Yunnanese Are Defeated

CANTON, June 13.—Attacking Keatou and Cantonese, forces under Evik officers, after a fierce attack on the Yunnanese today, forced them to surrender Canton and imposed extreme cruelties on soldiers and the civilian population as well.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—Both from Hankow, the great river city of China where British volunteers Thursday fired on a mob of strikers who were threatening the concession, and Canton, the southern river city where Yunnanese troops have been engaged in a long range battle for nearly a fortnight, refugees, Chinese and foreign, are leaving for the ports where they can obtain protection under the guns of foreign warships. Missionaries, too, have been ordered from Yunnanese provinces, in which Hankow is situated, the presumption being that anti-foreign agitation is being felt in the interior.

The foreigners of Canton, who have their concessions on Shamen Island, have not yet been disturbed by the fighting. Dispatches say, but steamers, loaded with refugees from Hong Kong have to run the danger of passing through the cross river fire of the Kwang-Tanites on Honan Island and the Yunnanese, who are in possession of Canton proper.

In Shanghai a result of the disturbances at Hankow, there has been a recrudescence of strikes in the cotton mills and some anti-Japanese disturbances in the foreign settlement. River and coastal shipping virtually is tied up by the strikes of seamen and engine room crews.

The diplomatic corps at Peking has suggested to the Chinese authorities that a discussion of settling the trouble at Shanghai and has instructed its representatives there to continue with the foreign consuls and Chinese authorities the best remedy for the present state of affairs.

The trouble at Hankow, where the British have erected barricades around the concession, was one of the most serious affairs that has occurred since the disturbances began in Shanghai on May 30.

HANKOW, June 13.—Late Friday the situation in Hankow remained quiet, largely owing to the efforts of Gen. Hsia Yao-Nan, military governor of the province of Hupeh, who today issued a proclamation in which he threatened to execute any Chinese who disturbed the foreign concession. There was no repetition today of the rioting of Thursday in which a number of Chinese were killed or wounded while making an attack upon the British volunteer army.

It is estimated that 50,000 Chinese soldiers were stationed around the concession last night.

Secretary's Formal Objection Comes Following Conference With The President

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 13.—Prompt return to pre-war tax rates with a blanket normal of two per cent and a maximum surtax of 13 per cent was urged Friday night by Senator Oscar Underwood of Alabama, in an address before the state meeting of Alabama tax clubs.

This surtax is approximately one half of that proposed in the Mellon plan, and one of the maximum in the present law, which was written by a coalition of democrats and republican insurgents.

Senator Underwood also proposed a reduction of estate taxes from the present maximum of 40 per cent to the pre-war rate of 10 per cent.

"The Alabama senator, who had a prominent part in the writing of the first income law, said he believed the pre-war rates would furnish the needed revenue, but added that if they did not, he would give the president blanket authority to abolish government bureaus, and there are many of them that are more conveniences and not governmental necessities, until our expenditures do not exceed our revenues."

"In other words," he declared, "it would slow down the government before it slows down the business of the nation."

Condemning the present rates on accumulated wealth as "a conspiracy to rob the citizen," he asserted that the power to tax "is just as potent a factor to use in the destruction of private property as the red flag or the lighted torch."

"Pointing out that as early as 1919 the treasury urged a reduction of the war-time surtax rates and that another democratic secretary of the treasury renewed that recommendation a year or more later, Senator Underwood said that the present rates make more than a small reduction."

"Not grasping the fundamental principles that taxes are paid out of the accumulation of the poor as well as the rich and can only be amassed by robbery," he said, "the present rates are a conspiracy to rob the citizen, and it reduced its policy of confiscation."

"Here is where we have arrived. We have levied our taxes so high that we have chased much of the capital of the country into hiding and have reduced our revenue thereby. We are undoubtedly slowing down the productive enterprise of the country. We are encouraging violations of the law and making men regard their government as an evil to be avoided."

"We have a serious danger to the wage earners of America of America ahead of us if your government continues to pursue a course that jeopardizes development of our business growth, and that absorbs the best part of the productive energy of the nation."

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

BOAST NOT thyself of tomorrow; for thou knowest not what a day may bring forth.—Proverbs 27:1.

THE FLAG

Here comes the flag, Hail it! Who dares to drag Or trail it? Give it hurrahs— Three for the stars Uncover your head to it! The soldiers who tread to it! Shout at the sight of it! The justice and right of it! The unadorned white of it! The blue and the red of it! And tyranny's dread of it.

