United Nations To Use Force To Bar Attack

Political Committee Approves Resolution 51 To 5 With Soviet Bloc Against

PARIS (AP)—The United Nations Political Committee approved 51 to 5 tonight a program authorizing the U. N. to call on regional forces of such groups as the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, if necessary, to combat aggression.

The Soviet bloc voted against it. India, Indonesia and Argentina abstained.

The committee then adjourned without voting on a Russian resolution which would have had the effect of bringing the Korean truce talks before a special high-level meeting of the Security Council.

The Sanctions Committee had voted earlier to reject a Soviet demand that the U. N. Collective Measures Committee be abolished. It is working on a veto-free anti-aggression system. The plan in that was to 52, with two abstentions. The committee then took up the western-backed program itself. This was drawn up by the collective measures committee in line with the American plan for combating aggression, adopted last year.

Voting began after an acrimonious debate in which British and French accused Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei V. Vishinsky of throwing a monkey wrench into the Korean truce talks by submitting his proposal.

The truce talks at Paganmum "weren't going so badly until the initiative was taken by the Soviet delegate here," Jean Chauvel told the 80-nation U. N. Political Committee.

Chauvel was attacking a Soviet resolution calling for a high level meeting of the Security Council to intervene in the armistice discussions. The Russian proposal would dissolve the Collective Measures Committee which has recommended a regional security plan backed by the West.

Vishinsky at once angrily replied that since the talks at the front have been going on without results for six months, they "must be expedited to a successful conclusion."

Warning Is Given By Citrus Mutual Against Picking

LAKELAND (AP)—Florida Citrus Mutual, which warned last week against shipping too many oranges, is warning now against picking too many of them.

Saunders, general manager of the huge co-operative, said that unless picking slows down there may be too much fruit on hand to be taken at anything except discount prices.

If fresh fruit prices drop, it is likely quotations for canned citrus will fall.

That might bring on "a vicious cycle of cut throat competition (which) could cause the industry to unfold and unnecessary losses," Saunders said.

Picking has been heavy because the canneries would take whatever the fresh fruit markets could not use, but now these packing house eliminations are too heavy for canners to use up swiftly.

Canners are expected to move only their best size and quality fruit to cut down eliminations.

He said values have not fallen and handlers will have opportunity to dispose of all their fruit if they will wait a short time until more processors are in full operation and "normal movement of the crop will again get underway."

After the presidential election in November, Mr. Williams, as one of 10 Florida Democratic electors and members of the Electoral College, will go to Tallahassee and cast his ballot with Secretary of State Gray who will then forward all of the ballots to the president of the United States Senate, Vice-President Barkley.

Mrs. Ruth Hamilton of Fern Park, served at the meeting as proxy for Mrs. Wayne Hodgkin, who is now living in Crescent City.

DELAND FIRE

DELAND (AP)—Fire Dept. Frank Morrison said a fire at Deland High School Monday "definitely was not." Investigators found a kerosene can and saturated cord leading to a basement window.

The fire did about $3,000 damage to a male dorm corridor. Early arrival of a janitor was credited with preventing more damage.

Classes went on as usual.

AGAINST TAXES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today he is not going to support a new general tax boost under any circumstances he can foresee in 1952.

VOTING REGISTRATIONS

Voting registrations climbed to nearly 400 as a heavy increase in applications for voting cards was reported today by Supervisor Camilla Bruce. Approximately 390 have been issued cards since the opening day Jan. 7.

Politburo's Malenkov Reported Chosen As Successor To Stalin

By WILLIAM L. RYAN, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Moscow's press left little doubt today that the successor to Joseph Stalin has been chosen and that he is the glowing son-in-law of the Politburo, Georgi Maximilianovich Malenkov.

Extravagant praise was heaped on him on his 50th birthday. It is comparable only to the praise accorded Stalin himself. The greeting to him from the Politburo, the Council of Ministers hailed him as "an adviser of Stalin," the highest possible praise in the U.S.S.R. It also credits him with having "largely victory for our homeland in the Great War of the Fatherland against the enemies of humanity."

This is a development of extreme importance for the Western world, with broad implications for the future of international relations.

Sunday Operation Of Casselberry Tavern Probed

Action to determine the city limits of the Town of Casselberry by means of a County Court decree was taken this morning by the County Commission after hearing protests from tavern owners in the county. The liquor selling establishment at the Azalea Driving Park is operating 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Located at 2601 Seminola Boulevard, which leads from the Orlando Highway to the driving park, the establishment was granted a beer, wine and liquor license in 1947. It is located on the Azalea Driving Park, Inc., on Dec. 22, according to John L. Galloway, county tax collector.

Hamp Majeski, whose tavern is located on the Orlando Highway and Seminola Drive, and who is outside of the city limits of Casselberry, pointed out that he observed Sunday closing hours, while the tavern near the driving park remained white open on that day. He produced a map which showed that the driving park is located in the limits of Casselberry, but questioned the legality of this.

Sheriff A. Mero was instructed by the Commission to enforce Sunday closing laws at the Azalea Park tavern, pending the securing of a declaratory decree determining whether or not it is in an incorporated municipality. If it is in Casselberry, it will be governed by the town and not the County in its opening and closing hours.

County Clerk O. P. Herndon pointed out that the town of Casselberry had been created.

Red Cross Meet To Be Held Thursday

Mrs. Audrey M. Chambers recently completed a class in first aid in Forest City with 11 students attending.

The Red Cross chapter, said Mrs. Elvira Garner, is seeking knitting yarn in any color or length for projects which have been undertaken by the Women's Auxiliary of the Congregational Church for the Red Cross.

RESERVIST BILL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.) said today he would introduce a bill to "end the stepson role of the reservist."

ACCIDENT AVOIDED

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—A policeman raced to flag a speeding passenger train to a halt just 10 feet from a car stalled on the track here Monday night.

Patrolmen J. L. Webb and J. W. Mullaly found the car on the track. Mullaly pulled a man identified as Norman C. Ferguson, 37, Gainesville, from under the wheel while Webb ran down the track and signaled the train, a Seaboard streamliner, to stop.

