

Indo-China War Once More A Campaign Issue

It is Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, expressing the opinion of the Nixon administration in his own words, who has put the Indo-China war in the political spotlight which is focused on the mid-term November elections.

For the injection of other issues has somewhat covered the war since its expansion by the Nixon administration. The war has not had the publicity it deserves, but it has not been forgotten. It is taking place in Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and Thailand.

The vice president's address to a receptive audience of Veterans of Foreign Wars (all of whom had served in global conflicts but served on foreign soil) in Miami Beach this week was what such a group would want to hear.

He attacked the battlefield-McGovern amendment pending in the senate as a "blueprint for defeat" and accused the Republican senator from Oregon and the Democratic senator from South Dakota of "not giving a damn about the people of South Vietnam."

This amendment would fund for the war by the end of the year and call for withdrawal of all American troops by the end of 1971 (as now amended.)

This proposal to end the war at a definite shut-off time is not unique with the senators who sponsor the amendment.

Senator Edmund Muskie (D) Maine has expressed his conviction thus: "Having invaded Cambodia in an attempt to score dramatic military gains, the (Nixon) administration finds itself ever more tightly bound to the war and its consequences."

"We can, however, move to create conditions favorable to a political settlement." The Democratic leader believes that withdrawal of American forces is essential, but not in the long-term, questionable effective Vietnamization policy of President Nixon.

A "responsible and orderly" withdrawal to be completed by the end of 1971 has the Muskie approval. He believes the present Nixon conduct-of-the-war policy is doing nothing but perpetuating the war.

Even while the Agnew oratory was bursting over the political scene in Miami, American B52s were bombing the northernmost provinces in South Vietnam with the entire Pacific force of 100 planes dropping 3,000 tons on both sides of the Laotian-Vietnamese border, a massive assault.

"What is happening in Laos continues to be one of those situations regarding which the administration has persisted in keeping the curtain dropped on details."

Yet Laos is very much a very large question-mark when any appraisal of what has been the effect of the Cambodian gamble is sought. There has been no diminution there of fighting.

In Cambodia, the former limited area of sanctuary has now become the entire nation, with North Vietnamese present in threatening strength. South Vietnamese ground forces are active. But the continued use of American air power in a supplemental capacity is no longer debated.

An even graver threat and another witness that in front of the windows of the Senate County Tax Collector as citizens hastened to purchase their car tags for the next year. The average wait, once you reach the window, is less than a minute. The wait in line seems a bit longer!

Mr. Agnew has often acted as a catalyst. Perhaps he has done so again. Surely his speech was timely. Certainly it was dramatic. Hopefully it will provoke wide debate. Intrinsically it should evoke voter response.

We welcome this re-surgence of the war as a campaign issue. It comes on a move in the United States Senate where that body is debating on more than the Hsi-feld-McGovern amendment. Underlying is the constitutional division of powers with the people's voice as represented in the Congress once more being heard.

Mr. Agnew has often acted as a catalyst. Perhaps he has done so again. Surely his speech was timely. Certainly it was dramatic. Hopefully it will provoke wide debate. Intrinsically it should evoke voter response.

Freedom To Read

The executive board of the American Library Assn. has taken the correct position in denouncing efforts by federal investigators who have been snooping around libraries to see who is reading what books. In an advisory statement to libraries across the country, the library association's executive board recommended that library officials:

"Formally adopt a policy which specifically recognizes its circulation records to be confidential in nature."

"Advise all librarians and library employees that such records shall not be made available to any federal or state 'security' or 'loyalty' committee" except where specifically authorized under the law.

"Resist the issuance or enforcement of any such orders, unless or subsequent to a court order as a proper showing of good cause has been made in a court of competent jurisdiction."

The statement of the executive board was motivated by the attempts by U.S. Treasury agents in several cities to identify the readers of library books on explosives and on other subjects which the investigators considered militant and subversive. This smacks of tyranny—the tracking down of free citizens on the basis of what books they read.

The library association's board said "the efforts of the federal government to convert library circulation records into 'suspect lists' constitute an unconscionable and unconstitutional invasion of the right of privacy of library patrons and, if permitted to continue, will do irreparable damage to the educational and social value of the libraries of this country."

We agree. With wire-tapping devices, and computers that store a vast quantity about our personal lives, and "no-need" proposals, this country seems to be moving in the direction of a Big Brother-like police state. We don't believe this is what the majority of our citizens want.

Global Comment:

Simonstown In The Spotlight

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Simonstown is a small port and former British naval base on South Africa's Atlantic side, 12 miles north of the Cape of Good Hope.

Historically, it has the oldest English church (1618) built in South Africa. It is used to be a Conservative government led by Prime Minister Edward Heath to arm to the Republic of South Africa for maritime defense in defiance of a United Nations embargo.

Heath and his foreign minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home argue that the decision is necessary because the closing of the Suez Canal has placed Simonstown on the lifeline between Asia and the West, and all Decisions necessary against possible Communist encroachment.

The British claim is that any arms sold to the South African navy will be banned for use in support of apartheid (separation of the races) or against liberation movements. And, anyway, they say, the whole argument is premature since the possible sale of arms still is in the talking stage with no decision reached.

Black African members of the commonwealth take exception on both counts.

They believe the decision has been reached and they accuse the British of attempting to reestablish the supremacy they enjoyed before the breakup of empire.

Point To Soviet Interest

In their own defense, Heath and Sir Alec point to the Soviet African naval power as valid in a nuclear age. There are those who see commercialism rather than pure idealism in back of British thinking.

In the last 10 years South Africa has been building its own navy on a massive scale. Something like $1,200 million has been spent on aircraft carriers, frigates and other war supplies. From around 400 military personnel in 1950, the South African military budget now is about $300 million.

