

First Methodist To Begin Study

The First Methodist Church of Sanford will begin its study of the "Arm of Compassion," which is the study which will be held on Sunday with services beginning at 7 p. m. and continuing for at least a 30-minute period.

Classes will be conducted for each age group from the primary through senior high and a nursery will be available for the younger children.

Themes of the study will be "The Arm of Compassion," which is the study which will be held on Sunday with services beginning at 7 p. m. and continuing for at least a 30-minute period.

Judge Verlan Hill will be the first guest speaker, using as his topic, "Delinquency and Overprivileged Children."

Rev. Simeon Carlton, superintendent of the Methodist Children's Home in Enterprise, will speak on "The Church's Ministry to Children in Need of a Home."

Other scheduled speakers will be Professor James Earl of Stetson University who is scheduled to speak on "The Church Ministers to the Aging" on Oct. 21 and C. D. Callaway of Goodwill Industries who will be the guest on Nov. 4.

Mrs. L. E. Ferguson will teach the primary group and Miss Mabel Chapman will teach the juniors.

In charge of the youth department will be Mrs. Gerald Myers, secretary of youth work of WSCS, while Miss Linda Leggett, who was youth delegate to the School of Mission in Lakeland this summer, will have charge of the senior high young people.

The opening study for the junior high department will be under leadership of girls from the Children's Home.

The study will be sponsored by the Commission on Missions and by the Women's Society of Christian Service.

MRS. EATHER WILLIAMS, Spanish teacher at Seminole High School, will be the instructor of an adult class of conversational Spanish to be organized at the school Tuesday at 7 p. m. She is a graduate of the University of Puerto Rico. No set day has been made for the classes, but the class will decide on the best night for classes, which will be from 7 to 10 p. m. Information is available from E. S. Douglass, director of adult education, at the school administration building.

Stemper To Handle Park Royal

Park Royal Homes, Inc. announced today the selection of Stemper Agency, Realtors, Sanford, as exclusive sales agents for their new Central Florida Home development.

Charles Seligman, president of Park Royal Homes, Inc. stated today that in launching this new 418 potential home community that it offers more of the modern livable features in its homes, for less money than any he has observed in either Long Island or other parts of Central Florida where they have been actively building and developing for the past 18 years.

Stemper, added that our three bedrooms, 2-bath homes range in price from $10,000 to $16,500 but all have the features of homes selling for $2,000 more. Fick further stated that our experience and mass buying permits us to offer higher quality at lower total costs.

W. H. Stemper, Realtor and Insurer, added that especially after inspecting over a 100 homes built by this corporation and seeing the satisfied owners and quality features built, he was proud to be able to recommend "these quality homes to our friends as well as anyone settling in this area."

An outstanding extra is the promptness and business with which Mr. Leonard Churchman, construction superintendent, handles all unforeseen complaints and explains the practical uses of the home's many conveniences. "We feel," Stemper stated, "that you should, by all means, compare these homes and their values."

Park Royal is located minutes from Lake Mary and Longwood. Park Royal features street lights, community water and sewer in quiet areas with low down payments and easy terms.

Casselberry WSCS Plans Events At Luncheon

The Casselberry of the Methodist women's organization, both at home and abroad.

She said that the WSCS is the world's largest organization of Christian women with 1,000,000 members.

During the business session the group voted to give $50 towards purchase of new curtains for the parsonage.

Oct. 25 through Oct. 31 will be observed as a week of prayer and self denial and Mrs. E. F. Richards will be in charge of a special program to be held at the church on Oct. 30 at 10:30 a. m.

Those planning to attend are asked to bring a sack lunch and the ladies will work on sewing hits in the afternoon to be sent overseas to needy areas.

Mrs. Nelson Sennell, secretary of children's work, announced that a Halloween Party will be held at the church on Oct. 31 from 7 p. m. until 9 p. m. The hour of games and refreshments is being planned for the children of the Sunday School who participate in the annual Trick or Treat UNICEF program scheduled from 5 p. m. until 7 p. m. the same evening.

Mrs. Clara Salmer of the Crusader Circle announced that her circle will sell paper table napkins at the bazaar.

Mrs. Grace Reuter, secretary of student work, reported that she is sending copies of the Goodpost magazine to college students and service men from the church and would like the names of any new ones who might not be included on her mailing list.

Tables for the luncheon were decorated with a procession of colored ribbons with a bouquet of roses highlighting the speaker's table.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. C. E. Vance, Mrs. J. M. Zimmerman, Mrs. Paul Engelman and Mrs. A. A. Thompson.

Area Pastor Cleared

Rev. Lewis D. Haines, pastor of the Altamonte Springs First Baptist Church, Tuesday was vindicated of charges brought in a suit by C. W. Mullins when Circuit Court Judge Volle A. Williams Jr. revoked a restraining order issued several months ago favoring a group of trustees at that time who sought the resignation of the minister.

In a statement released immediately following Tuesday's hearing, Tom Southerland, chairman of the present board of trustees, said "the suit has been dismissed by agreement of the parties concerned and by order of the court and the previous restraining order has been revoked."

A statement from H. R. Hamby, chairman of the deacons, made on behalf of the deacon body, said "it has been an unfortunate situation and we feel that the unpleasantness could have been avoided if only a few had taken the effort to learn the truth as it actually occurred instead of so many basing their opinions on published reports of what supposedly took place."

"The church and its present congregation would like to assure those who might have made the many anonymous and often obscene telephone calls to the church parsonage and residence of Rev. Haines and we pray that they might find Christian fellowship in their hearts."

"We extend the hand of Christian fellowship to all persons willing to abide by the decision of the majority of members of the church and invite all friends to join hands and assist us in carrying forward its work."

Marketing School Slated Here For Monday Night

The Head of the Department of Agricultural Economics of the University of Florida, Dr. H. G. Hamilton, will lead the lecture and discussion at the Seminole County Marketing School next Monday night according to Cecil Tucker, County Agricultural Agent.

This program, third in a series of seven, being held each Monday night at the Agricultural Center, will be on "Chain Store Buying and How Chain Stores and Growers can Co-operate."

"Growers need to fully understand and appreciate modern agricultural marketing. To do so they must have a proper concept of the important facts concerning the producer's position and those of the marketing firm and consumer in present day marketing. Careful consideration should be given by growers as to what the producer can do to meet the stringent requirements imposed by this modern day marketing system. Dr. Hamilton will cover many of these and other important fundamentals of good marketing which growers should know and use," Tucker said.

The marketing school lectures are held in the Conference Room of the Agricultural Center starting promptly at 7:30 p. m. each Monday night.

New Storm Brews

MIAMI (UPI) — A slow-moving squall area near the Bahamas which threatened to become the year's fifth tropical storm turned more toward the north today.

Chief forecaster Gordon Dunn said no immediate change in intensity was expected but it was "entirely possible" the tropical depression would eventually become a tropical storm.

At 11 a. m. the squall area blanketed a large area from south of Bermuda to the Bahamas and eastern Cuba and Hispaniola. The center was about 490 miles east-southeast of Miami and 125 miles east-northeast of San Salvador.

Moderate squalls extended outward some 800 to 850 miles north of the center and brought rough seas at several islands in the east and central Bahamas. Small craft in the out islands of the Bahamas and in the storm area were advised to exercise caution.

Dunn said the depression was expected to move very slowly during the next 24 hours, with a course between north and northeast during the next 12 hours. It was moving about five M.P.H. at the last report.

Dunn said there was too much cool air to enable the squalls to intensify immediately. But he added, "It's going to stall around enough that there's a pretty good chance it will develop into a tropical storm."

Deputy Clerk Here Honored

Deputy County Clerk Ashby G. Jones, was elected Sergeant-at-Arms of the County Finance Officers' Association Friday at the organization's fall conference held at the Cherry Plaza Hotel, Orlando, according to an announcement by Arthur Beckwith Jr., Clerk of the Circuit Court.

Jones, who has charge of the accounts for the County Commission, has worked in the county office for the past year and a half, and prior to his appointment was with the Wall Plumbing Co. here.

A 25 year resident of Sanford, Jones and his wife and family live at 2410 Elm Ave.

NEW YORK (UPI)—Attorney James Donovan said today that the release of the Bay of Pigs invasion prisoners by Cuban Premier Fidel Castro would be a "first step toward something that would prevent a general holocaust."

The Brooklyn attorney, back in New York to do some campaigning in behalf of his candidacy for the U. S. Senate on the Democratic ticket, made his remarks in a television interview (Newsweek-CBS).

Donovan, who still is waiting to hear from Castro on the latter's ransom demands said he believed relations between Cuba and the United States would improve markedly once the 1,113 prisoners are freed. He blamed the present im-passé between the two countries partly on "many mistakes" by the United States during previous administrations but did not elaborate. "The United States simply has not behaved very intelligently," Donovan said.

Biddy Burdick, Former Official Here, Dies

Earl L. (Biddy) Burdick, Deputy Clerk of Seminole County for 35 years, died Sunday at Orange Memorial Hospital, following a brief illness.

Burdick was born in Watertown, Wis., but moved to Daytona Beach with his family at an early age. He graduated from the Atlanta School of Pharmacy and later attended Stetson University where he was a member of the University baseball team.

He also played one season with the Florida State League and was an avid sports fan.

Her served in World War I and after his long service with Seminole County, retired in Oct. 1959, due to ill health.

He attended Holy Cross Episcopal Church and was a member of American Legion Post 33, BPOE Lodge 1241 and the Stetson "S" Club.

Survivors include his wife, Junnie; two daughters, Mrs. Vincent Daley, Maasapequa Park, N. Y. and Mrs. Victor McClelland, DeLand; four granddaughters, three grandsons and several cousins. Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Wednesday at Holy Cross Episcopal Church with Fr. John Griffith, officiating. Burial will be in Lake View Cemetery with Brison Funeral Home in charge.

Barge Canal Fight Won

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Florida's congressional delegation ended a weekend fight against an adjournment-anxious House Saturday by obtaining $205,000 for completing planning for the proposed cross-Florida barge canal.

In two quick votes Saturday, the House members overrode its appropriations committee and agreed to provide planning funds for Florida's pet project.

In Tallahassee, Gov. Farris Bryant praised the delegation and said the new canal "will be an important factor in the economy of our state and nation before the end of the decade."

willow to help anyone needing assistance."

