Last Friday's Game

Swelled up with their signal victory of Thursday the Sanford boys went down to Orlando last Friday imbued with the idea that they could put it all over the boys of the capital city, but they didn't.

Baguwell, the tall sycamore from the Mississippi, occupied the mound for Sanford and although he has been very sick for several weeks and his arm is not in condition he did very well.

Johnny Windham did the heaving for Orlando and about all there is to the thing is the score 4 to 3 in favor of Orlando. Some of the Sanford boys claim that Umpire Davis scored the winning run but we are not making kicks against the umpires this season. You don't win games chewing the rag with the umpire and the boys are ones who are depended upon to win the game. There is much work to do ere the ideas of July when the big noise takes place and our boys must tighten up and play inside ball and play it all the time.

The following is a report of the game from the Orlando Reporter Star:

After being defeated at Sanford Thursday by purely rotten playing, although Sanford put up a good game at the finish holding the boys down, the team going to pieces in the eighth inning, when the score stood eight to three in favor of Orlando. Frank Pounds being about the only man on the team to escape the error mark, the largest crowd of the season journeyed to the Fair Grounds to see the game yesterday afternoon. A careful count of the automobiles, a solid line banking from the grand stand entirely around the field, showed one hundred and six cars and many carriages and buggies, the attendance being estimated between six and seven hundred and this on a day other than a holiday. With both teams very evenly matched, the game from start to finish was exciting in the extreme. A few errors on the part of our players almost caused heart failure, but altogether, the game was very clean and entire void of wrangling of any kind. Mr. Davis for Sanford, and Mr. Jim Pounds for Orlando umpired a splendid game and while some decisions were very close, all were taken with good grace. Sanford has an excellent team and from now to the close of the season the sport loving public can rest assured that they will get their money's worth.

Sanford 9, Orlando 1

Tell it softly and slowly and sweetly! Sanford won the game yesterday in Orlando and the score was 9 to 1 and the great Jimmy Windham was knocked out of the box by the wielders of the willow from the celery fields. Wallace and Burden were the battery for Sanford. Windham and Beardall for Orlando and the game after the first inning was just made up of sounds of the willow against the ball and the Sanford boys running bases. Honestly Manager Spencer was forced to make the boys desert because their tongues were hanging out. Can't give you the details, and they would only weary the reader. Here's hoping Orlando will ginger up courage today to make the game more interesting.

Palatka is to have a new school building to cost about $30,000 and while the plans submitted have not been passed upon by the board of public instruction, it is understood that the choice may be made very soon and a contract awarded in time to complete the building before the year is out.

Miami is now preparing to try oil on some of the streets and with the results observed on county roads, expects that oil will be found of great value in the city also. The county has six miles of oiled roads and it is claimed that they are practically free from dust and preserve their shape and firmness.

The Arcadia news gives the full details of the new court house to be constructed for DeSoto county at Arcadia. It is to be a very fine building, with ground dimensions of 190 by 75 feet, constructed of brick, marble and terra cotta. The cost is expected to be about $80,000 and it will be modern in appointments and large enough to provide for the growth of the county's business for years to come.

Shady, a few miles south of Ocala, was the scene of a murder Monday night in which Mrs. Arndt killed her husband. The shooting followed a very bitter quarrel between the two in which the woman seized a gun and fired a load of shot into her husband's body. Death was instant.

After one of the most remarkable runs ever held in South Florida, Fred Ferman, of Tampa, in a Cadillac 30 touring car, on July Fourth won first money for touring car class, and Harry Land of Bradentown, came first in the roadster class, he making a perfect score for the run from Tampa to Bradentown in one hour, forty-four minutes and twenty-two seconds, with a model 16 Buick. The race was under the auspices of the Tampa and Bradentown Auto Clubs.

Meteor at Gainesville

A meteor of tremendous size passed over Gainesville about 10 o'clock on Tuesday morning, causing considerable excitement as it sped southwesterly at a height of several hundred feet, accompanied by a rumbling noise resembling thunder. Houses shook for an instant, and many believed that an earthquake was upon them. The rumbling noise could be heard for three or four miles, until the meteor disappeared from view. It was plainly visible, and resembled a bright, burning comet. It was fully a minute in view, and reports have reached the city that it fell near Micanopy.

Every politician who wants an office and cannot get it, every man who has an ax to grind wants somebody else to turn the wheel for him; every organization that would promote its own interest at the expense of some other deserving association and is denied the assistance it requires; and every faker who would fool the people, speaks despitely of the press. They claim that the newspapers are "under control", that they are published in this, that or the other interest, and that their influence, so far as they have any influence, is for sale, and a good many people believe it, because it is a human nature to think evil of one's neighbors.

SANFORD BOOSTERS—Taken from Sanford Edition of the Florida Flower, of Tampa

Death of Mrs. Arthur Yowell

One of the saddest deaths that has ever occurred in this city was that of Mrs. Arthur E. Yowell at her home on Oak avenue last Tuesday evening at nine o'clock, after an illness of about five weeks. This sad ending of a beautiful young life has cast a shadow of sorrow over the entire city. Mrs. Yowell who was formerly Miss Miriam Mettinger, has grown to young womanhood in Sanford and was universally loved for her charming personality and beautiful christian character. She was a devoted member of the Methodist church and has been since childhood. From the Sunday school she will be sadly missed, where she was a valued worker, having taught the primary class for years, also as a member of the church choir, where her sweet voice has given much pleasure.

The deceased is survived in Sanford by her grief-stricken husband, Arthur E. Yowell, who is a member of the firm N. P. Yowell & Co.; father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mettinger; two sisters, Misses Beth and Ruth Mettinger, an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Wilson, besides a host of friends who are deeply grieved on account of her sad death.

"God touched him with His finger, and he slept," the poet wrote. So may we say of this dear life—"God touched her with His finger, and she slept," but not until a beautiful life was lived, a noble example of patience, fidelity to truth and faith were given. Not until visions of a heavenly life, in Christ Jesus, had cheered and illumined the valley of the shadow. And now, that she sleeps, memory takes up the harp of life, and smiting the strings, finds that her virtues melt into music. So it ever is, when a life is nobly and divinely lived.

The funeral services were held at the residence at half past one o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. A. Hendry, assisted by Rev. J. F. McKinnon. The remains were taken to Orlando on the afternoon train where the interment was made. The grief-stricken family have the deepest sympathy of their many friends.

Funeral of F. Z. Graves

All that was mortal of Officer F. Z. Graves was laid away last Saturday in the family burying ground at Osteen. The funeral was largely attended and was conducted by Rev. Hendry of the Methodist church. An honorary escort of forty members of the Celery City Aeris of Eagles accompanied the remains to the depot. The pallbearers were W. H. Tillia, G. W. Smith, W. E. Holmes, Herman Hutchinson, C. F. Williams and J. Silver. N. J. Stenstrom headed the escort.

