NO DANGER OF SURPLUS IN FRUIT FIELD

(By The Associated Press)

ORLANDO, April 25.—J. C. Chase of Jacksonville contributed strongly to the program of the Florida State Horticultural society in his discussion of the begaboo of over production of citrus fruits. Mr. Chase declared possible over production had been a cause for worry among citrus growers when first he came to Florida forty years ago and is today a topic in both Florida and California. Provided that prompt and economical transportation for citrus crops is furnished, Mr. Chase does not see any early danger of over production ahead. He sounded a note of warning, however, in declaring that Florida must have adequate transportation for its crops, and that freight rates must necessarily be adjusted to meet existing conditions.

C. H. Walker of Bartow told of many interesting experiences in connection with the handling and marketing of citrus fruits in a lifetime spent in the industry in Florida. F. P. Goodman of Lake Alfred told of what northern investors expect in putting their money into Florida citrus properties. Miss Sarah Partidge of the effect of fruits in the diet; and H. G. Gumprecht of Bradenton on prevention of decay in citrus shipments, were heard with attention.

Substituting on short notice on the program, C. M. Stokely of Mount Dora aroused enthusiasm in describing the remarkable strides which recently have been made in banana culture in Florida through the introduction of the Cavendish variety. He exhibited a single bunch which weighed in excess of one hundred pounds. The symposium on the subject of canned grapefruit at the session held a great deal of interest to the gathering. Several prominent men identified with the new canning industry agreed to the note sounded by Ralph Polk of Miami, the father of the industry in Florida, to the effect that great care was going to be necessary to prevent poor quality of canned grapefruit getting into the consuming markets and thus spoiling the demand which now exists. A recent visitor to Porto Rico stated that canned grapefruit from there must be strongly reckoned with, the Porto Rican packers expecting to increase their output to a million cases season after next.

Acosta will have charge of the office here and H. Apple will be added to the salesmen talking the part of city salesman. This shows that the business of C. W. Zaring Co., has grown since coming to Sanford and the new additions to the staff will give them better service and greater facilities for handling the trade of this territory.

ORDERS INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION REQUIRING THE RAILROADS TO SELL BOOKS

On May 15th Revoked and Sale Postponed Until January First

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, April 25.—Orders of the Interstate Commerce Commission requiring railroads to begin sale of interchangeable mileage books May 15th was revoked today and the effective date of mileage sale postponed until next January first. Action of the commission which follows granting of injunction in Boston against commission's order resulted from appeal for postponement by western roads. Though the court order only restrained the sale of books of fifty eastern railroads the commission decided to forestall confused situation which would arise from sale and use of mileage books in other parts of the country and from possible court action on behalf of the western and southern roads.

SHERIFF JONES DENIES TRUTH OF CHARGES AGAINST HIM—HE WILL NOT RESIGN FROM OFFICE

Letters Are Going In From All Parts of Florida About Dr. Jones

TALLAHASSEE, April 25.—The grave of Martin Tabert, North Dakotan, and alleged victim of a convict camp whipping, 15 months ago, will be searched for tomorrow among the sandy plains around Clara by members of the joint legislative committee investigating reported prison brutalities in Florida.

The visit of the committee to the almost depopulated lumber mill town is slated primarily to the announcement that no burial permit for Tabert was on file with the state board of health, and again in response to an invitation extended by the Putnam Lumber company, in whose camp the Dakotan was serving when he died.

While this investigation is in progress, Senator J. P. Stokes, member of the senate committee of two named to report on the recommendation made by Governor Hardee to suspend Sheriff J. R. Jones of Leon county, will meet the county official tomorrow to hear his answer to the charge of malfeasance in office, as charged by the governor.

Sheriff Jones conferred with Senator Stokes this afternoon. Following this conference, the county officer was approached on reports that he planned to resign ahead of final disposition of his case.

"Resign from office, eh? Well, not until they kick me out," the sheriff replied, adding: "I have been grossly misrepresented by a bunch of ex-convicts and fellows that I have discharged from office. There is not a bit of truth in that stuff they told the committee. I can prove it. As for resigning—No, I'm going to stay in office to the last minute."

Sheriff Jones was the first witness to testify before the committee. The county officer admitted having entered into a personal agreement with the Putnam Lumber Company to furnish the company with prisoners, at $20 a head.

Letters from all sections of Florida as well as from many other states are being received by committee members in which an investigation into the medical record of Dr. T. Capers Jones, convict camp physician, has been requested. Dr. Jones testified before the committee he attended Tabert three days before the Dakotan's death. He gave pneumonia as the cause of death, with a social disease complication. He declared upon the burial permit that the death was due primarily to pneumonia with a complication of malaria.

Asked why he made the erroneous entry, he said he did not want to cause any embarrassment to Tabert's family. Other witnesses have testified that Tabert died following a whipping given him by Walter Higginbotham, the shipping boss.

It was also brought out that Tabert was suffering from muck poisoning which produced running sores.

Dr. Stewart G. Thompson, chief of the Florida bureau of vital statistics, has been sent to Clara and Cross City, with full authority to investigate why no death certificate or burial certificate was turned in by either of the local health registrars' offices.

GRADUATING CLASS OF SANFORD HIGH SCHOOL TO BE LUNCHEON GUESTS OF LOCAL KIWANIS

Committee Appointed to Look After all Details as to Time and Place

Today's meeting of the Kiwanis Club was called to order by President Sharon and Rev. Brownlee was called upon to ask the customary blessing. E. A. Ball, who is usually on time when it comes to eating, was late, and inflicted on the members his version of "Liza Jane."

