Observers Say Turks Reject USSR Demands

Turkey Again Replies To Soviet Request For Joint Defense Of Vital Straits

ANKARA, Oct. 18, (AP)—Turkey today replied in detail to Russia's second demand for joint defense of the Dardanelles. Responsible persons said they are sure the Russian proposal was flatly rejected. It is also believed Turkey turned down the Russian plan for administration of the vital strait only by Black Sea powers. It is also believed Turkey rejected a Russian proposal to revise the 1833 Montreux Convention that governs the strait.

Newsmen thought the note was sent to Russia after two cabinet sessions and that Turkey probably suggested again that an international commission decide whether or not Turkey has lived up to the terms of the Montreux Convention.

Russia charged that Axis ships went through the Dardanelles during the war. In her first note to Russia, however, Turkey said some Axis vessels possibly did get through, but they did so illegally, and that she had always acted in good faith. In that earlier note, Turkey also declared that joint defense of the Dardanelles would mean Russian bases on Turkish soil. She said that would violate Turkey's sovereign rights, and it is believed that Turkey has told Russia the same thing once more.

The United States and Britain have consistently backed Turkey's stand.

The text of the Turkish note probably will be made public in three days.

Judge Ware And Assistant Lauded By State Official

County Judge R. W. Ware, at whose office hunting and trapping licenses are now available, has been commended, together with his assistant, Mrs. Letha Fowler, for forwarding to the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission filled out stubs attached to licenses which show the amount of game killed or taken last season in Seminole County.

This commendation was in the form of a letter from State Game Director I. N. Kennedy who pointed out that last season only seven counties in the state had made this report which serves as a census for re-stocking by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, a branch of the Department of the Interior. Mr. Kennedy pointed out that it has been a source of considerable embarrassment to his office that the state report has been incomplete.

Resident county licenses for hunting are $2.00. Resident state game licenses are $7.50. Non-resident state game licenses are $26.50, and for 10 days hunting are $11.50. Hunting of deer, turkey, quail and squirrels is permitted from Nov. 30 to Nov. 30 every day and Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays are closed days thereafter. Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's days are open to hunting. Open season for hunting the Ocala National Forest is Dec. 1 to 30 except on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. The duck, goose and coot season is from Nov. 23 to Jan. 6.

General Manager Lind Weber of the Mayfair Inn announced today that William E. Krehoff has entered into an agreement with Eugene Ballard, a resident of New York City and Fort Lauderdale, and Mr. Ballard will be the operator of the hotel for the coming season.

Mr. Weber revealed that he would be retained as general manager by Mr. Ballard and all promotional plans for the hotel will be continued.

Mr. Ballard is the former operator of the Pointe St. Motel at Ft. Lauderdale.

40 & 8 Voiture To Hold Wreck Here Tomorrow

Plans Set For American Legion Roundup Saturday, Sunday

There will be a big wreck in Sanford on Saturday afternoon in connection with the American Legion roundup but it will be not tragic, for at that time, 20 or more candidates for the 40 and 8 voiture of the American Legion will be wrecked or initiated at the Armory. Preceding the wreck will be a parade on First Street with the candidates costumed and costumed, according to State Adjutant A. R. Mann, who said that this will take place at about 2:00 P. M.

The wrecking crew in charge of the wreck will be from the Orlando voiture. There will be about 14 candidates from Sanford and the rest from Ft. Dora and Eau Claire. Officers of the voiture will be led with a banquet at the Elks Lodge afterward.

The 40 and 8 is the fun and honor society of the American Legion and is a takeoff on the French railway during World War I when 40 men and 8 horses were hauled in a box car, said Adjutant Mann. Chester Miller is Chief of Cars of the local voiture.

Approximately 150 Legionnaires including members of the 40 and 8 from all over Florida are expected to arrive here Saturday and Sunday for the big roundup which will be climaxed by a barbecue back of the Legion Hut, at 1:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Total membership of the Legion in Florida during the past year has been 49,300, said Adjutant Mann. Members of the Legion Auxiliary under direction of Mrs. Sybil Reuth have arranged a reception for state Legion officers and their wives at the U. S. O. Building at 9:00 o'clock Saturday evening. There will be music for dancing. Among the officers expected to be present are: H. Frost, Balley of Miami, state commander; Frank Cates of Port Orange, vice commander; Al Lambert of Miami, Grand Chief De-Gara; and Mead Wilson, national executive committee.

