Milk Price War Goes To Court

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.
The National Farmers Organization, faced with a federal antitrust suit, has accused the Johnson administration of trying to stop farmers from bargaining for fair prices for their products.
The Justice Department filed a civil suit Wednesday in U.S. District Court in Des Moines, Iowa, charging the NFO with using coercion in attempting to monopolize the interstate sale of milk in 9 states.
Judge Roy L. Stephenson said he would hear arguments today on the possibility of issuing a restraining order against the NFO, which since March 5 has sought to withhold milk from the market in the hope of forcing the price paid to farmers up by 2 cents a quart. Most farmers now receive 8 to 10 cents a quart.
While federal suit did not challenge the milk withholding, it did accuse the NFO members, it did accuse the farm group of forcing non-member farmers, truckers and processors to cooperate with them.

The court action seeks an order forbidding the NFO from trying to monopolize the sale of milk by illegal means and from threatening non-NFO members. The response from NFO President Oren Lee Staley was an attack on the Johnson administration for what Staley called a campaign to deny farmers the right to bargain for fair prices. He added that his group has no intention of ceasing its milk withholding, but would obey a court order.
It was the first time since the holdout started that Staley has held out against the city they will fix the crossing at Third and Myrtle and 13th and Sanford.

Chamber Cautious Over Holy Land

Further investigation and study of the proposal to create "Holy Land, USA" in Seminole County was endorsed by the board of directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last night. This action was taken purely as a preliminary step. It followed a public presentation of the idea by the man who conceived it—Stephen A. Haboush, archeologist, Bible student and lecturer.
His "Holy Land" idea would take a large area of Central Florida and there reproduce Palestine as it was in the days of Jesus. Born on the western shore of the Sea of Galilee, Haboush explained the terrain, buildings and waters of that area with the knowledge which comes from experience. In his 47 years of travel and lecturing in the United States he has found a deep religious interest in the land of Israel contained in the Bible and the thousands of religious minded people who would like to visit but where most are prevented.

More Study Stressed By Directors Chamber Cautious Over Holy Land

A "Holy Land, USA" would provide such an opportunity. Considering this idea at a board meeting the sentiment was one of cautious action. Some saw it as a proper offshoot and by product of the furor arising from the build up of Disney World and the estimated millions of tourists who will make this the center of attraction within a few years. For it would be primarily designed for the tourist. And the attraction of a tourist's family to such a "Holy Land" would mean that millions of tourists dollars would be spent in the place where it would be located.
The chamber's board, quite naturally, decided to let First Research, Inc. put the Haboush proposal on its agenda. This experience organization is about to start a two months study of Seminole County and its proper use of tourism as an economic resource. Traffic which has already made 14 a heavily traveled highway is expected to multiply greatly as "Disney World" comes off the planning boards and onto Florida soil. And when this happens such an attraction as "Holy Land, USA" if designed and built to the highest standards could well bring into Seminole County those tourist dollars which spell prosperity.
But the board of directors did not go further than to endorse the idea. Such projects demand large financial backing. Haboush speaks of raising "some $20 million"—and where some financial support could come from as far away as the government in Lebanon, at last night's meeting even discussion of dollar matters was not on the agenda.

North Orlando Hassle State To Review Village Insurance

Review of the insurance program covering the Village of North Orlando will be made by representatives of State Insurance Commissioner Broward Williams at the request of a group of residents, it was learned today.
A question was raised on a $700 difference between bids of two insurance agencies to cover the village, and upon an alleged charge covering volunteer firemen, who are not on the village payroll and, therefore, not under the jurisdiction of the village council.
Williams told The Herald by telephone this morning the review would be conducted by his Winter Park office and that, should it warrant, it would be forwarded for further action to his Tallahassee office.
Winter Park representatives of Williams' office, however, stated they believed they had no jurisdiction in the matter and that it should be referred to the village council for its study.
Insurance contract was let in March to Charles McIntosh, Nationwide Insurance agent, who also is a village council member. High bidder was County Insurance Agency, Orlando.

Schedule for the completion of the paving of Piney Avenue, south of the Naval Air Station and the Mullet Lake Parkway, extension to SR 46, are within three weeks to a month.

