

'Fairfax' Nears End In Telephone Calls

By Helen Glendon

Next Sanford telephone directory, to be published in February, will be completely "ANC" — all number calling — according to Robert Shelden, group manager for Southern Bell. There will be no more "Fairfax" in Sanford or "North" in DeBary. Oviedo's "Forest" disappeared with the current directory.

Shelden said to delay the ANC would just mean that many more number changes for that many more customers. The reason is growth. The present numbering system is inadequate to meet the demand. Each working day nearly 15,000 telephones are added to the more than 85 million now in use in the U. S. and Canada. That means 73,000 by the close of business each Friday.

Many more telephone numbers are possible with the new plan. Under the present system, 640 codes are available, but with ANC almost 800 will be available. This is because ANC lets you use all 10 dial holes, while the present system is limited to letters in only eight of the ten dial holes, and even some of these combinations of letters won't make good telephone names. Growth is not the only reason for number shortages. Many new services must use a portion of the limited number of Central Office Codes that also serve regular telephone customers. Among these are mobile radio-telephones, dial service for teletypewriters and Centrex service, which provides an individual number and direct inward dialing for the extension telephones used by large businesses.

Shelden said it is expected ANC will meet numbering needs into the next century. Technical developments between now and then hold promise of faster and easier methods of placing calls for everyone. Already there are automatic dialers which make dialing a number about as simple as pushing a button. Memory was a consideration in the decision to go ANC — research indicated that for most people the ANC plan would present no serious memory problem; subsequent field trials confirmed this. We wonder if it's safe to assume this will be the end of forgotten telephone numbers.

Painting Result Of Deep Study, Artist Avers

The Sanford-Seminole Art Association presented Ralph Bagley in a program at the civic center Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Helen DeWitt said the audience indicated the increasing interest in the creative arts in the community.

The speaker is a teacher and exhibitor in Orlando and was introduced by Edmund Stowe. He used for his subject the painting of a semi-abstract still life with a vase of flowers, explaining that his conception was a departure from the realistic presentation. His running commentary as he worked illustrated the painting of a picture is not something which just happens, but is the result of serious study.

The S-SAA presents these special programs for the benefit of the public and is inviting all interested persons to attend on Dec. 1 at 7:30 P.M. when Mrs. Henry Simpson will show slides and comment on her experiences as a world traveler. A social hour will follow the program.

Members of the S-SAA are asked to deliver the Christmas cards for the downtown holiday decorations to Bill Dodson, Lake Mary.

Aid Offered Stuttering Students

Local JayCees have a project set forth on the state level that requires no work on their part. Jim Smith,

Sanford-Seminole County JayCee president, said this is one time they are glad no work is involved, and it is simply because their help is not needed.

Florida JayCees are observing High School Stutterers Week through Nov. 23. Cody L. Bailey, president of Florida JayCees, said the week has been designated for the purpose of informing high school stutterers and stammerers throughout the state that corrective help is available to them through JayCee sponsorship. Few, if any, high schools in the state offer corrective work on the high school level.

The Florida JayCees adopted the "week" project in cooperation with the Emory Institute of Winter Park, a non-profit organization dedicated simply to giving aid to the thousands of Florida youth who are afflicted by stammering and stuttering.

Smith said they were ready and willing to assist locally in this work, but after investigation found there are not enough stutterers in the area, possibly because of the small number of students compared with the larger cities in the state.

Meanwhile, the ever busy JayCees are completing plans for the Christmas parade, shopping tour and Navy Appreciation Day.

Club To Sponsor Fishing Party

By Mrs. Adam Muller

The DeBary Fishing Club will sponsor a Fishing Party for young people of the community at Lake Marie on Friday, Nov. 29 from 9 until 10:30 a.m.

Plans for the party were made at last Wednesday's meeting held in the Recreation Hall of the Fire Station with Clyde Wright presiding. Poles and bait for the youngsters will be supplied by the club.

In other business members planned a day of fishing from Sunglow Pier in Port Orange for Wednesday, Nov. 27. The group also voted to make a financial donation to the DeBary Fire Association for use of the Recreation Hall.

The program, a film entitled "Fishing in the Andes," was presented by Elmer Thompson, program chairman. John Smith joined the club as a new member.

The club's December meeting will be in the holiday theme with refreshments to be served. All members are urged to attend.

Carradine To Appear At Stetson

John Carradine, star of Broadway, movies, and television will play the lead role of Creon in Stetson University's production of Anouilh's "Antigone" to be presented Dec. 11-14 at Stover Theatre on the University's DeLand campus.

All seats will be reserved for the performance. General admission tickets are available at the Stover Theatre box office by writing to Box 1377, Stetson University, DeLand, Fla.

Bruce Griffiths, Stover Theatre director, said that because of the large demand for tickets the best remaining seats are available for the Wednesday and Thursday performances.

VFW Members To Get Awards

The VFW of DeBary will meet at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Recreation Hall of the Fire Station.

State Quartermaster M. D. Wade of Ocala will make his official visit and present an award to John Seufert for 45 years in the organization; to Emanuel Berkerwitz for 40 years and to Joseph Santillo for 35 years.

All members are urged to attend.

Most Demos See '64 Victory

MIAMI (UPI) — State Democratic leaders, with one notable exception, were in agreement today with President Kennedy's prediction that Florida would return to the Democratic fold in the 1964 presidential election.

Top level Democrats pointed to the enthusiastic reception given the President on his whirlwind tour of Florida Monday to back up their optimism.

But Gov. Farris Bryant, who also traveled with the Kennedy party, was hesitant to say outright that Florida would swing back to the Democrats after voting Republican in the last three presidential elections.

"It's too early to say, or at least for me to," Bryant said.

But he added he was encouraged by Kennedy's reception in Tampa and the Miami area.

The President was greeted, in ideal weather, by relatively large and friendly crowds. Florida GOP Chairman Tom Brown, of Tampa, strongly disagreed with the President and state Democrats.

"Mr. Kennedy is sadly mistaken if he thinks the Democrats are going to carry Florida," he said. "The Republicans will win again, and Mr. Kennedy will lose by an even bigger margin than he did in 1960 if Barry Goldwater gets the nomination."

Among the crowd of 4,000 persons at Miami's International Airport were several men waving "Goldwater for President" signs. Taking note of the hecklers, Kennedy said he had been making "non-partisan" speeches until then, "but I come here as a Democrat and express myself as a Democrat."

He praised his administration's program and Florida's progress under it and made the prediction the state would vote Democratic next year.

Experiment Farm Hosts Rotary Club Members

History and accomplishments of the Central Florida Experiment Station farm, on Celery Avenue, 1 1/2 miles east of the city limits, were outlined by Dr. John W. Wilson, entomologist in charge, before members of the Sanford Rotary Club Monday.

The luncheon-meeting, in the station's farm barn, was a prelude to the observance next week of "City-Farm Week," held in advance because of Thanksgiving commitments.

The unique meeting was arranged by Robert Crumley, program chairman, and Dr. Wilson.