Card of Thanks

Vaccination for Typhoid

Those desiring gratuitous vaccination for the prevention of typhoid fever can secure the treatment by calling at the headquarters of the State Board of Health, 517 Dyal-Upchurch building, on the 5th, 15th and 25th of July and succeeding summer months. Owing to the prevalence of typhoid in many sections of the country, a large number of people are expected to respond.

State Health Officer J. Y. Porter and Assistant Hiram Byrd will see to the vaccination of all who visit the office, the only requirements being that they appear promptly at 10 o'clock and continue through three injections, these being necessary in order to guarantee immunity from the disease. Applicants may begin on any one of the dates above mentioned, but they must promise to take the three necessary injections.

Typhoid vaccination was first tried with success in the British army during the Boer War, and later experiments were made in the United States Army. Success being signal, vaccination is now compulsory in the army.

Dr. Porter inaugurated the plan in Florida last summer, securing supplies of the vaccine for each post of the Board of Health in the State, and expects even better results this year.

Surgeon-General George W. Woodbury, who was Dr. Porter's class mate at West Point, has agreed to furnish him with all the vaccine needed for the State, and all who wish vaccination and are not able to pay for it, are urged to take advantage of the offer.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

Thompson-Butts

Miss Thompson of Astor, Florida and Capt. R. J. Butts, a popular conductor of the A. C. L. were married in Jacksonville the residence of Mrs. M. C. Tolar, Mr. on Wednesday. After a wedding trip the happy couple will reside in this city at and Mrs. Butts have many friends in this section and will receive a hearty welcome upon their return.

Quiet, Same Fourth

Sanford experienced a quiet, same Fourth last Tuesday and while the city was full of visitors there was no noise or rowdiness and even the small boys were not as noisy as usual. The ball games and dance were the only forms of amusement, yet the visitors managed to enjoy the day to the fullest.

Sold Fine Farm

Levi Binford has sold another one of his fine farms, the one known as Indiana, situated near Beck hammock. The purchaser is J. T. Dunn M. D. of Simsville Ky. Dr. Dunn is a prominent Surgeon and when he makes Sanford his home will add much to our already estimable class of professionals.

A Sad Death

A large number of Sanford citizens, were inexpressibly shocked and saddened on Sunday last, to learn of the distressing accident which resulted in the sudden and tragic death of Percy L. Dickins; a brother of Mr. J. W. Dickins and a former resident of Sanford, which occurred in Gainesville, Georgia; Saturday noon.

Mr. Dickins was in the employ of the Southern Railroad and in the discharge of his duties as flagman, was on the caboose of a freight train, as it was backing into Gainesville. In some way, he lost his balance and falling in front of the moving car his bright young life was instantly crushed out by the remorseless wheels.

The family were immediately notified and met the remains at Waycross, Ga., where they were interred Monday afternoon.

Percy lived in Sanford a number of years. He grew to manhood here. After the death of her husband Mr. J. W. Dickins Senior, Mrs. Dickins removed from her home in Enterprise to Sanford when Percy was quite a lad, to be with her three sons, Messrs. W. M., J. W. and J. E. Dickins, who were then in business in Sanford.

Percy's many boyhood friends and scattered now, will be grieved at his untimely death.

He was of a bright, happy genial nature, which won him friends by the score and best of all, he possessed that charm of manner which enabled him to retain his friends. On reaching manhood he entered the store of his brother, W. M. Dickins, then one of Sanford's largest grocers. About five years ago he left Sanford, living in different parts of Florida and Georgia. A short time ago, he left Tampa and went to Atlanta, which was his home; while in the employ of the Southern while in the service of which he lost his life. His friends were expecting a promotion for him in a short time. He made many warm friends in his Georgia home, five of whom accompanied his remains to Waycross.

It cannot fail to be of interest to the Barocca Class in Sanford, to learn that Percy was an enthusiastic member of one of the Barocca classes in Atlanta.

It is always sad to know that death can come to the young and strong and that neither manhood or vigor, can avail.

The sympathy of a host of friends is with the sorrowing mother, who will sorely grieve for her baby boy.

The sisters and brothers, who will mourn the loss of the much loved youngest brother, and the many friends, who will miss a warm hearted, genial comrade.

Percy leaves to mourn his early death his mother, Mrs. E. H. Dickins and sister, Miss Arabella, of Tampa; Mrs. Edgar Powell of Chicago, Messrs. W. M. Charley and Frank Dickins of Tampa; J. W. Dickins of Sanford and R. S. and J. E. Dickins of Waycross, Georgia.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers.

The Southern Commercial Congress announces that it is preparing to open in Washington, on October 1, a permanent exhibit of Southern productions and resources. A floor space of 5,500 square feet, in one great room, will be used in the Southern building. It will be accessible from Fifteenth street, and also from the corridors of the building and will be made one of the points of interest to be seen by all visitors to Washington.

With Washington thermometers registering 107 degrees, the weather record for the season was equalled this week. The official temperature was 98 and the suffering was increased by the humidity. No immediate relief, it was said, is in sight. The weather bureau promises that the coming week will be one of moderate temperature in the South Atlantic and Gulf States and generally over the region west of the Mississippi. High temperatures will prevail the first part of the week in the northern and middle states, east of the Mississippi followed by a change to lower temperature in these districts about Wednesday.

Indications are growing that Congress may conclude its extra session earlier than has been generally expected. Many Senators together with Representatives Underwood and Democratic House leaders, are figuring on the first week of August as a possible adjournment time. The situation, however, is not sufficiently clear to warrant a positive prediction. No understanding has yet been reached for a vote on any of the trio of big measures before the Senate, the Canadian reciprocity bill, whose advocates express complete confidence in its passage, and the wool tariff and free list bills. Senator Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee, proposes, however, to press for unanimous consent to fix dates in quick severance for votes on all three measures.

The loss of more than five hundred lives is to be credited to the general heat wave of July 1 to 5, 1911, which official advisers say will abate sometime tomorrow. The torrid period will be memorable in weather annals for its wide extent, its long duration, its record breaking temperatures in many places and the long list of fatalities which it has caused.

Three lives lost and property damage estimated at $100,000 is the result of the terrific wind and hail storm which swept Wilkes and Lincoln counties in Georgia late Monday, according to reports brought here today. The path of the storm was about four miles wide. Many acres of grain and other crops shared a like fate.

The Japanese naval hero, Admiral Togo, will have no difficulty in viewing everything he cares to see in the New York navy yard, or in any other part of the naval establishment. Although a regulation of long standing prohibits the exhibition to foreign visitors of any of the constructions in the navy yards, this will be gladly suspended by the navy department for the benefit of Admiral Togo. It is expected he will board the giant battleship Florida, now nearing completion in the New York navy yard.

