gun.

Peity is laboring to make good in what perhaps will amount to his last chance in the major leagues. He has been campaigning since 1916 and was picked up by the Chicago Cubs from the New York International League club.

Peity, who weighs around 200 pounds, is a former professional baseball player.

The warning against further increased planting, Tesque said, was necessary to prevent the "serious grief" that would come to those who put their savings in grapefruit groves with the expectation that they can then retire and live on the income.

Tesque only recently returned from a trip to the Pacific coast. On his return trip he visited the Rio Grande valley in Texas where grapefruit groves are being planted in constantly increasing numbers.

It was estimated, he said, that 20,000 acres of land in that valley would be planted to grapefruit trees this year, while annual plantings for the next five years have averaged 10,000 acres.

While figures for 1933 plantings were not yet available, Tesque said that of the 447,000 acres planted in 1925, Florida planted about 80,000, of which 5700 acres are non-bearing. Texas planted 100,000, of which 43,000 are non-bearing and California's 1,000,000 acres of which more than 500,000 are non-bearing.

Tesque estimated that the total crop would amount to 17,000,000 boxes, or 2,000,000 more boxes than in 1932.

Tesque said the remaining six months of the season is the most critical for the grapefruit grower.

(Continued From Page One) where the farmer had no mortgage on his farm of 80 acres. It was worth from $3000 to $4000. The man wanted to borrow $200 for him through the winter, offering 19 per cent interest and a bonus of $10, with the loan secured by a first mortgage on the farm. He couldn't find anyone interested, Watkins said.

Haysburg had two bank failures after the major flood of 1927, leaving only one in the town of 1300. This one closed last November, along with the 40 or so others in the so-called A. H. Banker chain, but it re-opened a week later with no capital and now is said to be on a sound basis.

It is making few loans of any kind.

"We can't do it," said W. S. Martin, assistant cashier. "I made two little loans today but for self-protection. The people already owed us so we took some more security and let them have a little more money."

The loans run from $50 to $1000. Martin said. To get this much, the farmer must give a first mortgage on his land and also on his next crop. Livestock is not worth anything as security now because there is nothing to feed the stock and many are starving.

One of the two loans Martin made in the new day was to a farmer who already owed the bank and it had a mortgage on his farm and livestock. The livestock was released because of the risk and the bank took a mortgage on the next crop instead.

E. B. Boyd of Lyons, near here who owns several large farms in the state, said credit was to be found nowhere in Memphis, only a short distance from here, turn dead ends to requests for loans, Boyd said.

Tenant farmers in this section look to the landlords to "furnish" them from one crop to the next. Since the landlords have no credit, the tenants are on charity.

Were an epidemic to seize this city as well as our neighbor, Orlando, and in the course of a year completely wipe out the population of both cities, it would be looked upon as one of the most horrible catastrophes in history. Were a flood to sweep in from the Atlantic drowning every resident of Daytona Beach and New Smyrna, that too would be a disaster of unbelievable magnitude. Yet when the same number of persons are killed every year as a result of automobile accidents, everyone takes it as a matter of course, and no one apparently is concerned in the least.

During the year of 1930 there were recorded in the United States 835,250 automobile accidents, in which 32,500 persons were killed, and 962,325 persons, or more than half as many as live in all Florida, were injured. There were 7,800 more persons killed in automobile accidents than in industrial accidents, while four times as many were injured as were wounded among United States troops during the nineteen months of American participation in the World War. Furthermore the evil is growing, as there were, despite the fact that motor vehicle mileage decreased some fifteen billion miles, nearly fifteen hundred more deaths in 1930 than in 1929.

Causes of accidents are classified by insurance writers as: first, stealing the right of way, a fault which caused over thirty percent of all auto accidents; second, excessive speed, which resulted in twenty-one percent of the 835,250 accidents; third, just plain ordinary recklessness, or carelessness, causing sixteen percent; and then inability to drive, even when no extenuating circumstances are present. Ignorance of hand signals, light signals, and traffic regulations, go to make up the remaining causes of accidents.

