

Olympic Games To Begin In London Friday Morning

LONDON, July 28. (AP)—Embodied by political undercurrents, thousands of athletes would up training today and tied up for tomorrow's official opening of the Olympic games.

The first day's program will be devoted to ceremony, presided over by King George. The competitors get down to business Friday.

But political complications arose to cast a shadow, however small, over the greatest of sports spectacles. Romania disclosed it would not compete and the Bulgarian representatives have failed to arrive.

Humanitarian sports leaders decided to forego the games because, they said, the Olympic organizing committee failed to accede to Russian and east European requests for seats on the committee. An Italian Communist newspaper, L'Unita, said the committee had barred from entry into England. This created a mild furor.

But most of the athletes failed to be disturbed by politics and instead spent their worries on the marks showing up in rehearsal. Austria's track stars reached the climax of their training yesterday.

Whitby Thompson of Los Angeles and Jim Delaney of San Francisco, who hope to dominate the shot put competition, appeared at peak form. Thompson got off one heave of 56 feet, two inches and Delaney turned in five straight throws of more than 54 feet.

Berlin Disorders

at which the western powers were reported to have decided on a verbal approach to foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in Moscow over breaking the Berlin blockade.

The Russians allowed three days for Germans to exchange their old marks for new counter-stamped Russian zone currency. Disorders erupted at several places among the crowds clamoring to get the new money. When police could not handle the milling throngs, firemen turned water on the people.

The disturbances started when the anxious Germans pressed forward and started stampedes after standing for hours in lines. No serious injury was reported.

Newspapers in western Berlin said the Russians and their German economic commission were guilty of "scandalous and unscrupulous conduct" in the money exchange. They charged discrimination was being exercised against residents of the American, British and French sectors. Many of these were told their money was "forged" and worthless.

American military government finance officers, refuting Russian charges that the city government was to blame, said the city government, with approval of the three western commands, had offered to exchange money in the western Berlin as well as in the Soviet zone. The Russians rejected the offer.

"German bankers in the Soviet sector warned the Russians in advance their preparations for handling the currency exchange were inadequate," an American spokesman said.

"Now many Berlin individuals and firms are faced with a prospect of losing their money if they can't get to pay windows after hours of waiting. Unless the Russians decide to extend the exchange period, this will be the case. Only two conclusions can

The investigation grows out of testimony of two State Department officials before a congressional committee that hundreds of secret agents from Europe's Communist countries may be using U. N. credentials as a means of getting into the United States to stir up trouble.

At Lake Success, Arkady A. Sobolev, acting secretary general of the United Nations, declared neither the United States nor any other nation has a legal right to investigate U. N. officials or conduct an inquiry on U. N. property. He added, however, that the U. N. has nothing to hide.

Oklahoma Oil Man Wins Demo Voting For U. S. Senator

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 28.—(AP)—Former Governor Robert S. Kerr, who won a fortune in oil and a national reputation in politics, is the democratic nominee for U. S. senator from Oklahoma.

He gained the nomination by defeating Homer Smith, Oklahoma City attorney and former Congressman, in yesterday's runoff primary.

Returns from 3,561 of the state's 3,995 precincts gave Kerr 166,596 and Smith 120,888.

The victory sends Kerr into the November election campaign against Rep. Ross Ritzke, eighth district congressman who won the Republican nomination in Oklahoma's first primary July 6.

The incumbent Senator, Ed H. Moore of Tulsa—one of only three Republican senators in Oklahoma's 40 years of statehood—did not seek renomination.

LITTLE ROCK, July 28.—(AP)—Sidney S. McMath and Jack Holt raced into the home stretch of Arkansas' gubernatorial hand-off today. McMath, 36-year-old crusading Hot Springs prosecutor, led Holt and five other opponents in yesterday's Democratic primary by 22,000 votes. The runoff primary will be Aug. 10.

Company officials estimate they will leave about 5,000 workers here. The local labor market undoubtedly will absorb some, civic officials say, and others probably will return to the homes they left during the war when the boom in the aircraft industry brought many migrant workers to Connecticut.

The 5,000 will not be laid off en masse. With approximately 7,000 working here now, the division spokesman said there had been no "significant lay-offs" since the move began. When the lay-offs do come, they will be by units—relatively small sections of a department.

More workers probably would be taken to Dallas were it not for the difficulty of finding housing for them there, the spokesman said.

He added that the company anticipated little difficulty in recruiting a new labor force in Texas.

"After all," he said, "North-

no dissent on policy."

Asked what "policy" means, Millikin replied:

"No appropriations, no confirmations, limiting the session to matters of an emergency character of national interest and getting through as soon as possible."

Millikin said the Republicans also agreed that the appropriate specific points in Mr. Truman's message to Congress yesterday. They agreed to act, he said, on anything "of an emergency character and of national importance."

One other qualification, Millikin added, is that legislation considered must be capable of being "properly processed within the time permitted to an emergency session."

"We were agreed that we should not stay here long enough to interfere with the proper conduct of the campaign," Millikin said, but added that no adjournment time was set.

American came in there and built up a working force of 40,000 from nothing; so there must be pool of experienced aircraft workers available."

The Chance Vought division was born in 1917. The company then consisted of about a dozen men working in a loft. By 1929 it had become one of the nation's leading producers of military planes.

Plans for adjournment as "soon as possible" -- probably next week or the week after.

Earlier, Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), acting majority leader, said the GOP senators agreed to a 24-hour delay in any attempt to bring up the anti-poll tax bill. This policy was carried out when the Senate was called to order today.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the southern senators opposing the measure, halted routine business until he could learn whether the poll tax bill would be called up at once.

Wherry assured Russell he would not attempt to push the measure today. He also promised a recess until Thursday after clearance of routine matters.

Other Republicans reported a majority agreement to go along with the plans of leaders to adjourn as "soon as possible" -- probably next week or the week after.

Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) introduced a joint resolution today calling on Congress to adjourn next Saturday until Dec. 31. Such a resolution must be approved by the Senate and House. A similar resolution was introduced in the House yesterday by Rep. Frederick C. Smith (R-Ohio). It was referred to the House Rules Committee.

A bill calling for repeal of the peacetime draft act was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Taylor of Idaho. Taylor, Progressive Party running mate of Henry A. Wallace, made no comment on introducing the repeal today.

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—The White House said today the first telegraphic response to President Truman's message to Congress was "20-101" favorable.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told newsmen about 100 telegrams have come in since Mr. Truman addressed the joint session yesterday. He said these showed the "20 to 1" ratio in favor of Mr. Truman's 11-point program.

He had no comment on General Omar Bradley's statement saying he favors separate white and negro units in the lower levels of the Army. Bradley gave his views at a news conference at Fort Knox, Ky., when he was questioned about Mr. Truman's executive order calling for equality of treatment for all in the armed services.

Truman Seeks Law To Reduce Prices To Nov. '47 Level

Former OPA Head Predicts Collapse If Inflationary Curbs Are Not Provided

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—President Truman asked today that Congress vote him power to cut prices on cost-of-living items, and set as his goal a roll back to the November, 1947, level.

But proposed legislation he sent to the Capitol recognized that price slashes that deep probably could not be made on most items. It said levels on November, 1947, should be the base but that price-slashing "ceilings" must take into account rises since then in costs, and other factors.

Paul Porter, former OPA administrator, took a draft of proposed legislation to the House Banking Committee. He argued to the committee — as President Truman did in his message to the special Congress session on Tuesday — that without inflation curbs the nation is flirting with a possible economic collapse.

But Porter said that even with the controls proposed he would not expect an immediate reduction of price levels. He added:

"We do expect them to end the upward march of prices and to reduce, so far as is possible at this late date, the threat of future collapse."

The bill proposes also limited powers between now and June 30, 1950:

1. To ration a few products in short supply.
2. Some authority over wages in the manufacture of items put in short supply.

Wholesale Food Price Index Falls 12 Cents In Week

The nation's price picture was mixed today by declines in food prices, but increases in industrial materials and products and new wave boosts affecting tens of thousands of workers.

