New Highway Map Of County Published

The State Road Department has published a new general highway map of Seminole County, Road Board Chairman John R. Phillips announced today.

The new map replaces one that has been in use since 1951.

It was compiled from U. S. Geological Survey maps, General Land Office surveys, aerial photography, and field inventory surveys of all rural roads by the State Road Department.

The map was prepared under a cooperative agreement with the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads. The actual work of producing the map was accomplished under the direction of Jon Beazley, the Road Department's Engineer of Photogrammetry.

The new Seminole map shows 132 miles of state-maintained highways and 433 miles of county and private roads. It is published in three sheets. One sheet includes the county proper and the other two sheets are enlarged insets of the congested areas.

The new map adds the finished portion of Interstate 4 at Lake Monroe, the new incorporated town of North Orlando, 1960 U. S. Census population figures, and airports, parks and boat ramps.

Beazley said the map reflects a conscientious effort by the Road Department to show all communities and landmarks in more detail than on any previous publication.

Many features that appeared on the previous map are also indicated on the new map. They include all rural dwellings, businesses, fire lookout towers, schools, churches, airports, triangulation stations and all large swamps and marshes.

The black and white planimetric maps are published at the scale of one inch equals one mile and one-half inch equals one mile for the map proper sheet. The two supplemental inset sheets are at a scale of 5 inches equals one mile and 2.5 inches equals one mile. These maps may be purchased through the Supply Unit, State Road Department, Holland Building, Tallahassee.

The one-half inch equals one map sheet and the two-inch equals one mile supplemental sheets cost 30 cents a sheet, plus tax.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Fair Solution

Working in close cooperation with developers, Seminole County Commissioners have a plan that has solved the problem of road maintenance in the many non-urban subdivisions springing up in the county.

Under the plan, the developers have the responsibility.

First they must build good streets, then they must maintain them properly for a year and turn them over to the county after an inspection.

This frees the county of the possibility of being stuck with shoddy, makeshift streets. Maybe it's not quite what some of the developers wanted under the plat law, but it puts them in the good graces of the Federal Housing Administration and protects our citizens.

North Orlando Council Approves Phone Change

By MONA GRINSTEAD

North Orlando Village officials announced at the monthly council meeting Monday that future telephone service in the area, except in the Ranch Home Section, will come from the Sanford Southern Bell exchange.

The area has been serviced by both Southern Bell and the Winter Park Telephone Co. in the past. Decision to switch to the Sanford exchange came after at least two letter surveys by both companies during the past 12 months indicated that the majority of residents preferred to standardize the service.

In other business, the council voted to draft a resolution to the County Commission recommending and requesting that a traffic light be installed at the Hwy. 17-92 and Longwood-Oviedo Rd. intersection. The light plus illumination of the road into the Village when the repaving is completed, will eliminate the hazardous conditions that presently exist, council members said.

Approval for vapor type street lights along the Longwood-Oviedo Rd., which after the construction work is completed officially will become "North Orlando Drive," was announced earlier this summer.

Mayor Frank Fasula, reporting building progress in the community, said that carpenters soon are to begin work on the shuffleboard courts at the Recreation Park and that clearing and surveying of the area already is underway. He said, too, that he was planning to inquire about getting the lake cleaned and stocked for fishing.

Chuluota Residents To Organize Disaster Committee

Chuluota residents have been notified of a meeting at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the Community House to organize a volunteer disaster committee for the area.

Harold McBride, chairman of the Civil Defense Committee sponsored by the Chuluota American Legion Post, said today that a representative of Seminole County CD Headquarters will address the group and, if enough people attend, a Personal Survival Course will be arranged for the month of December.

McBride appointed Mrs. Carol Jepson and Mrs. Virginia Chadwick to assist with organization of the committee and to serve as its temporary secretaries.

Mrs. Chadwick reported this morning that she and Mrs. Jepson signed 40 volunteers at the Labor Day Barbecue which was sponsored by the Legion Post and that they expect many more to attend Tuesday's meeting.

She stressed that work of the committee will be to handle, in addition to that of a nuclear attack, all types of disaster emergencies which could arise from fire, flood, hurricane or tornado.

New Math Teacher

Mrs. L. H. Webb whose husband is executive vice president of the Oviedo Citizen's Bank, has been appointed as math teacher at the Oviedo High School.

Oviedo Town Council Makes Provision For New Fire House

The City Commission of Oviedo made provisions Tuesday night at its monthly meeting to build a new fire house to house three pieces of equipment. The Fire Department was allotted $10,000 in the $37,780 budget adopted for 1961-62. Most of the $10,000 will go for the construction of the fire house.

In discussing the need for larger quarters for the equipment, Mayor M. Lee Gary said that now one fire engine has to stand out in the weather because the department has room for only two engines in its present building.

Annexation of Round Lake Terrace, a proposed residential development on a tract of land about 10 acres on Round Lake, was brought before the meeting by J. Y. Harris, chairman.

He asked for a motion to adopt an ordinance for annexation, but no one on the commission proposed the ordinance and the motion died.

The Commission included funds in the Police Department budget for a new patrol car. It was pointed out in discussion about this item that the present car is too old to be economically repaired and that a new car would cost less in the long run.

The commission did not authorize actual purchase of the car pending the gathering of more information as to cost, equipment, etc.

Repairs to the traffic light were authorized after Harris reported that the light was not operating properly.

Paving to the street in front of the Negro elementary school at a cost of approximately $4,000 was approved with the inclusion of funds in the budget for this project.

DeBary Resident Busy, Busy, Busy

By MRS. ADAM MULLER

Miss Barbara Bedient, a DeBary resident whose home is on Lakewood Dr., is one of the community's busiest young women.

In addition to her teaching duties at Orange City, she is an active member of the DeBary Business and Professional Women's Club and is organizer at the DeBary Community Methodist Church. This summer she was swimming coach for the DeLand Recreational Program where she also served as an archery instructor at the Day Camp.

Before moving to this community, she taught in Long Island schools at Roosevelt and Levittown. She received her swimming instructor's license from the National Aquatic School at Mahopac, N. Y.; her masters degree in elementary education from Hofstra, Hempstead, N. Y. and music degrees from Hartwick College, Oneonta, N. Y.

Now that her busy summer schedule is at an end, Miss Bedient is planning extra course study at Stetson.

Optometrist Opens Fern Park Office

By BETTIE SMITH

Dr. James R. Prater Jr., latest addition to South Seminole's growing list of new medical men, opened offices Tuesday at Fern Plaza, Hwy. 17-92 and SR 436.

A graduate of Southern College of Optometry, Memphis, Tenn., he received his BS degree after pre-med training in Alabama, his native state.

His wife, Judith, of Wichita, Kan., attended Loretta Heights College in Denver, Colo.

The Praters have three sons, Tim, Rusty and Sammy and are residing on Forest Ave. in Altamonte Springs.

The doctor has served as an officer at Ft. Benning, Ga., where he completed basic officers training courses and paratroop training. He will offer, here, complete eye examination for all visual difficulties and is trained and has equipment for prescribing and fitting contact lenses.

Lake Mary Club To Meet Tuesday

Mrs. Leonard A. Dunn, publicity chairman of the Lake Mary Home Demonstration Club, announced today that regular luncheon meetings will resume this month with the first scheduled at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday at the Lake Mary Fire Hall.

Mrs. Joe Wright and Mrs. William Heinbuch will be hostesses for the day.

VFW Post 8207 Plans Barbecue

South Seminole VFW Post 8207 will sponsor a chicken barbecue with serving scheduled between the hours of 2 p. m. and 7 p. m. Sunday at the Women's Club of Casselberry.

Commander Art Block reports that all proceeds from the event will be added to the building fund for the new Post Home to be located on Jasmine Ave. near SR 436.

Mrs. Irene March, Auxiliary president, advises that members of this group will assist with preparations and serving of the meal.

She advises, too, that some lucky person attending the event will receive a nice door prize, which will be awarded during the afternoon.

Official To Visit VFW District Meet

Mrs. Irene March, president of the South Seminole VFW Post 8207 Auxiliary, said today that the Department President will attend the district meeting to be held in Deland Saturday.

The session is scheduled to begin at 8 a. m. Mrs. March reported, and all groups of district eight are urging a large attendance to welcome Mrs. Thelma Bennett on her official visit.

Party Planned For Art Center; Final Study Demonstration Held

By MRS. ADAM MULLER

A benefit card party for the DeBary Art Center, Federation of Art Center has been scheduled for Sept. 18 at 1 p. m. at the Mansion.

Mrs. A. McNaughton, chairman of the event, has announced that tickets now are available.

Although there are no art demonstrations scheduled for the fall sessions, students and guests attending the final demonstration of the summer session by Mrs. Anne E. Luke, resident artist for the closing weeks, agreed that it was one of the most inspiring ever to be held at the DeBary Center.

Using oils, Mrs. Luke created scenes of the annual four seasons. Starting with winter, she painted a pretty snow scene; turned the scene to one of autumn with all its glorious colors and on to summer which she said showed "God's handiwork in full bloom" finally, she came to the spring of budding trees and flower gardens, all in delicate pastel.

