Officers Seek Cause Of School Fire Fatal To 90

'This Is A Boy'; Another Victim Of Fire Is Identified

CHICAGO (UPI)—A morgue attendant gently lifted a sheet from a charred body and said, "This is a boy."

John Jakowski Sr., leaned over, looked intently at the lifeless form and screamed.

"Oh my God, my boy, my boy."

Upstairs in the crowded main hall at Cook County Morgue, a deputy coroner intoned into a megaphone.

"We are looking for the parents of an 11-year-old girl with a medical cross around her neck. She wore a full school uniform with long black stockings. She can be identified."

A little woman in a tan coat cried out, then sobbed uncontrollably into the ends of her scarf. A blue-clad student nurse guided the woman to a seat in a smoky meeting room. A postcard showed her husband past 20 other anxious parents and relatives and down the long steps to the bodies in the basement.

Difficult To Identify
In the noisy lobby, Vincent Mucci tugged at the sleeves of coroners' deputies and newsmen—anyone with a slip of paper in his hand—seeking word of his niece, Elaine Pesoli.

"She's 9," he said, "wearing red bunny suit and black suede shoes. My brother and I were taken down into the hellhole to see if we could find her. My brother thought one body was hers, but I didn't. I don't see how anyone can identify anyone down there."

Hours later, Elaine's name was posted on the official death list in the Our Lady of Angels school basement.

The small bodies, covered with blankets, were carried into the morgue from ambulances and squad cars that drew up 10 and 12 deep in the street outside.

Police carried the bodies into a waiting room and put them gently down on the cold concrete floor. They arrived faster than morgue attendants could carry them to the elevator and take them to the basement.

Administer Last Rites
Police officers wept as the rows of children's bodies grew longer and longer. Priests administered last rites in each victim as the stretchers were placed down.

As fast as the stretchers were sent back up to the entrance door, the ambulances sped back for more victims.

The tragic cargo moved in faster than carpenters could build benches. The bodies overflowed onto the floor along the west wall, into a room across the hall, finally into a third room.

Morgue attendants moved about, determining a child's sex, fitting descriptions of any clothing that remained, searching for lockets or other trinkets that would aid identification.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI)—The rocket of Russia's third Sputnik will probably crash toward earth in the Wisconsin area, according to the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory.

Chuluota Group Protests Closing Road Near Lake

Chuluota residents this morning appeared before the County Commission to protest the closing of roads which they felt would prevent them from using portions of the Lake Catherine area.

The hearing was held to determine whether the county would close the roads in the Townsite of North Chuluota at the request of the Chuluota Development Corp.

The corporation was represented by Bill Hutchison, who presented the recommended replat of the area to commissioners. Hutchison stated that the firm was developing the Chuluota Hotel and that one of the roads created a traffic hazard to guests. Only a portion of the road would be closed around the lake. Hutchison said "we need an orderly plan if Chuluota is to become a benefit to the county."

Group Seeks More Safety At School

Traffic problems at local schools were discussed yesterday afternoon by police and PTA officials.

The open air meeting was held on French Ave. while Seminole High School traffic was at its peak.

Leading the group discussion was Henry Boggs, Florida state safety engineer. Presenting suggestions and examining were Chief Roy Williams of the Sanford Police Department, Sgs. Leo Ruck and Ben Butler, Mrs. John Schirard, president of the PTA and Mrs. Jackie Carlo, PTA safety chairman.

The group felt that French Ave. has become hazardous due to parking on both sides of the street and children darting into the highway. A recent incident touched off much anxiety—involving a child who was knocked down by a school bus.

Final decisions for the safety of the children and motorists were made: the replacement of the 15 mile per hour signs during rush hours, and the closing of the crosswalk leading from the auditorium to the parking lot. This will be done on a trial basis. A fence has been erected across the parking lot to eliminate crossing at all points.

The remaining crosswalk will be supervised by the police officer. Andrew Braken, principal of Seminole High School, spoke to students this morning, urging them to "behave like adults" in respecting the safety measures.

Motorists who do not regard the signs or speed limits during the rush periods will be subject to arrest. With a consistent safety program, the group felt that a caution light would not be necessary. Parking will be eliminated on both sides of French Ave. on school property.

Thousands To View Christmas Parade

There will be music and laughter in the streets of Sanford Saturday when the biggest parade in the city's history is held downtown at 2:30 p. m.

Sponsored by the Sanford-Seminole County Jaycees, the Christmas parade is an annual spectacle that draws thousands of men, women and children from all over Seminole County. For the first time it will be held on a Saturday. Downtown stores will be open for shopping during the entire afternoon.

Parade Chairman Herbert Stenstrom has revealed the marching line-up slated to appear. These include the Marine Color Guard, the Marine Band, Navy Platoon, Brownie Troop 106, Brownie Troop 284, Kadets of America.

Salvation Army Guards and Sun-teams, Goldsboro School Fleet Reserve, Florida Military Academy.

Cars riding in the parade will hold the highway patrol, chief of police, county sheriff, Jaycee president and fund raising chairman and officers of the Chamber of Commerce, City Commission, County Commission and Committee of 100.

Voting Very Light For Commissioner

Only 302 voters had cast ballots in the city election by 1 p. m. today.