Expansion of police department offices in the City of Longwood by making use of a portion of the medical building located adjacent to the present city hall facilities is being considered, Mayor A. R. Lormann reported to The Herald today.
Mayor Lormann explained the "serious" need of the police department to have more office space. The current police office in a 7 feet by 7 feet space at the rear of the city hall is not nearly large enough to meet department needs, he stated.
"The only place the police officers have to conduct confidential conversations is in the fire department building among the fire trucks," Lormann said. "This certainly is not conducive to good police work."
The medical building was built through donations of the people of the city in the late 1950's to be used for a medical building. It is now being partially used by the Health Department. Only the portion of the building not being used

New sign of service...New symbol of quality

It took some doing to get all the signs on our "Happy Motoring" stations here in the Southeast changed over to the new sign of energy — Enco. (And while we were busy getting them ready our friendly Tiger kept watch up there.) But now they're up — everywhere! A landmark to look for when you want the extra measure of quality and service you get from the Tiger Team... when you want the kind of Tiger power you put in your tank when you fill up with Enco Extra... when you want the kind of "Happy Motoring" automotive products you'd expect from America's Leading Energy Company. Enco means Energy Company, and Humble leads all other oil companies in the country in research and production. No wonder the men who now proudly wear the Enco name on their chests step a little more lively these days. Big things are happening at the Enco sign!

Parents Fail To Communicate With Children

By RICHARD H. DAVY
Minister of Education
First Methodist Church

Young people and their task of growing up is a popular topic with most gatherings of concerned persons working toward goals and a new perspective in viewing solutions for our youth's dilemma — one to which many adults contribute daily by their lack of compassion or apathy for those engaged in the process of maturing.

In Sanford, most of our youth pass through these years with a minimum dosage of problems, so we assume because our child does not smash up buildings, drop out of school, or stay out all night, that we have done well and feel assured of our ability to raise our offspring. The truth of the matter, if allowed to enter our minds, is that most of us do not really know our young people. We do not want to know what they do with their friends, at school, at church, etc., because we have our lives to live and our time is very valuable. We are busy making a living for our families, then, as we grow older realize that we do not know the youth in our home, to which we have so hard to give.

Parents are so afraid of turning their young people against them that they give in to them and say "Well, I don't want them to hate me when they grow up." Of course, what they don't realize is that they will dislike and respect them less in later years for not guiding them and giving them some sound and limits. Parents will not adequately chaperone their youth's parties and outings because they are not interested in the amount of back talk to parents from the youth is amazing. One would think that the parents were being raised by their youth.

You are not innocent indeed! They are normal and active and have lots of spare time, especially in the summer (particularly the junior high age). Most parents will not leave anything bad about the young people in their family and they will tell you to your face that they are fine. It is increasingly harder to teach values, ideals, and standards to young people in the various places where our youth spend the majority of their time, except for the home, namely the school and church. The home is logically where a young person should receive his/her instruction in right living, but all too often parents pass this tremendous responsibility into the hands of the school and church.

First, let me say that the school does dominate a lot of the youth's time but does not and cannot deal with the personal and individual struggles of every youth. It is the overwhelmingly complex job of teaching and guiding students in the academic tradition which is necessary for their future well-being. It does not serve to fill in the gaps of lives which are in need of repair or improvement.

Secondly, the church cannot answer the needs of the youth in terms of providing outlets for their self-expression, frustrations, and problems. The church, because of tradition and custom, is slow to change its ministry to youth. It tends to do so and must in the future because, especially in places like Sanford, more and more youth go unchurched through these turbulent years. Statistics would astound us but would not shake us up enough to act because of the many statistics we hear weekly. We have become conditioned to the sound of deification in our present time. The church has a unique opportunity to reach untold numbers of youth with "real" meaning if it will be honest and open to ways of communicating with our youth — not out of tradition and phrases and approaches no longer workable with youth. It is, however, fulfilling a need to many youth who avail themselves to it.

