

Our Well-Fed Reporter Visits Sanford's Ghetto

By BILL SCOTT

Just off Williams Street in Sanford's Goldshore section is a six-room house inhabited by 10 children, their 27-year-old mother and 17-year-old father, who spends his time just sitting on the porch.

This is the Williams family and this is their story. . . . John Williams, the father, is a white-whiskered cripple who spends his time just sitting on the porch.

MARY WILLIAMS and her family eat lunch

the natural way since the stroke. A table is placed in front of the man and there several times a day, depending on how much food is in the house, his meager share of the family's remains is placed by Mary, his wife.

On the day this reporter called at the home (which required walking a board across a nearby drainage ditch) the folks were eating well. It was around the first of the month and the family's welfare check had just arrived.

I entered the shanty through the remains of a screen door, which long ago had tired of stopping unwanted guests from flying into the abode.

A torrent of children, in all shapes, sizes and ages, flooded my feet as I walked cautiously into the living room with camera at the ready to capture this domestic example of poverty—Sanford style! A woman holding a baby greeted my arrival with a smile and began introducing her family. . . . This is David, this is Minnie, this is Mable, and this is . . . (she continued rattling off a list of names, but I didn't hear her because my thoughts and attention had centered on the woman's husband.)

John Williams reminded me of a picture from a travel book on Africa. His eyes peered through the slats of the welfare check had just arrived.

The woman, armed with a check, wages was on "saturday" and King Solomon's Mine.

On his face were lines drawn by years of worry and doing without for his wife, himself and the multitude of small, dust-bodies that stirred beside him.

From somewhere in the room, never land of my mind, I heard the tune from the Elvis Presley song and the words sprang at me. . . . In the ghetto . . . a baby born and a mother cries. . . . In the ghetto . . . a young boy dies and a mother cries. . . .

Here before me was the ghetto and these were the inhabitants! This is the house where Mary Williams, sits in a rocking chair to fight the large rodents who slip nocturnally into the house from the outside.

Other monthly bills include food, two doctors, paying the hospital, a loan, utilities, etc. Mary Williams said, after paying the bills, there's not much of the $174 welfare check left.

Doctors hold no hope for her husband ever working again and now the construction laborer just sits and stares . . . at the world.

Nine of the 10 children will be in school next term, seven in regular school and two in Head Start. Mary Williams said, with the pride of a woman whose offspring had just discovered a cure for cancer.

At one time the woman worked at a local nursing home, but this was before her husband's stroke. Now she cannot take employment as his condition requires she remain home.

Police Chief Beary In State Position

Winter Park Police Chief Raymond E. Beary today was named director of the Beverage Division of the new Department of Business Regulation.

Beary, 37, succeeds A. R. Brautigam who headed the Beverage Department until he was named executive director of the department created by governmental reorganization.

Roger Doyle of Pensacola, department board chairman, called Beary "a crackjack law enforcement administrator" and said he was exactly the type of man the department had been seeking for the $19,500-a-year job.

A native of Williamsville, N.Y., Beary served as a deputy sheriff and a police chief in New York State before coming to Florida in 1961 as chief of police for Maitland. He had been chief in Winter Park since 1965.

Opposition Kills Proposal City Hall Move Dead Issue

By BILL SCOTT

The curtain has fallen on the city hall controversy with the unanimous vote of the City Commission to cease any further consideration of moving the municipal government to Sanford Airport.

out of approximately 100 persons who packed the small commission chambers to stand-room only last night and applauded G. Algebron Siper as he confronted Mayor Lee P. Moore with a 15-minute verbal blast aimed at keeping the city hall in the downtown area.

HARRY SKOP demands resignations

City Mgr. Named To SIC Board

Sanford City Commissioners last night approved a Sanford Industrial Commission recommendation to name W. E. Knowles, city manager, as the ninth member of the SIC board of directors.

The commission action followed a discussion of the ordinance setting up the SIC, which set membership at more than five but no more than 11.

The group, which operates the Sanford Airport property leased from Navy industrial is composed of persons from banking, real estate, construction, public utility and industrial management is represented.