At the Star Theatre

Coronation of King George V, Tuesday, July 11th. The people of Sanford will have an opportunity of witnessing the crowning of the new King of England which it has been said was the most impressive in the history of the Empire.

This is one of the great achievements of motion photography and this magnificent film is being featured in all the large cities of the country. A grand Pageant of ancient splendor, costumes and barbaric beauty. One night only at the Star Theatre. The prices for Matinee will be 5c and 10c, for the evening 10c to all.

Notice To The Public

All bills due the Sanford Herald on or before June 30th are payable to me and hereafter no bill will be traded out on The Herald by any one connected therewith. Bills due to me must be settled at once as I am anxious to square up all the outstanding indebtedness.

One of the saddest deaths that has ever occurred in this city was that of Mrs. Arthur E. Yowell at her home on Oak avenue last Tuesday evening at nine o'clock, after an illness of about five weeks. This sad ending of a beautiful young life has cast a shadow of sorrow over the entire city. Mrs. Yowell who was formerly Miss Miriam Mettinger, has grown to young womanhood in Sanford and was universally loved for her charming personality and beautiful christian character. She was a devoted member of the Methodist church and has been since childhood. From the Sunday school she will be sadly missed, where she was a valued worker, having taught the primary class for years, also as a member of the church choir, where her sweet voice has given much pleasure.

The deceased is survived in Sanford by her grief-stricken husband, Arthur E. Yowell, who is a member of the firm N. P. Yowell & Co.; father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Mettinger; two sisters, Misses Beth and Ruth Mettinger, an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Wilson, besides a host of friends who are deeply grieved on account of her sad death.

"God touched him with His finger, and he slept," the poet wrote. So may we say of this dear life—"God touched her with His finger, and she slept," but not until a beautiful life was lived, a noble example of patience, fidelity to truth and faith were given. Not until visions of a heavenly life, in Christ Jesus, had cheered and illumined the valley of the shadow. And now, that she sleeps, memory takes up the harp of life, and smiting the strings, finds that her virtues melt into music. So it ever is, when a life is nobly and divinely lived.

The funeral services were held at the residence at half past one o'clock, conducted by Rev. J. A. Hendry, assisted by Rev. J. F. McKinnon. The remains were taken to Orlando on the afternoon train where the interment was made. The grief-stricken family have the deepest sympathy of their many friends.

Funeral of F. Z. Graves

All that was mortal of Officer F. Z. Graves was laid away last Saturday in the family burying ground at Osteen. The funeral was largely attended and was conducted by Rev. Hendry of the Methodist church. An honorary escort of forty members of the Celery City Aerio of Eagles accompanied the remains to the depot. The pallbearers were W. H. Tillis, G. W. Smith, W. E. Holmes, Herman Hutchinson, C. F. Williams and J. Silver. N. J. Stenstrom headed the escort.

Vaccination for Typhoid

Those desiring gratuitous vaccination for the prevention of typhoid fever can secure the treatment by calling at the headquarters of the State Board of Health, 517 Dyal-Upchurch building, on the 5th, 15th and 25th of July and succeeding summer months. Owing to the prevalence of typhoid in many sections of the country, a large number of people are expected to respond.

State Health Officer J. Y. Porter and Assistant Hiram Byrd will see to the vaccination of all who visit the office, the only requirements being that they appear promptly at 10 o'clock and continue through three injections, these being necessary in order to guarantee immunity from the disease. Applicants may begin on any one of the dates above mentioned, but they must promise to take the three necessary injections.

Typhoid vaccination was first tried with success in the British army during the Boer War, and later experiments were made in the United States Army. Success being signal, vaccination is now compulsory in the army.

Dr. Porter inaugurated the plan in Florida last summer, securing supplies of the vaccine for each post of the Board of Health in the State, and expects even better results this year.

Surgeon-General George W. Taylor, who was Dr. Porter's class mate at West Point, has agreed to furnish him with all the vaccine needed for the State, and all who wish vaccination and are not able to pay for it, are urged to take advantage of the offer.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

Thompson-Butts

Miss Thompson of Astor, Florida and Capt. R. J. Butts, a popular conductor of the A. C. L. were married in Jacksonville the residence of Mrs. M. C. Tolar. Mr. on Wednesday. After a wedding trip the happy couple will reside in this city at and Mrs. Butts have many friends in this section and will receive a hearty welcome upon their return.

Quiet, Same Fourth

Sanford experienced a quiet, sane Fourth last Tuesday and while the city was full of visitors there was no noise or rowdiness and even the small boys were not as noisy as usual. The ball games and dances were the only forms of amusement, yet the visitors managed to enjoy the day to the fullest.

Sold Fine Farm

Levi Blanford has sold another one of his fine farms, the one known as Indiana, situated near Beck hammock. The purchaser is J. T. Dunn M. D. of Simsville Ky. Dr. Dunn is a prominent Surgeon and when he makes Sanford his home will add much to our already estimable class of professionals.

A Sad Death

A large number of Sanford citizens, were inexpressibly shocked and saddened on Sunday last, to learn of the distressing accident which resulted in the sudden and tragic death of Percy L. Dickins, a brother of Mr. J. W. Dickins and a former resident of Sanford, which occurred in Gainesville, Georgia; Saturday noon.

Mr. Dickins was in the employ of the Southern Railroad and in the discharge of his duties as flagman, was on the caboose of a freight train, as it was backing into Gainesville. In some way, he lost his balance and falling in front of the moving car his bright young life was instantly crushed out by the remorseless wheels.

The family were immediately notified and met the remains at Waycross, Ga., where they were interred Monday afternoon.

Percy lived in Sanford a number of years. He grew to manhood here. After the death of her husband Mr. J. W. Dickins Senior, Mrs. Dickins removed from her home in Enterprise to Sanford when Percy was quite a lad, to be with her three sons, Messrs. W. M., J. W. and J. E. Dickins, who were then in business in Sanford.

Percy's many boyhood friends and scattered now, will be grieved at his untimely death.

He was of a bright, happy genial nature, which won him friends by the score and best of all, he possessed that charm of manner which enabled him to retain his friends. On reaching manhood he entered the store of his brother, W. M. Dickins, then one of Sanford's largest grocers. About five years ago he left Sanford, living in different parts of Florida and Georgia. A short time ago, he left Tampa and went to Atlanta, which was his home; while in the employ of the Southern while in the service of which he lost his life. His friends were expecting a promotion for him in a short time. He made many warm friends in his Georgia home, five of whom accompanied his remains to Waycross.