Space for serving the lunch was provided by removing all equipment from the ground floor of the barn. Mrs. Homer Little, caterer for the club, served a picnic style lunch of fried chicken, baked beans, cole slaw, quartered tomatoes, omelettes, brownies, cup cakes, ice tea and hot coffee.

The tomatoes and omelettes were improved varieties of these fruits developed and grown by the experiment station staff.

Dr. Wilson introduced each of the six research scientists on his staff. These included Dr. P. J. Westgate, J. F. Darby, W. T. Scudder, R. B. Forbes and H. L. Rhoades.

Each of these workers described his part of the research program, which includes 25 formally outlined projects and a few preliminary studies which have not reached the stage of formal projects.

At the close of the program, Rotary president William Hemphill expressed the pleasure of the club in a different and interesting program and assured the experiment station staff that the club would gladly accept another invitation in the future.

'Operation Trackdown' Comes To Seminole County Again

"Operation Trackdown" will return to Seminole County Friday and Saturday, according to Lt. Tom Aaron, district commander of the Florida Highway Patrol in the Seminole-Volusia County area.

Lieutenant Aaron issued "FAIR WARNING" to all traffic law violators that few traffic offenses will go undetected by law enforcement officers in Seminole County this weekend.

The "Wolfpack" (a seven-man special enforcement unit of the FHP using both unmarked and marked patrol cars) will join forces with the regular assigned personnel of the FHP, the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and all other law enforcement agencies in Seminole County beginning Friday.

Operation Trackdown will cover all roads in Seminole County and officers will be concentrating on the county's high accident areas. Aaron stated that his men also will be concentrating on the major accident-causing violations such as exceeding a safe speed, following too closely, failure to yield the right-of-way and improper passing as well as all moving traffic law violations that have contributed to Seminole County's rapidly climbing traffic death rate.

Traffic accidents claimed eight lives in Seminole County last year and the traffic death toll in Seminole this year already has reached 20 with 1 1/2 months to go, according to Sgt. Vince Smallwood, safety officer of the FHP.

Smallwood grimly commented, "All 20 of these persons died needlessly because of someone's carelessness and drivers who are emotionally upset, angry, drinking, tired or driving while their attention is distracted. They are a threat to themselves and everyone else on the highway."

Cpl. N. B. Thornhill, who will make the assignments for the Wolfpack, commented, "When the Wolfpack was here seven weeks ago we didn't have a single traffic accident in the entire county." Thornhill gives a lot of the credit to Seminole County drivers for their co-operation by courteous, sensible, law abiding driving and expressed an appeal for this same co-operation this weekend.

"I hope we don't have to make a single arrest," Thornhill added, "but if we don't, the driving behavior of many motorists will have to improve tremendously."

Sheriff J. L. Hobby along with other enforcement agencies, pledged his complete support of this law saving operation and urged all motorists to drive with care not only to avoid a traffic citation but primarily to avoid a needless traffic accident.

Honorable Spies Win Leniency

BERN, Switzerland (UPI) — Spies whose espionage activities are designed to prevent wars can count on leniency from Swiss courts, the government reported today.

The statement was contained in an official answer to a parliamentary question requesting an amendment to the Swiss penal code. The change would provide automatic verdicts of innocent for spies who can prove honorable motives.

The government ruling said it would be impossible to amend the many sections of the Swiss espionage law, but added that judges should pronounce "only mild sentences" for honorably motivated spying.

Benson Ford For Tax Cut

TAMPA (UPI) — Benson Ford, vice president of the Ford Motor Co., said Tuesday night a tax cut would boost the nation's economy to the level of the boom years of the late 1950's.

Ford, speaking to the annual banquet of the State Chamber of Commerce, said this country hasn't quite succeeded in recovering the economic vitality enjoyed in 1953, 1956 and 1957.

He blamed the economic lag on the high level of federal income taxes and said "most economists agree the best remedy would be a substantial cut in personal and corporate tax rates."

Texas Next Stop For JFK

DALLAS (UPI) — President and Mrs. Kennedy fly into Texas Thursday in the Democrats' prologue to the 1964 presidential campaign. The White House insisted the visit was largely "non-political" but at least one political speech was planned. Five other talks and a Texas deer hunt were scheduled.

Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were to join the Chief Executive and be his host at the 300-acre LBJ ranch, 65 miles west of Austin. The two men were scheduled to hunt deer at the Johnson spread.

Kennedy obviously will be pressing for support in Texas, where voters two weeks ago rejected repeal of the state's poll tax.

Johnson, a former Texas senator, actively stumped for repeal of the poll tax, but opponents hit repeal as a play into hands of liberals.

Mrs. Kennedy's first trip to the Lone Star State may be the first of many campaign outings by the First Lady. She feels she "is needed" in the drive to re-elect her husband.

Gospel Sing Set By Firemen For November 29

Firemen's Benefit Fund, Inc., made up of men in the Sanford Fire Department, will sponsor the annual "All Night Gospel Sing" on Nov. 29 at 8:00 p.m. in the Civic Center. Profits from the "sing" will go into the firemen's fund to be used for emergencies by the men in the department.

This year the firemen will feature the Florida Boys, Oak Ridge Quartet and the Jublers on the program. A concession stand will be in operation. Door prizes have been donated to the men and will be given away at intervals during the evening.

W. C. Galley, program and ticket chairman for the event, said last year's "sing" was a sell-out and brought some 850 people from central Florida. The firemen are hoping for an equally large crowd this year and will appreciate the support of the public. Tickets may be obtained at the No. 1 Fire Station.

Disney's Abe Stirring Up Controversy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — A controversy boiled today over whether a life-like Abraham Lincoln figure that sits, stands, talks and gestures is dignified and characteristic or "grotesque."

Walt Disney came to the land of Lincoln Tuesday to talk about the project, which will be the heart of the 31 million Illinois exhibit at the New York World's Fair.

"He is going to speak to you," Disney said. "His voice is as close as we could get from actual descriptions of this great man. He will appear in a very dignified setting."

"While seated in a chair before speaking he will drop his head in thought, a characteristic Lincoln action," Disney said. "When he is introduced he will stand—putting his hands behind his back—as though deep in thought."

Disney said the Lincoln presentation would appear to audiences "as life-like as I am standing before you—perhaps more so." He said the figure even would tap its fingers on its chair while waiting to be introduced.

Disney's statements to newsmen were in answer to criticism the Lincoln figure would be "grotesque" and would resemble a carnival sideshow.

The Lincoln figure will be in a 12-minute presentation called "Great Moments with Mr. Lincoln," held in a 500-seat auditorium in the Illinois pavilion. An estimated 25,000 persons will see the show daily.

"I have more at stake in this than the state of Illinois," said Disney, a Chicago native. "I am staking my reputation on this—my integrity, I am not a carnival operator."

Stuffed Tiger 'Dope Addict'

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (UPI)—A toy tiger proved the undoing Tuesday of four suspects picked up in a narcotics raid.

Narcotics squad officers who raided a home in this San Fernando Valley community found the stuffed tiger. But instead of the conventional filling, officers said it was stuffed with marijuana.

Arrested were Mrs. Cheryl A. Zuses, 18; Mrs. Sue C. Johnson, 18; William Walter Hain, 21, and George Odery McCulston.

