SPORT CHATS

Happy Day!
—And when we say happy day, we're speaking of our much-read-but-little-thought-about Seminole High School Celery Feds. Those forty odd youngsters, who are bearing the beat to gain shape for the coming grid season when they hope to bring honor and glory to their Alma Mater, have all appearances of being able to gain that accomplishment.

With a line which will average 170 or better, a backfield which will average 180, and a squad of second-stringers who can be depended on to bear the brunt of anybody's attack, the heretofore lovely Celery Feds are well on their way to great things in state high school football circles, where, for the past few years, they have been relegated to as easy picking, even by supposedly sister city friends.

So, fix for me, if you please, the craniest, yet, best pieces of pitching dynamite in the major circuits.

That the ideal eleven will live up to pre-season drug-store prognostications is practically a certainty, for nothing but a physical catastrophe could keep them from having at least a 500 season, so when the bets are placed on the high-stepping, lay-outs Celery Feds, McLucas trained. His Or Carl?

A sure-fire baseball argument—one that never fails to provoke a red hot debate—is the discussion of the relative merits of Dizzy Dean and Carl Hubbell. Each has his own staunch supporters who are ever ready to quote facts and figures to prove their contentions.

There is no questioning the fact that Dean and Hubbell are the two outstanding moundmen in the National League, and you are great choice and come near to being right. So, why not name Dean the king-pin of the right-handed twos, and Hubbell the ace of the south-paw? There should be honors enough for both.

Highway Between Daytona, DeLand Nearing Reality

Volusia Commission Seeks Abstracts Of Involved Lands

Seminole County today looked on with intense interest as Volusia County Commissioners took preliminary steps to construct a new road between Daytona Beach and DeLand.

The highway between the two cities, notably one of the worst in the state, is used very frequently by a majority of Sanfordites and other Seminole County residents in week-ending and vacationing in Daytona Beach.

A resolution adopted by the Volusia commissioners authorized the board's attorney to have title abstracts made of property along a proposed right-of-way.

The resolution set forth that the State Road Department had agreed to reconstruct and improve the 21-mile link.

When Gov. Dave Sholtz dedicated Shultz Field in Daytona Beach several months ago, he spoke a solemn promise that a new highway would be built between the beach and DeLand before he left the governor's chair in Tallahassee.

A proposed right-of-way has long been surveyed, it was understood.

Several dangerous curves in the swampy lands between the two cities would be eliminated, according to Mr. Bowen.

It was pointed out that where possible, portions of the now-existing road will be used to accommodate one lane of traffic.

Townsendites Plan Labor Day Picnic At Jacob's Grounds

The entire county will be guests of Townsend clubs from Oviedo, Geneva and Chuluota on Labor Day at Jacob's picnic grounds in Chuluota, it was announced today by club officials.

An old-fashioned party and picnic are among the features of the day planned by the pensioners.

"Little Joe" Hendricks, Democratic nominee for Congress from the Fifth Congressional District of the state, is scheduled to be one of the principal speakers for the occasion.

Special entertainment is on the bill between 10 A. M. and 12 o'clock noon.

Farmers Given Chance To Check Soil Work Sheet

Crews To Begin Tuesday Measuring All Farms In County

County Farm Agent C. R. Dawson today offered Seminole County farmers an opportunity to check the work sheets filed in compliance with the federal soil conservation program.

He said any grower in doubt as to the accuracy of the information on the sheet should call at the farm office and verify the figures and other data for which the form called.

The County Conservation Committee Wednesday concluded the operation of establishing base acreages of Seminole farms, and upon these base farmers and growers will be paid federal allotments.

Beginning Tuesday several checking crews will be placed in the field to measure all farms whose owners entered work sheets in the farm office.

Referring again to checking work sheets, Mr. Dawson said it is difficult to effect any changes once the documents left the local office and are sent to Gainesville where the State Conservation Committee will act on them.

Thousands of dollars will be brought into this county under the conservation program, according to the farm agent. Payments are made to growers who divert crops and who plant cover crops.

The entire plan is devised by the government to conserve and replace certain minerals in the soil.

It is impractical to estimate just when federal allotments will be made to those who are participating in the conservation movement.

1,000 Students To Attend Schools In Four Rural Areas

Approximately 1,000 students will attend public schools this year in Oviedo, Chuluota, Lyman and Lake Mary, according to indications yesterday when registration of pupils was taken.

Based on figures of last year, about 5,000 children will attend educational institutions throughout the county, according to T. W. Lawton, county superintendent.

The schools where Thursday registrations were in effect will be opened next Monday for the nine-months' term. Others will not begin the year until Sept. 11.

Volusia Authorities Hold Vehicle Thief

A youth known only by the name of Welch was held in the Volusia county jail today and charged with the theft of an automobile belonging to Ed Higgins of Sanford.

The vehicle, which was recovered Tuesday night in Kissimmee, was stolen from Daytona Beach.

A second youth riding in the car at the time it was captured was later found to be a hitchhiker and consequently released when it was determined he was not involved in the theft.

'Corpse' Returns

MADRID, Sept. 4.-(AP)—A man who faced death before a rebel firing squad returned today to the living.

Claudio Casado, refugee from a small town in the province of Palencia, said he fled there Aug. 15 and reached Santander after falling before a firing squad.

Fascists, he said, abandoned his body among corpses believing him dead.

With severe wounds on the face and shoulder and with little food, Casado said he crossed the mountains to Santander where he was given medical aid.

"I was sentenced to death because I picked up a Socialist newspaper which government fliers dropped in town," he said.

