Khrushchev's Position In Kremlin Reported To Be Insecure

By United Press
Nikita S. Khrushchev, Soviet Russia's Communist party chief, is reported to be in trouble. On the surface, it would appear that Khrushchev's position as No. 1 man in the Kremlin had been strengthened by the purges which resulted in the ousting of Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Georgi M. Malenkov, Lazar M. Kaganovich and Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov. But reports which have reached European capitals say that on the contrary, Khrushchev's position is exceedingly insecure. The reason, according to these reports, is that there remain in the Russian Communist Party a large number of influential officials who favor the old Stalinist line of dictatorship.

These officials, the reports say, are members of the many district and provincial Communist committees of the Soviet Union. A lot of these men appear to be veterans who survived the various purges of Stalin's era. There also appear to be a number of younger men who started their rise in rank under Stalin.

It is indicated that Molotov, Malenkov, Kaganovich and Zhukov have many friends still in the Communist Party and that these friends are by no means reconciled to their disgrace. When he won his critical test of power with Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich last June, Khrushchev packed the Communist Party Central Committee with his own men. But some Stalinists remain in both the Central Committee and the Presidium, the 15 top men of the committee who really rule Russia. One known, and powerful, Stalinist who remains on the Presidium is Mikhail A. Suslov. Suslov is 55, eight years younger than Khrushchev. He is regarded as a protégé of Malenkov. He was made a member of the Central Committee in 1950 and a member of the Presidium in 1953. Suslov gave support. Suslov supported Khrushchev in his clash with Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich. He also took a leading part in the ousting of Zhukov. In fact, there is some reason to believe that Suslov was the prime mover in the ousting of Zhukov because of Khrushchev's opposition to Communist domination over the army. It has been reported that Khrushchev felt himself compelled to go along with this ouster move. A Belgrade dispatch published in the London Daily Telegraph reported recently that the two Yugoslav delegates who attended the recent Communist get-together in Moscow returned home with a report that Khrushchev was in danger because of the strength of the Stalinist element in leadership. In any event, it seems certain that Khrushchev is far from being Russia's dictator. The next Kremlin clash might be between him and Suslov.

$15,000 PGA Tourney Opens In Sanford Today

CLAUDE J. YATES, vice president and general manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company.

Southern Bell Co. Installs 1 Millionth Telephone In State

Among the telephones being installed in Sanford today by Southern Bell Telephone Company will be the one millionth in Florida. Already the growth in Sanford has been tremendous, said Southern Bell Manager for the Sanford area, Bob Shedden. He pointed out that last month Sanford gained 124 installations, the biggest month's gain ever experienced here. Meanwhile, Claude J. Yates, vice president and general manager of Southern Bell Telephone Company, presiding at installation ceremonies in Miami today, announced the installation of the one millionth Southern Bell Telephone in Florida. (Continued On Page 3)

Action got underway today at the Mayfair Country Club with many of the country's top Pro's arriving for the practice round of the third annual Mayfair Inn $15,000 PGA Open. The practice tee was covered with young hopefuls throughout the day and a few of the well-known stars added color to the scene. The many well-known baseball figures of the San Francisco Giants made their first appearance of the week. Horace Stoneham, president of the club, Pete, his son, "King Carl" Hubbell, and Bill Rigney, manager of the Giants were the first of many celebrities to be on hand. This is probably the most unique tourney of its kind in that the combination of golf and baseball go hand in hand.

One of the earliest arrivals at the Mayfair club was that of musician, Frank Stranahan. Stranahan arrived last Friday at the Hotel and has taken advantage of every spare moment to ready himself for the competition. He seems to do well in Sanford as he has been in the money for the last two years. He placed second last year with a 15 under par 265 and took $1,800 in prize money. He is a gallery favorite wherever he goes and is a real champion. Among the champs scheduled to play in this big event, Al Bessellink, recent winner of the Caracas Open in Venezuela, is at the top of the list. Bessellink failed to finish in the money the first year but managed to take home $300 last year. He is enjoying his best year on the circuit and has taken home over $13,000 in prizes. Besides the Caracas win, he finished first in Kansas City Open, second in the Callensie Open and fifth in the Dallas Open. Doug Ford, second money winner of the year with $41,064.27, is also slated to tee off this Thursday when the action gets underway. Others include Dew Finsterwald, who is third with over $32,000 and Sanford's own Jay Hebert. Hebert who plays on the circuit for Mayfair Inn, has moved up to the twelfth place in money earnings with $17,403.68. The above names are among the greats that will make their debut in Sanford. Tomorrow is scheduled to be the qualifying round for the golfers who do not have the proper average for the year. Wednesday will be the clinic and shot exhibition by all the outstanding players of the circuit and Thursday starts the first of four eighteen hole rounds for the $15,000 worth of prizes. With the years field of pro's this will be most outstanding tournament to be played here. Stoneham and Frank Mcbane, manager of the Inn, have gone all out to make this the largest of (Continued On Page 3)

Wanted Moonshiner Killed By Lawman

HAINES CITY (UP) — Central Florida's most hunted moonshiner died in a weed-grown field near here Sunday after a lunging bloodhound caused a deputy sheriff to shoot him accidentally.

The death of James Leroy Long, 41, ended a year-long hunt for the moonshiner who was wanted by at least three counties, including Seminole. Long and his brother, Leon, had figured in most of Central Florida's moonshine cases for many years. Both had served several sentences for dealing in illegal whiskey and Leon was killed earlier this year in Seminole County in an automobile accident shortly after his release from a federal prison.

A coroner's jury, impaled late Sunday by State Atty. Robert Huffaker and Coroner Walter Bell, ruled that James Leroy Long's death was accidental. The name of the deputy whose gun fired the fatal bullet was not available. Polk County Sheriff Hagan Parrish, who with Deputy U. S. Marshal Frank M. Durance, headed a 10-man posse of county, state and federal officers in the search for Long Sunday, gave this account of the shooting: "The officers approached Long's house, on the edge of a swamp at the mouth of Horse Creek northeast of here, before daylight.

Durance called through a portable loud speaker for Long to come out. Instead, Long's wife came out the front door and the fugitive slipped out the back door into the swamp. Mrs. Long, berating the officers and making them read the warrant, delayed the posse about 20 minutes. They finally entered the house and found four shotguns, a rifle and nearly a case of ammunition. Bloodhounds were put on Long's trail through the swamp and led officers to a 150-gallon moonshine still, loaded for operation. After about five hours of searching through dense undergrowth, the sheriff said, one of the three Polk County deputies became separated from the remainder of the posse and a bloodhound he held on a leash picked up a fresh trail of Long through a clearing filled with waist-high weeds. Long, hiding in the weeds, jumped up and started to run as the dog came within 20 feet of his hiding place. The bloodhound lunged forward and the deputy, holding the leash in one hand and his drawn pistol in the other, stumbled and fell. The gun accidentally discharged, the sheriff said. The bullet hit Long in the left hip, severing the main artery to his leg. The moonshiner died within 8-10 minutes from loss of blood.

