Toyota Mixed

The Sedans rode the strong arm of Jim Carver to the title in the Late Toyota loop last week. Carver cut up a 227, 195-544 to pace the Sedans' three wins over the V-Giants.

Second place honors went to the Four Hoods who also won three times last week with Al Serras unleashing a 185, 186, 202-573 series and getting help from R. Ceynosa 232 and E. Serras 208. The Four Pistons, led by Roy Templeton's 204 managed to win one game and finished in third place.

The big daddy in the loop last week was Johnny Jaco who blasted a 248 and 225 in his 630 series and helped the Bumper Jacks to a sweep of the Gascons. Also helping was E. Barbour's 180. Another sweep last week was pulled in by the Wheels who broomed the Sparkplugs behind J. Zealla's 174, 188 and J. Fattella's 190.

Other sparklers in the loop last week came from T. Bonds 185 and C. Slaughter 204.

In the Early Toyota loop the Hardtops won three from the Coronas behind a mighty 190, 183-555 set by O. Touchton. Pacing the Coronas was a 202 by J. Wood.

Ron Gilbo had a strong 202, 185-556 set but saw his Overhead Cam team lose to the Land Cruisers. High for the Cruisers was a 196 by R. Carroll.

The Sprinters and Crownas divided their match last week with E. Kostival's 206 leading the Sprinters and John Jaco's 194 and T. Powell's 172 high for the Crownas. Ed Weaver's 187, 221, 194-502 led the Coronas to a three game win over the Pickups. For the Pickups it was Bill Painter with 184, 181-523 the top set.

Keplers Loop

The big noise in this loop last week was the match between B & D Roofing and the Gutters. The B & D Keplers won three thanks to the 205-566 of John Jaco, the two-pin shy effort of the BIG SIX of Jim Carver 219, 227-508 and Rob Jones 196. Nearly making those efforts was Jackson 207, 201-582, J. Bryant 203-574 and Chuck Baker 209.

B. Kelley had the only "serious" effort for the Jokers as he stroked a 193-532 in leading his outfit to a sweep of the Road Runners. For the Road Runners it was D. Dolinger with a 209. B. Anderson's 188-509 led the Acme Conveyer to three wins over the Goodyear Number 2 team. Goodyear Number 1 split its match with Smith Development. J. Ceresoli 197 led Goodyear while J. Smith 192 and R. Smith 177 led the Developers. In the other match D. Gorman 203 was high for the Crownas who swept the Lake Mary Glassers.

Adcock Home Improvement

Jim Carver hit the BIG SIX for the Tar Babies who won three over the Four Minus Two. Carver burned the sticks for a 190, 235-604 and was aided by Johnny Jaco 212 and Dot Lee's 177. The Tar Babies finished in second place.

The Headstarters swept their final match with the Generation Gap as David Tabor fired a 186, 200, 185-571. Ed Maskey's 185 was high for the Generation Gap. John Bryant 190 led the Gutters to a sweep of the Lucky Ones and the League title.

The Penny Pinchers lost three to the Tacks despite a sparkling 224, 193-588 by Bill Kinney. For the Tacks it was Jeff Johnson 200 and John Ceresoli 204, 186-547.

Other top scorers in the loop were Rob Jones 202, Merle Price 187, Steve Richards 184, Chuck Baker, 191 and Bob Horsford 214.

Dynatronics Summer Loop

Ed Mallon was in rare form last week as he blistered the Bow American Sanford lanes for one of his best series in a long while. Ed ripped off games of 201 and 223 for a 592 set and was aided by M. Holley's 171 as the Four Stars swept four from the Dynatronics.

Chuck Elbery bombed a 225-560 set and T. Savis a 170 as the Good-Bad-Ugly won three from the Lucky Seven. J. West 176 and M. Beers 172 was high for the Seven.

The Slingshots got only John Green's 211-552 but it was enough to sweep four from the Dynatronics. In the other match the Swingers won three from the Surprises thanks to George Dixon's 180. For the Surprises it was D. Whitton 182 and S. Murphy 219.

Generation Gap

Miller's Barber Shop kept its hold on first place by winning three games from Monroe Harbour. Peg Patley's 179 led the Barber Shop crew while Carolyn Street had a 172 for Monroe.

Florida Convey Blue and Retail Painting First Coat split their match. Annette Walstedt had a 174 for the Blues and Bobby Retaila 168, 161-466 for the First Coats.

Sharon Willis 166 and Arlene Rumley 171 helped Retaila Second Coat to three wins over Spenco. For the Spenco it was Clois Owens with a 165, 215.

The sparklers in the loop were Cathy Sheppard who converted the 3-10, Joan Nordquist who made the 2-7, Clois Owens the 5-10 and Arlene Rumley the 2-7-10.

Local Pinpouiri

Ball and Chain Sparklers were by Jim Anderson 175, Harold 209, Don Witt 194, Anne Almond 192, Greg Bullock 222, Bob Retaila 202 and Ray Setala 181. Chuck Kelley caught a little stir in the loop too when he converted the 4-10 split. . . . From the Junior-Senior circuit came the efforts of David Jerinigan 184, Terry Waldrop 184, 192-543, David Morgan 171, Belinda Burgess 169, Roger Saults 208, Ricky Payne 192, 161-569 and Mark Clayton 177.

30-Find Your Sweet Spot

The location of the sweet spot varies from one putter to another, but it will be close to the shaft.

You should find the sweet spot on the top with paint or tape, and address and hit the ball there.

One way to find the sweet spot is to let the putter dangle loosely from one hand and tap the face sharply with the index finger of the other hand. When the face jumps straight back you've located the sweet spot.

Every putter has a sweet spot, a small area on the face that gives you the most solid and consistent hits. Your scores will be better.

Pirates' Briles Happy, Disappointed

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nelson Briles of the Pittsburgh Pirates has done some acting during the off-season, but never played the role of Superman.

He looked every bit the part Tuesday night, though, when pitching against the San Francisco Giants.

"It's really a funny feeling to be happy and disappointed at the same time," said Briles after losing a perfect-game bid in the seventh inning and winding up with a one-hitter to beat the Giants 1-0.

That one hit—a line drive by Ken Henderson off first baseman Willie Stargell's glove turned out to be the only base-runner off Briles, an actor and night club performer when he isn't playing baseball.

"There's nothing wrong with leaving Juan Marchal 1-0," said Briles. "But I'm disappointed because I came so close and had it go down."

Pittsburgh stayed 1½ games in front of New York in the National League East race. The Mets also won Tuesday night, beating the Houston Astros 4-2 for the second straight time.

Elsewhere, the Cincinnati Reds moved to an 8½-game advantage in the West over Houston by stopping the Montreal Expos 5-3, the Atlanta Braves 11-7.

Indians Throw Bonnet in AL Whacky Chase

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It is a simple mathematical fact of baseball that if all the teams ahead of you win, you'll gain ground.

And that explains how the unlikely American League East pennant race has another applicant today with the Cleveland Indians now just 6½ games behind in the whacky chase.

The Indians find themselves in the picture after nipping Minnesota 3-2 Tuesday night. The top of the division remained unchanged with Detroit losing to Oakland 6-3, Baltimore losing to California 2-0 and New York going to Chicago 5-1.

Fourth place Boston tried valiently to match defeat from the jaws of victory but didn't quite make it, beating Kansas City 10-7. In the other AL game, Texas trimmed Milwaukee 2-1, keeping the Brewers a mere 17 games behind.

Detroit began the month of August atop the AL East, and the Tigers are still there despite a woful 8-15 log over the last three weeks. The slump has, of course, cost the leaders.

Surging, Baltimore, 10-13 this month, has chopped two games off the lead to move within one-half game of the lead.

The status remained quo with Oakland using homers by Angel Mangual, Blue Moon Odum and Joe Judge to defeat Detroit and Mickey Lolich Tuesday night while Nolan Ryan's four-hitter pushed Oakland past Baltimore.

The Tigers and St. Louis stirred some extracurricular excitement with a seventh-inning brawl that started when Brewer Bill Slayback buzzes a pitch too close for Mangual's comfort. The A's outfielder said Tiger Manager Billy Martin was the culprit.

"I never fight in my life," said Mangual. "I heard Martin tell the catcher to have the pitcher knock me down. If he tries to hit me, what do I do. I've got to protect myself."

Mangual rushed Slayback and the brawl was on with fights breaking out all over the field.

Oakland's victory kept the A's one-half game ahead of Chicago in the AL West. The White Sox erased a four-run New York lead and beat the Yankees with Dick Allen's 31st home run of the season deciding the game.

It was the fifth loss in the last seven games for New York.

Beauchamp's big night helped New York ace Tom Seaver win his 15th game while the Chicago Cubs defeated the San Diego Padres 4-3 and the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 1-0.

Briles, winning his 12th game in 17 decisions this year, retired the first 20 Giants before Henderson ripped one off Stargell's glove. It extended Henderson's hitting streak to 18 games.

"It was hit real well, but in my own mind I should have caught it," said Stargell, who only runs in the first. "There was just no time to stick the glove up. It was one of those things. I didn't talk to Briles about it—what could I say?"

Second baseman Dave Cash and shortstop Jackie Hernandez earlier made some great plays to steal potential San Francisco hits. Then Ronnie Stennett made a leaping catch in left field off Jones' springer.

"Under water caves are no place for a beginner," stated the many swimmers who were rescued by the divers at Jones' Springs Sunday.

Jones was accompanied by Rocco Cuccia, they were exploring the caverns beneath the soil but were hampered by not being allowed to use self-contained diving equipment in the swimming area.

"I was told the first plateau, which is 20 feet deep entered the second cave. I must have been in too much of a hurry for I distributed the silt to such an extent that it was impossible to find the opening to get out."

"After two and a half minutes, I found it by feel and surfaced." "In a situation like that," said Jones, "a beginner probably would have panicked and never made it to the top."

Cuccia, who is vice-president of the student body at Seminole Junior College, and his diving partner have explored caverns and sink holes all over the state, using air tanks. Some of the caves exceed 200 feet in depth.

When asked about specific dangers of diving in Wekiva Springs, both men were emphatic that the worst hazard was people jumping on top of them as they surfaced from a dive.

The two took time from their explorations to assist some of the many swimmers on shore excursions to view the beauties of the under water world.

The divers are hoping to get permission from the park authority to use scuba equipment and make a thorough study of the Wekiva's under ground system of caves.

There is a probability that some historical relics can be recovered—already they have discovered arrow heads, a human vertebra, shark teeth, and many hand molded lead musket balls.

Some smaller lead balls could have been grape-shot from ancient cannons, leading to a theory that the springs could have been a battleground for some of the Spanish-Indian skirmishes.