The cynics believe British would like to get in at least a part of the action.

Good Riddance

By DON OAKLEY,

Now that it is over—we hope—the Army nerve gas caper seems like an exercise in surrealism.

It also illustrates the insane obsession which men have had in the past two and a half decades in their search for "security" in a world which has the capability of annihilating itself in an epoch.

Here were 418 concrete and steel-jacketed coffins of super-durable nerve gas which had suddenly become an acute embarrassment, to put it mildly. There was, we were told, no method whereby it could be destroyed and rendered harmless.

The only way it could be disposed of was to sink it beneath three miles of ocean water, over the ages, it would gradually escape from its containers and be neutralized by sea water—or so the Army was pretty sure.

Thus it slowly worked its way by train to the Atlantic coast, while scores of the curious and the glibly credulous were being misled by the press chief of the staff—flooded to watch it go by, and while the Army and continental environmentalists argued in vain about the least potentially disastrous alternative for ridding the earth of the chemicals.

It strains credulity to the Americans today are thought to be a very conventional people, alike as peas in a pod, absorbing the dream of making a big buck and spending it in the same way.

For example, after nearly six decades of steady living, I find that I have never yet—

Owled a home.

Bought a share of stock.

Walked with kings.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States' reaction to the signing of a nonaggression treaty between Russia and West Germany was not particularly enthusiastic.

President Nixon and Secretary of State William P. The President and Rogers made no reference to that portion of the treaty in which West Germany recognized as inevitable the frontiers of all European countries as they now stand, including the Oder-Neisse line between Poland and Germany and the frontier between East and West Germany.

Corporate Divorce Is Big Business

By LEROY POPE
UPI Business Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Like the rest of American society, business has its divorce specialists.

One is former advertising man Peter Hilton, who runs a company called Corporate Divorce, Ltd. Hilton specializes in hunting for business and products that companies want to get rid of. Corporate divorces, in other words.

But he doesn't collect his fees from the firms that do the divorcing.

Operations Hilton trades in may be small as $100,000 a year in volume, but he arranged one spinoff of a business with $35 million in annual sales. In one deal he arranged the sale of a farm machinery division and another he arranged for someone to acquire it.

"It was a good business but way out in left field from the air conditioning and heating business," he said.

Hilton got into the spinoff business as a result of starting a new products news letter while he was in advertising.

"When I sold the ad agency I kept the newsletter, then made an interesting discovery."

He found that many companies had "on the shelf" new products which they lacked the money or talent to put in production.

"In the cosmetic and toiletry field alone, I saw scores of products that had been conceived and developed up to production and marketing stage then shelved for lack of funds," he said.

"The companies that had them were passing up millions of dollars in licensing fees or sales prices on them."

Hilton succeeded in persuading several large companies to retain him on a year around basis to spy out potential profit situations in this corporate divorce market.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market shows no disposition at the moment to respond with enthusiasm to favorable developments. Standard & Poor's Corp. says. It would appear, therefore, that the path of least resistance is down for the time being.

The firm believes, however, that periods of weakness should be used by the investor to accumulate soundly valued stocks for the long run.

The "spectacular bursts" of selling currently taking place in certain sectors of the market seem "grossly out of step with strides marking the economy's progress." Spear and Stalford believes. Corporations are in "trim" shape now and any general economic pickup "should be leveraged powerfully in terms of earnings," the firm says. Stocks too, should be very responsive to any profit upsurge.

Concerned Youth

Editor, Herald:

On Friday, AUG. 7, a "concerned youth" wrote a letter complaining that there is nothing in Sanford to keep youth away from crime. He made a point of complaining about the dances at the civic center. . . . The dances are not that good either, unless you like paying a fortune to get in and if you don't like paying a fortune to get in, you will get arrested for disorderly conduct for loitering."

I would like to point out that Mr. Bowling, who sponsors these dances, is the one paying for them. He has been kind enough to take money out of his own pocket to sponsor these dances for the youth of the area. The charge for admission to the dances is usually a dollar to a dollar and a half. Is this going to break all of those teens standing outside? Most parents will give their children the money if they won't what's wrong with a little work?

When parents or any adults drive by and see their children loitering in the parking lot they begin to wonder what goes on at the dances. They worry about some of the younger teens coming in and lived in trouble. Therefore they complain to the city commissioners who in turn complain to Mr. Bowling.

As far as I know the police have made no arrests for loitering or disorderly conduct. They have only asked the people to go inside or leave. This is done for the protection of the youth as well as parents.

I hope that the person who wrote that letter sees this. I am 18 and I also complain about not having anything to do, but when something is offered why not take advantage of it?

'Walkin' Lawton Ends Long Trek

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

"Walkin' Lawton" Chiles was scheduled to march up to the sea—and stop—today ending a 1,003-mile trek in pursuit of votes in the Democratic primary for the U.S. Senate race.

The Lakeland legislator began his statewide march 92 days ago and claims to have personally greeted some 40,000 Floridians while covering an average of 11 miles a day.

Chiles began at Century in the far Panhandle and was expected to cool his feet in the Atlantic after hitting Key Largo at the head of the Florida Keys.

"We're going to be successful in the Sept. 8 primary," claimed Chiles as he faced his final 22 miles from Jacksonville to Miami Beach.

A Republican entry, U.S. Rep. William C. Cramer of St. Petersburg, said his campaign has picked up support from Cal. Florida Gov. Ronald Reagan and the Americans for Constitutional Action.

Cramer told a Pensacola club that Reagan said he'd like a television ad for his campaign that praises the congressman as a nationally-recognized conservative leader.

Cramer said the American for Constitutional Action endorsement was "unprecedented in a primary."