Board To Discuss Fringe Area Fire Protection Tonight

Top item on tonight's agenda for the meeting of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners will be the discussion of fire service outside the city limits. In a previous meeting commissioners discussed the possible expansion of the Sanford Fire Department at an approximate cost of $14,000 to the city in order to maintain service in the Sanford area and at the same time receive a higher rating from the South-eastern Fire Underwriters. Additional information be provided in order that a thorough study be made of the possible move or whether or not the city should keep fire protection to "within the city limits." Other matters to be discussed by the Board of Commissioners tonight include the proposed radio system for the Fire and Police Departments; the Sanford Civic Center with John Burton IV, the architect for the project; and an approval of the second statement for the Sanford Civic Center. Commissioners will consider a request for a site for a target range made by the Sanford Gun Club; approve banks for deposit. (Continued as Page 3)

Over 500 Attend 10th Mayfair Inn Opening

More than 500 Sanford and Central Florida citizens attended the biggest and finest Mayfair Inn Opening celebrations ever staged here. Celebrating its 10th anniversary opening, the Mayfair Inn lobby, dining room, and ballroom were redecorated and refurbished for the occasion. Receiving the largest crowd in local history attending the opening night festivities were Manager Frank Mcbane Jr. and Mrs. Mcbane. Especially notable was the fact that visitors milled about the lobby during the early cocktail hour and were served instantly, even though the Mayfair Inn facilities were taxed to its capacity. There was a note of gaiety for the occasion that has never before existed. Souvenirs for the opening occasion were baseballs on which was stamped "Mayfair Inn 10th Anniversary Opening." Many visitors swarmed about a baseball great, Carl Hubbell and a golf star, Frank Stranahan, requesting them to autograph the souvenir of the occasion. Originally planned for 400 reservations, more than 500 places were set for the 1957 gala occasion. The Pete Bukur Populaires, a trio of top musicians seemingly were the favorites of the huge crowd which danced to specially arranged musical numbers. The "Populaires", according to Manager Frank Mcbane Jr., have been retained for a nightly appearance in the cocktail lounge of the Mayfair Inn throughout the season. Visitors acclaimed this year's Mayfair Inn opening as the most colorful and gay of the hotel's history. The Mayfair Inn Opening night celebration immediately preceded the first day of the Mayfair Inn's $15,000 PGA Open which got underway today with practice rounds. Golfers from all over the country streamed into the hotel to take part in the tournament.

Elk's Charity Ball Scheduled Dec. 21 At Mayfair Inn. The Elk's Charity Ball, an annual event to raise funds with which to contribute to charitable organizations, will be held this year at the Mayfair Inn Saturday Dec. 21. Reservations are now being made at the Club with E. J. Moughlin Jr. Tony Perez and his orchestra have been engaged to provide music for dancing to begin at 9:30 and continue until 1:30. A spokesman for the Elks Club said that dress is optional and that attendance prizes will be awarded. Additional Local News On Page 3

Accident Victim Gives Three Names

Names were important to Constable J. Q. "Slim" Galloway, but it took some time to get down to the correct one Friday night when a 1951 Ford sedan skidded 315 feet to stop only inches in the path of an oncoming train. The automobile, traveling south on the Uptala Road, left the highway on a curve apparently out of control, tore down a power pole guy wire, plowed through about 50 feet of ground, and came to a stop in a ditch alongside the Atlantic Coast Line railroad tracks. Only minor damage resulted when the train clipped the car on its bumper. A 27-year-old Negro at the scene of the accident about 1:30 Saturday morning told Constable Galloway that Joe Thomas was the driver and owner of the car. He identified himself as James Wheeler, a passenger in the wrecked car. However, he told Constable Galloway that he knew where Joe Thomas lived and could take him to the house. Completing his investigation of the crash, Galloway took James Wheeler to the Goldsboro area to point out Joe Thomas' house. When Constable Galloway stopped his car, the Negro identifying himself as James Wheeler ran. Constable Galloway said that he found James Wheeler about one hour later. James Wheeler actually turned out to be James Burke, borrower of the automobile and its driver as well as the same man he had identified as Joe Thomas. The car was the property of Leo Peterson of Goldsboro. Burke was lodged in the Seminole County Jail charged with reckless driving while drinking. Bond was set at $200.

Painter Displays Pastels At Mayfair. A retired U. S. Marine Officer, who resides in Lake Mary, will put on display beginning today a collection of original pastels he has completed. The display will be placed in the TV Room of the Mayfair Inn and is open for visitors daily through the holidays. Philip D. Mitchell, the retired U. S. Marine Officer, studied art at the Bowman Art School in New York, the High Museum of Art in Atlanta, Ga., and at Miami University. The original pastels are varied and include landscapes, birds, boats, seascapes, animals portraying action, a few scenes done in Old Mexico, and scenes on the St. Johns River.

New Farmers Market To Be Dedicated Friday

"Friday, Dec. 13, 2 p. m. is 'D' Day at Sanford State Farmers' Market when the new modern market facility will be dedicated. This prestressed concrete building costing about $240,000 is one of the most up-to-date farmers' markets in the country. It replaces the facilities destroyed by fire last April," according to L. H. Lewis, Director of State Markets. Back in 1934 a wooden platform was erected in Sanford to be used as a meeting place for farmers and buyers. Here growers could gather produce in one central point and through competitive buying obtain FOB prices compensatory at least to operating costs. Buyers also could benefit from fresher produce, shorter buying time, and obtain the required quantities of the type and kind of produce desired. The result of this experiment far exceeded Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo's fondest hopes and the ensuing years saw the fulfillment of his dearest dream to provide FOB farmer-market sales. Since the beginning, Florida's market system has attracted national attention—the first state farmers' market system in the United States—Federal and State Departments of Agriculture have spent much time studying these markets which today number 13 fruits and vegetable; four livestock and nine agricultural-educational facilities. Several states have passed laws similar to Florida's law permitting the building of such a system. Gross sales for the year ending June 30, 1957, totaled in excess of $48 million dollars as compared to a little over $500,000 the first year. Fiscal success attained is shown by the services rendered through these markets and by the fact that several have become price determining points on fresh winter vegetables. The Sanford Market has continuously operated since its opening date, Dec. 18, 1934, handling produce valued in excess of $33,800,000 over the 23 year period. With one exception it has paid all its operating expenses during this time, including its prorata share of the expense of the main office. In spite of its main shed having been totally destroyed by fire as well as one other building burned out and considerable damage suffered by another, the Sanford Market has operated full-time during the season since the fire. All state, county, city officials, buyers, producers, and friends of the market are urged to attend the opening and dedication of the market. Ten of the vegetable markets winter vegetables deal now. These are Pompano, Plant City, Fort Pierce, Sanford, Fort Myers, Pahokee, Florida City, Wauchula, Immokalee and Palatka. Bonifay, Gadsden County (Quincy), Starke and Brookier will come in for the early spring deal. The livestock markets operate year round. Frank G. George, consulting architect, formerly of Sanford, who supervised the work at Sanford State Farmers' Market, has moved his office to 115 North 4th St., Palatka. George stated the Sanford Market is one of the most outstanding of this type of market and he feels the service the new facility will render growers will far exceed the service rendered in the past.

