AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHEL

To write well of a place you have to hate it — an old Brooklyn saying.

• • •

I sat on the steps of city hall last night waiting for the Civil Service Board to meet.

Why am I here?

The main item on the agenda is certification of a water plant operator.

• • •

A few minutes earlier I had been by the county jail. Yesterday I had mentioned in the clock about a Mrs. Katherine Burrows who was being held in jail 23 days after her release date . . . She was getting out tonight and I wanted to see her. She told me about an out-of-town attorney who promised to get her out for $1,000 . . . or else, "rot in jail." They tried to get her committed. It didn't work . . . I had helped a little and it apparently did some good. She thanked me and I turned away.

• • •

I sat on the steps of city hall and saw a light burning in the city manager's office. Pete would be working late into the night on the budget to present to the city commission. I thought how nice it would be if Knowles gets the salary that he deserved . . . But of course he wouldn't.

• • •

I thought of the 345 days since I've been back in Sanford . . . How there had been so much pressure to get rid of me. They'll probably try again.

• • •

I thought about all the things they tell about me and wondered if they were true, I would be too exhausted to get to work in the morning.

• • •

I thought about the few friends I had in this town.

• • •

AND wondered why I was here.

• • •

All I do is talk to sparrows. One came up to me.

Feelin' sorry for yourself? Yeah.

• • •

I thought about freedom of the press . . . and laughed.

• • •

I thought about the funny things that happened over the past few hundred days . . . Of the Sanford Jaycees who asked me to ride their dunking machine on a bitter night in December for some fund raising drive . . . A few months later they called me a detriment to the community . . . I remember a law enforcement officer cornering me on Fulton St. saying he would run me out of town . . . or worse . . . I remember sitting late at night when an ex-drunk who threatened suicide if I left . . . He said he just wanted to talk to someone.

• • •

I thought about taking a positive approach to Sanford's problems . . . and then the negative. I wondered which did the most good.

• • •

The sparrow came back and blidded me about the school budget hearing that afternoon. Tom McDonald had questioned School Board members why didn't they go over the budget line by line as the County Commission did.

Walter Teague answered him that the board did — in "work sessions."

I thought the sparrow had an interesting point.

• • •

I took out a scrap of paper and made a list of people I liked in Sanford and I thought liked me. On another scrap I made out a list of those who would like to see me gone.

I ran out of paper fast.

• • •

The sparrow said: Why do yuh hate this place?

And I answered:

I don't hate it. I don't hate it. I don't hate it.

Seek EDA Aid For Downtown

Immediate steps to secure Economic Development Administration funds to pay for a professionally prepared plan to revitalize the downtown business section of this city are being taken. At a meeting of the Sanford-Seminole Development Committee today it was decided to ask W. E. Knowles, City Manager, to set up a meeting with EDA officials to discuss how this can best be done with an emphasis on the need for fast action.

Prior to this request, Frank Blandford, regional director of Candeub, Fleissig and Associates — planning and community development consultants, presented a three-part recommendation: 1. Application to EDA for funds for technical services; 2. Up-dating the Sanford city plan under the federal urban planning assistance program; and 3. A reconnaissance study for the Sanford central business district financed by other than federal funds.

Frank Finch, chairman of Downtown Inc., presided at the meeting which was attended by — in addition to Knowles — Clifford McKibbin, DeWitt T. Matthews, Jr., Thomas S. McDonald, and John Krider. In a frank and candid discussion of these proposals it was emphasized that the condition of the downtown business section brooks no delay, that to remedy this serious deterioration will require more than a professionally prepared plan, that the downtown people must participate.

Today's meeting followed several months of intense study of Sanford and Seminole economic conditions and years of attempts to determine how to stem the decline of the downtown section suffering from diversion of buyers to new shopping plazas and a lack of physical improvement in the traditional heart of Sanford business. The discussion noted the need now of pinpointing any new planning on "downtown."

With county-wide and region-wide studies on hand or in being, the local leaders agreed that what must now be produced is a specific plan for the area roughly defined as those blocks bounded by Mellonville Avenue on the east, Second street on the south, French Avenue on the west and the lakefront on the north.

It was also generally conceded that this study would be very much one with an economic base as the health of the downtown area is very much

Reappraisal Figure Set At $55,589,550

Sanford's Real estate valuations will jump close to 35 million as a result of an extensive property and building reappraisal completed this week, City Manager W. E. Knowles reported today.

Knowles said that City Tax Assessor Max Coberly has finished checking some 400 parcels of property and that the total figure would be $55,589,550 as compared to last year's figure of $50,962,880.

This will mean an increase of $84,000 for the operating budget.

Knowles says he plans to release the budget to the commission at its meeting Monday night. Non-exempt property valuations were estimated at $40,709,656 while exempt property totals $14,879,894.

Indications are the general operating budget including debt service will be based on 16 mills and be set at $1,500,000.

Monday night, Knowles will also discuss some $500,000 in capital improvements including $125,000 for the zoo relocation. Unless there is a raise in millage, many of these improvements will have to be cut, Knowles refused to show the Herald his recommendations of the budget until Monday.

The reappraisal was undertaken in October of 1965 in an effort to "equalize" property in the city. At that time all property was assessed at 65 percent of the real estate value.

Other items of interest expected to be discussed Monday will be decision on paving a parking lot north of the dry storage marina on the lakefront for $17,000. The lot will hold 190 cars. The board is also expected to approve a beer and wine license for Monroe Harbour.

School Budget Adopted

The County School Board backed its $13,327,093.36 — no millage hike — budget yesterday before an overflowing crowd of citizens. After listening to complaints and pats-on-the-back for some 90 minutes, the Board unanimously adopted the budget for the 1967-68 school year.

Included was rubber stamp for the $1,483,738.90 budget for Seminole Junior College which was submitted by the Junior College Advisory Committee without being read publicly.

Robert Petrey, local politico, made a pitch urging support by the School Board of Florida Education Association sometime adding, "As a taxpayer, parent, voter and resident I appreciate the Board's watching the budget and cutting out waste. But I would favor an increase in the millage if there is the slightest doubt concerning the quality of education in Seminole County.

"Holding the line on taxes is not the only virtue in public life," Petreo declared. "I'll leave Seminole County if, when my children get ready to go to school, education is substandard here."

Another citizen, John Polk, attacked the item in the budget whereby an addition to the administrative offices of the school is planned during the new fiscal year at cost of $25,000. "Couldn't this money be put to better use for four or five additional portable classrooms?" he questioned.

It looks as though the School Board is playing Republican against Democrat with salary raises. Because the Legislature gave the superintendent a $2,500 raise, you gave the supervisors

Oviedo High School Plans Approved

Preliminary plans for the first phase of the new $443,000 Oviedo High School as submitted by Schweizer and Schweizer Associates of Winter Park, architects, were unanimously approved by the School Board Thursday afternoon.

Schematics approved call for pre-stressed concrete construction with movable walls and carpeting throughout. Need for the carpeting was stressed by achitect, Mark Schweizer who pointed out classrooms planned are of the "open" type with resulting need for both accoustical ceilings and floor covering to muffle sound of students changing classrooms.

J. O. GREGORY

Turncoat Democrat Gets 'Jury' Post

Col. Jesse O. Gregory, a Sanford Democrat-turned-Republican, and Mrs. Perdeta Wagner, Republican of Altamonte Springs, have been named members of the Seminole County jury commission by Gov. Claude Kirk, according to Associated Press.

Governor Kirk still must name a third member of the commission, for a two-year-term. Gregory was named for a three-year term and Mrs. Wagner for a four-year term on the new commission. Future appointments will be for four-year terms.

Gregory was an unsuccessful candidate for election as a Democrat to the Seminole County Commission in 1964. He re-registered as a Republican last Jan. 12, according to Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of elections.

Mrs. Wagner is the wife of James Wagner, Martin Company engineer, slated to be named by Governor Kirk as a member of the Seminole County Port Authority. AP said today Wagner's appointment will be named by Kirk next week.

Tour Sites For Goldsboro Recreation

The city hopes to get federal aid to help construct a recreation-community center in the area. Cost of the project is $100,000 plus . . . The city's share has been estimated at some $40,000.

The four sites are Eighth and Mulberry; 11th St. between Mulberry and Jessamine; W. 12th St., and Southwest Rd.

At the last city commission meeting, the No. 1 site chosen was the Nehi bottling plant at Sixth and Pecan. However, that property was sold soon afterwards for $75,000.

Holiday Inn Names Manager

By STAFFORD DERBY

Charlie Atkinson, newly arrived "innkeeper" for the Holiday Inn on the marina, is busily engaged on two fronts. One is, of course, at his temporary office at the in site where his informed and experienced talents as manager are bent in providing the best services possible. A target opening date of Oct. 1 is the taskmaster. The other is at his residence on Summerlin Avenue where Marine, his wife and Gwen, his daughter are already making a home out of a house.

In a conversation with a Herald reporter, the three Atkinsons portrayed at least two common attributes. One was a desire to put down "roots" in Sanford. The other were past records which indicate that these roots will be not only healthy and firm for the family, but welcome strength for the community.

CHARLIE ATKINSON

These are North Carolinians. The most recent position Atkinson has held was as innkeeper for the Holiday Inn in Pilot Mountain, N.C. But the management skills which will be put to work to make the local Holiday Inn outstanding have been in the making for many years. He was manager of the Oliver House in Miami Beach for four years and has kept up his business management education by attending special courses by expert institutions since his graduating from the University of South Carolina.

His professional standing is high having completed special training at the Universal Motel and Hotel School in Miami and the Lindsey-Hopkins School of Restaurant Management. His native city is Fairmont, N.C. where he attended grade school and where he was active in the Civitan and Lions Club. He is a past master of the Fairmont Masonic Lodge.

Mrs. Atkinson has been equally active. She has also studied business management and, like her husband has not allowed the years to slip by without taking courses which would be stimulating and useful. She will be active at the inn in the training of personnel. Recently she completed courses in accountancy and business psychology.

The Atkinsons are members of the Baptist Church and are active in its affairs. Although only in this city since Aug. 2, they are impressed by the number of churches and the acceptance of religion as a very vital part of community life in Sanford.

And while Atkinson tries to get enough time away from work to try out his skill as a golfer, Mrs. Atkinson is more interested in housekeeping — both indoors and out. She is

Geneva and Lake Monroe schools will have new principals when school opens Aug. 28.

Kenneth Echols was named principal of the Geneva School while Rupert Jenkins was transferred from Geneva to the Monroe-Wilson School.

At the same time, Miss Mary Groome, ex-principal of the Monroe - Wilson school was named Elementary curriculum coordinator and will move into the county administrative staff.

Echols had been a teacher at Westside Grammar for eight years. Jenkins was principal at Geneva for one year while Miss Groome had been Monroe-Wilson principal for two years.

There are no other principal changes.

'Depressed' Schools Get Lunch Break

Students in eight schools in "economically depressed areas" in Seminole County will get a 10 cent a meal break in cost of lunches through federal subsidy in the new school year, by approval of the School Board of the program.

Application has been made and approved for funds for the reduction in the costs of lunches for Rosenwald, Midway, Jackson Heights, Harper, Goldsboro, Crooms, Monroe-Wilson and West Side Grammar. It was explained 25 per cent of the children attending the schools approved for the program are in poverty circumstances.

Meanwhile at the other schools of the county cost of school lunches were upped five cents. Lunches will cost 35 cents in elementary schools and 40 cents in secondary schools.

The Board had previously determined it "will not subsidize the lunch program."

SAIGON (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky today brushed off charges from South Vietnam's civilian presidential candidates that he has failed to provide them adequate security and transportation for campaigning.

May Discuss Millage Boost

Paid Firemen For Lake Mary?

Proposals to amend budget of the Lake Mary Fire Control District to add provisions for a "semi-paid" fire department will be made at a meeting Saturday of the fire commissioners and the volunteer firemen.

The meeting will be held at 7 p. m. in the Lake Mary Fire Hall and will be open to all freeholders of the district.

Under the action to be considered, tax millage in the district would be raised in order to pay a fire chief and enough men to maintain a 24 hour, 7 day a week watch at the firehouse, according to Ralph Abell who resigned as chief earlier this week because he "could no longer assume the duties on a 'strictly' volunteer basis."

Abell points out that the district is allowed by law to levy up to three mills without having to go to another referendum.

Mail Speed Up

Seven Seminole County postmasters will attend (at their own expense) a "mail speed-up" seminar on Monday and Tuesday at the University of South Florida at Tampa. They are Raymond Chandler, Altamonte Springs; James Myers, Casselberry; Margaret Ashley, Fern Park; John Norden, Lake Mary; Robert Mann, Lake Monroe; William Bryant, Longwood, and Miss Cecile Heard, Sanford.

At present, taxation is 4/10 mill which brings in more than $6,000. Anticipated increase would be to just slightly over one mill, biking annual income to some $15,000.

The measure, if favorably received at Saturday night's meeting, will be subject also to approval of the County Commission.

By REV. LEROY D. SOPER
Holy Cross Episcopal Church

Don't you get sort of tired of hearing about "in groups"? I mean, most of the time this is applied to a group to which most of us do not belong, and in which we would not feel comfortable. It seems to apply costly to a limited bunch of folks some place other than where we are. I really do not comprehend why only a few people are "in", while the rest of us are "out".

Stop to think about it for a moment and the anachronism of the term "in" is apparent. For example it is very much in to be a teenager, or under 25 years of age — and this hits about half of the world's population. But certainly the other half of the world is not "out". Too, even among the young it is apparently "in" to be what they call "hippies". Yet, if this is true, what are we to say about the other 90 per cent of the teenagers in the world? They certainly would not approve of our calling them "out of things".

Why is it "in" to be opposed to most everything? Healthy protest is a good thing. There are two sides to every problem and more sides than that in political and social issues. Change would be slow, if it ever came at all, without protest. Of course there are things that need changing, and we need to seek these changes as quickly as possible. But, on the other hand, life is mighty sweet to most of us, and changes must come in an orderly manner.

Why not talk about the real "ins". Why not talk about the the 70 per cent of our teenagers who never miss a Sunday in Church? They have the best record of church attendance of any age group.

Let's talk about the 97 per cent of us who will not be in trouble with the law this year.

Let's talk about the fact that, while there is unemployment, almost everyone who really wants to work and is able to work does hold a productive job, feeding, clothing, and sheltering his family.

Let's talk about that real "in group" — the large bulk of the population which obey the law, respects the fellow man, and loves God.

Maybe if you feel left out of things you need to get with that dynamic group which is in touch with Almighty God through the Church. Come to Church this Sunday and be a part of that great body which knows God, looks to His Son for forgiveness, and is given power by the Holy Spirit to be real, good, true, and complete human beings. Be one of the true "in group."

New Minister Begins Duties In DeBary

By MRS. JOHN LEONE

Rev. Lewis W. Bullard, new minister of First Presbyterian Church of DeBary, will conduct his first service at the church at 10 a. m. Sunday.

A native of Florida, Rev. Bullard attended public schools in Bristol and received a Bachelor of Science degree from Florida State University. He served four years with the U. S. Navy, later attending Columbia Theological Seminary in Decatur, Ga., where he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree.

He has served churches in Calhoun, Ga., and on the Church Extension Committee of the Synod of Florida, Presbyterian Church, U. S.

He is married and he and his wife, Marjorie, have three sons, Lewis W. Jr., Glenn Carl and Gary Leon Ralph.

Installation service for Rev. Bullard will be at 3:30 p. m. Sept. 3, followed by an informal reception for the family.

Conference

First Methodist Church of Sanford will conduct its first quarterly conference of the new church year immediately following the evening worship service Sunday. Dr. Milburn McLeod, new DeLand district superintendent, will be speaker for the service and will lead the conference.

Church Meetings

Clifford Johnson, chairman of the official board of Christ Methodist Church, Sanford, has announced a 7 p. m. meeting of the Commission on education at the church this Sunday, followed by a meeting of the board at 7:30 p. m. Johnson urges all members of both groups attend the meetings.

It has been estimated that some 100,000 Europeans live on boats and canal barges.

Sermon Subject

Rev. Josh Long, pastor of First Baptist Church of Deltona, will speak Sunday on the subject, "The End of the Road?" Services of the recently organized church are conducted at 9:30 a. m. each Sunday at Deltona Community Center. Prayer meeting and Sunday School class will meet this week at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday at the Brown home, 1173 W. Wellington Avenue. Everyone is welcome.

Beach Party

The Intermediate and Senior Methodist Youth Fellowship of Casselberry Community Methodist Church are planning a beach trip to New Smyrna Saturday, leaving the church at 1:30 p.m. by bus. Among activities planned are swimming, games, wiener roast and evening vespers on the beach. There will be a nominal fee for food and transportation.

Ice Cream Social

Methodist Youth Fellowship of Barnett Memorial Methodist Church, Enterprise, will sponsor an ice cream social from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. today in the church annex. There will be homemade ice cream and homemade cakes and pies available. Proceeds will go toward expenses of the recent refinishing and refurnishing of the groups meeting room.