By adding Knowles, the city will have two representatives on the board as Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts is also a SIC member.

In dealing with other SIC issues, the commission discussed the future of the industrial department of secretary for U. S. (Red) Cleveland, airport manager, at $85 weekly and the six-month extension of SIC director Don Ralston's contract at $22,000 annual salary.

Commissioner J. H. (Jimmy) Crapps complained that SIC was not following regular city payroll patterns by starting new employees at higher salaries than those paid to city workers.

Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts moved to approve employment of a secretary at $85 weekly but wanted the SIC informed that in the future the industrial department of secretary for U. S. (Red) Cleveland, airport manager, at $85 weekly and the six-month extension of SIC director Don Ralston's contract at $22,000 annual salary.

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham maintained that Ralston's law would mean the people would not have the opportunity to vote for a commissioner as the bill lets a commissioner run for mayor and, if elected, then he can resign his commission seat and a successor is appointed by the commissioners, thus taking the power away from the people to elect.

Mockery?

A Sanford merchant has asked for the resignation of Mayor Lee P. Moore and City Commissioner W. Vincent Roberts after the City Council last night with written resolutions to set a second to a motion being considered by the commission.

Harry Skop, operator of Pigeon Bank department store, in a telegram to Moore and Roberts, accused the men of "making a mockery" out of the office of mayor and city commissioner last night, when they switched seats to second a motion when Commissioner Earl Higginbotham had the floor.

Skop declared, "I take this opportunity now to ask for your resignation."

Wirz, attempting to set the record straight, reported he had talked with the mayor and Chief of Police Donald Brumley and found the men had resigned for personal reasons.

KNEE DEEP in OUTDOORS

The bass are still biting pretty good on live shiners and some under-water plugs, while fishing close to the shore line, with some school bass action.

A good fishing report from Jim Crowl is that a local fisherman caught an eight pound white flager fishing with a pork rind strip.

The broom are biting real good on live worms in Lake Jessup around Davis Point on the north west side. This is the second point west the Highway 46 bridge.

The blue gills are biting real well in this area also, with a good report from the Highway 46 bridge.

Halp Ray and his son, Andy Ray, age 11, had real good fall water fishing back while fishing out of Isla Morada. They caught a beautiful 50 pound sailfin.

FISHING IS FOR THE BIRDS
Some of the best fishermen in the world wear wings! They are large, tethered birds whose ancestry dates back 1300 years. Cormorants, tied to a log or cord, are still used to fish rivers and lakes in some parts of the Orient.

Actualy, birds of all kinds are important to fishermen. For birds are helpful in finding fish, and in some instances are beneficial in reducing undesirable species of fish.

Not everyone can have a trained cormorant to do his fishing, but the role birds play in aiding salt-water anglers is often better than some of the most electronic equipment when it comes to locating schools of fish offshore and inshore.

Studies have shown that few warm-water game fish are taken by birds. Heron and other wading birds do their fishing along the edges of lakes and streams. Here they catch slugs, zebra, shallow-water fish such as carp and gar, missing the more coastal game fish.

Another water man and birds travel over fish to hunt fish hatcheries. Hatchery holding tanks are favorite feeding grounds for birds such as the kingfisher and great blue heron.

Now that we have informed you about the birds and the fish, the next time someone says fishing is for the birds — smile and agree. After all, aren't there times when a cormorant would come in handy?

The boating world has begun its annual search for those making major contributions to boating safety during the year. American Stars Shattered Sanford Nationals Hit Mississimiee

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Staff

Sanford's National League All-Stars dumped the Kistmisse American 2-0 last night in the opening game of the Florida Little League District Tournament. The Sanford National squad was sparked by a sparkling one-hitter, fired by Burke Steele. Danny Greco paced the team at the bat, collecting two of their five hits.

Steele's no-hit bid was spoiled in the top of the last inning when losing pitcher Pete Chirli led off with a single. Chirli was left stranded as Steele fanned the next three batters.