On motion a past president's pin was ordered to be presented to A. P. Connelly, who is the only member at present eligible to that honor.

A letter was read from International President George H. Ross, of Toronto, Canada, in answer to an invitation sent him, that he was indeed sorry that the itinerary of his coming trip to this section would not allow a visit to Sanford. President Ross will visit the Palatka Club on May 23, and it was decided to send a delegation from the local club to that city to represent Sanford on that occasion.

A vote of appreciation was extended to the management of the Valdez Grill for the excellence of the lunches and service for the past few weeks.

A vote of thanks was also extended to the Spanish War Veterans for an invitation to participate in the parade on May 8, and the secretary was instructed to inform the veterans that the Kiwanis Club was ready to do everything possible to add to the success of the reunion.

Prof. T. W. Lawton was the speaker of the day and he told of the many good things in the Kiwanis Magazine. It was indeed an interesting talk and clearly shows that Prof. Lawton does what every member should do—reads carefully and understandingly the magazine published for Kiwanians.

It was voted to invite the members of the graduating class of the Sanford High School to be guests of the club at a luncheon, the time and place of which Chairman Ed. Lane, Prof. McKay and Rev. Brownlee will decide. Edgar A. Ball elicited much applause by announcing that the entire high school orchestra would be present as his guests. It is proposed that this luncheon shall be a memorable occasion in the lives of the students and the committee in charge will spare neither pains or expense to make it a success.

Misses Lucile Pope, Pearl Robson, Florence McKay and Madeline Mallem, saxophones, and George Smith, piano, furnished music for the occasion and a vote of appreciation and thanks was extended the young folks for the excellence of the entertainment.

JURY COMPLETE FOR GOVT CASE AGAINST MORSE

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Completion of the jury and the beginning of the oral presentation of the government's case by District Attorney Gordon marked the trial today in the District of Columbia supreme court of Charles W. Morse, his three sons, and four others. They are charged in indictments returned more than a year ago, with a conspiracy to defraud the federal government in connection with ship construction and in operating contracts awarded during and after the war.

With eleven men in the box, when court convened, little difficulty was had in selecting the twelve jurors, only one talsman being examined. The jury is composed of seven salesmen, two cashiers, one hotel proprietor, one clerk and one collector.

The jury was not locked up, but was given the customary warning by Justice Stanford against discussing the case with outsiders or reading newspaper accounts of it.

District Attorney Gordon had not completed an examination of the indictments at the adjournment of court will resume the task tomorrow. It may be that the actual taking of testimony will not be started before Thursday, although the government witnesses were in court today and were directed to report tomorrow.

Approximately $10,000,000 was involved in four ship construction and two ship operating contracts awarded by the Emergency Fleet Corporation and the Shipping Board to the Grotton Iron Works, of Grotton, Conn., the Virginia Ship Building Corporation, and the United States Transport Company, Inc. The government will undertake to establish by means of several hundred witnesses the defendants conspired together to defraud the government "out of large sums of money and material" through false statements as to the condition of these companies and other methods.

A company has acquired 11,000 acres in the eastern part of Polk county for a hunting and fishing preserve.

KU KLUX FACTIONS AGREE ON ARMISTICE

ATLANTA, Ga., April 25.—Hostilities for control of the Knights of Ku Klux Klan ended today with the signing of an armistice between the opposing factions.

William J. Simmons, emperor, and H. W. Evans, imperial wizard, are retained in their posts under the agreement. The controversy was brought to a close through the efforts of a commission of klansmen, aided it was said, by independent counsel, Arthur G. Powell, and Hollins H. Randolph, non-members of the order.

Judge E. D. Thomas, on motion of counsel for both sides, dismissed his order and dissolved the commission of three which had been directing the affairs of the Klan. This commission was composed of Emperor Simmons, Imperial Wizard Evans and J. M. George, marshal of the municipal court.

The contest originated over the kamelia, the women's organization formed and founded by Colnett Simmons along the lines of the Klan. According to Fred B. Johnson, who has been acting as chief of staff for Emperor Simmons, the agreement reached with Dr. Evans calls for the imperial wizard to remove his objections to the kamelia and to give it the support of the Klan. The Evans faction, it was understood, will also remove several officials from the imperial palace, the Klan headquarters, who are "objectionable" to Emperor Simmons. These were said to be F. L. Savage, chief of staff; N. N. Furney, cashier, and C. M. McKinnon, chief of the investigating department.

Emperor Simmons, on his part, it was declared, agreed to cancel his court action for absolute control of the Klan, and work in absolute harmony with Imperial Wizard Evans, and both will bend their efforts to establish friendly relations between the factions.

Rivers and Harbors Allotments To Be Published Shortly

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Allotments from the $56,000,000 rivers and harbors appropriation carried in the last army supply act, will be made immediately in the case of those projects being carried out under continuing contracts, Secretary Weeks announced yesterday after a conference with President Harding.

The secretary of war explained that in the case of a number of projects work can be conducted most expeditiously beginning early in June, and for which continuing contracts are held it was decided to make the money available as soon as possible.

The question of whether the entire appropriation would be expended was not discussed at yesterday's conference, Mr. Weeks said, but he added that "all worthy projects will be taken care of." The appropriation of $56,000,000 for river and harbor work was opposed by the president on the ground that the public treasury would not permit such a large expenditure and there has been some doubt expressed as to whether the entire sum would be used. Congressional leaders favoring the large appropriations, however, have said that it was not within the province of administrative officials to limit the use of the money except to work for such economies as might be made under the act.

YOUR HOME GROUNDS

Written for The Campaign Being Made by the Woman's Club for Garden Week.

