Votes To Tap Contingency Fund

School Board Rejects Tax Increase

By Paul Schaefer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County's school board unanimously rejected Superintendent of Schools Robert Hughes' recommendation to fund $1.6 million of $2 million for expanded construction at two county high schools from a property tax, and opted to dip into the $5 million bond issue contingency fund for the projects.

With his first recommendation defeated, Hughes recommended the contingency fund alternative to get $1.6 million for the projects, combined with about $450,000 in state science grant money. The $2 million is to fund science wing, food service, auditorium and other construction and renovations at Lake Brantley and Lake Howell high schools.

The projects evolved after a 1984 state school plant survey of the two schools recommended renovating science classrooms on one side of the school complexes, and building additional science rooms and labs on the other side of the buildings. The 1984 surveys were done by the state department of education, and cost estimates were developed by Design Arts architectural firm.

Both schools' facilities and proposed construction and renovations are similar, school officials have said. Student capacities at each school will rise from about 2,000 to about 2,500.

The school board decided to consolidate the science classrooms in one new wing of the schools for efficiency, which increased the estimated cost at each school by about $1 million.

The estimated cost of each schools' construction and renovation was about $5.5 million each. They will increase to about $6.5 million each by consolidating the science classes into one area.

School Board member Bill Kroll made the motion to reject Hughes' initial funding recommendation.

"I think we've got it (the additional money) in the contingency fund, if that's what you want to call it, and I think we ought to use it," Kroll said.

Grand Juries: Protected By A Cloak Of Secrecy

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

If judges are the embodiment of god-like powers on Earth then grand juries could be called the secret archangel society.

Judges can sentence you to death, but only after a conviction by a petty jury and an indictment by a grand jury, which meets in secret.

Grand juries are selected twice a year, jurors being on call for six months, to hear cases that by law require grand jury rulings.

Grand juries do everything in secret, and it stays secret.

All the public ever learns is that they did or did not indict someone. In fact, a grand juror is not permitted to state or testify in any court how he or any other grand juror voted on any matter before them.

It's also against the law for anyone within a grand jury room to tell anyone about the testimony a grand jury hears. Even hinting at the "gist" of the proceeding is a violation under Florida statute.

The secrecy is an advantage, according to Norman Wolfinger, State Attorney for the 18th Judicial Circuit, which encompasses Seminole and Brevard Counties.

The secrecy is not to keep the public in the dark or raise the blood pressure of reporters. It is to prompt people to tell what they know.

"There is a substantial benefit to having people testify in secret," he said.

Wolfinger said the formality of the grand jury influences testimony. "It breeds truth ... You realize when you walk into a grand jury room that it's important. You are going in there and being sworn under oath in a room that is closed up, and you are told that anything you say in that room does not leave that

Pair Faces Bogus Bill Charges

By Susan Loden
And Paul Schaefer

A Ft. Lauderdale man and a 17-year-old Hollywood girl have been arrested on counterfeiting charges after they allegedly passed several bogus $20 bills at Flea World, U.S. Highway 17-92 south of Sanford, Saturday.

The pair is believed to be the same couple that passed two bogus $20 bills at a Lake Mary convenience store Friday afternoon, according to city of Lake Mary Police Chief Charles Lauderdale.

"We're turning all our information over to the Seminole County Sheriff's Department," Lauderdale said. "We are told it is believed they are the same people."

The arrests were made at about 3:30 p.m. with a secret service agent arresting the man and a Seminole County sheriff's deputy arresting the girl who was reportedly leaving the flea market on foot when she was nabbed. The man was also arrested at the flea market.

The manager of the market turned over two fake bills to lawmen and at least seven market vendors turned in $20 they had received, allegedly from the suspects.

A pair of purchases made with counterfeit $20 bills left a Lake Mary convenience store on the short end of the transaction Friday, according to a police report.

The report said a man and woman arrived at the Handy Way Food Store, 129 Country Club Rd., in a red, brown and white van at about 4:30 Friday afternoon. They made separate purchases and paid with $20 bills.

After the two left, the store clerk examined the bills, and found they had identical serial numbers, and called police who determined the bills were bogus.

The man was described as having a dark complexion, and the woman reportedly had black

Weakest Quarter In More Than 3 Years

GNP Has Timid 2nd Quarter Rise

By T.R. Eastham

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The real gross national product expanded by $9.8 billion or a timid 1.1 percent at an annual rate in the second quarter of 1986, the weakest quarter in more than three years, the Commerce Department reported today.

The government also announced an upwardly revised increase of 3.8 percent for the GNP for the first three months of the year.

So far this year, the GNP has increased by 2.4 percent at an annual rate, according to analysts with the Bureau of Economic Analysis.

The $7.5 billion positive adjustment to the first quarter growth figures, from $26.1 billion to $33.6 billion, was accounted for by upward revisions in net exports, non-farm inventories and national defense purchases, analysts said.

Inventory growth was the biggest contributor, with auto inventories accounting for about half of the revision, they said.

The annual rate of growth for that quarter was originally reported as 2.9 percent.

The second quarter GNP was the weakest since the final quarter of 1982, when the economy expanded by just 0.6 percent.

A $30 billion or 3.4 percent gain in real final sales was partially offset by a $20.4 billion decline in net exports, indicating a large share of consumer spending is still being drained off by imports in spite of sharp declines in the value of the dollar against major foreign currencies. Real personal consumption increased $34.3 billion in the second quarter and real business inventories dropped $19.6 billion, down from $39.9 billion in the first quarter.

Government purchases of goods and services increased $4.7 billion, but non-residential fixed investment fell back $3 billion.

Real GNP is measured in constant 1982 dollars. Measured in current dollars, the economy expanded by 3.2 percent last quarter.

Man Electrocuted; Autopsy Today

An autopsy on a 58-year old man electrocuted Monday night in Lake Mary was scheduled for this morning.

The man was electrocuted when he touched a machine powered by 480 volts, while standing in a puddle of water, according to a police report.

According to witnesses' accounts in the report, the man was trying to hook up an air hose when he leaned on the machine while standing in the puddle at about 10:30 p.m. Monday.

The incident occurred at Calibron, Inc., Lake Emma Rd., Lake Mary. The Seminole County Fire Department and Lake Mary police department responded to the emergency call.

Dead to Paul Sullivan, Route

2, Box 1498, Umatilla. He was a foreman at the company, the report said.

A Central Florida Regional Hospital spokesman said an autopsy was scheduled for 11 a.m. today. — Paul Schaefer

Appeals Court Stays Gordon Trial

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Early morning action by the 5th District Court of Appeal today stayed the drug trial of a former Lake Mary high school teacher charged with the sale of cocaine.

The court's action sets aside a ruling Monday by Seminole Circuit Judge Kenneth M. Leffler that the trial of Wilson Gordon Jr., 38, of Altamonte Springs, would go today. The trial could be delayed a month or more.

Gordon is charged with sale and delivery of cocaine, possession of cocaine with intent to sell and deliver, and possession of cocaine.

Gordon's attorney, Chris Ray of Sanford, had asked the court, located in Daytona Beach, to review Leffler's rulings.

Leffler has denied defense motions to drop the charges based on due process and constitutional grounds. When the appeals court agreed to hear the issue, it automatically stayed today's trial.

Ray filed his appeals at 4:45 p.m. Monday and the court agreed around 8:45 a.m. today to look at the case.

Gordon was videotaped selling cocaine to a sheriff's informant outside a Sanford bar on Dec. 1, 1984. Four days later he was visited by undercover agents who wanted him to become an informant. If he did, they said, the Dec. 1 incident would not come to public light and the state department that certifies teachers would also be kept in the dark. The next day Gordon, with Ray present, agreed to the deal.

He worked as an informant and after a few weeks he and the sheriff's department had little or no contact until Gordon was arrested in April this year in connection with the Dec. 1, 1984 charge.

Gordon claims he was doublecrossed by the undercover agents. They say he did not live up to their agreement. Interwoven between the two are ongoing drug investigations and there have been some moves in the case to have some testimony given behind closed doors. Reporters have also been subpoenaed in the case stemming from interviews with Gordon in which he admits guilt.

To date, Gordon has unsuccessfully argued that the charges should be dropped because he was not brought to trial within 180 days of his arrest. Leffler determined Gordon was not arrested in

Fourth Quake Of Month Jolts California Foothills

CHALFANT VALLEY, Calif. (UPI) — The state's fourth major earthquake in two weeks jolted the Sierra foothills, damaging nearly 150 homes and panicking residents, in a spurt of seismic rumbling that officials said could portend a more dangerous tremor.

The earthquake, measuring 6.2 on the Richter scale, struck Monday at 7:42 a.m. PDT and was followed by aftershocks every two minutes, including two described by federal seismologists as "intense" temblors of 5.2 and 5.3 magnitude.

The quake knocked homes off foundations, broke sewer lines, forced the evacuation of hundreds of campers, collapsed a 150-yard section of highway, broke windows, cracked walls, sent dishes and other household objects crashing to floors, rattled merchandise off shelves and touched off rockslides.

Not a single home in Chalfant Valley escaped damage but no serious injuries were reported.

Impeachment Vote Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House is expected to vote by an overwhelming majority today to impeach federal judge Harry Claiborne of Nevada, who is in prison for tax evasion but refuses to quit the bench or give up his salary.

House Democratic Leader Jim Wright said Monday he thought the vote would be heavily in favor of impeaching Claiborne, setting the stage for him to be the first federal judge ousted in a half-century.

Lawmakers are scheduled to take up four articles of impeachment at 4 p.m. EDT and plan one hour of debate before voting.

Radioactive Shipments On Way

United Press International

Railway shipments of radioactive debris from the wrecked Three Mile Island reactor that nearly melted down in 1979 are winding across 2,300 miles in nine states to a nuclear graveyard in Idaho, officials said.

GPU Nuclear Corp. Monday confirmed the Department of Energy began the shipments from the Harrisburg, Pa., site, but state officials along the train route said no one told them when the tons of atomic wastes would pass through their towns and countryside.

About 150 tons of highly radioactive core rubble is to be shipped in loads of 35 to 40 tons over two and a half years, Energy officials said. The debris was to be hauled in steel and lead casks, 23 feet long and 10 feet in diameter.

Palm Print On Pipe Invoice Links Benson To Family Murders

FORT MYERS (UPI) — A full day of evidence linking tobacco heir Steven Wayne Benson with the same kind of pipes used to make the bombs that killed his mother and nephew ended with testimony showing his palm print matched a print on invoices for the pipes.

Prosecutors were quiet Monday about whom they would call to testify today at Benson's murder trial. More evidence about the pipes was expected when the court reconvened this morning.

Benson, 34, is charged with planting two pipe bombs in the family's Chevrolet Suburban van. The July 9, 1985 explosion killed Margeret Benson, 63, and Scott Benson, 21. Carol Lynne Benson Kendall, Steven's sister and Scott's mother, was severely injured in the blast at the family's walled estate outside Naples, Fla.

In the first material evidence introduced in the trial, fingerprint expert Frank G. Kendall testified Monday that Benson's palm print matched prints found on invoices that recorded purchases of two pipes and pipe end caps from Hughes Supply Inc., a Naples plumbing supply company.

Good View Of Mars Tonight

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The "bright, reddish object that glows with a steady light," in the night sky is Mars, now just 37 million miles away and at its most clearly visible in 15 years, an astronomer said.

The red planet is visible with the naked eye just after sunset and slowly arcs from the southeast to the southwest throughout the night, said University of Florida astronomer Alex Smith Monday.

"It's easily distinguished because it's brighter than any star," he said. "Look for a bright, reddish object that glows with a steady light. Generally, planets don't appear to twinkle."

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — Health investigators pinpointed a food preparer at a popular restaurant as the source of a hepatitis outbreak in which 109 people were infected.

Britain In High Gear For Royal Wedding

By Diane Petryk
Herald News Editor

LONDON — "It will go like clockwork. It always does," England's Prince Andrew told reporters in discussing his coming wedding to commoner Sarah Ferguson. The vows are scheduled to be exchanged at 11:30 a.m. Wednesday (6:30 a.m. local time).

A half hour before the ceremony the "Queen's Carriage Procession" rolls out of Buckingham Palace on an L-shaped route to the historic abbey.

Plumed and breastplated royal horse guards will lead five ornate state carriages carrying, in order, Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip; the Queen Mother Elizabeth; Prince Charles and Princess Diana; Princess Anne and Capt. Mark Phillips; Princess Margaret and her children, Viscount Linley and Lady Sarah Armstrong Jones; Prince Andrew and his "supporter" Prince Edward, 22, will ride in another carriage with an escort of mounted guardsmen; the bride, departing from Clarence House, in another.

The bride's procession from the west door of the abbey to the altar walks on a river of blue carpet, covering the memorial tablets to Winston Churchill, Thomas Telford and David Livingstone, but avoiding those to the Unknown Warrior and Prince Andrew's great-uncle, Earl Mountbatten.

About 1,800 guests, and a worldwide television audience of millions will witness Sarah Ferguson's promise to "cherish" — rather than obey — the Prince. To obey would hardly be in character for the zealous, bubbly, irreverent Sarah.

Five years ago this month shy Lady Diana Spencer, a slim 20-year-old in Prince Charles' shadow, became the Princess of Wales. In contrast, Sarah Ferguson, 26, is very much a woman of the world with two live-in lovers in her past, a young woman who is not so much in Andrew's shadow as his mirror image.

The prince, also 26, earned nicknames such as "Randy Andy" for his reported exploits with women, including American soft-porn actress Koo Stark.

"We'll make a good team," Andrew has said of himself and Sarah.

Sights of the pair giggling, holding hands, fighting mock battles, swapping insults and banter, second that.

Wedding Dress Mystery
The bride's dress for this "Wedding of the Year" remains a mystery. Even Andrew hasn't seen it.

"I do not see the dress until it comes up the aisle," the prince said. "She doesn't want me to know about these things so she doesn't know about the honeymoon."

Miss Ferguson will become Her Royal Highness the Princess Andrew, but no doubt she will continue to be known by friends and in the popular press by her nickname, "Fergie." She will bring red hair, freckles and ample curves into the royal lineage.