She Loses Bout Over Monkey

VAN NUYS, Calif. (UPI)—A San Fernando Valley woman is convinced that "you can't fight city hall."

Judge Francis A. Cochran advised Mrs. Ruby Hoff Dieck of Sherman Oaks, in Small Claims Court that she is not entitled to a refund on an $11.50 license she was forced to obtain for her pet squirrel monkey, Louie.

Mrs. Cochran has waged a running battle with the city department of animal regulation for about a year over an ordinance requiring a license for Louie, which she contends is unlawful.

They Just Plain Like Children

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Joseph and Vivian Clark, who have 10 children of their own ranging in age from two to 11 and are expecting still another, adopted a 10-month-old boy Tuesday.

"We plan to adopt one more, too," said Mrs. Clark, 40, "and who knows what'll happen after that," added Clark, 42, a dentist.

Barghoorn Victim Of Crude Spy Frameup

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A "youngish looking" stranger outside the Moscow hotel thrust a roll of newspapers into the hands of the startled American.

"Unwittingly, foolishly," said Yale Prof. Frederick C. Barghoorn, "I took it and put it in my coat pocket . . . almost simultaneously a couple of men grabbed me and took me to an auto."

Thus, with the oldest and crudest form of espionage "frameup," began Barghoorn's 16-day ordeal in a Russian prison. He told the story to newsmen Tuesday after reporting it in detail to the State Department.

In view of the incident, U.S. officials said they were still undecided when cultural exchange talks could be resumed with Russia in the absence of a Soviet agreement on treatment of arrested persons. But Barghoorn told news-

'Trainers' Trained For Vigilante Craft

It takes more magic than the traditional "switcheroo" to make the Sanford Naval Air Station headquarters for the new RA-5C Vigilante attack reconnaissance plane.

You start with an airplane, one of the most complete weapons systems ever devised; blend thoroughly with new support facilities and sprinkle liberally with the best men you've got. Still our magic potion lacks the indispensable ingredient that makes it jell.

What about training? Henry Ford built a car but it was of little good to anyone until people were trained to service and repair it.

At this moment an entire squadron is being trained to operate and service the RA-5C. But that's putting the cart before the horse. First you've got to train your "trainers." And that's precisely what's happening.

It started in the North American Aviation Columbus (Ohio) division plant where selected company men were schooled in the futuristic airplane their employer had begun producing.

It continued in Columbus where Sanford Navy personnel were trained — by those who had just completed training — to operate and maintain the new aircraft.

And it's continuing in Sanford where a select group of officers and petty officers are being trained by factory representatives to, in turn, teach maintenance of the plane to the people who will actually work on the flight line when the new Vigilantes roll into Sanford.

This may sound like circular thinking to many, but to the personnel now undergoing training in the Naval Air Maintenance Training Detachment's new Sanford headquarters it's deadly serious business.

The building in which this training is being administered is a brand new brick and concrete structure recently constructed for the purpose.

Using cut-away panels which contain the actual working systems of the aircraft, teaching is greatly hastened. A separate room is devoted to each general area of the aircraft. For instance, there is a hydraulics room, an electrical systems room and a fuel systems room.

If this still sounds complex, it's because it is — as complex as the vast working plan for placing the RA-5C Vigilante into the defense network of our U. S. Atlantic and Pacific Fleets.

2 One Act Plays Set Thursday

"Beat It Beatnik" and "Anti-Spring" — two one-act comedies, will be presented at the high school auditorium Thursday night by the school dramatic club. The curtain will go up at 8 p.m. for almost 3 hours of laughs and hi-jinks by the neophyte actors.

The first presentation is the story of a young girl and her boy friends and the effect they have on her parents. "Anti-Spring" involves young students on their way to and from a picnic. The difficulties encountered provide the fast-moving dialogue.

There will be a cast of 11 characters in "Beatnik" — played by Clarence Johnson, Genl Kinnefelter, Wayne Hill, Donna Sandage, Terry Buckler, Barbara Schock, Len Reinhardt, Fiale Adams, Glenda Albert, Harold Unger and Jean Masters.

Penny Gleason, Robert Richards, Karen Green, Dan McCall, Danny Gilmartin and Gwen Champion play the roles in "Anti-Spring."

The players have been rehearsing diligently, under the direction of Miss Alice Marie Stuart, to make this an entertaining production.

The high school triple trio will sing several songs during intermission.

Reds Batter Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — The worst outbreak of violence in the two-year Castro-Communist campaign against President Romulo Betancourt transformed the slums of Caracas into a virtual no-man's-land early today.

At least 18 persons were killed and 73 wounded in the first day of an all-out effort by the Reds to impose their will on the people of Venezuela through bullets, bombs and burning.

The government clamped modified martial law on the Guatara district, scene of the worst bloodshed in the early hours of the Communist terror drive. Armed troops stood guard elsewhere in the city.

Caracas was the principal target of the Reds' initial attack, but violence also was reported in the "oil capital" of Maracaibo, where the U.S.-owned duPont paint warehouse was burned by Communist arsonists.

Labor Minister Alberto Aranguren Zamora said in a radio-teletext speech that the rest of the country was quiet.

The terrorists are trying specifically to prevent the Dec. 1 election — a goal set for them by Cuba's Premier Fidel Castro in speeches broadcast from Havana.

They began by ordering a nationwide general strike, and

Lakeview Tough, Comparisons Show Rose Odds Favor Michigan State

The Sanford Herald

By Julian Stenstrom
Herald Sports Editor
Head Coach Jim Pigott and his 1963 squad of the Fighting Seminoles found out Tuesday afternoon they will not be going to Winter Garden Friday night for their Orange-

Belt Conference clash with the Lakeview High Red Devils. Lakeview sports practically an all-senior ball club and, according to Pigott, "They'll be tough."

Pigott supported his statement by pointing out that thus far this season Lakeview has posted a 41 to 6 victory over the Apopka Wildcats who were beaten 58 to 6 by the Seminoles. However, the Red Devils tied Leesburg 7 to 7—the club that put the only mar on Seminoles' otherwise perfect record for this season. Meanwhile, Seminoles whipped Bishop Moore 21 to 20 last Friday night but earlier in the season the Red Devils romped over the Hornets 26 to 6.

"They've got some big backs," said Pigott, "and they run with power. As far as their passing attack is concerned they are not what you'd call a passing club. However, they do enough of it to keep the defense honest."

The Seminoles will be out for their eighth win of the season Friday night—against that one 15 to 7 defeat handed them by the Leesburg Yellow Jackets. To clinch the Orange-Belt Conference crown the Tribe must whip both Lakeview and the DeLand High School Bulldogs in the season's finale.

DeLand isn't going to be a set-up either for the Seminoles eleven. Last week DeLand handed Wildwood a 20 to 14 beating after earlier pounding Seabreezes of Daytona Beach by a score of 41 to 28. Also earlier in the season Seminoles pushed over a first period touchdown against the Daytona eleven and fought until the final gun to preserve a 7 to 0 win over the Sandcrabs.

"But," Pigott admitted, "you can't figure football by comparing scores. Lakeview will be up for us this Friday night but we'll have to have our runs loaded for them." Sanford will have to win both of these games to reach the title.