Ferguson was booked for drunk driving.

Senator Taft Sees Victory Within Grasp

Ohioan Says Convention Majority In The Bag, Ike To Run If Drafted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) claimed today that if all the pledges he now holds are translated into voting strength he will win the Republican presidential nomination.

That was the Ohioan's answer to the statement of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower that he is a Republican and would respond to a "clear-cut call to political duty" but would not personally campaign for the GOP nomination.

Eisenhower supporters instantly heralded the statement as assuming the general's nomination and victory.

Taft told a reporter he believes this makes Eisenhower only a "draft" possibility, adding:

"If all of the pledges we have obtained from all over the country on my behalf are carried out, I believe when the vote is taken I have more than half of the convention votes."

The GOP nominating meeting to be held in Chicago early in July will have slightly more than 1,200 delegates, with more than 600 votes needed for the nomination. Some of the delegates have been formally chosen yet.

Taft said he always assumed that other candidates would be seeking the nomination and that "Sen. Eisenhower would be one of them."

He intimated he had expected Eisenhower to drop his uniform as commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces and return as a civilian to campaign.

Taft and Eisenhower, and his headquarters Monday that "under no circumstances will I ask for relief from this assignment in order to seek nomination to political office and I shall not participate in the present contest activities of others who may have such an intention with respect to me."

Taft said he is confident he will be able to harvest a sizable number of votes from delegates from New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Kansas, home states of the principal Eisenhower leaders.

Schuyler of Kansas, a Taft backer, supported the contention with a prediction that the Kansas delegation will go to the convention uncommitted and with Taft as its first choice.

St. Louis Brown Farm Club May Train Here

San Antonio To Receive Favorable Sanford Report

Zachary Taylor, ex-major league star and former manager of the St. Louis Browns, tentatively approved Sanford for the training site of the Browns' club A farm club San Antonio for the spring, Forest Brockbridge announced this morning.

The Browns report is an all-way to St. Louis where president Bill Veech will consider the San Antonio farm club for the St. Louis Browns.

Mr. Brockbridge said the Browns would probably get behind the current housing shortage by putting their players in local hotels.

With regard to a working agreement for the Sanford baseball club this year with the Browns, Mr. Brockbridge stated no mention was made to him by Mr. Taylor on that point.

The Browns are in the double A Texas League and are to be a farm team for the St. Louis American League club's chain of farm teams. The San Antonio club is owned outright by the Browns.

If the Browns do contract to train in Sanford this spring, it would bring many top teams and players to this area, Mr. Brockbridge said. Possible player help might be obtained by the newly organized independent Sanford Baseball Association from the Browns' chain should San Antonio come here.

"Mr. Taylor was very much impressed with our new park and the facilities we have to offer," Mr. Brockbridge said. "Taylor told me he was sending a very favorable report." (Continued on Page Six)

Four New Members Are Welcomed Into American Legion

Sanford Post 54, the American Legion, added four more members last night at its meeting, bringing the total 1952 membership up to 107.

The new members are Walter E. Collingwood, Charles J. W. Smith, Charles W. Fortnes, and Anthony J. Hest.

Post 54, recognizing the need for a tourist recreation building here, pledged $50 which will be given to the Jaycees for this building fund. Members talked of donating more, following receipt of funds from the Legion Fair in March.

A meeting of the Fair Committee and of the Executive Committee will be held tonight at the office of Kaylie Houderler.

Approximately 12 members, formerly used by the boys of the Legion Post, will be transferred to the new building. The boys were turned over to Willie Johnson, colored partner of the Post and member of the Charles Young Legion Post, for presentation to members of Boy Scout Troop No. 91, a Negro unit.

DAYTON (AP)—Ollie Lancaster Jr. has quit again as mayor-commissioner of Dayton, Ohio.

Chain Of Missionary Assemblies To Be Held In Sanford Jan. 29-30

The Florida Chain of Missionary Assemblies will be held this year in the First Presbyterian Church from Tuesday night, Jan. 29 through Wednesday night, Jan. 30, according to the local chairman, Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, Spawners from around the globe will be brought here to talk before inter-denominational audiences on matters of world interest.

This is the thirty-first year of Assemblies, a program unique to Florida, which last Fall attracted wide attention, when its director, Miss B. Louise Woodford, was given a citation for promotion of the cause of "Christian co-operation" by the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., through her work in this program which is popularly known as "The Chain of Missions."

It began in a small way when individual cities in Florida were having Schools of Missions and Federations of Missions. Both Deland and St. Petersburg had such organizations among the denominations. Woodford became state director. Her husband, Dr. Helen Barrett Montgomery of Rochester, N.Y., and Mrs. Henry Penhaly of Boston, Mass., both winter visitors in Florida, sponsored its expansion to cover the state in 1921 with Miss Woodford as director.

It has grown, from that time until now, into a "chain" of Assemblies which encircles Florida. They are held in 80 cities over a period of six weeks each winter. The "ambassadors" as these assembly speakers are called, enter (Continued on Page Two)

Fog Is Blamed For Auto-Truck Accident

Fog was blamed for the running of a truck and automobile on Route 17-92 north of Sanford along Lake Monroe early this morning, Patrolman R. D. Harris reported today.

A 1948 Ford coupe, traveling north driven by Mrs. Manon (Hemphill) 40, of Penn Grove, N. J., and accompanied by Mrs. Alice Dudgeon, 45, Arlington, Va., crashed into the side of a 1947 Dodge truck driven by Henry McMiller, 58, of Orlando, carrying $20 worth of oranges.

No one was injured, but Mrs. Hemphill's car suffered $350 damage. The accident occurred in a blinding fog at 6 a.m. Patrolman Harris stated.

Police yesterday arrested on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Holly Mae Gaines, Holly Patterson for assault and battery on Jan. 2.

Phone Service Is Provided For 413 More Customers

Telephone service to 413 additional homes in Sanford helped make another big year of community progress during 1951. E. V. Turner, manager of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, said today.

The four cities there are approximately 413 in Sanford. Bell Telephone service here, compared to 426 at the beginning of 1951, representing a gain of 113 telephones, or an 11 percent increase during the year, he announced.

