"Girl of the Double Cross"
Peter Hale, wealthy young gentleman of leisure is thwarted in a bold attempt to discover the identity of the girl branded with the mark of the Double Cross in the second episode of Pathe's feature serial, "Mystery of the Double Cross," which will be shown at the Lyric Theatre Saturday. Driven to desperation by the perplexing problem, Peter resolves through force to learn if Philippa Brewster, daughter of Hubert Brewster, is the mysterious lady of the ship, with a double cross branded on her right arm.

Peter's inheritance of his father's estate depends upon his marriage to this girl who, his father's will stated, is perfect in mind and body and who has been trained to be his mate. In Philippa Brewster, he believes he has found the girl. However, she puzzles him by accepting his attentions at one time permitting him to caress and fondle her, and the next meeting denying with a great show of indignation that she knows what he is talking about.

After several experiences of this sort, Peter met Miss Brewster in the garden of her father's country estate where he had hurried after overhearing the plot of Bridget Bentley, social gangster, to get an option on the land which he had learned was of tremendous value, which old man Brewster did not realize. He seized the girl in his arms, declaring he would see for himself whether or not she had the peculiar brand on her arm. He was struggling to tear away the sleeve of his right arm when he found himself staring into the muzzle of a gun held in the hands of a masked figure in the dress of a boy, with cap pulled down over his face.

"Don't ever do that again, Peter," the Stranger warned. "In skill she will beat you every time. In force she will win. Through love alone can you win. Philippa is not the girl you seek."

—Before Peter recovered his senses, both Philippa and the Stranger had disappeared.

Earlier the same evening, Peter had seen the Stranger entering Philippa's room. He burst open the door and to his amazement found only Miss Brewster there, smiling at him bewitchingly. She coaxed him to sit beside her on the couch and, caressing him fondly told him of her love.

"You love me, Peter?" she asked and as he smiled his answer she continued: "Then know this: I love you, too. I have loved you ever since—never mind! Only trust me, Peter—no matter what. Promise me you will trust me."

But Peter soon had cause to regret his promise, for immediately after he left his room the door opened and the Stranger came out. Infuriated Peter rushed at him and found himself in a heap at the bottom of the stairs, Philippa Brewster by the little figure of the Stranger. His second encounter with the mysterious Stranger in the garden left him utterly bewildered. Lyric Saturday.

Louise Huff and Jack Pickford
Louise Huff was born in Columbus Ga., and her acquaintance with ocean steamships is rather slight.

During the filming of "What Money Can't Buy," the Lasky-Paramount adaptation of George Broadhurst's play in which she and Jack Pickford, supported by Theodore Roberts will be seen at the Star tonight there are some scenes where Miss Huff is in the cabin of a yacht. The cabin was built on the stage at the Lasky Studio on huge rockers to imitate the roll of the boat. Miss Huff as she stepped up on the scene failed to notice how it was to be manipulated when all of a sudden the cabin began to rock. She stopped and shrieked, "Oh my! there is an earthquake!" When it was explained to her that it was simply the action of the boat she refused to be convinced that any one could get seasick undergoing such a delightful motion. A few minutes later it was noticed that the Huff complexion was beginning to take on a faint tinge of green. A moment later she dashed from the stage in the direction of her dressing room. Mr. Lou Telegen, the director, and the rest of the company knew that she was convinced.

A sort of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde story, that is thoroughly modern and that has a satisfactory ending is told in the "Brand of Satan," the new World Picture Brady Made which introduces Montagu Love as a star and which has a notable cast including Gerda Holmes, Evelyn Greeley and Albert Hart. Mr. Love is seen in the role of a man who is kind hearted and lovable when he is normal but who is the "Czar" of a gang of yeggmen when he is abnormal. Thrills abound in this production. Interest climbs rapidly to the smashing climax. See "The Brand of Satan" at the Lyric Theatre tonight.

"An Old Fashioned Young Man"
A transcontinental play is "An Old Fashioned Young Man," the Triangle picture starring Robert Harron, which will be presented at the Star Theatre Saturday. The company of players traveled from the Pacific to the Atlantic for the purpose of staging scenes of this play in the actual localities in which they were supposed to be enacted. The route included El Paso, New Orleans, Atlanta, Washington, New York city, Boston, thence back to Los Angeles.