The object in planting the home grounds is to make a pleasing picture, which is an opportunity all may enjoy.

Shrubs should be used in masses around the foundation of the house; along the boundary lines and in the corners of the grounds. The whole back yard may be enclosed, giving privacy to the grounds. Even a small yard may be made to appear much larger if the open lawn is preserved.

The planting should be irregular in outline, here a projecting point formed by a shrub or two; there a bay where the lawn seems to project into the border.

In general the taller growing specimens should be kept in the background, using smaller growing plants of different heights to bring the border down to the ground. Annuals may be used to edge the border, which may be changed from season to season.

Look about you and see how accurately you can judge your neighbors without entering their homes.

Outside appearances count. Hundreds see the exterior to one who enters the home. Beautiful home grounds are as essential as furniture or decorations inside, and are far more conspicuous and prominent. They add distinctiveness and individuality to your property and increase in beauty with the years. The most expensive house is still a house, until the grounds are so planted as to bring out its home qualities and beauties. The smallest cottage or bungalow is unrivalled in mere beauty by the largest mansion if it is properly planted and the grounds well arranged.

In all the wide realm of the tropics, where nature is most lavish in the display of her charms, no subject equals the palm in lending character and distinction to our tropical scenery; and nowhere in this country is it possible to cultivate successfully so extensive a group of varieties as here in our dear Florida, where the palm reaches perfection. Let us be more liberal in its planting.

Here are some of the hardiest and most popular varieties: Washingtonia Robusta; Washingtonia Sonoran (dwarf); Phoenix Canariensis; Phoenix Reclinata; Chamaerops Excelsa; Cocas Australis; Cocas Plumosa (requires protection in the first few winters).

Shade Trees.
The Live Oak is considered by many as the noblest of trees; but please do not forget to plant trees which produce both shade and flowers. Magnolia tree, glossy green foliage, creamy white flowers.

Jacaranda—fine feathery leaves, blue flowers.

Bauhinia—bilobed leaves purple and white flowers.

Grevilla—fern-like leaves, yellow flowers.

Delonix—fine pinnate leaves, bright scarlet flowers.

Dillenia (Indian Magnolia) rough leaves, dense shade, yellow flowers, 9 inches across.

Ilex Opaca (Southern Holly) dark green foliage, wealth of scarlet berries. Trees are dioecious—male and female; plant several specimens if possible.

Hardy Shrubs.
The planting of the foundation of the house should be the very first consideration, when dealing with shrubs, as an unplanted house is most conspicuously unattractive.

Suggestive color classification of Flowering Shrubs:
Red Shades.

Azalea, Hamelia, Hibiscus, Jacobinia, Russelia, Ixora Malvaviscus, Lagerstromia, Lawsonia rubra, Callistemon, Poinsettia, Nerium.

Pink Shades.
Abelia, Hibiscus, Azalea, Hydrangea, Cestrum, Cryptostegia, Lantana, Nerium.

Yellow Shades.
Allamanda, Cestrum, Hibiscus, Lanatana, Ixora, Stenolobium, Michelia, Cassia, Viburnum.

Blue to Purple Shades.
Azalea, Banhinia, Duranta, Bougainvillea, Hydrangea, Plumbago, Sibbouchina, Thunbergia erecta, Strobilanthus, Daedalocanthus.

White Shades.
Bauhinia, Lawsonia, Ligustrum, Cestrum, Azalea, Datura, Warneria, Lonicera, Cleyera, Myrtus, Baccharis, Thunbergia.

Shady Situations.
Azalea, Hydrangea, Ligustrum, Hamelia, Jacobinia, Severinia, Raphidolepis.

Now do not forget the back yard. It can be made into a veritable park. Just think of the supreme joy and thrill you can extend to your northern friends, when they come to visit

MICHIGAN WILL BE ASKED TO INVESTIGATE

ORLANDO, April 24.—The state of Michigan, through its attorney-general, will be asked tomorrow to investigate the death of Frank Patterson, 21, a Florida boy who died of injuries he received in the Michigan state reformatory in Ionia, that state April 12 last, it was announced today by an attorney representing Patterson's parents after an official examination of the body had been made in the presence of Assistant State Attorney John C. Jones.

Dr. J. R. Chappell, a local physician who examined Patterson's body said he found five places where Patterson had been struck on the head. He expressed the belief that a blow on the top of the head may have caused concussion of the brain which led to the boy's death.

Assistant State Attorney Jones said he considered it significant that the brain was removed before the body was shipped to Orlando. He added that while the case will be left in the hands of Chauncey A. Boyer, the Patterson attorney he "hoped a thorough investigation of the case will be conducted."

The attorney general of Michigan will be formally requested to start an official investigation tomorrow morning, Mr. Boyer said, adding he will telegraph details of the case as he has found them to the Michigan official.

"My only interest is seeing justice done. I feel that this boy was brutally beaten to death," Mr. Boyer said. "That he was left throughout the night after he was beaten without medical attention and that somebody must be responsible for what seems to have been the grossest negligence where a human life was concerned."

Patterson's parents not only made public the letters they received from inmates of the reformatory telling of the alleged brutal treatment which caused Frank's death, but exhibited letters from church members in Moore Haven, which showed the high esteem in which he was held in that city, where he formerly lived.

CHAPMAN CASE ON TRIAL TODAY IN NEW YORK

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, April 24.—Events leading up to the escape of Gerald Chapman, Broadway mail bandit, from St. Mary's hospital at Athens, Ga., where he was undergoing treatment for wounds received at the hands of a posse after he fled March 28, from the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta, were delayed here today by Miss Coralen Ramey night nurse at the Athens hospital. Miss Ramey was before Federal Commissioner Hitchcock as a government witness in removal proceedings in cases of Abe Silverstein and Dominick Didato who were arrested here April 13 on an Athens indictment charging them with aiding and abetting Chapman's escape. She admitted carrying a letter from Chapman to the two, but denied she aided in the escape. She admitted she received a letter from Chapman after his escape mailed in Athens, dated April 7.

