However, look what happens if South doesn't cash that ace of clubs. When South ruffs a diamond, East discards one club; when he ruffs the last diamond East discards his last club. South makes seven trumps and two diamonds, but the ace of clubs has been made into a loser.

Rand Yard Here Could Be Closed Seaboard Considers Freight Pullout

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

A study under consideration by Seaboard Coastline officials reroutes the bulk of Sanford's railroad freight traffic to the Wildwood station on Florida's west coast, The Herald learned today. Seaboard officials in Jacksonville confirmed today the study, which contains a provision for phasing out Rand Yard in Sanford, was discussed Tuesday during a "top level" meeting.

A Seaboard official here said some of the estimated 200 workers in Sanford will be transferred — if the study is approved.

"There's nothing definite. It's purely in the study stage," said Don Martin, a Seaboard vice-president located in Jacksonville.

Martin confirmed the study "would affect freight service in Sanford."

At present, a total of six north and southbound trains pull in at Sanford for rerouting to destinations across the United States.

Sanford Train Master Milton Smith said the study would leave one south and one northbound train here. Two locals to Ovidio and Umatilla would also remain at Sanford.

"There is a possibility the company will consolidate traffic and run it on the west coast through Wildwood," Smith said.

Both Smith and Martin stressed that the study is in the "formative stage" and no decision has been made. Martin said he didn't know when the study will be finalized, nor when a final decision can be expected.

Martin confirmed, however, that Seaboard officials at a "top level" meeting Tuesday discussed rerouting freight traffic out of Sanford.

Service provided local customers in Seminole County will remain the same, according to Smith. Sanford is the "intermediate" point between Tampa and Jacksonville.

So is Wildwood.

And Martin says any move to consolidate the two stations is due to the economy. He said Seaboard is "making studies all over the system."

Smith said about 200 workers are employed here. Plus, Sanford is a change point for freight train crews.

Also located here is a refurbishing shop, where trains are repaired. The number of personnel at that shop would be reduced if the study is adopted, Smith said.

About 15 train service employees and 10 clerks at Rand Yard would be given the opportunity to move to a different Seaboard location, according to Smith.

Jacksonville is Florida headquarters for the firm.

Trustees Cite Cost Spiral Hospital Hikes Room Rates

Plagued by what officials say are spiraling costs of running a hospital, Seminole Memorial Trustees voted Tuesday to raise room rates an average of $8-a-day.

Saying there "just isn't any other way," Hospital Administrator Bob Besserer said the new rates will go into effect within 60 days.

The vote was unanimous. "Somebody has to pay for increased costs, and it's the man who uses the bed," Board Chairman John Evans commented.

"There's not much we can do about it — just go along with it," Trustee Sophia Shoemaker added.

Besserer said he conducted a study of room rates at hospitals from Ocala to Cocoa. Seminole Memorial's increased rates in Sanford are still lower than rates at three-fourths of the hospitals included in the study, Besserer said.

The cost of daily room rates increase will be as follows: Private room — $55 to $63; deluxe private — $60 to $68; semi-private — $50 to $58; ward rates go up — that's not having any rooms," Evans noted.

Allan Keen was the only trustee who questioned the increased rates and Keen fired question after question at Besserer.

He wanted to know if additional money from higher rates would cover the $129,000 deficit the hospital is running this far this year.

Besserer said the hikes will net an additional $150,000 through Sept. 1976. Payroll alone however, is up $130,000 this year, Besserer noted.

Besserer said reduced occupancy plays a large role in a hospital's need for higher rates, but he said inflation is the major factor in Seminole Memorial's need for additional money.

"Everything we buy keeps going up, up and up," Besserer said.

Higher rates will not hit hard at those persons on medicare or medical aid, but those persons with adequate hospitalization insurance.

But higher rates will hit hardest those least able to afford them — the person with no insurance.

Utility Connection Fees Won't Be Reduced

City Rejects 'Forum' Proposal

By RICK PANTRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

A Builders' Forum recommendation that utility connection fees for low-cost housing be reduced was denied by the Sanford City Commission Tuesday at a noon workshop meeting.

Another Builders' Forum request — that a permanent five-member committee be appointed to provide information to the commission on issues involving builders and home owners — was also denied. However, the commission indicated it would be in favor of adding building trades representatives to an already existing committee.

Acting on other recommendations, the commission okayed Miami curbs and/or swales in new developments with the approval of the city engineer, reduced the sidewalk width requirement from five feet to four, went on record in favor of uniform underground electric fees, approved lower square footage requirements for low-cost dwellings and agreed to discuss with the Public Service Commission (PSC) allowing overhead electric lines for low-cost homes.

The utility connection fee request drew the most heated discussion, with forum member J. Bradley Odham saying he thought "everything ought to be

Contract Talks To Be Resumed

Deadlocked contract talks between the School Board and representatives of the county's 1,462 school teachers are scheduled to begin again Thursday, an official announced today.

Board spokesman Harry Pelley said he and the Seminole Education Association (SEA) have decided to hold off on impasse to try to resolve items which caused the two teams to halt talks Aug. 6.

But SEA says $8,600 just barely keeps up with spiraling inflation. SEA negotiators claim teachers have never had the spending power they did in 1974-75 because the school system has failed to keep up with the rising cost of living.

Pelley vows to "hold the line" and offer nothing more than the board's $300 "top" offer.

Concerning nine other tabled items, Pelley says the two teams have discussed each one "two or three" times already and he sees no reason to discuss them further.

If Pelley remains adamant at Thursday's session, SEA could only accept the board's existing offers — or hope for additional compensation from Greene.

However, Greene, as a special master, has no final say. His decision may be approved or disapproved by either team.

The School Board must approve the final contract, regardless of Greene's ruling.

Kaiser says he will approach Seminole municipalities with the idea of jointly purchasing the $128,000 piece of equipment with hopes of having it centrally located in the county.

In top picture, Herald Staffer Bob Lloyd looks down from the platform. Kaiser said "scope" could be used to fight multi-story, as well as single story, building fires.

Jail Repair Bids Sought

Bids for $120,000 to install surrounding areas while $40,000 in renovations are being completed on the jail.

State officials met with local County Commission consideration next Tuesday.

Commission authorized Chairman Sid Vihlen Jr. and Sheriff John Pulk to obtain three competitive bids on each of the 14 required safety features agreed upon Monday by state officials.

Officials representing the Florida Department of Offender Rehabilitation (DOR) and the state fire marshal's office had no objections to reopening the jail once the 14 points are installed, but stipulated a new county jail must be built within two years.

Prior to next Tuesday's meeting, Vihlen expects to receive word from Louie Wainwright, director of offender rehabilitation, stating the safety equipment will provide a "reasonable degree" of safety and Wainwright will have no objections to reopening the jail. Vihlen told the commission.

The jail has been closed since a June 9 fire which killed 10 prisoners and one jailer. Prisoners have been housed in

NATION IN BRIEF

Senate Panel To Subpoena Tapes On CIA Activities

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate intelligence committee, in its most serious breach with the Ford administration, is subpoenaing tapes and documents bearing on covert activities in Chile during the Nixon administration.

But panel members say they still hope to obtain the materials without a legal battle. The vote to issue a subpoena was taken Tuesday after the White House rejected the committee's request for the tapes and documents bearing on covert efforts during the Nixon administration to prevent the 1970 election of President Salvador Allende of Chile.

At the same time, committee Chairman Frank Church, D-Idaho, reported the panel has given up for the moment its attempts to persuade former President Richard M. Nixon to testify on his administration's policy concerning assassination of foreign leaders and covert activities by the Central Intelligence Agency.

There was no deal of any kind as to how Solzhenitsyn was to be treated in the West, an angered Klingsinger said Tuesday in a telephone call to reporters accompanying Frank on his vacation in Vail.

Speaking from Washington, he denied a report quoting a White House aide as saying the President did not meet with Solzhenitsyn last month because of agreements between the two countries at the time the writer was expelled from Russia.

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Black doctors are vanishing breed in the United States because young blacks are being driven away from medicine by prejudices and economic pressures, say members of the National Medical Association.

"It seems as though there are more dying than graduating medical school," Dr. Edwin Shirley, who also is a member of the Public Health Trust Board at Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital, said Tuesday.

The number of black doctors in the United States has not grown in the past five years, officials said. The black doctor-patient ratio in the United States is 1 to 5,000 while the white doctor-patient ratio is 1 to 750, said Dr. Alfred Fisher, NMA executive director.

NEW YORK (AP)—The daughter of an unwitting victim of the Army's experiments with hallucinogenic drugs says she had been told that he died of an LSD injection administered as medication.

But, she said, Tuesday's announcement of the reason for her father's death was a shock. In a press release, the Army attributed the death of tennis professional Harold Hill in 1953 not to his treatment as a state mental hospital patient but to the Army's experiment.

"I'm collapsed through the whole experience," said the widow daughter, Elizabeth Barrett, 35, of Manhattan, who added that three Army officers were held for the news in person.

CAPE CANAVERAL (AP)—Technicians scrambled back into a Titan Centaur space vehicle today to replace the faulty valve that postponed launching of America's latest Mars explorer.

Electrical storms interrupted removal of the old valve but it was finally lifted late Tuesday and rushed by jet plane to California to see if the Viking project must again be delayed.

Attorneys for Miss Little, arguing that the 2-year-old black woman should not be held in jail in self-defense after she forced her to perform oral sex on him, rested their case late Tuesday after four days of testimony.

The state center of Miss Little's attorney, Clarence Allgood II, says a witness who picked up her 27 son could escape from the Beaufort County jail at Washington, N.C. She was being held there pending an appeal of a breaking and entering conviction.

DETROIT (AP)—A federal prosecutor says several witnesses probably will testify in the fifth Amendment when he opens a grand jury probe into the disappearance of ex-Tennesson union boss Jimmy Hoffa.

Volunteer Firemen Uninsured, Council Told

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD—The city has no insurance on its volunteer firemen guaranteeing "grocery money" while they recover from injuries received fighting fires in the community, Council Chairman J. R. Grant has reported to his colleagues.

"If a volunteer fireman gets hurt, we have no way of giving him groceries," Grant said Monday night, indicating workmen's compensation is of no value to the volunteers.

"A percentage of pay that is nothing worth is nothing," Grant said, noting the volunteers receive no regular compensation for their efforts. The problem is one of several that a special city council insurance committee will discuss tonight at 7:30 as it examines bids on employee insurance.

The committee, appointed by Grant, includes Councilman Don Schreiner as chairman and Councilmen H. A. Scott and Gerard Connel.

The city has again called for bids returnable by 4:30 p.m., Sept. 8 on city equipment, liability and workmen's compensation after the deadline for receipt of bids passed with none being submitted.

In other business, a public hearing was set for 7:30 p.m. Aug. 25 on the request of Seminole Cabelvision for a rate increase. Although a franchise was awarded to Seminole Cabelvision several years ago, the service has never been made available to city residents.

The new rate requested is $25 connection fee for single-family homes and a $6.50 monthly service fee. At the time the franchise was granted, the city was told that when the service was available there would be an initial period when no installation fee would be charged and the monthly service fee thereafter would be $4.50 per household.

"I told you so," was Councilman H. A. Scott's reply to a report from Mayor James R. Lorman that the city is willing to cooperate with the Hills Road Lorman said county officials said the costs to the city would be $25,000 for the materials for the portion of the road within the city limits.

Scott and Connel warned the city when the road and a large tract of property was reannexed earlier this year that the city would be expected to pay paving costs.

Grant, who led the move for the reannexation, said Monday night approved an ordinance submitted by a skydiving quartet to hold a parachute jump at the Spring Oaks Recreation Center on Sunday.