As a final word, the divers asked the warning to beginners be emphasized strongly.

The injury occurred on the final play of the game, the bottom of the sixth and final inning of regulation play.

The only hint this year that the "Hunt" group—the contract professionals who play in the World Championship Tennis (WCT) tour, as named and sponsored by millionaire sportsman Sam Houston, will compete against the world's best independent players.

There have been such complicated and lengthy negotiations and recommitments between the "Hunt" group and the International Lawn Tennis Federation that the "Hunt" talks seem like a party-cake in comparison.

And their myriad differences between the tennis actions will not surface here, praise be. But they have warmly embraced each other for the immediate future, starting with Forest Hills.

So, Houston such as Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall, John Newcombe and Arthur Ashe may peer across the net at the somewhat more swarthy, eigen likes of Stan Smith, Ilie Nastase, Jan Kodes, Jimmy Connors.

"This makes tennis purists like Hopman happy, sort of. Happy that the 10 Hunt players may enter the tennis world, happy that some of the younger players will be the older, more experienced veterans. But Hopman still maintains a rein on his enthusiasm."

"First of all," said Hopman, who was until three years ago the captain of Australia's 16 Davis Cup championship teams in 21 years. "I think the WCT players have been Open world tennis heavily in their favor."

"Forest Hills is grass court. The Hunt players play in grass courts all the time. Most of the independent players don't. The continental people don't have a grass court to their name."

"I've got to believe we will be better in the offensive line and the future here looks solid," Dickey says.

"We've got some size and strength now, some ability to look people in the eyes in the line of scrimmage," Dickey says. "This is an encouraging because it should enable us to stay in the hunt."

The unit is young but has some experience. It is a blend of a few olds who got a world of work and learning the ropes last season as sophomores and some youngsters who appear to have excellent potential.

Florida's line will be anchored by center Mark King of Tallahassee, an all-conference sophomore who started every game in 1971. He is an exceptional football player and leader who is 6-4, 228 pounds. He will be junior as will fellow all-SEC sophomore team member Joe Sheppard of Orlando, who will play quarterback in one of the most improved players on the Gator team, especially in physical strength. Padgett, who will play quick tackle, now weighs 238 pounds on a 6-4½ frame.

Running opposite Padgett at strong tackle will be pre-season all SEC performer Kris Anderson of Orlando, a 6-2, 228-pounder with good quickness and power. Anderson, like King and Sheppard, started 11 games as a sophomore.

Olympic Image Tarnished By Ouster Of Rhodesia

MUNICH (AP)—Rhodesia's ousted Olympic medalist...

It's a great disappointment, he said, "because I know my speed would have won an Olympic medal. On the other hand, it is quite fair for the black African nations who know what they are fighting for."

As Rhodesia prepared to pull out some athletes with tears in their eyes, the remaining 122 countries continued honing sports skills for the quadrennial which opens Saturday amid the usual pomp and splendor.

A pre-Olympic track meet was scheduled today in the giant stadium with its now-famous spider-web that was built with most of the international powers expected to enter full squads.

Black Americans, along with athletes of a dozen African nations and some from the Caribbean, were apparently poised to depart Munich if the Rhodesians were allowed to compete.

"The decision means I will stay and run," said Vice-Minister, a New Yorker who will run the 400 meters. "Most American black track athletes here, were apparently poised to depart Munich if the Rhodesians were allowed to compete."

"It was a blatant intrusion of politics," Brundage said. "They had a gun to our heads. It was political blackmail—nothing but blackmail—and we gave in."

"I fought as hard as I could, but I lost."

The Rhodesians, consisting of 35 white and eight black athletes, were ousted on the fragile technicality of passport identification after fulfilling all other obligations.

White-controlled Rhodesia, a former British colony which declared its independence in 1965, was admitted to the Games by the IOC a year ago with the stipulation that its athletes compete as British subjects and use the British hymn and flag.

At the time, the African bloc went along with the agreement, apparently feeling that Rhodesia would refuse to field a team under such conditions.

When the Rhodesians showed up in Munich, wearing identification cards labelled "South Rhodesia, British subject" and flying British colors, the African bloc withdrew.

"We were horrified, shocked and surprised when at the last minute the Africans refused the issue again. Even the African sportsmen were surprised."

"It's a victory for politics and a sad day for the Olympic movement."

Retirement Cam Bring Happiness

Editor's Note: For some, the years beyond retirement are their best. But there are those who find the declining years to be a happy extension of their earlier lives.

By FRANK MACDOMEH

Growing old can be a privilege or an ordeal. To most of the nation's 21 million elderly people it usually is one or the other. The gray area in between is the in-between.

But for the aged has marked political overtones, primarily because everybody is going to get old in life long enough.

When the House of Representatives recently approved a $1.5 billion, three-year expanded aid program for the elderly, the roll call vote was 231 to 161.

The White House, too, listens to the voices of the aged. President Nixon named Dr. Arthur S. Flemming his special consultant on aging and ordered:

"I am determined that the voice of older Americans will be heard in the White House."

Dr. Flemming, former secretary of health, education and welfare in the Dwight D. Eisenhower administration, was chairman of the 1971 White House Conference on Aging, out of which came proposals for a new national policy to aid America's senior citizens.

The White House conference, however, most delegates agreed was aimed primarily at achieving new goals for the aged from 1973 to 1976, not tomorrow or even next year.

Mrs. Edith Warren Quinn, a California delegate, says the conference should produce some encouraging results, but not right away.

"That's the law for us: we are supposed to plan ahead—30 years," she explains. "There will be some immediate results, of course, but the emphasis is for 30 years ahead."

Another California delegate, Miss Helen Antonak, believes the long-range premise is wise.

"If they had done this in the 1930's or 1940's, I think things would be better for elderly people now," she points out.

Congress, not to be outdone by the President's conference, has introduced legislation to extend and expand the Older Americans Act, providing services for the aged.

The act's amendments are working on its own versions of ways to give the term "golden years" more meaning.

Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., for example, has introduced legislation to create a "senior power job corps" for the elderly.

His measure is aimed at providing part-time jobs for an estimated 14 million older people who still have a lot of talent, who still can make a contribution to our world.

Pryor says his bill is based on the fact that many of the students he recruited to do the development problems of the elderly. It would direct the departments of Labor, Interior and HEW to join in proposing projects to create jobs for the aging.

He cites the Labor Department's Green Thumb program, in which low-income groups are given jobs on conservation and beautification projects, as the kind that should be widened to cover the nation's elderly.

"They want to do something if they are physically and mentally able," Pryor insists. "They want to be constructive and productive, and I want to see this reservoir of talent used. At this point it is being wasted."

"Yet some educators and sociologists in this country and abroad claim it is inaccurate to say that most of the aging and aged have been 'discarded' by their advancing years."

Dr. Bernice Neugarten, chairman of the Inter-Disciplinary Committee on Human Development at the University of Chicago, claims wide-of-the-mark stereotypes of their plight have been allowed to build up over the years.

University investigators studied more than 2,000 cases. Dr. Neugarten says, before they reached these conclusions: "Most children don't neglect their parents, nor are they cruel or indifferent. In most instances both generations prefer separate households if it is financially possible."

SWINGER AT 71 — Mrs. Irene Marcy, who plays her golf at Lake San Marcos, Calif., breaks 80 more than she jumps over it and is proof that you don't have to be sidelined just because you've hit the 70-year mark. Sociologists are agreeing with this more and more.

Jaycees Continue Place Fund Drive

By HERSKY CUSH

Former Sanford serviceman Richard Place has been in a Springfield, Mass., hospital but there are a great many residents here in Seminole County who've been with him since they first learned of his unfortunate fall from a sheer-like hill in Massachusetts.

Place, whose father is the assistant chief of police in Oviedo, was visiting with a few Army buddies when his accident occurred. It was because of his Army pals that the Sanford resident was able to survive his fall.

While hiking through what was thought to be a state park Place lost his footing and fell 18 feet into shallow water. It is believed the water helped break some of his fall.

But considerable damage had been done to the ex-soldier's neck, arm, skull as well as other injuries. Using life-saving techniques they had learned in the Army the buddies with Place knew enough to keep him from going into shock, and even more fortunate was the "retiree" strapped back up the side of the hill where Place had fallen.

"That was the only way they could get him out of there," said Wesley Place, the boy's father. "But those guys really handled the situation like experts."

The Oviedo Jaycees got the ball rolling to help Place make the financial costs that had reached the $7,500 mark after a month's stay in Wesson Memorial Hospital in Springfield.

The Jaycees have put out collection cans which they hope will continue to remind area residents of the boy's need. Early last week the total collected had exceeded $800.

Larry Neely, president of the Oviedo Jaycees, said the donations had been average about $25-40 a day but that pace isn't expected to continue. "The neighbors of the Place boy in Prescott had a carport sale last week in an effort to raise money," he said. "It's going to take more than carport sales and collection cans if we are going to make this a worthwhile project."

It is hoped the Sanford-Seminole Jaycee organization will continue to remind area residents of the boy's need. Place did not have any medical insurance. He had been out of the service only a few months when the accident occurred. While he is still in serious condition the doctors are optimistic.

Since he's been in Wesson the boy has had three major operations. Another which will put a plate in the skull area, is forthcoming soon.

Another project the Oviedo Jaycees have in mind concerning the Place boy is to have him moved to a veterans' hospital in Florida. The medical costs which are expected to reach $15,000 before the boy can be released could be lessened a great deal if he can be put in a service hospital.

Those desiring to make contributions can do so by mailing their donations to Richard Place Fund, c/o Citizens Bank of Oviedo, Oviedo, Fla.

Third Time In Week Da Nang Shelling Continues

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy fighting was reported at the mouth of the Que Son Valley Tuesday, and 30 miles to the north the North Vietnamese shelled Da Nang for the third time in less than a week.

Officers in the field said South Vietnamese infantrymen and rangers advancing into the valley ran into three North Vietnamese battalions numbering as many as 500 troops.

The Saigon command blamed 70 North Vietnamese troops were killed, but reported only 24 weapons captured. South Vietnamese losses were one killed and 24 wounded, the command said.

The South Vietnamese launched a spoiling operation Monday, two days after the North Vietnamese ran them out of the valley. Now they are trying to keep the North Vietnamese from continuing their push toward Da Nang and the populous lowlands along Highway 1.

Enemy gunners fired five rockets into Da Nang before dawn today, wounding 11 civilians and wrecking five houses.

Twelve mortar rounds hit the Marble Mountain air facility on the edge of Da Nang, but there were no reports of any U.S. or South Vietnamese casualties.