As she worked, Mrs. Luke asked her audience to remember the preceding scenes as she painted over each, leaving the spring scene for the completed canvas.

Longwood Area C of C To Meet

By BETTIE SMITH

Regular monthly meetings of the Longwood Area Chamber of Commerce will be resumed with next Thursday's 8 p. m. meeting in the Civic League Building.

New officers of the group, elected at an August board meeting at the home of Elton Heath, include E. P. Richards, president; W. F. Litke, vice president and program chairman and Miss Dorothy Heath, secretary.

All members are urged to attend the next meeting and to bring a friend in an effort to strengthen the area group.

Howell Park Holds Labor Day Event

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Members of the Howell Park Civic Assn. sponsored an all day Labor Day Celebration at their newly completed ball diamond.

The event opened at 10:30 a. m. with softball and volleyball games for the youngsters and continued through the day until 6:30 p. m. Highlight of the afternoon was a softball game between the men and women with the latter sex winning 5-4.

Much of the credit for the day's success, association officials say, should go to James A. Cooper, president, Charles Basinger, recreation chairman and Mrs. Basinger who was in charge of refreshments.

A report from Mrs. Basinger revealed that 10 dozen hot dogs, quantities of popcorn and several cases of soft drinks were consumed during the day.

Party A Success

Members of the American Legion Old Glory Post 183 formed nine tables of play at a benefit card party held at the home of Mrs. Minty Warren. Funds from the event will be used to further work of the group.

Chuluota Couple Adopts Korean Orphan

Kong Sul Kyong, a beautifully and delicately featured little Korean orphan girl who was born in Seoul on Jan. 10, never will have to answer to this name for her adopted parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Weaver of Chuluota, have given her the American name of "Jeanette Iola."

Later this month Jeanette will be christened by Rev. Ben F. West at the Chuluota Community Church with her grandfather, Walter Weaver of Lockhart and her grandmother, Mrs. Iola S. Taylor of Balto, Md., as Godparents.

The only one of this state's 12 adopted Korean children in Central Florida, Jeanette's adoption certificate was approved last April 14 but her arrival in this country and subsequent delivery to the Weavers was delayed by immigration officials of the Miami headquarters. Assistance from Sen. Spessard L. Holland however, brought about visa approval just in time for her to be included in the last group of Korean infants and children to be allowed in America under the existing orphan immigration bill. A similar bill to extend the program through June 30, 1963, passed the Senate on July 14 and now is before the House of Representatives, the Judiciary Committee and the Immigration Subcommittee.

Although this caused the longest delay, it wasn't the last, for the baby-lift flight, scheduled to set down at Portland International Airport on July 8, was only three hours and 20 minutes out of Korea when one of the four engines failed and the plane had to turn back to Japan. During the 30 hour hold-up a second development of motor failure resulted in transfer of the 64 infants and 22 older children to another Korean airliner. The flight across took 24 hours and on the trip 3,000 diapers and 1,000 bottles of milk were used by the doctor and the 12 adults serving as nurses and baby-sitters.

Expectant parents, friends and relatives awaiting the plane's arrival in Portland received many kindnesses from the people there and the airport arranged for Sunday worship services to be conducted on the mezzanine. Finally, at 9:30 a. m. on July 11, Mrs. Weaver, along with the many other anxious parents, saw the plane with its precious cargo touch the runway.

All in all Mrs. Weaver says, the entire adoption procedure actually took little more than six months. It began when she saw a wire photo of a Korean child who came to America through the adoption plan some time ago.

She wrote to Dr. Harry Holt who established the Holt Adoption Agency at his ranch-type farm home in Creswell, Ore., in 1956 asking for information on the operation and steps of procedure. Dr. Holt, who calls himself "one of immigrations biggest headaches," has arranged for at least 2,400 Korean babies and children to be brought into this country by adoption. After the July flight which saw the present quota filled, the Holts moved to Korea to care for "their children" over there. They have adopted eight of these children and have six of their own. "Seed from the East," written by Mrs. Holt, is a touching and inspirational account of the family and its experiences since Dr. Holt established the agency.

Mrs. Weaver reports that adoption procedures are very similar to those of this country requiring the same legal documents as to status of parents' eligibility. Each family also must pass a study of the home and environment by the agency and from the immigration officials.

The Chuluota parents, who have two older children, Linda, 13, and Jimmy 8, are so grateful and thrilled with little Jeanette that they wish to share their happiness with other families here. To do this, Mrs. Weaver has written to Rev. Norman Minard of Seldon, N. Y., for a film on the children, the history of the Holt Agency and its experiences. When it arrives, she will show it for the public at the Chuluota Community Church at a meeting which will be announced.

"We just haven't the words to express the joy and happiness Jeanette's arrival has brought to our family," Mrs. Weaver exclaimed, "and we hope that by showing the film, many more families will become interested in sharing their homes and futures with these wonderful little children."

County Commission Adopts $1,666,050 Budget; Williams Votes No - 'Couldn't Sleep If I Did'nt

The County Commission in record time today adopted its 1961-62 budget calling for expenditures of $1,666,050, a levy of six mills and ignored a governor's order to beef up Civil Defense operations here.

The board ruled out any additional money for Civil Defense despite Governor Farris Bryant's request that Seminole County, as well as all other counties in the state, bring its civil defense up to standards.

The vote was 3-1 to adopt the tentative budget with Commissioner Ted Williams voting no saying he "couldn't sleep nights if he voted for it."

The three other commissioners, Chairman J. C. Hutchison, James P. Avery and John Fitzpatrick said they were not satisfied with the budget but reported they had no other choice but to approve it.

Fitzpatrick called the budget a "compromise" while Hutchison said "we are providing less money for services than the previous year of $50,000 less in interest and sinking fund and additional money for the Sheriff's office."

Hutchison made a lengthy pitch for the board to raise the millage and include additional money for Civil Defense and $15,000 for re-appraisal work for the tax assessor. His motion died for a lack of a second.

Hutchison also read a message from Commissioner Vernon Dunn (hospitalized in Orlando) who suggested raising the millage by a half mill to provide for adequate civil defense, tax assessor work and a foster home program recommended by Juvenile Judge Vernon Mize in his budget.

Dunn, in his message, also requested additional funds for the county health department.

Avery asked the board to cut Chamber of Commerce appropriations from the budget and when that failed, he urged the board to stop hospital service for the indigent which would eliminate $27,000.

Williams voted along with Avery on these two recommendations while Fitzpatrick and Hutchison voted no.

The strongest statement of the day came from Avery who declared that a tax increase "in my opinion is unnecessary and would not offer a solution that could be fully justified by need."

In the statement, he declared that "there are literally tens of thousands of dollars allocated within this budget for projects this board has no legal, moral obligation to fulfill."

"These dollars would provide for foster child care, a continued program of tax appraisal, expanded civil defense and substantially contribute to enlarging the contingency fund."

"However, the majority of members of this board saw fit not to eliminate these thousands of dollars from the project to which they are presently allocated and instead consider them more important than the aforementioned program. "I am opposed in principle to parts of this budget. However, if it is not approved, the results would be injurious to the county government and I feel it is the lesser of two evils," Avery said.

Williams declared he would never vote to raise the taxes and wouldn't be able to sleep at night if he approved the budget which contained items to which he was opposed.

Fitzpatrick said he approved the budget, as a compromise, saw no use for a warning system and declared "it is not our duty to provide additional money for the tax assessor. Let her run her office within her budget," he declared.

The budget is based on estimated taxable property valuation of $182.7 million, up $7 million from last year.

Although the countywide millage will remain the same, the budget will be $74,780 less than the current fiscal schedule which runs through Sept. 30.

The general revenue calls for $612,717, a drop of $70,420, and the $805,332 road and bridge fund is $25,500 less than last year.

The fine and forfeiture allotment of $292,824 is up $25,618 and the $109,316 interest and sinking fund is about $1,000 more than last year.

The countywide levy includes 1.8 mills for general fund; 2.08 mills for road and bridge; .83 mill fine and forfeiture, and .63 mill interest and sinking fund.

Approximately $200,000 will be carried over from last year's $679,476 bond fund for construction of a new county jail and repairs to the courthouse.

Can't Be Beat

From roses to razors, from socks to sofas, hundreds of items, useful or decorative, necessities or luxuries will be offered in the Friday night specials from 5:30 to 9 p. m.

No prizes are planned by the Merchants Association for this Friday. Crowds in downtown stores reached a peak last Friday, as the new open hours find great popularity with the Seminole County populace, especially with the families.

However, merchants are interested in knowing whether or not shoppers are in favor of resuming the give-away program.

By LARRY VERSHEL
How come there are always plenty of complaints at the county's board of equalization meetings and no one ever shows up when the city holds its hearing? For the second year in a row, there were no tax complaints at the City equalization board hearing Thursday night. The $39 million tax roll was accepted and the tax bills will go out Nov. 1.

Carla Aims Fierce Punch At Coast

MIAMI (UPI)—Hurricane Carla, grown to a 125 mile an hour menace, turned to a more northwesterly course in the Gulf of Mexico today and weathermen extended a hurricane watch to the entire Texas coast.