According to Londoner Lee Stokes, a reporter who has covered the royalty and preparations for the wedding, Miss Ferguson's acceptance by the royal family and the British public has been total. Despite her less than Puritan past, perhaps the family is relieved that Andrew's choice was not someone like Miss Stark, he said. And popular as the royal family seems to be, some citizens are disgruntled when they realize "everytime they add another one, taxpayers have to pay to support the bloke."

As for the public, their newest princess-to-be has brought further spark to the circle enlivened by the entry of Diana. But some think the young lady too down to earth.

"You like her?" a souvenir seller at St. Paul's Cathedral

Sarah Ferguson and Prince Andrew asked. "Not much of a lady, is she?"

Into High Gear

Preparations for the wedding moved into high gear Monday.

Miss Ferguson and Prince Andrew rehearsed the ceremony in private at Westminster Abbey, closed to the public for the first time. Prince Edward tried to fool photographers by wearing a sling on his right arm going in — and then on his left coming out.

Thereafter the abbey was abandoned to television lighting men and 42 flower arrangers — chosen by lot from around the country — who worked feverishly with 20,000 blooms whose colors the bride asked to be kept secret.

Scotland Yard's C13 anti-terrorist branch combed every inch of the 900-year-old church with electronic equipment and sniffer dogs.

Outside, flags were hung in a comparatively restrained display along the processional route. With fine economy, workmen put flags only on the two sides of Parliament Square the processions will use.

The five-tier wedding cake Sarah helped design arrived in an unmarked truck from the Royal Navy catering school in far western Cornwall, where it took 10 weeks to make.

A precise duplicate of the cake — 5-feet, 6-inches tall and 240 pounds of brandy- and rum-laced fruit cake, enough for 2,000 slices — was made in case of an accident.

Television platforms punctuate the procession route and cameras have been mounted. The official press center opened, inaugurating the brand-new Queen Elizabeth II conference center across the street from Westminster Abbey.

Until now, only Britain's royalty-avid press seemed excited over the wedding.

But with crush barriers hemming-in the procession route, wedding souvenir sellers suddenly thick on the ground, and flags hanging limply in the breezeless overcast, the event took on a concrete reality for everyone.

By mid-day Monday seven people already were camped on the sidewalk across from the Abbey, vowing to remain there until the wedding is over.

First lady Nancy Reagan, here at Andrew's hand-written invitation, spent a quiet and private day.

Attendants

A major speculation has involved how the young bridesmaids and pages will act during the ceremony.

Miss Ferguson has chosen an extremely young set of attendants. Bridesmaids Zara Philips, daughter of Princess Anne, and Alice Ferguson, Sarah's half sister, both age 5; Laura Fellowes, 6, niece of the Princess of Wales; and Lady Rosanagh Innesker, daughter of the Duke and Duchess of Roxburghe, 7. Pages include Prince William, the first son of Prince Charles and Princess Diana. He is just 4. Others are Peter Philips, 8, son of Princess Anne; Andrew Ferguson, half brother of the bride, 7; and Seamus Makim, nephew of the bride, 5.

The bridesmaids' dresses, as is the bride's, are secret. Designer is Linda Clerach, a relatively unknown until tapped for the job.

Scotland yard installed mirrored windows at her Fluhm home where she works to help preserve secrecy.

Prince Andrew will wear the ceremonial day dress of a Royal Navy lieutenant, which, like all officers, he has to buy himself out of his annual navy salary of 11,300 pounds (about $16,950).

Of the guests, serving officers wear ceremonial day dress with sword, serving soldiers and sailors wear uniform with medals, gentlemen, morning dress of lounge suit and ladies, day dress with hat.

This will be the 14th royal wedding at Westminster Abbey. The first was on Nov. 11, 1100, when Henry I married Princess Matilda of Scotland. The most recent was when Princess Anne married Capt. Mark Phillips on Nov. 14, 1973.

Westminster Abbey is a "Royal Peculiar", its clergy answerable not to the Archbishop of Canterbury but directly to the Queen. However, the couple will be married by Archbishop Runcie, assisted by a multi-denominational array of clergy.

Tradition

By tradition, the royal family always sits on the right of the sanctuary. When Princess Anne was married they therefore reversed the usual sides from bride's and groom's families. As the newlyweds leave the abbey, they bow and curtsy to the Queen, acknowledging not mother but monarch.

For prayers, the couple have chosen the traditional 1682 form of the marriage service rather than the Alternative Service Book version with its modernized language.

The bells of nearby St. Margaret's, Westminster, parish church of the House of Commons, peal before the service.

The 12 men and 22 boys of Westminster Abbey's choir will be joined by the six men and 10 boys of the choir of the Chapel Royal at St. James's Palace, all elevated to the organ loft to leave the choir stalls free for government and diplomatic guests. Choristers, like the abbey clergy, wear scarlet cassocks to show they sing for the Royal Peculiar. Adult choir members are professional singers and members of Equity, the show-business union. They could make up to one thousand pounds (about $1,500) each on the day from fees and worldwide television rights.

The 800 guests to be seated in the nave will see almost nothing of the service, their view blocked by the ornate gilded choir screen built by Edward Blore in 1834. Some 400 guests packed into each of the transepts, will have a slightly better view. Although 1,800 guests seems like plenty, the abbey squeezed in 6,500 guests for the Queen's coronation in 1953.

Bouquets for the bride and bridesmaids are being made by the Worshipful Company of Gardeners. Royal wedding bouquets traditionally include a spring of myrtle from a bush grown from the myrtle spring in Queen Victoria's wedding bouquet.

Major Ronald Ferguson, Sarah's father, is relieved of the traditional financial burden of the bride's father. The Ministry of Defense pays for the ceremony and most of the rest comes from the Queen's private resources.

Three Registers

After the marriage ceremony the couple will step up for a private blessing by the Archbishop of Canterbury before the altar and its intricately carved and gilded screen built in 1867.

After the blessing, the couple, clergy and principal members of both families pass through the door to the right of the altar screen into Edward the Confessor's chapel for the signing of the registers. These are laid out on a table between the Confessor's shrine, dating from 1268, and the historic Coronation Chair of 1301. Three registers are signed: the Royal Register of all royal family marriages, normally kept at St. James's Palace; and the two copies of the abbey register containing records of all marriages at the abbey. For this wedding the abbey registers have extra large pages inserted to cope with the signatures of all the clergy and official witnesses.

After the 10-minute signing, conducted in private, the party re-emerge from the door on the left of the altar screen and the couple begin their walk down the aisle.

Afterwards the abbey bells will ring a full peal lasting three and a half hours as another fairy tale begins.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Cooler air creeping into the drought-baked Southeast today could drop temperatures below the 100-degree mark for the first time in more than two weeks in some areas, forecasters said. The weak cold front will bring a third day of scattered rain showers to the area, but the precipitation will have little impact on the drought, they said. "We'll be returning to more normal temperatures," said Harry Gordon, National Weather Service meteorologist. "Instead of the 100 degree plus range, temperatures will be mostly in the mid-90s." Officials estimate that the season-long drought coupled with the heat wave has ruined $1 billion in pastureland and caused at 33 deaths. Record temperatures were set in nine cities Monday, including Columbia, S.C., where a reading of 107 degrees gave the city 15 straight days of 100-degree weather. Macon, Ga., hit 106 degrees for a 10th straight day of temperatures above the 100-degree mark. It was a record 102 degrees Columbus, Ga., making it the 41st consecutive day of above 90 degrees. Record highs were also set in Atlanta, 101; Augusta, Ga., 105; Charleston, S.C., 101; Charlotte, N.C., 103; Greer, S.C., 102; and Asheville, N.C., 94. The cool front triggered thunderstorms Monday over Alabama, Mississippi and Texas. The thunderstorms produced a tornado that touched down in Nash, Texas, Monday night, ripping up several trees near the Texas-Arkansas border, authorities said.

Suspect Charged With Assault On Deputy With Vehicle

A man, who allegedly drove toward Seminole County sheriff's deputy W.L. McNett when McNett stepped into the center of North Street to stop the man who McNett saw involved in an alleged street drug sale, has been charged with aggravated assault with a motor vehicle on a police officer.

McNett reported he was in the woods at the corner of North and Marker streets near Altamonte Springs at about 4:30 p.m. Sunday when he saw a man drive up in a car and hand something to two men on the street. The driver left and two men drove up in a pickup truck and the men on the street handed them something in exchange for money.

The pickup truck left and the suspect's car returned and the men on the street apparently handed money to the driver. McNett recognized the suspect and stepped from the woods and tried to stop him but he drove east, then turned back west on North Street.

When McNett stepped into the street to make the driver stop, the suspect allegedly drove straight toward McNett who jumped out of the road, his report said.

McNett got in a patrol car and followed the suspect to 461 State Road 427 where Kenneth Eugene Boule, 27, of 209 Campello St., Altamonte Springs, was arrested at 4:52 p.m. Sunday. He has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court August 4.

WINE BOTTLE BASH

A 32-year-old Winter Park man allegedly hit Sandra M. Kortright on the head with a full bottle of wine which broke and gashed her shoulder. He has been charged with aggravated battery.

The arrest was made at 6:22 p.m. Saturday, after the victim and the suspect both returned to 7702 S. Branch Wood St., Winter Park, the suspect's address, where a neighbor reported the assault had occurred.

Abraham Torres was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

DEPUTIES ARREST FOR POLICE

All available Sanford police officers were busy when two men believed to be armed came into the police station at about 10:30 p.m. Sunday. Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said Seminole County sheriff's deputies were called to the police station to check out the suspects.

In a search a handgun was reportedly found in the right sock of one of the men, a sheriff's report said.

Samuel C. Vargas, 30, of DeBary, was charged with possession of a concealed firearm. He has been released on $1,000 bond.

ABUSED WIFE/BATTERED POLICE

Longwood police, called to 85 Georgia Ave., at about 8:30 p.m. Saturday, reported that a man who had allegedly been involved in a dispute with Susan M. Szczewinski, returned while police were there.

The man allegedly used foul language and pinched Mrs. Szczewinski. He walked toward his house, disobeying police orders to stop, and went in and shut the door. A policeman followed him inside and grabbed the suspect's arm and told him he was under arrest, a police report said.

The man allegedly resisted, broke free and hit a policeman in the face.

John Joseph Szczewinski, 30, was arrested at his home at 8:40 p.m. Saturday. He has been charged with spouse abuse, battery on a policeman and resisting with violence and has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court August 11.

DROPPED GUN

One of several persons reportedly loitering around a stairwell at the McAllister Motel on Southwest Road, Sanford, reportedly went up stairs when he saw a Seminole County sheriff's deputy.

The deputy followed that man and two others up the stairs and reportedly saw the man arrested drop a .22-caliber revolver to the floor.

Senec Nore, 31, of Ft. Pierce, was charged with carrying a concealed firearm at 4:33 a.m. Saturday. He has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court August 4.

THREE DRUG ARRESTS

Sanford police, who reported stopping a car that had a bald rear tire at about 6:30 p.m. Saturday on 13th Street at Oak Avenue, charged three occupants of that vehicle with alleged illegal drug possession.

Willie Gaines, 21, of 2370 Granby Ave., Sanford, has been charged with possession of cocaine and drug paraphernalia. Michelle Lynn Swan, 26, of 1717

Park Ave. #3, Sanford, has been charged with possession of cocaine, less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

Gary Bruce Beilstein, 28, of 315 Poinsetta Drive, Sanford, has been charged with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia. He has been released on $500 bond to appear in court July 30.

Ms. Swan has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court August 4, while Gaines remained jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Gerald Wayne Buerger, 43, of 1815 Terrace Drive, Sanford, was arrested at 8:40 p.m. Friday, after his truck ran off the road and tore down a fence and a street sign at 2525 Highwawn Ave., Sanford. He has also been charged with reckless driving. Damage was estimated at $535.

—Robert C. Dykstra, 21, of 2311 Lisa Court, Sanford, at 3:17 a.m. Sunday on U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, after his car was clocked traveling 70 mph in a 35 mph zone. He was also charged with driving with a revoked license.

—Troy E. Adams, 29, of Orlando, at 10:30 a.m. Saturday after his car was in an accident on Bonnell Road. He was also charged with careless driving.

—Lauren L. O'Donnell, 21, of 644 Murphy Road, Winter Springs, at 2:18 a.m. Sunday, after his pickup truck was seen on State Road 427 without headlights on.

—Stephen Brett Wilson, 20, of 519 Notre Dame Drive, Altamonte Springs, at 2:33 a.m. Sunday after his car failed to maintain a single lane on State Road 436, Casselberry.

—Antonio Camelo, 28, of 601 1/2 Grant St., Longwood, at 3:01 a.m. Sunday at Florida Hospital-Altamonte Springs, after his car was in an accident on Palm Springs Drive, Altamonte Springs. He was also charged with failure to maintain a single lane.

—Wayne P. Mills, 45, of Richmond, Va., at 10:21 p.m. Saturday on State Road 434, Longwood, after police responded to a man down call and found him in his stopped car with the engine running.

—Adrain Roy Alexanderswan, 32, of 531 Melrose Ave., Winter Park, at 3:01 a.m. Sunday after his car was clocked speeding and seen weaving on State Road 436, Altamonte Springs. He was also charged with driving with a suspended license.

—Richard A. Bell, 21, of Orlando, at 3:19 a.m. Saturday after his car was in an accident on State Road 436, Altamonte Springs.

Fire Truck Damaged In Wreck

A Seminole County fire truck was damaged Friday when it skidded during a rainstorm and flipped on its side.

Neither fire fighter in the engine were hurt in the 3:30 p.m. accident on Howell Branch Road, according to Assistant Chief Joe Walters.

Walters said the engine was going from an alarm to a traffic accident in a rainstorm when the incident occurred.

The engine was going about 30 mph when the back end skidded sideways forcing the vehicle end-for-end, then flip on its side.

Walters said one side of the truck's aluminum body was damaged and will have to be replaced. He did not have a cost damage estimate.

Man Assaults Siblings, Deputy With Toy Gun

A 26-year-old Altamonte Springs man has been charged with aggravated assault with a handgun, disorderly intoxication and corruption by threat.

The man allegedly threatened his brother and sister with a handgun, which they thought was real. He allegedly put the gun to a baby's head and threatened to blow its brains out, a Seminole County sheriff's deputy reported.