Sanford's American Little League All-Stars had no soft luck as they failed to defeat at the hands of the St. Cloud All-Stars in a rain-delayed game at St. Cloud's home field, St. Cloud pitcher Jay Davis, proved too much for the Sanford team as he fanned 13 batters on his way to a one-hit shutout. Steele's bid was spoiled in the last inning as John Doyle was hit by a pitch, and his partner, Wayne Kelly, stole second base.

Doyle stole second base on a passed ball.

Marx Simcoe was the starting and losing pitcher for Sanford as he pitched 1 1/2 innings. Sanford pitchers Simcoe, Randy Brown and Charlie Taylor combined to strike out several 32 pitches before being Brown for a base-on-balls to force in the first run of the ball game. Jay Davis, St. Cloud pitcher, then stepped up and drilled the first pitch far over the right field fence for a grand slam home run.

Perrin led his league with a batting average over .600 and also collected 33 RBIs. Perrin, while posting a 9-0 win-loss record, struck out 154 batters in less than 60 innings. Twice during the season Perrin struck out 18 batters in a game.

David Lott, the American League's leading hitter, collected on an error by the short stop. With no outs and men on first and second, it looked as if Sanford might start a rally, but Perrin reached back for something extra as he fanned the next two batters and then Brown was caught stealing.

The American League All-Stars were knocked out of competition by the loss, and Sanford's chances for a State Championship are left up to a game on August 14-15. Perrin led his league with a batting average over .600 and also collected 33 RBIs. Perrin, while posting a 9-0 win-loss record, struck out 154 batters in less than 60 innings. Twice during the season Perrin struck out 18 batters in a game.

Sanford's National League All-Stars take to the road well known as they travel to Melbourne to face the Melbourne All-Stars at 8 p.m. in the first game of a best two out of three game series. The second game will be held at Pinehurst Park in Sanford at 8 p.m. A third game, if necessary, will be played in Sanford on Saturday at a yet undetermined time.

The Senior League squad is headed by a fine pitching staff headed by Kip Braden, Paul Watson, Billy Hope and Ron Nobles.

This year's team is made up of Kip Braden, Brad Leon, Paul Watson, Billy Hope, Mike Lanier, Kenny Alford, Randy Boyd, Gordon Bradley, Garret Harsh, Ed Hughes, Ben Mendoza, Ron Nobles, Keith Harris, Lee Stoumenre and Larry Crimmins.

Sanford's newest coach was introduced to the Rotary assembly yesterday by one of Sanford's top athletes, U.S. Bank vice John Merritt. Following an enlightening introduction, the beaming crowd of Rotarians, complete attention of the group and for some 15 minutes told the Rotarians exactly what the game of football meant to him and what it should mean to the players.

Perrin's remarks started with an analogy. The new member remarked, "Football travels the Three C Highway." The "Three C's" are Confidence, Courage, and having a cause.

Perrin explained that it takes courage to play the game and moving on to the last of the "3C's" Perrin said, "And to play football you must have a cause." Following his thoughts on the mental side of the game the new Sanford coach looked at some of the problems now plaguing Seminole High's athletic program.

"We're in a bad spot," explaining the expenses entailed in running a complete athletic program, such as the one at Seminole. Perrin remarked that football is the brunt of the athletic program and must make a huge profit at the gate in order to support the following Winter and Spring sports.

The new member then unveiled his thoughts on how he would try to stimulate more support for the football team. One of these points was through season tickets.

Perrin then pointed to what will probably be Seminole's toughest grid contest this year. Seminole will meet last year's State Champions in Class A game, Janesville. It was evident that he had other ideas this year.

Twins Work Overtime... Minnesota Downs Chisox In 14 Innings

By HAL ROCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took awhile to accomplish, but the most good things do. So the Minnesota Twins didn't mind working a little overtime Monday night to keep their winning streak intact.

The Twins seemed headed for an end to their five-game streak until Bob Allison tagged his son and home run of the night to the Chicago 2-2 in the ninth. The League West Division lead over Oakland. The Twins now hold a five game lead.

In other American League action Monday, Washington shut out Detroit 3-0 and California blanked Kansas City 2-0. The other teams were not scheduled.