Sayer Says No City Election To Be Held

Due to the fact that Frank L. Miller has withdrawn as a candidate for city commissioner, and that Andrew Carraway is unopposed, no city primary election will take place on Nov. 5, it was announced this morning by City Manager H. N. Beyer.

Mysterious Communist Leader In U.S. Identified As Gerhard Eisler

Boyle Mentioned For Nomination To Senate Post

NEW YORK, Oct. 18, (AP)—The former editor of the Communist newspaper, the Daily Worker, Louis F. Budenz, today named the mysterious figure who allegedly directs all Communist activity in the United States. Budenz declares the man is known as Hans Berger, but that his real name is Gerhard Eisler.

Budenz said he took orders from Berger while he was editing the Communist Daily Worker. Budenz left the Communist Party a year ago, joined the Roman Catholic Church, and now is an economics instructor at Fordham University. Budenz first announced in a speech in Detroit last Sunday the existence of a so-called secret, but dominant figure in American Communist affairs. He did not name the name. Budenz has now named his man but declined to give further information about Berger. The former editor said he would be a witness next month in Washington before the house committee on un-American affairs.

Budenz said in Detroit said in connection with the alleged American communist head: "He never shows his face. He does not appear in official Communist buildings. Few Communist leaders here ever see him. They all, however, follow his orders or suggestions implicitly. His name on an article is a sign that it is official. The average rank and file American Communist, however, never heard of him."

The Daily Worker in yesterday's edition published an interview with Berger. The newspaper referred to him as Gerhard Eisler and quoted him as saying the charges were "too ridiculous to answer." The newspaper said the interview took place in Berger's New York apartment.

The newspaper added that Berger and his wife had planned to sail yesterday for their native Leipzig with State Department approval. The newspaper, however, said their exit permit had been cancelled suddenly.

Baby Pumas Doing Nicely At City Zoo

The little pair of pumas at the Sanford Zoo, offspring of Sid and Josephine, are now showing their spots and are thriving nicely in their own cage compartment, James Moughton, zoo keeper, pointed out this morning. One little puma is male, the other female. Sid, their father, has been very quiet since his escape yesterday.

When Sid got away, the biggest commotion was caused by the monkeys on Monkey Island which set up a clamor until evening as they sat high up on the treetops above their hut. Preacher, in her cage with the three new Yankee monkeys whom she is initiating in Southern customs and traditions, was unable to still the howling, howling and some, say, downright profanity.

ESTONIANS DENIED ENTRANCE INTO U. S. BY JUSTICE DEPARTMENT RULING

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS) A gallant band of 48 northern Europeans, 47 Estonians and one Finn, are waiting aboard their battered fishing boats in Miami harbor today, waiting for the word they had hoped not to hear.

The three groups sailed from their homeland first to escape the Germans and later the Russians and had sought freedom in America. The Justice Department has ruled in Washington that the first group to arrive may not enter America without visas, so the two groups which arrived later know the same decision is in store for them. The groups travelled thou-

Newspapers In State Face Big Paper Shortage

Florida Association Asks Congressmen For Immediate Aid

STUART, Oct. 18, (AP)—The Florida Press Association yesterday said more than 100 Florida newspapers face suspension of publication by January 1 because they have been notified by paper supply houses that they will have no paper to sell after December.

The association, through President Edwin A. Manning, publisher of the Stuart News, called on Florida's Congressional contingent for "immediate relief to break the OPA deadlock on newspaper prices."

Manning sent communications to Congressmen J. Hardin Peterson, Bob Sikes, Emory H. Price, Joe Hendricks, Pat Cannon, Dwight Rogers and Senators Pepper and Holland, warning: "Approximately 100 newspapers in Florida, which are supplied by two paper houses, have been notified that contracts with the mills have expired and that the mills refuse to renew. They have been told flatly that there will be no newsprint after this year ends."

The paper houses have told the Florida publishers that OPA prices are below the world market, as a result of which 99 per cent of the world's newsprint which is manufactured in Canada and Finland is being diverted to Europe, South America and elsewhere. Unless steps are taken immediately to set up new contracts to supply Florida publishers, the foreign mills will have made commitments in other countries which will absorb their production for a year or more in advance and there will be no place to buy the newsprint which Florida publishers must have.