A veteran of 16 years in Washington, Cramer also picked up the endorsement of the Miami News Tuesday in his primary bid.

The News said President Nixon had urged Cramer to seek the Republican nomination in Florida.

"Hannity is a new governor for Florida," said Mathews, president of the Florida Senate in a primary.

Counterfeit $20 Bills Remain Stored In Bank

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Some $200,000 in counterfeit $20 bills remain stored at the Federal Reserve Bank here as police and federal agents continue an investigation today into the death of a Florida man in whose motel room the fake bills were found.

Homicide Lt. C. J. Strickland, an Atlanta police detective investigating the death of Robert J. Williams, 28, of Orlando and Fort Pierce, said the cause of death was not immediately established.

Strickland said Williams was found dead Sunday night in a room at a motel near the Atlanta airport where he had checked in that morning for a one-day stay.

He said a maid discovered the death after a telephone call, who said he failed to get an answer from Williams' room, asked the motel to see if anything was wrong. The body, clothed in walking shorts and a sports shirt, was found lying in a room. There were no signs of a struggle or foul play in evidence, the detective said.

However, Strickland added, two bottles of prescription medicine — one empty — were found in the room. He said one possibility is that an overdose of the medicine might have been involved.

The Fulton County Medical Examiner did not immediately release a report on its findings in the case.

Travel Agency Owner Backs A Resort Tax

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Travel agency owner Chuck Hall backed a resort tax Tuesday as the answer to Florida's increasing burden on homeowners as the former Dade County mayor continued his bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

Hall also said state officials should "get tough" with school administrators who "sometimes are not so strong in the spine."

The lanky millionaire said school heads should crack down on drug traffic and should not tolerate disruption.

Fellow Democrat Reubin Askew and Jack Matthews shared the podium with Hall at a meeting of Miami's Tiger Bay Club. They refused to rap one another, but decided to hit Gov. Claude Kirk, the incumbent Republican.

"Hannity is a new governor for Florida," said Mathews, president of the Florida Senate in a primary.

The News said President Nixon had urged Cramer to seek the Republican nomination in Florida.

"Hannity is a new governor for Florida," said Mathews, president of the Florida Senate in a primary.

Another GOP hopeful, G. Harold Carwell, claimed in Fort Lauderdale that his victory in the Senate chase would be the single most important political event in 1970 to help Richard Nixon win in 1972.

Carwell told the Broward County Republican Executive Committee that he was the candidate most able to gain conservative Democratic votes in the November general election.

Democrat Joel Davis, a Marine Reserve major and avowed "peace candidate," said he hoped Vice President Spiro Agnew's remarks before the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention in Miami Beach "were not a warning to prepare American people for more staging of U.S. troops—this time in Laos."

Agnew told the gathering that a pullout of U.S. troops would place the entire burden of the war on Vietnam and would lead to loss of all Southeast Asia.

Mathews compared Kirk to a football quarterback who "stays up late the night before, goes to the field groggy and then throws poison darts into the backs of his teammates."

Askew, a state senator from Pensacola, said the Kirk administration has been "government by donation, government by crisis and government by veto."

GOP candidate Jack Eckerd claimed in Fort Lauderdale that he returned two $1,000 campaign contributions made by members of an accounting firm represented on Kirk's Governor's Club.

Strikes And Snares

BY JOHN A. SPOLSKI

How else can it be said? If you're thinking of bowling in a Fall League, then this is the week for you to be at the lanes (during the regular league bowling time) and attend the various league organizational meetings.

Bowling Pot Pourri

A couple of first-timers for you to talk about... both of whom experienced the thrill of either their first 200-plus game or even better, their first 300 series.

LYNN LYON

clip his first 300 sanctioned game. This past Tuesday was his night to "star," cause he not only made it into the "champion circle" but he exceeded it by 44 pins. That's right... a tremendous 344.

Other than Lynn who came through in local professional style is tall Ted Dalecki, while bowling in the Thursday evening Early Toyota Mixed League.

Dalecki waited for the right night for his first 600 series, too, and then put together a whole raft of strikes for a 228 game, enough leverage to boost him up to a 600 series.

Youthful Bowlers Do Well

There are the two young bowlers leagues on Saturdays, both of whom are sponsored by the Sanford Loyal Order of the Moose Lodge; the younger Bantam boys and girls who take to the lanes at 8:30 a.m. and the slightly older (13 thru 19) Jrs., on the approaches, starting at 1 p.m.

Another in this area is the Friday evening Adult-Juniors who compete each Friday at 7 p.m. We have a number of scores well like to report to you from these three leagues.

There are the future bowlers and members of our adult leagues as well. Other Bantams who did well were Johnny Spoliski 181/450, Mike Link 162, Tracey Torres 130 and Johnny Yelick 116.

Checking the totals from the Jr.-Sr. ... Ricky Payne 285/580, Kevin Spoliski 225/425, Edie Payne 185, Jim Shepard 175, Eddie Adams 186/542, Jerry Jandula 174, and Harold (Harry) Herbert 180.

The Adult-Juniors had John MacGregor hitting for the excellent games of a 185 and a 227 for a fine 413 average. In this league the contestants only bow two games each.

Here again, Ricky Payne did himself proud with a 205 effort.

A MOST UNUSUAL occurrence in the bowling of the Star of the Lanes competition last Saturday. It ended in a tie with two bowlers being exactly 62 pins over average.

First time we've had this happen in a long, long time. In this league the contestants only bow two games each.

Here again, Ricky Payne did himself proud with a 205 effort.

From the Adcock Hi-Low Mixed League ... Norma Wagner 271, Sunny Gustroff 221, Jackie Senakowitz 181, Morris Evans 176, Jo Ann Wright 182, 210, 175/667 and Spill-ki had one of those better nights - 213, 244/638.

