Labor Chiefs Mesh Politics With Holiday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Meshing politics with the holiday, AFL-CIO chief Lane Kirkland says in his traditional Labor Day message that President Reagan's "destructive policies" brought injury to American workers.

But Labor Secretary Raymond Donovan, in his holiday statement Sunday, praised his boss for boosting the economy and the nation's industries.

Kirkland's entire Labor Day statement was devoted to an attack on Reagan.

"For three years in a row, the meaning of Labor Day has been dishonored by a president who professes warm regard for working people on that one day and exhibits icy disdain for them on the other 364," Kirkland said.

"Nothing is more important than that workers remember what really happened to them under the Reagan administration," he said.

In his partisan message, Donovan lauded Reagan for economic progress.

The president's policies have given Americans "special reasons to rejoice in the strengthened economy we are enjoying," he said.

When Reagan took office, Donovan said, "Some American industries were facing severe financial difficulties. Today, most of those industries are rebounding. Workers have been recalled from layoffs; their paychecks are worth more."

Noting that the AFL-CIO and most other labor unions opposed Reagan in the 1980 election, Kirkland said, "We are prepared for Act Two. But this time around, we have something else going for us. We have candidates for the presidency and vice presidency whom we had a voice in selecting.

"When this administration came to power, claiming a mandate for the crackpot economic theories of the radical right, we were virtually alone in warning that Ronald Reagan's policies would bring great injury to millions of working Americans and their families," Kirkland said.

"We denied that phony mandate and fought those destructive policies every inch of the way and we were right," he said.

He recalled that the AFL-CIO worked for Walter Mondale in the political primaries and caucuses this year. "Our members know him and he knows them," Kirkland said.

Because Reagan is disliked by so many labor people, Kirkland said, "Our movement is united as never before and the spirit of solidarity is strong in our ranks."

Donovan warned that labor and management must engage in "more cooperation and less confrontation if we are to remain competitive in the world.

"In a similar way, employers are recognizing the need to give their employees a greater voice in work-place decisions," he said.

Shootout Leaves 1 Dead

A 21-year-old Sanford man was being held in the Seminole County jail without bond today in connection with a weekend shootout which left one man dead and his brother wounded.

Luke Pringle, 33, was dead on arrival at Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford, following the 10:30 p.m. shootings at the Westside Recreation Center, 821 Persimmon Ave. He had been shot once in the neck. His brother Willie, 24, both of 80 Seminole Gardens, was wounded in the back, police report.

Willie Pringle was treated and released from the hospital Saturday. Sanford police detective Darrel Presley said the pair were probably shot with a .22-caliber handgun, but the weapon hasn't been recovered.

A suspect in the shooting, who allegedly opened fire on the brothers during a fight, turned himself in at the Sanford police station on Sunday. Morris Sells Freney, of 96 Cowan Moughton Terrace, was charged with murder at 5:40 p.m. Sunday.

Presley said the cause of the dispute between the three men has not been firmly established. He said an autopsy is scheduled to be performed on Luke Pringle today.

1,250 More In Sanford

Population Spurt Beyond Expected

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford is the most populous city in the county, beating Altamonte Springs by 1,244, according to preliminary statistics prepared at the University of Florida.

The figure for Sanford is almost 500 more than expected. Altamonte is protesting the count that shows it had a population decline.

The Bureau of Economic and Business Research Population Program at the university in Gainesville is commissioned by the state to make annual estimates of population for all the cities and counties in the state upon which the state allocates revenue sharing money each year.

As of April 1, the bureau said, Sanford has a population of 28,759, up 1,250 from last year's 25,509, compared with Altamonte Springs' population of 25,515, down by 380 from last year's 25,859.

The Sanford city commission has accepted the bureau's estimate, while Altamonte Springs has filed a protest with the bureau because building permits issued by the city over the past year indicate Altamonte Springs has grown.

Protests are considered before final population figures are published, according to Jane Bucca, a research assistant at the bureau.

Sanford's population spurt by 1,250 over a one year period was totally unexpected. The city had forecast a population of 26,274 for 1984, an increase of 766.

While the Sanford has a population of 40,784 predicted by 2000, the unprecedented one year's growth estimated by the bureau over the past year has not changed the growth predictions of city staff.

The staff predicts 1985 will see a population in Sanford of 27,062, an increase of 303 over this year.

By 1990, the staff says, Sanford's population will be 31,372.

Meanwhile, the preliminary estimates from the state bureau show Seminole County has grown by nearly 13,000 residents in the past year, about 1.083 per month.

And Lake Mary has moved up to sixth place among Seminole's seven cities in population, relinquishing its smallest city in the county title to Oviedo.

Seminole County has grown from 201,906 to 214,870, an increase of 12,964. The unincorporated area of the county has grown from 103,256 to 111,499 while the incorporated areas have grown from 98,650 to 103,381.

Casselberry remains in third place in the roll of the cities population-wise with 17,069, compared to 15,976 in 1983, and Winter Springs remains in fourth place with 15,185 compared to 13,750 in 1983.

Longwood has grown by 910 from 11,030 to 11,940.

While 11 persons separated the populations of Oviedo and Lake Mary a year ago, Lake Mary has become the larger of the two cities with 65 more residents.

The bureau says preliminary estimates show Lake Mary has grown from 3,238 to 3,343, an increase of 246, while Oviedo has grown by 170 from 3,249 to 3,419.

Ms. Bucca said the estimates are made based on the 1980 census but with numbers of new electrical connections and building permits issued used to predict population increases from that time.

Oviedo, L. Mary To Elect 6 City Officials

While countywide elections are being held Tuesday, the cities of Oviedo and Lake Mary will be electing six city officials.

In Lake Mary, where City Clerk Carol Edwards is expecting a 56 percent — 1,022 — turnout of the city's 1,825 voters, the mayor and two city commissioners will be elected.

In Oviedo, City Clerk Nancy Cox is looking for a 45 percent — 528 — turnout of the 1,398 voters to elect three city councilmen and to decide whether the city charter should be amended to clear up "housekeeping problems" where the charter doesn't comply with state law and to give the city council authority to hire a city administrator without a prior vote of the people.

The contest for mayor in Lake Mary pits Richard Fess, a former one-term city commissioner against 10-year incumbent Mayor Walter Sorenson. Fess was unsuccessful in a bid to unseat Sorenson two years ago.

On the city commission, Russ Megonegal, completing his first two year term in the seat 2 office, is being challenged by James B. Thompson, a Kennedy Space Center employee. Megonegal is a retired school official from Pennsylvania.

For the seat 4 office that two-term City Commissioner Kenneth King has held, the candidates are newcomers to the political arena in Lake Mary. King decided he would not seek re-election.

The candidates are Penny Saunders Gunn, a homemaker, vying with Paul D. Tremel, an instructor at Seminole Community College. Tremel also serves on the city's planning and zoning commission.

For the first time in a city election Lake Mary will have four polling places — precinct 10, Lake Mary Presbyterian Church; precinct 20, Seminole County Agriculture Center; precinct 26, Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department; and Precinct 32, the Melodee Skating Rink.

The election will be canvassed at the county elections office in the county services building, 1st Street and Meltonville Ave., Sanford, by city Commissioners

Burt Perinchieff and Colin Keogh and Mrs. Edwards.

Mrs. Edwards said 91 city voters have cast absentee ballots so far, a record number.

In Oviedo, two incumbent city councilmen — Jane Dees, council president, completing her first term in office, and Gary Gotwalt, also completing his first term, are running unopposed.

Their names will appear on the ballot, nevertheless, as required by city charter.

A three-man contest has developed for the group 5 seat on the city council.

Candidates are John C. Carlson, retired military; Troy H. Jones III, a businessman, and David Rhodes, who works for an insurance company.

Rhodes was unsuccessful in a bid for a council seat last year.

Oviedo voters will cast their ballots in the city election at precinct 5, the Women's Club Building on King Street, and precinct 55, Lutheran Haven Community Center on state Road 426.

Polls are to be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The Waste In Space...

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Discovery's crew got an unexpected chance to try the plastic bags used by Apollo astronauts when the shuttle fliers were temporarily barred from their onboard toilet because of an ice-choked exterior waste valve.

Commander Henry Hartsfield, Michael Coats, Judy Resnik, Steven Hawley, Richard Mullane and Charles Walker were midway through Discovery's maiden voyage Sunday when the ice problem developed.

"We tried out the Apollo bags and we decided those Apollo astronauts must have been real men," one astronaut joked. "You don't want to hear what Judy wants to say."

"I don't think we do," replied Dick Richards in mission control.

Discovery is equipped with 48 of the bags as a backup to the toilet system, which was improved for the shuttle's first flight.

"We just wanted to know if this means we don't have to clean the (toilet) filters anymore," Resnik said.

Labor Day Kick-Offs For Campaigns

Mondale: Politics, Religion Don't Mix

By Anne Baker
United Press International

The candidates running for the White House, one facing long odds and one running as if he did, are using the traditional Labor Day opening to start their campaigns in the sections of the country they believe they will win.

But as President Reagan and Democratic nominee Walter Mondale prepared to kick off the 64-day general race, an issue popped up Sunday that could be a tripwire — religion and politics.

During last month's Republican National Convention, Reagan told a prayer breakfast that, "Religion and politics are necessarily related."

Mondale studiously avoided the potent issue until Sunday, when he spoke to reporters after attending his home church, Grace Trinity Presbyterian.

"The Republicans in Dallas raised doubts whether they respect the wall our founders placed between government and religion," Mondale said. "In America, our faith has always been intensely personal. It is between the individual and God, between families and their churches and synagogues, with no room for politics in between."

Beginning his last political battle, Reagan starts his re-election effort in his adopted state of California, where he has never lost a general election.

Vice President George Bush was dispatched to suburban Chicago, New Orleans and Texas.

'In America, our faith has always been intensely personal...'

Mondale and running mate Geraldine Ferraro begin their uphill battle walking in a parade down New York City's Fifth Avenue.

Reagan, though with a wide lead public opinion polls, made it clear Sunday he intends to run an aggressive underdog's campaign.

"I'm going to run (as if) I'm one point behind," he told reporters.

A buoyant Reagan landed at El Toro Marine Air Base, Calif., to open a four-day campaign swing, hinting he would come west more often if re-elected.

"Everybody's smiling on the plane when we head west," Reagan told a crowd of about 200 Marines and their families. "We don't do it often enough. Give us four more years and we will."

Bush will use his trip to promote the administration's record, particularly in Louisiana, which Bush press secretary Peter Teeley called a "battleground."

Mondale, playing down the significance of polls showing him far behind Reagan, joined Ferraro in New York Sunday at the start of their daylong coast-to-coast swing.

In a survey, based on polls where available and the estimates of political professionals and observers in each state and the District of Columbia, Reagan led in 39 states with 412 electoral votes. Mondale was favored in three states and the district with 26 electoral votes.

Eight states with 100 electoral votes — including Mondale's own Minnesota — were called toss-ups.

It takes 270 electoral votes to win the presidency, so even if Mondale carried all the close states, Reagan still would score a solid win.

IN BRIEF

B-1's Emergency Capsule May Have Malfunctioned

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A parachute designed to help bring the B-1 bomber's escape capsule safely to earth failed to open when the plane crashed last week, and a device to cushion the landing may have also failed, sources said.

