Passion Play Group Strives Toward Goal

LAKE WALES, (Special) — Directors of Florida's newest community building organization, non-profit Passion Play Amphitheater Corporation here, this week moved finitely to "write another chapter in the history of permanent peace started by Edward Bok," and to "establish the Florida Ridge Country as the inspirational center of the nation . . . and of the world." Proving ground for a "quietly militant 10-year effort to give direction toward things of the spirit" in outdoor entertainment will be through Passion Play Amphitheater here.

Criterion and pattern "for all time and for all efforts" will be Josef Meier's Black Hills Passion Play which opens scheduled performances in the Amphitheater January 11th. The immediate goal, and first step in the 10-year effort, according to Frank M. O'Byrne, President of the Amphitheater association, is "the bringing together, into a functioning unit, 3,000 citizens of Florida wholeheartedly interested in making Florida, its citizens and its interests, working examples of first satisfaction possible in things of the spirit." "We shall not seek to improve," Mr. O'Byrne continued, "nor to point out the wrong. We shall attempt only, through Pioneers Club, to demonstrate the obvious that most people most times find fuller satisfaction in insulating themselves in graphic portrayals of the lessons of history, in seeking and sharing the benefits of the full life of the spirit."

With charter-application papers in preparation, details of Amphitheater Pioneers Club and announcement of first activities were made public this week by Passion Play Amphitheater directors.

EN ROUTE FROM EUROPE UP
Notes from a travel diary:
Going through Europe builds you down and tears you up. It confuses an out-of-towner.

As a visitor, your duty is always to go and loyally inspect the famous local ruins, shake your head and ponder about how such a wonderful civilization could perish.

The next thing is to admire the local art works.

For some reason beyond his own actual desires the tourist is supposed to be panting to creak his neck upward at the famous top-of-the-wall drawings of Michelangelo and his students.

The brave fact, of course, is that most visitors are in inspecting some

NEW YORK—Merchants are betting that Santa Claus will be good to them this year. Stores whose December sales to date can make or break the year's results are expecting this Yuletide to surpass last year by five to 20 per cent.

Retail lumber stores, an exception, say they expect a drop in foot traffic of their kind this year, blaming high taxes for cutting down sales.

And some stores, especially those interested in hardware or drug sales, for instance, are about the same in December as any other month. And grocery sales totals aren't influenced much either.

But the stores that cater to the local annual sale or gift giving count on doing well next month.

Most chain stores already report sales surging ahead of last year. The mail order business is predicting a record Christmas business. Christmas card salesmen say this season will be a record one for the postman. Toy makers predict record sales.

In many places, department stores are rushing the season, starting to promote Christmas goods while the feathers are still on the Thanksgiving turkey.

A preview of merchants' hopes is offered today by a firm that helps these merchants finance their business, including carrying their charge and installment credit accounts—Standard Factors Corp., New York, Chicago and Los Angeles.

If December were just any other month out of the 12, its sales volume should be 8 1/2 per cent of the year's total.

However, jewelry stores do one-fourth of their annual dollar volume in December. Variety chains do one-fifth in the final month.

Department stores and retail dry goods shops expect 15 per cent of their sales in December. Clothing chains count on 13 per cent, and home appliance and radio-TV dealers do 12 per cent.

A bad December, therefore, can be a heart-breaker.

Standard Factors says that clients in these various fields report a marked increase in buying, with credit sales up an average of 20 per cent this year.

It says sales volume started in increasing some time ago with the major increase reported by stores which were pushing charge account and installment business.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY
Moses furnished the hands to do God's work. God has no hands, but he has plenty of work. God by his hand would deliver them. — Acts 7:25.

The thoroughly occupied man knows no worries. He doesn't have time for any.

Drew Pearson says Justice Felix Frankfurter will probably be the first one to resign from the Supreme Court. Maybe so, but we doubt if the General will do any purging.

It was a typographical error which caused us to say in effect in this column yesterday that out of 88,986 votes cast in last week's election Dan McCarty received 624,463. That would be a specu-lar achievement even for Dan.
Actually there were 988,986 votes cast in the election.