Eighty miles to the north, the two-month stalemate in the battle for Quang Tri continued with casualties mounting on both sides. The Saigon command said 20 North Vietnamese were killed Tuesday, while eight government troops were killed and 73 wounded. North Vietnamese gunners slammed nearly 1,400 shells into government positions.

Overcast skies again reduced U.S. air activity over North Vietnam on Tuesday and only a few supply trucks and one tank along the coast north and south.

The commander of the U.S. 7th Fleet, Vice Adm. J. J. Holroyd III, said Tuesday that the Navy's air attacks on North Vietnam and the mining of its harbors have had a tremendous adverse effect on the Communists.

Visiting the carrier Hancock in the Philippines on Tuesday, he said no seagoing vessels have entered or left any major North Vietnamese port since the mining of the harbors last May.

County Blamed Because 'Raindrops Fell On Their Heads'

By MARRION BETHEA

The Seminole County Commission received a verbal blast from both the judiciary and state attorney this morning in an interlude in the second degree murder trial of Jack Spyr.

Defense Attorney Gerald Hubberg made a motion for a new trial, or alternately for a mistrial in the case pursuant to a new trial. Hubberg argued at yesterday's proceedings, the roof of Courtroom B almost "caved in" due to a heavy rainstorm, and distracted the jurors during cross examination of the state's case.

Circuit Judge Richard Maxwell noted the roof leaked but he was told most of the precipitation blew through the windows and that most was in chambers.

THE ROOF was ripped off eight apartments at the Capistrano Apartments in Altamonte Springs when a tornado hit Tuesday. Altamonte Springs Fire Chief T. L. Siegfried estimated damage at $500,000. Sections of the roof were hurled over the area, crushing cars (above) and falling against other apartments (below). No one was injured.

Twister Sweeps Through Altamonte Apartments

By GARY TAYLOR

A tornado swept through the Capistrano Apartments on Maitland Avenue in Altamonte Springs yesterday, doing about $500,000 damage. But despite the large sections of roof which were tossed around by the high winds, no one was injured.

The twister lifted the roof off eight apartments and flung it over a large area, damaging cars, knocking down trees and hitting other apartments. Two cars were destroyed and several others damaged.

The Altamonte Springs fire department, with mutual aid assistance from the Maitland fire department, directed the salvage operation. The cars were destroyed and several others damaged.

Items in the apartment which were too big to move were covered with tarps or plastics. There were also reports of a twister touching down in Volusia County, damaging several houses.

A Sanford man was admitted to Seminole Memorial Hospital yesterday after he was struck by lightning. Ella Everett, 90, of 820 Escalante Drive, Sanford, was injured by the lightning bolt, according to Lt. Mike Rotundo, of the Sanford police department.

Flames burned out of control through more than 2,500 cases of brush and scrub timber at three Southern California locations today, aided by record high temperatures and unrelenting winds. The largest fire endangered a sanctuary for the near-extinct California condor.

This blaze, in the Los Padres National Forest 22 miles east of Ventura, started Tuesday afternoon and crackled through more than 2,000 acres of heavy brush and tree growth, the U.S. Forest Service said.

PAUL BOLZEL, 76, of 387 Park Ave., Longwood, died Monday from injuries received when he was struck by a car. Born in Shelbyville, Ind., he came to Longwood in 1961 from Greenwood, Ind. He was a member of the Job Corps and Pentecostal Church.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bolzel; brothers, Donald, Ray and Robbie, all of Longwood; sisters, Miss Connie Bolt and Miss Sandra Bolt; grandmothers, Mrs. Lily C. Bolt, Orlando; and Mrs. Dorothy May Perkins, Sanford.

McGovern Will Keep U.S. Power

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. George McGovern today said despite a campaign pledge to slash military spending, "no hostile power will succeed in threatening this country if I am president. No foreign power will push us around."

"We will always have sufficient power to resist attack, the threat of attack or diplomacy by blackmail," the Democratic presidential nominee told the Legionnaires.

McGovern, who has pledged to slash $32 billion from the current defense budget of more than $80 billion, said that even with those cuts "my budget would give us enough fire power to destroy Russia and China simultaneously 20 times over."

The South Dakota senator commented in remarks prepared for the Legion's national convention. President Nixon speaks before the Legion Thursday.

McGovern also plans to meet today with Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, whose support is considered important if McGovern is to carry Illinois, a crucial swing state.

McGovern flew in to Chicago fresh from an effort to win the whole-hearted support of another old-line Democrat, former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

In his speech to the Legion, McGovern over and over reminded the veterans that he, too, had served in a war, as a combat pilot in Europe during World War II.

"Every man who ever served in the armed forces knows that military spending is riddled with waste and inefficiency," McGovern said. "We need an inevitable and invulnerable defense."

But he also need to rein in the high-flying military spenders who think the sky is the limit.

Daley, who was barred along with his Cook County delegation from last month's McGovern-dominated Democratic National Convention, has said he endorses the Democrats' national ticket.

REUBEN ADAMS, 49, was charged with failure to yield right-of-way by Policeman D. L. Anderson following this accident on Sanford Avenue, just north of Airport Boulevard this morning. Adams was driving the overturned truck. Wayne C. Murphy, of 1033 West First Street, was driving the Sen Joe County garbage transfer truck. The overturned truck was owned by O.L. Milam.

Food Prices Lift Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, pushed by higher food prices, increased by four-tenths of 1 percent last month, but consumer purchasing power jumped twice as high, the Department of Labor says.

Higher prices for meats, fish and poultry led to increased food costs, the department said Tuesday. The Consumer Price Index at 125.5 for July, meaning that it cost $12.55 to buy goods and services that cost $10 in 1967.

Edgar H. Fiedler, assistant Treasury secretary for economic policy, said the overall statistics show that the inflation rate for prices paid by the consumer has been cut in half in the last three years.

But Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern viewed the figures a different way, saying they "confirm what every housewife already knows: inflation is alive and well."

The increase in the cost of living index was the largest in five months but was not unexpected, the administration said. An spokesman predicted a slackening of inflation during the remainder of the year.

Average weekly earnings went up four-tenths of 1 percent in July. The department said workers earned $1.09 more a week in July than in June, for an average weekly paycheck of $136.47.

Vandals Are Busy

Vandals broke into the physical education locker rooms at Sanford Middle School, throwing papers around, discharging fire extinguishers and tearing fixtures from the wall. Then they set a pile of papers on fire in one of the two locker room offices.

The Sanford Fire Department responded to the blaze. There wasn't much damage caused by the flames, but there was some smoke damage.

A total of 12 tires on nine buses parked at the county storage lot were punctured. The lot is located at SH 427 and General Hatcher Parkway.

According to deputy Jim Hibbard, the vandals used a sharp object to flatten the tires.

There were no buses or buses of any kind. It was a very good accident," McGovern said. "McGovern's defense has been a possible, subliminal American Legion convention today and promised America would never become a second rate power if he were president."

McGovern was applauded nine times during the half-hour speech but got a restrained standing ovation of less than 10 seconds when he was finished.

Of Oviedo Council Action On Drugs Asked

By LIZ MATHELIX

OVIEDO — Edward W. Stoner, M.D., appeared before the City Council Tuesday to request the Seminole County drug action committee to cooperate with the Central Florida Drug Abuse Council.

The Seminole group apparently has not been too cooperative in the past, Dr. Stoner inferred, because they feared that funds would be used in Orange County rather than in Seminole.

The Oviedo physician is of the opinion that the drug effort should be a cooperative one rather than county against county.

As recently as two weeks ago, Tim Bannick, president of the Seminole drug action committee, appealed to the Oviedo Council to join with other contributing municipalities to help eradicate the drug habit in Seminole County. He was assured that when the council did to contemplate a budget for 1972-73 it would give this cause due consideration.

Dr. Stoner feels the effort against drug abuse should be coordinated through the Central Florida Drug Abuse Council.

Jane Ellen Grant, Bruce A. Jasewic To Marry

MISS JANE ELLEN GRANT

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert E. Grant, 1210 W. 20th St., Sanford, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Jane Ellen Grant, to Bruce Alan Jasewic, son of Mrs. Marjorie Jasewic, 3333 Coleas Court, Winter Park.

Born in Gallipolis, Ohio, the bride-elect is a 1966 graduate of Seminole High School where she was a member of the chorus, Candy Strippers and Para-Medical Club. For the past three years she has been employed by Sears Roebuck & Company, Orlando.

Her fiancé, who was born in Camden, N.J., was graduated from Southport High School, Indianapolis, Ind., in 1967. He attended Florida Technological University and plans to continue his education there in January, 1973. He is presently employed by Water Bonnet, Casselberry.

The wedding will be an event of Oct. 28, at 4 p.m., at PineCrest Baptist Church, Sanford.

Yvonne Meree, Warren J. Herbst Jr. Married In Historical 1840 Setting

Miss Yvonne Mildon Meree and Warren John Herbst, Jr., exchanged wedding vows Saturday Aug. 5 at 2 p.m. in the Church of the Holy Cross, North Plainfield, N.J.

Father Graham Ross of Saint Michaels Chapel, Piscataway, N.J. was officiating clergyman. It was a Eucharist Service and the young couple was served from their own Chalice and Paten. The altar was simply adorned with daisies, chrysanthemums and baby's breath in keeping with the 1840 theme followed throughout.

The bride is the daughter of Capt. Cecil Eugene Meree, Jr., U.S.C.G., and Mrs. Meree of Alexandria, Va., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren John Herbst, Martinsville, N.J. and the grandson of John Herbst, East 26th Street, Sanford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a family heirloom gown which was originally created and worn by her great-grandmother, Eleanor Churchill, of Nova Scotia, when she married Nathaniel Travis, March 9 in the early part of 1840. It was next worn by Alice Estelle Mildon (aunt of the bride) of Marlboro, Mass. at her wedding to George Elwin Martin, March 9, 1908. (Mrs. Martin was present at Yvonne's wedding).

The gown preserved in excellent condition is handmade of fine cotton batiste and muslin. The off-shoulder bodice has three coral insets of lace. Leg-of-mutton sleeves are pleated at the top and feature small puffs at the wrists which close with three tiny mother-of-pearl buttons.

The empire waistline above a full skirt of many rows of gathers and a slight flare in the back is accented by an inch wide ivory ribbon sash. The wide gown fastens in the back with the original large brass hooks and eyes.

Under the gown Miss Meree wore the bridal petticoat made by her great grandmother, Abigail Churchill Travis, in 1800. It had wide eyelet flounces which were hand worked. From her own mother she received her wedding garter. It is lace and blue ribbon trimmed and has a small heart shaped seed pearl pocket to carry a new penny. The bride's veil of fine ivory tulle on a circular band decorated with lilies-of-the-valley was made by her mother. She carried a small bouquet of daisies, baby's breath and lilies-of-the-valley secured to a gold embossed book of Common Prayer in keeping with the period tradition.