Mrs. Walker said it had been her duty, in the tax assessor's office and later, as tax assessor, to work closely with Burdick, and she declared, "I always found him to be most cooperative, and most willing to help. He was very friendly, and over the 28 years I worked with him he never failed to give me the benefit of his experience and guidance. I will miss him as a friend, and so will everyone that worked with him."

Tax Collector John Gallo-way, who has known the deceased for 17 years, declared, "Earl Burdick was a true and loyal friend to myself and to the entire staff of the Tax Collector's office. He will be missed by all those that were fortunate enough to know him. Our sincere sympathy is extended to his family in this hour of sorrow."

Describing Burdick as a jovial and friendly man, Gallo-way commented on Burdick's consideration for everybody, and his willingness to take time from his official duties to assist anyone who might be in need of his help, either as a friend or as a clerk of the Circuit Court. "We all feel we have lost a good friend," he said Gallo-way.

Arthur Beckwith Jr., Clerk of the Circuit Court, said Burdick came to the office in 1925 and retired in November, 1959, after almost 35 years of service. "He was a fine man to work with, and had a fine sense of humor. His presence was a major factor in the very excellent operation this office has enjoyed during the 35 years he was here. His death was a shock to all who worked closely with him."

Lake Alfred Boy Kills Girl, Self

LAKE ALFRED (UPI) — Pierce Schuler, 20, sat on the front steps of his rooming house all day Sunday, brooding about the loss of his girl, Peggy Ann Stricklen, 15. He crossed the street early today, shot her to death in her home then killed himself with the same gun.

Peace Justice Walter Bell ruled the double killing a murder and suicide. Polk County Sheriff's investigators said the couple had been dating for about two years. Last December, they ran away to Georgia, but the girl's parents brought them back before they could marry.

Adams Warns Of Legal Action

BRADENTON (UPI)—Secretary of State Tom Adams raised the threat of legal action against the city of Venice today to remove stumbling blocks to completion of the Gulf Coast Intracoastal Waterway from Tarpon Springs to Fort Myers.

The Venice City Commission, by a slim one-man majority vote, has refused to comply with a 1954 agreement to convey right-of-way for the seven-mile-long channel skirting the eastern edge of Venice. It has refused to approve the route set by the U. S. Engineers and is opposing the project, Adams said.

Stunned Officials Shocked, Tearful Remembering Biddy

Shock and emotion was the dominant feeling in the County Court House today over the death Sunday of Earl (Biddy) Burdick, for 35 years deputy clerk in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court.

With tears welling in her eyes, Mary Earle Walker, County Tax Assessor, today said, "We will miss Earl Burdick as a friend who knew everybody and was always loway commented on Burdick's consideration for everybody, and his willingness to take time from his official duties to assist anyone who might be in need of his help, either as a friend or as a clerk of the Circuit Court. "We all feel we have lost a good friend," he said Gallo-way.

Reds To Test Carrier Rockets

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union will test a new series of "multi-stage carrier rockets" in two regions of the central Pacific beginning Tuesday and extending through Nov. 30, the official Tass news agency said today.

Tass said the rockets will be types designed for "cosmic objectives."

The test series would be the second the Soviets have carried out in the Pacific with long-range rockets.

In a test series last year, the Russians fired a number of long-range rockets from Russia into a target area in the Pacific southwest of Hawaii.

Byrd Hits Relief Cheats

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-W. Va.) said Sunday that a nationwide investigation would find ineligible persons receiving relief "in some degree" throughout the nation.

Byrd said in a radio interview that he thought this particularly was true in large cities. His subcommittee has investigated welfare rolls in the District of Columbia.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick announced that the sixth game of the World Series will be played today.

Pugh Enters Innocent Plea

Harvey Pugh, Lake Mary, a school bus driver accused of violating the right of way statute in connection with the recent accident involving Highway Patrolman Jim Chambliss, has entered a plea of not guilty and requested a jury trial, according to County Judge Vernon Mize.

The judge said the case will come to trial at the trial court session in January. Discussing the plea, Judge Mize commented that Pugh did not feel he had been involved in an accident, and that he had told the judge he would ask for a jury trial even if the fine was only a dollar, "as a matter of principle."

Pugh is alleged to have violated the law when Chambliss, in hot pursuit of a speeding car, had to take evasive action to avoid hitting the school bus as it waited to enter the southbound lane of Hwy. 17-92 at Collins Ave., Sunland.

Driver Charged Dodging Dogs

A Sanford resident Harry D. Russell, 2824 Park Ave., was charged with failure to have vehicle under control after he rammed into two parked cars on Park Ave. Saturday night.

Police said that Russell apparently tried to dodge two dogs and hit the cars. Damage to the three cars was estimated close to $2,000, police added.

Ever wonder what happened to that franchise directive that's been hanging fire for ever a year? Well, Harold Johnson (County attorney) looking it over and should report back to the County Commission at the next go round.

A crane out by Alix of Sanford tore down a power line feeding into one of the water supply wells.

One of my First Street friends tells me there is a new promotion gimmick going 'round. Merchant is asked to buy an ad "in a folder to help the Chamber of Commerce." Our friend knows the C of C has folders—and fine ones, too—so doesn't go for this pitch. But there are others who are falling for it—and saying that if it is an idea to help the C of C they intend to cut their C of C dues by the amount of the "help" they give to the extent of the cost of the ad. Don't do it. Don't buy the ad, if that's the way you feel, but don't repeat, DON'T—cut your subscription to the C of C, that needs the money more and more and that is not putting on this "ad gimmick" and that is getting nothing from it.

Pressbox prattle: There are some fine football players on the JV team, getting some great experience. Here's hoping that the coaches give them a chance to make their letters on the varsity after their season fades. Barry Barke has been outstanding in many positions he has played. Mike Glad and Jim Touhy have been in opponents' backfields on defense and have done some work on offense that brings praise from fans and coaches alike. Earl Black is a small but hard and gifted runner. And so is Danny Tillis. Ed Kosky can skate, needs seasoning, perhaps, on defense.

Nope, the Semi-Centennial Day celebration hasn't been abandoned. Waiting to see if a much desired headline attraction would be available. Meeting is set for Mon., Oct. 22, I'm told.

Cheer, in spite of the signs and everything the city is doing you should see the cars barreling through the Third Street stop! Habit. But there has been ample notice that it was happening. PLEASE, folks—stop at Third Street. Before a car on that thoroughfare meets you half way and MAKES you stop!

Refugees Tell Exploits

MIAMI (UPI)—Six Cuban exiles today admitted their story of a daring nighttime raid in which they attacked and sank a Cuban government patrol boat and picked up two Castro soldiers wounded in the battle.

The two wounded men were undergoing treatment in Miami's Jackson Memorial Hospital and one of them asked for political asylum. The other was too badly injured to talk.

Premier Fidel Castro's regime in Havana had believed both were dead.

The raid took place early Saturday morning. The six exiles, with the two wounded men, managed to run their damaged PT boat to Cape Sal, a tiny British islet 65 miles from Cuba's north coast, where the U. S. Coast Guard picked them up Sunday.

The wounded men, identified as Militia Sgt. Filiberto Suarez Lima, 46, and Cpl. Miguel Cao Mandino, were rushed to the hospital here by helicopter.

Miami area Immigration Director Edward P. Ahrens said Suarez Lima had asked permission to remain in the United States.

The six raiders arrived aboard a Coast Guard boat at Key West where they were met by immigration, customs and FBI agents and taken to the Opa-Locka exile processing station for intensive questioning.

The leader of the attack, a crewcut, cigar-chewing exile, said the group had left a base outside U. S. territory aiming to slip into Cardenas Bay on Cuba's northern coast to blow up a large distillery.

Instead they encountered the patrol boat about a mile off Varadero Beach in Matanzas Province and opened fire. The patrol boat fired back.

Both the wounded Cubans were hit in the upper legs by 30 mm cannon fire. Two other Cubans swam to shore as their boat sank.

A few hours after the battle the Cuban Armed Forces Ministry issued a communique denouncing the attack as "cowardly" and saying it was part of a plot of "aggression" by "North American Imperialism."

The Castro regime said the raiders had opened fire on a "pleasure craft manned by four Cuban citizens" but Suarez Lima told officials it was an armed patrol boat.

O. E. Mansfield Dies In Hospital

Mr. Otis Elwood Mansfield, 68, died Sunday in Seminole Memorial Hospital following a short illness.

A retired cabinet maker, he came here in 1960 from Norfolk, Va., and made his home in Sanford at 2518 Yale Ave. He attended All Souls Catholic Church and was a member of Carpenter's Local 231 of Norfolk.

Survivors are a son, Ray T. Mansfield of Norfolk; two daughters, Mrs. Mildred Montgomery of Norfolk and Mrs. Jane Brenner of Washington, D. C., and two brothers, A. P. Mansfield and Bonnie Mansfield, also of Norfolk.

The body will be shipped to Norfolk for services and burial.

Grambow Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements.

But they still don't know the answer to the biggest campaign question: Will the President's immense popularity, as reflected in tremendous crowd reactions in such Democratic strongholds as Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Baltimore and New York City, rub off on the congressional and statewide candidates riding his coat-tails?

"The President's presence in their areas has been of benefit to them, there's no question about that," one associate said. "The people turned out to see the President, but there are still three weeks to go—and so we still have to see if they'll go to the polls on Nov. 6. If they vote, we're sure they'll vote Democratic."

Kennedy summed it up Sunday in a videotaped interview when he said his mission on arduous weekend campaign tours up to the Nov. 6 election is to "arouse some interest in this campaign and encourage the turnout."

"I don't enjoy it very much," Kennedy said. But if this really was his sentiment, it was not apparent when he rode in an open car in an 18-mile motorcade from the Niagara Falls Airport to Buffalo, N.Y. Sunday to wind up a week-end of campaigning in that city; Pittsburgh, and other points in western Pennsylvania; Louisville, Ky.; Indianapolis; Newark, N. J.; and New York City.

It was a busy, vigorous three-day weekend which Kennedy concluded by flying to New York City from Buffalo to confer with Adlai E. Stevenson, U. S. Ambassador to the United Nations, on Cuba, the Congo and other matters. Then he flew back to Washington for a post-midnight arrival.

Next weekend there will be more — much more — of the same.

