

ABOUT PEOPLE AND EVENTS

BEING A RESUME OF SANFORD HAPPENINGS UP-TO-DATE

Children's Party
Miss Rebecca Stevens, the charming little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Stevens, celebrated her fifth birthday Wednesday afternoon with a beautiful party to a number of her little friends.

Among the prominent young people of Sanford and those who formerly resided here who expect to become October brides are the Misses Charloise Keeler of New York and Irene Brady of New York, both of them well known in Sanford's social circles.

There were many gifts for the little bride, just the kind that five year old ladies love to receive. Rebecca's guests were Jack Maxwell, Margaret Peters, Bettie Houlder, Mary Elizabeth and Camilla Puleston, Helen Kennedy, Elizabeth Whitner, Clifford Louise Shinnaker, Theodore Miller, Harriet Rosseter, Beatrice Howard, Beryl Steinmeyer, LeClare Jones, Sarah Evelyn Williams, Mildred and May Holly and Irene McGahan.

Another half wedding of popular young people of Sanford will be that of Miss Linda Leffer and Mr. Braxton Perkins which is scheduled to take place in October. Both Miss Leffer and Mr. Perkins are very popular in Sanford's social circle.

Plant Party
A jolly party of thirty guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Douglas went up to Lemon Bluff Wednesday on the Mary D. and report a good time, albeit all kinds of troubles one expects to happen on motor boats.

FREE BOOK ON STOMACH ILLS
Geo. H. Mayr of 154 Whiting St., Chicago, Ill., a prominent druggist, has published a guide to health, in which he shows how to bring relief to thousands of other sufferers from constipation, biliousness, indigestion and intestinal troubles by the use of French healing oils.

Mr. and Mrs. William White and their attractive little son, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Nelson returned to their home in Jacksonville today.

Mr. D. A. Caldwell is said to have home after a three weeks' visit to Chicago and other markets in the interest of the fall trade.

Mrs. W. D. Collier will leave Monday for Valdosta, Quitman and several Georgia towns after a most delightful visit to her daughter, Mrs. Puleston.

Mrs. C. E. Walker is spending several days at Maitland, the guest of Miss Waterhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Peters and their children, Margaret and Jack will leave Monday for Massachusetts to be away for two months.

Mrs. Anna Walker is having a delightful visit among old friends in Longwood.

Mr. Horace W. Way, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Terberg will return to his home in Savannah on the morning train Monday.

The Track Seekers, Mrs. Steinmeyer's team at the Methodist Sunday school held their business meeting in the park Wednesday afternoon. After business was disposed of a social hour was enjoyed by Mrs. Steinmeyer and the girls.

San Francisco, July 21.—If the Florida exposition commission is permitted by the people of Florida to work out the plans that the commission has for participation in the Panama exposition the representation of our state will be second to that of no other state in the Union.

The county commissioners held a most important meeting last Saturday morning in the court house. In the absence of Chairman F. L. Woodruff the chair was filled by L. P. Hagan, who stated the object of the meeting and the clerk read a communication from the manufacturers of brick in which they stated that they had put up a bond of $75,000 as a guarantee bond to put in good brick and make them good for a period of five years.

The Orlando Witter Garden hold-up case came to a close Saturday evening at six o'clock when the jury brought in a verdict of "We, the jury, find the defendant, H. F. Sanford Boosters
Mr. H. B. Stevens of Sanford, Master Mechanic on the A. C. L. Railway was here last week, accompanied by Mayor Thresher of the "Celery City." These two gentlemen have been long associated in the city affairs of Sanford and in the development of that progressive city; perhaps their most conspicuous activities being connected with the laying of Sanford's brick streets and the electric light plant and the public schools.

Washington, July 21.—Members of Congress who are standing valiantly by the Administration in the effort to complete its legislative program despite the approaching campaign, while admitting they are weary of legislative duties and anxious to get home to their districts, have resigned themselves to the conclusion that there is little hope for adjournment before fall.

Casque and French Twist Coiffures

There is such an unsettled state of affairs in the matter of styles in coiffures that no particular manner of dressing the hair may be said to be the fashion. But one sees, with greater frequency than any others, two styles. One is the "casque," and one is the "French twist." In the latter the hair is usually placed high on the head.

In the group of coiffures pictured here two modifications of the casque coiffure and one of the French twist are faithfully portrayed. It is noticeable that the side parting is adopted in all of them, and that two of the three are waved and the third is absolutely plain.

When the hair is fairly abundant the unwaved coiffure is liked for those who are given to dancing the modern and somewhat frolicsome dances. It is easier to keep the coiffure in order, it seems, with the hair plain and unwaved than with the adoption of a more elaborate style. To keep it fluffy, without too frequent washing, it may be treated to a bath of orris powder. This is a sort of dry-cleaning process for the hair which leaves it easy to manage. It is not a thorough-going cleansing process like a water shampoo, but may be used to make the shampoo necessary at longer intervals. The powder is rubbed into the hair and scalp and then shaken and afterward brushed out until no trace of it is left.

In passing, it is to be noticed that the fad for dancing has brought in an entirely new coiffure which shows the hair brought back from the forehead and coiled at the back, with the coils either of twisted or braided hair. A sparse fringe about the face is curled in ringlets, and these are pinned to the hair back of them. There is no small pompadour or other soft arrangement about the face, in this style. It leaves the forehead, except for the small ringlets, quite bare.

To do the hair in the French twist is simple enough. All the hair is combed back to the crown of the head and twisted into a lengthwise roll extending from the nape of the neck to the top of the head. This lengthwise coil is pinned down without pulling the hair tightly back, so as to leave it soft about the face. The ends are arranged on top of the head in puffs or coils; or if the hair is short, they may be curled and pinned down in a mass of pretty curls.

In the casque coiffure the hair, either waved or straight and parted or not parted, is arranged like a cap over the head, with the ends turned under and pinned in so that they are lost sight of. The style, therefore, is difficult for anyone with long hair.

When the hair is parted at one side for this coiffure the ends are brought to the opposite side, tucked under and pinned in. The usual finish, at the line where the pinning in is done, is a long shell comb or a Spanish comb. The Spanish comb used with the French twist is quite the latest and smartest item in hair-dressing style.

To Get Rid of Red Ants.