Here comes the flag, Cheer it! Valley and crag Shall hear it, Fathers shall bless it, Children care it. All shall maintain it, No one shall stain it. Cheers for the sailor who Fought on the wave for it, Cheers for the soldier that Always wore brave for it, Tears for the men that went down to the grave for it. Here comes to flag. —Arthur Unknown

Do This For Sanford And Yourself

Plant a fruit tree. Let us have more old-fashioned back yards, with their kitchen gardens, their group of fruit trees, their berry bushes. Let us have a "Home Improvement Association" in Sanford with every home-lover an active member—a "Home Improvement Association" it could be without an officer nor a roll call, its meeting place the doorway of every Sanford home.

The Herald believes that with organizations so planned there will be a chance for friendly rivalry in various sections that can do more in a general improvement than can any amount of exhorting and individual effort. But while Sanford is getting ready to have an association of home-lovers, will not a number of those good citizens set an example by doing over their back yards? Will they not put in some well-grown fruit trees, and dig them a garden plot?

Sanford is one of the Florida towns at the beginning of the so-called "boom" days. The "boom" is to last through the years, because it is merely the outcome of a nation-wide "discovery" of Florida. It is probable that a million new people will come to Florida to make their homes within the next ten years. And of these new-comers many will come to Sanford. That means that Sanford must grow into a city. Numbers of its down-town residences will give place to business houses. Entire sections of the present residential parts of the town will become industrial centers.

But that does not mean there should be no planting of fruit trees, no planting of kitchen gardens, no planting of berry bushes. Sanford will do well to appeal to strangers as a city of happy, comfortable, tasteful homes.

Let us hear of some of this planting, some of this worthy "home improvement" work.

And The Trunk-Packing Goes Merrily On.

After a trip to Sanford about three weeks ago, a man who lived in Atlanta, decided this was a good place to live. So he made his plans to move. The last thing he did before leaving his old home town was to go to the post office and give instructions for the forwarding of his mail to Sanford. He was informed that already fifteen hundred Atlantans had preceded him to Florida.

What is true of Atlanta is true of all the country. Names are steadily being added to the list of newcomers to Florida. Postal clerks are busily engaged forwarding mail to various points in this state while the rest of the country stands back and wonders what it is all about.

More tourists are moving south into Florida from the states north and west of the Ohio River at the present time than ever during the winter season, is the report coming from the headquarters of the Dixie Highway Association at Chattanooga. Railroad men say that travel to Florida is three times as heavy as this time last year, and it is a frequent occurrence that extra equipment is needed to take care of overflow business. Automobile clubs report people traveling southward as much now as last fall.

Out of curiosity many skeptical persons come for the purpose of looking things over. A few days, however, is all that is required. One trip of inspection convinces them all of the desirability of living in Florida, and nearly all of them hurry back home by the fastest trains they can get for the purpose of selling out their holdings as quickly as possible so that they can move south and become citizens of this state, where prosperity and opportunity await.

And why shouldn't they?

Where in the whole country can the ambitious man find better chances for success and prosperity? Where is there a more wonderful climate? Where is there a finer class of citizenry? Where is life more delightful?

And as the days pass, in forty-seven states the trunk-packing continues and railroads are being taxed to capacity with Florida homeseekers, while all the time the postal clerks keep changing addresses to Florida.

There is plenty of room in this newly discovered state and all those far-sighted persons who come here to live will contribute their share to its growth and development and will help make it even a better place in which to live.

The problem we would like to have solved is this—How long will it take at the present rate of travel for the entire population of the United States to move to Florida.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

When Sam Blythe was a Washington correspondent he was invited to lunch at a little town. The old gentleman in a little town. The old gentleman in a little town.

Having sampled the cuisine of the local hotel at breakfast, Blythe promptly consented. The old gentleman excused himself in order to inform his wife that there would be a guest for the midday meal and also to get some important papers bearing on the subject under discussion which were stowed away, he said, in a room upstairs. Going out, he left the parlor door ajar.

Through the opening Blythe heard a voice, evidently one belonging to the mistress of the household.

"Samantha," the lady said, raising her tone in order that she might be heard by the cook in the kitchen, "my husband has invited a gentleman to stay for dinner. Take those two large potatoes back down cellar and bring up three small ones."

INHERITANCE TAX REPEAL

NEW YORK HERALD-TRIBUNE

The New York Chamber of Commerce reflects a powerful body of opinion, political as well as economic, when it urges the new Congress to repeal the Federal inheritance tax law. The United States has taxed inheritances, as a rule, only in time of emergency. The wise practice of releasing this source of revenue to the states after the passing of the emergency was not, however, observed by the late Congress.