Tommie Douglas Benefield, 55, chief test pilot for the plane's builder and the B-1 program's most experienced flier, was killed and two Air Force crewmen in the capsule with him suffered serious injuries when the bomber went down in the Mojave Desert Wednesday.

A source involved in development of the bomber said Sunday employees at Rockwell International were told one of three parachutes designed to carry the escape capsule safely to earth had not deployed properly. A shock absorber system beneath the capsule also may have failed to cushion its landing when it hit the ground, the source said.

An Air Force spokesman in Washington declined to comment Sunday on the reports. An Air Force crash investigation team is in the preliminary stages of its inquiry, which is expected to be completed in about 30 days.

247 Killed On The Road

United Press International

A police officer helping injured motorists on a New Mexico highway and another who had just changed a tire on a Connecticut road were among nearly 250 people reported killed nationwide in Labor Day weekend traffic accidents.

The latest count by United Press International showed 247 fatalities, including 34 in California, 24 in Texas, 12 in Illinois and 10 each in Georgia, Kentucky and Virginia.

The National Safety Council estimated between 450 and 550 people could be killed and as many as 23,000 could suffer disabling injuries in traffic accidents during the 78-hour holiday, which began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight today.

During last year's Labor Day weekend, 480 people were killed on the highways and 19,800 others were seriously injured.

Computer Helps Replace Firemen

HELENA, Mont. (UPI) — Fire bosses relied on a computer to keep track of one of several blazes still burning in Montana while hundreds of firefighters headed home after battling flames across 230,000 acres of timber and range land last week.

The fires killed one man and destroyed 34 homes and three ranches.

Forest Service officials used a computer model to project, under various sets of circumstances, the probable course of flames still burning along a three-mile front of the 27,000-acre North Hill fire in the rugged Gates of the Mountain Wilderness near Helena.

A reduced firefighting crew Sunday dug the last stretch of fire line on either side of the remaining front, which will be left virtually unattended into winter.

And The Winner Is...

CHICAGO (UPI) — A single winner won the entire $40 million pot in the record-setting Illinois Lotto game, lottery officials announced today.

The prize, which drew players from coast to coast as the amount rolled over for three weeks, was North America's biggest Lotto kitty.

Lottery Superintendent Michael Jones said the winner in Saturday's drawing has not yet come forward to claim the prize — $2 million yearly for 20 years.

Lottery officials began a computer scan Sunday to find out whether any player's dream came true by matching the winning 02-03-10-28-30-43 combination.

Jones said the state sold $31.7 million in Lotto tickets last week, with nearly $8 million sold on Saturday, a single-day record. At 9:30 a.m. Saturday, lottery computers were processing 348 transactions a second, Jones said.

Teachers Begin Lining Up For A Spot On The Shuttle

ORLANDO (UPI) — President Reagan's announcement last week that a teacher will be the first member of the general public to fly on the space shuttle has generated a flurry of applications to the nation's space agency.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration expects to hear from 80,000 teachers after application criteria are published in October. Requests for a spot on America's most advanced spacecraft already are rolling in, most relating a lifelong desire to fly in space, said Alan Ladwig, coordinator of the program.

NASA has set up a hotline — (202) 453-8844 — for people interested in applying for a shuttle ride.

There are 2 million full-time elementary and secondary teachers in the United States and all will be eligible to apply. Applicants will be asked to discuss what they want to do in space and how they would share the experience with others.

'Black Widow' Indicted

ORLANDO (UPI) — A woman who has been characterized by prosecutors as a "black widow" who killed her paraplegic son to collect on his life insurance now faces charges she poisoned her husband 13 years ago.

Judi Buenoano, of Pensacola, was indicted Friday by an Orange County grand jury in the death of James Edgar Goodyear, 37, who died Sept. 16, 1971 shortly after he returned from a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Buenoano, 37, was convicted in March by a jury in Milton and sentenced to life in prison for drowning her paraplegic son, 19-year-old Michael Goodyear, by pushing him off a canoe.

Buenoano, which is Spanish for Goodyear, received about $500,000 by collecting on life insurance policies on her son, her husband and one of her boyfriends, authorities said.

Six-Laning Of SR 436 In Altamonte Underway

Portions of the eastbound lanes of state Road 436 through Altamonte Springs will be torn up this week to begin the widening of the highway to six lanes.

The contractor, Wiley N. Jackson, Co., of Roanoke, Va., will be replacing 1,400 feet of the road from Hattaway Drive to Barnett Bank during construction, which is expected to take about two months.

The first phase of the work will begin Wednesday. During this phase, the two right lanes will be closed to traffic and the pavement removed. The remaining roadway will be restriped to route traffic off the closed section. Two lanes of through traffic will be maintained through the construction area but one left turn lane will be eliminated at the west entrance of the Altamonte Mall.

Once the two lanes of existing pavement are removed the road will be widened to three lanes with a 10-foot paved shoulder. The first phase is expected to take about four weeks to complete.

In the second phase of construction, traffic will be moved to the newly paved portion of the road and the remaining two eastbound lanes and the median will be removed.

Rebuilding that section of the road is expected to take about five weeks.

Jim Collins, project engineer for the Florida Department of Transportation, said this portion of the job is the most difficult because of the heavy traffic near the Altamonte Mall.

"There shouldn't be any major problems for motorists," he said. "We just want everyone to know what to expect in advance."

When work is completed, there will be three eastbound lanes, two left turn lanes at the mall and a 10-foot shoulder.

The complete $4.77 million six-laning project from Westmont Drive to Boston Avenue is scheduled to be completed in July, 1985.

Newspaper: Complaints Against Police Usually Get Little Results

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Citizen complaints about police behavior rarely are supported by the department, thanks in part to the lawkeepers' tendency to protect their own.

Of 246 recent complaints made against officers of the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office only 36 were sustained by an internal investigation unit. In Miami, 55 of 399 complaints were sustained, The Florida Times-Union reported.

Many of the complaints were made by people trying to get even, some officers said. In Jacksonville, for example, 60 percent of the complaints were filed by people who were either arrested or ticketed and about 10 percent came from wives or girlfriends of officers and involved their off-duty conduct.

But the low number of affirmed complaints also stems from the department's inclination to favor its officers' versions of an incident over those of irate citizens, the newspaper reported.

In one example, a man who was ticketed for speeding home to his pregnant wife said an police officer refused to let him take the ill woman to a hospital before citing him. The man said he told the officer she was about to miscarry and was bleeding excessively but the officer told him not to be in a hurry, ticketed him and drove away.

The man then drove his wife to the hospital where they learned she already had miscarried.

The officer said the man told him he was going to a doctor's office and not the hospital.

Investigators, noting the conflicting testimony, recommended the complaint be dismissed. The decision was modified by Undersheriff John Nelson, who ordered the officer to attend a counseling session.

"That's the reason none of these complaints go anywhere," said an assistant public defender. "They always take the word of the police."

One officer said policemen will hide abuses by their fellows.

"Sure, police officers cover up for each other, just like doctors cover up for other doctors and the media covers up for the media," he said.

When a former officer streaked naked across a school basketball court before a police league game, for example, not one of the 10 officers on the court admitted seeing the incident.

Police sometime exhibit disdain for the complaint process, the newspaper reported.

A complaint investigator said in one report that the officer in question "displayed a bad attitude towards me and towards this department, mainly because he did not feel like he needed to respond to a complaint that had been made against him by a citizen."

"Your request will be handled," Richards deadpanned.

The pesky ice plume — which NASA officials characterized as not an "immediate critical problem" — stuck out 18 inches from the left side of the shuttle, blocking a valve used to dump excess water overboard.

When the astronauts tried to expel waste water from a valve about 7 inches below the other, it also solidified and prevented the crew from emptying the tank.

Earlier efforts to shake the ice crystal away by firing jarring rocket bursts were not successful. Discovery was oriented so the left side of the ship faced the sun overnight in an attempt to melt the buildup.

Could Have Gotten 15 Years

Child Molester Sentenced To 3 Months In Jail

An Orlando man who surrendered himself to authorities and pleaded guilty to a charge of lewd and lascivious assault on a minor has been sentenced to three months in the Seminole County jail and five years probation.

Norris Delano Cothron, 47, was sentenced Thursday by Circuit Judge C. Vernon Mize Jr. who also ordered Cothron to pay the public defender's office $450 and to participate in alcohol abuse treatment.

Cothron, who was accused of fondling and having sex with a 6-year-old girl, was arrested Feb. 11 after he learned that a witness had filed a complaint with the sheriff's department. He pleaded guilty April 23 to fondling the child.

Under state sentencing guidelines, the recommended sentence was up to 1 year in prison, though if the judge had cause to do so he could have sentenced Cothron to 15 years behind bars.

A man charged with hitting a sheriff's deputy with a martial arts weapon and kicking him has pleaded guilty to battery on a law enforcement officer.

James Cooper Gowan, 23, of Orlando, entered the plea before Seminole Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor who set Nov. 13 for sentencing.

Gowan could receive up to a year in the county jail.

According to an arrest report deputy Todd Brown reported spotting Gowan walking in an intersection of U.S Highway 17-92 at state Road 436, Casselberry, around 11:30 p.m. May 26.

When the officer turned on the blue lights of his patrol car and blocked the roadway to keep traffic from hitting Gowan, Gowan reportedly approached the car, cursed and threatened the deputy by waving "nun chakus," a martial art weapon consisting of two six-sided 1 1/2-foot-long hardwood sticks joined at one end by four to five inches of cord or chain.

Brown ordered Gowan to back off and get out of the road, but he continued to curse and advance on the officer. He swung the weapon and Brown tried to block the blow with a nightstick, but was hit on the back, the report said.

Witnesses got out of their vehicles and helped Brown subdue Gowan who continued to kick and fight. He was handcuffed and his feet were restrained after he kicked Brown in the legs, the report said.

A transient suffering from long-term alcoholism and an organic brain dysfunction will receive hospitalization rather than prosecution.

Stephney Capers, 61, who is accused of stealing 214 pounds of copper from Seaboard Railroad, will receive treatment for a year, according to Assistant State Attorney Kurt Erlenbach. If Capers is judged competent to stand trial within the year, he will be tried, Erlenbach said. If not, the state probably will not prosecute, he said.

Capers was accused of taking the copper from the railroad company April 1 and selling it to a Sanford tooling company for $96. He was charged with the theft May 10. —Desae Jordan

Labor Day Optimism

Labor Day. It has always seemed an unlikely name for a day we take off from work. But, of course, Labor Day is an earned rest, a reminder to all that the working men and women of America are a critical element of that three-part equation — labor, capital, resources — that is our economy.

Because of the recent changes in that economy, we will approach this Labor Day with brighter prospects than were evident a few short years ago. The recent painful recession falls further behind us. The American economy is in the middle of an unprecedented recovery, which continues to baffle analysts.

The unemployment rate has declined faster than expected and is predicted to reach 6 percent in the near future. The Labor Department's Household Survey indicates over 6 million people were added to the employment rolls between December, 1982 and June, 1984. New job creation is running at encouraging levels. All of this means more Americans are working than ever before.

Other economic indices are equally encouraging. The Gross National Product is increasing at a very healthy rate and some analysts are now predicting continued strong growth through 1985. Our purchasing power is expanding. Predictions for the increase in inflation adjusted per capita disposable income are at 5.6 percent or higher. Despite these gains, inflation remains in check.