Landon Is Leading In Literary Digest Straw Vote Event

Seminole County today had the first opportunity to study reasonably accurate trends of the presidential election year through the Literary Digest straw vote, a feature undertaken once every four years by the magazine.

First returns in the Digest's nationwide poll give Gov. Alf Landon, the Republican candidate, a two to one lead over President Roosevelt, the Democratic standard bearer.

While the returns were meagre, among them were some votes from Maine, the state responsible for the saying: "As Maine goes, so goes the nation."

In New York, the President's home state, he was trailing 5,931 to 313. Pennsylvania gave Gov. Landon 5,614 to President Roosevelt's 2,778. In New Jersey, the Kansas governor led by 2,660 to 1,621.

The Florida vote had not been tabulated, and metropolitan centers still have to express their opinions.

Traffic Signs For Park Scheduled To Arrive Here Soon

A consignment of traffic warning signs, authorized by the City Commission last week, should arrive here within one week and be posted on Park Avenue, Police Chief Roy Williams said today.

The signs were advised as a means of preventing speeding on the Avenue since the thoroughfare has been widened.

Other preventive measures, including the stationing of a motorcycle officer on Park Avenue, are under consideration of the police department.

Maternal Fatality Rate Is Low Here

Only one mother died in Seminole County during the first six months of 1936, according to statistics released today by Dr. Stewart G. Thompson, director of the bureau of vital statistics of the State Board of Health.

Duval county led in number of maternal deaths with 14. There were 32 counties in which no similar fatalities occurred, Dr. Thompson's report showed.

Divorces In Florida Show 58 Percent Increase Over 1932

Florida divorces in 1935 had increased 58 percent over the number of legal separations recorded in this state for 1932, according to statistics released today by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The peninsula state was exceeded by only one, that of Alabama, in 18 states that were included in the survey.

More liberal divorce legislation and increasingly good times were listed as the principal causes of the action.

New Government Is Formed In Madrid, Socialist Caballero In Control

Pius Pleas For 'Prayer Crusade'

Revolt Leaders Push Toward Seacoast At San Sebastian

(By The Associated Press) Spanish Fascism today hoisted its flag over the flaming city of Irun just across the border from France as Premier Jose Giral Ferreira resigned and a new government was announced for war torn Spain.

Poira resigned in the capital, Madrid, and the Socialist extremist leader, Francisco Largo Caballero, was named prime minister and minister of war.

With almost the whole of Irun burning, with streets littered with bodies of Socialist defenders, with grim conflicting reports of fate of as many as 500 hostages who had been held by fleeing government militia, Roberts advanced victoriously through the fallen town.

One tiny band of desperate Government soldiers seized the international bridgehead at Irun in a wild dash and held it with machine guns, grenades and shotguns.

New international facets of the Spanish civil war, now ending its seventh week, included a plea by Pope Pius for a "truce of prayer to cure the world's spiritual ills, and a French Communist move to form a united front with Socialists against France's policy of neutrality.

Communists want Socialist France to aid Socialist Madrid because, they contend, other European countries are arming the rebels.

Irun, almost another Verdun, fell after nearly seven full weeks of siege, and the Fascist captives toward the Biscay Bay resort of San Sebastian, eight miles to the west.

Monks and other hostages, including a bishop, were reported to have been executed by the retreating government defenders of Irun. The captured city was left in flames and blood by the fleeing defenders.

Transaction Made In 1928 Recorded In Seminole Court

Assignments of interest in the Valdez Hotel involving the Chase National Bank of New York and several local persons had been recorded in the Court House today.

Undivided interest amounting to 18.75 percent was assigned from the Chase National Bank to A. E. Crocker. Another assignment for the same amount was made from Mr. Crocker to John Meisch, Joe Cameron and L. A. Bromley.

A third assignment for 9.375 percent interest was recorded from W. H. Tunnelliffe, as receiver of the Seminole County Bank, to the New York financial institution.

Mr. Bromley explained that all transactions had occurred in 1928, but that because of the death of a man involved which resulted in the inaccessibility of certain papers, the recording was delayed.

New Florida Road Maps Available At Chamber Building

Sanford's giant 4,998-foot features in the 1936 edition of the official Florida State Road Department's road map, according to copies received by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

A photograph of the tree is among five others which depict points of interest in Florida.

Cover design of the map is printed to represent a raised surface showing a streamlined automobile speeding along an ocean shoreline with palm trees in the background. A sailing vessel is on the sea.

Ralph Bagwell, secretary of the Chamber, said a supply of maps is on hand, and Sanfordites who wish one may call at the Chamber office.

 speaks with his own voice and that his own voice is the voice of a demagogue, speaking untruths

Those who aspire to write have a good example to follow in the person of Thomas Horton Kennerly, Jr., aged ten. He says he plans to be an author and can point to a good start. His first book, "Baldy," was published when he was nine. The book of nine chapters and 37 pages gave the

There seems to be a trace of lunacy in the government's announcement that it planned to keep a large cash balance on hand to meet any emergencies arising out of the crisis abroad. By taxing corporation reserves, which are to business exactly what the treasury, the government is denying to business men the privilege which it deems right and necessary for itself.

Newspaper reporters in Spain are witnessing sights which would do credit to the bloody Spanish revolution. In a loyalist village taken over by rebel troops two priests were found nailed to crosses. One was in an upright position, the other hung head downward. Along the highway in the suburbs, bodies of women and children were being flung on by soldiers.