Mrs. Blanding DeSaussure, Jr., Columbia, S.C. was matron of honor, Miss Suzanne Mildon Meree, Boston, Mass. sister of the bride was bridesmaid. Their gowns were made of dotted swiss, one blue the other yellow. The simple formal length gowns featured short mandarin collars and half belts in the back. The collars and cuffs were trimmed in white and stylized bows worn in the hair matched the ensembles. They each carried a small bouquet of daisies and ivy. Peter Lossing Herbst, served his brother as best man. Others were Blanding DeSaussure, Jr., Columbia, S.C. Richard Sicles, Lansdale, Pa. and Cecil Eugene Meree Jr., Tallahassee. The groom and all of his attendants wore black tuxedos with white

Dear Abby

He won't call wife by her first name
By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who has not called me by my first name for the past 20 years. If the phone rings and it's for me, he will look at me and say, "Telephone!" He will ask, "What do you want from the store?" Or, "Who's coming over?" At times he communicates with me thru the children by saying, "Tell your mother, etc." Yes, I have asked him hundreds of times to kindly use my name. His answer, "Why is it so important to you?" Abby, I can't make him understand. This name quirk of his applies only to me. He calls everyone else by their names. Even the dog!

NAMELESS
DEAR NAMELESS: YOU may be nameless, but there are several names for a man who deliberately neglects his wife for 20 years. He probably derives a sadistic pleasure out of your reaction. Try ignoring it and see what happens.

DEAR ABBY: Am I a widow with a 16-year-old daughter. She is a good stable girl and never gave me any problems. She started going steady with a very nice young boy of 17. Thru this boy I met his divorced father. We took an instant liking to each other, and are now going together. At first the children thought it an amusing novelty, mother and daughter dating father and son. Now they are concerned because if the father and I should marry, they will become legally sister and brother and should they want to marry later on, they won't be able to.

THINKING AHEAD
DEAR THINKING: If you and the father should marry, your children will be related by marriage, not blood, and they can marry if they so choose. As for the other problem, if your daughter is "stable," you'll not have to worry about her horsing around.

DEAR ABBY: Am I a witch? I work in a large hospital and it's getting so I hate to go to work. It's not that I don't enjoy the work, Abby, but whenever a patient dies, or a coworker has an accident, I can tell almost 24 hours ahead of time. Of course, I tell no one when I get these feelings, but when I hear what has happened, I am never surprised because I knew it would happen beforehand.

FEELS BETTER
DEAR FEELS: Yes, I do.

Highlights TV Time Previews

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 23, 1972
For the Republican Party this is the big night. President Nixon and Vice President Agnew, running as a team again, will deliver their acceptance speeches and kickoff their re-election campaign. CBS, NBC and NET will start their coverage at 7:30. ABC will not pick up the proceedings until 9:30 p.m.
8:30-9 ABC, The Corner Bar. "The Strike." Labor trouble overtakes Grant's Tavern when Harry (Gabe Dell) learns that the help have been called out on strike. Strangely, the help doesn't want to go out because all the things the union is demanding are benefits they already have. While they're out, however, Harry gets assistance from his regular customers, who take over the kitchen and waiting on tables until Harry resumes his labor ones.

extra ticket, all of which puts Joe in a tough spot in making the decision.

Luncheon Fetes Susan Stein

Miss Susan Stein, bride-elect of Dr. Howard Marblestone, Houston, Texas, was honored at a luncheon Aug. 16 at the House of Steak. The luncheon was hosted by Mrs. Irving Pryor.

Susan was lovely in a blue-antique print on hot-pink dress with full skirt and fitted bodice. She was presented a corsage of pastel green orchids. Her mother, Mrs. Fred Stein, was presented a corsage of pink orchids complimenting her emerald green crepe dress and shell coat.

The honoree was presented a cookie jar to match her kitchenware and treated cookie invites. To be with Susan, in addition to her mother, were her sister-in-law Mrs. Charles Stein, Miss Harriett Goldstein from Milledgeville, Ga., Mrs. Gay Underwood of Gainesville, Mrs. Alfred Stanley and Mrs. Ben Katz of Orlando.

Susan left by plane next day to assume her duties as teacher in a kindergarten in a private school in Houston.

"Howard" written on in red icing. The cake was flanked by two brown ceramic doves filled with white German staccato and pink sweetheart rosebuds.

The table was centered with a double-heart shaped cake, iced in pink, and complete with an arrow joining the hearts, and the names "Susan" and "Howard" written on in red icing. The cake was flanked by two brown ceramic doves filled with white German staccato and pink sweetheart rosebuds.

As War Winds Down

Military Grows In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Military activity in Hawaii is moving into high gear again as the Vietnam War winds down. Army and Marine combat units are being reformed and beefed up as the 50th state gains become the base of primary reserve fighting forces in the Pacific.

Hawaii's military population has reached almost 115,000, the highest since January 1965, when the total was about 136,000 and just before the 25th Infantry Division and the 1st Marine Brigade left for Vietnam. A further increase is certain within the next year when combat units are brought to near full strength.

The Army recently added a second brigade to the 25th Division at Schofield Barracks, which will add 4,000 men to the present 8,000-man force by mid-1973. The Marine Corps plans to add some 1,000 troops to the First Brigade at the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station by the middle of next year.

The influx of troops will bring related problems, including the need for housing. The Army will need 6,000 units at Schofield Barracks by mid-1973, but will have only 2,600. The Marine Corps says it will be in "fairly good shape" in family housing at Kaneohe by next year.

Maj. Gen. Thomas W. Mellen, on the eve of his recent departure as commander of the U.S. Army, Hawaii, and the 25th Division, warned that "troops will be getting tighter and tighter as far as living accommodations are concerned."

He also noted the impact on the civilian community, saying thousands of automobiles will be added to Oahu's traffic problems. The increase in dependents, he said, will mean a need for expansion in the schools.

The buildup also has brought on problems of another nature.

"We've had meetings with aviation commanders to cut down on the noise," Mellen said. The military is spending several million dollars in the community, but he said the civilian population forgets this very quickly.

"They remember the increased traffic, increased noise, increased everything which is influencing their lives in a way they often don't like," he said.

"We have a lot more helicopters in the air than we did a few years ago," Mellen said. "We've had meetings with aviation commanders to cut down on the noise."

A LOT OF MOUTHS to feed demand more than 50 pounds of dog food a week. The 16 Irish Setter pups are all part of the same litter and belong to Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wright of McKinleyville, Calif.

Education Bill Veto Criticized

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP) — National Education Association president Catharine Barrett Tuesday night criticized President Nixon's recent veto of an appropriations bill for education, saying "the consequences of his action will be felt by every child in every school in the nation."

Mrs. Barrett said "rhetoric is cheap before an election and the price hasn't gone up. If the President has neither read or seen the bill, he is not competent to make decisions in the area of education."

Mrs. Barrett's comments came in a speech before the Orange County Classroom Teachers' Association at Winter Park High School.

"She told the audience of about 200 persons the President has a 'contempt and callous disregard of the needs of the nation's youth' and described the Republican Platform Committee's Education plank as 'bland and general.'"

"The NEA questions how any voter concerned with education could support the reelection of Richard Nixon in November," Mrs. Barrett added.

Estranged Husband Slays Wife

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP) — The estranged husband of a local telephone company employe was charged with murder Tuesday after allegedly shooting his wife three times in the back while she sat at her office desk here.

Orange County sheriff's deputies said Gene Darden, 46, was arrested at Apopka about three hours after the 2:30 p.m. shooting.

The couple apparently had been having domestic problems, deputies said, and had been separated for several weeks. Authorities said Darden allegedly walked into the Winter Park telephone office, straddled up to Grace Darden's customer relations desk and fired three bullets from a .38 automatic. She was dead at the scene. The man then fled.

OLDEST DICTIONARY HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — What may be the oldest dictionary page preserved in the United States is a 16th-century manuscript fragment that has been presented to the Dartmouth College Library.

The rare item is a vellum leaf from a Glossary written in southern France before 1500 A.D. On both sides of the sheet are five columns of manuscript in alphabetical listings under the letter R.

Railroad Pension Fund In Jeopardy, Claim

By STAN BENJAMIN Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — A Congressional commission predicts the federally-administered pension fund for railroad workers will go bankrupt by 1988 unless there are quick financial reforms.

The dispute already brewing over the question of who should carry the seeds of serious labor unrest in the railroad industry within the next year or two.

Labor spokesmen have suggested that railroad management take over the main burden of financing the pension fund, now supported by almost equal contributions from management and employees.

Warning of the fund's jeopardy is the Commission on Railroad Retirement, established two years ago to examine the railroad pension system and the federal Railroad Retirement Board which administers it.

The report has not yet been published but the key chapter of conclusions and recommendations has been completed and was obtained by the Associated Press from a commission source.

The railroad pension system is the only federally administered pension plan for workers in private industry. The unique arrangement was created by Congress in 1935 to protect railroad pensions during the Great Depression.

In addition to providing an employer-employee contribution fund, the complex legal arrangement also provides railroad workers with a substitute for regular Social Security coverage.

The commission opposed further benefit increases, currently under consideration in Congress, and said worker and employer contributions must be increased to maintain the fund's solvency at the current benefit level.

ADM. NOEL A. M. Gayler will take over command of all U.S. Armed Forces in the Pacific area Nov. 1 following the retiring ADM. John S. McCain Jr.

'Crazy' Youth In College

JOHN VAN GIESON Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — For several years the state classified Marine Danuels as retarded, even though most of the people who worked with him knew better. Now he is a college student with political ambitions.

"Some people thought I was crazy, and a lot of people thought I was faking," he recalled. "But I never was retarded."

Institutionalized at Gainesville and Marianna Sunland Training Centers and a Miami halfway house from the age of 12 to 19, Danuels says he may be the first person treated by the state for retardation to enroll in college.

An alert, politically ambitious 21-year-old student, he is enrolled as a freshman at Tallahassee Community College, where he is working the student body presidency.

The fourth in nine children in an impoverished black family from Fort St. John, Danuels was sent to the Sunland centers because there was no place else to put him.

"I got it there because I was learning to my clothes," he said. "I think the problem was that I was young and I wanted attention."

A slender, short man with penetrating brown eyes, Danuels wears a trim mustache and keeps his hair cropped short.

A sixth grader when he was assigned to the retardation centers, Danuels said his formal education at Sunland consisted mostly of being told that "two and two equals four, but I already knew that."