The polls at City Hall will remain open until 7 p. m. With 3,400 registered voters in Sanford, this was considered slow even by officials who are "used to city apathy."

Joe Baker and M. L. (Sonny) Raborn are battling for the position on the Board of City Commissioners to be vacated Jan. 1 by David Gatchel.

Both men have stated their opinions on civic improvement, and advocate the same "efficient government." There is little difference in platforms. The victor will serve a three-year term on the board.

School Disasters, Record Blazes In U. S. Are Listed

United Press International
The worst school fire recorded in the United States killed 175 children and teachers in the Lakeview school at Collinwood, Ohio, March 1, 1958.

This tragedy is credited with bringing about the regular institution of fire drills in schools.

The worst recorded school disaster was a natural gas explosion which demolished the brick and concrete consolidated school at New London, Tex., March 18, 1937, killing 294 children and teachers.

Children were among the major casualties in two other of the nation's most disastrous fires—the blaze which sank the church picnic steamer General Slocum in New York's East River June 15, 1904, with a loss of 1,020 lives; and the flaming circus tent blazes that killed 168 at Hartford, Conn., July 6, 1944.

Seventy-seven children and teachers died in another school fire, at Beulah S. C., May 17, 1923.

The nation's greatest recorded fire tragedy took 1,322 lives in and around Washington, Wis., on Oct. 8, 1911, the same day on which the "great Chicago fire" killed an estimated 250 persons.

Other disastrous fires of this century included: 602 dead in the Troquais Theatre, Chicago, Dec. 30, 1903; 492 dead, Boston's Coconut Grove nightclub, Nov. 28, 1942; 320 dead, State Penitentiary, Columbus, Ohio, April 21, 1930; 307 dead, "Nathan Club" dance hall, Natchez, Miss., April 23, 1916; 170 dead, Opera House, Boyertown, Pa., Jan. 12, 1902; 143 dead, Triangle shirtwaist factory, New York, March 25, 1911; 123 dead, Cleveland Clinic Hospital, Cleveland, Ohio, May 15, 1929; 119 dead, Winesoff Hotel, Atlanta, Dec. 7, 1946.

Dairy Farmers Get More, Odham Says

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Florida dairy farmers pocketed nearly two million dollars more for their milk because of new regulations adopted by the Milk Commission in the past fiscal year, it was announced today.

J. Bralley Odham of Sanford, chairman of the Commission, said elimination of price controls at the retail level was the "high light of the year."

In an annual report to the governor, Odham said retail controls not only prohibited competition, but resulted in rebates generously estimated between seven and 10 million dollars a year—making the whole dairy industry a "fixed, locked up, sorry mess."

The Commission said additional revenue to the farmers came from the major dairies, not the milk-distributing public.

The Commission added the housewife got a break on the price of milk with abolition of state price controls, but said the exact amount of savings could not be estimated.

Odham said the most valuable Commission action, dollarwise, was a regulation controlling the price the dairies must pay the farmer for class two and three milk.

He said this regulation gave farmers an additional $1,773,231. A voluntary program, worked through the Commission, to transfer surplus milk to other areas for sale in class one channels meant another $77,062 in the farmers.

The "forensic" follow-up of audits showing underpayments to producers accounted for another $5,000 the farmers otherwise would not have received, Odham said.

Just Poor Loser

MILAN, Italy (UPI)—Mike Bongiorno, popular radio and TV master of ceremonies of the "Double or Quit" quiz program, was given a traffic ticket Monday by a man who thought he had a good reason to do it.

The policeman who nabbed Bongiorno was Piero Salvagnini, who appeared on "Double or Quit"—and lost.

Didn't Like Child, Gave Him Away

NEW ORLEANS, La. (UPI)—A young mother admitted Monday she gave away her five-year-old son to two casual acquaintances because "I didn't like the child for some reason."

Authorities said the child was in the Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami, where he is suffering from malnutrition and physical abuse. Two men were held in connection with the alleged "give-away."

Police said Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sloan, residing in a trailer on Chief Menteur Highway here, claim to be the child's parents.

Mrs. Sloan related this story to New Orleans police.

She said she and her husband had an argument last July in Orange, Tex., where the child was allegedly born. She said two men, Donald Dean Wallace and Raymond Jacobson, offered to take the child.

She agreed and hasn't seen the boy since.

The father of the child told police he wanted the boy back and was taking legal steps to obtain him.

In Miami, where he is under $500 bond for mistreating the boy, Wallace produced the child's birth certificate and what he described as a "bill of sale or lease" signed by the boy's mother and Jacobson as a witness.

Above the mother's signature was written a note that she had given the boy to the two men for "one week."

It was reported that the two men were using the boy in a "show business act" they had not ruled out as a possible cause.

Sgt. Drew Brown of the arson detail said the thick smoke, at first believed to have been oil, apparently came from thick wax on the school floor.

He said the flames spread quickly when second floor windows were opened by panic-stricken youngsters seeking an escape route and sucked the smoke and flames up through the stairwell to the upper floor.

Committees Hear Duties Outlined

Duties of committees were outlined yesterday when chairman of the recently formed committee of 100 met with the executive committee.