Memorial Library Officially Opened

The General Henry Shelton Sanford Memorial Library was officially opened Friday afternoon with a reception that drew a huge group of interested citizens. As visitors were greeted at the entranceway to the Library, they received their first glimpse of one of Florida's most valuable collections of literature. General Sanford's personal library has been catalogued and made ready for those who will be reading about the world history and doing research on the early days of Sanford from the founder's own words. The library has been put into top shape by Miss Francine Flanagan, a librarian who is familiar with the languages in which the library books are printed. Notable also to the visitors were the original paintings of General Sanford, Mrs. Sanford, and many members of the Sanford family. Articles and memoirs appeared generously placed about the library to recall many of the events of the early years of Sanford's founding and of the beginning of America's growth and importance among nations. Receiving guests at the reception Friday afternoon were members of the General Henry Shelton Sanford Memorial Library's board of managers and those who played a prominent part in creating the library. Randall Chase, Gen. J. C. Hutchinson, H. B. Pope, Mrs. Fred T. Williams, Dr. J. Bernard Root, C. R. Dawson, the Rev. Fred Emminger and many others. Representing the City and the County were Mayor David Gatchel and Commission Chairman Fred Dyson. Many of the descendants of families who were among the first settlers of Sanford were present at the reception to see the library for the first time and to be on hand to meet the many citizens who attended the reception.

"A month's work is worth a year's talk with a forward mouth."

Look Out! Road The Signs! Be Careful! At Railroad Crossings

There is something wrong — drastically wrong — a matter that mathematicians and scientists cannot solve as they would a problem of putting together a workable model of some intricate machine.

Here in Seminole County—in less than three weeks — there have been six automobile-train crashes.

For some unknown reason, motorists have hunted out the trains, mostly in the dead of night, to bump into or place themselves in a position where they would be hit.

It is reasonable to say that everyone who drives an automobile attempts to be careful in one way or another. It is also reasonable to say that they would be watchful of danger or potential danger.

In every instance, the crashes that occurred here in our county, could have been avoided. And in each instance there was a possibility that injuries sustained could have been fatal.

Now, there are none of us who want to be headed away from an accident, such as those which occurred in our good county, dead from injuries received in such tragedies as an automobile-train crash.

Railroad officials are mystified as to why

It Was A Failure Of Propaganda

When the much-heralded launching of Vanguard on the fourth of December floundered because a valve didn't work, the world sneezed with chuckles. The United States satellite was dubbed Spatnik ("spat" means late) and Spatnik and various other things rather less polite.

A couple of days later, the announcement went out that all was now in order and the satellite would be duly flung into its orbit. At the scheduled moment there was a flash and a puff of black smoke—and that was all. The chuckles and smickers of the world resumed, ascended!

This unfortunate propaganda failure, which has resulted in making this country a global laughingstock, could have been avoided. It could have been avoided by the simple expedient of not boasting quite so brazenly that on such and such a day we were going to send up a moon.

No one can reasonably blame the scientists and technicians responsible for the launching of Vanguard. They had a run of bad luck. Mechanical failures are to be expected when experimental models are being tried out. But exactly because of that, exactly because the likelihood of failure is so great in such cases, our test launchings should have been conducted quietly instead of in the glare of light that was focused on Cape Canaveral.

The failure was even more a failure of propaganda than of technology.

Every railroad crossing in Seminole County is adequately marked with signs denoting a crossing from either direction. Railroads furnish signs, the state furnishes signs, the county furnishes signs—so there is no good reason when an excuse such as "I didn't see it" is given.

When you're approaching a railroad crossing—Look Out! Be careful! Heed the signals!

Each and every person who drives and operates an automobile in Seminole County is an important one. They're important as tax payers, as wage earners, as potential leaders in our community, as protectors of our country—they are so important that we don't want to lose a single one due to carelessness or oversight.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. MCCANN

United Press Staff Correspondent

Both Yugoslavia and Poland apparently have decided to boycott a proposed new international Communist publication.

Dispatches from Eastern Europe say that plans to start the publication were approved at the recent conference in Moscow of Red leaders from all over the world.

It would be sponsored by Communist Parties in five countries as well as in those under Communist rule.

Soviet Russia failed in an attempt to win support for a bid to form a new international Communist organization, which it would have sought to dominate.

Both President Tito of Yugoslavia and Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland were among those who refused to agree to the setting up of any such organization.

New both Tito and Gomulka seem to have refused to take any part in the new propaganda publication.

Wasn't Rich U. S. Relations

The reason is that the material used in the new publication naturally would be bitterly anti-western. Neither Tito nor Gomulka wants to lend his name to anything of that sort and risk antagonizing the United States.

Gomulka in recent weeks has picked up some of his differences with Russia Communist leaders. He is in a difficult situation under attack in his own country by his fellow Communists who oppose his attempt to keep Poland free from Kremlin domination and by Communists and others who want a complete break with Russia.

For that reason, Gomulka signed the anti-western manifesto which was issued after the Moscow meeting of Red leaders.

Tito, after ordering a conventional attack of Ljubljana which caused him to cancel his plan to attend the Moscow meeting, ordered his own delegates to refuse to sign the manifesto.

Relations Apparently Bad

There is increasing evidence that relations between Tito and the Russian Communists are pretty bad.

In this connection, a report published in London says that the real reason Tito refused to go to Moscow was that Nikita S. Khrushchev, the Soviet Communist leader, tried to censor a speech he intended to make.

According to this report, Tito sent the draft of his speech to Moscow in advance as a matter of courtesy. It was returned, the report says, with drastic deletions and revisions made by Khrushchev.

The London dispatch reported also that Tito told his Moscow delegation to try to find out just how strong Khrushchev is in his present leadership.

The delegates went home, the report said, to tell Tito that Khrushchev's position is unstable because powerful elements in the Soviet Communist party still want to revert to Stalin-type rule.

WRONG TARGET

SALT LAKE CITY — Mary Ann Hoopes, 17, who backed her car slowly from a driveway to avoid hitting some garbage cans, was forced to call the water department when the vehicle knocked over a fire hydrant.

WELL EQUIPPED

FITCHBURG, Mass. — Under Massachusetts law, police must make a careful inventory of all items found on anyone arrested. A Vermont woodsman, arrested here after a spree, had 120 articles on his person, including three jackets, two pairs of trousers, a World War II discharge button, one state roll, a glass cutter, a Junior G-Man badge, a horseshoe and 20 cents in change.