Mayor Norman Floyd was to give the group a letter from the city to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) today approving the performance so the public could view "a form of aviation not usually seen."

Robert Nixon of Orlando, leader of the quartet, said the jump will be made from an airplane at 6,000 feet with the chutes to open at 2,500 to 3,000 feet.

Nixon said the target is the second base area of the baseball diamond at Spring Oaks. He said he has made over 900 jumps, while the least experienced of the quartet is a veteran of 200 jumps and the remaining two average 600 jumps each.

Floyd administratively denied the request earlier, saying he had no authority to grant the request and was concerned about whether it would be a safety hazard.

In other business, it was announced that Seminole Elections Supervisor Camilla Bruce will have a voter registration team at city hall on Saturday, Sept. 30 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the convenience of qualified residents of the area to register, renew or change their voter registration cards.

County Clerk J. H. Beckwith, Jr., said the county is willing to cooperate with the Hills Road Lorman said county officials said the costs to the city would be $25,000 for the materials for the portion of the road within the city limits.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Robbing Teacher

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

A 17-year-old Sanford juvenile pleaded guilty today as an adult in circuit court and faces a possible life prison term for robbery.

Just before jury selection was begun in his trial before Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McGreggor, Adolph Comer, 17, 1809 W. 18th St., pleaded guilty as charged in a chambers hearing.

Judge McGreggor ordered Comer held pending completion of a pre-sentencing investigation and set sentencing for Oct. 6. Assistant State Attorney Bill Jefferson said as part of the plea negotiations the state dropped another robbery indictment against Comer and agreed not to prosecute him in juvenile court for two attempted robberies.

Comer, in pleading guilty, told the court that he robbed Crooms High School teacher Herbert Drueding of $19 at gunpoint on June 18 near the school at W. 13th and Persimmon Ave., Sanford.

Comer said he was given the .22 caliber "Saturday night special" used in the hold-up by Charles Pierce before Drueding's auto was waved down as he left the school for lunch.

Pierce, 20, of 1415 W. 18th St., and Lewis Ruffin, 24, of 1717 W. Seventh St., Sanford, were acquitted by a circuit court jury in a separate trial July 23. Ruffin was later sentenced to five years in prison for probation violation.

In other cases docketed for trial this week before Judge McGreggor, a jury Monday found a 50-year-old Lake Monroe man guilty of bare assault after a day-long trial. Judge McGreggor set sentencing for Edward Leger also for Oct. 6 on the misdemeanor conviction.

Leger went to trial on a felony aggravated assault charge accusing him of pointing a pistol at the head of a 14-year-old girl. The girl testified that the incident happened the "first week in June" at Leger's mother's house but Leger told the stand to deny the incident.

He was released on his own recognizance pending a presentence investigation and sentencing Oct. 6 on his plea of guilty to attempted possession of a controlled substance.

Clifford D. Smith, 18, Oviedo Route One, was put on three years probation after he pleaded guilty to assault and battery in an aggravated assault case involving an incident at Oviedo High School in which a man's jaw was broken.

Terry Wade Rawls, 19, of 2011 N. Grandview Ave., Sanford, was released on his own recognizance pending a presentence investigation and sentencing Oct. 6 on his plea of guilty to attempted possession of a controlled substance.

Deputies Search For Items Taken In County Burglaries

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer

Sheriff's deputies today were searching for items valued at more than $8,200 that were reported taken in burglaries and thefts across the county.

Sandy Markey reported that burglars hauled away items valued at $1,515 from a residence at 112 Sunland Drive, Sanford. Deputy R. E. Pritchard said the missing items included two television sets, a typewriter, adding machine, pistol, rifle, shotgun, old coins and jewelry.

Deputy Robert E. Ache reported that televisions, stereo equipment, coins, jewelry and clothing valued at $1,424 were reported taken from the residence of Sandra E. Lebowitz on S.W. 419 near Five Points.

Also at Five Points, deputies said investigation is underway into the theft of four air conditioning units, furniture, bedding and a television from a trailer, an apartment at Miller's Motel, U.S. 17-92 and SR-427. Deputy P. J. Riggins said the stolen items were valued at $1,200.

Sanford police today reported that citizens band radios valued at $550 were taken from trucks at the Village Rest Truck Stop, French Ave. and 14th St. James Clement of 223 Palm Place, Sanford, told police that a 20-horsepower outdoor motor, valued at $625 was stolen early today at his residence early today.

Sheriff's Deputy C. H. Brackstein said a similar outdoor motor was reported taken from a utility shed at the Stone Road, Oviedo, residence of Richard E. Kennedy.

William Guggenheim, of 209 Timber Cove Circle, Longwood, told deputies that $420 in tools were missing after a burglary at his residence.

Deputy Luke Stallworth said burglars did $250 in vandalism and took jewelry worth $35 in a break-in at the Circus A-Go-Go, U.S. 17-92, Fern Park. Sheriff's reports said the nightgown was entered by a breaking a dressing room window and three doors were damaged.

Sgt. Jay Leman reported deputies and county fire units were busy between 2 a.m. and 5 a.m. today answering what proved to be four false fire alarms at different locations in the Oviedo area.

Quartet To Jump From 6,000 Feet Skydivers Gain Approval To Perform At Spring Oaks

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

ALAMONTE SPRINGS—City Commissioners Monday night approved an ordinance submitted by a skydiving quartet to hold a parachute jump at the Spring Oaks Recreation Center on Sunday.

Mayor Norman Floyd was to give the group a letter from the city to the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) today approving the performance so the public could view "a form of aviation not usually seen."

Robert Nixon of Orlando, leader of the quartet, said the jump will be made from an airplane at 6,000 feet with the chutes to open at 2,500 to 3,000 feet.

Nixon said the target is the second base area of the baseball diamond at Spring Oaks. He said he has made over 900 jumps, while the least experienced of the quartet is a veteran of 200 jumps and the remaining two average 600 jumps each.

Floyd administratively denied the request earlier, saying he had no authority to grant the request and was concerned about whether it would be a safety hazard.

In other business, it was announced that Seminole Elections Supervisor Camilla Bruce will have a voter registration team at city hall on Saturday, Sept. 30 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the convenience of qualified residents of the area to register, renew or change their voter registration cards.

THEATER PLAN FORGES AHEAD

The dream of erecting a performing arts center in Sanford took one step closer to reality Tuesday when theater consultant George Eisenhower (seated left) met with Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce Bankers' Committee representatives to discuss groundwork for the enterprise. Eisenhower said he could start a feasibility study by November. It would cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 and take three to four months to complete.

Black Doctor Shortage Noted

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Black doctors are vanishing breed in the United States because young blacks are being driven away from medicine by prejudices and economic pressures, say members of the National Medical Association.

"It seems as though there are more dying than graduating medical school," Dr. Edwin Shirley, who also is a member of the Public Health Trust Board at Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital, said Tuesday.

The number of black doctors in the United States has not grown in the past five years, officials said. The black doctor-patient ratio in the United States is 1 to 5,000 while the white doctor-patient ratio is 1 to 750, said Dr. Alfred Fisher, NMA executive director.

LSD Said Cause Of Death

NEW YORK (AP)—The daughter of an unwitting victim of the Army's experiments with hallucinogenic drugs says she had been told that he died of an LSD injection administered as medication.

But, she said, Tuesday's announcement of the reason for her father's death was a shock. In a press release, the Army attributed the death of tennis professional Harold Hill in 1953 not to his treatment as a state mental hospital patient but to the Army's experiment.

"I'm collapsed through the whole experience," said the widow daughter, Elizabeth Barrett, 35, of Manhattan, who added that three Army officers were held for the news in person.

'Lemon' Truck Ruled Off Road

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Steve Strickland is in a pickle because a judge won't allow his truck on any Nevada road until he removes lemons and signs painted on the vehicle to protect detests.

Strickland says he needs the truck in his carpentry work, but won't remove the painted lemons or stenciled list of 46 alleged flaws until he gets justice.

"As Americans we are so jumpy that we trade off a bad vehicle and give up trying to get it fixed. That doesn't help anyone because the manufacturers just keep turning out piles of junk," Strickland said in an interview Tuesday.

Clinic Construction Scheduled To Start

LONGWOOD—Groundbreaking for the Longwood Health Clinic was scheduled to begin today, according to Don Huber, owner of Huber Construction Co. of Orlando.

The firm Tuesday awarded a $4,618 low bid contract by the Seminole County Commission for construction of the facility at the corner of Wilma Avenue and Church Street, behind the Longwood City Hall.

Huber estimated construction of the single story building should take less than 90 days. The clinic will serve south Sanford similar to the clinic in Sanford, providing medical care for residents.

The clinic, built on land donated by Longwood, will be funded with county and state money. The state Health and Rehabilitative Services provided a $30,000 grant for construction of the facility.

Clay Pit Slated For Discussion

The rezoning of 100 acres west of 14 for use by Seminole County as a clay source will be considered in special meetings tonight and Thursday.

The Planning and Zoning Commission will meet in the courthouse tonight at 7:30 to consider rezoning from country estates to agricultural the property owned by Lester Mandell, owner of Greater Construction Co. Mandell has agreed to sell the land to the county for $500,000. The county needs the clay for road construction.

The county commission will hold a meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. to consider the P&Z decision. Several weeks ago the commission was ready to approve the rezoning but Mandell until the zoning of the land was checked. It was found to be zoned for country estate development and clay — or borrow pits — needs an agriculture

Break-Even Mail Remains Remote

The goal of break-even mail delivery, adopted by the U.S. Postal Service upon its creation as a semiprivate agency four years ago, remains remote, despite the optimism of Postmaster General Benjamin Bailar.

The service, in Bailar's view, could pay its own way as early as 1976 under a proposed increase in the first-class postage rate to 13 cents.

But the independence of the Postal Service does not extend to the rate-setting procedure. Congress, justified by a $1.5 billion annual postal subsidy and contemplating authorization of another $2.5 billion, keeps a tight rein on the service and the Postal Rate Commission which it established to deliberate rate adjustments.

Bailar envisions the additional income of three cents from each first-class letter as wiping out the $850 million deficit for fiscal 1975 and balancing the $2 billion deficit in annual operating costs linked to a new contract with postal unions.

The average increase in pay and benefits for each postal worker of $2,800 over three years is restrained in comparison with labor pacts negotiated in the private sector.

The Postal Rate Commission has been of little help in facing Postal Service financial problems, however. Bailar's proposal has been under consideration for 22 months.

Seymour Wenner, chief administrative law judge at the commission, recently submitted a counterproposal. He would reduce first-class rates, sharply increasing rates for other classes.

If implemented, Wenner's plan would create undeniable hardship on magazine publishers, already hurting from rate revisions in the recent past. Postal Service officials also fear that it would drive fourth-class parcel mailers to independent services, further complicating the unhappy fiscal picture.

The House Post Office Committee has initiated steps to block Wenner's program as it drafted legislation to increase congressional subsidies.

With sharp recognition of the political winds, however, it has also indicated disenchantment with Bailar's coveted 13-cent rate. Under the confused legacies of the rate-setting structure, the committee legislation would limit the first-class rate to 12 cents.

Meanwhile, the Postal Service — under criticism from workers and patrons — implements a wage scale it lacks revenues to pay and postpones service improvements it cannot afford.

The oft-maligned agency's woes are not entirely of its own making.

Research Review

Research agencies make a good case for projects that draw the ridicule of some lawmakers, notably Wisconsin Sen. William Proxmire, as a frivolous waste of the taxpayers' money.

An examination of the sex life of the gypsy moth, for example, although it drew snickers when brought to the attention of Congress, reportedly has aided in fighting a gypsy-moth infestation in the areas of the Northeast.