Robert Harron is seen as a young man reared in the manner of the old-fashioned school, the chief precept of which was courtesy and respect for all women. Robert goes to a city and there, becomes involved with some unscrupulous politicians who attempt to malign a woman and a girl who is supposed to be her foster daughter. The boy will not countenance these slanderous moves and goes over to the other faction, which is supporting the woman for mayor of the town. In order to gain evidence proving her innocence and the legality of her foster daughter's birth Harron has to travel to New Orleans and then to New York. A gang of the opponent's hirelings try to stop him, and their attempts cause some exciting episodes along the route. At one point an adventure, played by Adele Clifton attempts to practice her arts upon him, but to no purpose. Upon establishing the good character of the woman the boy is astounded to learn that she is his mother.

Introducing Montagu Love as a star, "The Brand of Satan," the latest World Picture Brady Made will be seen tonight at the Lyric Theatre. Mr. Love has been doing splendid work in World Pictures for some time and his elevation to stardom is simply a recognition of his wonderful attainments. The drama selected for the first starring vehicle is unforgettable. It tells the story of a man who has two natures—in one he is thoroughly likeable and kind-hearted, in the other he is cruel and vindicative and becomes the leader of a gang of yeggmen. In this latter condition he accidentally meets his father under the strangest of circumstances. Mr. Love is supported by an all star cast including Gerda Holmes, Evelyn Greeley and Albert Hart.

At Star Monday
George Beban, the celebrated Metro Pallas star who will be seen at the Star Monday in one of his famous Latin characterizations, "The Cook of Canyon Camp" is seen as the cook in a lumber camp in the Canadian woods, and his greatest culinary achievement is making "flapjacks." His ambition is to own the most beautiful "flapjack" restaurant in the world where men and women in evening clothes will perch on stools about his griddle and delight themselves with toothsome morsels, then in token of their appreciation make him very valuable presents. It is one of the most unusual and cleverly done bits ever seen on the screen.

The Lyric Theatre takes pleasure in announcing the appearance tonight of Montagu Love in "The Brand of Satan," the latest World Picture Brady Made, with an all star cast including Gerda Holmes, Evelyn Greeley and Albert Hart.

"The Duchess of Doubt"
Society people of several large American cities appear in the support of Emmy Wehlen in "The Duchess of Doubt," the five part

Metro wonderplay presented by B. A. Rolfe and directed by George D. Baker to be shown at the Star Theatre Tuesday. Many of the scenes for this comedy drama of the screen were made in famous winter resorts of Florida, at Palm Beach, St. Augustine and Jacksonville, and guests at the fashionable hotels showed the greatest interest in the production. Many of them acted as "extra people" in the great ball room scene and in other scenes where ensembles are used. Mr. Baker found them easy to direct, willing and anxious to obey instructions and they have added much to the distinction of many of the scenes in "The Duchess of Doubt."

Emmy Wehlen as Clover Ames in this feature screen play is mistaken for a Duchess, and decides to enjoy the attention that a real Duchess would receive. She has fashionable society at her feet. One of her "slaves" is a young man who boldly proclaims that he is nothing but a ribbon clerk. However, he isn't and that fact forms the foundation for one of the most attractive stories yet produced by Metro.

Will Raise $1,000,000 War Fund
The Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus has assessed each member $2.00 to collect $1,000,000 war fund. This money is to be used by the Knights to supply places of recreation and other amusements to the soldiers of the Catholic faith at the various military cantonments, so as to lure our soldiers away from influences that might weaken their physical and moral fiber. The campaign to raise the money has begun, and all Catholics are expected to give their aid.

4. Send your notice of appeal (Form 151 or 152) to the district board.
5. Do this within ten days from the day when notice that your name was certified to the district board was posted and mailed.

Remember:
1. You can only appeal the final order of the board exempting or discharging or refusing to exempt or discharge you. You cannot appeal other orders or action of the local board.

XIII—Proving Your Appeal
You have five days after the district board receives your notice that you have filed a claim of appeal in which to file evidence additional to that filed by you in the local board, but all such evidence must consist of affidavits.

XIV—Decisions on Appeal
The decision on your appeal must be made within five days of the closing of proof, and you will be notified by mail of the action of the board on your appeal.

XV—Claims for Discharge on Industrial Grounds

Remember that you have been called for military service and that the certificate of the district board is only conditional on your remaining in the kind of industrial service on account of which you were discharged. No such exemption shall continue when a charge therefor no longer exists and your certificate of discharge may be withdrawn or modified by the district board at any time that the district board shall determine that the circumstances require it.

XVIII—Appeals of Industrial Claim to the President

As soon as your case is finally disposed of the adjutant general of your state will notify you by mail that you have been selected for military service.

