PRESIDENT HARDING BETTER AND DANGER SEEMS OVER HAS GOOD SLEEP TODAY

STRUGGLING WITH ILLNESS THAT CAUSED CANCELLATION WESTERN TRIP

DOCS ARE HOPEFUL

Think That Crisis Has Passed and Mrs. Harding is Cheered With the Good News

(By The Associated Press)

PRESIDENTIAL HEADQUARTERS, SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—President Harding awoke shortly after 6 o'clock, having had almost normal amount of sleep. His rest which was described as most nearly normal of any during his illness began before 11 o'clock last night.

An informal statement issued at 8 o'clock by General Sawyer said President Harding had spent a "very restful night and his pulse at that hour was one hundred and fourteen, temperature ninety-nine, respiration forty degrees."

These figures represented a decrease in pulse rate and temperature as compared with last previous bulletin, pulse rate being less by two, and temperature one and two-tenths degrees lower. Respiration rate given in each bulletin was the same.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—There was understanding among the presidential party that the Chief Executive and Mrs. Harding would return to San Francisco as soon as physicians would give permission for the president to begin travel. The route east was expected to be via Ogden, Omaha and from Chicago to Washington.

Official statement issued at 10 o'clock by doctors attending the president said he is still much exhausted but maintaining normal buoyancy of spirit. At that hour the chief executive, according to bulletin, was breathing with less labor than previously and there was but little cough.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—At 5 o'clock, President Harding was struggling with illness which last Sunday caused cancellation of plans for western tour, had six hours of what was described as the best sleep since his illness began.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—President Harding is gaining in his fight against illness. His personal physician, Brigadier General Charles E. Sawyer, in an informal statement issued at 11:10 p. m., said his patient was doing well and had just had the best and most natural sleep since his illness set in.

General Sawyer's statement was given newspaper men who met him in the corridor as he started out for a walk, his first moment of recreation since Sunday when the president was brought to San Francisco, now admitted a very ill man.

"I am talking my first vacation," said the general as he and Mrs. Sawyer, both smiling, started for the elevator. The general's demeanor was a marked contrast to the serious expression he wore when he met newspaper men 12 hours before, prior to yesterday's first consultation of physicians.

Improvement had been shown in the president's pulse, temperature, and respiration and also in his eliminative faculties. The latter, the general said, was a highly favorable symptom. The president's temperature at 9 o'clock was 99.3 degrees, pulse 118, the lowest it has been since he was taken ill; respiration 36, a decrease of four from last previous report.

The president's cough has been dissipated, the general said, adding that this was also a very favorable indication. The executive had not coughed for six hours, and there had been no expectation of any consequence in that time, he went on.

The president, on awakening from his sleep which lasted for about one hour, asked for nourishment and was given a glass of milk.

The president's diet at present desired, a glass of milk every two hours and for breakfast, toast and sometimes an egg. The egg noggs, the doctor explained laughingly, were homeopathic—eggs shaken up with milk.

General Sawyer said the president

St. Augustine Murder Solved at Last—the Killer is Caught

Alabama Kid Arrested in Chicago For Murder of "Waco Kid"

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—William Morgan, alias George Williams, and known to wire tappers and prison officials as the "Alabama Kid", was arrested yesterday for the murder of the "Waco Kid" in the dining room of the Granada hotel, St. Augustine, Fla., in March, 1921.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Aug. 1.—The slaying of C. W. Powell, of Waco, Texas, known as the "Waco Kid", for which George Morgan, known as the "Alabama Kid" was arrested in Chicago, was one of the most sensational in the criminal annals of Florida. No clue to the slayer ever was obtained here and no indictment returned.

Powell was slain in the dining room of the hotel Granada here about 11 o'clock on the night of March 21, 1921. In the dining room at the time, it was reported more than a score of men were playing bridge. When the police arrived, however, the room was deserted, except for the "Waco" who held during the following day but none of the men reported to have been in the room at the time of the killing could be located. The verdict was that Powell's death was caused by gun shot wounds inflicted by "unknown person or persons." He was shot four times.

After Powell's body had been removed a note was found in the dining room reading: "Don't let the sun shine on you. Shoot it tomorrow." It was signed "K. K. K." Officers expressed the belief at the time that the note was "planted" after the tragedy. Powell formerly owned a string of race horses.

Correct this sentence: "I have seventeen keys on my ring," said the man, "and I know what each of them is for."

GENERAL CHANG TO ABOLISH LAND RIGHTS

Of the Railways Ceded to Russia Under Old Treaties

(By The Associated Press)
HAIHIN, China, Aug. 1.—General Chang Tso-Lin, dictator of three Manchurian provinces, has ordered Chinese authorities to abolish land department of Chinese Eastern Railway and to take over all lands ceded Russia under old treaties. These measures became effective today.

Some reports from the treated cotton fields in Marion county, are fine. Only one man in the Fairfield. And his is the only cotton that is doing anything in the way of putting on and holding a crop.

Orange county poultry raisers are enthusiastic about the contest which will be staged at their regular monthly meeting in August when each member will enter at least one dozen eggs to be judged by experts in poultry.

continued cheerful and listened with interest the reading of "everything" in the papers, even accounts of his illness. They read him everything," he said. "It doesn't seem to hurt him."

"The President is resigned now to the abandonment of his California program," the general went on, to say "though as I have said before, no disappointment that could have come to him could have been greater."

This resignation and determination to make the best of the difficulties besetting him, the general indicated, were powerful factors aiding toward his patient's recovery.

PROHIBITION AGENTS INSTRUCTED NOT TO FIRE ON AUTOMOBILES EXCEPT IN DEFENSE OF LIVES

Federal Prohibition Director of Georgia So Proclaims Today

(By The Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Aug. 1.—In the future prohibition agents will be instructed to fire upon no automobiles except in defense of their lives, Fred Dismuke, director of the federal prohibition forces in Georgia, stated in announcing no government action will be taken against the three West Point youths who wounded one agent and killed another last week when their car was halted on the highway. The youths claimed they thought the agents were highwaymen. In announcing the new policy governing the search of suspected liquor running automobiles, Dismuke said the agents in the future would not search automobiles "promiscuously" and that highways would not be blocked in attempts to stop liquor cars.

KIWANIS WELCOMES VISITORS

Challenge of Rotes Accepted for Another Ball Game Friday

President Sharon called the Kiwanis to order at the Valdez Hotel and in the absence of Rev. Brownlee, Prof. W. T. Lawton invoked the blessing.

The guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. Eudor Carlett, of Geneva, and both expressed their pleasure at the opportunity of meeting with Kiwanis, and told why they loved Seminole county and both eloquently plead for a closer and better feeling between Sanford and the out-lying sections of the county. Their talks were greeted with hearty applause.

R. H. Brasier, of the Orlando Reporter-Star, was another visitor to the Kiwanians were pleased to welcome and he responded with a few appropriate remarks expressing his pleasure to be with them.

Jinkins and Gardner—the two G's—had charge of the entertainment features and certainly did themselves proud when Madames Glenn, Deas, Lenke and Colclough were introduced and responded with a number of old and familiar songs. The entertainment was produced entirely by Sanford talent and was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to the two G's and to the ladies and the latter were invited to meet with their club again when they too could be entertained.

The following communication was read from a former resident of Orlando, who is now residing where the movie stars live:

"1235 Juno St., Hollywood, Calif.
"Mr. Jno. D. Jinkins, Sanford, Fla.
"Dear Sir:

"Referring to our land in Bradley's Addition to Longwood, will say that it is my intention to develop this property when the time is ripe for it. I lived the better part of twelve years in Orlando, Fla., and laid out some subdivisions at Orlando, also at Merritt's Island, opposite Cocoa.

"Florida has a big future, it will be the winter play-ground for the people of the United States and Canada. It also has in certain places, profitable agricultural possibilities. The drawback to Florida is that it has not been properly and fully advertised. Only a few people in the United States and Canada know the state; the majority have only a vague understanding of it. They picture it as a jungle where alligators, swamps, mosquitoes, and malaria abound, a place where we can put in a few months in the winter time but unlivable in summer; of course that is wrong. I know because I have lived there and may live there again. On the advice of my doctor I came to Southern California three years ago. I like it, it is a wonderful place; there is so much of it, everything is so big; business is done in such a big way; the asphalt and cement roads are wide and smooth; you can auto for hundreds and hundreds of miles, through cities, towns, farming sections, canyons and over mountains 6,000 feet high and not one stretch of bad road the entire distance; the scenery is majestic and magnificent.

"California is the most united and best boozed in the country. I have never seen their equal; the nearest approach to them in Florida are

EYE WITNESS TESTIFIES AT GARRETT TRIAL

Saw One Garrett Beating on Minister While Other Was Shooting

(By The Associated Press)

CUMBERLAND COURT HOUSE, Va., Aug. 1.—Shad Wilson, eye witness, testified at the trial of Larkin Garrett today that when he was attracted to the Pierce home by the screaming of women on the day Rev. E. S. Pierce was shot to death, he found Larkin Garrett sitting on the minister beating him in the face while Robert Garrett stood by with pistol in hand. The witness also testified he saw Robert Garrett fire several shots into the minister's body both before and after he fell to the ground. He saw no other shots fired. Witness was positive he did not see Pierce shoot Robert Garrett in the back. J. T. Doadey another eye-witness testified that the only shots he saw fired were by Robert Garrett.

The Orlando people; they are some boosters too, and their prosperous and growing city shows what organized boosting and publicity will do. If the people of Florida had the same public spirit and capital to back them that the Californians have, that property of ours at Longwood situated as it is, on the main road between Sanford and Tampa, would be held at $1,000.00 an acre. When I say that I am not exaggerating, but am making comparisons with the prices of land here in Southern California, situated about the same as that land at Longwood.

"Residential lots outside of the city of Los Angeles, on main thoroughfares, like our property at Longwood, sell up to $2,000 to $20,000 each. Farm land up to $2,000 an acre. Raw land that twenty years ago sold at fifty dollars an acre or thereabouts, and now developed into residential and business property, is worth from $7,500 to $200,000 an acre and in some cases more. The reason for it is that the people here are public spirited, liberal in making public improvements—have the best roads in the country and are splendid advertisers. As a result they have the people coming their way. Los Angeles is growing so fast that in less than 20 years it will be the second largest city in the union.

"But enough about California, let's talk about Florida.

"Florida has not yet gotten fairly started. In some sections it is still as dormant as it was forty years ago. It lacks the push and enthusiasm of California. It has many attractions and advantages that California has not got. When people find that out many of them will go to Florida instead of coming way out here.

"Here are some advantages that Florida has over California:

CLIMATE.—Florida has a milder, more even and better winter climate than California. Here, the rainy weather occurs in winter and there are many damp, chilly days and nights.