Resistance by housewives to higher prices was credited with causing a number of meat price cuts.

Leading markets at Rochester, N.Y., marked down better cuts of meat six to 10 cents a pound. And in Chicago, the A. and P. Food Stores announced cuts of 21 cents a pound in steak prices.

Dun and Bradstreet reported its wholesale food price index fell 12 cents to 87.18 this week, down 12 cents from last week and 18 cents from the all-time high of 87.36 two weeks ago.

But the decline still represents less than two and one-half per cent in the sum total of wholesale prices of 81 foods in general use. It was accounted for principally by lower grain and meat prices.

Indiana Republican, James Watson, Dies

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—James H. Watson of Indiana, Republican leader of the Senate during President Hoover's administration died today at the age of 67.

The colorful Hoosier served in Congress under eight Presidents but was swept out of office by the Democratic landslide of 1932. He was stricken with internal hemorrhages on Oct. 12 and taken to a local hospital.

Watson was able to return home, however, in December and recovered fairly good health. The end came today at his home.

There is an avocado tree loaded with avocados near the right in the heart of the Sanford business district. It is in front of the Tabach Building and shades the Walters Electric Co. store. Under it is a small two-year-old man who has been growing here for years, according to Frank Tabach. Mr. Tabach takes much pride in his flower garden bordering the walk in front of the building, and it has attracted much attention from tourists, especially when restaurants were in bloom.

Tito And Friends Elected To Head Yugoslav Reds

Vindication Is Seen As Repudiation Of Cominform Charges

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 29. (AP)—Yugoslav Communists repudiated the Cominform's attacks on their leaders today by electing Premier Marshal Tito and his entire list of candidates to the party's 63-member central committee.

Newspapers did not give the actual vote which took place at the close of the Yugoslav party's historic conference. They did not mention whether the voting was unanimous.

Tito's re-election as party general secretary — the role Stalin fills in the Russian party — was expected momentarily. The new central committee's first task will be to elect officers. Balloting on the committee list went on all night, as the last item of business for a week-long party congress in Belgrade.

The Cominform — the International Communist Information Bureau — had asked Yugoslav Communists to throw out Tito and his principal lieutenants. The Russian-led organization accused the Yugoslav leader of deviating from the party line.

Stassen Named Head Of Penn University

PHILADELPHIA, July 29. (AP)—The University of Pennsylvania today named Harold E. Stassen as its new president.

An announcement of the nomination of the 47-year-old Minnesota congressman after a special meeting of the university's board of trustees. Salary terms were not disclosed.

The nomination was made "pursuant to the unanimous recommendation of the executive board of the university."

An announcement by the university said:

"The election of Governor Stassen will take place at a special meeting of the board to be held in September."

"Dr. George William McClelland, now president of the university, will at that time be elected to the chairmanship of the university."

Ronnie Garner Elected As Best Camper For 1948 At Camp Winona

Seminole County Boys at Camp Winona last Saturday elected Ronnie Garner as the "best camper" throughout the 12 days of camp and presented him with a handsome loving cup with "Best Camper—1948—Camp Winona," engraved on the base plate. B. F. Ganas, camp rifle instructor, donated the trophy.

Ronnie was out by one vote over Alfred Stanley, Hoyt Harold and Billy Park were in the run off.

The camp was strangely silent after the last of the boys left Saturday, and it will be another year before Camp Winona rings with their shouts and laughter.

During the final days of camp, the boys engaged in as much activity and fun as possible, including the swimming periods. Morning usually began about half past seven and went on in front of camp. The boys were in line for the morning and the boys were in line for the morning.

Jaycees Offer To Publish Values In New Assessments

The Jaycees today at the Tourist Center adopted a resolution to request the City for a list of names of 250 property owners, together with figures showing valuation assessments prior to the recent appraisal and present valuations based on the work of the J. M. Clemshaw appraisal engineers in order to publish these and acquaint the public with the nature of the revaluations.

This will be done not to appraise or disparage the new valuations but to settle growing resentment regarding new valuations because people are not properly informed that this has been an equalization tax survey, said J. Bradley Othman.

The Jaycees also adopted an amendment to this resolution to request the City to state what action it is going to take toward reducing the millage.

President Gordon Bradley named the following committee to offer assistance to the City in selecting and publishing the names of the City approves the suggestion: J. R. Othman, Karlisle Housholder, Bill Stemper, John Sheperd and Pat Gingles.

"The purpose of the action," said Karlisle Housholder, "is to give everybody a knowledge about the valuations." The average person thinks the values are going up, but does not understand that the millage is to be adjusted. He pointed out that the valuations were made by experts and said that if property owners were more informed concerning the program, they would not be so quick to protest when the City Commission meets as an equalization board on Aug. 20.

Memorial For G.I.'s Given By Berliners

BERLIN, July 29. (AP)—The people of western Berlin have erected a memorial to two American fliers who died last Sunday flying food to the blockaded city.

The tablet was built on the spot where Lieut. Charles H. King of Britton, S. D., and Lieut. Robert W. Stuber of Arlington, Calif., crashed. Each left a widow and child at Wiesbaden.

The plaque was placed in the apartment house which the C-47 cargo plane struck. It is decorated with flowers and bears these words:

"Two American fliers here became sacrifices of the blockade of Berlin. You have given your lives for us Berliners of the western occupation sectors will never forget you. We stand deeply moved at this spot which has been dedicated through your deaths. Once we were enemies, yet you now gave your lives for us. We are now doubly in your debt."

Berlin groups are collecting funds for the fliers' families. The women's union of west Berlin arranged an outdoor memorial service for next Sunday.

R-29 FLIGHT

The planes probably will take off from Alamogordo, the public information office of the bombers home base said.

Olympic Games Opened With Pomp And Ceremony

Hundreds Collapse In Stands From Intense Heat And Humidity

OLYMPIC STADIUM, Wembley, England, July 29. (AP)—Five thousand of the world's finest athletes from 59 nations marched into this blistering hot stadium today to start the first Olympic games since 1936.

Despite the relentless sun, the solemn ceremonial was carried out in full British tradition under the eyes of King George and Queen Elizabeth and European royalty while military bands played brass music.

First to appear out of the tunnel beneath the still unlighted white Olympic torch were the Greeks, a position of respect accorded the land where the Olympic ideal was born long before the Christian era.

The Greeks wore grey marching suits. They drew a loud sound of applause.

Thousands gathered early in the big sports stadium. The heat was oppressive, although greatly to the liking of the American coaches who are counting on winning the lion's share of glory in the main sports — track, swimming, and crew.

The temperature rose to 89 in a brilliant sun beat down from a cloudless sky and black British umbrellas popped open in the low spreading stands that can accommodate 84,000 persons.

Ambulance staffs and Red Cross centers treated cases of fainting and collapse at a rate of one a minute. Two hundred persons had to be carried to the hospital.

18 Persons Killed In Argentine Crash

BUENOS AIRES, July 29. (AP)—Maritime police said 18 persons were killed today and four were injured in the crash-landing of a flying boat.

Air Argentina, Argentine operators of the four-engine plane, said 18 passengers and five crewmen were aboard when the ship left Rosario. One passenger was unharmed.

The plane apparently made a forced landing in the fogbound Lake River. The accident occurred near the outskirts of Buenos Aires about three miles northwest of Air's downtown landing port.

TALLAHASSEE, July 29. (AP)—Florida highway patrolmen have donated $200 as a reward for arrest of a negro who hit Sgt. E. B. Jordan of Marianna with a whiskey bottle Sunday night.

Patrol Director H. N. Kirkman announced the reward for information leading to the arrest of J. B. Baker of Fort St. Joe who is wanted by Jackson County Sheriff Barkley Gause for assault with attempt to murder in connection with the case.

Sgt. Jordan was struck when he attempted to arrest Baker and two other negroes.

