

Administration Steps Up Drive To End Strike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration is stepping up its behind-the-scenes efforts to settle the steel dispute and avert a resumption of the strike later this month.

The new government strategy was disclosed Thursday when Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Labor Secretary James F. Mitchell reported they had met secretly with both sides in the lengthy controversy.

Nixon and Mitchell were expected to resume their talks next week in an attempt to get a settlement without the necessity of President Eisenhower requesting new labor legislation from Congress.

Other developments in the steel situation:

—The United Steelworkers announced it would seek contempt-of-court penalties against the "big 11" steel companies for alleged violation of a court order that halted the 110-day strike. They accused the companies of failing to turn over monthly reports required under the order.

—Roger M. Blough, chairman of U. S. Steel Corp., predicted that if there is no resumption of the strike, the nation's steel mills will operate at near capacity in the first six months of 1960 to restore surplus-product inventories.

Mitchell held an unannounced luncheon meeting Thursday with Steelworkers President David J. McDonald and Union Attorney Arthur J. Goldberg. Neither Mitchell nor the union officials would say what they discussed.

Nixon told newsmen in New York before heading a plane for California that he and Mitchell also held secret meetings with the union and the companies here Wednesday. He said they previously met several times with both sides.

The vice president said President Eisenhower was being kept fully informed on the discussions. But he declined repeatedly to say whether any progress had been made.

"I can't say anything about a settlement," Nixon said. "All I can say is the parties are still meeting and have not reached an agreement. As for prospects of a settlement, I cannot anticipate at this time what the outcome will be."

Informed sources said chances were remote that the controversy would be settled before the Steelworkers vote on the company's latest contract offer Jan. 11-12.

More Seats Needed

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The president of the Gator Bowl warned today that the annual post-season game may become extinct if the stadium seating capacity isn't increased from 62,000 to 80,000. "We are at the point of no return as far as the future of the Gator Bowl is concerned," John Flombo said. "We need more seats next year... the year after will be too late."

LTJG THOMAS J. HAMILTON JR., right, of Heavy Attack Squadron One ends his Naval career this week upon his release to inactive duty. He was presented a plaque by Cdr. David A. King, VAH-1 Commanding Officer, to commemorate his tour of duty with the Tigers. Lt. (j.g.) Hamilton, the squadron's Radar Target Intelligence Officer has been with VAH-1 since September 1957.

Deputies To Serve Jury Summonses Next Week

Sheriff's deputies will serve jury summonses on 50 county residents during the next few days.

The summonses require registered voters to serve on juries for the civil cases to be tried in the Circuit Court's fall session, Jan. 5-16. Persons summoned must appear in the Seminole County Courtroom at 10 a. m. Tuesday, unless they are excused by Judge Volle Williams for sickness or other reason. The summonses will go to 27 Sanford residents, five who have Maitland addresses, two Longwood and two Oviedo residents, and to four residents who have Casselberry, Titusville, Winter Park and Apopka addresses.

Among the excuses for which Judge Williams may release a summoned person from jury duty Tuesday are being over 65 or under 21, holding public office which has duties requiring the person to be present during the trial, and sickness. Persons over 65 don't have to serve but may if they wish.

After eliminating the excused persons, Judge Williams will give the oath to the jurors left. He then will draw six names from a box to get jurors for the first case. The attorneys for each side in the case will challenge the

Seeks Escapers

NEW YORK (UPI) — The FBI said it is concentrating its search in this area for the remaining two convicts still at large from the 20 man, Dec. 8 breakout of the Ivy Bluff prison near Yanceyville, N. C. An FBI spokesman said the two men, Willie Shaw, 30, and Cleveland McNeill, 28, had relatives in New York.

Hoover Urges 'Smut' Crackdown

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said today the time has come to crack down on "dealers of depravity" who corrupt the nation's youth in the guise of "clean entertainment."