W. Scott Burns, chairman, conducted the meeting, which brought forth suggestions for projects and programs to direct and supervise the excellent job being done by Mrs. Ives. It was pointed out that this service is available on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons from 2 to 5 p. m., through appointment.

The need for a service for retarded children also was stressed. A committee is studying what might be done locally.

Rev. O'Steen gave a short talk and asked the aid and cooperation of all present.

Rights Probe Set In Alabama Voting

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Civil Rights Commission spokesman said today the commission has subpoenaed more than 20 persons to a hearing in Montgomery, Ala., starting Dec. 8 on complaints that Negro voting rights have been denied.

More subpoenas will be served today, the spokesman declared.

The spokesman said most of the subpoenas were issued for persons who originated the complaints, most of them Negroes who said their civil rights were denied because of race.

The hearing is expected to last about three days and to be attended by the full six-member commission. It has no police power, but is charged with responsibility of investigating such complaints and making recommendations to the President and Congress.

Alabama Gov.-elect John Patterson, now the state's attorney general, has vowed to do everything legally possible to prevent the commission from seeing voting registration books at Marion County, where the case apparently originated.

87 Children, Three Nuns Die; 82 Hurt; 2 Boys Questioned

CHICAGO (UPI)—Police today investigated the possibility that a careless student may have accidentally set a fire which killed 87 children and three nuns in a Roman Catholic school.

The investigation of Chicago's worst fire in 55 years turned to pupils when it was learned a number of boys had been assigned to carry trash to bins near a basement stairwell where the blaze apparently started.

The flames and blinding, black smoke swept Our Lady of Angels parochial school at mid-afternoon Monday, less than a half hour before classes were to be dismissed at 3 p. m.

The fire killed 53 little girls, 34 boys and three nuns. The children ranged in age from 9 to 15.

Nearly 150 children were injured and 82 of them remained hospitalized today. Four of the injured were near death.

Leap To Death
Many of the children leaped from the upper floor of the two-story building, their clothing and hair afire. Others suffocated as they sat at their desks.

Deputy Chief of Detectives Frank Pape and his squad questioned two 13-year-old boys during the night. He said the boys, Daniel O'Shea and Patrick Machuga, told of carrying rubbish to the basement shortly before the fire broke out.

Authorities sought a third boy who was in the basement with O'Shea and Machuga, and planned to question others assigned to carrying trash to the basement.

"It would seem to me that some youngster was smoking down there and flipped the cigarette away when he thought he heard someone coming," Pape said. He emphasized that no one was under suspicion at the moment.

Arson Possible
"At the present time the origin of the fire is still undetermined," Pape continued. He said it didn't "make sense that a child would set the fire deliberately" and then return to his classroom.

The FBI offered its cooperation in the probe in the event investigators turned up evidence of arson. Authorities said they had not ruled out arson as a possible cause.

Sgt. Drew Brown of the arson detail said the thick smoke, at first believed to have been oil, apparently came from thick wax on the school floor.

He said the flames spread quickly when second floor windows were opened by panic-stricken youngsters seeking an escape route and sucked the smoke and flames up through the stairwell to the upper floor.

Pilots Ready For Derby, Chiefs Keep 'Em Flying

During the next two weeks, many of the Navy's best bombing crews will be burning the midnight jet-fuel-oil in preparation for the coming Bomber Derby.

Each flight hour gives them one more whiff of professional polish that could give them the edge in the Derby. Many eyes, both in and out of the Navy will be watching these crews, but only a few will see the backbones that hold them up.

The main brace of the squadron is the maintenance gang. Its backbone is the maintenance chief.

In heavy Attack Squadron Nine this key figure is Aviation Machinist Mate Chief James A. Downs, a wiry, prematurely grey human dynamo who directs and supervises the highly technical business of keeping the modern A3D jets and their complex electronic equipment in working order.

His job keeps him churning and moving all the time, jumping from one plane to another and back again. Sometimes he works 24 hours at a stretch. Mrs. Downs, the former Eleanor J. Printe of Washington, D. C. and Chief

Pilot Club Has Meet

The Sanford Pilot Club will help patients at one of the Florida Mental Hospitals have a better Christmas this year.

Each member decided to place a dollar in a Christmas card and bring it to the next meeting of the club to be forwarded before Christmas. The club also voted to ring the bells again this year for the Salvation Army on December 13.

Thanksgiving motif was used for the table decorations for the dinner held on Wednesday, November 26, at 6 p. m. at the Civic Center. Horns of plenty were on each table with flowers in the Thanksgiving colors used also.

Fourteen members of the club were presented with a mum corsage for their perfect attendance so far this year. The program was under the direction of Mrs. A. O. Payne who gave a short talk on the meaning of Thanksgiving. Mr. Payne was then introduced to the club. He showed pictures of Italy taken during his recent deployment overseas on the Saratoga.

Guests of the club for the evening were Mrs. Edmund H. Martin, Orala, Mrs. R. L. Brown and Miss Dorothy Cooper.

Coeds Turn To Sports

right, a woman won't get muscle bound," Miss Richardson added.

If her girls persist in looking on athletic skills with a leery attitude, Miss Richardson tries to teach them to appreciate different events.