PRODUCTIVE SOW

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — When Robert Schwam's Durac sow gave birth to 15 piglets in February 1968, Schwam was happy over the good farrow. But the sow was just getting started. In three successive six-month periods, she had litters of 17, 12, and 18 — for a total of 62.

NO WIND

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — General Sessions Judge Harold Sutton put a 38-year-old man under a peace warrant not to strike his wife "or so much as to raise your hand to stir a wind that might blow her hair."

Fruit Flies Used In Tumor Test

LOS ANGELES (UP)—The incidence of tumors in fruit flies has been found to be in direct proportion to the amount of a kind of amino acid in their diet.

Scientists in the zoology department of the University of California here say the tumor-inducing agent probably is an immediate by-product of amino acid. Amino acid belongs to the protein-building block.

The experiment was conducted with a group of fruit flies raised in a chemically defined medium so their diet could be rigidly controlled. It was found that tumors developed when the smallest amount of the amino acid (tryptophane) supportable in life appeared in the diet.

As the amount of tryptophane in the diet increased, the number of individual flies showing incidence of tumors increased in a linear proportion until nearly 100 per cent showed tumors.

The investigators had established that the fruit fly was incapable of producing tryptophane but must obtain it from food.

Rev. Thomas Urges Religion In School At Southside P.T.A.

"The need of building the spiritual side of a child" was the subject chosen Thursday by the Rev. John Thomas of Holy Cross Episcopal Church when he addressed the P-TA meeting Thursday at the Southside School.

Rev. Thomas pointed out that the average child spends only 27 hours a year in the church or Sunday school. It is therefore evident most of the responsibility of his religious training rests on the home.

The parents cannot just tell the child that he must attend Sunday school. He must see him an example, and accompany him. "It is a case, said Rev. Thomas, "of do as I do, not do as I say".

The Episcopal minister discussed the public school, and its almost complete divorce from the church. He stated that this is one reason why parochial and parish schools are increasing. The child must learn that God is the center from which all life stems.

In the public schools, the teachers can not discuss specific religion, and therefore are forced to substitute another ideal, such as patriotism or humanism. Also, each teacher has a philosophy which she projects whether she is aware of it or not. Unless the young people are endowed with a strong faith, many of them turn away from God when they reach college age.

They are not strong enough to withstand the attacks of agnostic professors, and their beliefs are shattered.

It is Rev. Thomas' hope that religion will become a part of the public school curriculum.

A short business meeting was held, conducted by the president, the Rev. David Carnethis. A board meeting preceded the regular P-TA confab, during which time, plans were discussed for the annual Christmas parties in the classrooms.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA COON, Society Editor

HATU bridge met Thursday afternoon at Mallie Barlow's house. Mallie went all out and served a delicious picnic. Ruth Norvell won first prize. Others attending were Terry Price, Anita Hadden, Ginny Nelson, Betty McCracken, Dottie King and Marty Millsaps. One of the old guard in the bridge club, Sonja Blackwood, was in the hospital, and Treva Michel has gone home to Frederick, Md. to show off her baby.

Station and Fasron wives feasted in the Afterburner Thursday when the Christmas luncheon was held. Hostesses were Mary Muntz and Phyllis Graham. The table was decorated with poinsettias, greens, and Christmas balls.

Attending were Jane Potts, Bru Northridge, Bonnie Pahl, Mary McGuire, Riddle Arthur, Ann Tenny, Barbara Gustafson, Est Leary, Corinne George, Ethel Rinsay, Ernie Williams, Betty Fuller, Muriel Hawkins, Lee Cunniff, Bea Hamrick, Jane Petra, June Perry, Joy Webber, Peggy Tutwell, and Arlene Backer.

The only number not re-located by Mrs. Donald (Jean) Jones, in the recent Sanford flower show, was 100115—this is for one of the beautiful attendees to get better every year. This is our third and maybe it is better because every year we know more people. Many guests were saying that they saw old friends every year at this time, but rarely in between. Had several of my dear ones taking notes for me while I tried to gather new and interesting material.

And didn't we have fun that night? The party seems to get better every year. This is our third and maybe it is better because every year we know more people. Many guests were saying that they saw old friends every year at this time, but rarely in between. Had several of my dear ones taking notes for me while I tried to gather new and interesting material.

Most of them will be discussed about me, I see, by consulting the paper. This is sort of the way they go: Fanchon (McRoberts) in her beige—so sublime; Mae looking asinine—no kidding, real benign (and that is her spelling, not mine). "Nother quote: "the closer Mrs. Conn ever came to parting with Frank Stranahan." "Ginny in her pretty dress; isn't she a pretty me(1)st? That is a pun, friends.

The rest do not seem to lend themselves to the atmosphere of this column. We like to think the young ones can read it too.

Nevertheless, it was a gay opening, and if that means anything, the coming winter season will be bigger and better than ever at the Mayfair Inn. And it was fun being Frank Stranahan—I am still such a duffer at golf that the pro really impress me. If all of you could have seen the picture that Frank was autographing for our pro, Mario Carfagno, perhaps you might understand. The photograph must have been taken by a woman, so low was the camera on the golf ball look gigantic. Above this, Frank was a modern David wielding a powerful wood.

The music for the party was superb—and the floor was crowded all the time. Mary Higgins was expert as usual, and many stopped to watch her give an exhibition of her skill.

Many other Sanford residents took themselves to the big city to see the Seminoles emerge victorious more. The Lake Mary Fire Department also did a brisk business in barbecued chickens. All in all, the weekend was one of variety and interest for everyone. All eyes turn nutty now for the annual Peanut Bowl Classic next Friday night at Memorial Stadium. Understand from the wives that while the fifth and sixth grade fathers of Sanford Grammar school have been endowed with bold nicknames, their old bosses have been cracking just like the rest of us. Should be fun—so get your tickets now.

For golfers this will be a busy, busy week. One is duty bound to watch how the big men do it, and this is a golden opportunity. Sanford is filling up with hopefuls for the annual P. G. A. tournament. The boys have been practicing for the last few days, and have all remarked about the excellent in the eye with a branch. This should be another event to write down in the little black book. The tournament starts Thursday. Clinic is on Wednesday starting at 3:00 P. M. If you care to follow the pros while they are at their relaxed best, come out Tuesday and see them while you can.

Jane Miller is back in town, I am happy to report. And just so Alice Mills doesn't have to take any more ribbing, Ernie was struck in the eye with a branch while working in the yard. He looks much like the you know who man with his black eye patch.

Gaiety Predominates At Ball As Mayfair Opens New Season

From the minute the guests were greeted at the door of the San Francisco Giants Mayfair Inn by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mebane, until the hour when they bid their charming host and hostess farewell, the opening was nothing but pure pleasure. Charlie Morrison and Miss Mabel Maher were also stationed in the spot of honor, as festively gowned women and their suave escorts flocked into the galaxy of the crystal lobby. This year, Mrs. Mebane chose a grey chiffon full length gown, complimented by a white fox stole. Mr. Mebane departed from his dinner jacket of hunting pink for one of subdued yellow.

