Byrnes Sees No Danger Of New Conflict

Secretary Of State Concedes, However, Serious Differences Exist Among Allies

PARIS, Oct. 3, (AP)—Secretary of State James C. Byrnes today conceded that there are serious differences among the Allied nations but, similar to the remarks made by Prime Minister Stalin, he felt sure there was no immediate danger of a new conflict.

The state secretary speaking to the American Club in Paris, said that such differences are ways happen during peace making procedures following every major war.

Mr. Byrnes made three important points in his speech, one pertaining to Russia, another on Germany and the third on American foreign policy.

Regarding the Soviet Union, Byrnes expressed the hope that Stalin's recent statement would put an end to charges that any single power or group of powers is trying to strangle Russia, and that Stalin's words also would dispel accusations that the United States is trying to use the atomic bomb as a threat of force against the Soviet Union. Mr. Byrnes added, however, that American foreign policy will continue to follow a strong line.

Following up this implied answer to Henry Wallace, the Secretary of State asserted that the chief point of American foreign policy is a determination not to go back to isolationism.

Most of his speech, however, was devoted to the future of Germany. Byrnes said the did not want Germany to become a pawn of a partner in a struggle for power, between the east and west. The occupation of Germany, he added, must be continued, and the country must be divided into zones as watch dogs.

"The United States," he said, "is not going to be able to spot any argument made by manufacturers. Elaborating on this, the Secretary of State said that should any suspicious of war production arise, a report would be made to the control commission. The committee, he said, would demand of the German government that the plants be closed. If the government failed to act, the Allied representatives would, in 24 hours, call out the troops to enforce the closing. Byrnes recommended that the Allied Control Commission have members available from any of the Big Four powers to back up its decisions.

Budget Approved Today At Meeting Of School Board

An open hearing for interested citizens of Seminole County to learn how school money is to be expended for the coming year was held this morning at the office of Supt. T. W. Lawton, where the School Board approved the budget, which includes a 24 percent increase in teacher's salaries, and a 50 percent increase in the state share of school repairs and replacements, according to Supt. H. E. Morris.

The budget will be sent to State Supt. Colin English for approval. One citizen, Mrs. Victor Green, a former board member, spoke at the hearing.

The school balance on hand totals $205,978. Anticipated receipts of $404,584 from Federal funds ($187,925), county taxes ($153,911), district taxes ($67,064) and other sources ($98,685) make the total balance of $599,477.

Proposed expenditures total $483,255 and are as follows: administration, $16,700; instruction, $304,200; operation, janitor, fuel, etc. $31,400; repairs and replacements, $43,271; transportation, $77,760; health, $4,888; miscellaneous, $1,315; insurance and rent, $10,165; commissions, $5,105; workers compensation, $800; capital outlay, $28,275; and debt service, $700.

The former Miss Jessie Durden was retained as high school physical instructor in order to assume her new duties as Mrs. Braxton Perkins. It was announced, and the resignation was accepted.

Prof. Morris will leave for Jacksonville, Saturday morning in order to attend a meeting of the Citizens Committee on services relating to schools. These services include home, health, recreation, opportunities for a more spiritual life, self reliance and chance to learn to work and become better citizens. The meeting will be at the roof garden of the Mayflower Hotel.

Higgins Says Cattlemen Show Lack Of Interest In Fire Control Unit

Owners of large areas of outlying land definitely indicated last evening by their lack of attendance at a meeting on fire control at the Community House that they are not interested in the proposal by the Florida Park and Forest Association to establish such fire control in Seminole County, manager Edward Higgins of the Chamber of Commerce declared today.

Many cattle owners have telephoned Mr. Higgins that they would not sign a petition to bring the matter of county fire control to a vote in the Nov. 5 election.

In order to have the matter brought to a vote, it is necessary to have land owners controlling 66,000 acres in the county, sign the petition. Signatures of those controlling 58,000 acres were secured, or 40,000 short, said Mr. Higgins.

Present at the meeting were Owen Douglas of the state fire control department, and E. J. Mohan, and William Jacobs of the State Forest and Park Association.

"The result of the meeting definitely indicated that there are not sufficient range land owners interested in fire control and reforestation at the present time to bring the matter to a vote," said Mr. Higgins. He pointed out that it is the practice of range owners to burn over land every year to secure fresh growth of grass, and that under a program of reforestation on burning could be done except at two year periods in order that young trees could grow.

In addition, some range owners are plowing over land to plant grass and are interested in less, rather than into tree growth, he said.

Miller And Carraway To Seek Seat Vacated By W. C. Hill

Two candidates for election on Nov. 5 as city commissioner, Frank L. Miller and Andrew Carraway, qualified this morning at the City Hall. This three year term will be to succeed W. C. Hill, former mayor, whose term as commissioner expires on Jan. 1.