Mr. Turner declared the total number of telephones now serving Sanford is over 1000. Some 100 percent increase over the number of telephones at the end of World War II.

Telephone facilities expansion in the community was part of a State of Florida program that totals approximately 41,400 telephones nationwide during 1951. There are now 201,778 telephones in service which is more than twice the number in service in the state six years ago. This required an expenditure of the state of $120,000,000 during the six year period, $21,000,000 of which was spent in the state by Southern Bell during the year just ended, Mr. Turner said.

Rural expansion in the state included the installation of 10,227 telephones during 1951. These telephones now total 29,800, which is more than four times the number operated by the company six years ago, he said. The big objective of the company is adding telephones for farmers, Mr. Turner said.

"The company is aware that in spite of good overall progress in the state during 1951, a large number of unfilled applications for telephone service are on hand. This demand largely is a result of the economic growth of the state. We are working hard at the job of meeting full telephone service needs," Mr. Turner said.

Mr. Turner's activities in connection with civilian telephone needs were carried forward in a year in which the greatest military defense demands since the war were met, he added.

THEY'VE MADE VERSE
Shakespeare said conscience does make cowards of us all. A clear conscience is a mighty stimulant to daring. The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as lions.—Ps. 28:1.

Send your contribution to the March of Dimes in care of Bob Deane at the Sanford Atlantic National Bank and save the workers in the drive the trouble of soliciting you.

Pictures in the morning papers show Harry Truman dressed up like an English gentleman as a British clothing journal sees him. But no matter how hard they try, they still can't make Harry look like a gentleman.

The Orange County Ministerial Association condemns the Mims bombing as an outrage against decency in this state and calls upon the Governor to see that the parties responsible are brought to justice. But it is not only the ministers who denounce such acts of violence in this state; every decent citizen does.

Harold Stassen, would-be candidate for president, says that if he is elected he will eliminate "200,000 loafers" from the federal payroll. To which the Tampa Tribune replies, that's not good enough. At least 10 or 15 percent of the 2,500,000 should be dropped.

It is not only bombing crimes that are hurting Florida's reputation for justice and fair play these days, but crimes of another kind as well. A taxi driver was murdered in Daytona Sunday, a young girl disappears under mysterious circumstances on the Florida Keys. What is needed is honest and resolute law enforcement against all kinds of crimes.

It was good to see Martin Bram back in Sanford speaking at the Rotary Club just as he did ten or twelve years ago when he was rector here and president of the club, and appearing not a day older than he did then. Time has been kind to Bishop Bram and he has used his time well, rendering a great service to the people of his church and improving his own health and character in so doing. We are glad that no matter how high he rises in his profession or how far away he goes, he will always come back, for he is married to the former Mabel Boler of this city.

Congress convenes today and we are afraid to do more harm than good. It just isn't in the cards that Congress as a group could be expected in election year to cut expenses when they need so badly to be cut, to balance the budget when it is so far out of balance, to step up armament production or enact universal military training when that is what is so desperately needed, or to put patriotism ahead of politics when playing politics can be so disastrous to the country. And yet we are afraid that is just about what they are going to do. It is not strange under such circumstances that so many Europeans look upon our system of government and exclaim, "Only America can afford such a government."

A lot of Democrats became Republicans for the time being when General Eisenhower was elected yesterday that he is going to accept the Republican nomination if it were offered to him. Southern Democrats who have been floundering around for some time looking for someone they could support feel that they found him in Eisenhower and though they would rather see some other, mighty good thing, a Democrat to lead them from victory for the time being is at least in the North, and a campaigning campaign that popularity cannot reserve allegiance which naturally attaches

Chance To Cut Costs

Congress, beginning a new session, has its annual chance to do something about the tremendous and growing cost of government, about which a great deal of talking has been done in the last few months. Congress will take action in two basic steps which determine the cost of government; these are the making of the budget and the appropriations of money. These steps ought to be, but probably will not be, completed before the end of June.

One of the greatest advances Congress could make in bringing the cost of government under better control would be to match the budget and the appropriations. Strangely enough, they do not necessarily match. The budget for an agency is set up in one measure, which authorizes the agency to carry on specific activities and spend a certain amount of money. The money is appropriated in a separate measure, and the amount may or may not be the same. Taking advantage of this system, a false appearance of economy is sometimes achieved by cutting appropriations while the authority to spend remains unchanged. The result is that at the end of the year there are unpaid bills, and a deficiency appropriation is passed to cover them.

It would be within the power of Congress to make the budget allowance and the appropriation for each agency the same, and to require every agency to stay within its budget and within its appropriation. To do so would seem to be only common sense. Such a policy would not in itself reduce government costs, but would more clearly keep the control of costs in the hands of Congress. Perhaps Congress does not wish the point to be quite so clear.

Welcome For Churchill

Despite President Truman's quick and emphatic denial of any truth to stories that Winston Churchill would receive a cool reception in America, the rumors received some attention in the British press. It may be that the high regard in which Churchill is held in Britain has made his friends there hypersensitive to any imagined intention to slight him.

It is quite probable that the British prime minister will encounter disagreement here with some of his ideas. Not all members of Congress will see eye to eye with him on matters of financial assistance to Great Britain, and there are clear differences of opinion on some military subjects. The differences which exist, however, are those between friends and allies, and they have nothing to do with Churchill's personal stature.

The reception of Winston Churchill in America could hardly be anything but warm and cordial. Americans remember that when England stood alone against Germany it was this remarkable man who shaped and symbolized the priceless British resistance. His genius and personality have made him almost as popular on this side of the Atlantic as he is on his own. It is unlikely that any visitor to America will ever be more welcome.

Saving "Old Ironsides"

The death of Moses H. Gulesian, an Armenian born immigrant, brings to mind his action to save the frigate Constitution from being scrapped by the Navy in 1905. Gulesian offered to buy the ship from the Navy for $10,000. This offer by an adopted son of America prompted many other donations which created a fund of $6,600,000 for restoration of the ship.