Sectarian Fight is Anticipated in Legislature

TALLAHASSEE, April 24.—A sectarian fight over the bill introduced by Senator Singletary to require the teaching of the Holy Bible in the public schools of this state, loomed up in the senate tonight. The upper rouse worked so long this afternoon on an executive communication that it decided to come back tonight to make some progress on its calendar. The session was given over entirely to advancing measures from their second to third readings, and the passage of a few bills local in character.

Senator Singletary's bill was reported on favorably several days ago by Judiciary "B" committee. On motion of Senator Stokes tonight it was ordered sent back to Judiciary "A" committee for the specific purpose of having that committee report as to its constitutionality. Opponents of the measure have indicated that they would base their fight on the ground that the bill violated the provisions of the constitution for religious freedom, in that it would require the teaching of Bible in schools where children of all creeds attend.

INTERESTING IN TAFFETA

Radium taffeta is featured in a number of unusually interesting spring frocks. This model owes much of its charm to its simplicity. Bias folds of self-material are stitched about the neck and repeated on the skirt. These folds may be put on with hem-stitching, if desired, and are exquisite in their daintiness. The belt—of two-toned ribbon affords another opportunity for individual treatment. Medium size requires 4 1/2 yards 36-inch material. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1446. Size, 34 to 44 inches bust and 16 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents.

"Dry Agents Under Fire," says dispatch. Bad condition and they may burn up before help comes.

Dr. Jones and Sheriff Jones are having a rather rough time of it after their little fiasco regarding the treatment of prisoners in the piney woods of west Florida.

We opine that the medical fraternity of Florida will want to know more about Dr. Jones who treated Martin Tabert for a certain disease when he was dying from whippings and his body undoubtedly showed it.

That Orlando boy being beaten to death in a Michigan prison comes to light just in time. It shows that all the brutality in prison camps and prisons everywhere is not confined to the south.

Thursday (tomorrow) is southern Memorial Day and the banks will close and business will be suspended in part tomorrow afternoon when the exercises are taking place. An honor to those who fought for the lost cause and for state rights.

The Putnam Lumber Company is a Wisconsin company and every member of it lives outside of Florida. It is hardly fair then for the northern papers to be casting slurs at the state of Florida. These same people would work convicts in Wisconsin in the same manner if there was any timber in that country.

Newspapers are not free vehicles any longer. There was a time when we allowed the public to run over us and put in free notices and "fill up your paper" with stuff that meant nothing except to make certain people rich. We print nothing now unless it is paid for and we want our money for what we do just like other people.

Hon. James Cox, newspaperman, of Ohio and Florida, and nominee of the Democratic party in 1920 for president will address the legislature in May. Well, Jimmie can be counted upon to tell them something good and he will show them what kind of a man he is and what kind of a man they now have in the newspaper-business. Florida gained something when Jimmie Cox was induced to buy the Miami Metropolis.

Now that a Florida boy has been beaten to death in a Michigan prison we shall expect to see the same written up in the Literary Digest and other magazines just like they wrote up the Martin Tabert case in which Florida came in for a lot of criticism. We are not kicking on this for the Florida newspapers were more severe than any other papers on this subject. But when the magazines climb on Florida and then the same crime is committed in the north we want to see them give the same space to the same crime that happened in the northern prison. And we will watch the magazines and see if they are "fair."

A county-wide clean-up campaign is ordered by the prohibition heads and it is rumored that many official heads in the government forces and among local officials in many states will take place. It seems that agents have been secretly engaged in looking around some and they have spotted the officers who, have not been doing their duty. Well, let the blow fall. We must either have real prohibition or go back to government regulations of wine and beer. Take it or leave it alone. Enforce the law or cut it off the books.

WE ARE RADICAL.

The man who stands square for good government is too radical; if he advocates a strong remedy for some long-existing evil he is too revolutionary; if he wages war on liquor, and other evils like the convict slavery system he is an idealist, and so on. That's why it would not do to put men like Henry Ford and Bill Bryan in the White House. Henry Ford would want to know that public funds were spent economically and public service was made efficient. Bill Bryan would want to promote world peace in the most effective way and would perhaps go to the extreme of advocating a closed season for shooting prohibition enforcement officers and thereby destroy one of our greatest national sports. Either of these ranting radicals would lose sight of the pie counter as the paramount purpose of the presidency and special interests would lose the reward of the righteous campaign contributor. It won't do, fellows; we must pick safe and sane men for the presidency.—Arendia Enterprise.

Correct, and we are among the radicals. We want Henry Ford for president and William Jennings Bryan for vice president—since Charles D. Haines refuses to become a candidate for vice president. Henry Ford and William Jennings Bryan sounds good to us and looks like a winner.

ENFORCE THE LAW AS IT STANDS.

The legislature has turned down some of the bills regarding prohibition and we think they were right. One bill would make the crime of liquor selling a capital crime—it wanted to give offenders jail sentences for the first offense. Another one was to disenfranchise a man for selling liquor. This is carrying it too far and such bills could not pass the legislature at any time. We do not need these laws on the statute books. Neither do we want a law that will allow every Tom, Dick and Harry to search your automobile at any time or place or enter your house at any time of the day or night looking for liquor. What would prevent thieves from holding up cars under the pretense of being officers and stealing everything you had. What would prevent them from going through your house in your absence and if caught flash an officer's badge and get away with it. The crime of selling booze was made a crime under the Volstead law. The selling of liquor was made a crime in Florida before that. If these laws cannot be enforced we do not need other laws to make them stronger—we need other officers to enforce the law.