Farben Directors Are Acquitted Of Charge Of Plotting Warfare

Communists Say Farben Factory Made War Stuff

Getmans Deny Plant Wrecked By Blast Illegally Operated

LUDWIGSHAFEN, Germany — July 29. (AP)—German investigators of the greatest European disaster since the war brushed aside today Communist charges that the exploded Farben chemical plant here was making war material.

Police in this French zone Rhine city said 84 bodies were recovered and that about 250 persons were missing and presumed dead. To the apparent death toll of 334, they added 2,000 injured.

Mannheim police across the river estimated the dead at between 500 and 800. U.S. Army officials there said 6,200 were injured, many in Mannheim and other nearby American zone places by the terrific explosion.

The plant employed 22,000 workers. The explosion and widely spreading fires demolished or damaged 18 buildings. It was the largest plant in the French occupation zone.

Communist newspapers in Berlin asserted the factory, a main stem of the once-great I. G. Farben industrial trust which operated 400 plants in Germany and 100 elsewhere in the world before the war, was making war material illegally.

German investigators who were at last able to approach the center of the destruction said preliminary findings indicated the disaster was touched off by ethyl chloride, an industrial chemical.

A chemist who worked at the plant said he was familiar with its production and that the works turned out only industrial products.

French officials made a separate inquiry but maintained silence.

No Americans were believed killed in the explosion.

Police said the plant's big administration building was destroyed so quickly that its occupants had little chance to escape. Heat and intense chemical fumes still barred firemen from the building.

Outwardly at least, the plant produced only industrial chemicals, pharmaceutical mixtures, dyes and similar products. But the Communist press in Berlin claimed that the disaster was caused by the production of a chemical used in the manufacture of atomic bombs.

CAR TURNS OVER

L. Wilkins, employee of the Sun Oil Company narrowly escaped serious injury when he was driving south on the Orlando Highway shortly after 10:00 o'clock last evening got out of control and hit the concrete bridge in "Death Valley" turning the car over.

Damage to the car was estimated at $150 by State Highway Patrolman J. W. Wells. Mr. Wilkins, who was alone in the Plymouth was reported to have received no injuries.

Washington Citizens Lay Plans To Aid Boys At Detention School

WASHINGTON, July 29. (AP)—A group of Washington citizens and officials mapped plans today to widen friendships and future opportunities for "students" at the National Training School for Boys.

The school currently has 350 youths ranging in age from 14 to 16. They are there for various periods of detention because they have violated federal laws. Every state in the union and most of the territories and possessions are represented. The government supplies advisors and vocational instructors.

But a great many people, including government officials, think these boys need something else — a friend.

While many persons and organizations in the Washington area have offered friendship and help to these boys over the years, the effort has been sporadic and on an individual basis. Yesterday afternoon, these groups and individuals were brought together in the offices of Attorney General Tom C. Clark.

The session, sponsored by Maurice Haggler, executive secretary of the National B'Nai B'rith, uncovered this typical report.

In only about 50 per cent of the cases is there an eager response to the invitation for a dinner in a private home, or to the baseball game or a fishing trip.

But in nearly all cases, the youngster appreciates having somebody to talk to — provided that somebody is not a policeman. And an interest in his hobby always gets a response.

Britain Studies Proposed Halt In Demobilization

Allied Ambassadors To Talk With Molotov About Situation

LONDON, July 29. (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today the British government is considering a halt in demobilization of its armed forces because of the tension between Russia and the west.

He told a hushed House of Commons a decision will be reached "in a few days."

He held out hope that current diplomatic maneuvers of Britain, the United States and France with Russia might determine whether there is a chance of ending the cold war, hottest at Berlin which the Russians have blockaded for a month by land.

Bevin said the labor government, in allowing British armed forces to be reduced at the rate of 20,000 a month, had not assumed "that the policy of our war time allies would lead to a situation which might involve the use of force."

"The situation that has now arisen was, of course, compelled us to reexamine the whole position," he said. "I have not given up hope."

War-time Prime Minister Winston Churchill pledged the Labor government the support of the Conservative opposition he leads. He asked whether mobilization would be halted "until at least August 1, 1949."

States' Rights Demos Plan Campaign Fight

COLUMBIA, S. C., July 29. (AP)—States' Rights Democrats will open an intensive national campaign Aug. 15 which they hope will establish them as one of the nation's strongest political groups.

Campaign details were announced yesterday in a joint statement by Governors J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi, candidates for President and Vice President.

Thurmond predicted that the States' Rights Democrats could become the minority party in the 81st Congress.

"If the Republicans should run away with the election outside of the South," Thurmond said he thought he and Wright would get more electoral votes than President Truman.

Farben Acquitted

(Continued from Page One) counts against Farben's board of directors. The court said evidence failed to support the prosecutions on two of the counts, dealing with aggressive war. A third count, spoliation and plunder of occupied countries, was amply proved, the judgment said, against directors Hermann Schmitz, Georg Von Schantzler, Fritz Ter Meer, Ernst Bierlein, Heinrich Butschbach, Paul Harfinger, Max Ligner, Friedrich Jaehne, and two others. The plunder charge dealt with Farben's activities in France, Norway, Poland and Russia. Here, the court found, Farben officials wrecked the army and laid plans before the war to take over and operate various industries. Such planning and carrying out of such plans, the tribunal ruled, constituted a "war crime." "There can be no doubt that the occupied territories were systematically plundered," the opinion said. "Farben made far-reaching plans to participate in this plunder and spoliation." The strongest language was reserved for Von Schantzler, the chief of all sales divisions. The judgment said: "He was the leading figure responsible for Farben's general policy designed to achieve domination of the dyestuffs and chemical industries of Europe." The Farben directors, most of them now grayed and in their sixties, sat stiff-faced while the court read the judgment. The judgment was handed down by presiding Judge Curtis G. Shaker of Vincennes, Ind., after an 11-month trial. This entire first day of the two-day reading of the verdict was devoted to the count accusing Farben's directors of waging aggressive war. The board of Farben, multi-million dollar chemical trust which extended throughout the world, was acquitted on at least two of the five counts promoting war and conspiring to gain Germany's assistance by means of war. In so doing, the court noted, Field Marshal General Wilhelm Keitel, chief of Germany's high command, went so far as to object that Karl Krauch, chairman of Farben, had more knowledge than was absolutely necessary about war plans. Keitel was hanged as a war criminal. If Krauch was kept in the dark, it appeared evident that lesser figures in Farben's board knew even less about Hitler's aggressive plans. The same aggressive war count was dismissed by another court in the case against the Krupp gunmaking firm several months ago. In all cases against German industrialists thus far, U.S. war crime prosecutors have failed to make this charge stick. The Farben tribunal said in its judgment that a dividing line needs to be drawn "somewhere" when the guilt of Germans for waging war is determined. The line obviously lay, the court said, on a level higher than the men charged here. "Plans for aggressive war were made by and within a closely guarded circle," the judgment said. "The meetings were secret. The information exchanged was confidential." Krauch, the chairman of Farben, was far beneath membership in that circle. The 20,000-word indictment against the 24 directors was hand-

Farben Explosion

(Continued from Page One) caused by illegal production of war materials. The Russian-controlled National Zeitung, offering no proof, said that "under French truncheon" the Ludwigshafen plant was producing explosives for rocket bombs. The plant is located in the French occupation zone. Guarded comments of some Farben workers cast an air of mystery around the explosion. When French soldiers blocked German reporters from the plant, several survivors commented: "No wonder. They've got something to hide." Whether the survivors spoke from knowledge or mere assumption in the excitement of the explosion could not be learned. Some persons who worked in the plant said they could not identify the products they were making. The chain of blasts destroyed or damaged 18 buildings in the plant which employed 22,000 workers. But the cause of the original explosion could not be determined until the wreckage cooled enough to permit investigation. And the devastation is so great that the cause may never be learned. Late last night new explosions boomed in the flaming wreckage of the plant, imperiling rescue squads trying to save trapped workers. Shortly before midnight flames still raged over a half-mile square area of the American and French soldiers with German firemen and police plunged into the blazing inferno to save trapped workers. Some were gas masks. Others carried buckets to make paths through the wreckage. Talk abandoned of heroism by American soldiers and German

Wholesale Prices

(Continued from Page One) and the food prices continued to go up—wheat flour, eggs, peas, potatoes and hogs. On the other side of the picture were increases of two cents a pound in lead and three cents in zinc—both widely used in making consumer goods—and an American Tobacco Co. price book expected to make its cigarette cost one cent more a pack at retail. Philip Morris and Co. and Reynolds followed suit with a three-cent increase on its name brand cigarettes. The zinc and lead increases followed by less than a week a steel price sheet of $2 to $12 a ton. However, the Bethlehem Steel Co. announced cuts of one to three dollars a ton on a selected list of its steel products "to meet competition." Steel prices were increased by 10 to 12 cents an hour for 20,000 New York state truck drivers, 13 cents an hour for 15,000 steel workers in Massachusetts, New York and Colorado, 11 cents an hour for 2,500 rubber workers in Ohio and Texas, and 10 cents an hour for an unspecified number of aircraft workers in California.