RIVERS.—Florida has hundreds of miles of navigable rivers, the banks of which are lined with beautiful foliage found in tropical countries only. On these rivers one can sail from one end of the state to the other, North, South, east and west, either by yacht, sail boat, house boat or canoe with perfect safety. California has hardly any navigable rivers, none here in the Southern part of the state.

SMALLEST COTTON STOCK CARRIED OVER IN YEARS SINCE COTTON WAS KING

Meeting of Growers-Shippers at Orlando Be Well Attended

Be Well Attended Held in Court House On Friday of This Week

ORLANDO, Aug. 1.—Indications are that the meeting of the Florida growers and shippers scheduled to be held in the circuit court room Friday, August 3 will be very largely attended, according to Frank Kby Anderson of the American Fruit Growers Inc., acting chairman of the transportation committee of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce. It is believed that the attendance of shippers will represent something like ninety-eight per cent of the citrus fruit and vegetable tonnage which moves from the state. In addition, it is expected a large number of prominent growers, who do not handle the shipping of their own fruit, will be on hand, as well as delegations from a number of chambers of commerce and boards of trade.

The purpose of the meeting will be for the growers and shippers to lay plans to combat the proposed increases in refrigeration rates and the movement for a three-hoop citrus box proposed by transportation interests. The meeting will be a closed one, confined exclusively to growers and shippers. Representatives of the railroads have not been invited.

In addition to the work of the meeting as previously indicated, which was specified in the call for the meeting sent out by E. D. Dow of the Florida Citrus Exchange, it has been suggested that the meeting perhaps may go further and lay plans for the united action of all Florida shippers looking toward the prosecution of pleas for a substantial general reduction on freight rates covering Florida fruits and vegetables. It is said that without exception every shipper in the state is in favor of the movement, and that all are standing together for the common cause.

THREE BANDITS ROB BANK AND BEAT CASHIER

Obtain Sixteen Thousand Dollars in Baltimore Bank

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Aug. 1.—Three bandits entered the State Branch Baltimore Trust Company before banking hours this morning, beat Russell Forsyth, paying teller into insensibility and escaped with $16,000 in bills.

"The present season," says Dr. Nowell, "has been, as every farmer knows, a season very unfavorable for cotton. Heavy rains have 'drowned out' the cotton and caused heavy shedding of bolls and squares. Even if there were no boll weevils in the state it would be impossible to make more than a half crop of cotton under such conditions.

"Many treated fields will yield from 400 to 1,000 pounds of seed cotton to the acre. Most untreated fields, on the other hand, present a pitiful sight and their yields in many instances will not be over 50 pounds to the acre. Some will yield nothing at all, the weevils having destroyed away square from the very beginning of the season."

Reports from county agents of the cotton growing counties show uniformly good results from the use of the Florida method of boll weevil control and the agents say that in some localities the only cotton crops that will pay for cost of production are those which have been so treated.

This method of boll weevil control will be fully explained and illustrated at the Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Week at the University of Florida here, August 6-11.

ANNOUNCED IN ANNUAL REPORT OF AUGUST 1ST ISSUED TODAY

BY N. O. EXCHANGE

World's Carryover of Cotton in Placed at 2,573,000 Bales as Against 4,879,000 Last Year

(By The Associated Press)
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1.—The smallest carry-over of cotton into the new cotton year since the south became important producer of staple, was announced in the annual report of August 1, issued today by the New Orleans cotton exchange through Secretary Hester. The world's carry-over of American cotton was placed at two million five hundred seventy-three thousand bales against four million eight hundred seventy-nine thousand bales a year ago, the report added.

Consumption of American cotton during the year ending yesterday placed at twelve million six hundred thirty-one thousand bales against twenty-nine million eight hundred twenty-nine thousand during preceding years.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Cotton production this year forecast at eleven million five hundred and sixteen thousand bales from its condition July 25, which was sixty-seven and two-tenths per cent normal, the department of agriculture announced. July 25 condition indicates yield about one hundred forty-three and nine-tenths pounds per acre. Condition in Florida fifty-two per cent normal.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 1.—Government cotton crop condition report of sixty-seven and two-tenths per cent normal with indicated yield only of eleven million five hundred and sixteen thousand bales resulted in raise of more than six dollars a bus on New Orleans cotton exchange today.

Boll Weevil Control Has Been Successful Thronut Florida

Plant Commissioner Nowell Says Florida Method is Successful

GAINESVILLE, Aug. 1.—"The Florida method of boll weevil control making good throughout the cotton section of Florida."

This is the declaration of Plant Commissioner Wilton Nowell after a trip through several north Florida counties where he personally examined many of the fields treated by this method as well as many more that were not. It will be remembered that this method of weevil control was developed through the experimental work of the State Plant Board during 1922.

"The present season," says Dr. Nowell, "has been, as every farmer knows, a season very unfavorable for cotton. Heavy rains have 'drowned out' the cotton and caused heavy shedding of bolls and squares. Even if there were no boll weevils in the state it would be impossible to make more than a half crop of cotton under such conditions.

Rotary Club Challenges Kiwanis to Another Ball Game for Next Friday

The Rotary Club feeling keenly the defeat of last Friday and also feeling that their joints are all right to play another game, have issued the following challenge to the Kiwanis Club:

The Rotary Club feeling keenly the defeat of last Friday and also feeling that their joints are all right to play another game have issued the following challenge to the Kiwanis Club:

The athletic committee of the Sanford Rotary Club, did this 31st day of July, 1923, unanimously adopt the following resolutions:

Whereas, the Kiwanis Club of Sanford did once upon a time challenge the Rotary Club of Sanford to a series of baseball games, and the Rotary accepted said challenge, and

Whereas, the said Kiwanis gang did administer the said Rotary Club two whippings out of three attempts, and

Whereas, the Rotary Club lost their two games both on days in which mud and water played a prominent factor and

Whereas, Ralph Stevens is a spitball artist and cannot work on rainy days, and

Whereas, this being the case, said ball games were lost by the Rotas on account of rain and mud, and

Whereas, the Rotary Club believes they have what it takes to give the Kiwanis Club several good kickings, and

Whereas, Doctors Puleston, Stevens, Langley, Marshall, Tolar, Langley and Aldrich are of the opinion that all these old heads will be just as sore (speaking of limbs) when they play again if they wait too long, and

Whereas, Resbro and Bob Newman say they are limbered up now more than they have been during the past forty-three years, therefore,

Be It Resolved, that we the committee in charge of the Rotas side of it, do hereby, in regular session, challenge the Kiwanis Club, to another series of ball games, said series, to consist of three games.

Be It Further Resolved, that should the Rotas win the best out of three games, then the entire series stands a tie and that one extra game be played to decide it.

Be It Further Resolved, that on account of the encampment, next week, that the first of this new series take place this coming Friday afternoon at the same time and place, and the other games to be decided between the two clubs on that date.

And Be It Resolved Some More, that a copy of this resolution be handed Secretary Lloyd of the Kiwanis Club, with the request that he take the matter up at the meeting of the Kiwanis tomorrow, that a copy be published on one of Haynes & Hatfield's blotters, and that a copy be sent to the New York World.

SEMINOLE ATHLETIC CLUB MEET

The regular weekly meeting of the Seminole Athletic Club took place Monday night at Lake Monroe school house. A large membership attended and plans formed for the monster Labor Day celebration of free barbecue, sports, etc., and an attendance of some ten thousand people will be provided for.

Among the many events planned is a baby parade, to which every baby under 2 years of age in Seminole county will be permitted to enter. Style, quality and quantity being the requirements. And the various committees under the direction of Mr. Chas. Bell, Gas Schmidt and Victor Chalk will work overtime to put it over big. If you can do anything in athletics, boy or girl, woman or man, practice up. Whatever you are best in. It will be there for you.

TRUTH SEEKERS MEET.

One of the loveliest monthly meetings of the class was held at the lovely home of Mrs. Franks on the Heights, when the July ladies entertained about thirty members of the class. After a business session the usual social hour was enjoyed by all present the rooms were open en suite and the home was decorated with quantities of roses and lovely zinnias. The class appreciated the kindness of Mrs. Franks for entertaining the class in her home as she is not a member of the Truth Seekers class and for this reason all wish to thank Mrs. Franks many times for being so ray-ally entertained. Miss Gussie Franks gave several beautiful selections, which was enjoyed by every one present. After the social hour these hostesses whose birthday came in July served delicious home made cake and pineapple sherbert.

LOCALS

And it seem to be raining again for a change.

But we shure do miss our daily showers if we fail to get them. They cool off the atmosphere and stop the Rotary-Kiwanis games just at the right time.

This heart must be battered and bruised, and thus the sweet scent will come out. Paul Lake at the Seminole County Banks knows acent.

DeMolay Minstrels will be at the High School Auditorium tomorrow night at 8:15. Good show at popular prices. Come out and help the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Ender Curlett and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Reed of Geneva were among the visitors to the city yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Worthington and family of Jacksonville were in the city today. Mr. Worthington is in the electrical supply business in Jax and has many friends here and in other parts of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dinkel of Longwood were in the city yesterday. Mrs. Dinkel is the correspondent of the Herald at Longwood and chronicles all the local happenings of that prosperous neighborhood.

It is rumored around the city that the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs having rescued several of the members from the ambulance corps will play another game of ball Friday afternoon for charity. It would really be more charitable if they were not allowed to play but you can't stop them.

R. S. Holly returned today from Ellenton and Anna Maria where he accompanied his wife and little son on Saturday. The family will remain at Anna Maria for several weeks.

Pastor Highly Praises "Enemies of Women"

What is one of the greatest tributes ever paid a photograph by a clergyman is that tendered "Enemies of Women" by the Rev. R. Keene Ryan, pastor of the Garfield Boulevard Presbyterian church, Chicago, who after seeing Cosmopolitan's pictorialization of the Ibanez novel at the Roosevelt theatre, Chicago, this week, likened it in moral tone to the great Bible tragedies and urged all pastors to view the picture and make it a basis for talks to followers. The Rev. Ryan said in part:

OMAHA CONFERENCE DISCUSS CUT IN EXPORT WHEAT RATE

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, July 31.—Chief executives of approximately twenty western railroads meeting here Monday to consider the suggestion of a committee of Omaha business men that a twenty-five per cent reduction on export consignments of wheat and flour be put into effect as an emergency measure to stimulate the grain trade adjourned last night without making a definite announcement of their action on the matter.

UNDERWOOD'S RACE PLANS TO BE INDICATED TUESDAY

MONTGOMERY, July 31.—Senator Oscar W. Underwood, of Alabama, prominently mentioned as the possible Democratic nominee for the presidency in 1924, is expected to indicate his position in regard to his candidacy before the Alabama legislature here Tuesday.

Whether or not, however, he will formally test his hat into the ring during his visit here has not been decided, however, is expected to shed strong light on his attitude towards the constantly increasing reports that he will be in the race.