President Coolidge has pleaded for a return to this old theory of tax equity between the nation and the states. The idea makes an appeal to political fairness, and every state depending to any considerable extent on revenue from inheritances ought to be favorably impressed by it. On board economic grounds, too, the use of too great a part of a community's accumulated capital to pay government operating expenses is highly objectionable.

The fight to secure repeal of the Federal tax has been hindered in Washington by the failure of the states to cooperate intelligently. While President Coolidge criticized in his recent Memorial Day address. The states do not treat one another equitably in their inheritance tax collections. In the Erick case, decided this week by the United States Supreme Court, it was held that Pennsylvania had no right to levy on the part of the tangible personal property outside the state or to refuse allowances for taxes paid in Kansas, West Virginia and other states for the transfer of stocks in corporations under their jurisdiction. Cumulative state inheritance taxes were voided.

This discord over taxing claims has been reinforced by the fear that if the United States drops the inheritance tax states like Florida, which renounce income and inheritance taxes, may obtain an advantage injurious to their neighbors. Such a situation, it is claimed in Congress, could be met only by retaining the Federal tax and allowing a concession to the Federal taxpayer of any inheritance taxes paid to a state.

Most of the states undoubtedly want to maintain inheritance taxes. It would be wise for them, however, to combine to get the Federal government out of the inheritance field and at the same time to harmonize and standardize their inheritance tax laws.

As Brisbane Sees It

Banks Are Good. Says G. B. S. to Bryan. For War—For Health. A "Society Church." By ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1925)

A GOOD BUSINESS is banking on a stock ownership basis. It is not so good for clerks. The First National Bank of New York, with George F. Baker, on his road to ninety, at the head of it, pass a three months' dividend of 25 per cent—100 per cent a year. The price of the stock jumped $140 in a day.

HOWEVER, IF you don't happen to own bank stocks, don't be entirely discouraged. One good idea born in your brain, independent of any board of directors, may make you more money than the value of any bank stock in the world. Everything Henry Ford has based on one idea. And he could buy the First National Bank as easily as you buy a Ford car.

"LET US cultivate our garden," said old Voltaire. "Let us cultivate our little bank," says the modern financier. A bank pays better than a garden. The First National was established in 1863 with $200,000 of stock capital. The dividend now declared, for three months only, amounts to $2,500,000, at the rate of $10,000,000 a year. Quite a good return on $200,000.

The First National breaks all bank records up to date. But watch the National City Bank, and especially some of the combination banks with many branches, now run on modern "chain store" lines! They will surprise you.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW says that W. J. Bryan calls "fundamentalism" is really infantilism. That is a good word.

Shaw in a discussion with Hilaire Belloc, author of Mr. Bryan's "concrete" style of mind, found an excellent comparison. Those that deny evolution, says he, think that the universe and life are like the oceans—always restless, doing nothing but drowning people, "killing, killing, killing."

"People who have no conception of evolution," says Shaw, "have no future, no hope."

THAT WILL annoy Mr. Bryan, firmly convinced that when he leaves Miami his next stop will be heaven, with a place in the front row, and a good, delightful view of Professor Scopes of Tennessee, George Bernard Shaw, Darwin and Voltaire, all burning up together, in a place where the "worm dieth not."

AUSTIN CHAMBERLAIN, representing the British Empire, complains of the amount of money the League of Nations spends on its health department. England has to pay her share.

LAST YEAR the League spent on health $175,000 and this year treats to spend $250,000.

That amount during the war would have been fired off on any front in wasted metal and a few destroyed lives in half a minute.

Our civilization is shown in the fact that nations united were willing to spend two hundred thousand million dollars on war and object to spend $250,000 on health.

DR. FOSDICK, a "modernist," who goes so far as to suggest that Jonah might have been smothered or even digested in the whale's belly, is chosen pastor of the Rockefeller church in New York.

That agitates Dr. Stratton, "fundamentalist," who knows that the whale did swallow Jonah. Dr. Stratton calls Dr. Fosdick the clergyman of the "Society Church," stirring up a quarrel shocking to laymen.

"Society," you know, is made up of Standard Oil Company of New York. How is it that a fundamentalist, angry, when you deny the whale-Jonah part of the Bible, allows himself to disregard completely the part about turning the other cheek?

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE returned from the Northwest after a most enthusiastic reception, is happy, having seen in one day more American people than any President ever saw before in one day. He is convinced "that the Northwest is patriotic." The Northwest returns the compliment, and believes that "Coolidge is patriotic," so everybody is happy.