Meanwhile, during his tenure at Seminoles the records reveal that Pigott—coached squads have won 51 games, lost only 15 and participated in five ties. This is quite a record for any coach, college, pro or high school.

The Tribe will be out to make it No. 52 this Friday evening in Winter Garden.

WITH THE HUNTING SEASON on Marion E. Masters of Aurora, Mo., is taking no chances that his Jersey milk cow, Irene, will be mistaken by myopic hunters for a deer. This illustrates a point brought out in Julian Stenstrom's column, "Thinking Out Loud," in Tuesday's Herald about hunters with questionable eyesight being allowed to hunt without an eye examination from a doctor.

About Sports

Thinking Out Loud

BY JULIAN STENSTROM

With a record of four wins, three losses and one tie the University of Florida Gators are putting the finishing touches on the final preparations for this week's engagement with the University of Miami.

Even though it has been a disappointing season for Florida, the Gators still have a chance to make it better than just a winning season—that is if they can take both Miami and the FSU Seminoles into camp during the final two contests.

Miami has had some rough sledding this year and so have the Seminoles. The Hurricanes and FSU have had their ups and downs right along with the Gators. This can mean only one thing—that Florida's last two encounters should be thrillers regardless of which club wins.

The tale of the tape tells the football story at Florida this season. The Gators have racked up 98 points against 99 for their opposition, 34 first downs to 30 for their opponents, and from scrimmage the Gator offense has posted 1,364 yards against the opposition's 1,003.

The Florida air game has exceeded their opponents also. The Gators have thrown 147 passes and completed 79 for a percentage of 51.6. Meanwhile, Gator opponents have tossed 129 and completed 50 for a percentage of 38.7. Florida's air game accounted for 807 yards to 568 by the opposition.

Tickets are on sale at the Sanford Naval Air Station for the 1963 Missile Bowl to be played in Orlando on Dec. 7, between the San Diego Marines and the Quantico Marines.

This should be one of the best ball games played in this section of Florida during the current gridiron season.

Both teams have won 10 games so far this season. We know very little about the Quantico aggregation but we've seen the San Diego outfit in action several times during past seasons.

Quantico this year, however, has achieved quite a reputation for themselves in whipping Holy Cross. On the other hand, the San Diego outfit has beaten such teams as Arizona State, University of Mexico and University of the Pacific.

The San Diego eleven, always a powerful outfit on the west coast, became so offensively tough a few seasons back that many of their usual opponents will not schedule them anymore. They've been a bit too powerful for even the best clubs in the California Collegiate Athletic Association which sports such football powerhouses as San Diego State, Los Angeles State, Fresno State, University of California at Santa Barbara and Cal Poly. And some of these schools have student bodies running into the 16 and 17 thousands.

It should be quite an affair. We recommend this one to any football fan.

Moore Out With Injuries

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Lenny Moore, the Baltimore Colts' star halfback, may be out the rest of the season with a head injury, according to Coach Don Shula.

Moore, one of the Colts' prime breakaway threats, sustained the injury in a game two weeks ago against the Detroit Lions and didn't make the trip to Minnesota last Sunday when the Colts beat the Minnesota Vikings.

Two Fights On

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two return bouts — Rocky Rivero vs. Florentino Fernandez and Wayne Thornton vs. Gregorio Peralta — have been arranged by the Madison Square Garden Boxing Club. The Rivero-Fernandez fight will take place Dec. 13 and the Thornton-Peralta match is set for Jan. 24.

Injuries Hurt Canes, Gators

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The University of Florida ran through a spirited drill Tuesday in preparation for Saturday night's game against arch-rival Miami in the Orange Bowl.

The Gators were in good spirit despite loss of star line-man Roger Petteus with an injured leg and possible loss of right halfback Jack Harper, who was out of practice with a virus, according to Coach Ray Graves.

The Gators concentrated on pass defense in the no-contact drill. In Coral Gables Coach Andy Gustafson realigned the University of Miami's defense to make up for the loss of Line-man Rex Benson.

Benson was injured in the North Carolina game Saturday and will miss this week's rivalry contest against Florida.

Gustafson said the Hurricanes were still in bad spirits from the loss to North Carolina, and labeled Tuesday's drill disappointing and "ragged."

Frank Ramsey Replaces Cousy

By United Press International
The Boston Celtics have found a man to fill Bob Cousy's sparkplug role.

He's veteran Frank Ramsey who Tuesday night broke a close game between the Celtics and the New York Knicks—brokers wide open.

The Knicks stayed close to the Celtics through most of the first quarter until Ramsey entered the game and scored nine points in a minute and 49 seconds. Boston then coasted to a 126 to 98 victory over New York in the second game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden.

In the opener, Oscar Robertson scored 32 points and paced the Cincinnati Royals to a 127-102 win over the Detroit Pistons. In the only other game played the San Francisco Warriors continued their red-hot scoring spree with a 129-96 victory over the St. Louis Hawks.

Bill Russell played only 29 minutes for Boston but grabbed 16 rebounds as the Celtics won their 12th game in 13 starts this season.

Giants Rehire Steve Owen

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York football Giants have rehired Steve Owen, who coached the team for 23 years, to scout college football players in the East.

Owen, who was noted as a great defensive coach and was the innovator of the A-formation, will work under Jim Lee Howell, the Giants' director of player personnel.

Skins' Mitchell Pushes Conrad

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bobby Mitchell, the Washington Redskins' fleet flanker who won the National Football League pass-catching championship last season, has moved into a challenging position behind front running Bobby Joe Conrad of the St. Louis Cardinals.

While Conrad maintained the lead with 56 catches that have gained 692 yards, Mitchell moved up to second place with 48 catches that have covered a league high of 1,017 yards, according to statistics released today by the NFL.

Del Shofner of the New York Giants also has caught 48 passes for 857 yards. Terry Barr of the Detroit Lions, fifth among the pass-receivers, is tops in touchdown catches with 10.

There were two changes in this week's statistical leaders. Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns regained the scoring lead from place kicker Jerry Kramer of the Green Bay Packers, and Roosevelt Taylor of the Chicago Bears moved ahead of Dick Lynch of the Giants in pass interceptions.

Jimmy Brown continued to enjoy an overwhelming lead in rushing; Y. A. Tittle of the Giants remained first in passing, and Yale Lary of the Detroit Lions stayed on top in punting.

The predominant religion of Austria is Roman Catholic.

Bauer Will Be Tough 'If I Have To Be'

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The Baltimore Orioles may feel like they are in a Marine boot camp when they report for spring training at Miami, Fla., in late February.

Although Hank Bauer tried to sidestep the issue when he was named the Orioles' new manager Tuesday, the flat-nosed ex-Marine sergeant indicated some Baltimore players will be stepped on if they don't behave themselves.

"It'll be tough if I have to be," said the 41-year-old former New York Yankee outfielder who hit the beach with the U. S. Marines at Okinawa in World War II. "It's up to the players. I'll expect 100 per cent from each man. If I don't get it, I'll take steps to get it."