Business fixed investment in 1983 was highest for the first year of recovery in 30 years. Capital investment and new business creation continue to grow. This, combined with the renewed efforts of the American worker, are producing welcome gains in productivity.

Yet, many continue to doubt and disbelieve the strength of the recovery. Some of this doubt springs from legitimate concerns: high interest rates and federal budget deficits; areas of the country and industries yet to rebound from the recession; and the realization that some industries will never fully recover, necessitating always difficult and painful readjustments.

But the "pinch me, I don't believe it" attitude toward the current recovery has its roots in something much deeper. The last two decades have witnessed sweeping change throughout the world. In the United States, we have seen our once dominant economic position challenged. At the same time, we have undergone a social upheaval which has left us uncertain and hesitant, our confidence badly shaken.

However, there is a kernel of optimism in an observation made by the late scientist, Alfred North Whitehead, over 50 years ago. He said, "It is the first step of wisdom to recognize that the major advances of civilization are processes which all but wreck the society in which they occur." The evidence suggests we have been living through and are emerging from one of those "major advances of civilization."

America is already adapting to the changed world. We are in the middle of a sorting out process, digesting twenty years of change but reaffirming our belief in the basic values which are at the core of our society. Americans are beginning to feel good about themselves again.

The economic signs are equally good. The United States stands at the leading edge of an entrepreneurial resurgence. Our recovery sets the pace for the world's economists. Long term trends, a maturing work force and increasing capital investment, point to greater productivity gains. Spending for research and development is up. Our whole industrial system is showing the signs of a remarkable flexibility and adaptability.

The final note of optimism is a bit of Labor Day faith. Over the last century, the American worker played a key role in creating the strongest economy and highest standard of living in the world. The modern American worker is just as capable, and, when put to the task, will produce equal results.

BERRY'S WORLD

Children Against Deadbeat Dads (CADD), a child support enforcement group organized only a few months ago, is spreading statewide with contacts and organizational meetings in Volusia, St. Johns, Duval, Orange and Seminole counties.

Marge Van Brackle, president of the organization, says nationwide coverage of the lack of child support enforcement, upholds the belief that this is a child abuse issue.

"CADD members continue to educate custodial parents of their rights and routes to follow in pursuing money owed to put food on their tables and clothes on their children, who are innocent victims," Mrs. Van Brackle says.

She said the majority of those attending CADD meetings are working two jobs and taking any route available to avoid the welfare rolls.

Last spring, the state Legislature passed a law, effective January, 1985, to garnishee wages of parents who are delinquent in their child support payments and President Reagan recently signed law authorizing garnisheeing of wages, the placing of liens on property, and the interception of state and federal income tax refunds of parents delinquent in child support payments.

Mrs. Van Brackle said.

She noted that CADD members on a volunteer basis are attending and monitoring court proceedings, or child support cases, gathering statistics on which judges "get tough" and which do not with parents delinquent in child support payments. "CADD strongly endorses a pay up or go to jail policy," Mrs. Van Brackle said.

All the information obtained will be compiled and made available to the public, legislators, the governor and all concerned.

"We hope this information will be used as a basis for determining whether judges are re-elected or not," she said, adding some judges are to be commended for their "get tough" policies which have resulted in recovering millions of dollars in child support payments from delinquent parents.

Further information on CADD can be obtained by writing to P.O. Box 2010 EV, Ormond Beach 32074.

CADD's next meeting in Seminole County will be held on Sept. 7 at 7 p.m. at the Longwood City Hall, 175 W. Warren Ave., Longwood.

Guest speaker will be Pat Conklin, special assistant to U.S. Sen. Paula Hawkins, R-Winter Park.

VIEWPOINT

Feds On The Farms

By Theodore G. Schad Jr.

Most people know that farming and food production are America's oldest and largest industries. But America's farmers are in deep, deep trouble. Tragically, their problems are directly traceable to misguided efforts by the federal government to help the agriculture industry.

For example, in just one year U.S. farm subsidies more than doubled from $10.8 billion in fiscal year 1982 to $21.8 billion in fiscal year 1983. This latter figure amounts to four times the national average through the 1970s. These subsidies, which were supposed to increase farm income, have had a completely opposite effect.

During the four-year period 1978 through 1982, while subsidies quadrupled, net farm income shrank more than 22 percent. This decline has been especially dramatic since 1979 when U.S. farmers earned $32.4 billion. Since then net farm income is down nearly 40 percent to $19.5 billion.

At the same time, American agriculture is losing its share of the world market to foreign competition. Agricultural exports for FY1983 came to about $34 billion, 21 percent below FY1982's figure of $43.8 billion. This erosion has actually been aided and abetted by U.S. farm policies. Government price supports have raised U.S. prices to foreign buyers that other agricultural exporters have been willing to undercut.

The long tradition of government intervention and management of the farm sector, whatever its good intentions, cannot justify the continued and expanded role of the government in agriculture.

While it may be appropriate for the government to monitor soil erosion and farm water supply problems, the federal government should not attempt to shield the agricultural sector from the effects of marketplace competition.

The collectivized farms of the Soviet Union stand as a tragic testament to the devastation that results from absolute government control. Yet, today U.S. farmers are being forced to surrender an ever increasing measure of their economic freedom. The market distortions caused by arbitrary price supports and production quotas penalize farmers and consumers alike. Farmers whose crops are purchased by the government have no incentive to observe the economic signposts of the market. Crops taken off the market in order to prop up the prices are unavailable to consumers who are often hardpressed to pay grocery bills inflated by government price management.

While it may be appropriate for the government to monitor soil erosion and farm water supply problems, the federal government should not attempt to shield the agricultural sector from the effects of marketplace competition.

AG Tried To Stop Barbie Probe

WASHINGTON — Attorney General William French Smith tried to prevent a Justice Department investigation of the close ties between U.S. intelligence agencies and Klaus Barbie, the infamous Nazi war criminal, according to the former official who headed the Barbie investigation.

Smith changed his mind only after weeks of growing pressure from the press and members of Congress — and a television network reporter's threat to go on the air with embarrassing questions about the Justice Department's reluctance to look into Barbie's cozy relationship with U.S. intelligence.

The resulting investigation disclosed that U.S. officials had recruited Barbie after World War II and arranged his escape to Bolivia in 1951. Expelled last year, Barbie is now in France awaiting trial for "crimes against humanity." He was known as the "Butcher of Lyon," the French city where he headed the Gestapo during the Nazi occupation. The story of Smith's last-minute

WASHINGTON WORLD

At The White House

By Helen Thomas
UPI White House Reporter
WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House counselor Edwin Meese was not in the presidential picture during the Republican National Convention in Dallas.

Meese, whose finances are under investigation by a special prosecutor, kept a low profile during President Reagan's three-day stay in Dallas.

Republican strategists apparently did not want Democratic woes involving Vice Presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro's finances to be equated with Reagan's nominee to be attorney general.

Meese did not ride Air Force One on the trip to and from Dallas nor was he with Reagan on the stop in Chicago for the Veterans of Foreign Wars speech.

Meese used to be one of the "big three" advisers in the White House and still is involved in top-level Oval Office staff meetings, but his power has been severely diminished. Chief of staff James Baker and deputy chief Michael Deaver are running the show.

The White House is not interested in Walter Mondale's suggestion for six debates with the president.

With the stalling, and time running out, aides are betting there will be only two debates at the most and perhaps only one.

Meanwhile, Vice President George Bush says he wants to debate with Geraldine Ferraro and vice versa, but Reagan-Bush strategists will have to work it out.

By the time the ground rules are worked out and the sponsors chosen, the campaign will be well into September.

Nevertheless, they will be viewed as the high point in the campaign.

White House aides never miss a chance to take a swipe at former President Jimmy Carter. In fact, half of Reagan's campaign agenda geared to an attack on his predecessor.

Recently, in announcing that Reagan would personally award medals to two teenagers for heroism under a Justice Department program in which Congress required the presentation be made by the president, deputy press secretary Larry Speakes noted that Carter had not presented any medals during his four years in office.

The medals awarded during the Carter years were presented by Reagan, he said.

Speakes was asked how the president decided to select a teacher to be the first civilian to take a ride in a space shuttle ship.

He said that Reagan had several recommendations. When a reporter piped up that he understood journalists were also considered for selection as the first non-astronaut to fly in the shuttle, Speakes said ABC's Sam Donaldson would have been selected "if we could keep him up there."

Typewriters are becoming a thing of the past in the White House as new computers are moved onto the desks of top aides and secretaries.

White House spokesman Larry Speakes has access to a storehouse of instant information by punching a few keys on his computer.

His computer also is taken on the road so that he can stay in touch.

The president's news conferences are expected to be few and far between, if any, during the fall campaign.

News conferences have their pitfalls for any president, particularly when all appears to be going well. Why rock the boat?

Furthermore, a Reagan news conference might require the television networks to provide equal time, 30 minutes, to his opponent, Walter Mondale.

He said that former President Jimmy Carter held only five news conferences in 1980 when was running for re-election and Reagan has held six so far.

Media Lights Dimming

By John P. Cregan

When the federal government steps in to rescue a multibillion dollar corporation like Chrysler, it is justifiably headline news. Currently, however, a twenty billion dollar government bailout awaits Congressional approval to the sound of media silence. The bill, which has passed the House of Representatives and is now before the Senate, provides nearly $20 billion in outright aid to one of the more intriguing survivors of the New Deal Era — the Rural Electrification Administration.

Why intriguing? Established nearly 50 years ago, REA has completed the job it was given. That job was to provide electricity to rural America. When REA set out on its mission in the 1930s, little more than 10 percent of the country was electrified. Today 99 percent of the country is electrified. Mission accomplished.

Not quite. Today the REA continues to borrow billions of our tax dollars at 11 percent and make 5 percent loans to its cooperatives. REA was making 5 percent loans to its cooperatives in the 1930s. The problem is that 5 percent was the going market rate at that time.

Unless REA raises interest rates and tightens its belt it will not be able to pay back even the $8 billion in principal on its Treasury loan, let alone the additional $9 billion in interest.

The NRECA represents the hundreds of REA corporations across the country. Their people have honeycombed the halls of Congress claiming that this bill is a "must pass" in order to keep the lights on in rural America.

Who actually is promoting this bill? With 99 percent of America electrified, they aren't farmers or even rural residents. Most of the proponents of the bailout represent suburban and industrial concerns. They are the new beneficiaries of REA's generous lending policies.

One reason the REA bailout is getting low media play is that the $20 billion dollar giveaway is "off budget." Off-budget financing is Congress' way of spending our money without adding to the federal budget deficit. This year the amount of "back door" spending could be as high as our $175 billion deficit.

Many Congressional leaders believe that higher taxes are now necessary to pare the deficit. Unfortunately, these are many of the same people who would vote for the multibillion dollar REA bailout.

I leafed through the dossier. ... It was thick with postwar memos from one officer to another discussing Klaus Barbie. ...

"The most recent document was dated March 27, 1951. It was a page and a half, signed by two Army intelligence agents, describing how they had escorted Barbie to Genoa, Italy, with false papers under the name 'Altmann' and had arranged his departure to Bolivia. ...

"So the charges were true. Barbie had been an Army intelligence operative after the war. ... After reviewing the file, Ryan sent a memo to Assistant Attorney General D. Lowell Jensen, head of the Criminal Division. Ryan concluded that any prosecution for violation of U.S. law — Barbie had visited the United States twice — was probably covered by the statute of limitations. ...