Marion Pew, of Editor & Publisher, who presents these interesting statistics, adds the wish that he might also announce further facts and figures showing how many accidents were caused by booze, star-gazing, day-dreaming, back seat driving, smart Alec show-off, racing and undue privilege by reason of political pull, but such matters, he says, are not for insurance actuaries, though they must be taken into account by the state and the nation. "Some accidents," he concludes, "may be unavoidable but the unutterable sacrifice of 32,500 lives and injury to nearly a million persons in a single year shrieks to heaven for relief."

Routing Crime In Chicago

Speaking over the radio last night in Chicago, Frank Loesch, president of the Chicago Crime Commission and also a member of the Wickersham Commission, told of the progress which has been made in Chicago toward alleviating the serious crime conditions which have notoriously existed there since the World War. Chicago has long been a perfect epitome of lawless conditions, a by-word for blackmail, robbery, murder and rowdiness. But today Chicago is well on the way to becoming an orderly and law-abiding city.

How this great change came about was explained by Mr. Loesch in his radio address when he said: "Chicago is the first city in the world to recognize the serious fact of crime, drag it into the open and declare war. It is performing a service not only to itself, but to its neighbors, because it realizes that crime anywhere means crime everywhere. How long it will be before other notorious crime centers wake up to the fact that thorough clean-ups are needed is just the length of time which will be required to repel the crime wave in this country."

What Chicago did was to make a list of twenty-eight of the arch-criminals, which were published in the newspapers, and exposed to the world as "public enemies" and a concentrated war against them was inaugurated. After a six months' campaign, these public enemies have been pretty well put to rout. As Mr. Loesch explains:

- Two are dead at the hands of their own kind.
- Three are serving penitentiary sentences.
- Two have been sentenced to a federal prison.
- Three are in jail—two charged with murder.
- One is in a prison hospital, the victim of an assassin.
- One has disappeared and is supposed to have been murdered.
- One is about to be deported.
- Seven are awaiting trial and are at large on bail.
- Eight (including Alphonse Capone himself) are fugitives.

"When the final report is written they will all be dead or in prison. But we are not stopping here. We are after their associates and supporters—the crooked criminal lawyers, the crooked policemen, the crooked politicians and all who give them aid and comfort."

What Chicago is doing, other places can do. Crime can be banished in this country whenever the decent, law-abiding, but self-satisfied and indifferent citizens want it abolished.

A digest of the Wickersham report:

1. After investigating for 19 months and 23 days, your commission finds that liquor is being sold in the United States. (Minority report: The commission wasted 19 months and 23 days arriving at this conclusion.)
2. It is bootleggers who are selling most of the liquor.
3. The present supply of alcohol is not adequate for meeting the demand, but the bootleggers get their supply by distilling it just the same.
4. An encouraging sign for the law enforcement is that automobile production continued heavily in 1930, although in December an automobile was stolen.
5. The prohibition amendment is the Constitution to stay, but the bootleggers have not read beyond the First Amendment yet. They should be given time, but not so much time as is provided in the Constitution and 28th law.

recently, when a prisoner was arraigned, the judge gave him his choice of a $5 fine or ten nights in a barroom. The prisoner had served his ten nights' sentence in a barroom before the error was traced.

5. The liquor problem has affected the very foundation of the American Republic. At Niagara Falls, only a few days before this report was submitted, 1,000,000 cubic feet of rock slipped and fell. The examination follows a barrel of whiskey floating down the rapids caused his catastrophe. The barrel immediately started leaking and before it reached the bottom it was full of whiskey. (Minority report: It was wrong, one way.)

WORLD'S VIEW

By FERRIS VAN DYKE

Behind the scenes in Rome wherein that famous Benvenuto Cellini had his workshop lies a labyrinth of narrow streets and crooked ways that time and modern progress haven't touched. In this neighborhood it is still possible to re-capture something of the atmosphere of the Rome of the days of Julius and the other great Renaissance popes. That is to say, one still finds here some of those vaulted dining room taverns that seem most ideally suited to harbor the boon companions of Al Capone's forty thieves, and worse. Fascism, which seems to specialize in modernistic, sun-lit suburbs, has not penetrated here.