Red ants can make a house almost uninhabitable. One can get rid of them, however, if one knows how. The first thing to do is to find the place they come from—i. e., where their nest is. If it be in an accessible spot, a little kerosene will quickly stop the trouble. On the other hand, if the nest be in the wall or under the floor, find the nearest accessible point, and kill the insects off as they appear.

Whole Families in Same Trade.

Among the silver masters of Sheffield, England, it is rather an established practice to encourage the employment of families. It is more the rule than otherwise that a father working in the silver trade will apprentice his children to that trade as they arrive at working age.

Highest Knowledge.

The establishment of a clearly defined ethical and social ideal as a touchstone of the tendencies of all particular acts and policies is described in the language of poetical Platonism as the acquisition of the highest knowledge—the knowledge of the ideal of good.—Prof. Paul Shorey.

Question Time.

Eme—Mummy, when you and daddy were engaged did you engage him or did he engage you?—Punch.

World's Darkest Moment.

The darkest moment is said to be just before dawn. This is now discovered not to be so. The darkest moment, relatively speaking, is when the noonday sun shines. Then it is that living things on the earth are blinded by the dazzle of the sun and fail to recognize the light that never falls out in space.

KILLING THE GOLDEN GOOSE

THE RAILROADS ARE TAKING TOO MUCH TOLL FROM THE FLORIDA FARMERS

FROM HAWTHORNE HERALD

It seems that whenever some goose begins laying golden eggs there is always some foolish person or group of persons around to kill it, in order to secure an immediate wealth. Somebody or something is engaged in the work of trying to kill a certain goose in Florida that has been strenuously endeavoring to lay some golden eggs for other folks. The goose is the Florida trucker.

During certain seasons of the year a large part of the population of the United States is absolutely dependent for a considerable part of its food supply on Florida. Without the beans, peas and celery and potatoes which can be raised out of doors in the winter time in this state millions of people would go without these products, which would otherwise have to be raised in hothouses at enormous expense.

It is quite obvious that however easy it may be to live in Florida and however philanthropic the people of the state may be they cannot go on forever raising spuds and spinach just for the fun of it. And under present transportation charges, and with present methods of marketing that is exactly what a lot of them are doing and will continue to do unless prohibitive prices are charged the northern buyer of Florida products. If the north is to continue to receive the winter truck of Florida at a cost within reason something must be done to make it possible for the Florida trucker to make a reasonable profit out of his labor in raising the truck.

We do not know just who is responsible for the fact that a large part of the truck sold in Florida goes into the railroad hands of the express and railroad companies, or disappears in the commission houses. Checks for 13 and 25 cents in payment for shipments of truck may seem laughable to an outsider, but the fun of it is hard to see for the man who has put tons of fertilizer and weeks of work into the production of the crop only to see practically every cent received for it going into other hands.

"Hope springs eternal," but not eternal enough to keep the trucker toiling at their present unprofitable task, and we believe that some fine winter morning our northern friends will wake up and find that like old Mother Hubbard, their cupboard is bare.

We do not know how the condition is to be remedied. It applies of course, chiefly to the small grower who cannot help himself. The big men and few big associations have overcome the difficulty to some extent, but to the man of few acres, who is trying to make those few acres produce the wealth promised him in lurid advertising, it is a real problem. We wish our readers would help us find a way to stop this murder of our golden-egg-laying goose.

We believe that transportation charges on truck to the northern markets are altogether too high. And we believe that our methods of marketing are all wrong. We do not believe either of these conditions can be cured without co-operation of the northern consumer and the southern producer. And it is as much to the interest of the northern buyer to secure trucks at a reasonable price as it is of the southern seller to secure a reasonable return for his labor. At the present time when truck sells in the north at a low price it means dead loss to the man who grew it.

Just for instance: We have a hunch that car of melons which sells in the north for $250 ought to bring the grower more than $39, but these figures are taken from a recent transaction in Alachua county. The grower cannot raise a car of melons for $39, let alone haul them to the car and load them. It ought not, it seems to us, to cost $165 or more to haul the car to market. Allowing for every possible operating expense and every possible dividend on a reasonable capitalization it is quite inconceivable to us that it should cost the railroad anything like $8,000 to haul a train of freight cars from Florida to New York.

Maybe it does cost that. If so we should know it, and the problem should be attacked from some other angle. It must be attacked somewhere if Florida is to continue to supply the nation with winter truck, and our northern friends had as well know it. It is their problem as well as ours.

We are inclined to believe that the condition is somewhat the fault of the Florida trucker. By co-operation, by organizing themselves into a compact association they could command lower transportation charges and better marketing conditions. Other states have done it and we can. There may be other things which should be done.

OKA, THE POOR MAN'S OYSTER

A MOST DELECTABLE VEGETABLE THAT IS BRINGING IN THE MONEY

Okra, the poor man's oyster, long the staff of life among the people of Florida in the early days and not to be despised now that the state has become rich and prosperous.

Okra, the king of dishes, if prepared right, and the delectable vegetable that touches the spot in the palate of rich and poor alike. And okra is being shipped north and the people up there are recognizing the many good points of this vegetable that seems difficult of mastication and slips down the gullet before one is ready.

Like all other vegetables okra seems to reach the height of excellence in the great celery delta where irrigation and drainage and climate have combined to make it the garden spot of the world and where nature smiles upon the efforts of man to such a remarkable degree that statistics of crops seem like fairy tales.

But in speaking of okra let us digress long enough to describe the vegetable to our northern readers. According to the dictionary it is a tall malvaceous plant widely cultivated in the southern states for its mucilaginous pods and is used for soups and stews. But this does not describe the okra and all that we can say about this plant is to try it for yourself. It is all there and the slickest thing in the vegetable line that ever went down your throat.

Just how much of it is being shipped from Sanford and it is bringing a good price. It is also being bought by canning factories and they manufacture a most delectable dish from okra and potatoes and made into the old southern dish of "gumbo."

J. D. Warren informed us this week that he has already sold $113 worth of okra from a quarter of an acre of land with less than 300 pounds of fertilizer and no cultivation and any one who knows arithmetic can figure the profits. Figure it yourself and then this paper will not be accused of padding the profits. If you do not believe there is anything to okra write to J. D. Warren and ask him about his crop. It will make most interesting reading.

There is no end to the vegetables in the Sanford district.

HERBINE

A Medicine of Power in All Liver Disorders.