Mr. Miller, a former city commissioner and city judge, announced several weeks ago that he would run for this office and gave reasons for so doing in a letter to The Herald.

Qualification of Mr. Carraway today was the first intimation that he would run for the office. Hill in Fort Ogden, Fla. in 1906 he came to Sanford in 1919, was educated in local schools and attended the University of Florida. He was commissioned as a Naval aviator during March, 1944, and later became a lieutenant senior grade in the service of the United States Navy. He is active in the service. Mrs. Carraway assumed direction of his insurance agency now located on North Park Avenue. He is active in the service of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. He belongs to the First Baptist Church.

Jaycees Make Plans For Oct. 12 Dance

Various members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce today reported on the progress of the Jaycee dance scheduled to be held Oct. 12 at the Mayfair Inn for the purpose of obtaining funds to finance the Junior trade body's portion of the tourist program.

Jack Morrison also reported on the progress of a plan for county-wide cleanup drive. Vice President Brantly Odum presided today in the absence of President Jack Ratigan.

U. N. Group Approves Big Refugee Budget

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 3.—(AP)—The United Nations Economic and Social Council unanimously approved a $185,000,000 budget for the proposed international refugee organization after lopping off approximately $100,000,000. The vote was taken after nearly every member of the 18-nation council reserved the right to raise objections when the parent general assembly received the report. Thus, in effect the delegates merely passed the "controversial question from one body to another.

Dr. Steelman Warns Nation Of Depression

Reconversion Chief Makes Declaration In Quarterly Report To President

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—President Truman has agreed with Reconversion Director John Steelman's prediction that the meat shortage may become worse this winter. Previously Mr. Truman had expressed the hope the meat situation would ease somewhat in the next few months. The Chief Executive said today that there is no conflict between his own views and those of Dr. Steelman's report.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Reconversion Director John Steelman today sharply warned the nation against the threat of another depression.

Steelman submitted his quarterly report to President Truman and Congress. In it the federal bureau chief bluntly declared that a further rapid price rise, and a general round of large wage increases, might end with what he termed "serious economic and social consequences."

Mr. Steelman's report explained the matter this way: "If prices keep increasing and precipitate a wage-price spiral, business and agriculture will find themselves priced out of the market and into a depression."

Almost simultaneously, the federal official warned that the government "must be prepared" to the extent that the present "extremely high" consumer and business spending should be "checked and held in check."

On the other hand, the reconversion director emphasized that the national economy is "in a position of great promise" as well as great danger.

Steelman explained that if "we have successfully started the rise in prices, the backlog of demand for goods, and the tremendous pool of savings and current income, should reduce the rate at which demand slackens."

Steelman's report said the national target is a balance of supply and demand at a level of (Continued on Page Three)

Toledo Baseball Official To Visit Sanford Monday

Eddie Gilliland, president of the Toledo Mud Hens of the American Association, will be in Sanford Monday for a conference with Mayor H. James Gut, Mayor League Manager Lind Weber and Chamber of Commerce Manager Edward Higgins, in connection with the proposed agreement for the Toledo club to undergo Spring training activities here next year.

Gilliland was recently named head of the farm system of the Detroit Tigers. However, he will remain in his present capacity until Oct. 15. Gilliland, it was learned today, declined offers of a high position with the St. Louis Browns and also the presidency of the American Association. Roy Haney, former president of the Association and now with the Pittsburgh Pirates, was a frequent visitor in Sanford last Spring.

Gilliland was the Florida State League's first president after the league's reorganization in 1936. At that time he was also serving as secretary of the Deland Chamber of Commerce.

A. P. Official Declares Freedom Of Press Still Faces Obstructions

By KENT COOPER, Executive Director

The Associated Press National Newspaper Week this year finds the movement for freedom of the press facing obstructions and generally being buffeted around.

In the last twelve months censorship has been relaxed in some countries, but there probably is more censorship today than in any other recent peacetime era. One thing has developed that is worthwhile: public consciousness in many parts of the world that freedom of the press is an essential.

A great deal of lip service to the idea has been given by officials who would really do something about it, and it could have been put higher on the agenda of the United Nations than number twenty, under a sub-head. It should have been placed first. Another thing of great concern is that the stress seems to be on freedom of information, without realization that information that can't be printed reveals nothing. As I said the first of the year in a message to the United Nations: "It is my fervent hope that you and your associates will develop a program going far beyond mere access of reporters to news and communications facilities. The whole structure of human rights in a world of free men, with governments of their own choosing, rests upon one basic right—the right to know."