When Deputy W.L. McNett arrived at 313 Longwood Ave., Altamonte Springs at about 8:30 p.m. Sunday he saw the suspect run behind that house and the man was apparently armed with a handgun, the report said.

McNett confronted the suspect, who was reported to be loud and abusive. The deputy reported finding a realistic, plastic toy handgun in a shed behind that home. The suspect's brother and sister told McNett that when the suspect brandished the gun, they had believed it was real and they feared for their lives and the life of the baby.

Enroute to jail the suspect split and kicked and his feet had to be restrained. He allegedly threatened to kill McNett. The suspect, who had a cut on his arm had to be treated at Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford before being booked in the jail. He reportedly had to be restrained at the hospital and continued to threaten McNett.

Preston Simpson, 26, of the above address was arrested at his home at 8:35 p.m. Sunday. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond. —Susan Loden

FIRE CALLS

The Sanford Fire Department has responded to the following calls:

FRIDAY

—2:37 p.m., 267 Hanson Parkway, rescue. A 71-year-old man suffered a possible heart attack, the fire report said. He was transported to the hospital.

—3:10 p.m., 126 W. Woodland Drive, rescue. A power outage at the home caused malfunction of an oxygen tank used by a 57-year-old woman, resulting in her having difficulty breathing until power was restored, the fire report said. After the woman was checked by rescue personnel, further treatment was not deemed necessary, the fire report said.

—3:33 p.m., 2008 Hartwell Ave., lightning strike. A tree was reportedly hit; no fire reported.

—4:13 p.m., Airport Boulevard, roadway entrance to Zayers department store, auto accident. No injuries reported; no action required.

—4:19 p.m., 221 Hartwell Ave., smoke alert. A nearby lightning strike caused an apparent power surge in the home, shorting out several CB radios, electrical appliances and a television set, firemen said. No fire reported; firemen cleared home of smoke.

—8:14 p.m., 25th Street and French Avenue, gas leak. The road was hosed to clear gas that had reportedly leaked from a 1982 Volkswagen.

—8:54 p.m., 407 Hanson Parkway, rescue. A 47-year-old man reportedly suffered a cut on his forehead and a possible wrist fracture from a fall. He was reportedly transported to the hospital by private vehicle.

SATURDAY

—8:22 a.m., Sheriff's Department parking lot, in front of Sanford Airport building #310, gas leak. The defective fuel pump of a 1982 Chevy Z-28 was cited as causing spill. Area was hosed down.

—10:24 a.m., 1700 S. Magnolia Ave., rescue. No injuries reported after survey of a break in the tent of a home being fumigated, the fire report said. Exterminating company reportedly notified firemen out of concern the break may have been caused by someone trying to enter tent.

—1:05 p.m., 1410 W. 12th Street, rescue. A 26-year-old woman reportedly suffered a possible seizure. She was transported to the hospital.

—3:11 p.m., 174 Country Club, rescue. An approximately 60 year old man suffered a possible heart attack, the fire report said. He was transported to the hospital.

—7:52 p.m., 1311 Palmetto Ave., fire. Fire damage confined to attic fan, which had reportedly ignited.

—8:36 p.m., 1215 1/2 W. 13th Street, rescue. A 33-year-old woman received survey for high fever and headache, the fire report said. Hospital transport was reportedly declined.

—8:55 p.m., 3701 Orlando drive, Walmart, rescue. A 15-year-old Geneva girl reportedly passed out. She was reportedly left in the care of her sister after survey.

SUNDAY

—1:24 a.m., 2724 Ridgewood Drive, rescue. Sanford police cancelled the call after determining it was a false alarm, the fire report said.

—1:45 a.m., 1200 Lincoln Court, rescue. An 83-year-old man was reportedly suffering leg pain due to arthritis. Hospital transport was reportedly declined after survey.

—4:33 a.m., 1705 W. 15th Street, rescue. "Person down" call determined to be a false alarm, the fire report said.

—8:43 a.m., 1316 W. 12th Street, rescue. A 91-year-old man was reportedly having difficulty breathing. Oxygen was administered and he was transported to the hospital, the fire report said.

—7:16 p.m., 408 Mellonville Ave., assault. Lisa Sandhim, 25, reported she had been punched, causing a bruise over her right eye. Injury was surveyed at scene, hospital transport was declined, the fire report said.

—8:36 p.m., 300 Magnolia Ave., possible death. Call confirmed; deceased reportedly a 64-year-old man.

—9:20 p.m., 116 Country Club Circle, assault. No injuries; no action required, the fire report said.

—9:28 p.m., #18 Castle Brewer Court, assault. A 17-year-old boy reported he had been punched, causing a cut and bruise over his right eye. Hospital transport reportedly declined after on-scene survey.

MONDAY

—12:25 a.m., Lake Monroe, behind Police Benevolent Association on Seminole Boulevard, auto accident. Firemen reported finding a car in Lake Monroe. No accident victims found in car or during survey of surrounding area, the fire report said.

—3:04 a.m., 519 E. First Street, Bram Towers Apartments, rescue. A 91-year-old man reportedly cut his foot and received on-scene treatment from firemen.

—4:36 a.m., 1316 12th Street, possible death. Call confirmed; deceased reportedly a 91-year-old man.

—8:20 a.m., #25 Lake Monroe Terrace, possible death. Call confirmed; deceased reportedly a 43-year-old woman.

—10:47 a.m., 504 W. Eighth Street, rescue. A 16-year-old girl was reportedly suffering from abdominal pain. Private transport to physician's office was reportedly arranged after on-scene survey.

Lake Mary's volunteer fire department has responded to the following calls:

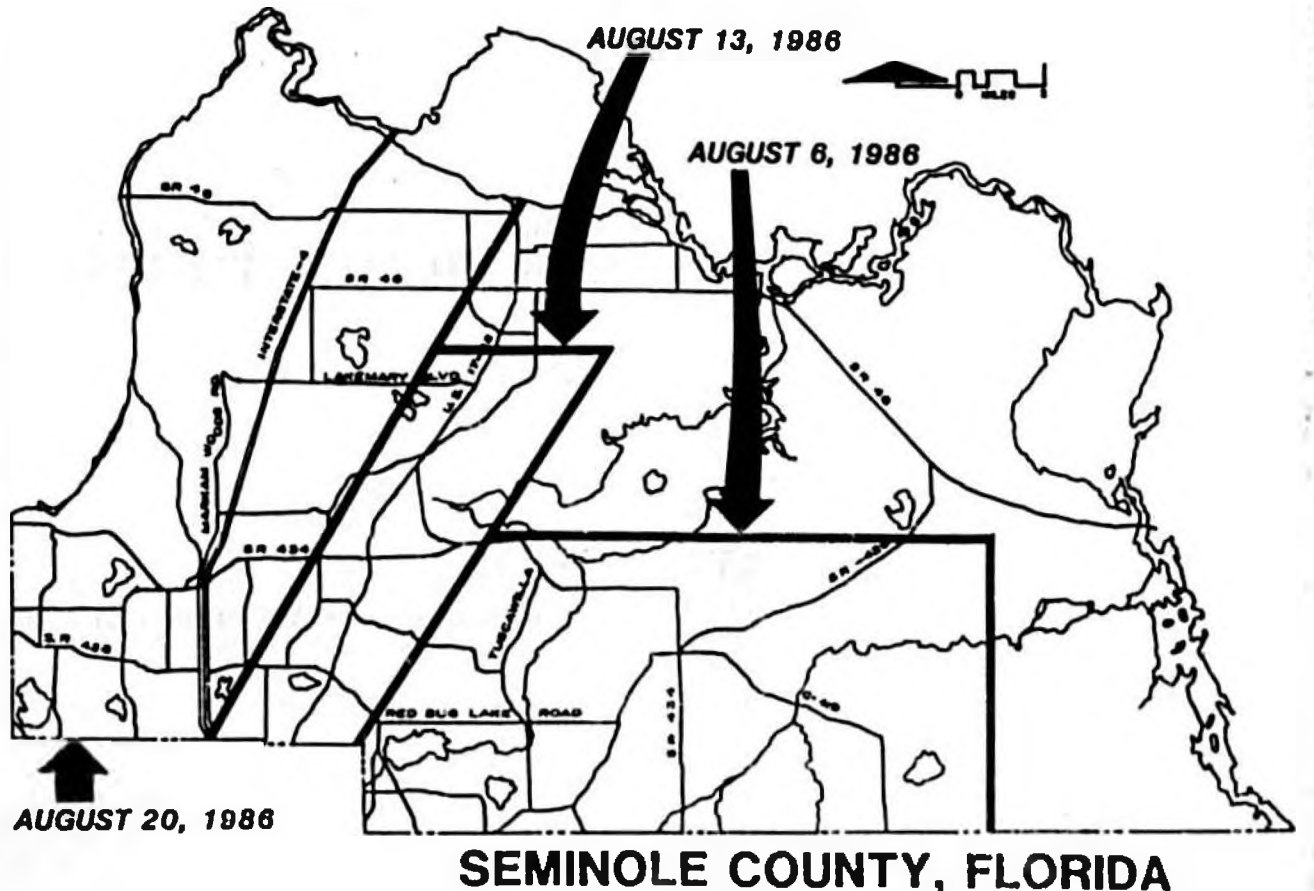

SUNDAY

—7:04 a.m., Westbound lane of Interstate 4, west of Lake Mary Blvd., auto accident. No serious injuries were reported when a Volkswagen rolled over.

NOTICE OF CHANGE OF LAND USE PUBLIC HEARING TO BE HELD AUGUST 6, 13, AND 20, 1986

The Seminole County Local Planning Agency (LPA) will hold a public hearing to consider requested amendments to the Seminole County Comprehensive Plan and Official Land Use Map. The purpose of this Hearing is to consider the requested amendments and to provide recommendations to the Board of County Commissioners regarding the requested amendments and the continued appropriateness of land use designations within certain portions of the map printed in this advertisement. LPA recommendations will be transmitted to the Department of Community Affairs and considered for action by the Board of County Commissioners after the required state and public agency review.

In order to provide all interested persons an opportunity to be heard regarding the requested land use designations shown in the map below, the LPA will hold a public hearing that will occur on three separate evenings: August 6, 13, and 20, 1986 with items that have not been subject to public comment being continued from evening to evening. The public hearing will begin at 7:00 p.m. each evening, or as soon thereafter as possible, in Room W120 of the Seminole County Services Building located at 1101 E. 1st. Street in Sanford. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Foot-Dragging Hurts Drug War

By most measures, the Reagan administration is losing its war on drugs and drug trafficking. The flow of illegal narcotics into the United States, most continually from Mexico, continues to increase. So does the domestic market for cocaine, marijuana, and heroin. Accordingly, it is difficult to understand the administration's apparent reluctance to expand its drug-interdiction campaign by using military personnel and equipment where appropriate.

Last April, President Reagan laid the necessary groundwork by signing a presidential directive defining narcotics smuggling as a threat to national security. The directive specifically authorized greater use of the military to assist in reducing the flood of drugs entering the United States. In mid May, Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger approved specific measures, including the use of radars and surveillance aircraft along the U.S.-Mexican border. In late May, the plan was approved by Attorney General Edwin Meese III, the designated coordinator of the administration's anti-drug campaign.

Inexplicably, however, the White House's Office of Management and Budget is refusing to fund the program. No formal explanation beyond the obvious need to hold down spending is being offered for this most curious failure. But budget drafting is about nothing so much as establishing priorities and then allocating funds accordingly. The program set forth by Mr. Weinberger and approved by Mr. Meese would cost perhaps $250 million, or less if more interdiction operations were used as part of normal training that would be necessary in any case. Somewhere in a $970 billion annual budget it must be possible to find $250 million for bolstering an interdiction campaign that is being overrun by the drug smugglers.

This should be especially true given the evident support in Congress for enlisting more military help in the battle against narcotics traffickers. Much of the impetus for the plan accepted by Messrs. Weinberger and Meese came from Arizona Sen. Dennis DeConcini and Oklahoma Rep. Glenn English. What is more, Congress seems likely to appropriate funds for parts of the program even without cooperation from the White House. Thus, for example, Congress will probably allocate the $78 million for buying and deploying six radars mounted on tethered balloons to cover the 1,800-mile border with Mexico. Coincidentally, the radars would plug a huge gap in the Pentagon's system of air-defense surveillance.

But absent the active cooperation of the administration, efforts to reinforce the drug-interdiction campaign can never be more than partially effective at best. It is important to stress that this is not a plan to militarize the U.S.-Mexican border or to thoughtlessly throw the military at a problem that is principally a matter of law enforcement. But modest numbers of border radars, surveillance aircraft, helicopters and various other specialized units could make it dramatically more difficult for the drug smugglers. As it is, the Drug Enforcement Agency estimates, for example, that only 10 percent of the aircraft flying narcotics into the United States from Mexico are being detected.

The Reagan administration won't start winning its war on drug traffickers until those odds improve.

Latest Cocktail Highlights Fergie's Freckles

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Burke's Peerage reports that Sarah Ferguson "is the first royal princess this century who has not received one electric appliance" as a wedding gift.

If it's any consolation, she also may be the first royal princess this century in whose honor a cocktail created by a British bartender was named.

According to the gift list published before the royal wedding scheduled July 23, Ferguson and Prince Andrew had received presents valued at more than $350,000.

Among the gifts were 18 breakfast sets, 38 salt and pepper shakers and about thousand water glasses. But not a single electric toaster.

How will the poor dear keep from burning the toast on their honeymoon? Well, serve Prince Andrew enough "Royal Freckles" before he eats and he probably won't know the difference.

Its inventor, Buchanan Aitken, says the inspiration of the "Royal Freckles" cocktail came from the bride's freckled face.

"I decided on freckles because everyone associates them with Miss Ferguson," the Loch Lomond barkeep said. "The effect is created by tiny pieces of pure gold leaf."

"They remain in suspension in a drink and resemble freckles on a bride's cheek. Stir the cocktail with a straw and the freckles appear to be dancing."

As to whether Agent 007 would approve was not made clear in any of the literature I read.

I've been looking over Aitken's recipe and I'm pretty sure the gold dust doesn't come from the ounce of scotch whiskey he includes to add "a touch of nobility" to the cocktail.