But the justification for such studies as an $81,000 probe of the social behavior of the Alaskan brown bear, a $36,500 investigation of the song habits of parasitic flies and a $15,000 evaluation of American hitchhiking finances the layman concerned with government spending and a record budget deficit.

The House has responded to voter complaints and indicated its own doubts by approving an amendment which would give Congress veto power over National Science Foundation grants.

The proposed congressional review seems to be a reasonable step to assuring that research dollars go to programs promising worthwhile scientific development.

BERRY'S WORLD

"You-hoo, Willy! Two men from the federal government are here to see you. Something about canning lids."

Last week we devoted a portion of this space to the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees, who were competing in the Winter Park 24-hour bike-a-thon.

A total of 23 men entered the marathon event and we're happy to report that every one crossed the finish line in an admirable 18th, overall.

Now 18th might not seem like such a lofty place in the standings, but it should be noted that our boys didn't have much time to "warm-up" for the big event and their spot in the overall finish doesn't really matter.

After all, the big winner was the Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA), 'cause that's what it was all about from the outset.

However, Bruce McKibbin was the first rider for the local Jaycees in the LeMans-type race, over a 1.2 mile course in which each member of the 23 entries of eight riders per team, pedaled about four or five laps each before giving way to "relief" driver.

The race started at 10:15 a.m. on Saturday and ended at the same time on Sunday.

In addition to McKibbin, the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees' team consisted of Rick Galloway, Rick Heuser, Henry Bowling, David White, Skip Senkirk, Bill Bracken and Larry Blair with Vic Gischer serving as coach while C. J. Bass was chief cook and trainer for the locals.

Each team turn up a minimum $500 entry fee and helping the Gischer-coached Sanford team with that were First Federal Savings & Loan of Seminole, Chelsea Title & Guaranty Co., Chase & Co., Atlantic National Bank of Sanford, Cardinal Industries, Mateczewski Real Estate, Capri Restaurant and Marriott Corp.

All told, MDA profited by about $10,000 from the event, which was witnessed by a nuclear war of persons.

We doff the derby to the aforementioned members of the Jaycees, their sponsors and to those in Winter Park for their ingenuity and willingness to help such a worth cause.

Just a reminder: Only a few days remain before your present automobile or motorcycle license plate expires and all motorists are urged to update the last-minute run at the Tax Collector's office to purchase the sticker for the new year.

Too, remember, all you get for your money is a validation sticker that MUST be placed in the upper right hand corner of the plate you now have (or are supposed to have) on your vehicle.

August 20 is the deadline for obtaining these validation stickers and, under a new law, there's a $10 penalty if a title to a vehicle is not transferred within 10 days of sale date.

Wrestling With Good And Evil

We have always had our doubts about the legitimacy of professional wrestling as a "sport," but it never occurred to us that it is in reality a "modern morality play" staged for the edification of frothing fans.

According to University of Chicago scholar Thomas Hendricks, professional wrestlers "try to assemble their identities within a framework of beliefs or symbols which seem to motivate the audience's adoration or invective." Or so he is quoted in Human Behavior magazine.

A typical match, he says, pits a "hero" or "man of the people" against an insulting, dirty-dealing "villain" with a name like Killer, Mad Dog or Butcher. Thus the agents of good and evil vie for physical supremacy.

The hero adheres to the rules. He uses legal holds, "breaks clean," doesn't bring "foreign objects" (hairpins, bottle caps, etc.) into the ring. The villain on the other hand flouts the regulations and "gets away with murder."

The referee, who often appears the last to become aware of a violation, represents the ineffectiveness of official justice, and the crowd does not really expect control to be exercised.

But even goodness has its limits. Tormented by the breaking point, the hero may explode into an illegal punch. Mere legality has proven insufficient to contain the forces of evil, but moral righteousness prevails as the hero joins in the villain's game and beats him at it.

And the crowd loves it.

Say what you will about women's liberation, it may just possibly be instrumental in reducing the incidence of buxomism.

En?

It's no joke. Buxomism is the unconscious habit of clenching or grinding the teeth together. It usually happens during sleep, even to dentists and wearers. The result is not only wear and tear on the teeth but in many cases chronic headaches that have no biological cause.

Four out of five known bruxists are women, according to Dr. William R. Cincotti and Arthur Grider, professors of prosthodontics (dental appliances) at the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey. And that's where the feminist movement comes in.

"It's a matter of inner conflict," say the experts. "We're accustomed to openly aggressive behavior in men, which tends to reduce their inner conflicts, while women are expected to remain cool and composed."

Thus, they add, "liberation may permit women to vent aggressive tendencies more openly and freely, and this may reduce the incidence of bruxism."

A chewing out a day helps keep the dentist away?

Letters To The Editor

The Federation of Senior Citizens Clubs is very much aware that the Tri-County Transportation Authority was formed to make a study of the needs for a transportation system in Sanford. In fact there have been three study committees on which representatives of the federation and senior citizens groups were members, one of whom was the chairman.

We all worked hard over a period of two or three years. About every six months the Tri-County Transportation Authority dangles some new bait to get people excited but nothing happens.

The Federation of Senior Citizens tired of being put off by the State Department of Transportation, the Division of Aging and the Transportation Authority, and decided to wait no longer. We had baked sales, raffias and flea market sales and finally were able to get enough together to purchase a bus of our own for the use of our members.

Our last encounter with the Division of Aging, the Department of Transportation and the Tri-County Authority ended in unbelievable confusion. We asked for help in getting three small mini buses to serve the elderly of the county. After five weeks of dead-ends we were told that we would have to have at least five $17,000 buses, union drivers, regular schedules and be prepared to make up a deficit of about $150 at the end of the year.

You or no other person is forced to ride the bus or join our federation. We would welcome you as a member of the federation and as a rider of the bus. If you didn't help buy it—don't knock it.

You do not have to be 65 to enjoy the benefits.

George V. Ronan, President, Federation of Senior Citizens

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be as brief as possible and comment on matters of general interest. The letters should deal with issues and avoid personalities. The editor reserves the right to edit those letters for reasons of space, but will exercise great care that the thrust of the letter is not lost in the editing. All letters must be signed with a mailing address and, when possible, a telephone number. The Evening Herald will respect the wishes of writers who do not want their names to appear in print. overruled the Secret Service, and Rockefeller accompanied the President to the airport for the Helsinki departure ceremony.

This little triumph, according to friends, bizzed Rockefeller's spirits.

Footnote: A spokesman acknowledged that the Vice President had his "ups and downs" but denied that he is depressed over his job. On the contrary, the spokesman claimed Rockefeller was "in excellent spirits." "I'm having a ball," the Vice President, recently told an interviewer. It is Rockefeller's nature, explained a friend, to be a bit of a cheerleader.

It calls for a severe $4 billion reduction in defense spending. Explained Institute Director Mark Harkin: "The presence of troops in a country is a sign of weakness. It shows that we are in a way of influencing countries. Some things are wrong when we spend $1.6 trillion

Federal officials have included the Metropolitan Orlando area as a prime nuclear target, should this country ever be involved in a nuclear war.

Three of Florida's most populous areas were listed, including Homestead Air Force Base in Dade County and McCall Air Force Base in Tampa.

The Orlando area was picked because of "strategic offensive military forces" at McCooy Air Force Base.

Left off the list were the sprawling areas of the U.S. Naval Air Station at Jacksonville and Eglin Air Force Base near Pensacola.

"Crisis relocation" plans to evacuate residents of the prime target areas are currently being studied. However, Albert Fischer, deputy director of Dade County's Defense unit said he had no idea where that county's 1.4 million residents could be sent.

"We really don't have any place to go except out in the Everglades," Fischer was quoted.

Oddly enough, neither Cape Canaveral nor nearby Patrick Air Force Base were included on the list of prime target areas.

Ex-Policeman Gets Probation

NAPLES (AP) — A former Miami policeman who had earned commendations for his work has received two years probation for assaulting an undercover agent during a drug arrest.

Acting Circuit Judge A.E. Wells of Glades County gave the sentence Tuesday to B. Charles Outlaw II, who was convicted in May of beating undercover agent Joseph Cook.

Cook testified that Outlaw and Patrolman Dale Thorp struck him Sept. 3, 1974, in Miami when he tried to identify himself.

Man Attacked By Shark

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — A Wisconsin man was in serious condition today after being attacked by a five-foot shark as he swam in the Atlantic off this resort city's popular motor row, officials said.

Henry Peterson, 20, of Beloit, Wis., was attacked Tuesday afternoon as he swam with a rubber raft in four feet of water about 20 feet from shore.

Doctors at Halifax Hospital said Peterson underwent extensive surgery in an apparently successful attempt to save his leg. The man was bitten in the right calf.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

McCoy Target Listing

MIAMI (AP) — A spokesman for the Civil Preparedness Agency has branded as erroneous a Pentagon list showing deactivated McCoy Air Force Base in Orlando as a prime nuclear target in a war.

A list released by the Pentagon this week showed McCoy, Homestead Air Force Base in Dade County and McCall Air Force Base in Tampa among 50 national prime targets for U.S. enemies.

Claude Thompson, region three director of the CPA in Thomasville, Ga., said Tuesday that the prime targets or "counterforce areas" are those areas that have missiles or have intercontinental bombers.

"We know McCoy doesn't have anything like that so we know it is inaccurate," Thompson said.

Ex-Policeman Gets Probation

NAPLES (AP) — A former Miami policeman who had earned commendations for his work has received two years probation for assaulting an undercover agent during a drug arrest.

Acting Circuit Judge A.E. Wells of Glades County gave the sentence Tuesday to B. Charles Outlaw II, who was convicted in May of beating undercover agent Joseph Cook.

Cook testified that Outlaw and Patrolman Dale Thorp struck him Sept. 3, 1974, in Miami when he tried to identify himself.

Man Attacked By Shark

DAYTONA BEACH (AP) — A Wisconsin man was in serious condition today after being attacked by a five-foot shark as he swam in the Atlantic off this resort city's popular motor row, officials said.

Henry Peterson, 20, of Beloit, Wis., was attacked Tuesday afternoon as he swam with a rubber raft in four feet of water about 20 feet from shore.

Doctors at Halifax Hospital said Peterson underwent extensive surgery in an apparently successful attempt to save his leg. The man was bitten in the right calf.

Walker's Record: 'Perfect Race'

GOTEBORG, Sweden (AP) — John Walker runs in nobody's shadow anymore.

After two years of chasing Filbert Bayi, Walker put it all together in what he described as "a perfect race" and shattered one of sports' most revered records, running the mile in 3 minutes, 49.4 seconds at the Göteborg Games international track and field meet Tuesday night.

"I feel extremely happy — I still can't believe I've broken the record," said Walker, a 22-year-old New Zealander who burst onto the international track scene just two years ago.

"I didn't believe I had a chance. I've been thinking it over and over the last few days — how to run, how to beat it (the record). Now I feel I could've run a more perfect race."

Running under ideal conditions, Walker took the lead on the third lap and sped away from the field to become the first man in history to break 3:50 for the mile. He shaved 18 seconds off the world record of 3:51.1, set by Bayi in Kingston, Jamaica May 17. The record came before a crowd estimated at 9,000 at Slottskogsvallen Stadium.

Walker, the only truly topflight miler in the field, finished nearly six seconds ahead of Ken Hall of Australia, who was clocked in 3:52.2. Graeme Crockett of Australia placed third in 3:56.4 and Gunnar Ekman of Sweden was fourth in 4:01.5. The temperature was 77 degrees when the race began, at 7:50 p.m. local time.

Walker credited Swedish runner Goran Savemark with helping to set the record run. "He kept exactly the speed I wanted the first 200 meters," Walker said.