Poll Tax Bill

(Continued from Page One) of his remarks. Before referring to his manuscript he told the Senate it would go "far wrong" if it considered the bill applied only to the seven poll-tax states. "It applies to all 48 states because it affects the voter qualification clause of the Constitution. My position is that the Congress has no power under our Constitution to say what shall, or shall not be, the qualifications for voters, because the people have placed that power elsewhere under the very terms of the United States Constitution." His argument was this: States have the right under the Constitution to specify qualifications for voters in state elections. Next the Constitution says that between voting for national representatives shall have the same qualifications as those voting in

Bevin Speech

(Continued from Page One) the Berlin situation is satisfactorily resolved." He spoke in a hushed House of Commons soon after U.S. Ambassador W. L. Bullitt reached Moscow with plans of the western powers for a verbal approach to Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in the Kremlin. The ambassadors of Britain, the U.S. and France are expected to talk with Molotov with a few days about the Berlin blockade crisis and other problems. "The object of the diplomatic steps now being taken is to clarify the position in order to ascertain whether there is any prospect of removing obstacles to discussions taking place with a view to a settlement which the British government desire and which we hope may lead to peace and security in Europe for us all," Bevin said. Informed sources in Moscow meanwhile said a four-power conference, possibly of foreign ministers, may result from talks of American and British representatives with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov. U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith returned by plane to Moscow after talks in Berlin and London. With him was Frank Roberts, former British minister to Moscow and a private secretary to British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin. If the conversations here prove satisfactory and a conference be agreed upon, the informants say there is a good chance that the meetings will be held in Paris, about the time of the next United Nations assembly meeting, which will open Sept. 21. The observers said they are not pessimistic about the chances of such a get-together on the question of Berlin and the future of Germany as a whole. The informants said Smith and Roberts probably will talk informally with the French ambassador before making to see Molotov. There is no indication yet when the talks will start or when Molotov will be able to see the western representatives. However, it is reported no time will be lost in setting the machinery in motion.

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

MANY PEOPLE HAVE THOUGHT THAT, AND LATER HAVE FOUND THEMSELVES GREATLY MISTAKEN. He said in his heart I shall not be moved for I shall never be in adversity.—Ps. 10:6.

We do not have money enough in this country to provide our children with the kind of public schools they ought to have, but through carelessness we permit fire losses which, if prevented, would go a long way toward offsetting the cost of our public school system. Fire losses cost this country $54,706,000 last month, the highest level ever recorded in a single month in the nation's history. Such losses could be in large measure prevented since most of them are caused by carelessness.

The Chance Vought airplane factory has begun moving from Stratford, Conn. to a site near Dallas, Texas, on account of the danger of being bombed out of its present location in the event of war. Other industries located in the tightly congested areas of New York and New England, where everybody gets on everybody else's toes and nobody could drop a bomb without hitting somebody, may well be considering similar moves. That there will be another war sometime or other goes almost without saying for everyone except soft-headed sentimentalists. When the next war comes, it will be safer in widely scattered rural areas. The day of the thickly populated highly congested metropolitan city may be nearing an eclipse.

It would be interesting to see what would happen in this country if Governor Dewey failed to get a majority of the votes in the Electoral College next November (Assuming, of course, that none of the other candidates got a majority. It wouldn't surprise us a bit to see Thurmond and Wallace get more Electoral votes than Truman, and so it is conceivable that Dewey might not have a majority). In that case, the election would be thrown into the House of Representatives, which is controlled by the Republicans and which would undoubtedly elect Dewey. The last time that happened was in 1824 when John Quincy Adams was elected by the House after failing to get a majority in the Electoral College. He even ran second to Andrew Jackson, and Jackson was pretty sore when the House didn't give him the Presidency. However, it worked out pretty well in the end, anyhow, for Jackson won in the next election, and again in 1832.

President Truman made a noble speech about the dangers and inconveniences of high prices, of which nobody who buys groceries needs to be reminded. What he forgot to mention was that the primary object of the New Deal for 15 long years has been to bring about these very high prices of which the President now complains. "We will raise prices," said President Roosevelt when he began creating scarcities. "If we cannot do it one way, we will do it another, but raise prices we will." President Truman has continued this policy of raising prices since he took over three years ago. He is still pumping out government money into the channels of trade to the tune of billions of dollars. He is spending billions of dollars to curtail production. He is doing everything he can to get grain farmers to plant less and to store wheat so as to raise prices. He advocates raising minimum wages from 40 cents an hour to 75 cents an hour, which, too, would further increase prices. In effect, what the President is doing is promising the people high prices for everything they have to buy, low prices for what they have to sell. It is a good thing if he can get away with it.

Rats

"The menace of rats to the health and economy of the nation is more clearly recognized now than ever before" says Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, second vice-president, Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, director of the health and welfare services of that company, and in charge of its current anti-rat educational campaign. Dr. Armstrong points out that the United States Department of the Interior has recently taken the lead in a nation-wide attack upon the rat problem, with the cooperation of many national and local agencies and industries, including the insurance company. "The rat is the most dangerous and useless pest in the entire world," continued Dr. Armstrong. "It carries many diseases often fatal to man, including bubonic plague, typhus fever, rabies, tularemia, rat-bite fever, and food poisoning. Throughout the world the rat and its parasites have been responsible for millions of deaths over the years. The rat, extremely destructive, is responsible for the loss of at least 200,000,000 bushels of grain each year—enough to fill half our grain commitments to Europe for an entire year. Rats also cause fires by gnawing electric wires and by dragging combustible materials into walls."

The Field staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has distributed around 200,000 anti-rat leaflets in New York City in cooperation with the Health Department, and in 101 other cooperating cities in the United States. In this pamphlet methods of getting rid of rats are stated as follows:

- "Starve them out by keeping garbage in covered containers, and by storing food in metal or glass containers; by sweeping floors and stairways free from bits of food, and by keeping streets, alleys and backyards free of garbage.
"Build them out: clean up rubbish that could be used for nesting; see that doors and windows fit closely, using fine wire cloth where necessary; fill in holes around pipes and wires with concrete; clean drains of accumulated material, and fill up or block off all dead spaces in floors and walls.
"Kill them with traps or poison."

No Bubbles For Britain

The British Treasury indignantly denies that under the first quarter of aid from the ERP Great Britain received a lot of bubble gum and gimcracks. It seems that Communist circles in London have been passing that word around, to give the impression that the hard-earned tax money of the American people was being spent on flippancies and favoritism. The British Treasury, accordingly, has made public a breakdown of the $226,000,000 it is getting for the first three months. The bulk of the commodities are coming from Canada. The Canadian list, adding to $130,850,000, was made up of wheat, flour, bacon, cheese, beef, lead, copper, aluminum, zinc and wood pulp. From the United States, John Bull bought $55,910,000 worth of cheese, orange juice, tobacco, zinc, sulphur, carbon black, lead and petroleum products. He bought oil from the Netherlands West Indies and from the Middle East. Cuba sold him inedible molasses and ethyl alcohol; Chili sent copper. None of these items look frivolous. They are solid factors in the reconstruction process. British infants may be making grown-ups disgusted with their antics with bubble gum; but if so, they are getting it from individual trade sources. Their Uncle Sam and their Uncle John will have none of it.