It usually takes at least three ounces of nobility before I see gold dust.

Probably the freckled effect also could be achieved by crumbling burnt toast into a cocktail, but that is another story. I certainly don't recommend it.

Maybe the gold dust seems to come from the scotch, to anyone so ennobled, but the freckles must be either in the ounce of Goldwasser liqueur, the ounce of Fraise de Bois liqueur, the three ounces of passion fruit nectar or the dash of egg white.

Aitken says that "the freckles are created by the inclusion of Royal Gold Liqueur." So the old flecks "in the blushing beverage" must come from that brand of Goldwasser.

Fraise de Bois, I'm informed, is a strawberry liqueur. Presumably, you already know what passion fruit nectar is. If not, ask the bridegroom. He wasn't called "Randy Andy" in the British press for nothing.

Once you have assembled all the cocktail ingredients, you're supposed to shake them with ice and pour "into a crystal goblet." Ordinary glass won't do, apparently. Let's not be gauche while toasting the happy couple.

I would have thought the green or red tint provided by the mint or strawberry garnish called in Aitken's recipe might have clashed with the gold flecks, but I guess not. My informant insists the cocktail is "London's trendiest drink" this week.

Who am I to argue? Those London barflies are nothing if not color-conscious.

Patient In Role Of Doctor

By Larry Doyle
UPI Science Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) — "Do you have a sore throat?"

Yes.
"Is your temperature 100 F (38 C) or above?"

No.
"Do you have swelling or tenderness in your neck?"

No.
"Have you got a stuffy or runny nose and/or have you been sneezing?"

Yes.
"A common cold, virus infection of the nasal passages, is probably responsible for your sore throat."

This has not been a visit to the doctor, and it has not cost nearly as much. It's just a quick browse through the American Medical Association's "Men: How to Understand Your Symptoms."

The book, along with companion volumes for women and children, represents a new direction in home health care literature: putting the patient in the role — at least partially — of the physician. That the books originate with the AMA, a national organization of doctors, is an irony not lost on Frank Champion, director of the AMA's Consumer Book program.

"People do want to participate more actively in their own health than they did 10 years ago," Champion says. "I think (these books) are an acknowledgement of that."

But the books are hardly meant to replace physicians, Champion says. They are aimed at allowing patients to "make a better informed decision on whether to call the doctor."

The books do this through an unusual flow chart format that allows a potential patient to mimic a conversation he might have with his doctor. Each yes or no answer leads to another question about symptoms and eventually to a tentative diagnosis and a recommendation on whether to consult a physician.

"This is a stepwise walk-through as it were," says Dr. Charles Clayman, medical editor of the books. "It gives (people) the alternatives and I think it relieves a lot of the potential confusion and anxiety."

"It provides an opportunity for patients to understand their problem a little bit," he says. "They're always complaining that their doctors don't talk to them or explain anything and I think this will make it easier for them to understand and perhaps be a little more compliant with their doctor's orders."

Radio Free Europe Appointee Under Fire

WASHINGTON — Radio Free Europe, the government-funded station that broadcasts to Eastern Europe, has stirred up controversy again with one of its appointments.

The organization has named as its coordinator for Protestant religious programming Rev. Dusan Toth, the executive secretary of the Slovak World Congress. The founders of this group included former officials of the Nazis puppet "republic" of Slovakia during World War II.

Toth had no association with the fascist wartime state or with its leader, Father Joseph Tiso, a virulent anti-Semite who was hanged as a war criminal in 1947. But the Slovak World Congress has steadfastly refused to repudiate the Tiso regime, and Toth himself took strong exception to our recent column reporting the Democratic National Committee's embarrassment over "Slovak Independence Day."

Historical Phenomena

That may have been the greatest Fourth of July in our history, a grand show with the tall ships and the blimps, with Mitterand and President Reagan and the great naval ships, with the fly-by of the jet fighters, and with the great statue at the center of it all. The United States deserves it.

And yet a dark thought intrudes. The novelist Kurt Vonnegut recently observed that the United States is the most hated nation in the world. Perhaps Mr. Vonnegut should be described as a "former novelist," since he has not written anything much lately, but his observation about the United States has some merit.

We, in fact, are hated. Our air raid on Tripoli, in response to terrorism, brought a huge crowd out in front of the U.S. embassy in London protesting the bombing. Polls indicate that half of the British regard the U.S. as a threat to world peace, an equal threat with the Soviets. French and German public opinion is ambivalent. The elected Greek government is hostile. The ayatollah does not lose credit with his followers when he describes the United States as the "great Satan."

We are almost always outvoted in the United Nations, nations voting against us who are up to their ears in unpayable debt to us. The Mexicans hate us, even as they try to sneak over the Rio Grande at midnight and get the minimum wage.

Many students on our own college campuses prefer Daniel Ortega to Ronald Reagan.

We may be more popular in Asia than in the rest of the world. William Broyles has published a book about his re-visit to his former battlefields in Vietnam. Memorably, a North Vietnamese veteran of the recent war embraced him and said "America number one, Russia number ten." The Chinese still cannot figure out why Richard Nixon is no longer the president. We are working hard to alienate the present government of South Africa, in order to bring to power a black communist government that will genuinely hate us.

What is going on here?

First of all, it would be well to recognize that the United States is a genuinely unique historical phenomenon. A Korean can become an "American." An American cannot become a Korean, or, for that matter, a Frenchman or an Englishman. Though T.S. Eliot became a British subject and though Henry James lived in England most of his life, no one in England regarded them as anything other than Americans. Nothing like America had happened before, or is likely to happen again. It was, and is, a disturbing country. It challenges the natural tribalism of the human species.

And maybe tribalism really is natural. The Chinese have a folk tale that informs us that the Japanese emerged from the mating of exiled Chinese criminals with apes. That's right, apes. And we examine ourselves for traces of "racism."

Now, second. Everyone hates a rich man. The American economy works, and within it anyone can find a job who wants one. The great moral dream of the nineteenth century, socialism, has turned into a nightmare. It has great moral credentials, planning, equality and so forth, but it simply has not worked.

Budget Cuts By Cuspidor

By Arnold Bawlsak

WASHINGTON (UPI) — By striking down the so-called trigger mechanism of the Gramm-Rudman deficit reduction law, the Supreme Court may have done Congress a big favor. Now the lawmakers can get really creative in figuring out a way to avoid doing their duty.

By way of review, Gramm-Rudman is the law Congress passed last year to instruct itself to eliminate the federal deficit by Oct. 1, 1990.

That leaves Congress on the spot. Without Charlie to carry out the tough deficit reduction goals that still are in the law, Congress may have to take the responsibility.

To help our lawmakers avoid that dreaded consequence, and with apologies to the late cartoonist Rube Goldberg, the following is a proposed amendment to the Gramm-Rudman law to provide automatic budget cuts.

"In the event that Congress fails to provide for the deficit reductions required by this act, the following steps shall be instituted:

"1. The majority and minority leaders of the Senate shall meet with the speaker and minority leader of the House in the Rotunda of the Capitol at midnight on the last day of the fiscal year.

"2. The secretary of the Senate and the clerk of the House shall bring from each chamber one (1) cuspidor, also known as a spittoon, in which shall be placed, in a random manner, slips of paper. The name and cost of a federal spending program shall be written on each slip of paper.

"3. In rotation, as determined by lot, each of the aforementioned officials shall draw from the aforementioned cuspidors a slip of paper. The director of the Congressional Budget Office shall record the name and cost of each program on each aforementioned slip.

"4. When the total costs of the programs drawn shall equal the amount of spending required to be eliminated under this act, the drawing shall cease and the aforementioned leaders shall light cigars, recite the Preamble to the Constitution and deposit their cigar butts in the cuspidors with the remaining slips. The smoke issuing forth from the resulting fires shall be the official signal that the deficit has been reduced."

There may be those who think the above proposal is beneath the dignity of Congress. The best reply to that charge is to suggest that those critics attend a deficit debate.

Nationals Rout Inverness, 19-1

Letterio, Engleman, Westgate, Pinckes, Watson Sock Homers

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
WINTER GARDEN — Normally when a player throws a two-hitter over five innings to pick up the win and punctuates that showing with a two-run homer, he doesn't have much competition for the headline. Well, Dave Westgate, welcome to Star Wars. Westgate turned in a nifty five innings of mound work and did belt a two-run homer as the District 14 Nationals routed Inverness, 19-1, in the opening round of the Florida Section I Big League All-Star Tournament Monday at the Winter Garden Little League Field.

Westgate, nevertheless, had plenty of company at the top. As he already was well aware of, this is not your normal team.

"I was surprised with my hitting today," Mount Dora's Westgate, who will pitch for Seminole Community College this fall, said. "But everybody else hit the ball, too. Hitting is contagious on this team."

And 11 players caught the disease Monday. Manager Howard Mable's Nationals waltzed into tonight's winners' bracket final by unloading 21 hits, 10 of which came during an 11-run, 16-batter fifth inning which gave Westgate a 17-1 lead.

"The kids hit the ball," Mable said following the rout. "They had a very exceptional day at the plate."

How exceptional? The Nationals unloaded five homers, three doubles, 13 singles and five stolen bases against two shell-shocked Inverness hurlers to advance to tonight's 7:30 encounter against the District 14 Americans who hammered Jacksonville Highlands, 12-1, in Monday's second game behind a four RBI night by Casselberry's Eric Martinez.

Baseball

Here's a rundown of Murderer's Row:

● Leadoff hitter Shane Letterio drilled a homer on the second pitch of the game to ignite the blowout. Letterio, the Class 4A First-Team All-State shortstop from Lake Mary High, also singled, doubled, stole a base and added a sacrifice fly and two ribbies for his four-hit day.

● Lake Mary High teammate Mike Pinckes, a Class 4A Second-Team All-State third sacker, played just five innings yet homered for two runs, doubled for two more, singled and accounted for five RBI with a sacrifice fly.

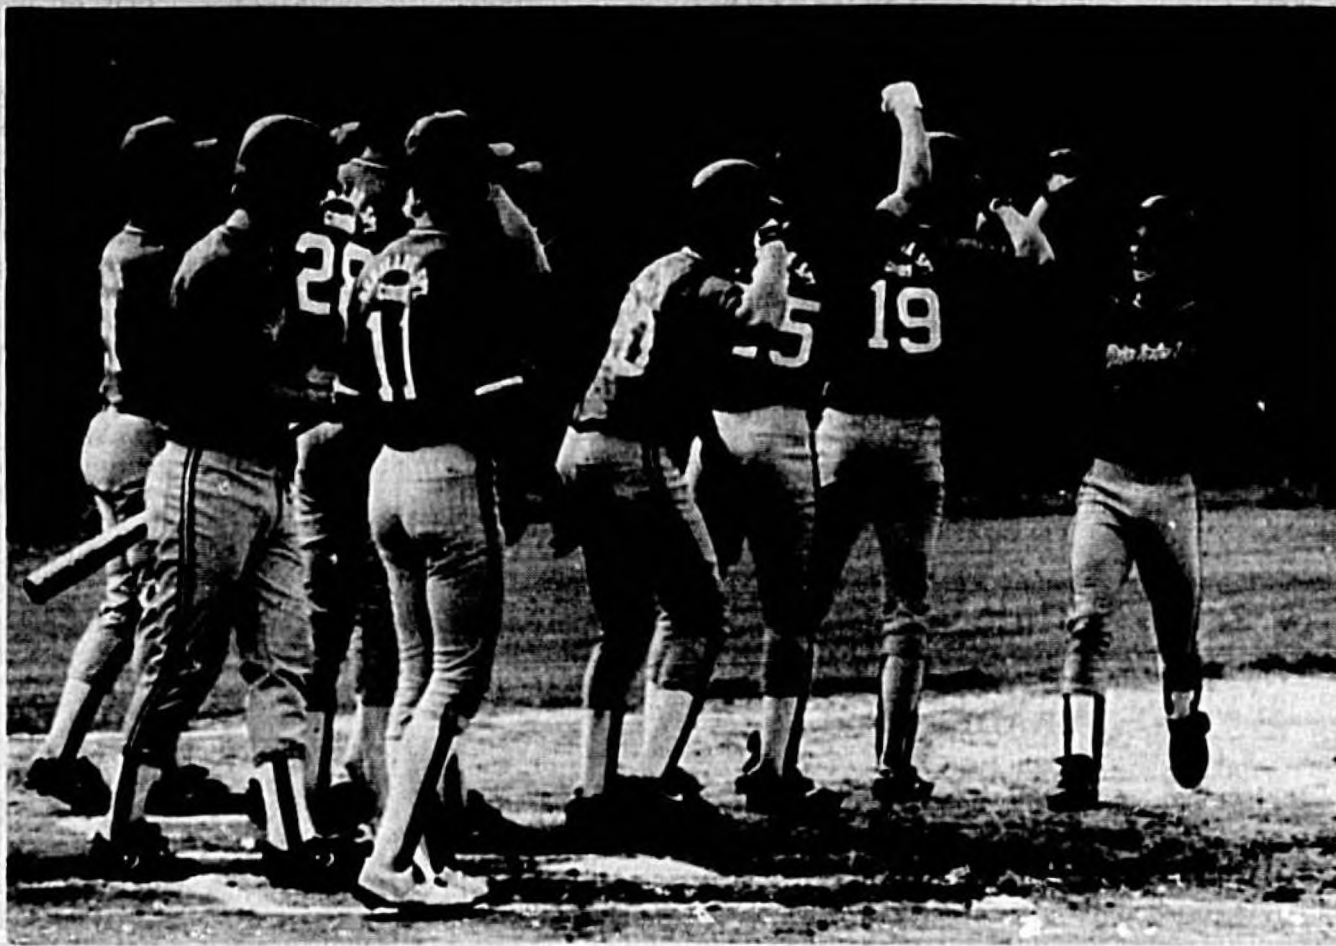

● Not wanting to be upstaged, Pinckes' replacement, Orlando's Ron Engleman, powered a two-run homer in his only at bat in the sixth inning.

● Mark Merchant, Oviedo High's Class 3A First-Team All-State outfielder, doubled and singled twice while driving in a run and stealing a base.

● Right fielder Jeff Watson, a Eustis product, highlighted the fifth inning with the first grand-slam homer of his career.