Writing in the FBI's law enforcement bulletin, Hoover urged governing authorities to strengthen laws against "smut salesmen." He advocated stiffer sentences for "filth purveyors."

The FBI chief aimed his fire at motion pictures and television as well as at publishers of obscene pictures and books. He said that young people are "literally bombarded with vulgar motion picture advertisements in some newspapers; certain movies have too often made good on the provocative promises in the advertisements and profanity and rapacity are the main ingredients of more and more screen offerings."

Hoover said that a few television producers, too, "sometimes break through the veil of decency as if some of them were trying to see just how much the public will stand."

The FBI director said that obscenity is threatening the morality of the nation. Obscene literature is spread across the land, he said, through the means of films, decks of playing cards, photographs, comic books, salacious magazines, paper-backed books and other pornographic products.

Kennedy Rated Top Contender

NEW YORK (UPI)—Democratic leaders rate Sen. John F. Kennedy the strongest contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, but Sen. Stuart Symington commands surprising strength too, a survey indicated today.

Quotable Quotes

United Press International BIRMINGHAM, England — A British detective, explaining why police believe the murderer who killed Kennedy was a 29-year-old woman may be being sheltered by his mother: "A mother's love is probably the only type of love which could make any woman protect such a horrible killer."

WASHINGTON — The staff of the Senate subcommittee on national policy machinery, in a report describing Red Chinese leaders as "unreliable and untrustworthy": "Survival of the fittest is the rule in Communist politics; only the boldest and most ruthless reaches the top. This fact tends to make the aggressive politics."

LONDON — Boston Record-American reporter Frederick E. Spence, 14, who was paired with a British girl five inches taller than he at a dance and then invited to tea at the girl's home, declining an offer to swap invitations: "I don't want to disrupt international relations."

DUNN, N. C. — Indian school teacher Joseph E. Swington, stating that he will continue to drive Indian children to a school 20 miles away despite threats against his and employees placed in his bus: "I'm afraid to do it, but it's my duty, and I'm going to drive that bus to school for the rest of the term unless they get me before then."

disclosed, Kennedy announced his candidacy Saturday. Much farther behind came Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Adlai Stevenson tied, and Sen. Robert Humphrey—in that order. United Press International queried party chairmen or national committeemen in 39 states on the status of the race after round one of the bidding. Few of the party leaders were willing to name a single favorite this far in advance. But in 24 of the 50 states they specified the three men who in their opinion were top contenders as of now. The total of mentions for each candidate or expected candidate was revealing: Kennedy was named 31 times, Symington got 25 mentions, Stevenson and Johnson, who deny their candidacy, tied with 10. Humphrey, the first Democrat to announce, got only seven. Of those willing to specify a single favorite, five picked Kennedy. Two each mentioned Symington, Johnson and Humphrey. Others considered it too early to single out one front-runner. Thirty-four out of 57 believed that despite the upcoming preference primaries the turning point for the nomination would not come until the national convention itself. On the other hand, 26 out of 57 believed Vice President Richard M. Nixon's choice as GOP nominee already was firmly decided. Twenty-four out of 29 listed him as the GOP candidate whom they feel a Democrat could most easily defeat.