It cannot fail to be of interest to the Baracca Class in Sanford, to learn that Percy was an enthusiastic member of one of the Baracca classes in Atlanta.

It is always sad to know that death can come to the young and strong and that neither manhood or vigor, can avail. The sympathy of a host of friends is with the sorrowing mother, who will sorely grieve for her baby boy.

The sisters and brothers, who will mourn the loss of the much loved, youngest brother, and the many friends, who will miss a warm hearted, genial comrade.

Percy leaves to mourn his early death his mother, Mrs. E. H. Dickins and sister, Miss Arabella, of Tampa; Mrs. Edgar Powell of Chicago, Messrs. W. M. Courley and Frank Dickins of Tampa; J. W. Dickins of Sanford and R. S. and J. E. Dickins of Waycross, Georgia.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurrried Readers

The Southern Commercial Congress announces that it is preparing to open in Washington, on October 1, a permanent exhibit of Southern productions and resources. A floor space of 2,500 square feet, in one great room, will be used in the Southern building. It will be accessible from Fifteenth street, and also from the corridors of the building and will be made one of the points of interest to be seen by all visitors to Washington.

With Washington thermometers registering 107 degrees, the weather record for the season was equalled this week. The official temperature was 98 and the suffering was increased by the humidity. No immediate relief, it was said, is in sight. The weather bureau promises that the coming week will be one of moderate temperature in the South Atlanta and Gulf States and generally over the region west of the Mississippi. High temperatures will prevail the first part of the week in the northern and middle states east of the Mississippi followed by a changed to lower temperature in these districts about Wednesday.

Indications are growing that Congress may conclude its extra session earlier than has been generally expected. Many Senators together with Representatives Underwood and Democratic House leaders, are figuring on the first week of August as a possible adjournment time. The situation, however, is not sufficiently clear to warrant a positive prediction. No understanding has yet been reached for a vote on any of the trio of big measures before the Senate, the Canadian reciprocity bill, whose advocates express complete confidence in its passage, and the wool tariff and free lists bills. Senator Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee, proposes, however, to press for unanimous consent to fix dates in quick succession for votes on all three measures.

The loss of more than five hundred lives is to be credited to the general heavy wave of July 1 to 5, 1911, which official advices say will abate sometime tomorrow. The torrid period will be memorable in weather annals for its wide extent, its long duration, its record breaking temperatures in many places and the long list of fatalities which it has cause.

Three lives lost and property damage estimated at $100,000 is the result of the terrific wind and hail storm which swept Wilkes and Lincoln counties in Georgia late Monday, according to reports brought here today. The path of the storm was about four miles wide. Many acres of hail and other crops shared a like fate.

The Japanese naval hero, Admiral Togo, will have no difficulty in viewing everything he cares to see in the New York navy yard, or in any other part of the naval establishment. Although a regulation of long standing prohibits the exhibition to foreign visitors of any of the constructions in the navy yards, this will be gladly suspended by the navy department for the benefit of Admiral Togo. It is expected he will board the giant battleship Florida, now nearing completion in the New York navy yard.

A grand Pageant of ancient splendor, costumes and barbaric beauty. One night only at the Star Theatre. The prices for Matinees will be 5c and 10c, for the evening 10c to all.

The Good Old Things

We used to have old-fashioned things like hominy and greens. We used to have just common flap made out of pork and beans. But now it's bouillabaisse, consommé, and things made from a book. And yet my son and Julianne, since my daughter's learned to cook.

We used to have a piece of beef—just ordinary meat. And pickled pigs feet, spare ribs, too, and head Hollandaise.

While now it's fillet and ragout, and leg of mutton braised. And macaroni au gratin, and sheep's head Hollandaise.

The good old things have passed away in silent, and retreat! We've lots of high falutin' things, but nothing much to eat. And while I never say a word and always pleasant look. You bet I've had dyspepsia since my daughter's learned to cook.

Sanford had a safe and sane Fourth although the small boy still fired his crackers and made himself as obnoxious as usual. The time is not far distant when Sanford city council will pass an ordinance prohibiting the use of fire crackers and fireworks in the city limits and then there will be no Fourth of July at all.

An elderly lady said to me the other day: "Do you know that it is the regret of my life that I am going down to my grave childless and leave no one to mourn my final summons? I have no one to lean upon in my declining years. When I first married, my husband and I thought that we were fortunate in not being blessed with children. It was all a mistake, and I wish I had my life to live over again. I am alone in years now, and am sadder and wiser."

It is the same barren idealty that is wrecking many homes and making women go wrong and men wretched and miserable. It is because women are not mothers that makes them poor wives. The burden of children is the millstone around our necks that holds us down under water while we garner pearls. Children add a responsibility and spur us to greater ambition. When the little prattler comes to gladden your home you feel as though you were responsible and begin to deny yourself luxuries that you may buy necessities, which in time become greater sources of pleasure than all luxuries of life. When there are no children to double, treble and quadruple the chains of wedlock, the tie that binds seems so easily thrown off. The blessing of children teaches us patience, endurance, faith, hope and charity. For the "children's sake" many a family have held together that might otherwise have been disrupted and dishonored. Men and women, you who deceive yourselves with the hallucination that you are fortune favored by no infantile blessing, pause for a moment and think!

I note by the papers that the Tavares Herald has changed hands again and this recalls to my mind the fact that this little city is one of the best locations for a good live paper that all Florida can produce. Nestling among the beautiful clear water lakes in the region made famous by song and story, a county seat town, the center of three railroads, a rich farming country, a tourist resort, high and dry and healthy, Tavares has never as yet come into her own although the prospects were good before the great freeze put the lid on the aspirations of many a good town and many a good man. I hope the Herald will put Tavares on the map again and that the capital of Lake county will some day be the Capital City of Florida for Tavares is really the center of the state.

The people of Sanford are worked to death on the charity racket. Every day a new gag is sprung about assistance for this and that. The churches all have their missionary societies and each week they hold a pink tea and discuss the best means of sending flannel underwear to the heathen in Africa and paper collars to the Esquimaux. They hold socials and entertainments and raise money to send to Timbuctoo and fondly imagine they are working for the benefit of humanity when in fact there are poverty stricken people at their very doors who need attention and never get it. A woman died here this week and starvation hastened her death. The family resided in the country and it seemed that the nearest neighbors did not know of their destitute circumstances. Several kindly people helped the family and finally some of the churches assisted and yet the missionary societies never took up the matter as a case of charity should have been taken up. I believe that charity begins at home and if less attention was paid to the Fiji Islanders and more to the home people charity would really be worthy of the name. This poor woman died without a member of her sex near her. Four gentlemen from Sanford helped to put her in her coffin and perform the last sad rites and all honor to those four. There was no member of the missionary societies at hand, no neighbors to assist. There may have been extenuating circumstances that prevented assistance from the charity organizations but the cold, bare fact remains that in this instance the missionary work was lacking and the money spent annually does not help our people.