CASSELBERRY BAPTISTS are looking forward hopefully to being in their own church building near the end of September. The new church, costing an estimated $25,000, is located on Seminole Boulevard. Building contractor is Worthington Brooks. Rev. Clarence Love is pastor.

YOUTH TOUR CHOIR of East Rift Baptist Church, Pensacola, will present a concert of sacred music at First Baptist Church of Sanford at 7:30 p.m. Thursday under direction of Mervyn Aikman, a graduate of Stetson University and Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville, Ky. The program will consist of 30 selections, varying from spirituals to music of the masters. Itinerary for the choir includes six churches in Florida and Georgia.

New Priest Welcomed By St. Ann's Parish

Rev. John Condon, pastor of St. Ann's Catholic Parish of DeBary-Deltona, conducted his first services at Deltona Community Center at 7:45 a. m. Mass Sunday.

Services at St. Ann's Church in DeBary are at 8:45 and 10 a. m. each Sunday and at 8 a.m. each weekday.

Ordained in Ireland 10 years ago at Maynooth College, Father Condon came to the St. Augustine Diocese on loan in 1957 where he served at St. Augustine Cathedral for a short time. He then served at St. Joseph's church in Lakeland for two years after which he went to St. Mary's Church in St. Petersburg for two years.

He returned to Ireland in 1961 to serve as chaplain in the Irish Army for five years in The Congo, followed by two years with United Nations forces in Cyprus.

Because he "liked Florida, its people and its progressive future," he requested to be transferred back to St. Augustine where he recently was appointed by Archbishop Joseph P. Hurley to the local post.

Alliance VBS Enrolls 90

Vacation Bible School at Sanford Alliance Church, 1401 S. Park Avenue, has an enrollment of 90 children with daily average attendance at 75, Rev. G. Blair McGarvey, pastor, reported today.

The school will be continued, Monday through Friday of next week, with sessions on the theme "God's Power for My Life" beginning each day at 9 a.m. Closing exercises will be at 7:30 p. m. Friday. Activities include handiwork, games, refreshments, Bible stories, and singing.

Mrs. Bette Hartman is director. Teachers include Mrs. Faye Weldon, Mrs. Arla Patton, Mrs. Solon Teston, Mrs. W. B. Webb, Mrs. Pauline Brown, Mrs. Helen Stephenson, Mrs. Ida Smith, Mrs. Joyce Wilson, and Rev. McGarvey.

Helpers are Miss Linda Patton, David Smith, Miss Carla Osburn, Steve Harriett, Pat Weldon, Miss Phebe Palmer and Miss Diane Roberts.

Mrs. Carolyn McGarvey is in charge of music and Mrs. Joyce Baggs is refreshment chairman.

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Christ Methodist Church has announced plans to sponsor a bake sale Aug. 19, beginning at 9 a. m. Location will be announced. Those interested in donating items for the sale are asked to contact Mrs. Dorothy Reynolds, WSCS president.

The sales from horticultural specialties from Seminole County growers amounts to over $1.5 million each year with an agri business value of $2.2 million.

New Hope Center Moves To Sanford

The executive board of the New Hope Rehabilitation Center is completing final business transactions on the purchase of a building at 1119 Park Avenue, Sanford.

The group has located in Sanford due to inadequate facilities in its Orlando site.

Included in the work of the Christian group, which is made up of all faiths, has been the training of workers to counsel with persons of all ages. Those who have sought help and counsel have had such problems as alcoholism, marital difficulties, dope addiction, juvenile delinquency, and others.

Facility at the Sanford location is being redecorated to make space available for a reception office, a chapel for meditation and prayer, office for executive board or counselors, and living quarters to house a resident couple to supervise the center.

At present, sleeping rooms also are available for those who need help.

The chapel worship service is open to the public at 7:30 p. m. each Friday. Calls for counseling appointments will be received through the office from 9 a. m. until noon each day until decorating plans are completed after which there will be full schedule day and night.

BISHOP HIGGINS

Rolling Hills Dedication Set

By MARYANNS MILES

Dedication of the new Rolling Hills Moravian Church is scheduled for 11 a. m. Sunday with Bishop George G. Higgins of Winston Salem, N. C., leading the service and delivering the sermon.

At 4 p. m. Sunday, a service of dedication for the church organ will be conducted with Mrs. Higgins as guest organist.

The organ was a gift from Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Peterson of Winston Salem in memory of his father, the late Samuel E. Peterson.

Following the dedication and organ recital, a reception honoring Bishop and Mrs. Higgins and Mr. and Mrs. Peterson will be held in Fellowship Hall of the church.

Minister Returns

Rev. Fred Guthrie, minister of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church of Bear Lake, will return this week after serving as a director for the senior high group conference at Florida Presbyterian College in St. Petersburg.

Lay Leader

Glenn Whipple, lay leader of Bear Lake Methodist Church, will be in charge of 8:30 and 11 a. m. services at the church this Sunday in the absence of Rev. J. Robert Miller, minister, who is serving at Methodist Youth Camp.

Hymn Is Basis For Sermon

By MILDRED HANEY

The familiar hymn, "How Firm A Foundation," will be basis for Rev. George R. Owen's sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday for services of United Church of Deltona in the Deltona Community Center on Lake Monroe.

Welcoming committee will be Misses Charlotte and Evelyn Hachtman. Ushers are Harry Hughes and Cleveland Ashman and house committee members for the month are Alan Hughes, Lewis Hilton, Leroy Kittredge and Thomas Dreyer.

Food Sessions

Mrs. C. W. Lyon, food nutritionist, will continue instructional sessions at 7:30 p. m. at Forest Lake Seventh-Day Adventist Church in Forest City. The meetings are open to the public.

Conference

Three young people of First Presbyterian Church of Sanford, Jennie Olliff, Ben Chada Jr. and Walter Bistline are attending the state youth conference this week at Florida Presbyterian College in St. Petersburg.

Missionaries To Speak

MRS. PAULINE ROUTH

REV. WALTER ROUTH

Place-names haunting to most Americans only as local points in a peculiarly troubling war mean home, life, work and the joy of service well done to Rev. and Mrs. Walter R. Routh Jr. and family who have returned to Sanford after four years as missionaries in Vietnam.

They will be guest speakers for Sunday evening worship services this week at First Baptist Church of Sanford. A reception in their honor will be given immediately following the service by the Woman's Missionary Union during which a pantry-grocery shower received by the church will be presented the returning couple.

Serving as Southern Baptist missionaries, Rev. and Mrs. Routh have been in Vietnam since 1963. Their first 18 months was spent in studying language in Dalat after which they were in Nhatrang for two years where he pastored Faith Baptist Church.

In November, 1966, he resigned the pastorate, opening the way for the congregation to call a Vietnamese pastor.

On New Year's Day, the Rouths packed their children in to a Volkswagen bus and traveled through mud holes from Nhatrang to their new home in Camranh where Vietnamese are flocking to work in U. S. Army-Navy and Air Force bases and where the Vietnamese government is planning a new city of three million.

Through the influence of an American officer who is a Baptist, the mayor at Camranh offered land for a temporary building and promised an opportunity to buy property in the new city.

With volunteer labor by men of the 12th Tactical Fighter Wing, a 26 by 100 foot building —four classrooms, reading room, and assembly hall—was built. It is called the "Christian Love Center," a name chosen by members of the Nhatrang church, which is sponsoring it.

A native of Sanford, Routh is a graduate of Stetson University, DeLand, bachelor of arts degree, and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky., bachelor of divinity degree.

Before missionary appointment by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board he was pastor of First Baptist Church, Felicity, Ohio, four-and-a-half years. Previously he served missions in Columbus, Ohio, and Louisville.

Mrs. Routh is the former Pauline Hays of Louisville. They have four children, Deanna, Donna, Darlene and Buddy (Walter III). The younger two were born in Vietnam. Buddy having the distinction of being the first American baby at the Camranh Air Force Base hospital.

Deltona Church To Dedicate New Officers

By MILDRED HANEY

Dedication service for officers of Deltona Christian Church will take place during the 10:30 a. m. worship hour Sunday with Rev. Earl D. Luginbuhl, pastor, in charge.

Officers of the board are Roy Jones, chairman; Herbert Packman, vice chairman; Mrs. Faye Packman, second vice chairman; Mrs. Mary Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Jeanne Downer, clerk, and Mrs. Howard Out Christian education and worship chairman.

Elders are Aldo Loos, Ernest Phillips, Jones and Packman.

Deacons are Roy Delaplaine, Ora Drew, Albert Guay, John Lewin, Rolland Morrow, Victor Sowers, Ovid Tyn and James York.

Deaconnesses are Mrs. Ethel Berringer, Mrs. Mary Delaplaine, Mrs. Beatrice Drew, Mrs. Leticia Ellison, Mrs. Jessie Guay, Mrs. Elise Lewin, Mrs. Emily Loos, Mrs. Roberta Morrow, Mrs. Florence Phillips, Mrs. Goldie Sowers, Mrs. Janie Tyn, Mrs. Florence York, Mrs. Packman and Mrs. Jones.

In conjunction with the dedication, a short memorial service will be conducted for Ernest Berringer, elder-elect, who died Aug. 7 in Akron, Ohio, while on a business trip.

Working Girls Opposed To 'Protection'

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Determined business and professional women are declaring war on what they call outmoded state laws that once perhaps protected the frail working girl, but now actually stand between her and getting ahead in her job.

The 5,000 members and delegates who attended the annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., ending today with a national board of directors meeting, are returning home armed with strategy and ammunition.

Tucked among their souvenirs from New York is a very businesslike little handbook, "How to Secure Repeal of 'Protective' Legislation."

The women plan a state-by-state mopup operation on laws that limit the number of hours a woman can work, or require special rest and meal periods for her, or prohibit her working in specified fields, such as bartending or around mines, or limiting the amount of weight she may lift on the job.

Such laws were originally enacted to protect women from exploitation and industrial hazard. Today, however, the business women contend, the conditions which gave rise to the laws are no longer in existence.

Now all the laws do is bar a woman from a wide variety of jobs or preclude her from supervisory positions which may require nightwork or overtime occasionally.

WORSHIP KNOWS NO CALENDAR
Some select Sunday as a day of worship. Others prefer Friday or Saturday. But the space of worship knows no boundaries—temporal or spatial.
Some find their God in church. Others see him in a spring sunrise, or in a fresh-mown meadow at dusk. Children often find peace in an evening prayer.
Each seeks peace in his own way. All place their trust in a Supreme Being and worship as conscience dictates.
Why not join them? You, too, can find solace and guidance in prayer.

Area Lutherans Receive 10 Into Membership

By MILDRED HANEY

Lutheran Church of Deltona-DeBary received 10 persons into membership during the 10:45 a.m. worship service Sunday at DeBary Community Center on Shell Road.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Settgast, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Settgast and Clifford and Jerry Hinst from DeLand; Mrs. Christine Gandel from DeBary, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Andrews and Miss Elsie Kugler from Deltona.

Offering Sunday totaled $430, the largest since Lutheran services were begun in the area last September, included in the amount was a $75 birthday thank offering toward the building fund from Mrs. Wilhemine Johnson and a $200 building fund memorial in memory of Mrs. Lydia Stahlewitz.

This Sunday, Pastor Rudolph A. Ritz will deliver the eighth sermon in a series on "Old Testament Characters Who Walked with God." On the basis of Joshua 24:15, he will speak on "Joshua—The Fork in the Road."

Bible School

Sanford Church of Christ, 1500 S. Park Avenue, will have its annual Vacation Bible School, Aug. 21-25, from 7 until 8:30 p.m. each day. "Anywhere With Jesus" has been chosen for this year's theme and there will be classes for all ages. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

Young Adults Training Slated

Youth Opportunity Center of the Florida State Employment Service, Orlando, through Seminole County Action, Inc., is seeking young adults, 16 through 21, high school graduates or high school drop-outs, interested in learning a skill, who want to apply for MDTA training classes in the fields of clerk-typist or electrical appliance serviceman helper.

This training is being coordinated through the Orange County Board of Public Instruction and the Youth Opportunity Center division of the Florida State Employment Service, under the provisions of the Federal-State Manpower Development and Training Act.

Applicants applying for this training must be 16 or over, and less than 22 years of age; have their Social Security cards with them, or at least proof that they have applied for their Social Security number.

Jets Dodge Flak To Smash Red Railroad Yards

SAIGON (AP) — Streaking through heavy Communist antiaircraft fire, U.S. planes heavily damaged two big North Vietnamese railroad yards Thursday as ground action continued generally light despite 34 continuing operations.

The U.S. Command announced a new total of 639 U.S. warplanes downed over the North. This included one not previously announced, but there were no reports of Communist fire bringing down any of the planes on the 145 strike missions Thursday.

The command normally delays announcement of downed planes while rescue efforts for the crewmen are under way.

It announced in a weekly report that 2,341 American aircraft, including helicopters, have been lost in the war, either in combat or because of operational failures.

Navy pilots reported all bombs on target at a truck park 30 miles south of Hanoi, but smoke and dust prevented a damage assessment.

It was during this raid that pilots of two F4 Phantoms from the carrier Constellation spotted three North Vietnamese MIG21s and shot down two of them, bringing to 82 the number of MIGs reported shot down by U.S. pilots.

The U.S. Command lists 20 U.S. warplanes as having been shot down by enemy planes over the North.

Air Force pilots reported sighting three MIG17s in another area, but the less advanced Communist interceptors made no effort to rise against the American fighter bombers which continued on to their assigned targets.

The key Air Force targets in Thursday's raids were the Kep railyards, 38 miles northeast of Hanoi, and the Thai Nguyen railyards, 35 miles north of the capital. Both railroad yards have been attacked numerous times in the past.

F105 Thunderchief pilots based in Thailand hammered three areas of the Kep yards with 750-pound bombs and reported destroying 15 boxcars and damaging 30 other pieces of rolling stock.

Other Thunderchief pilots who attacked the Thai Nguyen yards said they observed no rolling stock there. They reported, however, heavily damaging the northwestern part of the yard.

In addition to the 639 warplanes announced lost in combat over the North, the U.S. Command reported a total of 198 shot down over South Vietnam so far in the war.

The rate of warplanes lost in combat over the North has been averaging a little more than one a day in recent weeks. The percentage of losses over the North is much higher since pilots encounter more sophisticated and heavier defenses, including MIG interceptors, surface-to-air missiles and antiaircraft guns. Virtually all of the planes downed over the South have been hit by enemy automatic weapons.

The U.S. 7th Fleet cruiser Boston and the Australian destroyer Hobart were fired on—but not hit—by Communist shore batteries Thursday while shelling enemy targets in North Vietnam seven miles southeast of Thanh Hoa.

The U.S. Command reported raids by 1152 bombers on enemy base camps and suspected troop concentrations in Tay Ninh Province, 65 miles northwest of Saigon, and in Binh Dinh Province on the central coast.

The U.S. aircraft carrier Forrestal, ravaged by fires and explosions that killed 134 persons off Vietnam's coast July 19, left the Subic Bay naval base in the western Philippines for repairs in Norfolk, Va.

The 76,000-ton Forrestal was at Subic Bay 11 days. A base spokesman said repairs included covering some of the gaping holes in the flight deck. Complete repairs were expected to take three to six months.

The spokesman estimated it might take the carrier three or four weeks to reach Norfolk.

On the political front, campaigning by civilian candidates in the Sept. 3 presidential election still was blocked by a deadlock between them and the government headed by their military opponents in the race Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

Seven of the 10 civilian candidates said they would not campaign unless Thieu and Ky resigned to their letter demanding assurance of adequate security and transportation for the all-candidate tour of 22 provincial centers which the government had arranged.

In Washington, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said there is "mounting and distressing evidence" South Vietnam's military regime is interfering with free choice in the election.

WATCHTOWER Convention officials of Jehovah's Witnesses, Willis E. Stemen, Rush N. Stafford and Edmund W. FEA Sanctions Clarified By School Chief

Clarification that sanctions by the Florida Education Association will not determine hiring or firing of teachers was given by School Board Chairman Mason Wharton.

Wharton, at the School Board meeting Thursday declared, "I want it made clear that FEA has nothing to do with hiring or firing teachers in the State of Florida. Only the individual school boards can make the determination who will be hired. FEA has no power to take away or deny a teacher certification," Wharton said.

In other action, the Board changed professional day for which teachers are not paid from Aug. 26 to Aug. 24, which will in effect permit teachers to "walk-out" on that day as recommended by FEA without being penalized. Oct. 20 was changed from a professional day to a teacher duty day.

William Phillips, school superintendent, announced a meeting of various school boards, school attorneys and superintendents has been set for 2 p.m. Monday at the Cherry Plaza Hotel in Orlando to be informed of legal responsibilities of the school officials regarding sanctions.

Why The Delay?