Mother Of Two Raped In Carolina

LINCOLNTON, N. C. (UPI) — A 31-year-old mother of two sons was dragged from her home Sunday by two men and raped repeatedly in an abandoned shack. Mrs. Janette Black staggered into a police station at Lowell, N. C., and told officers that she was kidnaped from her home in the Crown community, about four miles west of here, and raped several times before she was released. Lincoln County Sheriff Frank Heavner said the woman apparently had not been beaten and was "in good condition." A farmer in the area brought her to the police station. Gaston County deputies said one man was arrested several hours after Mrs. Black was raped. Willie Bill Shedd Jr., a dishwasher at the Gastonia bus station, was charged with rape. Officers said a warrant charging Robert Lee Case, 29, with rape had been issued by the woman, but Case, who lives near Lowell, had not been taken into custody. Sheriff Heavner said he would charge Shedd with kidnaping and robbery in connection with the woman's abduction from her home. The victim's husband, C. G. Black, told officers his 13-year-old son answered the door when two dark-haired men with buck teeth and mustaches knocked. He said the men asked for him but before he could get to the door step stepped inside the house and pointed a gun at him. The men herded Black, his wife and two sons into another room and took $44 from his wallet. They cut window-blind cords and tied Black and his two sons. Then they grabbed about $30 from Mrs. Black's purse and dragged the woman from the home. Black said the pair cut the telephone lines so he could not summon help and shouted as they left the house that they would leave his wife at a creek about a quarter of a mile away. A 9-year-old son freed himself and set his father loose officers said. Black's screams brought neighbors who called police. When Black and a neighbor went to the creek to search for Mrs. Black they were unable to find her. The abandoned shack where the attack took place was about 20 miles from the Blacks' rural home.

Record Carnage On Florida Highways

MIAMI (UPI)—Florida ushered in the New Year with record carnage on its highways over the holiday weekend. A United Press International survey showed 25 persons died in highway accidents — the worst weekend toll in the state's history. Eight other deaths from various causes brought the total accidental death toll to 33.

Gov. LeRoy Collins called the highway slaughter "sickening." And State Highway Patrol Commander H. N. Kirkman said he needed more manpower to enforce the state's traffic laws.

In the worst holiday weekend accident in the nation, nine persons died when two vehicles collided near South Bay Saturday. A northbound station wagon was taking a group of prospective customers to see a land development near Fort Myers. It hit a southbound car carrying tourists to Miami. Everyone in the two vehicles was killed.

Another traffic accident in Miami claimed the life of Franklin

A. Kolb, 62, of Hollywood, Fla. He was driving alone Sunday night when his car struck a parked pickup truck.

Two children suffocated Saturday in a small apartment in Orlando. They were Barry Sloan, two and a half months, and Deborah Rosay, 1.

Wayne Gattshall, 42, of Sumter, S. C., was fatally shot by another hunter near Fort Pierce Saturday while hunting wild turkey.

H. Wes Arrington, 74, Chiefland bank official, died of suffocation Sunday night when his home burned.

Four persons were killed in the crash of a small airplane near Tallahassee Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Peterson Dies In Spain

Word was received yesterday of the sudden death on Jan. 1 of Mrs. Starling Peterson in Palma de Mallorca, Spain, where she had resided for the past two years.

Clarissa Starling Peterson was born Nov. 4, 1884, in Lyerly, Ga. She was the daughter of the late Elizabeth Harrison and Billie Jones Starling. She moved to Sanford at an early age and attended public schools in Sanford and continued her education at Sweetwater College and Stetson University. She lived for several years in New York and more recently in Jacksonville, where she made her home with her aunt and uncle, the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Simms.

She was a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Katherine Livingston Chapter, and the United Daughters of the Confederacy. She was a communicant of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Jacksonville. She is survived by two sons, Robert Starling Peterson and A. B. Peterson, Jr., Sanford, and two grandchildren Sarah de Sausure Peterson and A. B. Peterson, III, both of Sanford. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Burial will be in Jacksonville at a later date.

Heavy Toll

By United Press International The nation's highway death toll for the New Year's holiday zoomed past earlier predictions and appeared likely to set a new record today.

A United Press International count at 3 a. m. showed 230 persons died in traffic accidents, 23 in fires and 75 in miscellaneous mishaps for an overall total of 428. Michigan accounted 32 traffic deaths, more than any other state, to lead the nation's most unpopular contest. Texas was second with 27 and Florida third with 25. Pennsylvania and California had 21, Ohio 20 and New York 19.

Cheese Souffle

A lot of good things sometimes come in small packages — like cheese, for instance.

Cheese is a good food for a main dish, and being highly nutritious, is in a class with meat, fish and eggs.