Warning that "it is possible that the damage has already been done," he said, "this is the greatest crisis ever faced by the newspaper industry in Florida."

An additional 125 Florida newspapers, customarily supplied by a Jacksonville paper house, he declared, face a newsprint crisis because of the maritime dock strike. "The firm," he stated, "has contracts with the mills through 1946, but newsprint scheduled to keep its customers publishing through November is already ship scheduled to arrive at Jacksonville October 25."

"Unless steps are taken to settle the dock workers strike, the newsprint on which these 125 papers depend for November publication will be tied up on that ship and instead of only half of the newspapers of the State being crippled by cancellation of newsprint contracts by the mills, virtually 100 per cent of the papers will be crippled or put out of business unless immediate relief is obtained on both counts."

Maybe They Will Do Something About It

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18, (AP)—It could be that maybe something will be done about the current sugar shortage. The coffee urn in the United States Senate cafeteria bears this dismal sign: "No Sugar."

That makes it tough for sweet-toothed Senators.

It is estimated that American college students this year face a shortage of 4,500,000 textbooks.

There are about 1,000 U. S. home fires every day.

Scotland Yard Says Robbery Of Gems Work Of Experienced Thieves

Reds Turn Down Chiang's Latest Truce Proposal

LONDON, Oct. 18, (AP)—Scotland Yard is working today to solve the Windsor jewel theft on the theory that the daring crime was committed by international jewel thieves. Scotland Yard's chief of Windsor told newsmen that he was deeply concerned and annoyed at "the exaggerated reports of the value of the stolen jewelry."

The one-time English king estimated the value of the stolen gems at not more than $50,000. He said that possibly it was lucky after all for it proved she was not the one who slipped him the poison.

Mrs. Goering said she once asked the late Reichsmarschal if he had the poison vial like both of them had, but Goering had told her she was wrong. Mrs. Goering said she would have been started otherwise and given his secret away.

League Of Women To Meet Tuesday Night

Mrs. Mayme Hodgkin, president of the Seminole County League of Women Voters this morning announced that a meeting of the group will be held in the Community Building Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock. She urged all members to be present and to bring another person.

Mrs. Hodgkin, who has just returned from the State Democratic Committee meeting held in Jacksonville, stated that she had an interesting report to make to the League. She will also discuss the proposed amendment to the State Constitution which will be voted on in the Nov. 5 general election.

All women throughout the County who are interested in good government, she said, are invited to attend the Tuesday night meeting and also to become members of the League.

Note Left In Cell Reveals How Late Reichsmarschal In- tended To Take Life

NUERNBERG, Oct. 18, (AP)—Hermann Goering, according to a high source in Nuernberg today, boasted in one of the three notes he left in his cell that he would cheat the hangman. One of the letters, it was learned, revealed how the late Reichsmarschal intended to commit suicide under the nose of the military police that were assigned to guard him.

The letter was addressed to the American commandant of the Nuernberg jail, Col. B. C. Andrus.

Also found in Goering's cell was a letter to his widow, Emmy Goering, and one addressed to the German people, urging them to have courage.

It was also disclosed today in Nuernberg that Hitler's No. one henchman was not the only one of the eleven doomed Nazis who hoped to circumvent Allied retribution. It was revealed that between last January and the day of the execution, military policemen guarding the top German traitors found potential suicide weapons in the cells of the condemned on ten different occasions.

A screw was found in the cell of Baron Constantin Von Neurath. The late Joachim Von Ribbentrop once had a glass vial in his possession.

Mrs. Goering cried today while talking to newsmen about her late husband. She declared, "I can't believe it yet. I can't imagine that this man is no longer alive. He was my husband, and I side with him, and I will side with him after his death too." She said she was glad Goering had been able to take his own life instead of being hanged, and added, "If one may be glad, I am glad."

Mrs. Goering stated that she had longed to be able just to shake hands with him on one of her visits to the Nuernberg jail. The glass between them, preventing her from touching him, was that possibly it was lucky after all for it proved she was not the one who slipped him the poison.