Death In The Afternoon

Those who saw the motion picture "The Road To Glory" at The Ritz Theater and witnessed the scene where a group of French soldiers spend agonizing moments in a dugout waiting for the sound of pick to cease, a signal which would mean that they would soon be blown to bits, can catch, perhaps, some of the intense drama of a similar situation in Toledo, Spain, where a like fate awaits the occupants of a huge fortress.

Government defenders of the city are preparing to dynamite the ancient Alamo within the 1700 besieged walls—men, women, and children—within its walls surround. For six weeks the occupants of the fortress, which was originally a castle converted into a palace by Ferdinand the Saint and Alfonso the Learned, have held out against military opposition and against the warnings issued from loud speakers that the foundations were being mined.

It is estimated that twenty tons of dynamite will be required to reduce the magnificent structure into a pile of debris. "Lamentable" is the word used by the engineers supervising its destruction. They regret that the historic buildings must be sacrificed but there is no room for sentiment when the rebel enemies sternly declare they would rather die than surrender.

And it is lamentable that many of the beautiful buildings of Spain, architectural masterpieces, many of them housing the finest art treasures of the world should be sacrificed in order that a certain social and political crowd might prevail over another. But how much more lamentable it is that so many innocent people, women and children, who know not and care not, should be made to experience horrible suffering and death because of political theorists, selfish demagogues and would-be tyrants.

Is it too much to hope that the time may come when the Hilliers, the Mussolinis, the Stalins, and all fomenters of strife and discord, and prophets of hate and violence may be placed in one big arena where they can fight and kill to their hearts' content and leave the rest of the world to live in peace?

The Billboard Evil

Defacement of our highways by unsightly billboards and other advertising material is a problem which has been combatted with negligible success, but it is a problem, nevertheless, which needs to be kept before the public if our thoroughfares are to retain any of their scenic charm. How the situation has been handled in England is pointed out by the Fort Myers News-Press which says:

"The British legislation of 1935 to control erection of billboards and other structures along country highways lays down a new principle of law that should be interesting to us who love our American countryside.

"The English go on the principle that the access to the king's highway can be controlled by the state because it owns the highway. Through granting or denying the right of access, therefore, the government to a large extent can keep a hand upon the way in which land adjoining the highway is used and prevent what the English call 'ribbon development.' The power is not used arbitrarily. Through conference with land owners difficult cases are brought to a fair solution. The new act will go far towards saving the scenic value of England's prized country ways.

"American states have sought some means of preserving our own scenic highway values but in Florida the foes of the billboards have not been successful in either controlling or routing them. A few years ago a number of national groups got together to attempt to draw a plan which would enable property owners in scenic regions to act co-operatively to keep down highway ugliness. It is as yet, while millions are spent to build highways to take people out to scenic places, we still permit the view from these roads to be ruined by indiscriminately placed advertisements, hot dog stands and cheap stations. The British experiment looks like common sense."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

A. Kanner and his brother, Charles Kanner, left last week for New York to buy their stocks of fall and winter goods.

Mrs. C. L. Goodhue left Sunday for Cincinnati where she will spend several months with relatives and friends.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Colbert, a fine baby girl, James Taylor, manager of the Fernald Hardware Company has returned from a business trip to Philadelphia. Mrs. Taylor accompanied him there but will remain for several weeks longer. Mr. Taylor reports industrial conditions in the north as being in the most prosperous conditions and the factories of all kinds, working day and night. He met many people enroute who are talking of coming to Florida and he sent many of them to Sanford and others to follow during the winter months.

B. F. Whitner, Mrs. Whitner and daughter of Sanford are enjoying a vacation on the beach, guests of Daytona Beach Hotel.—Daytona Journal.

Leon Langsloer, the bustling head porter of the Hotel Carnes, is respondent in a brilliant new green uniform and looks like a brigadier general in a South American army.

The Rev. H. K. Esell and wife, the parents of Prof. Esell and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Yarborough, all of Cross Anchor, S. C., have been the guests of Prof. Esell and wife for several days and are enjoying the country greatly. They will leave for their home some time this week and think that Florida is a great state in the summer as well as the winter.

Miss Mary Waldron has returned from a three months' stay in New England and visited many points of interest in the eastern states. She will resume her position in the law office of George A. DeCotte and her many friends are glad to see her smiling face again.

Mr. and Mrs. Leach, who have been in charge of the Methodist Orphanage at Enterprise for the past two years, have resigned that position and will become residents of this city where they will engage in the hotel business as soon as suitable arrangements can be made. They are experienced hotel people and their advent into the business life of this city will be good news to their many friends.

Tennessee Valley Authority Attempts Difficult Solution

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Contending that constitutional restrictions prevent the federal government from meeting many national and regional problems, Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, urged steps yesterday "to solve these difficulties."

This should be done, he said, by amending or interpreting the Federal Constitution, or by organizing interstate water control districts, or by compact between the states.

The chairman of the New Deal's vast power development in the Tennessee Valley expressed his views in a paper prepared for the forthcoming world conference of power experts here.

THE ROSCOCHET

Washington Daybook
 By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—It can scarcely be questioned that the resettlement administration has set a new style in government photography, of which the controversial picture of the steer skull and dried water hole was a sample.

Dakota editors criticized the resettlement administration for "faking" photographs to make the drought seem more horrible and thus perhaps to further sentiment for resettlement operations.

The editors protested that a photographer had used but one steer skull, moving it about for different pictures. The resettlement administration explained that one picture was taken of the bleached skull in a dried mud hole. Then the skull was moved "about ten feet" and photographed in the foreground of a parched grass plain.

Government photographs on sociological questions in years past have been rare. Rather they have tended largely to demonstrate conditions such as need of forest fire protection, or merely to record progress on government projects, such as dams and fire lookout towers.