Once before, in 1830, "Old Ironsides", as the ship was affectionately called, had been in danger of being scrapped. At that time the first Oliver Wendell Holmes wrote a stirring poem about the past glories of the ship which had fought so valiantly in the War of 1812. A wave of public sentiment, largely stimulated by Holmes' poem, saved it from destruction.

It is significant that two men of different backgrounds, who lived at different times, were able to feel the same kind of devotion to America's traditions. An immigrant and a native-born poet acted, in the way each knew best, to save a symbol of that tradition from being destroyed.

Urge For Better Things

The American Society of Tool Engineers conducted an inquiry among industries to discover what their desires were in the way of more machine tools, the equipment with which the factories make their products. The Society discovered that in more than 90 per cent of factories, large and small, industrial leaders were interested not so much in more tools as in better tools.

This attitude is, after all, one of the cornerstones of progress. The desire not merely to have more of the things already known but to have better things is one of the basic factors which keep a people moving forward, and which make the difference between a progressive nation and a backward one.

the state at Jacksonville and travel down the East coast to St. Petersburg, Ft. Pierce, Ft. Pierce, Deltona, Orlando, Winter Park, Sanford, Ft. Lauderdale, Miami and the Palm Beaches. On the West coast they have sessions in Ft. Myers, Sarasota, Tampa, Lakeland, Clearwater and St. Petersburg.

This program is unique to Florida, according to Miss Woodford, because the national mission boards of the various denominations know that Florida is not a single state during the winter season, but a composite of all 48 states, with its thousands of visitors, and that their message will be broadcast throughout the nation from Florida.

Each summer Miss Woodford makes the circuit of the mission board offices and books speakers for the next winter. They are outstanding missionaries home on furlough, nationally known church leaders, executives in the church and colorful peoples from other lands. Many internationally famous people have appeared on these Assembly platforms, such as Dr. E. Stanley Jones and Pastor Martin Niemoller.

When the director completes her faculty there is usually a representative from every continent, who can speak with authority on conditions in the land he represents, according to Miss Woodford.

In addition to the three or four scheduled Assembly addresses each day that it is in session, these "ambassadors" fan out to the schools, service clubs, young adult groups, and Sunday pulpits to carry their message to the general public. This year they will conduct the Religious Emphasis Week on the Florida State

There have been persistent hints that Stalin was relinquishing his power in the Pallhubo—and many in the West believe such a struggle has been taking place—Vyacheslav M. Molotov seemingly has lost to the brilliant, ruthless youngster brought up in the isolation of Soviet Communism as Stalin's protégé.

active direction of Soviet affairs.

He has just turned 72, and is reported in falling health. November dispatches from Moscow, describing the 34th anniversary celebration of the Russian Revolution, gave the impression Malenkov was the reigning power in the U.S.S.R. with support from Lavrenty Pavlovitch Beria, director of the all-present, all-powerful secret police.

Molotov was not present, a striking development in itself, since that ceremony is the year's most important in Moscow. Stalin was not there, either, but Stalin usually has gone south in recent winters.

The pictures of that celebration—like other pictures before them—were revealing. Dispatches from Moscow ranked Molotov first after Stalin among Pallhubo members—in accordance with the long established custom of the Soviet press. But the photographs told a different story. These indicated Molotov was slipping badly. The last picture of him showed him ranking about fifth. For several months this reader has seen no mention of Molotov in either Pravda or Izvestia.

At the Bolshevik revolution ceremony, pugnacious pudgy Malenkov towered over the others in the manner of a dictator. The pictures showed him clearly as the most prominent figure present—flanked on the right by his twin in power, Beria.

And now today, here is how the party greeted the dictator presumptive.

The party and Council of Ministers warmly greet you, true pupil of Lenin and co-adviser to Stalin, outstanding leader of the Communist Party and the Soviet State, on the day of your 50th birthday. "You have devoted all your conscious life to the great cause of the party of Lenin and Stalin and the struggle for the victory of Communism. And so on. Only Stalin has received more praise.

By RUSSELL KAY

This is the season of fairs and festivals in Florida. During the next three months millions of people will be visually reminded of this state's limitless resources, advantages and opportunities.

Large or small, these "show windows" each tell an amazing story of Florida's growth and development. Seeing is believing, and the magnificent exhibits of fruit and vegetables, hay, grain and forage livestock, poultry and the products of our ever expanding industries serve to convince thousands of prospective homebuyers and investors that Florida is indeed a land of opportunity.

Oldest and most impressive of all is the Florida State Fair held each year in Tampa where 25 modern, spacious buildings are jam-packed with every conceivable type of display and exhibit. Dates for the event this year are February 5 to 16.

Operated as a cooperative, non-profit enterprise, the Florida State Fair does a wonderful selling job for the entire state and yet it does not cost the taxpayer a cent. Officers and directors, who give generously of their time, receive no pay, and every dollar taken in from the sale of space or admissions goes back into the development of a bigger and better fair the following year.

Drawing an attendance of a million or more, the Florida State Fair is America's greatest mid-winter exposition and ranks among the top fairs held anywhere in the country.

The 1952 Florida State Fair promises to surpass all previous events, and at the moment the fair grounds are alive with painters, carpenters and artisans all busy constructing modernistic booths designed to show Florida's products to best advantage.

While skilled crews are busy in the buildings other laborers are equally active about the grounds, painting and repairing, conditioning the race track, landscaping and getting everything shipshape and ready to receive the thousands of individual exhibits of fruit and vegetables, flowers, women's work, art, cattle, hogs, poultry, rabbits, cavies, wild life, forestry, commerce and industry that will all pour in just prior to opening day.

Unless you have actually witnessed the assembly of a fair of such magnitude it is difficult to conceive how so much can be accomplished in so short a time. A week before the opening as you pass through the empty exhibition buildings, barren except for the booth structures, you cannot believe that the thousands of individual exhibits could possibly arrive and be set in place ready for the opening in so short a time. But as the opening day approaches, you find more and more people swarming the grounds and building, each performing some specific task—and the whole big show seems to be put together like a jig saw puzzle.