He said he educated himself with books provided by a brother and by watching television and has earned a high school diploma through correspondence courses.

"I'm glad I learned a lot," he said. Danuels is now employed as a $2-an-hour, part-time consultant to the Division of Rehabilitation. "We feel that Danuels is in a position to give a better insight on the needs of Sunland residents," said Division Director Jack McAlister.

AMERICA'S FAMILY DRUG STORES

The REAL FIJI---Tax-free camera purchases most interest U.S. tourists to Fiji, but not far from the lush resorts is this native marketplace. It operates all day, every day, rain or shine, and gives a clear insight into how people of the island really live.

There's Much More To Fiji Than Swimming And Cameras

By JOHN PINNERMAN
Copley News Service

SUVA, Fiji Islands — Ken Oates, an Australian who manages the 130-room Travelodge Hotel in this bustling tourist town, says the most popular activity of American visitors here is shopping.

This is too bad, because there is much more of the real island life to be seen on this island of Viti Levu than the tax-free Japanese cameras, typewriters, perfumes, jewelry and other items available in Chicago or Oakes, Ala. However, progress here would tell you that Oates is generally correct — some visitors don't go any farther than the Travelodge bar, dining room and souvenir shop.

They could, if they would, visit one of more of the other 300 Fiji islands, and see how 325,000 Fijians, Indians, Chinese, whites and other Pacific Islanders get along. They would see some dominance by the Indians, perhaps because they are quicker after the dollar (a Fiji dollar being worth $1.21 U.S.) and more numerous — nearly 50 per cent of the population.

They might also find one Indian, Nisar Ali by name, who aims to please as well as get your dollars. He is an English-speaking guide and he will show you things that you will remember during the 5.6-mile flight back to San Francisco and long afterward.

Suva, population 80,000 and growing, is hot and humid, despite a travel brochure's boast of "how dry it is." It is dry only compared to a bath under Niagara Falls. It gets 130 inches of rain, compared to the 60 inches that falls on Nandi, the "dry" international airport city on the west side of this island.

However, humidity and rain shouldn't delay any visitor in its closest view of native life — with the Nausori Municipal Market on the outskirts of Suva as the first stop. You will see hundreds of market "proprietors" squatting in the rain with their wares and thousands of customers with thousands of accompanying youngsters, banging elbows, bellies and shoulders as they weave through the various sales areas. You will wonder where so many kids come from, particularly when you read a huge sign stating, "Family Planning Progress Here. See Your Health Center." Half of the women are pregnant — perhaps they can't read.

There will be fish of many varieties laid out on the concrete, asphalt or plain everyday dirt. There will be tropical fish in the jars, crabs, baskets of mixed produce, the baskets woven by the salesmen from coconut leaves.

There is a mature of Indian and Fijian market operators and the competition is tough, with perhaps a slight indication of the danger some observers predict will be seen here because of too many aggressive Indians. But, generally, it is a day of carnival because it is Saturday and despite the rain the market operates daily but Saturday is the big day! Business is not — bargaining — is Nisar Ali makes some purchases — not bargaining — is take home to his New Zealand-born wife Judy (also pregnant) and says we should head for the country. You are glad to choose the "suburb" because the foliage is lush and the variety of growth is amazing. Orchids grow along the roadside wild and beautiful, and they are a lady-orange rum collars at a hotel bar.

Fiji's and native canoe poke their way into the shore along the road as Fijians from other islands bring their wares to sell to Suva natives. Cheaper produce than at the public market and some fruits not available in this island.

There are banyan trees and mangrove trees, fields of yams and lots of rice fields. There are native houses and Western-style stucco homes for whites here on business or with government business. Fiji is free now, but there still are British Commonwealth people here, particularly New Zealanders.

Deep in the jungle, on a gravel road, two boys about 8 years old have built a grass shack with a radio blaring music and are doing a grass skirt dance for passersby — who are expected to leave a few coins in payment for the show. Nisar Ali points out a lily pond brilliant with color pink and white — and a building he calls a schoolhouse. It is old and seemingly falling apart, he says. "That's where Judy taught," which reminds any visitor there should be a good opportunity for schoolteachers here — the kids are everywhere. Nisar Ali is a graduate of the University of the South Pacific and it provides many of the teachers.

WORRY CLINIC By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Mr. Zerk is a 35-year-old man who is a member of the Compliment Club. He is a very successful businessman and has a high social standing. He is a very successful businessman and has a high social standing. He is a very successful businessman and has a high social standing.

Case U-569: Mrs. R. A. Zeravica, of Trafford, Pa., deserves a special salute.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I launched your Compliment Club" experiment with a class of teenage girls.

"And 12 completed the project.

"These girls had been in need of methods by which to start conversations.

"And this idea of analyzing the companions for commendable traits so extroverted their attention from themselves.

"One girl reported that a certain young man had never spoken to her and seemed unfriendly.

"So she purposely took the initiative the next time she met him and cheerily raised her hand in the peace symbol, meanwhile saying 'Hi!'

"At first he thought her a real ding-a-ling but soon he began to warm up, smiling back at her.

"And finally he began to return her cordial greeting.

"Dr. Crane, I feel that this Compliment Club is destined for installing the beginning toward real personality development.

Connelly Citizen Of The Week

By MARVA Y. HAWKINS 22-5618

"Citizen of the Week" is Rev. J. Edward Connelly, pastor of Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church. He lives with his wife, Mrs. Louise Connelly, at 1202 Olive Avenue. They are the parents of five lovely children.

Shirley Randall celebrated her 10th birthday on Aug. 13 at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Hawkins. Just a few family and friends joined in to wish Shirley "happy birthday."

Winnie Renee Richardson, celebrated her seventh birthday given in her honor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Richardson, on Terry Lane. The afternoon was taken up with games and family activities, as the following helped Winnie have fun: Katrina, Cynthia, Glenn Turner, Kim Bingham, Marteen Jackson, Cathy, Tony, Rose House, Ricky, Gerald Knight, Carol Washington, Sheila Foster, Tom Lawrence, Brenda Mamer, Penny, Ricky Hooks, Stephen McClain, Larry, Sheryl Lemon, Eric Cambie, Ann Lockett, The Walker's, The Anderson's, Leroy Jenkins, W. Newkirk, Leonard Edward, Benjamin, Kelvin Miller, Detriach Bingham, Lavel, Sonia, Angie, Sharyle Jenkins, Jack Jackson, Erika, Steven Johnson, Ricky Howard and Leroy Richardson Jr.

Mrs. Ida Bell Williams, of New York City, was in the city for a few days visiting with other church of its kind. It brings great joy to him to have her sessions with the youth department on issues affecting them, giving them the opportunity to express themselves.

Rev. Connelly has contributed to the improvement of Sanford by running for city commissioner, winning in the primary and yet lose in the run off, served as a member of the Seminole County citizen committee on school housing, served as a member of the emergency school assistance program committee, member of the Seminole neighborhood unity council, Assistant secretary of the Orlando Annual Conference A.M.E. church, chairman of the Migrant Adult Advisory Board, Seminole Junior College, member of Chamber of Commerce, Good Samaritan steering committee, Seminole County Chapter of NAACP, member of Florida Council of Churches.

St. John Missionary Baptist Church celebrated Rev. and Mrs. R. T. Williams' third anniversary.

The morning service was dedicated to Rev. Williams, the sanctuary, Brotherhood and young people choir singing. Responsive reading by Rev. E. R. Hill. Welcome was given by Mrs. Bertha Valentine.

Woman's Day was observed at Snow Hill Missionary Baptist Church.

Guest speakers for the evening were Sanford Male Chorus of Sanford, Rev. G. W. Chapel as pastor, Mrs. Sara Bach was chairman.

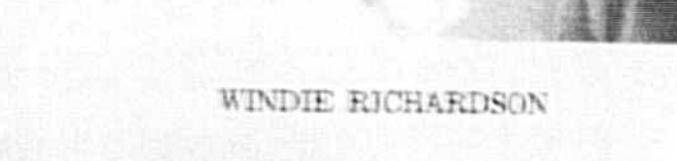

John Antonio Williams celebrated his first birthday with a party given in his honor by his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kirby. Juan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Williams. He is celebrating the occasion with Juan who has cousin, Brian Graham, Willie, Bennett and Melvin Stevens, India Brooks, Tracy Mitchell, Nichole and Frank Mitchell.

Playful, Loyal Eagle, Man Much Alike

By PHYLLIS W. HEALD Copy News Service

Would you believe 13,000 feet? That's an altitude the bald eagle has been known to reach as he soars heavenward. And there are other qualities that make this huge bird worthy of admiring the great emblem of the United States. He is a living symbol of foreverness. His ancestors date back 100 million years and, through those eons of time, have nurtured a family of 67 species who span the world from southern Africa to Alaska and across the continents of Europe, Asia and North America.

The term "bald" is a misnomer because actually this eagle's shining head and neck are covered with angelically white feathers. Trickle and smooth, they fuse into the dark brown of the bird's body-covering. This eagle (air-se) is placed in a carefully selected spot, usually atop a large coniferous tree or on a high rock promontory. Each spring, when they return from migration, they get busy and improve the nest. Eagles, incidentally, live almost as long as humans (some scientists say until 70 and there are records of birds 45 years old) and often keep the same nest all during their lifetime. These, through continuous improvements and enlarging, have been found to be more than 20 feet across and equally as deep. One such nest weighed out at 4,000 pounds.

The eagle housewife, like her human counterpart, seems to take delight in redecorating her home. Every year she brings fresh leaves, grass and other moisture-holding greenery to cool and brighten the nursery. And long ago, even before the era of wilderness, it was believed that papa eagle played an "agilestone" in the nest to inspire mama with the urge to get the brood under way. The female eagle lays three eggs and usually has just one family a year.

For the underlying contest is not whether or not the Republicans will continue to ride the Nixon well-oiled bandwagon this year but what her apparent will be in the driver's seat with RMN's benediction four years from today.

Nixon 'Expose' Seen One-Sided

Reviewed by JOHN PINKERMAN Copy News Service

Richard Nixon's worst enemy would have to say, after reading what the publicity blitz calls a "study" of the President, that author Leonard Lurie was more concerned with impute than a full factual story.

Lurie's "The Humming of Richard Nixon" is a hatchet job — probably the first of several "study" hatchet jobs that will be done on Nixon, Sen. George McGovern and others who may have major roles in the presidential election.

If some of the quoted matter the author includes is correct, there is interesting new material about the career of Nixon and the man around him. However, even this does not give the "study" the redeeming value that a more objective look might have provided. Nixon gets no credit whatsoever, for instance, in winding down an unpopular war, or for forging relations with China and Russia. He is handled, by a seemingly angry man with no apparent reason or motive, in a manner that some biographers handled former President Lyndon Johnson.