The guests enjoyed cocktails and hot hors d'oeuvres before the delicious steak dinner. Christmas flowers brightened the large room with red and white. It was a time of joyous reunions and gaiety. This is the month in Sanford when old friends renew their friendships and newcomers learn what Sanford hospitality really means.

At each place in the dining room was a baseball, bearing the inscription "The Giants Tenth Anniversary"—Mayfair Inn. From fruit cocktail to a colorful confection of apricot, the dinner was a gourmet's delight.

For many of Sanford's residents the newly decorated ball room came as a complete surprise. The circus colors of red and white have been repeated in striped draperies as well as the white walls with red trim. Gaslight chandeliers cast a subtle glow over the room. Pete Baker and his Populares, both amazed and pleased the large gathering with their sophisticated music, perfect for dancing.

Apparent among the crowd were the deeply tanned professional golfers who are in Sanford for the $15,000 Mayfair Open, which begins Thursday. Nearly all the city and county officials turned out to enjoy the gala evening. Among the San Francisco Giant officials present were Pete Stoneham, Bill Hinesy, Carl Hubblel, and Ed Brannick.

As ever this was the night of high fashion in Sanford. It would be impossible to describe all of the beautiful gowns seen in the ball room. Important materials this year seem to be chiffon, taffeta and ever popular lace.

Mrs. Charles Park Jr. looked lovely in a full white lace skirt, topped with low cut black velvet. Mrs. Helen Andrew, manager of the Mayfair Country Club, was formally gowned in a strapless red gown featuring rows of tulle and a full blown rose bustle. Mrs. W. J. McRoberts was the epitome of smartness in her beige lace sheath with a deep blue ribbon banded at the waist and falling to a bow on the side.

Light blue tulle in a strapless formal was the choice of blonde Mrs. Kirby Fite Jr. Brilliantly covered the bodice, Mrs. Brack Perkins wore one of the many red short formal. Hers was strapless and set off her dark hair. Mrs. Clifford McKibbin was chic in a gown of stark white taffeta with a full skirt, cut low in back to a large bow.

The black "tulip" look was chosen by Mrs. John McCracken. The skirt was caught to one side with a large bow and a rose. Mrs. Cyrus Fittion seemed to float in her white chiffon dance dress with delicately appliqued flowers on the bodice and a white chiffon stole.

Mrs. John Ivey was considered a complete success by all, especially when it was discovered that she had made her beautiful black chiffon and lace dress. Tiny straps of rhinestones and a brilliant studded black stole completed her costume.

Pink and rose taffeta was the choice of Mrs. Robert Cushing. The square cut neckline was accentuated by the rose cummerbund and large bow behind. A taffeta and velvet sheath in pink and rose enhanced Mrs. Robert Hadden. Eye-catching was Mrs. Foley in a black strapless lace dress with metallic over lay and matching stole.

PERSONALS
Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Pryor recently were Mrs. Nute Flanders and Miss Eliza Bertram of Daytona Beach. The visitors came to see the Christmas parade and enjoy the two day flower show at the Mayfair Inn.

Seminoles Brahman Bowl Champions

Local Squad Scalps Bishop Moore 14-12

The Seminole football team, coached by Dick Silvers, defeated Bishop Moore 14-12 in the Brahman Bowl on Friday night. The game was a hard-fought battle, with the Seminoles leading 10-0 in the first half and 14-0 at the end of the second quarter. Bishop Moore fought back in the second half, but the Seminoles held on for the victory.

John Ellis was the star of the game, scoring two touchdowns and kicking three field goals. He was aided by Tom Brown and Claude Hittell, who also scored touchdowns. The Seminoles' defense was led by Don Roland and Frank Sica, who made several key plays to keep the Seminoles in the lead.

The game was played in front of a large crowd at the Sanford stadium. The Seminoles' victory in the Brahman Bowl is a significant achievement for the team and the school.

After the game, Coach Dick Silvers praised his team's performance. "The boys did a great job," he said. "They were determined to win, and they showed great teamwork and spirit. John Ellis was a real MVP for us tonight." Silvers also mentioned the team's strong defense, which kept Bishop Moore's offense in check for much of the game.

The Seminoles' record stands at 10-1 after this victory. They will be looking to continue their success in the coming season. The Brahman Bowl is a highly competitive event, and the Seminoles' win is a testament to their skill and determination.

In the beginning of the second half, the Seminoles received the kick and were determined to put a stop to the Seminoles. On the second play from scrimmage, Stotky, Stanley, and Walker opened up the "estate gap" and Johnson started his jump. He ripped right by the middle and went 20 yards before he was overhauled on the eight. Inside the ten for the sixth time of the evening, the Seminoles were unable to penetrate the Hornet middle. They lost the ball on downs and the Hornets made another stab at running the ball but failed. Walker and Stanley, who were tremendous in the middle stopped the Tony Twins, Jim and John, on the first two tries. Brown and Tyre messed things up on the third attempt so the Hornets were forced to kick. Mike Tanny and Claude Hittell went in so fast that the Ellis punt went only 12 yards from scrimmage. Although they had another opportunity, the Seminoles failed again.

After the Hornets were stopped on four more downs, and gambling for the first down, the Seminoles seemed more determined than ever. After falling on so many occasions, Senior halfback, Johnny Yeackle, had his mind set on changing things. With the ball rolling on the thirty, and third down,

In the third quarter, John Ellis went back to pass, and was deep when he threw that the Seminoles team had forgotten his brother down the field. He closed his eyes, threw as hard as he could, and his brother took it for the TD. Ellis again attempted to score the point but was pulled by the Seminoles line and the score stood at 12-7.

Being very determined to win, the Seminoles decided to overtake the Hornets. After Eddie Barbour crashed through for three first downs the ball rested on the 20. Dandridge failed to pass, saw his opportunity up the middle and took off like a scared rabbit. This was the "straw that broke the camel's back". With Tyre back to kick the point, the center was high so Barbour raked it in and ran it around the end to run the score to 14-12. With less than three minutes remaining, the Hornets tried everything—the status of Liberty, passing on fourth down with 15 to go, etc. Just before the final gun, defensive back Harold Stone raked in an Ellis pass and just about made 20 to 12.

As the clock ran out, the crowd of 7,000 realized that the Seminoles had just brought the greatest sports honor to SEM. It was the most outstanding team victory ever witnessed by this writer and it was a wonderful way to wrap up a season.

Speaking for The Herald, parents, students, and sports fans of Sanford, we salute you SEMINOLES for your greatest season! We would also like to express our gratitude to coaches Figgitt and Landa for the long but enjoyable hours that have brought so much happiness to all the folks in Sanford.