Your local boards will post a list of all persons selected for military service in a place at the office of the local boards accessible to public view. The local board will also give lists of persons selected for military service to the press with requests for publication.

XX—Notice that you have been selected for military service will not necessarily order you into service. The notice to report for military service will come when the government is ready to receive you.

Emptying a Bottle.
Water or any other liquid cannot flow from a bottle in a steady stream because until the bottle is empty there is a continuous struggle between the tendency of the liquid to fall from the bottle and the rushing of the air to get in. When a full bottle without a cork is turned upside down there will be an alternate realization of two operations—the liquid to follow the attraction of gravitation and the air to obey its natural impulse to fill a void.

How "Rubbers" Were Produced.
"Rubbers," as Americans have named them, were the invention of Charles Goodyear, father of the machine that helped produce the Goodyear well machine. In 1833 it was found that India rubber, dissolved in turpentine and mixed with lampblack, would give a waterproof surface to leather. But the leather so treated was subject to atmosphere changes, heat causing it to melt and cold to crack. Mr. Goodyear mixed sulphur with the other combination and produced rubber.

Retrospection.
"Your nephew, the horse doctor, who once distinguished himself by eloping with the two-headed girl at the fair, is a candidate for the legislature, is he not?" "Eh-yah!" replied the venerable Missourian. "When a fellow once gets well started down the hill he just natcherly goes from bad to worse, and there ain't no stopping him."—Kansas City Star.

Railway Traffic in Britain.
Although British railroads rank fourth among the nations in regard to mileage, they carry more passengers every year than are carried in any other country.

J. Fred DeBerry is out for congress and says that one term is all that he wants which is a very modest request even for Fred. And speaking of Fred's campaign reminds us that you can never tell about politics and Fred is liable to land a political job yet. Who knows?

Just been reading Editor Benjamin's story in the Ocala Star about the trains that come and go and if it is true that old patriot is not sleeping at all. We hereby call attention to the fact that he is not only violating the eight hour law but he is trying to run trains as well as a newspaper, which is also a direct violation of the rules. But it was good reading and Benjamin endows some of those engines with human tendencies and the taking away of some of the trains will no doubt break his heart and disturb his two hours of sleep.

Municipal ownership in Sanford is many years off as yet but it is not too early to begin talking about it and having a campaign of education regarding the benefits to be derived from the public ownership of all utilities. The first step will be a commission form of government and then the idea of municipal ownership can be taken up. And when it is taken up it will be by the taxpayers for it is the property owners that vote for bonds and the property owner that will eventually start the matter of municipal ownership and carry it through. It is easy enough for the man with no property to talk about bonds when he is not forced to pay for these improvements but the taxpayer wants to know just where and how this money is to be raised and how it is to be spent. Therefore all this talk on the side lines is time wasted and is only done for the personal aggrandizement of certain individuals who are looking for something.

INSIST ON WEIGHT
The Herald has suggested to interested housewives that there might be a great saving in the matter of ice if each one would insist on full weight and see that the amount of ice called for by the ticket is delivered to the family ice box.
An incident, right in line, is related to this paper. A lady observing that the piece of ice brought in by the iceman seemed small for the fifty pounds she had ordered, directed the man to take it back to the wagon and weigh it. She accompanied him to verify the weight.

It was found that the 50-pound piece of ice, and for which a 50-pound ticket would have been exacted, weighed exactly 32 pounds. Quite a shrinkage, had it not been for the watchful woman who believed her own eyes rather than the assertion of the iceman that the chunk was full weight.

A short telephone conversation with headquarters brought about an instant adjustment of the matter and full weight was delivered.

That same thing can be done in every case, if people will exercise only ordinary watchfulness and insist on their rights.—Miami Herald.

JUST TO BE "IN STYLE"

Just to be in harmony with everything else, probably, our dear friends who arbitrarily fix the insurance rates have ordered a general increase in the rates for Tampa. As told in yesterday's Tribune, the increase means that the people of Tampa will be called upon to pay many thousands more to the fire insurance companies; and there is no attempt to offer any reasonable excuse for the raise.

We are informed that local conditions have nothing to do with the increase, so it must be considered as one of those arbitrary acts which have so endeared the insurance rate-fixers to the general public. Tampa's fire protection equipment is in better shape than ever before and affords not the slightest pretext for slapping a higher rate upon the people, of this city. The suggestion that the insurance companies had to pay unusually heavy losses for the Atlanta fire may explain something in this direction—perhaps the companies propose to make Tampa and other cities pay for Atlanta's misfortune.