You cannot send a man to jail for the first offense. He ought to be sent there for the second offense and his sentence ought to be longer every time he comes up for the same crime. Neither can you disenfranchise a man for selling liquor and if you could the majority of those who sell liquor care but little whether they are citizens of the United States, or whether they vote or not. These items in the enforcement of prohibition are simply jokes.

What Florida and every other state needs in the enforcement of the laws, state and national, that are already on the books and if they are not enforced get officers that will enforce them. Sanford had an instance of this enforcement. It demonstrates that "it can be done" despite the croakings of those who would decry the laws and their enforcement.

MEMORIAL DAY.

Tomorrow is Memorial Day for the entire south and the day will be observed in Sanford thanks to the N. DeV. Howard Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy. The Herald advocated the establishment of a chapter of the Daughters here for many years as Memorial Day came and went with no observance of any kind. The memory of the men who fought for the Lost Cause should be kept green and the ones upon whose shoulders this duty falls are the sons and daughters and other relatives of the men who fought and bled and died in the 60's. The veterans of all wars should be honored and this honor can only come from the relatives of those who fought and the women of the land can always be relied upon to take up this duty of reverence. And as the years pass and time sweeps away the sectional feeling that at one time existed between the north and south the people on both sides of the Mason and Dixon line are getting together in the greater brotherhood and spirit of fraternity in the observance of Memorial Day north and south. The southern Memorial Day is never observed without the graces of the northern soldiers being decorated and we believe this is true of the National Decoration Day that takes place on May 30th at which time it is said the northern people always decorate the graves of southern soldiers who died in the great conflict on northern soil and were buried there. This is the spirit that cements our great union closer together as the years assume the grief and feeling that prevailed just after the Civil War on both sides and the feeling that should prevail in all parts of the United States. The bravest are usually the most tender hearted and the bravest—the men who fought—on north or south sides were the first ones to ask for a better understanding between the Blue and the Gray.

Let all of us then tomorrow observe the Memorial Day and attend the exercises and let all of us attend the National Decoration Day exercises on May 30th. We are now a nation undivided.

RAILROAD COMMISSION AND CITY RATES.

Friends of municipal ownership express some alarm over the report that an effort will be made to place the regulation and rates of all public utilities under the Railroad Commission. Such an effort was made in the session two years ago and raised a storm of protests that resulted in its abandonment.

That the attempt will be made again is believed since the visit of Peter O. Knight to the state capital, and from conferences with his friends.

That such a bill is in contemplation is practically assured by the talk of the old corporation lobbyists that "it would be a good thing," and when this contingent talks about "good things" it's well enough for the progressives to be constantly on the lookout and keep their powder dry.

There is no doubt that the railroad lobby has many things to look after—they are not in Tallahassee for their health nor to see motion pictures. They are there for a well-defined purpose, and need watching.

Esteemed members of the house seem to find it difficult to interpret just what is implied in the application of the word "joker." Every hour in a session members themselves detect what is commonly termed a "joker" and they proceed to kill it with amendments.

Says Charles E. Jones, staff correspondent of the Journal at Tallahassee:

"Running the risk of being denied the privilege of the floor, I will say that bills have been introduced, and will be introduced so full of 'jokers' that the time and ingenuity of such scrutineers as Stuart of Hillsboro, Lewis of Jackson, Bell of De Soto, Miller of Duval, Davis of Leon, Van Roy of Citrus and McKenzie of Lake will be taxed to the limit."

The perpetual franchise bill was full of jokers. And other bills are coming equally as hazardous as involves the rights of the people and the privileges proposed to be granted certain public utility corporations.—Jacksonville Journal.

THE FARMER'S TIME IS COMING

The movement from the country to the city while generally deplored by political economists, is really but a natural sequence of existing conditions. We have millions of acres of fertile lands. For years all the resources of science and the ingenuity of inventors has been directed to making these acres more productive, and lessening the labor of those who till them. There is now hardly a form of farm labor which there is not a machine to operate. The result is an immense increase of the staple farm products, with a consequent decrease in cost of production, and lessening in the demand for labor. Hence the laborers are flocking to the cities, lured away from the farms by the higher wages offered by the factories and manufacturing institutions, with which the farmers cannot compete while they are compelled to sell their produce at low prices. For the first time in this country's history the population of the cities exceeds that of the country. It is an entirely natural movement, which it is doubtful if any legislation can change. In time it will correct itself. The city dwellers must be fed and an increase of their consumers without a corresponding increase of production of food products must inevitably then the flatters will surge back to the farms and the equilibrium will be restored. Nature's laws work slowly but they never fail to work, and all man's efforts cannot change them, or hasten their working. Usually any effort in that direction only brings confusion and disappointment.—Tampa Tribune.

HAINES DECLINES INVITATION OF HIS NUMEROUS FRIENDS FOR CANDIDACY VICE-PRESIDENT

WANTS WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN TO ACCEPT THE CANDIDACY

Ex-Congressman Charles D. Haines declines to become a candidate for Vice-President on the Democratic ticket but wants William Jennings Bryan to accept it. He made the following statement in the Tampa Tribune: "My friends are entitled to know my attitude in regard to such a nomination if it were forthcoming," replied Mr. Haines.

"First, while no man is too big for that exalted position, I am not a candidate for that or any other political office.

"Second, I have doubts as to whether I could be elected, even if nominated.