The forest service, for example, will supply on request photographs illustrating the effects of good and bad game management, good and bad forest management. Rarely is the next step taken of showing a hungry farm family impoverished by burning of surrounding timber and grazing upon which they had depended.

It was the resettlement administration that took that step. The photograph of the bleached skull was only one of a host of pictures taken. A casual glance through administration files open to newspaper writers seeking illustrative matter will bring out photographs of "fruit tramp" families, those wandering groups who follow the fruit harvest up and down the country, often in dilapidated cars, children barefoot and rarely in school.

Again may be found a picture of a Mexican who, the caption says, gives his age as 45 but looks 70. He has been "burnt out" by arduous picking of peas on the piece-work schedule.

The resettlement administration makes no bones about the fact that the pictures are effective propaganda. But then the forest service never distributed a photograph of a raging fire in the timber without recognizing its value in stirring public sentiment to greater protective efforts.

The difference represents the jump between federal conservation of natural resources and federal activity in social and economic questions which some factions contend should be left to the states. Thus arises the controversy.

Mary Phillips, George M. Cohan's favorite leading lady, is one of the latest stage actresses to succumb to the Hollywood fever.

Credit Rains With Reducing Menace To Cattle Raising

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Determined work of cattle owners and favorable news were credited yesterday by Dr. J. V. Knapp of the State Livestock Sanitary Board with reducing dangerous screw worm infestation in Florida livestock ranges.

"Infestation has lessened in the Tallahassee section and west of here," Dr. Knapp said. "Although it is considerably reduced in the section east and south of Tallahassee it is still noticeable there."

"Return of normal weather conditions, with increased moisture, would be of great benefit to the cattle owners in combating the screw worm."

Dr. Knapp explained the ant is the screw worm's natural enemy. When there is sufficient moisture to bring ants to the ground's surface the ants destroy the baby screw worms, thereby reducing the hatch.

The Farmer Decides
"I am not saying that he did not do wrong," continued Willy Nilly. "Yes, my crow did what he should not do, but you see my friends here have their faults and yet they will help any one in trouble. Would you destroy such creatures? I've known my crow to do the kindest, most thoughtful and unselfish deeds."

Willy Nilly knew he had won. Back home went the little chicken with the farmer who promised to put away his gun for all time. And then Christopher Columbus Crow came down from his nest. He gave Top Nutch his wing to shake. "Top Nutch," he said, "you're a rooster and a gentleman. I can never thank you enough for this. You have saved my life." Willy Nilly patted Top Nutch. "We couldn't get along without you, Top Nutch," he said. "Caw, caw, that's right," said Christopher as he flew back to his nest for he was weary after his narrow escape. But as he doted off he murmured: "What is life without a touch of mischief?"

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—Death in the movies has practically lost its sting. The big ones and the little ones among actors no longer shy away from a cinematic demise. Nor does death (the usual movie synonym for an unhappy ending) necessarily spell box-office poison. Some actors, in fact, revel in dying.
Garbo must be one of them. She is at it again in "Camille." She has died more violent deaths in other films. "A Woman of Affairs," "The Green Hat," "Sawdust," "The Sign of the Cross," "Mata Hari," she faced a firing squad. In "Anna Karenina" she leaped under a train.

Norway Turns Down Trotzky Exile Plea

OSLO, Norway, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Norway last night formally rejected Russia's demand for the expulsion of the exiled Bolshevik leader Leon Trotzky. A note handed to the Soviet minister at Oslo said the Russian demand was not in conformity with the existing friendly relations between the two countries. The note declared Norway had not been lax in preventing "any actions organized on her territory which may threaten the security of other nations."

Possibility Of Air Raids Give Italians Jobs

Watchmen Hover Over Buildings As Precautionary Move

ROME, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Stringent anti-aircraft protection is brought home to the humblest man, woman and child in Italy by sweeping regulations providing for the creation of literally hundreds of thousands of special non-paid overseers.

The overseer, a member of the Fascist party, bears the title "capo-fabbricato," which means head of the building. This may be a factory or, since nine-tenths of the Italians live in apartments, an apartment house. His duties are various and constant.

In time of peace he must see that: Everything is in readiness for the complete blanking out of the building so that no light inside can be seen from without.

The main gas pipe has a valve easily turned off by the janitor.

Deposits of dry sand are piled in rooms under the roof so as to put out fire.

Easily combustible materials are taken from rooms underneath the roof.

A technical expert is called whenever changes are to be made in the building, so that the changes may correspond with anti-aircraft protection needs.

Determine the number of dwellers who would voluntarily leave the city in case of war and go to hill towns and other places away from attackable centers.

Decide in advance the best refuge in the house for all tenants.

The moment mobilization is decreed the "capo-fabbricato" must:

Paint out the too-bright colors of terraces and roofs. Render sky-lights and other reflecting surfaces opaque.

Put buckets filled with water in upper-story rooms.

Buy a special alarm which will notify all the tenants of the imminence of an air raid.

Buy apparatus to purify and regenerate the air in the building's refuge.

See that the tenants have strips of cloth soaked in grease ready to close windows and doors hermetically.

Have excessive weights on top floors removed. Big chandeliers must be taken down. Statues on the front of buildings must be taken away.

When the air raid starts, the capo-fabbricato must:

See that the refuge is ready.

Make sure the alarm has been heard by all.

Be certain the tenants, before leaving their apartments, have turned off gas and electricity.

See that the central gas and electric valve are turned off.

Guide the tenants to the refuge, recommending calm, serenity and perfect discipline.