The storm at mid-morning packed 125 mile an hour winds at its furiously spinning center and flung hurricane force winds of 75 m.p.h. or better 100 miles ahead of it to the north. Gale winds whipped out 300 miles northward from Carla's eye.

The New Orleans weather bureau in an 11 a. m. advisory located Carla near latitude 23.5 north and longitude 88.8 west, or about 460 miles south of New Orleans.

"Carla, now a major hurricane, has changed to a northwesterly course and is moving at about 10 m.p.h.," the advisory said. Continued movement to the northwest at about 10 m.p.h. was forecast.

"A hurricane watch is extended to include the entire Texas coast," the advisors said. "The hurricane watch is now in effect on the Texas coast eastward to Apalachicola, Fla."

An earlier bulletin said hurricane warnings probably would be issued tonight or Saturday for a portion of the watch area. All persons were warned to be ready to take the necessary precautions.

Residents all along the Gulf Coast were keeping close check on the big storm.

Officials planned meetings to map disaster protection programs in the event they proved necessary, and many residents busied themselves hauling boats from the water.

No Corridor Interference, Allies Warn

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Western Allies today warned Russia "in the most solemn terms" that any interference with the Berlin air corridors would be considered an "aggressive action."

In identical notes delivered in Moscow this morning, the United States, Britain, and France said, "It is the duty of all states, especially in times like these, of increasing tensions and dangers to international peace, to refrain from unilateral action to alter existing agreements and practices which cannot but further increase such tensions."

The notes said "any change" in air corridor privileges "will be the result of aggressive action against established rights by the Soviet government and the East German regime."

The U. S. note said, "The United States government wishes to repeat in the most solemn terms the warnings already given . . . against any action to interfere with flights in the air corridors to West Berlin."

This referred to an Allied note of Aug. 26 and a White House statement of Aug. 31 which said Russia would be held responsible for any action against the Berlin air corridors.

Commission Ends Equalization

The county commissioners, sitting as a board of equalization in property tax matters, today voted to hear no further complaints and adjourned, except for a short hearing on Sept. 28 in allow one more property owner to have a hearing.

The property owner who will be heard is one whose property assessment is being raised after a neighboring property owner complained that his assessment was too high.

The original petition was denied, but the board of equalization found that the adjoining property was assessed too low, although that property owner had made no complaint.

The board granted petitions in two homestead exemption matters and denied two others.

In the case of Hibbard Castellberry, who asked for a complete re-evaluation of his considerable holdings in the south end of the county, 34 of his applications were denied and about 25 were lowered.

Five pages of hated property owners were denied lowering of assessments. These contained approximately 100 names, and a much smaller list, about two pages, listed the adjusted valuations.

5 Airmen Feared Dead In Lake George Crash

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The Navy said five reservists were presumed dead in the crash of a two-engine bomber into Lake George south of here Thursday night. Six crew members survived.

The crew was on its final summer training flight when the bomber crashed into the large body of water in a remote section of northeast Florida.

Two bodies were recovered two hours after the crash.

The Navy listed the following survivors:

Lt. Cmdr. Thomas C. Thompson, Napoleon, Ohio.

Lt. Charles Fisher, Philadelphia, Pa.

Lt. (J. G.) Randolph S. Wells, Elma, N. Y.

Aviation Machinist Mate 1.C. Dean W. Cuffman, York, Pa.

Aviation Electronics Mate 2.C. William C. Estee, Silver Creek, N. Y.

Radioman 1.C. Virgil T. Krakling, Sanborn, N. Y.

The plane was from the Naval Reserve Station at Willow Grove, Pa.

Capt. Renfro Turner, commander of Fleet Air Wing 11 at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station, said the reservists aboard the P2V bomber were a part of Squadron 931 at Willow Grove. "They were due to return home tomorrow," he said.

At least two of the survivors were taken to a hospital at Palatka, about 18 miles north of the lake.

Longwood Issues Speed Warning

Repeated traffic and speeding complaints from Longwood residents brought a warning Thursday night from Longwood's City Council that a crackdown is going to be made against all offenders. A 15-mile-per-hour speed limit is set for the area and Police Chief Claude Lajo advised that this will be strictly enforced immediately.

In other business of the monthly council meeting, the board approved the year's audit report; approved a routine renewal for a beer and wine permit and set a meeting for Monday night to work on the 1961-1962 budget.

Bryant Hints Building Program May Bring NASA

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant hinted today that the $31 million educational building program to get underway soon in Florida may persuade the National Space Agency to locate its new headquarters in Florida.

Bryant told the organizational meeting of the State Junior College Advisory Board he discussed the plan in Washington Thursday with James E. Webb, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA).

"I never saw a man grow more excited over a program that did not effect him directly as Webb did over the educational program of this state," Bryant said.

Tampa and Jacksonville have made strong bids to get NASA headquarters.

The Florida building program, including a $15 million bond issue to defray half the cost, was announced by Bryant at a New York meeting earlier this week, and is expected to win Cabinet approval Tuesday by a 3-1 vote. Secretary of State Tom Adams and a handful of state legislators have blasted the bond phase of the program, but industry leaders and others have hailed it as a stepstone to rocketing Florida into the space age.

More than $3.5 million of the total spending is earmarked for junior colleges which Bryant said have been growing at a "pell-mell" pace.

Somehow, he said, "we've got to read as we run and run as we read," he told the seven-man advisory board. "We've got to plan as we go and not make mistakes that will plague us in the future."

This is my Tithe. Let us not attempt to 'tip' God for His benefits. Jesus said, "Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, and I will pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it." Mal. 3:10. Jews and Christians agree that a tenth part of one's income is the accepted tithe. He said, to those who fail to give back a tenth part... "ye have robbed me in tithes and offerings."

"The Earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof"; Psalms 24:11. May we write our tithing check freely. May we give back to the Lord a tenth of what He has so graciously and so abundantly given us. It is God's plan for financing His church. Christ approved it as the best way to carry on His work in the world. This is My Tithe.

Berserk Housewife Sets Fire To Nine Homes, Woman

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UPI)—A 44-year-old housewife armed with matches and a can of gasoline Thursday set fire to her home and touched off blazes in eight other homes in her well-to-do neighborhood.

Mrs. Helen Vernon, wife of a one-time South Bend mayor candidate, was subdued by six policemen after she sent one neighbor into hysterics and burned another neighbor who stood in her way. The injured woman was Mrs. Wilbur Warner, wife of a bank official. Mrs. Warner said the berserk woman hurled gasoline through her back door screen and struck a match. Then she poured gasoline on her and set her afire. Mrs. Warner suffered minor face and neck burns.

From Mrs. Warner's home, Mrs. Vernon stayed ahead of firemen and police in a path through seven other houses. She finally was seized and hospitalized in a maximum security ward.

A spokesman at St. Joseph's Hospital said she quickly fell asleep and was "resting comfortably." Mrs. Vernon had no explanation for the rampage, the spokesman said.

Authorities said arson charges would be filed. Damage to the Vernon home was estimated at $2,000 and considerably less at the other houses.

Mrs. Vernon's husband, Werner, an insurance man and unsuccessful Republican candidate for mayor two years ago, said his wife had been suffering from "extreme nervous tension."

Wagner, Backers Topple DeSapio As Demo Kingpin

NEW YORK (UPI)—Caroline G. DeSapio, dapper boss of Tammany Hall with a "kingmaker" record, lost his grip on the powerful New York Democratic organization today when a reform ticket swept the party's primary.

DeSapio was toppled from power with a one-two punch thrown by Mayor Robert F. Wagner and a 43-year-old Harvard-trained lawyer, James S. Lanigan, who campaigned against "boss rule."

Wagner, supported by former Sen. Herbert H. Lehman and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, beat the Tammany choice for mayor, state Comptroller Arthur Levitt, by more than 150,000 votes. And, Lanigan trimmed DeSapio for the leadership of a Greenwich Village assembly district.

The final count from the city's 4,700 election districts showed Wagner beat Levitt by a vote of 451,488 to 291,672. Lanigan defeated DeSapio by a vote of 6,165 to 4,745.

"We shed no tears," DeSapio said. "These things happen in politics."

"DeSapio must go now," Wagner said in a victory statement. The 51-year-old mayor, flexing political muscles, said other party "bosses" should be ditched with DeSapio in a complete overhauling of the Democratic organization.

Wagner did not spell out plans for revamping the party's leadership but may seek and get help from President Kennedy. The President has been disaffected with the New York organization but kept hands off in the primary.

The overthrow of DeSapio was only one of the many national political implications of the upset Wagner primary victory.

Kennedy forces now get the chance they have been looking for in shaping an organization to head off the White House ambitions of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller was only a bystander in the dirty Democratic mayoral campaign and his personal choice, state Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz, was unopposed in the Republican primary. But the outcome could affect the governor's political future.

Rockefeller backers hoped Levitt would win the primary and force a three-way race for mayor in November. This would have brightened Lefkowitz' chances of winning and giving Republicans control of the administration of the nation's biggest city.

Republicans already control the state legislature and the governor's office.

Some Republican leaders felt that with Lefkowitz in city hall Rockefeller would have a better chance of topping his $50,000 margin of 1958. They felt such a showing would impress GOP national leaders.