What Sanford needs and I have contended for the same time and again is a Charity Association with a capable President and Secretary to take up real charity cases that come into our midst and give them proper treatment. The ladies cannot do this although they can assist in various ways but when it comes to the heavy handwriting the men will be obliged to get in the game.

"We all long for the old fashioned Fourth—the kind that is passing. The Ocala Star in deprecating the failure in properly celebrating the fourth this year says:

The Star isn't sorry. The most it remembers about fourths for the last fifteen years is of sidewalks packed with perspiring darkies, white people having to walk in the streets and a fringe of fly-infested inedibles and undrinkables around the square.

If we could have some more of those old fashioned fourths, the imposing parade of the military, addresses on the day and what it means, by our best speakers, reading the immortal declaration, the small boy with the fire cracker and his toy cannon, which never did any harm until a decade or two ago, with an old-fashioned barbecue in some shady grove, we would about for a fourth. But for passing over the modern ones, we have no regrets."

After lingering at death's door for nearly a month, General Clement A. Evans, formerly commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans, died at his home in Atlanta on Monday of Bright's disease. His death was not unexpected and several of his children were at his bedside when the end came. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced before tomorrow.

The GREATEST PLAY I EVER SAW AS TOLD TO
Hugh S. Fullerton

BY P. J. ("PAT") DONOVAN.

Manager Boston American League Team, and While Playing Rated as One of the Fastest and Best in Baseball.

After a man has been in baseball nearly a score of years it takes something out of the ordinary to make him yell as if he was seeing his first game and jump clear off the bench in his excitement, even if one of his own side makes the play. That happened to me last season when I saw a play that filled me with amazement. It was a play that seemed impossible, and I believe would have been impossible for any other man. It made me amend all my recollections of great plays and give it the place as the greatest I ever saw. Tris Speaker made it.

The Boston Red Sox were playing at Cleveland last season on the August trip. The game had been close and hard fought all the way, and when the ninth inning came the score was tied and we failed to score. With two out in Cleveland's half of the inning, Smith of the Cleveland team cracked out a two-base hit. As Smith is not a fast man he was taken out and Ball was sent to second base to run for him. Jackson was the next batter. You know how fast Nell Ball is. Well, he had a big lead off second when the ball was pitched and was going fast for third when Jackson hit it. He hit it hard and clean as a whistle straight over second base, as pretty a base hit as ever was made, and considering the speed of Ball it did not seem possible that any play could be made.

So certain were our players who were on the bench that Ball would score and win the game for Cleveland that they jumped up and began to throw the bats into our batbag to make a quick getaway from the grounds. They were so certain that Jackson's hit would score Ball and end the game that hardly a one of them saw the play that followed.

Speaker saw the situation and he came forward as fast as he could run, which is about as fast as anyone can run, determined at least to give a try for the ball. He hardly checked his speed, but threw himself into position to grab the ball and make a fast throw at one leap. Just as he jumped into position the ball took a crooked bound to his right and seemed to go past him. They talk of speed, but what he did was the grandest exhibition I ever saw. He leaped sideways and backwards in pursuit of the ball, which actually had passed him, and so speedily did he change positions and gauge the ball that as it bounded the second time he leaped, overtook it, grabbed it and whirled, without looking, for a throw to the plate. The ball came as straight and true as a bullet to the catcher on the first bound, and Ball was thrown out at least ten feet from the plate on a seemingly impossible play.

Our players at first refused to believe that Speaker had thrown him out, and dropped the bats in surprise when I called to them. They argued that play during the remainder of the battle, trying to figure out how Tris had done it, and no one could tell them, except that he DID.

"Because," explained the haughty beauty of proud lineage, "papa says his ancestors have always been gentlemen of leisure and you have to work for a living."

THE POOR SOUTHERN EXPRESS CO

We feel deeply worried about the financial troubles of the Southern Express Company and are wondering if anything we could say just at this time would be comforting.

It seems the company is losing $5,000 a month according to testimony given in Chicago, recently, because of the routing of the Florida railroad commission and most unkindly, Hudson Burr, chairman of the obnoxious committee has arranged for an expert accountant to go over the company's books just exactly as if he did not believe what they said!

It certainly is a mean trick as every grower in this county who has sent produce by express long distances, like from here to Jacksonville, can testify. The Express Company never asks more than twice the value of the fruit for its carriage and sometimes the crates are opened. It is said, in transit, and part of its weight relieved!

Not long ago a man in Miami received a crate of chickens, twenty-four of them in a little coop, all the way from Georgia, and he only paid $6.40 for their transportation, although they were perfectly good spring chickens that cost him 15 cents a piece in Georgia!

Talk about expert accountants! It is a burning shame. Anyone with the least sympathy in the world can see where five thousand dollars a month would not begin to cover what the railroad commission will probably make them lose—in time.—Miami Metropolis.

WONDERFUL GROWTH OF FLORIDA

Between 1900 and 1910 the population of Florida increased at a greater rate than the population of any other Southern State, and, in fact, its rate of increase was surpassed in only 13 other States, all of them west of the Mississippi river, says the Manufacturers' Record. A consequence of this increase, and, at the same time a cause, appear in the agriculture statistics of the State in the ten years. In the face of decreases in the acreage of farms in a great many States of the country the total farm acre in Florida increased from 4,364,000 acres to 5,231,000 acres, or twenty per cent, and the improved area of farms from 1,512,000 acres, or 19 per cent. The number of farms increased from 40,814 to 49,834 or 22 per cent; the value of farm land from $30,821,000 to $99,280,000, or 203 per cent, and the value of buildings from $6,977,000 to $24,335,000, or 144 per cent. The average value per acre increased from $7.06 to $17.83.

BAIT WAS IRRESISTIBLE

With mouths agape a dozen or more Florida editors took the bait that Chas. M. Doyle, secretary of the Brevard, N. C. board of trade dangled before them. A number of papers carried a small advertisement for the Brevard board of trade, and on the expiration of the service each received a complimentary note from Mr. Doyle advising them that more answers had been credited to their particular paper than to any other on the list. "We are using 54 papers," stated Mr. Doyle in conclusion. He told the truth in the last sentence. He used them for a good thing and got some very conspicuous advertising in return for the little dope he handed out.—St. Augustine Record.

The Herald had the joke on Doyle. He would not pay the rate and made the mistake of sending us his joke letter. As his "ad" did not appear in The Herald the lie was too apparent and his "free stunt" did not materialize.