Incidentally, Jo Ann Wright is the league secretary and gives indication that she'll have no trouble filling the eight lanes... so, if you're one of those who did bow last Fall and hasn't been around for the summer league and do plan on bowling this Fall, better let her know NOW.

Friday From the Hospital League

The Friday evening "pill pushers" of the mixed league from Seminole Memorial Hospital had a good one from B. Morris with a 205/540 combination. B. Meyers came through with a 179, D. Aycock 169, J. Aycock 180, F. Woodruff 176.

Monticello, N.Y. (AP) - Police stopped a car on a highway, saying they were looking for a man who had been shot. The man was found in the car, and the driver was arrested.

Marovich, college basketball's all-time scoring king, said he was "thrilled" to play in the annual Maurice Stowe charity basketball game Tuesday night.

"It's a tremendous card; the best one yet." These were the words of local boxing promoter R. G. Kondracki, concerning this Thursday night's card scheduled for 8 p.m. at the Sanford Armory.

Softball Tourney Planned

Spinks Boxing Team will all see action. The main event will be a return match between "The Dark Angel" (Leon Elby) and Lee Thompson. The two fought in the last Sanford fight, with Elby taking a three-round split decision. Thompson requested the rematch and Elby agreed to it.

The second featured fight will be between Russell Patterson and Jimmy Hudson. Patterson is a former professional fighter and Hudson is a local amateur.

Victor Perez and Kip Braden. It is hoped that Wayne Carter will be on the card Thursday night. Carter, who has fought such fighters as Coby Galter, has been working out with the Sanford team. Another top-notch heavyweight expected to be on the card is Clyde Collins.

These look to be the most promising matches yet. This will be the third card staged by Kondracki. The first one followed several of the boxers were held up by car trouble, but the last one was a big success with over 300 people in attendance.

Advance tickets are on sale at Kondracki's Sunoco. Kondracki has spent many hours lining up these fights and training with boxers to assure a good show. The attendance of local fans would assure that more matches can be put on.

By Dick Couch Associated Press Writer RIVERSIDE, 5.18 (AP) - Three days in Montreal, Canada, but the Cincinnati Reds were the ones who needed more big games.

The injury-riddled Expos, using three catchers in their starting lineup, capitalized on four Cincinnati errors to score five unearned runs Tuesday night and hung on for a 7-4 victory that ended the Reds' winning string at three games.

Rookie left fielder Bernie Carbo committed the most damaging miscue when he muffed Coco Laboy's bases-loaded liner in the fifth inning, allowing three Montreal runs to score.

Expos Manager Gene Mauch started John Bateman behind the plate and part-time receiver Jim Brandon and John Boccia at shortstop and first base respectively.

A HALF MILLION DOLLARS worth of litigation on the proposed courthouse is represented in the foot-high stack of legal files on the desk. John Alexander, chairman of the Seminole County Commission; Hans Alexander, county attorney, and Art Beckwith, Clerk of the Court, reshuffle the documents "one more time."

New Courthouse Only A Dream?

By CHARNER LEONE
Is the possibility of a new courthouse for Seminole County by the summer of 1972 any more than a pipe dream?
"It may very well come to pass" seems to be the consensus of those who should be in the know: Chairman of the County Commission Hans Alexander (that the board is responsible for providing county buildings); Clerk of the Circuit Court Art Beckwith, Jr. (where records affecting the courthouse are kept); and Harold Johnson, the county attorney who has seen the struggle through its unending depths.
But the picture is not really very rosy.
Briefly, the new courthouse must overcome some hurdles before that long awaited groundbreaking, hopefully set for the first of the new year, is accomplished.
The Supreme Court of Florida will hear arguments on September 15 on an amendment to the original validation. The county is seeking to use the interest rates on the bonds to a more realistic level. This may vary action opens the road, once again, to legal haggling that has slowed the progress of the new courthouse so much in the past.
And then there is the problem of money. Where will it come from?
The cost of construction is set now at $4.2 million. It is estimated that furnishings will cost about $400,000. Costs of construction are rising at the rate of one to one and a half per cent a month. The cost of the furnishings is likely to go up, also.
Here's the money picture as it now stands:
The station is planned for 1978 launch into orbit some 250 miles above the earth, probably by a Saturn 5 booster.
Initially, NASA says, it will accommodate a flight crew and scientific staff of about 12 persons. Personnel will be replaced by fresh crews, at intervals of two to four months, by means of shuttle craft. The station will be replaced by fresh crews, at intervals of two to four months, by means of shuttle craft. The station itself will remain in operation for at least 10 years.
Sky-lab missions are to get underway in late 1972, or 1973. The initial three-man crew will remain in orbit for one month. Two subsequent crews will put in two-month tours of space duty each.

Soviets Become Urbanized

By DAVID NAGY
MOSCOW (UPI)—Time was when the vast majority of the Soviet populace lived the country life on lands, lots of land, under starry skies above.
But, goodbye to all that.
"At present, every second citizen of the country is a city dweller, and three quarters of this number live in supercities with population of over one million," says a report to the current International Congress of Economic History in Leningrad.
"The urban population of the Soviet Union has increased by over 200 per cent over the past 20 years," said the report presented to the congress by Viktor Pervedentsev, a Soviet delegate not further identified.
It summed up the tremendous shift in population distribution inside the world's largest nation since Vladimir I. Lenin grappled at the turn of the century with the problems of feeding a Communist workers revolution in a nation inhabited mostly by peasants.
He solved it by organizing in 1917, "a revolution of workers, peasants and soldiers."
Historians have estimated that under the Czar the population of the then Russian Empire was upwards of 90 per cent country dwellers.
Pervedentsev's report attributes the population shift to calculated, managed progress and pronounces it good, although he has indicated lack of manpower, peasants and soldiers.