Poet And Vandals

Children are said to have vandalized the birthplace of the children's poet, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, in Portland, Me. Police say the old house, indifferently maintained against the ravages of time and the weather, was ransacked by youngsters who destroyed valuable antiques, including the first piano in Portland, brought from England on a sailing vessel. Remembered as one of the Cambridge literary group, Longfellow first gained fame in his native state, at Bowdoin College, from which he was graduated in the same class with Hawthorne. It was during his ten-year professorship at Bowdoin that he published his first essays and sketches. His teaching genius, and not his writing, won him a Harvard post in the field of romance languages. He became the only American honored with a bust in the Poet's Corner of Westminster Abbey, and his Cambridge home became a shrine for Americans and Europeans. Later generations accord his poetry less praise, though its simplicity and metrical skill rate him high as a children's poet. If it is true that his birthplace was ravaged by children, they must have been some who never read his works.

Anti-Inflation Bill

under price control.
3. Restoration of war time controls over consumer credit, such as restraints on installment buying.
4. Direct authority to regulate speculation on commodity exchanges.
5. Authority to regulate bank credit.
6. Strengthening of rent control with the administration to bring de-controlled housing units back under rent ceiling if it deems it necessary.
7. Inventory control of scarce commodities which basically affect the essential industrial production, or the cost of living, and the right to ration them to industries.
Porter told reporters that a separate bill will be sent to Congress proposing the restoration of the war time excess profits taxes.
Even before the program was presented, Republican leaders had declared they would not approve such controls. Some said it would mean a "police state."
The measure porter presented says price ceilings may be put on when:
1. The commodity is important to the cost of living, or of production.
2. The price has risen or threatens to rise at least 20 per cent above the June 1946 level or nearest representative period.
3. Regulation of the price is practicable and enforceable.
4. The public interest will be secured by such regulation.
The measure says price ceilings set must be "generally fair and equitable" and must take into consideration speculative fluctuations, changes in cost, changes in profits and other relative factors since November, 1947.
It would permit a temporary freeze of prices pending industry consultation, and would provide for hearings and review of price fixing orders.
The bill stipulates that for agricultural commodities, maximum prices must be high enough to reflect the parity price or a comparable price established by the Secretary of Agriculture.
On wages, the legislation:
Establishes wage controls over employees only when a maximum employer expects to use the wage; the employee and when the price has been established affect adjustment as a basis for seeking a price increase.
A wage board would be created, and would have power to rule on whether a proposed wage increase was necessary: 1. To compensate for increases in the cost of living or prevent lowering of living standards; 2. To correct inequities in the wage structure; 3. To correct substandards of living, or 4. To maintain essential production.

Duval Road-Bridge Project Discarded

TALLAHASSEE, July 29 (AP)—The State Improvement Commission today discarded plans to finance a $25,500,000 Jacksonville Road and Bridge project but it took steps to borrow $4,757,000 for work in four other counties.
The Jacksonville project, which involved three bridges across the St. Johns and Trout Rivers and connecting roads, was dropped after the Duval county board of commissioners withdrew its approval.
The county board charged original plans had been changed. State agencies said there has been no change in plans.
Governor Caldwell suggested the project be dropped after commenting "I don't know of anything else we should do except kiss goodbye the money we have spent."
The commission planned to borrow $22,500,000 -- to be repaid in 30 years from tolls and the county's share of surplus gas tax receipts.
George W. Gibbs, Sr., Jacksonville member of the commission, said he had been informed the Duval board was willing to approve any part of the project provided the gas tax receipts are not spent.
Chairman Elgin Bayless of the State Road Department, also a member of the Improvement Commission, said his department was not interested in any such project at this time.
The commission voted to receive bids Sept. 21 on bonds to finance $4,757,000 worth of roads and bridges in Palm Beach, Leon and Gilchrist counties and a $375,000 citrus inspection building in Winter Haven.
The bonds, which will be retired with the individual county's surplus gas tax receipts, will provide $1,600,000 for construction of five bridges and 39 miles of highway in Palm Beach county.

His plane will leave almost immediately for Kansas City, where he will arrive at the Fairfax airport about 7:30 P.M.

Mary Elizabeth Hill VFW Auxiliary Has Weds C. U. Soderblom Picnic At Beach

The VFW auxiliary of America met on July 22 at New Smyrna Beach as guests of Mrs. Earl Deasy and Mrs. William Vihonen for a picnic meeting. Swimming was enjoyed in the morning after which a yellow rice dinner was served to the members present.

During the afternoon a business meeting was held. Those attending the meeting were Mrs. C. E. Meeks, Mrs. E. J. Moughton, Jr., Mrs. Clayton Smith, Mrs. E. E. Tilton, Mrs. George Winfree, Mrs. Robert Washburn, Mrs. Dorothy and Mrs. Vihonen and children of the various members.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Clifford R. Hovell of Orlando, due to the serious illness of her father, was lovely in a wedding gown of champagne satin fashioned with a sheer marquisette yoke outlined with a broad floral design. The dress featured long sleeves and the very full skirt fell from a dropped waistline and extended into a wide, circular train. The fingertip veil of French bridal illusion was attached to an orange blossom crown and she carried a satin-covered Hovell Book topped with a white orchid and white satin streamers knotted with orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

The matron of honor and only attendant was Mrs. Reginald Soderblom who wore a gown of soft green marquisette featuring an off the shoulder neckline outlined with a wide ruffle. The molded bodice was finished with a deep pleat at the hipline and the dress was fashioned with a full skirt. In her hair she wore a coronet of pastel flowers and net and her corsage was of yellow pom-pom chrysanthemums. Serving as best man for the bridegroom was his brother Reginald Soderblom.

Mrs. Hill wore for her daughter's wedding a dress of shell pink crepe with white accessories and net corsage was of white pom-pom chrysanthemums. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Soderblom, was gowned in ice blue silk with which she wore white accessories and sweetheart roses formed her corsage.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held. The dining table was overlaid with a Irish lace cloth and centered with a low arrangement of asters and ferns flanked with silver candelabra holding lighted candles. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was placed at one end of the table.

After spending a short time with the guests the couple left for a wedding trip through the southern part of the state. For traveling the bride wore a brown and wide crepe dress with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. After Aug. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Soderblom will make their home on West First Street.

One and a half dozen lemons will make enough lemonade to serve twenty-five people.

Hot Weather Picnics Easy For Summer

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
If you want to make the rest of the summer more for yourself serve warm-weather picnic lunches at noon. Prepared quickly and tucked into a picnic basket or arranged on a tray, your family can pick them up out of the kitchen and carry them to the coolest spot. Paper plates, containers and napkins will do away with after-lunch dishwashing, too.

Since I am a great sandwich eater I am always looking for new fillings to put into them. Some of the most original ones I've tasted are served at an attractive little sandwich bar in New York where the food has a "hamburger" taste. Here are three of the most combinations that I've tried lately.

Low-fat cheese and water-cress sandwich. This is a stumpy, delicious combination, good on whole wheat or rye bread.

American cheddar cheese and chopped tomatoes sandwich. This is a snappy, too, and good. A little bit of mayonnaise and dressing adds to its deliciousness. I like changes in it, however, by adding a sautéed chopped chicken liver or two saved out from a liver terrine.

Cracked vegetable salads are fine for picnic lunches. Here are recipes for two especially good ones from "Favorite Recipes of Wellesley Alumnae" compiled by Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., for the Wellesley Alumnae Fund of Wellesley College. It is the informal recipe collection by homemakers who'd find this one worth having. It may be obtained from Wellesley in Westchester, Post Office Box 22, Wellesley, Mass., for $2.00 a year, including postage.