The theme of Lurie's work seems contained in one passage: "The basic tragedy of Richard Nixon's public life has been the fact that he has never allowed his knowledge of right and wrong to keep him from doing wrong." Nixon has been the butt of all manner of accusations in the past but nobody up until now has judged him to be "all wrong" or "all bad."

Editorial Comment 'Republicans Looking Towards '76'

The calendar reads August 1972, but if one listens intently for any substance in the magnificent show which is the National GOP nominating convention in Miami Beach, that date should read 1976.

For the underlying contest is not whether or not the Republicans will continue to ride the Nixon well-oiled bandwagon this year but what her apparent will be in the driver's seat with RMN's benediction four years from today.

If the extremely well planned, professionally operated extravaganza which is delighting the thousands of spectators in the hall and millions watching on TV can be taken as gospel truth, then the human events which will take place between now and the bicentennial year of the United States must follow the path which the White House, still in Nixon's hands, indicates.

Lump Sum Perhaps recognizing the venality that exists in many human beings and being more than slightly familiar with the habits of persons on an expense account the New York Legislature has removed all temptation from its membership to fudge.

Point Of View Why Don't TV Doctors Send Bills?

By DON FREEMAN Copy News Service

HOLLYWOOD — When was the last time you saw a television show in which the doctor sends a bill to a patient? When, come to think of it, was the first time? Has Dr. Marcus Welby ever sent out a bill? Did Dr. Kendal of Ben Casey? Did any?

Why is it, anyway? David Hartman, one of the stars in "The Bold Ones," the NBC medical series, had no idea why this is so, why bill-paying is avoided on TV like — in a manner of speaking — the plague. And even if the TV doctors cured the plague they probably wouldn't send out a bill.

Nobody ever seems to pay for medical services on the TV shows," Hartman mused. "We never see anything about lawyers billing their clients, either. But that's another concern. Let Owen Marshall worry about that."

National Reading Center Puzzle

By KENNETH J. RABEN Copy News Service

Donald G. Emery's departure as head of the National Reading Center puzzled many people who thought he had weathered the storm over the center's muddled finances.

The center spent more than $300,000 of its authorized budget without USOE approval, the FAO found, including nearly $177,000 to remodel its Washington office and about $113,000 for public relations. Emery says, "The expenditure question has been analyzed and resolved between OE and NRC staff so that less than one-third of the original charge, $106,000, is being referred now to the center's board of directors for consideration."

GLOBAL VIEW Food Could Mean Brezhnev Crisis

By RAY CROMLEY

If the Soviet Union does indeed buy a billion dollars worth of U.S. wheat and other farm products these next 12 months, Leonid Brezhnev could be in for some trouble at home.

Agricultural successes and failures are major emotional, political and economic issues in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev gambled with maximum expansion of the agricultural development program to save himself from crop failure. But in the end, as suggested above, agricultural difficulties were a primary cause of his ouster from power.

Brezhnev will undoubtedly survive, where Khrushchev did not. Brezhnev has successfully downgraded the strongest of his opponents and infiltrated his beneficiaries into key power spots.

One of the first congressional complaints was Emery's $50,000-a-year salary. It was cut about $10,000 as a result and the three-month consulting contract is regarded by some congressmen as an attempt to restore the cut.

Year-round residents include several species of the heron, the egret and ibis. Elsewhere the alligator is labeled an endangered species, but it thrives in the Merritt Island Refuge. More than 2,500 gator roam the shallow waters surrounding the center.

There also are whitetail deer, bobcats, raccoons, opossums and armadillos. In fact, many of the other occasionally scampers across the center's roadways.

The refuge encompasses parts of the Indian and Titiana rivers and most of Mosquito Lagoon. The latter is a tidal estuary teeming with marine life. It is vast, grassy flats serve as a rich aquatic nursery.

Estuary fishing is permitted, so local anglers seek out the big schools of sea trout and redfish or channel bass. Fishermen working the surf pull in trout, whiting, red drum and bluefish. The refuge has its beach, too.

One Man's Opinion Caveat Amator Or, Lover Beware

By DAVID HENDIN

Data recently made available by the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) indicate that "Marriage On the Rocks" has a lot more meaning today than merely the title of an old Doris Day flick.

The NCHS, a branch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, says that the national divorce-marriage ratio has reached an all-time high of 453 divorces per 1,000 marriages. In 14 states the ratio is already above 500 divorces per 1,000 marriages.

Put another way, this discouraging statistic means that in nearly a third of the United States more than half of those entering holy matrimony will eventually be making their way out again.

What young married would pause to consider that chances of staying married are only about as good as winning at the Las Vegas craps tables—less than even money. Yet this is exactly the case.

The national ratio of 453 is up from 428 last year, according to the government statistics for the first four months of 1972. The report covers 43 of the 50 states and the District of Columbia. Data from the remaining seven states—including Nevada which might raise statistics even more—were not available.

A numerical breakdown of breakups for the first four months of 1972 goes like this: 528,117 were married and 240,469 were divorced. From the same period of the previous year marriage increased by 16,864 while divorces rose by 21,344.

In a state to state picture, young lovers bid a picture of marriage that is even grimmer.

Montana had a divorce marriage ratio of 803 and has the dubious honor of leading the nation in marital splits. Oregon with 768 held second place, but California's ratio of 753 has a far greater impact on the national statistics. In the Golden State more than three divorces are granted for every four couples married.

California's liberal "no fault" divorce law has been cited as a main reason for the large number of divorces. The law recognizes "irreconcilable differences" as grounds for divorce. If this is true, then as more states liberalize divorce laws the proportion of divorces will continue to rise.

The GAO reported that a 10-year plan to train 10 million volunteer tutors by 1976 was not even submitted until five months after the center received its money.

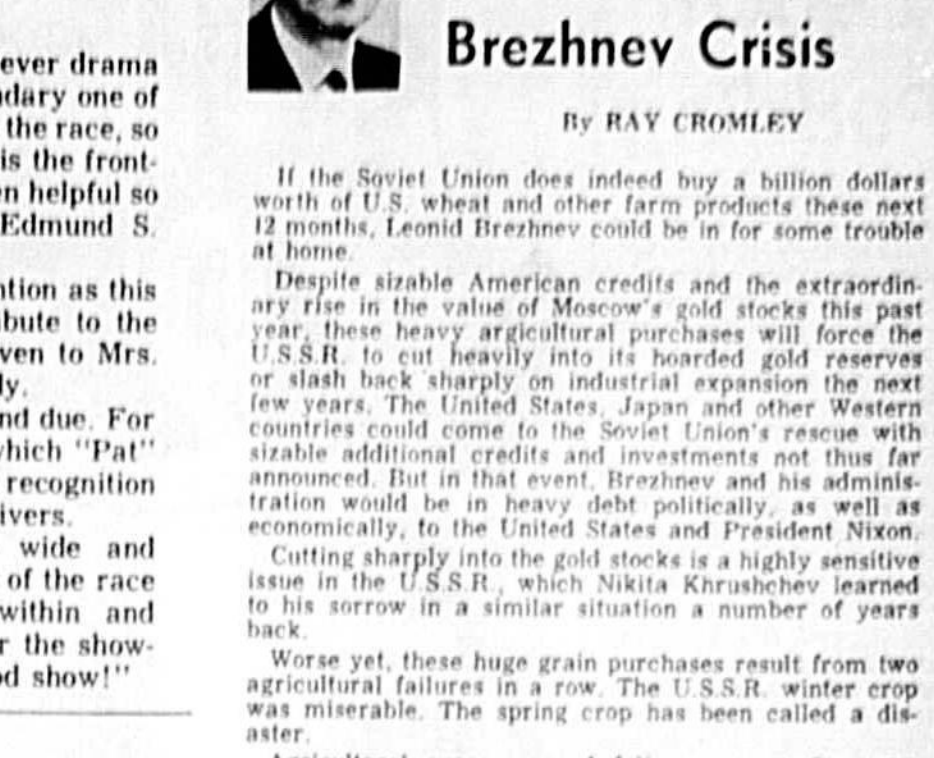

Even if the first congressional complaints was Emery's $50,000-a-year salary. It was cut about $10,000 as a result and the three-month consulting contract is regarded by some congressmen as an attempt to restore the cut.

About a month after announcing that he would leave the Washington-based center when his 18-month contract expired June 30, "to write and lecture, in part on the national literacy problem and later to assume a professional or business position," according to his press release, the former Scarsdale, N.Y., school superintendent was trying to get back on the federal payroll.

The U.S. Office of Education was in turmoil. Dr. Ruth Lurie Holloway, director of the national Right-to-Read Program, felt it to be known that she would not approve what Capitol Hill sources describe as a $125,000-a-month "make work" consulting contract for Emery. As a result, the center never crossed her desk and was approved by Peter P. Mairhead, the executive deputy commissioner of education.

The center was established to stimulate the interest of private organizations, business, industry and labor in eliminating functional illiteracy among an estimated seven million children and about 20 million people age 16 and over by 1980. It is supposed to supplement the USOE's Right-to-Read Program's efforts in the nation's schools, but has been at loggerheads with the USOE and Congress since it was formed in 1970.

Dutch Peach Pudding

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

New daisy paper cups, plates, soup and salad bowls and dessert dishes come in such attractive patterns they can be used for parties.

A recent addition to this paperware comes in the Pennsylvania Gaudy Dutch design. This pattern features red and yellow colors, teamed with brown and white, and was originally used on linens. All the Gaudy Dutch paperware is glazed and the 7-ounce dessert dishes may be used for baking at or up to 350 degrees, they go through the baking process without deterioration of color and design. Here's how to use these dessert dishes to make a Pennsylvania Dutch Peach Pudding.

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH PEACH PUDDING

1 cup unflavored flour, stir in aerate before measuring
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
3/4 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
2 pounds fresh peaches about 10 small or 5 large
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped (if desired)

On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, baking powder and salt.

In a medium mixing bowl cream butter and 1/2 cup of the sugar, add egg and vanilla beat well. Beat in the flour mixture alternately with the milk. Set this batter aside.

Peel and cut into 1/2-inch slices enough peaches to make 4 cups. Stir the remaining 1/4 cup sugar into the peaches.

Spoon sugared peaches into six 7-ounce Gaudy Dutch design glazed paper dessert dishes. Divide any juice from peaches among the dishes.

Spoon batter onto top of peaches. No need to spread batter because it spreads during baking.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until topping is browned — 40 to 45 minutes. Serve warm or cold, top if you like with whipped cream.

Makes 6 servings.