South Viets Deny Action; Not Fighting In Laos

SAIGON (AP)—The South Vietnamese military command today denied Communist charges that its combat troops are operating in Laos, but informed sources reported again that South Vietnamese reconnaissance patrols have crossed the border.
The sources said most of the patrols are led by U.S. helicopter crews along the 200-mile Ho Chi Minh trail in the lower part of Laos to spot targets for American bombers.
The Communist Pathet Lao reported in a radio broadcast Tuesday that on Aug. 9 "the United States introduced a number of Saigon puppet army units into the boundaries of Saravane Province, under the control of the Lao Patriotic Front (Pathet Lao). These forces have conducted military operations against the region."
The broadcast said the move was part of the Americans' "over-all plan for using Saigon and Bangkok puppet troops to control and widen their war of aggression in Laos with the aim of turning Laos into a second Cambodia."
The Pathet Lao repeated the charge today and said that by transporting South Vietnamese troops across the border, the United States is endangering additional American weapons as a result of its charges, the broadcast added.
U.S. Ambassador Walworth Barbour called on Foreign Minister Abba Eban in Tel Aviv today and delivered the U.S. reply to Israeli communications alleging the Egyptian violations.
Sources in Washington indicated the American reply minimized the Israeli charges but asserted Israel's military balance of power to shift during the cease-fire.

On Deadly Poison Navy Experiments Are A Failure

By ROYAL BRIGHTWELL
ABOARD THE USS HARTLEY (UPP)—Elaborate experiments to determine whether a sinking Liberty ship released its cargo of deadly poison nerve gas into the Atlantic Ocean ended in failure today.
The Navy also said its special satellite navigation equipment lost track of the Russel Lebaron brigs as it sank. The rusty vessel and its 418 concrete and steel vaults of nerve gas rockets rested at an unknown location under 16,000 feet of water.
Only one test worked, but it was inconclusive.
Water samples taken from a line lowered almost half way to the sea bed showed negative results for gas. A Navy spokesman said that particular test would have been meaningful only if it had reacted positively. No gas was evident in water samples taken at the surface, but none had been expected.
The major reason for the failure apparently was the unexpected descent of the old hulk. Sounding equipment indicated the ship sank at 2,000 feet per minute, smashing into the ocean floor at 25 miles per hour only eight minutes after slipping beneath the surface in a spray of foam.
It was a disappointing ending for an operation which had States assured the world it would never again dump chemicals into the sea. The Army said it was necessary to bury under the crushing pressure of three miles of ocean water, releasing the gas affected.
The test at sea had been set up to place environmentalists who feared the vaults would burst under the crushing pressure of three miles of ocean water, releasing the gas affected.
Immediately, the Army said there would be no danger to humans in that case because "no assurance can be given that the gas will sink to the bottom of the list, where it belongs."
Despite the $390 million spent this year, the report said "no assurance can be given that there is any upper limit on the eventual total cost to the Government" and added prospects are "rosy" if the government will eventually recover its investment.
The Boeing Co., which won the government's SST contract, would have to sell 300 of the faster-than-sound planes before it would return the federal loan, the report said. Subsequent sales cases under the contract when the government earns 5 per cent on its investment.

Israeli Planes Attack Lebanon

By MARCUS ELLISON
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV (AP)—The Israeli command said its warplanes attacked Arab guerrilla bases in Lebanon today. It was the second Israeli incursion into Lebanon in as many days as the third in five days.
A spokesman said the planes struck for 30 minutes against targets on the southwest slopes of Mt. Hermon, east of the Hasbani River and near the frontier. All planes returned safely, he said.
Ground troops blew up six houses in two border villages in ground raids Saturday and Tuesday.
Israel has continued operations against guerrillas since the cease-fire began on the Suez Canal and the Jordanian frontier at midnight Aug. 7, Egypt, Jordan and Israel accepted the truce, but the commands refused.
In Moscow, the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda charged that aggressive circles in Israel are "trying to prevent a political settlement" in the Middle East conflict by falsely accusing Egypt of violating the cease-fire.

Senate Votes $4.4 Billion Into Law

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, spurred by President Nixon's economy plan and overriding his veto, has voted today to pass a $4.4 billion appropriation for federal aid to education.
But it will take some political dexterity to fashion a Republican campaign issue of the 76-16 vote. Twenty-three Republicans voted to override the President.
Not one of the 16 Republicans who voted to sustain the veto is running for a new term this year.
The Senate roll call Tuesday was 13 votes over the two-thirds majority required to overturn a veto.
The House already had voted 289-114 to override the veto, and 77 Republicans voted against the President there.
This Republican vote was crucial in supplying the margin by which Nixon's veto was overridden on both sides of the Capitol.
Administration officials already have said they anticipate congressional campaigns benefit for Republicans on the issue of government spending. They have raised 22,459,136 Democratic-controlled Congress.
With such a spending complaint, Nixon vetoed the education bill because it is $483 million over his budget, and an $18 billion appropriation for housing, veterans benefits, and other agencies. The latter veto was sustained in the House, and Congress will have to draft a new bill.
The Republican dilemma on education spending was typified by Senate Minority leader Hugh Scott, who said if his vote was crucial, he would cast it to sustain Nixon. Otherwise, he said, he would act as the senator from Pennsylvania, where he seeks reelection this year.
He chose the latter course, broke with the administration position and voted to override.
Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H., senior GOP member on the committee that drafted the education spending bill, also voted to override the veto.
Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., arguing against the veto, pointed to the 89 margin by which the Senate originally had

World-Wide Shortages Hit Utility Companies

WASHINGTON (AP)—World-wide shortages and skyrocketing prices for fuel oil have hit American utility companies so hard that the result could be across-the-board utility rate hikes for the nation's consumers, a high Nixon administration official says.
The crisis involves residual fuel oil, used principally by heavy industry and utility companies. Since the first of the year, the price of foreign-produced residual fuel oil has doubled and American fuel oil prices have increased by about 40 per cent.
Nearly two-thirds of the residual oil used in this country is imported.
With such a spending complaint, Nixon vetoed the education bill because it is $483 million over his budget, and an $18 billion appropriation for housing, veterans benefits, and other agencies. The latter veto was sustained in the House, and Congress will have to draft a new bill.

