Please "spell it out!" When we look at the many offices which will be decided in November when Seminole county's registered voters-a number we are happy to note is increasing daily-cast ballots, the obligation of making the political statements clear and unemotional is even more important.

The birth of a Republican county organization which can field a team of vigorous, pugnacious and confident aspirants for offices which have been considered the private property of Democrats has already and is bound to further develop heated con-

We would hope that even these friends and neighbors would-regardless of their personal feelings about the man now in the White House-realize that what he has done in this Humphrey endorsement was necessary and is clarifying.
We do not comment on what effect on the Humphrey candidacy this open boost from President Johnson will have. But we do believe that he did what was needed in this contest and set an example of clear speaking that all endorsers and all candidates for all elective offices can follow with benefit to Sanford-Boats!

There is just no way of knowing what good comes to our city from the word-of-mouth and personal example which our leading industrialists provide. Take for example the fact that a boating industry exhibit opens in Chicago today. Add to this that our Cobia-Cobra boats will be on display. These alone are the kind of witness that will make the name Sanford known and known

But the real contribution will be made by Harold Slama, chairman of the board and Earl Smith, president of Southern Fiberglass Products, Inc., subsidiary of Ashland Oil and Refining Company. Messrs. Slama and Smith know Sanford, were key figures with the courage and vision to appreciate our lakefront with the marina and the increasingly well-known Monroe Harbour, boat storage and serving facility. It can be taken for granted that this Chicago exposition which is attracting 25,000 trade buyers from every state and more than 50 overseas countries will hear about Sanford. The exposition is owned and operated by the Boating Industry Association, is believed to be the largest trade show ever presented for any industry and launches the 1969 model year for the increasingly popular pleasure boating busi-

Sanford is a newcomer in the ranks of those areas where the boating business is taken seriously and where the manufacture of boats has sprung up with considerable vitality.

Thus we would like to call attention to our fellow-townsmen to what such an industry means, especially when it has such enthusiastic and brilliant spokesmen as Harold Slama and

In paying this tribute to them, we do not in any way intend to lessen our support for and appreciation of other industrialists who have chosen Sanford as a place to live and to thrive. But we do intend to blow our horn for San-ford and for Sanfordnes who blow the city's horn whenever and wherever!

'Show Of Homes' Grand Opening Starts Sunday

Grand opening for second addition of Idyllwilde of Loch Arbor starts Sunday and will continue open to the public daily from 10:30 a.m. until 7 p.m. As part of the introduction, a free trip for two to Nassau will be awarded. Those attending the opening will be invited to register with no obligation. The Show of Homes is being presented by San-

IDYLLWILDE OF LOCH ARBOR (SECOND ADDITION).

James Lee, LeRoy Robb and William Bramley, Each has built two models which feature modern living at its finest, offered in the $25,000 to $28,000 price area. All are Gold Medallion homes with electric heat and air and complete electric kitchens with most featuring the latest drop-in oven type ranges. Other equipment includes double steel sinks, dishwashers, refrigerators and garbage disposals.

The eight models, all of concrete block construction, are situated on large landscaped lots with many trees, including fruit, magnolia, oak and pines, Central sewer and water service is provided by Southern Galf Utilities.

Interiors have wall-to-wall carpeting with kitchens and baths covered in vinyl floor tile and foyers with two or two-and-a-half baths, living room, family room, dining room, and double garages. Some are fitted with outside doors to provide opening for a future swimming pool if desired. There is an abundance of spacious closets in each.

Wood panelling and attractive wallpapers are used effectively throughout the rooms and bath and shower areas are tiled.