● Left fielder Mike Hinde, an Apopka product who will play at Brevard Community College this fall, singled twice and stole a DELTONA — Alex Birle may be a little old to be in the Boy Scouts, but he can tell you first hand that the Scouts' motto, "Be Prepared," is a pretty good one to abide by.

This past Thursday, Altamonte Senior All-Stars manager Woody Woodard said Birle only, "half warmed up," before his pitching outing against Ocoee in the District 14 finals. Birle departed that game early after giving up six runs in three innings.

Monday night, Birle warmed up properly and went out and tossed a four-hit shutout as Altamonte downed Jacksonville Arlington, 5-0, in the opening round of the Section 1 All-Star Tournament before 251 fans at Deltona's Vann Park.

Altamonte moves into tonight's 7:30 winners' bracket game against Niceville which downed West Hernando, 8-2, in Monday's first game. Shane "Right Stuff" Stuffed will be on the mound for Altamonte.

In tonight's losers' bracket game at 5, Arlington battles West Hernando.

Birle was in command from start to finish Monday night as he allowed no more than one hit in any one inning, struck out eight and walked only one. The big righthander threw just 89 pitches in the seven innings.

"I didn't warm up very good last time and a I didn't pitch well," Birle said. "Tonight I warmed up good and I had good control on both my fastball and curve. And getting the early lead helped me a lot."

Woodard said when Birle puts his mind to it, he's hard to beat.

"After Alex (Birle) saw Shane (Stuffed) shut Ocoee out the first game, he figured it would be a piece of cake the next night," Woodard said. "So he went out and only half way warmed up and he threw his first pitch into the backstop. Right there I knew it wasn't going to be his night."

"Tonight, he warmed up right and came out and threw a bullet right down the middle to start the game."

After Birle retired Arlington in order in the top of the first, catching the last two hitters looking at curveballs for strike three, Altamonte came back with a run in the bottom half.

Stuffed blooped a double to right off Arlington starter John Roberts to lead off and Aaron Iatarola then drew a walk. Stuffed moved to third on Wes Weger's fly ball to right and Trevor Moore then drove Stuffed in with a fly ball to center.

Bill Ward led off the top of the second with a base hit off Birle but he was quickly caught stealing by Altamonte catcher Pat DeLuca and Birle retired the next two hitters to end the inning. Birle retired the side in order again in the third and Altamonte took a 2-0 lead in the bottom half of the third.

With one out, Iatarola walked, moved to second on an errant pickoff attempt and took third on a wild pitch. Weger then drilled a single between short and third to score Iatarola.

Moore followed with a base hit and Jimmy Kremer then blasted a shot to deep center field. Center fielder Kevin Kopec ran down Kremer's rope, though, and doubled pinch runner Greg James off second to end the Altamonte threat.

Arlington's only real scoring threat came in the top of the fourth. Kopec beat out an infield dribbler and took second on a wild throw by Weger to lead off. Kopec then went to third when Birle balked. Birle, though, came back to strike out the side to strand Kopec at third.

Arlington did not threaten in the fifth or sixth frame and Altamonte added three insurance runs in the bottom of the sixth. Arlington reliever Dave Bond walked Moore to start the inning and Kremer then ripped a single to center. With one out, Jason Vartek walked to load the bases.

Carlos Abreu then punched a single to right to score Moore for a 3-0 lead and Chad Cochran walked to reload the bases. Ed Wynn then came on in relief for Arlington and the first hitter he faced, Stuffed, looped a double just out of the right fielder's reach to score both Kremer and Abreu for a 5-0 lead.

Juniors' Key Hits Trip Jay; Face Yulee Tonight

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer
ROLLING HILLS — Prior to the start of the Altamonte Juniors' opening-round Section 1 game against Jay East Bruton, Altamonte manager Duke Plecones said that if his team could get hits in key situations it would have a good chance of winning.

And in two clutch situations Monday, Altamonte used some timely hitting en route to an 8-4 Little League baseball victory over Jay East Bruton before 212 fans at the Rolling Hills baseball complex.

With the victory, Altamonte will take on Yulee tonight at 7:30. Yulee blanked Crystal River, 7-0, thanks to the pitching of Ray Vono. Vono pitched a complete game and helped himself at the plate with a single and a double.

Plecones feels that tonight's game could decide if the Juniors make it to the state tournament or not.

"We are going to have to play very good to beat this team (Yulee),"

Baseball

Plecones said, "We had a few mental errors tonight and we are going to have to eliminate them if we expect to win against a team like Yulee."

Plecones said that he will send ace pitcher Andy Spolski to the mound. "We are counting on Andy for a good outing," Plecones said.

Nell James was the starting pitcher for Altamonte but had control problems in the first inning. Chris Plecones took over in the first and allowed eight hits while walking four and earning the win. Jason Campbell started for Jay before giving way to Paul Stewart in the third. Stewart gave up five runs while giving up five hits and suffered the loss.

"They just flat beat us," Jay coach Tommy Jernigan said. "They got the big hits when they needed to and we didn't. It's that simple."

Crystal River and Jay will hook up in the first game tonight at 5.

After a scoreless first inning, Jay took the lead with two runs in the top of the second. Second baseman Wes Sessions led off with a walk. Albert Pearson followed with a bunt single that moved Sessions to second. David Madden then walked to load the bases. Joey Settle bunted to reliever Plecones who forced Sessions at.

With the bases still loaded, Danny Moye singled to center, plating Pearson for a 1-0 lead. William Day then rapped a single to left, scoring Madden and giving Jay a two-run edge.

Altamonte came back with four runs in the bottom of the third. Spolski led off with a walk and took second on a wild pitch. Spolski went on to steal third and Terry "Downtown" Brown followed with the first of his two hits, a single to right for a 1-0 lead. Jared Soto followed with another base hit to right and James also singled to right, scoring Brown and moving Soto to second. Soto and James took second and third on a wild pitch before Jeff Jackson dropped a perfect sacrifice bunt, scoring James and moving Soto over to third. Charlie Curley then bunted Soto home, giving Altamonte a 4-2 lead which it would never relinquish.

Altamonte cushioned its lead with two runs in the fourth. T.J. Gluffrida led off with a walk. Plecones walked and Spolski reached on an error to load the sacks. James singled to right, scoring Gluffrida and Plecones scored on a wild pitch for a 6-2 lead.

Altamonte finished its scoring with two runs in the sixth. Brown led off with a deep double to right. James followed with an equally deep double that plated Brown. Soto singled, scoring James for the final 8-2 count.

Jay did add two runs in the top of the seventh but it was too little too late.

Although satisfied with the victory, Plecones said his squad is capable of playing better. "We were kind of sluggish out there," Plecones said. "We are definitely going to need to pick things up."

Bias Grand Jury Inquest Begins — Rogers Cocaine Case Ends

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (UPI) — A secret inquest by a grand jury is underway to investigate the cocaine-related death of former University of Maryland basketball star Len Bias.

Monday's six-hour session reportedly focused on events leading to Bias' June 19 death in his college dormitory room and the autopsy that determined "cocaine intoxication" stopped his heart.

Maryland State Chief Medical Examiner Dr. John Smialek, who was swarmed by reporters as he left the courthouse, said it did not appear that Bias freebased the cocaine found in his system.

Earlier this month, Smialek's assistant who performed the autopsy on Bias, Dr. Dennis Smyth, said the redness in Bias's windpipe and a high concentration of cocaine in his blood indicated the athlete "most likely" smoked cocaine rather than snorted it in powder form through his nose.

Drugs

"We don't have any evidence to support that right now," Smialek said.

Also testifying Monday was Margie Jacobs, assistant director of medical records at Leland Memorial Hospital, where Bias was rushed and later pronounced dead.

CORONER: HEALTHY HEART

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — Investigators from the county coroner's office closed their case Monday on Cleveland Browns football star Don Rogers, concluding he had a healthy heart with no sign of long-term drug use when he died of a cocaine overdose on June 27.

The final report released by Donna O'Ray-King, deputy coroner of Sacramento County, upheld investigators' initial findings that the 23-year-old safety was killed by cocaine.

She said the autopsy showed that the drug caused Rogers' lungs to fill with fluid.

"It (the cause of death) remains pulmonary congestion and edema due to cocaine intoxication," she said. "The heart was of increased size, the so-called athlete's heart, but showed no evidence of underlying chronic disease."

She said investigators did not know how Rogers ingested the drug, but no evidence was found during the three-week investigation that he was a long-time drug user.

Police announced the completion of their criminal investigation on July 11 without determining who supplied the drug to Rogers or whether he ingested it at a bachelor party the night before he died or in his mother's home on the day of his death.

Basketball

Freeman, contributed six points.

In Monday's second game, SYSA used a late fourth-quarter surge to down Pacific Northwest (Seattle), 58-49. SYSA took a 27-22 halftime lead but Pacific Northwest came back to take a one-point lead in the fourth quarter before SYSA rallied in the late going.

Clark and Maxwell pumped in 14 points each to lead the way for SYSA while Smith poured in 13. Hughes added four points and Brandenburg tossed in two.

The SYSA 12 and under team won one game and lost one Monday and will play in the consolation bracket today.

In Monday's first game, SYSA routed Inland Empire of Yakama, Wash., 41-20, behind a balanced scoring attack. Shima Clark's nine points were high for SYSA which took a 20-8 halftime lead.

Oviedo's Betsy Hughes and Tracy Smith added seven points each while Becky Mayes tossed in six. Kelly Hartman five, Denise Geritty three and Joyce Tullis and Tara Calvin added two points each. Hughes, Smith and Clark also led the defense as they combined for 13 steals.

In game two on Monday, SYSA dropped a 41-30 decision to Michigan.

SYSA 14s Storm Back From Loss With Pair Of Victories

By Chris Flister

After dropping its first game, Seminole Youth Sports Association of Central Florida stormed to a pair of victories in losers' bracket play Monday at the AAU/USA Junior Olympic National 14 and Under Tournament at Roanoke, Va.

SYSA of Central Florida continues play in the losers' bracket today at 4 against host Roanoke.

In Monday's first game, SYSA soared past Kentucky, 68-43, as Jennifer Clark scored 14 points and Vicki Smith added 11. SYSA took a 30-17 halftime lead and never looked back.

Lisa Crapps contributed nine points for SYSA while Paula Brown added eight, Keisha Maxwell seven and Sanford's Liz Long tossed in six. Oviedo's Suzanne Hughes chipped in with two points while Longwood's Tracy Brandenburg got in early foul trouble and did not score. Brandenburg's backup at point guard, Vero Beach's Kathy

Hawser Faces 4-Hour Operation For Tumor Removal

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — A four-hour procedure to remove a tumor from the brain of Kansas City Royals manager Dick Hawser has been scheduled for today.

Hawser was admitted to St. Luke's Hospital Thursday after complaining for two weeks of a stiff neck and headaches. An examination showed a two-inch growth on the 50-year-old man's left frontal lobe — the part of the brain that controls speech and personality.

Surgery to remove the tumor is to begin about 11:30 a.m. CDT with Dr. Charles Clough performing the operation.

Hawser, who managed the Royals to the World Series championship last season, has been experiencing headaches but otherwise is not in pain, the team said. He has been placed on steroids to help reduce the tumor before surgery.

"He seemed to have a restful weekend and he listened to the games during the weekend," Royals spokesman Jeff Coy said. "I heard he was awake and resting comfortably."

Mike Ferraro, the Royals' third-base coach and a longtime friend of Hawser's, was named interim manager and will guide the team for the remainder of the season.

No players visited him during the weekend as the Royals left immediately after Sunday's game for a week-long roadtrip that began Monday night in Baltimore. Up until that game, Kansas City was 2-2 under Ferraro.

Clough, who will perform the surgery, said it is not a "high-risk"

Baseball

procedure but that the prognosis is uncertain.

"The survival rate for this surgery is greater than 90 percent, but the rest is speculative," the neurosurgeon said earlier. "We just don't know the nature of the tumor — whether it's malignant or benign. He is in no immediate danger."

Hawser was admitted to St. Luke's Thursday — only two days after guiding the American League to its second All-Star Game victory in 15 years. He said he had a stiff neck for two weeks, complaining that it kept him from throwing any batting practice.

When Hawser had trouble giving coherent answers to doctors' questions, physicians ordered an examination of the manager's brain. They discovered a golf ball-sized tumor on Hawser's left frontal lobe.

Doctors estimate under the best circumstances recovery would be at least three to four months.

ROOKIE TO BE CHARGED
MILWAUKEE (UPI) — The man involved in a scuffle with California Angels slugger Reggie Jackson in a Milwaukee tavern will pursue disorderly conduct charges against Jackson, although it means both he and Jackson will be prosecuted, the man's lawyer said Monday.

Alan D. Eisenberg, who is representing Donald Welmer, 26, of Racine, Wis., said his client wanted Jackson charged and would defend himself against the same charges "because he doesn't believe he was involved in disorderly conduct."

John Carter, chief city prosecutor, said last week he would not file a battery charge against Jackson, 40, in the scuffle that left Welmer with cuts, bruises and a chipped tooth.

3 METS MAY FACE FELONY
HOUSTON (UPI) — An attorney Monday requested an examining trial in state district court to determine whether prosecutors have enough evidence against two New York Mets players to submit felony charges of aggravated assault to a grand jury.

Second baseman Tim Lincecum and pitchers Ron Darling, Bob Ojeda and Rick Aguilera were arrested outside a singles bar early Saturday.

McGee Wakes Up But It's Too Late For Cards

United Press International

Somebody has put in a wake-up call to Willie McGee, only it's come too late to get the St. Louis Cardinals out of their season long slumber.

Playing the first half of the 1986 season as if in a deep sleep, the 1985 National League Most Valuable Player has begun to show the skills that earned him the NL batting crown a year ago.

McGee unloaded a pair of home runs off Steve Carlton Monday night to spark the Cardinals to an 8-3 triumph over the San Francisco Giants. McGee now has hit three homers and a double in his last two games.

"I can't explain it," McGee said. "It's baseball. I'm just trying to do my job and do what they want."

"Usually, he owns me but today was just my day. Steve Carlton was a great pitcher, is a great pitcher and will be a Hall of Famer."