IT IS JUST as well to admit that all Americans are patriotic, making certain allowances for differences in patriotism.

Some gentlemen believe that patriotism consists in seeing to it that big corporations are enabled to pay big dividends.

Others think patriotism consists in tearing down the big corporations and reducing them to grief. Both are wrong.

THE RIFFIANS are fighting against the French and Spanish combined, with desperate courage, in a fight that originally was against the Spaniards. Abdel-Krim, the Rifian leader, is an intelligent man, and must possess real generalship to have dealt as he did with the Spaniards, as brave fighters as any in the world.

At present the French and Spanish air forces are uniting, and that, attacking even the courage of the Arabs, defending their rights in their own land, will find it hard to meet. Courage and patriotism cannot conquer science, fighting from the air.

THE JAPANESE navy asks for $200,000,000 more to build forty new fighting ships. That ought to interest our sweet gentle hearted statesmen that agreed to junk the brand new ships we had just built or were building.

THE PENALTY FOR BEING A TRICKY DOG

JUST IN PASSING

By R. J. HOLLY

One good law passed by the Florida legislature was the one that allows us to drive forty miles an hour in the country and fifteen to twenty in the towns. This will really give me a chance to get somewhere without monkeying with a fool meter cop all the way to Tampa and back again. And now if every county will take off the speed cops and make them traffic cops on the country roads we will be able to enjoy Florida roads as we should.

There is no rhyme or reason in having speed cops. Many drivers going at the rate of fifty miles an hour are safer than other drivers going at the rate of ten. If the road is broad and good there is absolutely no danger in good sober drivers going at fifty. We do not need any speed cops in Florida. We do need county cops to preserve order on the roads and arrest drunken drivers and others who are a danger to the public. But the speed is not especially dangerous when a sober man is driving.

Ever this column of stuff and nonsense comes out again I will be in Cleveland, Ohio where you can fry eggs on the sidewalks and wear your stocking rolled. If the weather is as warm as the despatches claim I will be home the next day after arriving and meet myself coming back to Florida where I know it is the coolest and best climate in the world.

I expect to deliver a lecture on Sanford in every hotel and every passenger coach that I may grace while away as everyone wants to know something about Florida. It always distresses me to death to do any talking but I will endeavor to say a few words wherever it is possible setting forth the fact that while Jacksonville and Tampa are averse to being the largest cities in the world Sanford will be in a few years save them the trouble of any argument.

It is impossible to get a shant on your city to keep up with what is going on here unless you are an active member of the Chamber of Commerce. There is nothing quite as pathetic as a man who does not belong to any civic body here trying to explain to a stranger just what Sanford has and does. It can't be done and if you want to be a real citizen join the Chamber of Commerce now.

Sarasota will sell the municipal plant and take current in the future from the Florida Light & Power Co., just another progressive step in that progressive action. Any city that can save the cost of a plant and get a good rate from a high power plant will be economizing in the right way.

Late despatches say that the rum runners on the Florida coasts will now be watched by government boats on the same plans as Rum Row in New York. This will bring up the prices on booze until only rich folks can buy the newest kinds of poison.

It seems to be the opinion of the majority of the merchants that having a half holiday on Saturday instead of Thursday would disrupt business, throw all traditions to the winds and otherwise knock out the old order of things in such a manner that grandfather would turn over in his grave. Thus do we bow to the rule of tradition.

There has never been a time in this country when a man or set of men could make the laws to conform to the wishes of everyone or to enforce the laws in the same manner. There is no set of men big enough to attempt to enforce the law unless they are duly constituted officials of the law and duly sworn to uphold the same. Attempting to enforce the law by mob rule only upsets all attempt and in the end makes for anarchy and ruin.

For instance in a mob of men attempting to chastise another man for some alleged crime there will be men just as guilty as the victim and many times more guilty and yet they want to visit punishment upon a helpless man because they have the numbers and the power. Such power cannot be delegated to any irresponsible person or persons and the law abiding people of any community will eventually rise up and demand that such proceedings be stopped. Personal spite and the desire to "get even" are allowed to detract reason to the extent that all sense of justice and fair play is blunted.

There may be extenuating circumstances where the law cannot or will not act in certain cases. Such incidents have been known to occur. But the trouble is that constant application of lawless principles eventually override the desire to be fair and every little act comes under the head of crime with the result that no man is safe from his enemies since they are laying in wait to pounce upon him for real or fancied wrongs. Let him that is without sin cast the first stone and if there are any men living today who have never sinned they might constitute themselves a bar of so-called justice and attempt to accomplish the impossible—which they cannot do and never will do in this world. And that's that.