Leo Watson Jr. Receives NMSC Commendation

Leo A. Watson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Watson Sr., of Loch Arbor, a senior at Seminole High School, has been honored for his fine performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test given last spring. Principal A. J. Brackman has announced.

He will receive a formal Letter of Commendation signed by his principal and the president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Watson is one of 20,700 students throughout the country who are being commended. Though he did not reach the status of semifinalist in the current Merit Program, the president of the NMSC, John Linnaker said, "We wish to call attention in this way to his achievement and academic promise."

The semifinalists and commended students together constitute about two percent of all high school seniors.

Some 11,000 semifinalists will take a second examination in December.

Meredith Set To Begin Third Week Of School

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—James H. Meredith, hopeful that open hostility to his presence might be on the wane, began his third week of classes at the University of Mississippi today.

The 29-year-old Negro, first of his race to desegregate schools in hard core segregationist Mississippi, returned to the tree-lined Ole Miss campus without incident Sunday after apparently spending the weekend in Memphis, 80 miles northwest of here.

Unlike an unruly mob that gathered three weeks ago, only armed sentries and army field tents marred a scene of campus tranquility on the campus.

As the soldiers stood guard, normal campus life—students strolling with coats, lounging underneath shade trees and a touch football game—was in progress.

At Baxter Hall, the dormitory where Meredith is quarantined, soldiers with bayonet-tipped rifles stood at the entrances. A few students stopped occasionally to chat with the sentries but there was little fraternization between students and the troops stationed here to prevent a recurrence of violence such as that which left two dead and scores injured Sept. 30.

Since then sporadic demonstrations have occurred but the jeers and taunts have subsided during the past week. The university, in an effort to prevent further demonstrations, has warned that students who engaged in further heckling of Meredith face drastic disciplinary action.

Gov. Ross Barnett said in Jackson during the weekend that he has appointed a legal committee to protect the rights of Ole Miss students. Barnett said reports indicate the students' "constitutional rights to freedom of speech and freedom of assembly are... being threatened."

Ecumenical Council Sets Key Elections

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—National grouping of Roman Catholic prelates consigned among themselves today on key committees of the Ecumenical Council.

The lists are expected to be turned over to the council secretariat by tonight for voting by the more than 2,500 cardinals, bishops and patriarchs Tuesday.

The voting was to have taken place Saturday, but a group led by Achille Cardinal Lienart of France won a three-day postponement to give the delegates more time to consider and discuss nominations.

Cardinal Lienart, archbishop of Lille and longtime supporter of the controversial "worker-priests" program, was reported to have felt that the original voting procedure would have weighed the committees too heavily with Italian members of the Roman Curia.

He and his supporters were seeking a wider geographical representation that would include some of the church's more "liberal" or "progressive" elements.

Members of the curia, the central administrative body of the church, generally are regarded as "conservative."

These terms do not have any political meaning but reflect differences among Roman Catholic clergymen on how far the church should go in modernizing traditional forms of administration and presentation.

The "worker-priests" of France doffed clerical garb and took jobs to bring religion to the assembly line, so to speak. The Vatican subsequently frowned on the experiment and it was ended.

The elections are for 10 commissions and 4 secretariats. The prelates are to elect 16 of their number to each commission and Pope John XXIII will appoint another 8 to each.

SARDONIC HUMOR glinting in the eyes of pianist-comedian Stan Freeman promises a delightful show when he appears here under the auspices of the Sanford Entertainment Association.

His prodigious talent on the piano, coupled with a satirical wit, drew the comment from Walter Winchell, "Orchids to this dandy marriage of music, chatter and chuckles." Stan Freeman will be the second presentation of the three part concert series for this season. Membership ticket deadline has been extended to today. Persons not yet contacted are urged to call Mrs. Ralph A. Smith at 2021 Park Ave.

Kennedy, Stevenson Meet On Cuba Threat

NEW YORK (UPI)—President Kennedy abruptly shifted his attention from politics to international problems Sunday night when he flew here for an unexpected meeting with Adlai Stevenson, his ambassador to the United Nations.

The President's 20-minute talk with Stevenson, which had not been scheduled in advance, followed a busy weekend of campaigning during which Kennedy visited five states in his drive to help elect more Democrats to Congress.

Stevenson told newsmen he was able to reassure Kennedy that other Western Hemisphere nations were aware of Communist Cuba's threat to their security.

The UN ambassador said, however, that the spur-of-the-moment discussion dealt primarily with the situation in the Congo.

"I was happy to report and he was happy to hear there are some reassuring signs of improvement in the situation," said Stevenson.

When asked if his report on Cuba was as reassuring as the one about the Congo, Stevenson said:

"On the whole, yes. I think we have a high degree of solidarity in the Western Hemisphere."

Regarding conditions in the divided Congo, Stevenson said "developments in the last few days have all been positive and helpful and give us some hope that we may find a solution for the problem."

Credit Women Take Test

Members of the Sanford Credit Women's Breakfast Club were given a written test concerning their work at their recent meeting held at the Florida State Bank.

After members took the test, Mrs. Florence Hook read the correct answers and members corrected each others papers. Each member was assigned a question from the test to be discussed at the next meeting.

Mrs. Dorothy Raines of the Florida State Bank Loan and Discount Dept. was hostess for the meeting, which was attended by 20 members.

The next breakfast meeting will be held Oct. 24 at Holler Motors. A door prize was won by Mrs. Polly Jones.

Sanford People Hold Key Jobs At Florida Care

ART HARRIS

MRS. MARY DETYENS

Florida Care of Orlando, with the avowed intention of being "the finest nursing and convalescent care home in the world" will open its doors for patients on Nov. 1 with six well-known Sanfordites playing major roles in the building and operation of the beautiful retirement center.

Heading the list is a former Sanford Man, J. Bralley Od-ham, president of Florida Care, who with others, laid the foundation to make the long-held dream come true.

Translating the dream into brick and steel, and making it take concrete form is the president of Kingswood Builders, Art Harris, whose construction crews have built this fabulous home for the aged. Bill Bentley, also a Sanford man, serves as assistant administrator of Florida Care of Orlando and is in charge of resident service and business transactions for the home.

Mrs. Mary Detyens of Sanford, former director of nurses at Seminole Memorial Hospital, now serves as Director of Nurses at Florida Care, which provides 24 hours a day nursing care, as well as full time physical therapy.

Don Gravenmier, former pastor of the Pinecrest Baptist Church, is in charge of the social, recreational and religious activities at Florida Care which boasts its own branch of the Albertson Public Library, its own chapel, equipped for every kind of religious service, plus every imaginable facility for hobbies, games, social and recreational activity, both indoors and outdoors on beautifully landscaped, tree-shaded grounds.

Sixth member of the Sanford aggregation is Ross Hannum, former SHS student and football player, a graduate of the University of Florida, who serves as expediter for material, supplies and equipment for Florida Care.

Chances Dim For New U. S. Space Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Payload troubles today gave the United States only a "50-50 chance" of launching its newest shot at the moon on schedule Tuesday, informed sources reported.

The difficulties were centered in the Ranger-5 spacecraft, a 785-pound probe assigned to the task of getting the first close-up pictures of the moon and of landing a small, working payload on the lunar surface.

The gold and chrome-plated probe was back in a hangar this past weekend, undergoing repairs. It was reported that, if the problems were solved, the probe would be launched Tuesday.

The original schedule gave scientists a launching "window" of about 90 minutes Tuesday morning to launch Ranger-5. This is an "ideal period" when the spacecraft's path toward the moon would be the easiest.

In all, there is only a five or six-day period this month, starting Tuesday, for these "windows." If the launching is not attempted by Sunday, scientists probably will have to delay it until sometime in November.

Court Next For Rioters

MADISON, Wis. (UPI) — Forty-seven persons, among thousands who staged two riots at the University of Wisconsin during the weekend, faced court appearances today.

Most were students at Wisconsin or the University of Notre Dame, football opponents here Saturday. They were charged with unlawful assembly, disorderly conduct or being drunk.

The trouble started early Saturday after beer halls frequented by students closed and a crowd estimated at around 3,000 formed on the campus.

It became a riot when some girls in a dormitory waved undergarments out windows at the men in the street.

At the sight of the unmentionables, the men started chanting, "We want panties."

Before police and firemen had broken up the riot, seven persons were injured slightly, a car was pushed into Lake Mendota, some dormitory windows were shattered, and 13 persons were arrested.

At the time, patrolman said such a demonstration "usually breaks out before a football game. It generally quiets down after the game."

Well, the game was fought and the Badgers beat the Irish for the first time in 34 years, 17-8.

The victory apparently brought them back on the streets again following the game.

Police arrested 34 in the second melee, in which beer cans and other objects were thrown, and windows broken. No one was injured.

St. Johns Wins RELCOA Bid

RELCOA today announced the membership of St. Johns Realty Company as the Sanford representative of its nationwide home finding organization.

RELCOA is the Real Estate Relocation Corporation of America, a company which was formed to answer the present day needs of industry in the transfer of its personnel. In 1962, commercial and industrial organizations in the United States will move approximately two and one-half million families from one city to another. Working under agreements with such corporations, RELCOA assists not only in the selection of a home for the transferee at the City of destination, but also in the sale of his present home in the City of origin.

As the RELCOA representative in Sanford, the St. Johns Realty Company will handle transfers, both to and from the city, to expedite the relocation of personnel employed by companies under contract with RELCOA.

In addition to the United States, RELCOA also has Member Realtors in Canada and Mexico, thus providing its home finding and home selling service on an international level.

Briefs In Barnett Case To Be Filed

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Final briefs will be filed today against Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett and Lt. Gov. Paul Johnson, with lawyers for Negro James Meredith seeking the maximum penalty against the two officials.

The maximum penalty which could be imposed on Barnett would be imprisonment and a fine of $10,000 a day for the time he allegedly failed to comply with court orders to allow Meredith to enter the University of Mississippi.

Johnson faces a possible fine of $3,000 a day and imprisonment.

Keeping Paces With Times

Most of us have seen replicas of early newspapers. What news there was in these four or six or eight-page sheets was badly printed in small type and was days or weeks late.

Yet to their readers, the news, however old, however lost among advertisements and notices, was still news. It was their chief point of contact with the world outside their neighborhoods.

Then slowly, in the 19th century, technology began to make its impact felt in the form of the telegraph, high-speed rotary presses and later, typesetting machines and still later photographic reproductions.