The most inexcusable and indefensible thing in existence in this country is the present method of fixing better insurance rates. As a combination and monopoly for the exploitation of the public, it has all the other trusts and combines beaten to a frazzle—and yet it serenely goes on, without interference from the law. How long must the people suffer?—Tampa Tribune.

Good stuff, Ed. And while you are on the subject you had better speak to your congressman, Hon. H. J. Drane, who is in the insurance business and probably represents more insurance companies than any other man in Florida. Of course we do not blame the high cost of insurance on the agents for they could sell more insurance if the rates were reduced but a man in the position of Congressman Drane could and should do something. And this goes for our own congressman, W. J. Sears who is not in the insurance business but can do his part toward breaking the back of the insurance trust and we expect him to take a shot at them.

GOOD-BYE TO SOCIALISTS

The stampede from the Socialist party continues. The latest renegade of note is Upton Sinclair, the novelist, famous for many services to the party he now repudiates. And in bidding the organization good by he probably renders it the most valuable service of all, in the excellent warning and advice he gives it.

If the party persists in carrying out its declared policy of mass opposition to selective service, says Mr. Sinclair, it will be wiped out.

"If the Socialists," he adds, "had opposed selective service unless conscription of wealth were likewise included, I could have seen some point to their argument, and perhaps could have stood with them in protecting the working class from bearing not only the physical but the financial burdens of this war."

It was really unnecessary for the Socialists to make such a condition, because as matters stand wealth is actually being conscripted for war purposes as much as manhood is. The big war taxes, particularly the increased income and inheritance taxes contemplated are nothing less than wealth conscription. And if it is argued—as it easily may be—that the poor are still subject to as heavy burdens, in proportion to their income, as the rich, attention may be called to the fact that the rich are subject to the selective draft just as much as the poor. A sincere effort is being made to distribute democratically all the burdens of this democratic war: The selective draft is the most democratic burden of all.

It is difficult to understand why any body of men assuming to represent the working class should refuse their cooperation in this great war for human freedom. It is a struggle primarily between them and their kind in some lands. And as Mr. Sinclair says, if Germany be allowed to win, then we in America shall have to drop every other activity and devote the next twenty or thirty years in preparing for a last-ditch defense of this democratic principle. Do the Socialists want to saddle us with such a military burden as that would entail?—Orlando Sentinel.

CRIME OF THE PACIFISTS

We are making history now, my American brother, and this history is going to be written in lines of truth. There will be none of the prejudiced, lying and distorted bunk that has, unfortunately for us all, been in our school histories heretofore; there will be no attempt to blot out any such matters as the Hladensburg affair. A spade is going to be called a spade, hereafter. And just where is the Pacifist going to stand—after the war is over?

Yes, a spade is going to be called a spade, and a Benedict Arnold will be called a Benedict Arnold. The new America, and the new England and France and Russia and Italy are sure to look with contempt towards these traitors and the blood of these traitors. The Pacifists of today is an enemy of world democracy. There will be no place in the future for those persons who sought to put on the shoulders of another generation the task of ridding the world of Prussianism; these persons who still seek, at this late hour, when public sentiment and the righteous wrath of the earth's finest nation is turned righteously against them, to put the sand of cowardice into the machinery of the already slow acting government will be patriots. Yes, patriots. That is a long thought, and it's a thought that deserves your attention—if you have any leanings toward pacifism.

The man who talks peace now, without being willing to fight for peace, is no less than a traitor—provided he is a person of sound mind, either that, or he is in the employment of the German government. Not only is he a traitor to his country, but he is a traitor to himself and to his family and to his friends. He is more than that. He is a coward. A coward as well as a traitor. This is a big thing to say, I know, and I haven't said it without thinking about it. Down here in my neck of the woods it is a serious thing to call a man a coward. One is supposed to be ready to fight, when he calls a man a coward. But I'm not afraid. Pacifists, you know, are pacifists.

There are in America, I am exceedingly sorry to say, some millions of men who think Pacifism and are afraid to declare themselves openly. Yes, millions. For one thing, it wouldn't be good business to openly declare themselves. These men are moral cowards, as well as cowards physically.

"It isn't our fight," they whisper. "It's the fight of those other countries. If the Germans were to come over here, I'd be the among the first to defend my flag."

They haven't any flag and they are liars. That's a strong word, of course; but it's a strong case and it demands the use of strong language. It is their fight. It is democracy's fight, humanity's fight. God Almighty's fight. It is an Armageddon of democracy. The salvation of the world depends wholly upon the outcome of it. The best is loose; the devil is unchained. The right must win; it cannot lose; but the cost of the winning will be heavy unless this strong nation—including, perhaps, some of those who sit among the giants at Washington—think more of utter patriotism and less of party and selfish interests.