HOT GREEN BEAN SALAD
Cook 1 pound young green beans, cut in thin diagonal slices. Fry 2 small slices bacon until crisp. Fry a few sliced onions until tender but not brown. Add beans and onion to hot pan. Add 1/2 tablespoon vinegar to beans. Toss and serve immediately. (Also good served cold.)

CATERPILLER SALAD
Cook cauliflower until just tender. Break in pieces. While still crisp or olive oil around the cauliflower.

If you ate a snack up the sun-burned girl with a brown-sun-burned look, you'd better start creaming and oiling your skin before beach sunbathing. This will help to prevent excessive dryness, the result of too much sun. It will also keep your skin smooth and prevent chapping so that when you climb into a fall evening frock, you'll look pretty and dainty.

Prevent hair loss. If you're losing your hair, it's probably because you're not washing your hair in the morning with a good pure soap and warm water. Then when you get out for a morning to see to your hat or other head covering,

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, July 29 (AP)—What movie would you most like to forget?

You and I may have many pictures we consider prime candidates for oblivion, but it's different with film stars. Most of the glitterbugs will own up to a single picture which represented a low point in their careers. So the AP Hollywood Forum has queried some of them on their worst celluloid experiences. Here we go.

Fred MacMurray: "My worst one was 'Maid of Salem.' One critic observed that most of the time I looked as though I was going to take a saxophone out of my cleat."

Lucille Ball: "Roman Scandals, no way of the early pictures in which I was a showgirl. It's very disconcerting to go to a friend's house for an evening and find out they are showing one of those pictures in which I costarred, around wearing a wig down to here and little else."

Victor Mature: "I'll pick 'Moss Rose.' The reason is obvious to anyone who saw the picture."

John Garfield: "My worst movie was 'Crossed Wires.' A remake of 'Outward Bound,' it was stupid and mythic and bad."

Harris Mary: "The worst was the last two MGM 'Go West' and 'The Big Store.'"

Sonny Tufts: "I'll pick 'The Big Store.' I've seen it so many times and I've never had me a better idea of why it was so bad, which is kind of ridiculous for a man like me. I guess the low point was 'Easy Come Easy Go' with Diana Lynn and Barry Fitzgerald."

Dan Duryea: "Something called 'Main Street After Dark.' It was so bad even I wouldn't go to see it."

Lloyd Nolan: "A dille called 'Steel Against the Sky.' After that one, Warners didn't care if they didn't see me for a long time."

Bette Davis: "In 'This Our Life,' (with Olivia DeHavilland), it was my dull and dullness is the unforgivable sin in movies."

Ruth Hussey: "Pierre of the Plains" with John Carroll and Janet Cabot. Even my relatives in Providence didn't like it, so it must have been bad."

Milburn Stone: "My second picture, 'Nagana,' in which I was incredibly heroic. My worst scene of all time was when I rescued Tala Birell, who was tied to a stake and surrounded by savages and roaring crocodiles."

Milburn Stone: "My second picture, 'Nagana,' in which I was incredibly heroic. My worst scene of all time was when I rescued Tala Birell, who was tied to a stake and surrounded by savages and roaring crocodiles."

Charles Laughton: "A production of 23 years ago called 'Down River.' It was an oriental opium runner. I wore hazel nuts in my nose to give it a flat, oriental look. The nuts combined with the script exerted the most exquisite torture. I have ever known. I also recall that I came to a sticky end in the picture."

John Leslie: "Cinderella Jones," a completely idiotic musical in which I played a lame brain character. I had to enact the principal love scene after flapping over in a canoe with an evening dress on."

Betty Hutton: "I choose 'Cross My Heart' as my worst. It stunk from start to finish."

Net Fishing Study Not Yet Financed

TALLAHASSEE, July 29, (AP)—Money to finance the Lake Okechobee-St. Johns River net fishing study hasn't been made available after all.

when the Budget Commission discussed the matter, neither was there a second to State Treasurer Ed Larson's motion to make the meeting show no action taken whatever.

The Game Commission had asked for permission to spend the money from its hunting and fishing license receipts to conduct the fishing survey, fence public hunting areas in Palm Beach and Levy counties, and manage the Levy county preserve.

Marshal Tito

Speakers at the party congress said these accusations were false and unjust. Delegates hailed Tito as their "glorious leader."

Throughout the congress, careful observers were convinced that repetition of their desire to stay in the eastern bloc was sincere but that it applied only if the Cominform nations would drop completely their charges against Yugoslavia.

Some observers were positive that Yugoslav partisans -- who made up almost the entire congress -- were glorifying Stalin, the Red army and the Bolshevik (Russian) party because they felt that way about it.

They dropped from their party program proposals to work for the "closest possible political, economic and social unity" with these two countries.

This action was approved yesterday because of "recent changes in relations" with the two Balkan neighbors. It was interpreted to mean that the Yugoslavs intend to drop their idea of a Balkan federation for a time.

At another incident, reflected worsening relations with another neighbor -- Hungary. The Yugoslav information office charged that the secretary of the Yugoslav legation in Budapest had been arrested by the Hungarian government in connection with the murder of Milos Mole.

The Hungarian government was accused of openly violating Zhukov's diplomatic immunity and of deliberately using the murder to embitter Yugoslav-Hungarian relations. Yugoslavia has filed an official protest over the arrest, it was announced.

Olympic Games

The freshly laid, dead level red track made a ring of color around the bright green infield.

Among early arrivals were the three score members of the International Olympic Committee, extremely stiff and uncomfortable in cutaways. Shiny black stove-pipe hats predominated in this select group, but some of the British members wore tall grey hats. All had red carnations in their button holes.

Action began with the appearance of 14 trumpeters of King George's household cavalry, clad in yellow striped uniforms. They lined up in front of the royal box and played a fanfare.

The muffled drums and tifes of His Majesty's brigade of guards in red jackets, with black trousers and tall black buskins, then paraded in, followed a little later by the Scots pipers of the same brigade.

Boy Scouts stood guard at the wicker boxes holding 7,000 pigeons to be released as symbols of peace -- the prime goal of the Olympics.

Outside 5,000 athletes from 59 lands sweltered and grumbled. Despite the exhausting heat, the ceremonies proceeded with relentless British dignity.

British nobility, visiting royalty and members of the international Olympic committee began to emerge timidly into the sunlight from out of the cool shadows of the passageway under the royal box a full half hour before the King's appearance.

Avery Brundage, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee and International Olympic vice president, elected to wear the blue blazer and white trousers of the American team rather than the formidable formal attire of other committee members. This was because of his place in the parade of athletes.

Thursday was an enjoyable day, including three good meals, plenty of handicraft and games for the boys. The activity periods, two hours of swimming, including supervised swimming lessons for the younger boys each morning, and plenty of time to read, go boating or loaf. On such a typical day, the boys, following the morning exercises, make up bunk and clean cabins for strict inspection. Once the yard is raked, the cabin "white glaze" clean, the boys properly made up and uniforms put in strict order, the boys scatter to the scene of their favorite activity. At the handicraft shop there are handbags of every shade and size in process of making, mended with plastic are being prepared for boys to paint, including wall plaques or book ends. On the archery range boys are vying for medals and diplomas. On the shore of the lake, small boys are being instructed in the fundamentals of swimming. Other older boys, working under supervision of an authorized Red Cross instructor are working for their junior lifesaving award. Swimming, diving and activities is followed by supper, a free period. Then there is the Counsel ring, and then to bed. The boys took an extra active part in every game and activity during the day as it was the last day of camping. The rifle and archery ranges were crowded with boys making last shots to qualify for medals and awards. Other boys were trying for white and blue awards in swimming, and still others were painting and waving frantically in the handicraft department in order to complete projects by Saturday morning. At evening the boys sat in a large circle around the last campfire. They were to enjoy together for a year. They told their most enjoyable experiences at camp, and were indeed reluctant when the time came to leave and return to their cabins. A pajama party was held by the young members of the fire by Cabin 1, which was awarded this honor for scoring the most points during the preceding five days than any other cabin.