"For example," she said, "we explain rule changes in football and basketball."

The girls like the sport more when they know what is going on, and before long are ready to take part themselves, she said.

She also believes in starting them young and training them right. A child of four years can learn to swim, and 10 is the right age to start tennis.

But don't overdo it, she cautioned.

"If you hurry a child in a sport, he probably will lose interest," she said. "Give him a sport he can handle, like dodge ball or jump rope."

COOKING WARE MADE OF MISSILE CERAMICS

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Cook and serve ceramic dishes with the strength of a missile nose cone will be shot into freer space table orbit with no papers for thawing.

Corning Glass Works introduced the new program was "Cooking Ware" in a demonstration here.

The remarkable super-strength products are made from material developed originally for guided missile radomes. The heat-resistant white ceramic is guaranteed unconditionally against damage from temperature changes no matter how abrupt.

Dishes may be taken from a freezer and put immediately into a hot oven or on an open flame without risk of breakage, the manufacturer said. They may be taken from heat and plunged directly into ice water.

The dishes are described as non-porous so that they will clean as easily as china. The blue color pattern is part of the material and will not scratch or burn off.

The new line of cookware was launched with a 10-inch square skillet and 3 saucetins in 1 quart, 1 1/2 quart and 1 3/4 quart sizes. All have glass covers, detachable handles and metal cradles for table service.

Toy Store Without A Santa

NEW YORK (UPI)—The nation's best-known toy store has no Santa Claus.

This came as quite a shock to me, I expected Santa with his "ho ho ho" and "what do you want for Christmas sonny?" to be as traditional with FAO Schwarz as its catering to the carriage trade.

"We don't have a Santa because we don't believe anyone can imitate the old gentleman," said Charles Vesey, executive vice president of the 85-year-old company. "Santas after all are to attract children, and we don't need to do that."

"One year," he added, "some one dreamed up the idea we should have some telephone Santas, let the children call and at least talk. The result was pandemonium. Our switchboard was 13 m. p. h. Businessmen complained they couldn't get a call home to their wives to tell them what train they'd be on. We case this up in a hurry."

Wonderland For Kids

But even without Saint Nick the store is a wonderland for children, and nostalgic adults at the time of the year. Especially a wonderland if you're well-heeled. Casing two floors of what Vesey said was 20,000 square feet of space containing 1,000 types of toys, I found these stuffer for the Christmas stocking:

A cedar log, called measuring six by nine feet, with porch and lookout tower, for $563. Vesey said eight already had been sold by mail order, including one to a customer in Switzerland.

A child-size Thunderbolt battery-powered for $507; an off-white monkey, who sits on a smokes' stoves, for $293; a six-foot, stuffed okapi, for $293; a life-like cow, who chews her cud, for $175.

A toy store with groceries for $52; a toy refrigerator, bigger than some of those in modern apartment kitchens, for $59; a sink, for $27.50; and a two-story colonial doll house, for $218. "That includes the curtains," said a saleswoman.

Good Year For Missiles

Vesey assured me there are plenty of toys less astronomically priced — some for as low as $1. But it's the larger sales that get mentioned most frequently. There was the year a train set bought an entire electric train display for $3,000; the time a Canadian bought a whole window display which included roller skates, Eskimo and stimulant sleds.

Vesey said toy preferences run in cycles, and this year looks like a good one for individual items such as a ballistic missile, a satellite launcher, and a fish that swallows another.

Freeze These Last Minute Appetizers

Toasted cheese olive rounds are perfect little appetizers to keep in mind for your holiday parties. They can parade distinctively around a punch bowl when standing refreshments are being served or they can be the extra tidbit that augments a vegetable or fruit salad luncheon.

Make up a large batch of these cheese rounds early, home economists at Marjorie Food Products recommend, even to stuffed olives that nestle on top. If you assemble them on baking sheets, then cover them with a damp towel and store in the refrigerator, they will remain fresh and appetizing.

Toasted Cheese Olive Rounds

Cut out two-inch wide bread rounds. Toast on one side in a hot oven. With a sharp 1/2 inch cutter, cut rounds from thin slices of natural cheddar cheese. Place on untoasted sides of bread.

Chop one ounce can of button mushrooms, drain and cook mushrooms lightly in 2 tablespoons butter. Sprinkle over top of cheese. Place a slice of stuffed olive in center and sprinkle with paprika. Toast in 350 degree oven until cheese begins to melt. Serve piping hot.

Seminole Hosts Oviedo In Cage Opener Tonight

By JERRY COVINGTON
The 1958-59 Sanford Seminole basketballers will take to the court here tonight in a double-header to open the new season. Coach Bud Layer will direct the varsity and Dick Silvers will be at the helm of the junior varsity. Both squads will play the Oviedo Lions. First contest begins at 7 p. m.

Coach Layer has released a 22-game schedule with 12 home games listed. There will be a junior varsity contest as a preliminary each night. The local squad will participate in the OBC tourney in February and the District tourney in March. If the potential of the squad develops, it has a chance to travel to Gainesville, March 11-14, for the state playoffs.

Coach Layer is impressed with the pre-season drills. He feels that his squad has a chance to take OBC honors and better the 18-11 record of last season, beat the school has compiled in modern history.