But reporting remained leisurely, rambling, with more attention devoted to literary phrasology than simple, accurate facts. The imperative: Who-What-Where-When-Why? of journalism had not yet been born. Newspapers themselves were generally highly partisan, and slanting of the news was the rule rather than the exception.

Under the lead of publishing giants like Falgout, Scripps, Hearst and Bennett, the modern newspaper essentially took shape in the early 20th century. Familiar departments we know today—women's features, comics, national columnists and commentators, etc.—came into being.

Newspapers then were in what might be called a "golden age" as the sole medium for reporting the news. And news was breaking faster than ever in a world that was beginning to shrink—an assassination in a strange Serbian town, armies on the march, sinking of the Lusitania. America forced out of her century's isolationism.

Today, this is no longer so. Other means of communication, available at the flick of one's fingers, have supplanted the newspaper "extra" that was rushed onto the streets as fast as the story could be set and printed.

The syllable "news" is still part of the word "newspaper," however. But it is news with a difference. It is what we turn to after hearing the first flash of a disaster in Peru, an aggressive move in Southeast Asia, a baseball shutout.

The news in a newspaper today is not merely detail. It is news plus background. It is news plus interpretation. In this age when there is no aspect of our lives which science is not changing, the newspaper is everyman's textbook.

This week, during National Newspaper Week, those who make newspapers possible—editors, reporters, printers, to name only a few—are pausing for a moment to reflect on their profession's past, assess its present and plan its future.

In the long run, of course, no one can predict what the newspaper of tomorrow—the far tomorrow—will be like. An old science-fiction dream is of newspapers printed and "delivered" right in one's home out of some kind of electronic box. Who can say it will never happen?

One thing, however, is certain: The main function of a newspaper will never change. That is, to serve its readers.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Pity Poor Taxpayers!

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Hon. Timothy Tugbutor stormed into the office today in a fearsome rage.

Clearing the news desk of spikes and pasta pots with one sweep of his heavy cane, Tim gave voice:

"I ain't gonna stand for it. The taxpayers ain't gonna stand for it. Of all the damned foolishment I ever heard tell of, those addle-headed congressmen have voted to build a fish house right here in the District of Columbia—and a $10 million fish house at that."

"You talking about the aquarium, Tim? Grant Dillman inquired from the slot position. "The aquarium that President Kennedy okayed a couple of days ago when he signed the bill?"

"Course I mean that aquarium," Tugbutor shouted. "And a'course that you'd ler in the White House signed the authorization bill. What's $10 million to that young fellow, especially when he's $10 million of other people's money?"

"You'd think a young fellow whose old man could save enough to make all his kids rich before they could vote would have some respect for money, wouldn't you now?"

Well, that young fellow ain't got it and Congress ain't got it, either. And the taxpayers ain't gonna have nothing if that Congress don't quit appropriating and appropriating and that young fellow don't quit signing and signing and the tax collectors don't quit collecting and collecting.

"Fish houses!" the old man spat the words.

"What's got into them Democrats, anyway?" he continued.

"The Republicans will make a big issue of this, let me tell you, or, anyway, they oughta make a big issue of it although they probably won't, Republicans being very little smarter than Democrats, if say—and ain't that a terrible thing to say about both of 'em?"

By this time, Tugbutor was beating time to his own words, banging his cane indiscriminately on the desk and the frame of Bill Zimmerman's typewriter.

"The Republicans have been holding that the Democrats are soft on communism and it ain't got them anywhere except to make Harry Truman mad," Tugbutor shouted.

"That ain't no issue—leastwise it don't win no elections, and what's the matter is the Republicans have got the Democrats soft on the wrong thing and in the wrong place. The place where the Democrats are soft is in the head, on money. And what they are soft on right at this moment is fish, that's what. Soft on fish.

You could make a big campaign issue on that. The Republicans in Missouri could holler!

"Yah, yah, yah. Harry Truman's soft on fish, soft on fish, soft on fish," and they oughta do some yah yahs at Jack Kennedy, too. That young fellow has been a great disappointment to me. He oughta have better sense, raised good the way he was. He sure oughta have better sense, especially about money."

Spanish Students Study Bolivia

Four students of Mrs. Esther Williams' Spanish III class presented an informative and enlightening report on Bolivia for the rest of their classmates, recently.

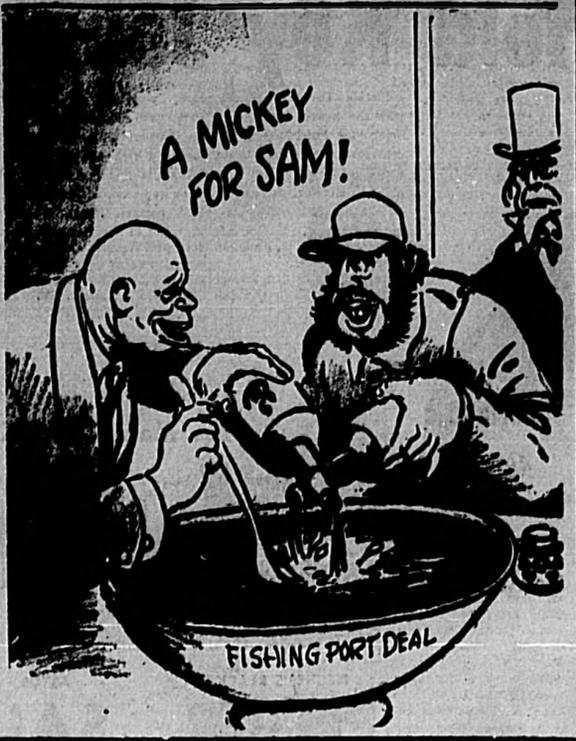

Robert Richards, Dick Bruce, John Westgate and Larry Reedy took part in demonstrating the Bolivian way of life, their government, history of the country, culture, dress, customs, geography and economy.

Students of the sixth period were the audience and the group also placed on display native handmade artifacts, arranged in an exceptional display of colors and patterns.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Lola is like millions of us fat Americans who can't resist food. And part of the reason is our slavery to psychological factors, like those in the starving hen described by Prof. Bayer below. Be sure to scrubbook this case or mail it to a plump friend.

CASE N-455: Lola G., aged 20, is a pretty coed but far too heavy.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she began, "how can I ever lose this excess weight?"

"I have tried several different diets, but I never lose more than a few pounds till something comes along to ruin everything."

"I'd like to lose 25 pounds the next few months, for my boy friend is due back from the Navy and I am ashamed to let him see me looking so fat."

"What can I do to lose weight fast?"

Excess poundage is due to several reasons but the most common is simply the fact we eat more calories than we burn up in work or exercise.

And most of the highly publicized diets will help you streamline your figure if you will follow them to the letter. But social factors demolish our resolve and often ruin our dieting schedule.

For example, a famous German scientist named Bayer used a group of hens as the subject for a very interesting experiment in eating.

He would starve the hens for a period of 24 hours to make sure they had a hearty appetite.

Then, if he placed one hungry hen in front of a 100-gram pile of wheat, she would peck away till she had consumed an average of 50 grams.

After that, she stopped, apparently quite satisfied.

But if he placed a similar hungry hen in front of a much larger pile of grain, she wouldn't stop at the 50-gram mark, but would actually peck away till she had eaten 33 to 50 additional grams of wheat!

Applied to us human dieters, that would suggest we better not sit down in front of a table groaning with viands.

Instead, we should have our food placed on our plate in the kitchen and then have it served in the dining room where no other food is visible to entice us or increase our hunger.

Then Prof. Bayer tried another experiment. He would place that hungry hen in front of a pile of grain and let her eat till she stopped of her own accord.

At that point, he would remove all the grain and even sweep the floor clean, after which he would restore the pile. She would immediately start pecking again.

When she stopped eating for the second time, he would again remove all the wheat but then place it right back in front of her a moment later.

The hen would instantly start eating once more.

And in this fashion of serving the wheat "in courses," he could get the hens to eat as much as 67% more!

Applied to us human beings, that also suggests we should not be served food in courses while we are trying to diet.

Instead, we should have all our limited quota for that meal placed in front of us at one time, so our stomach can fit itself to the expected volume.

For we human beings tend to adjust our stomach's demand according to the amount of food, as well as the frequency of servings, placed before us.

As a third variation, Prof. Bayer let a hungry hen stand before a pile of wheat and peck away till she stopped of her own free will.

Then he placed another hungry hen beside her. As it began to eat, the first and supposedly "filled" hen, would immediately begin eating some more.

She would then keep on till she consumed 60% more wheat. And if 3 hungry hens were placed beside her, she'd devour even more than 60%.

More tomorrow. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, addressed envelope and 30 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NRA) — Vice Admiral Hyman Rickover, known through the Navy as "The kindly old gentleman," was talking on education the other day when a prominent educator took him to task.

"What experiences do you have in education to be continually talking so strongly?" the educator asked Rickover.

Said Rickover: "You don't have to be a hen to know a good egg from a bad one."

Missouri Congressman Durward Hall's administrative assistant, Sel Mosher, says: "The three branches of the government used to be the executive, judicial and legislative. Since the New Frontier it's Jack, Bobby and Teddy."

Former President Harry Truman hit the campaign circuits recently to "help"

Democratic candidates running for office. In Idaho he opened his visit by informing one and all that Nevada was the only black spot on the continent and that legalized gambling was "the worst thing in the world." But he told Idahoans "go ahead and do what you damn please."

Democratic candidate for governor, Vermer K. Smith—running on a wide-open gambling platform—became so miffed over Truman's blast that he refused Harry's breakfast invitation.

After a few heated verbal exchanges, Truman pronounced candidate Smith a "damn fool" and stormed off to "help" Democratic candidates in other states.

When Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg gave a farewell party for his Labor Department associates before taking the oath as an Associate Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, he served the good Koehler delicacy of bagels and lox.

When Goldberg's successor W. Willard Wirtz was asked what he would serve when he leaves office, he replied promptly, "Sparteritis and auekraut."

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, at a Women's National Democratic luncheon, told about her recent visit to Lebanon, Iran, Turkey, Cyprus, Greece and Italy, which was crammed in to 17 days. What most impressed her was the antiquity of so many of the sights.

She kept asking her guide "How old is this and how old is that?" so often that he finally replied: "Mrs. Johnson, everything here is B.C., except you and me."