Sanford Man On His Way To Fame As Song Writer

By MRS. H. L. JOHNSON

A prominent young Sanford man is on his way to fame as a song writer and singer. Phillip Boyd, when he is not giving a lady a new hairdo in his beauty shop, can be found with a pencil and music pad composing a song. His latest composition entitled "Ask Me and I'll Tell You" will be released in about two weeks.

Phillip's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boyd of Monroe, said he has been interested in show business since he was a very small boy. His father taught him to do the Charleston and when the Boyd Band played in Sanford he would dance with it.

Phillip graduated from Seminole High with honors and entered the Armed Service where he served two years. He was sent to Germany and while there he did a song and dance act in Italy, France, Holland and Spain, receiving a standing ovation in each place which made him more ambitious than ever.

In January he made a trip to New York where he talked to Connie Frances concerning another one of his songs. This is called "Jimmie." While there he talked to several recording personalities, including Patti Page and Perry Como.

They told him they would be glad to give him advice and assistance if needed.

His songs "Ask Me and I'll Tell You" and "O Sweet Mama" are being recorded this week in Nashville, Tenn. on a RCA Victor label and will be distributed in Central Florida by the Orange Amusement Co. The records will be on sale shortly and also will be heard on all neighboring radio stations.

In the spring of '62 he hopes to record an album of popular music and also one of sacred music. He contacted the Dick Clark Agency and it is ready to help. There will be 3,000 records distributed in this area.

His wife, Mary, is very excited over his song and has confidence that it will be a smash hit at once. Mary is an accomplished vocalist and has had seven years of voice lessons. Phil's teacher, Miss Marie Broadmeyer of Orlando.

Paar Says Army Took No Special Trouble For Show

BERLIN (UPI)—Television comedian Jack Paar said today the U. S. Army went to no special effort for his filming of a scene a few feet from Communist police along Berlin's concrete curtain.

Paar said the 50 rifle-carrying American soldiers and two colonels who turned up for the filming Thursday "were just there."

"We just wanted to show them to the folks back home," Paar explained. "We requested them more or less to show to their mothers back home."

It was the biggest showing the U. S. Army had yet made along the concrete wall that divides West and East Berlin, but the Army treated it as routine.

"There was an operational changeover of units in progress," a spokesman for the U. S. Berlin command said. "In an effort to accommodate a representative of an information medium, Mr. Paar was permitted to do his filming at this time. He took advantage of the opportunity."

The filming for Paar's TV show took place at the Friedrichstrasse crossing point, a break in the concrete and barbed wire barrier the Communists have erected along the 26-mile-long Berlin border to keep East Germans from fleeing to the West.

Normally 10 or 12 American soldiers are stationed at the crossing point, but Thursday heavily armed GIs were all over the place. Col. Wayne M. Winder of Sheridan, Ill., and Col. John L. Deane of San Francisco, commanding the 3rd and 2nd Battle Groups, 6th Infantry, were on hand in full combat gear.

Paar said he had had lunch with Deane previous to the filming and "we asked him to bring along a few of the boys to show to the folks back home."

UAW, GM Try To Settle Dispute

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers and General Motors tried today to settle 16,000 plant level disputes, including a violent Pittsburgh strike, which could hold up final agreement on a new contract.

The UAW and GM Thursday announced economic terms of a new three-year contract for 310,000 workers. The settlement would mean 12 cents an hour in workers' paychecks this year alone, the UAW said.

Both sides emphasized that the national economic agreement, patterned after a recent American Motors contract, would not go into effect until the local problems were solved.

UAW president Walter P. Reuther and GM vice president Louis G. Seaton said they hoped the plant disputes could be settled soon. But there was an air of pessimism on the union side, particularly in view of a violence-marked Pittsburgh strike.

Workers went on wildcat strikes at the Pittsburgh plant and two other key stamping plants at Mansfield, Ohio, and Marion, Ind., when the UAW extended a strike deadline from last Wednesday to next Monday.

Seaton warned Reuther Thursday that the walkouts or GM would have to close down all car operations in a matter of days for lack of parts.

The workers at Mansfield and Marion agreed Thursday night to reopen their plants. But trouble broke out at Pittsburgh which stayed on strike.

A picket was struck by a plant manager's car. And a union leader said he was beaten by strikers when he tried to escort a GM official through the picket lines.

Episcopal Women Call Meeting

A special meeting of Longwood's Christ Church Episcopal Churchwomen has been called for 8 p. m. Monday.

All members are urged to attend and have been requested to meet in the Parish Hall adjacent to the Church on Church St.

Wayfarers To Meet

DeBary Wayfarers, who will meet at 2:30 p. m. Monday at the Community Center, have been urged to bring with them a Masonic neighbor to bear Judge Albert D. Williams speak on "The Duties of the Justice of the Peace."

Civic Meeting Set

The Forest City Civic Assn. will hold its monthly meeting at 8 p. m. Monday in the Forest City Baptist Church on Lake Brantley Rd., Forest City.

Ain't In Dictionary Now

NEW YORK (UPI)—You may have been taught it is uncouth to say "ain't." But it ain't. The subject of debate among grammarians for years, has finally gained official acceptance as a word that can be used in even the most genteel conversations.

If you don't believe it, just look it up in the dictionary—the forthcoming "Webster's Third New International Dictionary."

The controversial term is one of 100,000 new words and meanings which appear in the updated

2,720-page dictionary, the first publication in 27 years of a completely new Merriam-Webster Unabridged Dictionary. It will be published Sept. 23 by G. & C. Merriam Co. and will cost $47.50.

In settling the "ain't" question, the new dictionary calls it a word that is "used orally in most parts of the United States by cultivated people."

The new volume also clears up another tricky grammatical problem by asserting that there are some prepositions you can end a sentence with.

The Merriam company spent $2.5 million to put the book together and culled the entries from a constantly updated file of 10 million words as used in modern context.

"The recent explosion of language has forced into everyday usage an avalanche of bewildering new verbal concepts, ranging from A-bomb, astronaut, beatnik, den mother and fringe benefit to satellite, solar house, wage dividend and zen," said Gordon J. Gallan, president of the Merriam company.

Field Practice Event Held For 5-H Club

Seminole County Equestrians held a practice day for the newly formed 5-H Club at the Ride-A-While Stables, Labor Day.

First the clover leaf race was run and all errors were explained and suggestions made to improve form and speed.

The hollow log race was done in the same manner and disqualifying errors in both events explained as they were made.

English pleasure riding and jumping were explained and demonstrated next by Dick Richardson, Miss Carla Lee Noel and Miss Lynn McRoberts.

Following this all 5-H members tried their hand at jumping their horses.

Miss Sandra McKinney then gave a class lesson in western pleasure riding. This class is judged 75 percent on the horses' manners, way of going and conformation, and 25 percent on the rider's ability.

After the field events the 5-H Club held a brief business meeting. Members present were Carla Lee Noel, Kay White, Beth Betha, Pat Betha, Marilyn Washburn, Carolyn Washburn, Bobby Glenn, Sharon Giles, Becky Giles, Jimmy Giles, Raymond Freeman, Paul DeRose, Robin Starnes and Huster Lawton.

Seminole County Equestrians and guests present were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Giles, Bill Erickson, Tom Stitzer, Father and Mrs. John Griffith, Nan Washburn, Ruth Betha, Sandra McKinney and Dick Richardson.

Turf Management Conference Planned

Final plans have been announced for the Ninth Annual Turf-Grass Management Conference to be held at the University of Florida Sept. 12-14, according to Cecil Tucker, Seminole County Agent.

A number of Seminole County Turf Growers and Dealers, Horticultural Spraymen, Landscapers and Parks and Golf Club Superintendents are expected to attend.

Following a welcome from Dr. M. A. Brooker, dean of the College of Agriculture, the afternoon program will be devoted to discussions on the importance of nitrogen to turf grasses, featuring Experiment Station workers.

A Tuesday evening program will include a turf-grass certification movie, a film depicting water movement in the soil, and the annual business meeting of the Florida Turf-Grass Association.

Wednesday morning, the conference will be divided into five sections. Discussions will be aimed at golf turf; turf nurseries; retail dealers and garden supply operators; playfields, parks and cemeteries; and horticultural spraymen.

A full morning's program is scheduled in each of the five sections, with speakers from the Agricultural Experiment Stations and the turf-grass industry.

A tour of the University's Horticultural Research Unit will highlight the Wednesday afternoon program. Visitors will observe various research studies underway at the University.

The ninth annual Turf Banquet will be held Wednesday night, with W. M. Field, provost for agriculture at the University, as toastmaster. Principal speaker on the program will be Dr. Frank Goodwin, professor of marketing.

During the final session Thursday morning, turfmen will hear a report on 1961 turf research studies.

Research reports will deal with insect, disease, nematode and weed control, the turf research program in south Florida; and the Gainesville research program. The conference will adjourn at noon Thursday.

For more detailed information contact the Seminole County Agricultural Agent's office, FAIRfax 2-2333, Court House, Sanford.

Survival Course Interest Here High

Interest in current Personal Survival Courses being conducted in Seminole County by the Adult Education Program and Civil Defense Headquarters is running unusually high, department officials reported today.