For many years basketball has taken a back seat at the school, but Layer and Silvers have brought the local squad into winning form in the last two seasons. The squad will open without two All conference guards and several others that will be playing in the Celery Bowl Friday night. Cecil Dandridge and Ray Lundquist both look home OBC honors last season. Cliff McKibbin and Gerald Jones are two others that will be counted upon heavily after the grid season comes to an end Friday.

There will be many new names in the starting lineup tonight. Charles Oravates will be starting at center, John Alfred and Alex McKibbin will start at the forwards, George Perides and Letterman Jimmy Gracey will be holding down the guard spots. Letterman Wally Phillips has been impressive in drills but suffered an arm injury last week and it is doubtful that he will be ready for action.

Seminoles Drilling For Apopka Squad

By JERRY COVINGTON
The OBC champion Sanford Seminoles are hard at work this week in an effort to be in top form when they take on the Apopka Blue Darters in the 1st annual Celery Bowl Friday night.

Coaches Dave Laude and Jim Pigott will be emphasizing defensive techniques in an effort to be ready for the hard-running Jerome Blaw of Apopka. The local squad had its troubles last week in stopping the DeLand Bulldogs and every effort will be made to be ready for the strong Darter attack.

The largest crowd in the history of memorial stadium is expected. Apopka, a sports-minded city, will bring a large following to the Celery City.

The Seminole Boosters Club will be in charge of concessions. Pete Schirard, president, said proceeds will be used for further athletic benefits. From gate receipts the state athletic fund will receive 12 per cent, the two squads will receive shares. Both teams will receive trophies from the gate and all players will be awarded gold footballs.

The Herald will award trophies for the outstanding player for each team and the presentations will be made immediately following the game.

Fans will get a look at two of the best quarterbacks in the state, the Darters' Shaw and Seminoles' Cecil Dandridge. The visitors also have one of the best defensive players in 220-pound Gerald Odum. He has been compared with Seminoles' Dave Stanley and it should prove interesting to see who is the tougher.

Dandridge proved the difference against DeLand and should be a big help in the running department. He is the leading ground-gainer for the Seminoles and has completed 50 per cent of his passes this season.

Rounding out the Seminole backfield will be Harold Stone at fullback, Vernon Kirk and Ray Lundquist at the halves.

Up front, where the Seminoles have been exceptionally strong in the first six games, Gerald Jones and Alan Swaim will hold down the terminals, Charlie Bogaz, Don Carter and Neely Ross will be at tackles, Stanley, Kelly Lake, at guards and Duke Schirard at center.

Defensive changes call for Walter Middleton to replace Jones at end. In the backfield, Cliff McKibbin will hold down a defensive halfback at intervals.

Cannon, Heckman Lead All-SEC Team

ATLANTA (UPI)—All America halfback Billy Cannon, the spark plug in top-ranked Louisiana State's march through a perfect season, was the lone unanimous selection to the 1958 United Press International All-Southeastern Conference football team announced today.

Cannon, who led the vote-getting for All-America honors, was also named the Southeastern Conference player of the year by a near-unanimous vote and was everybody's choice for back of the year. The balloting came from sportswriters and sportscasters from throughout the Southeast.

Joining Cannon in this year's KPI All-SEC backfield are quarterback Nickle Pettibon of Tulane, halfback Tom Moore of Vanderbilt and fullback Theron Sapp of Georgia. Sapp is the only senior. The other three backs all scheduled to return in 1959.

Vel Heckman, Florida's 229-pound senior tackle, won the SEC lineman of the year vote and heads an all-star forward wall which contains Jerry Wilson of Auburn and Don Fleming, ends, Cleve Wester of Auburn at the other tackle slot, Zeke Smith of Auburn and George Deiderich of Vanderbilt at guard and Mac Fugler of Louisiana State at center. Deiderich, Fugler, Smith and Heckman all made second-team All-America; Wilson was third team All-America.

Smith and Fugler are juniors, the others seniors.

Fugler narrowly edged out Auburn center Jackie Burkett who made third team All-America and Fleming barely came in ahead of Mississippi end Larry Grantham.

Wilson and Deiderich are the lone repeaters from the 1957 United Press all-conference team. Cannon moved up from the second team and Smith from the third.

There was little doubt from season's start that Cannon would be on this year's team. While LSU beat 10 straight foes en route to the Sugar Bowl, the 200-pounder from Baton Rouge, La., was running over and around foes with ferocious rushing leader with 136 yards for an average of six per try. He scored 11 touchdowns and a total of 74 points.

Pettibon carried Tulane almost single-handed during a disappointing 3-7 season. He gained a total

Trade Boom Hits Majors; Pirates, Dodgers Talk Deal

By MILTON RICHMAN
WASHINGTON (UPI)—There was a sudden boom in baseball's trading market today with the Pirates and Dodgers huddling over a prospective Frank Thomas-Johnny Podres deal and the Giants making a strong bid for second baseman Don Blasingame of the Cardinals.

All the trade talk wasn't confined to these four clubs, however. Here are some of the other deals being bandied about in the corridors and hotel lobbies of this smoke-filled major and minor league convention:

—The White Sox are offering Billy Goodman and Bubba Phillips around for "a first class relief pitcher."