Vague phrases such as freedom of information are inadequate. The fundamental medium of communications is the printed word. The right to know must be implemented by the right to print, by full press freedom. This objective must not be the selfish one to get news for ourselves. World understanding can be achieved only if news flows freely to all countries and may be freely published in them."

39 Persons Are Killed When Overseas Airliner Crashes In Flames In Newfoundland

Death For One Nazi — Life For The Other

NEW YORK, Oct. 3, (AP)—A Nazi war criminal, Hermann Goering, died, and Rudolf Hess, his co-defendant, was sentenced to life in prison for his part in the Nazi crimes against humanity.

Disaster Described As Worst Tragedy In History Of U. S. Commercial Flights

NEW YORK, Oct. 3, (AP)—All 39 persons aboard an American Overseas Airlines plane are believed to have been killed when the plane crashed in western Newfoundland early today. An Air France transport captain who flew over the wreckage two hours after the crash had no arrival at New York that the plane burned completely and there was no sign of life nearby.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3, (AP)—A big DC-4 passenger plane of the American Overseas Airlines burst into flames and crashed in the rugged terrain east of Stephenville, Newfoundland today only two minutes after it had taken off from the airport enroute to Berlin.

An official Coast Guard report said that there is little possibility that the 39 persons aboard the air transport have survived, according to the information they have thus far obtained.

Rescue crews are speeding by land and helicopter to the scene of the crash near Stephenville, Newfoundland, but they may reach the site in 24 to 48 hours, according to a Coast Guard spokesman. But it was pointed out that any search is beyond the possibility of survivors.

Three of the 31 passengers found for various points in Europe were said to be infant children.

In addition to the passengers, the aircraft also carried a crew of 8, including one stewardess. The cause of the crash is in the general vicinity of the recent crash of a Belgian Sabena transport plane in Newfoundland. The Sabena plane was killed by a lightning storm.

NEW YORK, Oct. 3, (AP)—A German airplane crashed today that the three Nazis freed by the International War Crimes Tribunal have been granted temporary protection from further arrest.

The acquitted defendants are Franz von Pappe and Hans Fritzsche, and Franz von Pappe and his wife, who were granted temporary protection from further arrest.

Delegates at the year's convention in San Francisco have not yet voted on next year's convention site.

Edinburgh Turns Acquitted Nazis Granted Temporary Protection From Further Arrest

FRANKFURT, Germany, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Matters in the Franz von Pappe, Hamburg School and Hans Fritzsche said today that the three acquitted Nazis will be escorted to the British zone of Germany.

ST. FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The American Legion today was invited to hold its 1946 convention in Paris, as it did after World War I. The invitation has been extended by the military attaché of the French Embassy in Washington.

Delegates at the year's convention in San Francisco have not yet voted on next year's convention site.

Legion May Hold 1947 Convention In French Capital

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Edinburgh today turned out in its greatest celebration since the war to honor General Dwight D. Eisenhower. The American Chief of Staff was made a freeman of the ancient city and was given an honorary degree of doctor of laws by the University of Edinburgh.

The general and his wife, Mrs. Capt. John Eisenhower, were welcomed to the city with a 19-gun salute after their motorcade from Culzean Castle. The Eisenhower family has a lifetime right to live in a residence in the castle.

After accepting the freedom of the city, General Eisenhower spoke in Municipal Hall to a cheering crowd. "We have come far along the road to a cooperative world. We must not turn back now. It is an honor to be here in your city, which has been a model of unity that we have learned to travel."

Disabled Veterans Can Now Request Premium Refunds

PARIS, (AP)—MANY VETERANS who had paid premiums on National Service Life Insurance policies while disabled may now be eligible to receive a refund on the amount of their premiums.

George S. Anderson, assistant regional director of the Veterans Affairs Division, reported today that the new legislation liberalizes the law on the granting of premium refunds, but also permits retroactive rating for such waiver.

In addition, veterans who were eligible but who were not familiar with the right to waiver of premium may also make their claim now, he explained.

To be eligible for waiver of premium, a veteran must be disabled for a period of at least six months. If the waiver is granted, he is then entitled to refund of premiums paid from the date his disability began. Future payments on his policy are made by the government for the duration of his disability. Veterans should continue to pay premiums until they are notified by the VA the waiver has been granted.

The new legislation liberalized the standards by which total disability is measured. Certain "statutory disabilities," such as the loss of both arms or both legs or eyesight, are now considered as total disability, even though the veteran might still be able to work at a job.

Town Markets Receive Big Meat Shipments Today

Meat counters of downtown stores, which for the past week have been full of cheese and pickles, presented a welcome sight this morning to housewives as they saw Chicago and round steaks and other choice cuts of beef at OPA prices.