Now is a good time to use cheese, as it's plentiful. Last year's production of milk was record high, and much of the surplus milk went into the manufacture of cheese.

This recipe for a cheese soufflé, given by Miss Bonnie B. McDonald, Assistant Economist in Food Conservation, will make a hearty main dish. The following ingredients are needed: 1½ cups milk; 1 cup bread crumbs; 1 tablespoon fat; 4 eggs; ½ pound cheese, shave thin (2 cups); ¼ tablespoon salt; pepper to taste. Heat the milk, bread crumbs, and fat in a double boiler. For the crumbs, crumble up left-over pieces of bread and pack the measure well. Do not use fine, very dry bread crumbs. Add cheese to the hot mixture. Stir until the cheese has melted. Add this mixture to the well-beaten egg yolks. Season.

Fold hot mixture into the stiffly beaten egg whites containing the salt. Pour into a greased dish, and bake in a moderate oven for one hour, or until set in the center.

Movie Camera Peers Through Heart

A film in which the camera peers through a "window" cut into a human heart to show the workings of diseased heart valves will be among nine medical motion pictures to be presented as part of the forthcoming Scientific Sessions of the American Heart Association. The film was made by Dr. Richard P. Kelley of Boston.

It demonstrates the effects of disease on the opening and closing of heart valves, making use of postmortem hearts. Blood was pumped through them by a mechanical device that stimulates the flow of normal blood.

The Heart Association pointed out that, filmed reports on advances in diagnosis and treatment of heart disease hold an important place in the Association's program of professional education. During the coming months, films will be shown to physicians and other professional personnel throughout the country. Some will be used also for teaching purposes in many of the nation's medical schools.

The minute your meal is over, left-over turkey and stuffing should part company. The meat can be wrapped and frozen, but should be used within 2 months. Stuffing can also be frozen, if it is carefully wrapped to prevent drying.

It's TAKE-OFF TIME NOW! Invest as much as you like—it will grow and flourish. You will get to whatever goal you're aiming at—big or little.

You'll enjoy security, too, for your money's always there if you need it, safe and available, backed by strong reserves, good management and sound reinvestment.

Don't let the flight ahead be propelled with your good intentions—start to save. The start is the thing! All of our present savers had to make a start, as little as $1, as much as $1,000. But they started and they continued. As they added to their savings, month after month, we added to them, too, at our semi-annual dividend times.

We hope you shared in our distribution of earnings on December 31st but you're welcome to join our growing group now, or any time. But especially now, before January 11th, so you'll have a full year's share of earnings in 1960. Start your savings account soon.

It Could Be A Lively Season

Among the things which appear headed for a bright year around here in 1960 is baseball, which has had its ups and downs.

Mr. W. K. McRobert, the baseball fan deluxe who sponsored the Sanford entry in the Florida State League last year under an arrangement that didn't prove too satisfactory, decided he would try again.

His efforts have resulted in two important developments as far as the diamond sport here is concerned. He lined up a working agreement with the Kansas City organization of the American League and he hired Peter Schaal to be general manager of the club.

The deal with Kansas City includes assurances of a full squad of ball players of professional caliber and financial aid which the Sanford organization did not have last year.

The signing of Schaal as general manager was no small accomplishment either. He has been the FSL statistician so long that he keeps the figures like a machine. He has done as much as anybody in Florida to keep minor league baseball going and he just naturally likes Sanford anyway.

As The Herald's sports columnist Jerry Covington, said, people will have to watch out for Schaal or he'll have them in the ball park whether they're fans or not.

A few more fans and some close ball games and it could be a right lively spring and summer.

Floods, Drought In China Expand Starvation Threat

By PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

Twice across of nature—human and acts of God—have combined to write an ominous story of famine for hundreds of millions of people among the Communist nations.

China's ancient enemies of flood and drought have returned with a vengeance to the land where millions of its rapidly expanding population face a real threat of starvation.

Red China admitted it greatly overestimated its 1959 farm production and has paved the way for a famine by overestimating its grain harvest.