In the National League, Chicago shut out New York 1-0, Los Angeles trounced Houston 4-1 and Montreal blanked Pittsburgh 2-0. The other teams had the day off.

Allison, who had four hits for the night, blasted his 250th career homer in the second inning. But Chicago tied it in the fourth on singles by Earl Hopkey, Pete Ward and Ed Herrmann and then took the lead in the eighth on Hopkey's RBI double.

Allison tied it again in the ninth. Then Bobby Knorr's run scoring single sent Chicago back in front in the 12th and when the first two Twins went out in the bottom half, things didn't look promising for Billy Martin's club.

But pinch hitter Rod Carew beat out a bunt and then circled the bases on Tovar's two-bagger. In the 14th, the Twins wanted no time-straining consecutive hits by Oliva, Allison and Cardenas to end it.

Hitting Against Pitching
CINCINNATI (AP) — St. Louis Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst will have plenty of pitchers when he faces another National League victory in the annual major league All-Star Game on July 22 — he named nine today to the squad.

The American League team will go with eight pitchers. Schoendienst named six righthanders. They and their records going into Monday night's game were: Steve Carlton, St. Louis, 11-5; Juan Marchal, San Francisco, 11-5; Bill Skowron, Atlanta, 14-7; Tom Seaver, New York, 14-5; and Bill Singer, Los Angeles, 12-5.

The three left-handers selected are Steve Carlton, St. Louis, 11-5; Grant Jackson, Philadelphia, 8-8; and Jerry Kosman, New York, 10-7.

The nine hurlers have a combined win-and-loss record of 101-81.

LEAGUE
The senior member, of course, is Marichal, who was picked for the eighth time. He has pitched 16 innings in seven such games, all but one hits and one earned-run for a 0.56 ERA.

He was the winning pitcher in 1962 in the All-Star game played in Washington — also the scene of this year's contest. Last year he paced the league in victories with a 26-7 mark and also led in complete games with 80.

Gibson is next in All-Star seniority. This was the fifth time for him to be selected. In three pitching performances he has allowed only one earned run in six innings.

U.S. COAST GUARD AUXILIARY
By BILL JACOBS
Division Public Relations Officer

Flotilla 41 is justly proud of the signal honor of having two of its officers appointed to responsible District posts in the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary. Flotilla Commander Vice Holdwood in the new 7th District District Officer, assuming the varied duties that were so ably handled by both Blair of Sarasota. Vince will be wearing two and a half stripes on that immaculate white uniform.

We had previously announced that Nodman McKelvey, Vice Commander of Flotilla 41, had been appointed District Staff Officer, Courtesy Examinations. Congratulations are in order for these two dedicated Auxiliaries who will work ceaselessly to promote the Coast Guard Auxiliary and the mission this organization performs in the interest of safe boating.

Boating manufacturers are giving undivided attention to the most comprehensive code of standards ever published for builders of small craft. The 1970 Boating Industry Association Engineering Manual has been sent to more than 700 manufacturers of boats under 26 feet in length.

The manual contains 62 recommended practices ranging from lightning protection for boats to tire inflation cards for boat trailers. Of such standards, four are new while 14 have been changed since the 1969 manual was issued.

Several of the changes, notably in boat fuel systems, will stiffen the requirements of the BIA Boating Safety Certification Program currently covering more than two-thirds of small-boat production.

A new standard proposes a system of permanent hull serial numbers to assist states concerned with the growing problem of boat thefts. Several states are expected to pass anti-numbering laws so that the information relative to a boat can be entered with the FBI's National Crime Information Center. The Boating Industry Association is working constantly on behalf of the American boatman with genuine concern for his safety and the protection of his property.

The Coast Guard Auxiliary is 50 years old this year. In a later column we will treat concisely of the history of this adjunct of the U. S. Coast Guard.

Sample then went back to the dormitories where the players are housed and phoned Namath, presumably to fill him in on developments.

Rozelle, from his apartment in New York, confirmed that he had agreed to talk to a committee of players.