A workable program is a document of the city's plans in elimination and prevention of slums and blight — It's a must if this city is to participate in a variety of "desirable" programs under federal sponsorship.

It seems like months and months ago the city zoning and planning board recommended the hiring of county planner Jack Goodin to work with officials on the program.

It seems like weeks and weeks ago that the City Commission agreed to pay Mr. Goodin $100 per month to "moonlight" from other county duties to work on this project.

Where is it?

This sort of workable program lets the government know that Sanford is a progressive community and less likely to squander federal funds.

It should be a concise wrap-up of what the city has done for the past year and would give the city's plans for the years to come.

When it is finished (If it ever is) this "essay in progress" would be mailed to the Department of Housing and Urban Development — scorekeeper for similar programs submitted by cities all over the states.

It should tell the average citizen what the city administration is doing and where its tax dollar is going.

Traditionally, Sanford has no "state of the city" message given yearly by the mayor or city manager. However, this document could very well serve the purpose.

This workable program should include any water and sewer improvements.

The city has emaciently begun to tear down scores of dilapidated buildings.

The city has maintained strict subdivision regulations, putting order in the residential growth of Sanford;

City Commission requested urban renewal enabling legislation and our legislative delegation saw fit to turn it down (they said because it arrived too late). Now Sanford cannot qualify for urban renewal or model city program;

City is planning a strong code enforcement program;

City is considering construction of a recreation center in the Goldsboro area;

Housing authority hopes to construct some 150 new low cost housing units in 1968 and start work on a 150 unit high rise for the elderly.

These are just some of the items that should be worked into the program.

So why the delay?

James Marlow

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's a new American experience. In the glow of Molotov cocktails, and jolted by sniper fire, this country is examining its conscience about doing for Negroes what needs doing or refusing to be bullied into it.

From the beginning the Negro in America has been treated unjustly, first as a slave, then as a second-class citizen. The result has been neglect. And now the cities' slums are jammed with the impoverished and the uneducated.

Even after the Supreme Court declared segregation unconstitutional 13 years ago Negroes had to assert themselves step by step, but in peaceful protests and demonstrations, to claim equal treatment in the various spheres of living.

Barriers began to fall and government and municipal programs were created to help the most helpless Negroes. But it was never enough and the ghettoes remained.

Nothing better illustrates the crippled pace of Negro progress than some government statistics made public the past few days by the Labor Department and the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission.

The Labor Department said employment in this country had now reached 76.2 million, the highest in American history. But the EEOC released preliminary figures on a survey it made industry by industry in nine big cities on the employment of Negroes.

It found only a small percentage of white collar jobs held by Negroes, ranging from 2.1 percent in metropolitan Kansas City where Negroes are 11.2 percent of the population to 8.4 percent in the greater Washington area where they are 25 per-cent of the population.

And the study disclosed that the great majority of Negroes in white collar jobs are in low-paying clerical ones.

But after the peaceful Negro demonstrations had reached their peak, Stokely Carmichael, one of the extremist Negro leaders, began preaching Black Power. Congress' interest in Negro problems began to cool.

And a new, 23-year-old Negro agitator appeared—H. Rap Brown. Carmichael's successor as chairman of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee who is now under charges of inciting to riot in Cambridge, Md.

He has called President Johnson "nothing but a hustler and an outlaw," told Negroes riots were merely "dress rehearsals for revolution," and said their "brothers" in Detroit were "destroying the hunky (white) structure."

Riots spread across the nation: Molotov cocktails, fires, looting, shooting, sniping and the buildings in Negro areas, not white areas, were the targets. That wasn't all.

This week, in a totally stupid gesture, since Congress controls the money to be spent on Negro programs, a mob of Negro Harlemites came here, invaded the gallery of the House of Representatives to demand passage of a rat-control bill, and had to be thrown out by Capitol police after a brutal battle.

And before they withdrew they indicated they may return next Monday with rats. The reaction in Congress was harsh, which may mean the wreckage of any hope for much Negro relief.

The rioting was led by Negro criminals—since burning and looting are criminal—and the rioters were only a minority of the Negroes in the areas where the riots occurred. And the riots cannot be called racial.

They were not directed against white neighborhoods. They were concentrated on Negro neighborhoods.

But if the riots had any purpose and most of them seemed brainless it had to be one of three things: A protest against Negro conditions; scorn for law and order; or an attempt to force the white world to do more for Negroes.

But force is a poor blackjack in a country where Negroes are outnumbered by whites 180 million to 20 million. No matter what the whites' sense of justice tells them needs to be done for Negroes, are they going to let themselves be bulldozed into doing it?

In one form or another this is the question batting around in Congress and, no doubt, in the American society in general.

BIRD LOVER

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Ken Hawthorne deserves a salute. For he shows what the creative salesman's imagination can do to improve our American standard of living. With all due credit to cloistered scientists like Edison, Marconi, et al., it is salesmen who put their products into our homes as standard equipment!

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph. D., M. D.

CASE D-522: Ken Hawthorne was formerly a traveling salesman.

Now he is the head of one of Cleveland's leading hotels. When I checked in about 11 P.M., his desk clerk handed me a long pink ticket.

"What's this for?" I inquired, puzzled.

"Oh, that's your free ticket for breakfast tomorrow," he added.

And when I looked closely, I saw that a complete breakfast menu was listed thereon, including two eggs, orange juice, melon, cereal, toast and coffee.

During the past 25 years of my professional public speaking, I probably have patronized at least 1,000 hotels and motels.

Occasionally a motel has offered free coffee and doughnuts to its guests, especially when there was no restaurant in the neighborhood.

But this was my first experience with a complete, delicious breakfast, courtesy of the hotel.

The various airlines originally used this "free meal" strategy to superb advantage.

In those early years, patrons would indulge in talk-up about the delicious "free" meals served aloft by the airlines.

But the railroads never caught on to such modernized forms of public relations, which is one reason why they have just about closed out their passenger service.

Alas, most of the railroad management had the engineering or introvertive outlook.

Luckily, the airlines started out with the extrovert's sales and advertising concept, so they zoomed ahead of the railroads fast.

And salesman like Ken Hawthorne will adapt the same advertising genius to the downtown hotels, thus restoring them to the forefront.

Dr. Glenn Frank, former head of the University of Wisconsin, said:

"The Salesman is not the high priest of a sordid commercialism; the salesman is the spark plug of civilization."

For salesmen have a vivid imagination of the creative type.

They also exude enthusiasm! They use words fluently and effectively.

America has been the main sales nation of the world, which is why we still have higher wages, more comforts and greater liberty than in Russian Communism and British Socialism.

Salesman also have another trait that has been vital to our marvelous "free enterprise" system, namely "guts."

They aren't afraid to pit their ability against an unknown future!

Alas, most of our college students today lack the salesman's courage so they refuse to take legitimate business risks.

Instead, they prefer secure jobs at a guaranteed salary, with steady promotion based on seniority instead of output!

College professors, too, may try to pontificate about economics but they usually chicken-out when they had a chance to venture upon the real firing line of life, so they accepted fellowships leading to their Ph. D. degrees and faculty "tenure."

So salute all good salesmen! They are still spark plugging our American system and putting the products of cloistered scientists into the average home, thus raising our standard of living.

Art For GOP

SEAL HARBOR, Maine (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's art collection netted $4,000 for Maine's Republican party.

About 850 persons paid $5 each to view the collection during a two-day exhibit.

Legal Center

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Frederick Le Clercq, assistant professor of law at Emory University, says America's poor might turn to the law instead of the streets if enough legal talent were extended to them.

Riot Loss

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — P. Bernard Nortman, chief of the city's Office of Economic Development, said in a television interview Wednesday that $9.7 million in damage loss was incurred in Newark riots last month.

Hal Boyle Says:

NEW YORK (AP) — Time is a strange thing.

Today is today. But what was today yesterday? It was tomorrow. And what will today be tomorrow? It will be yesterday. So every day has three identities—yesterday, today and tomorrow.

By the miracle of memory all our yesterdays again become momentary todays; bygone scenes, sounds and scents come alive again to twinge us ah with wonder or regret.

You've got a pretty good collection of yesterdays in your memory gallery if you can look back and remember when—

Riots seemed to occur only in foreign countries.

It was thought you had musical aptitude if you learned how to pump a player piano.

The revolutionary idea of installing radios in automobiles was opposed by some on the grounds that it would cause carnage on the highways by distracted drivers.

We had a popular folk hero who neither sang nor played the guitar, and didn't even wear a beard. Who was he? Tarzan of the apes, that's who.

College teams played football for fun.

Norman Thomas, the Socialist, was thought to be a wild eyed radical and a threat to the American way of life.

In hot weather young ladies carried ice in their bosoms, and used them more as instruments of flirtation than as tools to lower their temperature.

You definitely didn't belong to the "in" set if you didn't know how to play mah jongg.

Many people opposed the goal of a five-day week, even on the grounds that the laboring classes would only use the added day of leisure to destroy themselves through sin and drunken revelry.

Long-distance phone calls were so expensive that relatives couldn't afford to ring you up more than once a year to tell you their troubles.

A dog could fall asleep in most American village streets without fear of being run over, because, if a horse and buggy came along, he could always wake up in time to get out of the way.

Little old ladies hadn't discovered sneakers. They padded around in slippers.

Two of the biggest problems facing a boy growing into manhood were learning how to shave with a straight razor and how to chew tobacco.

A majority of U.S. business leaders were self-made men who generally looked on a college education as a waste of time.

A kid could leave his bicycle unlocked in the front yard overnight without fear it would be stolen.

Those were the days! Remember?

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Scientists believe that the small pocket mouse may be an ideal animal for future space tests, says The World Almanac. The pocket mouse weighs only 10 to 12 grams, likes solitude, lives on dry seeds, never takes water and can resist radiation and extreme temperature variations.

Paging Puppy Pilferers

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Attention puppy pilferers: Pooch purloining in Alabama may soon put you in jeopardy of up to a decade in prison.

The Senate passed a bill to make it a penitentiary offense to steal a dog, putting more teeth in the measure than it had when it left the House.

The House bill applied only to dogs worth $25 or more. But the Senate deleted from the bill any reference to worth. So, if the House concurs in the amendment, it will apply even to mutts not worth the cost of their rabies shots.

The Senate had a gay old time debating the measure.

Lt. Gov. Albert Brewer started the fun with the observation that "there are 25 ayes, one nay, and a bark" in the vote on the amendment.

Sen. W. G. McCarley chipped in with "does this apply to hot dogs?"

"Any stolen dog is a hot dog," retorted Sen. Bill McDermott of Mobile.

FARM AND HOME

Home Hints By Sandra

By SANDRA K. WEISS
County Home Economics Agent

How to get more food for the dollar interests every homemaker.

Meat takes about a third of the food dollar, so good buying of meat, fish and poultry goes a long way in balancing the food budget. To save on meat, (1) compare prices among stores; (2) buy meat on "special"; (3) buy the less expensive meat like chuck roast hamburger, pork shoulder, pork and beef liver; (4) buy low-cost fish like fresh Lisa, mackerel, catfish, squid and grouper in season as well as Florida canned Spanish mackerel, bonita and the lower priced canned salmon and tuna; (5) buy dry beans and peas, and peanut butter as low-cost meat substitutes.

Cost per serving is a good way to recognize the cheaper foods in the meat group. (A serving is 2 to 3 ounces of lean cooked meat, without bone.)

Ground beef, best of round, brisket, flank, or cube steaks give four servings per pound. At 69 cents a pound, a beef round roast would serve four and cost 17 cents a serving; whereas, short ribs at 59 cents a pound would only serve two and cost 30 cents a serving.

Lean meats or ground meats will yield four servings per pound. Meats with a medium amount of bone and fat, such as short ribs or rib steaks, will give only two per pound. Meats with a large amount of bone such as spareribs figure 1½ servings per pound.

Chicken fryers will also yield about 2 servings per pound. If chickens are 39 cents a pound, the serving cost is about 20 cents.

The occasional substitution of dry beans or eggs for meat lowers the cost per serving from 9 to 6 cents. One cup of cooked dried beans, two eggs, and ¼ cup peanut butter are each equal to a serving of meat as far as protein is concerned.

Fish sticks and fish fillets cost about 15 cents a serving. Canned mackeral can be made into fish patties for about 7 cents a serving.

Sizable savings can be made in buying foods in the meat group because of the differences in costs per serving of these foods.

When buying meat and poultry, remember that the USDA inspection sign is assurance of wholesomeness. The USDA grade sign is an indication of quality in the product.

The most popular grade of beef on the market is Choice. Good and Standard grades indicate leaner, less tender, and less expensive.

With the heavy and frequent rainfalls that we have been having in Seminole, many homemakers have found that with the dampness comes an unwanted visitor — mildew.

Prompt cleaning is your best bet against mildew! If you find mold spots on clothes, brush them off immediately. And, always brush your clothes outdoors, to avoid scattering mold spores in the house. Then, dry-clean or wash the clothing, and air well in full sunshine. Any remaining spots may require an application of bleach. Always check fabric labels to determine approved methods of cleaning and bleaching.

Future Farmer News

By MIKE GIBSON

Seminole High Chapter of Future Farmers of America has been busy over the summer vacation. The chapter sent four delegates to the state convention in Daytona Beach during June 15-17. Those attending the week long convention were George Carver, George Carlton, Mike Gibson and Mike Tindel.

Before the convention started, Steve Richards and Mike Gibson were elected officers of a Future Farmer may obtain in the state organization.

The State FFA conferred upon W. A. Gibson, parent of the past state officer, the State Honorary Farmer Degree and awarded Mrs. W. A. Gibson the State Certificate of Merit for their outstanding work with Gary as a state officer.

The FFA Club also walked away with first place District IV in the State Scrapbook contest and was awarded the Superior Chapter award for the 14th consecutive year.

In July the local group sent three boys to the State FFA Forestry Camp at Camp O'Lano in High Springs. Those representing the club were Ron Mosteller, Doug Muse and Richard Chellette. They learned many valuable forestry skills while attending the week long camp.

The Chapter now looks forward to an active year in the 1967-68 school year. The forthcoming events for the next year are the election of officers, attending Leadership school and Forestry Field Day, and some members are even planning to attend the national FFA convention again this year. The national convention will be held in Kansas City, Mo., during the week of Oct. 10-18.

Yardners Corner

By CECIL A. TUCKER II
County Agricultural Agent

Why not color your yard this fall by planting some fall annuals. If you do, remember that the layout of your garden is very important. Any haphazard method of planting does not necessarily give the most desired effect. Be sure to place the taller annuals toward the back of the garden spot. Put medium sizes in the middle and dwarf varieties in front.

The background that you end up using also plays a key role. Annual gardens look best when placed in front of a neutral green background such as shrubbery border. This way the stems of the annuals go unnoticed. The green borders will mask them. Also, the brilliant flowering against a green background will emphasize each and you really are bringing out the color more with this type of a setup.

Plant annuals in masses and not in individual files. Only in mass plantings do you get the best picture of an annual garden. Sunlight is crucial if you are looking for big flowers and a high color intensity. Five full hours of sunlight is needed each day to get full color development and good flower size.

For best results, don't plant the seeds you've saved or bought directly into the soil. Start them in pots or flats where they'll get a good start. When the seedlings come up, they should then be transplanted to small organic pots and then kept under close confinement where they can get adequate watering until four or five true leaves come out.

Now they're ready for the outdoor garden. It takes about 4 or 5 weeks from the time you first place the seeds in the pots or flats until the young plants go into the garden. Flowering should start about 4 weeks after that.

There are very few annuals that can be grown in central and north Florida which will not be frozen back. Some possibilities, however, are calendulas, bachelor's buttons, pansies, snapdragons, and particularly in central Florida, petunias.

Tree Seedling Orders Taken

Orders for tree seedlings for planting are now being taken according to County Forester Terrell Davis.

Davis said landowners and tree farmers who wish to plant seedlings during the late fall and winter months should make application as soon as possible.

"Florida for the past four years has led all other states in tree planting," Davis said. "And the three Florida Forest Service nurseries expect a sell-out of this years 70 million seedlings. Lifting of the young trees for transplanting usually starts in November, with the first shipment to Lake County Nov. 28."

County foresters, county rangers, county agricultural agents and SCS technicians have application forms which facilitate advance ordering of the seedling stock for planting. The trees are sold at production cost in units of 500 or more.

Davis suggested also that landowners who are interested in planting pines should contact the county forester in his own county. The forester can study a proposed planting site and make helpful suggestions on land preparation and layout.

Agricultural News And Views

By CECIL A. TUCKER II
County Agricultural Agent

The past 20 years have brought a steady increase in the price of almost everything people buy. But the money the farmer receives for a unit of grain or livestock has virtually stood still — or even retreated a little. The result has been a major "gift" to every consumer in the United States, year after year. Food has cost far less than if the prices the farmer receives had moved along with the rest of the economy.