When Billy Hitchcock was released as the Orioles' manager at the end of last season it was reported that the front office felt he had coddled certain players.

Gator Respects Mira Highly

GAINESVILLE — Miami quarterback George Mira has made believers out of more than one opponent, but nobody is more impressed than Florida guard Jack Katz.

"Anybody who thinks Mira is less dangerous this season is nuts," says Katz. "He's better than ever, and putting the rush on him is like trying to grab a roadrunner."

Katz is in a position to know Mira better than most opposing linemen. He played high school football with the all-America quarterback for Coach Harold Allen at Key West.

Since then, of course, Katz and Mira have met on the field and seen each other in action during countless hours of film watching.

"Last year I had George pinned in good, but took a great fake and missed him completely," says Katz. "I asked him after the play why he would want to make a fool out of an old friend."

"You know, he just grinned. He doesn't care who he makes a fool out of on the field."

When you start talking about his credentials as an all-America.

"I don't know how an all-America quarterback is chosen," Katz adds. "But when the pros draft in December just watch who is a No. 1 choice."

These sentiments are not entirely restricted to Katz. His thinking is echoed by members of the Gator coaching staff.

NEW YORK (UPI) — It will be Michigan State vs. Washington in the Rose Bowl if the oddsmakers know their points.

The fifth-ranked Spartans of Michigan State are six-point favorites to beat eighth-ranked Illinois at East Lansing Saturday and clinch the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl bid that goes with it.

On the West Coast, Washington is picked by 14 points to down Washington State and nail down the Big Six championship. Although a bid to the Pasadena classic isn't automatic, the Huskies will be coming up roses if they win.

SEC Teams Go Through Some Heavy Work

By United Press International
The University of Kentucky Wildcats ran through their first heavy scrimmage in 13 days Tuesday in preparation for its game Saturday with traditional rival Tennessee.

Coach Charlie Bradshaw had the freshmen run Tennessee-style single wing plays against the varsity and concentrated on shifting his defenses to stop such an attack.

In Knoxville, Coach Jim McDonald sent his Tennessee team through a pass defense drill aimed at halting Kentucky passing ace Rick Norton.

Both Georgia and Georgia Tech get back to the practice field today following a two-day lay-off. The two arch-rivals have Saturday free and meet in Atlanta Nov. 30.

Florida Coach Ray Graves ran his Gators through a brisk no-contact drill Tuesday and said spirit was high for Saturday's meeting with Miami. Tulane prepared offensive formations for its meeting with Louisiana State and Vanderbilt concentrated on arranging defenses to halt the offensive series of George Washington, its opponent Saturday.

Schedule Set

CINCINNATI (UPI)—The Cincinnati Reds announced Tuesday they have scheduled 55 night games, the most arc light contests ever carded by the team for the 1964 season. Included in the Reds' home schedule are eight double-headers and 13 Sunday afternoon dates.

state when sixth-ranked Oklahoma clashes with ninth-ranked Nebraska at Lincoln. The Sooners are favored by 3 1/2 points to take the Big Eight title and the Orange Bowl spot that goes with it.

Pittsburgh, ranked fourth among the nation's college football teams and the prime choice for the other Orange Bowl berth, is a 6 1/2-point choice over Penn State at home. Penn State also is hopeful of a post-season game and a good showing could earn them a bid to the Gator Bowl.

Southern California and UCLA, still nursing Rose Bowl dreams of their own, get together at Los Angeles. The defending national and Rose Bowl champion Trojans are favored by 13 1/2 points.

The three-way deadlock for first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference will be somewhat resolved Saturday since North Carolina engages Duke. The Tar Heels are picked by a halfpoint although they're playing at Duke, North Carolina State, the third member of the triumvirate, is a solid 27-point favorite over Wake Forest.

Tenth-ranked Auburn, in the market for a Gator Bowl bid, favored by eight points against Florida State.

In other leading games:

Victory After Losing Record Brings Reward

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (UPI)—Last year, midway in an all-losing season, the student body of Wake Forest College marched on the football coach's home—cheered him to the echo and gave him a scroll indicating their support of him.

Last Thursday, although the Wake Forest team had 18 straight losses for the longest major college losing streak in the nation, 1,200 students turned out to watch a practice session and again show their support.

Last Saturday Wake Forest trailed by two touchdowns at half.

But then the demon Deacons came back to beat South Carolina, 20-19, in one of the most amazing upsets of the 1963 season. For that conquest, and for just plain courage under fire, Coach Billy Hildebrand of Wake Forest today was named by United Press International college football's "Coach of the Week."

Hildebrand, a former star at Mississippi State and assistant coach at Minnesota, never was one of those losing coaches who goes around letting on that it doesn't really matter, etc., etc.

He always made plain he thinks "it's a humiliating, depressing and frustrating thing to have your team beaten on a football field."

"Losing is like having the living heart cut out of you," he said during the now-ended streak of disaster. "All your plans, hopes and ambitions are dashed in front of thousands. Most people don't have their heart; their plans laid out for public view. Coaches do."

"It's not easy, you know, for the coaches and players to go around smiling, joking and keeping a stiff upper lip," he summed up.

Combination Pays $535

Alberdi and Manuel gave the Tuesday ladies' night jai alai audience at the Orlando Seminole Fronton something to shout about with a second game victory that paid one of the top perfecta prices of the young season.

Their win in the post three position rounded out a 3-combination that paid $35.20. Estrada and Irigo were the second place finishers in post four.

Businessman Feted, Enters Retirement

By Robert B. Thomas, Jr. FA 2-8736

G. C. Eubanks was honored with a testimonial dinner upon his retirement from the Central Life Insurance Company after 14 years of dedicated service. He spent 40 years in the insurance field. Twenty-six of these were with the Afro-American Insurance Company.

There were many kind expressions concerning him. F. R. Johnson, manager of the Orlando district, was toastmaster. After welcoming everyone, he said, "This is the first time I have ever attended an affair such as this." He emphasized and re-emphasized the honoree's value to the company, his devotion to his work, and his many other wonderful qualities. "He meant a great deal to the Orlando district," said Johnson.

Mrs. Evelyn Davis, one of the co-workers, led the group in singing "Precious Lord," which was requested by Eubanks.

W. F. Calhoun had this to say about the honoree, "Our association through the years has been wonderful; I know of no one who is more sincere about everything than he."

C. J. Devault, agency director, who represented the home office, expounded in a humorous and dramatic way. The persons who preceded him in paying respect to Eubanks had said many things he had planned to say; and of course he told a joke that fitted the situation very well. Then he spoke of how the people at the home office feel about the honored guest. "We think very highly of him," he said.

L. R. Eubanks was next on the agenda to say something about his father. He asked his wife, Mrs. E. J. Eubanks and their son, Sidney Granville to come forward. They presented a citation to their Dad. It was read by Granville, and as he read, the writer looked at the honored guest; his face was gleaming with happiness.

Someone said: "Expressions like these are usually said after a person has passed on to the great beyond."

G. C. Eubanks deserves everything that was said about him. I think these words of an authority best describe this gentleman, his son, his daughter-in-law and grandson.