Several large shipments of western beef were received from Jacksonville this morning, but according to butchers, this first of the month quota will be gone in a week or two. A few carcasses of quota-restricted Florida beef also were received.

Pork, including bacon and ham, lamb, and sausage were conspicuous in their absence. There was a limited amount of veal. Fish and chicken were plentiful.

Feed merchants reported that they now have sacks of white flour for sale. A shortage of scratch feed for chickens and protein feeds was predicted. Prices on these items have risen somewhat during the last few days.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

Speaking of the current Florida boom, John Temple Graves says this one is unlike the other Florida boom. "This one," he says, "is for keeps."

We are sorry to learn of the illness of former Secretary of State Hull. He was always the most solid citizen in President Roosevelt's cabinet.

Senator Pepper is going on a speaking tour for the Democratic party in eleven states and says he will speak on certain affairs when ever he wants to. A great break for the Republicans!

Early snows in New York, Vermont and New Hampshire as well as very cold weather generally throughout the north, will help to bring the visitors down early this year. By the time Christmas rolls around, two or three months of cold weather already will send millions of them scurrying for sunny climes.

Hjalmar Schacht, Hitler's financial wizard, recently acquitted of war crimes, something which has proved to be one of the mysteries of the Nuremberg verdicts, is as cocky as ever. "There used to be laws and free opinion in Germany," he says, "there is neither now." Well, in that case, why not take him out and shoot him?

"Schools Need Overhauling from Top to Bottom Here," is the Tampa Tribune headline. The trouble with most of us is that we are looking for some simple remedy for the school problem in Florida like the firing of a single teacher we don't happen to like. When what we need is a complete overhauling of the whole school system in Florida from top to bottom.

The editor of the Smithville, Mo. Democrat-Herald, after a telephone conversation with President Truman, an old friend, says on Sept. 27, "This column claims the distinction of being the first to predict that Harry Truman will not be a candidate for re-election." However, this column suggested on Sept. 23, "After Truman's many recent blunders, he may decide not to seek re-election." Now we are convinced of it.

Inasmuch as the Navy's "Truculent Turtle" has just completed an 11,933 mile flight from Australia to the United States in some 95 hours, it might be of interest to know just what this "Truculent Turtle" is anyway. Well, "truculent" means "fierce, ferocious, ruthless, and destructive," which is just what the United States Navy's plane was when they go into action. Furthermore, they are as peaceful as a "turtle" when you leave them alone.

We are glad to see that we are not alone in our estimate of General MacArthur as a presidential possibility. The Tampa Tribune says: "MacArthur's administration of the troubled affairs of Japan stands out as a masterpiece of executive ability." It has been done by the genius and determination of one man... we believe Douglas MacArthur would make a great President. And we believe that the greatest thing that could happen to this country in its present chaotic state would be for both parties to lay aside partisan politics just long enough for Democrats and Republicans alike to nominate MacArthur for President.

If President Truman does not seek the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1948, who will the nominee be? The logical candidate, in our opinion, would be Henry Wallace, with Senator Taft for his running mate, but these two are not a characteristic choice for a more conservative choice will probably result. Jimmy Dore, if he is put too old, could give the Democrats the best chance against a probably more conservative choice by the Republicans. Senator Barbour of Virginia is too courageous, and too far from the northwestern Democratic...

Restaurant Sanitation

The State Board of Health has recently issued some timely suggestions with respect to tightening up on sanitation rules in the various eating establishments of Florida. With the tourist season rapidly approaching, the Board wisely points out that no single contribution could be better made to our visitors' pleasure and welfare than providing places to eat that are at once both clean and appetizing.

Among suggestions advanced by the Board are the following:

- 1. Waitresses should wear hair nets. Loose hair not only looks untidy but encourages the spread of disease germs.
2. Waitresses should not put pencils in their hair. The pencil carries bacteria from the hair to the check which in turn is laid on the table.
3. Waitresses should keep their fingernails clean and cut short. Uniforms should be changed regularly and kept clean.
4. Waitresses and cooks should immediately disinfect open cuts or abrasions and cover with band-aids, not only to prevent infection in themselves but also to avoid spreading germs among their customers.
5. Glasses should always be picked up from the bottom, and knives, forks and spoons by the handle, never touching the portion that comes in contact with the customer's mouth.
6. Waitresses should never touch the butter with their hands. It should be picked up either with a fork or spoon.
7. Waitresses should be particularly careful not to stick their thumb in the coffee or soup.
8. Sweeping should not be allowed in any place at any time when customers are eating.

Land Of Fear

If the story told in "I Chose Freedom," by Victor Kravchenko, is true—and it is told with circumstantial detail which sounds like the truth—then, indeed, Russia behind the iron curtain is in a bad way. It is the account of the life of a young engineer managing one factory after another under the USSR. He finally rose to a place on one of the purchasing commissions for lend-lease and was sent to this country in 1943.