Arthur Brisbane says that while the north is suffering from the heat wave people are going to Florida to cool off. Down here in south Florida it has been around 88 in the sun. Arthur also adds that the weather is always cool in California winter and summer. He could have said the same thing about Florida and not half tried. And speaking about California and Florida just read the editorial in the June Florida Tracker entitled "every Knuck is a Boost" in answer to Frank Condon's article on Florida in Liberty Magazine.

The Light of the World

"I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." John 8:12.

The word light is used more than fifty times in the Bible, sometimes in a figurative sense, but many times literally. In the text it is used both figuratively and literally. As the sun is the source of all light in the physical world, so all the spiritual light radiates from Christ. It is also a fact that he is the only true Sun of Righteousness. Everything that is pure and holy emanates from Him.

The first sentence that startled the silence of eternity was when God said "Let there be light, and there was light." To this God has tuned all his words and works. When He made man He breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and he became a living soul. And the man of wisdom declared that the spirit of man was "the candle of the Lord." When God gave birth to the nation of Israel, that night there was darkness in all the homes of the Egyptians, but a light in the dwelling places of the people of God. When he led them from their Egyptian bondage it was by the cloud of light, the symbol of divine presence. And when in the providence of God Christ his son came into the world, it was as a light to lighten the Gentiles and the glory of His people Israel. When the Master was about to withdraw his personal presence from his disciples he assured them that they were the light of the world. "In him was life; and the life was the light of men." They were to absorb and reflect the light received from him.

The Christian and the church do not originate the light that they give to the world. They are illuminated by the light of the Holy Spirit by means of the word of God. It is not in the province of the church to invent the light that it gives to the world, but to take that which is of God and bear it to the dark places of the earth.

The purpose for which light was given was to make a division between the day and the night, "for signs and seasons, and for days and years." There ever has been, and ever must be, a distinction between those who are Christians and those who are not.

The most essential and beneficent agent of all nature is light. The sun is not only the source of our light, but our life as well. Darkness produces death. Light brings the blessings of life. The plant in the window reaches towards the sunlight as does the hungry and thirsty soul for the living God. It is a scientific fact that sick persons in well lighted and ventilated rooms have an increased chance of getting well over those who are not so fortunately situated. God, through Christ, presents Himself to the world in only those things that are most necessary for our health and happiness, such as bread, water and light.

How dark this world would be if there were no sun, moon or stars. How dimly dark earth would be without the light that it has from the presence and people of God in it. As we face its sorrows, meet its dangers, stand by the graves of those we love, or take ourselves "the leap in the dark," it would be unbearable were it not for the light that comes to us from the life and teaching of Christ in the world, and the light of hope we have because of the life lived by those who believe that

LOVELY SHOWER GIVEN IN HONOR OF MISS LAKE BY THE ST. AGNES GUILD

Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. B. Coleman, Mrs. J. N. Robson and Mrs. Coleman entertained the St. Agnes Guild honoring Miss Sarita Lake, whose marriage will take place next Wednesday.
It is the custom of the guild to give a shower for each member who is married and this proved one of the loveliest parties given. The rooms were beautifully decorated with myriads of golden almanders, daisies and marigolds with fern.
Punch was served on the porch during the afternoon by Mrs. Clyde Derby and Mrs. Chris Matthews. The guest of honor was seated in a daisy throne and crowned with a wreath of daisies. A word contest was held and Mrs. Fred Daiger won the prize of a bottle of perfume.
Mrs. Robson presented Miss Lake a large "band-box" telling her to exchange her crown for its Key contents. When opened the box was found filled with many lovely gifts from each member of the guild.
Each member made a page to go into the "Bride's Book" which was most amusing when put together and read.

TAMPA SMOKERS TURN TABLES AND BEAT LAKELAND

Highlanders Get Seven Hits To Six For Tampa Team But Lose Game By Score 3 to 1; Lakeland Hits Scattered

TAMPA, June 13.—The Tampa Smokers turned the tables on the Lakeland Highlanders Friday afternoon, winning the second game of the series by a score of 3 to 1. Cobb pitched a heavy game for Tampa, holding Lakeland to seven scattered hits and let down in only one inning, when the losers put over their only tally. He gave up half his hits then and would not have been scored on, but for slow work by the Tampa third baseman prevented a double play that would have retired the Highlanders scoreless.