Frank E. Stein, Supt. Of City Ice & Fuel Co. Dies

Wird was received today of the death of Frank E. Stein, superintendent of the City Ice & Fuel Company, a French American. Stein, 57, died at a French Avenue, Paris, was attributed to a heart attack while dining at a restaurant in Jacksonville this morning. He had gone there yesterday on a business trip.

Survivors include one daughter, Miss Charlotte Stein of Sanford; one sister and two brothers of Blue Island, Chicago, where the body will be sent for burial.

Mrs. J. C. Cook and Miss Stein will accompany the remains.

Womack Says Confab Was Good Experience

Mrs. Womack, State Democratic Committeewoman from Seminole County, after attending the meeting of the State Democratic Committee in Jacksonville Tuesday, said yesterday that it was one of the most interesting experiences of her life and she appreciated the opportunity which had been given her for attending it.

Mrs. Womack and Mrs. Mayme Hodgkins were elected last week at a meeting of the Seminole County Democratic Committee as Committeewoman and this was their first occasion for serving in that capacity. The State Democratic Committee nominated Senator Ed Frase, as candidate for the office of State Comptroller, recently vacated by the death of J. M. Lee.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

THOSE WHO TELL US THAT SCIENCE IS THE SALVATION WITHOUT GOD MUST EXPLAIN WHY SCIENCE IS USED NOW TO DESTROY CIVILIZATION WHEN MEN TURN FROM FOLLOWING GOD: These be thy gods which brought thee up out of the land of Egypt—Exodus 32:4.

Price controls have been lifted off of vegetables, among other things. We wish we could tell our former friends this means a fortune for them, but life being what it is, we suspect there'll be plenty of vegetables for everyone in a few months.

Justice Jackson contrasts Hermann Goering's demise with that of Nathan Hale, American Revolutionary hero. Caught and executed as a spy, Hale's last words were "I regret that I have but one life to give for my country." It is hard to make a national hero out of a man who says no thing, takes poison to end it all.

An interesting sidelight on the Comptroller contest is reported by Milton Plum, Tampa Tribune staff writer, who says that Senator Pepper backed the opposition to Governor Caldwell's man, Clarence Gay, and as a result the Governor is almost certain to enter the race against Senator Pepper in 1950. However, 1950 is a long way off and a lot of things can happen before then.

The Tampa Tribune quotes the Constitution to press that Senator Ed Fraser is not qualified to hold the office for which he was recently nominated by the State Democratic Committee: "No Senator or member of the House of Representatives shall, during the term for which he was elected, be appointed or elected to any civil office under the Constitution of this state, that has been created or the emoluments whereof shall have been increased, during such term." Fraser was a member of the Senate which increased the Comptroller's salary from $7,500 to $9,000.

Negotiations with Czechoslovakia for a $50,000,000 loan have been broken off. The State Department reveals because of Czech opposition to American policies in Europe and angry charges of "dollar imperialism" against this country. Czechoslovakia, one of those little Central European nations behind Russia's "iron curtain," has been taking its cue from Moscow, doing its best to help block Secretary Byrnes program for lasting European peace, while at the same time seeking to borrow money from this country for a national system. We say, to hell with it. Let 'em borrow their money from Russia.

Florida business, employing eight or more, are paying state unemployment taxes at the rate of $200,000 a month to a benefit fund which has paid out more than $30,000,000 in the last ten years without an investigation or without many people knowing anything at all about who gets what and why. A Tampa Tribune reporter who has been doing a little investigation on his own account, reveals that unemployment compensation is paid to people who are not entitled to it because of failure of former employers to pay against such payments. When a man quits his job he is not entitled to unemployment compensation, yet many claim it just the same and get it. And many claim to be repeaters who are habitually unemployed.

War Claims

A study of the 75,000 war claims for $66,000,000, paid by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company on the lives of its American and Canadian policyholders during World War II reveals several interesting trends of the mortality in the greatest war of all time, according to the insurance company's statisticians.

By far the greatest number of claims—54,000 of the total—was paid for deaths due to enemy action. This number represents nearly one sixth of the total losses suffered in action by the two countries, the Metropolitan estimates. They also found that the course and intensity of American and Canadian fighting could be accurately charted from the claims paid for battle deaths.