Walker was timed in 56.3 seconds for 440 yards and 1:55.5 for 800 as he led his time behind Savemark. He surged to the front in the third lap, followed by Hall and Crockett, and increased his lead steadily. On the fourth lap he let it all out.

"I tried to follow Walker when he surged into the lead but I couldn't," said Hall. "He's the best middle distance runner in the world."

Walker's time at the end of 1,200 meters (1,312 yards) was 2:53.5 and he ran the last lap in less than 56 seconds.

Walker first achieved notice when he finished second to Bayi in the 1,500 meters at the 1974 Commonwealth Games in Christchurch, New Zealand. Bayi set a world record for the metric mile of 3:32.2 in that race, in which — as usual — he led all the way. Walker started his finishing kick too late to catch Bayi and came in second in 3:32.5.

Since then Walker has established himself as an outstanding middle distance runner, but when it came to the mile there was always the dominating presence of Bayi. Walker was ranked No. 1 in the world in 1974 by Track and Field News, but that was before Bayi ran his record mile. And three times this year, Walker finished second to Bayi.

He says he now has two goals: to beat Bayi, and to break the record for 1,500 meters. He has no doubts about either.

"If he faces me, I am quite confident I can beat him — as well as his record," Walker said. "I have a good chance, under present conditions, to do better than 3:32.2. Now I know I can stand a tough pace. Next time I won't permit Bayi to disappear after the start."

Plans Continue For Olympics

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Fourteen events for the Nov. 9-15 Golden Age Olympics have sponsors and the events' committee is looking for organizations to sponsor additional events.

The Golden Age Olympics, sponsored by the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, will include a variety of events for citizens 55 years of age and older.

Announced at a meeting of the committee today were a nine-hole golf tournament sponsored by the Mayfair Country Club; a wheelchair race sponsored by the Sanford Ministerial Association; horseback riding sponsored by the Sanford Sheriff's Office; bridge and shuffleboard, the Sanford Shuffleboard Club; bridge and shuffleboard, the Sanford Shuffleboard Club; tennis, Sunrise Kiwanis Club; horticultural show, Sanford Garden Club; billiard tournament, Sanford Recreation Department; ping pong, Ministerial Association; arts and crafts, Sanford Art Association; bowling, Disabled American Veterans; corn husking, Civitan Club; ceramics, Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce; and bicycle race, Sanford Senior Citizens Club and American Association of Retired Persons.

A meeting of the sponsors has been scheduled for Sept. 3 at 8:15 a.m. at the Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Vic Arnett, chairman of the steering committee, said that information had been received on a Senior Olympics in California, but that it included anyone over 25 years old.

Dick Oswald, owner of McDonald's of Sanford, said McDonald's organization is interested in sponsoring an event.

Arnett said that the Olympics' needed a budget and it was estimated that $1,500 would be needed to finance the Olympic activities and awards.

Among suggested sources of funding were selling a program, admission for some spectator events and entry fees. Entry fees for participants were later disbanded for fear it would drive away participants.

The next meeting of the steering committee is next Wednesday at 8:15 a.m. at the Chamber.

Gridder Baker Retires

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ralph Baker has been in the top of the pro football world. He has been a member of the New York Jets for more than one-third of his life. An 11-year veteran, Baker has known the glory of Super Bowl triumph.

Today Baker is preparing to go to work in sales for an acoustical contractor.

Cut by the Jets this week to make way for younger, stronger bodies, the 32-year-old Baker faced up to reality last night and announced his retirement from football.

"This is certainly a sad day, but you know it has to come to everybody," Baker said. "I never did it figure in their plans. But I felt I was insurance — in case some of the young linebackers fouled up."

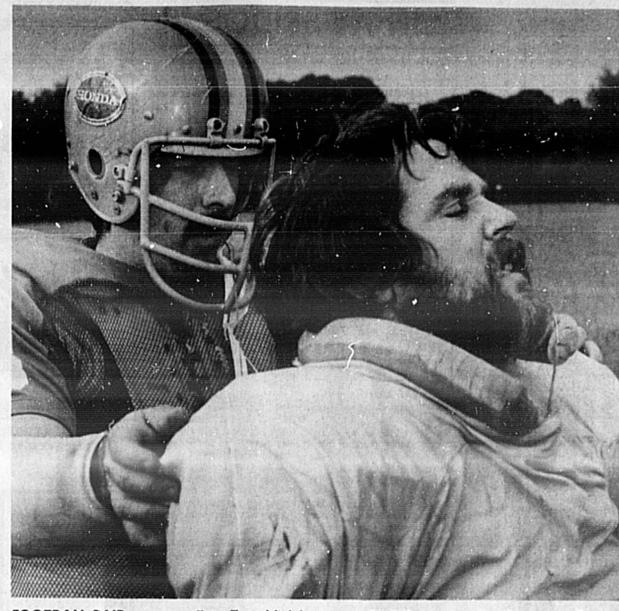

Placed on waivers Monday, Baker had hoped against hope that some other team might be interested in a linebacker with his experience.

"They put me on waivers before training camp started, and a few teams were interested," he said. "So the club tried to make a trade, but they told me they couldn't."

"I think the only club that would be interested in me now would be one in a desperate situation for linebackers. I can only hope — but I don't like my chances."

At 4 p.m. Tuesday, Baker cleared waivers. There were no takers — except for the acoustical contractor.

Most of the other players dropped this week, as the 26 National Football League teams trimmed their rosters to 60, were not as fortunate. Although there were a few veterans among those placed on waivers, the vast majority were rookies and free agents who will never get that taste of Sunday glory.

'Ball Four' Bouton Back In Baseball

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Bouton retired from baseball in 1970 at the age of 31 because his knuckleball didn't knuckle often enough to get batters out consistently.

Since then, he's become rich and successful. He's written a mammoth best seller, "Ball Four," and a less than mammoth sequel, "I'm Glad You Didn't Take It Personally."

He's become a television sportscaster on CBS at $50,000 a year. He's appeared in a Hollywood movie, done an assortment of articles for national magazines, made several TV appearances with such celebrities as Paul Newman and Elliott Gould, and dabbled in politics.

He has a big house with a pool in Englewood, N.J., and a summer place on a lake.

In other words, he's got it made.

Now he wants to chuck it all — or some of it anyway — in favor of $300 a month and a spot in the starting rotation of the Portland Mavericks, an underdog entry in the equally underdog Northwest League.

"The juices haven't been flowing for a few years," Bouton said in an interview with Newsday. "You get spoiled by the thrills of baseball. It's exciting to walk that tightrope."

"The other night I did. It felt exactly like it always did. One false step and you fall. If you get to the other side, wow! — you've done something."

Bouton, 36, made his debut last Friday night as the Mavericks' an independent franchise. He was a pitcher in the majors for 10 years, from 1964 to 1970, when he was traded to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"I hate to kick away a career I like because I have to go do this," he said, "but I'd take my chances. There are all those people in the world who'd like to quit their jobs and hitch hike to Arizona or sail on a boat to Bolivia."

Detroit Drops No. 17; Royals 5 1/2 Behind

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Detroit Tigers, down so long they can't remember up, have not lost heart.

"They're playing hard," said Texas Manager Frank Lucchesi. "They're playing like they're going down the stretch for a pennant. They're not going through the motions. They're hustling."

The Tigers lost their 17th straight game Tuesday night, bowing to the Rangers 4-3. Texas scored four times in the first inning and the Tigers spent the rest of the night trying to catch up.

Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City beat Baltimore 4-2 in 10 innings, Boston whipped California 8-2, New York downed Oakland 7-2, Cleveland trimmed Chicago 6-3 and Milwaukee beat Minnesota 7-4.

The Tigers' latest loss brings them within three games of tying the American League record for futility and within seven of the major league mark. They did get on the scoreboard Tuesday night, however, snapping a 31-inning drought in the third inning when Aurelio Rodriguez tripled and came in on Tom Verzer's single. Rodriguez leaped on the plate as the crowd cheered wildly.

Ron LeFlore and Dan Meyer drove in runs with sacrifice flies in the seventh for the other Detroit runs. Vern Riffe, 9-0, survived Texas' four-run first inning to finish with a five-hitter. Toby Harrah's two-run double was the big blow for the Rangers in the rally.

Stan Perzanowski worked six innings for Texas to record his first major league victory.

Buffalo's Reputation Faces 1975 Challenge

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) — Coach Lou Saban, who has made the Buffalo Bills a winner since his return here in 1972, says this is his 1973 team. "We must face the prospect of living up to our reputation."

A year ago, with a team he often described as young, Saban coached the Bills to a 9-5 record and a National Football League playoff berth. "We have become a consistent winner, a playoff participant and a championship contender," he says.

Now, Saban no longer is saying "we're young."

"We have experience and we have depth," he says.

Hearkening to Saban was the condition of his veterans and the rookies who reported to training camp at Niagara University.

"Our men came back in excellent shape," he says. "Because of the squad's excellent condition and overall experience, we've been able to keep the workouts brief and business-like. The players have shown an enthusiasm we think is indicative of their outlook for this season."

The offensive front four, all veterans, are guards Reggie McKenzie and Joe DeLambert, tackle Dave Reuben and Ronnie Green. Saban hopes to use Foley Gant, who missed most of last season with a shoulder injury, at tight end and shift Paul Seymour to tackle. He has three wide receivers in J.D. Hill, Ahmad Hashad and Bob Chandler and Saban says.

"But we can survive because of our depth," he says.

Atlanta, Belloir Top Slumping Pittsburgh

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Belloir family stayed home Tuesday night... all except young Roy Belloir.

He showed up at Atlanta Stadium to play shortstop for the Braves — his fifth major league game — and collected his first extra-base hit and first run batted in with a tie-breaking two-out double in the seventh inning that enabled the Braves to defeat the slumping Pittsburgh Pirates 3-2.

The native Atlantian's clutch blow off Bruce Kison, his second hit of the game and third of his big league career, followed an intentional walk to Ralph Garr and gave the Braves a 3-1 lead.

The loss was the 10th in the last 14 games for the Pirates but they remained three games ahead of Philadelphia in the National League's East Division when the Los Angeles Dodgers a single off Gene Garber, who had allowed only one hit and struck out six since coming on in the sixth. Steve Garvey sacrificed and, after an intentional walk to Don Coy, Yeager, who singled a run home in the Dodgers' three-run first, walked his seventh home run of the season. Philadelphia's Jay Johnstone hit a two-run homer off Mike Marshall in the bottom of the 10th.

Cardinals 5, Astros 4

Ted Simmons hit a two-run homer, Lou Brock delivered a two-run single and rookie John Denny singled home what turned out to be the winning run while notching his seventh pitching triumph.

Mets 9, Padres 4

Tom Seaver became the NL's second 16-game winner and Ed Kranepool ignited a four-run rally

Detroit Drops No. 17

Royals 4, Orioles 2

Amos Otis singled, his fourth hit of the night, stole second and scored on George Brett's two-out double in the 10th for Kansas City. Harmon Killebrew singled in an insurance run as the Royals closed to within 3 1/2 games of first-place Oakland in the American League West. Doug Bird, 8-4, got the victory with 4-13 innings of scoreless relief.

Red Sox 8, Angels 2

Rick Wise, 16-4, won his ninth straight game as Boston upped its lead in the American League East to seven games. Wise, who hasn't lost since June 22, tossed a seven-inning besting rookie Chuck Hockenberg, 9-2. Carlton Fisk had two singles and a double and drove in three runs for the Red Sox.

Yanks 7, A's 2

Doc Medich, 11-12, limited Oakland to six hits declarer. He is in a normal contract since almost every one else will open one notrump and play in the notrump game. The queen of spades play from dummy becomes an attempt to score an overtrick and overtricks are what win match-point tournaments. Of course, if South knows that West never leads from kings (there still are such people playing bridge), he will make the rubber bridge players play of the low spade. If South is a natural pessimist, he will also play safe for his contract.