"But I recommended that we go forward anyway with a full investigation," Ryan writes. "The evidence of American complicity with Barbie was unmistakable. ..."

Jensen agreed. But two days later he called Ryan to say that Smith had vetoed the investigation. The press was told that Smith "had not announced his decision," Ryan writes, adding, "I did not tell them that in fact he had decided against it."

Ryan said he tried to persuade Smith that "the reaction against the department will be immediate, widespread and adverse" if Smith's decision stood. No dice.

Then, on March 14, 1983, two weeks after Smith's initial decision, Ryan got a call from a TV correspondent who said he was going on the air in one hour with questions about Smith's refusal to move on the Barbie case.

"I called the attorney general's press secretary to alert him," Ryan writes. "Scarcely half an hour later he called me back. Smith had decided to authorize the investigation."

Footnote: Smith's office had no comment.

Mistakes — All 8 — Kill The Bucs, 34-14

CHICAGO (UPI) — Even when coach John McKay once pronounced that "mistakes are killing the Bucs," last year, it was doubtful he could envision Sunday's fiasco against the Chicago Bears at Soldier Field.

Taking advantage of a generous Tampa Bay offense which committed eight turnovers, the Bears won their first season opener since 1979 with a 34-14 trouncing of the Bucs Sunday at Soldier Field.

Will the Bears emulate the success of their near-namesake Chicago Cubs? The Cubs are in first place in the National League East in quest of their first pennant since 1945. The Bears, who haven't won an NFL title since 1963, grabbed six interceptions, the most in at least a decade, and gave the offense the ball within the Bucs' 40 six different times.

"We kept talking about turnovers, getting turnovers," said linebacker Mike Singletary, who intercepted a pass that set up a touchdown in a 14-point third quarter. Linebacker Otis Wilson, who grabbed an interception later in the period to set up the second TD, said the defense was on the field so seldomly in the opener it was "amazing."

"We didn't have that many plays. We kept getting the turnovers and giving it to the offense," Singletary said.

For the record, Tampa starter Jack Thompson was intercepted four times and his backup, Steve DeBerg, twice more. Three of the interceptions led to touchdowns. A fumbled punt at the start of the game led to one of two field goals by Bob Thomas.

"Tampa Bay really didn't do anything to our offense," said Bears coach Mike Ditka. "It was a good one to win, obviously, we were ready to play. The defense was exceptional but we are still struggling for consistency on offense."

Tampa Bay coach John McKay credited the Bears, 1-3 in the exhibition, with being better prepared.

Thompson was throwing the way a quarterback throws when he starts to doubt his receivers. He looked like to was trying to throw the ball and catch it at the same time.

— John McKay

"They simply beat us. We didn't beat ourselves," McKay said. "We had better get better because the way we played today, we couldn't beat the Little Sisters of the Poor."

Jim McMahon scored on a 9-yard keeper in the second quarter that put the Bears ahead to stay and added a 21-yard TD pass to Willie Gault in the third quarter for the Bears. McMahon was 16-of-22 for 138 yards but it was the success of the ground game — coupled with the turnovers — that helped the Bears control the ball for over 40 minutes.

"Since I've been here, the defense has always been effective and given us good field position," said fullback Matt Suhey, who scored on a 1-yard TD in the third quarter after Al Harris' interception. "I think it's our turn now."

Suhey rushed for 57 yards in 14 carries, nearly mirroring the totals of Walter Payton, who gained 61 yards in 16 carries.

"I think that's what we want to do. If we can split it up we're going to be more effective," Ditka said.

After Thomas' 29-yard field goal in the first quarter, Tampa shocked the Bears with a 74-yard TD pass from Thompson to Gerald Carter with 12:15 left in the half after the Bucs' quarterback shook loose from an apparent sack.

"We just didn't have enough of those plays," said Thompson, who was only 4-of-17. "To beat Chicago, you have to have big plays because they will come up with big plays defensively."

"Thompson was throwing the way a quarterback throws when he starts to doubt his receivers," McKay said. "He looked like he was trying to throw the ball and catch the ball at the same time."

Thomas' 32-yarder closed the gap to 7-6 with 5:45 left in the half. McMahon rolled out and scored on a 9-yard TD with 2:40 remaining to put the Bears ahead to stay 13-7.

The Bucs were driving later in the quarter but a Gary Fencik interception snuffed out that drive.

Tampa could not manage its first down in the third quarter when the Bears broke away to a 27-7 lead.

In the final quarter, Anthony Hutchinson scored a 1-yard TD for the Bears with 5:02 and the Bucs salvaged a score when DeBerg hit James Owens on a 4-yard TD.

Bucs' linebacker Chris Washington was hospitalized after suffering a neck injury in the first half. However, the injury was not believed to be serious.

Bethune Roughs Up Thyhsen, UCF, 43-22

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

ORLANDO — As a backup to Central Florida quarterback Dana Thyhsen, Fern Park's Darin Slack figured to spend the 1984 season biding his time. He'd hold for extra points and field goals, get a little experience during blowouts and prepare to take over the job in 1985.

That all changed with 11:06 to play in the third quarter Saturday afternoon. Thyhsen, called into service when regular punter Glenn McCombs was injured, was leveled by a charging Bethune-Cookman College defender and carried from the field.

"I was hurting for Dana when it happened," said Slack, who earned third-team, all-state honors at Lake Howell High last year. "I really felt badly for him. He was going to have such a great season."

Thyhsen suffered a badly sprained left ankle and a stretched muscle in his right knee. He won't play this week, according to Slack, but the injury is less severe than first believed.

With Slack at the helm, the Knights moved the ball well on two occasions, but couldn't come up with the big play while losing a 43-22 decision to Bethune-Cookman College before 7,424 fans at Orlando Stadium.

The victory was the fourth straight Mayor's Cup for the Wildcats in as many tries against UCF in the season opener for both teams. The Knights, who lost several starters due to injuries and academic problems before the opener, had their bad luck continue.

In addition to Thyhsen, defensive tackle Sylvester Bembery suffered a possible broken foot and defensive back Vic Riddle severely injured his knee. Five other players were banged up, but should be ready for this week, according to coach Lou Saban.

"The team physician said this was the worst game for injuries since he's been here," said Saban. "We may be done to our third quarterback and third kicker and it's only the second game."

Slack, nevertheless, said he felt fine Monday although he "was seeing galaxies for awhile." The 6-0 freshman was knocked for a loop while being sacked in the third period. He played into the fourth quarter before leaving the game with a mild concussion.

Thyhsen, meanwhile, was en route to his usual solid performance before going down. In the first half, he completed 13 of 20 passes for 208 yards. Two of those tosses — a third-yarder to Tim Russ and a 14-yarder to Maury Parker — resulted in TDs.

The first half was filled with offensive fireworks and Thyhsen and rival quarterback Bernard Hawks moved their teams effortlessly up and down the field. Bethune took a 3-0 lead on a field goal by Arte Cannon with 10:22 left in the first quarter, but UCF bounced back on a 34-yard dash by Terrence Bonner to lead, 7-3, with 8:59 left.

Hawk then found wideout Sebastian Brown for a 5-yard TD with 4:29 to play in the first, only to see Thyhsen come back with an 11-play, 76-yard drive to retake a 14-0 advantage. Thyhsen floated a three-yard pass to Russ for the touchdown.

The second quarter was just as lively, but one key play may have turned the game in Bethune's favor. John Bostle broke through the left side and blocked a McCombs' put just five minutes into the second half. The Mins' native ran the ball down in the end zone and fell on it for a TD for a 15-14 lead.

Seven minutes later, Hawk struck again as he found his favorite target, wideout Leon Gonzalez for 24 yards and the score to push the Wildcats into a 22-14 lead.

Thyhsen, however, wasn't done yet. Taking over at his own 25, the 6-3 former DeLand High star moved the Knights 75 yards for another score. His 14-yard pass to Parker came with just 11 seconds left in the half. A pass for two points to Robert Ector earned UCF a 22-22 deadlock at halftime.

The second half, though, was all Bethune-Cookman. Four minutes into the final 30 minutes, Wildcat Johnny Butts was blocked into Thyhsen who went down in a heap. No flag was thrown although if a defender is blocked into a kicker this year, it is also a penalty, according to Slack.

After Thyhsen's injury, B-C-C couldn't move the ball and Slack made his first appearance with 9:25 to play in the quarter. "I wasn't real nervous in the sense that coach Saban had prepared me for what to do," said Slack. "But I was a little weak-kneed when I went in there."

Slack fumbled during his first series at midfield. Bethune marched the ball to the UCF 1, but when Hawk tried to roll left on fourth down, Brian Glasford yanked him down short of the goal line to stop the drive.

Marino Quiets Whispers As 5-TD Show Scalps 'Skins

United Press International

When Dan Marino broke a finger in training camp last month and missed most of the exhibition season, the whispers began about the "sophomore jinx."

But Marino, named both Player of the Year and Rookie of the Year in the American Conference last season after leading the Miami Dolphins to the Eastern Division title, needed just one game to show how much junk that kind of talk was.

Marino opened his second season with an incredible performance Sunday, throwing for 311 yards and five touchdowns to lead the Dolphins to a 35-17 romp past the NFC champion Washington Redskins.

Marino was able to play only part of one pre-season game after suffering a broken bone in his index finger. But on Sunday, against one of the top defenses in the league, the second-year man from Pittsburgh simply picked up where he left off in his sensational rookie season.

He completed 21-of-28 passes and threw TD passes of 26 and 74 yards to Mark Duper, six and four yards to Jim Jensen and nine yards to Mark Clayton. Duper caught six passes for 178 yards.

"When I made the decision last year to go with Marino, I decided at the same time to go with Duper," said Miami coach Don Shula. "It's been a great joy watching them come on."

Marino tried to downplay his per-

"It's a great feeling to throw five touchdown passes," Marino said. "But if we had run for five touchdowns, it would feel just as great. I certainly can't take credit for the passing yardage. When I throw a 10-yard pass and Mark takes it 74 yards, that isn't something I did, it's something he did. He's a great athlete and a pleasure to throw to."

"Washington has a great rushing defense and their pass defense likes to put pressure on the receivers," said Duper. "But I don't think anyone can stop both our running and passing. At least they couldn't today."

"We went into the game with the idea of throwing the ball because Washington has such a big, tough run defense," Shula said. "We wanted to get the good matchups on our pass plays. When you get Marino and Duper matched up against anyone, you're in a great position."

Raiders 24, Oilers 14
Marcus Allen, Frank Hawkins and Jim Plunkett all scored on 1-yard runs to rally the Super Bowl champions over Houston. Warren Moon, a star during his six-year career in the Canadian Football League, made his NFL debut with the Oilers and threw for the game's only first half TD — a 10-yarder to Mike Holston. Moon also had a 5-yard TD pass to Mike McCloskey with 74 seconds left.

Pro Football

Chargers 42, Vikings 13

Dan Fouts threw two TD passes to Wes Chandler and Pete Johnson scored on two short runs to power San Diego. Fouts, out most of last year with a strained rotator cuff, showed no ill effects as he hit 21-of-28 passes for 292 yards. Kellen Winslow, San Diego's All-Pro tight end, said after the game he is retiring today because of a contract dispute. It was the second worst defeat in the Vikings' history and spoiled new Coach Les Steckel's debut on "Bud Grant Day" in which the 17-year former coach was honored.