The case of the Pacifist is the world old case of the man who wants something for nothing. Peace—a lasting peace, peace, not chained to slavish servitude, peace with human liberty—will never be had for nothing. It must be paid for and paid for in blood. There is no other way. As long as the Hun and the Vandal infest the earth, there is no other way.

Remember this—every man in America is working for his country, or he is working for the Kaiser. If you are not patriotic, then you are working for the Kaiser, the man who set himself up as a sort of partner with the Almighty, the man who countenanced all the unpeepable outrages of Belgium.

Whom are you serving?—Hapsburg Liebe of the Vigilantes.

Rate Increase
At a meeting yesterday of the special committee appointed recently to appear before the railroad commission in protest against the proposed increase of fifteen per cent in freight rates it was resolved to prepare a brief to be filed with the commission, in as much as the railroads have given notice to hold their petition in abeyance.

The special committee is composed of D. C. Marlowe of Sanford, A. W. Hunnicut of DeLand, A. J. Holworthy of Lakeland and Fred M. Allen of Orlando. All were present at the meeting yesterday, except Mr. Holworthy, whose notification was miscarried in the mails.—Reporter Star.

Affectation.
Affectation is an awkward and forced imitation of what should be genuine and easy, wanting the beauty that accompanies what is natural.—Locke.

Girls Need Martin's Liver Medicine Instead of Calomel

"My experience in work as a trained nurse," said a young woman, "teaches me that young girls are especially subject to constipation simply because they omit or neglect the all-important duty to Nature that should be performed without fail every day."
And then, after they get bilious and headachy, so many of them take that nasty, poisonous calomel that sickens their stomachs and makes them have to stay at home while it acts on them. They would be very much better off if they took a dose or so of Martin's Liver Medicine, a guaranteed vegetable medicine which acts gently on the bowels, without griping or causing loss of time or affecting the appetite. Martin's Liver Medicine is sweet and pleasant to take—a spoonful is usually sufficient in treating a head-ache, constipation, indigestion, sour stomach or bowels. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction. If it doesn't, take the empty bottle to your druggist and get your 50c back.

"I have used calomel and its compounds for liver trouble for years. I have always dreaded taking it because of its violent action, the sickness it invariably causes and the fact that it is a poison. Martin's Liver Medicine is a boon to mankind in that it takes the place of calomel, acts so effectively but so pleasantly, that it is Nature itself. I cannot too highly recommend Martin's Liver Medicine."
—W. T. McDonald, 1109 Oglethorpe Ave., Macon, Ga.
Get a bottle of Martin's Liver Medicine from your druggist. If he hasn't it in stock, he can easily get it for you. Insist upon having it and refuse to accept any substitute. There is no other medicine that is just as good.

SCENIC FLORIDA

DESCRIPTION OF TRIP FROM SANFORD TO LEEBURG
(By Harry L. Brown, in St. Augustine Record)

probably seven out of every ten visitors who come to Florida and who land in Jacksonville extend their journey as far as St. Augustine and possibly down to Ormond and Daytona, and then go back thoroughly convinced that they have "seen all there is to see in Florida." In the meantime in the north every now and then one runs up against a native who says, "Oh yes, I have been all over your state and know all about the flatwoods, the level country and the pine trees." What a pity these people were unable to see Florida as it is. Of course northern Florida is at its best in the early spring and summer; while this applies primarily to the verdure of field, and farm and woodland, it does not exclude consideration of climate.

Thanks to the good roads movement as instituted by the State Good Roads Association and furthered by local organizations, many of the most interesting sections of the state of Florida are now accessible or soon will be to owners of automobiles. Already the highways and byways are avenues that are constantly patronized and enjoyed by motor vehicles, both for business and pleasure. Before next January there will be additional roads available that will prove a revelation to the average auto tourist.

In company with Editor Robert Holly and Business Manager Walter M. Haynes of the Sanford Herald, it was the good fortune of the editor of the Evening Record to make the trip last Saturday by auto from Sanford to Leesburg and return.

One of Seminole county's many splendid brick highways leads westward from Sanford toward the Wekiwa river, which forms the boundary line between Seminole and Lake counties. Up to a short time ago this stretch of some 13 miles was only partially paved, there being a missing link of three and one-half miles; this has just been completed by the J. N. Wilson Construction Company. The old brick paving put down on a sand bed, without grouting as has been done in St. Johns county. The new work is grouted, and of course is much superior to the older method and shows every indication of being permanent. The brick work is nine feet wide but the Seminole county commissioner are proceeding with the placing of a sand clay berm for the protection of the curbing for the widening of the surfaced highway to approximately seventeen feet.