The farmer has been able to operate in the face of steadily rising costs, only by becoming more efficient. The charts, based mainly on USDA data and other government sources, show the story: Crop production per man hour up 48 per cent. Livestock production per man hour up 19 per cent. Crop production per acre up 24 per cent. Livestock production per breeding unit up 11 per cent. The greater the production, the lower the cost. Record-breaking production, year after year, has helped hold the food price line. An important contribution has been made to the entire national economy in combating inflation. And agriculture has a better record in terms of holding the price line than any of the other industry groups.

The relationship of the amount of money to the amount of product available is one of the main causes of inflation. Another is a shortage of labor. When wages climb to attract workers, the speed of the inflationary spiral speeds ahead. Today more efficiency and more mechanization in the farm is releasing more workers used in non-agricultural work. The millions of workers released have assumed an important place in America's industry and distribution systems. Today, one U.S. farm worker with the aid of modern industry supplies food and fiber for 37 others.

Doyle Conner: The Farm Front

Commissioner of Agriculture

TALLAHASSEE— (Special to The Sanford Herald)— As the ranks of American farmers thin, reducing food output and raising costs, the frightening prospect of credit buying of homes looms for the consuming public.

The prospect of this untried and, I might add, undesirable system was voiced recently by Carl F. Neumann, Secretary-general manager of the National Livestock and Meat Board.

As Mr. Neumann points out, the credit buying of foodstuffs could come about in the not too distant future. He lists two contributing factors.

First, there's a strong prospect for increased food costs and secondly, consumers will want to assure the availability of money to buy this basic necessity.

Although food traditionally has been a cash item, many authorities in the field of food economics feel that the era of abundant food supplies at prices below the level of other consumer goods is drawing to a close.

The economists reason that today there is ample alternative employment available to farmers.

This line of thinking also gives reason for concern, in view of the mounting decline in the American farm force, brought about by lower and lower returns for the agricultural producer.

It brings to mind the question: how would the population of the United States acquire its food supply, if every farmer decided to enter another field of employment?

Less than eight percent of the nation's population now is engaged in farming.

These few feed the rest of the nation and, by 1970, it is estimated that only five percent of the nation's population will live on farms.

Pesticides Seen Harmful To Fish, Bird Breeding

PENSACOLA (AP)—DT pesticides and insecticides may be wiping out the breeding grounds for fish and birds in Florida, the director of Florida's Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission said Thursday.

Dr. O. E. Frye warned that Florida's rocketing population is eating up the forest land and muddying the state's waters leaving too little room for the wild lands to grow.

"We have to make less land and less water into more game and more fish for more people," Frye said in a speech to the Northwest Pointer and Setter Club.

But Frye said prospects for the 1967-68 hunting season throughout the state still are bright. He said populations of deer and wild turkey still were on the rise.

But the conservationist's prime concern should be the continued accumulation of DDT from insecticides and rookeries, Frye said.

"We have DT in our own system," he said. "It simply does not degrade or go away and we cannot keep contaminating our environment forever."

The director said the buildup of DDT found in estuaries—the all-important nursery grounds for salt water fish as well as the feeding and resting place for many species of birds—is most dangerous because it could interupt the reproduction cycle of the fish and birds.

Frye said the task of overcoming the problems of natural growth and man made pollution were increasingly difficult in the face of the recent defeat in the state Senate of a proposed $3 cane pole fishing license bill.

That measure which would have ended the state's traditional right of any person to fish free in their home county with a cane pole — presumably for fun — would have pumped an estimated $1 million into the conservation coffers, Frye said.

Arson Blamed In School Fire

ARCADIA (AP)—Sheriff Frank Cline said Monday that an $8,000 fire at a Negro school Sunday night was caused by arson. Cline said the blaze may have been set to create disorder in Desoto County.

Cline said that students in the 10th through 12th grades of the Negro school are to be integrated with students in Arcadia's previously all-white school this year. He said a desegregation of the white school began on a voluntary basis during the last school year.

"We don't have any racial trouble" the sheriff said. "We never have had any."

Cline said that the school was broken into before the fire but nothing was taken. He said the fire caused about $7,000 in damage to the building and $1,500 to athletic equipment and about 20 typewriters.

MAYFAIR COUNTRY CLUB . . . Rain, rain washed out our Tuesday Night Meen's Twilight League this week. Remember, it's open to all members with an 18 hole handicap. If you are a member and you would like to play in this summer night league, you do not have to have a game. Just come out to the club and we'll see that you have a foursome.

The Mayfair Men's Golf Association will have a four man best ball tournament. Players on Saturday, Aug. 19 may make up their own foursomes and starting times. This tournament will be played on full handicap and four man teams.

The first and tenth tees will be closed this Saturday until 11:30 a.m. due to an outside tournament. Players are asked to make starting times after 11:30 a.m.

Ladies Golfing News . . . Wednesday tournament was a low net. Finishing first with a net score of 37 was Vivian Pierce, second place went to Jewel Riser and Mary Ann Williams with a net score of 39. Third place was taken by Peggy Billups with a net score of 40. Fourth place was shared by Faychon McRoberts and Ada O'Neil with net scores of 41.

Ladies Twilight Winners . . . This week's tournament was a tee to green and the ladies played the back side. Finishing in a tie for first place with a score of 26 was Trica Stenstrom and Vern Smith. Grace Sayles took second place with 27 and third went to Vivian Pierce with a score of 28.

Men's Dog Fight Tournament being played every Thursday . . . Gross — 67 — Bob Cooke, Paul Weber, Ralph Simas, Gene Clemment. Net — 66 — Grover Todd, Chuck Henry, Jim Lee, Bill Sturtevant, Goat Fleming, Bo Simpson, Bill Fox, Col. Blackburn, Jack Shubert, Ray Savarese, Dr. A. McCallum, Andy Carraway.

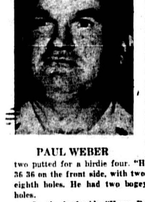
FAIRWAY FEATS . . . How would you like to hit the little white ball so far as the Pros on the Tour ? You would walk up to your second shot on a par five hole and hit a 4 or 5 iron to the green.



Just think, all you have to do is two putt for a birdie. Last Saturday I walked to the first tee to play with three of the members here at Mayfair — George Billups, John Eldridge and Paul "Hohe Run" Weber. As we walked to hit our second shots on the first hole a par four 380 yards, John a 14 handicaper hit a four iron. George a 7 handicaper hit a five iron. Yours truly hit a six iron. "Home Run" hit a nine iron for his second shot to the par five 472 yard second hole, two putted for a birdie four. "Home Run" scored an even par 36-36 on the front side, with two birdies on the second and the eighth holes. He had two bogeys — the third and the fifth holes.

On the back side "Home Run" scored three birdies, first coming on the twelth hole par five 480 yards, drive and a five iron then two putts. After driving the little white ball 295 yards, "Home Run"hit a three iron to par five fourteenth 506 yards, two putted and another birdie. Again after a long drive and a short iron, Paul's hot putter rolled the ball into the cup for a birdie three on the fifteenth hole par four 355 yard hole. As "Home Run" rolled a four footer in for a par four on the 18 hole he smiled and said, 'Boy, was that pressure getting hard to handle." I would like to be the size of the shadow Paul cast. He is only 6'-3" and weighs 195.

All Stars Lose 10-9

Modern 'Moiders' St. Augustine

Modern Mobile Homes coasted to a 10-1 victory over St. Augustine in the first round of the American Softball Association District II Slow-Pitch Softball Tourney last night at Ormond Beach.

The Sanford sluggers got 14 hits to St. Augustine's four in the contest. Leading Modern Mobile from the plate were Jim Butler, Don Harvey and Roy Lisk all with homeruns.

The Sanford All-Stars were edged out by B & T Electric of Orlando 10-9 in the only other contest featuring a local team. The All-Stars rallied in the final frame but couldn't manage to overcome the Orlando squad.

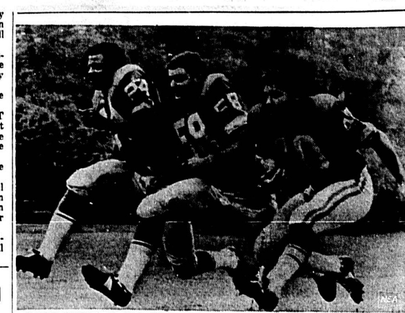
In tonight's action Modern Mobile Homes will clash with B & T Electric of Orlando. If Modern Mobile can post a victory tonight they will play in the final round of the championship. Game time for Modern Mobile tonight is 8:30.

The All-Stars are still alive in the double elimination tournament. If they can win tonight they will still have a chance at one of the top positions.



EARLY BIRDS in the Detroit Lions training camp include rookies Mel Farr (24), Paul Naumoff (58) and Nick Eddy (40). Farr is from UCLA, Naumoff from Tennessee and Eddy from Notre Dame.

Buckeyes Leading Pinbusters League

The Pinbusters Bowling League has the Buckeyes in first place with Jack Vrudny topling a high series of 154 and a 168 single. The Beatniks are in second place with George Miklos making a 159-452. The Deltona Spoilers came in third, but their team member, Jim Schilling had highest score for the games with 490 (180).

Dan Burton, Ben Marriott tied for second high averages with 162. The ladies are right in there, too, with Dot Burton bowling a 160-465 and carrying a 141 average. Angie Travis 455 (168); Cass Frans 429 (166) and a 141 average. Ethel Miklos averaged 124 and bowled a good game of 160 single.

High average for the season is still held by Jim Schilling for the men with 181 and Angie Travis for the ladies with 149. Difficult splits converted were 4-5-7 by Cass Frant, 5-6-10 by Olive Baghom and 5-7 by Miklos. The summer session ends Aug. 18.

The Navy Wives Bowling League is now starting to form teams for the fall season.

Any navy wife of active or retired personnel are cordially invited to join the league. This is a fun type of league and beginners are as welcome as high average bowlers.

The familiarization meeting will be held September 1, 9:30-a.m. at the Jet Lanes, at which time the teams will be finalized and league rules agreed upon.

Bowling Meeting Planned

The Sanford Women's Bowling Association and the Sanford Men's Bowling Association will sponsor a joint buffet and dance at the Elks Club Saturday, August 26.

There will also be business meeting for both organizations. The purpose of the affair is to introduce the new officers to the bowlers and to distribute new league packets to all league secretaries. Also on the business agenda is a discussion of the "Star of the Week" program for the coming year.

The buffet will start promptly at 7 p.m. followed by the business meeting at 8. The dance will begin at 9 with the music provided by "Red Slayton and his combo.

All bowlers from both bowling organizations are invited and they may bring guests. For further information contact Alex Serrano, president of the Sanford Men's Bowling Organization.

Smith & Griese As Pros

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bubba Smith and Bob Griese, the two most valuable College All-Stars against the Green Bay Packers, make their first appearance for their pro football clubs this weekend.

Smith, a 290-pound tackle from Michigan State who was chosen the MV All-Star by a 2-1 margin over quarterback Griese after last week's game in Chicago, is scheduled to start for the Baltimore Colts against the Boston Patriots in a Sunday after noon game.

Griese, a Purdue standout, will be unveiled by the Miami Dolphins against the San Diego Chargers in a Saturday night fray.

The games are part of a full weekend program that calls for five National Football League and three American League exhibitions Saturday plus one NFL exhibition along with the interleague Baltimore-Boston clash Sunday. In addition, there is another interleague encounter listed for Monday night at Detroit.

The Washington Redskins, who beat the Chicago Bears 37-14 last Wednesday night, do not play this weekend. The Bears and the Denver Broncos, of the AFL, also are not scheduled.

Saturday, NFL — Atlanta vs. New York Giants at Ithaca, N.Y., afternoon; New Orleans vs. St. Louis at Shreveport, La., night; Dallas at Los Angeles, night. Pittsburgh at Green Bay, night. Philadelphia vs. Minnesota at Tulsa, night. AFL — Kansas City vs. New York Jets at Birmingham, Ala., night. San Diego at Miami, night; Houston at Oakland, night.

Sunday afternoon, NFL — Cleveland at San Francisco. Baltimore, NFL, at Boston, AFL.

Monday night — Buffalo, AFL at Detroit, NFL.

Baxter Is Tops With 66 Round

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Rex Baxter Jr., with only one tournament victory to show for his 10 years as a pro is in an unfamiliar but pleasant position.

The 31-year-old Texan took a three-stroke lead into today's second round of the $100,000 American Golf Classic.

Baxter, who offhand couldn't remember the last time he held a lead in a tournament, shot a four-under-par 34-32—66 Thursday over the 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club course which had his fellow pros moaning and groaning.

Rains, a new watering system and 20-mile-per-hour wind gusts had the lengthy layout playing at its very toughest.

"That's four shots lower than any round I've ever had on this course" said the happy Baxter.

Baxter's one victory came in the 1963 Cajun Classic.

Only six others in the field of 124 golfers managed to break par and all came in with 69s. They were George Archer with 35-34, Bill Collins 36-33, Bill Martindale 36-33, Jack McGee 34-35, Kermit Zarley 36-33 and Randy Glover 36-33.

Only Glover in that group has a tournament victory this year and that came in the Azalea Open, while Zarley is the top money winner and ranks 31st on the list.

Some of the lads who are expected to apply the pressure to Baxter were another shot behind.

Grouped at 70 and matching par were National Open champion Jack Nicklaus; Arnold Palmer the current leading money winner with $118,000; Doug Sanders; Gardner Dickinson; Bob Nichols; Johnny Pott; Labron Harris and Ken Still.

Greatest Field Meets For The Championships

CHICAGO (AP) — With an eye on the 1968 Olympics and preceding junkets to Europe, Japan and Mexico, an aquatic force of 400 will try to rewrite the record books starting today in the National AAU men's Outdoor Swimming and Divising Championships.

The opening program of the three-day, 18-event splash party in suburban Oak Park's new 50-meter pool includes morning and afternoon trials and late afternoon finals in the 200-meter backstroke, 100 butterfly, 400 freestyle 100 backstroke, 400 individual medley, 400 freestyle relay and one-meter diving.

Track & Field

MONTREAL (AP) — There won't be a rematch until 1969, so track and field coaches on both sides of the Atlantic will have ample time to sit back and watch their athletes.

Europe won the Inaugural Europe vs. Americas track and field match by a two-night total of 169 points to 155, with the next of the biennial series scheduled for Europe two years hence.

Jones Jolts Astros

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Billy Hitchcock was worried about Mack Jones' arm, but the Houston Astros are more concerned about his bat.

Atlanta Manager Hitchcock rearranged his entire outfield Thursday night so Jones' ailing arm would have less work to do. Jones responded by hitting a pair of homers and a two-run double, driving in five runs in all as the Braves pounded Houston 10-2.

Hitchcock moved Hank Aaron from right field to center, put Rico Carty into right from left and positioned Felix Mantilla in left so "Mack will have shorter throws to third and home now than he had to make from center field."

Jones has been having arm miseries for two years and, until Thursday's game, had missed a week because of them. But a solo homer in the third inning, a two-run shot in the seventh and then the double in the eighth are likely to make him forget his problems for a while.

Carty added a three-run shot in the seventh inning in which the Braves scored five times. He now has 12 homers for the season and Jones has 13. Jim Wynn bit his 28th, a solo shot, for Houston in the eighth.

In other action in the National League Thursday, San Francisco beat St. Louis 5-2, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 5-4, Pittsburgh shut out New York 3-0 and Chicago nudged Philadelphia 3-2.

Mike McCormick, backed up by homers from Willie McCovey and Jim Hart, continued his winning ways, picking up his 15th victory of the season as he limited St. Louis to six hits.

McCovey's homer, his 19th, drove in three runs, while Hart's solo shot was his 26th.

Ted Abernathy and Billy McCool took turns in putting down Los Angeles rallies. Abernathy got Ron Hunt to hit into a double play in the seventh inning after one run was in, and McCool got the final two outs of the game with the bases loaded in the ninth.

Tommie Sisk pitched a three hitter against the Mets and the Pirates got runs out of Bill Mazeroski's eighth homer and Manny Mota's bases loaded double in the ninth.

John Briggs' two-base error in the eighth inning set up the tie-breaking run as Chicago ended the Phillies' eight-game winning streak. Briggs dropped Adolfo Phillips' fly, and Phillips later scored on a single by Glenn Beckert.

Peters Saves Sox From Tigers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eddie Stanky, a firm believer in the "There's no tomorrow" school of baseball thinking, always has been ready to go to any legitimate lengths to win a game.

Gary Peters

The one-time Walking Man of the Brooklyn Dodgers, now the manager of the Chicago White Sox, found himself in a ticklish situation Thursday night.

And he didn't hesitate any longer than during his playing days when he'd casually stick a big in front of a fast ball to get on base.

"You do what you have to," Stanky shrugged.

So, with a one-run lead to protect and the bases loaded in the eighth, he routed his starting pitching ace, Gary Peters, off the bench, sent him out in relief and salvaged a 2-1 victory over Detroit.

It preserved the White Sox ten game lead atop the American League standings.