When the signal of peril-over is sounded see that the building is not permeated with gas before letting the tenants return to their apartments.

'Millionaire Pauper' No Longer Holds Unique Title

Tom Collier, Memphis, Reaches Settlement On Property In Exclusive Area Of Tennessee City

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Memphis' "millionaire pauper" has lost his title. No longer is Tom Collier either a millionaire or a pauper.

Of the Collier family's original 550-acre tract in the heart of Memphis' exclusive residential suburbs which he was unable to sell or develop because it was encumbered with tax claims:

Collier, his mother, Mrs. Alice Trueman Collier, and a brother and sister retain clear title to 10 acres, their old home and a few other pieces of real estate, the total worth some $200,000.

Memphis and Shelby county get more than 300 acres, mostly undeveloped, in settlement of claims for taxes, penalties, interest and attorney's fees amounting to $700,000.

And Tennessee will receive from the city and county a cash settlement for its $100,000 tax claim against the Collier property.

With this agreement ends the 30-year battle "Fighting Tom"

Collier, "champion of lost causes," has waged almost single-handed against the city, county and state to both collection of taxes he charged were exorbitant and unfairly assessed.

Collier started his fight in 1908. Since then he has filed and fought out hundreds of tax suits. Most of his victories have been in the state supreme court; his defeats in the county courts.

Twice he has stood on the courthouse steps, flouting a flaming red flag as a battle banner and waving his property suitcases. Both times he regained control of it through supreme court reversals.

A short time ago he called a town meeting a "sinner's black list" for his red flag, he "talked turkey" with the city.

Fifty-five years old, Collier still looks to a life-long habit of running three miles barefoot several mornings each week, which may be responsible for victories in half a dozen physical encounters with political and legal foes, which often landed him in jail.

"Well, I got a 25-cent dinner out of the city—that's more than they have gotten out of me in 25 years of trying," he said after one of his trips to jail.

Another time he threatened to announce his candidacy for the mayorship from behind the bars.

"I'll announce as the people's 'job-bird candidate' as the people."

In 1928 the Collier family gave Memphis a beautiful section of East Parkway for a pleasure drive. Later, when it was made a state highway, Collier became indignant.

Only the police prevented his fencing the section and plowing it up for a corn field.

Once he proposed to establish a city within a city on his East Parkway estate. He would have been mayor with two dummy commissioners. City officials blocked this plan.

When his "poor" the city commission, objected to his reading a petition before them, he disregarded the order and read so loudly and long the mayor called adjournment.

Collier continued to read, addressing pictures of city fathers which hung on the commission chamber walls.

Of the 32 "motors" brought to this country for a highway war by English visitors, only one was of American make.

Trotsky Reaches New Exile Abode Under 15 Guards

Ex-Bolshevik Leader Will Make Home Near Oslo, Norway

STORSAND, Norway, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Scowling and tight-lipped Leon Trotsky, escorted by 15 plain-clothesmen in six police cars, last night reached his newest abode in exile—a little farm 50 miles from Oslo.

The exiled Bolshevik leader with his wife strode swiftly into the neat-looking two-story house—a 10-room modern structure, neatly furnished and in a row of houses just across a narrow lake from the popular bathing resort of Drøbak.

Trotsky will have the entire place—except space needed by his police guard which will engage his household servants and keep strict guard against strangers.

Two uniformed policemen patrolled outside the house on a narrow road last night.

Norway decided to intern the one-time Russian war minister rather than accede to the Soviet state's demand for his expulsion on charges of terroristic activities.

Moscow charged Trotsky directed a plot of 18 anti-government conspirators recently executed by Soviet firing squads.

Trotsky, it was learned, plans to lay his case before the world through a libel action against the Norwegian Nazi party and the party's newspaper for allegations that he plotted against Norway.

American Woman Reaches Court Height In England

Mrs. Ernest Simpson Introduced To Edward As Chapereau; Is Now King's Favorite Dancing Partner

LONDON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Covered with rumors of King Edward VIII's impending engagement to a shy-eyed young Danish woman, a bright new light beamed upon the somewhat mysterious figure of Mrs. Ernest Simpson, the former Miss Wallis, nee Simpson, of Baltimore, Md.

The darkly beautiful American girl, noted both for her sparkling conversation and as one of the best-dressed women in England, has hurried Mayfair for the last few years.

London newspapers now say she has been a member of the King's private dancing party.

When the official Court Circular from Buckingham palace announced that Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were among the guests at a private dinner party given by the King, the British news magazine Punch published a column about Mrs. Simpson and her friendship with the bachelor King-Edward of the British Empire.

A few weeks later Mrs. Simpson's name again appeared in the Court Circular as a dinner guest at the palace.

Long the King's choice as dancing partner, Mrs. Simpson reportedly won her way into the coveted royal circle—the shining goal of every dowager, duchess and debutante in England—in the role of chaperone.

At that time, several years ago, the then Prince of Wales was seen often in the company of the lovely Thomas Lady Furness, twin sister of Mrs. Gloria Vanderbilt; and as a close friend of Lady Furness, Mrs. Simpson was invited along as chaperone on gay West parties with the Prince and Lady Furness.

Legend has it that the Prince soon began to dance more with the chaperone than with Lady Furness, and ultimately the titled Englishwoman dropped out while the slender, blue-eyed American girl from Maryland was whisking more and more frequently in the Prince's arms while dipping and gliding in Edward's favorite tango of spinning through the intricacies of the tango.

Mrs. Simpson retained the royal interest, already whetted by her dancing prowess, through her acknowledged brilliance in her repertoire and intelligent conversation.