Florida is noted for its many beautiful rivers, but it may confidently be asserted that none is more charming and picturesque than the Wekiwa. The banks are high on either side and are lined with a dense tropical growth; limbs of trees are covered with hanging vines which trail in the clear water. Fishing and hunting in that section are excellent.

Once across the Wekiwa bridge the motorist begins the journey over Lake county's famous "velvet way." This is none other than the modified sheet asphalt paving for which Lake county has become noted. Back a mile or two from the river the first hills are encountered and these increase in height as the motorist speeds westward toward Sorrento and Mt. Dora. The latter town is exceptionally attractive with many beautiful homes, and enjoying as it does an admirable location on the eastern shore of Lake Dora is one of the prettiest and most picturesque communities in all Florida.

It is only five miles further over to Eustis, the home of Col. Clarence E. Woods, presiding genius of the Eustis Lake region. Col. Woods has just moved his excellent newspaper plant into a splendid new home where there is plenty of space and all the facilities that go with an up-to-date print shop. The charms of Eustis are many, and varied but first of all the visitor is impressed with the magnificent highways that run in every direction, all shaded with fine trees that beautify the streets and make the handsome homes appear to even better advantage than they would otherwise. Every property owner seems to vie with his neighbor in making attractive his residence and grounds. Approaching Eustis up hill and down dale one catches vistas of citrus groves fringing sparkling lakes, so numerous in this region of Florida. There are two splendid alternative routes from Eustis to Leesburg, one leading around the southern edge of Lake Eustis through Tavares, and the other skirting the northern shore through Grand Island and between Lakes Eustis, Yale and Griffin. Lake Harris lies over to the southwestward, a magnificent body of water, while of course there are smaller lakes scattered here and there, all adding to the beauty of the landscape.

Leesburg is a prosperous community. It really ought to be called "Leachburg" for Gilbert Leach has through the medium of the real live Leesburg Commercial performed heroic service on behalf of his community. His printing plant is a model of neatness and what is more important, is exceedingly busy, since it is the home of several local publications. The country surrounding Leesburg like that surrounding Eustis is populated with a well to do class of splendid citizens, all patronizing their own stores and industries; as a result prosperity is evident on every hand. The Lees-Board of Trade is a live commercial body that backs up its newspaper and is a real power in the development of that excellent section of Florida.

The completion of the paved highway between Daytona and DeLand and of the bridge at Crow's Bluff across the St. Johns river west of DeLand will afford autoists from the East Coast section of Florida ready access to the delightful lake region and to a section of Florida, the scenery of which has few equals in any part of our country.

In the Sanford section prosperity is everywhere evident. Fortunes were made last winter from the growing of celery for which the Sanford delta is famous. In place of the celery, Sanfordites point with pride to more than eight thousand acres of as fine corn as can be grown in the United States. Numerous silos are to be seen, giving evidence of the growth of the stock raising industry.

Watermelon Pickles
The following are from States Relation Service Doc. 22, Office of Extension Work South:

Preserved Watermelon Rind
Cut 1 pound rind into 1-inch squares. Remove seed and all pink part. Soak over night in lime-water (1 ounce lime to 2 quarts water). The following morning let stand for 2 hours in clear water. Drain well, then drop into boiling water and boil rapidly for 10 minutes. Drain again and add gradually to the sirup (made by boiling together 3 cups sugar, 3 pints water). Add to this the juice of one-half lemon and three extra slices of lemon. Cook until the melon is tender and transparent. Allow to stand until cold, arrange the pieces attractively in the jars, garnishing with slices of lemon. Cover with the sirup testing 50 deg. to 55 deg. Process and seal.

Gingered Watermelon Rind
Follow the same method as for preserves until after rind has been freshened in cold water. Then drain well and boil rapidly for 15 minutes in strong ginger tea (1 ounce ginger to 1 quart water). Finish cooking in a 30 deg. sirup made by using 1 pint strained ginger tea with 1 quart water and 1 1/2 pounds sugar. Cook rapidly until tender and transparent (about 2 hours). After rind has boiled for one-half hour, add one-half lemon, cut into thin slices. Pack and process like preserves.