Youth need to see competent, realistic, and ready-to-listen adults whose lives speak words no words can describe. So, therefore, the home is the main focus point of concern. Here in Sanford, if parents were to scrutinize their own conduct, the concern with material possessions, the deceptions practiced for business and social gain, they might well find the seeds of their youth's misconduct.

The public is invited to attend. Nursery is open for all services.

Pastor's Corner

A Grain Of Faith

By REV. ROBERT M. JENKINS
First Methodist Church

Frequently ministers receive, "pleas from the pews." Questions from their people of specific needs in their lives. Perhaps the most frequent plea is "... I do not have enough faith. How do I get more?"

Christian faith defined is "... the ability to use the resources of God in the living of our everyday life. It is the ability to recognize within us the assurance that God is a 'very present help and guide in all areas of life.'"

No one who takes life seriously can miss the chaotic nature of the life we are forced to live today, just to exist. The computer tells us of a world that is metrically exact. But in human relations we have lost the meaning of life itself. No age has had more power at its disposal than we. Yet no age has so poorly used its tools as our age. We are incredibly ingenious technologically, but spiritually we are impoverished. And to our religious faith we are hopeless infants.

Faith, doubtless, is the fundamental need of us all. To answer the plea "... we can never get enough faith. It is the same thing, possibly, that can be stored for future use in the human soul. When I speak of faith I am not advocating mere divine protection. I do not wish for a faith that will simply pull us out of every emergency situation unscathed. Such a faith is immature. What we need is a dynamic that gives us the ability to face, first of all, and then to live life squarely.

I ask many people when given this plea, "Have you used what you have?" Most of us have some faith, but it doesn't seem to match someone else's. When Paul wrote his Thimotheans he thanked God "because your faith grew exceedingly." Their problem sometimes matches ours. We receive the Easter message, and then we throw out in the open like a hot potato the message that we suddenly find ourselves alone in, in need of faith. Perhaps the "winds of doctrine" have lured us. Or perhaps insecurity plagues us. Paul reminds us that even though our faith may not be as great as we wish, we still have that of another, this does not mean that it is inadequate. Because "your faith is on the increase," if it is, "it is adequate," he states.

No matter how long, or how short our Christian life is, if we are Christian we have discovered some things that we know for sure. The mark of an advancing faith is that every day we are growing surer and surer about the validity and power of God. This applies to first impulse to believe, as well as the abiding sustenance to "remain steadfast."

Frank Boreham writing about Wordsworth said that "His music transcended in sublimity and profundity and sweetness, that of any of his contemporaries, because he kept in his secret cupboard a modest stock of certainties." Perhaps Paul's most rewarding passages are his "I am persuaded" passages in the book of Romans.

You are not to do have to know everything to have an adequate faith. The provocative parables of the mustard seed and the leaven, reminds us of this truth. Faith, and the living of life, can proceed from one single, but significant experience. Faith "as a grain of mustard seed" can be a small seemingly insignificant experience. But in that moment you have something. You have held truth, you have grasped it and it has grasped you. And here is the tragedy. If we demand more than this at this moment, we may lose even that which we have experienced. For we may not be capable of handling more.

Could this be Isaiah's message to us "Seek ye the Lord while he may be found. Call upon him while he is near." Whatever you do, to you see that something works in the spiritual realm, make that experience yours. Tuck it away in the secret cupboard of your heart ... as a certainty.

Some select Sunday as a day of worship. Others prefer Friday or Saturday. But the source of worship knows no boundaries—temporal or spatial.

Some find their God in church. Others see him in a spring brook. Some find him in a faithless man's heart. Children of God find peace in his own way. All place their trust in a Supreme Being and worship as conscience dictates.

Each seeks peace in his own way. All place their trust in a Supreme Being and worship as conscience dictates.

Why not join them? You, too, can find peace and guidance in prayer.

AF Captain Fights Fight

Denver, Colo. (AP) — Trial of an Air Force captain's suit to block his transfer from Air Force Academy is scheduled for April 12.

Capt. Dale E. Noyd, 33, a 12-year veteran of the Air Force who teaches psychology, claims the proposed transfer would lead eventually to a flying a fighter plane in the Vietnam war.