Bomb Scares in London Cause Wave Of Fear

By RODNEY PINDER
LONDON (AP)—Bomb scares cleared 39 London movie houses, the House of Commons and the British Museum's reading room Tuesday night as police searched for terrorists in the British capital and three other cities. No bombs were found.
Bomb squads also were called to railroad stations, and several streets were blocked off. In Birmingham, 600 night-shift workers in an auto plant were sent home after a bomb threat.
The wave of fear stemmed from a bomb explosion Sunday night which seriously injured a young couple and another early Tuesday which damaged the Regent Street office of the Spanish airline Iberia.
The bombings and false alarm were believed the work of the outlawed Irish Republican army—IIRA—which infers a wave of bombing attacks unless men jailed in raids on arms caches around London last week were released.
The biggest scare Tuesday night was touched off by an anonymous call to Scotland Yard saying: "There is a bomb in a cinema showing the film 'Airport'." The American movie was being shown in 39 houses, and all 39 were cleared and searched.
Later in the night, bomb experts with plastic headhells and an X-ray machine rushed to another movie theater where a shopping bag was found. The bomb squad found that it contained a dud.
Security police raided homes in London, Birmingham, Leeds and Liverpool, searching for persons responsible for the earlier bombings and for explosives.
The guard was strengthened at two army depots and two military equipment factories. The military installations had been alerted for raids during the weekend.
Foreign car sales rose from 12 to 13 per cent of total U.S. auto sales in the past year.
Volkswagen accounted for about half those sales. Japanese cars, primarily Toyota and Datsun, accounted for about one-third of them.
American Motors was the first U.S. manufacturer into the subcompact field with its Gremlin, introduced in the spring. General Motors will introduce its subcompact Vega on Sept. 10, a day before Pinto arrives in showrooms.
The Japanese don't have the U.S. marketing experience and dealer outlets built up by Volkswagen, but Ford said he expects them to overcome those obstacles soon.
A Fiat scientist said Tuesday that Datsun signed a multi-million dollar contract with him for production rights to a front-powered engine that is pollution-free.
Ford said he had never heard of the engine.
The price of the Pinto will not be made public until shortly before it goes into the showroom, but it will be "directly competitive" with the Volkswagens and other small imports, Ford said.
Dealers have been told that prices on other Ford and Lincoln-Mercury models will be 1 per cent from 1970, Ford said.
"We have had some horrendous increases in the cost of materials and labor in the past years," he said. "As well as increased costs for emission control and safety equipment. Price increases in the past have not equaled our increased costs."

Tougher Competition For U.S. Car Makers

By RYAN RYAN
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—American car makers will face tougher competition from Japanese imports than they try to sell their new subcompacts, Henry Ford II says.
"The Japanese have good quality, good quality and that makes them good competitors," Ford said Tuesday. "We feel they are going to be the more difficult contenders."
Ford board chairman of Ford Motor Co. is in Las Vegas for the introduction of the 1971 Ford and Lincoln-Mercury automobiles.
He predicted that the subcompacts would reverse the upward trend in foreign car sales in this country and that Ford's subcompact Pinto, to be unveiled Thursday, will outsell Volkswagen.
Foreign car sales rose from 12 to 13 per cent of total U.S. auto sales in the past year.
Volkswagen accounted for about half those sales. Japanese cars, primarily Toyota and Datsun, accounted for about one-third of them.

'Good Ole, Spiro'

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—After what happened to Doug Sanders, Arnold Palmer wasn't around his own club Monday to play golf with Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.
Agnew wound up a two-day vacation at Palmer's Bay Hill Country Club with holes on the tough championship course.
Rumors flouted the day before that Palmer, voted the Athlete of the Decade for the 1960s, might fly his private jet from Sunday's windup of the PGA Championship at Tulsa and pair up with the vice president.
Palmer couldn't make it.
Agnew's last engagement with the golfer was classic. He whacked a shot that whacked veteran star Doug Sanders in the head.
Everybody laughed it off... as much as you can laugh off being hit by a speeding golf ball.
Agnew won more headlines a few days later by socking a Washington pal in the neck. Again, the sharp pain was followed by laughter.
Agnew's partner Tuesday were two aides and a local real estate executive. No injuries were reported.

House-By-House: Paris Condemns The Knees

By ROSETTE HARGROVE
 PARIS — (NEA) — Fashion fantasy and the old Eve game ran rampant during the five days of the Paris winter showings.

But some 2,000 models later it was evident that the struggle is over—the mini is as dead as a door nail and it's "long live the midli." What has emerged is a new silhouette—almost more supple, essentially more feminine—and boner.

Despite the walter of variations on the "long look" no one designer has come up with a totally new interpretation.

In the 1960s, Russian and other peasant folkore had nothing definitely stamped 1971.

Gene are the days when a Balmain, a Jacques Fath or a Dior lunched with great fanfare a new line every season. Paris is still the symbol of fashion authority, but today there are singularly few leaders, if any.

Since the second World War there have only been three designers of any stature who were able to change the way women looked — Dior, who dropped women's skirts and introduced newswaves in 1947; Courreges, who raised them, and Chanel, who remained Chanel, immutable. The three were the right people in the right place at the right time.