Ask the Jacobys

By Oswald & James Jacoby

A reader from Hawaii wants to know if the rules of bridge allow a player to pass when his partner opens with a forcing two-bid.

This question comes up quite often. The answer is that the rules of bridge allow you to make any legal call when it is your turn to bid and a pass is always a legal call.

At the same time it is seldom advisable to pass when your partner forces. He may have his bid and you may be missing a game or even a slam.

Refugees Drugged, Colonel Relieved

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Air Force base commander in Thailand was relieved of his position after 13 protesting Vietnamese refugees were drugged and put aboard the last plane for Guam.

Officials said Col. Harold R. Austin exceeded his authority, drugging the episode Tuesday, hours after Rep. Joshua Elliott, D-Pa., chairman of the House immigration subcommittee, demanded an explanation of what he called "a horrible thing for our country."

But the Air Force denied Elliott's allegation that the refugees, who wanted to return home, were beaten. "No physical force was used," it said.

The official Air Force explanation strongly suggested the decision to drug the 13 refugees was made because of pressure from Thai officials to remove South Vietnamese from their country quickly.

"The Thai officials were adamant that they leave Thailand immediately," the Air Force said.

About 3,000 South Vietnamese flew to Thailand on Vietnamese planes as their country was being overrun by Communist forces.

The Air Force recalled that the United States sent C-141 transport planes to carry the Vietnamese refugees from Thailand after the Thai asserted that the Vietnamese could not remain.

"On May 1, when South Vietnam had fallen and the last C-141 was leaving for Guam, a group of 13 Vietnamese refused to board the plane," the Air Force statement said.

"They said that when they boarded the aircraft in Vietnam, their Vietnamese flight crews had told them their destination was the Delta region of Vietnam.

"Near hysteria, they demanded to be returned to Vietnam and threatened suicide if they were not returned immediately."

As the Air Force told the story, a decision by U.S. and Thai officials on the scene to seclude the Vietnamese and take them to Guam was made after hours of fruitless efforts to persuade the 13 "that there were no means to take them back."

It said the drugs were administered by U.S. medical personnel at Utagap and that an Air Force nurse was aboard the flight.

"No ill effects were noted," the Air Force said.

An Air Force spokesman said the 13 are still on Guam awaiting repatriation, but an aide to Elliott said one is in the United States.

About 2,000 of the more than 130,000 South Vietnamese who left their country in the dying days of the war have asked to go back.

Cambodian Reds Oust Leader, Shuffle Regime

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Khmer Rouge strongman Kieu Samphan has apparently been displaced in a reshuffle of the new Cambodian regime's top leadership, according to an announcement today over Phnom Penh radio.

Meanwhile, Thailand recalled its ambassador to Laos in protest against the Vietnamese government's detention of two Thai military attaches for more than a week without official charges.

In other developments: —In Laos, the Vietnamese Post published a police report claiming that Rosemary Conway, released two days ago after spending two months in jail, worked for the Central Intelligence Agency and tried to persuade Lao pilots to fly their planes to Thailand. U.S. officials have denied that Miss Conway, 36, of Chicago, was a CIA agent.

—Saigon Liberation Radio criticized the U.S. veto of North and South Vietnam's application for United Nations membership and called on Washington to implement the article in the Paris peace agreement "stipulating the U.S. has to take responsibility to heal the wounds of war in South Vietnam."

—The third group of 297 Vietnamese refugees left Kuala Lumpur by a chartered Air Siam flight for Camp Pendleton, Calif., a U.S. Embassy spokesman said in the Malaysian capital. The first group of 154 refugees left on July 29 while 24 others left two days after. Both groups went to Guam.

—The Thai Foreign Ministry spokesman said the ambassador was recalled "to protest the Laotian action in arresting our diplomats and he will be here until the issue is settled."

Laotian police arrested Lt. Col. Lett Pengputr and Maj. Prasert Thongpue on Aug. 5 and accused them of engaging in "espionage and sabotage."

Thailand denied the charges and retaliated by expelling two Laotian diplomats.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Security Chief Meets With Army On Rioting
LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Security chief Gen. Otelo Saraiva de Carvalho today met with military commanders following two nights of attacks on Communist political offices in northern Portugal.

A power struggle within the armed forces continued to divide the pro-Communist officers and moderates opposed to the establishment of a Communist dictatorship.

Anti-Communist violence that claimed four lives and injured scores in the north appeared to have let up today.

There were unconfirmed reports that Carvalho, one of three generals on the ruling junta, was preparing his own program for the next steps in Portugal's 15-month-old revolution.

Five Slain By Guerrillas
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico's most feared urban guerrilla group, in an apparent switch in tactics, shot to death two policemen and three government price inspectors in a busy market place.

Another policeman and a woman cashier were injured in the attack Tuesday attributed to the 23rd September Communist League. The policeman was reported in serious condition.

The victims were eating at snack bar in the bustling suburban market place when five men, pretending to buy food and clothes, opened fire on the group with machine guns and pistols. Terrified women, with young children fled the area screaming as 50 bullets sprayed the snack bar, splattering blood on the walls and floor.

Fishing Talks Continue
NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — Bahamian Prime Minister Lynden Pindling says talks today with the United States over fishing rights represents his country's "first diplomatic challenge since independence."

Twenty American negotiators and advisers are in Nassau for meetings to find a compromise that will allow U.S. fishermen to take lobster from the Bahamas continental shelf.

The seven-man Bahamian delegation is led by External Affairs Minister and Attorney General Paul L. Adderley. The U.S. team is led by David H. Wallace of the Commerce Department.

TV HIGHLIGHTS

EXHIBITION SCHEDULE: CBS is really going to jump the season with 'Big Eddie', the series starring Sheldon Leonard as a street-wise gambler who marries his long-time girl friend played by Sherie North, when his granddaughter comes to live with them after her parents are killed in an auto accident. The first three episodes will be seen on Saturday night, Aug. 23, 30, and September 6, before it settles into a Friday night slot September 6. It raises the possibility with such an active program schedule of a show being canceled even before it starts its regular run. If 'Big Eddie' does poorly in the ratings before the season, that's as good a time as you can learn about it.

DIALING AROUND: 'Call of the Wild,' the Jack London classic, will be turned into a two-hour pilot film with a script by Pulitzer Prize-winner James Dickey, who won the coveted prize for poetry... 'Baretta has a new boss for next season. Edward Glover will portray 141. Hal Bruckner, a four-hour series, 'The Story of the'

David, will co-star Timothy Bottoms as young David, Keith Conner as King David and Anthony Quayle as King Saul. ABOUT TONIGHT: CBS' TONY ORLANDO AND RAYNOR BIRNBAUM. The whole gang, including guests Jack Albertson and Ruth Buzzi, has a good deal of fun satirizing 'Gone with the Wind.' Orlando plays Rhett Butler and Miss Buzzi (nykes) is Scarlett O'Hara. ## Sutherland's Ex-Wife Sues To Block Deportation

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The former wife of actor Donald Sutherland has filed suit seeking to block her deportation to Canada. Shirley Jean Sutherland, 41, of Beverly Hills, said in her federal court suit Tuesday she was denied immigrant resident status after being indicted in 1969 on charges of conspiracy and possession of hand grenades. Federal authorities had alleged that she was a member of a group called "Friends of the Panthers" which officials said planned to distribute hand grenades to the Black Panthers. The charges were later dismissed. The Sutherlands were divorced in November 1971. Sutherland has had leading roles in several films, including "M-A-S-H" and "Kluge."

Hathaway Leaves Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stanley K. Hathaway, who resigned as secretary of interior after serving five weeks, has been released from Bethesda Naval Hospital. The former Wyoming governor resigned his cabinet post because of ill health. Doctors said he suffered from fatigue, moderate depression and a mild case of diabetes. Hathaway, who had been under medical and psychiatric care at Bethesda since July 15, flew to Denver last Friday to continue his hospitalization.

Gowon Arrives in London

LONDON (AP) — Gen. Yakubu Gowon, whose regime in Nigeria was toppled by a military coup 14 days ago, has arrived in London. His only comment to reporters was: "I am here for a short holiday to see my family. I don't know how long I will be here."

John Denver To Tour Pacific

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John Denver will make his first tour of the South Pacific with his band, the John Denver Band, Australia and New Zealand, it was announced Tuesday. The tour will open with two concerts at the Honolulu International Center on Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

Carnival Bear Kills Toddler

STEWARTSDON, Ill. (AP) — Carnival workers were busy setting up their show for the Stewardson Homecoming. Animal handler Marvin Mack took his 300-pound bear from his cage and chained it to a tree. Mack said the bear, the property of Ron's Amusement Co. of Canton, Ill., had been tied to a tree with a 13-foot length of chain, and authorities speculated that the animal lunged at the girl as she toddled by. Mack, of Canton, told authorities the young bear was raised from a cub and had never before been violent. But Stewardson Police Chief Donald Nelson said: "This isn't the first time that bear has grabbed children. I saved a little 4-year-old girl last year when it pinned her down and started to maul her. Luckily, she wasn't badly hurt."

At about the same time, Mack, 32, and the bear's father, Walker Johns of Chicago, heard the little girl's screams and rushed to her aid. "They beat on that bear with a hammer, beating on its head until they finally got the bear out," Shelby County Sheriff Robert Collins said after the attack on Tuesday. He said the animal also grabbed a child in its paws recently at a carnival in Stewardson, near Stewardson in central Illinois. Collins said the bear was returned to its cage and "there he'll stay for awhile."

It was too late. Mary Ann, whose father and mother are concessionaires with the carnival, was dead on arrival at St. Anthony Memorial Hospital.

Police said at least 20 persons were arrested Tuesday night and that a total of nine persons were injured, all of them while a police spokesman said the disturbance began during the dinner hour and continued into the early hours today.

Tactical Police Put Down Riots

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's Tactical Patrol Force was called out to help put down disturbances involving hundreds of rock-throwing youths in two predominantly black housing project areas. A white man was in critical condition today after being pulled from his van and beaten. About 120 members of the riot-trained tactical force and other officers were ordered into the Mission Hill and Orchard Park housing projects after scores of cars were damaged by rocks and missiles.

Bids Sought For Jail

(Continued From Page-1A) officials Monday to review a grand jury report on the fire which recommended 13 safety features be installed in the jail prior to reopening.

State officials agreed that major overhauls, including the widening of less than 23 inch doors — would not be necessary if the county would replace the jail in two years. The grand jury did not recommend the widening of the corridor doors to meet state safety requirements, but did recommend the county build a new jail. The 14-point plan originally was agreed upon by county and City of Sanford officials. The door provision, while not included in the 14-point plan, was recommended by the state fire marshal's office. When they sought an agency with jurisdiction to waive the provision. The city, state and county all claimed they have no jurisdiction over the facility. Atty. Gen. Robert Shevlin says legislative action may be necessary to decide on jurisdiction.

Property May Be Sold Longwood Votes To Accept Donated Land

By DIANNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD The City Council has agreed to accept a deed for the 1.3 acres of land in Winsor Manor which developer Irving Berger has been attempting to give the city for the past 30 months.

But, the property when acquired may be sold rather than used for a recreation site, councilman said Monday night, and Council Chairman J.R. Grant made it clear he will oppose any move to have the Winsor Manor residents claim the tract strictly for their own use.

"If the city owns the property I don't think that only Winsor Manor homeowners can use it," Grant said. Councilman Dan Schreiner, instructed by Grant to arrange the deed by Berger after district Councilman Gerard Connell brought the matter to city attention again several months ago, said, "If it is decided to the city, we cannot keep anyone out."