"The mortality from disease was very low among men in service in this war," the company reports. Among the ground forces such deaths were found to be in the ratio of about 1 to 13 battle deaths. In World War I the figures for battle deaths and deaths from disease were approximately equal, while in the Spanish-American war the ratio was exactly reversed; namely, 13 deaths from disease for each battle death. This improvement in the relative mortality from disease is attributed by the statisticians to efficient medical organization and service, skillful surgery, and the use of blood plasma, sulfa drugs, and penicillin.

The record for non-battle injuries—largely accidents—was found to be less satisfactory. The ratio of fatal non-battle injuries to battle deaths was about 1 to 4 among the ground forces, as compared with 1 in 12 in the first World War. This was held to be due largely to the mechanized nature of present-day warfare, as approximately one half of the deaths from accidents resulted from air transport.

The peak of battle death claims was reached in June and July 1944, coincidentally with the D-Day landings and the fighting in Normandy. Minor peaks resulted from the Battle of the Bulge in December 1944, and during the break-through into Germany in March 1945. Preceding the landings in France, the claim curve had been a gradually ascending one, with sharp surges marking the attack on Pearl Harbor, the Dieppe raid, the North African and Sicilian invasions, the landings in the Gilberts, and the fighting in Italy.

Another interesting trend noted by the Metropolitan was that of the civilian war deaths, which amounted to 2 per cent of the deaths from enemy action for the war period as a whole. These fatalities—almost entirely merchant seamen—were relatively much more prominent in the early years of the war when heavy losses were inflicted on our merchant ships.

In 1942 almost one-fifth of the deaths from enemy action in this insurance experience were among civilians, as compared with one-twentieth in 1943, and a negligible proportion in both 1944 and 1945, thus reflecting the subsidence of the submarine menace.

Gadget For Polio

Some army man whose name is now remembered only as Burns invented a particular kind of valve while he was stationed at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, during the war. It was just one of countless gadgets developed by the Army Air Forces because it seemed useful at the time.

That gadget, worth about 50 cents, is now believed to have been a major factor in saving the lives of 16 polio victims. It is used on an oxygen tank; to permit the oxygen to pass through a mask into a person's lungs. When normal lung capacity has been reached, the valve itself shuts off, then opens in time for the next breath.

With this apparatus, a constant flow of oxygen can be maintained without the usual tent which encloses the entire body up to the neck. Thus the Sister Kenny treatment of massage and hot packs can begin before the patient is able to resume normal breathing.

Soldier Burns, who is doubtless a civilian by now, can be very proud of his valve invention. In the extensive, difficult fight against polio, his little gadget seems to have been one of the few practical advances made in a long time.

Use For Poll Tax

Using state taxes to run a political campaign is a new idea advanced by Horace Wilkinson, a Birmingham, Alabama, lawyer who is reputed to have been the chief adviser in James E. Loism's capture of the Democratic primary for governor. Wilkinson proposes doubling the present poll tax, with half of the proceeds going as now to schools, and the other half to finance a campaign to elect a Southern president.

Apart from the constitutionality of the idea, which is more than doubtful, not all southerners would want select. It might also be guessed that there is much less chance of the poll tax being doubled than of being repealed entirely.

Dictatorship Runs Rife

That OPA merely worships its charts and regulations and cares not a whit whether the people have anything to eat or not is illustrated in a story told in The New York Times by Arthur Krock.

The Alberens Stone corporation, operating a quarry in the mountains above Charlottesville, Va., customarily provides for the needs of its employees through a company store, because it is remote from any trading center.

The quarry workers require a substantial diet. Before June 30 the company store bought a truckload of meat a week from Swift and Armour, but when OPA lapped in July, the company, to make sure that its workers got their diet of meat, bought fifteen steers and put them on its farm. An arrangement was made with an abattoir at Charlottesville to slaughter the steers as they were needed.

Then OPA was revived, and forthwith the company was served with a summons over the name of Paul Porter because it had slaughtered four of the steers and sold the meat to its employees at June 30 ceiling prices.

The company demanded to know the basis of charges against it, which were listed in the summons only as a violation of the Second War Powers Act. It was informed by OPA that slaughterers were held to their HIGH-HO! THE DAIRY-O!

