The Gift Cigar
By Wilbur D. Nesbit

Don't laugh! But she gave me cigars,
Selected the things by their color,
They came in one of those jars—
I think they were called "the
"Maud Muller."
I've read all these gift cigar jokes,
I know I must read them hereafter;
Please wait for the place for the laughter.

Don't smile! But she bought them her self.
I know how she talked to the dealer—
She looked at each box on the shelf
And spoke of the wrapper as "peeler."
O, beautiful looking were they—
I think they were called the
"Maud Muller."
Of course you think now of hay,
Unless, as I was, you are duller.

Don't grin! They wore gilt and red bands,
And really looked quite artistic.
She says that she now understands Why smoking has charms that are mystic.
She says that's it cheering to see How much as I smoke I enjoy them.
I know you are choking with glee
And think that I wished to destroy them.

Now, wait, Well, I sat down and smoked;
She placed the ash tray on the table,
I chuckled and subtly I joked—
"Maud Muller," you know was the label.
Well, talk of your jokes on cigars!
I said you might laugh when I'd ended.

These came in one of those jars—
And, honestly now, they were splendid.

est prosperity in this country. He says:
"The planets indicate the year 1915 will be the most prosperous year known in the history of this country. There will be great waves of prosperity throughout the United States; plenty of labor for the laboring classes; better conditions for the poorer classes. Peace will reign throughout the world.
The European war will end during the early months of the year, not later than April, with satisfactory results to all nations."

Good for Prof. Marsh. That is the kind of talk we like to hear, no matter what the source of the inspiration. But the professor does not stop with predicting good times and the end of the war for he delves into the future and predicts good rains generally throughout the year, "well watered." And while there is a tendency on the part of some people to make fun of all kinds of professional predictors, our hat goes off to Prof. Marsh if he has the dope mixed so that it will take.

A Washington despatch of Yesterday says the success of experiments by 33,420 members of girls' garden and canning clubs, organized in the south by the department of agriculture has prompted many southern farmers to plant vegetables suitable for canning purposes as substitutes for cotton. That is characterized by the department as an important step toward solution of the problem of reducing the cotton surplus. The statement said:

"Daughters of southern farmers, who have been members of the department's garden and canning clubs have been able to give their fathers practical demonstrations of the value of diversification during the present bad cotton year. The actual products which the girls have put up are proving a valuable asset in many farm homes where the cotton crop has not brought the customary returns and many farmers are now substituting whole acres of onions and tomatoes in place of cotton after seeing the success which the young women have made with these crops."

Would it not be a good plan for the girls of this section to organize canning clubs?

Only a few years ago the auto was looked upon merely as an adjunct for the pleasure of the rich.
Less than a score of years ago when even the expensive machines were very, very crude, none believed that the use of the machines would ever become almost universal—for there were two objectionable features: the extremely high cost and the inefficient service they gave. Step by step—or literally bound by bound, there came an era of excellence of manufacture and a reduction of price until it seems now that nothing better need be desired.

But for the auto there would still be millions of acres adjacent to thousands of growing cities still in their primitive state—for the machines have done more to improve suburban tracts than anything else, and rendered it possible for a business man to reside at a considerable distance from his place of occupation. And now comes the war—where the auto is much in evidence for every purpose imaginable—and the source of supply is, of course, in turning out a product far superior to those made elsewhere. In one order the British government is now about to close a deal for 6,500 motor trucks—and this will prove but the beginning if the present conditions shall long continue.

Did You Ever Drink Perry?
Did you ever drink perry? It is to be seen what cider is to apples, and although it is little known in America, it is widely used in England and special varieties of pears, which make especially good perry, are grown for that purpose.

OLD LONDON JOURNAL

GAZETTE IS MOST VENERABLE
BRITISH NEWSPAPER.

Publication Has for Two Hundred and Fifty Years Officially Chronicled
the History of the Island Empire.

Modern newspaper enterprise has somewhat dwarfed the importance of the London Gazette, Britain's oldest newspaper, which for 250 years has officially chronicled the history of the country. Today it is practically only used for such announcements as the king's birthday honors list and legal notices. Time was, however, when the Gazette was the only medium through which the public could learn any foreign news or any public announcement which royalty and statesmen had to make.

Nowadays such announcements, while being sent to the London Gazette, are simultaneously communicated to the more important newspapers. But even today the London Gazette is controlled by the government, and a particularly watchful eye is kept on the advertisements in its pages, which are regulated by law. These advertisements are mostly of an official or legal character, of which it is necessary to keep a record, and earn for the nation about $50,000 a year. No great manufacturer could obtain a puff in its pages, even though he were willing to pay $50,000 a line for it. Altogether, the Gazette yields the country a profit of about $100,000 a year, although practically the only people who buy it are government officials and lawyers.

One of the most curious facts regarding the London Gazette is that while it is Britain's oldest newspaper, it is also one of the youngest, in the sense that it was not until 1908 that it was registered at the general post office for transmission by inland post as a newspaper. Previously it had been regarded as a government publication only, and was dispatched "O. H. M. S."—in this way escaping postal charges altogether. But apparently the government saw a way to reap a few extra halfpence by having it registered.

The Gazette varies in size very considerably. Sometimes it consists merely of one page, and sometimes of between four and five hundred, but the price always remains the same, viz.
one shilling. There was one memorable week in 1847, which was known as the "Railway Year," when so many parliamentary notices had to be published that the Gazette for the week totalled about three thousand pages.