Namath eventually will appear at camp but what his intentions are remain unknown. Should he appear and either renounce his retirement or put on a uniform for a workout, he likely would be suspended by Rozelle.

First word of the meeting with Rozelle came from defensive back Johnny Sample, team captain and a member of the Jets dressing room in the Hofstra University camp.

"Webb talked to the committee," Sample said.

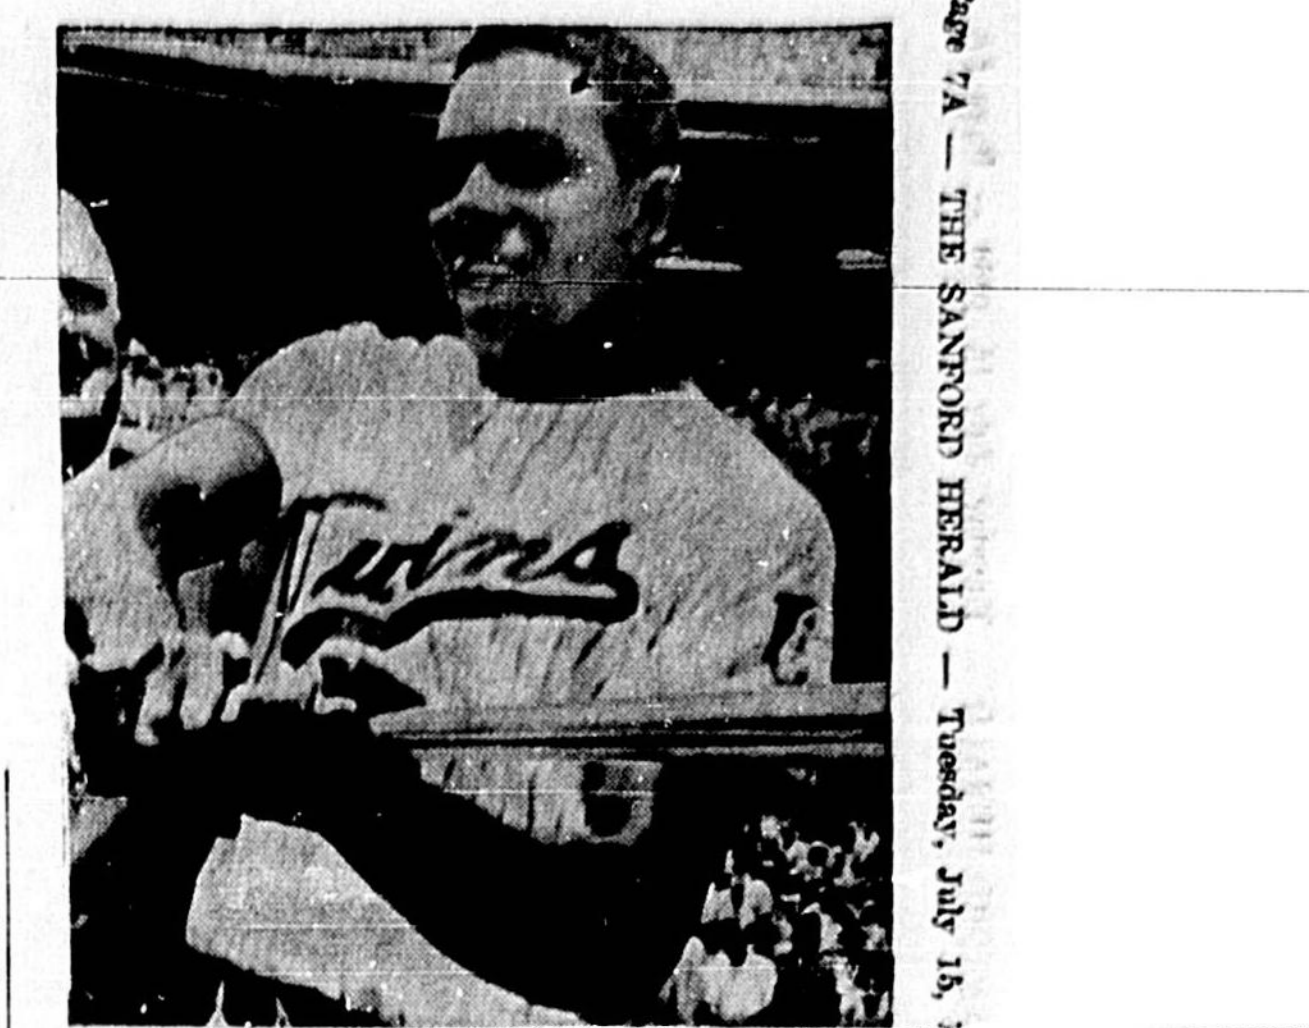

Several of the changes, notably in boat fuel systems, will stiffen the requirements of the BIA Boating Safety Certification Program currently covering more than two-thirds of small-boat production.

A new standard proposes a system of permanent hull serial numbers to assist states concerned with the growing problem of boat thefts. Several states are expected to pass anti-numbering laws so that the information relative to a boat can be entered with the FBI's National Crime Information Center. The Boating Industry Association is working constantly on behalf of the American boatman with genuine concern for his safety and the protection of his property.

By ERIC SHARP

 WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With her periscopes glowing the green coals in the black waters, the research submarine Ben Franklin and her crew of six slipped beneath the Atlantic Monday night to begin a 30-day, 1,200-mile undersea journey along the Gulf Stream. "Here we go," yelled Donald J. Prolonged Sex Life Viewed

By FRANK CARY
 AP Science Writer
 NEW YORK (AP) — A Duke University psychiatrist says it is quite possible that sexual activity among elderly persons will show a definite increase in the future.

The ability for sexual activity among the elderly is already appreciable at ages even beyond 75, Dr. Edward W. Hulse said today in a report to a symposium, "Physical Fitness and Aging," at the annual convention of the American Medical Association.

"Assuming that the health of the elderly will continue to improve, and assuming that neuroendocrine sexual activity will be less prevalent, it is quite possible that sexual activity among the elderly in the years ahead will show a definite increase," Hulse said.

He led up to his forecast by saying the situation at present is this:

1. In general, sexual activity between marital partners tends to be maintained until after the age of 75.
2. Approximately 60 per cent of married couples between the ages of 50 and 74 years of age remain sexually active.
3. After age 75, sexual activity declines, so as to include only 20 per cent of married couples that age.

But, he said, the continuation of sexual activity is dependent upon several interacting factors, adding:

"Among the married, the physical and mental health of the partner is important — as are the patterns of sexual interest and activity that have been established in early adulthood."

At the same session, Dr. Lawrence E. Lamb of Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, Tex. — one of the world's pioneering

A question and answer session followed with Bassett and Fulford both answering. One question asked was regarding the controversial pay raise and did they think it was a fair raise. Legislative Highlights Outlined To Chamber

By PHYLLIS BRANSON
 State Reps. William Fulford (D) and E. Pope Bassett (R) discussed highlights of the recent session of the State Legislature before the South Seminole-Maitland Chamber of Commerce at Valley Forge Country Club.

Bassett spoke on some of the many bills that were passed this past session. One bill was the Sea Farming measure which, in his opinion, will be a great help to Florida in the future. Another was the Drug Act which makes it an offense to sell drugs to minors. The Auto Inspection Law which now makes this an annual inspection. He stated that some 2,100 bills were passed by the House this session.

Fulford touched on a few things, both good and bad, that had been accomplished the past session, stating he felt this session would be known as the "anti-crime" Legislature.

One bill he considered good was one preventing loan sharks from taking over. He also commented on the Drug Act with the same feeling. Bassett had expressed that this is a good bill. He applauded the Police Academy that has been set up, saying this will

Boy Or Girl? London Hats Won't Tell

By NADEANI WALKER
 LONDON (AP) — Unisex has gone to the heads of London hatmakers, and one of the people doing most to popularize the look is Princess Anne. Lately, she has been photographed in a whole array of soft, but modified bowlers and caps that would look just as striking on a boy.