The senator has just returned from an extended tour of Europe and will probably touch on foreign affairs in the Tuesday speech, also.

The senator was greeted at Birmingham Saturday by several thousand persons from all parts of the state, and addressed them, but made no reference to political matters.

Since custom requires men to wear coats, it isn't surprising that the world is pronounced with the accent on the "us."

LESSON IN ROYAL WEDDING

Writer Sees Significance in Nuptials of Union of the Duke of York With a Commoner.

The marriage of the duke of York and Lady Elisabeth Bowes-Lyon was favored with an exceptional degree of that human nature which makes the whole world kin and with something more. It was a noteworthy reminder of the radical contrast between royalty in Great Britain and in some other lands; for example, the states of Germany under the monarchical regime. In one of the latter, Willis Fletcher Johnson writes in the North American Review, such a marriage would have been impossible. It would have had to bemorganatic, the wife forever doomed to a rank inferior to her husband's and her children debarred from the succession. In Great Britain, though one of the oldest and proudest monarchies in the world, it was not only possible but also was not even regarded as extraordinary, and it was as complete and valid as though the bride had been of royal blood. Before the wedding a subject and a commoner, instantly after that ceremony she was a "royal highness," standing in direct and close succession to the throne as the wife of the heir presumptive. The fine tribute to womanhood was obvious, and no less so was the demonstration of the essential unity between sovereign and people. The best American democrats, who justly boast that any native citizen may become president, must appreciate a kingdom in which a subject and commoner may become queen and the son of a commoner may become king and emperor.

ROMANCE OF LOST ATLANTIS

Spanish Scientists Announce That Island Has Been Located Off Coast of That Country.

People who like their science well mixed with romance will be attracted to the announcement of the Spanish academy which says that the lost island of Atlantis has been located off the coast of Spain. Details of this interesting discovery are not yet available to the public, but that will leave the curious all the more room for speculation.

The age and vitality of the story that there was once a great and opulent country somewhere west of the Pillars of Hercules which grew to a magnificence passing all description, and then sunk into the sea has caused more than one geographer to think that somewhere back in the misty past there must have been a solid basis for the legend. Nobody knows how old the story is. Homer knew it, and Plato gave the world a description of the place, but every mention of it, however early, is accompanied by the assurance that the date of the submergence was even then in the remotest past.

Will Horse Become Obsolete?

Disappearance is not too strong a word to use about the horse. The Agriculture department shows that throughout the world the supply of horses has fallen off 11 per cent since 1913. In the United States it was something over 15 per cent. Imports of breeding horses to this country have fallen from 11,000 to 3,000. The Western breeder is not keen to raise horses, for which there is no market and a falling price. A few horses will have to be kept for the zoological gardens and the movies. For the rest we shall have to take it out in studying Rosa Bonheur's pictures and the skeletons in the Museum of Natural History. Before they know it they will be keeping kind old Dobbin in a cage and charging half a dollar to go in and feed him apples—if there are any apples.—New York Herald.

Telephonic Advance.

The marvelous strides being made in the radio world will soon make it possible to talk to Europe by telephone, according to the research engineer of a Newark radio company. It will be the ordinary after-dinner diversion when time pulls, he says, in the near future. "Just lift the receiver and your voice," he declares; "that will be all required to connect you with your friends in Europe. Plans are under way for linking up the telephone and radio in such a way as to make it possible to talk almost anywhere on earth where the two systems reach. One may also talk to friends sailing overseas with the same privacy as the telephone now affords."

Murderer Traced by Handkerchief.

Few murderers escape some penalty or other, even the most careful. A strangling mystery two years old has just been solved by means of a handkerchief the murderer stuffed in the mouth of his victim in her apartment in the Rue des Filatiers, Paris. When a robber was arrested recently for holding up a teller of the Bank of France he gave a previous address in the Rue des Filatiers. The handkerchief was then taken all over France and shown to his relatives and friends. Finally, at Carcassonne, his sister unsuspectingly admitted she had embroidered it for him.

Normal School Students Participate In Health Demonstrations In Order To Insure Health Of Their Pupils

Activities of the Mansfield Child Health Demonstration, an experiment financed by the American Red Cross and being conducted by the American Child Health Association for the purpose of showing what a typical American community can do to improve the physical condition of its youngsters, are not, strangely enough, confined to the boys and girls of this district. This strange paradox is due to the fact that the Demonstration has been successful beyond anticipation. Grown-ups, most of them women college students, are almost continually arriving in Mansfield to observe the Demonstration's work and profit thereby. Among the more recent of these official observers were five students from Western Reserve University, who were sent to Mansfield by their institution for a two-weeks' course in child health. The County Normal training class does even more than this. The entire class of young women, future school teachers, are being instructed by the demonstration in teaching child health subjects to their pupils.

They study their work under the direction of Miss Elma Rood, director of health education for the Demonstration. These normal students attended school in every sense of the word while they were here. They played the games as children play them, with Miss Rood as their instructor and were weighed and examined just as the boys' and girls of Mansfield are. Entering into the spirit of the "Health Game," they acquired training that will prove of great value to them when they take up their duties as teachers.

Twelve Square Miles Set Aside by President Nat'l Reserve in Utah

As the Bryce Canyon National Monument Beautiful Tract.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—When President Harding by his recent proclamation set aside twelve square miles within the Powell National Forest in southern Utah as the Bryce Canyon National Monument, he permanently dedicated to public pleasure and instruction one of the most unique and beautiful geological features in the United States, says the United States department of agriculture.

Delicately and exquisitely chiselled by the forces of nature and with tints ranging from creamy white to buff, the towers and minarets of the canyon stand rank upon rank, presenting to the eye of the beholder as near a realization of some fanciful conception of fairyland as anything of substance or matter can be.

The National Parks Association has described Bryce Canyon as a "niche in the Pink Cliff filled with intricately eroded minarets, gorgeously colored." Its relatively close proximity to the Grand Canyon of the Colorado permits a comparison of the monument with that major example of nature's forces, and many of the people who have viewed both are firm in the belief that of the two, Bryce Canyon is the more beautiful and unique.

At present only the motorist, horseman, or pedestrian can enjoy the beauties of the monument as it is 80 miles from Marysvale, the nearest railroad point, and 27 miles from Panguitch, the nearest town of importance. But the department of agriculture, under whose supervision Bryce Canyon falls, is constructing improved roads in the Powell National Forest in co-operation with the state of Utah, and it is quite probable that in the near future state lines to the canyon will operate regularly.

Summer heat has the same effect on fertile eggs as from the hen or incubator. The fertile germ in hot weather develops into a blood ring which spoils the egg for food or market purposes. Heat is the great enemy of eggs, both fertile and infertile. On this account agricultural experts urge poultry producers in warm weather to keep nests clean and provide one nest for every four fowls, in order that the nests will not be used too often and soil the eggs, to gather eggs twice daily to keep the eggs in a cool place; to market the eggs at least twice a week, and to pen or dispose of all roosters as soon as the hatching season is over.

American motion pictures now lead in most of the countries of the world, even in China, Japan and India.

Mosquitoes So Bad on Tallahassee Sleeper McRae Files Protest

Wants Seaboard to Cut Out Mosquitoes and Big Noises

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, July 31.—Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. McRae has complained to the Seaboard Air Line railroad company that mosquitoes were so bad on the Tallahassee sleeper on the nights of July 24 and July 27 that he could not sleep. "Each morning I was literally forced out of my berth," the letter read, and added that "I feel sure this condition is due largely to carelessness."

The letter follows: "Seaboard Air Line Railroad Co., Jacksonville, Fla. "Gentlemen: "I am writing you with reference to a condition which is very annoying to passengers who come from the East and who take advantage of the sleeping car service to this point.

"To be specific: On the night of Tuesday, July 24, and again on Friday night, July 27, I came into Tallahassee from Jacksonville on the sleeper and the mosquitoes were so fierce that it was impossible for me to sleep, and each morning I was literally forced out of my berth.

"I feel sure this condition is due largely to carelessness.

"Then when I was forced out this morning I found the coach stopped just across the track from the waiting room and two men had been carrying on a conversation so loud and so long that all passengers on that side of the sleeping car were awakened by the noise. Had the car been stopped 150 feet east, the noise would not have been noticed.

"Please understand that this letter is written about something that can be remedied and I know you will appreciate my writing you about it."

The recent eruption of Mt. Etna, the largest active volcano in Europe, destroyed the homes of more than 30,000 people on the island of Sicily, at the south end of Italy. The lava stream was often 50 feet deep, burning everything in its track, while the noise of the explosions with the trembling of the ground made a scene terrifying beyond description. These eruptions come every few years yet 300,000 people live within the zone of danger. Singular to say the lava beds are very fertile, and within a year or two the present field of disaster will again be covered with gardens.

The increased use of automobiles will have its effect on the shoe trade as people will do less walking. There will be a change too in styles of clothing. New diseases will be developed, especially of the eye, owing to glaring headlights and rapid changes of scenes.

Leon County Bids For Fair Grounds Purchase and Equipment

County Commissioners are in Charge of the Entire Project

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, July 31.—County commissioners of Leon county will open bids at a meeting to be held on August 7 for the purchase and equipment of a fair grounds, under authorization of an act of the 1923 legislature. Advertisements now are being run asking for submission of proposed locations. It is hoped by those interested in the project that a decision as to the location will be made soon after the meeting.

Preparations will be discussed at the meeting for the laying out of the fair grounds, and a race track one mile in length, as well as the building of a grand stand, with the view of having the entire plant ready for the fair during the last week in November.

Those in charge of the project believe it is the first instance in the state where county commissioners have been authorized to carry out a scheme of this sort.

The fair this year will be wholly with local talent. Local race horses, both saddle and pacing and trotting will be in the field. Local automobiles also will pit their skill against each other during the five days of the fair.

One of the big features of the event is promised in a proposed pageant depicting the history of Tallahassee. An ode for the occasion will be written and set to music by George E. Miller, local musician and singer of folk songs, of national reputation.

THREE SENTENCED TO DEATH.

(By The Associated Press) DUESSELDORF, July 31.—German newspapers report that Major Zormack and Lieutenant Keller and Knuth, all former policemen in Essen have been sentenced to death by a French court martial at Werden for espionage. The three men are said to have been found guilty of operating a dactylograph near a French officers' villa on that outside of Essen.

Co-operative marketing is making great strides in Georgia. It is almost universally recognized to be the only way a producer of farm products can get what he is justly entitled to. Georgia now has co-operative marketing of cotton, cane syrup, melons, and will soon have one of peanuts; and lastly but not least, the pecan industry has its association—the National Pecan Grower's Exchange at Albany, Ga.

During the slack summer months, when the McCormicks are not doing much, it is easy to have the wolves eat a Canadian trapper.

WHAT ADVERTISING MEANS TO YOU.