He remained at this work long enough to learn his way about, and then fulfilled a long-held dream of resigning and staying in America. He was one of the few higher-ups able to get out from under the net of spies, secret police and sadistic cruelty which the Soviet regime imposes on all its workers.

People who have read Russian history and know about conditions under the Czars are apt to think almost any regime of modern times must be better than the poverty and cruelties endured so long. They know the Revolution of 1917 was intended to improve conditions and they believe it has done so. They approve the Constitution of 1935 without realizing that it has never been put into practice.

But according to Kravchenko, the revolutionaries who wanted better things for Russia have mostly been killed or imprisoned in the various purges. The group now in power lives in an atmosphere of fear and hate. It is by the network of espionage, this NKVD which succeeded the old GPU and which works exactly as Hitler's Gestapo worked, that the present regime keeps going.

The story is at once so incredibly horrible and so quietly factual that the reader is left wondering. If this be true, how long must it endure? No dictatorship of such a nature can hold out many years. It has in itself too many seeds of disruption.

But it can make a lot of trouble for a decent world while it lasts.

Whose slim quotas fail to fill retail meat counters, are likely to be appealing to OPA for larger quotas. Plenty of fat cattle are now roaming the Florida flatlands.

Arrangements have been made by the New York Giants for use of the Azules Bowl, dressing rooms, showers, playing field and other facilities at Palatka in order to operate a baseball school. We hope the Palatka city commission put the cost of field repairs up to the Giants a big baseball school, as Sanford found out, costs plenty of money for ball park repairs and maintenance, costs which big league clubs can handle much easier than tax burdened and labor-short municipalities.

Qualified electors of Putnam County will vote Nov. 5 on a fire control bill, also a no fence law in the Beech-Rice Creek area, in connection with the general election.

Motorists from the east coast who have been trying to get to Orlando via Mims, Geneva and Oviedo, have complained to N. L. Bryan, Jr. of Deland, division engineer of the State Road Department, that the route is confusing because of many winding roads and cross roads, and have requested that the route be more plainly marked. This route is necessary because the Cheney Highway has been closed for repairs. Completion of Road 44 from Mims to Sanford within a few weeks is expected to furnish the best route to the east route.

It takes an attorney formerly connected with the OPA to get torney, recently obtained from the meat shortage in Florida by increasing slaughter-house quotas. Otis B. Redbaugh, Tampa attorney, recently obtained from the OPA a "phenomenal" 1000 percent quota increase for a slaughter house operated at St. Petersburg by John T. Fisher. It was pointed out to the OPA that Fisher had plenty of fat cattle on hand. Now he is permitted on Oct. 7 to increase by 2,000,000 pounds the amount his plant is permitted to kill this year.

Another slaughter-house operator in the same vicinity, J. E. Watson, whose yearly quota is 1,000,000 pounds, complained that his larger plant should be granted a proportional increase. Other slaughter house men in the Kissimmee and Sanford districts coming and going with the frequency and regularity of visiting relatives. The Spicer controversy, said Zedok Dumkopi, calls for cold facts. And then he ducked.

CARTOGRAPHERS are disputing over whether the Spicer Islands really exist or not. What they will do with them if they are, found the story doesn't say.

A cartographer is a map maker who has been to college. Or, maybe, it's the other way around.

If the islands appear above the surface they belong to Canada. If they don't, the fishes can have them.

The alleged islands are said to be 400 miles north of the top of Quebec. An ideal location for a winter resort for Eskimos.

Personally, we think the whole fuss could be easily settled. Why not ask Mr. Spicer after whom they were named?

An Arctic island says the Spicers appear and disappear.

Seminole High Celery Feds Priming For Winter Garden

Howard Whelchel Bobby Fenimore And Holly Piercy To Take Back Captains For Tilt Seat This Year

Gardeners Said To Be One Of Year's Toughest Enemies

By ARTHUR DECKWITH, JR., Herald Sports Editor.

The Seminole High School Celery Feds will meet the Winter Garden High School Red Devils in a grid contest on the local field Friday night at 8:15 o'clock.

Coch Coach Kettles announced this morning that Howard Whelchel and Holly Piercy have been named co-captains for the tilt. Kettles added that he thought the Winter Garden team will be one of the toughest teams the Feds will meet this season. The Gardeners have an unusually heavy line for a high school, averaging 185 pounds per man.

Winter Garden also presents a threat in their backfield. Kettles stated that they have one of the best backfield men in the state in Bill Clark.