"There is not a man or woman, however poor they may be, but have it in their power, by the grace of God to leave behind them the grandest thing on earth, character; and their children might rise up after them and thank God that their mother was a pious woman or their father was a pious man."

Others attending were: W. L. Gadsden, Smith Counts, Mrs. Velma Daniels, Mrs. Susan Riley, Mrs. Almeda Sampson, E. B. Bennett and Mrs. F. R. Johnson, all of Orlando; W. W. Hinton, Tampa; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker, E. L. Blacksheare, Rev. Jessie Brown, Evola Washington, Mrs. Grace Hayes, Mrs. Annie Forrester, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Watson, and

Wallendas Wire Act Today May Be Last

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—The Flying Wallendas, haunted by a possible "jinx" and memories of death on the high wire, today opened what may be the last performance of their famous "human pyramid."

This time it will be done with a net.

Today's performance, for underprivileged children at the 21st annual Fort Worth Shrine Circus, was to be the first public performance since the pyramid collapsed in Detroit Jan. 30, 1962, killing two members of the troupe and paralyzing another.

Karl Wallenda, 38, who originated the act in Germany in 1934, said Tuesday he did not want to talk about the Detroit accident. "It was bad, very bad," he said. "After the show then I will talk about it."

Karl said as leader of the act, the decision to use a net for the Fort Worth performance was his.

"This time I am for the net," he said. "Should I be responsible for what happened in Detroit happening again people would spit in my face on the streets."

Karl saved himself in the Detroit accident by scissoring his legs around the wire as he fell. He also grabbed the hand of his niece, Jana Shepp as she fell. Jana has since retired. Her husband, Dieter, 32, died in the fall.

Herman Wallenda, Karl's brother and at 62 the oldest member of the troupe, announced he will retire at the end of the circus in Fort Worth. He said he felt fit as ever but "if anything should happen to the act in the future I might be blamed."

Karl scoffed at the idea the troupe was accident prone and said one reason they would try the human pyramid again was "to show that we still can do it."

Just two weeks ago, the pyramid collapsed during a rehearsal at Sarasota, but the wire was only 12 feet off the ground instead of the normal 60.

Karl said the act would work the three-decker pyramid with a full complement of eight people "for the last time anywhere."

"I will never risk so many people on the wire again." "After Fort Worth," Karl said, "I intend to cut the act."

to four people and do a less dangerous pyramid on bicycles."

Fall Concert Set Tuesday

Sanford Male Chorus, with Robert Carnie as director, will present a Fall Concert Nov. 26 in the high school auditorium.

The Triple Trio, well known young singers from Seminole High, will be the featured artists on the program. Shirley Ryan will carry the solo part in two numbers by the chorus.

Carnie said the concert will be a slight departure from the past, in that the male voices will rise in the more popular and well known songs, all adding up to a more varied and sure-to-please evening of music.

Mrs. Bettye Smith will accompany the chorus in patriotic songs, hymns, spirituals, love songs and funny songs. The concert will conclude with the customary "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

The Sanford Male Chorus numbers 26, most of whom sing in church choirs and enjoy the weekly rehearsals of the chorus.

Bad Samaritan

Not long ago a man won a small suit for damages in New York City. But the case has interest far beyond the immediate matter.

The man collected a modest sum for minor injury to his person and damage to his clothes. This had resulted when he had gone to the rescue of a woman who, police confirmed, was being beaten by her husband.

For a while it was touch and go. When the rescuer filed suit, the other man filed countersuit, charging the rescuer with trespass and assault. Eventually the court ruled for the rescuer.

The sad part of the whole affair is, however, that a careful study indicates that New York state law is not at all encouraging to such rescue efforts. A canvass of experienced lawyers on this point produced a consensus that the best thing for a citizen to do is "not get involved" in such incidents.

It would be interesting to know in how many other states of the union the law is so little protective of persons who might go to the aid of individuals being victimized one way or another.

If there are many such states, then we face a terrible irony. For some years now, complaint has been widespread that crimes and shenanigans of all kinds occur in public places while other citizens stand about or walk away and do nothing.

If common humanity be the measuring rod, this indifference is properly decried. But if a man who goes to the aid of another is himself given no legal protection, but may instead find he is open to legal and other attack in compensation, he can be entirely forgiven for not wanting to get involved.

Police forces in most places today are insufficient in number to cope with all the trouble that erupts on American streets. The innocent victims of crime and other depredation should welcome the help of any conscientious citizen nearby who chooses to offer it.

Obviously, without encouraging public free-for-alls, the law should back up the citizen who moves in good conscience to save someone from assault or robbery or worse.

Until this is the case universally throughout the nation, perhaps we had better stop complaining of the indifference of bystanders who refuse to mix in when trouble breaks under their very noses.

NOMINATION SITUATION VERY FLUID.—CHAIRMAN MILLER

Helen Fuller Says

'63 Philadelphia Story

WASHINGTON — Analysts for both political parties are turning the results from the Nov. 5 elections upside down and backward in search of clues to what next year's presidential election may hold in store.

The fact that the experts are subjecting the returns from Kentucky and Pennsylvania to microscopic examinations tells us what is concerning strategists for both sides—how will the Administration's drive for racial equality influence the 1964 election?

In Kentucky, the Nov. 5 election for governor provided a kind of test of the Civil Rights issue in the Border States. There is now general agreement among Democrats and Republicans that President Kennedy is likely to lose more electoral votes in the Southern and Southwestern States in 1964 than he did in 1960. Border States like West Virginia, Maryland, Missouri and Kentucky, therefore, take on added value as states to hold or try to steal away from the opposition party.

Republican Sen. John S. Cooper and Thurston Morton won seats in the U. S. Senate in recent years on platform of unqualified support for civil rights legislation. Last election the Democratic candidate for governor, taking the same stand on civil rights, defeated a Republican who equivocated on the issue.

Both Democrats and Republicans are drawing the tentative conclusion that for the present, in two-party Border States with substantial numbers of Negro voters, the political policy is strict enforcement of civil rights, regardless of race.

The mayoralty race in Philadelphia is the Pennsylvania contest receiving close scrutiny. Pennsylvania, of course, is in the political major league because of the large electoral vote it casts for the Presidency. John F. Kennedy carried the Keystone State in 1960 because of a 380,000 majority he rolled up in the City of Philadelphia. Philadelphia's Negro wards contributed heavily to that crucial lead. Professional politicians were sug- gesting that Democratic strength would stand up in those wards after three years of Kennedy government and without the Kennedy name at the head of the ticket.

Philadelphia Story a one-time thing or a harbinger of 1964?

Despite a weak candidate, accused of condoning corruption, the Democrats more than held their own in the Negro wards in re-electing Mayor Tate by almost 70,000 votes. Negroes complain that the Kennedy civil rights program is too slow, but in a showdown the Democratic Party, at least in Philadelphia, apparently retains first place as the party of their preference, regardless.

A second result proved equally arresting. While Philadelphia Democrats were attacking with the local Democratic ticket, substantial numbers of working class whites were bolting to the GOP. This year Philadelphia has been the scene of determined drives by minority groups for equal employment opportunities. White workers at the same time were increasingly harassed by layoffs, persistent unemployment in some industries and the threat of fewer jobs as automation spreads to others. During the campaign racial undertones resulting from the growing competition for jobs, among other things, rose to the surface.