Always before, however, she remained in the background, and the Court Circular, announcing the King's first formal non-diplomatic dinner party since his accession ended the list of guests with the words "... and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Simpson."

By C. E. DAWSON

The Seminole County Dairy Association started a movement to get people to help the dairymen to economize on milk bottles. The result has been the recovery of several thousand bottles being returned to the rightful owner, making it unnecessary for the local dairymen to buy just that many new bottles. When you stop to consider that each quart milk bottle costs the dairymen 8 cents you can readily see the great savings made.

In many homes there are from one to 50 milk bottles stored away. These bottles should be put back into circulation. In the first place they are the property of some dairyman. In the second place, they are not being used and are just sitting around and are in the way. Why not do something about it?

The 1936 Soil Conservation Program is making progress in Seminole County. Over 700 farms are participating in the program and will receive cash benefit payments for growing cover crops and disking soil depleting crops to soil building crops.

The County Conservation Committee, composed of C. S. Law, District, Roy Sykes, West Side, Sanford, and Ralph B. Chapman, East Side Sanford, has the difficult job of determining base acreage and productivity index for each farm concerned.

This work requires the sacrifice of valuable time on the part of the committeemen.

Land property participating in the program will get under way in the next few days and the cooperation of the growers is requested so that the work may be completed as soon as possible. The sooner the work is completed the sooner the payments can be made. This program will bring several thousand dollars to Seminole County.

Aid To Needy Is Promised By Roosevelt

The President did most of the talking and Landon asked a few questions.

Immediate and long methods of alleviating suffering were discussed, he said, along with water and soil conservation.

He added it was estimated 21,000 of the 171,000 Kansas farm families would require help before winter ends.

James C. Gable, Kansas director of the national emergency council, said President Roosevelt and Governor Landon sat side by side at the desk of Governor Herring, with the rest of the Kansas delegation arranged in a semi-circle facing them.

Landon and his advisers waited in a rear office while the President discussed drought conditions with the Missouri and Iowa delegations.

The conference room in the state house, had its shades drawn closely.

Roosevelt sat at Herring's desk, a huge banquet of flowers from the capital grounds before him and two others in nearby corners.

He occupied a straight back iron chair, twenty-six, high-backed chairs were spaced along the wall-panelled walls for use of the conferees.

Roosevelt also was described as having done most of the talking in the conference with the Missourians. Occasional questions were asked by Secretary Wallace and Resettlement Administrator Tugwell.

"He (the President) questioned us in detail about the Missouri situation and what we would need," Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, said afterwards. "We told him the most immediate was loans for seed."

Clark added that the conferees also explored the possibility of impounding water in small lakes.

McLUCAS ENDS FIRST WEEK OF GRID PRACTICE

Uniforms Issued To Fifteen Men During Period

Coach lectures to griders on rules of good training.

By JIMMY CHAPMAN
The youth will be pulled through a tough session this afternoon because of the two-day rest period which comes over the weekend. Beginning Monday, there is a possibility that light blocking drills might begin, with scrimmage sessions scheduled for the following week.

Yesterday, the youngsters were carried through a skill practice and lecture period by Coach McLucas, assisted by his two assistants, Coaches Russell McCaskey and "Whitey" Gordon. The old Seminoles head mentor stressed the importance of keeping training rules throughout the season, and stressed his talk with a few words on "good sportsmanship."

Uniforms were issued during the first week to the following men:

Cody Classifies Gator Backfield Into Four Groups

Nineteen Backs Are Listed As Third Day Of Drills Ends
GAINESVILLE, Sept. 4.—Here is the way Head Coach Josh Cody has classified his 19 backfield candidates after taking three days to look over the University of Florida ball carriers over.
Quarterbacks: Bob Ivey of Tallahassee; Walter Mayberry of Daytona Beach; Roy Greason of Martin, Tenn.; Ed Manning, Florida, Ala.; left halfbacks: Kenneth Wilke of Punta Gorda; Benny Golden of Tampa; Russell Cummings of St. Augustine; Paul Deaney of Chattanooga, Tenn.; right halfbacks: Duke Warren of Jacksonville; Frank Welles, Pensacola; fullbacks: Harold Rows of Gainesville; Bugs Hendricks of Thomasville, Ga.
Three other Gator backs whom Cody and Lewie Hardage have not definitely placed yet include Dick Brown of Palatka; Johnny Bernhard of Barnesville, Ga., and Francis Hartman of Gainesville. Brown has been listed as a left halfback, but Hartman and Bernhard were not members of the squad which worked out with Cody for 10 weeks last spring.

Since there will be changes from time to time in the Florida lineup, especially in the backfield, the positions occupied by these 19 griders are not at all certain to be the same by game time. The Florida coaches have classified them according to the way they will line up on defense. When Florida takes the ball, the fans may have a hard time finding a certain quarterback or left halfback if they look for the kind of formations they have seen displayed by other Florida eleven.

Continuing the light drills they are giving the Florida squad, yesterday the coaches again divided the backs into four groups. The centers directed by Cody, ends by Stanley, tackles under Carlos Proctor, and backs all in one large group receiving instruction from Assistant Coach Lewie Hardage and Rand Dixon.
Kicking practice has already become a part of each day's regular routine. Ivey, junky backfield punter who relieved Captain Billy Chase with the footwork at times last year, will see the kicking department strengthened by Mayberry, Brick, Manning and Delaney. The Florida coaches held short punting sessions with these five backs after practice, yesterday.