Now that the Republicans have won the election and it is becoming popular to go back to work, a new kind of sleeping pill has been invented which has an alarm clock in it so that after putting the victim to sleep it will also wake him up after eight hours. It contains pentobarbital to put 'em to sleep, butabarbital to keep 'em asleep, and desoxyephedrine to wake 'em up. So there's no excuse for over-sleeping any more.

We are glad to see the City Commission giving further consideration to the improvement of Sanford sewers. All of them are in pretty bad condition and there are large sections of the city completely without sewerage facilities of any kind. They need to be repaired and extended to these other sections. Furthermore, the pollution in Lake Monroe should be given some attention. This program will cost a great deal, but it will cost a lot more if it is postponed too long.

Harry Voorhis, Orlando attorney, will be chairman of the All Florida Turnpike meeting in Orlando next week. It would be a good idea if some of Sanford's leading citizens could find time to attend this meeting where all the pros and cons of the proposed Florida turnpikes will be aired. A good many arguments have already been heard against the project, but there is much to be said in favor of it, not the least of which is that it will be paid for by those who use it, not by the general public. It should be considered from every angle.

One of the evils of being rich or prominent is having to live in a goldfish bowl. The average citizen could get into a brawl with a friend and the worst that would happen to him would be to be picked up by police. The chances are that no one else would ever know anything about it. But when Capt. Horace Brewer, husband of Marion Davies, former movie actress, took a staged swing at William Randolph Heart, son of the late famed newspaper publisher, it made the headlines all over the country. "It's going to a fellow can't have a friendly brawl any more", said Capt. Brown.

We have always contended that people with stomach ulcers deserve as much sympathy as the blind, the lame or the lame. Food poisoning or high prices may be of great concern to the nervous individual whose ulcers are hitting all six, but neither are bumper prices and low prices. He lives, or at least, he has a little piece of bread and milk but the same while the dick-dicks who sit down to a big platter of steak and beans. More than 15-million people in the United States suffer from stomach ulcers, Stomach Medical Association said the other day. The death rate from ulcers has not been known for 25 years. He has an ulcer in need of comforting the stomach and ulcers of our people are more common.

Man In The Middle

Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, has resigned his office in the hope that the move may speed the peace pact in Korea. Those close to him say that his decision resulted from constant attack by Soviet Russia and recent broadsides fired by United States Congressmen who accused him of tolerating American Communists on his staff.

Lie's term was extended last year over the violent opposition of Russia which has since refused to recognize him as secretary-general. He said in his speech of resignation that the appointment of a new man to the job may make Russia more agreeable to reaching a truce agreement in Korea.

When the record is examined it will be disclosed that much of the success that the United Nations has accomplished has been due to the patient, unspectacular but persistent efforts of this Norwegian statesman. He was an ardent supporter of the UN action to halt aggression in Korea and it was this stand which won him the enmity of the Communists.

Laying the cornerstone of an international organization is not an easy task. Yet the countless millions in the world who see the UN as the best existing hope for world peace owe a debt of gratitude to Trygve Lie. In a time of great international trouble he gave unparagonably of his time and energy and endured the abuse of various contending factions with dignity and restraint.

Chaim Weizmann

Chaim Weizmann has died, full of years and accomplishments, in the land he led to modern statehood. It is given to few men to leave nations to stand as their memorials, and indeed, the Israel of today was not the creation of one man.
Dr. Weizmann was the first to say this himself. Once, when he was asked whether there were many Zionists like him, he replied grimly that the roads of his native village in Russia were paved with them. But it was Dr. Weizmann who brought to fruition the work of Theodore Herzl and others, who worked and fought and suffered to fulfill an ancient dream and who, at the last, saw the Republic of Israel born and became its first president.

Not only was he the leading citizen of one of the world's nations; in many ways he epitomized the civilized man, moved equally by profound religious faith and a belief in human betterment through science. It was his accomplishments in biochemistry that helped win him fame in England, just as it was his personal charm and sincerity that brought him sympathy of friends who later were to give him great support in his statesmanlike struggle toward the objective that lay closest to him. To many people, the brilliant scientist devoted to the cause of lending his people out of a 2,000-year wilderness was symbolic of the ancient nation which sought redemption. Later on, younger and stronger men were to shoulder the final burdens, but the vision passed on to them by Weizmann remained sharp and shining, even while his own eyes grew dim with age.