Very truly yours, Claude Pepper

Dear Friends: We have now argued again before the Interstate Commerce Commission the case of the reorganization of the Florida East Coast Railroad which has been in bankruptcy. Under the Federal Bankruptcy Law when a railroad is insolvent it is the duty of the Interstate Commerce Commission to determine who of those who apply to operate such a bankrupt railroad can render the best transportation service to the public and work out a plan for the operation of such railroad. The Commission in such cases must under the law provide fair and equitable treatment for creditors.

For many years the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad has been connecting with the FEC at Jacksonville. The FEC gets about half its freight from and delivers about half its freight to the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. The FEC and ACL the great majority of all the passengers that it handles. Since the ACL is an old, well established Southern railroad and has had this long-time connection with the FEC and since it was the only regular railroad company applying for the operation of the FEC I have advocated, as did Senator Peterson, that it should be the public interest for the Atlantic Coast Line to operate the FEC which is 1-8 of the railroad mileage in Florida in any other business of importance than for it to be operated by the St. Joe Paper Company with headquarters at Port St. Joe, Florida, which is a subsidiary of the duPont estate in Florida. I have taken the position that it is not in the public interest to have a railroad which is so vital to the public as the FEC is simply made a cog in a great financial empire like the duPont empire in Florida which already has 17 banks with total resources of nearly $400,000,000 and vast enterprises of many sorts and is rapidly expanding. The reason that there is so great a temptation for the duPont estate in the operation of the FEC, if it got it, to give the best railroad service to the shipper or the manufacturer who did business with the duPont banks. There would be too great a temptation for the duPont estate to give the best reservations on their trains to those who did business with some of the many enterprises belonging to the duPont estate. For instance, it was brought out in the record of this FEC case that in Miami all the tenants of the duPont Building have to sign up in their lease to do business with the duPont bank on the first floor of the building. What if the duPont estate should also say if you have an office in our building or you get reservations at our hotel or if you get reservations on our railroad you have got to do business with the duPont banks. Would that be fair to other carriers? And would it be fair to other

These Women

By ADELAIDE KEHR
AP News Features Writer
Up in Saskatchewan where she was born, Hazel Beam used to look out across the wheatfields and dream of a day when she would do "something different."

Today she has the satisfaction of seeing "something different" created by her hand—documentary quilts, displayed in a one-man show on New York's 57th Street, whose galleries exhibit paintings and antiques that are cherished like jewels.

These quilts, shown in the Betty Shaffer Gallery, are no ordinary silk and velvet concoctions such as grandmothers used to stitch. They are bold, colorful, modernistic designs keyed to such themes as the American square dance, the Shalako Indian ceremony, Japanese relocation camps and San Francisco's celebration of V-J Day.

They were born of several years' work in settlement houses and schools which took the lonely girl from Saskatchewan back and forth across the country to work and live with the people she had longed to do out of the Canadian prairies. Some of the quilts are made of sugar sacks dyed with drug store dyes, but their prices rise to $500.

Look at "Square Dance" and see gay figures dancing beside a big yellow block into the streets at San Francisco. Or see "V-J Day in San Francisco" where sailors and their girls throng into the street to celebrate between the tall business buildings—and the "Columbian Gate Bridge. The quilts are done in applique design of contrasting color and the stitches are fancy. They would have given Victorian grandmother fits.

"There's so much more to it," says Hazel Beam, contemplating new horizons, between thrusts of her swiftly-moving needle in the "What makes Johnny run" stitch which she introduced in the 1930's. She studied two years at the City College of Los Angeles, took her AB at Northwestern University, specializing in sociology, worked at Hull House and prepared for an MA degree at New York University, but did not do her thesis.

She chose instead to do research work for gold mines in northern Ontario and to produce documentary plays at Greenwell house in New York, the Santa Fe Indian school and the Postop, Arizona, Japanese Relocation Camp. While she was contemplating from an illness in Los Angeles, and needed something to keep her hands busy, she bought a loggan package of ready-made quilts.

SHIRKING WOOL GOODS
A new wool dress that comes from its first trip to the cleaners a size too small is a tragedy in any woman's life. To avoid it, wool goods of any kind should be properly shrunk before being worn. This is done by washing in hot water, then to dry, when wool fabrics are in short supply and often hard to come by than in former years.
Many retail stores shrink all wool goods before offering them for sale, but this is a point to make sure of when buying. If the wool has not been shrunk, it may be taken to a tailor of a cleaning and pressing establishment or it may be done at home. Many conflicting directions have been given for shrinking wool at home. U. S. Department of Agriculture clothing specialists in recent tests have found that pressing the entire piece of wool and steam ironing is a simple and satisfactory method of care is taken to hold and press with the weave laid out stretch or pull in the process.
If the fabric is extra wide, it may be easier to leave it doubled and comes in the bolt, during shrinking. If so, the roll should stand a few hours, then be reversed and re-rolled so that the entire piece will shrink evenly before pressing.