This corner of Rome has watched empires and pontificates and kingdoms drift by without changing one iota of its tradition and habits. It was to one of these taverns that we were guided by a friend one rainy night recently to visit the famous artist who left his native land half a century ago and who has ever since refused to come back. We found that good-man sitting in a low-ceilinged room below an old brass lantern presiding over a gang of red-nosed cabdrivers and costermongers of the neighborhood.

No introductions were necessary. The very fact that we had managed to find the entrance to this monthly cave seemed sufficient testimony of our worthiness to be forthwith invited to share the friar's meal, which consisted of a strange-smelling sturgeon, a kind of soup, which the host ladled out generously from a sputtering black pot under the chimney. The chief merit of this concoction was that it raised an inordinate thirst. Fortunately the man who still possessed a few coppers needed to go thrifty in this mysterious emporium. There was a row of bulging vials with wooden spigots along the walls from which one simply drew a beaker full whenever the necessity made itself felt. The result was that before many hours had passed, the conversation was most genial.

I never knew cabdrivers and the like possessed such a store of profound philosophy and common sense. It must be the long hours of waiting for customers who go inside to inspect the temples, museums and palaces of Rome that have killed them with that patient and mellow outlook on men and the world of which they give evidence that night. One individual had been in America in his youth. He thought the name of the town he had worked in was Boston. He remembered it vaguely, but did not speak unkindly of it.

Our host held forth upon the benefit of residing in Rome. This we learned, was his favorite topic. He maintained that the Eternal City was still the center of the world and that it provided an excellent watch-tower for the contemplation of whatever passed in the universe. His reference to local Italian politics was summed up in this brief characterization of the Duke, whom he called "Signor or Smith." "It's an incident, gentlemen, an incident, like this cup which I drink." It is the Rome where a thousand years are like a day, that seemed to have incalculated this long view of the regime.