Every now and then we like to talk to our merchants about advertising and we like to do it in this way because the subject is of equal interest to the public. Frankly, the interest of the public, the interest of the merchant and the interest of the local newspaper publisher are inseparably linked.

The public always is best served by buying advertised goods. Goods that are advertised are goods that are more extensively manufactured and consequently cheaper because of increased production. Moreover advertising today is a guarantee of merit. No one need be afraid of the honesty of the price or the quality of advertised goods. Competition compels honesty even if there should be a wish to avoid it.

There is another benefit, too, in local newspaper advertising. When advertising is thoughtfully employed it means the building of trade for our local merchants and this reacts in increase in real estate values generally.

A prosperous business section means added population and increased conveniences. The whole scheme of advertising, merchandising and buying is one of co-operation to mutual advantage.

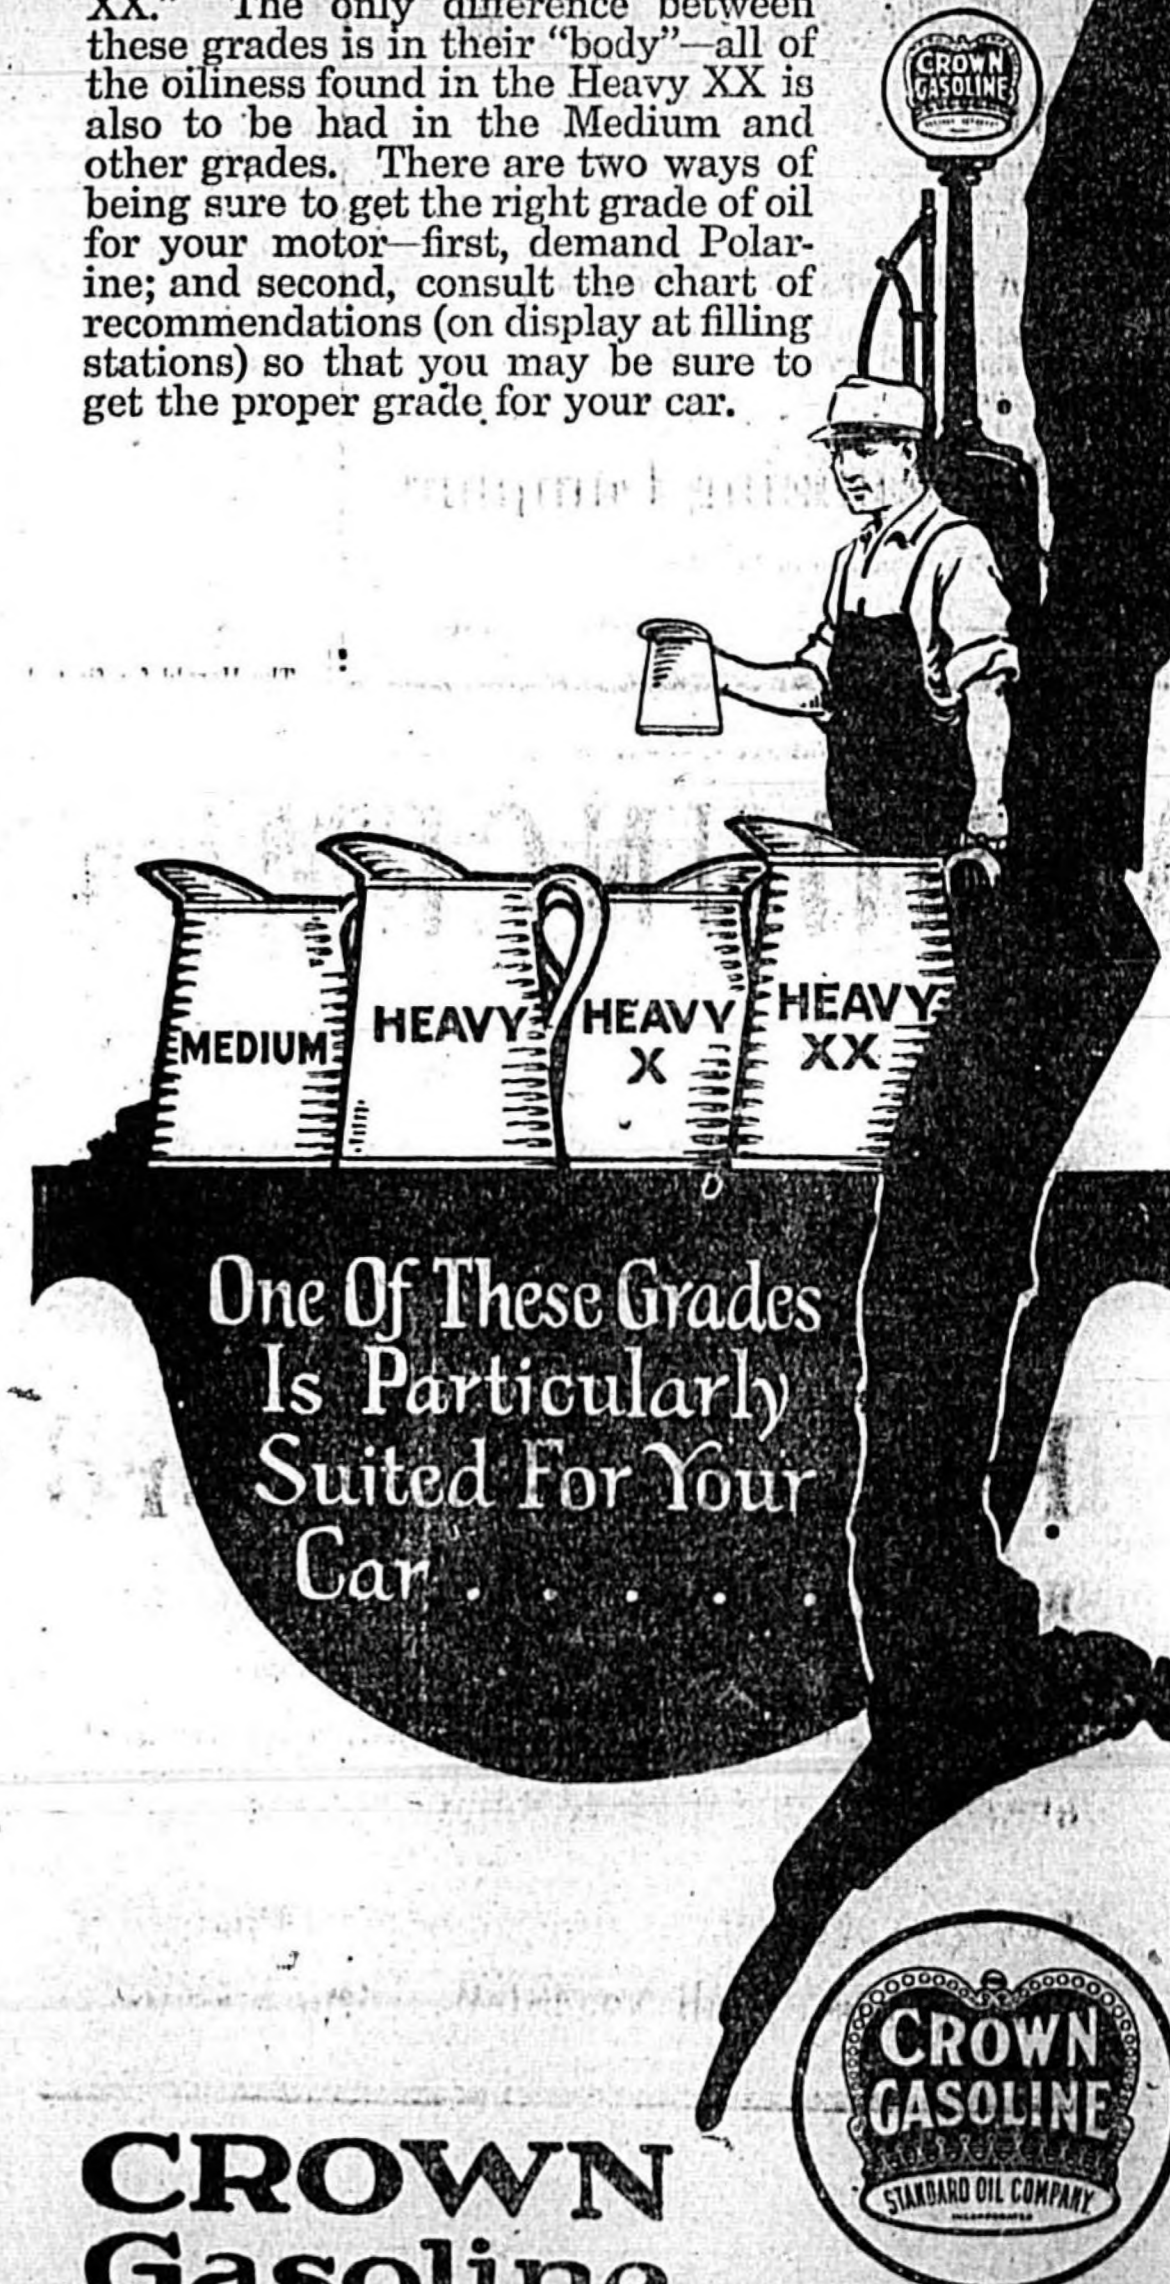

The merchant always wins favorable reaction when he talks, frankly in his advertising to the people and shows them he is dealing honestly with them and making a normal profit.

STANOCOLA Polarine

Is Made In Four Grades

but in only one quality. Different types of motors require different weights of lubricating oil, and in order to supply the finest quality of oil for every motor, Polarine is manufactured in the following weights: "Medium," "Heavy," "Heavy X," and "Heavy XX." The only difference between these grades is in their "body"—all of the oiliness found in the Heavy XX is also to be had in the Medium and other grades. There are two ways of being sure to get the right grade of oil for your motor—first, demand Polarine; and second, consult the chart of recommendations (on display at filling stations) so that you may be sure to get the proper grade for your car.

One Of These Grades Is Particularly Suited For Your Car.

REQUIREMENTS GIVEN FOR MEMBERSHIP IN FEDERAL RESERVE

Officials of the Federal Reserve System in Washington, realizing that recent announcements made by it relative to non-member banks, in accordance with late acts of congress were not fully understood by the banking world generally have elucidated the situation in the following supplementary statement.

Relative to the provision that no state bank applying for membership in the Federal Reserve System can be admitted unless "it possesses a paid up, unimpaired capital of at least 60 per cent of such amount, and under penalty of loss of membership, complies with the rules and regulations herein prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board, fixing the time within which and the method by which the unimpaired capital of such bank will be increased out of net income to equal the capital required," the following information is also given concerning incorporation, capital stock, and other essentials necessary for those already holding membership and those wishing to become members hereafter.

Incorporation—In order to be eligible for membership in a Federal Reserve Bank, a State Bank or Trust Company must have been incorporated under a special or general law of the state or district in which it is located.