When the liver is torpid, it throws impurities into the system, which hamper every organ in the body. The result is that functional processes are not properly carried on. Impurities get into the blood, the stomach is bilious, the kidneys weak and the bowels irregular—generally constipated. Herbine clears out all these impurities, opens up the obstructed channels, stimulates the torpid liver, cleanses the blood, purifies and regularizes the bowels. After the system has been thus overhauled, there is immediate improvement. Appetite returns, digestion is restored, spirits rise, the mind clears, of gloomy forebodings and everything looks bright and cheerful, which means, sound, healthy conditions everywhere in the body.

Sajoon closed in Ocala on account of poor business. No need for prohibition in Ocala.

'Tis said that Florida will change time and be one hour faster. Well, Florida can stand to be somewhat faster especially in the summer time. All of us would rather start to work earlier and quit earlier.

The people of Sanford should get busy now and see that the government building does not lag. With the government building and the new tourist hotel under way this fall Sanford will be the busiest city in the state.

The idea of The Herald that the county and the city should publish the tax on each parcel of land as well as the personal tax on the property of each individual is meeting with the approval of the masses. The little fellow has been paying the big fellow's tax about long enough and wants to see what the big fellow is paying now.

J. D. Kuykendall is managing editor of the Clearwater Sun. Kuykendall, pronounced Kuykendall (just like that) has been engaged in the newspaper business with his brother in Alachua county and is well known to the newspaper fraternity in Florida. With Crockett and Powell the Clearwater Sun should shine with great refulgence.

Albert W. Butler has purchased the Inverness Chronicle from Walter Warnock and will conduct the business in the future. Report does not state whether Major Butler will keep the local columns sparkling as usual or not but the Chronicle without the Major will be like Hamlet with the Hamlet left out. The new owner is another valuable addition to the Florida Press and The Herald welcomes him to the Sunshine State.

Col. Joe Dixon has returned from Texas where he started to tell the Mexicans just where they could head in but the war closed soon after the belligerents learned that Uncle Joe was on the march southward and he has returned to the Lakeland Telegram where he will be welcomed by the readers of that bright paper and also by the newspaper fraternity throughout the state. Uncle Joe is beloved by all who know him and we hope his tramp throughout the cactus and sagebrush has given him renewed vigor and strength.

THE REAL REMEDY.
 Commenting on the Herald editorial about a good road from Sanford to New Smyrna the News says: "We acknowledge the truth of your statement, Bro. Holly, and if you will tell the people of New Smyrna how the trick can be turned to extract a road across the country from New Smyrna to the Osteen ferry from a board of county commissioners that can't see the need such a road, I can assure you the hearty thanks of the grateful people of New Smyrna and the whole south end of Volusia county."

Our advice in the case and as a last resort is to try county division.

WILSON'S TRIUMPH
 The President's Mexican policy concerning which there have been many misgivings has triumphed. The dictator has resigned. A constitutional government is to be established. There will eventually be peace at home and peace with the United States.

When Gen. Huerta on the 18th of February, 1913, telegraphed to President Taft, "I have overthrown this government and the forces are with me," he had no thought of the man who in two weeks was to be President of the United States or of the forces that that man would array against the Mexican usurpation.

One week after Mr. Wilson's inauguration he gave due warning to General Huerta and all other Latin-American chiefs who gain office by intrigue and assassination when he said: "We can have no sympathy with those who seize the power of government to advance their own personal interests and ambitions." Huerta laughed at this avowal, and not a few of the citizens of the United States pronounced it visionary and fantastic.

Let the new American doctrine that usurpation is not to be recog-

...established in the one country where its success seemed most doubtful. Against Huerta's airy assumption Wilson arrayed adamantine conscience. In opposition to the tyrant's armed forces Wilson marshalled the forces of liberty and justice. It has taken some hard fighting in Mexico to overthrow the man who overthrew the government, but moral courage of a higher order has been needed to enable the administration at Washington to hold true to its principles. The triumph is ours as well as Mexico's. The horror of victories won in the realm of morals is no less than that of battle gained on the bloody fields.

Thanks to Woodrow Wilson, a great country; an oppressed people are upon the threshold of a new epoch.—World.

CHANGE THE TIME
 There is a grand movement on foot along the entire east coast to have the time changed from central to eastern, which would put it up just one hour, making the day start earlier and giving us another hour of daylight at the end of the day.

The old established arbitrary lines of the four divisions of time are the crookedest lines imaginable and were evidently made many years ago when the centers of populations were very different from what they are now, and it is high time these were revised along sensible lines.

For instance the line dividing eastern and central time starts in Hudson bay, almost directly north of Pensacola, jogs west to Port Arthur, then comes southeast through Lake Superior and Lake Huron, leaving Detroit just over the line in central time, then goes east through Lake Erie to Buffalo, then drops southwest past Pittsburg on down to Atlanta, from where it shoots almost directly east to Charleston. If you don't think this is a crazy arrangement just take your map of the United States and draw a line as described here.

If the line had been continued south from Atlanta it would have come west of Tallahassee but as it is all of Florida is left in central time, which extends as far west as Omaha. Cleveland is directly north Omaha. Cleveland, which is directly north of Tallahassee, has finally rebelled and has gone over to eastern time setting all clocks ahead one hour. Miami has been very active in agitating the change and many of the business houses have already put the change in force. West Palm Beach and Stuart are agitating the movement and Fort Pierce will be in line for it.

Everybody knows that the sun is up at 5 o'clock and the day should begin earlier. This would give us daylight for nearly two hours after store closing time and would reduce the electric light bill, as we would retire earlier. Somebody has figured it up and says $50,000 would be saved to the people of the state in light bills alone.—Ft. Pierce News.

THE TAX COMMISSION
 Some papers in Florida are taking a shot at the state tax commission. They intimate that the commission was a political move on the part of a few politicians who created the commission to give three men in the state a position. The Herald believes no such idea was paramount in the breasts of the creators of the tax commission. If these gentlemen are not attending to the duties of their office they should be removed but this will have to be discovered for the removal before this charge will stick. The idea of the commission was all right. Florida needs a tax commission and the hands of the gentlemen who compose the tax commission should be upheld as long as they are endeavoring to do their full duty. Florida has about the most unequal taxes and the poorest system of adjudicating taxes of any state in the Union and any manner of improvement should be welcomed. It takes just such a tax commission to adjust the taxes and get the taxes of each county upon a uniform basis. Taxes should be uniform just as the system of school books should be uniform. If a man resides in Escambia county and removes to Seminole county he should pay the same millage in each county. There is no need for a tax payer to pay twenty mills in one county and twenty-six mills in another and as long as the different counties are on different millage the public utility tax will never be adjusted satisfactorily. It will take a tax commission to make each and every county assess taxes on a fifty per cent basis. It will take a tax commission to strengthen the backbone of the various assessors who are afraid of their job and refuse to assess the big fellows in the same rate that the little fellows are now assessed. It will take a tax commission to adjust taxes and equalize taxes and see that the corporations pay their just share and the tax commission that was appointed should be held in office until it is shown that they are not attending

...the commission should not be abolished. They have work to do.