Bob Allison's two homer runs led Minnesota to a 5-0 conquest of Washington, and Chuck Hinton's clutch double with two out in the 13th provided Cleveland with a 2-1 edge over Baltimore in the only other American League games scheduled.

The White Sox, who had lost four of six games going into the Detroit tests, had a 2-1 lead going into the bottom of the eighth. The Tigers promptly loaded the bases with one out on two walks and an error. After Mickey Stanley popped up, Stanky sent in Peters.

Peters promptly struck out pinch hitter Norm Cash to end the inning and the White Sox were out of trouble.

Ken Boyer's homer off relief pitcher Mike Marshall in the top of the eighth broke a 1-1 tie and provided the winning margin. A two base error and Pete Ward's pinch single drove in the first White Sox run in the seventh.

Detroit had taken a 1-0 lead in the fourth on a single by Al Kaline, a walk and Stanley's two out single.

Allison's two homers, both 466-foot plus shots, gave him 18 for the year, drove in three runs and provided all the offensive support needed by Jim Perry, who limited Washington to five hits. Jack Hernandez singled in the other two runs.

Allison, who also doubled, hit his first homer in the fifth, breaking a scoreless string of 18 innings.

Hinton drove in both Indian runs against Baltimore, clubbing the first pitch of the game for a homer and then settling it with a run-scoring double with two out in the 13th. Vern Fuller, who had singled, came home with the winning run.

Saturday's Races

Huge Purses At Stake

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Three-year-old fillies will try to straighten out their tangled relationship in the $50,000 added Lace Saturday while grass court performers take over in the two other richest races on the national thoroughbred racing program.

The 1-year-old misses will be seen in action in the 1¼ miles of the Alabama at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., with at least 12 slated to prevent their champion credentials.

The turf course stakes are the 1 1-16 miles of the $50,000 added Grass-land Handicap at Arlington Park and the 1 1-16 miles of the $25,000 added Margate Handicap for fillies and mares at Atlantic City.

The Alabama shapes up as a wide-open affair with Gamely, one half of the William Haggin Perry entry which also will include Princessesmum, the likely choice off her impressive victory in one division of the recent Test Stakes at Saratoga. Treacherous, winner of the other half of the Perry duo, is a probable starter along with Lewiston and Swiss Cheese, who ran one-two in the Delaware Oaks.

Arlington officials look for a field of 12 for the Grassland, which is trying run for the 18th time but only the second since 1962. The distances have varied from six furlongs to 1 1-16 miles. For Saturday's running Dominar is listed the probable topweight with 118 pounds with Hill Chosen packing up 117 and Canadel 116.

Match Games

BIRMINGHAM Ala. AP—Defending champion A. D. Byrd of West Helena, Ark., began competition with 19 other bowlers from all over the Southeast today in the sixth annual Confederate Match Games bowling tournament.

Prize money is $8,000 with $2,000 going to the winner.

Among the top rollers entered are Lou Scala, Hollywood, Fla., American Bowling Congress master champion; Bill Lillard, Dallas Tex., Professional Bowling Association star; and Carl Lundquist Jackson Miss., three time Confederate winner.

The contest ends Sunday.

VOTE OF THANKS

We at Dekle's Gulf Service, and I'm sure, fellow Sanford business men as well as the motoring public, would share our sentiments in taking this opportunity to thank Mr. Alex Vorndran, of Alex's Shell Service, for his contribution to our community. It has been a pleasure having been associated with such a fine fellow businessman. We feel that if any of us would take the time to observe his friendly, pleasing, neighborly way in which he conducts his business we would benefit greatly. We understand Alex and his people will be leaving us in the near future to operate a new business in Orlando. We will hate to see him leave. Good luck Alex.

Orientation Paves Way For Children

Many first graders in Seminole County's public schools will find the transition from home to school more pleasant by their parents having taken advantage of enrolling them in the pre-school orientation programs, now in progress.

There are 767 pre-schoolers attending these classes now, reported Stuart Gatchel, director of public instruction. He said there were 1,000 first graders in the county in the 1966-67 school term, and at least 1,700 are anticipated for the coming year. He indicated pleasure at the good percentage of pre-schoolers learning over about school this fall. Some of the others may have felt that the "pet-acquainted with school" day held in the spring sufficed for their child, he said.

Several steps can be taken now to help the pre-schooler and new students in the county's schools, according to Thomas Richey, director in charge of pupil personnel and research with the county school board. Richey assists in pupil placement, interpreting laws and guidelines.

"Each child is required to execute a choice of schools. Most of students executed this privilege before school ended in the spring." He stressed that all incoming students, pre-school or out-of-staters, have to indicate their choice before school opens August 28. They can contact their principal or the county school board office.

Richey explained that if a student transferred out of his own district he would probably have to provide his own transportation.

"Buses operate on an economical and feasible route and can carry only those held eligible for transportation in that area," he said.

A physical examination or a physician's statement of health is required. Parents are encouraged to see that all immunizations are up to date.

A birth certificate must accompany the enrollment, showing that the child is six on or before January 1 of the school year in which he expects to enroll. If none is available, then one can be obtained from the county health department. Out-of-staters must contact their area's state officials for a certificate.

Early registration of students is urged and most school officers are open with personnel on hand during the day. Early registration can save much frustration and time for students, parents and school faculty. Secondary students should contact their chosen school for date of registration as each school sets its own special date.

All students enrolling in the county's schools for the first time must be residents of the county in which they reside immediately before they are children of Federal agency employes or service personnel. Those not so connected must sign a "Manifestation of Domicile" with the county clerk's office before registering in school. Non-resident students are charged a yearly fee of $50 to attend school in Florida.

"We have one note of guidance," Gatchel said. "We feel that a school is for the child. Parents and teachers, should recognize that each child is an individual, different from all the rest, with their individual percentage of growth.

Italian 'Lovers' Get Cold Shoulder

MILAN Italy (AP) — Italy's beaches abounding in girl tourists from abroad have long been happy hunting grounds for this country's young "Latin lovers."

But more and more during this hot summer the sweet-talking Italians appear to be getting the cold shoulder.

"It will be a national catastrophe if the situation doesn't change" wrote Milan's respected Corriere Della Sera about the results of a random survey on the tourist-packed Adriatic shoreline.

"German French and English girls vacationing on the shores of Romagna are beginning to turn their backs on the legendary fascination of the young Italians."

The Corriere poll came up with plenty of documentations. Here are some of the complaints the Italians made about the visiting damsels:

"They don't flirt at all."

"They don't believe us like they used to."

"If you get romantic they start laughing."

Family Attending Missionary Boot Camp

By JANE CASSELBERRY

When Paul and Leona Theobald arrived with their family last February from St. Paul, Minn., New Tribes Missionary Institute boot camp in Oviedo was faced with a veritable "population explosion."

They brought with them nine of their twelve children, Donald, 17; Dean, 16; Karen, 14; Colleen, 12; Kyle, 10; Connie, eight; Crystal, seven; Kathy, 5, and Clarissa, two.

Douglas, 23, is in the U.S. Navy; Carol, 21, is at the boot camp in Pennsylvania training to be a missionary, and Dan, 19, is a sophomore at LeTourneau College.

Before giving up the security of his engineering job with a well known paper company in St. Paul to enter training for this faith mission, Theobald and his wife say they "underwent a lot of soul-searching."

New Tribes is one of the few mission societies which would consider such a large family.

They first became acquainted with New Tribes through his sister and brother-in-law, who were among the first to join, and through them met Paul Fleming, dynamic founder of the inter-denominational mission.

Mr. and Mrs. Theobald first met at Bryan College in Tennessee and had an interest in becoming missionaries when they first married.

When they attended a missionary conference they were impressed with the wonderful spirit of the missionaries and how happy the children were. They finally came to the decision that when Christ gave his commission to "Go ye in to all the world" he meant them.

As part of their training for reaching primitive tribes in remote areas of the world, the Theobalds, along with other families from the Oviedo Boot Camp, have been spending the last six weeks at Jungle Camp five miles off SR 44 west of DeLand.

At the rugged jungle site the missionary families have learned to survive without modern conveniences, building their homes from logs and thatch palmetto.

The nearby creek serves as swimmin' hole, laundry, and bath. Water is hauled for drinking and cooking from Shark Tooth Spring a mile and a half from camp, thus named for the prehistoric shark's teeth found there.

In order to accommodate their family their thatched hut was built in a hexagonal shape with triple decker bunks in one end and a sleeping platform on the other. Living and dining space are in the center of the house and the kitchen extends from one end.

Special feature is a skylight covered with heavy plastic in the roof. All furniture is the rustic variety, lashed together from limbs and palms.

Of the 91 persons attending Jungle Camp this year, 44 were adults and the rest children.

Some interesting inovations were introduced into the menus such as fried rattlesnake, grophee, and armadillo. One six foot rattler was shot on the path to the girl's latrine.

One of the most exhausting parts of Jungle Camp is the three day hike, which mission candidates are required to take with all food, clothing, and jungle hammocks on their backs.

The hike is to the Clear Lake Recreation Area in Ocala National Forest, over 20 miles away, and back. Hammocks are slung between trees at night.

The group divided up, making the hike at three different times with those left in camp looking after the children of those on the trail.

After completing training in Oviedo the Theobalds plan to attend New Tribes Linguistics School in Waukesha, Wis. Since they both have had training at Bible Schools and Colleges they will be exempt from attending the Bible School before going to the mission field.

SUPPER is prepared by Mrs. Paul Theobald in her outdoor kitchen at Jungle Camp west of DeLand as six of her 12 children look on. The Theobalds are one of the families training as missionaries at New Tribes Institute Camp in Oviedo.

CARVING UP rattlesnake steaks from a six-foot reptile killed at the jungle camp is John Bennett, son of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Bennett, formerly with First Southern Methodist Church, Sanford.

THE THEOBALDS' hexagonal hut is a marvel of primitive architecture, featuring a plastic skylight, triple decker bunks, sleeping loft, and living and dining areas.

Orbiter Shoots 'Full Earth'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Lunar Orbiter 5 has snapped the first picture of the "full earth," but earthlings won't get to see it for several days.

Flight controllers at Jet Propulsion Laboratory say the photograph, taken Tuesday, will be televised to a tracking station at Madrid, Spain, today.

It may be several days after that before the picture is released by the U.S. space agency in Washington.

Previous Orbiters have taken pictures of earth in partial shadow. The globe was in full sunlight when the latest photograph was shot.

Scientists said a news conference Tuesday that Lunar Orbiter 5 has taken 48 pictures, most of them of the backside of the moon. It can take about 200 more before it runs out of film Aug. 18. Most of these will be of areas of scientific interest on the moon's visible side.

Geologist Harold Masursky of the U.S. Geological Survey, Menlo Park, Calif., speculated that astronauts may find frozen liquid on the floor of some perpetually shaded craters near the moon's poles.

He said photographs show definite indication of "fluidal material" meandering from lunar craters and added that some of it may be frozen in the polar regions. How useful the frozen fluid—possibly condensed gases—may be cannot be determined until man explores the moon, he said.

Legislators Favor Annual Sessions

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Legislators turned attention to their own jobs in constitutional revision Thursday, coming up with answers to what kind of Legislature there will be, how it will meet and when.

The House went along with the Senate's earlier decision to endorse annual session and to remain solidly against switching to a unicameral (one-chamber) system.

And while a move to abolish closed executive sessions of the Senate was smothered by that chamber, the House adopted an amendment which could only give strength to that position.

The House adopted 42-34 the amendment by Rep. Arthur Rude, R-Fort Lauderdale, to insert the word "closed" before the words "executive session" to waylay any doubt.

"This is so the press may not again try to get in," said Rude, referring to the Capital press corps' sit-in of an executive Senate session called earlier this year. The incident drew angry remarks from senators, but ended with liberalized rules.

Rude's amendment was due to be reconsidered, possibly today.

In the Senate, Sen. Robert Shevin, D-Miami, argued with out success for his amendment which would have stricken entirely the executive session chance.

It was voted down 28-13.

"If you don't want your lives exposed then you ought not to run for public office," said Sen. Emory Cross, D-Gainesville, author of the government-in-the-sunshine bill.

But Senate President Verle Pope said "these are trying times and we may go into even more trying times," arguing the Senate could get together privately if it wanted to anyway.

Representatives voted 85-12 for annual sessions, and against unicameralism 72-33.

It voted for sessions in June, which is at odds with the Senate's choice of April on odd-numbered years and January in even years.

There was little opposition to annual sessions. Rep. Jerome Pratt, D-Palmetto, remarked that the Legislature "does enough damage now without meeting twice as often."

Kirk Blasted On Interama 'Profit' Stand

MIAMI (AP) — Reps. Dante Fascell and Claude Pepper, Florida Democrats, have accused Gov. Claude Kirk, a Republican, of trying to take over Interama "for his and his friends" political and financial profit."

Fascell and Pepper issued a joint statement Thursday in response to Kirk's charge that they had made "miserable failures" in getting the cultural and trade center in north Dade County off the ground.

"The only failure, miserable or otherwise, has been the failure of the governor to appoint members of the Interama authority," the congressmen said.

Dr. Irving Muskat resigned earlier this week as chairman of the $500 million project. He said he quit because Kirk repeatedly refused to appoint a board to gain support of industry for Interama.

Fascell and Pepper said Kirk planned to ignore the board and run Interama as a one-man show himself.

"There may be reasons why the governor is seeking to do this. Interama by law does not have to have an open bidding to let contracts," the congressmen said.

Israeli-Arab War Inevitable

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Gamal Abdel Nasser's closest confidant predicted today that renewed war with Israel is virtually inevitable, and King Hussein warned that Jordan would fight again unless the Israelis give back Old Jerusalem.

The belligerent notes were sounded as Yugoslav President Tito opened talks in Cairo with Nasser in an effort to sell the Egyptian leader a peace formula for the Middle East.

Mohammed Hassanein Heikal, editor of the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, said in a signed editorial: "only a miracle will prevent a return to the battlefield, and I do not think we live in an age of miracles."

Heikal, generally regarded as Nasser's spokesman, said the first task facing Egypt is "restoration of the army to its fighting readiness."

Hussein declared in Amman that Jordan "is determined to die" before it surrenders the Arab sector of Jerusalem to Israel.

Teachers To Play Hookey Sept. 5--Plan 5-Day Walkout

CLEARWATER (AP) — Florida Education Association officials Thursday reaffirmed that teachers would attend a "professional day" at Orlando Aug. 24 and set up a schedule that includes a one-day absence from classrooms and a possible five-day walkout.

According to officials who met in Clearwater, the teachers would play hookey Sept. 5 and the possible five-day absence would begin Sept. 25.

The FEA also asked the National Education Association for $10 million, partly to insure "that any teacher fired because of sanctions would be relocated to other jobs or provided with living expenses if a new job is not available," the St. Petersburg Times reported.

George Green, coordinator of a sanctions team from the NEA in Florida, denied that the only issue was higher pay for teachers. The FEA recommended a pay hike package of $277 million but the legislature provided only $79 million.

The "professional education day," Sept. 5, will be held if discussions with Gov. Claude Kirk were not successful and if the legislature refused to call itself into special session.

The FEA reportedly decided that if the 20-day program to "turn to the people" fails by Sept. 25, a "convention of five days" will decide the next move.

This "convention" would coincide with the last five days of school in September and attendance would keep teachers from their classrooms.

If Kirk or others "show good faith and concrete proposals," the FEA reportedly decided, the teachers will reverse their attitude and de escalate.

Teachers were advised to borrow a month's pay if they were short of money and to line up a lawyer and keep his phone number handy day or night.

FEA officials emphasized that their absence from school should not be called a strike or walkout. FEA president Dexter Hagman told a news conference, "We're trying to resolve this this thing peacefully and reasonably."

Record Played

MIAMI (AP)—The Florida Education Association began telling residents of the Dade County area Thursday that "our teachers are underpaid."

The 58-second recorded message comes through dialing 374-2631 in Miami and will be changed weekly. It says Florida is under professional sanctions and that Gov. Claude Kirk "failed to meet his responsibility to the price that he denies his platform promises."

The message, to cost $4,000 during the four-months campaign, says "our classes are overcrowded, our facilities inadequate, our teachers underpaid."

It adds that "last year over 1,000 teachers were hired in Florida, sight unseen. This year over 4,000 teachers are still needed. Many of these vacancies, by necessity, will be filled by unqualified personnel."

School Board Gives Okay To Budget

Mrs. Wilma Pope, president of the bus-drivers association, stated the dissatisfaction with salaries of members of her organization. Drivers are currently paid a starting wage of $150 a month with raises permitted of $5.00 a year up to $200 after 10 years, "We don't feel that's quite right," she said. The Board urged that requests for salary increases be made before budget time next year for consideration.

Former Rep. Tom McDonald pointed out bus-driving is "a part time job" and "commended the Board for not raising the millage" but "urged the Board spend more time going over the budget line by line in the future. That is the Board's job and not Mr. Teague's," he said. (Walter Teague is finance man for the school administration.)