Due to a shortage of film strips used in the course, only three classes can be conducted in any one month. Tom Richey and James H. Hardin are instructors qualified at the present time to teach the course, however, it is anticipated that an instructor at Crooms Academy will be qualified in the near future.

Already underway for this month are classes each Tuesday at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints and each Thursday in North Orlando.

A class for interested citizens of Sanford will open Monday night at Seminole High School.

Signed for October are the Seventh-Day Adventists Church, Florida State Bank and Slavia School; for November are Seminole Memorial Hospital, Southside Elementary School and the Navy Officers' Wives Club and for December, the Community of Chuluota.

Any person, group or organization interested in sponsoring a class is asked to call FA 2-6139 before noon or FA 2-1939 later in the day. There are no charges for the instruction and materials are furnished.

Anchor Club Meets At Horner Home

The Anchor Club of Seminole High School held its August business meeting at the home of Della Horner in Loch Arbor.

Following a brief executive board meeting, the regular meeting was called to order by President, Mary Helene Washburn.

Reports were heard from the secretary, Della Horner and treasurer, Sharon Riser.

Dues, standing rules and money-making projects were discussed and Cheryl Chandler gave a report on the trip made by several members to the old folks home on Hwy. 17-92.

The club decided that several members would go each Saturday to visit, read aloud to and entertain the people living there.

Present at the meeting were Miss Lucy Newlin, Pilot Club Advisor and Mrs. Virginia Burney, faculty sponsor.

Members who attended were Frank Ballard, Allison Blake, Cheryl Chandler, Carolyn Gillyard, Sharon Riser, Ann Schumacher, Mary Helene Washburn, Louise Higginbotham, Roberta Rankin and Carolyn Turner and the hostess.

Prospective members present were Ruth Carlson, Bonnie Galloway, Debbie Scott, Jo Ann Zeigler, Merritt Phillips, Betty Ann Brandt, Rhoda Epstein, Cindy Lake and Linda Mills.

Casselberry Girl Home From Student Church Conference

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Miss Eleanor Zukowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Zukowski of 631 N. Lake Triples Dr., Casselberry, returned home this week from attending the Seventh Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Student Movement at the University of Illinois in Urbana, Ill.

Miss Zukowski was one of 115 college students from this state attending the conference at which she represented Florida Southern of Lakeland. Total enrollment numbered 3,000 and each of the 50 states and many foreign countries sent representatives.

On display there were many cultural exhibits showing the art, architecture, drama and film from the countries sending students who were privileged to hear many interesting speakers on such topics as faith and art in the church.

Miss Zukowski managed, during the Aug. 28 through Aug. 31 conference, to meet one person from each state and each country in attendance.

The remainder of her summer was spent at the Methodist Youth Camp near Leesburg where she served as a counselor. Now, she plans to work until January at which time she will continue her study at Florida Southern.

Oviedo To Hear Island Missionary

Rev. C. L. Spottswood, missionary to the Philippines, will be guest speaker at the 11 a. m. service of the First Methodist Church in Oviedo Sunday.

Rev. Spottswood is a former minister of the Oviedo church and is spending this year in Gainesville where he is associate minister of the church there. Next year, he and Mrs. Spottswood and their four children will return to the Islands.

He will speak Sunday, on his work with the Philippines. He pilots his own plane from place to place and has written a book entitled "Beyond Cotabato" about his experiences. His talk should prove to be interesting to the children as well as to adults.

Rev. Ben Blackburn, pastor of the church, advised.

Challenge-Response

Most communities will watch with more than ordinary interest an innovation being carried out by a hospital in Winston-Salem, N. C. It is a "minimal care" building, an adjunct to the regular hospital, for patients who are convalescing or do not require complete hospital care.

The unit, a former student nurses' residence is described in the professional journal Hospitals. It was opened when a survey showed that at least one out of five patients did not really need the full hospital facilities.

It has been found that the minimal care unit requires only one employe for every three patients as against nearly three employes for every patient in the regular hospital.

As a result, patients pay, in some instances, only half as much for a room as they would ordinarily.

They administer their own medicines, eat in a cafeteria and have greater freedom from hospital routine.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Clara is emotionally upset because of divorce. How does the Catholic sacrament of a marriage differ from the usual civil divorce? The Bible views killing, as per one of the Ten Commandments, yet in time of war Catholics, Jewish and most Protestant churches send their youth to battle. So there are many conflicting rules in the Bible that require us to see "horse sense."

CASE J-488: Clara K., aged 42, presents a perplexing modern problem.

"Dr. Crane," she began fearfully, "I am in a terrible state of mind."

"For 20 years I was married and did everything I know how to make my husband happy."

"I never refused him physical affection and I kept a nice home. I also reared my children as well as I knew how."

"Meanwhile I was active in the Y and my church and I tried to be neat and attractive to my husband."

"But he started drinking heavily and consorting with other women. Finally he actually became a skid row alcoholic."

"He demanded a divorce, apparently because of interest in some other woman, so we have been divorced for 4 years."

"But a few months ago I met a fine, Christian gentleman. My children are fond of him and he has asked me to marry him. But do we have the right? Doesn't the Bible veto marriage of divorced people?"

"The Roman Catholic church and many other Protestant sects view divorce with disfavor."

"Instead, the Roman Catholic Church often permits an annulment of such a marriage as Clara's even after many years of wedlock and the presence of teen-age children, for it argues there was no true marriage at the outset."

"Some Protestant faiths permit divorce only in case of adultery."

"But sometimes a drunken husband is so cruel and beats both his wife as well as his children, till our courts have regarded divorce as a wise measure, even without adultery."

If you are a close Bible student, you will remember that Christ's Apostles came to him one day to remind him that he owed poll tax.

Do you remember what Jesus did? He didn't refuse to abide by the laws of the land, but paid the tax.

Moreover, he warned his followers to be subject to the laws of the land.

Well, our modern American laws permit divorce on specific grounds. They are the law of the land.

So a divorced woman like Clara has submitted to the laws of America, as per Christ's advice.

Our Scientific Marriage Foundation, which is matching approximately 7,500 compatible men and women each month, debated this issue at the outset.

"Should we accept divorced people?" I asked the Advisory Board at our first meeting.

The Advisory Board includes leading members of Jewish, Catholic and Protestant denominations.

Obviously, that was a difficult question. But the general attitude of the Board was to accept Applicants if they were legally entitled to remarry as per the state laws where they were located.

"But doesn't the Bible veto divorce?" you may protest, quite logically.

Yes, it does, but it also vetoes killing, yet our nations declare war and compel young men to go forth and slay other human beings.

Catholics, Jews and most Protestants abhor killing, remembering one of the Ten Commandments "Thou shalt not kill."

But Catholics, Jews and most Protestant faiths made no attempt to prevent their members from enlisting with Uncle Sam, for that was the law of the land.

Since divorce, under supposedly adequate cause, are also the law of the land, you folks who are divorced should feel in no more turmoil of conscience than those who go to war despite the commandment "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

'MOUNTAIN COMES TO MOHAMMED'

From Rome

Henry McLemore

ROME, Italy—Expect this headline any day now:
ROME MOTHER POPS AMERICAN MOTHER ON NOSE IN PARK AMERICAN MOTHER POPS BACK.

The fight, when it comes, will be over how babies should be dressed in the summer.

Italian mothers believe that babies should be dressed as if Rome had the same climate as Little America. They wrap, roll, and swaddle their babies in wool from head to foot, no matter if the thermometer reads 90 and above.

When they see an American mother, wheeling or carrying her baby with as little clothes as possible, they always frown, often scold, and sometimes walk over and deliver a lecture on the danger of pneumonia, frostbite, chilblains, and assorted miseries.

This has been known to bring about hot arguments, with mind-your-own-business being passed back and forth, and angry stamping of feet.

The battle does not begin and end with babies. It carries on with children up to eight and ten years of age.

Italian parents take their children to Rome's numerous and lovely parks to play, but they do not dress them for play. When a Rome child goes for an airing he is dressed to the hilt. He or she has on his or her Sunday best. Satins and velvets, ribbons and bows, sashes and buttons, and fancy shoes. The Italians want their children to cut a bella figura, and will do without themselves to give their offspring the latest and fanciest in clothes.

They are horrified by the way Americans in Rome send their children out to play—blue jeans, T-shirts, battered sneakers.

They are appalled, too, by the way American parents allow their children to get wet in fountains, dirty in sand and rock piles, and take "risks" climbing onto and jumping off ancient ruins, with which Rome abounds.

Italian children play close under the watchful eyes of their parents or nurses. Let them stray a few yards and they are called back, let them get dirty and they are spanked and reprimanded.

The Italians feel sorry for the poor, neglected, run-down-at-the-heel American children.

Americans in Rome feel sorry for the dressed up, supervised, and never-let-alone Italian kids.

To the American mother in Rome it is easy to account for the not blood Italians are supposed to have. By the time they are one year of age they have been wrapped in enough wool to keep their blood boiling for a lifetime.

Indeed, it might be that the bikini, an Italian girl's revolting against the yards and yards of cloth in which they were wrapped in childhood.

Three Possible Reasons Why Reds Decided To Resume Bomb Tests

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst

One week after the Russians announced they were resuming nuclear weapons tests, there was general agreement that they had submitted themselves voluntarily to a tremendous worldwide propaganda setback.