SHANKS IS CLEVER FIELDER

Manager Clarke Grimth Puts One of His Players Ahead of This Speaker of Boston Red Sox.

"Howard Shanks is, in my mind, the greatest fielding outfielder in baseball."

This is the complimentary estimate of Clarke Griffith, when the manager was discussing the defensive strength of the whole Washington combination.

"Like the rest of them, Shanks makes his errors, but if he has a chronic weakness in fielding I have yet to discover it. He can come forward, go backward or move to either side. No one is his equal in handling grounders and he throws so fast and accurately that he keeps the value of hits down to the minimum."

"I have often rated Tris Speaker as the leader, but now I give Shanks the place. In fact, I doubt if there has ever been a much better fielder than Howard."

"We all know that Shanks is no world beater when it comes to hitting, but he has always met the ball so hard that there is still hope for the tide to turn, and then—

"Furthermore, I would like to see any club in the country present a stronger defense than we do when Johnson is pitching with Al Smith catching. They beat us once in a while with this crew going, but whenever they do they know they have been in a battle," concluded the manager.

Destructive as Toothpicks.
 The Rankin Johnson who pitched the Red Sox to victory over Walter Johnson, played with Syracuse last year, and in an exhibition game made the bats of the Giants as destructive as so many toothpicks.

No Better, But Worse.
 Apropos of a policy of trust reformation, ex-Mayor Shank of Indianapolis said at a banquet in New York: "If a trust is inherently bad, kill it. You can't reform it. It's like the singing lady."
 "One man said to another: 'I hear your wife has been taking singing lessons.'
 "'Yes,' was the reply.
 "'Well, what do you think of her voice since it's been trained?'
 "'It's no better; but there's a lot more of it.'"

Big Men of Nation Go to Church. Get the Habit! Join the Procession!

It is deplorable, but nevertheless true, that there are men who think it savors of effeminacy to be seen often in church. These men should awaken to the error of their ways.

The really strong men, the men of the nation, are constant churchgoers. They rarely miss a Sunday. The story is told of a great composer who on one occasion was accorded a magnificent ovation. The audience cheered him for fully five minutes. It was a tribute calculated to turn any man's head. Then there came cries for a speech. The composer faced the great multitude of his admirers and said:

"WHAT DOTH IT PROFIT A MAN TO GAIN THE WHOLE WORLD AND LOSE HIS OWN SOUL?"

THAT WAS ALL THE AUDIENCE WAS ELECTRIFIED. THEY KNEW THE DEEP RELIGION OF THE MAN AND GRASPED THE SIGNIFICANCE OF HIS REMARKS. THE OVATION THAT WENT BEFORE WAS NOTHING COMPARED TO THAT WHICH FOLLOVED. THAT GREAT AUDIENCE DIDN'T THINK THIS MAN EFFEMINATE. HE WAS BIG ENOUGH TO PROCLAIM PUBLICLY HIS FAITH IN GOD AND A HEREAFTER. IT IS THE WEAK FATHER THAN THE STRONG MAN WHO, WHILE PROFESSING A BELIEF IN GOD, REMAINS AWAY FROM CHURCH; IF YOU BELIEVE IN GOD, PRACTICE YOUR BELIEF BY GOING TO CHURCH. GOD DOESN'T ASK MUCH OF YOUR TIME.

Don't delay GOING TO CHURCH. Start in next Sunday. Get the habit. You'll find it's not a hard task. Join the procession. By going to church you set a good example to your neighbor. It will set him thinking. You will please your wife, your mother, your sister. It will all them with happiness to see that you are on the road to righteousness. And be honest with yourself. Don't you know you are a lot happier after an hour with God?

ONE-ARMED PLAYER IS STAR

Dick Hooper, With Texas University Team, Makes Many Sensational Catches in Outfield.

Texas university has a baseball player to whom a sensational one-handed catch" is a matter of daily occurrence. To go further still, he has never been known to use two hands in catching a fly ball, and he works in the outfield, too.

The reason is that he is a one-armed player, and he's the star of the club, at that. His name is Dick Hooper, and he always plays center field for his alma mater.

Hooper, who handles himself surprisingly well in the garden, is a wonder. He does not get away with the real sensational runs or leaps into the air, but he does get away with remarkably pretty fielding work, as a fly is always certain when he can get under it.

Hooper is a fair batter, also. It is almost a shame, according to the view of the average fan, that the pitcher does not let up on this one-armed man. But the pitchers have to watch Dick closely. He gets hits unexpectedly and is known to do the least expected things. He is not a home run hitter, but he is fairly reliable and can make good use of bunting in sacrificing.

Rickey Starts a School.

Manager Branch Rickey of the St. Louis Browns is starting competition with Charley Carr and Billy Doyle, promoters of baseball schools. Rickey has announced that all St. Louis youngsters who think they can play ball are welcome to report to him and get schooling. Ten ambitious youths took advantage of the offer on the day it was made.

Phillips Lands a Star.

Manager Bill Phillips of the Indianapolis Fed team, announces with a good deal of gusto that he has landed a star southpaw in Pitcher Boyd, who had to quit the game last year in the Southern League because of a dead arm and failed in an attempt to come back in the South this spring because of the arm's refusal to deliver.

Woodland Park Notes

The hot, bright and fair day Sunday brought the crowd to Woodland Park to cool off. Capt. Hoolehan brought a full boat load of people and many autos and other vehicles came with all they could carry.

A number of young men from DeLand came on motorcycles and one auto party from Fort Pierce.

A good many came from Monroe, they never fail to come on any fair day. The cool, clean water of the pool and the amusements of Woodland Park are being more appreciated every day.

Preparations are being made for a large building on the end of the shell mound facing Lake Monroe. The main feature will be a first class dance floor.