Red China admitted it greatly overestimated its 1959 farm production and has paved the way for a famine by overestimating its grain harvest.

Both Poland and Hungary have launched vigorous campaigns to overcome the farmers' opposition to government-run collectivization. The Polish farmers would rather have their own herds than a government tractor.

Hungary, which formerly was able to export food products, now must import.

Romania is in the midst of a ruthless campaign to force farm land into collectives over the opposition of peasants who remain stubbornly loyal to their 15 years of Communist rule.

In Bulgaria, the government's desperate drive for collectivization has resulted in a campaign whose harshness has been compared to Red China's communal system in breaking up traditional family patterns.

Communist leaders will not accept these setbacks as permanent, nor will hunger among any people be a cause of satisfaction in the West.

But they illustrate that the Kremlin's "perfect" society still is unable to collectivize nature, human or otherwise.

Assignment Washington

By ED KOTENBA
(Eight of 12 Articles)

PRAGUE—For two crowns I saw one of the greatest travelogues of America in color ever filmed by a foreign country.

Communists and other Czechs were jammed around me in a rickety balcony of a downtown theater to see the picture, "Khrushchev in America." It would've been a perfect 60-minute presentation if they had kept Khrushchev out of it.

It cost the Czechs the equivalent of 20 cents to see the show, and for every performance they had to turn crowds back. This was their first chance since the Communist coup of 1948 to see pictures of so many big, new cars, sensational sky-scrapers and the breathless passersby that is America.

But the movie was rigged. It was obvious that Khrushchev took a calculated risk that his portrayal as the peacemaker of the world would more than offset the damage to morale that would be caused by the exquisite scenes of capitalist America.

And his men did a professional job of twisting things Nikita's way. The lies in the text, the dubbed-in roars of applause, the faked hand-waving—and the ludicrous close-up showing farmer Gerrit flinging slugs at capitalist reporters—were minor things.

Most painful for an American viewing the movie in a Communist-controlled country were the breathings—and the subtle undertones—that held Khrushchev up as the only hero of peace.

The rigging starts with Khrushchev's arrival at Andrews Air Force Base. When President Eisenhower speaks about peace, the applause does a fast fadeout. But when the Red premier finishes his spiel, the clapping and yelling is long, lusty and almost hysterical. Now, I was at Andrews and I recall that the applause for Khrushchev was polite and barely audible, while for Ike it was thunderous.

You could see from the solemn look on the Czech faces, those people were impressed by the faked frenzy over Nikita.

And then, the ride to Blair House. I wondered at the time

No 'Hard Sell' Expected In Election

By FRANK KLEASER
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The subject was use of television in the 1960 presidential campaign, and I was a little shaken to discover where the discussion was about to take place. Namely, before a "speech and theater" convention, with the lights, costumes, make-up and other trappings of show business much on display.

I guess I came away reassured though. Top figures in both political parties said firmly they wouldn't dare try to sell us voters next year on an image or actor instead of a man.

We're too smart to fall for that, they explained.

I sure hope they are right about that, because I didn't hear anybody promise specifically they wouldn't try this if they thought it would work.

The conventioners, it turned out, were mostly college professors teaching speech, theater, broadcasting and similar arts. And I wasn't the only one with some qualms about the hard sell and the soft soap which could be applied to us voters next fall.

"I hear a lot of talk about selecting a 'telegenic' candidate," said a University of Missouri speech teacher named Robert P. Friedman. "And I wonder if it isn't becoming easy for a politician to substitute earnestness—the desire for election—for sincerity."

Friedman said he'd rest easier, he thought, if there wasn't so much show business in televised politicking. He said some of the TV "interviews" he saw with one presidential candidate in 1956 looked sort of put-up to him. And he thought he recalled a picnic on the lawn where he said the other candidate didn't appear to have liked out there solely to eat.