Capital stock—Under the terms of Section 9 of the Federal Reserve Act as amended no applying bank can be admitted to membership in a Federal Reserve Bank, unless—

(a) It possesses a paid-up unimpaired capital sufficient to entitle it to become a national banking association in the place where it is situated, under the provisions of the National Bank act, or—

(b) It possesses paid-up unimpaired capital of at least 60 per cent of such amount, and under penalty of loss of membership, complies with the rules and regulations herein prescribed by the Federal Reserve Board, fixing the time within which and the method by which the unimpaired capital of such bank will be increased out of net income to equal the capital required.

In order to become a member of the Federal Reserve System, therefore any state bank or trust company must have a minimum paid-up capital stock at the time it becomes a member as follows: Not exceeding 3,000 inhabitants, minimum capital (A) $25,000; (B) $15,000; exceeding 3,000 but not exceeding 6,000 inhabitants, (a) $50,000, (b) $30,000; exceeding 6,000 but not exceeding 50,000 inhabitants (a) $100,000; (b) $50,000; exceeding 50,000 (a) $200,000; (b) $120,000.—P. FRENCH AND BELGIAN REPARATIONS NOTES RECEIVED IN LONDON

LONDON, July 31.—What were understood to be the French and Belgian replies to the British reparations communication were delivered at the foreign office yesterday by Count de St. Aulaire and Baron Manchur, representing the French and Belgian government who left written but not identical documents with Lord Curzon. The Italian ambassador says the British foreign office but submitted no note.

PARIS, July 31.—The French and Belgian notes, in answer to the British reparations communication were both slightly retouched before being transmitted for their expected delivery in London Monday afternoon. This came as the result of exchanges of views between Paris and Brussels.

It is asserted in well informed quarters that Premier Poincaré's reply is set squarely on the treaty of Versailles and on the Franco-Belgian policy outlined January 11—that negotiations with Germany are impossible until her passive resistance ceases and that the evacuation of the Ruhr is impossible until the payment of reparations is absolutely guaranteed. The Belgian note is in accord with this on two points. It is said, although differing on other features of the reparations question, such as new conferences to fix Germany's capacity to pay.

Those who have seen both notes say the Belgian document is the more constructive in the sense that it goes into methods of settlement, which might prove effective, while the French premier regards a change of attitude on the part of the German government toward the treaty as the first essential and subordinates all proposed new measures for that consideration.

Premier Poincaré is the more argumentative, taking a number of typewritten pages to develop his thesis while Premier Thounis requires only six to formulate his practical suggestions. It is expected in French official circles that considerably more negotiation will be necessary to come to a final decision regarding the reply to Germany proposed by the British, the French and the Belgian replies being regarded as in no wise final.

"Enemies of Women" at the Milane Thursday and Friday

Prince Michael, son of the late Russian Emperor, is a man who, at middle-age, has lived too fully and one for whom there is little left in the way of thrills. His extravagance and escapades in his sumptuous palace in Moscow furnish Europe with gossip.

To one of his spectacular receptions, in 1913, comes Alicia, Duchess de Delle, a noted beauty, whose reputation for amorous adventures rivals his own. Alicia dices Michael to furnish her with a thrill. It comes sooner than Alicia had looked for. A Cossack officer manages to reach the Prince whom he insults. A duel results in which the Cossack is killed and Michael badly wounded. As the Czar has placed a ban on duelling, Alicia, drawn to the blasé Michael, places him in her car and gets him safely out of Russia and into France.

Shortly afterwards, war is declared, and the mobilization of the French army reveals the fact that Alicia has a sixteen-year-old son, Gaston, whose identity she has concealed as a means of keeping secret her age. Gaston comes to her home just at the time Michael is paying her a call. The Prince, in the belief that the boy is a youthful lover of Alicia's, derides and leaves her. When Alicia hears her son tell of his desire to serve France, all her mother love is re-awakened.

Michael hurries to Russia and saves a remnant of his immense fortune from the revolutionists. He escapes to Monte Carlo, where he offers hospitality to four friends who, like himself, have been affected financially by the war. They are Don Mateos, a Spaniard, Attila Castro and Spadoni, a youthful musician. In offering his hospitality, however, Michael makes the stipulation that no woman shall ever be entertained there. In fact, the once internationally famous Don Juan, forms a cult that he styles, "The Enemies of Women."

Alicia loses the last of her fortune on the gaming tables at Monte Carlo, seeking to beat the game that she may send funds to her son in a German prison camp. She appeals to Prince Michael for financial assistance. Michael, still believing that Alicia has a youthful lover to whom she wishes to send money, scorns her. He later visits Alicia and declares his love, but the thought of her son makes Alicia still Michael's ardent embraces. Misconstruing her action and blinded by jealousy of her imagined lover, the prince strikes her.

Alicia receives a telegram, telling of her son's death, and she again flees from the advances of the prince, who once more declares his hate for women and announces he will spend his last coin on the most extravagant party Europe ever witnessed. To this party, staged in the Prince's villa, comes Gaston, erroneously reported dead, now in the intelligence service. He masks his identity under the name of Martinez. Michael and Gaston become involved in a dispute which they determine to settle on the field of honor. Gaston shoots into the ground and the prince, overcome with horror at the thought that he is about to fire upon a man who has fought for him and other slackers, throws his pistol away.

The thought of what he came near doing gives Michael a new perspective on life and he undergoes such a metamorphosis that he joins the French Legion and turns his villa over as a war hospital. He returns from the war to find Alicia giving her services to wounded soldiers and the two seek consolation in each other's love.

TAKE THE LANDS BACK.

In the press dispatches today is a statement that General Wun Lung Lick the Skillet has decided to abolish all land departments of the Chinese Eastern Railway and take over all lands ceded to Russia under the old treaties. This is the way to do business. When railways and canal companies have been ceded lands to do certain things and they take the lands and do not carry out their contract, take the lands back. This is the system that should be practiced in Florida. Maybe we can learn something from the Chinese heathen after all.

The multiplication of job holders indicates that eventually all of us will get a living by collecting taxes from one another. — Anderson (Ind.) Herald.

Simmons has been made chairman of the Live Stock Sanitary Board. We suppose he will advocate Simmons Liver Regulator for the tick fever.

We are glad to note that Lake Monroe will have a big celebration on Labor Day. That is the thing to do. Have our own home celebrations and stay at home once in a while.

The Pensacola News has a burning editorial on "Nuts." Well we could write one on nuts but it is hardly time for us to leave Sanford and we rather like the place.

There is no other climate in the world as fine as Florida's climate. There is no more wonderful place in the world than Florida all the year round and Sanford is the best place in this great state of Florida.

It is with pleasure that the Herald chronicles the condition of our president today. We are glad he is improving. We are glad to note that his physicians are pleased with his condition and that he will soon travel to Washington for a rest and where he will recover from his recent illness and be himself again.

The eyes of the people of this country are on Florida and it behooves the people of Sanford to get busy and advertise our many resources, our big opportunities for investment, our schools, our health record and all the many big inducements for new people to come here and locate.

Over near Titusville they are finding mud in the orange trees and it has a question as to whether they jumped there looking for worms or whether the clouds overhanging rained them down. And then again it is always best to investigate the brand of liquor that the people are drinking in that immediate vicinity.

There must be something in mental telepathy after all. We noted a half dozen state papers yesterday have the same editorial on the same subject word for word and no credit given to any other paper so it was undoubtedly an "original" editorial and the way it was sprung in Florida was certainly very original.

The pictures of those two fellows who killed a minister as published in the Tampa Tribune would influence any jury to hang both of them without leaving the court room. Of course it might be a bad picture or the Tribune may have published a picture of two of the James gang by mistake. We would not misjudge anyone for the world—only the pictures were punk.

It seems that other states are having heavy rains as well as Florida and in Virginia the water is flooding the stores and causing all kinds of damage. Well, up to date we have not had any water in the stores in Florida—especially the country stores—and unless the heavy rains continue the waters will soon recede even in the Everglades. We believe that Florida is the best state in the union right on.

Bill Glenn of the Orlando Sentinel has placed himself in an embarrassing position by writing about the "wayside huggers" and telling about how he "shined" his flashlight on them on the Winter Park Road. Even the newspapers in Georgia are taking up the matter and all of them state in emphatic terms that the "huggers" have a perfect right to hug anywhere and that accidents have never happened to the lovers while in the strangle hold position. And then Bill's wife is away and he has no business "hugging" around looking at other people hugging. Why don't he get busy, well, with his typewriter, we might say and with other things that would distract his attention and detract from his pocket book?

Henry Ford says he is not a candidate now but he may be one tomorrow. Well Henry, old fellow, me lad, the tomorrows never come, don't you know and how in the blooming meadows are we to know just what you intend in the premises. And how can the politicians throw their "support" to you unless they can give you the actual figures of the touch that they want to make before the campaign starts.

Oscar Underwood says that if the people of Alabama want him for president he will shy his Stetson into the political ring and make the race. Well, it is all right to ask the home folks about it first. It may seem strange to hear this in the press dispatches but it is the thing to do. The home folks know more about us than the people living away from home and if Alabama wants Oscar to run for president and will back him to the limit it is a good omen. They know him in Alabama and the opinion of Alabama is all right.

The facts and figures given to the Rotary Club yesterday by Hon. E. A. Douglass were only touching the edges of the great developments here in the past ten years. And if he could have looked ahead ten years and told of the big things that will happen here he would have opened the eyes of his hearers. Seminole county is growing and every city, town and hamlet in it is growing just as other counties in the state are growing. There is not a county in Florida that is not growing.