The children of the Junior Civic League will spend next Thursday at Woodland Park under the supervision of Mrs. Wight and other ladies connected with this movement. They will come on the Alma May, leaving the city dock at eight in the morning.

We make up your own material Gents' or Ladies' gannets clean, press, repairing and bushing. Hats blocked and cleaned. Suits made to measure. Extra pair Pants with each suit until July 15. 20 years experience. M. J. BRADFORD, 404 Sanford Ave.

Wise Johnny. Johnny's uncle was visiting at his house. He was saying to Johnny: "I hope you never fight with your little neighbor." "No, siree," answered Johnny, promptly. "He's stronger than I."

To Cut Tax Rates. Columbus, Ohio, July 21.—An extraordinary session of the legislature has convened today by order of Gov. Cox, to reduce the state tax levy. Under the Warnes law the Ohio tax duplicate has been increased many millions and the governor in his message will recommend that the tax rate be reduced correspondingly.

Camping Party. A merry party of campers left yesterday morning for the Ekonlochatchie section where they will spend a week fishing and boating and enjoying themselves generally. They prefer the Florida woods to the beach or the mountains and in the sylvan retreat along the tributaries of the St. Johns river enjoy the shade and cooling breezes that cannot be obtained at the beach.

Among those in the party were the Misses Helen Rowland, Charlotte Hand, Emile Purdon and Gladys Morris and Messrs. Henry Purdon, Ed Giles and Carl Roumillat. Mrs. Purdon will chaperone the crowd and see that the game laws are strictly observed.

B. Y. P. U. Notes. Our meeting was held at the usual time Sunday evening. Meeting was opened by the president, Miss Clara Millen, who gave us a talk about her trip to the Encampment. After which Miss Ruth Stewart gave us a few minutes' talk on the Bible Readers' Course, of which she is the leader. The meeting was then turned over to Group No. 3, of which Mrs. Brotherson is leader during the absence of Miss Edith Stewart.

Our subject was "Adam, the First Man," ably rendered by members of the Group, and a talk from the pastor on the subject as it was one that was used at the Encampment.

Instead of having our regular Sunday evening preaching services this service was turned over to our delegates, who attended the Encampment. Each one told of different things done there. We are sure everyone who heard these talks enjoyed them very much. We will extend an invitation to any one to attend these meetings with us. Come with us and we will do thee good. Miss Martha Fox is our leader for next Sunday. We hope to have a large attendance. L. B.

BIG TIME AT BEACH. Seabreeze and Daytona Beach Folks to Celebrate Labor Day. Daytona Beach and Seabreeze purpose to celebrate Labor Day and the joint Chamber of Commerce have sent the following invitation to the Sanford Commercial Club:

Secretary Sanford Board of Trade, Sanford, Florida: Dear Sir—The Seabreeze and Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce extends an invitation to your Board of Trade to a great Labor Day celebration on the beach.

Speakers of national reputation will be present. Auto races, motor boat races, motorcycle races, horse races, an auto and trades parade, a ball game and a Mardi Gras ball are among the amusements planned.

Arrangements are being made to plan excursions into Daytona, tickets good from Sept. 18th until Sept. 25th. Ample hotel accommodations will be supplied.

We want to get acquainted with you fellows over there, we know you are hustlers and we want to show you that we are not asleep. We assure you that we will give you the biggest day's sport you ever had at our beach.

Very cordially yours, J. L. WETHERBY, Sec'y. Chas. F. Burgman, Pres. pro tem.

FROM THE NATION'S CAPITAL

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON BY THE SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE HERALD

Washington, July 21 (Special).—

What was a suspicion has now become a settled conviction, that a small group of senators have formed an offensive and defensive alliance to defeat the River and Harbor Appropriation bill, which has been dragging along in the senate since June 18. Senator Burton of Ohio, former chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House, seems to be in charge of the opposition to the bill, having taken up nearly all the time thus far given to the consideration of the bill, which carries in round numbers some fifty-three millions of dollars.

In a notable interview given to the press this week, General Dan. C. Klugman, Chief of the Corps of the Army Engineers, came out flat footed in behalf of this measure which has become the target for Senator Burton's shafts, in which the distinguished head of the Engineers said that there was, in his judgment "less than one-half of one per cent 'pork' in the River and Harbors bill," and he believed he was freer of questionable appropriations than any waterway improvement bill heretofore reported from the two committees of Congress charged with river and harbor matters.

"You have no idea how the sentiment calling for the improvement of our rivers and harbors has grown in the last few years, unless you come from the district in which I live and which borders upon one of the great natural thoroughfares of the country," said ex-Congressman William E. Rodenberg, of East St. Louis, Illinois.

"The National Rivers and Harbors Congress and the great commercial bodies of the cities interested in the question of cheap transportation are largely responsible for this awakening.

"Any senator, in my judgment, who would attempt to talk such a bill to death would be inviting his own political ruin."

An eviction that had much of the solemnity which characterized the seizure of the humble homes of the Irish peasantry for non-payment of rent, was enacted in the nation's capital one day this week, when Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood was dispossessed of her home in which she had lived for forty years, her goods set out in the street, and the only woman who ever ran for the presidency was forced into lodgings far removed from the scenes of her former activities.

Mrs. Lockwood's home was purchased last December by the New England Casualty Company. It was believed that friends would come to the assistance of the aged suffragist and champion of international peace, but not enough money was subscribed to hold the residence for one of the most notable women of the century, and so, in the twilight of her life, the veteran worker for the welfare of women has been compelled to erect her lares and penates in another place and in a different part of the city.

When the old fighting frigate, the Constellation, the oldest ship in the American navy, arrives in Baltimore harbor for the National Stat-Spanned Banner Centennial to be held during the week of September 6, it will be the 117th anniversary of her launching in that harbor, so famous for its Clipper ships. The ancient vessel will be towed from Newport, Rhode Island, to the Navy Yard in Brooklyn, where she will be put in seaworthy condition for her trip down the coast and up the bay to the Patuxent. After the celebration incident to the birch of Francis Scott Key's immortal tribute to the flag, the Constellation will come to Washington to find permanent berthing in the historic Potomac, a shrine for the thousand of visitors who come to the Capital of the Republic throughout the year.

Striking facts regarding our forest resources, their values and their waste are condensed in an eight-page, illustrated circular of the American Forestry Association, just published. The lumber industry is said to employ 735,000 people to whom are paid annually $387,000,000 in wages, the value of products being $1,250,000,000. The forests of the country over 550,000,000 acres.