HEADY ITEM . . . Princess Margaret's hats, such as the military-style cap at left, the beret and plantation chapman, right, have sparked a unisex hat vogue in London.

Cooking Contest Award Goes To Cabbage Rolls

Some of the most delicious recipes from Greece stem from the simplest of ingredients. The Greeks have the knack of putting together a number of ingenious recipes based on everyday ingredients.

Undoubtedly, this is due to the fact that to the excellent Greek, eating is a daily celebration of an inhospitable land for living. In a recent competition, sponsored by the Potato Chip Institute International, one of the finalists was a delightful Greek man, George Niarchos.

Formerly an assistant professor in Marketing and now a practicing sociologist, George is a serious cook, often preparing meals at home three days a week. His "Sarmathes" or Cabbage Rolls, a favorite with his family and friends, won George the second prize in the country.

1. Cut cabbage, medium size 1 large onion, chopped
 2 lb ground meat
 1 cup rice
 1/2 cup potato chips crushed
 2 tsp parsley or mint, chopped

2. Cook cabbage in boiling water until leaves are slightly soft.

3. Carefully remove leaves one at a time. Trim heavy center vein to facilitate folding and rolling.

4. Into each leaf place about a tablespoon of the chopped meat which has been combined with the crushed potato chips, washed rice, onion chopped and seasonings. Carefully roll up, using toothpicks, if necessary, and arrange in a pot or baking pan. Cover with sliced or minced tomatoes and a little water.

5. Cook over a slow fire or bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) fifty minutes until done.

In addition to his interest in cooking, George has a number of other pastimes. He is currently working towards a doctorate degree. He's a music lover and plays his violin regularly. He and his wife enjoy the opera and attend whenever possible. And when time permits, George even tries his hand at writing. His no wonder they say the Greeks love life!

PICK YOUR PAINTER
 If you are contemplating painting your home this summer it is a good idea to pick a good painter to do the work and make sure in advance that you are in agreement on all things to be done. If you have a specific brand paint you want used, you should note this in advance as well as selecting the colors before the painter arrives. It is also wise to specify the number of coats to be used, you should empty closets and clean up after the work is done.

Little League Ball Members Also Honored Beauty Queen Visits Deltona Lions Club

By MILDRED HANES
Karen Atkins, "Miss Deltona," put in a surprise appearance at the recent Deltona Lions Club meeting as the guest of newly installed President Arthur Selby.

Also guests of the club were members of the Lions sponsored Little League ball team.

"Miss Atkins" possesses outstanding attributes which brought her the title of "Miss Deltona," rendered her winning address, entitled "How to bridge the generation gap."

In her experience, she said she found no evidence of any gap between her generation and her parents because she values the advice of her parents, and they are interested in her. Her parents, she said, are interested in her progress and her friends pressed her concern about help with her school and church activities, and with youth activities.

Schools Ask $20 Million

By HILL SCOTT
The problem of money and how to get it was discussed along with the adoption of the tentative school budget for 1969-70 during a special budget meeting yesterday by the Seminole County School Board.

The total four budgets making up the board's overall budget called for $20,000,000 and include $11.2 million for general operating, $1,641,071 for debt service, $7,072,011 for capital improvements and $641,722 for federal budget.

Walter Teague, school finance officer, said this total budget reflected the legal 10-mill limit plus 40 mill levied on impact budget; with 29 mill for Seminole Junior College, and 1.57 mill for bonded indebtedness. The total millage set by the board is 12.97, same as last year.

Teague said the county was faced with a heavy growth in teachers and indicated nearly 29,000 pupils will be in the 28 schools during the end of next term.

Smith reported the Leffer operation employs 60-plus employees of which 80 per cent are female and indicated nearly 20,000 pupils will be in the 28 schools during the end of next term.