Robert Humphreys, campaign director for the Republican National Committee, said he couldn't see any moral or ethical objections to the kind of filmed shows his party put on last time.

"I did think some of those five-minute productions—their and

Group Pulls Out Of New Loop

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI)—Owners of the Minneapolis-St. Paul franchise today could only say definitely they were pulling out of the American Football League but were non-committal about joining the National circuit.

E. W. Boyer, part owner and spokesman for the franchise group, said the announcement Sunday by AFL Commissioner Joe Foss that the withdrawal was certain was correct.

Boyer openly admitted that the long and short of it is that they (the AFL) told us they were unhappy with the progress we've made.

"We just can't seem to crystallize the activities and interests into functioning in one direction," he said of his group's proposed team and AFL relations.

Foss had said he gave the Twin Cities franchise "permission" to drop out of the proposal because of "indecision and confusion created by the National Football League."

Can Of Paint Sets Off Uproar

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government today faced a clash with opposition Socialists in an uproar set off by two men with a can of black paint.

The two men, Arnold Strunk and Paul Schoenen, were under arrest on charges of daubing a Cologne synagogue with Nazi swastikas and anti-Jewish slogans on Christmas Eve.

The desecration of the synagogue by Strunk and Schoenen, both members of the extreme right German Reich Party, touched off a wave of denunciations of synagogues and Roman Catholic churches across the country.

The Socialists were quick to recognize a chance to embarrass the government with charges of failing to stamp out anti-Semitism. Adenauer's Christian Democratic party seemed to have its back to the wall.

Man Wins Hearts, But Loses Teeth

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—A New York salesman won the hearts of three mothers when he saved their children from drowning in the rough surf here, but he lost his false teeth.

The grateful mothers Wednesday checked in $25 to buy a new set of dentures for Nat Heller.

"I probably won't pay for his new teeth entirely but it's all we could afford," said Mrs. Melvin Purdy, one of the mothers.

Heller said he will have to "gum" his food until he returns to New York Friday to buy a new set of teeth.

Adenauer Plans Move To Halt Anti-Semitism

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will discuss the growing wave of anti-Semitism with his cabinet on Wednesday, informed sources said today. There also was the possibility of a debate in Parliament.

The anti-Semitic campaign, marked by the defacement of swastikas and anti-Jewish slogans on synagogues throughout Germany, also has spread to other West European countries and similar incidents were reported in England, Scotland, Austria, Norway, Belgium, France, Sweden and the United States.

The outbreak was of special concern to West Germany, trying to live down the days of Adolf Hitler when millions of Jews were persecuted, and the government issued a statement Saturday night saying the Swastika paintings appeared to be "part of a planned action to defame the federal republic in the eyes of the world."

There was a growing belief the Communist East Germans might be behind the move to defame the Adenauer government. Authorities noted that Paul Schoenen, one of two young men arrested in the Christmas Eve desecration of a Cologne church wore an East German Communist party emblem.

Grand Jury Set In Lynch Case

BILOXI, Miss. (UPI)—The Justice Department announced today that it will ask a grand jury to indict a 23-year-old Negro truck driver who was accused of raping a white woman.

A mob dragged Parker from the Pearl River County jail in Poplarville, Miss., last April 22 and lynched him. His mutilated, bullet-ridden body was found in the Pearl River a month later.

The grand jury was selected from a panel of 44 men, possibly including several Negroes.

The jury is expected to spend several days in the county jail, subpoenaed by the Justice Department.

What Happened To Celtic Cagers?

By United Press International

Suddenly the champion Boston Celtics can't do anything right. From the way they had been playing in the last month it was beginning to look as though they wouldn't lose a game again, let alone three in a row.

The Syracuse Nationals, making a strong showing of late, hung the third straight loss on the Celtics Sunday, 114-113, and while the loss didn't hurt Boston one bit in the Eastern Division standings, it still left the defending National Basketball Assn. champions without a victory in the new year.