U. S. District Judge William E. Doyle Wednesday granted Noyd's request for a temporary injunction blocking the transfer and set the trial date. Noyd had to be received training in the F100 jet fighter.

The injunction will remain in effect until a court determination of Noyd's suit. It asks the court to order his superiors to accept his resignation or assign him to duties consistent with his beliefs in humanism.

By JANE CASSELLBERRY

Political speeches, food and drinks were dispensed with equal alacrity as candidates for offices in the South Seminole Jaycees voted for votes at a rally held at the TAHO Club.

Running for office are: William Goebel and John Wayne Smith, president; Robert Koloski and Roger Gaur, first vice president; George J. Smith, second vice president; Harry Kwiatkowski, secretary; Clifford Jordan, treasurer; and Robert Miller, corresponding secretary.

Candidates for the board of directors include: Lawrence Barnett, William West, James Buckridge and James Latner.

Election will be held Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the TaHo Club.

Posters for the various candidates decorated the walls and elaborate refreshments, prepared in part by their loyal wives, were served.

A five-piece teenage band, "The Columbia Spirees," was brought into to play by Gaur.

In the board meeting, which preceded the rally, President Thomas Pratt appointed an education committee to study the situation at the Sanford area schools and the first of double sessions and report to the Jaycees what, if anything, they can do about it.

Named to serve were Robert Mills, Ralph David, John W. Smith, Gaur, Robert Jenkins and Merle Lilliquan.

J. RICHARDS ON DUFFERS AND DIVOTS

Oh, your sweet, fellow duffers, I have here, in my possession, something gathered to astound and amaze you and it all comes in a little 70 pound package of what could be one of the area's top golfers. Also on the agenda, we will give you a little "how-to" warning of an upcoming pro-am, and all of the other revealing info on our area's golfing.

We'll be featuring the South Seminole Junior High Golf team in this week's go-round. They are coached by Herb Dunning and Pete Poore, who are well liked and respected around the South West part of our fair county. They tell me that their team is willing to meet with anyone for a match, (maybe even in the Junior varsity and high school level, but) the only competition is scarce. Sanford Junior High finished as the only county high school competitor.

Our 70 pound package of golfing dynamite is Chuck Lytle, and don't let the weight fool you, because that's not too much under his score either. Chuck recently tied the course record at Orange Park Country Club's front nine with a scintzing 28 on the last 21 front nine. He recorded two eagles and three birdies. However, one three-putt green ruined his record-setting bid.

J. Richards, who is well liked and respected around the South West part of our fair county.

With the season's top golfers in the top of the fourth when third baseman Larry Baker rapped out the only hit of the game for the Raiders, a single, and stole second base. He advanced to third on Jake Wallace's ground hit and scored on a wild throw.

Wayne Hick, (5-6) who hurled a one-hitter for St. Johns, allowed his first run after five innings and the previous run combine in an off-season meeting, there is bound to be even more behind the story. The Seminole Junior College Raiders, who finished fifth in the statewide standings this year, and received a national defense ranking, will meet the Orlando Panthers professional football team in a benefit basketball game tonight in Orlando at 8:30.

Starting for the Panthers will be All-CF quarterback Dan Jones and defensive halfback Dick Pesenti. Tommy Hand, Don Fuell, Darrell Cox, Lamar Richardson, Larry Geyl, Jim Williams, and Tom Stoppman.

The Raiders will be there in full strength with the cheering squad and an attractive line-up to the game. Fred Milton, 6'4", center, will be one of the game's taller men. Steve Gussner and Gary Loyd, both of Sanford and Lyman's, are on hand to play. Don Lilly, Earl Shook, Jacob Wallace, John Thomas, Charlie Brown, and Jim Buckman will represent the Raiders tonight.

The West has a 16-man squad which averages 136 inches in height advantage over the favored East which has six players from the first or second All-America teams this season.

Lyman Over Shadows SHS In Leesburg Track Meet

Lyman High took six first places and came through with impressive showings in the running events to again best the favored Sanford Seminoles track squad in Leesburg last night.

Lyman won with 69 points, barely edging the defending state champions, who had 68 1/2 points. Leesburg, who hosted the meet, wound up third with 44 points.