Note: Juices bubble up and may boil over if they do. Protect over by putting a cookie sheet or piece of foil on shelf below pudding. Dishes may be placed on a cookie sheet before baking rather than on oven rack, if you like.

Sweet Spiced Roast

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A Sweet Spiced Pot Roast is a definite change-of-pace meat dish for a holiday weekend. Especially important with this roast is that it calls for more economical cuts of meat such as boneless shoulder, brisket or chuck.

SWEET SPICED POT ROAST

3 to 3 1/2 pounds boneless shoulder, brisket or chuck

2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons apple pie spice
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 1/2 cups water
1/2 cup onion flakes

In a Dutch oven or heavy saucepan brown meat well on both sides, turning once. Sprinkle with salt, apple pie spice and black pepper. Add water and onion flakes. Bring to boiling, point cover, reduce heat and simmer 2 1/2 hours or until tender. Thicken gravy with flour, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 portions.

Beverage

BROCCOLI FRITTATA

Adapted from Italian cuisine

1/4 cup olive oil
1 package (10 ounces) frozen chopped broccoli, thawed
6 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

In a 10-inch skillet beat the oil, add the broccoli and cook gently, stirring several times, until tender-crisp, about 5 minutes. In a medium mixing bowl beat the eggs slightly, stir in salt and Parmesan, pour over broccoli in skillet and cook over moderately low heat. As mixture sets, with a wide spatula lift edges and tilt pan so soft portion runs down to bottom of skillet. While top is still slightly soft, loosen edges, cut in 4 wedges and turn to brown lightly on the other side. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Orange And Pear In Cake

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

The agent of Johnny Appleseed, John Chapman, is well known to most school children and adults. He earned his nickname by going from state to state, preaching apple seeds and encouraging people to plant orchards.

Another early American pioneer was just as instrumental in spreading the apple seed industry in California.

According to David J. Ellis, the present owner of the oldest known Bartlett pear orchard in the country, its growth was called forth by the orchard on Santa Island, located in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta. Ellis was an early settler who traveled west in the 1840s. It was the work of a certain nurseryman, answering the cry of "Gold!" however, that Ellis' pear orchard was first planted. Other than Ellis, he was considered the first to introduce pear trees to the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta. The seedlings were shipped across the Atlantic around the Horn and up the Pacific Coast. The Delta supplied seeds to miners and other pioneers who were using the Sacramento River to find a better life. It was the seeds of gold that were planted in the Delta. The seeds were planted in the Delta. The seeds were planted in the Delta.

Appeal To The Young

By OPAL CRANDALL
Copy News Service

The food tastes of most young people are simple and uncomplicated. They look with just as much favor on sandwiches as they do foods in the gourmet category. Their primary requirement is plenty.

A sandwich assembling party is an easy way to feed young people. The ingredients for sandwiches can be partially prepared and placed together on a table. Popular choices are ham and sloppy joes. And don't forget the dessert. For most young people have sweet taste.

The sandwich and dessert recipes featured today are substantial enough to appeal to appetites of both the young and the young at heart.

HERBES IN THE BOUND
(Makes 2 large herbives, about 12 servings)
4 cups well-drained sauerkraut
1 bottle (4 ounces) creamy Russian dressing
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 medium cucumber, pared and thinly sliced
1 cup salt and pepper
1 round loaf of Italian bread, 7 to 8 inches in diameter
Butter or margarine, softened
Lettuce
1/2 pound sliced turkey
4 rectangular slices Swiss cheese, halved
1/2 pound sliced chicken roll
1 jar (4 ounces) pimientos, drained and split
Sweet pickles
Toss and chill. Kraut, dressing and parsley. Season cucumber with salt and pepper. Cut bread horizontally into 4 slices. Lightly butter each slice. For each hero, use 2 slices bread and assemble simultaneously on 2 separate plates. Layer first with lettuce, 1/4 of the kraut mixture, 1/4 of the turkey and cheese. Add second slice of bread and layer of lettuce, remaining kraut mixture, chicken roll, cucumber and pimientos. Top with third slice. Wrap and chill herives 2 to 2 1/2 hours before serving. Cut into wedges. Serve with pickles.

MIDNITE JOES
1 lb. ground beef
1 cup chopped onion
1 1/2 lb. cut kidney beans, drained
1/2 cup Kraft Barbecue Sauce
1 tablespoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 cups shredded lettuce
12 frankfurter buns, split, toasted
Pasteurized process cheese slices, cut in half diagonally
Brown meat, drain. Add onion, cook until tender. Stir in beans, barbecue sauce, chili powder and salt. Cover, simmer 10 minutes. For each sandwich, melt cheese slices on bottom half of bun. Top with lettuce and meat mixture. Serve with top half of bun. Makes 12 sandwiches.

Meat Is Shipped Into U.S.

By GAVIN MADDIX
The American public is about to be offered more imported beef. This will take place in early fall. Actually, we are supposed to get 128 million more pounds of imported beef in 1972 than we did in 1971.

But don't get excited. Those 128 million pounds of beef, spread among our population of 206 million, means less than a pound a person more than before. In 1971, the total beef supply was 113 million pounds.

The extra beef will be imported from Australia, New Zealand, Ireland, and Northern Ireland, Canada, Mexico and a few Central American countries. The cattle in all of these countries are now of beef and mutton breeds.

As to quality, the beef will be about 98 per cent lean, meaning practically no fat. It will be grass-fed and will be like our food-grade beef for the most part. It will be sorted and trimmed and packaged in 40-pound cartons and then frozen and shipped in as an imported beef. This means it will be made into hamburgers, frankfurters, sausage, chili and soup.

Last year, we imported 1.2 million pounds of this beef in a manufacturing beef form in the same countries. That was the total limit on beef imports. But recently, in a gesture to halt steadily rising beef prices, President Nixon imposed import restrictions and threw the four open to foreign beef. As a political gesture, it was ineffective. But it will not have much effect on American menus.

A board composed of government officials, meat of course, and people with an interest in sales and department of agriculture experts, estimated that the amount of what would be available during 1972 or expected to be the United States. The guess or compromise figure arrived at was 1.240 million pounds. That comes to 28 million pounds more than we imported last year. The total amount of this extra beef is estimated to be a person, is limited to hamburger and frankfurter menus.

These facts and figures were supplied by members of the Livestock and Meat Products Division of the Foreign Agriculture Service, the Marketing and Economics Division and the Foreign Program Division, all of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The persons interviewed requested that their names be withheld.

In general, they do not predict any lowering of beef prices as a result of this increase of foreign manufacturing beef. That goes for steaks, roasts, pot roasts and round steak. In fact, prices for these are expected to go even higher. So unless you plan to live off hamburgers, chili, frankfurters and sausage don't look for any lowering of meat prices.

Americans Eat More Nutritious Salads Than Others

By SUSAN DELIGHT
Copley News Service

Americans eat more salads per capita than the people of any other country. And according to nutritionists, this is good for fruit and vegetables contain valuable amounts of vitamins and minerals, along with other nutrients.

With the addition of a protein food, a salad can become a nutritionally sound meal in a dish. Aside from these attributes, salads often are low-calorie. Cool summer meals, as well as nutritious ones, are represented by the trio of salads featured today.

DANISH SALAD
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
1/2 cup sour cream
1/4 cup milk
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
8 cups spinach torn in bite-size pieces
4 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
1 can (3 1/2 ounces) sardines, drained
1 cup sliced cucumber
1/2 cup sliced red onion
1/2 cup gherkin pickles cut in strips

In small bowl, blend soup, sour cream, milk, and horseradish. Chill. In large bowl, layer remaining ingredients. Serve with dressing. Makes 4 servings.

PICNIC-TIME SALAD BOWL
One 16-oz. can diagonal-cut green beans, drained
One 12-oz. can vacuum-pack golden whole kernel corn, drained
One 17-oz. can small early peas, drained
One 2 1/2-oz. jar sliced mushrooms, drained
1 cup diced celery
1 medium red onion, thinly sliced
1/2 cup diced pimiento
1 cup Italian style salad dressing
1 1/2 cups bean sprouts
4 slices bacon, diced and fried

In large mixing bowl, combine all ingredients except bean sprouts and bacon. Cover and refrigerate 6 to 8 hours or overnight. At serving time, stir in bean sprouts and garnish with bacon. Serves 6 to 8.

SHRIMP SPECTACULAR
One 12-oz. package rice vermicelli (rice with bell peppers and parsley) frozen in the stay-perfect pouch

One 4 1/2-oz. can shrimp, drained and rinsed

1 cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons sliced green onions
One 2 1/2-oz. jar sliced mushrooms, drained

1/2 cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon pepper
Cook rice according to package directions. In medium bowl, combine rice, shrimp, celery, onions and mushrooms; cover and refrigerate. At serving time, combine remaining ingredients in small bowl and gently stir into shrimp-rice mixture. If desired, garnish with additional shrimp. Serves 4.

Salads Have Become An Essential Part Of Our Meals

Copley News Service

Salads have become an almost essential part of our meals, whether it is a lettuce and tomato salad with a hamburger for lunch, or a fancy tossed salad for dinner.

A salad can be served before a meal, with a meal or between courses. It can be the main dish, or even be the dessert. A salad is not something to be thrown together at the last minute. The greens must be crisp and fresh and the dressing one that complements the salad. If a simple tossed salad is your forte, then add variety by using various types of greens. Besides iceberg lettuce, toss in Bibb and Boston lettuce, or tender young spinach leaves. Try escarole, endive, watercress, romaine and dandelion greens. Always handle greens gently as they bruise easily.

Trim greens and rinse under cold running water, shake off excess moisture, turn upside down to drain. Do not separate until ready to use. Store in refrigerator in crisper or plastic bag. Pat dry before using. Greens are better torn or broken.

Use your favorite polysaturated dressing, but add variety by switching the herbs and spices and changing the vinegar. Best of all, try a variety of salads and salad dressings. Offered here are some interesting salads and dressings. Some are familiar, some are new, but all are good. The dressings are made with a polysaturated oil.

Add Accent and peeled garlic clove to vinegar and stir in the oil. Wash, rinse and dry the spinach leaves, discarding the stems. Tear into bite-size pieces and put into a salad bowl. Add cauliflowerettes, salt and pepper. Remove garlic clove from dressing, pour dressing over the greens and toss. Sprinkle with artificial bicarbonate. Serves 6.

CHINESE SALAD
1 cucumber
3 Tablespoons vinegar
1/2 cup soy sauce
1 Tablespoon sugar
1 Tablespoon polysaturated oil

Slice unpeeled cucumbers paper thin. Add vinegar, soy sauce and sugar. Marinate for several hours. Then add oil and stir. Chill and serve. Makes 4 servings.