—The Yankees have renewed their efforts to get either Pedro Ramirez or Dick Hyde from the Senators.

—Boston is after Vic Wertz, Cleveland is listening but insists upon Jim Piersall in return.

—Gabe Paul of the Redlegs says "we'll trade anyone but everybody keeps asking about Johnny Temple and he comes very high."

—The Phillies have offered the Dodgers a list to choose from that includes Willie Jones in return for rookie second baseman George (Sparky) Anderson.

Thomas Deal Hotter
The hottest deal at the moment, however, appears to be the one involving Thomas and Podres. Pittsburgh long has been after a stand-out left-handed pitcher — and the one who appeals to the Pirates most is Podres, who had a 13-15 record in the seventh-place Dodgers this year.

Gators Score 107 To Rout Erskine

GAINESVILLE (UPI)—The University of Florida dumped in 107 points to open the 1958-59 basketball season with a lopsided victory over Erskine College of South Carolina.

A crowd of 2,500 saw the Gators beat their Carolina visitors Monday night 107-61. Florida meets Georgia Wednesday night in another home game.

Forward Frank Etheridge and center Bobby Sherwood each scored 15 points to pace the Gators in helping build up a 13-21 lead by halftime.

Capt. Maurice Phillips scored 15 points to lead Erskine's attack.

Blue Grass Bowl Invites Seminoles

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—Oklahoma State and Florida State, two teams with identical records but widely varying backgrounds, were matched today in meet in the first Blue Grass Bowl football game here Dec. 13.

Oklahoma State, a "novice" member of the Big Eight Conference, and Florida State, a beach but fast-climbing Southern independent, each completed the season with seven victories and three defeats to earn the bowl bid—the third for the Cowboys but the first for the Seminoles.

Owens' Mark Stands

NEW YORK (UPI)—Leone Owens, one-time U. S. triple Olympic champion, owns the world track and field record that has been standing the longest—his mark of 26 feet, 8 1/2 inches for the broad jump set on May 25, 1935.

Boy, 12, Describes Rescue By Firemen

EDITORS NOTE—Tommy Raymond, 12, a seventh grader, was trapped for 20 minutes in his second floor classroom at Our Lady of Angels' School. Here is his story.

By TOMMY RAYMOND
As Told To UPI
CHICAGO (UPI)—I hesitated on the window sill thinking about jumping—and how I would look dead—when firemen shouted to me to wait and they'd save me. Most of my other classmates had got out and I was the last one. But when I walked into the hall the smoke was so thick I ran back into the room. I ran to a window in the room and threw some books out through the glass to break the window. Its funny, but I remember the books—my reader and some text books.

After the window broke I got on the sill and began thinking about jumping. That's when the firemen down below started shouting at me not to jump, but they'd come and get me. So I got back off the sill.

Now that I think back to when it started, I remember we were having a singing lesson. We didn't know anything about the fire until all of a sudden we heard a lot of screams. We couldn't make out what the screams were for a moment, then we knew it was the eighth graders yelling, "Fire, fire, fire."

We started leaving the room like we had practiced in fire drills. You know we had two or three fire drills already this winter because this is an old school and somebody always figured it was going to burn down some day.

For a while I was all by myself in the room and then some girls came running in. They were from another room. I yelled at them to lie down on the floor, because that's what I remember from fire drills to do when there's a lot of smoke.

The girls said kids from other rooms were hanging on one another's belt to form a line to get to the stairs because the smoke had made it as dark as night on the second floor. A man came running through the door and we could see flames on the other side of the building. The man grabbed a few girls and led them back out with him.

But I stayed by the window, and I was scared. Then the firemen came up and led me down the ladder.

I'm sorry about all the others

Top-Ranked Teams Win Cage Openers

By TIM MURPHY
United Press International
The first returns of the new college basketball season indicated Kentucky, Cincinnati, Kansas State and West Virginia are ready to pick up where they left off last March.

Although Coach Archibald Rupp used three sophomores in his starting lineup, Kentucky's defending NCAA champions opened their campaign Monday night by rolling to a convincing 91-63 victory over Florida State.

Cincinnati, led by All-American Oscar Robertson, 41 points, breezed to a 93-41 triumph over Indiana State. Bob Hooper totaled 45 points as Kansas State turned back Purdue, 96-83, and West Virginia, voted the No. 1 team in the nation by the UPI Board of Coaches at the end of last season, opened with a 76-67 victory over Furman.

Rupp Not Pleased
Kentucky got off to a slow start against Florida State but managed to open a five-point lead at halftime and then smothered the Seminoles in the second half. Johnny Cox, the lone holdover from last season's starting five, led the Wildcats with 27 points. Rupp, who admitted he did a poor job of substituting in the

Compromise Seen On Space Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Reports circulated today the Army has agreed to a compromise of the proposed transfer of its top missile scientists to the new civilian space agency.

The compromise, according to the reports, will be submitted to President Eisenhower's National Aeronautics and Space Council at a White House meeting Wednesday.

The agreement, in effect, would relieve the council of the task of resolving the issue raised when the new National Aeronautics and Space Administration asked for transfer to its payroll of Dr. Werner von Braun and nearly 2,100 other Army scientists at Huntsville, Ala., and Pasadena, Calif. The Army strenuously objected.