J. W. Bell has purchased the Tavares Herald and will bring the county seat of Lake into prominence by giving them a good paper. Mr. Bell is a newspaper man of experience and has located in one of the best sections of Florida. Mr. M. E. Miller was forced to give up the Herald on account of his many duties as manager of the Sub-Exchange. May the new Herald prosper and build up Tavares to one of the largest in middle Florida.

Editor Holly announces that the Sanford Herald will shortly enlarge its plant in order to take care of a larger amount of job work and to publish a larger paper. Sanford's remarkable growth is given as the reason for this investment. The Herald ought to receive the support of every resident of the Sanford section.—Tampa Tribune.

Base Ball is only an amusement but the great National game is helping to keep Sanford and Orlando on the map this year.

Sanford experienced a safe and sane Fourth and every one enjoyed themselves to the fullest.

The merchant who is alive to his opportunity, will use The Herald and keep business in his store during the summer months.

President Taft in his Fourth of July speeches stated that most of the wars could be avoided by arbitration but that the Spanish-American trouble is doubtful. The secret of the Maine will never be known.

The committee in charge of the Orange County Fair are making preparations for one of the Greatest Shows On Earth and expect to invite Volusia, Lake and Osceola counties to join in the affair and get the benefit of the display.

Another narrow escape from drowning at Daytona Beach last week would indicate that those life saving appliances should be installed at once. It is criminal negligence to have these beaches unprotected, and the law should be enforced.

The hottest on the North American continent Sunday, was Rockliffe, Ont., where the thermometer stood at 108 degrees. Rockliffe is in latitude 46 north, or about 120 miles farther north than Buffalo, N. Y. At Sanford last Sunday, the thermometer registered 80.

The Courier's postoffice box is flooded with mail addressed to the "Auto Editor" This paper has no auto editor. Perhaps it auto but we don't see it that way. A lot of folks auto, who ought to auto at a slower gait until their grocery bills are paid, Honk! H-o-n-k! Get out of the road!—Plant City Courier.

CELERY AVENUE NEWS

To the Editor of The Herald:

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woods, who have been residents of Cameron avenue for the past three years, have moved to California. The loss of these good neighbors are regretted by their many friends.

Mrs. Fanny Woods, mother of Mr. Carl B. Woods, has returned home to New York where she will spend the summer, joining her son in California in the fall. Mrs. Woods is a most remarkable person she being 86 years of age and in possession of every faculty and very active for a person of her advanced age. Mrs. Woods while visiting her son this winter made and quilted three silk quilts which are very pretty.

Mr. Will A. Rayner has gone to his old home at Good Ground, Long Island, for a much needed vacation, he having strenuously truck farmed here for the past three years and struck it rich on his lettuce and celery this season past.

When an automobile toots its horn, if approaching you from the rear, give it its rightful share of the road and do this in time so as to avoid the driver shutting off power, and by all means give the proper portion of the road in time as this will save embarrassment and harsh words and possibly accident. Remember the whole road doesn't belong to you whether driving a team or an automobile. This is not written for the thoughtful and polite but for the unthoughtful and tight.

Mr. T. P. Conpropet and family came over from Daytona Beach in his auto to spend the Fourth of July, Mrs. G. O. McDougal and children returning with them to spend a few weeks with Mrs. Conpropet at the beach.

Miss Annie Hawkins has returned to her home at Commeron, Ga., to spend the summer.

Word has been received from Mr. A. Dorner who is visiting his brother, Albert, in New York, that they are enjoying life and recuperating preparatory to a hard winter's work in his truck farm.

The county convicts are busy at work on the bridge across the St. Johns river at the East Coast ferry and soon the time consumed in crossing the ferry will be cut down fully half a mile. This will be a boon to autolists especially in the rush season in winter.

Some people censure Editor Holly and call his paper a real estate advertisement, etc. Let me say to those—Editor Holly, like lots of others, gets lots of his inspiration, especially his advertising inspirations, from the real estate advertisement, and I presume he is acting on the impulse of economy determination and who can say and say it faithfully that we haven't got the finest irrigating system on earth and the cheapest; also the finest drainage and sub-irrigation while our land is not as fertile as that of the black lands of Missouri. We have the climate and raise delicate vegetables in the dead of winter. Our only possibility is man made and what man made can be overcome by cooperation. So here's success to the Growers' Association.

Yours truly,

A. FARMER

Growing in Florida

The Satsuma Company's camphor farm at Satsuma is one the big propositions in this part of Florida that but few people even in our own county realize the magnitude of. They have already cleared, stumps pulled and have under cultivation some 1,100 acres. Thousands and thousands of little camphor trees in their nurseries ready for transplanting as the rainy season comes on. From the pine stumps they have taken from the land they have extracted the turpentine, and with the chips they have built miles and miles of road about their properties, and from Satsuma to Welaka.—San Mateo Item.

Rhubarb, like asparagus, is a very hardy perennial, and has not been planted largely in the Gulf region. There seems to be no natural obstacle to its being produced here, and it is doubtless due to the fact that vegetable growing for distant markets is a new industry. A dark, sandy loam is a favorable soil; it may even tend to be gravelly, but must not be dry. A well drained clay soil is also good, and preferred by some rhubarb growers. A light soil is liable to allow the plant to produce large roots at the expense of the "stalks," but when the gardener is aware of this, it can be overcome by proper cultivation, or the plants may be taken up and the roots divided.

In Florida where winter gardens are practicable the onion is grown with great success and profit. Indeed the Florida grower has several decided advantages over those further north. The crop is almost free from insect enemies and from diseases. Comes into market when the old crop is used up, and therefore prices are pretty sure to be good.

Mr. Theo Ivins, of Pine Knot Grove, came into Miami with six chickens, weighing twenty-four pounds, which he sold at 30 cents a pound, bringing him $7.20. Mr. Ivins is a retired banker and is able to see that a deal like this, is really high finance. The chickens were four months old and descendants of eight fowls, which started his poultry business. From this beginning, he now has 100 fine chickens.—Miami Metropolis.

PREVENTION OF DUST ON ROADS

If Work is Properly Done a Tarred Road After Being Opened For Traffic a Short While Takes an Appearance Closely Resembling Asphalt—It is Waterproof and Dustless.

Although the problem of dust prevention on public highways is by no means a new one, its importance has been greatly accentuated by the comparatively recent introduction of the automobile, says the Scientific American. The dust raising tendency of the latter is due to the destructive shearing action of the tires of the driving wheels and the intense suction and eddying producing effect of the car body in passing swiftly over surfaces which have been already loosened up by tire action. In the days of the horse drawn vehicle the iron shoes of the horse and the tires had a tendency to consolidate rather than loosen up the surface of a well-made macadam road, and the comparatively small amount of dust which gathered could be sufficiently laid by one or two daily trips of the watering cart. The advent of the automobile, however, has complicated the problem greatly, and it has become necessary not merely to find a more efficient means for laying the dust, but to provide also a method of road construction which will more firmly bind the road material together and enable it to stand up under the extreme conditions which the automobile has imposed.