"There are Americans who are unafraid, who dare face adverse public opinion when they are convinced they are right, and I just happen to be one of that class.

"During the past twenty years I have devoted much of my time, energy and financial resources in sustaining organizations advocating Americanism and Protestantism, and while I have not opposed the religious convictions of others, my ardent, forcible and unswerving advocacy of the Protestant faith has caused me to be rather ingloriously classed as anti-Catholic therefore the Roman Catholics would not generally favor me.

"Again I have with fierce antagonism fought the 'reds' and every American organization in this country, and I surely am unworthy of their political unity, and this class is more numerous than most people realize.

"For years, with my staunch and loyal following, I have persisted in the effort to continue our established system of public schools, and the reading of the Bible in those schools. There are millions of people in this country who are opposed to those policies, and they would not want to see me in a position where my influence might be greater.

"I could not expect the support of those who violate our constitution and laws, for every organization that I have been associated with has set forth the following as one of their unalterable obligations:

"I will support and aid in maintaining the constitution and laws of the United States, and of the state in which I reside."

"And now I am being severely criticized by the prohibitionists. It is claimed that I have been writing and speaking against the Eighteenth amendment, but this is unfair, because it is untrue.

"So continuous have been the charges, presumably for the reason that I am the president of the American Patriots and Supreme Master of the Pilgrims, that I concluded it might be best for the interests of those organizations, to resign forthwith. The executive offices of these societies are being moved to New York.

religion were summed up in the words "Thou shalt not drink."

"During the years of my leadership in patriotic societies I have made appeal after appeal to the people thru the press and on the platform to keep Protestantism in the foreground, and without apparent avail. Selfishness and cowardice seem to dominate Protestantism today. The power of Romanism increases, by leaps and bounds. The minority of Rome is mightier in politics at Washington and in almost every state legislature than the majority of the followers of Luther, Knox and Wesley.

"I have taught to retain the Bible in the public schools, but eight states have thrown it out and this without protest from Protestant churches or reform organizations. I believe the sturmata of crime in the United States will not be stopped unless moral re-inforcement is given to the boys and girls of our public schools and that this can only be afforded by a daily reading of the Holy Scriptures in the public schools.

"I have championed the Towner-Sterling bill as affording the federal relief to our public school system, without which it is languishing and dying, especially in our rural districts.

"I hold that immigration should be vigorously restricted, that we should say to the nations of Europe: 'You shall no longer make America the dumping ground for your criminals and paupers, your lunatics and anarchists, and that only Americans should govern America.

"So altogether, I do not see how I would make a very excellent candidate for any national office. The forces that would oppose me are so numerous, implacable and fierce. They are united, cohesive. The friends of principle I hold as dearer than any public office, are divided, irresolute. My hat is too torn and battered to throw into the ring.

"I favor William Jennings Bryan for the presidency if our party could be brought about to nominate a Southern man for that office, and if he should be our candidate for the vice-presidency. He would have taken on a senatorship if he had been 'drafted,' and he will not refuse the nomination for the vice-presidency if 'drafted,' for he is a loyal Democrat and accustomed to make sacrifices for his party.

"I am very anxious in this connection, for Colonel Bryan has a great, loyal, powerful following throughout the entire country. He is one of the ablest men of the times. He would help this state wonderfully through his being a candidate. He would add glory and laurels to our already famous commonwealth. It would give the Democratic party in the South and party recognition for its long years of loyalty to that party and would open the door so that some day the South would have a presidential candidate. The Democratic party owes the South much of its prestige and glory and should now receive recognition."

ADDITIONAL PUBLICITY TAX MEANS GREATER GROWTH.

The electors of Orlando again went to the polls yesterday and again voted for progress by carrying the issue which provides an additional one mill publicity tax for Orlando. By their votes the people have again proven their faith and security in Orlando, in a greater Orlando and in an Orlando that is daily dedicating itself to higher ideals and a firmer determination to become the largest and most progressive city in Florida.

It does not take a wild or frenzied stretch of the imagination or a straining of brains to remember when a few "hard boiled," self-sacrificing solicitors would pass the hat around Orlando and extract from a comparative handful of general citizens money in which to make Orlando a greater city, of benefit to thousands of people and to increase the personal wealth of those who never gave a nickel to anything. Gradually it dawned upon the people that personal solicitation and the donations of probably one per cent of the total population was a poor game to play and a one mill publicity tax was favorably voted upon and from that day Orlando has become a more potent force in the nation.

A city growing by leaps and bounds must keep ahead of the procession and build for today and the future. The only way to do this is by the composite strength of a united citizenry and the equal "levying of taxation" for publicity purposes placed upon the shoulders of all who benefit from such publicity instead of a few.

Just as the one mill publicity tax of a few years ago spelled greater advancement for Orlando so will the additional one mill publicity tax voted yesterday mean an accentuated impetus toward a more aggressive and prosperous city. Orlando is building well and securely. Our chances for becoming Florida's greatest city are becoming brighter and brighter as the days go by.—Orlando Sentinel.

CO. D NEWS NOTES

Did you see the outfit at drill last night? Well, there sure was a bunch out, one of the largest we have had in some time.

If they keep coming out like this "D" Company is certainly going to surprise regimental headquarters by being on the honor roll of the regiment. So let 'em roll.

The awkward squad of new men certainly are "picking up things fast and if they keep on we are going to have one of the best outfits in camp.

And just think of the "pip" the boys are getting it sure doesn't seem like the same straggle gang we had a few weeks ago for it is fast developing the old pepper and that will put any outfit over the top.

Then that banquet will come off next week and every one will get a good feed under his belt and we know that the outfit will be able to knock 'em dead after that.