Patriots 21, Bills 17
Steve Grogan threw two TD passes. Tony Collins ran for another score and New England held off a late charge to defeat Buffalo. Collins ran four yards to score early in the second period for a commanding 21-0 lead. Grogan hit Stephen Starring on a 65-yard TD pass just 51 seconds into the game to give New England a 7-0 lead.

Chiefs 37, Steelers 27
Todd Blackledge, making his first pro start, passed 22 yards to Stephonno Paige for one TD and ran a yard for another to lead Kansas City. Theotis Brown scored on runs of three and six yards and Nick Lowery kicked three field goals for the Chiefs. The loss ruined the debut of new Pittsburgh quarterback David Woodley.

Falcons 36, Saints 26
Gerald Riggs, making his first pro start, ran for a team record 202 yards and two TDs to lead Atlanta over New Orleans. Riggs, playing for the injured William Andrews, scored on runs of three and one yard. Steve Bartkowski threw TD passes of 50 and five yards. Ex-Jet Richard Todd, making his first start for New Orleans, hit 18-of-32 passes for 186 yards, was sacked five times and threw three interceptions but was able to connect on TD passes of 18 and three yards. George Rogers had 102 yards, including TD runs of 4 and 3 yards, to become the Saints' all-time leading rusher, passing Chuck Muncie.

Packers 24, Cardinals 23
James Lofton caught seven passes for 134 yards to spark Green Bay past St. Louis. The Packers led 24-13 at the end of the third quarter but Neil Lomax nearly rallied the Cardinals to victory. He hit 24-of-33 passes for 269 yards and two TDs. Green Bay's Lynn Dickey hit 15-of-21 passes for 185 yards and a TD. The Cards could have won with 2:10 left but Neil O'Donoghue's 45-yard field goal was short. He kicked a 48-yard fourth quarter field goal to cut the Packers lead to 24-23.

49ers 30, Lions 27
Ray Wersching, who earlier kicked a career-best 53-yard field goal, hit a 22-yarder with four seconds left to lift

San Francisco. San Francisco drove from its 25 to the Detroit 4-yard line and called time out with seven seconds left to set up Wersching's third field goal of the game.

Giants 28, Eagles 27

Phil Simms, back after three years of injuries, threw for 409 yards and four TDs to carry the Giants over Philadelphia. Simms suffered a separated shoulder late in the '81 season, missed 1982 with a knee injury and fractured his right thumb last year after losing his job to Scott Brunner. He threw three TD passes in the first half.

Jets 23, Colts 14

Pat Ryan, making the first start of his 7-year NFL career, threw two TD passes to Mickey Shuler to lead the Jets in the Colts' first regular-season game at their new home. Ryan, named to start in place of Ken O'Brien, who is involved in an assault trial, hit 14-of-29 passes for 163 yards and the two scores. The Jets' key score was in the third period, when Ryan's 8-yard pass to Shuler produced a 18-7 lead.

Broncos 20, Bengals 17

Gary Kubiak came off the bench to replace injured John Elway and threw an 8-yard TD pass to Clarence Kay in the fourth period, pushing Denver past Cincinnati. Elway, before he suffered a bruised left shoulder, passed 25 yards to Butch Johnson for a score and put the Broncos in position for Gene Lang's 1-yard TD run moments later.

McEnroe Continues To Breeze Through Open

NEW YORK (UPI) — Fortunately for his peace of mind, John McEnroe has no objection whatsoever to winning his matches as easily as possible.

A week ago, after the draw for the U.S. Open was announced, it was speculated that McEnroe faced the toughest series of rivals among any of the top seeds.

But thanks to a fortunate combination of skill and circumstance, the top seed has enjoyed a virtual breeze into the fourth round, and his immediate prospects are just as promising.

His third round opponent was expected to be Kevin Curren, who is ranked 21st in the world. But Curren had to forfeit his second round match with an injury, leaving McEnroe to face another South African, Kevin Moir.

The difference between Curren and Moir is 314 places on the ATP computer, and McEnroe enjoyed a comfortable workout Sunday against Moir, 6-3, 6-0, 6-3. Moir only made it into the main draw as a lucky loser in the qualifying.

McEnroe, in stretching his 1984 record to 62-4, has dropped only 12 games in three matches, and his opponent in the fourth round just happens to be another qualifier, 24-year-old Robert Green.

Green, who made his Grand Prix debut less than two months ago and is ranked 132nd, stunned Australian Davis Cupper John Fitzgerald, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 7-6 (8-6) on Sunday, fighting back from a 5-3 deficit in the fourth set.

While it wasn't quite as easy for him, defending champion Jimmy Connors also got through to the round of 16 with a straight set victory, beating Frenchman Henri Leconte, 6-4, 6-1, 7-6 (7-2).

Only one seeded player was eliminated Sunday, with Britain's John Lloyd stunning No. 7 Johan Kriek, 2-6, 7-6 (10-8), 6-2, 6-3.

"I've never come this far in this type of company but, on the other hand, I have never played this well either," Lloyd said.

Foster's Hit Saves Mets

United Press International

The battle for the National League East has become a game of numbers and depending on whom you listen to, those numbers are going to add up to a division crown.

George Foster's bloop two-out single in the 12th inning scored Mookie Wilson to lift the second-place Mets to a 3-2 victory over the San Diego Padres. Meanwhile, the first-place Chicago Cubs defeated the Atlanta Braves 4-2 to remain five games ahead of New York.

"We knew it was important for us to win this game," said Foster after his single off Rich Gossage propelled the Mets to their fourth straight victory over the Padres. "We wanted to leave here no worse than five games behind the Cubs, sweep the four on the road and then come back here to play them (the Cubs) three games. It all comes down to the last 26 games."

Earlier, Leon Durham and Gary Matthews drove in two runs each to lift the Cubs to their third victory in the four-game set with the Braves.

"Anytime you take three out of four, you've got to feel you've done all right," Chicago manager Jim Frey said. "Anybody who wants to give me three out of four won't have to bother playing."

Despite their success in Atlanta, the Cubs lost a half-game of their lead this weekend as the Mets won 4-of-5 from San Diego. New York and Chicago start a three-game series Friday night.

At New York, Foster's single, the fifth hit allowed by Gossage, drove in Wilson, who had walked with one out and stolen second base. With two out, Keith Hernandez was intentionally walked and Foster followed with his RBI single.

At Atlanta, Durham broke up a scoreless duel between the Cubs' Dick Ruthven, 5-9, and Rick Mahler, 9-9, in the fourth with his 21st homer, a two-run shot. Ruthven held that lead until the seventh, when Claudell Washington led off with his 17th homer.

The Cubs increased the margin in the eighth when Matthews singled over shortstop Rafael Ramirez to score Thad Bosley and Bob Dernier.

"Those are nice," Matthews said of his RBI, "but the important thing is that we keep winning. The RBI are icing on the cake. I've always done well in September."

N.L. Baseball

Expos 4, Dodgers 0

At Montreal, Bryn Smith and Bob James combined on a five-hitter to lift the Expos. Smith went five innings, improving to 10-11, before he was forced from the game after experiencing stiffness in his right shoulder. James picked up his eighth save. Rick Honeycutt, 10-9, was the loser. Tim Lincecum stroked two hits and drove in a run to raise his batting average to .311. Raines, though, didn't steal any bases and fell behind, 66-60. Juan Samuel in that department. Samuel stole three Sunday.

Reds 7, Pirates 1

At Cincinnati, Dave Parker knocked in four runs and Ron Oester hit a solo homer to pace the Reds. Rookie right-hander Ron Robinson, 1-1, picked up his first major-league victory. John Tudor, 8-10, took the loss.

Phillies 6, Giants 3

At Philadelphia, Juan Samuel ripped two singles, stole three bases and scored two runs to lead the Phillies. Shane Rawley, 8-3, scattered five hits to record his first NL shutout and raise his record to 8-3 since joining the Phillies June 30.

Cardinals 4, Astros 1

At St. Louis, Ricky Horton, 9-3, and Bruce Sutter combined on a four-hitter and David Green homered to lead the Cardinals. Sutter pitched the final 1-2-3 innings for his 37th save — equalling his career-high and tying him with Rollie Fingers and Clay Carroll for the NL record.

Twins Lose 5th Straight, KC, Angels Creep Closer

United Press International

There's no doubt the Minnesota Twins will be happy to take the advice of Horace Greeley and head West for the remainder of the regular season.

Minnesota fell 6-0 to the Blue Jays Sunday, giving Toronto a sweep of the three-game series and the Twins their fifth straight loss and ninth in the last 11 games. Toronto won 11 of the 12 meetings between the two clubs.

Fortunately for Minnesota, the remaining 26 games on their schedule are with clubs in the AL West, which they lead by one game over Kansas City and 1 1/2 over California.

Doyle Alexander led the Blue Jays as he tossed a two-hitter and Garth Iorg smacked a two-run homer. The Twins were blanked twice in the series and outscored 25-4.

"Leaving Toronto should really pick us up," said losing manager Billy Gardner. "These guys (the Blue Jays) just wear us down. Every ball they hit against us always finds a hole. Every ball we hit against them is always right at somebody."

Gardner wanted to forget the past and look to the future as his Twins will travel to Kansas City, Mo., for a pivotal three-game series starting today.

"The Toronto games are history," he said. "You can't replay them. We're in a pennant race and it starts tomorrow in Kansas City. We'll have a little team meeting in K.C. and talk about how we can generate some pitching and some hitting against the Royals. We may make some changes, we may not."

Alexander, 13-5, was at the top of his game. Only four Minnesota batters managed to reach base against the right-hander. Alexander, two days shy of his 34th birthday, picked up his fifth consecutive victory and eighth in his last 10 decisions.

"I feel that right now I'm pitching more consistently than at any time in my career," said the veteran of 14 seasons. "And the key is confidence. I know (manager) Bobby (Cox) has the confidence in me to let me work my way out of jams, and I have confidence that the team will bail me out if I get down by two or three runs."

Toronto opened a 2-0 lead in the first, aided by Frank Viola's wildness. With one out, Viola, 14-12, hit Lloyd Moseby with a pitch and Moseby moved to second on Viola's errant pickoff attempt. George Bell followed with a double to score Moseby and with two out, Willie Upshaw, who went 3-for-4, hit an RBI single.

Indians 8, Red Sox 3

At Cleveland, Julio Franco belted a grand slam to highlight a five-run eighth inning to lift the Indians. Reliever Tom Waddell, 5-4, was the winner.

Mark Clear fell to 7-3. Bill Buckner and Dwight Evans homered for Boston.

Yankees 5, Angels 3

At Anaheim, Calif., Don Mattingly and Mike Pagliarulo hit solo homers and Rick Cerone singled home two runs to lead the Yankees in a game spiced by two bench-clearing brawls. Jay Howell, 7-3, was the winner and Dave Righetti got two outs for his 23rd save. John Curtis, 1-2, was the loser.

Royals 6, White Sox 4

At Chicago, pinch hitter George Brett singled home Jorge Orta and Don Slaught beat out a bunt single to score Frank White for 10th inning runs that lifted the Royals and reliever Dan Quisenberry, 5-3. Mark Hulamann earned his third save. Darryl Motley cracked his 14th homer for Kansas City.