David Straughan was the Lyman stand-out winning two individual firsts: one in the 440 with a time of 2:4.9 and one in the 220 with a 1:24.4. Bill Frisby of the Seminoles split the 400 yard race with Lyman's Lyman, who won with a 1:09.9 time in winning the 100 yard dash, tying his school record.

Leesburg's John Valone took away Seminoles first places in the shot, disc and javelin with his usual winning efforts.

Saturday, Seminoles High will host three-time winners of the Class A Georgia State Track Championship, Thomasville High. Last year, the Seminoles squad traveled to Thomasville, Ga., to run against their team and was defeated.

Better Send Flowers

The Democratic Party is dead in Seminole County. We feel the result of Tuesday's legislative election during which the Democratic Party here was busy sleeping as Republican Party workers knocked on doors and held an extensive campaign to court the voters. We can not believe that the staggering GOP victory in Sanford and Seminole County was the result of a vote of confidence for Governor Kirk's first few months in office and it was simply a do-nothing complacent attitude displayed by the Democrats.

The Herald feels that the Democratic Party had better wake up to a few facts of life. There is now a two-party system in Seminole County. They can't just sit around and listen to the election returns. A new revitalized party is a must here or, there will be a lot of changes made during the 1968 election which could involve all office holders in the courthouse. The time for the Democrats to wake up here is now before funeral services are held and the last rites given. Need anything else be said. To the victors Tuesday we offer our congratulations. We hope that Ken Plante, E. Pope Bassett and Jan Fortune will look out for Seminole County. We cannot afford to be swallowed up by neighboring Orange. All our hopes rest with them and we hope they will not let us down.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — "There wasn't a drop of eye in the place." These are the words of one of the President Johnson's aides. The place was Guam where the President, surrounded by his top advisers, met with South Vietnam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky. And this was the occasion Ky handed the President an embossed copy of South Vietnam's new constitution which Saigon's constituent assembly, after working on it for nearly two years, had just approved so Ky could take it to Guam.

If the American were moved to tears it was because this constitution was the first solid step toward a democratic society for a people who had endured for less than a century of domination by Chinese, mandarin, emperors, and the colonialist French.

The same Johnson aide said that before Ky left Saigon he had worked four days and nights to get the constitution through the assembly. Election of a president and a new assembly will follow in a few months. "The Americans were laudatory of their long journey to Guam," the aide said, "but Ky should have been watched. He wasn't. He was very self-confident. Newsmen were exhausted and heard him at Guam can testify to that."

Ky asserted himself at Guam to such an extent that he took the headlines away from Johnson — and has continued to do so since, which may have a significant effect on the war and American relations with South Vietnam.

In the past week some prominent South Vietnamese have expressed great hope for the future, believing a popularly supported, established government will take the start out of the Viet Cong and induce North Vietnam to talk peace. They were realistic enough to believe that just achieving a democratic government is not enough — to prove it can endure will take a little time and until then American help will continue to be needed.

News conference in South Vietnam called for broadening and intensifying the war against North Vietnam. He blasted those American who had not agreed to the war and who call for an end to bombing the North and for a coalition government in Vietnam to include the present enemy, the Viet Cong.

Ky said "It's now our turn to say something. We are not going to accept communism in our country. We are going to discuss 'details and control' of a cease-fire. This South Vietnam reaction to the Viet Cong reaction — was that you can't suddenly have a trace of fortune. It is a matter of luck and agreeing to the rules for it."

Scientists have estimated that there are three million to four million pain points on the human body.

LETTERS

To The Editor

Editor, Herald: It is hoped that you might print my "Letter-to-the-Editor," which follows below. Obviously, I have been personally moved and feel that many others too would be sympathetic if they knew of the Dekle family's plight. In anticipation of your response, I wish to extend my very warmest thanks.

I cried because I had no shoes. I cried because I had no food. I cried because I had no clothes to protect and to survive. Many basic needs have hardly altered in this day and age. I have been personally moved and feel that many others too would be sympathetic if they knew of the Dekle family's plight. In anticipation of your response, I wish to extend my very warmest thanks.