With so much excitement over the Bowl Victory, it is seemed that the Cocoa game was completely overlooked. It was, too, a wonderful team victory although the weather was bitter cold and the Seminoles weren't as sharp as in the past. The joy play of that contest that ended at 12-7 was a rebounding touchdown run by Eddie Barbour. After the Tigers moved right down for a TD in the third quarter, Barbour took the ball and went 76 yards to clinch things for the Seminoles. Hittell, Tyre, Stanley, and Tanny were, again, the spark that kept the fire alive until the end of the season.

Basketball Team Beats FMS 55-33 Friday Nite

By JERRY COVINGTON

The Sanford Seminoles Basketball team made a clean sweep of two double-headers last week by defeating Fernon on Tuesday and Florida Military School of DeLand on Friday. The Friday night encounter started off very tight in the first half but the fired up Seminoles roared back after the half and rolled up a 55-33 victory. The JV's picked up their second win in as many starts by defeating the Black Knight JV's by a score of 33-12. With their four and the two football wins, the school set a new school record by piling up six wins in one week.

John Barley and forward, Ken McMurray also added to the victory with nine and seven points respectively. John took over practically all the scoring chores in first half and hit several long set shots. Ken, who shone on defense as well as offense, was all over the Black Knight squad throughout the evening.

Don Roland hit 13 and Frank Sica hit 10 to pace the losers attack. Although the FMS had a rough night checking the Sanford offense, all were in agreement that the school has come a long way in the last two years and they should be plenty tough before too many seasons pass.

The scrappy Junior Varsity was very impressive in it's team victory.

A lot of fine talent was displayed and the coaching of Dick Silvers is beginning to pay off. Terry Christensen, a lad who has shown every sign of doing great things around SEM in football, came on for the second time in as many games to lead the JV's attack. Terry hit for 11 points and was followed closely by Mike Davis with seven points. It looks as though this little squad will be hard to stop. Earl Summersall looked very sharp under the basket and controlled the boards. Alex McKibbin did some smooth ball handling and proved very effective on defense.

The fast charging Seminoles travel to New Smyrna Beach tomorrow night where they will take on the Barracudas in a doubleheader. Game time is set at 7:30 p. m. for the first contest.

Hen-Pecking Husbands Begins Early These Days

By GAY PAULEY
 United Press Women's Editor
 NEW YORK (UP)—This week in Manhattan:

Hen-pecking a husband begins early these days — even before marriage.

So reported Lester Rand, president of the Youth Research Institute, which studies the tastes, habits and thinking of the nation's teen-agers.

Rand said some boys going steady turn their "advances and earnings over to their girls to manage, and the girls promptly put the boys on a budget. He said this is only a "brush fire" trend, for now, but other young people who have heard of the custom think it's a good idea.

Other hen-pecking habits he listed: Older teen-age girls go shopping with the boys and have a strong, often final, voice in what is purchased; the girls begin correcting the boys' appearance and manners; some even talk their "steadies" into cutting down on sweets and smoking, and boss the hours they keep.

"The husband of the future gives every indication of being completely housebroken," said Rand. "Most of the spade-work is being done at a very malleable age."

McCully said that at this time of the year, the institute is deluged with letters and telephone calls asking which wine goes with the bird.

"It is proper to serve any dinner wine—red, white, rose, still or sparkling—with turkey," he said. "All the old rules have been thrown out, and it's simply a matter of personal taste. But most of us seem to enjoy the drier dinner wines at mealtime, sweet dessert wines afterward, and of course, sherry at any time."

Interior decorating still is largely a matter of do-it-yourself rather than hiring the professional, one study shows.

Researchers for a tile flooring manufacturer talked with 4,200 home owners, in income brackets from $9,000 to $25,000 a year, living in 18,000 to 265,000 homes.

Some 72 per cent said they didn't use a decorator because of the expense involved. Fourteen per cent gave a variety of reasons, from not knowing decorator costs to not realizing what a decorator offers in service.

As a public service, I offer these two Christmas gift suggestions for the man "who has everything." One, a gold-handled cane, the matched mate of one carried by King Saud of Saudi Arabia, selling in a New York shop for $495. The second, a complete suit of armor, vintage 16th Century, on sale at an antiques shop. The price, $4,700.

The shop said it would fit "king-sized modern knight."

THE CARD OF THANKS

Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a gracious expression of gratitude to those who have sent such tributes but also courteously acknowledges the services and necessities of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.

Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.

There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion comes you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.

THE "IN MEMORIAM" NOTICE

It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspapers and classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of a suitable verse brings back to them tender, pleasant recollections. As Ellen Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:

"How cruelly sweet are the echoes that start
 What memory plays an old tune

Most frequently an In Memoriam is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are among other significant occasions chosen.

If you are hesitant to express your tender thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of The Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the heart-strings. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.

THE RATE
 Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Use Care In Giving Dogs As Yule Gifts

NEW YORK—Thousands of dogs are going to get new homes for Christmas, but will they be welcome in all cases?

The gift of a dog can be a tragic mistake, for both the dog and the new owner, as well as a disappointment to the well-meaning giver, warned Richard W. Moyer, education director of Sergeant's Dog Care Center in Richmond, Va.

The first rule in buying a dog for someone else is to find out if he really wants one, Moyer said.

How does one go about selecting a dog from among the 113 recognized breeds and countless mixtures ranging in size from Chihuahua to Great Dane? Moyer outlined these several rules:

Find out what type of dog the Selection of breed should be based on the size of the home, the temperament of the family and the size of the budget. A small frisky terrier is no good for a sedate old lady. Feeding a Great Dane can be attention from canine beauticians, expensive. Poodles require costly Pekingese belong in city apartments. St. Bernards need large yards to prowl in.

Get a puppy from two to six months old, but be sure to find out what full-grown members of the breed look like, if you can—type of coat, disposition and size.

Get It There Early

In looking over a litter, don't pick the quietest, saddle-looking pup, no matter how appealing it may be. Chances are it is not in good health, or it would be as frisky as the others. Don't buy a tiny puppy for a small child. The dog won't be able to take the pushing around it will get.

Examine the dog carefully. Make sure the inside of its ears are pink and smooth. The teeth should be white and the gums pink and firm. Stand behind the dog and make a sound to attract its attention, as a test for deafness.

Have a veterinarian look over the animal to make sure it is all right, arrange for distemper and rabies shots and for de-worming. Buy the dog as long before Christmas as possible, to make sure you have the largest possible choice. Kennels have lay-away plans for dogs just as department stores do for merchandise.

Third Attempt To Launch Missile Is Expected This Week

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UP)—It is expected today that a third attempt will be made this week to launch the Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile, the "big bird" in this country's missile arsenal.

There also were reports that an Army missile, either an intermediate range Jupiter or a Redstone, would be fired tonight. This gave rise to speculation that the Army might be ready to test fire its satellite-bearing Jupiter C missile in the wake of failure of the Navy Vanguard satellite carrier last Friday.