But in that period there has emerged no clear explanation as to why they did it.

Since the Russians themselves were of no particular help, it remained for the West to speculate. Three possibilities received the most attention. They were:

1. A terror tactic designed to frighten the West into capitulation to Soviet demands.

2. Soviet fear that the war talk they themselves had generated over the Berlin crisis was getting out of hand, coupled with a fear that their own weapons were inferior.

3. Some still unexplained crisis within the Communist world which had forced Nikita Khrushchev to renounce his co-existence theme even at the demonstrated cost to Soviet claims as the champion of world peace.

Of these, the first seemed the most logical and the second the least.

As a terror tactic, the development of a nuclear weapon with the blast effect of 100 million tons of TNT would be directed more against peoples than governments. Military experts agree that such a weapon loses enormously in efficiency as it increases in size. More than the destructive amount of its blast, its danger would come in the increased amount of fallout released upon the world.

And, where governments might be expected to stand firm, a frightened people might bring pressure on the government to capitulate in the belief that, to repeat a phrase, it is better to be Red than dead.

As to point No. 2, tests are not arranged over night, nor are new weapons developed and manufactured over night. Therefore, it appears that for months these Soviet tests, the first of which occurred last Friday, have been under preparation while the Soviets pretended to negotiate at the Geneva nuclear test ban conference.

Purely from a weapon standpoint, it does not seem probable that Berlin alone could be responsible for the Soviet decision to resume testing.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Full text of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's speech to the Indian parliament on the Berlin crisis provides opportunity for an interesting exercise. Take Nehru's remarks on the dispute of East vs. West on Germany and apply the same sentiments to the subject of Kashmir—which India and Pakistan can't settle—and see how they look.

There isn't space here to give the whole speech, of course. But this is how excerpts from the Prime Minister's speech would read if Kashmir is substituted for Berlin, India is substituted for East Germany, Pakistan for West Germany.

To make it easy to follow in the deliberate misquotations, I will use the substituted word is printed in single quotation marks, followed by the original word in parentheses.

"Now undoubtedly the major trouble spot or area of the world today, which has a very intimate relationship to the possibility of war or the continuance of peace is the question of 'Pakistan' (West Berlin) and 'India' (East Germany)."

"A question like this, or any situation which might lead to war, cannot be dealt with—well—by threats to each other, or by military movements and preparation for war, but primarily by leaders meeting and trying to find some way out."

"Normally one would think that the unification of 'Kashmir' (Germany) is desirable. . . . The way to prevent 'Kashmir' (German) unity is to carry on a cold war in its intensest form."

"Many years ago there was talk of a possible coming together and suggestions were made for . . . what is called disengagement. . . . an area where, if they are not completely disarmed, they are at least largely disarmed. . . . But we must be clear in our minds that all these problems can be solved by peaceful methods or else there is war. There is no third way."

"The third way may be just prolonging the present agony, carrying it to the verge of neither peace nor war. That, of course, is not a very satisfactory way, because you always live on the brink and a false step may make you topple over."

Seedling Sale Is Announced

The Florida Forest Service announced this week that its annual sale of seedlings has begun.

Pine, red cedar and cypress seedlings are available at the nominal fees charged by the service. Information can be obtained by calling Jerry Laws at Longwood, TE 8-1229 or the farm forester for Seminole County, Charles Cheliman, at CH 1-4311, Orlando.

"Now if one wants to avoid war, then the only way is to pursue peaceful methods and by peaceful methods I do not mean that either party gives up its position, but that they must deal with it in a normal manner, whether it is through diplomatic channels or through discussion of these matters. . . ."

"Now normally one would think that some kind of a treaty is desirable 16 years after the war ended."

"I would think that if unification of 'Kashmir' (Germany) is desired, the only way to bring it about peacefully, though perhaps gradually, is to increase various contacts between 'India' (East) and 'Pakistan' (West Germany)—trade contacts and the rest. . . . As it is, the very reverse is being done. The atmosphere of mutual fear is created with the result that no party is going to agree to a single step which it thinks might come in its way in case there is conflict, which it thinks might affect its prestige."

"That's all the space there is for interpolated excerpts from Nehru's important remarks. But these samples are enough to prove that it's always easy to solve other people's problems. For anyone else to try to solve YOUR problems by

Miss Ellison, Arthur Haskins Married In Baptist Ceremony

Miss Carol Lee Ellison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Thomas Ellison, became the bride of Arthur David Haskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Haskins, Sept. 7 at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

Rev. W. P. Brooks Jr., church pastor, officiated at the double ring, candlelight ceremony.

The church was decorated with palms and baskets of white and gold gladioli and pom poms.

Mrs. Marvin Milam, organist, presented a "Bridal" musical, including "O Promise Me" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a silk brocade two piece dress, with mink collar and pill box hat, with veil. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and satin ribbon streamers.

Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, aunt of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a cream silk two piece dress.

Miss Rosalyn Ratliff, bridesmaid, wore a light green silk two piece suit. Both attendants carried nosegays of pink carnations.

Ronald McMullin was best man and serving as ushers were Peter Pappas of New York City, brother-in-law of the bride and Ed Alderman.

Mrs. Ellison wore a blue silk dress with black accessories and white carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a black and white print with white accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

Guests were served refreshments from two tables. One held a three tiered wedding cake and the other a large punch bowl. Both cake and punch bowl were surrounded by fern and flanked by white candles in crystal holders.

Mrs. Tom Jennings cut the cake and Mrs. N. A. Blitch served the punch and minis. Miss Bonnie Steinhuck kept the bride's book.

Following a wedding trip to Ormond Beach, the couple will reside at 237 School Street in Lake Monroe.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Blitch and family of Venice, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pappas, New York City, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jennings of Birmingham, Ala.

Mrs. L. V. Hart has returned home after a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Bailey and other relatives and friends, in Atlanta, Ga.

Donnie Malcolm, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Malcolm, is expected to arrive home early next week from Anchorage, Alaska, where he has been stationed for most of his three years' service. He left there on Labor Day bound for Seattle, Wash., where he will leave for home from the Separation Center there.

Mrs. Esther Biesel has as her guest her brother, Earl Biesel, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Roy Weisenbarger Jr. returned to the Concordia Senior College campus in Ft. Wayne, Ind., this week where he will enter his senior year.

Oviedo residents extend sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Jack King Sr. in the loss of her father, Jasper N. Allman, who died in DeLand last week.

Stephanie Ridenour treated her parents better than her little brother, Stevie, when she came down with the mumps. She chose the time just before school started and Stevie took them during the middle of the family vacation, causing the whole family to come home from Daytona Beach.

VAH-9 Wives Say Goodbye At Coffee

Old friends were bid goodbye and newcomers welcomed as the ladies of VAH-9 met for morning coffee at the home of Mrs. Ted Wagner, wife of VAIL-9's commanding officer.

Mrs. Willy Wright and Mrs. Robert Sausse leave shortly for Pensacola and Rota, Spain, respectively. Welcomed aboard were Mrs. Warren Fordham and Mrs. Ernie Carson.

Local Events

Mr. and Mrs. John Frederick and daughter, Eleanor, and her friend, Martha Griesenstine, all from Crestline, Ohio, have been visiting Mrs. Frederick's brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Foye Shull.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren McCall Jr. will leave Sept. 13 for Gainesville to begin their sophomore year at the University of Florida. The couple (Jinx and Warren) have been spending the summer with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McCall Sr. and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Miller, in Oviedo.

Mr. and Mrs. James Michael and children enjoyed the weekend at Daytona Beach with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jenks.

SATURDAY

Social Corner Club No. 11 will meet at noon on Lake Shore Drive, near the Elks Playground, for a covered dish luncheon and meeting. Anyone (over 18 years of age) may join the newly formed club and is invited to bring a covered dish, their own table service and come to the meeting.

MONDAY

First meeting of the season for Seminola County Registered Nurses at 8 p.m. in the Public Health Building. All registered nurses in the county are urged to attend regardless of membership in the Nurses Assn.

Sanford Art Assn. meets at 7:30 p.m. at the Civic Center, for one of the few general business meetings scheduled for the year. George Cameron, scholarship student, will also give a brief report of camp activities he attended this summer. Mrs. Beth Gregory, Assn. president, urges all members to be present.

Mrs. John Moynihan, representative to the All Wives Board, reported that classes for first aid and civil defense are being formed and sponsored as interest demands. She brought to the ladies' attention that the Navy Relief Office, administered by the chaplain, needs volunteer women interviewers to speed the work of the office and handle more efficiently the requests that come to navy relief.

Mrs. Wright, representative to the Central Committee, distributed information sheets on the poison prevention campaign conducted by the committee and the NAS Medical Department. The Park Avenue Pharmacy, in conjunction with the campaign, has provided for distribution handy, complete information sheets, suitable for pasting in home medicine chests, on materials and methods of counter-doing.

Mrs. Tom Markley showed sketches of the proposed Lady Hood Owl, which is to be the group's mascot. Mrs. Gordon Kuehn spoke of a clothing drive sponsored by the wives of the USS Saratoga on behalf of an orphanage in Naples, and suggested that the VAIL-9 wives contribute to this drive. All agreed and Mrs. Kuehn will head the efforts to collect the items.