Political Gossip Friendly Season

By FRED VAN PELT (Opinions expressed in this column do not necessarily reflect the policies of The Sanford Herald.)

"I'm all in favor of the two-party system . . . and I'd like to see it continued in Florida. And that is why we Democrats must get out and work to win this election." Could it be that the late John A. Baker could see into the future? He made that statement above at a Democratic club rally here in Sanford two-and-a-half weeks ago . . . to the 15 members present out of a claimed membership of 252.

Political pundits throughout the state and others are stressing that the Democrats lost this week's legislative election because of lack of leadership and unity. Seminole County Democratic party workers are especially unhappy, pointing out a split in the top level of their organization and the fact that party election headquarters were set up without the knowledge of the executive board members.

Whereas the winning Republicans had a state leader in Gov. Claude Kirk and unity down to the precinct level . . . and thus captured prize posts . . . the Democrats floundered without leaders from top to bottom. Party workers point out the 11 Democratic legislative candidates "went it" on their own as a team, disdaining any support from the party as such.

This week's election is now history. But we would like to point out that Seminole County's three executive Republican legislators are from South Seminole County. Sanford left out in the cold again.

A food lover is one to be admired. Tom McDonald took exception to remarks in this column of a couple weeks ago. But he took his defeat with grace and dignity. An admirable trait.

LOCAL, STATE, HOME AND FARM NEWS FOR AND ABOUT SEMINOLE COUNTY AND VICINITY.

Farm Front

By DOYLE CONNER
Commissioner of Agriculture
TALLAHASSEE—In view of this season's abundant crop, there is an urgent need to create new markets for Florida fresh and processed citrus products.

As a result of this urgency, the Florida Department of Agriculture is working with the USDA and the Florida Citrus Commission on a number of far-reaching projects, aimed at creating new markets to boost citrus sales.

Two of these markets, northern dairies and Florida state institutions have yet to be opened to volume sales of citrus.

The proposed use of fresh Florida chilled orange juice through Northern dairy outlets is, I believe, one of the best opportunities which has been presented to the citrus industry in years.

The first step in this direction has been taken and we are now negotiating with a dairy in Ohio toward this end.

Plans are also underway to develop a brochure on a complete program of chilled orange juice for dairies.

The Florida Department of Agriculture will continue its effort toward increasing the consumption of citrus products at its earliest convenience.

ASSORTMENT OF hot irons for branding cattle are needed each year, as roundup time comes to the sprawling cattle ranches of South Florida. According to old-time cattlemen, the best method of applying a brand mark is with an iron which has been heated on a wood fire, like the one above. This is said to insure the brand "burns clean" on an animal's hide. Florida Agriculture Department, which regulates the state's marks and brands law, estimates there are 10,000 brands on file in its headquarters at Tallahassee.

Yardner's Corner

By CECIL A. TUCKER II
County Agricultural Agent
Recently I had the opportunity to discuss with a group of high school boys the career opportunities in agriculture. The future in this area looks bright because in recent years we have not had enough graduates to fill the jobs. As I was explaining the outlook to this group, I referred to one of the most important groups who also needed the "ag career opportunity" message—the parents.

When somebody uses the word "agriculture," you are likely to think about farming and growing food, but there is a lot more to it than that. It includes the testing of uncooperated vending machines for dispensing reconstituted orange concentrate and consumer package research on grapefruit halves and pre-peeled Tample, Tangelo, Marcott, and Tangerine segments.

Guatemala

Guatemala, which faces both the Caribbean Sea and the Pacific Ocean, has the largest population of any Central American republic. Approximately 70 percent of its people are persons producing coffee, bananas and the world's best cacao, which is a basic ingredient of chocolate gum.

AF Pilots 'Walk Bombs' Across Commie Showpiece

SAGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force pilots led by a World War II ace blew out the vital blast furnaces of North Vietnam's showpiece Thai Nguyen steel plant 20 miles north of Hanoi Thursday, the U.S. Command announced.

Col. Robin Olds, of Washington, D.C., who downed 21 enemy planes in World War II and a MIG21 in the biggest air battle of the Vietnam war, led the strike of Phantom jets which came in low and "walked their bombs across the target," a spokesman said.