Army Denies Report

Although a spokesman for the Army ballistic missile agency at Huntsville, Ala., said no fully assembled Jupiter C's were at the Cape, the Redstone believed to be sitting in one of two Army service towers here is the fundamental unit of the Jupiter C.

The Air Force kicked off what almost certainly will be another busy week at this Air Force test center Monday by triggering a ground-to-air BoMarc, a small but swift missile which sped away leaving only a thin trail of smoke. Monday the Navy issued a statement listing the reason for the Vanguard misfiring as "a mechanical failure in the propulsion system."

The statement said the specific trouble was "classified," but that damage to the launching stand was only "moderately serious." Repairs can be made in a short period of time. Work is proceeding on the preparation of another test vehicle for firing.

Damage Not Excessive

The statement added that the reports "are not expected to jeopardize the launching of an earth satellite according to previously announced plans."

The 90-foot Atlas is capable of delivering a nuclear warhead up to 5,000 miles. When tested in June and September it had to be destroyed by remote control a few thousand feet from the ground when it malfunctioned.

Russia claims to have an ICBM which is operational and which was used to launch the two Sputniks now whirling in space.

Meanwhile Soviet Russia claimed today it had no failures in launching its two earth satellites. Moscow Radio broadcast a statement in the official Communist organ Pravda quoting Soviet professor Sedov, a member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, on the "no failures" report.

Pravda carried articles by Sedov and by professors Mushkellavili and Sergeyev on the occasion of the one-thousandth orbit around the earth of Sputnik I.

Sedov said the "launching of the Sputniks was preceded by large-scale preparatory work based on extensive research."

"As a result the USSR has had no failures in launching its earth satellites," he said. "Two attempts were made and both were successful."

Speaking of the United States difficulties, Sedov said, "This bears out once more the complexity of this task."

He believes the American before long succeed in launching earth satellites. The is sincerely wish

PGA Open Members Play Qualifying Round Today

As cool winds moved in over the beautiful Mayfair Inn Golf Course yesterday, a wave of the country's top Pro golfers made their grand entrance. Most of the early arrivals were seen all over the practice fairway and a few played several holes in order to prepare themselves for the opening round of the $15,000 PGA tournament that starts here Thursday.

Although it was quite cool a very fine group of on-lookers got a preview of some of the golf that is in store for the remainder of the week.

The qualifying round today was played by all PGA members who aren't exempt by maintaining a low average for the year. Only an exclusive few who have won various tournaments throughout the year are able to participate in the seventy two hole contest without qualifying. This is done in order to cut down the field to the very best.

Among the early arrivals yesterday, was last year's winner of the Mayfair Open, Mike Fetcheck. Mike had rounds of 65, 63, 67, and 68 for a total of 263 in last year's event. This was a record breaker and enough to finish two strokes in front of Frank Stranahan for the $2,400 top prize money.

Others to arrive yesterday were Chick Harbert, Bo Wnninger, Mike Souchak, and George Bayer. Mike and George are always gallery favorites because of their long tee shots. George hits the longest ball in the world and is followed closely by Mike.

Dave Fluderwald, last year's third place finisher, also was among the golfing grates to arrive in Sanford. He is probably one of the most outstanding players on the present tour and is third in money earnings for the year with $32,148.00. He is a very pleasant looking young chap and became a gallery favorite here in Sanford last year with his nice manner. Dow finished with a 268 and $1,400.00 in the second Annual PGA.

Pro Mario Carfagna, head of the staff at Mayfair, stated today that this should prove to be the most colorful of the three events held here. The field of pro's is just about tops and only lacks a few names from having them all. Mario and his assistant, Rudy Gottlicher, report that they have been hitting the ball well and plan to enter in the competition.

A clinic and shot exhibition is scheduled to begin tomorrow afternoon and will have all of the above pro's participating. They will hit shots with each club in the bag and it should prove very helpful for the average golfer. Most of these boys are capable of throwing in a little wit to add to the enjoyment of the clinic.

A portion of the $15,000 prize money will be divided among the top ten contestants as follows:

1	2,400.00
2	1,800.00
3	1,400.00
4	1,200.00
5	1,000.00
6	800.00
7	700.00
8	600.00
9	500.00

Jaycees Present Sketches Of Info Booth To Board

The Jaycees Information Booth, planned for the new location on French Ave. between 4th and 8th Streets, will possibly get underway in the immediate future. M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce told the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

Sketches were presented to the board of commissioners last night for approval.

The new building of modern construction will be built of glass and brick, according to the plans shown to commissioners.

Office space, 16 by 30, will be across the front of the building. A storeroom and restrooms will be constructed to the rear. Store-room space entrance will be into the office section. Restrooms will open on the outside of the building.

Fabrics explained that parking facilities will be provided and the balance of the area landscaped and beautified for picnic and recreation.

Commissioners approved the plans and sketch, prepared by John Burton IV, Architect as long as the city's building codes are met.

Raborn told commissioners, when financing of the building came up, that "one way you can help us is by buying your Christmas trees from us."

Princess, Sweetheart Commit Suicide When Forbidden To Marry

SHIMODA, Japan (UP)—Bodies of a 19-year-old Manchurian princess and her Japanese sweetheart were found today on a mountainside where they committed suicide because her titled family forbade their marriage.

The Princess was Pu Hui-Sheng, a vivacious coed and the niece of Henry Pu Yi, once the Japanese puppet emperor of Manchukuo Manchuria. Her lover was Takemichi Okubo, son of a Japanese railway executive and a man her relatives said was "not a proper person to associate with."

They were found shot to death, the pistol still in Okubo's hand, only a few hours after Hui-Sheng's mother related and gave them permission to wed.

The couple disappeared Dec. 4 after the taciturn Okubo began speaking of dying and Hui-Sheng wrote her mother a letter saying "I cannot let him die alone." They told friends they had been saving their allowances for a wedding.

The discouraged search parties were ready to give up Monday night when Hui-Sheng's mother related and said they could be married. The promise was broadcast repeatedly throughout Japan but there was no response.

The couple followed the traditional way of solving an unhappy love affair in Japan. But it shocked their families and the exclusive Gakushuin University where they were enrolled with Prince Yoshi and Princess Suga, children of Emperor Hirohito.

Police believed the despondent lovers had gone to Izu peninsula by train and taxi the night of Dec. 4, climbed through brush and tangled weeds to a spot in a forest 2,500 feet up Mt. Amagi, and killed themselves the same night.

That meant they were already dead when the mother called in police the next day. Police kept hopes of the two families alive by optimistic statements they were hiding out in one of the small hotels in the area.

The discouraged search parties were ready to give up Monday night when Hui-Sheng's mother related and said they could be married. The promise was broadcast repeatedly throughout Japan but there was no response.