In a tennis earthquake that toppled three pairs of defending champions off their national doubles throne, Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, an outstanding doubles team since 1929, lost their crown to the U. No Regret!
Possibly there are some few baseball fans in this city, who regret that the Lookouts failed to gain a place in the state loop playoff series, but, personally, we see no reason why they should.
Of course, there is always the satisfaction of knowing that our home town baseball team was the champion, but we believe that this city should be more than proud that we had such a fine bunch of youngsters representing us in the league.
One outstanding feature that we have no regret is the fact that so far the series has been nothing but a contest of "who can squawk with the umpire the loudest and hardest," while that is a very unfavorable trait that our youngsters did not have, much to our own satisfaction.
Since the Lookouts made such a favorable showing at the end of the season, we believe that every fan is more than pleased with the outlook for a bright season in the state circuit next year. Therefore, it is this columnist's belief that baseball has found a permanent place in the hearts of local fans.
On The Front In Gateoland!
Over in Gainesville, where Cousin Josh is drilling the boys in the fundamentals of the great college business, sometimes referred to as a game called football, there is a group of top-heavy backs who should go places and do things this fall.
Pisikin totin, an art unknown to many of our present day backs, seems to be a specialty with several of the Gator backfield members, including little "Bugs" Hendricks, 155 pounds of roses from Thomasville, Ga., "The City of Roses."
"Bugs" is a splendid ball-carrier, with snaky hips, rambor, and when he steps out on the gridiron to do battle with the Georgia Bulldogs in the annual classic between the Gators from the "Land of Sunshine" and the "Bulldogs" from the "Empire State of the South," he should give the spectators something to write home about in the way of elusiveness.
Not only do the "fighting Gators" have "Bugs" in their ranks, but they also have "Dukes," "Foots," and what-have-you which is altogether a pleasing situation when looked at from

Boy's Club Members Put On Show In Lake County Arena

Members of the Seminole Boy's Athletic Club appearing before Lake county fight fans in an exhibition of four bouts at Inland Beach Wednesday night, made a great hit with their fighting.
Three professional bouts headed the program, but the Seminole youngsters attracted more attention than did the pros.
The most outstanding bout of the night was one between Albert McMullin and Linberg Hall, two nine year old youths, both weighing 55 pounds. Other interesting bouts of the evening were those between Billy Wilkinson and Milton Edge, John Freeman Hall and Harry Lee Moore, and Laurence Barrieanu and Ray Edge.
It is expected that within two weeks there will be an available practice site for the club boys, since several trips are in view for the winter season.
New boxing equipment has already been ordered, including new trunks for use in the ring.

Americans Gain 9 To 0 Shutout Win In Matches

ROUT BRITISH TO TAKE MOST DECISIVE VICTORY IN HISTORY
CLEMONTON, N. J., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Great Britain's hopes of winning the Walker cup, the huge silver golf trophy that never has left these shores, lay buried among the pine and scrub oaks of Pine Valley last night.
Answering the challenge of the previous team from the United States, the British side in the international amateur team match at Pine Valley, the American force laid down such a terrific barrage that they not only beat them but beat them out, 9 to 0, for the first time since the matches opened 14 years ago at Southampton, N. Y. All his majesty's forces got out of the wreckage were two halved foursomes and a halved singles match, gained by Harry Smithey, 28-year-old Englishman, over George T. Dunlap, Jr., of New York, former national amateur champion.
Inasmuch as halved matches go down in the record books as "0-0" contests, the rout went down as an even greater one than the 11 to 1 conquest gained by Bobby Jones and his mates at Chicago in 1908. It was a bitter return for the British, who had eliminated their old Walker cup stars from the team and nominated young players in a serious attempt to win.
Keyhole Smith, sharpshooting Texan, led the winning assault for the second day of the matches, fought over the three fasted Pine Valley golf courses. In the foursomes, Wednesday, Smith teamed up with a fellow Texan, Ed White, to whip their British foes, 5 and 7, for the second time in the series of the round. Yesterday, hanging dead by legs still to the pine and scrub oaks, the four boys, including brother, 11 and 9, to reach the most decisive victory. Smith furnished the first singles point and the habit stood up and down the pine studded valleys.
Dunlap, victimized by some of the earliest iron shots of his career, had a close escape. He piled up a 2-up lead on the morning 18, and promptly threw it away on the first two holes of the afternoon, opening the twenty-seventh hole one down to the veteran English player Smithey, over head George one down to two to play, but bravely three-potted the thirty-fifth hole to lose it and allow Dunlap to get a halved match and give the United States its victory of whitewash.
Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, on the sidelines during the four-some play that America won 5 to 0, shot the finest golf of the day to crush Cecil Ewing, long hitting Irishman, 5 and 7. Johnny, deadly with his iron from the open and behind trees, scored a 76 in the morning, and then reced out with a 34, one under par, to raise his lead to 8 up and 9 to go. He matched par for par on the next two holes to win handily. Over the 29 holes he trawled, Johnny was but three over par—a real achievement at Pine Valley.
Charley Yates, the crowning Atlantic also was only three over par but was aided with a few gifts by his fathering Joe, J. Morton Dykes, best putting genius, whom he beat 8 and 7. Yates rolled in some fine putts and spanned beautiful approaches to break his rival, grabbing a 4-up lead as noon and extending it to 7 holes by capturing the front nine in the afternoon in 34 strokes.