The midli can be very tricky. Women will have to exercise greater discrimination in their choice of clothes, adopt a whole new set of new gestures, a new posture and a new walk.

Andre Courreges, the father of the micro-mini, the man who less than three years ago predicted women would discard dresses for pants for daytime, was no prophet in the winter. Women have taken to pants like ducks to water. But

An exciting and educational 32 day trip abroad was enjoyed by a Chuloua family, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Voight and sons, Brian and Gilbert, along with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Larson and daughters Patty and Pam from Altamonte Springs.

The families flew to New York and from there to Copenhagen where they joined friends of the Larsons who took them to Helsingborg, Sweden. They spent two weeks touring Sweden and Denmark traveling between the two countries by ferry.

The Voights flew from Copenhagen to Munich and rented a car and toured Southern part of Germany, Austria, and Switzerland. From Germany to France, Belgium, Luxembourg and to Holland where they rejoined the Larson family in Amsterdam. After a four day sight-seeing tour, they rented a car and followed the Rhine River to Frankfurt.

Mr. Voight says the food is so delicious over there that a person going over should go on a diet before leaving for one would sure gain it all back once over there. Being in the military, 25 years ago, Mr. Voight tried to show his family the most beautiful and interesting places he remembered seeing.

Wonderful World

By DORIS WILLIAMS

Action was the order of the evening Monday, Aug. 17, at the fashionable Hollywood home of Stella and John Woodhouse.

The occasion... a cocktail party to honor Miami's mayor, Chuck Hall, one of the Democratic candidates for Florida's next governor.

Mrs. Woodhouse, president of Seminole County Democratic Woman's Club is also coordinator for the Fourth District in Hall's campaign program.

It was a night for the beautiful people... truly! Accompanying the dignified mayor to Sanford was a universal beauty... with title and crown to prove claim... Miss Sylvia Hitchcock, Miss Universe of 1968.

The five foot, eight inch beauty queen is a native of Miami and was "Miss Alabama" in the pageant which won her world fame. She is an avid supporter of Hall, whom she feels is a devout Christian man.

A patriotic decor was featured throughout the home with an elaborate table in the dining room and high style seating party fare.

Stella greeted the guests wearing a high-fashion black and white silk pants ensemble with rhinestone buttons at the square neckline.

It was obvious that all were delighted with Mr. Hall, particularly the women! If looks, charm, polish and savoir-faire rate scoring, then Chuck Hall is a winner.

The tall, good-looking and white-haired charmer is a gentle man... and might add, all man! The grandeur of yesterday was reflected as the genial mayor kissed the hand of each woman to whom he was introduced... very impressive.

More than 100 guests were on hand to question Hall after he briefly stated his platform.

It was a night for the beautiful people... truly! Accompanying the dignified mayor to Sanford was a universal beauty... with title and crown to prove claim... Miss Sylvia Hitchcock, Miss Universe of 1968.

lady doesn't drink, smoke nor use drugs in any form... she is really quite a gal... just perfectly adorable!

At age 34, Sylvia is all excellent over health and beauty. She is engaged to an investor and chances are after her forthcoming marriage, she may be living in Orlando, where it is possible she will open a "Beauty Clinic" for all women. She attended University of Alabama and is interested in art and the wonderful world of fashion. Miss Universe is presently a model, wearing a size 8 and 9, and engaging in public relations, including addressing youth groups.

Although the party at the Woodhouse home was designed primarily as a political gathering... through my eyes it was another lovely party where the elite meet, greet, eat and have fun!

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I met a fellow rather accidentally on the telephone. We found out we had a lot in common (age and all) and he called me (on purpose) several times over the next few days. Long, interesting conversations. Well, he asked if he could take me out for dinner on Sunday night, and I said yes.

He came over at 4 like we planned, and after about 40 minutes of talking he wanted to kiss me.

I said, "No, I want to get to know you better." (After all, Abby, he really was a stranger to me as I had never seen him before.)

He said, "Well, that is how you get to know a person better. I still said 'No, not yet.' So he got mad and walked out the door.

"Did I do the right thing in not letting him kiss me?" I would still like to get to know him better. LOST HIM DEAR LOST: From what you tell me about this young man, I'd say you didn't lose much. Yes, you did the right thing. And if he calls you again, and you still want to "know him better" don't forget the "method" he suggested for getting to know you better.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and I am having trouble with my mother. She won't let me get my own money. I think I am old enough to know my own mind, and I don't see anything wrong with pleading my own case. ### Fresh Corn Relish

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor
 Refrigerator relishes are in vogue. They're so easy to put together and to store.

One of the best of these is a fresh corn relish. When we made up a batch of it in our test kitchen we found it was delightful served with roast meat, roast or fried chicken, roast turkey and broiled or pan-fried fish. Here's the recipe:

FRESH CORN RELISH
 6 to 8 medium-size ears fresh corn
 1 medium-size onion, peeled and chopped
 1/2 cup chopped celery
 2 drained canned pimientos, chopped
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 2 tablespoons dry mustard
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 cup distilled white vinegar

Cut kernels from corn—there should be about 3 cups; reserve. Into a large saucepot turn the onion, green pepper, celery, pimientos, salt, pepper, mustard, sugar and vinegar. Heat to boiling.

Add corn; cover and simmer for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat—cool.

Store, tightly covered, in refrigerator up to 2 weeks. Serve as an accompaniment for meat, poultry or fish.
 Makes about 1 quart.
 Note: Knife-chop the onion, green pepper, celery and pimientos.