It was the seventh strike against the steel plant since it was put on the target list three weeks ago. Bad weather has hampered all the strikes, and the Air Force enthusiastically hailed the latest for "destroying the blast furnaces."

Olds, 44, husband of former movie star Ella Raines, reported that Thai Nguyen was "engulfed in smoke and dust" from his flight's thousand-pound bombs.

But the U.S. Command also had some bad news to report, announcing that a U.S. Marine jet pilot fired rockets by mistake Thursday, killing four Marines and wounding 13 more.

Olds, 44, husband of former movie star Ella Raines, reported that Thai Nguyen was "engulfed in smoke and dust" from his flight's thousand-pound bombs.

Sharp but small-scale and scattered ground fighting was reported in the north, the U.S. Command said. Communist forces killed 40 wounded Thursday. The same actions cost the Communists 86 known dead.

Nineteen of the American wounded were 1st Division infantrymen hit by a Red mortar attack in Communist war zone C northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border. Operation Junction City, the biggest U.S. sweep of the war, is continuing there.

The U.S. spokesman said a battalion of U.S. infantrymen in other regions ran into a Communist force of unknown size today and fighting was continuing. Last report, the Saigon headquarters had no details.

U.S. pilots flew 95 missions against North Vietnam Thursday, striking at communication targets in addition to the steel plant.

During one attack on a truck convoy southwest of Hanoi, Air Force pilots sighted two MIG21 interceptors but they turned away without giving battle. No details were reported.

The U.S. Command also reported that enemy ground forces brought down an Army helicopter east of Pleiku, in the central zone.

Another milestone of the war was reached Tuesday when the U.S. Air Force reported that it had destroyed the steel plant in North Vietnam.

Tax Ideas Ready For Solons

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Most of some 80 recommendations for equalizing the tax burden on Floridians—many proposals for a sweepstakes and a severance tax—today stand ready for scrutiny of the Legislature.

The State Tax Reform Commission spent a day Thursday flipping through staff recommendations and passed the major ones to the Legislature.

"Nothing particular to worry about now," says the Boston Weather Bureau.

"I'd go as far as saying the outlook for the future is bright," says a farmer. "We've had only a quarter of an inch since last September."

New Yorkers are looking forward to the possible lifting of some drought emergency measures still in effect like not serving a glass of water in city restaurants unless you request it.

Farmers in the Midwest are hopefully looking forward to bigger things, like early April rains to improve drought-stunted crops and ease the threat of dust storms and prairie fires.

The Northeast was helped by heavier winter snowfalls, which may have resulted from a shift in the normal pattern of weather coming from Canada and across the United States.

The shift in the weather pattern like this may have been the cause of the Plains states' lack of precipitation.

Meteorologists say cold Canadian air bypassed the Plains states and the Northwest, and instead ran east across the Great Lakes.

New York City reservoirs gained 4.8 billion gallons of water from melting snow and the city's water supply rose to a fraction below the normal level.

A one-per-cent hike in the sales tax, now three cents on the dollar, was urged by the Legislature in a bill introduced by Rep. Gordon Wells, a Pensacola Democrat, said he would introduce a measure in the House.

Other proposals would extend the 45,000 homestead exemption to owners of long-term leaseholds of cooperative and condominium apartments.

Another would lighten the greenbelt law which allows income tax assessments for agriculture lands, to prevent land speculators from using the law to escape high taxes.

All ad valorem taxes would be collected on the basis of a single assessment in each county if the proposal were adopted.

Each year a list of all properties exempted from taxes would be published. These would not include those held by widows, veterans, the disabled and government agencies.

The commission decided the present distribution of the fifth, sixth and seventh cents of the state gas tax was inequitable but avoided recommending a new distribution formula. Members said the Legislature was sure to have its own.

The committee also "Acknowledged" massive federal aid is needed but urged that it be channeled through state agencies.

Said state agencies should be allowed to pledge the full faith and credit of the state for general obligation bonds, after a favorable vote by the people.

Urged repeal of the controversial five per cent tax on wholesale sporting goods, the financial basis of the purchase of outdoor recreational properties.