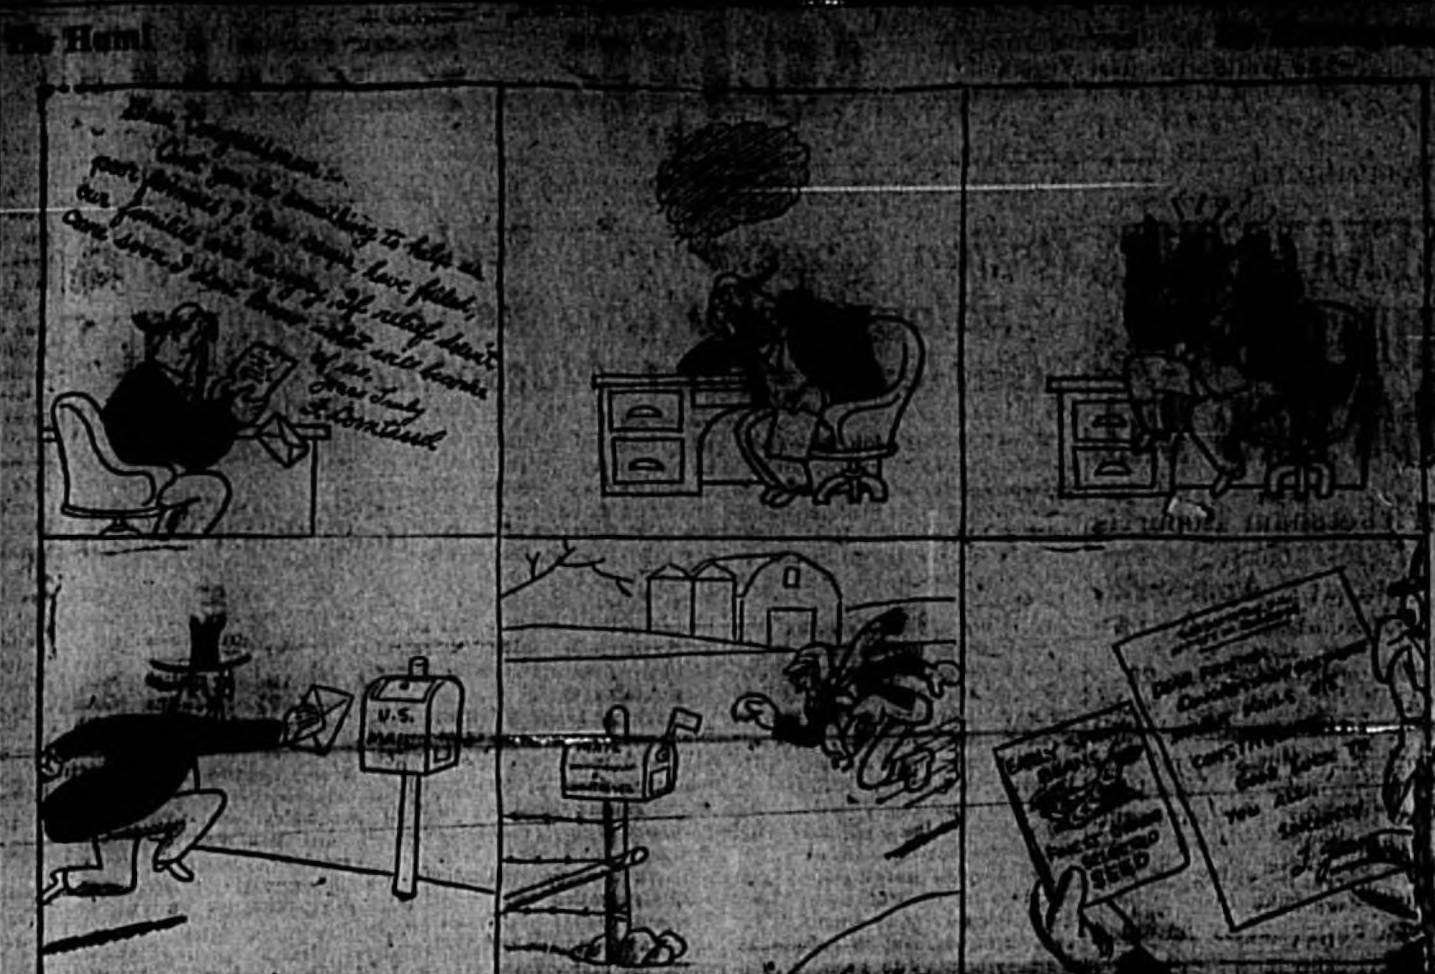

We sat long that evening and let the world pass by in review. With the first hours of morning when we emerged into the bright black alley where the rain poured down in torrents, the Fascist police guard ambled up and in a dark doorway we eyed one another with a bunch of silk umbrellas.

The Archbishop of York complained recently that "you never see headlines splashed across the newspaper." "Unity America" is seems to have been the only kind of lawlessness. After taking a lesson in the Italian system, seventeen prominent citizens were held up. (Minority report: "They had to be.")

12. The government has taken a forward step in "democratizing" alcohol with system, yet such people as this are not present. In a hotel near the Vatican one evening he in his alcohol only took like a Westerner's punch. (Minority report: "It was wrong, one way.")

13. To prohibit alcohol is to prohibit the very foundation of the American Republic. At Niagara Falls, only a few days before this report was submitted, 1,000,000 cubic feet of rock slipped and fell. The examination follows a barrel of whiskey floating down the rapids caused his catastrophe. The barrel immediately started leaking and before it reached the bottom it was full of whiskey. (Minority report: "It was wrong, one way.")