In answer to other questions concerning textbooks, the Board answered that all money for textbooks comes from the state and further that all textbooks used are selected by the state. Teague also explained to one parent that "parents can buy textbooks for their children if they wish.

'Fired' Sheriff Fires Deputies

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk has told Lee County Sheriff Flanders Thompson he's holding the officer "personally responsible" for the lives, welfare and safety of those summoned to testify against Thompson.

"Any recrimination by you toward these people affecting their employment would be most unfortunate," Kirk said Thursday in a telegram.

Copies of the telegram were distributed, without comment, to members of the Senate by Sen. Elmer Friday, D-Fort Myers.

Friday was member of a select Senate committee that investigated Kirk's allegations against Thompson which led to the sheriff's suspension. On Wednesday, the full Senate refused to remove Thompson, adopting the committee's report that the governor had insufficient evidence against the sheriff.

Kirk said in his telegram that a number of Lee County citizens including employees of the sheriff's department, were subpoenaed for the Senate committee hearing which studied the allegations.

"I hold you personally responsible for the lives, welfare and safety of these persons as well as other citizens in Lee County..." Kirk said.

The sheriff called a meeting of his staff Thursday night in the Lee County courtroom and asked seven of his deputies to resign. When they refused, he dismissed them.

The sheriff told them to turn in their uniforms and equipment by today and if any of them had vacation time coming, it would be granted.

"It is necessary for all of us to work as a team for the best interests of the public," the sheriff said. "Our first duty is to protect life and property. In the light of this, and its effectiveness as a cooperative team, I'm asking you to resign."

"We didn't resign. We were fired," Greer said.

Greer said he did not plan to take the matter to the governor.

"We're not mad at anybody," he said.

Earlier, Thompson sent a telegram to Kirk saying the law officer would be responsible for the lives, welfare and safety of all Lee County residents.

"Certainly, this office will not indulge in any recriminations," his telegram to Kirk said. "In the interest of effective cooperation of this office, however, it is my considered judgement that I must request the resignations of any and all personnel who can no longer work effectively with this office."

The governor and one of the deputies was hung in effigy on the courthouse lawn and three mock graves for other deputies appeared. They were quickly removed by county personnel.

Negroes In National Guard Urged

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A presidential panel's call for greater Negro participation in the National Guard has gotten a mixed response. Republican governors have urged prompt law enforcement to head off potential riots, and 16 Negro leaders, including Black Power advocates, have called for a political alliance with "progressive whites."

This was the major activity on today's racial scene as specific proposals to deal with disorders and their causes began to flow from meetings and hearing rooms in New York, Washington and Chicago.

On a call Thursday by the President's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorder for more Negroes in the Guard, a panel member, Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., said, "If there was a more realistic percentage of Negroes in Guard units called to handle riots in Negro areas, the Guard units would be more effective in doing so."

But Maj. Gen. James F.K Cantwell, president of the National Guard Association, said, "How can you beat the bushes when you have a waiting list?"

Eight Republican governors who met in New York outlined a 60-point program to deal with social injustice and lawlessness, but stressed the need for quick law enforcement in volatile situations.

The governors' proposals included pooled police and fire-fighting manpower to be made available to cities where trouble has broken out.

In a letter sent to several thousand members of Negro organizations, they said, "There are whites who are still committed to the struggle for freedom and justice. We feel that political alliances, without compromising one's political or organizational integrity, are necessary and crucial at this point."

In Mississippi, Negroes were cheering the victories of almost half the Negroes who ran for office in Tuesday's Democratic primary. Negroes won 15 county offices outright, and 19 others gained places in an Aug. 29 run-off election. The Democratic nominees probably will not be opposed in the November general election.

Dirksen Loses Battle, May Have Won War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen lost a battle in his bid to block U.S. financing for Soviet auto plant. But he nonetheless may have won the war.

The Senate rejected 51 to 33 Thursday a proposed Dirksen amendment that would have prohibited the Export-Import Bank from supplying the loan Italy's Fiat Motor Co. seeks for U.S. machine tools for the auto plant.

But the Senate later passed another amendment by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., which the sponsor said may accomplish the same purpose.

Byrd's proposal, adopted 56 to 26, would deny Export-Import Bank financing to any non-Communist nation that trades with North Vietnam.

Byrd said his amendment wasn't aimed at the Fiat Soviet deal, but may block it all the same.

That's because Italy is on the list of non-Communist nations which traded with North Vietnam in 1966.

The effect of defeating Dirksen's amendment was to leave the President with discretionary authority to approve such transactions as the Soviet auto plant if he felt they were in the national interest.

But Byrd's amendment would limit that authority and Dirksen was prepared today to try to impose new restrictions on presidential authority.

Grandpa Has Great Time As Baby-Sitter

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson more than anyone else is enjoying the two-week visit of his infant grandson to the White House.

First thing every morning, the President takes little Patrick Lyndon Nugent into his bed and props his grandson on the pillows for a breakfast visit.

Front feeding baby Lyn his bottle to showing him off to high-level officials, Grandfather Johnson has been having a great time as a baby-sitter. He says his blue-eyed, blond grandson is "a great fellow."

Parents Luci and Patrick J. Nugent are to return from the Bahamas this weekend to retrieve their offspring.

The President and the First Lady have been baby-walkers and baby-sitters for their only grandchild. Passing tourists have seen the baby with Mrs. Johnson or Nurse Mary Gfeller on the White House South Lawn.

But 7-week old Lyn sleeps too much to suit the President, who sneaks high-level luncheon guests in for a glimpse of his napping grandson.

The baby has been trotted out for photographers and reporters from the day he arrived. He slept or yawned through most of those encounters to the amusement of his grandfather.

Johnson, who says he's "very fond of children," couldn't wait when Lyn arrived July 31 to take the baby off to a birthday party for another namesake—1-year-old John Lyndon Valenti, son of former presidential assistant Jack Valenti.

Though Luci was there, the President insisted on carrying his grandson about the whole time amid the excited party crowd of 25 small youngsters.

Luci complained the baby was exhausted because grandpa "bounces him, tickles him, teases him and squeezes him."

But Nurse Gfeller reported Lyn, who arrived at the White House weighing about 11 pounds, has "gained some weight." Her charge, now moved from the third floor to Luci's former second floor bedroom, "sleeps and eats a lot."

Oviedo High School Plans Approved

tructing first phase of the school was $422,000. The architects submitted alternate plan of construction using steel at cost of $418,000.

After obtaining estimates of savings in insurance with construction, the Board disregarded use of steel structure in the facility.

The architects also noted an additional cost, not planned for, amounting to $40,332 will be necessary for furnishing chemistry laboratories and biology and general science rooms.

In other business, the Board:

Accepted the low bid of Castle Farms for 5.89 cents each for one-half pints of milk;

Accepted the low bids of International on three van-type classrooms for special education classes for $2,897 and for two pickup trucks from International and two vans from Ford;

Accepted low bids totaling $2,065.29 for paint for the maintenance department;

Instructed Principal Floyd Richards of Bear Lake School to deny request of Forest City Civic Association to use school facilities for Bingo games.

Set a special meeting for 7 p.m. next Wednesday for architects for the new Lyman High School and Sanford Junior High to discuss the plans for the respective schools.

the health of the Sanford economy as a whole. The third plan recommended by Blandford was one which did not ask for federal funds, but would be conducted by the consultants at a suggested fee of $9,000. This was considered impractical.

But the decision taken to seek a conference with EDA officials, many of whom are well informed about the Sanford-Seminole business problems stemming from the closing of the Sanford Navy Air Base in 1968, was taken with a determination to push along with all speed as Krider stated, "... this is a pressing problem."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My 16-year-old daughter does nothing but sit and plunk on her guitar, watch TV, and listen to rock 'n' roll records. She's even too lazy to empty the waste basket in her room.

She's overweight, but the doctors say there's nothing wrong with her. She gets no exercise whatsoever and eats junk all day—candy bars, potato chips, and soft drinks.

She still has childish tantrums, yelling, slamming doors, and throwing things when she doesn't get her own way. She has no respect for her mother or me, talks back and won't take criticism.

Right now she's throwing a fit because I won't let her drive my car. A kid who still has tantrums isn't driving my car. If she doesn't respect her parents, she certainly won't respect pedestrians or other drivers. Am I right or wrong? What do you say about an irresponsible kid like this driving a car?

DADDY

DEAR DADDY: If you're asking whether or not an irresponsible kid should be permitted to drive a car, the answer is no. But be honest. Isn't this your way of punishing your daughter for being disrespectful, unco-operative, and generally obnoxious?

Your problem child needs desperately to tell her troubles to someone who understands her. Her unlovely, lazy, rebellious attitude is a cry for help. There are many fine therapists in your area. Ask your family doctor to recommend one who specializes in helping adolescents establish communication with their parents.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have a 14-month-old nephew whose feet turn outward when he walks. So severely in fact that the child walks sideways. My sister knows it and keeps talking about asking her pediatrician to put the child in corrective shoes. Shouldn't this have been done months before the child started to walk?

I've mentioned this to my sister several times, and I don't want to bring it up again for fear she'll think I'm putting my nose where it doesn't belong.

Please don't say that if my sister wants her child to grow up with out-turned feet, it's her business, because it isn't my sister who will have to stumble through 70 years of life on deformed feet. I see her pediatrician socially quite often. Would it be unethical of me to say something to him about it?

WORRIED

DEAR WORRIED: It's inconceivable that an aunt would be more concerned about the health of a child than the child's mother, but it's not impossible. You may not have all the facts, but on the chance that your sister is procrastinating needlessly, and the doctor is unaware, by all means, mention it to him.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that "in addition to teaching daughters how to cook, iron and keep house, mothers should teach them to cuddle a man, listen to him, entertain him, laugh with him, forgive him, and make his home a happy one to come home to, if they want a happy marriage."

I have always felt that way, but you put it so directly and simply.

I have three daughters and three sons. Have you similiar advice for sons to follow if they are to have happy marriages?

MOTHER OF SIX

DEAR MOTHER: If a man kisses his wife good-by when he goes to work, returns sober and kisses her hello, doesn't ask her what she's been doing all day, and keeps reminding her that she is loved and appreciated, no matter what he lacks, she won't even notice it.

Oswald: "You're right. Playing in diamonds or in no-trump North and South have 12 top tricks and would make a grand slam if the spade finesse were to work."

Jim: "It should have been a cinch to get to six diamonds and the pair that did get to six diamonds by the bidding in the box have asked us to comment. Incidentally, the game was match point duplicate."

Oswald: "You remember the story about the man who asked 'How do I get to the Jones Irrugstore'? The answer was: 'Drive to the third traffic light and turn left. No. Just drive to the second traffic light. Turn left and then right. No. You'd better go to the fourth traffic light. Oh! You can't get there from here.' There is no good way to get to six no-trump and my guess is that six diamonds bid and made turned out to be a good score."

Jim: "It was. It seems that no one else in the field reached that spot. Some did not get to a slam at all. A couple of others reached seven and the failure of the spade finesse brought them down with a crash."

Oswald: "I suppose we could improvise and show how to land at six no-trump. Why should we? Bridge is not an exact science and never will be until you can see all 52 cards during the bidding. I like the bidding in the box except for West's rather pointless and dangerous one heart bid. This gave North a chance to cue bid and cue bid a second time to show that he really meant the first one. Then South did well to start proceedings by rebidding his diamond suit. This made it obvious that his later bids were ace-showing."

We The Women:

By Betty Canary

I do not know if this is a first of some kind or if it indicates a new trend but I do think I should report it. Bob Honey and I went to a party the other night and believe it or not the hostess had the party in the living room!

What happened was that we rang the bell and went in and were shown into the front room and left there. I did notice a few cuspidor sort of cowering over in one corner but I looked around for the way to the basement as I usually do. However, Bob, who is very quick to notice things himself, pointed out there were plates on the dining room table! He whispered quickly to me, "Play it cool, Sweetie—I think they mean for us to STAY up here!"

I guess the poor things in the corner didn't know how to act because obviously they had never attended a party like this. It started coming back to me right away. I mean, I can vaguely remember my mother giving parties and back then people were always invited into the living room. That's the truth! I think I even have some old snapshots around to prove it.

It was nice. I didn't even need the extra sweater I always take to parties. I bring a sweater because I find cellars are cool. Also damp.

Well, the hostess acted as though it were okay that we stayed upstairs and after a while we sat on the chairs and sofa and everything. This is startling I know, but do you know what happened then? She had food on the dining room table! I mean it was all right out there with forks and everything and it was obvious we were suppose to eat. Although most of the guests were around the age of 40, I would say this was a brand new experience for many of us. Most people have you down in the basements where you sit on cushions made of seven empty wine cans tied together and covered with gaily colored corduroy. Mostly the only things to eat are bowls of dip. The dip is usually covered with bits of broken potato chips.

The evening was such a success. Nobody poured anything onto the nice rug or wiped their shoes on the new sofa or got dirty handprints on the walls or anything. In fact, I heard several women say things like "Gee, why didn't I think of this!" and "We have the nicest living room—we might even end up enjoying it."

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY— I would like to know how one washes windows with no smears. This chore has become as frustrating for me as it is time-consuming, wearying and ungratifying. I have tried every cleaner on the market, plus a few of my own, and I change rags frequently. Have also tried newspaper and paper towels. The windows look beautiful until the sun shines on them and then the smears really show up.—MRS. A. M.

DEAR POLLY— I am answering Flossie who has loose button in the back of her sofa. She should buy a curved upholsterer's needle (at some dime store or any shop that sells upholstery supplies) and with this needle and heavy thread she can sew in from the front and the needle goes under the button loop and back out.—B.J.M.

DEAR POLLY— Flossie can replace the button on her sofa easily by taking the top out of a Christmas tree ball ornament and then put it through the button, squeeze the ends of the ball top together and push it through the material. It will expand on the back side and hold the button on. This worked well on a chair of mine.—EDNA.

DEAR POLLY— When we had a get-acquainted coffee for a new neighbor, each of the gals wrote the following information on a 3x5-inch recipe card: Her first and last name and her husband's first name, telephone number, address and color of house or some distinguishing feature, children's names and ages, and any baby sitters, interesting information about hobbies, clubs and church. We presented them all to the newcomer who sincerely approved of the idea. I will bet she knows more about the neighbors than I do. I surely enjoy and apply the Pointers.—MRS. J. D.

DEAR POLLY— Georgia was having trouble with seafood shells sliding on serving plates so I want to tell her how oysters and other seafoods are served in Louisiana. They are bedded on rock salt. If the food is heated IN the shells ON the salt in a metal or heatproof dish, the whole thing will stay hot for quite a time.—MARY LOU

GIRLS— You could take small aluminum foil plans the size of the spread of the shells, put enough salt in the bottoms to hold the shells in place and put them on a cookie sheet to go in the oven. Remove from the oven and with a spatula transfer each little foil pan with its good contents to the serving plate.—POLLY.

Miss Mann Earns Masters Degree

MISS BETTY MANN

Miss Betty Lee Mann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mann of 104 Ridge Drive, Sanford, will be graduated from Florida State University, Aug. 12, 1967, with a Masters of Science degree in Home Economics Education. She also has completed additional credit hours in The Florida State University School of Education for Certification in educational supervision which will accumulate toward a Doctorate degree.

While studying at Florida State University, Miss Mann was a full-time staff member in the capacity of a Research Assistant in which she was concerned with research for the State Department of Education in new secondary school programs for home economics wage-earning programs.

After being graduated salutorian of McCool High School, McCool Jct., Nebraska, Miss Mann attended University of Nebraska as a Nebraska-Nebraska Regents scholarship student and was graduated with scholastic honors in June, 1960, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Vocational Home Economics Education.

Between 1960 and 1966, Miss Mann accumulated almost six years of teaching experience in Nebraska and Sanford schools while working with elementary, junior high, and senior high school students as well as Florida State University Home Economics pre-intern and intern teachers.

Miss Mann is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, National Home Economics Professional Fraternity; Omicron Nu, National Home Economics Scholastic Honorary; and Kappa Delta Pi, National Education Honorary. She has served in the district and state offices of the Florida Home Economics Association as well as a member of the State Advisory Board of the Future Homemakers of America.

On August 1, 1967, Miss Mann joined the Sarasota County School staff as the first county Supervisor of Home Economic teachers in the Junior High School, senior high school, vocational school and adult programs. She is presently residing at 102 Chip Shot Lane, Sarasota.

Wetherington-Lovering

Marriage Solemnized

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT LOVERING

Miss Mavis Wetherington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Wetherington of Lakeland, and Robert Lovering, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Lovering, also of Lakeland, were united in Holy Matrimony, July 26, 1967, at 6 p.m., at Central Baptist Church, Sanford.

Rev. Freddie Smith was the officiating clergyman at the double ring ceremony.