Probably the latest official cocktail party ever held in Washington was the reception which the Latin American foreign ministers gave in honor of U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk. It was supposed to be a 7-to-9 p.m. affair. But it didn't get going till 11 p.m.

Reason for the delay was that the foreign ministers couldn't agree on what to say in their official communique after two days of deliberating what to do about Cuba. They didn't finish the drafting job till 10:30. Then they all went to the party.

Not having had anything to eat since lunch, the diplomats were all starved—and thirsty. But the guests they had invited to their affair and who got there on time had to do something while waiting for their hosts to show up. So the free-loaders ate up all the food and kept the bowl flowing.

And a new Republican bumper sticker reads: "Fight the KKK—John, Robert, and Ted Kennedy."

Gen. Maxwell Taylor, who left his job as President John F. Kennedy's military adviser to become Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, was holding his first conference in his new post.

Question: "Sir, at the White House will there be a replacement for you in the same position you held?"

Taylor: "I do not anticipate one."

Question: "Sir, if there was a need for you in the White House, why is there not a need for a successor to you over there?"

Taylor: "Well, one answer would be I proved there was nothing I could contribute."

Letters

Dear Sir: Lake Mary would like to bring to the attention of the people of Seminole County an outstanding resident of Lake Mary.

We wish to pay homage to Mr. Harvey Fugh, a long-time resident of our town. It is through his skill as a mechanic and his long hours of labor on the equipment that Lake Mary is able to claim a very efficient Fire Dept. He was the first fire chief of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Dept and has driven a Seminole County School bus for 22 years.

He is very interested and helpful in all community projects and very deserving of the thanks we offer him.

We are very proud of Harvey Fugh.

Back in Ben Franklin's Time...

... producing a newspaper was most often a relatively simple, one-man operation. Materials, as well as methods, bore only the faintest resemblance to those used in our modern newspaper industry.

Today, we sometimes take our newspapers for granted, forgetting the enormous efforts that make them possible — the many talented people necessary to write and edit them; the vast news-gathering networks; the printing techniques and complex equipment developed over the years.

On this, the occasion of National Newspaper Week, Southern Bell is happy to join with others throughout the country in honoring our great and growing newspaper industry.

Area College Set As New Test Center

Orlando Junior College has been selected as a test center for the administration of the American College Testing Program, Dalton D. Howard, director of guidance and testing at the junior college, announced today.

"The ACT program is an admissions, scholarship, guidance, and placement test battery designed to provide helpful information and service to colleges, high schools, and students at a time when it is most useful," the OJC guidance director explained.

The ACT examination is administered on Saturday mornings four times during the school year at designated test centers throughout the United States. Orlando Junior College is the center designated for Central Florida. The ACT test will be administered on the OJC campus in November, February, April, and June of the current academic year.

Students wishing to sit for the examination must register well in advance of the test date, Howard stated. Registrations will be accepted only during the registration period designated for the test date, he added.

The registration deadline for the November exam has already passed. The battery of tests will be given again on February 23.

Episcopal Women Set Work On Annual Sale

The Fourth Annual Outgrown Sale, sponsored each year by the Episcopal Churchwomen of Holy Cross Church has been set for Oct. 26 and 27, Mrs. W. H. Meriwether, general chairman has announced.

Members of the committee met recently at Mrs. Meriwether's home to work out plans for this main fund-raising project of the year. All proceeds go toward the work of the women of the church locally, regionally, nationally and internationally.

A great deal of effort is spent to bring especially good items for public sale, with each item gone over and priced in such a way that everyone can find something of value and interest.

Among the items for sale will be "outgrown but not outworn" clothing, toys, dolls, plants, jewelry, shoes, hats and other household items.

Anyone interested in disposing of usable items may call Mrs. Betty Halback and arrangements will be made for a pick up of the items.

No Mix Trouble In S. C. Riot

FLORENCE, S. C. (UPI)—Police Chief Melvin D. Adams said "no racial differences" were involved in a flash riot here Saturday night which resulted in the smashing of several store windows and car windshields.

Adams blamed liquor and short tempers for the demonstration by several hundred Negroes who swarmed out of cafes and beer halls and rioted for about 45 minutes before about 75 policemen, county officials and highway patrolmen put down the outbreak.

Stop Delays Move Planned For Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Increased clamor for overhaul of congressional operating procedures was regarded as inevitable today following the recent session of Congress, longest since 1851.

Most of the demand for speeded-up procedures probably will be aimed at the Senate, where the rules permit unlimited debate and other forms of delay that made possible three time-consuming filibusters this year.

Michigan pioneered roadside picnic sites on its highways.

Poll Shows 26 Percent "Eat Nothing"

An informal poll of Seminole High School students, taken by members of the student council, shows that 60 percent of the students eat the food prepared by the school lunchroom, 14 percent bring lunch from home and 26 percent eat nothing at all.

These facts were revealed by Student Body President Johnny Phillips at a panel discussion on "How School Lunch Builds Youth Power," held at the Bear Lake School, recently in preparation for School Lunch Week.

No exact reason could be pinpointed for the failure of the 26 percent to eat any lunch at all, except as one lunchroom manager pointed out, "Students, especially girls often save their lunch money to buy other things." The panel felt that this could not account for more than a small percentage, however.

The failure of students to connect their own personal good looks, physical development, strength, health, and stamina with the quality of their food intake was brought out by some teachers at the meeting of school food service workers.

In the same connection, lunchroom supervisors deplored the lack of time for the teaching of good health habits, and the stressing of food values and nutrition, after children leave elementary school.

A comprehensive daily program is carried on in elementary schools to acquaint children with new foods, encourage them to try it and develop good eating habits, good table manners and a balanced food selection. No programs along this line are available in junior high and high school.

Lunchroom supervisors and workers, teachers and parents were impressed with the knowledge, cooperation and awareness of the three students interviewed, who represented each grade level.

George Rosel of the Bear Lake School represented the elementary grades, Martha Kosky of Sanford Junior High, the junior high level and Johnny Phillips, the high school students.

Other panel members included Mrs. Ruby Calder, School lunch room association president as moderator; Mrs. Margaret Reynolds of Lake Mary School as the teacher; Mrs. N. N. Julian, president of the Seminole County Council of Schools as a parent and Mrs. Gilpin, Lyman, Phys. Ed. teacher as physical education instructor.

Army Plans 'Camp' Probe

CEDAR GROVE, Tenn. (UPI)—The Army planned an inquiry today into a farmer's claim that troops returning from duty at the University of Mississippi camped on his land without permission.

J. D. Humphrey, who farms 77 acres in Carroll County, complained that some troops from Ft. Campbell, Ky., bivouaced on his land last Wednesday.

"They just arbitrarily made camp on my land to feed those soldiers and they made themselves feel at home for about six hours," said Humphrey.

The Seminole County Sportsman's Assn. will have its monthly meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at the courthouse and some lucky ones to the association's cruise will receive a shotgun.

The association has been trying everything to get more interest in its conservation and game and fish projects and the get together is one of the special attractions.

Since the furor over dove hunting, little else has been said or done, but the association still has at least a couple of fine projects in the mill and it is hoped they can be accomplished.

The effort to get a boat launching ramp at the dead end of Tusculum Rd. at Lake Jessup and the work on placing proper channel markers on the St. Johns River where shoals are considered hazardous by some boaters should be pushed, as these could be good contributors to the general public.

Made a few calls around the fishing camps during the weekend and those fellows have gone home.

They just said plain and simply that fishing is not good.

I was interested in finding out whether speckled perch had started biting well, since some reports had drifted in of some fair catches. About the best day's catch I could unearth was out of Riley's on Lake Jessup, where a couple caught 23 nice ones.

Most of the boats out brought back mixed strings, shell crackers, blue gills, catfish and a few specks.

Lothridge Seen As Top SEC Triple Threat

By United Press International
Memo to selectors of post-season all-star teams: Billy Lamar Lothridge, Georgia Tech's do-it-all quarterback, is, in the opinion of Southern fans, the finest triple-threat in college football today.

This 20-year-old junior from Gainesville, Ga., has had a

Marin Paces Spartete Team

Shirley Martin, subbing for the Cherokee Spartans gave a thrilling demonstration of her bowling ability, and a big helping hand to the Spartans team.

Shirley had her first 250 game, stringing together 7 strikes in a row.

Shirley came back in her second game with a nice 199, ending with a 577 series.

The Jet Lane Kids are sharing first place position this week with the Cherokee Spartans. Both teams have won 14 games and lost 6. Running a close third are the Go-Getters, with 13 wins and 7 losses. In fourth place are the Goo-Offs, following in fifth place, the Shamrocks and the Gay Blades coming in sixth.

Dot Johnson's 171 and Betty Allen's 164 were high for the Go-Getters. Diane Anderson with a 164 was high for the Shamrocks. Gay Blades top game was also 164, rolled by Betty Church.

VAH-7 Wives Hold Loop Lead

In the Heller Motors Navy Wives League VAH-7 O. W. came ahead this week to take first place, with Navy Pals in second place.

B. Grabarkiewicz 102—high game and high series 513.

P. Hamilton, D. Lampman and J. Mead rolled 3 strikes in a row.

The 3-10 split was converted by N. Huddleston, D. Lampman and M. Botts. E. Campbell got the 3-9-10, Dee Rose the 3-7 and L. Cadenhead converted the 2-7-10.

Waters Rolls High Game

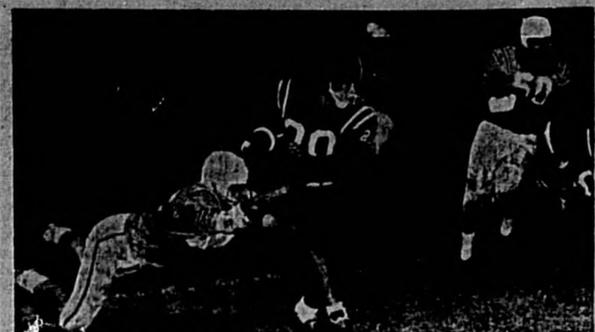

Margie Waters rolled high game this week with a 206. Dot Johnson rolled a 184 and had a 481 high series in the Pinecrest Inn Loop. Other high games were, 172 Gladys Pilon, Katherine Dyson 166 and 164 Joan Adams.

Pilon and Waters rolled 4 strikes in a row.