Hope is an eternal monument, and it was hope that Dr.
Weizmann gave a people. Today it has been translated into lives saved, universities founded and homes established, families reunited, a nation reborn. To all who admire faith and courage, Chaim Weizmann's name will remain an everlasting inspiration, his memory a blessing. That is why all people with hopes and dreams in their hearts may say:
"Know ye not that there is a prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?" — New York Herald Tribune.

You-all Is Plural

"I live in Houston, Texas," reports Mrs. Raymond W.
Meyer, "but at the moment am in Louisville visiting my parents. I'd appreciate it if you will publish again the poem about you-all being plural. I need it to show some of my Yankee friends. Houston has doubled in 10 years, hence we have more Yankees there now than Houstonians.

"The Houston Chronicle is our leading newspaper.
Would that Greetings were a part of it!"

Ah, yes, ma'am. Our striving competitors always show up worst when their readers visit in Louisville. There they learn that, when it comes to giving subscribers a good run for the money, The Courier-Journal takes up where others leave off.

But enough of fol de rol. The poem you want runs like this:

Come all you from other parts,
Both city folks and rural,
And listen while I tell you this:
The word you-all is plural.
When we say you-all must come down,
Or we-all shall be lonely,
We mean a dozen folks, perhaps,
And not one person only.
If I should say to Hiram Jones,
For instance, "You-all is lazy,
Or will you-all lend me your knife,
He'd think that I was crazy.
Now if you'd be more sociable,
And with us often mingle,
You'd find that in the native tongue
You-all is never single.
Don't think I mean to criticize,
Or act as if I knew it all,
But when we speak of one alone,
We-all say "you," like you-all.

Gentlemen:

Encouragement of an aggressive interest in community progress is a responsibility of the press and we feel that you did an excellent job in fulfilling this charge in regard to the hospital bond issue.

Surely everyone acknowledges the need for a modern hospital.
With your help in keeping facts pertaining to what the people of Hemlock County might do about it, they took the first step toward getting it when they passed the bond issue.

Please accept this Committee's

Climatic Assets Of State Emphasized

GAINESVILLE (AP)—Farmers and ranchers of Florida were advised Thursday to build on a realistic basis in regard to the state's climate.

Dr. J. R. Beckenbach, associate director of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, told feeders and nutritionists attending a conference here that the state's climatic assets and liabilities must be considered.

He said: "Florida's future in agriculture generally, and in livestock and poultry in particular, is dependent on the use we make of our major asset, the bright, mild climate of Florida."

Beckenbach said our people, our physical and climatic assets and our relationship with out-of-state markets are the three chief factors in success in agriculture in this state.

Easing Of Rules On Independent Lines Urged For Defense

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Easing of regulations on independent, non-scheduled airlines is essential as a defense measure, Amos E. Heacock, president of the Air Coach Transport Association, said Thursday.

Heacock who came here from his home in Anchorage, Alaska, to attend a meeting of ACTA directors, heads Air Transport Associates, Inc., an independent firm operating between Alaska and Seattle.

"The present stranglehold on the independents," Heacock said, "is killing off companies which would be the first to furnish transport planes to the armed forces in case of attack."

"This was pointed up both by the Korean situation and by recent floods in the Midwest. Because we are more mobile and not tied down our planes were the first called in in action in both instances."

"We cannot afford the luxury of a cartel in air transportation in times like these."

Heacock arrived here as two Civil Aeronautics Board examiners broke off a hearing on the application of Aero Finance Corp., Miami, for authority to continue in business as a non-scheduled airline.

Floridians Spending More Money In 1952

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Floridians are spending more money this year.

Through October, says the Federal Reserve Bank, the rate has been about one billion dollars more than for the same 10 months of 1951.

The bank measures spending by bank withdrawals. T. A. Lanford, vice president and general manager of the Jacksonville branch, said businessmen often use bank withdrawals to measure the trend of business since 80 per cent of the country's spending is transacted by check.

During October, the bank said, spending in Florida passed the $1-300,000,000 mark—113 million dollars more than for the similar 1951 month and 67 million dollars more than for September this year.

The rise in withdrawals at this time of year is usual.