Tigers 5, A's 3

At Oakland, Calif., Lance Parrish ripped a two-run double and Willie Hernandez picked up his 27th save as the Tigers broke a four-game losing streak. Dan Petry, 16-8, went 5 1-3 innings for the win. Tim Conroy, 1-4, was the loser. Dave Kingman hit his 33rd home run of the season and ran his AL-leading RBI total to 110 for the A's.

Orioles 4, Mariners 3

At Seattle, Bill Swaggerty raised his record to 3-1 and Tom Underwood earned his first save to lead the Orioles. Mike Moore fell to 5-14. Baltimore overcame a 3-1 deficit with a three-run sixth. Orlando Mercado had a two-run double for the Mariners.

Few circuit judges are challenged for re-election. But in the 18th Circuit, which includes Brevard and Seminole counties, two judges have opposition this year. The races offer voters a good chance to improve the judiciary.

In the Group 1 race is Circuit Judge Roger Dykes, who is completing 20 years on the bench, and John Antoon, a Satellite Beach attorney. Judge Dykes is an admitted nit-picker on courtroom decorum because he says courtroom procedures have become too relaxed. That's rudeness turn them off. Brevard County lawyers rated him last among 14 judges in integrity. Nearly 39 percent said he was unqualified for the bench.

The Orlando Sentinel endorses his challenger John Antoon. Mr. Antoon has a broad, general law practice and respect in the legal community. The only way to test his judicial talent is to try him. We believe he deserves that trial.

FSU Swamps East Carolina

Branch Scampers 28 Yards To Set Up Lone Touchdown

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida State quarterback Eric Thomas' first regular season start was overwhelming.

Led by Thomas' passes for two second-quarter touchdowns, FSU's Seminoles bowled over East Carolina 48-17 in the season opener for both schools Saturday night.

Thomas, a junior from Valdosta, Ga., passed 17 yards to Hassan Jones for one score and 31 yards to Jessie Hester for another in a 31-point first-half explosion.

Thomas finished with 12 completions in 19 attempts for 177 yards and two touchdowns before going to the sidelines early in the fourth quarter.

Senior tailback Greg Allen also had a good day, leading a 327-yard rushing attack with 113 yards on 17 carries. It was the 11th time in his career that Allen rushed for more than 100 yards in a game and he is now just 43 yards short of Larry Key's all-time FSU rushing mark of 2,953 yards.

Allen, who led the nation in scoring two years ago, had a three-yard touchdown run in the third quarter.

Sophomore Darrin Holloman scored from 13 yards and 17 yards on reverses and Roosevelt Snipes, Allen's backup, added a five-yard scoring run.

Freshman place kicker Derek Schmidt had field goals of 26 and 44 yards.

East Carolina's Jeff Heath had a 52-yard field goal in the first quarter and Jeff Bolch passed 16 yards to Jeff Patton on a fake field goal early in the third quarter.

East Carolina's Jimmy Walden scored on a five-yard run late in the fourth quarter to eliminate an 83-yard, 11-play drive, the only sustained drive East Carolina had all night. The TD was set up by former Seminole High standout Reggie Branch who bolted 28 yards. Branch finished with 81 yards on 10 carries.

FSU defensive tackle Isaac Williams, also from Sanford, was credited with a "fine defensive game" by coach Bobby Bowden. Williams contributed six solo tackles and four assists.

The Pirates star kick returner Henry Williams, who ran back two kicks for touchdowns in last year's 47-46 FSU win, was held in check. Williams fumbled at his own 14-yard line on a kickoff return in the second quarter, leading to Jones' touchdown reception.

Elsewhere on the first Saturday of college football, Johnnie Jones rushed for 203 yards and three touchdowns to lead Tennessee to a 34-27 victory over Washington State, sophomore quarterback Don Smith ran for two touchdowns and passed for another to give Mississippi State a 30-3 victory over Tulane.

Next Saturday, 12th-ranked Alabama opens in Birmingham against 20th-ranked Boston College, which beat Western Carolina 44-24 when Doug Flutie threw for 330 yards and four touchdowns.

Greg Allen leaves a defender grasping for air as he races for 14 yards. Allen ran for 113 yards as Florida State successfully opened his 1984 football season with an easy 48-17 victory over East Carolina.

Kosar's Heroics Subdue Gators In Last Seconds

TAMPA (UPI) — Bernie Kosar threw a 12-yard touchdown pass to Eddie Brown for the first of two Miami touchdowns in the final seven seconds Saturday to give the fourth-ranked Hurricanes a 32-20 comeback win over Florida.

The Gators had trailed most of the game, but finally took the lead at 20-19 when freshman quarterback Kerwin Bell hit receiver Gary Rolle for a 5-yard touchdown with only 41 seconds left.

But it took Kosar only 29 seconds to move Miami from its 28 into the end zone. The big plays were passes of 36 yards to Willie Smith and 17 yards to Brown. After Darryl Oliver gained four yards, Kosar tossed the looper to Brown in the end zone.

Then freshman defensive back Tolbert Bain intercepted a pass from Bell and returned it 59 yards for a touchdown as the gun went off.

The victory was the 13th in a row for the defending national champion Hurricanes, the longest winning streak in the nation.

Miami freshman Greg Cox, who tied a Hurricane record with four field goals, opened the scoring with a 29-yard field goal and added three-pointers of 20 and 27 in the first half. Sophomore running back Darryl Oliver added a 21-yard touchdown run in the second quarter to give the Hurricanes a 16-10 lead at halftime.

Cox then added his fourth field goal, a 26-yarder in the third quarter.

The victory came just five days after Monday night's 20-18 win over top ranked Auburn. It was the season opener for Florida, ranked No. 18 and playing with the freshman Bell at quarterback, replacing Dale Dorniney who was sidelined for the season with a knee injury suffered just Tuesday.

Florida, whose coach, Charley Pell, earlier in the week announced his resignation effective at the end of the week, tied the score at 3-3 on a 44-yard field goal by Bobby Raymond. Then running back Lorenzo Hampton put the Gators ahead at 10-3 with a 64-yard touchdown run. Raymond added a 30-yard field goal in the third quarter after Cox and Oliver had regained the lead for Miami.

Twice in the fourth quarter, Florida threatened to go into the end zone before they finally scored. First they reached the 27-yard line, but Bell passed to Rolle, who fumbled. Defensive back Ken Calhoun recovered on the Miami 1 yard line.

Then a few minutes later, Florida took over the ball on the Miami 29 when Hurricane punter Rick Tuten muffed a snap and had to run it out of bounds. But the Hurricanes held and Raymond was short with a 46-yard field goal try.

Cox's third-quarter field goal for 25 yards came at the end of an 11-play, 84-yard drive. They got all the way to the Gator 2, but again they stalled near the goal line. Florida's big play on defense was a sack of Bernie Kosar for an 8-yard loss by Patrick Miller.

...UCF

The Knights weren't able to move and McCombs drilled a low liner to Reggie Windom who returned the ball 28 yards to the UCF 12. Three plays later, Hawk hit Arthur Simmons for a nine-yard score and a 29-22 lead with 2:43 to play in the third quarter.

After the teams traded possessions, Slack put together his best effort. Beginning at the UCF 37, Slack moved the Knights with a series of short passes and two good runs by Aaron Sam to the Bethune 10.

Slack found Ted Wilson for nine yards on one play and Bonner for five on another for a first down at the Bethune 37. Sam then put together runs of 11 and eight yards to the 14. Elgin Davis, who like Sam was hobbled and not expected to play, slipped for four yards to the 10. Bonner was then stopped for no gain.

On fourth and six, Slack dropped back three steps and looked for Wilson. As he was ready to release the ball, he was hit by Chad Jenkins. The play was ruled a fumble and Craig Smith recovered for Bethune.

"Ted was open. Just a little more time and I think we'd have had a touchdown," said Slack about the play. "I don't remember too much after that. I was still in the third dimension."

Freshmen Todd Saturday came on for Slack for the final nine minutes, but UCF never threatened again. Hawk hit Gonzalez for 28 yards with 4:47 to play for a TD and Ernest Freeman recovered a Saturday fumble in the end zone with just three ticks left in the game for the final Bethune touchdown.

For the day, UCF lost five fumbles and one interception. The Knights outgained B.C.C. 417-339, but the blocked punt which went for a score and the loss of Thyhsen negated any difference in yardage.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

O-Twins Split Double-Header, Move Closer To Playoff Spot

ORLANDO — The Orlando Twins split a double-header with Jacksonville Sunday and moved into a 1/2-game lead heading into the final day of the Southern League baseball season.

Orlando, 44-28, holds a slim margin over Greenville and Charlotte. Greenville blanked Charlotte, 2-0, Sunday. The Twins could qualify for the post-season playoffs in two ways. If they win the second half outright, they would play Greenville in the opening game Wednesday at Tinker Field. If Greenville wins the second half, Orlando would also qualify since Greenville won the first half, too, and Orlando would have the second best overall record. If Charlotte wins, the O-Twins go home. Charlotte host Greenville today. If Orlando and Charlotte tie for the title, a one-game playoff would be played to determine the winner. A coin flip would determine the site.

Orlando hosts Jacksonville tonight at 6:30 for a double-header.

The O-Twins lost the opener, 4-0, Sunday before coming back to take the second game, 2-1, behind a clutch relief performance from Frank Eufemia who earned his 13th save. Eufemia came on for winner John McMahon in the ninth inning. He allowed a run on a sacrifice fly before acquiring the final out on a fly ball to center field.

Stine Poole and Mike Isherwood each produced an RBI.

Levi Overtakes Sutton At B.C.

ENDICOTT, N.Y. (UPI) — For most of Sunday afternoon's final round, Wayne Levi was aiming for second place in the B.C. Open.

Trailing Hal Sutton by four shots after six holes, Levi said he "figured that it was all over. I was just concerned with playing well enough to save second place."

But when Levi birdied the 7th hole and Sutton bogeyed behind him, cutting the margin to two strokes, Levi began to think differently. Sutton eventually shot 2-over par for the final 13 holes of the $300,000 tournament, allowing Levi to pass him on the back 9.

Levi sank 15-foot birdie putts on the 17th and 18th holes to clinch the one-shot victory over Sutton, the 1983 PGA Player of the Year, and Tour rookie Russ Cochran.

Hills Leads By 2 Strokes

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UPI) — Cindy Hill took a two-stroke lead into the final round of the $175,000 LPGA Rail Charity Classic today thanks to her second straight 68 and said she'd just play the last round a stroke at a time.

"I'm just going to play it shot by shot," Hill said. "I'm going to play for pars and let the birdies come."

Gant Realizes Darlington Dream

DARLINGTON, S.C. (UPI) — When Harry Gant first traveled to Darlington Raceway in 1955 with his father and some friends, he began dreaming about winning the Southern 500.

Sunday, that dream became a reality. Gant concentrated on racing the 1 3/8 mile track, not the other drivers, and his approach resulted in his domination of the 35th annual event.

A 19-year-old Altamonte Springs woman reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that she was raped today as she walked along Lake Destiny in Altamonte Springs.

The woman said she was confronted by a man, who is about 25-years-old, as she walked at the lake at 1:30 a.m. The man then attacked and raped her, a sheriff's report said.

The woman said she did not know the rapist. Sheriff's deputies who were called to investigate the case determined that the attack occurred within the city of Altamonte Springs, and the investigation was turned over to Altamonte Springs police.