The most valuable quality in any dust preventive is its ability to hold together the finely divided material which is produced on or near the surface of the road. The value of any oil, asphalt, emulsion or what not lies at the last analysis in its "binding power," and this quality in any dust preventive is proportionate to the amount of bituminous base which it contains.

The principal material used in the permanent treatment of roads with tar are coal tar, refined coal tar and water gas tar. They may be used effectively either by applying them to a road already finished or by incorporating them in the surface material of the road during construction. In applying the tar to an old road the surface should be thoroughly dry, comparatively warm and free from dust.

Moisture prevents the tar from proper contact with the stone, and a cold surface stiffens the material and prevents its being absorbed. Before the application is made ruts and hollows should be filled and the surface brought up to a smooth and even condition. The tar, heated to about 190 degrees F., is spread upon the road through a hose or by other suitable means and is then thoroughly broomed in.

After this has been done, to secure good results, the surface treated should be closed to all traffic for about twelve hours so as to give the tar an opportunity to thoroughly sink in the surface. Next a coat of clean sand or stone chips should be applied to absorb any excess tar and dry up the surface, as it were. The road should then be rolled thoroughly to bring it into condition.

In applying the tar in new construction the road should be formed and consolidated without the use of water. The voids should be filled with fine stone chips free from dust, and care must be taken not to roll the surface too heavily or the tar will not adhere properly. Hot tar may be applied through all of the courses as they are laid and rolled, but occasionally the upper course only is so treated. After tarring, a top dressing of material is laid on and the surface is thoroughly rolled. The tar spreading may be done either by hand, in which case an excess above what is necessary will probably be used, or it may be spread on by an apparatus mounted on wheels, the tar being discharged under pressure at the road surface by specially designed spraying nozzles.

If the work be properly done, a tarred road after being open to traffic for a short while takes on an appearance closely resembling asphalt, being smooth and firm, practically noiseless and more resilient than asphalt. It is largely waterproof, practically dustless, and the resistance to traction is less than that of an untreated macadam road.

Much as we need improved roads we need permanent culverts more, says W. S. Gearhart, state highway engineer of Kansas. It is more important that all the bridges and culverts be in good condition than that all the roads be kept in first class repair, for if the road is to be used at all the culverts and bridges must be kept up. It is not often that a road gets so bad that it is impassable, but this is a common occurrence with culverts and bridges. The old ford is a thing of the past, and almost without exception the worst places in the road are at the culvert sites. They generally are from two inches, to ten inches above or below the road surface and often have a mudhole on either side and are in such wretched condition we would gladly drive around them if we could and often have to do so. And many of the stone and concrete culverts are only covered sufficiently to keep them in place. They are like a series of barrels half buried in the road, no attempt being made to build approaches to them.

Different state highway commissions have defined culverts as structures having spans of less than four feet to ten feet. In this discussion I assume that all structures under ten feet are culverts.

At the present time practically all culverts in Kansas are too small to carry the water that comes to them. The matter of the required area is one that has been given very little attention.

Good stone laid in cement mortar is very satisfactory either in arch or flat top slab construction for culverts. If slabs are used a four foot clear span would require that the flagstones should be twelve inches thick. Six feet is close to the safe maximum span for the flat top stone culvert. Many times stone abutments are built and a re-enforced concrete slab placed on top, which gives a very satisfactory structure.

In the arch construction the base of the foundations should be sufficiently wide to resist overturning and be stable under any system of loads without any consideration for the earth fill.

Plain or re-enforced concrete is no doubt the best material to use for these small structures either in the flat top or arch form. The arch is sometimes objectionable in a flat country because it is found necessary in order to get a sufficient amount of waterway to make a raise in the road, which in many cases is very disagreeable. In the case of the flat top bridge the required waterway can be obtained by lengthening the span without making a hump in the road, which hump would in most cases result in a mudhole on either side of it. Where the foundations are not first class and there is danger of the structure settling the flat top is also to be preferred, as the forces are all vertical and the top is self supporting. If the abutments do settle the top can be readily jacked up into place and adjusted, while in the arch form there is very little that can be done to repair injury by settlement.

Letters and Communications on Various Timely Topics.

Editor Herald:

There is much work for the Humane Society to be doing. The team that is plowing and dising at this season of the year are peepily cared for. Some are working with very sore shoulders, poor collars with poor pads make a poor outfit for a faithful team of mules. Some of the teams are too light weight for the heavy work that they are required to do, this matter should be looked into at once. If the society would send out an inspector and have the owner of the team understand that they were liable to a fine if this state of affairs continued there would soon be less abuse.

It is most truly appalling the way these faithful animals are abused. The owners of the team are trying to make all the money they can from the work of these animals never thinking apparently, of the suffering they could lessah should they only try. This is a much more important subject than a beautiful park, or a library unless many of the books are on humane work.

Death of W. T. Brown

News reached this city on Wednesday of the death of W. T. Brown at Hot Springs. Mr. Brown was an engineer on the A. C. L., in later years being confined to yard work on account of poor health. He had been at Hot Springs for some time and was reported to be improving and his death came as a shock to his many friends here. He was a Mason and member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, which order took charge of the funeral services held on Saturday, Rev. Wildman officiating. Mr. Brown leaves a wife and child and three brothers to mourn his loss.

If You Intend To Buy At Volusia Farms Buy Now

There is today the largest movement of homeseekers from the Central & Western States to the Southeastern States known. On the regular excursion dates this past winter the trains coming to Florida have been crowded with this class of passengers like that of the old time movement to the West. All railroads entering Florida report great movement of homeseekers and land buyers.

The spring movement is just starting. People are, more than ever before, realizing the great opportunities for good cheap lands to be found in Florida, and next fall and winter will certainly see a greatly augmented movement of people Floridaward.

We entertained more people in Sanford than ever before in our history and are entertaining large numbers this spring. Even the spring and summer is a good time to see Florida. It is, possibly, better to see it in summer than in winter, to rid yourself of that bugaboo that because Florida is in the south it is hot, forgetting that the location of Florida, between ocean and gulf, is responsible for a superb summer climate.

It is almost a year since we placed Volusia Farms on the market. During that time we have sold many farms, both for full cash and for easy monthly payments. The year has seen the price advance from the starting price of $25 an acre to $30 and from $30 to $40, at which price it remains until further notice.

Our plan is to allot a certain number of farms to sell at each advance. When that number is reached, the price is again advanced. Just as soon as the allotted number of farms is sold at $40 the price will go to $45.