The probable starting lineup for the Feds will include: Whelchel and Spencer Hardin at the ends; Harold Kastner and Jan Jenkinson, tackles; Bill Ludwig and Nollie Train, guards; and Gowen-Regel at the center. The backs will include Clarence Grantham at quarter, Willis Anderson at full and Piercy and Clyde Hutt at the halves.

Kettles said that the Fed "B" squad was rounding into form and that the training will be valuable for the men as many will graduate to the "A" team next year.

College Bureau Says Statistics Show Number Of Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the first time in three years, All-American Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A & M may have to take a back seat this season in college football's passing and ground gaining parade.

The National Collegiate Athletic Bureau today disclosed total offensive statistics covering the first two weeks of the 1946 pigskin season. Right now Fenimore is just an also ran, and the list is studed with potential stars who threaten to steal his thunder. For the past two years, Fenimore has monopolized the offense department in football.

Virginia Military Academy's nifty triple-threat back, Bob Thomas, leads the football collegians in both total offense and passing. This shiftpilled back has gained 292 yards in 39 grounds plays and he has accounted for 242 additional yards on passes. Fenimore by the way is eighth in total offense and fourth among the forward passing leaders.

Dana Bille's great University of Texas team ranks first in total team offense. The powerhouse Texans have gained a total of 347 yards by both rushing and passing in two games. Detroit stands second in team play with Tulsa third.

Detroit has more individual rushing leaders than any other one team. Detroit's Bill Haley leads with 219 yards in 19 tries. Detroit also has Joe Wright who is fourth in rushing gains and Len Rittoff who is sixth in that department.

The nation's leading pass receiver of 1945, Neil Armstrong, of Oklahoma A & M, is back on the job. Armstrong is tops in the pass snaring competition with 161 yards gained on eight passes. Ed Faunce of Minnesota leads in pass completions. He has connected on 1 out of 12 for a total of 120 yards.

Bill Ludwig, Oklahoma A & M leads the kickers with an average of 49 yards on five boots.

Paul Severin, University of Florida and coach, made all-American honors during his last year of play at North Carolina.

Eyes Of Series Fans Will Be Set On Ted Williams

Key To Series Win, Perhaps, May Be On Hurling Abilities

By FRANK ECK

AP Newfeatures Sports Editor

NEW YORK—The Boston Red Sox are battling 1,000 in the World Series. The American League from New England have been in the fall classic and each time they came through. There is no reason to suspect they will fail to maul the National League team.

The only time the Red Sox have been defeated in the World Series was in 1918, but that wasn't their fault. The New York Giants, National League victors that year, refused to play the Bostonians and baseball went without a world champion.

The eyes of most Series fans will be on Ted Williams, Boston's home run king. But don't expect too much from Williams in games away from his familiar Fenway Park where the right field fence is only 302 feet from home plate.

Williams just about wrecked National League pitching in the July all-star game with two home runs and two singles, but the game was in his back yard. He is a newcomer to Series competition. The National League pitchers may shudder every time Ted steps to the plate, but they aren't expected to feel any too happy facing Boston's other heavy hitters Dizzy Dean, Johnny Pesky, Dick Maguire and Bobby Doerr.

If the key to a World Series victory lies in pitching, it'd be willing to go along with the 28-year-old left arm of Mickey Harris which has a record of 16 victories and 8 defeats. Harris should do well against the National League team which is loaded with left handed hitting power.

Harris has a phenomenal record in that most of his eight setbacks could have been turned into victories with a little better hitting support from his mates. In seven of his losses, Boston failed to score more than two runs.

Manager Joe Cronin picked no soft spots for Mickey, either. Harris beat Spud Chandler and the Yankees, 4-1 and 3-1 and lost to the Yanks, 4-1, 2-1 and 3-2. Against Bob Feller, Harris lost 4-1 in their only meeting.

Harris spent more time in the service than most major leaguers. After winning eight and losing 14 for the Red Sox in 1941 he was in the Army the next four years, two of them in Panama where he pitched several no-hitters. When he won it was taken for granted. But it was news when he lost.

Pick The Winner Contest Opened By Merchants

The Herald pick the winner contest opened this week with three local business firms as the sponsors. Touchton's Drug Store offers the winner of the first prize a Parker "51" pen, the next six prizes are offered by the Ritz Theatre. The Ritz prizes will be theatre passes.

The contest rules are simple and are printed on each ballot. There are ten teams selected from the top games of the week and in order to submit a correct ballot a person must list scores for the individual teams in the space given.

Clip the ballot and bring or mail it to The Sanford Herald before Friday noon. If mailed it must be postmarked before Friday noon. Winners will be announced in the Monday edition of the Herald.

Games this week include: Sanford vs. Winter Garden; Army Corps of Engineers vs. South Carolina; Clemson vs. North Carolina; Duke vs. Tennessee; Florida vs. Tulane; Georgia vs. Temple; L.S.U. vs. Mississippi State; Mississippi vs. Vanderbilt; and Wake Forest vs. Georgetown.