For her vows the bride chose a two-piece street-length ensemble fashioned with a slim sheath and sleeveless coat of Alencon lace. A cluster of pearls secured her short veil of silk illusion and she wore a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Doris Selgler of Lakeland attended her sister as matron of honor attired in a pink chiffon A-line dress enhanced with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following a wedding trip to the Grand Bahamas, the newlyweds are residing at 3005 W. 12th Street, Sanford, where the bridegroom is a trooper with Florida State Highway Patrol.

A cream sauce for seafood tastes especially good when sauteed green pepper and canned pimiento (both diced) are added. Slivered ripe olives also make an excellent addition.

Knit Knacks

Whether you knit or crochet, the right tools are essential to your craft. Always be sure to use the size of knitting needles or crochet hooks which are listed in the pattern directions. By using the correct needles, you should be able to work to the gauge called for in the instructions.

Also, the size of the needles or hooks is important to the texture of the garment you are making. A needle which is too fine will result in stiff knits and too coarse needles will tend to make your knitting stretch.

So follow directions — and keep those needles flying!

Mrs. M. E. Baker Hosts Coffee

Mrs. M. E. Baker, a Sanford resident for 29 years, was hostess to a coffee at her Grapeville home, Aug. 8, honoring three of her four sisters on their second reunion in 30 years.

Guests of honor were Mrs. Wallace Pike, Mt. Dora; Mrs. Luther H. Meade, Chatham, N.J.; and Mrs. R. C. de Armond, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Guests were served refreshments from an attractive table set in the spacious Florida room. Centering the table, which was overlaid with a white cutwork cloth, was a breathtaking arrangement of coral tea roses. Trays were laden with dainty pastries and party-pretty goodies.

Mrs. W. W. Tyre assisted Mrs. Baker in serving the guests.

Friends calling to meet the sisters during the appointed hours were the Mmes. Ruby Hemmerle, L. H. Harvey, A. J. Walker, D. E. Brubaker, L. D. Hastings, Jack Haderer, A. K. Shoemaker, Roy Tillis, M. E. Baker, Jr. and G. B. Hudson.

Accompanying Mrs. de Armond and Mrs. Meade to Florida were Mrs. de Armond's 17 year-old son, David and Mrs. Meade's husband, who are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Baker following a stay in DeBary with Mrs. Pike.

Beauty after Forty

by Edyth Thornton McLeod

In almost every bag of mail from my readers I receive several letters regarding escorts.

Mature women have a real problem about escorts. So many, now widowed, had husbands as escorts and, typically, here's a letter from just such a woman: "I was married at 18. My husband passed away when I was 59. Now I can't go out anywhere in the evening. I invite women friends to my home, as I can afford to play hostess occasionally. They often refuse because their husbands don't like to stay home alone. So what do I do? Life is so dull. I love concerts and movies. I work at home during the day and when night comes I would love to go out."

My answer is, make a plan, study the situation, take an interest in something men like—perhaps golf—even though you may hate it. In this way you have a better opportunity to meet mature men. Sign up for a bridge course. Don't make it a regular "man hunt" but find out where eligible men go in your town. Bowling is a good field for your search. Cruises aren't really much help. The men all go with their wives. I went on a cruise once with a listing of 500 people — 250 married couples!

I told you in a recent column that I would tell you how I got an escort in Europe on my last visit. While in Germany I called the manager of my motel, told him that I was alone, but that I wanted to visit certain restaurants, night clubs and concerts. Of course I would only do these things if I had an escort. He agreed and found a very cultured gentleman who was working in the hotel's accounting department. A fee was suggested by the hotel manager and money given my escort to cover expenses, but it was charged to my account.

My escort turned out to be a man of wealth prior to World War II. He was charming and I enjoyed seeing the places I wished to visit. I think the gentleman was actually a bit embarrassed but we did not discuss it. The day I left he came to the plane and presented me with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, saying, with a smile, "Madam, I bought these."

This little story may give you an idea as to how to acquire an escort on your next trip abroad. By the way, why not go now.

Miss LaBree Bride Of J. B. McCullar

By DONNA ESTES

MR. AND MRS. JAMES BRYAN McCULLAR

Miss Sheila Jean LaBree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill LaBree of Longwood and James Bryan McCullar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Freshour of Orlando, were united in Holy Matrimony, July 30 at 2 p.m. at the Friendship Baptist Church, Altamonte Springs.

Rev. Harwood Steele, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony held before the altar banked by baskets of white and yellow summer flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in a formal gown of silk nylon designed with a Sabrina neckline of lace accented with pearls. Delicate lace appliques were featured throughout her skirt which flared at the hemline. Her Waltzeau train, also lace-appliqued, flowed into a chapel sweep.

Her bouffant veil of English silk illusion was held by a cluster of lace petals enhanced with tiny seed pearls. She carried a cathedral arrangement of white gladiolas and tube roses.

Miss Cheryl McQuatters of Sanford attended the bride as maid of honor attired in a floor length gown of silk nylon embroidered with yellow daisies. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladiolas enhanced with white daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy LaBree, sister of the bride, and Miss Judi Beauchamp of Jacksonville. They wore matching floor length gowns of white Georgette over yellow taffeta and bouquets similar to that of the maid of honor.

Bill McCullar served his brother as best man while ushers were Donald McElreath of Longwood and Larry Davis of Orlando.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. LaBree chose a two piece ensemble of green brocaded shantung with white accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Freshour, the groom's mother, was attired in a two piece ensemble of pink chiffon over taffeta complimented by white accessories with white carnation corsage.

Centering the bride's table, overlaid in white linen, was a four-tiered wedding cake decorated with silver bells, and flanked by tall yellow tapers in crystal holders.

Mrs. Glen Osborn, aunt of the bride, served the cake while Miss Patricia Glass served punch. Mrs. Fred Dudley, friend of the family, assisted.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Tex Beauchamp of Jacksonville; Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Nation, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cauley, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davis and daughters, Connie and Regina; Allan Glass and Cindy and Patricia Glass; Mrs. Stanley Edwards, Mrs. Lena Myers, Miss Janice Hall, Larry Davis, W. L. Illley, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Oliver, Mrs. Ruby Devault and Miss Carolyn Devault, all of Orlando.

Junior Artists Staging Exhibit At Senkarik's

COMBINATION TOWEL, ROBE

To be as snug as a bug after your swim or shower, there's nothing like a quick wrap-up. Envelop yourself in a thick, thirsty, cotton terry velvety velour robe. With such a luxurious and colorful way to dry off, you may never use an ordinary towel again.

Double Ring Rites Unite Miss Jean Kerr, K.D. Keegan

By JANE CASSELBERRY

MR. AND MRS. KEMPTON KEEGAN

Jean Idell Kerr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kerr of Casselberry, became the bride of Kempton Delbert Keegan, Orlando, in a double ring ceremony at Westminster Presbyterian Church of Casselberry at 8 p.m., Monday.

He is the son of Mrs. Jack A. Martin, Sr., of Kaneohe, Hawaii, and the late Richard H. Keegan.

Traditional nuptial music was played by Merle Kent, organist.

The petite bride was lovely in sheath gown of peau de soie highlighted by seed pearls and lace appliqued at the bodice, neckline and back floor length panel.

Her French illusion veil was attached to a pearl de soie headpiece featuring a bow and a heart shaped lace medallion. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations with pink ribbon streamers.

Mr. and Mrs. Lowe Hayward of Magnolia Towers, Orlando, served as best man and matron of honor.

The bride's book was kept by Miss Sharlene Keegan, sister of the groom. Assisting at the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents, 335 Piney Ridge Rd., were Mrs. Doyne Akins, aunt of the bride, who served the cake; Miss Barbara Keegan, cousin of the bride who poured the punch; and Mrs. Carl Akins and Mrs. Leland Akins, both aunts of the bride.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Williamson of Rugby, England.

Miss Hittell, Dennis Jaeger United In Church Ceremony

By MRS. H. L. JOHNSON

MR AND MRS. DENNIS JAEGER

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hittell, Sr., of Lake Monroe, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Linda Louise, to Dennis Jaeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Jaeger of Minneapolis, Minn.

Rev. Herbert W. Goerss officiated at the wedding ceremony held at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, Friday, Aug. 5, 4:30 p.m.

Attending the bridal couple were Mr. and Mrs. John Kerchofer.

A wedding reception was held Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents on Orange Boulevard in Lake Monroe.

The bride's table, overlaid with a white lace cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a bride and groom. Silver and crystal appointments were used to hold the green sherbet punch, nuts, mints, filled beef roll-ups on party crackers. The punch bowl was accented by a floating ice wedding ring made of lilies of the valley and cherries.

The home, which was opened ensuite for the occasion, was decorated with vases of pink roses and white mums carrying out the color scheme of pink and white. On the buffet was a white tiered candelabara holding nine pink candles, roses and mums. The reflection of this beautiful arrangement, from a huge mirror on the wall, fell on the brides table.

Serving the cake were Mrs. Robert Dana and Mrs. Marvin Kinard. Presiding at the punch bowl was Mrs. Claude Hawkins. Greeting guests at the door were Mrs. Herbert Thurston of Winter Haven and keeping the brides book was Mrs. Richard Hittell, sister-in-law of the bride.

The table holding the bride's book was centered with an heirloom three-tiered bubbling fountain, holding pink roses, white mums and greenery.

BPW Club Combines Dinner With Business

The August meeting of the Sanford Business and Professional Women's Club was held recently at the home of Mrs. B. F. Ganas. A varied and delicious covered dish dinner was enjoyed, followed by a brief but important business meeting.

Highlight of the evening was the welcoming of the club's newest member, Mrs Ruth O'Neill, secretary to Architect Eoghan N. Kelley. Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill have travelled extensively but long ago decided to become Sanfordites as soon as possible. The Sanford club welcomes her as a valuable addition to the membership.

Members present were Mmes. Polly Jones, Jessie Brisson, Helen Pearson, Mildred Smith, Val Colbert, Ruth O'Neill, Irene Laney and Margaret Ganas.

STAY-PRESSED SPRAY

An aerosol spray that makes possible the installation of creases in durable press fabrics at home is now being introduced nationally. Homemakers can make a durable press garment with hems, pleats, cuffs and seams that stay pressed. It's easy to use: spray lightly, let dry, sew, press in the new crease.

MISS JACKIE MARIE ENSLEY of Sanford has "won her wings" and is now a stewardess with Delta Air Lines. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ensley, 3005 Park Avenue, she completed the four-week training course at Delta's Stewardess School at the Atlanta Airport and is now proudly wearing the chic uniform and cap of the nation's fifth largest airline. From her base station of Memphis, she will fly to many of the cities served by Delta, the District of Columbia and the Caribbean.

Horoscope Forecast

SATURDAY, AUGUST 12, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A Saturday in which if you try to strut or impress anyone in power or authority you can become a real cropper and get quickly put into your place. But if you make a point to carefully delve into and study whatever may be of special concern, and find new and up-to-date ways to solve you can gain much good will from others.

AIRES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Be very careful with present security by paying all bills, especially those that deal with the government, home, business. Don't forget debts of honor, either. Evening is best for recreation.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) One at home would try to run some business opportunity for you through jealousy. Keep silent and you win out. Do not permit associates and family to get together hardly at all for best results.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Though it is a work day, what ever you still have to do should be handled carefully, adroitly. Listen to what co-worker has to suggest, and clear up some problem. Fun time tonight with those close by.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Some improvement to whatever you own are necessary in A.M., then off tonight to the social affairs you like. You have a better idea how to advance. Put it in operation as soon as possible.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't feel that kin are impossible on you in the enthusiasm of getting some straightened out and beautified. Pitch in and do your share of work. Clear up any misunderstandings, also. Simple delights fine in P.M.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Stop fretting about some sad and small matter that is of little consequence and out to what ever big opportunities are around you. Be more alert to whatever you can accomplish easily. Be more dynamic, interested in what you are doing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't confide your personal monetary affairs to acquaintances, since they do not know all the facts and could get you into further trouble. Use your own judgment and improve present position. Relax at a movie tonight.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Follow laws and regulations that apply to you. Let your conduct be edifying and then all works out just fine for you. Know what your goals are and then go after them in a positive, precise fashion. Fine evening out socially.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Instead of dashing around here and there, do some investigating of puzzling matters. Be of assistance to one who has done you favors in the past, also. Much happiness is possible in P.M.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Plan early for social matters that bring you good will of others and help you to repay obligations. Stop asking for so much advice from others who feel they are experts. Rely more upon your own abilities.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Out early into the world of activity and make a good impression on those connected with your career, especially where civic matters are concerned. See that you obey all laws. An associate may feel otherwise. Let it be his business.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A fine opportunity presents itself for advancement, so seize it quickly and put aside that new temptation that is bothering you. Early evening is fine for dining out at new place with some charming person. Have a wonderful time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those interesting young ones who has much investigative ability and can penetrate right through the thoughts and ideas of others. The desire for fame is great here and the ability to work for it also, but teach not to brag and not to expect applause at every turn. Inculcate dignity.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Men & Women

MONTREAL (AP) — American anthropologist Ashley Montagu says the feminine trend in men and the masculine trend in women are good things — both need it.

SUNDAY, AUGUST 13, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can speak your mind directly if it is based upon right concepts and have an awareness of the motives of those with whom you are allied this Sunday and can bring to light many new arrangements swiftly that can be helpful in most all directions. After studies get out and see and be with those you like the most.

AIRES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Get right into the mechanics of any plan that can give you added interests that will be remunerative and add much to present abundance. One you recently met will give you right ideas. Be equally bashful.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Your intuition is working very accurately and you know exactly what to do to improve present interests as well as add others. Show that you are truly intelligent. Then your mate is more impressed.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Though it is a holiday, it is a good time to have a down-to-earth talk with partners and see how to improve future operations. Many facts come into the open so that you have a better understanding of what your position is with the public in general.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Think over how you can be of greater service to others and making new arrangements to show your finest talents. Get health bettered. Then you are sure of carrying through with new week's activities more cleverly.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Talk to someone who can give you fine ideas on how to have better amusements in the future and really get a spark out of them. Be thoughtful of good pals, too. Include them in your plans and all is fine.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A good day to confer with kin about certain plans you have in mind that can be very beneficial for all concerned, and get their cooperation. Instead of going out, entertain tonight. Be a charming host, hostess.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Out to the church of your choice early and then out to visit with friends, relatives, neighbors. Plan your week carefully so that it need not be so difficult for you. Don't permit others to impose on you, either.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Think big if you want to get big now and you can have a fat greater income that the one you currently enjoy. A clever person in business gives you excellent ideas. Listen to them carefully. He is feeling expansive today.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Re-evaluate what your true aims are before you get into action today and strive for more prestige in social life. You are dynamic now and a little different attitude can delight others. Be less bombastic.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Decide what you need to eliminate, irritations, obsolete furniture, etc., so that you can get ahead much faster. In the interim think over your various associations and see where to make improvements. Keep busy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Your best bet now is to be with those allies who have good sense and there can be an exchange of fine ideas. Be cooperative with them. Out socially in P.M. Add others to your roster of friends.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some civic work you do today can be the means through which you advance considerably right now. Step out early. Be sure you contact the influential and you find they give you the support you need.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those youngsters who in early life will adopt a certain attitude and it will be very difficult to change it, so be sure to point out at an early time that all facts and factors should be listened to and considered before a decision is reached. Fine independent, temperamental person here, but see that those attributes are used wisely.

The five volcanic isles of American Samoa — Tutuila, Aunuu, Tau, Ofu and Olosega, and two coral atolls called Rose and Swains—comprise a land area of 76 square miles.

MONDAY, AUGUST 14, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite some highly confusing or deceptive conditions which are now in effect from the machinations of others, there is a considerable amount of protection also present by acting according to accepted principles. So, you can start the week right by being sure to do nothing questionable of any nature whatever.