Cherry, but as soon as there is a difference among them there is a 'Crisis in the Church.' To this the Observer replied with the following neat rejoinder: "The criticism is founded upon a misconception of the function of newspapers, which is to chronicle news—that is, things that happen. Their concern is with the dynamic, not the static. If there is unity among the clergy, nothing happens and nothing has to be recorded. A 'crisis,' on the other hand, even if it does not come to interdict or blow, has dramatic significance, just as a dialogue has more human interest than a soliloquy. A newspaper must not be expected to record the things that don't happen as well as the things that do. If we are asked to explain every Sunday that peace continues to be preserved between Switzerland and Abyssinia, or that the Bishop of Pudery got safely down to breakfast without breaking his leg, we can only plead lack of space."

agents. The dry pipe, most constructive device, will be to peek through bathroom keyholes looking for bathtub gin.

"I have 250,000 friends in Chicago. Dead or alive, they will vote for me."—Big Bill Thompson quoted in The World.

That is the first time even a Chicago politician admitted the dead would vote for him, too.

What A World Of Grief It Saves You

WE KNOW a seed house that proves each season's crop of needs in their own trial gardens before they offer them to the public. Flowers and vegetable grown from these seeds must measure up to definite standards, or else the entire crops from which the samples were taken are burned.

We know a manufacturer of dry batteries who tested a new product two years before he sold a single battery to a single dealer.

We know a manufacturer of an anti-freeze solution for automobile radiators who spent two years testing his product under all conditions before he said a word in advertising about the merits of his goods.

We know a manufacturer of household pharmaceutical products who self-imposed standard of purity and efficacy is even higher than that laid down by the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Pharmacy.

If we mentioned their names you would recognize them immediately. You probably would say, "I plant those seeds," "I use that battery," "I use that anti-freeze," "My medicine cabinet contains these products."

The four instances cited are typical of every reliable manufacturer in America. Millions of dollars are expended in advertising to sell you goods of standard quality and in the process millions of dollars are spent in advertising to tell you about

All of which is to say that in putting your trust in a product, you are choosing you have selected the better, the expert, the standard, the one you the dealer or experimenter has demonstrated to be the best. It is the only way to make of your purchase a safe investment. It is the only way to get the most for your money.

Youths Escape After Shooting Floridians

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 28.—(AP)—After holding up a grocery store here last night, three youths eluded North Florida officers, after shooting a man at Lake City and exchanging fire with officers at Live Oak.

Two of the bandits entered the store and covered the clerks and customers with guns, going through the cash register and pockets of the persons in the building. They got about $55.

The pair went out in a car, where a third waited with his motor running. They set out toward Lake City. As they passed through the outskirts of that place a fusillade from the bandit car dropped Weston Shelton, 17, who happened to be standing on a corner. He was not seriously wounded.

Going into Live Oak from there, they were chased by police and a running gun battle ensued. One of the pursuing automobiles had a tire shot off, and Live Oak police said they believed they had hit someone in the bandit machine, as they trained a steady fire onto it.

FORD SMOOTHNESS

The new Ford has more than twenty ball and roller bearings.

EVIDENCE of the high quality built into the new Ford is the extensive use of ball and roller bearings. There are more than twenty in all—an unusually large number. Each bearing is adequate in size and carefully selected for the work it has to do.

At some points the Ford chassis you will find ball bearings. At other roller bearings are used regardless of their higher cost. The deciding factor is the performance of the car.

The extensive use of ball and roller bearings in the new Ford insures smoother operation, saves gasoline, increases speed and power, gives quicker pick-up, decreases noise, and gives greater reliability and longer life to vital moving parts.

Other outstanding features that make the new Ford a value far above the price are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, the extensive use of fine steel forgings, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

Take Detroit! I took it . . . or rather OLD GOLD did . . . in stride. Greeted the Mayor. Raced all over town, with four leading brands of cigarettes to be sampled by Detroit's busy populace.

And what happened? The same OLD GOLD story! The same OLD GOLD win! This time by a 25% margin!

Still . . . it takes an exception to prove a rule. And I am still looking for the group or city that won't pick O. G.