Favorites Win In Opening Play Of Net Tournament

Perry, Budge, Mako, Helen Jacobs Advance In Tourney
FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Opening play in the combined men's and women's national tennis championships yesterday emphasized the difficulty awaiting anyone who hopes to stop Frederick J. Perry of England and Helen Jacobs of Berkeley, Calif., short of the titles in their respective divisions. Both are heavy favorites to triumph in the 10-day tournament.
Perry conquered Alfred Jarvis, 6-foot 4-inch former boy's champion from Tenfily, N. J., 6-0, 6-0, 6-2, in the first round of the men's singles. A crowd of 4,000 witnessed the match.
Miss Jacobs routed Eather Edwards, husky Bridgeport, Conn., girl, 6-0, 6-0, in their first round match.

Perry, playing with his best shots under cover, was kind to his youthful opponent who had a bad case of stage fright early in the match.
Miss Jacobs allowed her blonde rival to carry several games to duce in the first set, but turned on the pressure in the second set and reced off six games with the loss of only three points.
Don Budge, Oakland, Calif., red-head and America's leading hope to turn back Perry's bid for his third title, made short work of George Scraggan, left-handed Bayside, N. Y., player, 6-0, 6-1, 6-0. If form runs true, Budge and Perry will meet a week from Saturday for the title last year by Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas, veteran who has retired from singles competition with an injured back.
The only other two seeded players in the men's singles in action yesterday were John McDermid, bespectacled Princeton, N. J., professor, seeded No. 7 who won from John M. Anderson, Jr., of Hoboken, N. J., 6-3, 6-2, 6-2, and Hal Surfaces, Jr., Kansas City, seeded No. 8, who disposed of Dr. David McLaughlin, Pittsburgh, 6-0, 6-2, 7-5.
Perhaps the day's most interesting match saw Gene Mako, unseeded player from Los Angeles, and national doubles champion with Budge, win a four-set battle from Norman Bickel, University of Chicago player from Oak Park, Ill., 6-1, 6-5, 6-1, 6-0. Mako grew careless after winning the first set and for a time appeared to be in for quite a struggle but recovered in time to save himself from trouble.

TUCALOOZA, Ala., Sept. 4.—(AP)—Team spirit ran high as 50-odd Alabama Crimson Tide men ended their second day workouts at the University yesterday. Coach Frank Thomas said he was impressed by the men displayed.
After donning shoulder-pads and head-gears for extensive dummy blocking drills their first afternoon, the boys were in track shorts yesterday.
Signal practices were held with each player coming in for individual lining instruction.
Conference meet between Crimson and Green was held at the Wave track last night and first three conference engagements.

Gain Lead In Four Out Of Seven Champ Series

Voals Gains Win By Limiting Fs To 8 Scattered Hits While Mates Garner 11 Off Gornicki And Brown

Cannoneri Drops Crown To Ambers In Decisive Loss

DAYTONA BEACH, Sept. 4.—St. Augustine's Saints got off to an early lead in the Florida State League playoff series here yesterday afternoon, chasing Walter Brown from the mound in the third frame and winning by 6 to 2.
Brown allowed three runs to score in the second when he threw the ball wild to first base. The Saints scored two more runs off him in the third on a triple, a double and a single.
Hank Gornicki finished the game and held the Saints at bay except for the fifth inning, when they scored a run on two singles and a balk. Gornicki struck out seven men.
Meanwhile, Frank Voals limited the Islanders to eight hits. The two clubs met in the second game of the first playoff series for the league championship at 4:15 this afternoon. The series is for four out of seven games.
In the second stanza, Andrews singled. A single by Swindell advanced him to second, Causer laid down a bunt. Brown ran in, picked up the ball and heaved over which runner he should try to retire. Finally he threw to first. His throw was hard and wild and all three men scored.
In the third, Owens led off with a single. Andrews poked a triple out to center field, sending Owens across the plate. Causer's double scored Andrews and Gornicki replaced Brown.
The Saints scored off him in the fifth. Swindell single to center advanced him to third. Swindell started for second and Andrews started toward home. Gornicki started to throw to second and then threw the ball home. The umpire charged him with a balk and both men were safe.
The Islets scored in the second when Hooten walked and Struble tripled. In the fifth, Gornicki walked and Swindell scored on Minor's single. Anderson was safe and both men advanced a base on McGowan's error. A single by Morton scored Ballek and Minor.

On The Associated Press scorecard, Ambers won nine rounds, including the last three. Causer was credited with five while one, the twelfth, was rated even.
Ambers' victory topped off a double championship program, the first half of which resulted in a controversial nine-round knockout victory for Mike Belknap. New York's featherweight champion, Ambers, over Dave Crowley, British title-holder in the 128 pound division. Crowley was counted out in 2:58 of the sixth round after toppling to the floor, clutching his groin and claiming he had been fouled by a left uppercut that Referee Arthur Donovan insisted landed in fair territory. The little Briton had been saved by the bell in the eighth after being flattened by a hard right to the chin, with only four seconds to go.
Cannoneri, ring-worm at the age of 37, was slow and unimpressive from start to finish, except for a few widely separated flashes of the fighting form that carried him to a decisive triumph over Ambers a year ago. Whether it was due to flat age or the humidity which made the Garden seem like a Turkish bath, the champion lacked anything resembling his usual punching skill.

New York Grets Olympic Athletes On Arrival To U. S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Wall Street district, with no one to cheer since Bob Jones checked in with British golf titles six years ago, loosed a lot of past up steam yesterday welcoming home more than 80 Olympic athletes, but Harlem, which was expected to outdo itself in honor of negro winners, including Jesse Owens, showed little enthusiasm.
The athletes, accompanied by half as many officials, returned by half as many officials, and except for charges by Ralph Bernal, a negro sprinter, that there was too much official "back passing," enthusiastically avoided comment on numerous controversies which developed during the Olympiad in Berlin.