While the purpose of the fair is primarily educational, the agricultural and industrial phases always dominates it, and fun, frolic and entertainment are not entirely overlooked. The best available in the entertainment field is brought to Tampa for participation in the big show.

Midway attractions are provided by the Royal American Shows and this year many new features will be presented both in the form of shows and rides. General Manager P. F. Strieder advises that he has booked the finest selection of hippodrome and circus acts ever assembled for the State Fair which will be featured afternoon and night before the grandstand. In addition, Joe Chitwood and his Automobile Hell Drivers will give several thrilling shows, and top-notch automobile racing will be a feature with the world's best dirt track drivers competing for national honors on the speedy Fair race track.

With the approval of the State Educational Department, efforts will be made to bring junior and senior high school students from every section of Florida to the Fair as it is considered outstanding from the standpoint of visual education. These school children will all be guests of the fair as will every 4-H Club boy or girl and every Florida Future Farmer.

Thousands of Fair visitors who were delightfully entertained by Myrt and Gert last year will be happy to know that this lovable couple will be back again and can be depended upon to keep the grandstand crowd howling with glee when they conduct their funny audience participation comedy.

You'll get double your money's worth at the 1952 Florida State Fair in Tampa, February 5-16, so make your plans now to attend.

SEMINOLE III By BEVERLY GRAY

The New Year seems to have come in with some mighty chilly weather! This'll really make it nice for the basketball boys in their uniforms! There'll be a game tonight, by the way, with St. James from Orlando. Try and make it, 'cause we're going to do our best to win! Be there on time so you can get a good seat!
 The Senior play is looming up on the calendar, Feb. 15. They call it "Men Are Like Strangers." Sounds good!
 The Key Club is planning a dance Feb. 1, with all the proceeds going to the March of Dimes. Couldn't think of anything better! Be sure to attend this one, because you know your money is really going toward something worthwhile!
 Idle Ideas:
 Scanning the recent Reader's Digest found teen-ager's "hang over" and decidedly different. In fact we'd never

Suburbs Are Seen As The Last Frontier In U.S. Still Growing

By HAI BOYLE
NEW YORK—The Daniel Boone of today is the suburbanite. He inhabits America's last frontier—the suburbs. And it is the only frontier in our country's history that is increasing instead of dwindling.

A suburb is one of those vague populated places you get lost in when you drive out of a big city. Where they come from nobody knows, but every year motorists report more and more of them.

They usually bear such quaint names as Quagmire Heights or Swampville. There seems to be no particular reason why they spring up in any one place. There is a report that once a railroad train pulling out of a city paused momentarily to let a cow cross the track before the train started on some enterprising real estate dealer wandered by, stuck up a sign saying "Bovine Meadows," and started selling lots to the passengers.

Suburbs vary, but they usually have these things in common: An antique store, two liquor stores, four real estate offices, one taxi car can never get when you need it, and a railroad station they cross on cold nights whenever the ticket seller sees a lone wanderer who wants to come in and get warm.

You also usually find a fresh cemetery in an older suburb because the natives don't like the idea of having the newcomers buried beside their own vanished kin. They figure it is bad enough that they have to live with these Johnny come lately, but why should a real oldtimer have to share his graveyard, too?

The average suburbanite becomes one because he feels "the city is no place for our children." So he buys a brightly-lit home in the suburbs too big for a doll house and too small to shelter a St. Bernard dog.

Here he and his happy swarm of kids live in the same kind of intimacy and harmony visible in a wrestling ring.

He becomes a pilgrim between his home in the hinterland and his desk in the city, and he is a prisoner of the railroad that links them. There are two big events in his year—the days when they change the timetables and provide him with new reading matter.

The suburbanite has all the joys of a farmer and few of the pains of the urban dweller. In summer he comes to work—beating and overhauling his frostbitten nose and ears, he only mutters manfully:

"My, the fresh air is like wine today out where I live." "Frozen wine."

Had weather snows him in, it drives him under. He thought tax would be low when he moved to the suburbs, but that was before the City Council decided to pave the streets and build a new high school.

But your true suburbanite is a hardy soul. He is as much of a frontiersman as Daniel Boone or Kit Carson. They at least had a knife. There is nothing between him and disaster but his wits—and a cold paper mortgage.

He got out of the city because the traffic drove him crazy and finds that it is as hard to park a car in a suburban shopping district as it is in Times Square. He yearns for neighborhood, and the guy who moves in next door buys a dog to bite his children.

The suburbanite gamely sticks it out, however, until the mortgage is paid and the kids reared. Then he sells his house to a new frontiersman, and tells his wife:

"Come on, honey, let's move back to the city—and start living again."

And ever after that if you mention fresh air to him he gets violently ill, for when a man retires from the frontier he leaves it forever.

LAKE MARY

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Keogh and son Craig spent New Year's in Winter Haven, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Al Bryant, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hines are occupying one of the beautiful cottages. He is currently stationed at NASAS in Sanford.

The December meeting of the 4-H group, on Dec. 16 was a Christmas Party at the home of their leader, Mrs. James Longman. Following the playing of games, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

James A. Sewell of Baltimore is visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sjodahl and their nephew, Morris M. Sjodahl, Jr. spent New Year's Day in Tampa, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lutz.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lutz are enjoying a brief stay with relatives in Providence, R. I.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Sopher, Sopher, Crockett, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sjodahl, have gone to Vera Beach for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cassano returned from Pensacola, where they spent the holidays.

L. Harris of Bumpus, Va. has arrived and is planning to occupy his home on Wilson Avenue.

Mr. George Pelley and his daughter, Miss Bertha Pelley who spent the holidays with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans, have returned to their home in Boston.

Mrs. Charlotte Scott who spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Scott, has returned to Philadelphia, where she is employed in a medical school.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hland of Ft. Lauderdale were the guests of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. James M. Thompson. This past week Mrs. Hland was an attendant at the True-Babam wedding Saturday evening.

Hummegen and Goldman of Winter Park have just replaced the roof on the Arthur Coplin home on Lake Mary, which was defective.

Miss Dorothy Burke left Friday for Atlanta, Ga., where she will join her cousin who is employed there.