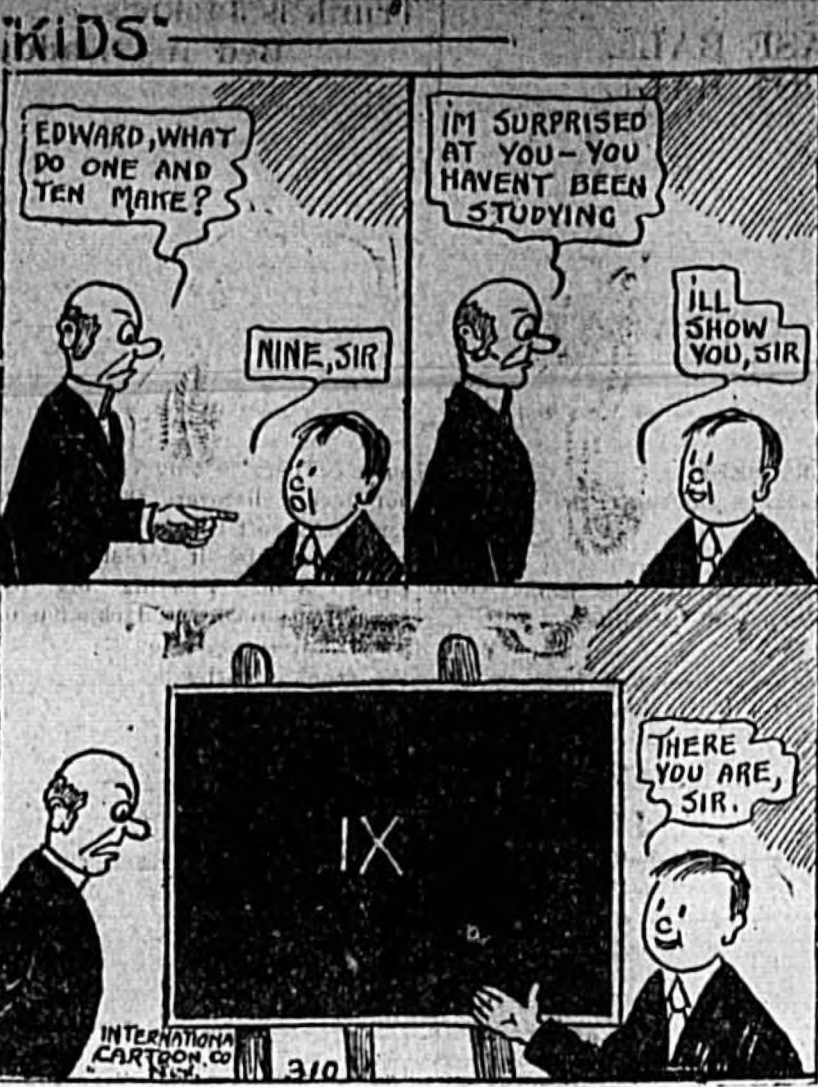

For years the Herald has advocated a packing plant for Sanford that would take care of all the cattle, hogs and sheep for home consumption as well as putting it up for foreign shipments all over the south. Such a plant would solve the question of making cattle pay, it would solve the question of having clean and sanitary meat, such a plant would take care of many of the problems of the cattlemen and the consumer. Read the article in this paper from the Tampa Tribune about the Ft. Lauderdale packing plant. If it will pay in Ft. Lauderdale it will pay in Sanford.

Fellow named Lammie is writing some awful stuff from down the east coast to the northern papers about conditions in the convict camps in which he pictures the awful condition of the convicts even now that Higginbotham has quit his job. Mr Lammie is evidently playing on the prejudices of the northern people who are always ready to believe any tale about Florida but he ought to know that his stuff is old stuff now and that we might get it into our heads to shear a Lammie in Florida on account of the heat.

The Ku Klux Klan is badly needed at Chicago and all through Illinois. Press dispatches say a crowd of negro construction hands near Chicago broke into a hall where the white people were dancing and persisted in dancing with the women present which precipitated in a row and several killings. The only bad feature about the whole affair was that only a few of the negroes were killed and none of them lynched. If a Ku Klux Klan is not needed in that neighborhood then we know nothing about the affairs of the nation. And the white people of the north will think the same about the negro after they have a few more affairs like that above.

Mrs. Alice Foote McDougall of New York says that in looking into the dim and distant future she sees the men doing the housework while the women go forth to battle with the world. It may sound childish but we would like to see them go forth to battle with the world the first of every month when the bills are due and all through the month when the notes are due. We would just like to see them do some of the "battling" and give the men a rest and we really believe we could rest even at home.

Chairman Hooper of the Railway Labor Board says that the labor leaders are responsible for the railway strike of last year. It takes no brilliant mind to guess that part of the story. The labor leaders are responsible for all strikes. The men can vote yes or no but the leaders have the last say and they can say whether the strike is on or off. If you will look back on history you will find the level headed leaders keeping the men out of strikes and the ones with little brains going ahead and striking at the wrong time. As witnesses of this watch the attitude of Warren Stone of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. There is a man who looks ahead. He intends to fight the corporations with a bank of his own, he intends to make the engineers as powerful in finances as the railroads and then he will see that the engineers get a square deal and it will not through strikes.

STATE TAXES HIGHER.

Quite a bit of comment is going the rounds about the state taxes being higher. In the common nature of things taxes would be higher if any improvements are to be made in the state and yet when it simmers down to business there would not have been any changes in the state rolls this year. The state should not be made to pay for tick eradication, the levy should not have been made for the state road department as under the new laws the road department will have some eight millions or more a year for several years without the regular levy in the budget. But even with all this tax the State of Florida has no higher assessment. The big taxes come in the county and city budgets and the mistake is often made by the county tax assessors taking their levy for state and county from the city books. The St. August Record says:

"An official statement from the executive offices of Tallahassee fixed the state millage for 1923 at 11 1/2 mills. This is three-eighths of a mill lower than the figures made public Friday and which were withdrawn late in the afternoon because of the discovery that errors had been made in compiling the information upon which they were based.

"The millage for this year compares with 10 5/8 in 1922. The increase represents a jump of seven-eighths of a mill. Three-eighths of it is accounted for by an increase for general revenue purposes which was boosted from 5/8 to 7/8. The balance is shown in the half mill levied for tick eradication as provided by the 1921 legislature. An increase of 1/4 of a mill for the State Board of Health is offset by a reduction in the prison tax of 1/4 of a mill.

"The millage will produce a revenue of $1,816,657.71 when based upon last year's valuation of $421,418,514. "The statement fixing the millage follows: "The state millage for the year 1923 has been fixed at 11 1/2 mills. The legislature added half a mill for the support of the State Livestock Sanitary Board to be used in tick eradication. Also they added 1/4 mill to the State Board of Health appropriation. These two items have brought the state millage up from 10 5/8 which was the amount for the year 1922, to 11 1/2 mills.

"The tax burdens of Florida are quite heavy but the larger percentage of taxes go to the support of the municipalities, the counties and the various sub-districts. When we consider the low assessment of property in Florida the state millage is not high and of the total taxes collected from the people the amount which goes to the support of the state government is rather small in comparison with that which is paid for county, district and municipal purposes."

BANKERS COMMEND CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING.

Co-operative marketing was the feature of the report of the State Bank Committee of the American Bankers' Association, which was issued at the recent bankers' convention at New York. The committee stated that after an exhaustive survey it was convinced that co-operative marketing, properly conducted, lessens the cost and confusion of transportation and distribution and simplifies the problems involved in making loans on farm products. Specifically, the committee presented the following conclusions which it had reached as a result of its study of the subject:

- 1. Co-operative marketing associations should be organized and conducted on the commodity basis and not on the regional basis. The regional basis tends to create competition among products and charges of discrimination on the part of the management, whether well founded or not, are apt to be made by producers of different commodities, thus creating discord detrimental to the spirit of co-operation.
- 2. Co-operative marketing associations should have some system of grading products in order that any statement made by the association regarding quality and quantity can be accepted without question.
- 3. Co-operative marketing associations should confine their activities to orderly marketing as distinguished from dumping. There is some danger, however, in temptation to hold commodities for speculative purposes. Speculation in farm products is no more justified than speculation in anything else.
- 4. Co-operative marketing associations should be organized and conducted as business concerns, and political and social entanglements should be avoided. Farming is the biggest business in the world, and the production and distribution of farm commodities require the same efficient management as any other big business.

While the report of the committee did not mention the Florida Citrus Exchange, it could have well referred to this organization as an example of the kind of association which adheres to practically all of these recommendations. The Florida Citrus Exchange ships some vegetables, but it specializes in the marketing of citrus fruit. —Florida Grower.

A HIGHER TAX RATE.

Florida gains nothing, either in attractiveness to outsiders or in the state of mind of its own citizens through the announcement that the state tax millage is to be increased this year, no matter how "slight" the rate.

The millage has been fixed at 11 1/2 mills, an increase of seven-eighths of a mill over last year.

The increase comes in the millage for general revenue, increased three-eighths of a mill; State Board of Health, increased one-fourth of a mill; and in the levy for tick eradication, one-half mill, imposed this year for the first time in pursuance of a reduction in the tax for theracenteset of the late legislature. The only reduction is in the tax for the State Prison Farm, which is reduced one-fourth mill. This farm appears to be the only institution in the state which is able to effect any economies in the cost of operation.

The increase of the tax rate, in view of the fact that the state is in such fine financial condition that we boast of it, an din addition to the heavy special taxes imposed, does not meet with enthusiastic reception from the taxpayers public.

The half-mill levy for tick eradication is especially unpopular, because it means that the taxpayer of the state, regardless of whether he has any cattle or any interest in cattle, or care a rap whether the cattle man's private stock of cattle is tickfull or tickless, is required to pay his share of the cost of improving this private property for the benefit of private owners. This little half-mill levy which the taxpayers are to contribute to the cattle men, who, dictating to the legislature, will not permit it even to consider "no fence" legislation, will amount to more than $200,000—an absolute tribute, exacted from the taxpayers and handed over as a free gift to the cattle owners.

Another consideration here arises: Why should the taxpayers be assessed one mill for the State Road Department, the same as last year, without any reduction whatsoever, when $2 250,000 will be added to the revenues of that department this year through the two-cent share of the three-cent gasoline tax, and $180,000 through the new registration fee? The State Road Department, outside of the one-mill levy, will have available for each of the next two years, $750,000 in federal aid, $180,000 in registration fees, $1,600,000 in license tag collection and $2,250,000 in gasoline tax, a total of $4,780,000 a year for two years. With the one mill tax levy, $450,000 will be added to this fund, making $5,230,000 a year, or $10,460,000 to be handled by that department in the next two years. Why the one mill levy in addition to the special taxes?

Taxpayers may also evince some curiosity as to where the legislature found the necessity for increasing the levy for the State Board of Health 100 per cent. We have no abnormal health emergencies at present or in prospect. There may be excellent reasons for this increase but, at least, the taxpayers have a right to an explanation.

Florida has secured some excellent advertising by reason of the amendment to prohibit income and inheritance taxes, but much of the effect of this will be killed if our regular state tax rate continues to advance.—Tampa Tribune.

LOOKS LIKE A GRAB.

That the proposed increase of rates on shipments of fruits and vegetables from Florida is not justified by conditions, is apparent to every person who gives the subject intelligent thought. The very fact that the carriers deviated from their regular course and took none of the interests most affected into their confidence before announcing the charge is evidence that they felt their proposal would not stand close scrutiny.

Instead of increasing local rates, the carriers ought to reduce them. Florida's business is bound to be extremely profitable. It is collected from the various shipping points at the minimum of expense. Neither the cost of construction nor the maintenance cost of Florida railroads begins to compare with similar costs in the almost any other part of the country. Time was, perhaps, when higher rates were justified because of the meagre hauls, but that time has past. The trains that pull out of Florida are well loaded. Shipping points now have something to ship. And, immune as they are to numerous expensive conditions, such as heavy repair bills, expensive grade pulls, washouts, landslides, freeters, and costly terminals, the carriers ought to share the profits of their increased business with the patrons who have made their business here what it is.