We understand that the "D" Company Club, who are in charge of the big feed are certainly going to make it a swell affair and are going to give the guard a big boost.

This club held an informal meeting after drill last night and decided on Friday, May the fourth as a tentative date for the feed but this will be decided by the company at the next regular drill period.

We are welcoming in our ranks Fred Connors and Henry Roddenbury. Hurray! boys a few more like these and the outfit will be filled with good men.

Too much on hand last night for "kangaroo court" to get in action but there will be plenty on hand at the next session.

Every man come out next week, let's try to write our name on the Honor Roll this month.

PLANTS AND SEEDS THAT CAN BE SET NOW

Written for The Campaign Being Made by the Woman's Club for Garden Week

It is very difficult to give a list of plants and seeds suitable for planting at this time of the year. Of course if we are to hold Florida as "Florida the Beautiful," we must have flowers every month of the year.

The following are a list of flowers and shrubs I would suggest as suitable to plant now though some of them would do better planted earlier or later.

Hibiscus, Mahanucis, Colons, Cretons, Acalyphas, Petunias, Gladiolas, Zenias, Flock, Marigolds, Asters, Hydrangeas, Geraniums, Scarlet Sage, Galliardia, Periwinkle and Galliards.

The hibiscus could hardly be over-estimated both for beauty and hardiness. It can be planted from cuttings most any time of the year. The Chinese hibiscus is lovely and has beautiful flowers. It delights in a well rotted manure, with sand enough rich soil, made up of some loam and to make it porous. Good drainage is necessary and if this is neglected the leaves often drop off. One check to a plant lasts through the entire season. The red spider is a serious pest and should be kept from working on the plant.

The malvastris is closely related to or treated like the hibiscus. The flowers are different in shape.

The Colons, Cretons and Acalyphas may be grouped under one head. They all have beautiful foliage and the Acalypha is especially noted for its change in color of foliage. All propagated from seed and cuttings and respond to a fairly rich soil and plenty of moisture, though not too wet.

Both the double and single petunias do well in the spring and summer. They will bloom until exhausted. Then cut them back almost to the ground, give a weekly application of manure water, and in a few days you will see new shoots starting about the base of the old stem, and in a month will be a large plant, loaded with flowers and buds. Planting a crimson and a white plant together gives a very pleasing effect. If we want to be sure of a certain variety it will be necessary to grow from cuttings as we can never be sure what a seedling will be like.

Gladiolas are propagated from bulbs and are fairly easy to grow. Soil should be fertile and in good physical condition.

Zenias started from seed several weeks ago may be transplanted now. Flocks are very hardy and propagated from seed. It's a little late to plant them now, but if we have plenty of moisture they will come up, and if not sufficient moisture they may come in next fall. The flowers make a good show and are used in vacant lots as well as in the home yards.

Marigolds are very hardy and will seed themselves.

Asters may be set now from seed planted a few weeks ago. Any fair soil in good physical condition.

Hydrangea is very good and propagated by cuttings. Start them now.

Geraniums may be started now for summer.

Scarlet sage, Galliardia, and periwinkle not as good as some of the others named, but very good for some places and may be planted at this time.

The Galliards should be put in now and respond to good treatment.

I realize this article is brief but I sincerely hope some of these may be used for the beautification of Sanford and Seminole county.

R. S. COOPER.

RUM ARMANDA IS GROWING LARGER

HIGHLANDS, N. J., April 25.—The Jersey rum fleet has increased in numbers since it was inspected by Federal prohibition officers. Last week it comprised the ex-yacht Ista, tanker Warnaw and four schooners. Today it included also an 1,800 ton freighter, apparently heavily laden, which was believed to have arrived direct from Scotland, and two more sailing craft.

From Honore de Balzac's "La Duchesse de Langeais"—Flame of love, to be snuffed by a breath, or fanned to a blast—to consume her with a passion of sacrifice. His warm lips to her forehead like the brand from the smithy's forge. Never—never—never before has Norma Talmadge created a role so magnetic, so radiant as the Duchesse de Langeais, gorgeous to behold yet never to be held. In scenes of splendor and suspense she unfolds this confession of love from the heart of a wilful beauty in France's gayest courts. Better than "Smiling Thru."

CHANGE OF LIFE

Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Balley, of Route 2, this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up."

"Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

"Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others."

STATE REAL ESTATE BOARD IS PROPOSED

TALLAHASSEE, April 24.—Licensing of all persons who do real estate business, including salesmen, and creation of a Florida Real Estate commission is proposed by Senator W. M. Igou in a bill introduced in the senate Friday.

The measure is said to be in accord with the ideas of the Florida Realtors' association.

The bill fixes a registration fee of $15 for brokers and $10 for salesmen with a renewal privilege from year to year at a fee of $10 for brokers and $5 for salesmen.

Applicants are granted permits to do business either as broker or salesman upon recommendation of two reputable citizens, who must be owners of real estate. Permits are revocable for numerous reasons. Among them are misrepresentation and failure to properly account for any moneys coming into one's possession, that is property of another.

The chairman of the board would receive $15 a day for actual time occupied by the work, while the other two members would receive $10 a day each. The board would be authorized to employ clerical help.

For places where electric current is not available there has been invented a ventilating fan that is driven by the heat from a kerosene lamp.

Major Railroad System Over 4,000 Miles, Embraces Five Roads

CLEVELAND, April 25.—A new major railroad system, the Van Sweringen, consisting of approximately 4,000 miles of roadway and including the consolidated Nickel Plate, which embraces five railroads, the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Hocking Valley, operating as a separate unit, is no more of the five great railway systems of the country, according to new railroad maps just issued.

