Goldsboro School Sets Carnival

mentary School Parent-Teachers Monday of each month at 8 p. m., report much progress under the leadership of new president, Mrs. Alfreda Wallace.

Many plans were made at the last meeting, one of which was for the Halloween Carnival to be held at the school Monday from 5 p. m.

In order to insure overall success, the school has been divided into sones including parents, pupils and teachers, Parents living nin each sone are requested to furnish refreshments for the carnival according to item assign-

Grades, sones and items are. first grade, 'old depot, popcorn; second grade, Castle Brewer, peenuts, entertainment, fortune tell-ing and music; third grade, Wil-liam Clark, snow cones, soda; fourth grade, southwest road, bake sales, pies, cakes and cookies; fifth grade, school sone, candied apples and sixth grade, old rail-road, fish and hot dogs.

All parents, pupils, interested citizens and friends are invited to attend and help make this the school's biggest carnival ever

Navy Day Salute

Enough cannot be told of the recent job Sone by Sanford Naval Air Station crews n cleaning up debris after Hurricane Donna seven weeks ago.

Thursday night the Chamber of Commerce, along with county and city dignituries presented Navy officials with a plaque citing recognition of the base for cooperation in this massive venture.

Not only did the Navy donate manpower but provided much of its own equipment used on the job.

The whole community should commend the Navy for its efforts.

"OUR SCHOOLS HAVE MADE EDUCATIONAL HISTORY! WE MUST CONTINUE THIS OUTSTANDING PROGRESS"

"During the nearly twelve years I have served the people of Florida, education has undergone its greatest period of growth and improvement. School enrollment has more than doubled, and this has created the challenge of providing quality education for an exploding population. We have met this challenge.

The Minimum Foundation Program has been expanded. A statewide community junior college program has been established. A comprehensive building program is in progress and the curricula of Florida schools have been vastly improved. We are better meeting the educational needs of adults.

All these advances, and many others, would not have been possible without the cooperation of Florida's citizens and Florida's Democratic Cabinet.

All the members of the State Cabinet compose the State Budget Commission. Five members of the Cabinet form the State Board of Education and are Trustees of the Teacher Retirement System. These men have proven that they fully understand and are sympathetic to the needs of our schools. Because of the phenomenal population growth of Florida, many problems still remain . . . problems that call for continued experienced leadership in education!"

This 24 foot x 84 foot two-bedroom slab house is designed for a narrow, level lot with the preferred view (or sun exposure) away from the street. That is why the L-shaped living-dining area and the 24 foot x 7 foot screened porch face the garden, making an unusually cheerful, liveable home.

The indoor-outdoor feeling is increased by two 8foot sliding glass doors between the living-dining area and the porch. Furthermore, there is a 9-foot ceiling at this widest end of the room. This is possible because the shed roof slopes up from the street side. The ceiling which is 71/2 feet high at the bedroom end follows the roof

FLOOR PLAN This house, No. 816-35, which has a simple rectangular floor plan, is 816 square feet in area, and the 10 foot x 20 foot carport is attached along the end wall of the living room and the porch. The carport and porch are topped with an 8-foot roof which forms an L around the garden side of the house, while on the street side it is extended to provide shelter over the house entrance (see picture and dotted line on plan). The S foot x 7 foot kit-chen with its U-shaped work-counter is handy to the dining room and the service door. An outside window lights the counterspace between the sink (S) and the refrigerator (RF). The range (R) has a hood and fan over it. Wall cabinets are shown dotted on the plan. For greater economy of plumbing installation, the sink is back-toback to the bathroom fixtures. There is a 30 inch x

The 8-foot-deep bathroom has the tub away from the window the wallhung toilet is hidden behind the shower-head wall, and the 86 inch wide counter features a built-in washbasin with cabinets underneath and mirrors above it. Provision for a small built-in electric heater is also shown on the blueprints.

There is an additional closet in the living room and a 3 foot x 10 foot storage wall at the back of the carport with closets opening into the carport, the porch, and the garden. The construction of

Home No. 816-35 is as follows: The 4-inch-thick and reinforced floor slab is poured over solidly compacted fill and vapor membrane. All exterior walls are of 8-inch-thick concrete blocks with furring atripa (or inmutation boards) with plaster on the inside and stucco on the outside. All interior partitions are of regular wood frame and plastered on both sides. The ceilings, also plastered, follow the lines of the roof, and heavy insulation is called for between the rafters. Heating may be oil or electric.