An average of 70 human lives are sacrificed annually in the forest fires, says the circular, and a loss occurs of $25,000,000. Damage from insects and tree diseases, which follow fire, costs each year $50,000,000.

The cost of destruction resulting from floods is not estimated, but is given as countless millions.

It is pointed out in the circular that if the planting of forests was adopted on a comprehensive scale, an annual income could be derived in the country of $65,000,000, and by preventative treatment upon timber each year $100,000,000 could be saved.

AMONG many of the new gowns de- signed for dinner or reception wear, and in the majority of those made for dancing, the frugality of the designers in using material for bodices is remarkable. In the French establishments sleeves appear to have been forgotten or as not belonging in the scheme of things.

No one possessing the best sense of clothes can call these efforts the best art. They have been described as "beautifully indecent" clothes, but clothing which leaves out the element of modesty does not deserve the name of clothing. BULL MOOSERS OFF ON PRIMARY LAW SAYS ATTORNEY

NO CHANCE FOR ANNULMENT OF NEW LAW

BRYAN PRIMARY LAW BOUND TO STICK

WEST QUOTES FROM THE NORTH DAKOTA LAW TO PROVE CONTENTION

Tallahassee, July 24.—That there is no chance for the "Bull Moose" party of Florida to prevent the Secretary of State from certifying to the Boards of County Commissioners throughout the state the nominations of those who won out for various state, county and national offices in the Bryan primary election of June 2, in the opinion of Attorney General Thos. F. West, following the filing of a bill of complaint against the Secretary of State, H. Clay Crawford, directed to Judge W. H. Malone, in and for Leon county, by Herbert L. Anderson, of Jacksonville, asking for a restraining order against the Secretary of State prohibiting the certification of the various nominations to the boards of commissioners, the Attorney General formulated an opinion wherein he states that the basis for complaint is lacking. The Bull Moosers allege the Bryan primary law unconstitutional and by its provisions, as a result of the recent primary, the party is prevented from putting a ticket in the field during the general election.

Attorney General West opines as follows: "In my opinion there is no reason for alarm on the part of those nominated in the primary election held of June last."

"Statutes regulating the conduct of primary elections have been sustained as valid by the courts of this state, as a proper exercise of the legislative power, and the courts of a number of other states have upheld provisions similar to those of the primary election law of this state which is attacked in this litigation."

The litigation is really an attack upon the primary election plan of nominating officers, but that plan has been upheld in every state where the law has been tested and the following opinion by the Supreme Court of North Dakota on a similar law furnishes a case in point.

North Dakota Decision State of North Dakota ex rel. Andrew Miller, Attorney General, et al., vs. F. F. Fisherty, Auditor of Burleigh County. (N. D. 136 N. W. 26.) 41 E. R. A. (N. S.) 132.

"The primary election statutes have as a principal purpose the regulation of the franchises of electors within party limits. The elections so provided concern primarily the rights of parties and only incidentally those of the individual elector. The primary is not held to afford an elector as such merely a chance to exercise his right of suffrage, but instead an opportunity to participate in the proceedings and acts of a political party. This he does by exercising his right to vote, but within that party, legislative district, has recognized the party rights as to method of nominating officers as well as promulgating its political doctrines and the application of them, as a government force. The legislative purpose is that the rights of the party are paramount to the individual party member, as to nominations made and other party matters transacted by means of the primary. If the party primary, therefore, is an election within the term 'any election' it is one with the power of the legislature to authorize and confine within party limits, but its purpose must be considered as sanctioned by, and within the provisions of, Article 5 of the Constitution. To hold the contrary is to invalidate every primary election state in toto. Deny constitutional recognition of purpose of the election, and apply the constitutional definition of electors, and hold by virtue of being an elector he shall be deemed a qualified elector at such election, and our whole primary election system must fall, because the right to participate depends not on the elector's constitutional rights as defined alone, but on added qualifications of partisanship. We believe the purpose of such an election should determine the limits within which the elector's constitutional right of franchise is to be measured, and, so long as that purpose is not unconstitutional in itself, the elector's rights should be held, as intended by the constitution to be subordinate to the purpose of the election, because, in fact, his right of suffrage arises not wholly from his being a constitutional elector, but instead, in part, from the law permit- ever, denial of his right to particular instance for such particular purpose.

If he has no party belief whatever, denial of his right to participate in a partisan election does not deny him any right legally or morally existing to him merely as an elector. The recognition by the legislature of the existence and rights of a political party cannot divest an elector who has no political belief of any partisan rights. As the party exists for party purposes incidental to governmental benefit, the individual elector, who the party cannot complain of being barred therefrom by his failure to entertain a partisan belief. Political parties have existed and recognized and necessary instrumentalities of our representative government for 100 years. They are mentioned in our constitutional debates. Our constitution was framed and adopted with knowledge of and with reference to them.

Fords and More Fords

Detroit, Mich., July 23.—Three years ago if you had told any one that a single automobile company would build more than two hundred thousand automobiles in a year that person would have thought that probably you were harmless but ought not to be allowed to run at large as you might suddenly become violent. But in nine months the Ford Motor Company has done better than reach the two hundred thousand mark. It has built and sold two hundred three thousand, one hundred ninety-four cars from Oct. 1, 1913, up to July 1, 1914.

In other words an average of better than twenty-two thousand, five hundred Fords have been built and sold every month for the first nine months of the company's fiscal year.

Last year's production of Fords was about one hundred eighty-five thousand cars. This mark was passed by this year's production in the middle of May.

It is almost impossible to conceive of the two hundred thousand automobiles. Only by comparison may one really grasp what this huge figure means.

If all the Fords built and sold so far this year were placed in line a half mile apart, they would reach around the world four times.

If the entire population of the cities of Detroit and Baltimore wanted to hold a joint picnic, the Fords built this year could easily take all the people to the picnic grounds in one trip. Or this year's Fords could carry three armies the size of the American army engaged in the Spanish-American War. Or they could carry at one trip nearly half of all the men that fought in the Civil War.

Or, getting at it from another angle, the total horse power of the motors in these Fords, figuring twenty horse power to a motor, is more than two-thirds the horse power of all the developed water power in the United States. It is six times greater than the power plants of the Impator, the Lusitania, or the Mauretania, and twenty times greater than the power developed by the dam on the Mississippi at Keokuk, Illinois.