While the six-year long drought conditions in the North east have eased considerably, a lack of rainfall is posing a serious threat to farmers in the Midwest.

Live Space TV Shows Promised

CAPT. KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — AT-2, a monorail spacecraft almost as long as a football field, will be aimed into earth orbit Tuesday toing cameras which could permit home TV viewers to see live pictures from space.

The 415-pound craft, named AT-2 for the second Applications Technology Satellite, has been developed to improve satellite communications and control systems, and to help weather men make more accurate long range forecasts.

It consists of a drum-shaped equipment section five feet in diameter and six feet tall. Four booms each 12 feet long radiate out from the sides of the equipment section to give the satellite the shape of a huge X.

If the booms were fully extended, the craft would measure 269 feet from tip to tip. However, project officials said they plan to roll the booms out part way so its actual size in space will be about 251 feet.

The booms are part of a control system which will use earth's gravity to keep one side level. By manipulating the booms and extending them, the satellite can be tilted to point at different parts of the earth at different times.

The control system includes two standard television cameras which will be aimed at high altitude. AT-2's planned 6,905-mile circular orbit, the cameras are expected to show the full earth disk in the background — making this planet appear much like a full moon.

NASA said signals from the cameras are commercially compatible with standard home TV sets and could be relayed by national TV networks directly to home viewers.

Two other cameras also will be aimed AT-2 to take still pictures of cloud formations for weather studies.

Another camera also will be aimed AT-2 to take still pictures of cloud formations for weather studies.

Federal-State Teamwork Urged

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Former Florida Gov. Farris Bryant, leading an elite federal team, officials today that federal programs must be changed through the office of the governor if we are going to resolve the vast problems that face us.

Bryant made the remarks at the opening of a one-day conference between Florida officials and a special presidential team sent here by President Johnson.

Kirk said that purpose of the session, as he saw it, is "to get things going and get things done as they come to us from Washington."

We want to go away with a message of how to do our work better," Kirk said, sharing the podium with Bryant.

After the opening meeting, the officials broke into groups for closed sessions to discuss education, health and welfare, planning and development, parks, forestry and recreation.

A fifth group composed of Cabinet members and high-ranking state agency heads met with a federal team.

Topic of that meeting was not disclosed.

About 350 persons attended the opening session.

Bryant said that the objective of the meeting was to discuss the huge number of federal grant-in-aid programs and how they can best be used in solving problems of Florida's citizens.

Bryant said that the reason the Greek city states fell was because they had "one problem—they never could work together."

Bryant said that the American government was "born full blown" and is still evolving to ward ultimate solution of the problems of its citizens.

"What we are here for today is to take one more step toward that evolution," Bryant said.

Bryant said that there are more than 40 federal grant-in-aid programs, and these programs, eventually will involve expenditures of 500 billion dollars.

"We have to evolve mechanisms to see that this money is spent effectively for the people," Bryant said.

The former governor is the President's liaison man with the nation's 50 governors. He at ready has arranged 18 federal state meetings.

District Superintendent T. H. Norton will conduct a quarterly conference at the Caseberry Community Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Reports will be given by the various officials of the church and Sunday School.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
 All for the church
 The church is the spiritual home of the people. It is the place where we meet to worship God, to receive His Word, and to be united in His love. It is the place where we find the strength and comfort we need in our lives. It is the place where we can find the help we need in our times of trouble. It is the place where we can find the peace and joy that only God can give. Let us all join together in the church, and we can make a difference in the world.

That poor doctor! All he can hear is a thump-thumping in his stethoscope. But parents can hear more! They can hear their child's heart in his excited voice... in his bounding feet... in his noisy play. And the sounds they hear are full of happiness, and hope, and promise. In his prayers, too, parents can hear their child's heart... reaching confidently toward the Love and Power that grown men sometimes forget. But hearing a child's prayers is only one little gesture in the tremendous responsibility of nurturing the spiritual development of a Christian heir. Like the doctor's stethoscope it's a kind of routine checkup before we prescribe what the patient needs. The heart of a child needs religious example in generous doses which only his parents can provide. And the heart of a child needs spiritual truth, of which his family's Church is the convenient, trusted dispensary.