Mrs. Wagner announced new committee members: Mrs. Bob Bassett and Mrs. Ray Currie to the telephone committee, and Mrs. Tom Markley as representative to the Central Committee.

Future squadron social activities include a party hosted by Cdr. and Mrs. Wagner, a luncheon and a coffee.

Others present were Mrs. George Regan, Mrs. John Ralston, Mrs. G. W. Kimmons, Mrs. Bob Forster, Mrs. Jack Allen, Mrs. Ted Beck, Mrs. John Stufflebeam, Mrs. Robert Tolle, Mrs. William Lassen and Mrs. Leigh Ebbert.

Does Plan Meeting Monday Evening

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am terribly worried about my mother. It all started about two years ago. She started talking to herself. I thought it was just nothing, but it kept getting worse. The other day she locked herself in the lavatory for about an hour. I became worried, and asked her what was taking her so long. She said she was making contact with her brother in California. (That brother has been dead for about ten years.) Now she tells me that she makes contact with her parents (they are both dead), and she talks to herself more than ever. I love my mother very much, and want to know how I can help her. When I ask her how she feels she tells me she feels fine, so I can't suddenly rush her to a doctor. She is 58, and the nervous type. WORRIED DAUGHTER

DEAR ABBY: At present I am doing some secretarial work for my church: I am trying to bring the file cards of each member of the congregation up to date. This involves calling the members and asking them questions about themselves. One of the questions is, "When were you born?" To my surprise, many of the older members have told me that this question is too personal, and have refused to give me this information. They act as though I am prying and snooping for my own benefit. HURT CHURCH-WORKER

DEAR HURT: Assume those who are reluctant to reveal their ages that the information will be kept strictly confidential, and explain why the date of one's birth is necessary for the official church records.

CONFIDENTIAL TO EMBARRASSED: A short pencil is better than a long memory.

"Are things rough?" Let Abby help you solve your problem. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and send to Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

DEAR DAUGHTER: Even people who feel "fine" need an occasional physical check-up. It is obvious that your mother needs the help of a doctor immediately. Make an appointment for her, and tell her it is merely a routine examination.

DEAR ABBY: My parents gave me a bicycle for my twelfth birthday. They won't let me ride it on the highway. Why? MAD

DEAR MAD: Because they want to see you celebrate your thirteenth!

We The Women:

By Ruth Millet

A furniture designer predicts that in the future, instead of taking your furniture with you when you move, you will leave a house where most of the furniture is built-in and move into another house with its own built-in furniture. Kitchens in the newer homes are like that now—with built-in ovens, built-in table top burners, built-in refrigerators, built-in cupboards and built-in breakfast nooks. Just because women like built-in kitchens doesn't mean they are going to willingly settle for "built-in" all over the house. One of the few ways a homemaker has of expressing her individuality and of finding some outlet for her need of change is accumulating her own furniture, and switching it around whenever she feels the urge.

That is why, instead of going down to a furniture store and buying a "set" of furniture for each room in the house, a housewife chooses each piece of furniture with loving care. She gets a real sense of accomplishment out of combining odd pieces of furniture harmoniously, mixing in a few antiques for beauty, dreaming up furniture arrangements that make her home quite different from the houses of her friends.

In this job of furnishing a home, a woman is never finished. There is always some piece of furniture she is dying to get rid of in order to get something else. As the family needs a change, there is always the challenge of shifting furniture, rearranging and re-doing to keep a woman happily engrossed. That's why women probably won't fall for built-in furniture that you buy when you buy a house and leave behind you when you move. It may be practical, time-saving and even economical. But, it doesn't offer any challenge to a homemaker or any chance for change.

PETER FINCH, Roger Moore and Angie Dickinson in a scene from "The Sins Of Rachel Cade" coming to the Movieland Drive-In Sunday.

Rachel Cade Drive-In Bound

Primitive passions come into bitter conflict with civilization's moral codes in Warner Bros. Technicolor production of "The Sins of Rachel Cade," starring Angie Dickinson, Peter Finch and Roger Moore, which opens Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In.

Mrs. Dickinson, playing the title role, is seen as a beautiful woman in her mid-twenties who ought to be married to a good man and have lots of children. Instead she is a spinster missionary in the Belgian Congo.

Her desperate struggle between God's work and the weakness of her own flesh—and the ultimate resolution of her emotional turmoil—provide the thematic material for the motion picture, based on the best-seller novel by Charles Mercer.

The other feature on the program is "Ring of Fire." Both films will play through Tuesday. On Wednesday and Thursday, "I Want To Live," and "Comanche" will play.

Three features are scheduled for Friday and Saturday. They are "The Honeymoon Machine," "Midnight Lace" and "Five Guns To Tombstone."

DEBORAH KERR and Gary Cooper in a scene from "The Naked Edge" coming to the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

Cooper Film Set For Ritz

Movies based on current events are commonplace. The newest development, however, seems to be current events based on a movie.

Not that the movie, the suspense thriller "The Naked Edge," which will open on Sunday at the Ritz Theater, can be blamed for what's going on in the world. But there is an amazing similarity between the story-line of the Pennebaker-Baroda production and recent news events.

The United Artists release, which stars Gary Cooper and Deborah Kerr, is a story of a blackmailing letter that arrives five years late—delivered when a stolen mail bag is finally recovered. It is one of the most unusual plot hooks in recent film history.

But its unique quality hasn't kept it from proving the old cliché that truth is stranger than fiction. Less than half-way through the production, executive producers George Glass and Walter Seltzer were astounded to find themselves reading newspaper stories that could have been lifted right from the script.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

I don't know exactly what South had in mind when he rebid two diamonds, but the final contract of four spades was reasonable. When it came to the actual play, the diamond bid really proved effective. To start with, it kept West from opening that suit and if he had opened it, South would almost surely have gone down two tricks.

Instead, West opened a trump. East's jack forced South's ace and South promptly led a second trump. West won with the king and now made a losing play. He led a third trump. When both sides play the same suit, one must be wrong. South was playing trumps. It was up to West to lead something else. Once this third trump was led, South had smooth sailing. He led a club toward his queen. West won with the king and led a diamond, but by this time the best had sail-the long clubs. West should have led a diamond when he got in with the king of spades. South bid diamonds, but West had nothing to lose by playing the suit since if South had a real diamond suit would all be good anyway. With the diamond shift at that point South would have had no way to make the hand. He could go after the clubs but he would not get the suit set up in time for the diamond discard.

Pentagon Says Walker Was 'Birch' Member

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Pentagon has disclosed that Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, former commander of the 24th Infantry Division, was a member of the controversial John Birch Society. However, an Army official report on the events leading up to Walker's loss of command mentioned there was only a coincidental similarity between the Society's program and Walker's own "pro-blue" anti-Communist indoctrination program for troops.

The Army report, signed by Lt. Gen. Frederic J. Brown, inspector general for the case, was made public Thursday after it was supplied to the Senate Armed Services Committee. The committee is considering whether to investigate an alleged conspiracy to murder anti-Communist statements of military leaders. The Army's report on Walker, an 80-page document dealing with a variety of allegations, included the conclusions on which the much decorated officer was given an official admonishment and stripped of his European command, it said.

Walker made derogatory statements, alleging leftist influence on former President Truman, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and similar statements against three noted newsmen, Edward R. Murrow, Walter Cronkite and Eric Sevareid.

Walker violated the law and Army regulations by attempting to influence his troops to a voting analysis with a "conservative bias."

North Orlando Family Visits Relatives, Friends On Trip

By MONA GRINSTEAD
Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nall and children, Pam, Kenny and Lisa of North Orlando visited on their recent summer vacation, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Nall, and his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McWhite, and their family and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Leona Young, all of Pensacola. At the time of their visit, Mrs. Young was confined to the hospital.

Other relatives visited during that time included another grandmother, Mrs. Genettie Nall and a brother, H. H. Nall, in Cottage Hill. The death of his grandmother caused Mr. Nall a return trip early this week from his North Orlando home to funeral services which were scheduled to be held in Lenox, Ala.

Before returning from their vacation, the Nalls went to Ft. Walton and to Eglin AFB where they visited former North Orlando residents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey and their children, Frankie and Laura. While there they attended a barbecue-beach party, toured the air base and spent many happy hours reminiscing with their host and hostess.

On their way home, they stopped at the Stephen Foster Memorial in White Springs and Game Reserve at Welaka. They also stopped at the Suwannee River State Park.

While the family was in Pensacola, Lisa celebrated her first birthday with her grandmother Nall baking the cake. Mrs. Nall had been with each of her grandchildren for the first birthday celebration and had baked the cake for each occasion.

Florida Acts On Water Pollution

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The problem of pollution of Florida waters by wastes from neighboring states is being attacked by cooperating state agencies, Assistant Director Earle Frye of the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission reported this week.

The chain reactions and effects of interstate pollution are especially evident in the waters of northern Florida. Rivers and streams originating north of the Florida border are being polluted, with wastes and poisons carried downstream to cause damage to Florida interests. Of the more important streams so polluted are the Escambia, Ochlockonee and St. Mary's rivers in Florida, Frye said.