It is said that the tendency nowadays is to take the burden of the man and put it on the machine. A man must be a pretty good athlete to be capable of exerting 1-5 horse power, if you can translate horse power into man-power. But figuring on this basis the total horse power of the cars built and sold by the Ford Motor Company this year is six times greater than the combined power of all the men engaged in the Civil War.

BIG LAND DEAL MADE NEAR BUSY OVIEDO

TWENTY THOUSAND ACRES OF FARM LAND SOLD—CHICAGO CAPITALISTS WILL PLACE IT ON THE MARKET

OTHER INTERESTING NEWS AND VIEWS FROM OVER THE SUNSHINE STATE COMPILED FOR BUSY HERALD READERS

One hundred thousand dollars is said to be the price of a land deal that has just been consummated, involving 20,000 acres of land located around Orlando Sanford and Oviedo. It is part of the holdings of the South Florida Naval Stores Company and comprises some of the most valuable realty in this section. The deal was engineered by R. E. Hall, the well known turpentine magnate of Ocala. Chicago capitalists were the purchasers. Lee Miller of Orlando is said to be one of the Florida managers. This is probably the largest deal that has been consummated in this section for some time, and will be of much benefit to Sanford, as much of the land lies at no great distance from the city and its development is certain to carry with it many advantages. The plan of the new company will be to adopt that followed by W. H. Sebring at Sebring, Fla., by setting the land to orange groves and subdividing into plots of forty acres or less which will be disposed of on a high class colonization scheme, bringing to the state many new home-seekers. The lands begin not far from the corporate limits of Orlando but the location at which the town will be built will probably be several miles out on one of the leading highways and will be of easy access to this city, which will serve as a market and base of supplies for the newcomers.

Fernandina, July 24.—Ground was broken yesterday and the pillars are being laid for the new shrimp canning factory of Dunbar, Lopez & Ducate, the greatest shrimp canning operators in the country, and pioneers in the business at New Orleans and Biloxi. Other factories will follow next spring. The building is 80 feet wide and 150 feet long and of corrugated galvanized metal construction on the order of all modern canning factory buildings. The location is the old oyster factory site near the old Mallory steamship docks. The coming of this industry will mean much to this place for not only will it mean the employment of four or five hundred men, women and children in the factory and on the fish boats, but it will make a market for all of the Celeste figs and okra that can be grown here as this company also cans figs and okra. Heretofore there has been no factory to can figs here for the season is so short that it would not be as profitable to build a factory to be operated during the short fig season alone. But now that there is a demand for all the figs that can be grown right at home, many of the farmers in this immediate vicinity will begin the culture of figs and okra and in addition there will be another incentive for people to come here for the purpose of cultivating these products.

Pensacola, July 24.—Red gum lumber shipping is a new item of export now finding an outlet at Pensacola and a steamer will arrive here shortly to load upward of one hundred carloads to be conveyed to Alexandria, Egypt. Mr. J. Land of the Fish-Land Company, who comes from Mississippi, is in the city making arrangements for the handling of the cargo and also last night that the forthcoming consignment will be followed by others as soon as an equitable adjustment of rates could be obtained at the several ports where the product has been handled in the past. At Pensacola several small consignments have been sent to foreign countries and remarkably quick and satisfactory dispatch has been given here.

Washington, D. C., July 24.—The following Florida banks have been designated by United States Treasurer John Burke as depositories of public money of the United States: First National Bank, Tampa; Exchange National Bank, Tampa; Atlantic National Bank, Jacksonville; Barnett National Bank, Jacksonville.

vills; Florida National Bank, Jacksonville; First National Bank, Bradenton; First National Bank, Fernandina; Citizens' National Bank, Fernandina; First National Bank, Gainesville; Florida National Bank, Gainesville; Gainesville National Bank, Gainesville; First National Bank, Key West; Island City National Bank, Key West; First National Bank, Madison; Ocala National Bank, Ocala; Peoples National Bank, Orlando; American National Bank, Pensacola; Citizens' and Peoples' National Bank Pensacola; and National Bank of Commerce, Pensacola.

Washington, July 24.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield is planning to establish commerce bureaus at Jacksonville and Tampa that will bring the commercial, industrial and manufacturing interests of Florida in touch with trade conditions and business possibilities all over the world. This will not be done immediately but it is a part of a general plan which the Secretary of Commerce has in view of establishing commerce bureaus in all of the important cities of the United States. About a year ago the parent commerce bureau was established in New York city and at the present time there are three such bureaus in existence. The fourth, according to present arrangements will be established at Denver during the next few months.

Jacksonville, July 24.—Lindsey Sellers, a 14-year old white boy is dead, and his companion, Leonard Mattair, also 14, is seriously injured as the result of an accident at the Seaboard Air Line crossing on Lincoln avenue Wednesday morning, when a wagon in which they were riding was wrecked by an inbound passenger train, said to have been traveling rapidly. The father of the Sellers boy, who lived near Enterprise and Lincoln avenues, is a former engineer for the Seaboard, it is said, and Mr. Mattair who recently moved here with his family from Waldo, Fla., is a trial engineer for the road. The Mattairs live on McDuff avenue, near Garfield.

The provision of the civil sundry bill relating to the creation of a new customs district in the state of Florida has gone back to conference. The conferees yesterday reported back to their respective branches in Congress that they were hopelessly opposed to the amendment providing for the new district as it passed the Senate, and asking for instructions. They were sent back into conference this morning.

Emilio Fonz, prominent cigar manufacturer and eminent Cuban patriot, is dead at Tampa. The body will be interred with military honors at the instance of the Cuban government, for whom he fought long and well. When his uncle, the late General Carlos Manuel de Cespedes went forth into battle at the beginning of the "Ten-Year-War," his nephew, Emilio, followed his distinguished relative on the field. During the engagement in the Cuban hills in the early spring of 1925 Mr. Fonz was wounded. A Spaniard's bullet found lodgment in his thigh, and he carried it to his dying day. Mr. Fonz, cousin of Carlos Manuel Cespedes, a son of General Cespedes, was recently appointed Cuban minister at Washington, and has just taken his seat for the embassy.

Chicago Case Poisoned The handling of the business coupon proceedings in behalf of D. W. Currie, scheduled for Thursday at Jacksonville, has been postponed owing to an error in the order of Judge Perkins transferring the hearing to Judge Gibbs. A later date will be set when the attorneys for Mr. Currie hope to secure his release on bail.