Peach Marmalade
2 1/2 pounds peaches, cut into small pieces
1 pound sugar
6 whole allspice
1 cracked peach seed
1 inch ginger root
1/2 cup peach juice
1/2 teaspoonful whole cloves
1 teaspoonful cinnamon bark
1 teaspoonful spring mace
(Tie spices in cheesecloth bag.)

Cook all together until thick as marmalade and clear (to 220 deg. F.). Pack hot in hot jars and seal at once. If this is done quickly, having everything very hot, a good seal should result. However, when packing for market, it is far safer to process this jam both to insure sterilization and a tight seal.

Ginger Peas
Use peas not quite ripe, peel, core and cut into thin slices. To 8 pounds of peas, allow 8 pounds sugar, 1 cup of water, juice of 4 lemons. Cut the lemon rinds into thin strips and add them. Also add one-eighth pound of ginger root cut into pieces. Simmer until thick as marmalade. Pack, like peach jam.

The Right One to Question.
"Jimmy, did you take the pennies out of the cup on the table?" I asked my youngest son. "No, mother," said Jimmy, aged five. "You must not tell a story, Jimmy, because God sees everything and you know you can't hide from him." "Ask him who took the pennies, then," was the curt reply.—Cleveland Leader.

We've Noticed It.
Make the best of things as they are. The tug-mothed man can't improve his looks by eating green persimmons.

Good and Bad.
There is a good impulse in the meanest and a mean impulse in the best.

Instructions On Draft Law

RULES THAT ALL REGISTRANTS MUST KNOW

Registrants are urged to call upon the exemption board of their division and ascertain the order in which their number was drawn, which indicates the order in which they stand for call.

According to instructions issued by the office of the provost marshal general when each board calls its quota of men for examination, this call will be posted at the office of the board. A notice will also be mailed to each man called, but the posting of the list at the office of the board will be deemed sufficient notice to charge each man with duty of presenting himself for examination. "The law, therefore," says these instructions, "makes it your duty to inform yourself when you are called. The mailing is for your convenience, but if the letter never reaches you, you cannot make that an excuse."

"Watch the lists at the office of your board and see when you are called for examination."

Other instructions follow:

VI—Physical Examination
You must report for physical examination on the day named in your call.

(a) If you are found physically disqualified the board will give you a certificate which will explain to you what your further duties are.

(b) If you are found physically qualified and file a claim for exemption within seven days after your call you will be given ten days after filing your claim of exemption to file proof of support of your claim of exemption. See (VII) below.

(c) If you are found physically qualified and file no claim for exemption, or if you do not appear for physical examination, your name will be posted to the district board as one who was called for military service and was not exempted or discharged. On the eighth day after call, or within two days thereafter, copies of the list of persons so posted to the district boards will be given to the press with a request for publication, will be posted in a place at the office of the local board accessible to the public view, and notice will be mailed to you at the address on your registration card.

Therefore watch the notice posted in the office of the board about ten days after the day you were called and make arrangements for the prompt receipt of mail.

VII—Seven Days to File Claims
(Except for industrial or agricultural reasons.)

Note:
(a) No claim of discharge on account of the industry in which you are engaged can be decided by a local board. (See Par. XV below.)

(b) Whether you file a claim of exemption or not you must present yourself for physical examination on the day named in the notice.

From the day notice that you are called is mailed and posted you have seven days in which you may file a claim of exemption or discharge. The form for filing this claim is simple. If you wish to file such a claim—

(a) Go to the board and get Form 110 for exemption or Form 121 for discharge. If the board has not the printed forms ask to consult the Form pamphlet and copy the form shown there.

(b) Fill out the proper form and file it with the board.

(c) Do this within seven days of the posting and mailing of notice to you to present yourself.

Grounds for Exemption

The following are the only grounds for exemption:

1. That you are an officer, legislative, executive, or judicial of the United States, a state or territory, or the District of Columbia.

2. That you are a regular or duly ordained minister of religion.

3. That you were on May 18, 1917, a student preparing for the ministry in any recognized theological or divinity school.

4. That you are in the military or naval service of the United States.

5. That you are a subject of Germany, whether you have taken out papers or not.

6. That you are a resident alien who has not taken first papers.

Other Exemption Causes
In addition to claims for exemption claims for discharge may be made on any of the following ground, which are the only grounds for discharge by a local board.

1. That you are a county or municipal officer.

2. That you are a custom house clerk.

3. That you are employed by the United States in the transmission of mails.

4. That you are an artificer or workman employed in an armory, arsenal or any part of the United States.

5. That you are employed in the service of the United States (under certain conditions.) See paragraph (e) of Section 20, Regulations.