New Records In World Series Listed In Books

H. Brecheen Is First Southpaw To Win Three Series Titles

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Just for the record, here's the list of World Series achievements that were notched in the record books in the annual Fall classic just ended.

Harry Brecheen of St. Louis, by winning Tuesday's finale, became the first southpaw even to win three series games and the ninth pitcher to accomplish such a feat.

The Cardinals 20 hit spree in the fourth game led a record and that coupled with Boston's nine hits set a new mark of 29 hits for a single game.

Another record was the three on field assists on throws to the plate in one game by Slaughter of St. Louis and DiMaggio and Williams of Boston in the fourth game.

Other new records were:

Two outfield assists in one inning by one team set by DiMaggio and Williams of Boston in the fifth frame of the fourth game.

Three players in one team making four hits each in one game set bylaughter, Kurovski and Caragiala of St. Louis in the fourth contest.

Boston's Bobby Doerr set a record for most series assists by a second baseman with 31.

Kurovski of the Cards set a record for third baseman starting most double plays in one game with two in the sixth game.

There were no less than nine (he, series records) hits in that last record were Boston's use of six pitchers in the fourth game; Slaughter going to bat twice in the ninth inning of the fourth game; Boston's Doerr, handling eight assists in third game; Boston's use of 18 players in the fourth game; all starting nine Cardinals hitting safely in the fourth game; Boston's use of 28 players in the entire series; Slaughter and Schoendienst, leading in hits in the series; and Slaughter and Schoendienst of the Cards going to bat six times in the fourth game.

There you have it, the series in a record book.

Miami Fullback

Bob McDougal, hard plunging U. of Miami fullback. The big boy is one of the most terrific line smashers ever to come to the Hurricanes. He will be seen in action Saturday when Miami battles Florida.

Two Bowling Teams Formed Last Night

Two teams were formed and bids to sponsor three others were made last night at the first meeting of the City Bowling League at the Sanford Bowling Alleys.

Sponsors and captains of the two teams formed were: W.O.W., captained by Jack Evans and Laney's whose captain is Holden David. Other sponsors are the Jaycees, Wight Brothers and the St. John's Electric Company.

A meeting of team captains and sponsors will be held Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock. League bowling will begin Wednesday night.

SPORTS LAUGH

Golf fans are usually well up on the fine points of the game and know a good shot when they see one especially in tournaments.

A first-time galleryite must have been present at the United States Open in Cleveland back in June.

Vic Ghezzi teed off on the short eleventh hole and hit a beautiful, iron shot that stopped exactly two inches from the pin.

As the gallery approached the green, one fan was heard to say: "Gosh, this game must be harder than it looks, the ball didn't go in."

Miami Passes

Hal Johnston, U. of Miami's new passing sensation. The former Little Creek Service team star, is now a key man in the Hurricane offensive. He plays tailback. He will be seen in action in Gainesville tomorrow when Miami battles Florida.

Tenn. Teams Excel In Defense On Grid

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., (AP)—Only four teams have scored as many as three touchdowns against University of Tennessee football teams coached by Bob Neyland.

Vanderbilt scored a 20-3 victory in 1926, Neyland's first year as head coach of the Vols; Alabama whipped Tennessee, 18-0, in 1930. Auburn won 20-7 in 1937, and Boston College won 19-13 in the 1941 Sugar Bowl game.

The University of Florida 1945 Fighting Gator grid eleven will run offense plays from the single and double wing.

The March of the Fighting Gators is the official fight song of the University of Florida football team.

Bear Hunting

Part of the vast Apalachicola National Forest will be thrown open for supervised public bear hunts next month, but only so-called he-men are being encouraged to participate.

National Forest supervisor John Squires warns: "Bear hunting is no sport for tenderfeet. In addition to personal courage and stamina, success depends largely on having good bear dogs and a guide familiar with the swamps and habits of the local bear."