Bank withdrawals in October were higher in all of Florida's leading trade centers compared with the like month last year.
Withdrawals at Pensacola were up 31 per cent, at Orlando 26 per cent, St. Petersburg 18, Miami 12, Tampa 10, Greater Miami 8, and West Palm Beach 5. Figures were not available for Jacksonville banks.

THE WORLD TODAY
By ARTHUR EDSON
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's appar-iate that the first representative of Dwight D. Eisenhower to meet with the Truman administration should be a financial expert who will watch the preparation of the budget.

For on no issue have the Republicans been as persistent as on the subject of government spending.

For instance, a year ago Sen.
Stiles Bridges of New Hampshire said of the proposed 71½ billion dollar budget:

"If Stalin himself were given the opportunity to weaken America from within, he could scarcely produce a plan better calculated to destroy this government. We are being asked, literally, to spend ourselves in ruin."

As the ranking Republican on the Senate Appropriations Committee, Bridges will be its chairman in the new Congress.

Two years ago, when Truman proposed a 42 billion dollar budget to Congress, Rep. John Taber of New York said:

"We can not maintain our liberties if we turn this money over to the President and the Socialist schemers who surround him."

Taber will be the new chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.

More recently, Eisenhower himself has said of Democratic spending:

"We see an expenditure program that appears reckless and extravagant to the point of sheer folly."

Joseph M. Dodge, the Detroit banker who is Eisenhower's liaison man to the Budget Bureau, went to work Wednesday. He said he would neither recommend nor disapprove—just watch.

But in view of Republican statements on government economy, dating back for 20 years, it's a fair guess that his instructions are:
Keep your eyes peeled for any place where we can save money.

In final form, the explanation of how a president thinks this country should spend its money each year adds up in a document the size of a metropolitan telephone book.

And the money goes for such a variety of things:

Billions for defense, and $10,000 to welcome visiting dignitaries to the nation's capital.

Billions for foreign relief, and $10,520 to fulfill a treaty made with the Pawnee Indians of Oklahoma.
Millions for each government department, and $30 to remove the snow, if any, from the Supreme Court steps.

The new budget—for the government year beginning July 1, 1953—has a touch of irony.

If by law, a president must make his estimates within 15 days after the opening of a regular session of Congress, the new Republican Congress meets Jan. 3, and Truman's budget proposals must be available by Jan. 17.

On Jan. 20 it goes to Truman and in comes Eisenhower.

So one of Truman's last official acts will be to hand to a hostile Congress something it's bound not to like.

But the budget is a proposal, a guide and nothing more. Congress still must authorize and vote the money.

Minister Nehru Is Not Entirely Sold On Racial Statute

By SELIG S. HARRISON
NEW DELHI — Prime Minister Nehru cannot decide whether a proposed new anti-discrimination law will help or hinder the cause of India's 22 million still untouchables.

Technically, they are already touchable. The Indian Constitution rules out all discrimination and lays down special guarantees of political and social equality which run for a decade.

But ancient custom is dying hard in the villages of rural India. As always, an orthodox high caste woman may throw away food handled by an untouchable. Untouchables remain apart in segregated quarters at the village outskirts, low men socially and economically on the Hindu caste ladder.

Legislation putting teeth into the constitutional guarantees of equality may be introduced in current session of Parliament. If the government Congress party goes ahead with the bill, it will pass over high caste opposition, acts of discrimination would become statutory punishable offenses for the first time.

However, the Nehru government's own official charged with protecting the rights of untouchables, L. M. Srikant, opposes such a move. So far the Premier has not taken a personal stand in the behind-the-scenes controversy.

Srikant, a businessman active in social welfare organizations sponsored by Brahmmins and others of high caste for the advancement of the lower castes, advocated financial help for "non official groups working for the uplift of the scheduled castes and for the removal of untouchability."

He also urged greater emphasis on action by state governments, especially in compiling a record of villages where untouchables are suffering under social disabilities.

The late Mahatma Gandhi gave untouchables the name Harijans, which literally means "children of God."

Largely through the efforts of Hindus, most states have passed the Gandhian groups of high caste laws prohibiting interference with the use of wells and access to temples and other public places by Harijans. But Srikant reports that "very few cases have been recorded in the courts of law for breach of the provisions of these acts."