Jaycee Meeting

Jaycees sponsor a beauty contest among girls who may enter here to go back to school. The matter was taken under advisement. He also proposed that the group cooperate with the Dixie Boys Handicraft Association in their Labor Day program, and that they aid Mrs. Catherine Rivage who was involved in a fall from a horse at New Caney in paying hospital bills. This proposal was deferred for future consideration.

Molotov Said Out Of Town To U.S. Envoy

Western Allies May Make Request For Direct Conference With Premier Stalin

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—The State Department received an official dispatch from Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith today that Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov is on vacation at this critical juncture in East-West affairs.

There was immediate speculation here that in Molotov's absence diplomats of the United States, Britain and France might make a direct request for a conference with Premier Stalin. They want to present the latest demand of the western powers for lifting the Berlin blockade and to express a willingness to negotiate various German issues with Russia if that is done.

At a State Department news conference Press Officer Michael McDermott refused to say whether he considers Molotov's absence from Moscow a "brush off."

"I'd rather not go into that," he told questioners.

It was McDermott who announced the dispatch from Smith.

"Just in the last few minutes," he told reporters, "we received word from Moscow that the foreign office has told our embassy there that Foreign Minister Molotov is on vacation."

BERLIN, July 30 (AP)—A Soviet offer to fire all Berlin street lights from German in western sectors of the blockaded city today and the Russians loosened new attacks on the anti-Communist city government.

Informants in Moscow, meanwhile, said the chances are good that a Big Four session to thrash out the Berlin crisis may take place in Paris in September, if (Continued on Page Two)

Cpl. Cecil Jones And Pvt. Lingle Are Mortarmen

FORT JACKSON, July 30 (Special)—Company I, commanded by Lieut. Richard P. Payne, today had training in scouting and mortar training in the entire regiment to qualify, they put on an exhibition of speed and accuracy in setting up and firing the 60 mm mortar.

These mortarmen scored a direct hit on a tank 520 yards distant. The mortar course was set up by the army last for six months, but one mortarmen, through rushed procedures, covered it in six days and still lost none of the accuracy of the regular army course.

Sayer And Wilson Return From Tally

City Manager H. N. Sayer and City Attorney Fred Wilson returned last evening at 7:00 o'clock on a Florida Airlines plane from Tallahassee where they visited the Comptroller's office to see how tax return figures on ACL Railroad and other property upon which the comptroller collects taxes in Sanford, had been arrived at.

Assessments on the ACL Railroad property, Pullman Company, Fruit Growers Express and Western Union Telegraph Co. were checked and found satisfactory, said Mr. Sayer. He explained the tax procedure by pointing out that the comptroller collects taxes on these properties and then pro-rates them to cities and counties.

TRIPPHONE VOTE
NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—Early returns from nationwide voting by 25,000 long distance telephone workers on acceptance or rejection of a new contract with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. are reported indecisive.

A spokesman for the CIO American Union of Telephone Workers said yesterday preliminary returns showed the balloting was "running close."

An Explosion Brought Death To Hundreds In Germany

SMOKE MUSHROOMS UP in a plume hundreds of feet high following an explosion in the I. G. Farben chemical plant in Ludwigshafen, Germany, while the exact number of dead may not be known for days, it was estimated at 600, with 1,400 injured. The plant, located in the French Zone of Germany employed about 6,500 workers. A comparable disaster occurred in Texas City, Tex., where 650 died and some 3,000 were badly hurt. Mayor Asks For National Guard In Dayton Strike

Street Fighting Between Strikers And Non Strikers Grows

DAYTON, O., July 30 (AP)—Mayor Louis Lohrey today asked Governor Thomas J. Herbert to assign Ohio National Guardsmen to the scene of the mass-picketed Univis Lens Co. plant after Police Chief Rudolph Wurster reported the situation out of hand.

The request for troops came after police apparently had restored order at the plant where several hundred employees for the fifth consecutive day attempted to return to work.

Police broke up street fighting between pickets and non strikers by exploding tear gas bombs. Heavy police squadrons again forced a path through the picket line and by 8 A.M., the company said 217 employees had entered the plant.

At least three pickets and another man who was not identified were taken to police station. No casualties were reported.

Pickets arrested included Herbert Hirschberg, 36, of Cleveland, who said he was director of organization for the United Electrical Workers (CIO) for Ohio and Kentucky.

Violence broke out again today when some 3,000 persons gathered to form picket lines in defiance of a court order forbidding mass picketing. The skirmishing was short lived, but the situation remained tense after police broke up the street fighting.

Reinforcements of about a dozen deputy sheriffs were rushed to the scene. Fire department equipment also was called out. It was held in reserve around a corner from the plant, but fire department officers watched the scene from a nearby building. An ambulance also was on hand, but it was not used.

Police fighting and pushing marked the street fighting. A policeman, wielding a club, chased and subdued one picket after drawing a gun on him. There was no shooting except for the tear gas bombs.

Non-strikers massed at a company parking lot two blocks from the plant. Then a group of around 100 non-strikers marched down the street toward the plant with a police line on one side and a picket line on the other. There were no incidents then, except for shouts of "teach."

In Columbus, a spokesman for Governor Herbert said the Governor had the request for troops under advisement, but no decision would be made today.

Police Chief Wurster said a state of emergency should be declared in his request to city officials asking the Governor to assign troops here.

"It's quiet now," the police chief said, "but who knows what will happen Monday morning. The plant does not operate on Saturday." How can 100 or 160 (Continued on Page Two)

2 Miners Killed, Thirteen Hurt In Alabama Blast

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 30 (AP)—Two miners were reported killed and at least 13 injured today in a blast at the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Co.'s big Edgewater coal mine.

A source at the company's main offices said unverified reports from the scene placed the death toll at two. A company spokesman said he was unable to confirm this immediately.

The blast was reported to have occurred at 9:20 A. M.

An ambulance driver said 11 men were brought to one hospital and two others to another for emergency treatment.

The driver said he heard that six more injured men were still in the mine.

A hospital attaché said some of the men appeared burned severely. A T.C.I. engineer who declined use of his name said he had received a report that the men had been working in a small area of the mine and that the blast was localized.

He estimated that approximately 200 men were in the mine at the time.

All available ambulances were sent to the scene.

A company spokesman at the scene said an additional dozen men were believed trapped. He said reports of a second man being killed had not been confirmed.

Rescue crews were being sent into the mine in an effort to reach the miners reported trapped near the scene of the blast.

The explosion was believed to have occurred at the junction of an old shaft with a new shaft being driven at the mine.

Truman And Dewey To Meet Tomorrow

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—President Truman and Governor Thomas E. Dewey will set a precedent tomorrow when they speak from the same rostrum.

It will mark the first time in modern American history, according to available records, that opposing presidential candidates of the two major parties appear together at a public function and speak from the same platform. They are to speak at the dedication of New York's new International Airport.

Research in news files and history texts failed to uncover any other instance of rival nominees for the presidency at a public function in recent times.

Berious Crisis

TAMPA, July 30 (AP)—Americans in Germany consider our international situation much more critical than do the folk a back home, an Air Force leader said today.

Brig. General Donald R. Hutchison, commander of MacDill Field, gave that opinion at a civic group meeting.

General Hutchison returned this week from England after leading a flight of 30 B-29 superfortresses from MacDill Field.

Communists Accuse Son-In-Law Of Treason In Egypt

BUDAPEST, Hungary, July 30 (AP)—President Zoltan Tildy abdicated today. The Communist-dominated government had accused his son-in-law, Minister to Egypt Victor Cornok, of espionage and treason.

Tildy, a Methodist minister, belongs to the Smallholder Party, which had an elected majority before the Communist coup in May of last year. He was the first president of post-war Hungary and retained that office after the coup.

Tildy, however, had been under Communist pressure for a year or more.