KITCHEN NOTES
 Here are half a dozen suggestions for using leftover cooked corn. Cut the kernels from the ears, then team them in one of these ways:

1. Make up a green cabbage slaw, using cooked dressing, mayonnaise or French dressing. Add cooked corn kernels.
2. Add cooked corn kernels to the egg mixture when you are preparing scrambled eggs.
3. An old-fashioned vegetable soup made with a cream-base and diced carrot, onion, celery and green beans can also have a addition of cooked corn kernels. Add the corn after the soup is made and reheat.
4. Add cooked corn kernels to pancake batter. They're also good in corn bread and corn muffins.
5. Save green pepper strips in butter until tender-crisp; stir in cup of butter and cooked corn.
6. Slice celery and cook in salted boiling water just until tender-crisp; drain. Add a dollop of butter and cooked corn kernels and reheat. Or trim the coked celery and corn with a cream sauce; sprinkle with paprika before serving.

New Way To Use Potatoes

SUNDAY SUPPER
 Frozen shoestring potatoes are put to an interesting use. Creamed Chicken in Potato Baskets

POTATO BASKETS
 1 Fresh Plum Cabbler Beverage
 3 eggs, slightly beaten
 1/4 cups grated (medium-fine) sharp cheddar cheese (about 1/2 ounces)
 1/4 teaspoons salt
 1 pound (carton or plastic bag) frozen shoestring potatoes

Mix together the eggs, cheese and salt. Cut potatoes into 1-inch pieces. Add to egg mixture and toss until potatoes are evenly moistened; let stand about 10 minutes. Press into 5 well-greased tart pans (each 4 1/2 by 1 1/2 inches) to make leakproof baskets. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until delicately browned—15 to 20 minutes. Loosen edges with tip of sharp knife and carefully remove baskets from pans. Fry with hot creamed chicken. Makes 6 servings.

The publishers of this encyclopedia came to us with a good idea. An idea so good, in fact, that we're happy to pass it on to our customers.

Just imagine owning a handsome family encyclopedia for only $1.89 a volume. Starting this week, we're offering the Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia at that remarkably low price. And to prove to you what a fine value this encyclopedia really is, we're offering Volume No. 1 at the trial price of 25¢.

Don't let the low price fool you. This is a quality reference work in every sense of the word. The publishers called upon over 200 leading authorities, experts in their respective fields, including Nobel Prize winners, to help gather the information and to write the easily understandable text. It contains nearly 10,000 pages in 25 beautifully bound volumes, 7,000,000 words, 30,000 subjects. Over 5,000 pictures and illustrations. Plus a full-color World Atlas. It all adds up to a fine encyclopedia that can benefit every member of your family.

School-age children don't have to be coaxed to consult it frequently. They find new interest and excitement in study periods and their grades can improve noticeably. It's an excellent way to help your child work up to his full potential in school. Parents, too, find it useful and informative and often wonder how they ever did without it.

We won't quote the complete review by the Subscription Books Committee of the American Library Association*, but its final paragraph says:

"Because of its wide coverage of information in factual and clearly-written, well-illustrated succinct articles, and because of the convenience of its lightweight yet durable format, Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia is recommended for the purpose for which it is intended, that is, as a brief reference set, especially for home and family use."

The Funk & Wagnalls Standard Reference Encyclopedia can be offered at such an exceptionally low price because it's sold through supermarkets. In fact, the publisher has already sold more than 100 million encyclopedia volumes to smart families through supermarkets across the country.

Stop in today and see what the excitement is all about. Volume No. 1 is on sale right now. Pick up a volume or two each week when you shop and in no time at all you'll have the complete 25-volume set.

It's everything you'd expect a good encyclopedia to be.
 And it's not expensive.

COMPANY DINNER
Nectarines are a delightful addition to a chicken dish.
Sour Cream Chicken
with Nectarines
Green Beans
Stuffed Rice
Salad Bowl
Hot Biscuits
Coffee Ice Cream
with Coffee Liqueur
SOUL CREAM CHICKEN
WITH NECTARINES
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 lb broiler-fryer, cut up
1/4 cup butter
1/4 cups fat-free chicken broth
1/4 cup catchup
1/2 teaspoon rosemary, crushed
1 container (1/2 pint commercial sour cream)
2 to 4 fresh nectarines
In a paper or plastic bag shake together the flour, salt, pepper and paprika; add chicken and shake to coat. Save remaining flour mixture. In a large skillet, brown the chicken in the butter; transfer to a 2- or 3-quart shallow baking dish. Pour off excess fat from skillet. Blend reserved flour mixture into drippings in skillet; heat to brown slightly, stirring constantly; gradually stir in broth, then catchup and rosemary. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and boiling; remove from heat; stir in sour cream. Pour sauce over chicken; cover and bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until tender — about 45 minutes. Slice enough nectarines to make 2 cups. Add to baking dish and bake uncovered for 10 minutes longer. With a spoon, skim off as much fat as possible. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FAMILY DINNER
An old-fashioned pudding for dessert fans.
Swiss Steak Potatoes
Buttered Spinach Salad Bowl
Peach Cobbler Beverage
PEACH COBBLER
1 quart sliced peeled fresh peaches (about 1 1/2 pounds)
1 cup sugar
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
1 large egg
2 tablespoons milk
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
In a 1 1/2-quart oblong glass baking dish (10 by 8 by 1 1/4 inches) or similar enamel tin, mix the peaches and 1/4 cup of the sugar. Into a medium mixing bowl sift the flour, baking powder and salt. With a pastry blender, cut in butter until it is in fine particles. In a small mixing bowl beat the egg and remaining 1/4 cup sugar until thick and frothy; color; beat in milk and vanilla; fold into flour mixture; do not stir smooth; spread over peaches. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in topping comes out clean—about 45 minutes. Serve hot or cold. May be topped with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream.