Republican party workers in working class neighborhoods made much of the fact that last spring Mayor Tate had made no move to oust a CORE group that staged a sit-in in his office, but later fired 59 white firemen who picketed City Hall and Tate's campaign headquarters demanding higher pay.

Many traditional Democrats who oppose changes in the racial status quo evidently vented their spleen on Mayor Tate when they went to the polls. Democratic chiefs privately speculate that had the Republicans started to work earlier with a more attractive candidate, they might have cut the Democratic majority in half—or even have won.

Both parties will now be seeking the answer to the same question: Is the 1963

Philadelphia Story a one-time thing or a harbinger of 1964?

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Terry's problem should challenge all parents, teachers, salesmen and public speakers. So study it with great care. For you can room your influence greatly by combining the "Pause and Praise" strategy with Christ's "Reversible Why" technique. Star salesmen get startling results with this strategy.

CASE R-100: Terry L., aged 8, is a smart youngster. "But, Dr. Crane," his daddy protested, "Terry drives me distracted with his incessant questions."

"When I get home at night, tired and ready to slump down in an easy chair with my newspaper, Terry starts shooting queries at me. "He may begin with 'Daddy, where does the sun go at night?' and then give me a barrage of 15 or 20 more, even while I am trying to reply to the first one."

"You have urged us parents to answer the questions of our youngsters as a means of increasing their knowledge."

"But, Dr. Crane, if I finally do figure out the reply to his first query, he may be 20 questions down the line ahead of me so I doubt if he pays much attention to the correct answer, even when I finally do give it to him."

"So what can a jittery parent do in such a crisis?"

In this type of situation, parents, salesmen, teachers and those who conduct open forums from the public platform, should use Christ's strategy.

For Jesus was adept at reversing the questions shot at him.

Combine Christ's clever technique with my "Pause and Praise" strategy, if you wish to exert maximum educational influence.

For example, suppose Terry asks his daddy where the sun goes at night.

Pause and praise! For example, his daddy can then reply:

"Terry, that's a splendid question you've asked. In fact, even the school teachers at the time of Columbus, still didn't know the right answer."

"So—since you have asked such a good question, I'll let you see if you can figure out where the sun goes at night."

"What do you think becomes of the sun at night?"

Notice what will then happen. Terry draws himself up hasn't he asked a question that even the school teachers couldn't answer in years past?"

He thus feels more important. And this reaction makes him look with even greater delight upon his question.

Meanwhile, too, his attention has been caught, so he isn't rushing down the line with 15 or 20 additional queries.

No, he sticks to that FIRST question and tries to figure out a solution.

"Daddy, I think the sun just goes to bed," he may reply.

This advice of asking the questioner to help solve his own problem, thus enlists his avid interest and makes him a "junior partner" in the quest for the right answer.

It also gives you adults a chance to stall gracefully, in case you were wool gathering when the query first hit you.

Then you can add your 25 percent to 50 percent or 95 percent to whatever the child (or customer) evolves, and thus you have clinched the answer to his proper question.

Later, if Terry is asked that same query in school, the correct answer will thus be linked with the right question!

Basis Of Co-operation

A little-publicized but significant international meeting took place recently in Geneva, Switzerland.

This was the Space Radiocommunication Conference, convened by the International Telecommunication Union and attended by 400 delegates from 70 member countries in the ITU.

During the course of the five-week meeting, the delegates allocated some 50 radio frequency bands for various kinds of space activities—from frequencies for weather, navigation and communication satellites, plus those reserved for radio astronomers, to a frequency to be used by space vehicles in distress.

The problems tackled by the 400 delegates were extremely technical, but a spirit of co-operation and harmony prevailed throughout the deliberations.

Nations CAN co-operate when it is to the advantage of all.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Walter Reuther is worth listening to once a year, if for no other reason than to let the people who disagree with him get mad at him all over again.

Reuther regularly uses the annual convention of the AFL-CIO Industrial Union Department for his state of the universe message to tell what's wrong with everything from his point of view. And this year's oration was in his usual angry, oratorical style.

He is still just as red-headed and full of beans as ever. He talked for an hour and a half. To his credit, he is one of the few speakers in the country today who can hold even captive audiences that long. Here is a highly condensed version of the highlights for those who want to argue.

—The old concepts of trade unionism no longer are adequate. Labor no longer is just an economic pressure group. Its interests are not just na-

—The people of Latin America, Africa and Asia who earn but $100 a year are not sure whether our system is best.

—America does less for its older people than any industrial country on either side of the Iron Curtain. It is a myth that America is the healthiest infant because it is lit with infant mortality.

—Labor does not argue over the competence of U. S. medical practice.

—The alliance of the National Association of Manufacturers with the American Medical Association which holds back adequate health care in this country.

—The civil rights deficit is a moral issue which raises the question of our ability to lead the free world. It is fine when the President stands at the Berlin Wall. But we have no chance to defend freedom in Berlin if we deny freedom in Birmingham. We must make sure that 100 years after the Emancipation Proclamation every American shall be a first-class citizen.

—The key deficit of all is on the job front. Our unemployment for the past 60 months has not been 5 per cent but 7 per cent, if you count the invisible unemployed.

In 1962 our unemployment rate was not 5.2 per cent but 8.5 per cent and we wasted more time through unemployment than we did through strikes. There must be a job for every able citizen. This is our top priority problem.

—The John Birch Society and the radical right today are showing more militancy than the labor movement. The superpatriots are so far to the right they consider President Eisenhower a Communist and want to impeach the chief justice. But when the John Birch Society tries to weaken social justice and the labor movement, it plays into the hands of communism.

—Our job is to get the labor movement off dead center. We should take on the responsibility as architects for a better tomorrow, to give it a sense of direction and purpose. We in the labor movement must find ourselves and help America find itself.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-9 p.m. NBC. Project 20, "That War in Korea." Richard Hamner, NBC's best writer of documentaries, has turned out an exciting, edifying, and fully chevronistic film about the Korean war. One of the grimmest chapters in our history. In addition to the battles themselves, the film covers such intimate scenes as the interminable peace talks, the invasion of an Allied POW camp which had been taken over by the inmates, the degradation of American POWs, the MacArthur story, the effect of the Korean war on the American presidential election and the armistice itself. There is a brief examination of Red brainwashing techniques which acquired 21 American turncoats, at least temporarily, for the Communist cause. The story of the Korean war is as appalling as it is inspiring, a fine hour of television with script, photography, and Robert Russell Bennett's musical background effectively turned into another triumph for producer-director Donald B. Hyatt.

9:30-10 p.m. CBS. The Beverly Hillsbillies. Quite funny, particularly hilarious when we see the Clametts out again, ostensibly costumed for what they glibly believe will be movie stardom for the family. A penniless actor (King Donovan) almost comes to a backing-a movie he'll produce with the Clametts as stars for a mere $10 million—of Clamsett money, of course. It's Banker Drysdale (Raymond Bailey) who brings them down to earth when he insists on a sample of their acting prowess. Funniest of the "actors" is Jed, decked out as a stone age Elvis Presley. Starring as the Clametts are Buddy Ebsen, Irene Ryan, Max Baer and Donna Douglas.