Such unwarranted grabs as the attempt to increase icing charges and the three band requirement for citrus packing boxes are bound to have an unfavorable effect on public sentiment in this state. The people know that these extortions are not justified and they hold it against the railroads even when the attempt fails, as it probably will in this case.

It is a short sighted policy. It is the sort of thing that provokes radical sentiment, makes enemies for the railroads, weakens public confidence in the integrity of their management and encourages those who advocate public ownership. It is an imposition upon the friendship of those who in spite of similar instances, too frequently repeated, have believed, and still believe, that only under private ownership and control can the best permanent results be attained.

The time may come sooner than they realize when the carriers will need all the public support they can get. Are they blind to that aspect of the condition, or are they simply trying to grab what they can while the grabbing is good? —Plant City Courier.

THE TEMPTATION TO FIGHT.

In our childhood our father taught us that it was no disgrace to be called a coward; that it was not a sign of courage to try to lick a boy who told us that we were afraid to do a certain thing. He impressed us with the idea that sometimes we could show more real courage by resisting the temptation to fight than by fighting upon every small provocation. We learned the lesson well and have tried to remember it. In fact, there have been times when we experienced a thrill of pride after being called a coward, believing that on the particular occasion we showed more manhood by holding our temper than by rushing into a fight. Naturally we thought that with the lapse of years the habit would become so firmly fixed that it would become second nature; that eventually we would lose all inclination to engage in physical combat; but it has turned out differently. In the good year 1923 we find that self-control is just as essential a bit was forty years ago when Bobby Burke used say: "If you don't give Johnny Davis a lickin' you are a coward; he has been talkin' scandalous about you." We resisted the temptation (most of the time) to fight then—we still find it necessary to resist, sometimes, a great many times, in fact. It is like this: When you have business on the other side of the street and take the pains to go to a crossing, where pedestrians are supposed to have sime rights, and cross as a pedestrian should, and start across at a brisk walk because two hundred yards or more up the street an automobile is coming at the rate of forty or fifty miles an hour and you realize you have no time to lose. But in spite of your haste you are forced to increase your speed or get run over, and then just as the machine passes you it lets loose one of those unearthly, domineering howls, which was not intended to warn you to get out of the way, but rather to deride you for daring to cross the street in front of the big 'beel with its liveried chauffeur and high-toned passengers, you involuntarily start, not knowing whether you have been struck by a real or imaginary object. It is then that you feel like fighting, but the object of your inquiry object. It is then that your indignation is gone. A ten-penny weight hurled from a catapult will not overtake him. We have often wished, and it may happen some day, that the infernal machine would break down just after it passed and before it got out of sight. If that thing ever happens it is then that we are going to forget that our venerable father taught us not to fight except in self-defense. And if we ever get our fingers securely clinched around the gullet of one of those fellows who do their best to run over you, and failing in that, try to scare the out of you by sounding their klaxon in derision after they have passed—we repeat that if we ever get our fingers on the gullet of one of those birds it will take more than an ordinary thunder storm to shake us loose.—Eastia Lake Region.

The five principal western markets received during the first six months of 1923 nearly 30 per cent more hogs than in the same period last year. With this increase came lower prices. Prices this year have at times been as much as $3 per hundred below those of last year and reached the lowest level since 1912.

Why Are Some Storekeepers So Obstinate?

I am an old-fashioned buyer of the necessities for my household. I go to the store myself. To me this work is not irksome. In fact, I like it. I like to look at the shelves so full of cans and packages of so many colors. I like to do this for the same reason that I don't mind being in a crowd.

toward losing a customer, and had certainly lost a good deal of time, especially since some other people were standing around waiting to be waited on.

When in a crowd I look for familiar faces. When I see them I am delighted. When I am in a store I look for familiar goods and when I see them I buy. Those goods have become familiar to me through advertising and I have noticed that the grocery men who have the most of those familiar packages somehow or other seem to always go ahead.

If that grocer had sold advertised goods he would certainly have had the brand I suggested and he would have made a sale; incidentally, he would have bid us good day cheerily and we would have been satisfied.

I went into a store not of my own choosing but with a friend who, among other things, asked for a very well known article of food which is packed in a can, although she did not ask for any specific kind. I always buy — and instinctively I told her that was the kind she should ask for.

Familiar faces are wonderful. To me, in my capacity as a buyer for a fairly large household, familiar things on the shelves of the stores I visit are only a little less wonderful, for those familiar things help me in doing better and more economically the job which I must work at every day.

The dealer overheard me and said, "Madam, I never sell that article, I sell instead something very much better — my own brand."

Those advertised articles which I buy and which I always buy I know have been submitted to the criticism of both competitor and consumer. This subjection to almost world-wide critical examination demonstrates to me that the manufacturer has supreme confidence in his goods. He cannot tell a falsehood about the things he makes, because there are too many in the world to find him out.

Then he launched into a five-minute talk on why this article was better than the one I had named. But somehow my friend had been convinced by what I had suggested and she did not buy that can which the grocer offered.

Constant advertising of any product proves that product has stood the test of scrutiny. Is it any wonder then why I, as one of several million women in my same position, prefer articles with which I am acquainted to products about which I have no knowledge and about which the manufacturer does not seem to have the courage to enlighten me?

HEIRS SPENDS LUCKY DIME

As a Result Walter Gets into Trouble in New Comedy

John Percival Billings, a haberdashery clerk, by investing ten cents in a cigar becomes the possessor of considerable wealth and is told that if he does not wish to part with his good health he should take a trip somewhere—where did not matter much. He takes the tip and, as a result, is mixed up in a revolution in a South American republic; is attacked by would-be assassins, and falls in love with the president's daughter. All this is brought to the screen in the picture, "Mr. Billings Spends His Dime," which comes to the Princess Theatre Friday and Saturday. Jacqueline Logan, leading woman, heads a strong supporting cast, including George Fawcett, Robert McKim, Patricia Palmer, Joseph Swickard, Guy Oliver and others.

Sanford Boy Makes the Best Showing in the Swimming Meet

With a total of 87 points the Chimney Rock Camp for Boys won first place in the invitation swimming meet at Lake Junaluska yesterday, took permanent possession of The Asheville Citizen trophy cup offered the winner, and won one leg on the two-year trophy cup. Camp Osceola came second with 55 points.

The French Broad Camp for Boys, winner of the 1922 meet and favorite in yesterday's events, came in for fourth place, with Camp Mondamin running close to Osceola. The Chimney Rock boys also captured the relay swimming team cup.

Of the eleven entries of the winning camp, Leslie Moughton made this best showing. He captured the 440 yard swim for seniors by a distance of fifty yards, covering the distance in seven minutes and 43 seconds. Jack Grier, inter-scholastic swimming champion of Florida, took first place for Chimney Rock in the 100 yard swim, his time for this event being one minute and three seconds. The winning team took first place in eight of the twelve events.

The contests were witnessed by a large crowd despite the rain that fell during the greater part of the afternoon.—Asheville Citizen.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 1.—Getting away to an early lead, the Saints were never headed and took their second straight game from Bradentown yesterday 1 to 2. The score: Bradentown 000 011 000—2. St. Petersburg 211 000 008—4.

GOSSETT NOT SO GOOD AND DAYTONA WINS

LAKELAND, Aug. 1.—Gossett's two bad innings, backed by some miserable support, cost Lakeland yesterday's game with Daytona 3 to 5. Gossett also was hit hard. The score: Lakeland 000 100 310—5. Daytona 003 005 000—8.

MILANE NEWS

Grand opening tomorrow night

"Enemies of Women" will be shown only once each night, Thursday and Friday nights. This thrilling movie is too long to be shown more than once each night.

And if you cannot come Thursday evening reserve Friday evening which is the last this magnificent photoplay will be seen.

"Enemies of Women" is produced on a magnificent scale that carries the spectator out of himself.

The director took the entire company to the Riviera where six weeks were spent on some of the most beautiful scenes in "Enemies of Women."

Barrimore's fight with Lewin-Law, 225-pound champion wrestler, in "Enemies of Women," is described as being more thrilling than that which he staged with Louis Wolheim in "The Face in the Fog" described by critics as the most realistic ever filmed.

Director Alan Crossland has handled his material in workmanlike fashion and has drawn from the big novel a tightly constructed dramatic and coherent picture which moves swiftly to its thrilling conclusion.

Altogether "Enemies of Women" is a picture that will entertain and thrill. It rewards the eye with as many pictorial beauties as it does the emotions with its dramatic story.

Remember only one show each night of "Enemies of Women." If you can not come Thursday night be sure and come Friday night.

CELERY SEED

The Rotes challenge the Kiwanis again!

Looks to us like the Rotes would have enough for a while.

Anyway the Kiwanis have not answered the challenge yet. Guess they are trying to decide if they want to soil their hands again.

We notice that Howard Overlin is still in town! What's the matter, Howard, wouldn't the Yanks have you or did you decide to stay at home and play for the Kiwanis?

Manager Whiddon was evidently feeling good yesterday afternoon. He suggested that the baseball rooters of the city take steps toward forming a four club city league. He says that the Rotes, Kiwanis and his Independent team and some other club would make a good league. Yes, good meat for his team. Nix on this city league stuff. Too small a village.

Now if you want a real baseball team that will play every day, get Sanford in the State League. Sanford is too small for a four-club city league but it is plenty large for a professional team.

PRINCESS NEWS

Look who's here!

Jackie Coogan in "Daddy" tonight at the Princess.

Jackie's search for fortune brought him through many adventures to his long lost daddy.

"Daddy" is one of the funniest and quite the most pathetic story in which Jackie Coogan has appeared. Come to see it and bring the children.

He'll smuggle up next your heart—and linger there.

With his pig and his fiddle, his unmanageable spaghetti and a shower bath—and his too-big trousers—that's Jackie Coogan in "Daddy."

All the fun of "The Kid" and all the pathos of "Oliver Twist" in Jackie Coogan's newest picture, "Daddy."

To lonely hearts Jackie Coogan is always the phantom child that romps in the garden of our dreams.

And the honor guests tonight will be Urban Mays and family and will see this fine picture without cost to them. Bring the kids, Urban, and be there as Osborne will be looking for you.

Trunk is Jackie's Bed in "Daddy"

A large, old-fashioned trunk is Jackie Coogan's bed in "Daddy," a First National picture, produced by Sol Lesser which will be the feature at the Princess tonight and tomorrow. E. Mason Hopper directed it from the original story by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Coogan.

Much of the action takes place in the attic home of an aged violinist, who finds Jackie Holden wandering about the streets, and gives him a home. There is only one small bed, but Jackie discovers that the trunk contains a soft bottom of clothes, and he appropriates it for sleeping purposes. After assisting his feeble guardian to retire, all Jackie has to do is to undress and open the cover of the trunk. Within he finds his bed prepared.