Rookie southpaw Greg Mathews, 5-2, benefitted from McGee's homer and went seven innings to get the victory. He was forced to leave the game after getting hit below the right elbow by reliever Jeff Robinson in the seventh. Mathews allowed only four hits.

Carlton, 4-10, pitched six innings before leaving for a pinch hitter. He allowed five hits and three earned runs. He struck out one and walked one in his third start since signing with the Giants.

McGee got St. Louis a 1-0 lead in the first when he blasted a Carlton offering into the upper deck in left field. The home run was the first hit in the upper deck at Busch Stadium since Cincinnati's Nick Esasky's on Aug. 14, 1984. The run marked the seventh consecutive game the Cardinals have scored in the first inning.

"Willie really smoked that one," St. Louis manager Whitey Herzog said. "We have four homers in our last five games and no stolen bases. It's been a crazy year, ain't it?"

Carlton gave himself a 3-1 lead when he drilled a 3-2 Mathews pitch into the right-field stands to drive in Chris Brown and Bob Melvin. It was Carlton's 13th career home run and his first since May 16, 1984 when he hit a grand slam off Fernando Valenzuela in Los Angeles.

"He pitched well enough to win," Craig said. "He just didn't hit enough home runs. Eliminate McGee and it's different."

McGee tied the score with a two-run homer in the fourth, following a walk to Ozzie Smith. It was the second two-homer game of McGee's career — the first coming in Game 3 of the 1982 World Series against Milwaukee.

Elsewhere in the NL, Philadelphia beat Atlanta 3-1. Chicago defeated San Diego 6-1, the New York Mets topped Cincinnati 4-2 and Houston nipped Montreal 8-7.

In American League games, the New York Yankees topped Texas 8-4, Cleveland downed Chicago 5-2. Minnesota blanked Detroit 1-0. Kansas City beat Baltimore 6-1. Milwaukee trimmed California 5-3. Oakland defeated Boston 5-2, and Toronto handled Seattle 8-3.

Phillies 3, Braves 1
At Atlanta, Mike Schmidt hit a two-out, two-run single in the ninth inning to lift the Phillies. Kent Tekulve, 3-1, pitched two innings to earn the victory and Steve Bedrosian pitched the ninth for his 12th save. Reliever Jeff Dedmon, 3-5, took the loss.

Cubs 6, Padres 1
At Chicago, rookie Jamie Moyer allowed five hits over eight innings and Ron Cey drove in two runs to pace the Cubs. The loss was the fourth straight for San Diego. Thad Bosley was credited with the game-winning RBI as he drove in Shawon Dunston with a groundout in the first inning off LaMarr Hoyt, 5-5.

Casselberry's Dave Martinez was 0 for 4 but turned in a sensational diving catch in center field to save a run.

Mets 4, Reds 2
At Cincinnati, Rick Aguilera, striking out a career-high nine batters, allowed eight hits over eight innings and Gary Carter singled in two runs to help the Mets snap a three-game losing streak. Aguilera, 3-3, received relief help in the ninth inning from Jesse Orosco, who got the last three outs for his 14th save.

Astros 8, Expos 7
At Houston, Jose Cruz singled home Denny Walling with the winning run in the ninth inning to cap a two-run rally that gave the Astros their victory. The triumph enabled the Astros to take over sole possession of first place in the NL West.

Sanford's Tim Raines socked a homer and single while driving in three runs in five at bats. Raines also stole his 44th base.

Hinault Wins Tour De France After Signifying Team Effort

L'ALPE d'HUEZ, France (UPI) — Bernard Hinault clasped hands with American teammate and rival Greg Lemond moments before the Frenchman won the 18th stage of the Tour de France cycle race Monday.

"It was the most beautiful image we could give to the sport," Hinault said of his gesture with Lemond just before surging ahead to win the mountainous, 101-mile stage in 5 hours, 3 minutes, 3 seconds. "It's really the team that wins, not two men."

Lemond, the first American to wear the race leader's yellow jersey in the Tour's 83-year history, retained his overall lead of 2 minutes, 47 seconds over Hinault, the five-time champion.

Switzerland's Urs Zimmermann of the Carrera team came in third at 5:14 behind and fell to third place overall. American Andy Hampsten, also of Hinault and Lemond's La Vie Claire team, was sixth on the stage and moved up to fourth place overall.

Lemond and Hinault escaped together about 60 miles into the stage.

"I told Greg to let me set the pace, and if ever Zimmermann caught up to us, he should take off after him," Hinault said. "Don't panic, just ride calmly."

Legion Falls To Colonial, 3-2

The Sanford American Legion Post 53, sponsored by Ball Motor Line, won seven of its last nine regular season games. One of the losses was a forfeit while the other was a 2-0 setback to Orlando Colonial.

As luck would have it, Sanford went up against the same Colonial team Monday night in the opening game of the American Legion District Tournament at Apopka High School.

And again, it was Colonial that came out on top of another close game, this time by the score of 3-2. No results were available.

The win advances Colonial to tonight's 5:30 game against Lyman, which drew a first-round bye. Sanford will await the loser of one of today's games and will return to action in the losers' bracket Thursday night at 5:30.

In Monday's second game, Boone upended Apopka, 9-6.

Browns To Waive Smith Rights

MIAMI (UPI) — The rights to former University of Miami tight end Willie Smith, who faces cocaine and gun charges, will be formally waived today by the Cleveland Browns.

"We waited until we received all the information, and have decided to waive our rights to Willie Smith," the Browns said in a statement from Cleveland late Monday.

Earlier Monday, Smith agreed to enter a six-month pretrial intervention program, similar to probation. If he is arrested again or violates the rules, he will be tried, and if convicted, could be sentenced up to five years in prison.

"I'm not guilty," Smith said. "The reason why we took this route is it's the quickest way that the charges could be dropped and I'm looking forward to getting to Cleveland and getting on with my football."

Footballers To Talk About Drugs

Three USFL professional football players will be on hand to speak to Sanford youths on the dangers of drugs on July 24 at 10 a.m. at the Westside Recreation Center.

The players include Sanford's Charles Riggins of the Orlando Renegades along with Tampa Bay Bandits players Walter Carter and Dwayne Anderson. Sanford police officer Guy Brewster will also be a speaker.

The players will also be available to sign autographs after the talk.

Rogers Dominates 25-Lap Feature

Special to the Herald

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — David Rogers led every lap but the first to win the 25-lap late model feature on Saturday night at New Smyrna Speedway. The 100-lap race combining the street stocks and the road runners went to Buford Clonts, who pocketed $750, while Mike Kubanek was the first roadrunner to cross the finish line.

Previous week's late model feature winner Lee Faulk was second in the late model main. He was followed by fastest qualifier Mike Goldberg who led the first tour and held on to the runner-up spot till lap 14, when Faulk "muscled" by Joe Middleton was fifth followed by Greg Froemming and newcomer Chris Roberts.

In four-cylinder action, eventual feature winner Jerry Symons and heat winner Gene

Auto Racing

Van Alstine battled wheel to wheel for the whole second half of the race, with Symons beating Gene by mere inches at the stripe. Rounding out the top five were Bobby Sears, Billy Hoovan and young Keith Perry.

The street stocks will now compete on a weekly basis. Eight-lap heats will be run along with a 15-lap feature paying $150 to win. Every car taking the green in the feature will earn money for the driver and no one will go home empty-handed.

base. Infielders Tim Bruhl and Tony Bellflower each chipped in a single while catcher Mark "Pork" Coffey, a Class 4A Second-Team All-State first baseman from Lake Brantley High, scored two runs and singled. First baseman Kevin Bass, a University of Central Florida sophomore, also tallied twice while Troy Thompson added a single.

"There's just too many good hitters on this team," Merchant said. "I don't know how anybody is going to stop us."

Tonight, Americans' manager Bob Fiquette will probably send lefty Damon Marlette against the Nationals while Mable and pitching coach Max Westgate said either Lake Mary High's left-hander Steve Shakar or Eustis righthander Jay Carter will hurl for the Nationals. Inverness and Highlands will play at 5 p.m. with the loser going home.

Westgate, son of the pitching coach, said he felt shaky in the early going but by the fourth inning he was breezing. "I've had trouble getting my curveball over in the early innings," the 17-year-old righthander said. "By the fourth inning, though, I was pretty relaxed."

Westgate didn't strike out a batter until the third, but he finished with a flourish, retiring the last eight hitters he faced. Swearingin chipped in two complete a five-whiff, two-walk effort. Dave Smoak accounted for Inverness' only run in the second with an opposite-field homer.

"Dave pitched a good game," father Westgate said. "He kept his pitches down and came on strong in the late innings."

After five, Oviedo High's Craig Duncan finished up with a near-perfect two innings.

Defensively, Bruhl was the middle man on two double plays. The Apopka High graduate snapped a liner and fired to Bass to double off the runner to end the first inning. Letterio fed him a nice shuffle pass to start a twin killing in the second.

"The defense is awesome," Letterio said.

Which makes one wonder how to describe the offense. "Right now, it's the best hitting team I've played on," Pinckes said. "It's hard to say if it will continue but we have guys one through nine who can hit the ball out of this park."

Whereas, the Nationals used an 11-run fifth inning to coast, the Americans buried Jacksonville with a 10-run first inning. Eric Martinez singled home Marlette the first time around and came back with a two-run double in his second at bat. Eric later slugged a homer as the Americans made it easy for winning pitcher Scott Moorman.

Brother Ernest Martinez singled and walked, forcing in a run the second time. Steve McClellan drove in a pair of runs with a walk and single. Matland's Bill Lee and Bob Swearingin chipped in two singles each.

Dave Westgate strides and fires. Mount Dora righthander allowed just two hits in five innings and slugged a homer as District 14 Nationals bopped Inverness in Section 1 play.

Morris Is Missing From Giant Camp

United Press International

One All-Pro began a holdout Monday and another said it is unlikely he will walk out of training camp for the second straight year.

Joe Morris, who wants a raise after rushing for a New York Giants' record 1,336 yards last season, was missing Monday when the team's veterans were required to report to training camp.

Morris is in the option year of a contract that will pay him $157,300 this season. He wants to renegotiate and reportedly is asking for a signing bonus of close to $1 million.

"Historically, running backs stay out and when they come back in something happens bad," Giants coach Bill Parcells said. "An example of a running back who came back and got hurt is Eric Dickerson last year."

"Joe called me this morning and assured me he'll be ready when he gets here. I know he's in tremendous shape, he's been working out."

Morris scored a club-record 21 touchdowns last year and was named to the Pro Bowl. He earned $70,000 in performance bonuses last season.

Football

Besides Morris, tight end Don Hasselback was the only other veteran not to report to the Giants' camp. He has an injured hamstring and is expected to retire. The Giants also signed one of their four second-round picks, safety Greg Lasker.

In Miami, Dan Marino said a repeat of his training camp walkout of a year ago is unlikely, although little has changed in his contract situation with the Dolphins.

Marino reported to the Dolphins' training camp at St. Thomas University along with other veterans involved in the passing game. For reporting, he received an $850,000 bonus, which will be paid in three yearly installments of $250,000 and one payment of $100,000 beginning in 1987.

Marino staged a 37-day walkout last summer. Marino's contract expires after this season and he would become a free agent if the Dolphins do not sign him before Feb. 1.

"I doubt it very seriously that I would leave camp," Marino said.

Miss Venezuela To Reign As 1986 Miss Universe

PANAMA CITY, Panama (UPI) — Miss Venezuela, Barbara Palacios Teyde, a brown-eyed, brunette advertising executive, was crowned Miss Universe in a dazzling beauty pageant watched by more than half a billion TV viewers.

Miss USA, Christy Fichtner of Dallas, Texas, finished first runner-up Monday night in the pageant in which 77 national beauty queens competed for the one-year title.

Last year's Miss Universe, Deborah Carthy-Deu of Puerto Rico, placed the crown on Palacios, who cried as she was embraced by other contestants at the conclusion of the ceremony in Panama City.

The world's newest Miss Universe is a 22-year-old from Caracas, where she is an account executive for an advertising agency. Her goal in life is to own her own agency.

Botha Rejects Tutu's Appeals

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — President Pieter Botha met with Bishop Desmond Tutu but rejected his argument that South Africa's crisis was worsening, saying the 5-week-old state of emergency has helped stabilize the country.

During the meeting Monday, Botha refused Tutu's requests to lift the state of emergency and release jailed black activists.

"The state president did not agree with me that the situation was deteriorating," Tutu, archbishop-elect of the country's 2 million Anglicans and a leading opponent of Pretoria's racial policies, told reporters after the meeting with Botha.

The meeting marked only the second time the Nobel Peace Prize laureate and Botha had met.

Editor: Chinese Point Made

PEKING (UPI) — New York Times Executive Editor A.M. Rosenthal told the Foreign Ministry today that Chinese security officials have "made their point" and should free jailed Times correspondent John Burns.

"If the Chinese are trying to prove that they don't want foreign journalists running around in closed areas, then they have made their point," Rosenthal said as Burns spent his sixth day in custody on suspicion of gathering intelligence in a forbidden region of central China.

Rosenthal met for about 35 minutes today with Foreign Ministry Information Department Deputy Director Li Zhaoxing, who said China was abiding by its own legal processes in the case.

Asked if he was satisfied with the outcome of the meeting, Rosenthal said: "I won't be satisfied with anything until John Burns is released."

Syria Severs Morocco Relations

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Syria said today it was severing relations with Morocco and accused King Hassan II of treason for receiving Israeli Prime Minister Shimon Peres on Moroccan territory, state-run Damascus radio said.

The official radio quoted an unnamed Syrian official as saying, "Syria decided to cut all kinds of relations with the Moroccan kingdom."

The official asked other Arab governments to follow suit. "We ask all Arab governments to adopt measures in line with their national commitments and principles."

Gunpoint Abduction Had Witnesses

Sanford Man Faces Kidnap Charge

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A 27-year-old Sanford man faces kidnapping and other charges in connection with the alleged abduction of a 24-year-old Sanford woman who reportedly had his cassette recorder.

Sandra McGill Thomas, of Canna Drive, was abducted in the parking lot of the McAllister Motel on Southwest Road in Sanford where she had been in Room 21. At about 7:20 p.m. Monday, a Seminole County sheriff's report said, Ms. Thomas was in the parking lot when a man drove up and called her to his car.