Just how the dispute was settled was not clear, but sources said the Army has approved an agreement which also is satisfactory to NASA.

The Army was known to be willing to permit the scientists to devote almost full time to the civilian agency's space projects, provided they retained their Army identity.

Von Braun himself objected to the transfer mainly on the ground that it would break up a scientific team that has developed some of the country's most important missiles and that launched the successful Explorer satellite.

Requests Soaring For New Tax Year

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—State officials say budget requests for the next biennium are running nearly 23 per cent ahead of funds provided in the current two-year period. And a few more budgets are yet to come in.

Budget Director Harry Smith said requests so far total a staggering $684,411,692 to operate state agencies, institutions and schools.

That's $127,619,781 more than was appropriated for the same purposes in 1957.

Budget for new construction total $102,790,261, but may run another 25 million dollars or so.

Requests have not been filed for buildings for existing and four proposed new junior colleges, the state hospital, South Florida Mental Hospital, Livestock Board.

The last Legislature appropriated 100 million dollars for buildings, but a financial pinch forced the Budget Commission to cut off some 42 million dollars.

The Budget Commission begins hearings Dec. 17, and is expected to make several cuts to get requests within anticipated revenues from present taxes.

Most legislators are pledged to vote against new taxes next year and the Commission said it will submit a "balanced budget," leaving the final decision to the Legislature.

Nixon Takes Over Rebuilding Of GOP

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, pointing at the presidency in 1960, labored today at shoring up the Republican Party structure in his own vineyard.

Post-election forecasts that Nixon would take over the GOP organization in the wake of its Nov. 4 debacle bore first fruit in a series of huddles with California Republican leaders here.

Nixon met individually with 15 county and state leaders from his home state at his office Monday. Then he conferred with the entire group until midnight at his home. He invited GOP State Chairman George Milias and his 14 associates to dinner.

Milias who said the group didn't even discuss presidential aspirations with Nixon, reported the talks resulted in a Republican organizational program for California.

Nixon's action made it clear he intends to be a takeover party leader in his own state, at least to the extent this is satisfactory to his fellow-Republicans. Milias said he had asked the vice president to confer with the state leaders.

It has been clear since the congressional elections that Nixon would have to assert his own leadership and shore up the GOP in his home state in advance of the Republican national convention in 1960.

When an invading germ or virus attacks your body a war begins. If your body senses that it is losing, it asks for help. You may become unusually tired, have persistent pains or other troublesome symptoms. Any delay can make the battle hard to win. Home remedies, that only treat symptoms, may mask the real cause and permit the illness to gain a strong hold. Acceptance Is Greatest Gift, Psychologist Says

"Acceptance is the greatest gift one individual can give another," Dr. Melvin I. Reid told the Southside School PTA last night.

The imminent child psychologist added that "an individual's self-confidence can be restored if someone else will accept him as he is, imperfections and all."

Reid centered his talk around the question, "What Can We Do As Parents To Prepare Our Children For Better Learning?" In this respect he pointed out that the important fact is how a child feels about learning, emphasizing that parents should help him want to learn.

Love, importance and significance, and security were established by the speaker as the basic emotional needs of all children.

"If we love a child, we respect him as an individual, yet we forget this fact constantly," said the speaker, as he pointed out the numerous variances in the development of children.

"Parents should dwell on the individual needs of a child rather than the problem created by the child because of his needs," said Reid, as he urged parents to consider the motive for a child's behavior.

Reid, chief psychologist consultant for the Bureau of Mental Health for Florida, declared that a child does not "rebel" until he is ready, and that it might well be "children learn in spite of parents, rather than because of them." However, he declared that anyone who can provide the aforementioned emotional needs can "raise kids."

He urged parents to show the same amount of interest in all of the children's activities, rather than putting emphasis on one specific point. "A child who lives in fear of failure cannot do his best," he said.

He urged his audience to be "the kind of parents children will confide in."

Dr. Reid's appearance here was arranged by Mrs. Bill Kirk, program chairman of Southside PTA. Program co-chairman, Bill Kirk, thanked the speaker and also announced the meeting of March 5 when Mrs. Beth Johnson, tripartite, will be the guest speaker.

2,000 Fight Blaze In Movie Colony; 40 Homes Burned

MALIBU, Calif. (UPI)—Two thousand men today fought a roaring brush fire that scorched 15,000 acres of valuable watershed and destroyed some 40 homes, including the ranch home of actor Lew Ayres.

Movie personalities joined their neighbors in putting valuable brush from their homes in the hills near this fashionable beach resort city. The flames that broke out Tuesday swept in every direction on gusty winds that reached 60 miles an hour. At least nine fire-fighters were hurt, four seriously.

The jagged Pacific Coast highway bisecting the Malibu movie colony was jumped by the fire that spread rapidly along, touching off spectacular flames when eroded telephone poles and tattered ancient oaks were reached. The poles burned like 60-foot matchsticks, the gnarled oaks virtually exploded.

Actor and sometime child star Jackie Coogan passed up his local television show Tuesday night to assist in the threatened home and help his neighbors as voluntary fire aides.