SUPER SLAW
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
2 Tablespoons sugar
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1 Tablespoon chopped pimiento
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
3 Tablespoons polysaturated oil

One-third cup vinegar
3 Cups shredded cabbage
Combine all ingredients; mix well. Cover and chill thoroughly. Makes 4 servings.

CHICKEN TOMATO SALAD
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé
2 cups tomato juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 Tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco pepper sauce
2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
pared cucumber

Sprinkle gelatin over 1 cup of the undiluted consommé in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir until gelatin dissolves, about 4 or 5 minutes. Add remaining consommé, tomato juice, salt, lemon juice and Tabasco. Chill, stirring occasionally, until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in diced chicken, celery, and cucumber. Turn into 8-cup mold or bowl; chill until firm. Unmold. Makes 6 servings.

SPICED BRANDED PLUMS
4 quarts relish
1 1/2 pounds fresh prune-plums
3/4 cups sugar
1/4 cup water
2 sticks cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon whole cloves
1/2 teaspoon whole allspice
Brandy

Wash and prick each plum with a needle 2 or 3 times. Into a 1 1/2-quart saucepan turn the sugar, water and cinnamon. Pack plums into 2 hot sterilized 1-pint wide-mouth fruit jars. Discard spice bag. Bring syrup to boiling and pour into jars, filling 3/4 full. Finish filling with brandy. Seal and let stand in a cool place for 4 to 5 weeks before using.

SUNDAY SUPPER

1 1/2 cups pureed fresh peaches
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 1/2 cups cream-style cottage cheese

1 cup chopped fresh peaches
In a saucepan sprinkle the gelatin over the water; over low heat stir constantly until gelatin dissolves in 4 or 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in pureed peaches, sugar, salt, ginger and lemon juice; cool. Stir in cottage cheese and chopped peaches. Turn into a 9-cup mold and chill several hours. Unmold and serve with salad greens. Makes 6 servings.

Better Outdoor Cookout

By Cecily Brownstone

Nothing tastes better than potatoes with charcoal-grilled steak or hamburgers. Especially if the potatoes are mashed, enriched with butter and reheated in foil cups. To prepare this dish, follow the recipe below.

For other go-along vegetables, cook corn-on-the-cob on the grill and reheat a skilletful of squash, onion and tomatoes. To make the squash dish saute onion rings in plenty of butter, then add sliced squash and cut-up tomatoes; season with salt, pepper, sugar and allspice and cook until the squash is tender.

POTATO CUPS
2 1/2 cup mashed potatoes (to 5 medium potatoes)
1/2 cup milk
4 tablespoons (1/2 stick) butter
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons minced chives
Parmesan cheese
Paprika

In a medium mixing bowl beat together the potatoes, milk, 2 tablespoons of the butter and the salt. Stir in chives. Place 8 foil baking cups in muffin-pan wells. Fill each cup with about 1/3 cup of the potato mixture. Insert about 1 teaspoon of the remaining butter in the center of each potato cup. Sprinkle with Parmesan and paprika. Potato cups may be refrigerated until you are ready to heat them.

Wrap the potato cups in foil and heat on the outdoor grill. Or leave the potato cups unwrapped and heat in a preheated 450-degree oven for about 20 minutes. Makes 8 servings.

Note: If using instant potatoes, prepare according to package directions to make 1 1/2 cups. Omit the milk, butter and salt called for in the above recipe; but stir in the chives and proceed as above.

To make a simple milk shake, blend together 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla. Use an electric blender or put ingredients into a jar, cover tightly and shake until foamy.

NO, NOT OLD FAITHFUL---This is not a scene from Yellowstone National Park. It is one of the many geyser attractions at the New Zealand resort city of Rotorua.

Glowworms And Geysers Are Offered

By JOHN PINKERMAN
Copy News Service

ROTORUA, New Zealand — Every nation has its tourist trap and this mecca for thousands of hot springs addicts might just qualify.

However, Rotorua is 151 miles south of Auckland, not too far from the fascinating Waitomo caves, and the beautiful scenery encountered on a bus trip here (there is an easy 25-mile air exit to Wellington to the south) makes a visit worthwhile. And, for those who choose to disagree concerning the attractions of Rotorua, the New Zealand government tourist commission says it is the locale for the "most spectacular thermal region in the world."

Actually, if you can put up with something less than the best in hotel service plus the overpowering scent (smell, if you wish) of sulfur mud and springs, you might enjoy your visit. There is much here that is Maori and those Polynesians who came here over 600 years ago named the area Rotorua, meaning two lakes, and there are two lakes. The Pakeha (white man) today profits by this Maori culture in just the way certain Americans profit through commercialization of authentic Indian culture at certain U.S. resorts.

Don't get the idea everything is all bad. The bus ride from Auckland, an all-day adventure including lunch and a visit to the fabulous Waitomo caves with their spectacular glowworms, is part of the Rotorua experience and it gives any short-time visitor a good look at rural life in New Zealand. There are the vast sheep ranches, the small farmhouses, the unbelievably emerald green hillsides made of a 50-inch rainfall and brilliant tropical sunshine. New Zealand truly is an unspoiled country once you are out in the "sticks."

Waitomo, 128 miles south of Auckland, provides a boat trip along an underground river within one of three cave complexes, and the experience is one of peace and quiet as well as excitement. Entry is made by boat and the full Maori meal of Waitomo (water entering a hole) is readily apparent. Visitors must remain completely quiet as the boat wanders along the Glowworm Grotto because any noise frightens the worms (in reality the larva of a mosquito fly with the technical name of arachnocampa luminosa) and diminishes or extinguishes their glow. The subterranean wonderland also includes a series of lofty chambers, long galleries, limestone formations and the massive dome of the Waitomo Cathedral with its amazing acoustic properties and Organ Loft.

The Glowworm Grotto, however, is the top attraction as the millions of glowworms sprinkle light from the roof of a great cavern in the gleam through the darkness that reflects on the dark water below.

An indirect 96-mile bus ride from Waitomo deposits the visitor in Rotorua, where he likely will find his hotel is owned by the Dominion Brewery — one advantage of this being the availability of beer at 11 cents a glass.

Castro Tells U. S.: Abandon Latin America

By WILLIAM GIANDONI
Copy News Service

MIAMI, Fla. — Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro is now demanding that the United States abandon Latin America to the mercy of the Marxists. Obviously emboldened by his Caribbean dictatorship's recent admission into the Soviet economic bloc, grateful for Soviet arms and military assistance over the last dozen years, and heartened by Peru's diplomatic flip-flop into the Castro camp, the bearded Cuban revolutionary has hiked his price for improved relations with the United States.

Now, Castro says, Cuba not only insists on the United States "withdrawing from the (U.S. Navy) base at Guantanamo, that the blockade be lifted and that the subversive actions cease."

But, he goes on to say, if the United States wants a rapprochement with Communist Cuba, there remain "the problems of Latin America" posed by "the role of reactionary gendarme" that the United States plays in the other American republics.

"Relations between Cuba and the United States cannot be improved as long as the United States arrogates unto itself the right to intervene militarily in any country of Latin America," Castro said in a two-hour 45-minute speech July 26, on the 19th anniversary of the suicidal attack on the Moncada army barracks in Santiago in 1953. His were bold words. But their full meaning does not become clear until one recalls that the only outright U.S. military intervention in Latin America in decades came in 1965 when President Lyndon Johnson ordered U.S. Marines and paratroops into the Dominican Republic to frustrate a Communist takeover, to prevent another Cuba.

In effect, Castro was also demanding abrogation of the Inter-American Treaty of Reciprocity Assistance that the United States and the other American republics signed in 1947. Better known as "the Rio treaty," the pact calls for application of one or more of a series of measures, up to and including use of armed force, in the event of aggression against any of the countries of America.

It was the Rio treaty that was invoked against Castro and Cuba in 1964 when it was proved to the satisfaction of the majority of the nations of the hemisphere that "the Republic of Venezuela has been the target of a series of actions sponsored and directed by the government of Cuba, openly intended to subvert Venezuelan institutions and to overthrow the democratic government of Venezuela through terrorism, sabotage, assault and guerrilla warfare."

Castro did not mention either the Rio treaty or the action in the Dominican Republic, though. But he did emphasize time after time that he is interested in improving relations with the United States under other than his own conditions. "We have survived all these years without relations with them," Castro said. "We are disposed to be 5, 10, 15, 20, 30 years without relations with the United States."

He admitted that the Soviet backing Cuba has received over the years "and the close relations of friendship and cooperation with the Socialist camp and especially with the Soviet Union, make it possible for us... to tell the imperialists: from you, gentlemen, we want nothing."

Cuba can wait, "even until there be socialism in the United States."

AROUND THE CLOCK

By GARY TAYLOR

Everyone, at one time or another, thinks about the life of a law enforcement officer and thinks about being one. I think I would enjoy it, if it weren't for one thing: you go up to a house and tell a woman her husband was just killed in an accident; or tell a mother that her son won't return home; or explain to a grandmother that a family of five has been wiped out in a single collision.

Some of the old-timers of the Florida State League (FSL) got together in Orlando last night. John Krider (left to right), manager of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce and former pro pitcher and president of the Florida State League, presented Hall of Famer Early Wynn with a picture of the 1937 Sanford

Largest Lake County Transaction Land To Be Preserved

By BOB ORRELL

"Three Rivers is truly one of the natural beauty spots of Florida, and we intend to keep it that way," said Robert McGrath, vice president of the realty company, in discussing development of the 5,800-acre tract acquired by his firm in the largest single real estate deal ever recorded in Lake County.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Maurice H. Stans, finance chairman for President Nixon's campaign, has denied that he had anything to do with the Democratic headquarters break-in case.

Some Teachers Buying State Food Stamps

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Some public school teachers with annual incomes of $8,000-$10,000 have been getting federal welfare aid in food purchases during July and August for one price: their exchange unemployment, state official says.

Genevan Held On Morals

A Geneva man was arrested Wednesday for indecent exposure. Sgt. George Abbey jailed J. D. Syples, 27, of P.O. Box 91, Geneva, with bond set at $50. According to arrest records, Syples was later transferred to Volusia County authorities.

Agnew Renominated Nixon Opens Campaign

By CARL P. LEIBSDORF AP Political Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Nixon launches his campaign for a second White House term in the Midwest and California today after telling jubilantly cheering Republicans he seeks "a new American majority" that will win the election and build peace "the world can enjoy for generations to come."

Nixon opened his campaign in Chicago, addressing the audience that gave Democratic nominee George McGovern a dissenting vote and two abstaining votes and got a boost for the 1.75 presidential nomination from Mrs. Nixon.