1939 Tennessee Vols Best Team In Orange Bowl

Coach Jack McDowell of Rollins has divided his football squad into A and B groups, and the coach says that 33 players will dress for each of the Tars six games.

Mellowell stressed that the membership on the A squad is only temporary. He points out that there are a dozen players on the B squad who almost rate better on the A team. He adds that these men may be on the first team before the first game, Oct. 11.

McDowell also pointed out that except for his fullback he can field a team of pre-war Rollins veterans.

Miami Hurricanes and his Hurricanes are under no illusions as to the prowess of their former but the Orange Bowl champions of 1946 have had their share of talented returnees and their share of accession of other potentially brilliant performers this fall.

The 1945 eleven, though it lost only to Georgia an eked out 7-6 decision over Florida and Clemson before it blasted North Carolina, State, Michigan State and Auburn so decisively that the Orange Bowl big and victory followed, was hardly a great team. It was a green team—seven of its starters in the Orange Bowl were in their first year of college football—and was as unsteady as any largely freshman eleven might be. It made horrible mistakes and yielded almost half the tallies against it on mistakes which only freshmen can conceive and execute. It had no real passing attack, gaining more ground by intercepting opposition passes than completing its own and it had half-back trouble all fall—no two successive games seeing the same starting backfields and the half-backs alternating before stardom and mediocrity weak after week. It rarely made long drives for touchdowns—but it had hutz and the ability to cash in on recovered fumbles, intercepted passes and blocked punts to a degree which made long drives unnecessary.

Four starters from that team's first line and two from the second string line are gone but the two best backfields return intact, all more experienced and seasoned under fire eleven last Friday for the 1946 Orange Bowl game which won 20 games while losing only five a 50-47 Stars return for all three eleven were largely freshmen and sophomores combined. Two of the returnees played first string football at Miami before they entered the series. Others were alternate first stringers.

And that is not all the rush team no man who threaten to crowd everybody out of his picture in as many as five positions.

This 1946 team has experience and seasoning which the 1945 lack. It had depth in the backfield and it has hutz who are big and can run. It is a team which will take a lot of beating.

Georgia's Sinkwich Named Best Back In Miami Classic

MIAMI, Oct. 3.—(Special)—This is a slight variation of information Pleas with a board of the Orange Bowl's own experts supplying the answers to the plays, players, coaches and teams who and which produced the big moments in the 14 Florida New Year's football games.

The board consisted of R. D. (Buck) Freeman, this year's president of the Florida Orange Bowl Committee; Ted Husing, ace sportscaster; Jesse Yarborough, Miami welfare director, wartime coach of the First Air Force team; George Edmondson, recognized as the nation's No. one football fan, and Ev Clay, former Miami sports editor, now Orange Bowl publicist.

The answers:

Best all-around team to play in the Orange Bowl: the Tennessee club which defeated Oklahoma 14-0 in 1939. The halftime score was Bama 22, B. C. 21.

Best pass receiver, Bob Ison, Georgia Tech, 1940.

Best punter, Johnny Pingo, Michigan State, 1938.

Most interesting game to watch: Alabama's 37-21 win over Boston College in 1943. The halftime score was Bama 22, B. C. 21.

Best coach job, Bob Noyland, Tennessee, 1939.

Most interesting team to watch: Georgia Tech's razzie-dazzlers who defeated Missouri, 21-7, in 1940.

Most underrated player, Bobby Jenkins, Alabama, 1943 (later an All-American at Navy).

Best offensive team, Tennessee, 1939.

Best blocking and tackling team, Tennessee, 1939.

Unluckiest team, Boston College, 1943. The Eagles suffered an unbelievable series of misfortunes New Year's afternoon. A few minutes before the kickoff the water cooler fell in the dressing room and starting Tackle Joe Bekko was seriously injured. Fullback Carl Lucas was not in the second quarter with a fractured ankle. Quarterback Eddis (the Brain) Doherty sustained an injured shoulder and was unable to play the last half. All-American End Don Curvian went out early with an ailing hand.

Biggest upset, Miami's 13-6 win over Holy Cross, 1946.

Best executed play, Georgia Tech's end-around, with Bob Ison carrying.

FOE OF FORMER MATES

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va. (AP)—George Grimes of Tennessee, Va., played in the backfield for the University of North Carolina in 1943 and scored 14 points against the University of Virginia that year. Now he's playing for Virginia and will be with the Cavaliers when they meet the Tar Heels on Nov. 30.

Waglow, Fuller Named To Posts At Florida U.