9:10 p.m. NBC. Espionage. "The Whistling Shrimp." Some awfully good actors have had a hard time in this pretentiously written bit of incoherent mumbo-jumbo set in the year 1974 (no, it's not even close to 1964). The story seems to concern some diplomatic chicanery involving the U. S., the Soviet Union and a new African nation. Arthur Kennedy plays a crusading columnist, Larry Gates a bewildered American diplomat with integrity, and Roscoe Lee Brown an ambassador from Africa. They're all fine as are the other members of the cast, and it's too bad they had no script to work with.

9:30-10 p.m. CBS. The Dick Van Dyke Show. A real splitter and funniest of all in a very funny cast is Sheldon Leonard as a gravel-voiced racketeer who intimidates Rob, Sally and Buddy into writing a night-club act for a strictly amateur nephew (Jack Larson). In her Sally role, Rose Marie also makes capital with some witty remarks that will be over the gangster's head but not yours.

10:11 p.m. CBS. The Danny Kaye Show. Not the best of the Kaye shows thus far, but certainly worthwhile, particularly a clever opening sketch.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 14 and I love to play football. I have quite a few girl friends who play tackle football with me every Friday and Saturday night. If girls can play tackle football as well as boys, and are willing to take the chance of getting hurt, why don't they let girls play on the team?

LEFT OUT

DEAR LEFT: It's bad enough when a BOY gets his teeth kicked out. Contact sports are NOT for young ladies. You'll have to learn how to intercept a pass some other way.

DEAR ABBY: I was recently married to a divorced man who has one married daughter living out of the state. She didn't take it very well when she heard that her father had remarried. Now she wants us to come to visit her, but I am not so sure I will be accepted. My husband refuses to go without me and he says he is certain that I will be treated with respect. Please rush your answer to me as my husband has a new grandson he has never seen and is eager to make the trip.

ON THE FENCE

DEAR ON: Go. But leave at home that chip on your shoulder or it will be a plank by the time you get there.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has been on the same job 24 years. He has only one more year to go before he retires, provided he doesn't get caught stealing. This has been going on for about three years. I've begged him to stop, but he won't listen to me. Most of the things he has brought home are expensive, but he has absolutely no use for them. They're just hidden away. I have lost all respect for him. He has always been a clean and honest man. I can't understand it. If I turn him in, he'll lose his job and our children will be disgraced. He reads DEAR ABBY. May he will listen to you.

THIEF'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your husband appears to be a sick man. A thief takes things he wants and needs. A kleptomaniac has a compulsion to take things whether he needs them or not. I urge you to get your husband to a doctor. Psychiatrists have been able to cure kleptomaniacs. A kleptomaniac is as morally blameless as, say, a diabetic.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ARTHUR. Don't say you "hate" dancing if you don't know how. Learn, and then decide.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3363, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The contract bridge summary recently published by Albert Morehead follows: "If you have a choice of plays in order to establish a trick or tricks you should play so as to keep the opponent who can make a destructive lead from getting in."

Today's hand as played by George Rapee of New York illustrates this type of play. He won the opening club lead with dummy's queen and promptly led a low heart toward his own hand. East played the four and George played the nine. He was afraid of a spade lead from East and was going to avoid letting him get in.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Early marriage interferes with a college student's education, says Chancellor Dean E. Melieny of the University of California at Santa Cruz.

So when this brand new university opens its doors two years from now its students aren't going to have marriage made easy for them.

Says the chancellor: "Santa Cruz won't prohibit student marriage, but we won't make playing house easy. We will not provide married student housing for undergraduates. A great number of college students rush into marriage because we've made it so easy. And often they soon hate each other. They grow apart intellectually. The wife drops out to put her husband through. Then she gets pregnant and never goes back to class. They wind up in a divorce court."

Now if the parents of the students who will attend the new school will get just as tough as the administration, there ought to be fewer campus marriages at Santa Cruz than at most of our coeducational colleges.

All parents have to do to back up the administration is let their sons and daughters know before they ever enroll as freshmen that the day they marry they are financially on their own.

"Playhouse"—as the chancellor describes these college marriages—wouldn't seem nearly so romantic if the young couple knew that once they were married they couldn't count on their parents paying their bills.

A generation ago college students accepted the fact that marriage came AFTER graduation. They can be made to accept that fact again if "playing house" isn't made easy for them either by their colleges or their parents.

Alabama Jury To Question RFK

United Press International
An Alabama grand jury probing the Justice Department's role in the state's racial strife will go to Washington Monday to question U. S. Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy.

The entire 18-man Dallas County (Selma) grand jury plus Circuit Judge James Hare and Solicitor Blanchard McLeod Monday accepted a Justice Department offer to make witnesses available to a "representative" of the panel.

The grand jury had issued subpoenas ordering attorneys in the department's civil rights division to appear before it in Selma with records of their activities. But this move was blocked last week by a federal court preventing such subpoenas.

Foreman Robert D. Wilkinson Jr. said Monday the panel wanted to ask Kennedy whether any Justice Department officials "had any part in enticing children away from school . . . to participate in street demonstrations," whether they "acted in any manner contributing to the delinquency of minors," and whether they "aided, encouraged or abetted in provoking riots, insurrection, or civil disobedience" in Selma.

Probe Group Names Director

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The chairman of the controversial legislative investigating committee announced the second step in revamping the group Monday with the appointment of a staff director.

John Evans, former press assistant to Gov. Farris Bryant, was named to the $14,500 post and will take over officially Dec. 1, although he actually started to work Monday, said Rep. Richard O. Mitchell of Tallahassee.

Mitchell, chairman of the committee, said Evans' experience as state director of cold war education would make him "invaluable in the work of the committee."

Commonly known as the "Johns Committee," the investigating group was created to look into subversion and homosexual activity. Mitchell said most of the group's activities over the coming two years would be centered on sniffing out openings in internal security.

Football Tactics Foil Robber

BRISTOL, England (UPI)—Like a pair of razzle-dazzle football players, two bank messengers executed a bit of teamwork that foiled a would-be robber.

Pretty 21-year-old Jill Paget and Leonard Norrish, 30, were just going into a bank. The bandit came running toward them.

He lunged for Norrish's bag, which contained $1,741. Norrish faked, then lateraled the bag to Miss Paget.

In motion, Miss Paget gathered the lateral in as she raced through the bank's doors.

The robber, discouraged jumped on a motorcycle and got away.

Antarctica Bases To Be Inspected

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department selected a nine-man team, including biologists, nuclear experts and diplomats, to inspect Antarctica bases of Russia and other countries.

Between now and March the group will visit scientific installations to check for any violations of the 12-nation treaty that reserves Antarctica for peaceful purposes. The treaty provides for such inspection.

First Oil Well

United Press International
The first commercial oil well was drilled in 1859 at Titusville, Pa., in a search for petroleum which could be distilled as a better fuel than whale oil, according to the American Petroleum Institute.