DRUNK WITH GUN

Oviedo police charged an Oviedo man with disorderly intoxication and in a subsequent search reported finding a .33-caliber handgun in his pocket. He was also charged with carrying a concealed firearm and was later released on $5,000 bond.

The man attracted the attention of the officer when he and two other men were leaning against the side of a closed store in Oviedo, police report. Two of the men obeyed the officer's order to leave the area at about 2 a.m. Saturday, but the third refused and became rowdy, the report said.

Mitchell Young Jr., 42, of P.O. Box 500, Route 2, was arrested on the alcohol charge at 2 a.m. in the parking lot of Browdey's Store and the gun charge was added.

FALSE INFO

An Orlando man who allegedly tried to get a Florida driver's license using half of a New York driver's license, which belongs to his cousin, has been charged with possession of a stolen license and perjury in an unofficial proceeding.

The suspect applied for a driver's license at a state licensing office in the Interstate Mall, state Road 436, Altamonte Springs. Police were called after licensing personnel questioned the man's identity.

The suspect had a car title, an insurance application form and the front half of the New York driver's license, which identified him as Joseph M. Noto. None of his identification showed a picture of the suspect, police report.

An employer listed on the insurance form was called and he said the suspect had been recently fired for falsifying a job application. He gave police the man's real name.

Phillip Angelo Noto, 34, was arrested at 3:27 p.m. Friday at the driver's license office. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

PICKED UP PICKUP

A Lake Monroe woman has been charged with grand theft for allegedly stealing a 1966 pickup truck.

Eugene Tester's truck was taken from 515 Elin Ave., Sanford, on Aug. 22, and Sanford police arrested the suspect a 3:38 p.m. Friday.

Mary Darlene Brooks, 31, of P.O. Box 426, was arrested at Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford. She was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS TAKEN

A Sanford man reported that while he was in the process of moving his household belongings to a warehouse someone stole a dining room set, a living room set and a washer and dryer.

Reed A. Eden, 47, of 101 Hager Drive, told police he was moving the belongings out of the house when someone took the items worth $2,200 between 7 a.m. Aug. 24 and 8 a.m. Monday.

CHAIN RIPPED OFF

A Longwood man told police a group of men stopped his car at 13th St. and Olive Ave. in Sanford and robbed him of a $90-gold chain.

Joseph E. Cohen, 18, said he was driving on 13th St. at 2:30 p.m., when five or six men stopped his car at the intersection. Once stopped, one of the men reached inside the vehicle and took the chain from Cohen's neck. It was not reported how the men stopped the car.

Cohen described the robber as a black male, 5-foot-9 weighing 130 pounds wearing orange shorts and no shirt.

OFFERED A SMOKE

Seminole County drug task force agents charged a Windermere man with possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia after the suspect allegedly offered the officers and illegal smoke.

The undercover agents report approaching the man in the parking lot of ABC Lounge, U.S. Highway 17-92, Casselberry. They asked the suspect to sell them marijuana and he asked them if they worked for law enforcement, a sheriff's report said.

The agents said "no" and the suspect "held up a smoking device and offered to smoke with the agents," the report said.

The man was arrested and the officers report finding a small quantity of pot and drug paraphernalia in his car.

Randell Ray Hoekscher, 21, was jailed at 10:40 p.m. Thursday and was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

FOUGHT WOULD-BE RAPIST

A 63-year-old Altamonte Springs woman reported to sheriff's deputies that she fought a would-be rapist who fled from her home after she scratched and bit him.

The victim said she was asleep in a chair in her living room when the man "grabbed her around the throat and tried to get her on a couch and rape her," according to a sheriff's report.

During the struggle between the pair the man tried to smother the woman with a chair cushion, she said. She fought him off and he fled. She was treated and released at Florida Hospital-Altamonte for injuries to her arm.

Deputies report that the man apparently removed a screen from an open window to enter the house at about 12 a.m. Friday.

COUNTY WIDE ELECTION, SEPT. 4th PD POL ADV INON PARTISAN PAID BY CAMPAIGN TREAS.

Keep ROBERT G. 'BUD' FEATHER Working For Us!

Dear Seminole County Voter:
I have chosen to seek reelection because I feel there are many important projects left to be completed. During the past 12 years I have always been a staunch believer in making the hard decisions even though they might not be the most politically pleasing. We cannot have popular decisions today that will not benefit the county in years to come. This is one of the reasons that several special interest groups have targeted me to be replaced by a candidate who will dance to their tune. I work for you, not for any clique or special interest group. You know me. My record is clear: from building classrooms and roads to reducing government waste. Our educational system is one of the finest in the state; the eastern beltway has moved from the dream to the planning stages; nearly $40 million has been obtained for road improvements; and county government is becoming more efficient through computerization. I've worked hard to see that your dollars are spent where they do the most good.

I love Seminole County. I care about my community. A 15 year resident, I have been actively involved in community affairs. I will continue to help build an excellent quality of life — educationally, culturally, economically, and environmentally — so that our children and their families will also enjoy living and working in this dynamic area.

I have the experience and foresight to make those decisions that are in the best interest of the man and woman whose main concern is keeping their children happy and fed, the bills paid and a roof over their head. And government off their backs and out of their pockets and pocketbooks.

I am not a "politician". I am a public servant. I take every decision extremely seriously and strive conscientiously to make each one in your best interest. I look to the future when representing you — not just to the next election. With your help and God's, I'll be able to continue working for you. Please exercise your right that so many of our friends and relatives have fought and given their lives for. Vote this Tuesday. Thank you.

Best Wishes,

Robert G. "Bud" Feather

"Each player receives a prize worth $10 or more. We give away televisions, radios, and used cars. One year a man won a bag of popcorn and was very disappointed until I told him to look for a box in the bag. The box contained keys to a car," McCullough said.

Letters Have New Meaning When The Pal Is In The Pen

DEAR ABBY: I just read in the newspaper that a Canadian rancher struck up a correspondence with a woman whose name he found in one of those lonely hearts publications.

The man said he was not aware that the address to which he had been sending letters and money was a prison until the authorities notified him!

It seems that his pen pal, who claimed to be a "lonely widow," had been convicted of poisoning two of her four husbands, at least one of whom she had met through a lonely hearts ad.

Abby, I am appalled that all prisons are not identified as such — especially when an inmate places or answers an ad seeking a pen pal.

When I realize how close I came to answering one of those ads, I shudder.

Please comment in your column.

SHOCKED

DEAR SHOCKED: I agree, all prisons should be identified as prisons, and I am as shocked as you to learn that they are not.

I know that prisoners are a lonely lot who need contact with the outside world, but "caveat emptor" (let the buyer beware) should not apply in these circumstances.

DEAR ABBY: "Don" and I have been living together for three years. His sister was married recently and Don received an invitation addressed to him and a "guest."

I took this as an insult.

Dear Abby

Everyone in Don's family knows my name and also that we are living together. Don and I have attended all their family gatherings as a couple.

He told his mother I felt hurt, and her excuse was they didn't know how to address the envelope. If that was true, I think I should have received a separate invitation.

Then on top of everything, on my placecard at the wedding dinner was written "Don's guest." They knew who Don was bringing, so why wasn't my name used? Do you think his family was trying to tell me something? And if so, what?

NAMELESS GUEST

DEAR GUEST: I think they have already told you something — that they have little or no regard for you as a person.

In addressing an invitation to an unmarried couple who are living together, the names should be written on separate lines in alphabetical order.

Example:

Henry A. Brown
Mary Louise Turner

DEAR ABBY: Every once in a while you publish a valuable tip in your column on child safety.

May I offer this one?

Recently, Margaret McCarthy, a sweet 5-year-old neighbor girl, was blowing up a small balloon when it accidentally sucked into her throat and lodged in her windpipe, blocking the air passage.

When all efforts to dislodge the balloon failed, the child was flown in a helicopter ambulance to the nearest hospital, but within 15 minutes the child was dead.

It's too late to help Margaret, bless her soul, but if you print this, maybe other children will be spared.

A NEIGHBOR IN FORT MADISON, IOWA

DEAR NEIGHBOR: My heart goes out to the McCarthy family. And my profound thanks to you, good neighbor, for helping me to alert millions of readers to the insidious danger of a balloon in the hands of a small child.

Overactive Thyroid May Cause Sweating Problem

DEAR DR. LAMB — I perspire too easily. In the summer, sweat runs down my face, drips off my nose and chin and, if I am standing, runs down and drips off my fingers — and that's when I'm not working.

DEAR READER — Such extreme sweating can be difficult to treat. Your problem differs from that of the person who has localized sweating, such as from under the arms. You may be right about having a gland that is not functioning properly. You certainly should have your thyroid gland function checked to see if you have an overactive thyroid. That can cause excessive generalized sweating.

There may also be something abnormal about the tiny thermostat in your brain, which we all have. When it is important to cool the body, this thermostat sends out signals through nerves to increase the blood flow through the skin. This causes sweating. It also cools the body at night, which can cause night sweats. The thermostat can be affected by spicy food and is involved in the perspiration that some women experience during the menopause.

The skin is the major organ for controlling body temperature. Sweating is a form of evaporative cooling, and a heavy sweat means that your skin-cooling mechanism is overloaded. This is why sweating often accompanies a break in a fever: It means the body has started to cool itself rather than continuing to increase its temperature.

Doing something about excessive perspiration is more difficult than knowing what causes it. You might find some relief by taking one of the adrenalin-neutralizing medicines, such as Inderal.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I have heard that Os-Cal 500 is good for people who are calcium-deficient. After taking two a day for a few days, I became very constipated, and I have not taken any more since. I almost never have a problem with constipation. Could it have been caused by the pills?

DEAR READER — It was probably the calcium. And if you are one of those people who become constipated when they take calcium, you will have the same problem with all the calcium preparations. But you can take a preparation that contains some magnesium oxide to offset the constipating effect of calcium. Ask your doctor to help you choose one that will be right for you. One part of magnesium oxide to five parts of calcium carbonate usually will prevent this problem.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
My father's 59 years of contract bridge competition were characterized by boldness in his bidding and brilliance as declarer. He would have approved North's aggressive bidding and applauded South's method of playing the hand.

In the modern style of usurping the opponents' bidding room, the pre-emptive bid of three spades by West was not unusual. After that bid, North felt that there was no delicate, safe way to explore slam possibilities, so he tried four diamonds. When this drew a four-heart call by the opening bidder, North simply bid six clubs. This would normally have produced a fatal result for North-South, since the mundane play of leading up to the king of hearts falls. But South had a good nose for the location of the heart ace. After all, West's spade suit was headed only by the queen. Surely West needed the heart ace for his aggressive bid.

Accordingly, South won dummy's diamond ace, trumped a diamond with his club queen and played A-K of clubs. Now he led a low club to dummy's nine and ruffed another diamond. A spade to the ace was followed by the diamond king and two more clubs, on which South discarded his three small hearts. Defender West now had to come down to three cards. If he blanked the heart ace, he would be thrown in with a heart to lead into declarer's K-J of spades. If he threw a spade, South would play to the spade king, dropping the queen.

How Will They Explain A New Miss Ellie On 'Dallas'?

By Vernon Scott
UPI Hollywood Reporter
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Donna Reed has been given the thankless task of replacing Barbara Bel Geddes as Miss Ellie in the "Dallas" TV series with not a word to explain the amazing physical transformation of the show's matriarch.