6. That you are a licensed pilot regularly employed in the pursuit of your vocation.

7. That you are a mariner actually employed in the sea service of any citizen or merchant within the United States.

8. That you are a married man with a wife or child dependent on you for support.

9. That you have a widowed mother dependent on your labor for support.

10. That you have aged or infirm parents dependent upon your labor for support.

11. That you are the father of a motherless child under 16 years dependent upon your labor for support.

12. That you are a brother of an orphan child or children under 16 dependent on your labor for support.

13. That you are a member of any well recognized religious sect or organization organized and existent May 18, 1917, and whose then existing creed or principles forbade its members to participate in war in any form and whose religious convictions are against war or participation therein in accordance with the creed or principles of said religious organization.

These are the only grounds for exemption or discharge by a local board.

Another person may file a claim in your behalf, but must use different forms in filing the claim.

VIII—Must File Proof

Ten days after filing claim to file proof—Your claim of exemption or discharge must be filed within seven days of the day on which notice to you that you are called was posted and mailed. But after you have filed your claim for exemption or discharge you have ten days within which to file proof.

The method of proving claims is very simple but it is rather exact. If you follow the rules given below you will have done what is required of you.

First. Go to the local board and consult the regulations to find out the former number of the affidavits that you must submit for your particular claim.

Second. Ask the board for the blank affidavits that are necessary in presenting your proof; if the board has not the forms ask to consult the pamphlet of forms.

Third. Have the affidavits properly accomplished and return them to the board within the time limit assigned you—ten days from the filing of your claim.

Remember:

(a) You must submit your proof in the prescribed form and the board has no authority to exempt or discharge you unless you submit all the affidavits required by regulations.

(b) There will be no argument before the board and no proof other than the prescribed affidavits unless the board calls for another proof which it will do only in a limited number of cases.

IX—When Claims Are Decided

Every claim for discharge or exemption will be decided by the local board within three days after your affidavits have been filed.

X—Certificate of Exemption or Discharge

If your claim is allowed a certificate of exemption or discharge will be issued to you.

Remember:
(a) This certificate may be recalled at any time.

(b) If it is temporary or conditional, it becomes of no effect when the time or the condition named are fulfilled.

(c) You have been drawn for military service and when the condition that has postponed your posting to the colors ceases you may be recalled at any time.

(d) Remember that your case may still be appealed to the district board by the government and on this appeal your certificate may be withdrawn at once. When so withdrawn you stand precisely as though you had been selected for military service by the local board.

XI—Adverse Decisions on Claim

If your claim is disallowed by the local board your name will be certified and sent by the local board to the district board as one who has been called for military service and not exempted or discharged. Within two days thereafter if practicable a list of those so certified to the district board will be given to the press with a request for publication, will be posted in the offices of the local board accessible to the public view and notice will be sent to the address on your registration card.

Therefore if you filed a claim for exemption and proof in support thereof watch the notices in the

Buy That Farm Now

Everything points to the next four years as to the period of greatest prosperity for the farmer and truck grower ever known.

The world is clamoring for our food products—must have them.

Money was never before so plentiful to pay for our products.

If ever you would own a farm at Sanford, Buy It Now, before the fall planting season opens and get into the game in time to share in this unusual prosperity.

I have several of the very best farms in the Celery Delta for sale—not "cheap" farms but the best that can be had at Sanford at exceedingly low prices for such farms.

LOOK THESE OVER

10 Acres, all improved and subirrigated, best material, perfect working condition, right at loading track, 1/4 mile off from brick road, will include crops of corn and peas if sold in next ten days. Price $6000.

10 Acres, all improved, one of the very best in the district, $5500. Small payment down and the balance on easy payments that will enable the purchaser to make the farm pay for itself.

10 Acres on Celery Avenue, small house, not all tiled and not a perfect place, but can be made so. Price $4250. and terms.

80 Acres on Celery Avenue. 20 Acres subirrigated, fine residence and several tenant houses. A perfect farm in the best of locations for a home. Price $25000. and terms.

5 Acres on First Street west of town. Fine home, close in. Price $4000.

5 Acres near Beardall Ave. This farm produced the best crops of Celery and Irish Potatoes grown in the vicinity last season. Perfect condition, price $3250.

If you would buy unimproved land I have it from 5 acre tracts to 40 acres at as low as $50 per acre. Lays well, well drained and subject to fine flowing wells. Near loading tracks. Such land can be put in cultivation and subirrigated at much less cost than to buy land already improved. If you have the time it will pay you better to buy this kind.

But the thing to do is to Buy It Now and get busy.