Witnesses who reported the abduction told deputies that the suspect pulled a handgun and ordered Ms. Thomas into his car. When she began to yell for help the man allegedly shoved her into the maroon Camaro and fled south on Southwest Road, the report said.

Witnesses Charles Edward Spain, 38, of Sanford, and Oscar Watson, 51, a resident of the motel, gave deputies a description of the suspect's car and identified him, the report said.

In the meantime, the suspect took Ms. Thomas east on State Road 46, toward Mims, and stopped at her father's home. She later told deputies the man had accused her of stealing his cassette recorder and he wanted it back.

He blew the horn of the car several times and got no response at the home, the report said.

When he pulled up at the home the suspect put his gun inside the console of the car and at one point Ms. Thomas, who later said she feared she would be shot, grabbed the gun. They struggled over the weapon which fired one shot into the console, the report said.

The suspect hit her in the face with his hand, cutting her lip. The man drove back onto State Road 46 and pushed Ms. Thomas from the car into a ditch. She walked home, where sheriff's investigators were.

At about 8:45 p.m. a sheriff's deputy spotted the suspect's car at 719 Willow Ave. in Sanford, and the suspect came out of his home, got in the car and drove east on Celery Avenue, a report said.

Archie G. Young, 28, of 719 Willow Ave., was arrested at the Lil' Champ on Celery Avenue.

A small caliber handgun with a spent shell in the chamber and five live rounds in the clip was reportedly found in his possession.

He has been charged with kidnapping, aggravated assault, possession of a firearm in a felony, possession of a concealed firearm and battery. He was being held without bond in the Seminole County jail.

room under penalty of law. You are immediately impressed with the seriousness of your testimony, which makes people think twice before trying to mislead anybody," he said.

He said grand juries are used in the 18th Circuit to deliver murder indictments, look into shootings by law enforcement officers and some investigative work regarding drug trafficking.

He said there has been some success in the circuit by using the powers of a grand jury to get testimony from those involved in the illegal drug trade.

Wolfinger said the decision of the grand jury also helps his office measure what the community feels about various incidents.

Wolfinger said he has been very satisfied with the grand juries in the circuit. His only complaint was that they have been meeting in inadequate rooms at the Seminole County Courthouse because of construction.

He said they have had to meet in less than soundproof rooms (that let loud outside noises in) and have had to meet in a variety of places in the courthouse.

Grand jurors are picked from the same pool of registered voters that petty juries are selected. Two grand juries are selected a year in Seminole Circuit Court. The current grand jury was seated in April with its 18 members chosen out of a pool of 195 people. The grand juries are selected before all other juries. Another grand jury will be selected in November.

This week the grand jury indicted a Longwood man on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the shooting death of a 7-year-old boy.

The grand jury almost did not return the indictment because it had just enough people legally to hear testimony, that is, 15 jurors. One less person and the hearing would have had to have been rescheduled. In recent years, only one grand jury hearing has had to be rescheduled because not enough jurors showed up.

The law requires that a grand jury hearing testimony have at least 15 people present and no more than 18. It takes 12 votes to return an indictment.

They are paid the same as regular jurors, $10 a day and 14 cents a mile.

1984, thus the 180-day clock did not start until April when he was arrested.

Gordon argued that he cannot prepare a proper defense against entrapment because of the time lapse and fading memories. Leffler denied that lack asking at what point does this type of problem begin.

Gordon also argued that he was denied due process. Assistant State Attorney William Cato argued that Gordon went out of his way to avoid prosecution and therefore contributed to his lack of due process, if it exists.

Those are some of the issue the appeals court will consider.

If convicted, Gordon could receive up to 3½ years in prison.

...Rejects

Board member Joe Williams said, "This is an opportunity to give something back to the taxpayers."

Board member Pat Telson then made the motion to approve Hughes alternative recommendation to use the contingency fund money, which was unanimously adopted.

To the Seminole County taxpayer, the proposed action, which will be the subject of a public budget hearing July 28, means an overall school property tax increase of a penny per $1,000 of property valuation this year, but an increase of at least 31-cents per $1,000 the following year.

The 1985-86 total school property tax rate was $7.43 per $1,000 assessed property valuation. The proposed 1986-87 rate will be $7.44.

If the board would have opted to fund the two project additions with money from capital projects taxation, school property tax would have increased to $7.75 per $1,000. Under the financing proposal, the $105 million bond issue debt service would have been $1.18 per $1,000 of property valuation, and the Lake Howell and Lake Brantley project additions would have been paid for from a 31-cent per $1,000 capital projects levy, adding up to $1.50, the same as last year's capital projects tax rate. Since the 31-cent levy was thrown out by the board, the overall tax rate for county schools will rise only by a penny this year, but the following year, when the bond issue debt service rises from $1.18 per $1,000 property valuation to the ceiling of $1.50, a tax increase of 31-cents per $1,000 is guaranteed.

The likelihood of that happening concerned board chairman Nancy Warren, who said next year, the taxpayers won't remember this year's capital improvement tax rate cut.

Debt service on the bond issue for 1986-87 had been projected to be $1.50 per $1,000 of property valuation, but was dropped to $1.18, because of the late bond issue sale, and resulting lower interest rate payment, according to schools finance director Carey E. Ferrell. The 31-cent difference was the issue of discussion when considering where the Lake Brantley and Lake Howell high funds would originate. Using the 31-cent cushion was rejected by the board, which decided to go into the $5 million bond issue reserve, which was set aside for such cases. Some board members expressed concern over dipping into the reserve money so early in phase one of the three-phase construction program, in which all county schools are involved.

But Ferrell said he projects interest on bond issue money will generate about $13 million more, building the reserve account to at least $18 million over the next three years.

The proposed 1986-87 school operating budget of $127,776,377 represents a 12.7 percent increase of $14,440,924 over the 1985-86 budget of $113,335,453, Ferrell said.

The total proposed 1986-87 budget amount is $253,616,147. That amount includes the general operating amount of $127,776,377, food service at $6,372,678, debt service at $7,429,947, and capital projects at $112,037,145.

Here is a break-down of the proposed 1986-87 county school tax rates, which will be discussed in a public budget hearing Monday: (All figures are per $1,000 of property valuation).

- Local state required effort: $5.32.
- Discretionary: 82-cents.
- Capital projects: $0.00.
- Debt service: previous issue, 11-cents; new issue, $1.18.
- Total: $7.445.
- Income generated: $41,277,894.
- The 1985-86 tax rate break-down was:
- Local state required effort: $4.48.
- Discretionary: $1.32.
- Capital projects: $1.50.
- Debt service: previous issue, 12-cents; new issue, $0.00.
- Total: $7.432.
- Income generated: $34,531,871.

Property valuation in Seminole County on which the proposed taxes are based increased to $5,643,642,506 for 1986-87, from $4,890,930,087 in 1985-86.

Drought, Heat Hurt Farmers

By United Press International

The drought and heat wave that has left most of the South gasping now threatens north Florida farmers, who face losing 50 percent of their crops and have already begun to sell off calves and trim their cattle herds.

Florida Agriculture Commissioner Doyle Conner estimated 50 percent of the peanut, corn, soybeans and tobacco crops that are the farming mainstays of the Panhandle will be lost if the drought and accompanying heat wave persists.

He flew over acres of brown in the Panhandle Monday and telephoned U.S. Department of Agriculture Chief Dick Lyng when the plane touched down at Tallahassee.

"We have a very serious condition here," he told him.

Cattle farmers have been the worst hit. The luckiest, those who have been blessed with isolated thunderstorms, managed to harvest just a single crop of hay, where they would have harvested two or three in a normal year.

"All of the pastures are grazed into the soil," said Conner, who faces a loss on his own cattle operations in Jefferson and Leon counties. "Our operation is the driest I've seen in my lifetime."

In some parts of the Panhandle there has been no measurable rainfall since April.

"We're out of grass for our cattle. We need rain terrible bad," said E.D. "Buddy" Neal, a cattleman who runs a market in Chipley and in Dothan, Ala. "We're seeing quite a few cattle marketed that wouldn't be marketed if it wasn't so dry. Most are going to slaughter. That's the end of the trail for them."

"What hay has been cut has immediately been fed to cattle," said Lenzy Scott, director of the Washington County Extension Service.

Conner could not estimate damages but said losses would amount to "many many millions" of dollars and will drive many farmers into bankruptcy.

He will report to Gov. Bob Graham, who may request federal disaster assistance later this week. The only available assistance comes through low-interest loans. These are unlikely to help most farmers, who are already heavily in debt, Conner said.

A federal program to supply grain at 75 percent of cost has been held up in Florida, because there must be a disaster declaration before the state can seek federal assistance to transport the grain.

Other farmers face nearly comparable lean times.

"Without substantial rain in the next 30 days — three or four inches in a 24-hour period — we're looking at total disaster," said Okaloosa County farmer Frank Ray, former president of the American Soybean Association.

In Washington County, 40 percent of the stock ponds have dried up, and farmers were unable to plant sweet potatoes because the soil is too dry. There has not been enough rain to produce fruit.

Families Mean What They Say But Don't Say What They Mean

DEAR ABBY: I never thought the day would come when I'd have a contribution to the Dear Abby column, but you asked for amusing code signals.

Years ago, when I was taking care of neighborhood children, to let them know their zippers were down, I'd say "XYZ" (for "examine your zipper"). They caught on quickly and zipped up, and soon were on their way to play again. This is not an original. It was around when I was a kid.

ELIZABETH M. WEYFORTH, ST. JAMES CITY, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: I'm still laughing about how to subtly make a male aware that his zipper was open.

I'm an immigrant from the "old country" and was brought up on Shakespeare. In our family, we'd say, "Ah, woe is me" — the rest of the phrase, "for I am undone," was of course, unnecessary.

DENISE HIGGINS, FAIRPORT, N.Y.

DEAR ABBY: If we are on the phone while someone is present and we can't talk openly, we say, "64." That means, "Ask questions that can be answered with 'yes' or 'no.'" (It comes from "The $64,000 Question.")

And when we want to signal "You're talking too much," we say, "Edith." That's from Archie Bunker's famous phrase, "Stifle yourself, Edith."

Dear Abby

SYLVIA GILLIS, EUGENE, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have a special code we use when it's time for us to go home. One of us will subtly get the other's attention by lightly tugging our own ear. If things keep going, we'll often tug the other person's ear.

We've found it works quite well and allows us to be discreet at the same time.

MOUNTLAKE TERRACE, WASH.

DEAR ABBY: A very common code phrase to tell a woman her slip is showing is, "It's snowing down south." In my family, if a woman's slip is showing, I say, "Your Saturday is longer than your Sunday."

My wife is fond of dresses with plunging necklines that show a lot of cleavage, and every once in a while if a little too much cleavage is showing, I say "valley," and she readjusts her blouse.

TEXAS READER

DEAR ABBY: During our 40-year marriage, my late husband and I used two codes: a two-toned whistle to attract one another's attention beyond normal speaking range, and the phrase "Don't forget," used in saying goodbye in public or on the telephone. This was shortspeak for, "Don't forget how much I love you."

Just before he sank into his last coma, he opened his eyes and whispered, "Don't forget, Honey." I never have. Sign me...

REMEMBERING IN NEW ORLEANS

DEAR ABBY: Due to rapidly advancing age (we're in our 50s), my husband and I were guilty of repeating a story we've told several times before. Our children (in their 30s) came up with a secret word to let their doddering old parents know we were repeating ourselves. The secret word is "Rumpelstiltskin."

Because my hubby and I refuse to admit that we may be getting senile, we usually finish the story anyway, but at least we know why everybody goes to sleep.

Gary Johnson invites you to get acquainted with his new shop, Comforts of Home

Comforts Of Home Has Antiques And Gift Items

If you are a lover of antiques, crystal, china and collectibles and have not yet discovered the Comforts of Home, you are missing something. Come in and get acquainted with one of Historic Downtown Sanford's newest shops. It is located at 307-A E. First St. (next to Wee Kidds between Palmetto and Sanford avenues).

Gary Johnson, owner, opened his charming shop here three months ago after getting to know a lot of Sanford people while at his former job at the Printing Palace.

His goal is to try to keep prices as low as possible so that you don't have to be rich to start your antique collection.

He is taking good antiques that fit into the style of his shop on consignment and among other things has several items gathered by world traveler Ruth Hamilton for her collection. Among the items for sale suitable for gifts are a beautiful hand-embroidered linen table cloth from Portugal and copper pieces for Iran.

At Comforts of Home you will find beautiful Mikasa crystal and china at 50 percent below retail price.

Gary has recently received a shipment of hand crocheted doilies from Minnesota and exquisite Chokin art collectibles from Japan made of gold, silver and copper. Some of the other items at Comforts of Home include a round oak table, Windsor back chairs, wool hooked Shumacher rugs, lamps, a Hoozier cabinet, an oak gate-leg table, a wicker sofa, an 1811 captain's trunk with original hardware, and a handcarved sideboard from Germany with marble top.

Gary is a dealer for Frankoma Pottery made in Oklahoma since 1933. Frankoma Pottery is manufactured by a unique once-fired process — clay body and colored glaze are fused and fired at the maturing point of the clay and tempered as it slowly cools. It can be used "in-doors and outdoors" because of its ruggedness and durability. It can really "take," everyday use. It can be used in the dishwasher and is ovenproof and microwave proof. Food can be served in the same dish in which it is baked or prepared and can even be put in the freezer. It comes in bright colors, as well as earth tones, and is available in 20-piece starter sets for four or a 45-piece set for eight.

If you are looking for a certain item, Gary keeps a record and will call you when something you may be interested in comes in to the shop.

Comforts of Home is open Tuesday and Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Gift wrapping and layaway are available. Visa and MasterCard are welcome.

'Strategic Alliance' Thriving

By Katsumi Matsubara
NEW YORK (UPI) — "Strategic alliance" has become a buzz word in the U.S. venture capital industry.
Large corporations increasingly have made strategic direct investments in small venture-backed companies which are mostly accompanied by some other type of business relationship.
The number of such investments rose from 60 in 1981 to 100 in 1982, 150 in 1983, 195 in 1984 and 245 in 1985, said Mark Radtke, vice president of Boston-based Venture Economics Inc. which tracks the venture capital industry.