Scientist Says Could Put Satellite In Sky

A soft spoken, white haired research scientist yesterday said "This nation is in a crisis—we are in a jam."

Captain Chester Kennison, who operates a research laboratory in Central Florida, made known his views at the home of his associate Engineer, Harry Farley in DeBary.

"I know that the satellite, touched off recently at Cape Canaveral, would never leave the ground," he said, "because I knew what was wrong."

And quietly but deliberately he remarked "I know that I could have put that satellite in the air based on simple technical data."

Captain Kennison explained that the basic principles of fuel to power the tremendous rockets that carry the satellite were originated by him and published in books "which I have copyrighted."

In his statement, Captain Kennison said that in 1944, a completely successful demonstration of my high altitude rocket airplane fuel, including the formula, was met with indifference.

This is a war for the survival of the fittest, explained Captain Kennison. "We are at the crossroads—defeat scientifically or success scientifically," he said.

Going into the history of his scientific findings, Capt. Kennison said "in the early 1920's, as a result of considerable study and experimentation, I made some extremely valuable scientific discoveries, among which was the fact that I could demonstrate in my laboratory that there positively were indivisible atomic particles of matter which, although they were of the same element, some were of a clockwise direction while others revolved in an opposite one—anti-clockwise."

Pointing to his books he revealed "Ever since that time all of my copyrighted books, articles, tables, and formulas have been based on these right and left atomic particles."

Captain Kennison recalled that the "sad story is that, although I have wasted valuable time and money in trying to interest our scientific, educational, governmental, and military authorities in my findings, I have received nothing but stupid indifference."

It is easily provable, he said, "that our scientific authorities, until around 1944, considered either oxygen, atomic or hydrogen bombs to be completely visionary and something for the future, later on wasting millions of dollars to produce them and their trigger mechanisms. They actually were only visionary in their own egotistical, closed minds, as these facts will show," Captain Kennison emphatically stated as he described the events in which he offered his findings.

First, he said, "in 1933 I offered a perfected demonstrable oxygen bomb and its formula and was met with only indifference."

Next, in 1935, a perfected hydrogen bomb and its trigger mechanism and formula was offered, and a practical demonstration on Proving Grounds was asked for, but it was denied. "This could have prevented World War II and saved millions of lives," he said and then added, "again I was met with indifference."

"Despite the fact that my specialty has for 40 years been explosives, rockets and other fuels, and that our rockets as a whole have been a flop, I have still been ignored," the white-haired research-scientist explained.

With his associate engineer standing by him, Captain Kennison commented "We appreciate the wonderful things that our scientists have done, but in these dangerous times for our beloved country and the future welfare of our offspring, we can find little excuse for anyone who deliberately ignores any idea that may have some scientific value, and must therefore (despite the possibility that they may not realize it) class them as indirectly if not otherwise giving aid to our potential enemies."

Throughout the lengthy interview, Captain Kennison referred to his disappointment that two Chinese scientists are being awarded the Nobel Prize based on, he claimed, discoveries that were made by him and set forth in his copyrighted book of 1948 "Atomic

New Radio Station Okayed For Local Police, Fire Dept.

A new dual-frequency radio station for the Sanford Police Department and the Sanford Fire Department has been approved by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

The move came last night when commissioners were advised that the Civil Defense Administration will participate in the financing of the high frequency radio station.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles advised the commission that the CDA would pay half of the lowest bid for the new installation.

Bob Miller, local radio dealer and in charge of radio maintenance for the city, was empowered by the Board of Commissioners to draft the necessary papers requesting the CDA financial aid.

City Manager Knowles was also authorized to advertise for bids.

"The use of the high frequency would mean complete modernization of the city's radio system," Knowles told the commissioners as they considered the installation of the equipment in both the Police and Fire departments.

In addition, Knowles advised the commission that the present equipment could be sold for approximately $2,500.

With the dual-frequency equipment both departments could be in touch with one another with the flick of a switch, it was explained. Both departments would be on separate frequencies close together on the high frequency band.

Fringe Area Fire Aid Ends July '58

Fire protection outside of the city limits of Sanford will come to a stop on July 1, 1958.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night in nearly an hour-long discussion of the problem unanimously approved the measure which will keep Sanford Fire Department equipment inside the city limits.

Steps taken by the Board of Commissioners culminated an effort by the City Manager, Warren E. Knowles to get a better fire insurance rate for the citizens of Sanford.

Commissioner A. L. Wilson, at the beginning of the discussions said "It appears to be that it wouldn't be fair to tax the people of the city for fire protection outside of the city limits—our first duty is to the citizens of the city."

City Manager Knowles explained that "the city of Sanford is not in a position to add on more men and equipment and not get a return. It's simply a matter of economy that we talk about restricting our service to the city limits. If you can get a better fire insurance rate by restricting fire protection to the city limits—frankly I don't think you have any choice."

City Attorney W. C. Hitchcock told the board of commissioners that the Fire Department "is a municipal function and therefore restricted to the city proper."

Again the City Manager told the commission "If a municipality does not have equipment and sends outside the city limits it is poor

Club Lauds Organ Demonstration

Sanford Rotarians, at their regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon at the Yacht Club, were entertained by a demonstration of the Hammond electric chord organ, staged by Leo Seger, organist, and Roger Gregory, narrator, both associated with the Cooper-Gregory Music Co.

Beginning with Gregory's statement about the recent Vanguard launching episode which he claimed to have witnessed, until the distribution of recordings of Hammond organ music (for free), the team held the interest of their listeners to the very end, according to Charlie Morrison, who arranged the day's program. Gregory said, pertaining to the failure of the missile to fulfill expectations, that six men were carrying part of the Vanguard from the pad and accidentally dropped the missile on the toe of one of the men. "This was the first pre-season use of 'mis-lie-toe'," he said.

Getting down to the business of showing just what the Hammond electric chord instrument could do, Seger and Gregory proceeded with the presentation of "Musical Memories", taking their audience from the days of the county fair with the strains of the cellope, through the midway with the oboe music in the tent of the snake charmer and the dancing girls, to an imitation of Jack Benny on the violin and Jascha Heifetz authentic playing. Ted Lewis and his clarinet followed: a visit to Hawaii brought out the strains of the steel guitar with the program brought to a close with Gregory's fac-simile narration of the well remembered Fitz-Patrick Travelogs. "So we leave the beautiful islands as the strains of Aloha fade away."

According to Morrison, it would be hard to decide which of the musical impressions were best received, for the well-known signature of Paramount News as imitated by Jesse Crawford and just a short strain of the greatest battle song of all time, "The Wedding March" were included in the program, as well as the playing of several request numbers. Frank Evans, well known Lake Mary Pioneer, tried to stump Seger with the request for "Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home" as Eddy Peabody would have played it on the banjo. Evans and the entire group, according to club president, Myron A. (Mike) Reck, were completely satisfied.