Among the agreements made with the two enterprises are to stabilize and grade Douglas Avenue used by their trucks; instruct drivers to maintain a speed limit of 25 miles per hour on the road; instruct drivers to be courteous to other users of the road; maintain and create setbacks as required; slope the sides of the road; fence in the property; and erect a fence in the classroom teaching. It is comprised of advanced courses common to all aspects of education; work in instructional knowledge and proficiency related to the teacher's subject; to broaden the teacher's sub-

'It's A Nice Place To Spend.. Summer'

NEW YORK (AP) — Musician Duke Ellington says he is going to start and end his singing career with a self-composed song inspired by the forthcoming flight of Apollo 11. It's entitled "Moon Maiden."

Recorded by the 70-year-old bandleader here Monday, the song will be broadcast for the first time at 10 p.m. Sunday, when astronauts Edwin Aldrin and Neil Armstrong are expected to be resting on the lunar surface.

"It's a one-shot thing," Ellington said. "This is the end of my singing career."

An Ellington observation on the Apollo 11 moon shot itself: "I hope they will come back and say it's a very nice place to spend the summer."

Quoted From Psalms 81:3a Blow The Trumpet At The New Moon

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Reaching for the dream, America's Apollo 11 astronauts soared into earth orbit today and passed the vital first milestone of the voyage of the age, an attempt to land men on the moon.

Commander Neil A. Armstrong, Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins started the journey on the awesome power of a Saturn 5 super rocket that thundered from Cape Kennedy at 9:32 a.m. EDT with a roar heard round the globe.

"Houston, we've achieved the vision is go today," one of the astronauts said shortly after the spacecraft left the ground. "They finally gave me a window to look out."

Armstrong's first words on achieving orbit were very businesslike. "The booster has been confirmed for orbital flight. Both spacecraft are looking good," he said. He referred to the still attached third stage of the Saturn 5 which was to ignite later to boost Apollo 11 toward the moon.

The astronauts were to circle the globe for 2 1/2 hours to make certain the spacecraft's thousands of systems were functioning. Then, at 12:16 p.m. (EDT), they were to restart the still-attached third stage of the Saturn 5 to start toward their target, 238,000 miles away.

Barring problems, these three Columbus of the Space Age are to sail outward across a quarter-million-mile ocean of space for three days and fire themselves into orbit just 49 miles above the moon on Saturday.

They are to follow the trail blazed twice in the last seven months, by the pioneers of Apollo 8 and 9.

Sunday afternoon, Armstrong and "Buzz" Aldrin are to detach a lunar module and fly it down to a landing at the Sea of Tranquility. Early the next day they are to fulfill a centuries-old dream by walking on and exploring the lunar landscape.

The astronauts go to the moon as men of peace, bearing the flags and messages of many lands.

And if the two astronauts do land, there is a remote chance they could be stranded on the moon, with only two days of oxygen and no chance of rescue.

The astronauts have chosen as their symbol the drawing of an eagle swooping in the cratered surface, its talons gripping an olive branch.

As in the manner of men, Armstrong and Aldrin will plant an American flag on the surface as a symbol of conquest. But they will not claim this territory for the United States. To make this clear they will leave behind a plaque bearing these words: "Here men from the planet earth first set foot upon the moon July 1969 A.D. We came in peace for all mankind."

Armstrong and Aldrin are to spend about 2 1/2 hours outside. In all they are to be on the moon less than a day.

Astrokids: What's Up?

By MIK COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Asked once about his father's profession, the young son of an Apollo astronaut replied that "daddy drives a truck in a sewer."

Another astronaut announced that her father was "up there in the sky flying around in a big, pink balloon."

With disarming disinterest, the astronauts' children somehow usually remain happily oblivious to the whole space flight business.

But this is not the case with most of the children of the moon-bound Apollo 11 astronauts.

Moonship pilot Edwin Aldrin Jr. says his sons, Michael, 13, and Andrew, 11, and daughter, Janice, 12, next month, "all of a sudden realize their father is involved in this endeavor of national importance."

He added, however, "I don't have a tremendous amount of opportunity to sit down and discuss things with the children. We find that just to be able to locate them is an event around the house."

"They're extremely independent. We do try to have family get-togethers whenever we can."

Neil Armstrong, the Apollo 11 commander, says sons Eric, 12, and Mark, 6, "are very enthusiastic" about the moon flight.