"I am not going to divide the city. If it is city property it belongs to everyone. I will not help you divide the city," Grant said.

Franklin Alexander, head of the new Winsor Manor Civic Association, asked the city to acquire title cost free to the property and deed it to the association for development of a recreation area or to permit the association to acquire the land from the former developer.

Noting many of the Winsor Manor residents bought their homes on the basis of promises made by the developer that a recreation area would be available, Alexander said the subdivision residents would improve the tract themselves, mentioning tennis courts as one use for the site.

"The consensus in Winsor Manor is that if Winsor Manor does not control the property, it would rather not have it as a recreation site," Alexander said.

Alexander said the association had been talking to Berger for three to four months about gaining control of the tract, but that Berger wanted to donate the parcel in a manner that would allow him to claim a tax write-off. Although various documents concerning the property had been given the city, over a 30-month period, the city had taken no action to record the donation.

Alexander asked for more time—30 days to give the group an opportunity to acquire the land while arranging for Berger to receive the tax write-off. A motion by Connell to grant the time extension was first seconded by Council member June Lorman, who later withdrew the second, letting the motion die for lack of a second.

Connell voted against authorization for City Attorney Ned Julian Jr. to complete the legalities to acquire the land after colleagues indicated several alternatives were being considered, from selling the land for $10,000 to the possibility of locating a fire sub-station at the site.

Schreiner said any delay might cause Berger to withdraw his offer of donating the property.

WOMEN 'Aussie' Student Already 'At Home'

Evening Herald, Sanford, FL. Wednesday, Aug. 13, 1973—18

Sandwich 'am 'Down Under' — Marty Windsor (left) giggles as her Aussie 'sister' Meg Feenan adds honey to cottage cheese.

By JAN MONAHAN Herald Staff Writer

Meg Feenan, 16-year-old exchange student from Sydney, Australia, feels the most difficult adjustment she'll have to make in the United States will come about this time next year when she'll have to return home.

"There's no way I won't be a member of this family," says Meg of her sponsoring new "mom" and "dad," Mr. and Mrs. Walter Windsor and "sister," Marty. Meg also relates that during her ensuing year as a senior at Lake Brantley High School, she and her friends back home will have "grown in different directions."

Also to be considered is that for a year Meg will enjoy being the center of attention, accorded special VIP treatment as she was upon her arrival July 21 at McCoy Airport, and later when she met with Orlando's Mayor, Carl Langford, and was presented the key to the city.

When she returns home, she "will have to fall back in and be just human again," says the girl who has more insight and savvy than one might normally expect from a young, vibrant teenager.

Meg is one of some 2,600 students representing over 90 countries brought to the United States to study this year under the American Field Service (AFS), an international scholarship exchange program. Students and sponsoring families are thoroughly interviewed and then "matched" accordingly. "We always thought it would be great to have an exchange student," says Mrs. Windsor. "But this year it became apparent that it had to be now or never."

Three of the Windsor children are now grown and on their own. Their daughter, Marty, 16, is going into her senior year at Lake Brantley. But Seminole County didn't have an A.F.S. chapter and it's the local group that helps provide some of the funds necessary for the exchange. So, "it was a case of the tail wagging the dog," explains Mrs. Windsor who helped form the Seminole County chapter which now has some 10 members.

"This is by no means an academic scholarship," explains Meg who admits to having just average grades. Exchange students are chosen mainly on their ability to "get on" with people she says and an ambassador from Australia. Although a girl who has never been out of Australia can certainly benefit from such an experience, Meg says, "I hope to give more than a little gain. Americans have very little idea of what Australia is like."

But Meg, who will be seeing America from her home base at the Windsor's in Spring Valley, an exclusive Altamonte Springs address, has already formed some general impressions. "Americans spend more money on appliances and cars," she says pointing to such items as dishwasher and garbage disposal. "And I've never seen so many Mustangs! One observation she made in San Francisco was that Americans apparently take their automobiles for granted. "Many of the cars have dents that haven't been fixed. At home we can't get them to the panel beaters fast enough," says Meg. "Panel Beaters" is a colloquialism for the Australian auto body shop.

Meg won't have a language barrier to worry about while she's living and studying in the U.S., but there will be a lot of slang terms exchanged with her American sister. School will also be different for Meg who will have to repeat her senior year at Penhurst Girls High School after she returns home even though she will graduate with her class at Lake Brantley. American Schools have a more general choice of subjects compared to Australian schools which offer basically math, English, Science and a few electives. There is also more school spirit she says. "Here, students live to revel around school and extra curricular activities," says Meg. "At home we go to school from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., go home and do our homework and then forget about school."

An added bonus for Meg will be graduating with the Class of '76 in our Bicentennial year. Because of the Bicentennial students will be allowed to stay in the States until after the celebration.

As President of Interact Club, sponsored by the Rotarians in Australia, Meg was disappointed to learn she won't be able to participate this year, because it's a men's organization. She hopes instead to put her energies into drama club, music and perhaps try out for cheerleader for the baseball team, a sport which is just arriving in Australia.

College To Offer Varied Courses

Seminole Community College's Adult and Continuing Education Campus is offering a variety of courses in the fall term, many of particular interest to women. A small registration fee is necessary for most courses and reservations should be made soon by calling the College and asking for the Adult Campus.

Slim 'N Trim Oct. 22. One class will be from 10 a.m.-11 a.m., the second from 1 p.m.-2 p.m. One evening class will meet each Tuesday and Thursday evening in the Health Building on the SCC campus from Sept. 9-Oct. 23, from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Doll Making For the first time, the college is offering "Doll Making." The class will meet at SCC's South Seminole Campus from 7 p.m.-10 p.m. each Wednesday, beginning on Sept. 10 ending Oct. 29. Mrs. Grace Harris, the instructor, will teach you to make dolls from dried apples, clothes pins and even from eggs!

Beginning Water Colors "Two eight-week courses in 'Beginning Watercolors' are being offered. One class will meet from 7 p.m.-10 p.m. beginning on Sept. 10 and ending Oct. 29. Mrs. Helen Hickey, the instructor, has agreed to individualize with each student, therefore those persons who have had "Intermediate Watercolors" in the past are invited to the Wednesday night class.

W.I.F.E. Program Adult and Continuing Education, in conjunction with Project 21st Century Woman, is offering a unique service to women of the community in its W.I.F.E. program. Women Interested in Future Education is a free program of testing and personal exploration designed to allow the mature woman to explore her own potentials and translate those potentials into a career, academic experiences or a whole new vocation. The next starting date for W.I.F.E. is Sept. 9 from 9 a.m.-12 noon in the South Seminole Center. For reservations, call June Gordon at the College.

Have Scents Sense

Don't be a one-note woman. Have at least two scents — one for the sunlit you, and something deeper for the more mysterious moonlit you. Do press your favorite fragrance into clothes. The ironing board just before you use it and the iron warmth will transfer the scent into your clothes.

Don't make them wonder where that nice smell comes from every time you shake your head. Put a few drops of perfume on a teaspoon of cologne in the rinse water when you wash your hair, or spray before setting. Don't try every scent the store sells when you're buying. About three different fragrances are all the average nose can handle at a time. Glamour suggests dabbing a bit on one wrist, waiting a minute or so for the scent to develop, then sniffing. Do the same thing on the other wrist, then try the back of your hand for another.

Do spray fragrance to pulse points — wrists, crook of elbow, throat, behind ears, temples and behind knees. That the heat of your body strengthens the scent may be a woman's tale, but it's definitely sexy to discover a bit of hidden fragrance at these zones.

Do surround yourself with a soft mist of fragrance by scenting lingerie. Glamour suggests putting a few drops of cologne or perfume into the rinse water when you wash your underthings.

Do not lose the pleasure of fragrance just because your nose has gotten "immune" to a particular scent. Try a new one. It can be fun to experiment with something exactly the opposite of what you've been wearing. It's also a way of expanding your sensual experience. Do think of fragrance as a "many splendored thing." Besides your favorite bottle of perfume or cologne, get into the pleasure of scented bath and body oil, moisture lotion and whatever else you find to surround yourself with.

Noise, Loss Of Hearing Causing National Problem

A new and startling discovery suddenly has raised "noise" from its status as mere nuisance to a national health problem. The discovery is this: persistent noise no louder than a big truck is sufficient to cause hearing loss a little at a time. What's more, it has been found that there is no such thing as a "temporary" hearing loss. Once any amount of noise-induced hearing ability is lost, it is gone forever.

Forty million Americans are regularly exposed to noise that can cause hearing loss, says the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). A second dimension to the worsening noise problem is its physical and emotional effects — from vision loss to cardiovascular problems to psychosis.

Up to now, the general opinion was that only a big noise like an air horn at five feet or a jet engine turning up nearby could cause hearing loss.

Dr. Samuel Rosen, noted New York City otologist, has identified noise as a contributing cause of cardiovascular problems. Theodore Berland cites authority for his conclusion that noise can "precipitate emotional crises or psychoses" in his book, "The Fight For Quiet."

Noise levels in population and employment centers have doubled during the past 15 years and continue to rise one decibel per year. The second reason for recent emergence of noise as a genuine national health problem is the discovery of non-hearing effects. The EPA and labor unions cite research results to prove that noise can cause partial vision loss.

Dr. Samuel Rosen, noted New York City otologist, has identified noise as a contributing cause of cardiovascular problems. Theodore Berland cites authority for his conclusion that noise can "precipitate emotional crises or psychoses" in his book, "The Fight For Quiet."

Seniors Twist Tongues Around Foreign Languages

Who me, speak Spanish? Helene Edmonson seems to be asking Prof. John Hodge.

It's back to school each Monday and Wednesday morning for a group of Sanford senior citizens interested in learning conversational Spanish, French or German.

The classes, for which there is no charge, are being taught by foreign languages specialist Prof. John Hodge in the recreation room of Bram Towers, Sanford, and are open to all interested adults, not only senior citizens.

Hodge, a graduate of Morehouse College, Atlanta, has attended London University, Catholic University of Washington, D.C., and Stetson University. He made an international contribution in the field of modern foreign languages in the technique of teaching which appeared worldwide in Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" publication of Oct. 26, 1948.

Hodge has taught foreign languages from kindergarten to post graduate level and is currently teaching senior citizens at Ormond Beach Library, Bunnell Library in New Smyrna, College Arms

Student Ruth Weldon listens intently as Hodge explains the lesson. (Herald Photos by Gordon Williamson)

Apartments in DeLand, Genert Apartments, Orlando, as well as in Sanford.

Hodge has his own television show which appears on Orange Cablevision, Orlando, and may be seen in Sanford at 7 p.m. each Wednesday, starting in September. "Here It Now" is the program title, and it has been aired first over radio and in recent years over television for the past 21 years.

Learning to speak a foreign language through the medium of television or radio is actually a fairly easy process, Hodge said.

He is recently retired from his work as a reading and writing teacher in the Volusia County Jail, and lives in Daytona Beach. Hodge, who was born in Lakeland, has been teaching languages for the past 31 years.

It's still not too late to join his weekly classes at Bram Towers, urges the professor. Spanish lessons are held from 11:30 a.m. Mondays; French from 10:30 a.m. Wednesdays; German lesson times are still to be announced.

'Lab' Errand Irks Squeamish Neighbor

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who I like, but his wife can be very obnoxious.

This wife asked me to take a urine sample to the hospital lab for her in the morning because she and her husband leave for work earlier than the lab opens up and I go right by the hospital on my way to work later.

I said no flat out. The next morning, this woman's mother was there to pick up the little jar to deliver it to the hospital, which is only six blocks away.