Changes In Athletic College Announced By President Tigert

GAINESVILLE, Oct. 3.—(Special)—Appointments of Irving P. Waglow as assistant professor of physical education and designation of David D. Fuller as acting boxing coach in the College of Physical Education, Health and Athletics at the University of Florida, was announced today by President John J. Tigert, with Board of Control approval.

According to Dean Dennis K. Stanley, Professor Waglow will replace Don A. Rossi, resigned. Former associate director of Montclair New Jersey's Y. M. C. A. Professor Waglow served from 1942-1946 as an officer in the Army Air Force's Physical Training Program.

Fuller, who was appointed to the staff of the College of Physical Education, Health and Athletics in June as assistant professor of physical education in the Department of Required Physical Education, assumes the position of boxing coach in addition to his duties as an instructor. He replaces Carlos H. Proctor, who resigned recently.

A former instructor in physical education and assistant football coach at Monmouth College, Illinois, Fuller served as chief specialist in the Navy in charge of athletic and physical education assigned to the V-12 program at State Teachers College, Maryville, Mo. Fuller served as boxing coach for the college. He recently completed scholastic requirements for a master's degree in physical education at the University of North Carolina.

Many a runner has been tagged while on the ground, in the act of sliding, but Johnny Rucker of the New York Giants came up with something new.

Batting against Philadelphia, Rucker dropped backward to the ground to avoid a close pitch. The ball hit his hat and rolled out in front of the plate. Catcher Rollie Hemaley picked up the ball and tagged out the prostrate Rucker who was still lying on the ground.

MOULTON, Ga., Oct. 3.—(Special)—Little Scott Cary hurled the Orlando Senators to their fourth straight triumph over the Moulton Packers here last night, striking out 13 and allowing but one hit as the Mackskimen copped the All and the series in the 7 to 1 tilt. Cary allowed a single to the second man to face him, Billie Bowman Barnes, and popped on the steers to score the Packers down in defeat without another inning. The temperature in the low sixties kept the crowd away as only 1,447 fans witnessed the affair. A total of 104 Senators fans had been to the four game series.

World Awaits Russian Retaliation To Rebuff In Quest For Dardanelles

By EDWIN B. GREENWALD
AP Newsfeatures
ISTANBUL—The world today is waiting to see what Russia will do about its latest rebuff in its quest for the Dardanelles.

"The big danger today," said a professional observer who has spent years at this vital listening post, is that Russia is likely to make the same mistake that it has many made twice—too much faith in the reports of agents, not enough in the warnings of governments. The reports of agents cause war.

This correspondent asked the observant one of the most reputable in the Near East, if he did not mean "might make the same mistake" instead of "likely." He replied that he felt the situation was enough to justify "likely."

They're Fought 12 Wars

Russia's beating of the drums for possession of the Dardanelles began in the days of Peter the Great and was resumed a year ago last March by Molotov. In five times since 1880 Russia and Turkey have gone to war over this all-year outlet for Russian shipping.

Now the Turk, backed solidly by the western powers has refused to accede to new Russian demands and has made it plain that he will not hesitate to fight and, perish if he must, before yielding one inch of territorial and sovereign rights over the straits.

Russia startled both Turkey and the democracies by demanding an equal share with Turkey in the defense of the Dardanelles—which would mean Soviet bases on Turkish soil. Russia also proposed that administration of the straits be handled exclusively by Black Sea powers, a maneuver which would cancel the nine-power Montreux Convention governing traffic through the waterway and guaranteeing Turkey's sovereignty over it.

A Democracies Act Quickly

The United States, Britain and France, joined Turkey in rejecting those proposals. All were willing to agree to certain technical changes in the Montreux setup to conform with new conditions—but that was all.

Disturbed observers in this war-torn area beside which the Bosphorus funnels cold Black Sea waters to the straits, believe that if the Soviets are convinced that Turkey means to use her well-oiled rifles and dry powder—and convince that the democracies are really serious, then all may remain calm.

The course of Britain in the controversy is irrevocably charted. The only bulwark between an expanding Russia and Suez is politically and militarily organized Turkey.

Background of Issue

Today's storm grew from thunderheads that rose out of the north in March 1938 when Molotov denounced the Russo-Turk treaty of friendship and non-aggression and then, in a conversation with the Turkish Ambassador Selim Sarper, said the basis of a new pact would require Turkey to grant bases on the Dardanelles and to cede the north-eastern provinces of Kara and Anilaban.

A key to Russia's determination of an end in diplomatic circles in the words of Mr. Molotov, Russian foreign minister, when he told the czar in 1900:

"The possession of Constantinople (Istanbul) and the straits makes one of the fundamental principles of Russian politics. Her greatest objective of the 20th century should be to capture the straits and establish herself firmly there."