PLANS AVAILABLE Plans for home No. 816-35 are available from Jan Reiner, Box 96, New Port Richey, Florida, Each set of plans consisting of !. inch-scale floor plans, fourexterior elevations, largescale cross-section, kitchen and bathroom interiors, and structural and framin details: basic apecifications (exceeding FHA) are written on the plans. Light Up Your Foyer

UHICAGO (UPI) --- A few carefully chosen accessories in the foyer will leave a good first impression on visitors. Harry Layton, an accessories designer (for Syracuse Ornamental Co., Inc.) auggests baroque accessories for this area as highly decorative and suitable to almost any decor. These might include a big rectangular mirror framed in wood with a metallic gold finish, perhaps deeply carved with stylized scrolls and flanked by a pair of sconces carved in the same scroll motif. The three pieces can be hung on a small wall or in a recessed niche. Greenery, always attractive indoors, also provides a nice touch for the foyer. It can be set in wall planters with brass containers that hold real or artificial leaves or flowers. A pair of the planters, hung on either side of a door, might also be filled with flowers, where more color is de-

Artificial lemon and orange trees also make highly decorative fover accessories that require little space. Their realistic-looking painted metal fruit and leaves form an interesting pattern on the wall.

Any efforts to decorate the foyer are wasted without the proper lighting. which has induced at least one lamp manufacturer (Lightolier) to come up with architectural translucent panels that fit over fluorescent bulbs. The lamps, available in a variety of sizes and shapes, can be affixed to ceiling or

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: Seven years ago my little girl of 9 died suddenly. She was my only daughter and I haven't been the same since. Abby, am I wrong to ask my husband to move? Her playmates live all around us and need I tell you how I feel watching them grow, year after year? I can't hold back the tears when I meet them, so I avoid them (poor darlings). My husband says he's put so much money into this house and feels that I'll get over it. I've been trying to forget, but how does a mother forget? He says he wants to teach me to be strong like a million other mothers who have lost a child. I know I'll be happier if we move—then I won't see her bedroom and the chair she curled up in to watch TV, and her empty place at the dining room table. Please, please, Dear Abby, am I asking too much to move? A DESPERATE MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: You are not asking too much. New surroundings, no matter how plain, would be better than the old reminders. I hope your husband will see it your way and consent to move.

DEAR ABBY: I am not stacked and everyone teases me about it. Mom says, "No substitutes!" It's a very embarrassing situation. I am 15. Have you any sug-FROM FLATSVILLE

DEAR FROM FLATSVILLE: If Mom says no substitutes-then it's no substitutes. If you don't "fill out" in a year of two, write again and I'll "fill you in" with another angle.

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a guy who says he would like to have about six kids, but he doesn't care for marriage. He doesn't mean he never wants to get married. He means he thinks he would like to be a father but he wouldn't care to be a husband. (Am I making myself clear?) He says that the women today are just looking for a meal ticket and once they nail a guy they take it easy. If I had the chance I know I could prove to him that I wasn't that kind. How can I get him to WANT THAT MAN marry me?

DEAR WANT: If you're lucky, you'll get him to leave you alone. A man who wants all the dividends but is reluctant to make the initial investment is a poor

Is Culture Going Begging?

A few years ago people in Sanford complained that "there just isn't anything doing in this town at night."

Why, we have to go to Orlando or Daytona Beach to see an opera or concert. How can this town grow without any culture?" they wanted to know.

Well, something was done about it. An organization called the Sanford-De-Bary Entertainment Association was formed with the prime goal of bringing talented musicians to the area to perform at the

And now that we have this organization what happens? It gets insufficient support and could ver; well he put out of

With every organizational drive we get in Sanford is seems there are just a few who do all the work.

But as far as the entertainment association is concerned it needs much more than a few hard working "go-getters." It needs everyone's support if it is to

As a matter of fact it has now reached the stage where the scheduled program for this fall may have to be revised.

Association officials reported today that at the present time there are just not enough funds available for the programs contracted for.

This means that there is a possibility that Rise Stevens may not be here as scheduled or the first production of the season, Carmen, scheduled Nov. 17 may have to be canceled.

Now, if you care for culture in this town, back a group that is trying to give our citizens the best in entertainment. They need your support now. Tickets are available at the Chamber of Com-

If you put this off . . . then just forget about any entertainment association

And let's hear no more of "you know, there just isn't anything doing in this town . . . , let's go to Orlando, I hear Carmen is coming there."