The service club issued the call to a resolution adopted yesterday at the final session of its four-day 31st annual convention at Madison Square Garden.

The resolution said there has been an upsurge of Communist activities in the past three years and they "constitute a dangerous threat to the peace and tranquility of the nations affected."

The Lions International declared: "We recommend to what remains of an unhampered press in the free nations of the world that a persistent drive be immediately launched through its news columns and editorials to expose the insidious program and underlying principles of the Communist movement."

The council of ministers has discussed the question of a successor.

Political sources said they believed the former Socialist leader, Arpad Szakasits, is likely to succeed Tildy as President. He is now chairman of the Unified Labor Party.

John O. Poulsen Injured In Crash

John O. Poulsen, 47 year old salesman of Maitland, suffered serious and possible fractures when the 1939 Ford Coupe that he was driving north on Sanford Avenue near Eighth Street this morning, crashed into a tree as he swerved to the left to avoid a parked automobile, according to Patrolmen K. Murphy and J. B. Quillenbaum, who investigated the accident at 7:30 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Poulsen was taken to Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital in an Erickson ambulance. His condition is not serious, said Dr. Harry Silby, attending physician, this morning. X-rays will be taken to determine any possible fractures. The wrecked car was taken to Ratliff's place.

NO JURORS

HARTO, July 30 (AP)—The court ran out of prospective jurors for the second time in the trial of Dewitt F. Collins, charged with murdering his wife.

A special venire of 60 names had been drawn by order of Circuit Judge Don Register when the original panel was exhausted yesterday.

Only 26 of the 60 were located and appeared when court convened today. Within two hours the state and defense counsel had run through this group and still only 11 jurors were tentatively accepted.

Snyder Says He Likes Price Control Like Castor Oil; Truman Predicts Crash

President Lambasts Congress For Not Enacting His Legislative Program

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—President Truman today accused the Republican Congress of a "blind disregard" of quenching inflation.

"Lasting prosperity is not assured," the chief executive declared in calling anew for laws to "forestall a business collapse." Such a crash may come, he said, as a sudden climax to the leap-frog game of wage and price increases.

Mr. Truman threw a whole book of economics at the special session. It was his midyear economic report, 115 pages long.

Undaunted by the icy reception he got on Tuesday, when he presented his program in person, the President renewed his demand for sweeping powers — including control over prices, wages, rationing and credit, plus an excess profits tax to discourage price-boosting.

The core of the plan, a 4 percent roll back in prices of essential cost of living items, was revealed yesterday, when former OPA Chief Paul Porter laid an omnibus White House bill before the lawmakers. The aim, but cutting those prices back to the November 1947 level, is to hold general living costs where they are now, Porter said.

Lions Clubs Urge Strong Stand Be Made Against Reds

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP)—Lions International has called for a strong stand against "further encroachment of the Communist way of life."

The service club issued the call to a resolution adopted yesterday at the final session of its four-day 31st annual convention at Madison Square Garden.

The resolution said there has been an upsurge of Communist activities in the past three years and they "constitute a dangerous threat to the peace and tranquility of the nations affected."

Herald Carriers Begin Popularity Contest

The Newsboys Club of Sanford is putting on a popularity contest among members to decide which newspaper is best qualified as a carrier.

Cooperation of subscribers is requested in helping to grade the contests, he said. Boys will be graded on the basis of promptness of delivery, courtesy, collection methods, and friendliness toward the subscribers.

"Please do not count on the backs of carriers," advised Mr. Smith, as the boys feel that on this count someone might do them in.

All subscribers are requested to write or bring to The Herald, the name of their favorite newspaper and a short letter telling why they think he should be Mr. Newsboy of Sanford. The contest will run until Aug. 9, Mr. Smith stated.

Government Seeks Lower Prices While Trying To Hold Them up

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—The government finds itself fighting on two apparently opposing sides of the price struggle today.

One agency, the Agriculture Department, is battling to prevent further declines in the prices of some farm commodities.

Another, the White House, is urging Congress to grant the government authority to control prices in order to keep the cost of living from going higher.

Monday, Secretary of Agriculture Truman urged farmers to hold back on farms more of this year's big wheat crop. He said heavy marketings are having the effect of lowering prices received by farmers.

On Tuesday, President Truman in a message to the special session, asked among other things, for power to control prices and ration scarce items.

Truman's action was taken to help carry on a farm price support law. Early in the war, Congress, by a bipartisan vote, passed a measure requiring the government to support prices of most farm products at not less than 90 percent of parity until Dec. 31, 1948. The present Republican-controlled Congress extended this law, with some revisions, for another year.

Parity is a legal standard for supporting farm prices. This standard is declared by law to be equally fair to the farmer and those who buy his products.

In recent weeks, wheat prices have dropped to, and in some places below, the 90 percent support level. Even heavy government buying of grain under a farm storage of grain under a government loan program failed to hold a floor under prices of wheat dictated by law.

This program was said to have been extended by law.

Alabama's Electors Pledged Vs. Truman

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 30 (AP)—Alabama's 11 electoral votes were pledged today to the states rights ticket of Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Governor Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi.

This action represented the first formal support of the presidential slate chosen by rebellious southerners at the Birmingham states right conference in Birmingham July 17.

Similar action is expected to be taken by the Mississippi Democratic party in a meeting Tuesday at Jackson, Miss.

Mississippi's elector nominees, like Alabama's, already are pledged against casting the state's ballots for President Truman in the Electoral College.

Secretary Asked Why Government Uses Public Funds To Inflate Farm Prices

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told the Senate today that Congress may get at the end of next week if the anti-poll tax bill can be disposed of by Wednesday.

Southern senators, meanwhile, continued their filibuster against the poll tax measure with Senator Stewart (D-Tenn.) leading off the second day's talkfest. Taft spoke out as Republicans and Democrats clashed sharply on several fronts about who is to blame for rising prices.

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today told Congress members he has the same attitude toward price controls that he does toward castor oil. They should be used only in emergencies.

The cabinet officer was before the Senate Banking Committee to discuss President Truman's anti-inflation program. He endorsed a return to controls on installment buying and backed power for the federal reserve board to require a 10 percent increase in bank reserves, thus "freezing" possibly $12,000,000,000 that banks have available for lending.

Chairman Lyles (R-MD) finally asked Snyder if he personally favors price control.

Snyder "As a usual feature I'm not in favor of price controls. Not an iota in favor of castor oil but if I've got an ailment and it's going to save my life then I'll take it."

Lyles "Then to the Secretary of the Treasury price control and castor oil are equally repugnant?"

Senator Lyles and Snyder joined.

When other senators sought to continue the castor oil discussion, Snyder waved them off. He said he was "not going to get into a castor oil discussion."

Truman Pledges To End Jim Crowism In U. S. Army

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—President Truman insists that an eventual end to "Jim Crowism" in the armed forces will be his aim as long as he is commander-in-chief.

He told a news conference yesterday that the "equality order" he issued Monday meant just that.

The subject came up when a reporter said General Omar Bradley's Army school of staff had been quoted as saying he favored segregation in the Army. The newsman asked whether this is consistent with Mr. Truman's "equality of treatment and opportunity" order.

The President said he had been ordered by the Secretary of the (Continued on Page Two)

Negro Kills 2 Other Negroes At Dance

MIAMI, July 30 (AP)—Two negroes were shot to death and four were wounded early today by a negro man who invaded a dance hall at an amusement park.

Sheriff's Deputies Claude High and R. W. Howden reported that the gunman fired six shots, each of which took effect, and escaped by joining the screaming crowd of dancers who dashed headlong from the building.

The deputies said no motive for the attack could be learned, and the identity of the gunman was unknown.

He entered the dance hall after midnight, immediately pulled a pistol and fired pointblank into the dancers, said the deputies. In addition to the wounded, two negroes were trampled and crushed but not seriously hurt in the resulting pandemonium.

The dead were identified at Jacksonville Memorial Hospital as Dorothy Curry, 24, and Harold Johnson, 25.