"Daddy" reveals Jackie Coogan at his best and extends his juvenile genius to a degree perhaps never equaled on the screen or stage. In one episode, Jackie rises to dramatic heights that establish him as one of the greatest emotional actors of all time. The supporting cast is of high distinction. It includes Arthur Carewe, Josie Sedgwick, Bert Woodruff, Anna Townsend, Cesare Gravini, William Lewis and George Kuwa.

Hurt by Ancient Cannon Ball

A cannon ball fired from a British warship which landed harmlessly in the side of a bank at Kingston, N. Y., after nearly a century and a half, smashed the fingers of a seven-year-old boy. The lad was walking along a street, which overlooks the Hudson river, and saw a queer-looking object imbedded in the bank. He dug it out with his fingers and it proved to be a seven-pound cannon ball. Starting to run home with his prize it slipped from his arms. As he attempted to pick it up it fell on his hands, smashing his fingers. It was in October, 1771, that a British fleet sailed up the Hudson river and anchored off Kings-ton point. A landing party of marines captured the battery. The boy's father stated that he would present the trophy to old Senate house, where New York state's first governing body met in council before the capital was removed to Albany.

Traits of Ancient Egyptians

In spite of the military skill which enabled the Egyptians several times to extend the boundaries of their kingdom far to the south as well as over the greater part of Asia Minor, the Egyptians seem not to have been a craft or fierce race, declares Robert Creswell, in the New York Tribune. In the large, they had the dispositions that have always gone with patient laborers tilling a rich soil. They lured all foreigners and all foreign ways; they believed in their own country as the only one worth mentioning; indeed, for centuries they were so insular that they called themselves "Emmet," meaning simply "men," leaving the despised races around them to share any other appellation they could think of.

These Watches Real Antiques

A watch that is 200 years old has every right to be called an antique. But a watch that was an antique at the time of the French Revolution and was well past the century mark when Louis XIV was adorning himself in satins, silks and velvets, that watch today is an antique in every sense of the word. Two such watches are owned by a man in Newark, N. J. They are French watches and both about 350 years old. When the Pilgrims set sail for America these timepieces were ticking away in French villages, perhaps the pride of some village hunker-keeper of affluence.

JEWETT SIX PAIGE BULLY

Ball-Bearing Steering Spindles Give Jewett Easy Steering

THE Paige-built Jewett responds instantly to your slightest touch on the wheel. The reason is in those ball-bearings at the top of the steering spindle—an exclusive nicety of Paige engineering. Only in actual driving do you appreciate the magic difference they make.

And the ball-bearing steering spindles—oiled not greased—will retain their ease of movement. They are a part of the Paige-Timken axles—typical of Jewett's quality. Women who drive the Jewett find it like no car they ever knew for delightful behavior and real comfort. It is this same quality of touch-genuine steering that makes Jewett Six a real car for real men. Try it yourself.

Okeechobee Flood Reaches High Mark, Engineer Worried

St. Lucie Canal Working Overtime to Carry Flood Waters

TALLAHASSEE, July 31.—The Everglades drainage district authorities are doing all they can to overcome the flood conditions in and around Lake Okeechobee, according to a statement yesterday by Fred C. Elliott, chief engineer of the district. In order that the public may be kept advised of the situation, he said he would hereafter issue detailed statements on Mondays and Thursdays until the situation clears up, to show the level of the lake, the extent of the change since the preceding report, how much rain had fallen in the interim, and such other information as might throw light on the conditions.

In his first statement yesterday Mr. Elliott showed that there was one change in the lake level from July 21 to 28 when it was 18 feet. There had been a rise of only eight-tenths of a foot since May 15, according to figures quoted by him.

West Palm Beach canal, Caloosahatchie, Hillsborough and North New river canals, from 200 to 300 feet; Miami, 100 to 160 feet, and St. Lucie canal 1,500 feet.

Two-thirds of the capacity of these canals has been required to provide local drainage for the lands along the canals, and approximately one-third of the canal capacity has been utilized for discharging water from Lake Okeechobee, it was shown by the statement.

The outflow through the St. Lucie canal represents approximately 25 per cent of the capacity of the canal. The capacity will be increased each month as the work advances, Mr. Elliott stated.

The statement continued: "It will be noted that St. Lucie canal is discharging more water from Lake Okeechobee than all the other canals combined. Under ordinary seasonal conditions, the combined canals, together with the remaining available storage in the lake, will do much toward reducing flood stages. Prevailing weather conditions cause the lake to remain at an elevation too high for safety, but everything possible is being done to hold the lake in check and to provide sufficient local drainage for protection.

"Work is continuing on the levee with two dredges. After completing the levee, these dredges will continue at work strengthening the low places and increasing the height of same.

"Rainfall for the month of July to the 28th for the lake section was 7.61 inches.

"The heaviest rainfall was in Hick Pochee locality, showing 10.44 inches. "Present level of the lake is .9 feet below the high water mark of the year 1922.

"Thirty-four miles of lake shore protected by levee for lake level of 20 feet. There remains approximately eight miles of shore to be protected by the levee and dredges are at work on this. Other drainage work in district is proceeding in the usual manner."

Summer Camps to Draw 30 Thousand From Civilian Life

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, July 31.—In the last days of July some 30,000 young men left their homes to spend a month in one or another of the 25 Citizens' Military Camps, which the Government has organized for this summer, according to the announcement made by the Military Training Camps Association here recently.

Health in mind, body and character is the primary aim of the Citizens' Camps to which young men between 17 and 24 are admitted for a month of training at government's expense, and these camps are located at carefully selected sites in various parts of the country, so that no one need travel more than two or three hundred miles from his own home.

In making the announcement, Geo. T. James, the executive secretary of the association, says:

"The camps are conducted by the most competent officers of the regular army, the national guard and the organized reserves, and no pains are spared to make the month of training an enjoyment and a profit to all who attend. Applicants are accepted only after careful physical examination and with the endorsement of good character from reliable citizens, and in every detail the camps live up to the highest standards of American home life.

"All expenses, including transportation, are paid by the government, but in return it asks that every young man go to camp with an earnest desire to return a better citizen. No finer education ideal can be found in

What is the Message of Your Monogram?

The monogramic motif of this Spring which once confined itself to the pocket has spread boldly over the entire surface of this frock, which was characterized by the Parisian sponsor, M. Henri Change, as "simple and quite convenient for footing."

So far, the monograms on the Spring clothes are quite casual in their significance. The broken Japanese lines might be anyone's initials. But if we are going to fix it seriously perhaps messages may be developed in the scattered motifs, for him who runs to read.

Aside from its hieroglyphics the costume in the drawing is sweetly unadorned. Tan crepe de chine with black printing it is, except for the plain bands of tan crepe de chine. The narrow dark bands are black taffeta ribbon, which extends conveniently to tasseled ends at the neck and ties around the one-piece chemise dress to make a belt. One little pocket only, a collar falling back from the V neck and short lemon sleeves complete the ensemble.

gent barracks or in tent cities, carefully laid out in company streets; not more than six men to each large size army tent on comfortable cots, every tent with substantial board flooring."

The Military Training Camps Association of the United States is promoting the summer camps and securing through its nation-wide organization the interest and co-operation of prominent citizens in every part of the country.

Conditions in Florida Show Great Improvement Along Line

Since Volstead Law Went Into Effect Says McRae.

(By The Associated Press) TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Aug. 1.—Conditions in Florida have shown great improvement all along the line since the Volstead prohibition law became effective, according to information given by W. A. McRae, commissioner of agriculture, in answering a questionnaire sent out by a committee of Scottish Churchmen in this country investigating the working of prohibition.

General improvement in the state is shown in better farming methods, better homes, better schools, increased bank accounts, better churches, better roads, and better livestock, Mr. McRae replied in answering the question as to the general efficiency of the law as it affects agriculture.

Everything produced from the soil shows marked advance, the reply states with regard to the economic phase of the situation. This also applies to livestock grazing. "This is only partially due to prohibition, however," Mr. McRae writes. "This state is growing because there is only one Florida."

"Florida has been called the 'mecca' for bootleggers," the reply concludes, "but when one looks at the contour of our state—almost an island—and notices how near the islands are where whisky flows as the water, one can see how this state is menaced. But this must and will stop."

BERLIN, July 31.—Twenty-seven persons are reported killed and twenty-five injured in a collision between Hamburg-Munich express and stationary train at Kreinsten station near Cassel.

Six Indictments Against Brokers Returned Today

Kardon and Burke Failed Last Year For Two Millions.
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 31.—Six indictments were returned today against Louis Kardos, formerly head of the stock brokerage concern of Kardos and Burke, which failed last year for over two million dollars.

DEMOLAY MEMBERSHIP INCREASED 1,000 PER CENT DURING PAST YEAR

Membership in the Florida Chapter of the Order of DeMolay has increased more than one thousand per cent during the past year, according to figures just announced by G. Elmer Willour, Deputy for this Order in the state of Florida.
On the last day of 1922 there were only 68 boys enrolled in the chapters in Florida. At the end of the year of 1922 the total membership had increased to 698, and today there are more than 900 Florida boys who are practicing the objects of the DeMolay organization.
The Chapter of DeMolay at the University of Florida is the largest one in the state, and at the present time includes boys from nearly every county in the state. Three hundred boys are members of this chapter.

THE PERILS OF CONSTIPATION

The Disease That Wrecks the Whole Body. Quickest Way to Get Well is Through New Treatment Containing Seven Ingredients That Renew Every Part of the Body.

Constipation affects directly every organ in the body, due to the fact that the liver does not carry the bile out of the system, thus putting an extra burden on the kidneys that overtaxes and weakens them, filling the blood with all manner of disease germs that are carried through the veins into every nook and corner of the body. That is why any remedy that merely temporarily relieves constipation is insufficient and you become addicted to the constant use of strong purgatives that weaken and deplete the system. In order to get permanent relief, a complete systematic treatment is necessary.
This complete treatment is found only in a prescription called Re-Cu-Ma, which contains seventeen well known and thoroughly tested medicines, so skillfully compounded that each one performs its function on the various parts of the body perfectly and harmoniously.

This remarkable prescription goes right to work on a torpid liver, immediately cleanses the colon of its accumulation of poisonous refuse which, according to Prof. Metchnikoff of the Pasteur Institute, Paris, is the direct cause of all our aches and pains. In addition, Re-Cu-Ma improves the digestion, relieves the kidneys of their over-burden, purifies the blood stream and you are soon aware of an absence of those dull headaches, back pains, nervousness, dizziness, inertia and rheumatic pains—you feel full of vigor and pep, eat anything you like without bad after effects and sleep like a log.
Re-Cu-Ma is sold and recommended by the Union Pharmacy and other good drug stores and if you don't feel a decided change in your condition after taking according to directions, you get your money back.—Adv.