The main reason, he explains, "is that Harijans have no courage to come forward either to draw water from the common wells or to go to public places, since they are generally economically dependent upon non-Harijans."

Economic discontent among the Harijans, who make up 10 per cent of India's landless agricultural labor, is beginning to find political expression. Communist success in organizing landless laborers in some areas was mainly responsible for South Indian Red victories in the general elections.

OCALA — The State Livestock Sanitary Board has modified an embargo on pork and pork products to permit more meat to come into Florida.

The board made a number of changes Thursday in the ban originally imposed to keep out vesicular exanthema, a disease that kills hogs but is harmless to humans.

This is what they did:
1. Voted to let in boneless pork from states where the swine disease has not shown up. But hogs from these areas must have been under observation for five days prior to slaughter and show no signs of the disease.

2. Products processed from hogs in disease free states can come in.
3. Pork and pork products which went into cold storage plants outside Florida prior to May 1 may enter. The old limit was April 1.
4. Pigs fed processed in glass jars may enter.

5. Special permits for such pork specialties as Virginia ham may be granted at the discretion of the state veterinarian provided they are from animals killed prior to May 1.

The board lightened regulations in Florida, voting to quarantine hogs fed on public garbage for five days before they go to slaughter. But that limit they may eat grain or cooked garbage.

Dan McCarty, a director of the Florida Chamber of Commerce, and who was elected Governor of Florida on Nov. 4, will address that organization's 26th Annual Meeting at noon on Nov. 18 at Jacksonville. He will admit many new Florida industrialists who have accepted invitations to participate in the meeting. McCarty will be inaugurated Governor early in January.

would file a formal order to that effect Friday.

The board said it would appeal Judge Taylor's decision when he makes it.

Real Estate Men See Loan Rate Increase

MIAMI BEACH — Real estate people think the new Republican administration will authorize a small increase in G. I. home mortgage insurance rates from the present 4 per cent.

On this belief, they predict another boom in home construction for veterans.

At the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards here Thursday, a panel of 11 brokers said they thought G. I. home mortgage rates might be increased to 4 1/2 per cent.

They blamed the 4 per cent rate for slowing down the veterans housing program in the past 18 months.

Henry H. Robinson, Atlanta, one of the panel members, foresaw a "terrible boom" in building G. I. houses in southeastern states if the interest rate is boosted.

"Thousands of veterans have been deprived of the housing benefits guaranteed them by the G. I. Bill of Rights," he said, "because investors aren't interested in 4 per cent mortgages."

The brokers agreed that construction costs would remain about the same in the next six months. Labor costs are the controlling factor, they said, and policies of the Eisenhower administration are not going to lower labor costs.

Baseball Meeting

voted to stage the 1953 all-star game here, despite the fact that we didn't ask for it."

Mr. Callahan neither would confirm or refute the rumor that the Blues will play in the state league next year. He said the local franchise in Sanford may become a necessity.

In stressing the importance of immediate action, Callahan pointed out, "Sanford will lose all of its players if the club does not post its guarantee money with the National Baseball Association for the coming season by Jan. 15."

During the past two months the directors of the Blues have been actively trying to seek help or a buyer, preferably in Sanford or Seminole County.

It was reported that the Blues lost between $8,000 and $9,000 operating independently for the first time since the New York Giants took over the franchise in 1942. This compares similarly with the losses suffered by almost every team in the league for 1952.

Last Sunday 1951 directors took the first steps in cutting the large operating costs of 1952 by slashing the number of high-salaried veterans from four to two for the coming season. This will insure no more or seven rookies per club.

Mr. Callahan emphasized again that the club directors would favor selling out to local interests in preference to having to dispose of the club to some outside entity or town, such as Gainesville.

Man Who Wanted To Be Governor Is Finally Rewarded

By JOHN H. CHAPMAN
LINCOLN, Neb. — The man who as lieutenant governor said his job wasn't worth having—but who wanted some day to be governor—is governor-elect now.

He is Republican Robert H. (Bob) Crosby, 41, of North Platte.

In the early 1940s the young attorney began thinking seriously about being governor. At the time he was the youngest speaker Nebraska's one-house legislature had ever had. His legislative service was interrupted by a stretch in the Navy. When he came home he still had the governor idea.