The Chamber of Commerce met Jan. 2 with President Joe Maybury presiding. Arthur Tomkinson, chairman of the Christmas party and members of his committee, were given a rising vote of thanks.

The deplorable condition of the streets and roads in and around Lake Mary was discussed. It was decided that the State Road Department be requested to erect signs designating Lake Mary, as all such signs erected by the Chamber of Commerce seem to be either removed or mutilated.

James Yates was commended for cleaning up the cemetery, unassisted and Lloyd Lendon likewise commended for the opening up of Morris Parkway, from the Railroad to Crystal Lake. This task of which he was chairman, was done through volunteer labor and money donations.

P. D. Anderson suggested that in line with this clean up program a series of "Before" and "After" pictures should be taken. P. R. Bremer agreed to donate all such photography. He suggested that a small brochure on Lake Mary be put out by the Chamber of Commerce.

It was noted that paid membership so far this year tops 30. On the motion of H. M. Gleason, Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Scott were accorded honorary citizenship.

Rev. Scott is the new pastor of the Community Church. Mrs. Scott has offered to contact the Girl Scout organization and see if a leader can be secured for the girls in Lake Mary who wish to form a Girl Scout Troop. It was agreed to keep the shuffle board contests open, in the hope that players would come out for the sport, now that the holidays are over.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, the members of the Beautification Committee served coffee and cookies.

Friends of Mrs. Frieda Garland will be happy to hear that she has returned to her own home and Mrs. Emma Wing is taking care of her.

U.N. Wins, Loses Two Objectives Along Sasi Bulge

Reds Reject Phrasing of Allies Plan On War Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP)—Britain's recognition of Communist China was expected to come up today in the globe-striding talks between President Truman and Prime Minister Churchill. The President was expected to tell the Prime Minister that this country's non-recognition of the Chinese Reds is a firm policy, hardened by their intervention in Korea.

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

UNITED NATIONS, Jan. 7.—United Nations' important objectives today in the Battle of Sasi Bulge, a bitter fight to recapture ground taken by the Reds Dec. 26.

The U. S. Eighth Army command, reporting this, did not indicate the western front objectives.

U. N. elements took one after a 15-minute fight with an enemy company, capturing a 100-mm. mortar and a 100-mm. mortar of undetermined size.

The Sasi Bulge fight centers four miles east of Korangpo and only six miles northwest of Panmoung. The Allies are trying to establish out a dent in the U. S. Eighth Army's forward line.

Monday the U. S. troops repulsed a Communist attack. They then had an offensive. Three hours later they met heavy Communist fire. They moved forward for two and one-half hours more before withdrawing.

At one point they were within 300 yards of the height of the Sasi Bulge.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported 298 sorties flown by men Tuesday. Under the protective cover of 1,000 sorties, Allied fighter bombers pounded the main rail line, leading into Pyongyang, North Korean capital.

Other Sasi Bulge jets battled MIG-15s in North Korea for 30 minutes. They tangled briefly with a formation of Communist planes, but the Air Force said no hits were scored by either side.

A B-29 Superfortress was damaged Tuesday afternoon in a 20-minute fight between 17 U. S. F-86 Sabres and about 100 enemy jets over Northwest Korea. Credit for the damage went to Lt. Anthon J. Kologosky Jr. (Route 1, Catawissa, Pa.) who brought the three-day total of MIG casualties to seven knocked down and 13 damaged. Allied losses, if any, have not been announced.

U. N. Thunderjets and Shooting Star jets dropped 16 tons of high explosives in pulverizing an important rail tunnel between Pyongyang and North Korean capital and Sancheon, 30 miles north of it.

The Sasi Bulge is 400 feet high.

By OLEN CLEMENTS

UNITED NATIONS, Jan. 7.—The U. N. Command today rephrased its proposal for exchanging prisoners of war and the Reds promptly turned it down.

Gen. A. M. E. Libby, Allied force negotiator, said the U. N. plan was regarded as "definitely any ground for technical opposition" by the Communists.

The Reds still objected.

A second truce subcommittee argued nearly two hours over whether the Reds should be allowed to rebuild airfields during an armistice. Neither side changed its view.

Both committees scheduled new sessions for Wednesday at Panmunjom.

While the committees wrangled, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief Allied negotiator, conferred in Tokyo with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander. Joy said it was "merely a routine visit."

In presenting the revised plan for exchanging prisoners of war, Libby said "This is in no sense a new proposal" but it had been rephrased to cover objections raised by the Reds.

Growing Conditions Reported Good In State In December

ORLANDO (AP)—Growing conditions for Florida vegetable crops were good as a whole during the latter half of December, the U. S. Department of Agriculture said today.

In their Jan. 7 report, crop statisticians said early crops "would be improved materially by cooler weather." Cool, strong winds on Dec. 27, however, caused some wind burns and slight reduction in yields of snap beans, pole beans, cucumbers, pepper, squash and tomatoes.

Shipment volume decreased somewhat during the second half of December, due largely to the decline in the fall snap bean and tomato movement.

In California, weather during the last two weeks of December was cool, retarding the growth and development of vegetable crops, the USDA said. Near the end of the month, warm rains improved growing conditions in most areas.

Vegetables in Arizona escaped severe damage from cold and heavy frost, and in Texas growing conditions were generally favorable. Losses from a cold wave around the middle of the month were not extensive.

Florida crop details:

Cabbage—Fair to good condition. December shipments light but should become general later part of January.

Carrots—Fair to good. Plantings have made rapid growth but cool weather would help. Manatee, Brevard and Volusia counties furnishing present supplies.

Celery—Warm weather has favored rapid growth and plantings not as rocky as should be. Santa Rosa harvesting underway and should be general mid-January.

Lettuces—Warm weather unfavorable for best development, most of early crop harvested at Sanford. Increased plantings at Webster fair to good condition and only fair in Manatee-Brevard fields where active harvest underway.

Flying Enterprise

that the Englishman slung across the Enterprise, where Carlsen and Kenneth Dancy, mate of the Turmoil, chatted merrily.

When the delivery was made Carlsen waved happily and shouted back his thanks.

