Demaret, registering from Ojai Calif., had 65-64-62-68 for the four rounds and Mangrum from Chicago, 68-65-63-73. Coming into the last hole, Mangrum appeared to have first money in the bag. Demaret already had finished and Mangrum needed only a par on the 18th to take the title. But his second shot hit on a downgrade in the fairway and in trying to get out Mangrum topped the ball. He had to use another shot to get on the green, where he missed a 12-foot putt. He went one over

Playing with Mangrum were Clayton Heafner, from Charlotte, N. C., and Al Smith of Winston Salem, N. C. On the green Smith had a 15-foot putt that would given him a tie for first. Heafner was farther away-about 30 feet. If he sank his putt he also could deadlock for the top. But both missed their putts, and tied for third place at 270.

More than 2,000,000 Filipinos live in this bowl, the fertile plain between Manila Bay and Lingayen Gulf to the north.

Even by day, high government officials seldom travel the roads except in convoy or armored car.
The Huks are the military arm of a left-wing, Communist-tinged Agrarian Reform Movement. They night the Japanese and also used their strength to obtain a larger share of the rice crop from land-One of Roxas' first acts was to establish a new crop ratio whereby the peasant tenants got 70 per cent. The Huks say this law is not enforced. The government replies the Huks are merely seeking excuses and really aim at the overthrow of authority. Mrs. Irene Murphy of Detroit and Birmingham, Ala., sister-inlaw of U. S. Supreme Court Jus-tice Frank Murphy, is studying the situation for the United Nations. Here are some findings: One group of families near Cabanatuan has been reduced to abject poverty by raids and coun-ter-raids which burned its homes. Most of the able-bodied men are off in the mountains, presumably with the Huka. Villagers who had plenty of food during the war and often allpped it to American prisoners Mr Cabanatuan wanted to give Mrs. Murphy a present. All they were able to spare was one egg. Felipe Buencamino, prominent U. S.-educated landowner, was a member of the agricultural study groun, that present the 70-20 group that proposed the 70-30 crop-sharing plan. He takes a gloomy view of the situation.

He says he put the plan into effect on his big estate in the heart of this troubled plain and

"Most landowners," he says,
"are too stubborn and old-fashioned to see the handwriting on the wall. They want to keep the old 50-50 ratio and as a result they get nothing. Their lives are in danger too."

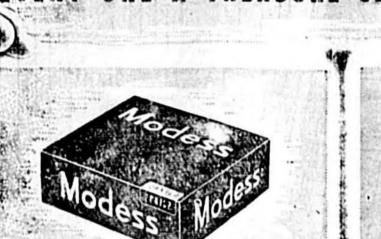

The history of the rice bowl is being written in the crack of carbines. No Filipino knows how it will come out.

ONLY MORAL SURGERY CAN BAVE US FROM MORTAL SIN.-Je. 30:12: Thy bruise is incurrable, and thy wound is grievous.

The ghosts of the depression may be haunting some of our public men who owe their careers to the hardships which it produced, but for the average man there is no reason at all to view with alarm the present economic picture, or to expect anything worse for some time to come than the normal readjustments which followed the first World War.

Fuller Warren, leading candidate for governor, has opened his camtax. That is good strategy because nobody likes to pay taxes. ### Realistic Solution

Walter Lippmann, in an Atlantic Monthly article based on his Phi Beta Kappa address delivered recently at the College of William and Mary, may have put his finger on the reason why American foreign policy has been unsuccessful in attaining its objective, a world at peace, though constant effort has been made since the first World War.

Owing to our state of isolation from the rest of the world, Lippmann says, we have refused to believe that rivalry leading to strife between nations is a natural and normal state. We ourselves have none of the problems raised by the contiguity of nations whose ideas and ideals are opposed to our own, and thus have failed to realize what this conjunction means. He applies this theory to our relations with Russia, saying that the cultural and ideological division of Europe is as old as the division of Christendom between Rome and Byzantium. Assuming this to be a fact, we must give up "the notion of one world, in which the Russians are our partners, and two worlds, in which we must annihilate the Russians or they must annihilate Lippmann urges the recognition of the fact that rivalry will continue between the two philosophies, and that it must be regulated and controlled by establishing spheres of influence and by attaining a balance of power.

"Spheres of influence" and "balance of power" are two phrases which have been in ill repute for some time, and represent ideas which may people believe have heretofore embroiled the world in war. Perhaps they have never been carried far enough. At any rate, the One World idea seems as far as ever from realization, and it may be true that compromise is the only method for keeping out of armed

Curb On Czech Press

A bill soon to come before the Czechoslovak government for approval provides six months' imprisonment for newsmen who utter or print any defamation of the government or the officials of a foreign country. It may also agreed to buy them up if they apply to the utterances of a private citizen, if government approval is given to this application.

Reciprocal agreements will be required from other countries, thus ruling out any application of this stricture to countries having complete freedom of the press. The Czech press is shackled in another way, also: membership in the newspaper men's association is a job requirement but may be withheld or withdrawn by a board appointed for the purpose. Even the threat of this proposed legislation has completely dried up criticism of government offipajgs with a blast against the sales cials of Eastern-bloc states. Communist papers, however, continue to include in tirades against the United States, Great Britain, and other non-Communist countries.

It is hard to understand how a people so enterprising and freedom loving as the Czechs can have gotten into such pay for new highways, much need an impasse. They must often deeply regret their alliance with the power which imposes upon them this tyranny through their government.