IT'S URINE, NOT MINE. DEAR IT'S: I think you were being unduly squeamish. You probably would have taken a blood sample and would not have been shocked by the request—unless, of course, you don't like any part of your neighbor's wife.

DEAR ABBY: Joe, a guy I bowl with, told me that he just came back from Las Vegas where he had been the best man at three weddings. (I'll call the bridegroom "Paul.")

Joe said that Paul first married a girl who was visibly pregnant just to give her baby a name. Immediately after they were married, Paul divorced her.

Then Paul went back to the chapel and married Girl No. 2 for the same reason. As soon as they were married, Paul divorced her, too.

Paul said the divorces had been set up in advance. Then, they went back to the chapel, and Paul married the girl he was really in love with. (Joe said the third one didn't look pregnant.)

How about blood tests and waiting periods? Personally, I think this so-called "best man" is full of baloney, but he swears this actually happened.

Dear Abby

Is this possible?

DOUBTING THOMAS. DEAR TOM: It's possible. Blood tests and waiting periods are not required in Nevada. I am informed that divorces are final when granted and the parties are free to marry immediately.

DEAR ABBY: The nursing problems of 1980 caught my eye because I was a graduate nurse in 1960.

In training we received $8 per month for four years. We worked 10 hours a day, six days a week, and did all the cleaning. Three months every year, we worked in the TB ward.

Later, on private cases, we were allowed to charge only $25 a week. On contagious cases, we cooked all the patient's meals in the family kitchen, but many times, all I got to eat was one bowl of milk and bread.

On private cases we worked 20 hours a day and usually left the case after three weeks feeling exhausted and very hungry.

Today, nursing is a bail.

NORAJ. DEAR NORAJ: The low pay, long hours and drudgery of nursing in the early 1960s may make today's nursing look easy. But the academic and professional requirements for an R.N. these days are no "bail." And the competition, tensions and living costs that face the modern nurse don't make her work or her life a "bail," either.

The difference between these two thermostats can save you 40% on your air conditioning costs.

The thermostat in the right hand is set at 73 degrees. The one in the left is set at 78 degrees. The difference in the thermostat settings is only five degrees. But what a difference in the cost of cooling even one little degree can make. Approximately 8 percent, in the average home. When you stop to consider that you can still be comfortable at 78 degrees, and save 40% on your air conditioning costs as well, which one would you choose?

Setting the thermostat at a "comfortable" setting is only one way to save money on your cooling costs. Here are some others:

- If your thermostat isn't marked in degrees, place a good thermometer in a room out of the air conditioning flow, to be sure you're maintaining 78 degrees.
- Insulate your attic floor. A six-inch layer of insulation in the attic can cut your costs substantially if your home is fully air conditioned. And it's inexpensive to install. The blown-in type averages about 15¢ a square foot.
- Weatherstrip your doors and windows. (Especially jalousie windows.) It's another good way to keep the heat out, the cool in and the costs down.
- Shade your windows with awnings, shutters or reflective film. It helps quite a bit. Example: one 8'x6" panel of glass, with direct exposure to the sun, requires nearly one ton of air conditioning for cooling.
- Use light colors on your walls and roof to reflect the sun. The lighter the color the less heat. The less heat the less your bill will be next month.
- Shade your air conditioning unit with shubbery, but don't block the air flow. That way it'll operate more economically and efficiently.

Why are we telling you all this? Because we aren't any happier about higher costs than you are. So FPL wants to help you save money and energy, without it costing you a lot of inconvenience.

Artist To Show Work

Anieta Mengel, well known area artist, will be featured in the Artists Corner at the Winter Park Mall Aug. 18-23, daily from 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. Mengel will be sketching portraits and caricatures from sittings and photos.

Visitors to the Mall over the past several years will remember her displays of paintings from the Orient and Europe as well as the popularity of her portraits.

Anieta has had many one woman shows and she belongs to most of the Orlando area art associations.

Some of the highlights in Anieta's career as a sketch artist, include painting the portrait of a beautiful Japanese princess, and doing a series of caricatures of well known Central Floridians from the Imperial House.

Cook Of The Week: Penny Wilson Adds Chinese Flavor

By JEAN PATTESON Women's Editor

Mrs. W. (Penny) Wilson of Longwood combines an academic background in foods and nutrition (these were her majors at Iowa State University) with a natural flair for cooking and experimental taste in foods.

"I'm not much for baking or sweets," confesses the attractive, dark haired housewife. But when it comes to Oriental food—or vegetables—she is in her element.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Wilson was employed as assistant cafeteria manager at a junior college in Omaha, Neb. She married an Air Force man, and as a result has done a great deal of traveling during her lifetime, both in the U. S. and abroad.

It was in Shanghai, China that she first acquired her taste for Chinese food. "There's a lot of difference between the food of North and South China," Mrs. Wilson points out. "Most Americans are familiar with the more fruity food of the South."

It is the subtle flavor, the true blending of spices which attracts her to Oriental food. Stationed for a while in Tokyo, she also experimented with Japanese cooking, but prefers the Chinese cuisine.

Curries are another of Mrs. Wilson's favorites. While living in Bermuda she met and made friends with a South African who "cooked the most divine curries, both mild and blazing hot."

Mrs. Wilson and her husband are keen gardeners—she will be president of the Altamonte Springs Garden Club during the coming year. "For parts of the year we are almost vegetarians," she smiles. "I freeze a lot of our produce—broccoli, summer squash, snow peas (a Chinese favorite), peppers, and egg plant casserole. I also make my own pickles."

Mrs. Wilson, who is an active member of the Sanlando Springs Homemakers Club and served as County president during 1973 and 1974, has a few tips to offer would-be Chinese food cooks: use rice vinegar, she suggests. It has a mild, completely different taste. Sesame oil adds a rich flavor to fried and roasted meats. Add a pinch of garlic salt to sautéed peppers to take away the sharp, raw flavor. Some of the more exotic ingredients for her recipes are difficult to come by in the regular grocery stores, but shop around the Oriental specialty shops, she urges. The cooked results will be worth the effort, she is certain.

Tea is an essential part of the Chinese meal, such as Mrs. Wilson's favorites listed below. But while she found some Chinese teas "just fabulous," when she lived in Shanghai, Mrs. Wilson stresses that there are some most palatable varieties available locally.

Black Mushrooms Enhance Oriental Abalone Treat

- 1 (1 lb.) cab abalone
  - 1 cup dried black mushrooms (medium size)
  - 2 teaspoons cornstarch
  - 2 tablespoons oyster sauce
  - 1/2 cup water
  - 1 bunch green onions
  - 1 teaspoon sugar
  - 3 tablespoons cooking oil
  - lettuce leaves for garnish
- Open can of abalone. Save liquor. Cut abalone across the grain into 1/4 inch slices. Soak mushrooms in water until soft. Drain and squeeze excess liquid from mushrooms.
- Mix cornstarch, abalone liquor and oyster sauce in cup. Add 1/2 cup water to mixture, stir with chopsticks until smooth.
- Cut green onions in one-inch diagonals, discarding last 2 inches of green ends.
- Line serving dish with lettuce leaves.
- For cooking, heat oil in wok or deep skillet. Use high heat. Add mushrooms and toss cook about one minute.
- Add abalone to mushrooms and cook about one minute, stirring frequently.
- Add green onions. Stir mixture half a minute.
- Push foods away from center of wok and pour in cornstarch mixture. Thicken. Toss sauce with foods and remove wok from heat. Ladle into lettuce-lined serving dish and serve at once. Makes four servings.
- Serve with individual bowls of hot steamed rice and tiny cups of Oriental tea.

Almond Crisp Duck Is Chopstick Lickin' Good

- 1 duck (2 1/2 lbs), quartered
  - 1/2 cup soy sauce
  - 3 cups cornflakes crushed to make 1 1/2 cups crumbs
  - 2 medium sized onions, sliced
  - 1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
  - 3 tablespoons cornstarch
  - 1 teaspoon garlic salt
  - 1 teaspoon ginger
  - 1 1/2 cups water
  - 2-3 cups vinegar
  - 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
  - 1/2 cup toasted, silvered almonds
- Brush duck with soy sauce, saving 2 tablespoons for sweet sour sauce. Roll duck in cornflake crumbs and place pieces, skin side up, on onion slices in shallow baking pan. Cook uncovered at 325 degrees till tender about two hours.
- Combine sugar, cornstarch, remaining soy sauce, garlic salt, ginger, water, vinegar and grated orange rind. Cook over medium heat, stirring until smooth and thickened. Serve sauce and toasted almonds with hot roasted duck.
- For an unusual garnish, serve with flaked coconut, orange slices and watercress. Serves four.

Supermarket Deli Sells Well

The supermarket service delicatessen is the most exciting innovation in the retail food industry today. It offers consumers a wide variety of products and services that until now were available only from old-fashioned grocery stores or neighborhood delicatessens.

Service delicatessens, which were available in only a few stores in the late 1960s, are now in 29 per cent of all supermarkets and generate an estimated annual retail volume of over $2 billion.

As these operations have grown in consumer acceptance, many of these stores have expanded their services to include catering, snack bars, and sit-down restaurants as well as take-home and cold dishes.

Consumer research indicates that almost 70 per cent of all households shop a delicatessen regularly, but only half shop supermarket service delicatessens.

It is projected that this segment of the business will soon reach an annual sales rate of $4 billion as installation of new operations continue to increase and service is expanded.

Mushroom consumption, all forms, has more than doubled in the last 10 years. Total consumption in 1962-63 was 156 million pounds; for 1973-74, the figure was over 300 million pounds including imports.

Of the 280 million pounds of mushrooms grown in the U.S.—all are Agaricus bisporus variety—63 per cent were processed; 90 per cent are packed in brine; others are packed in vinegar, wine, or oil; 73 per cent are the "stems-and-pieces" type; other styles are whole buttons and sliced. Mushroom processing represents about $100 million in normal years.

One reason for popularity of mushrooms is their very low calorie content—less than 100 per pound of mushrooms.

Sandwich Sells Like Hot Cakes

Americans are now eating more than 300 million sandwiches every day, with this consumption peaking in August, which has been designated National Sandwich month for the past 23 years.

Retailers report that their sandwich promotions have increased sales 36 per cent in sandwich meats, 34 per cent in breads, and 15 per cent in all items storewide.

Statistics show that everybody in the U.S. ate an average of 72 hot dogs in 1974. Many supermarkets promote them and other processed meat items with special newspaper coupons.

Fresh Fruits, Vegetables Are Rare Disappointments

Fresh fruits and vegetables rarely disappoint. If you learn how to select fresh fruits and vegetables and know how to care for them once you get them home, you will almost always get the goodness you pay for.

Take iceberg lettuce, the most popular type, as an example. The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association tells us good quality iceberg should be clean, crisp and tender, with heads that are fairly firm to firm. The solid heads should be free from seedheads and leaves with ragged brown areas, and not have excessive outer leaves. Iceberg is available all year, generally in ample supply.

All types of lettuce should be kept cold and humid and used within a few days of purchase. Unless lettuce has been well drained after washing, storing in a closed container will hold moisture and may cause the leaves to deteriorate. Don't extravagantly tear off the outer leaves and throw away. Remove as few as possible, and only those that are discolored, bruised or torn. There is a good deal of nutritive value in the darker, outer leaves of iceberg as well as the other lettuce types.

And speaking of lettuce and protein foods, here is a recipe that offers both with shrimp-stuffed hard-cooked egg halves on a bed of crisp shredded iceberg lettuce. They make a nice cool appetizer before a hot meal, or could be served as a luncheon entrée. For good looks and good eating, take the fresh approach!