To get his name before the voters, Crosby ran for lieutenant governor in 1949 and won. While holding that post he had a bill introduced to abolish the office. Not enough work, he said. The bill died in committee.

In 1950 he was winning campaign manager for Gov. Val Peterson. He turned aside many suggestions that he seek a congressional seat.

Crosby was thinking about being governor.

Campaigning recently, he met a former assistant sergeant at arms of the Legislature who laughingly recalled often being kept late at his post because Crosby was still working.

Crosby warns that lights will burn late in the governor's office to when he moves in.

"I'd like to introduce some reasonable re-organization of state government," he says.

In his campaign, he used blackboard and chalk to illustrate how some functions could be shifted for more efficiency. For example, he doesn't see why, in a farming state like Nebraska, the Department of Agriculture should be burdened with inspection of hotels and rooming houses.

The new governor, son of a lawyer, attended Hastings (Neb.) College and Harvard Law School. He met his Canadian-born wife while both were students at Cambridge Mass. They have two children, Robert, 10, and Susan, 12.

20 Vehicles Involved In Turnpike Accident

KEARNY, N. J. — More than 20 vehicles, including a bus and two trucks piled up today in two chain-reaction accidents on the fog-shrouded New Jersey turnpike, killing two men and injuring at least seven others.

The spectacular crackups occurred in a dip in the highway between two bridges on the northern end of the 118-mile high speed toll road.

The victims, a truck driver and an unidentified hitchhiker with him, died when their truck smashed into the second truck on the road.

Other cars and the bus then rumbled into the pileup on the section of the highway between Newark and New York City.

The southbound accident involved up to 20 cars. It was not determined how many of the injured came from these automobiles which rumbled each other in chain-reaction fashion.

The dead truck driver was identified as John White, 40, of Hialeah, Florida.

Formosan Toll High As Typhoon Strikes

TAIPEI — A howling tropical typhoon battered southwest Formosa Thursday night, killing or injuring hundreds.

Government authorities said it would take until tomorrow to get an accurate appraisal of the toll.

The Ming Chu Evening News said a police station at Kaohsiung reported 30 persons killed, 200 injured, and 500 homes flattened in its district alone.

Kaohsiung, one of Formosa's two main ports, is near the big Chinese Nationalist naval base.

Unofficial reports suggested heavy damage to military installations but the extent probably will be kept secret for security reasons.

Many points in the typhoon's wake could not be reached. Telephone and telegraph lines were ripped.

No casualties were reported among personnel at headquarters of the United States Military Assistance Advisory Group, headed by Major Gen. William C. Chase.

Immediately off the dining room, the color scheme of the dining porch is dark green, while the windows are equipped with beige draw curtains. The living room color scheme also is dark green.

The library or den, which may be improvised into a spare bedroom, has walls of the western poplar, paneled, shelves, which stretch to the ceiling, are adjustable. Both the bedrooms of the Barks' children are paneled with pine.

A two-tone green bath is located between the children's rooms, equipped with sliding recessing doors, light green fixtures and a green, clay tile mosaic floor. The yellow tile bath off the master bedroom is equipped with green fixtures and is a combination powder room. It is slow equipped with built-in cabinets and a clothes hamper and has a yellow and jade green floor.

Plans are made for landscaping, which includes a patio, a fountain pool, a crushed stone walk extending around most of the house, a rose garden and stretching lawns.

An artesian well furnishes water for the underground law sprinkling system. The pump and tool house is located at the rear of the house.

Police, Troops Break Up Jerusalem Riot

JERUSALEM — Police and troops broke up demonstrations by striking workers today in the Arab section of Jerusalem calling for the dismissal of Jordan's premier, Tewfik Abul Huda.

Authorities acted similarly in Nablus and Ramallah. At least three persons were arrested in Jerusalem. The streets of the old city were deserted and business came to a standstill.

Jordan's governor of Jerusalem issued orders to police to break up any further demonstrations and to search civilians for hidden weapons.

Reports from Amman, capital of Jordan, said demands for the premier's dismissal were pouring in from all parts of the desert kingdom.

Tension was described as mounting steadily in the wake of the fighting that broke out in Jerusalem Tuesday. Huda had received a vote of confidence after 17 out of 40 deputies present walked out. The opposition claims the vote was illegal because a quorum was not present.