Carlsen wore a thick beard. He was dressed in blue denim trousers and a Navy-type short coat with a new shapeless khaki hat—like a storybook picture of a merchant seaman.

He looked surprisingly fit.

Ten days had elapsed since the worst Atlantic storm in 50 years wrecked his 8,711-ton ship, forced him to evacuate 40 crewmen and 10 passengers into the churning sea and waiting rescue vessels, and started him on his valiant effort to keep the Enterprise from becoming a prize of the sea.

Sometimes the Enterprise today swung to a complete right angle from the Turmoil.

This sheering movement caused the 4,000-horsepower tug Turmoil, which is pulling the Flying Enterprise in port, to slacken speed. The little tug was not expected to reach Fallmouth before Wednesday noon, and perhaps later.

The swerving was blamed on calmer seas. The Atlantic weather was more like April the January, with a gentle southwest breeze and a low swell.

Somewhat heavier seas had previously kept the Flying Enterprise at the end of a 141-foot cable. Today it just floundered about on its 750-yard tether.

The slow, dangerous trip to port began Saturday, about 300 miles east of the English coast. By the time Capt. Dancy Parker's tug got a line aboard, Carlsen had drifted alone for a week on the ship he refused to abandon after the worst Atlantic storm in half a century cracked it across the middle of the sea.

The Turmoil's first mate, Kenneth Dancy, leaped over the stern rail of the Flying Enterprise Friday night to help Carlsen fasten the end of a 141-foot cable. He is aboard his ship, with Dancy keeping him company. They spelled each other on two-hour watches, ready to fasten a new 20-inch main cable whenever it strain snaps the slim steel line now in use.

But the Turmoil was confident. Parker reported he had to reduce his speed to keep the Flying Enterprise from skidding, but said the ship was now in use.

The slow procession now includes four ships.

On the left, abreast with the crippled ship's bulk, is the ex-cruiser U. S. destroyer Willard Keith. Off to the right is the deep sea tug Enghelmann, chartered by the Associated Press, which joined the rescue squadron late Monday night.

Following at the end of the formation is the French tug Assiette, 25, ready to help.

The Turmoil declined all assistance.

"No longer is any doubt that Gen. Eisenhower will be nominated in July and elected in November as a Republican," Sen. Lodge (R-Mass.) said the nomination "now will be his."

Sen. Ives (R-N.Y.) predicted favorite sons will spring up in states where a candidate must avow his intentions to get on the ballot and these will throw their support to Eisenhower.

Democrats generally weren't enthusiastic about Eisenhower's statement.

Sen. Kerr (D-Ola.) said Eisenhower had more military than political sense or he wouldn't be calling in a Republican.

"If he is the Republican nominee, I will take great pleasure in opposing him," he said.

Chairman Donnell Backs Committee On Little Cabinet

WEST PALM BEACH (AP)—Chairman E. B. Donnell defended the Florida State Democratic Executive Committee action to provide for non-elective offices in primaries with a statement Monday that appointive powers of the governor "have become too much of a racket."

The committee, at a St. Petersburg meeting Saturday, provided blank space for appointment to the "Little Cabinet," including members of the State Road Department, Facing Commission, Industrial Commission, motor vehicle commissioner, hotel commissioner and assistant state's attorney.

Donnell said if candidates for these appointive offices fail to win by the committee resolution, "there isn't anything the committee can do about it as no penalty is provided for such failure."

Donnell elaborated on his declaration that the governor's power had become "too much of a racket" by declaring:

"There are hundreds, possibly thousands, working up there (Tallahassee) who are responsible only to one man—the governor—and some of those people are handling up to tens of millions of dollars."

"Take the State Road Department, for example. They handle from 30 to 50 million dollars a year alone. The constitution should be changed to make these offices elective."

Donnell said the committee "did what the law says we can do," but he admitted that few persons might be willing to pay qualifying fees and campaign expenses to run for job. They had no assurance of getting it.

Four Men Accused Of Safe Robberies

TAMPA (AP)—Four men accused of a six-weeks spree of safe robberies here were held in jail today under bonds totaling $200,000.

The bonds, heaviest in any case here in years, were fixed by Post-Judge J. G. Spicola only a week after Police Chief Malcolm Heasley said small bonds had encouraged safecrackers to pull jobs and for fell ball when caught.

Sicola set bond for each man at $10,000 for each safe job with which he was charged.

Deputy Sheriff Ernest Culbreth listed the men and their bonds as Homer Turner, 27, $70,000; his brother, Franklin Turner, 18, $30,000; Doyle Robertson, 18, $70,000; and Ray Jackson, 25, $20,000.

Culbreth said the four men, all Tampans, have been linked with seven safecrackings here, one in Dunedin and one in Lake Wales. They were charged with breaking and entering and grand larceny in the seven by Tampa police.

Investigation is continuing to determine whether they were involved in others of the 20 odd safe jobs pulled off here in the past six weeks. Total loot was about $24,000.

MISSING BEAUTY

MIAMI (AP)—Fear for the safety of the missing French Canadian beauty Mrs. Hughette Lemay, 21, increased today as a widespread search for her proved fruitless.

James O. Barker, Monroe County deputy sheriff with headquarters at Key Largo, said "The longer she remains untraced, the more concerned we become for her safety."

For reparations to dispossessed Jews. The claims so far have been provided only through the Big Four occupying powers in Germany.

Police said the rioters were followers of Menachem Beilgin, leader of the Herut Party. Herut succeeded the anti-British underground organization, Irgun, val Lomvi, which carried out a bombing war against British administrators in pre-Israel became independent.

Governor Is Asked For Conference On Acts Of Violence

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Gov. Fuller Warren was asked today to call an emergency conference to consider a long-range program to curb "the epidemic of acts of violence against religious and racial groups" in the state.

The request was contained in a telegram sent by the Rev. William H. Stevenson, pastor of the Union Congregational Church here and president of the Florida Council of Churches.

It was suggested the conference include ministers, educators and others "especially concerned with human relations."