WANTED TO BE A MAN

The Strange Case at Orlando Reviewed by Baltimore Dispatch

Baltimore, Md., July 23.—News of the death of Hannah Calder in Orlando, Fla., recalls to the minds of persons familiar with Hartford county affairs the strange case of the daughter of a wealthy farmer there who, from her earliest childhood, rebelled at being girl or woman. She lived for years in Florida as a man, associated with men and lived with a woman who was supposed to be her wife. Only on her deathbed was her sex discovered. The "wife" died two years ago.

The same woman was a sensation in Baltimore 25 years ago, when she took a pretty Hartford county girl before a clergyman in that part of the state, told the clergyman who knew her family, that she was a man in spite of the fact that she had dressed in feminine attire since she could walk and persuaded him to pronounce two persons, both of whom wore skirts, man and wife.

After that marriage she came to Baltimore. A week later the family of her "bride" took the bride away from her, and that woman is now married and the mother of a happy brood of children. She is living in Hartford county. There are persons living in Baltimore familiar with all the details of the story.

Hannah Calder was about 60 years old at the time of her death. She was the daughter of Martin Calder, a well-known and rich farmer of Federal Hill, near Rocks of Deer Creek, Hartford county. Her brother, James Calder, was sheriff of the county at one time.

From her earliest girlhood Hannah Calder manifested a distaste for feminine society, say those who knew her. She went to school with the other girls and she went about to the country dances and such things, but, in spite of the fact that she wore skirts, she wouldn't play the part of a woman.

She didn't seek the society of men, but rather avoided intimate association with anybody and preferred to be alone. When she was in her teens she began to use tobacco, both smoking and chewing it. She did not have to think of making her living, but she began when she was in her twenties to be known as the "Hartford County Barber" and would drive from farmhouse to farmhouse to shave the men and to cut their hair and that of their children.

Suddenly she manifested an interest in the girl with whom she managed the mock marriage. Hannah was about 30 years old then and the girl was about 16, just blossoming into womanhood and one of the beauties of her neighborhood. Her parents were not so well to do as were those of her woman's suitor. When Hannah Calder told her she was a man and that she wanted to marry her the young girl is said to have been flattered.

After the "marriage" the couple came to Baltimore and going to a house on North Gilmore street, where a male connection of the Calder's lived, Hannah Calder dumbfounded this man's wife by announcing that she was not a woman, but a man and that the pretty creature who accompanied her was her bride.

"You are a pretty looking bridegroom in skirts," the relative's wife said. And Hannah went out forthwith and bought herself a suit of men's clothes. She never went back to skirts after that, it is said. For a week or two after her "bride" had been torn from her Hannah Calder was on exhibition at the Massing Temple. Then she disappeared.

Her relative had heard nothing from her from the time of their disappearance, until the news of her death came. It is supposed that she became a barber in earnest after her departure from Baltimore. The reports from Florida say that she always associated with men there and voted regularly at each election.

County Officers Church

Dade City, July 24.—Announcement has been made by Rev. T. S. Hubert, pastor of College Street Baptist church that during the summer months it would be no propriety for men to attend service without their coats. He said, "Leave them at home and come. There is no religion or sense in being unbecomingly and where there is so much formality there is not apt to be much heart." The orchestra of this church recently has been reformed with two drums. Some one asked Mr. Hubert what he was going to do next. He said, "If my hat blows I will blow it away."

COMMUNITY HOUSE WILL BE AVAILABLE IN SANFORD NOW

LIBRARY AND WOMANS CLUB ARE SPONSORS

OLD CHURCH BUILDING WILL BE REMODELED

TO BE MADE INTO COMMUNITY BUILDING FOR ALL THE MEETINGS

Sanford will have a Community House and the Sanford Library, Woman's Club, Commercial Club and all other civic societies can share in home. This matter was definitely decided at a meeting of the Library Association held on Wednesday in the office of J. N. Whitner.

Mrs. J. W. Dickens, president of the Woman's Club, Mrs. May Dickins, chairman of the building committee, Mrs. Wight, Mrs. J. M. Whitner, Mrs. Frank, Mrs. Key of the Library Association and C. R. Walker, Dr. Walker, J. N. Whitner, F. P. Forster, D. L. Thrasher, S. O. Chass, S. O. Shinholser and M. F. Robinson were present.

M. F. Robinson presided at the meeting and it was decided to purchase a lot and place a building thereon that could be used as a Library, Woman's Club building and also as a Community House for the social gatherings that from time to time occur in the city and for which there is no place at the present time provided.

The meeting was a very enthusiastic one and the question of a lot was decided by the purchase of the lot south of the Presbyterian manse on Oak avenue. The building was broached next and the old Presbyterian church was suggested and as this building is to be shortly removed to make room for a new church the building was purchased at a very reasonable figure.

The building is large enough to make an excellent Community House and will be moved to the new lot immediately and remodeled to suit the needs of the new owners.

Sanford has long needed a gathering place of this kind. The library has never had a home and the Woman's Club has also been made homeless and the ladies say they will now take pity on the homeless Commercial Club and let them come in out of the rain also and the new quarters will be the greatest gathering place in the city and one that all of us will be proud to possess.

There will be more good news of the building as the work progresses.

Bryan Road Bill Favored

Washington, Pa., July 24.—The report on Senator Bryan's good roads bill, a substitute for the Shackleford bill, already passed by the House, was completed today by the Senate Committee on Postoffice and Post Roads.

Under the Bryan bill, the Federal Government would issue fifty-year three per cent bonds to the amount of $500,000,000, in lots of $100,000,000 each for five years. Before states could participate in the funds they would be required to issue an equal amount of four per cent bonds, which when deposited in the Treasury Department, would be exchanged for cash. The one per cent difference would make up a sinking fund to aid the states in retiring the bonds.

Creation of a Federal highway commission to supervise the expenditures of highway funds is a feature of the bill. The commission would be composed of the senate of the Senate and House committees on roads, the director of the office of public roads, and a United States Army engineer.

"The Good Old Summer Time"

Next Sunday night at 7:45 at the Baptist church Rev. George Hymans will preach on the subject, "The Good Old Summer Time." Large electric fans have been installed in the church and a large cooler of ice water is also available. Spend your Sunday evening at the Baptist church, hear a good sermon and keep cool. You will be welcomed. Only 300 people can be accommodated with seats, so come early.