Splits were converted by D. Johnson 7-5-9 and the 3-10, Peggy Dooley 5-10, and the 2-7-9, by J. Adams.

BUTCH RISER starts on his way to pay dirt and the only Seminole score in Friday night's 7-6 victory over Seabreeze of Daytona Beach. (Herald Photo)

Seminoles Squeeze By Seabreeze

By Ronnie Broadway
Herald Sports Editor
Sanford's hard running Seminoles scored an all important extra point in the second half to squeeze by Daytona Beach Seabreeze 7-6 for their third win of the still early season.

Butch Riser once again led the Sanford attack and scored the lone Seminole touchdown. Riser's golden toe added the vital extra point which meant the difference.

With the ball on their own 20 yard line the Seminoles moved across the Seabreeze goal line for their tally in the second period. After a series of passes quarterback Tommy Hinson lofted an 18 yard aerial to Riser who hauled in the pigskin for the score. After the TD Riser then booted the ball through the uprights for the seventh point.

As in the first and most of the second period, the third frame was all defense. Both teams, Seabreeze much larger, refused to give up only minimum ground gains and quite a few aerials were tossed. Seabreeze completed only 3 of 8 and Sanford 4 of 8 but the most important were the final three from Hinson to Riser, which accounted for the Seminole lone score.

Seabreeze finally got hot just after the start of the fourth quarter. Sanford and Seabreeze both had played fine football but the hard posed Sandcrabs just refused to be stopped before scoring. Cobb of Seabreeze had the final play of the Seabreeze drive as he plunged over from three yards out for the tally. The PAT failed and the Seminole held a slim 7-6 lead.

Oviedo Loses; Courier Passing Outstanding

Despite hard throwing efforts of quarterback Jimmy Courier the Oviedo Lions tasted defeat Friday night 27-12 at the hands of the Eustis Panthers.

Cut 'N' Curl Still Holds Lead

In the Jet Bowlerettes League this week Fran Marion rolled her first 200 game, a 210, and had the high series for the week of 500.

Other high games rolled were 173 by Gert Bridges, 170 by Shirley Martin, 169 by Elaine Kostival, 168 by Thelma Unger, 165 by Helen Marchessau, 164 by Jane Spolski, and 161 by Lucy Mayer.

Cut 'N' Curl is still leading with 16 wins and four losses; L.V. Buggers are second with 15 wins and five losses; Toy Corral and The Road Runners are tied for third with 13 wins and seven losses; Mary Esther's is fourth with 12½ wins and seven and one half losses; Walker's is next with eight and one half wins and 11½ losses; Park Ave. Pharmacy is next with eight wins and 12 losses; Ivey's and Co-Mos are tied with seven wins and 13 losses; The Brownies are last with two wins and 18 losses.

Splits converted were the 3-10 by Elaine Kostival and Irene Dulak; the 5-7 by Shirley Martin; the 5-6 by Helen Morasini; the 6-7 by Betty Smith and the 5-6-10 by Lucy Mayer.

Yvette Hunter and Eve Rogo had turkeys while Fran Morton had four in a row.

ally nullified the play and Sanford had to start all over. Time ran out before any more threats could be started and the game came to an end with the Seminoles in front by a slim one point margin 7-6.

The win gave the Seminoles a 3-1 record. They still are in first place in the Orange Belt Conference sporting an undefeated 1-0 record.

The Texas Longhorns may need more than shoeless Tony Crosby's toe to stop the Arkansas Razorbacks next Saturday and maintain their top ranking among major college football teams.

Both second-ranked Alabama and tenth-ranked Northwestern could challenge the Longhorns' No. 1 ranking with victories on Saturday. The Crimson Tide takes on winless Tennessee in quest of their fourth triumph while the Wildcats shoot for their third success against rugged Ohio State.

Texas edged Oklahoma, 9-6, Saturday on the margin of a 26-yard field goal by Crosby, who kicks with only a sock on his right foot.

"We won the game on breaks," said Texas Coach Darrell Royal.

The usually devastating Longhorn offense was stymied by the Sooners, and Texas only managed to score a touchdown when center Perry McWilliams recovered a fumble in the end zone. Another fumble recovery set up Crosby's field goal.

Texas may not get the breaks against the seventh-ranked Razorbacks who ranked the Longhorns' 4-0 record. Both teams tied for the Southwest Conference title last year.

Arkansas scored four touchdowns in the first half—two by Billy Moore — and withstood a Baylor rally for a 28-21 victory Saturday.

Tom Myers boosted Northwestern's stock by passing for four touchdowns, two of them in the final four minutes, to give the Wildcats a 34-22 triumph over Minnesota. Alabama had unexpected trouble from Houston, trailing 3-0 in the first half, but pulled out a 14-9 win on a fumble recovery in the end zone and Cotton Clark's four-yard plunge.

Marsh ran 101 yards and Gaechter 100 in the Cowboy's surprising 41-19 rout of the Philadelphia Eagles, and Johnson caught a spectacular 90-yard pass from John Brodie in the final period as the Forty Niners upset the Chicago Bears, 34-27.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Every summer my mother-in-law comes to visit us for two weeks. She is not hard to get along with but here is my complaint: She takes over my kitchen and makes "all the things Sammy likes." All year I am careful not to give Sam rich or fattening foods because he has a tendency to put on weight. (He weighs 170 now and should weigh 155.) His mother cooks with schmaltz and makes noodle dishes until I think I will scream. Sam put on 15 pounds in the two weeks she was here. He says he'll take it off, but I know he won't. I can't tell his mother to stay out of my kitchen, and Sam loves to eat that stuff. What should I do?

SAM'S WIFE
DEAR WIFE: At the rate Sam is going, if he puts on 15 pounds every year, by 1970 he'll weigh 290! Tell Sam's mother if she doesn't quit killing Sam with kindness, you'll be Sam's widow.

DEAR ABBY: How late do you think a boy in the 6th grade should be allowed to stay up if he gets up at seven in the morning and makes straight A's?

DEAR BOY: Until 9:00 p. m. But if YOU got an A in spelling, I think your teacher is staying up too late.

DEAR ABBY: I am 10 years old and want a new bike. My father says I can have it if I save up the money for it. It costs a fortune. I get my money from my father. So why should I take the money from my father and give it to the Cycle Shop man? Why doesn't my father just give the money to the Cycle Shop man and leave me out of it?

JEFFERY M.

DEAR JEFFERY: Because your father wants to teach you to SAVE money. And when you've saved enough to buy the new bike, you'll really appreciate it. However, if you explain it to your Dad the way you've explained it to me, you'll probably get the bike tomorrow.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is a business woman so you know she is not stupid. She is an attractive, 48-year-old divorcee. She has permitted a young man (ten years her junior) to live in her home since March. My sixteen-year-old brother lives there, too. The whole thing is probably innocent but I don't think it looks right. She is not the type you can talk to. Should I do anything?
WORRIED MARRIED DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Yes. Talk to her. Maybe you have her "typed" wrong.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Something new has been added to bridge in the last few years. It is the Caribbean cruise, in which the passengers get to play in a sectional bridge tournament with full master point awards. Of the several scheduled for 1963 the first will be staged by the Central Pennsylvania Unit of the ACBL and will leave New York Jan. 4. I will be on board to lecture and, of course, there will be a regular tournament director there to run the games as is standard with bridge cruises. It will be my first cruise since one run by the late Ely Culbertson back in 1932. That was before master points, but my recollection is

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

"The trouble with a two-car family is that a man never knows where his wife is," says a young husband. "What we had only one car I could call my wife at any hour of the day and find her at home. Now that she has a car of her own I can never catch her at home."

There's a lot of truth in the husband's complaint that wives on wheels don't spend much time at home. But it's not because the wives are out gallivanting around for their own pleasure.

The housewife with a car of her own doesn't stay at home much—that's true. But that's because with a car of her own she is everybody's chauffeur and everybody's errand boy.

And then, because she is on wheels and can get to them, there are all the meetings she is expected to attend as a "responsible member of the community."

What keeps a wife with a car on the road a good part of each day is chauffering and errand running. The wife with a car doesn't have her groceries delivered. She drives to a supermarket and picks them out herself.

The wife with a car doesn't ask her husband to go to the bank on his lunch hour or make a few stops on the way home from work. She does all of those errands herself.

And then there are all the errands the children think up for her to do, the overdue library books to be returned, the cookies to be dropped off for a school affair, the forgotten gym schools to be rushed to school before gym class.

And when the lucky wife

TV

NOTEBOOK

By GEORGE E. PAPCUN

Did you know that television sound men sometimes create the rumble of artillery by rolling lead shot on drum heads? The same lead shot dropped on inflated bladders produces the sound of rumbling surf or far-off thunder.

Although not pertinent to television, we understand that drugstore sometimes use shot to clean bottles, a trick that potential home brewers might keep in mind if Prohibition ever comes back.

While we're waiting for it to come back, here is the best TV tip of the day: Buy WESTINGHOUSE. Picture sound and design are superb on this fine make, and if that isn't enough, price is no problem at all at TOWN AND COUNTRY TV SERVICE. You can own a new 19-inch portable WESTINGHOUSE for as little as $149.95 at TOWN AND COUNTRY TV SERVICE. 2555 Park Drive, Phone FA 2-5862.

Pilot Club Of Sanford Observes Founders Day At Dinner Meeting

The Pilot Club of Sanford observed "Founders Day" with a dinner at the Civic Center. Guests were met at the door by Mrs. David Gotsch, looking very Oriental wearing a grass skirt, Hawaiian blouse and a flower in her hair.

All guests were presented with a colorful Hawaiian lei to wear during the evening. Table decorations carried out the Oriental theme with grass baskets filled with bright tropical flowers and greenery and colorful place mats. Numerous gifts were also presented to the guests.

Special guests for the evening were 12 pilots from Orlando, including Virginia Taylor, the president.

Raymond Hall gave a talk on the history of Pilot International and Miss Mary Lou Wooten, of Orlando, told of presenting the original charter to the Sanford club. The Pilot "Code of Ethics" was given by Mrs. E. Stevens, of Orlando. Mrs. Joel Field presented a picture of the original Sanford Club and Mrs. Al Hunt, first president of the club after it was organized gave a talk on the activities at that time.