Oris P. and Mantis J. Van Sweringen, of Cleveland, pictured in some circles as the twentieth century prototypes of Hill and Harrisman are the men who control this new system. Both are comparatively young, Oris P. being 42 and Mantis J. 40. For the last twelve years they have been numbered among Cleveland's leading citizens, but until their entrance into the railroad field they were little known outside the state and possibly in financial circles in New York and Chicago.

These brothers, however, appear indifferent to fame. The quiet way they grouped the five roads into the proposed Nickel Plate system is one example of the aversion to publicity, while the method in which they acquired control of the Chesapeake and Ohio and the Hocking Valley is another.

According to railroad men here the alliance with the Chesapeake and Ohio was a departure from what had generally been expected, as a combination between the Nickel Plate and the Lackawanna or Lehigh was thought probable, thus giving them an outlet to a New England seaport or the port of New York.

Instead the Sweringens obtained outlets at Newport, New, and Norfolk. But this was not all. The Chesapeake and Ohio, it was explained, had been overburdened with traffic originating on its own line and its expansion retarded on account of lack of outlets over other roads. The Nickel Plate, on the other hand, carries large volumes of agricultural and animal products freight. It is said to have needed the counter-balance of large shipments, principally west, the bulk of which movement would be in the opposite direction to the Nickel Plate travel. This it obtains from the Chesapeake and Ohio.

The consolidated Nickel Plate is composed of the following railroads: Nickel Plate, Lake Erie & Western; Toledo, St. Louis & Western; Chicago & State Line, and Ft. Wayne, Cincinnati & Louisville; the Detroit & Toledo Shore Line, owned jointly by the Toledo, St. Louis & Western and the Grand Trunk Western, may also be included.

The original Nickel Plate line traverses five states—Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York, running from Buffalo to Chicago.

The Toledo, St. Louis & Western runs from East St. Louis, Ill., through Frankfort, Kokomo and Marion, Ind., and Continental, O., to Toledo. The Detroit and Toledo Shore Line makes an extension of this route, giving an entrance into Detroit.

The Lake Erie & Western touches Sandusky and Fostoria, O., Muncie and Frankfort, Ind., and Bloomington, and terminates at Peoria, Ill.

The Chicago & State line is a short stretch carrying the Nickel Plate system directly into Chicago.

The Fort Wayne, Cincinnati & Louisville runs through Indiana from Fort Wayne on the north to Connersville on the south.

The Chesapeake & Ohio has a combined mileage with the Hocking Valley of 2,896 miles, stretching from the Atlantic seaboard at Norfolk and Newport News, Va., through West Virginia, Kentucky and Ohio.

The Hocking Valley runs from Toledo, O., through Columbus to the Ohio river. The Chesapeake & Ohio of Indiana extends this main line of the C. & O., and carries it across Indiana into Chicago.

This consolidation of railroads is

OWNING YOUR OWN HOME.

There is nothing that gives a person such feeling of security as owning one's own home. It often has been said that it is cheaper to rent than to own, but is this saying true? Is it true in the long run when everything is considered?

Where does the family get to that always lives in a rented house? What happens when the breadwinner dies or gets beyond the age of work? Many a Tampa family in the last few years has had the unpleasant experience of having its home sold over its head by not having the title to the house. Renting means worry; it means moving; moving means expense, often buying new things to fit the new home. It means in the end when a man has reached an age in life when inclined to take things a little easier that he must keep at the tread mill.

Buying one's own home, except in rare instances, puts a sense of responsibility on the man and his family, sacrificing some of the pleasure of the present for comfort and pleasure later. It means thrift.

The man who rents collects a stack of rent receipts. The ordinary man and family pay the rent and spend the rest, perhaps waking up when too late to a realization that they made a serious mistake by not having a permanent home.

A home owner always has credit at the bank. If it comes to the worst and there is sickness and death with unusual expenses, the home may be pledged to carry on until these expenses are over.

Local realtors are selling houses on the easy payment plan. Like paying rent, a comparatively small payment puts the purchaser in possession of a home and then by payment of a small amount a month which pays the interest and part of the principal a family in a few years will own its home.

To say the least, a widow with a family of children left with a home has a long start on the woman left with only a stack of rent receipts and a few hundred dollars worth of household furniture.—Tampa Tribune.

"It Pays to Swim With the Current"

This is about two spark plugs. At the moment they are lying on the sales manager's desk in the establishment of a large middle-western hardware jobber.

One spark plug bears a name known wherever automobiles are used, the other a name seldom heard.

Both, says the sales manager, are good plugs. On the score of quality they run neck and neck.

"But," he adds, "we are discontinuing this line"—and he holds up the plug of unfamiliar name. "Yes, and our discount on it is larger, too."

"What's wrong with it? Not a thing. It's a good plug—mighty good plug, but—no one knows about it. It isn't advertised—the other one is. The demand is for the advertised make. And we've learned it pays to swim with the current, not against it."

More and more jobbers in every line of business are learning every day that it pays to swim with the current of popular demand.

"Our job," said one jobber, "is to supply markets, not create them. Let the manufacturer make a market for his goods, and we will handle it."

Said another—"Our salesmen carry a catalog with thousands of items in it. They haven't the time to push unadvertised goods. Their work is principally taking orders."

If you go among these wholesalers today to introduce a new product in competition with merchandise nationally advertised, unless the article is exceptional, you will be met everywhere by the injunction: "First go out and get a reputation for your goods through advertising."

The wholesaler knows by actual contact with dealers how they value speed of turnover, goods which move with a minimum of effort; goods people know about and ask for.