AIRES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You are able to get into new interests but do not permit any angling on the part of close ties or you are soon disillusioned. Use good judgment. Forget your hunches since they are apt to be erroneous.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) An associate can be very uncompromising and even cause trouble, so get busy with what ever work is ahead of you and all is fine. Don't try to handle that vexatious problem right now, either. Be on the safe side in all things.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If your regular work seems to be coming apart at the seams, sit down with a big executive and get good advice so that you find yourself again. You get very little help from a co-worker. Be more independent.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be more concerned with getting your tasks handled properly and avoid some outside temptation that seems to have a good deal of power over you. Not the right day for creative endeavors, though. Do the practical.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Use your ingenuity to get into the good graces of delightful persons you really like. Step out to dinner with them. Do all those things that help start an interest in all of your affairs. Be very active.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handling family affairs that are very important right now is wise instead of dashing out somewhere without any real purpose. Make sure you fix up whatever is starting to come apart. Don't wait until it is no longer repairable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) A monetary affair can be very annoying right now, so await a better time before resolving it. State your ambitions to kings. Out as early as possible in P.M. with congenials for whatever personal recreation, etc., you desire.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Others come to you for advice so that they can improve their position, so be generous with it. Then out to put your finest talents to work in a most constructive way. Be as practical as you can.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Forget any worries that you can do little about and be out with fascinating persons to interesting outlets. Be more interested in the social. This can be one of your most valuable ways to get ahead.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Planning activities for the days ahead is best with some trusted authority in confidence instead of relying on regular allies. Then finish what you have already started. Be romantic tonight.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The day is ideal for guiding about in a social way, since you love to meet interesting, new personalities. Some good and staunch friend assists with a vital problem. Show gratitude in some tangible way.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You have certain civic matters to take care of, so do as before you get into some new outlet that appeals to you. Doing what is of benefit to the public in general is your best way to advance. Be clever.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those clever youngsters who knows that the direct method is best for gaining ambitions, since others will respond to this but be adamant if your progeny resorts to nagging, deviousness. Be sure you add some foreign tongue to the school curricula as early as possible. Much travel denoted here.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Flu Outbreak

ATLANTA (AP) — Serious outbreaks of influenza are expected this winter the National Communicable Disease Center says.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

8:30-9 p.m. (CBS) Hogan's Heroes. (Color). (Rerun). As If these jokers don't go in and out of the Stalag often enough, they inherit a professional escape artist who bugs Hogan to flee the camp for good. Hogan thinks this could ruin his own meeting out of the camp with an OSS agent, and his job is to keep the super Sergeant Flood (Mickey Manners) tied down. Funny, as usual.

8:30-9:30 p.m. (NBC) The Man From U.N.C.L.E. "The Come With Me To the Casbah Affair." (Color). (Rerun). Jean Gahlin was never like this. To start with, the lovebug has gotten one of Thrush's men: Pierrot la Mouche (guest star Pat Harrington), who pleads for Janine, a toothsome type played by Danielle Demeta. In order to win the practical Janine, he offers to sell a Thrush code to U.N.C.L.E., and It's up to Illya and Solo to get it out of the Casbah. Abbe Lane, as Ayesha, provides more than enough distraction.

9-11 p.m. (CBS) The CBS Friday Night Movies. "My Geisha." (Color). (Rerun). Shirley MacLaine stars in a rather silly but beautifully filmed comedy. Miss MacLaine plays Lucy Dell, an American movie star whose director husband Paul Robaix (Yves Montand) takes off for Tokyo to make "Madame Butterfly"—not starring his wife. Lucy is so annoyed that she takes lessons as a geisha girl and pretends to be Yuko.

9:30-10 p.m. (NBC) T.H.E. Cat. "Marked For Death." (Color). (Rerun). Michael Constantine guest stars as Silvio, King of the Gypsies, who accuses Pope of breaking a gypsy law, tries him in a Dangerous court and sentences him to death. When Cat steps in for his friend, he becomes involved in a flaming duel with Silvio. Lvonne Romain plys gypsy fortune-teller Marissa.

10-11 p.m. (ABC) The Avengers. "The Correct Way To Kill." (Color). (Rerun). It's a triangle tonight and the only way to stop it is by swapping mates, but it's not as immoral as it sounds. Enemy agents accuse Steed of killing two of their spies, but John convinces him the murders were done by a third party. They agree to go after the killers together, but our heroes have to make one concession. Steed has to swap his partner, Mrs Peel, for his enemies' karate critic for this one night.

10-11 p.m. (NBC) Laredo. Hey Diddle Diddle (Color). (Rerun). While riding with Ranger Cotton Buckmeister to Laredo, Lemuel Beamish is murdered by his former partner, Morgan Bolt. Before he dies, Beamish recites a nursery rhyme, and asks Cotton to deliver a bag along with the rhyme to his niece, Milly in Laredo. There's 26 grand in the satchel but Milly appears more interested in the nursery rhyme, which Cotton can't recall. He and Milly ride to the scene were her uncle was killed.

This summer's replacements (except for "Coronet Blue" and "The Saint!") are not inspiring great cheers from viewers, as witness your latest vote. Via Damons, NBC, 53.3%, average.

Piccadilly, Palace, ABC, 45.6%, below average.

Spotlight, CBS, 38.8%, poor.

Today, please vote on the two odd-hour shows and two bizarre ones listed in the ballot box.

READERS SPEAK

Dear TV: Everyone I know listens to news and thinks it the best part of TV. While listening to UN meetings, these people felt there were an important part of the world affairs. Those who say they put papers for news and want entertainment in TV, probably read only headlines anyway. Why is a good, honest survey not taken? Hosts/stated people must be the ones answering as they have time to watch anything. The survey results look fine so I cannot believe there are that many stupid people answering. —Leona E. Dear TV: We believe in the free press. No TV announcer can do what the press can do. But safe people are too lazy to read and depend on and believe the reports they hear on TV. —Donald W. Brown, Kissimmee, Fla.

Dear TV: As of now, outside of sports and news, there are very few programs worth seeing. The movie industry must think we are a bunch of morons. Even the movies don't give us —H. G. Mackie, Waco, Tex.

Dear TV: The public is never taken into consideration. Programs are handed out and the public is asked, "Which do you like?" Good ones have been eliminated. Networks present nothing but Welk's fine show. There are still millions who represent a tremendous purchasing power over 40 years of age. —Jay B. Barley, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dear TV: People should quit picking on TV. Be grateful we have some good things. —Mrs. W. F. Dawson, Waco, Tex.

'Dr. Zhivago'

Six Academy Award winner "Dr. Zhivago" is now showing at Movieland Drive-In Theatre, through Aug. 16. It stars Julie Christie, Omar Sharif, Rod Steiger, Alec Guinness and a great cast. This is a road show engagement but kiddies under 12 are free.

Another Academy Award winner, "The Dirty Dozen," starts Aug. 17. It stars Lee Marvin and Ernest Borgnine. Co-featured will be "Wild Wild Planet."

Two motion pictures have achieved the awards and honors heaped upon David Lean's 197-minute film of Boris Pasternak's "Doctor Zhivago," which has been hailed as one of the greatest motion pictures ever made.

The Cinerama production by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer was the winner of six Academy Awards, including those of Motion Picture Producers Association, Directors Guild of America, Writers Guild of America, and Screen Producers Guild. Best Actress Julie Christie and Best Actress Geraldine Chaplin (Lara's daughter) also won Oscars.

Omar Sharif, who portrays Zhivago, was named best actor by the New York Film Critics and the National Board of Review. Miss Christie was voted best actress by the latter group.

Maurice Jarre was named best composer by the Film Critics and the Hollywood Foreign Press Association. He also won a Golden Globe award for his score.

Following are other honors for "Doctor Zhivago":

It was named "Best English Language Film of 1965" by the All American Press Association.

It won four awards from the Film Critics of the Foreign Language Press of New York, including those selected as "Best American Film of 1965." The other awards went to David Lean as "Best Director," Julie Christie as "Best Actress" and Omar Sharif as "Best Actor."

The Golden Globe awards from the Hollywood Foreign Press Association was named "Best Dramatic Picture," with the other Golden Globes awarded to David Lean as "Best Director," Omar Sharif as "Best Dramatic Actor," Robert Bolt for "Best Screenplay" and Maurice Jarre for "Best Musical Score, Dramatic."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fear Millage Hike As City Gets Budget

The City Commission will get a copy of the proposed 1967-68 budget tonight with a warning from City Manager W. E. Knowles that costs "must be cut or it will be necessary to face a millage increase."

Knowles in his letter of transmittal of the budget, reported that anticipated revenue for total general city government will be $1,216,000 — an combined to $1,113,935 for last year.

The millage for general government is 11 and five mills for debt service making the total millage — the same as last year at 16. Total debt service is anticipated at $349,303 making the government budget $1,566,202. Last year's total operating budget was $1,424,241.

Knowles, in discussing the budget emphasized the need for increased refuse service. He said that in 1953, there were 10 men in the department, while this year with a 50 percent increase in population, there are 15.

Refuse department budget recommendation is for $121,164 — an increase of some $40,000 over last year which will include a new packer, crew and foreman.

The anticipated revenue from the utility budget has been estimated at $636,943 — as compared with $631,966 for last year.

The major item in the utility budget, according to Knowles, is the water and sewer extension to the junior college site which will be done out of the reserve fund. Cost is estimated at $100,000.

Knowles also warned that new state regulations on sewerage plant operations may require secondary treatment in all plants and the commission may have to increase the budget.

Total expenditures to operate the government this year have been estimated by Knowles at $1,268,703 with a debt service of $118,492 — bringing the total expenditures to $1,587,285.

Among the major items besides refuse are:

Police, from $222,610 to $236,354; Fire from $169,139 to $213,599; Recreation from $46,626 to $54,881; streets from $133,761 to $180,791.

Knowles cited it will take additional money to take care of industrial work — Industrial Board's budget is $49,471 and that a new state law giving police and firemen increased death benefits will up the budget $676 or $13 for each individual man.

He also stressed that there is a 50 percent increase in use of the county landfill operation for refuse and would hike the budget $2,500.

The city manager estimated that proposed expenditures would exceed the anticipated revenue by $21,082.

New City Hall For $400,000?

An "addendum" of capital improvement budget including $400,000 for a new City Hall will be presented to the City Commission tonight.

The total improvements total $754,421 and includes nine projects.

The projects are, as listed by City Manager W. E. Knowles:

Concrete sidewalk along the lakefront — $6,600;
Bandshell pier beautification — $3,000;
Zoo relocation — $125,000;
Replacing fire station — $55,000;
Lakefront advertising lease — $7,250;
City Hall construction — $400,000;
Neighborhood facilities Building — $100,000;
Industrial Commission — $49,471;
Air station maintenance for three month period —$8,100.

Street Improvement Program Is Proposed

Eight street improvement projects will be included in the proposed 1967-68 budget as presented to the City Commission tonight.

The major item will be a joint participation project on Grandview Ave. — 24th Place east of Sanford Ave. at a cost of $7,150.

Other projects included are the Railroad Ave. extension from Commercial to Fulton, $2,800; 23rd St. from Park to Oak, $2,475; Arcadia Drive from Oak to Cordova, $2,100; Margaret Rd., from Oak to Cordova, $11,720; 24th Place from Oak to Myrtle, $2,475; Katherine Ct. from Cordova to French and the paving of the Winn-Dixie property on Cypress between First St. and Second, $600.

SJC Enrollment Doubles

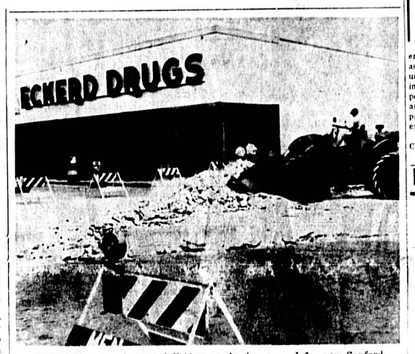
Enrollment this year at Seminole Junior College is approaching double that of last year, Dean Robert A. Schreiber, registrar, told The Herald today.

Including fulltime and parttime students, there are more than 1,000 registered to date with another 200 to 300 expected by the Sept. 5 opening.

Schreiber urges that fulltime day students make their application immediately as "classes are filling up fast." Registration must be completed and fees in by Sept. 1.

Night students may enroll from 6:30 until 7:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, each week.

Parttime students unable to register during regular hours due to work schedules may call for special Saturday appointments.



BULLDOZER work started Friday on clearing ground for new Sanford Cinema to be located next to Eckerd Drugs in Sanford Plaza. The 150 foot by 60 foot theatre will feature a widescreen and rocking chair type seating for 600 persons. Completion is expected within three months.

700 Teachers Back On Job —Still 27 Shy

Some 700 instructional personnel reported to the various public schools of Seminole County today for the first day of pre-school planning — 27 teachers short of the numbers needed to start school Aug. 28.

Frank Gore, director of personnel for the public school system, told The Herald it is hoped the vacancies will be filled by screening applications and applicants and making further appointments before school starts.

"In past years we have employed teachers up until school started. With summer schools at various schools just completed we expect more applications to be filled," Gore said.

Gore was not willing to divulge what plans if any have been made in the event the teachers of the county do not show up the first day of school. "It is our understanding no decision has been made by teachers concerning walk-outs. Decision will probably be made following the meeting in Orlando of teachers on Aug. 24."

Millage Hike Ruled Out By Fire District

Lake Mary fire commissioners ruled out any millage hike and "paid firemen" plan Saturday night at a special meeting and voted to explore the possibility annexing outlying areas in the district to help pay their share of fire fighting expenses.

Industrial Board Disney Confab Slated

Conference with top Disney development area and qualified representatives, decision to advertise Sanford industrial opportunities in the Wall Street Journal, and procedures to process intelligently applications from interested enterprises seeking Sanford locations occupied the time at a meeting of the Sanford Industrial Commission today.

A. K. Shoemaker Jr., and Don Rathel, commission manager, will meet with Gen. Wilbur Potter, Campus East Corporation, in Orlando tomorrow. They will exchange information about the plans of the Disney forces and the developing opportunities in Sanford for attracting training facilities.

The commission members present, Shoemaker, Howard Hodges, Howard McNulty, Ernest Southward, discussed the number of interested industrialists who are seeking and will respond to the Wall Street Journal's advertisement — to start after Labor Day — and considered the Hardwall Fabricators—manufacturers of single unit manholes.

This is a concern which employs from 13-25 people, and is interested in the available financing by funds created by the designation of certain sections of Seminole County as a re-

'Too Much' Rain Hurting Area Crops

DR. JOHN DARBY

totaled 3.07 inches, according to the official recording by Cecil Tucker II, county agricultural agent.

This 3.07 inches brought the area's total rainfall to 8.18 inches this month, more than an inch above the average rainfall for August. The average is 7.13 inches for the entire month of August.

Dr. Darby explained that seed beds are in for celery, cabbage, peppers and other fall crops and that "continued rain and cloudiness for the next three-four days could cause damage in that fungus disease would develop."

Weather forecast is for "probability of showers 60 per cent today and 40 per cent Tuesday."

Shooting

A Geneva resident was jailed this morning after he allegedly shot another resident after an argument. Arrested was Isaac Williams who fired and hit John Lindsay in the lower stomach. Lindsay was in good condition at Seminole Memorial Hospital. Charges are still pending.

Bingo OK

Bingo playing will become legal in the City of Casselberry with the expected adoption of an ordinance legalizing the game in conformance with state law at the meeting of the City Council scheduled for 8 p.m. today at the Women's Club Building on Overbrook Drive.

Planners Push Vital Road Needs

A frank and realistic discussion of the road situation in Seminole County will take place when the long range planning committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce meets in Oviedo tomorrow night according to Douglas Stenstrom, chairman of the committee. There is only one Seminole road in the 1967-68 program — Route 426 from Oviedo to Goldenrod — which can get attention based on actual plans.

Stenstrom pointed out the omission of the hazardous Osteen bridge from the State Road Department's five-year plan until after 1970-71. This is a right angle turn from an inadequate, antiquated two-lane bridge which carries the increasing traffic into Sanford

Courthouse 'Go' Expected At Meet

Architects for the new $1.5 million courthouse complex are expected to be given the "go" sign on drawing of plans for the facility at the meeting of the Board of County Commissioners scheduled to begin at 9 a. m. Tuesday at the courthouse.

John Burton IV and James Gamble Rogers are to give final computation on space allocations for individual offices in the new courthouse facility to be constructed adjacent to the jail and commission approval is expected.

3 Got Away---For Awhile!

Three convicts from Oviedo Prison Camp will face breaking and entering, robbery and escape charges Tuesday before County Judge Karlyle Household after a short-lived freedom Saturday.

Being held in Seminole County jail are Ulysses G. Lemon, 27, Richard L. Worthom, 22, and Jesse Brown, 41, who climbed a six-foot fence at the prison camp some time Saturday morning.

BROWN

The three are charged with breaking into three Gabriels Road homes, where they stole clothing and cartridges from the Benjamin residence, four guns from the Clark Maters home, and two revolvers, cartridges and a car from the Joseph Saunders home.

Sheriff's Deputy J. Q. Gallaway said the three convicts are charged with beating Saunders unconscious before fleeing in his car.

Maitland Police Sgt. Leon Root spotted the automobile at 9:30 p. m. Saturday in a Maitland restaurant parking lot. He called for help and the three escapees were captured by units from the Seminole and Orange County sheriff's departments, Maitland and Winter Park police and the State Highway Patrol.

What Is A Mechanic??

A mechanic is more than just a man with a wrench. Even the most modern tools and equipment for automobile repair and service will not make a mechanic. They only help a mechanic do his job right.

The mechanic understands the machine and its function. He can trace the entire chain of movement through the machine, the relationship of each part to the next and to the whole. He has learned the importance of precision in measurement in alignment and adjustment. And he has learned many other things that no one who is not a mechanic could begin to list.

We believe that something still further is required of a qualified mechanic. He should have a profound respect for the machine he serves and a compelling desire to make his work as honest as the finest steel in it. He must CARE.