Accomplishments during the past year were given by Mrs. B. E. Chapman. They included, furnishing a hospital room, named one of the Salvation Army babies, helped at the USO each month, helped with the blood bank, gave an award to the school patrol, organized another club and participated in many more community projects.

President, Mrs. John Lamberton, reminded members of the benefit party, Oct. 16 at the Women's Club and announced that they would attend the Episcopal Church, in Enterprise, in a group, on Oct. 21.

Mrs. Field was program chairman and hostesses were Mrs. Gotsch, Mrs. Morris Ferguson and Mrs. John Hedge. Local guests of the club were Mrs. Wilma Colbert, Mrs. Al Hunt and the Misses Joan and Jean Wilks.

Thanksgiving Project Planned By Church Class

Mrs. G. E. High was hostess for the Dorcas Sunday School Class of the Central Baptist Church, at her home on West First Street. A Thanksgiving theme was carried out in decorations throughout the house with black cats placed at various points in the living room.

The dining table was centered with an attractive arrangement of fruit and a pumpkin. Little candy treats in the shape of pumpkins and green and white mints were served with the refreshments.

New president, Mrs. E. J. Cameron Jr., conducted a business meeting and Mrs. J. G. Ochsman led the devotion. Members voted to give a Thanksgiving basket to some needy family. Mrs. J. G. Callaway, retiring president, was presented a gift from the class.

During the social hour a game, using the word pumpkin was played and the prize, a real pumpkin pie, was won by the teacher, Mrs. C. J. Wilkinson.

Others attending were Meses. Gail Smith, T. A. Rivers, L. N. Holloway, Iris Messer, Verdie Hartman, T. G. Richardson, Elton Hart, Georgia Colvin, E. Wilcox, W. E. Harmon, E. D. Bass, L. E. Appleby and Miss Clara Swagerty.

Officers' Wives Of VAH-3 Meet At O'Hara Home For Monthly Coffee

The Virginia Avenue home of Mrs. Hugh O'Hara was the site of a recent VAH-3 Officers' Wives coffee.

Mrs. Betty Donnet, Clifford Nelson, John Sports, Elmer Tallman, Gunner Whitler, Chas. Dorell, William Shattuck, Sam Day, Tedford Cline, George Drosser, Louis Kruse, E. A. Harland, Alan Woods, Paul Wenzel, and L. A. McGraw.

DeBary Garden Club Opens Season

By Mrs. Adam Muller
The DeBary Garden Club held its opening meeting of the season in the Community Center with Mrs. James V. Richards presiding. Guest speaker was C. R. Mason, executive director of the Audubon Society.

Corsages, made by Mrs. Elmo Moore, were presented to each new member. Mrs. Laura Arrington and her committee were in charge of refreshments. Hibiscus blooms from the St. Amand gardens, used in the auditorium, made it look like an outdoor garden.

Mrs. James V. Richards, left, president of the DeBary Garden Club, with Mrs. H. M. Johnquest, C. R. Mason, executive director of the Audubon Society and guest speaker for the day; Mrs. Laura Arrington and Mrs. A. S. Clark. (Cox Photo)

Officers Wives Of VAH-3 Meet For Bridge

Officers Wives of VAH-3 met in the dining room of the BOQ for their monthly bridge session with Mrs. Donald Hamilton, Mrs. Patrick O'Gara and Mrs. Richard Wright serving as hostesses. Coffee, cold drinks, nuts and assorted candies were served.

Mrs. Clifton Dowell and Mrs. Charles Youngblade won high scores for the afternoon. Mrs. J. I. Wright of Boise, Idaho, was the guest of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Richard Wright.

Coffee Planned Honoring VAH-1 Enlisted Wives

Members of the VAH-1 Enlisted Wives Club are sponsoring a morning coffee, Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. in the Acey Ducey Club, at the Sanford Naval Air Station. The event is in honor of the members. All members are urged to attend and help welcome the new members.

Garden Gate

CAMELLIA CIRCLE
By Mrs. Thomas McDonald
This is it! The wonderful fall planting season. To those of you are new to our Central Florida area, we have two planting seasons; one in the spring and one in the fall. I like to think of fall as the best one because of the many varieties of flowers that can be planted now for winter and early spring bloom. Very few of our fall planted annuals will freeze out. Fall planted flowers are much easier to care for than those planted in the spring.

cooler our sandy soils dry out very rapidly. Thoroughly soak your lawn and all plantings at least once a week to help maintain soil moisture. Where annuals are planted, water more frequently. Remember that where there is a good soil moisture, plants are less subject to freezing. In particular azaleas are apt to become droopy from lack of water, and this condition will affect the amount and quality of bloom next spring.

Behrens Honored At Housewarming

By Mrs. E. L. Johnson
Mrs. Gerald Behrens and Mrs. Claude Hittell and daughter Linda were joint hostesses at a housewarming party recently for Mr. and Mrs. William Behrens. The event was held at the brand new home of the Behrens on Orange Blvd. in Lake Monroe.

Sorority Chapter Presents Awards

Members of Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and their husbands held a shrimp boil at New Smyrna Beach, Saturday. This was the first social meeting of the year that included husbands. Others planned for later this year will be a Pennsylvania Dutch dinner and a Scandinavian dinner, with all couples in costumes.

The first hint of fall is in the air and this opens the door to all of us gardeners to get out the tools and go to work. Spraying and fertilizing of lawns and shrubs; fall planting of bulbs, annual flowers and rye grass; preparation of rose beds; all this and many more chores will make October one of the busiest gardening months of the year.

Flowers that may be planted now include ageratum, alysium, aster, calendula, candy tuft, carnation, forget-me-not, nasturtium, pansy, petunia, phlox, salvia, snapdragon, stock, sweet peas, verbena and gerbera daisies. Let's start our fall planting early and amaze our northern friends with the beauty of our gardens when they are fleeing the north winds and basking with us in the Sunshine State.

At a recent business meeting at the home of Mrs. Gordon Frederick, a discussion was held on ways and means and service projects for the year. Program awards for the best program scrapbooks, kept last year, were given to Mrs. Glenn McCall and Mrs. Harold Chapman. The program, which as Exemplars, the chapter gets to plan this year is on "Improving Our Own World."

Subject for the evening was "Creole Foods and Customs," and a discussion was held on such items as file, jumbo, jambalaya, lasagne and bouillabaisse. A discussion was held on the Creole people and a typical Creole menu of 1840 was read to the group.

Mr. and Mrs. John Liallo of Forrest Ave., Altamonte Springs, left last Wednesday to spend a long weekend with friends from New York who have made permanently to Anna Maria Island near Bradenton. Mr. Liallo is quite well known for his paintings and the couple was looking forward to the days to be spent in the sun and surf of the Gulf of Mexico.

David Ferrell, a Lake Maitland resident, entered the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital last week for major surgery. His wife, Sarah Eibel, taught art in Boone High School for a number of years and has many friends in the area and his sister, Mrs. Beulah Kemp, is very active in the Altamonte Library and Civic Club.

IF IT'S TRUE THAT "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody" then these nine pretty girls, who make up the Triple Trio of the Seminole High School Glee Club might be the notes on a few bars of a pretty melody. From left in back are Sharon Glass, Judy Buntan, Barbara Ruby, Patty Glenn Johnson, Nylene Albers and Linda Hunt. In front is Donna Beard and behind her are Barbara Odham and Lynn McCord. Accompanist Pam Jones was absent. Several of these young ladies will sing solos or duets in the forthcoming production of "Meet Me At the Fair," slated for Oct. 30th.

Dale Duncan, Paul Harris, Kenneth Johnson, Bill Brown, Charles Rabun and Gene Bullard. This group will be a part of the production, "Meet Me At the Fair" scheduled for Oct. 30th in the school auditorium. A minstrel show will be featured as a part of the entertainment.

SHS Glee Club Sets Show

"Meet Me At the Fair," the forthcoming variety show production slated by the Seminole High School Glee Club will be the first big show of the year, under the direction of Miss Ollie Reese Whittle.

Part of the offering will feature a Minstrel Show, with Raymond Bennett starring as Mr. Interlocutor.

In addition, Earl Black and Theron Pelly will be the song-and-dance men with their presentation of "Mammy", a la Al Jolson.

A specialty number on skates, to the music of the Chorallers singing "Snow, Snow, Beautiful Snow" will be performed by Tom and Sheila Best.

Many other old favorites, and hit Broadway tunes will be sung by the soloists, duets, Triple Trio, Double Quartet, Chorallers and Mixed Ensemble with several surprise specialties slated for revelation.

Wins Honors

NEW YORK (UPI) — Gary Wood, a junior quarterback from Cornell, has been named Ivy League back-of-the-week for directing his team to an upset victory last Saturday over Harvard. He completed eight of 12 passes for 116 yards, including one touch-down toss.

Terry Cordell Killed In Viet Nam

Dies In Air Combat Spotting Mission

By Larry Vershal
The death of Terry Cordell hits us like a solid sock in the stomach... He was a tribute to this community and the entire nation.

County Attorney Harold Johnson has been asked to see what steps can be taken to make the previous County Commission pay for those steak dinners in 1959 for the zoning board. State auditor backed up by the Attorney General said it was an improper expenditure... The latest word is that Vernon Dunn paid his $30. Nothing from the other four as yet.

Civic Center should be lively tonight... Doyle Conner speaks here with dinner set for 6:30 p.m. Farm Bureau sponsoring the event.

A CONVERSATION WITH SUPT. OF SCHOOLS R. T. MILWEE.
Reporter: Last year I sat in this office and you said bleachers would be added at Municipal Stadium to take care of the fans for this season.
Milwee: Well, Mr. Bracken said crowds would not be as large this year.
Reporter: Have YOU ever been to any games?
Milwee: No.

Milwee also denied any reports that the school would put up its own stadium.

The Clerk's, Tax Assessor, and Tax Collector's office will be closed for an hour tomorrow for Biddy Burdick's funeral.

We asked City Manager W. E. Knowles about that meeting with the Hunt people yesterday and Pete said some investment builders were in town to discuss putting up some buildings and leasing them. "They were non-committal however," Knowles added.

They're laying pipe on 25th St. today.

A pair of gentlemen supporting Hevey for Congress plastered signs over a few public buildings yesterday and ended up in jail under $300 bond each... You just can't put up posters on public buildings gentlemen.

Bids on remodeling tax assessor's Mary Earle Walker's office will be opened next Tuesday... Double the space, says Bob Brown.