Strategic alliance typically involves a large company taking a minority equity position on the order of 10 to 15 percent in a small company and is coupled with a private business agreement for licensing, new product development or sales and marketing, Radtke said.
"Large companies get access to new products or technologies and small companies get access to capital and market, so there is a very nice working relationship," he said.

Rockwell International Corp. allied with Micro Linear Corp. in linear large-scale integrated circuits; Hewlett-Packard Co. with Santa Barbara Labs Inc. in executive office automation systems; and General Motors Corp. with Etak Inc. in computer-controlled automobile navigation systems.

Strategic alliance can lead to acquisitions. Radtke said acquisitions of small venture-backed companies totaled 32 in 1981, 40 in 1982, 49 in 1983, 86 in 1984 and 101 in 1985.

Large corporations consider these companies attractive partners because they are evaluated by venture professionals who select high-quality management and innovative products in growing market niches.

"We see a tremendous increase of interest on the part of industrial corporations using venture capital for their new business development efforts," Radtke said.

Pension funds, insurance companies and individuals invest in venture capital funds in the hope of capital gains when their investment portfolio ventures go public.

Radtke said most corporate interest in the industry involves strategic objectives. Industrial corporations have increased investment in venture funds and they have founded their own funds that Radtke called "captive venture capital programs."

The number of such programs increased from 28 in 1981 to 61 in 1985, he said, adding that 50 of the 61 programs had strategic objectives.

Venture capitalists see partnering with large companies as a mean to engineer successful growth of their portfolio ventures and maximize return on investment.

"Corporate partnering, or strategic alliance, has become a buzz word in the venture capital industry," said George Kalan, a venture capitalist.

Kalan manages "Orion I" venture capital fund which Vista Ventures Inc. and Mitsui & Co., a giant Japanese trading company, founded last year for international partnering.

The 21 investors in the fund include Mitsui, its U.S. subsidiary and 11 Japanese manufacturing firms which Kalan said can help U.S. ventures get international markets in a very early stage of development.

Kalan said he has received a substantial number of business plans, indicating the interest among U.S. entrepreneurs in partnering with Japanese concerns.

"Several serious joint venture discussions are already in progress between Orion Japanese investors and portfolio companies," he said.

The growth of strategic alliance coincided with the rapid expansion of the U.S. venture capital industry since the late 1970s, which enabled entrepreneurial companies to attract greater financial resources and have an impact on a wide range of industries.

Venture Economics said the total venture capital pool in the United States rose to $19.6 billion in 1985 from $4.5 billion in 1980.

Venture capitalists and entrepreneurs now are worrying about the proposed tax overhaul which would eliminate capital gains tax preferences and raise the top tax rate on such gains from 20 percent to 27 percent.

"This could have a very serious impact on the venture capital industry," Radtke warned.

Waiting to serve you at All Small Car Parts are, left to right, Kathy Thompson, Kim Perkins, Randy and Sue Thompson

All Small Car Parts Offers Quality Parts And Service

All Small Car Parts, located next to the Highway 17-92 entrance of the K-Mart Plaza, specializes in parts for imported and small domestic cars. They carry original-equipment quality parts imported from the countries where the cars are made. All Small Car Parts is the authorized distributor of Vera Imported Parts, imported directly from 300 overseas manufacturers.

The store is owned and operated by Randy and Sue Thompson, who are assisted by their daughter, Kathy, and Kim Perkins. Randy first came to Sanford 20 years ago with the U.S. Navy.

After getting married to a local girl (formerly Sue Davidson), Sanford became home for good. Upon his return to civilian life, Randy went back into the auto parts business as a manufacturer's representative specializing in the import parts market. Of Randy's 16 years experience in the automotive aftermarket, ten years were spent with Bosch of Germany.

Experience and resourcefulness are the key ingredients at All Small Car Parts. In addition to the full coverage offered by Vera, other brand names such as Bosch, KYB Shocks, Lucas, and NGK spark plugs are in stock. "Contacts established over the years have really helped us in meeting our customers' needs. We are on the phones daily to New York and California sourcing difficult to get parts. Service is the name of the game. We try hard to help our customers."

Hours of operation are from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays, and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. Master Card and Visa are accepted, along with approved personal checks.

Stop in soon and visit the friendly folks at All Small Car Parts, or call 323-7200 for price quote. They are anxious to make you another of their satisfied customers.

Credit Card War Spreads

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — Beginning Monday, Bank of New England-Old Colony will slash its credit card rate to 12 percent, undercutting rates offered by the three major Rhode Island banks by about 6 percentage points.

The bank is offering the 12 percent fixed rate on its VISA card to existing and new customers until Jan. 21. On that date, the rate will be reviewed, but will not rise above 15.72 percent, bank spokesmen said.

Another subsidiary of the Bank of New England Corp., Connecticut Bank and Trust Corp., was the first to slash its rate, sparking a card war in which four major Connecticut banks cut their rates to 11.6 percent.

Credit card customers who do not pay off their balances monthly have an average balance of $750, according to the Nilson Report, a trade publication.

A customer now paying 18 percent on a credit card balance of $750 would save about $45 a year on interest charges on a 12 percent rate.

Rhode Island-based Fleet National Bank and Citizens Bank currently charge 18 percent on their fixed rate credit cards. Hospital Trust charges 17.8 percent. It is estimated that Old Colony now has about 3 percent of the Rhode Island market.

Scientists Demonstrate First Free-Standing Computer Image

By Rob Stein
UPI Science Writer
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — Scientists today demonstrated the first free-standing three-dimensional image generated by a computer, a technique they hope will have wide applications in design, architecture and medicine.

Using lasers, computers and special holographic film, the researchers generated a three-dimensional image of an automobile that appeared to be floating free in space. "You have a two-dimensional image on a computer screen and you can rotate it to give a three-dimensional perspective but you can never really see it as a solid," said Stephen Benton, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology researcher who headed the team that developed the new technology.

"Using our system, the image is completely projected into space, suspended, floating in front of the observer," Benton said. "You get a real sense of what it's going to look like." For the demonstration, the researchers produced a three-dimensional, solid-looking image of a Chevrolet Camaro, 9 inches long and 4 inches high, floating in space. Within 10 years, the new technology should be available for a wide variety of applications, Benton said.

Car designers could eliminate the need for carving clay models of proposed designs. Architects should be able to show buildings in three dimensions instead of on the drawing board. Surgeons should be able to examine images of the body before operating.

The new technology was developed at MIT's Media Laboratory as part of a three-year $450,000 project funded primarily by the General Motors Corp. The image is created by using a computer to develop at least 960 views of the subject. Each view is recorded on 35mm film and then burned into special holographic film using lasers. Next, the film is formed into a cylindrical shape.

There is a tremendous need in central Florida for night-time entertainment," Michael Eisner, chairman and chief executive officer of the Walt Disney Co., said Monday. Disney's answer to the void in adult entertainment is to "float" seven clubs and five food outlets — each with a different theme — on six acres adjacent to the Empress Lilly paddlewheel "boat" restaurant on the Buena Vista Lagoon in the Walt Disney World Village.

Pleasure Island is scheduled to be completed in the spring of 1988 at an undisclosed cost. Announcement of the Pleasure Island project came four days after Disney reported record company third-quarter net earnings of more than $79 million, largely credited by Disney officials to an 18 percent increase in revenues from Disneyland and Disney World.

A Videopolis Cafe like the one at Disneyland in Anaheim, Calif., will cater to the under-21 crowd, serving only non-alcoholic beverages. Other clubs will be Madison's Dive, a "seaside" saloon named for the mermaid in Disney's hit movie "Splash," the Mannequin Dance Theater, with changing themes, and the Zephyr Rocknrolladrome, a multilevel lounge with roller rink and disco.

The Adventurers' Club, a sort of haunted house bar, Bloom's Jazz Garden, a high-tech lounge in a garden setting, and the Comedy Warehouse, with improvisational acts and stand-up comedians, complete the list.

When a laser is sent through the film from behind, the images are projected about 4 feet out in front of the film to form the free-standing representation. The researchers hope to improve the technology to produce full-color images and make the system faster. It takes a week to convert a computer image into a hologram. "Holographic technology is about where photography was in the 1860s. What we're trying to do is prove that something can be done and then find the best way to do it," Benton said. "Perhaps some day these images will come out of laser-age copying machines for a few dollars a piece."

When a laser is sent through the film from behind, the images are projected about 4 feet out in front of the film to form the free-standing representation. The researchers hope to improve the technology to produce full-color images and make the system faster. It takes a week to convert a computer image into a hologram. "Holographic technology is about where photography was in the 1860s. What we're trying to do is prove that something can be done and then find the best way to do it," Benton said. "Perhaps some day these images will come out of laser-age copying machines for a few dollars a piece."

Car designers could eliminate the need for carving clay models of proposed designs. Architects should be able to show buildings in three dimensions instead of on the drawing board. Surgeons should be able to examine images of the body before operating.

The new technology was developed at MIT's Media Laboratory as part of a three-year $450,000 project funded primarily by the General Motors Corp. The image is created by using a computer to develop at least 960 views of the subject. Each view is recorded on 35mm film and then burned into special holographic film using lasers. Next, the film is formed into a cylindrical shape.

There is a tremendous need in central Florida for night-time entertainment," Michael Eisner, chairman and chief executive officer of the Walt Disney Co., said Monday. Disney's answer to the void in adult entertainment is to "float" seven clubs and five food outlets — each with a different theme — on six acres adjacent to the Empress Lilly paddlewheel "boat" restaurant on the Buena Vista Lagoon in the Walt Disney World Village.

Pleasure Island is scheduled to be completed in the spring of 1988 at an undisclosed cost. Announcement of the Pleasure Island project came four days after Disney reported record company third-quarter net earnings of more than $79 million, largely credited by Disney officials to an 18 percent increase in revenues from Disneyland and Disney World.

A Videopolis Cafe like the one at Disneyland in Anaheim, Calif., will cater to the under-21 crowd, serving only non-alcoholic beverages. Other clubs will be Madison's Dive, a "seaside" saloon named for the mermaid in Disney's hit movie "Splash," the Mannequin Dance Theater, with changing themes, and the Zephyr Rocknrolladrome, a multilevel lounge with roller rink and disco.

Pediatric Neurologist Should Be Consulted

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My 4-year-old started to wet himself. A urologist said he had a reflux that might or might not be serious. The doctor also said to take him off sweets and caffeine, since he was hyperactive. That has helped a lot. Should I pursue this reflux matter and, if so, with what kind of specialist?

DEAR DR. GOTT — If your child is truly hyperactive, he should be examined by a pediatric neurologist, because the urinary problem is only one of many difficulties common to the syndrome. These include short attention span, emotional instability and difficulty with coordination, vision, memory and language. Does your son's pediatrician believe that some tensions and stresses at home might have caused your son to start wetting himself? This type of behavior can be the result of periods of anxiety.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Ten years ago I was told I had a high level of salicylates in my blood. What does this mean?

DEAR DR. GOTT — Aspirin is salicylic acid; therefore, you must have had a blood test that indicated you had aspirin in your body.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Every time I get a toothache, I also get persistent prickly pain in my side and my toes and ankles swell up. If I press on the gums of the offending tooth, the side pain and swelling ebb away. My dentist thinks that my problem is psychological, but I know I'm not imagining this. I am an exchange student from Africa, so maybe I'm not making myself clearly understood to him.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Perhaps you're not, yet I have no ready explanation for the phenomenon either. Acupuncture has shown that various body parts can be influenced by stimulation of other, distant body parts. I suppose that something of this sort may be operating in your case. In addition, you might be experiencing a peculiar reaction to the pain of the toothache, which disappears when relieved by gum pressure.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My daughter, now 2, was born with

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

Lou Bluhm is an expert not known for extolling his own bridge virtues. He hardly needs to do so, since he has won at least six North American Championships. Last spring he executed a play that I am now giving a name. I call it the Vu-Graph Coup. As serious fans know, play in World Championships and late rounds of National Championships is frequently projected on a screen and isolated from the actual playing area. The viewing apparatus is called Vu-Graph, and it is common for two or three experts to serve as commentators, predicting the bidding, play and probable outcome of each deal. The Vu-Graph Coup occurs when a competing player makes a successful play that is overlooked by the commentators, even though they have the advantage of seeing all four hands of the deal.

Bluhm, declarer at four spades, received a trump lead. East won the ace and continued spades. The commentators now predicted that the contract would fail, for a club to the king and ace would allow West to play a third round of spades. But Lou Bluhm confounded us all. He played the heart ace and trumped a heart, played a diamond to the queen and trumped another heart, played a diamond to the jack and trumped dummy's last heart. Now he played A-K of diamonds. If West ruffed, he would be end-played in clubs. If West discarded, declarer, who now had nine tricks, would get to ruff a club in dummy for his 10th trick. Lou had added to his other distinguished credits by executing the Vu-Graph Coup.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JULY 23, 1966

Presently, you are a realist in many areas. However, in the year ahead, you will mature in this direction even further. You will derive personal benefits from your new-found pragmatism.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A joint venture you're engaged in should work out reasonably well for you today, even though you won't get everything you hoped for.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Issues that you take seriously today may not be considered as gravely by others. Keep this in mind if you want harmony in your relationships.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If there is a specific duty that requires your immediate attention today, let nothing deter you. You won't feel right until it's finished.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Strive to appreciate the interests of your companions today. If there is something the majority doesn't want to do, don't try to force them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Early in the day there's a chance the tide of events might flow against you, but by afternoon things will start running in your favor.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You might have to go out of your way to help someone else today. Since there won't be anything in it for you, you may feel a trifle reluctant to do it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Members of your family are not apt to tighten their belts financially today if you set a poor example. They mustn't be expected to scrimp while you squander.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you try to oversell or over-explain a serious matter today, you could defeat your purpose. Say only what is necessary and no more.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll be capable of managing your interests today, but you might have too sympathetic an ear and let others talk you out of what is rightfully yours.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be willing to help your friends today. But don't make them feel obligated to you, even though you'll make certain sacrifices.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) There will be three important objectives you'll be anxious to attain today. Two should come rather easily, but the last may present problems.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Today is not as important as the future. Don't let present developments disturb you. Your benefits will come down the line.