SHREDDED-LETTUCE AND STUFFED EGG APPETIZER
 8 hard-cooked eggs
 2 cans (4½ ounces each) shrimp, drained, rinsed and chopped, or two-thirds cup finely chopped cooked shrimp
 ¼ cup soft cream
 ¼ cup mayonnaise

SPRITELY LETTUCE WEDGES
 1 head iceberg lettuce, cut in 4 wedges
 1 cup (8 ounces) creamed cottage cheese
 ¼ teaspoon pepper
 ¼ to ½ teaspoon curry powder
 4 cups shredded lettuce

Cut hard-cooked eggs in half lengthwise. In medium bowl sieve or mash yolks from 4 eggs (from 8 halves). Add chopped shrimp, sour cream, mayonnaise, cider vinegar, onion, salt, pepper and curry powder; mix well. Remove yolks from remaining whites, sieve and reserve. Spoon 3 tablespoons shrimp mixture into each egg white half; arrange on shredded lettuce on platter. Sprinkle sieved egg yolks over stuffed eggs. Cover and chill until ready to serve.
 YIELD: 8 servings.

Wash lettuce, dry well, and chill until ready to serve. In container of electric blender combine remaining ingredients. Cover and process at high speed until smooth. Turn into small bowl and chill. At serving time, cut lettuce into wedges and serve with dressing.
 YIELD: 6 servings, about 55 calories per serving.

Many Foods Go Direct From Farm To Consumer

Unlike your grandparents, who often bought food directly from neighboring farmers, you do most of your grocery shopping in supermarkets. But many of the foods on the shelves—more, in fact, than you probably realize—got where they are today by a fairly direct route from the farmers who grew them.

These foods, of course, are the ones marketed by farmer cooperatives. And among their number are products with very familiar, and respected, brand names.

Farmers—through their cooperatives—produce and market such well-known consumer foods as Land O' Lakes butter, Sun-kist oranges, Ocean Spray cranberries and Diamond walnuts. Sun-Maid raisins, Sun-sweet prunes, Norbest turkeys, Welch's grape jelly and Sue Bee honey are other familiar brand names owned by farmer co-ops. All have reputations for highest quality at reasonable prices.

There's no doubt that consumers benefit from the co-op presence on supermarket shelves. Farmers benefit, too, by selling their products more directly to consumers.

In very rare cases can an individual farmer develop the kind of quality control and marketing programs that would let him compete in the marketplace against privately owned food giants. But by acting jointly through cooperatives, groups of farmers can do a more efficient job both of producing food and getting it to consumers. Efficiency is important in farming just as it is in any other industry. Wasted time and effort mean wasted money. When there's waste in food production or marketing, the ultimate consumer—the food shopper—must pay for the waste through higher retail prices.

Years ago, the farmer down the road tried to give his customers—perhaps your mother and grandmother—the best possible product at the best possible price. His customers knew who he was, and he wanted them to buy from him again and again. Cooperatives are much the same.

Co-op managers and members are very careful about the products that bear their labels, because co-ops, too, depend on repeat customers. No co-op wants to jeopardize its future by offering consumers inferior products, or foods that cost more than they should. Processing and marketing aren't the only areas of concern to co-op members. Production efficiency will always be important. Farmer cooperatives work constantly to increase yields, shorten growing time and make harvesting quicker and easier.

This work has paid off. While food prices are higher today than they have been in the past, your weekly trip to the supermarket would be far costlier if it weren't for the tremendous strides family farmers have made in production and marketing efficiency.

Top quality and reasonable prices aren't the entire story behind co-op labels. By giving the independent family farmer a more certain market for his products, co-ops are helping to insure that the family farmer stays in business. Before the modern-day cooperative appeared some 50 years ago, the farmer had only two ways to market his products. He could sell them himself, which meant that the size of his market was limited by the distance his wagon could travel in a few hours' time. Or he could sell them to a private food company, which meant that he'd have to accept the price that the food company gave him.

In either case, he often received a minimal return for the hours and energy spent operating his farm. It was often far lower than the pay his urban counterparts received for much shorter work days. In fact, before co-ops, farm income was frequently so low that the farming enterprise could not survive.

Receives Vote Of Confidence SCIDA Director Lauded

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD—Seminole County Industrial Authority (SCIDA) Director Jim Daniel received a vote of confidence this morning from city officials and other top level business and industrial leaders in the county.

Meeting at the Quality Inn, Longwood, the county leaders asked Daniel to handle and evaluate all industrial proposals channeled to him from all sources, including the State Department of Commerce.

The leaders said Daniel should refer proposals to whichever city or area he felt could best serve the industrial inquiry.

The group also agreed they will keep in close contact with Daniel, not only for information purposes but also seeking his advice at monthly Thursday luncheon meetings to be held in each community beginning with Altamonte Springs in September.

"We will have no trouble with trust and honesty around here," Daniel said, adding, "By the group working together

Seminole can become industrially a very viable county. "There is too much talent," he said pointing to the leaders present, "around this table to let it get away."

John Krider, former executive director of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, and currently a realtor and member of the Chamber's Industrial 25 Committee, said that attracting industry locally, regardless of where it locates within the county will benefit all of Seminole.

Krider noted he currently is working with an industrialist who will invest up to $1 million in Seminole and employ 100 persons. Another industry was approved Wednesday which will employ 50 persons, Krider said.

Phil Lovelace of the Florida Department of Commerce, said that during the past year part of his work has included training director of the Greater Sanford Chamber, urged that most of the groundwork to attract industries be channeled through the various Chambers of Commerce in the County.

Jim Ryan, director of the Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA), said if names of prospective industries are known by everyone the project on the date promised—the end of November.

"Yes sir," a company spokesman told Stenstrom, "we'll be done in 15 weeks."

Builders Movers defaulted in February. And all work on the ill-fated school ceased.

The projected move from Altamonte Springs to Longwood was scheduled for completion in September. Now, School Supt. W. P. "Bud" Layer says the school will be finished in time for the second semester next year.

Parents from the Woodlands area have appeared at numerous board meetings to protest holdups on the school's move.

Woodlands Bid Awarded

School officials Wednesday got the stalled Woodlands Elementary School project moving again with a $236,191 bid awarded to an Altamonte Springs contractor for completion of the facility.

School Board attorney Doug Stenstrom warned school board members, however, that it will "probably" be necessary to take the former bonding agency to court to pay off the bid awarded to Shamrock Engineering.

"We'll probably have to sue them," Stenstrom warned. "Ultimately, it will take a court decision."

Surety Financial Indemnity Co., the bonding agency for Builders Movers Inc., the construction firm which defaulted, wanted to accept a low bid of $115,000 for the school's completion when the project was still in the bonding agency's hands.

Fearing that Builders Movers would again end up with the contract, the board voted to reject the project.

The difference between $115,000 bid by Builders Movers and $236,000 is money Stenstrom fears the county will have difficulty collecting.

It may take two to three years, he said. The attorney also grilled the new construction firm about its ability to complete

Man-On-The-Street Interview

What Is A Mill?—Most Taxpayers Don't Know Answer

By MICK LOCHRIDGE

Not many taxpayers understand what a millage rate is or how it affects their taxes. At least that's what a man-on-the-street survey showed Wednesday.

From a group of 10 persons questioned, only two men could say the county's proposed 5.34 certified millage meant taxpayers would pay more than $5 for each $1,000 of assessed property they own.

Millage provides ad valorem taxes for government operations.

One mill equals $1 for each $1,000 in assessed property. If the county levies the 5.34 mill, taxpayers will pay $5.34 for each $1,000 of assessed property.

"I thought to know about taxes, but I don't," said Linda Sandage, 22, of Lake Mary. "I don't keep up with that stuff."

"You've got to sit down and think about it," says Casseberry resident Jack Flinn.

He explained—counting on his fingers—that 5.34 mills is "a lot of money" and that he didn't know what it meant.

Bill Sabar, county assistant property appraiser, said most people fail to understand the taxing system based on millage.

"Most people don't understand taxes except from the standpoint that they get a tax bill," Sabar says.

"It's hard to talk taxes to people. You have to work with it before you understand it. Most people don't even know who sets the millage," Sabar said.

The property appraiser's office certifies millage for the county, school board and municipalities. Sabar said Friday is the final day to file petitions seeking review on the appraisal. He said the tax bills will be mailed Nov. 1 and delinquent after April 1, 1976.

Mrs. Putty Kinard, whose family recently moved to Sanford, says she plans to purchase a home soon, but says she has "no idea" what millage means.

"I have no idea, other than it has something to do with taxes on property, doesn't it?" Mrs. Kinard asked.

Geneva Howard, 19, 1511 W. 12th Street, Sanford, said she does not understand what a mill means.

"I don't understand, not really. All I know it's ridiculous that taxes are so high," she said.

W. A. Ludwig, a long time Sanford resident, says he understands millage.

"I've been fighting it all my life," he said. He says the county's 5.34 millage will mean more than $5 in taxes per $1,000.

"I learned the hard way," he said. "By paying," Ludwig said he formerly owned property, now rents an apartment.

John Chester, of Orlando said "I could only say it was related to taxes," when asked what millage meant.

Alvin W. Horning, vacationing in Sanford from New York, where he pays taxes, says he doesn't "understand taxes."

"I don't pay much attention to taxes," Horning a construction worker, said.

Lake Mary City Council Denies Zoning Request

LAKE MARY—Property owners were successful in blocking a commercial rezoning request before the City Council here Wednesday night.

On a 3-2 vote, the council refused the residential to commercial request of P. Zeuli and Sons to permit construction of a professional building.

Opponents contended the change would be spot zoning and would create a "cancer" that would continue eating" until the character of the long-term residential area was lost.

Councilmen Harry Terry and Martin Bacon Sr. were unsuccessful in persuading colleagues that the area will be commercial in the future.

Bacon said a special four-member committee of the planning and zoning board favors a change to commercial in the long range planning for that area and will recommend the change to the full advisory board for inclusion in the comprehensive Land Planning Study.

Plans are to build sites for both an adult and young family community on the site. Opponents had claimed the rezoning—from agriculture—would endanger the water recharge area and increase traffic from the expected 650 new residents in the mobile home park on Rinehart Road and Lake Mary Boulevard.

Terry insisted, however, the city desperately needs low income housing, adding that several additional approvals on roads, water lines, drainage and sewage disposal will have to be obtained before construction is completed.

"In other business, the council,"

—Agreed to purchase a used four-wheel tractor with front-end loader and back hoe for $2,800. Mrs. Griffin said the equipment is needed in both the public works and utilities departments.

—Approved an increase in utility deposits for new customers on water meters up to one inch at $25 and over one inch at $50. Terry said the new deposit fee will not affect present customers.

—Appointed, on Terry's recommendation, Mrs. Griffin to join Terry as city representative on the 208 Water Quality Advisory Committee. Council also authorized Terry to request the committee to include, in the survey of water quality in the five-county area of Central Florida, water quality in Lake Mary, the means of preventing further pollution in Lake Mary lakes and the determination of the cause of loss of water in the lakes.

—Agreed to schedule a workshop with the county commission on the paving of Rinehart Road and Lake Mary Boulevard. The council earlier had refused to participate with the county in paving the two roads after the county had requested that the city pay 80 per cent of material cost for the project.

A REAL(ESTATE) EYE-CATCHER

So you're asking yourself why would a picture of a sign appear in your friendly newspaper? Take a close look at what's written on the sign. You still don't see the significance of it all? Take one more look, okay. All right, we'll tell you what it's all about. If you'll notice, there's supposed to be a 20,000-square foot office building on the location of this sign—French Avenue (US 17-82) between 24th and 25th streets in Sanford. The completion date on the sign says it's to be finished by December, 1974. Seems rather strange that the site is nothing but an overgrown lot and the sign remains—eight months after the expected completion date. Now you get it? (Herald Photo by Bill Vincent)