More than 2,000 residents of homes in the Santa Monica Mountains some 25 miles northwest of Los Angeles were evacuated to schools, Red Cross emergency control points and facilities set up by civil defense units.

Leslie A. Winters, running without opposition in Ward 3, received 159 votes.

John C. Wolf defeated Clifton Lee Burneman in Ward 4, 109-62.

Frank B. Gerhardt was appointed incumbent Bill M. York a close race in the special election to fill the unexpired term of Harry H. Brown. York received 90 votes, Gerhardt, 81.

The newly-elected councilmen will take office on Jan. 12, 1959.

In a Monday election, Donald W. Wilson went back into the mayor's office in Casselberry, defeated incumbent J. D. Bryant, 211-208. Thus, Wilson beat the man who beat him in 1957.

In other races, Mrs. Lillian Bessel defeated incumbent town clerk Mrs. Frances Allen, 255-191.

In a statement today, Baker said he was "very happy" at the outcome of the Sanford election. He pledged his "very best efforts" during his term and thanked the voters for their support.

'Bomber' Urged Rabbi Be 'Strung Up'

ATLANTA (UPI)—A witness testified today that George Allen Bright, on trial in the bombing of the Jewish Temple here, once said "we ought to string one of them up" when he heard that the Temple rabbi was to speak at a Baptist church.

Bright was the first of five men to go on trial in Superior Court for the October blast that caused more than $100,000 damage to the Temple on Atlanta's famed Peachtree Street.

Bright's next door neighbor, Richard Carl Johnston, testified that the defendant came to his house in August and showed him an advertisement stating that Jacob Rothschild would speak at the First Baptist Church in Atlanta.

Johnston said Bright told him: "None of us want Negroes in school, and now they are trying to put Jews in church."

Abandoned Project

Johnston quoted Bright as saying that "a bunch of us" planned to break up the First Baptist meeting and asked if he wanted to go along.

The witness said he told Bright he did not want to participate.

whereupon his visitor told him that "what we ought to do is string one of them up."

Rothschild and his wife were earlier witnesses today.

The rabbi said Bright came to the Baptist church meeting and asked him questions. Mrs. Rothschild testified about receiving a threatening call about dynamite in her home. She said the caller, who she thought she could identify, told her "she had five minutes to save her life."

The call came after the Temple was bombed. The rabbi sent his children away from home as a result, but he and his wife "slight there safely through the night."

The Rev. William A. Smith, assistant pastor of the Baptist church, testified that Rothschild was invited to speak last May 28 during a series of "great religious of the world."

Smith said Bright told him following the service, "I recent having a Christ - killing Jew speaking in a Christian church."

Smith said he advised Bright to go home and the man left.

'Beeps' Bothering Tracking Station; Could Be Red Moon

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (UPI)—Lockheed space scientists admitted today they were puzzled at the origin of a Sputnik-like signal picked up last week by their satellite tracking instruments.

The source of the signal coincided with a report by Frank Bergant, a member of President Eisenhower's scientific advisory team, that the Russians had fired a missile which bypassed the moon.

Bergant, speaking in Pittsburgh Tuesday said he believed the Soviet satellite "could probably be tracked on its way past Mars into the asteroid belt."

Their instruments picked up the signal for a 10-minute period beginning at 2:35 p.m. Nov. 20 on a frequency of 20,000 megacycles. Sputnik I, which burned up shortly after its launching late last year, transmitted on 20,000 megacycles.

Bergant said he believes that the Soviets launched a satellite missile which bypassed the moon on Sept. 24.

He said that on Sept. 24 a tracking post at Cape Canaveral, Fla., picked up signals for a three-hour period. He said these signals were beamed on 40,000 megacycles.

But Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Vanguard project, said in Washington that "as far as we know there is nothing" to report the Soviets have a new rocket in space. A spokesman at the Naval Research Laboratory said no radio signals or other reports from a rocket were received by this country's 11 tracking stations around the world.

Drive Continued By Concert Group

The membership drive of the Mutual Concert Association continues through this week.

Results of a meeting Monday showed only half of the tickets needed for the program have been sold.

The Winter Music Festival will feature three performances by nationally known artists. This is the only cultural program brought to Sanford by any group. The selections were made by the committee to appeal to all age groups.

The "Chanticles," Nelson and Neal piano team and Dance Drama were chosen because of their popularity with people who prefer semi-classical and modern entertainment.

Workers still are calling those who bought memberships last year. They will be contacted before the week is out. Those who have not bought in the past, or new members, are asked to call Mrs. F. Cooper Felt 2-0481 or Mrs. Don Fletcher 2-4060.

Frank Mebane Jr., chairman of the Association said, "This is a community project, as much as the United Fund or the Committee of 100. The Winter Music Festival is proof to those interested in this area that we do have planned functions for entertainment. Five dollars for a membership is very inexpensive, and the money will be repaid many times in pleasure."

LONDON (UPI)—One thing Frederick Tuttle and his late wife didn't talk about was money.

Tuttle, an 86-year-old pensioner, gave his wife half his pension because he thought she was poor. She thought he was rich. He wasn't, but she was.

The court awarded him another 20 pounds a week.