This is why we say if you intend to buy at Volusia Farms, buy NOW. Certain it is you'll never buy cheaper; certain it is that if you postpone buying, you'll buy at a higher price, until some day, you'll be glad to pay a price per acre based on the productive capacity of the soil.

There is no man who comes to Florida properly equipped in health and with enough money to tide him over the "settling" period, who is willing to do the work of a MAN who cannot find profitable employment and the avenue opened to independence. A cry of distress is rare. The question of existence almost solves itself. With increased wealth and diversified interests we have made sure and rapid strides; our people are alive to good roads, the development of our St. Johns river and are comprehending as never before their own strength and the great riches which lie hidden in our wonderfully fertile soil.

If one could travel this section who was familiar with conditions even five years ago, he would be amazed at the changes which even this brief span of time has wrought. The cleared land, the cultivated acres, the groves, the pastures, the busy streets in modern towns and cities every few miles, would tell, above the power of words, the marvelous recuperative power of our people and of the golden future which spreads before the vision.

In the mighty agricultural awakening which has come to Florida there is not a note of dissonance.

So we say again, if you intend to buy at Volusia Farms, BUY NOW N-O-W. Take advantage of the present conditions and of the ruling price.

Volusia Farms is a genuinely GOOD buy for any man who ultimately intends to live in Florida. Various tracts of the land are suited for various pursuits—Orange and Grapefruit culture, early vegetable growing, pecan culture, stock raising, and if for pleasure only, there's several unsold tracts abutting on beautiful lake shores where a winter home would be next to nature's heart.

Those lands are located right in the favored fruit and vegetable belt of southern Volusia County, Florida, about 125 miles south of Jacksonville, and between the St. Johns river and the Atlantic ocean, being about sixteen miles from the latter, not very far, you see, from the Indian river, where the finest oranges and grapefruit in the world are grown.

Twenty miles to the north is DeLand, sometimes known as the Athens of Florida. It is here that the famous Stetson University is located.

The entire tract has a gentle slope from the north to the south. Our land touches the river immediately south of the Kalamazoo depot. This natural slope furnishes the necessary drainage on which health and wealth depend.

Good wells of water can be obtained at depths varying from a few feet to one hundred feet and the water in these wells rises so near the surface that it can be easily pumped out by hand for all ordinary purposes, while with the aid of a small engine, any farm can be irrigated and the farmer entirely independent of rainfall.

Volusia Farms are easily within 50 hours of the great markets of the East. Compare with California, three weeks from her principal market places.

Let us make another comparison. The waters of the Grand river, Colorado, were diverted to irrigate 12,000 acres of desert land. A few years ago all of the land was a drug on the market at $10 an acre, sagebrush and cacti furnishing the only break in its desert undesirableness. When the water project was completed, but before actually one drop of water had been turned upon the desert, prices jumped to $200 and $300 an acre.

It is unbelievable, almost, to think that people would prefer $300 an acre land out in the sun-baked, sizzling desert to $40 an acre land in the enchanting, comfortable, pleasurable, life-worth-living Florida.

Land in the west is priced much closer to its productive capabilities than has hitherto been the rule with Florida lands, but that time is coming even for Florida.

Volusia Farms are today worth much more than we are asking you, and there is no saying how long you will have an opportunity of buying at present prices. We are ruled entirely by supply and demand.

So we say again, if you intend to buy at Volusia Farms, buy now.

Send in your reservation and if, within sixty days you make personal inspection of the tract we reserve for you and find we have misrepresented anything—your money back. Don't forget that we would rather you come here yourself and bought, as we have never advocated the buying of land sight unseen.

First of all write for our booklet "Resources of Volusia Farms". No man living in other sections of the country can afford not to know about Volusia Farms. Its development means the enrichment of the State and every man and woman is necessarily interested in knowing of the progress and prosperity of every portion of our country.

Norman DeForest Writes About Long Automobile Journey

It has occurred to me that there may be some motor enthusiasts that might venture to make the trip north in their car, and that a word about the roads might not be out of place.

Sanford to Jacksonville via Altamonte, Apopka, Leesburg, Ocala, Gainesville and Highland, 212 miles.

Jacksonville to Madison via Baldwin, Lake City and Live Oak, 136 miles; Madison and Barnesville, Ga., via Quitman, Thomasville, Camilla, Albany and Macon, 285 miles.

Barnesville and Greenville, S. C., via Atlanta, Commerce and Anderson, 244 miles; Greenville to Salisbury, N. C., via Charlotte, 162 miles.

Salisbury to Roanoke, Va., via Greensboro and Winston Salem, 213 miles. (There is a short route here, 167 miles); Roanoke to Stanton via Natural Bridge and Lexington, 92 miles.

Stanton to Allentown, Pa., via Winchester, Hagerstown, Chambersburg, Harrisburg and Reading, 297 miles.

Allentown to Ridgefield, Ct., via Bethlehem, Delaware, Water Gap, Port Jervis, Nyack and Torrytown, 206 miles.

Total 1827 miles in nine days.

From the mileage Salisbury to Roanoke Va., it appears that we met with good roads but they were far from it. That we rolled up as good a mileage was due to the fact that we made such a long day of it starting, at 4:30 a. m. and reaching Roanoke at 10 p. m.

Any touring motorist knows of New Jersey state laws. New Jersey may be avoided, and in my case at a saving of $15 for a license by following my route through Delaware, Water Gap, Port Jervis and crossing the Hudson river at, Nyack, via ferry, thence down the east shore of Hudson to New York. This route is less than 40 miles longer than the most direct route through New Jersey.

It might be of interest to know that the best roads that I found were between Quitman, Ga., and Macon, and Delaware, Water Gap, Pa., and Nyack, New York. These two stretches were simply perfect.

By following the National Highway Signs and the Blue Book road instructions I was able to make the trip, missing the road but once and then at a total loss of less than ten miles.

Very truly,
NORMAN DEFOREST

ALL MY PIMPLES GONE

Girl Tells How a Blotchy Skin Was Cleared by a Simple Wash.

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Minnie Pickard of Altamahaw, N. C. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema, and that was three years ago."

D. D. D. has become so famous as a cure and instant relief in Eczema and all other serious skin diseases, that its value is sometimes overlooked in clearing up rash, pimples, blackheads, and all other minor forms of skin impurities.

The fact is, that while D. D. D. is so penetrating that it strikes to the very root of Eczema or any other serious trouble, the soothing Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol and other ingredients are so carefully compounded there is no wash for the skin made that can compare with this great household remedy for every kind of skin trouble.

D. D. D. is pleasant to use, perfectly harmless to the most delicate skin, and absolutely reliable. A 25-cent bottle will give you positive proof of the wonderful effectiveness of this great remedy.