Besides ministers, signers included: Mary McLeod Bethune, president emerita of Bethune-Cookman College, Daytona Beach; Rabbi Jacob H. Kaplan, Miami; Dr. Louis N. Spivey, Florida Southern College president; and Mrs. Adn E. Stecher, Florida Open Forum chairman of the Palm Beaches.

The telegram stemmed from a wave of dynamiting attempts directed at Miami churches and synagogues, a Negro housing development and the Christmas night bombing at Miami that killed Negro leader Harry T. Moore and his wife.

was made to Dr. Benjamin L. Brock, medical director, by W. T. Edwards, Panama City, chairman of the State Tuberculosis Board. The sanatorium received a rating of 84 per cent, with 75 per cent the minimum score for the top rating.

After studying the map of Casselberry as presented, Commissioner H. B. Pope expressed concern that the County might be undertaking road improvements inside of that municipality, and for that reason wanted proper boundaries established.

Stemper Is Elected Mayor Of Sanford

Karlyle Housholder Named City Judge; Dyson Is Thanked For Past Services

William H. Stemper, local grocer, was elected mayor last night by a three to two vote of the City Commission room after taking his oath of office for a second term on the Commission. John Kader, jeweler, was seated as a commissioner.

Karlyle Housholder, young Sanford attorney, was named City Judge. Mr. Stemper, who presided at the start of the meeting, was warmly congratulated for his public service by the commissioners after he relinquished his seat on the Commission.

The first action of the new Commission was the nomination by Randall Chase and approval by the Commission of Andrew Carraway as acting chairman.

Mr. Stemper nominated Mr. Chase for the post of mayor. The latter declined the nomination, and nominated Mr. Stemper.

Mr. Carraway at this point suggested that the City would be better off and save considerable expense by having a mayor whose place of business is located nearer the City Hall than the one now in office.

John Fives then nominated John Kader for mayor. Mr. Kader declined, stating that he would rather not serve as he had not yet had experience as a commissioner.

The nomination was then closed and Mr. Stemper, supported by Commissioners Kader and Chase, was elected mayor. Mr. Carraway was named acting chairman.

In the voting for municipal judge, Mr. Carraway cast a dissenting vote against a change, pointing out that this action on his part was not advised because he had anything against Mr. Housholder, who he believed was competent for the position, but that he thought that Judge Sharon had been the best person for the disposition of City Court cases.

Mayor Dyson, prior to giving up his chair, stated that he had several things that he wished to discuss with the present board that he considered under the heading of old business.

He first brought up the issue of the appointment of John Gill as acting city manager, all of which, he declared, was done without his knowledge at the time. He stated that he felt that such an appointment should have been made by the five members of the 1951 board, instead of the five members of the new Commission, including one who did not get installed as a commissioner.

Mayor Dyson stated that it was his belief that this was an illegal action, and that he wanted it thoroughly understood that he felt that way about it before he retired.

He also referred to the Christmas lighting of Thirteenth Street in Orlando, which he stated was a previous meeting a group of colored residents appeared before the Commission and requested that their advice be given in that there was no money in the budget to install the lights at that time.

Senator Douglas Says Demos Should Nominate Ike Too

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) believes that if the Republicans nominate Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the presidency, the Democrats ought to do the same thing.

"Such a move," he added, "would enable us to get a much better Congress than if we ran only as a Republican nominee."

The Illinois senator made the statement Tuesday night in an interview following a radio broadcast with Ben. Wiley (R-Wis.) on ABC's America's Town Meeting of the Air.

Douglas declared, "One danger of Eisenhower's nomination by the Republicans is that he would carry into office a large number of congressmen who would oppose him later."

"I should like to obtain the nomination of both parties, people throughout the nation would be much more satisfied in their voting on local candidates."

Marion Lippman, Pilot Governor, Is Speaker Here

Miss Marion Lippman, lieutenant governor of District Four, speaking before the local Pilot Club last night in the Montecuma Hotel Dining Room, stressed the responsibility of the individual Pilot toward the state and nation as well as toward his club and himself.

She named the three most important committee chairmanships as being membership, public affairs and finance, for around which work revolves the success or failure of an organization. A club must have members, she said, "it must have projects to make it worthwhile, and it must have money to carry out these projects."

Miss Lippman laid a great deal of stress upon the importance of attendance at all meetings of the club and at the Spring and Fall council meetings of District Four and the state of outstanding Pilots. She announced the Spring Council meeting in Jacksonville on April 26-27 at which time the "club of the year" is elected on the basis of outstanding work accomplished and the percentage of membership attained.

By Phillips, who is director of the Child Guidance Clinic in Orlando, speaking on the subject "Adolescence," described the adolescent as a person and not a problem.

Mrs. V. C. Messenger introduced the guest of honor following a short business session and a dinner which was given in her honor. Miss Maude Ramsey, public affairs chairman, distributed pledge cards to those present to secure names of blood donors for the "Armed Forces Blood Bank."

Miss Ramsey stated that a mobile blood unit will be in Sanford on Jan. 22 and it is hoped by the chairman, John Williams, to secure as many pledges as possible for the blood which will be presented the winner.

Production Of Household Goods To Be Cut 45% Below June, 1950

WASHINGTON (AP)—Production of most household goods, such as televisions sets, radios, refrigerators, electric toasters and other appliances—due to be cut to 45 per cent below the pre-Korea levels in the quarter year beginning April 1. This would be 30 per cent below present permitted production rates.

This word came today from Manly Fleischmann, defense production administrator, who said also that in the same quarter construction of new houses is to be curtailed from the present annual rate of 850,000 to a rate of 600,000 a year.

Automobile production is to be reduced at least seven per cent below the present rate. The DPA allowed the manufacturers only enough copper and aluminum to produce enough to produce 300,000 in the quarter. The maker were authorized to stretch these materials, if possible, to make 300,000 in the second quarter. For the first quarter of the year they were allotted enough materials for 300,000, with permission to stretch them to make 300,000.

Fleischmann testified before the Senate's House "switching" committee Thursday in a hearing on defense mobilization programs.

He said makers of such items as suits and jewelry and toys will be given slight increases in materials during the April quarter, but that they can continue in business only if they stretch their materials.