Civil Service Board will meet in special session Wednesday night to certify that Lieutenant exam for the police department. Six took the test and six passed...

Had a chat with Principal Christy Harp, at South Seminole School, in Casselberry, this a. m., and he says work is progressing on the Youth Concert which is being organized for the south end children. If you can help in any way he'd like a call. Hopes to get civic organizations, industry, financial institutions etc etc., backing the $600 venture.

UPW Circles of Lake Mary's Community Presbyterian Church will be having their annual supper and bazaar at the church this Saturday afternoon from 4 till 8... supper will be turkey with all the trimmings and there'll also be a fine chance to get some of that advance gift shopping done.

The Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce soon will be mailing out information cards for residents to fill out as a first step towards compiling a city directory... suggest this also might be a good project for the Lake Mary C. C.

A local doctor has put up the money to purchase a number of 43 memberships in the Sanford Entertainment Association for high school students who would not otherwise be able to attend. The civic concert series is one of the few cultural activities available in the community.

Capt. Terry Cordell of Sanford and a member of the famed "Green Beret" crack army unit in Viet Nam was killed Monday in a plane crash, the Herald learned today.

The 26-year-old army soldier was killed in the hills of Viet Nam working as a target spotter during a combat operation.

The observation plane was flying reconnaissance for troops of the South Vietnamese 23rd Division in operations against the Viet Cong in the mountains north of Bannethuot.

Capt. Cordell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cordell of this city.

Other survivors are a wife, Sue and daughter Judith also of Sanford.

Capt. Cordell had been serving in Viet Nam as part of the green beret outfit noted for its highly trained and particularly skilled men of the nation's "Cold War Army."

Capt. Cordell served as student body president of Seminole High School from which he graduated in 1953. He attended the Citadel in Charleston, S. C., where he was enrolled in an ROTC course and graduated in 1957.

MEMBERS OF THE PRESS were special guests at a preview showing of Florida Care of Orlando Monday, the new retirement and nursing care home established by J. Bralley Odham at 830 Michigan Ave. Members of the fourth estate, including radio, television and newspapers from all over Central Florida were shown through the beautiful establishment and were guests at a cocktail party and buffet dinner. Shown here in front of the fireplace in one of the formal living rooms are from right, Mr. and Mrs. Bralley Odham and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gielow, of Sanford. (Herald Photo)

'Matter Of Weeks' Yank Moon Decision Nears

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A space administration official said today a final government decision is expected "in a few days or weeks" on the best way to get the first American to the moon.

He predicted acceptance of the lunar orbit rendezvous technique which the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) adopted last July, only to find itself currently in a controversy with influential White House advisers.

George M. Low, NASA director of spacecraft and flight missions, said in a Voice of America interview that shifting the goal of "caching the moon by the NASA-favored technique for a lunar voyage to another method would cause a one-to-two-year delay in reaching the moon. The interview was recorded for overseas broadcast.

President Kennedy has announced the goal of "caching the moon by 1970. NASA Director James E. Webb believes it can be done by 1968.

The Lunar orbit rendezvous method, which Low called "cheapest, quickest and most reliable," involves dispatching the expedition in an Apollo spacecraft boosted by a Saturn rocket with 7.5 million pounds of thrust. This compares with 360,000 pounds of thrust in the Atlas rocket, which puts Mercury capsules in orbit.

The Apollo craft would go into orbit around the moon. It would detach a "lunar excursion module," sometimes called a "bug," which would take the expedition down to the moon's surface. When the exploring was done, the "bug" would leave the moon and rendezvous with the still-orbiting Apollo for the return to earth.

Jobless Pay Down For Local Office

A motorcade will form at 6 p. m. at the high school to decorate cars, leaving at 6:30 p. m. Shrine men will present a trophy to the winning team.

Casselberry COFC To Meet

By Jane Casselberry
The Casselberry Chamber of Commerce, meeting today at 7:30 p. m. in the Town Hall, will hear a nominating committee's report for a slate of permanent officers.

Also on the agenda will be discussion of amending the charter and changing the name of the organization in order that other businesses in areas south of Casselberry can be represented.

No Bull

Has anyone seen a white-faced Hereford bull calf in the vicinity of Hidden Lake? The six-months old calf, a valuable, registered animal was purchased from rancher Earl Higginbotham Monday by John Carver, a member of the Seminole High School Future Farmers, and escaped sometime later from the Future Farmers livestock pen behind the school.

Anyone seeing the calf is asked to notify the Sheriff's office.

Board Reverses Plant Ruling; Court Next Step?

The County Commission today reversed the decision of the Board of Adjustment and granted the special use variance requested by the City of Maitland and Clayton Realty Co., to build the city a disposal plant in the south end of the county.

The action was taken in the face of strong objections by Atty. Joseph Murasko, representing the residents of the English Estates area, who maintained there was not proper notice given of the hearing and that his clients had a right to have the case discussed on its merits.

It was disclosed after the meeting that there was a probability of an appeal to the circuit court to reverse the commission's ruling.

In arguing for the position of the Hi-Lo Corporation, a subsidiary of Clayton Realty Co., Atty. Albert N. Fitts, declared the corporation did not have sufficient notice of the meeting of the Board of Adjustment, and therefore requested the rescission of the action rescinding the variance that had been granted previously.

It was pointed out by representatives of the city of Maitland that there had been a series of differences between the city and the realty company which involved the title to the property in the south end, which had been acquired from the county school board for the site of the disposal plant, but that the differences had been ironed out and the two parties were willing and ready to proceed with the construction.

A discussion developed as to whether or not the case should be argued on the merits with Murasko holding that the matter was in order. To settle the question the commission recessed for ten minutes and came back with the decision that the merit argument was not in order.

It was concluded by Gen. D. K. Yost, of English Estates, that the Board of Adjustment had acted illegally in rescinding the permission previously granted to the Maitland council and the Clayton Realty Co., and that the cancellation of the variance should stand.

Atty. William Hutchison, attorney for the Board of Adjustment, pointed out that the action of the board was only to present a situation where agreement had to be reached between the parties building the disposal plant, and that objective had been achieved by forcing the hands of the Maitland council and the realty company.

Now that has been accomplished, said Hutchison, the board was willing that their action be reversed and construction be allowed to proceed.

Program Planned

Allen Forward, Forest City grove manager, was elected chairman of the Seminole County Citrus Mutual Grower's Council at a meeting of the group Monday afternoon at the County Agricultural Agent's office.

Former chairman, Leslie Bryant, Altamonte Springs, was named vice chairman and Jack Syme, Goldenrod, was elected secretary.

The purpose of the meeting was to acquaint the growers with the program and purposes of the Florida Citrus Mutual, and the principal feature of the afternoon was a slide lecture by Dale Carleton, Wauchula, Director of Grower Relations, for the statewide organization.

Carleton pointed out that with a potential crop of 118.7 million boxes of oranges on the trees, the Mutual will have to sell an additional 20 percent of both fresh fruit and concentrate, it is mandatory that an advertising reserve be built up for additional advertising spending when the market slumps.

He said there was new life being pumped into the advertising campaign, and pointed out that the growers had voluntarily taxed themselves five cents a box to finance the added advertising needed to sell the 20 per cent increase in the crop.

Carleton pointed out five must items on the current program of the Citrus Mutual: 1) Improved quality of product; 2) New market research; 3) Reserve advertising fund; 4) Price stability and 5) Hard sell advertising.

Following Carleton, Robert W. Rutledge, executive vice president and general manager of the Mutual, spoke briefly and pointed out that the day is coming when most of the orange crop in Florida will go into a powder form which is now being developed.

He declared it would make shipping easier and increase imports, and also be more attractive to the housewife because of its ease of handling and domestic storage.

Destroy Space Bomb In Flight

HONOLULU (UPI) — The United States was battling one-for-five today in its efforts to explode a rocket-borne, high-altitude nuclear device over Johnston Island in the Pacific.

Joint Task Force 8, which touched off a spectacular megaton blast 250 miles above the island on July 8 after three failures, was forced to deliberately destroy its fifth effort Monday night.

The Thor rocket and its low-yield device was blown to bits without causing a nuclear blast just minutes after it lifted off the pad at 9:15 p. m. (3:15 a. m. EDT today).

Ella Stalled In Atlantic

Bulletin
MIAMI (UPI)—Tropical storm Ella grew toward hurricane proportions today and pointed 65 miles an hour winds toward the southeastern coast.

MIAMI (UPI) — Tropical storm Ella, a huge squally area in the Atlantic, was stalled nearly 500 miles at sea early today but weathermen expected her to lurch northward toward the southeastern seaboard.

Ella packed highest winds of 45 miles an hour. They were flung outward some 350 miles to the north of the storm's center.

The Weather Bureau said Ella should intensify some during the day before starting to move again as a high pressure area slipped out of her way to the north.

Winds should freshen close to the U. S. south Atlantic coast late today, the Weather Bureau said.

The Weather Bureau said at 5 a. m. EST that Ella "has remained nearly stationary" for several hours. It centered the storm near latitude 25.5 north, longitude 72.0 west, or about 500 statute miles east of Miami.

Sales Course Program Nears

The University of Florida extension course in Retail Salesmanship, which is scheduled for Oct. 23, 24 and 25 at the Civic Center, should be of particular interest to all sales personnel and those who work in selling and promotion, E. C. Harper Jr. said today.

Harper urged that all sales personnel, store proprietors and managers from Seminole County as well as those in downtown Sanford take advantage of the good selling points to be learned from this course.

The classes will run from 7:30 to 10 p. m. for three nights, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and will include films as well as lectures and talks by the well-known Dr. Frank Goodwin, from the University of Florida College of Business Administration.

"Dr. Goodwin has a most unique and interesting way of presenting his subject, and we are sure that all who participate will thoroughly enjoy the course, as well as learning valuable points to help themselves or their business," Harper said.

The course is being sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association in cooperation with the Seminole County C of C and the City of Sanford. Course leader will be John T. Branch Jr. of the U. of F.

Refreshments will be served at a coffee break during each meeting through the courtesy of the Florida Power and Light Co.

RETAIL SALESMANSHIP COURSE

I plan to attend the Retail Salesmanship Course. Enclosed is my check for $3 for registration, payable to the Downtown Merchants Assn., Sanford, Florida.