The State Board of Health and Game Commission are consulting with the proper agencies in neighboring states to explore the situation and discover remedies.

While the family was in Pensacola, Lisa celebrated her first birthday with her grandmother Nall baking the cake. Mrs. Nall had been with each of her grandchildren for the first birthday celebration and had baked the cake for each occasion.

Social Security Payments Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — More than 3.7 million Americans, including former slaves and veterans of the Indian wars, will get bigger Social Security checks this week.

Under the liberalized benefits enacted by Congress earlier this year, one out of every four persons drawing Social Security will get a bigger check.

The oldest of the beneficiaries, Charlie Smith of Polk City, Fla., will get a $7 raise to $47 a month. Smith, 118 years old, was seized off the coast of Liberia when he was 12 and sold in the New Orleans slave market in 1835.

The new amendments provide a 10 per cent increase in benefits to aged widows and raise payments of persons receiving the lowest amount.

Herald Gets New Chuluota Correspondent

Mrs. Carol Jepsen, editor of the Chuluota Challenger which is published once each month for the community has agreed to serve the Herald as news correspondent in the area.

Mrs. Jepsen is a familiar personality in Chuluota for she is an active worker in numerous civic, social and church organizations and also has served as interim postmaster at the local post office.

Chuluota residents wishing to report news items may contact Mrs. Jepsen at her home, 550 E. Second St. or by telephone at FO 8-3548.

Special White House Aide Lands In Divorce Suit Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Just about the time the White House was announcing the resignation of James M. Landis as special presidential assistant, he was named co-respondent in a divorce suit.

The 61-year-old former Harvard law school dean was accused Thursday of committing adultery with his 41-year-old secretary, Pauline Todd, estranged wife of Joseph A. Todd, a Washington public relations man.

Mrs. Todd's attorney, Elisabeth

J. Hand, denied her client had relations with Landis. She said they had dinner together several times.

The divorce suit was made public as the White House announced that President Kennedy had "regretfully" accepted Landis' resignation, effective last Friday.

The White House, at the same time, made public a letter dated Aug. 1 in which Landis asked Kennedy to accept the resignation "as soon as you deem it desirable."

Sports Take Over At Miss America Beauty Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — The all-American beauty contest gets down to a couple of all-American sports today — old-fashioned baseball and new-fashioned twirling and strutting.

That last is "the fastest growing girls' sport in America," said Miss Tennessee, Rita Louise Wilson, 20. "It's second to the Girl Scouts nationally as an activity."

But neither she nor any of the other six Miss America contestants who claim talents as twirlers and strutters is going to show them off in the contest for the nation's beauty-and-brains crown and $35,000 in scholarships.

"Everybody enjoys it," Rita said sorrowfully, "but everyone says, 'Oh, I could do that, too.'"

So she went into training with hillbilly singer Dorothy Shay and will stand still and sing tonight, her own version of "I'm Doing All Right for a Mountain Gal."

The baseball is simpler. Miss Ohio, Darlene Theresa DiPasquale, 18, a Cincinnati Redlegs fan, will give a dramatic reading called "Betty at the Baseball Game," about a bride who isn't quite a fan.

Other strutters on the talent bill for the final night of preliminaries are Rita's schoolmate, Miss Mississippi, Annice Raye Jernigan, 21, who's switched to the piano, and Miss West Virginia, Carole Esther Johnson, 21, a cheerleader at West Virginia University, who will present a song and dance act. Miss Iren Louise Sealise, 18, said she would preach her own re-arrangement of the Sermon on the Mount from the new Roman Catholic Bible.

This advertisement is one of a series that won national recognition for Florida. The Freedom Foundation awarded it the George Washington Honor Medal for dramatizing freedom's vital importance in every field of American endeavor. A similar program in 1955 also captured this coveted award.

FUTURE FLORIDA AIRMAN: dreaming today...doing tomorrow!

Today, he plays with models. Tomorrow, he may be designing, building, flying the real thing. He may, in fact, be among those future pioneers who will reach the stars.

The world in which he lives is caught up in a desperate struggle between the forces of freedom and slavery. What his future will be depends largely on the outcome of that struggle. In the one world, he will be free to do what he wishes . . . to think and speak and work and worship as he chooses. In the other, his initiative will be stifled, his freedom abolished, his individuality ruthlessly repressed.

His world of tomorrow will be what we choose to make it. The anti-freedom forces are insidious, masquerading under the guise of socialism and bureaucratic control. We must be constantly vigilant against these threats to freedom . . . for only under a free enterprise system can we remain strong and prosperous.

Nowhere is the value of free enterprise more clearly demonstrated than in the development of our nation's great power systems. And nowhere is faith in free enterprise more clearly demonstrated than in the activities of Florida Power & Light Company. Confident in the future, we are embarked on a course pointing to one goal: to provide more and more electric power for HAPPIER FLORIDA LIVING . . . ELECTRICALLY!

Florida Cities Get Tax Relief

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida cities and towns will get a one-year reprieve from paying a special state tax imposed to support the cost of collecting old age and survivors' insurance taxes.

Hunt Wreckage

SHANNON, Ireland (UPI)—Rescue operations resumed at dawn today to recover the remaining bodies from the wreckage of a chartered United States-bound airliner which plunged into the River Shannon, killing all 83 persons aboard.

A TWO-CAR collision at Upsala and Country Club Rds. early this morning resulted in $2,200 damage to the cars involved. One car was operated by A. V. Fuller of Sanford while the driver of the other vehicle was C. G. Caudell of Longwood. The cause of the accident is still being investigated by Trooper Bill Stringfield. (Herald Photo)

This is Civil Defense week around the county... but don't tell anyone in the courthouse. Most of the boys are suffering from persecution complexes.

I had planned on saying something nice about the County board today... Spent all of last Saturday night thinking of what to write but a two hour power failure lost my train of thought.

Quote Of The Week. At Friday's budget meeting... Commissioner Chairman J. C. Hutchison: "We've had a private discussion on this budget and it shouldn't take us long to handle it now."

On Aug. 22 State Welfare Director Frank Craft promised the Herald an investigation into certain welfare practices. What ever happened to that probe? Or, like everything else around here, has it been conducted underground?

Look for construction of a new shopping center south of Sanford in a few weeks.

Gordon Frederick Jr. today told us he won't seek re-election for the legislature in the 1962 spring primaries.

We hear that the state is still not satisfied with Sanford on its sewage treatment plant plans. They want something more concrete. The only thing the city has done is approve the preliminary report on the plant.

The city commission will meet at 8 p.m. today and will probably give the green light to City Manager W. E. Knowles to advertise for bids for materials for the city's disaster headquarters.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY — If the County Commission can fire Dr. Brothers for not following orders what is the governor gonna do to our governing body for not following an executive order?

Union Walks Out On General Motors

DETROIT (UPI)—The United Auto Workers Union went on strike against General Motors today in the first company-wide strike in the auto history in 11 years and the biggest walkout—some 310,000 workers—in automotive history.

Embassy Fire

Miss America

NEW YORK (UPI)—Miss America of 1962, pretty 19-year-old Maria Beale Fletcher of Asheville, N. C., stepped into the glamor world of New York today to be fitted for her new wardrobe and sit for official photographs while still a bit breathless because it all happened to her at Atlantic City.

Air Games Set

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Private and commercial aircraft in the United States and Canada will be grounded for 12 hours Oct. 14 during the Air Defense Command's "Sky Shield II" exercise. The Federal Aviation Agency said that more than 70,000 airplanes would be idled from 1 p.m., EDT, Oct. 14, until 1 a.m. EDT, Oct. 15.

Avery Calls Dunn 'Headline Hunter'

County Commissioner James P. Avery today fired a long range blast at Commissioner Vernon Dunn, hospitalized in Orlando, calling him a "headline hunter."

At Friday's meeting, Avery said "there are literally tens of thousands of dollars allocated within this budget for projects this board has no legal, moral obligation to fulfill."

"Regarding a statement by Commissioner Avery of Sept. 8 as quoted by the press, I call upon him to identify specifically for the record and public information the items in the budget comprising the tens of thousands of dollars that are not legal nor an obligation of the county."

"Furthermore, that he, by letter, request the comptroller to strike these items from the budget if determined as not legal."

Dunn and called the situation "absurdous."

173 - Mile An Hour Winds, Tides Pound Texas Coast

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (UPI)—Hurricane Carla slammed full force into the Corpus Christi area today with winds as high as 173 miles an hour. Killer tides that flooded the Texas-Louisiana Gulf Coast began rising toward 25-foot levels.

Damage was extensive on the coast. Buildings and piers toppled and fell into the boiling sea, but Carla itself had caused no casualties directly, thanks to the record exodus of more than 300,000 residents from the two-state coastal region.

Two refugees died of heart attacks. An infant died and 37 persons were injured in Kaplan, La., when a Carla-spawned tornado struck the town Sunday. One man was bitten by a snake in Galveston, but was recovering after treatment.

Galveston, protected by 16-foot seawalls, had floods of from two to five feet in many sections. Some 14,000 of the island city's 68,000 residents were riding out the storm that ripped down a number of old wooden buildings.