For six years viewers have seen Barbara as Ellie Ewing, mother of J.R., wife, then widow of Jock Ewing, and only last year a bride for the second time.

This season viewers will accountably see Donna take over the role.

Barbara, who suffered a spate of illness during the sixth year of the series, withdrew.

"Dallas" producers were stuck. They could write Miss Ellie out of the show altogether, write an accident episode requiring plastic surgery on the character, thus accounting for her new face, or simply replace her without explanation.

They chose to hire Donna without any clarification.

"I'll just show up without any gimmicks," Donna said on her return from Texas locations for the tube's No. 1 rated show.

"I hope viewers will accept the new face. I have positive feelings about it. The audience is smart enough to know they had to go with a replacement or no Miss Ellie."

As matriarch of the feuding Ewing clan, Miss Ellie is an authority figure and the key to holding the family together.

Donna, who starred in her own "Donna Reed Show" for eight years following a successful movie career, was intimidated at the thought of joining the high-powered "Dallas" cast.

"It was a fearsome thought," the actress said with a wan smile. "I thought perhaps they might resent me for replacing Barbara. I could understand why they might be disgruntled."

"I was asked to come to MGM before production began this summer for makeup tests, which helped break the ice. I bumped into Howard (Keel), Linda (Gray), Victoria (Principal) and most of the others. I was warmly received."

But Donna had still not passed the acid test — an encounter with J.R. himself in the person of the unpredictable Larry Hagman.

That took place at the Dallas airport for a location shot involving both Hagman and Patrick Duffy, who plays the other Ewing son in the show.

"I'd been warned to expect a lot of hijinks and jokes," Donna said. "Sure enough, when I arrived they were sitting together like a pair of angels with their hands over their mouths in a silent pledge to behave."

"They both promised to be good sons. At the end of the first day's shooting Larry took me by the arm and escorted me to my dressing room. It was a sweet gesture."

"They've been a riot ever since, topping each other with one-liners and having fun. It's a very upbeat, warm, integrated cast. They really like each other."

Donna, who appears a bit fragile for life on a Texas ranch, is perfectly cast as Miss Ellie.

She grew up on a farm near Denison, Iowa, where she began each day milking cows, collecting eggs, feeding chickens and churning butter.

"I thought it would be lovely to play a woman with a strong attachment to the land and her family."

Reagan Holds 3-1 Lead As Campaign Kicks Off

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan would win re-election with an electoral vote landslide comparable to Richard Nixon's 1972 victory if the 1984 presidential election were held today, a UPI survey shows.

At the traditional Labor Day kickoff of full-time campaigning, Reagan led in 39 states with 412 electoral votes. Democrat Walter Mondale was favored in three states and the District of Columbia with 26 electoral votes and eight states with 100 electoral votes — including Mondale's own Minnesota — were rated toss-ups.

The UPI survey was based on polls where available and the estimates of political professionals and observers in each of the states.

It takes 270 electoral votes to win the presidency, so even if Mondale carried all the states now regarded as too close to call, Reagan still would score a solid win.

If the president swept all the toss-up states, he would better his 489-49 electoral vote showing against Jimmy Carter in 1980 and would approach the 520-17 Nixon victory over George McGovern 12 years ago.

In state after state, Reagan was rated as a heavy favorite, with a number saying the only Republican problem might be overconfidence.

However, some states given to Reagan were called close. Several Southern states, where the size of the black vote is something of an unknown, were put in the Republican column with a note of caution. And some Northern industrial and farm states showed up as relatively close calls for the president on the basis of late summer polls and estimates.

In no state was the presence of Geraldine Ferraro as the first woman on a major party ticket rated as pivotal, but one or two said Mondale appeared to be getting some help from his running-mate. The states where Mondale was considered ahead were Massachusetts with 13 electoral votes, Rhode Island with four, West Virginia with six and the District of Columbia with three. Only the district was rated a sure thing for Mondale.

The toss-ups were Hawaii with 4, Illinois with 24, Kentucky with 9, Maryland with 10, Minnesota with 10, Oregon with 7, Pennsylvania with 25 and Wisconsin with 11 electoral votes.

Only seven of the 39 states put in the Reagan column indicated Mondale was close enough at this time to make a fight of it. In Alabama (9), Iowa (8), Mississippi (7), New York (36), Ohio (23), South Carolina (8) and Tennessee (11), recent polls or other political factors indicated Reagan with less than whopping leads.

If Mondale carried all those, plus the states now rated as in his column and as toss-ups, he still would have only 228 electoral votes, 42 short of victory. However, the estimates from those states help explain the early emphasis that Mondale and Ferraro have placed on Southern campaigning.

The states rated solid for Reagan were Alaska (3), Arizona (7), Arkansas (6), California (47), Colorado (8), Connecticut (8), Delaware (3), Florida (21), Georgia (12), Idaho (4), Indiana (12), Kansas (7), Maine (4), Michigan (20), Missouri (11), Montana (4), Nebraska (5), Nevada (4), New Hampshire (4), New Jersey (13), New Mexico (5), North Carolina (13), North Dakota (3), Oklahoma (8), South Dakota (3), Texas (29), Utah (5), Vermont (3), Virginia (12), Washington (10) and Wyoming (3).

In 1980, Reagan carried 44 states — all but Georgia, Hawaii, Maryland, Minnesota, Rhode Island and West Virginia.

Lost 4-Year-Old Remembered His Lesson, ... He Talked To A Tree

EMIGRANT GAP, Calif. (UPI) — A 4-year-old boy who became separated from his family on a camping trip in the Sierra Nevada remembered that he had been taught to talk to a tree if he got lost. So he sat down and made friends with a hollow tree trunk.

Searchers found Elijah Fordham, still talking, 23 hours later.

"I could hear him talking," said rescuer Dan Smith. "I jumped up on a stump and then I saw him. I ran up to him, and the first thing he said was, 'Where've you been?' He said he was thirsty, that he hadn't slept all night. He couldn't find the camp."

Hatch Graham, operations coordinator for the volunteer Californian Rescue Dog Association that participated in the search, said Elijah had been taught camping safety techniques developed by retired U.S. Border Patrolman Ab Taylor.

"He teaches kids to hug a tree, to hang onto a tree and talk to it instead of wandering off," Graham said. "Talking helps calm the kids down, and staying in one place makes it easier to find."

The boy suffered only scratches, insect bites and severely chapped lips from his overnight ordeal, and was in good condition, officials said Sunday.

Temperatures dropped to the 40s after dark and Elijah did not have food or water while he was lost.

"Oh, thank God, he's alive," Pat Fordham said Saturday when told that her son had been found. "We had been prepared to accept the worst."

Elijah became lost Friday afternoon at an outing of Mormon families who have gathered each year for a decade in Emigrant Gap northwest of Lake Tahoe. He was walking along the shore of Chubb Lake when his mother lost sight of him.

The Fordham family lives in Santee, near San Diego.

Members of the camping party began a search. After an hour they summoned the Nevada County Sheriff's Department, which sent searchers and dogs but found nothing by dark.

"I cried a lot and we fasted," Fordham said. "I thought about 'Adam,' that TV movie about missing children. I went through the same thoughts those parents did. I was ready to accept the worst."

By dawn Saturday, more than 40 inmates from the California Youth Authority, a highway patrol helicopter, 15 members of the mounted Nevada County Sheriff's Posse and 10 volunteer dog-handler teams from northern California had joined the hunt.

Chairman Calls Critic 'Chronic Complainer'

Outgoing Commissioner Says 'Nuttiness' Marks FTC

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Michael Pertschuk, the lone voice of Democratic liberalism on the Federal Trade Commission the past three years, is going out with a loud and angry shout.

Pertschuk, who headed the agency during the Carter administration and whose seven-year term ends next month, says the FTC's Republican leadership has turned back the clock of consumer protection to "just plain nuttiness."

FTC Chairman James Miller, an appointee of President Reagan, responded in equally harsh tones — describing commissioner Pertschuk's attack as a "predictable venting of final rage" by a "chronic complainer."

Pertschuk and Miller have had several run-ins over the agency's direction and philosophy — including its approval of a joint venture by General Motors and Toyota and several multibillion dollar oil company mergers.

Pertschuk, who opposed the venture and mergers as monopolistic, offers his latest attack in a report requested by Rep. Charles Dingell, D-Mich., who heads the congressional panel that oversees the FTC and who has been a Miller critic.

In the 273-page report, Pertschuk wrote: "The current FTC leadership under Chairman James C. Miller has been consumed with a single-minded determination to undo the past — not just the immediate past — but the very foundation of antitrust and consumer protection law laid down by Congress in 1914, 1918, in 1950 and 1975, laws forcefully implemented by bipartisan commissions."

In his report, "The Performance of the Federal Trade Commission, 1977-1984," Pertschuk writes of "Reagan deregulators in a caricature of reform" whose "extremism and ideological blindness led to a new era of regulatory nihilism and just plain nuttiness."

Citizens Of Lake Mary

From a position of experience with Lake Mary Government, I have been a Commissioner for two terms, and observed closely the operations at City Hall and City Commission meetings. I take exception to the editorial conclusions in the Seminole Sentinel. I feel there are no candidates more qualified to serve our young city than Walt Sorenson, Russ McGonegal and Penny Gunn. I feel the majority of Lake Mary voters will agree with me.

Marblestone Instrumental in Introducing Tougher Penalties for Child Abusers

Gov. Bob Graham signs into law legislation initiated by Don Marblestone and introduced into the House and Senate by Rep. Art Grindle (pictured with Mrs. Grindle) and Sen. John Vogt.

The horrible torturing and killing of little Ursula Sunshine Assaid brought to light the state's inability to convict the killer of first degree murder. At the time of the crime, the law required proof of "intent to kill" in order to bring about a first degree murder conviction. The bill, initiated by Assistant State Attorney of Seminole County Don Marblestone, now includes "aggravated child abuse" as one of the listed felonies under the felony-murder statute which does not require proof of "intent to kill."

This bill was one of the highlights of the 1984 legislative session, and a positive step towards deterring this type of crime.

Don Marblestone — The Qualified Candidate

The 1984 Florida Legislature has recognized the rapid growth our county has experienced over the past several years and has created a new County Judgeship for Seminole County.

I believe my past ten years experience serving our county qualifies me for the position of County Judge and I would sincerely appreciate your consideration and the opportunity to serve you in the future.

Don and his wife, Julie, have lived in Seminole County over ten years. Julie has taught school for the past nine years at Sabal Point Elementary School in Longwood. Their son, Mike, attends Lake Howell High School.

- EXPERIENCE & ACCOMPLISHMENTS
- 1 1/2 years Assistant Public Defender, Seminole County.
  - 8 1/2 years Assistant State Attorney, Seminole County, prosecuting juvenile, misdemeanor, traffic and felony cases.
  - Chief of Felony Trial Division.
  - Member, Florida Bar
  - Member, Seminole County Bar Association.
  - Member, Florida Prosecuting Attorneys Association.
  - Member, National District Attorneys Association.
  - Instrumental in creation of recent legislation establishing tougher penalties for child abusers.

- EDUCATION:
- Graduate of Winter Park High School, class of 1965.
  - Bachelor of Arts Degree, University of Florida, 1969.
  - Law Degree, University of Florida, 1974.
  - Served as past president and member, Homeowners Association Board of Directors, Pine Tree Village at Deer Run.