Feast Of Epiphany Scheduled Wednesday

Holy Cross Episcopal Church will celebrate the Christian Feast of Epiphany in a special candle-light service Wednesday evening. The service called "The Feast of Lights" will begin at 8 p. m. with the Rev. John Thomas, Rector in charge. The choir, young people, and the entire congregation will also participate in the service.

This dramatic service begins with the church in total darkness and expresses in potent form the birth of Christ as the Light of the world. It symbolizes the spread of the gospel through the Apostles down to the present day.

Winter Park Host To Audubon Series

Winter Park will be host to some of America's famous wildlife photographers during the coming months, according to C. Russell Mason, Executive Director of the Florida Audubon Society, which is sponsoring an Audubon Screen Tour series again this season.

The first program of the year will be given Saturday at the Auditorium of the Winter Park High School. An innovation this season is two performances, one at 10:30 a. m., the second at 7:30 p. m. The double program is to meet the demand of members of the Society and their friends who found either the morning or the evening time inconvenient, but did not want to miss this outstanding series.

Robert C. Hermes of Homestead will be the speaker on January 9th meeting. He will bring to the audience "Animals At Home And Afield."

Tickets to the entire series or to Mr. Hermes' lecture alone may be secured at the headquarters of the Florida Audubon Society, Audubon House, in Maitland, or will be sent by mail on order. They will also be available at the box office on the days of the lectures. Tickets are good for either morning or evening presentations.

AAWU Gets Rose Bowl Security

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—The fledgling Athletic Assn. of Western Universities (AAWU) had Rose Bowl security today at the age of less than one year, and made it clear it would be delighted to keep playing the Big Ten in the New Year's Day classic.

The AAWU, the "big five" of the Pacific, concluded a contract Sunday with the Tournament of Roses for the annual game. The door was immediately left open for the somewhat reluctant Big Ten, torn openly on renewal, to join in a new agreement.

Company Reports New Asset High

The Dec. 31 financial statement of First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. shows assets of $10,272,856, a new high for the legal thrift organization which is finishing its twenty-fifth year service this year.

The past year has been most successful, according to George Touhy, vice president, with an increase in resources of over 20 percent.

There was a marked step-up in savings that show on the statement as $4,832,024, and on the over 5,700 savings accounts First Federal paid dividends of $289,387 during 1938, the latter half of which was at a four percent a year rate.

This steady flow of savings from the thrifty and investment-conscious persons in the community made it possible to grant loans that increased in number by 14 percent and in dollars by 32 percent according to the executive officer. This has played an important role in the growth of the district served, he added. Reserves were increased by $1,000,000 and now exceed one million dollars, the statement shows. This amounts to over 11 percent of the savings account investment, it was pointed out, and is a source of added security even though the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp. insures each account up to $10,000.

"The directors have tried to keep the safety features on a high level and are happy that we rate in the first ten percent of S&L's in the state in our reserve ratio," Touhy said.

Asked about the coming year, the S&L official said that the general economic outlook for the nation and for the state is optimistic and said that there are few localities that have better prospects than the Central Florida area. He feels that in times when incomes are adequate for general "good living", people should have regularly to provide for those times when "things are not so rosy." There is a strong demand for housing in Sanford, Seminole County and this immediate area, and if this savings trend continues as it should, the "tight money" condition should ease considerably, the First Federal operating officer said.

"At this time when we have experienced such a fine year, all of us are disappointed that our president, Howard Faville, should be stricken and in the hospital, unable to thrill to the accomplishment of his leadership," Touhy said, and said that so many of Faville's associates and friends were wishing a speedy recovery for him.

Directors of the association are A. Edwin Shinholser, J. H. Van Hoy, H. James Gut E. G. Harty or Sr., E. F. Doudney, Faville and Touhy. The staff in addition to Touhy are Mrs. Bert Chapman, Mrs. James H. Ehorn, Miss Barbara Flynn, Mrs. W. C. Johnson, Miss Edna Powell and Miss Nancy Butler.