INSIDE SPORTS REPORT

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR.

COACH GANAS
Credit should be given where credit is due and plenty of praise should go to Coach Fred Ganas of Seminole High School.

The Baby Feds entertained the Junior Varsity of the Seabreeze High in Daytona Beach Wednesday night in one of the most impressive games played on the local field in a long time.

The Feds were outwitted by the Sand Crabs by 10 to 12 pounds to the man and the small Sanford boys really gave them more trouble than they bargained for.

Ganas has done a magnificent job of getting these youngsters into trim and teaching them the rudiments of the game so that they will be of value to the varsity next year and years following.

These "B" squad tilts are fine training periods for the freshman and sophomores who desire to play, but are yet too small for the varsity competition.

Wednesday night the youngsters really put on a show for all those present and any football fan who missed the game really missed a swell contest.

BLEACHERS
Announcement came yesterday from H. E. Morris, acting County Superintendent that an order has been placed with the Educational Surplus Property division of the War Assets Administration at Tallahassee to secure sectionalized bleachers.

These bleachers will seat approximately 2000 persons, and will be placed on the north side of the field for the use of students and band of Seminole High School during football games.

There has been a need for extra seats on the local high school field for years and this column has been advocating such Poor Penn.

Football rallies have been banned at the University of Pennsylvania for the remainder of the season. The school ruling followed a pep meeting last Friday night in which a policeman was injured and traffic was snarled for more than an hour.

In announcing the new ruling, the dean of student affairs, Arnold Henry, declared: "It has been decided that ball games have been traditional as an expression of confidence in the team. However, the disturbance following the rally last Friday evening showed a regrettable disregard for the rights and properties of others and for University regulations expressly forbidding such conduct."

Suggests Rule Change
Coach Frank Murray of the Marquette football team suggests that the grid rules be changed so that a defensive driver would be required to use at least six men in the line.

Murray says that quarterbacks are now bewildered by what he termed screwy defensive formations. He added that young signal callers are being perplexed by the second defensive shifts to five and even four man defensive walls.

Murray continued: "The football code requires seven offensive players on the line. It should also require a certain number of defensive players."

YOU CAN'T WIN
AP Newsfeatures
OCEANPORT, N. J.—Here's one race track fan who was "glad-handled" right into the hospital.

Edward Loatin of nearby Long Branch had picked a winner at the Monmouth Park track and was busy shaking hands with friends when he congratulatory became too effective. Loatin was taken to Monmouth Memorial Hospital with a dislocated shoulder.

Tulane and Southern California will resume an interrupted gridiron rivalry in New Orleans on Dec. 21—provided neither team receives and accepts a bowl bid.

BACK ACHE DUE TO KIDNEYS?
Read This! If excess acidity of your urine makes your back ache so you groan... so you get up three or four times a night to pass water, now is the time to act.

Three generations ago a famous doctor noticed that hundreds of his patients had "back aches." He developed a medicine made of exactly the right amount of sixteen herbs, roots, vegetables, and balsams—truly Nature's own way to relief.

Now millions have used it. The medicine is Dr. Kliner's Swamp-Root. Instilling you take it. It starts to work instantly on those excess acids that may be causing your backache... increasing the flow of urine to help ease that burning sensation when you pass water... and that bladder irritation that makes you get up nights. Caution: take as directed. You'll say it's really marvelous.

For low cost supply, send to Dept. U, Kliner's Co., Inc., Box 1253, Stamford, Conn. Or—get full-sized bottle of Swamp-Root today at your druggist.

SPORTS ODDITY
By Associated Press

Back in 1913, there was a rugged young fighter named Preston Brown. In fact, he was so rugged he fought his way into men in one night, in the same ring, and layed each of them in the first round.

His victims' names were Harry Law, Sam Willis, Jack Reardon, young Sam Langford, Kid Locke and Willie Smith.

It happened at the Broadway Athletic Club in Philadelphia.

The Bucknell University football team of 1933 won six games, and scored just six touchdowns.

The 1933 Bison defeated Temple by one point, won from Penn State by three points and squeezed by Western Maryland by three points. Washington and Jefferson was beaten by six points and Penn-Military College by seven. The Bisons of '33 really had a scoring spree against Ursinus, winning by twenty points.