One of the most interesting numbers of the Gazette ever published was the Diamond Jubilee number, the whole paper being devoted to an official record of that historic celebration.

As an illustration of the importance of the Gazette in the old days, it might be mentioned that as recently as the Crimean war the Gazette was the first to publish that important item of news, the victory of Alma. At one time the London newspapers had to wait for the publication of the Gazette in order to secure such news of public importance as the list of casualties, which the war office in those days sent direct to Fleet street.

It is the proud boast of Messrs.
Harrison, who for more than one hundred and thirty years published the London Gazette, that although kings and cabinet ministers contributed to its pages during the time they published the paper, and although thousands of employees were engaged on the work of producing the Gazette, no official secrets sent to them for publication have ever leaked out.

The Gazette is probably the only paper which returns the original copy to its authors along with the proof. This is done in the case of communications from sovereigns and cabinet ministers.

Activities of Women.

It is claimed that women medical students complete their course much quicker than men.

The average earnings of women employed in the clothing trade in England is $2.12 per week.

Women among the lower classes in New York have started a crusade against high rents.

Women constitute only four per cent of the persons engaged in transportation in this country.

Women are now prohibited from working between certain hours at night in 14 European countries.

In Persia women are forbidden to go unveiled in the presence of any man but her husband.

A Pennsylvania woman paid $25,000 to a beauty doctor to make her a physical ornament to her home.

Teachers in the Newtown, Mass., kindergarten schools receive only $300
a year salary.

Waterproof Cement.

It is said that the United States army engineers have long used the following mixture for waterproofing cement: One part of cement, two parts of sand, three-quarters of a pound of dry powdered alum to each cubic foot of sand. These are mixed and dried, and to them is added water in which has been dissolved three-quarters of a pound of soap to each gallon. This, it is said, is nearly as strong as ordinary cement, and is quite impervious to water, and does not effloresce. For a wash, a mixture of one pound of lye and two pounds of alum in two gallons of water is often used.—Scientific American.

WITH BOGUS PISTOLS

INSTANCES OF THIEVES HAVING BEEN SCARED OFF.

Trick is an Old Oge, But Baldom Falls of Success—Prank of New York High School Boys That Looked Serious.

Recently Solomon Herman of Manhattan scared into flight two thieves who entered his store by pointing his index finger at them and fooling them into supposing that he had a revolver.
It is an old trick and yet it succeeds, just as the confidence man can always sell a gold brick to a farmer who never heard of Hungry Joe.

A short time ago river thieves boarded a tug moored along the Hudson and attempted to enter the captain's cabin and secure money and valuables from a small safe he had there. The engineer of the little boat heard the thieves, and creeping up out of the engine room called: "Halt!
Who's that? Halt, or I'll fire!" At the same time he ran around the side of the cabin with a dipper handle.

Not until the thieves got ashore did it seem to occur to them that there couldn't have been a pistol in their disturber's hand or he would have fired. When it came to mind they retreated to a safe distance, and then shaking their fists at the grinning engineer cursed him profusely.

Over near Hunt's Point a few months ago they had an amusing case of cross "pistol" purposes. Several dwellings had been robbed and everybody in the vicinity became suspicious of the slightest unusual movement after dark. Two high school boys planned a masked holdup of a citizen after dark. They held him up all right, both presenting proper looking pistols with shiffling barrels. After the citizen handed out all of his valuables and whined abjectly that he had nothing more the boys revealed themselves.

In a great rage the citizen then blew a police whistle and a mounted officer galloped up. The boys protested they had only joked with a neighbor.
The citizen declared they should be punished. The officer was willing to look lightly on the affair until it was pointed out that pistols had been brandished.

This made the matter serious. The officer arrested the boys and took from them the weapons that might bring them a term of years in prison, so heavy is the New York penalty.
But when the pistols were exposed the whole matter was dropped. The pistols were first rate imitations of the real thing, only in this case they could explode nothing more deadly than a cap.—New York Herald.

When Poisoned by Ivy.

After exposure to poison ivy, the ill effects can often be warded off by prompt removal of the irritating substance. Vigorous washing with soap and water, preferably using a hand brush, and after that with alcohol, will do this. This often prevents the ill effects, and often when the characteristic inflammation has become manifest it can be reduced to slight intensity by the same measure. This cannot be done, however, after the irritation has become intense; vigorous washings are impossible and alcohol painful. Witch hazel water, followed by application of dusting powder, is comforting. Salves are not well borne as a rule, and if the poisoning has reached a stage not controlled by these treatments, it is best to have professional treatment, as few, if any, of the innumerable domestic remedies prove to be entitled to reliance.

Cat Led Him Home.

Smith and Jones met in the smoke end of a Pullman car one afternoon, and during a gabfest Smith referred to the town into which he had just moved.

"The streets of the blooming burg," he eloquently described, "are the crookedest of anything in that line on the face of the earth. You may not believe it, but a couple of days after we got there my wife had a cat that she wanted to lose and told me to take it over and leave it along the river about a mile distant. Well, sir—"
"I see, old pal," smilingly interjected the other. "That's where you lost the cat all right."

"You've got another guess," returned Smith. "If I hadn't followed the cat I would never have found my way back home."

Long and Merry.

A short life and a merry one! The most fallacious quip ever uttered.
Why need a life be short to be merry? Rather make it a long and a merry one. There's more sweetness in a dollar's worth of sugar than in the lump or two that goes in the coffee at dinner.

A long life and a merry one, sanely, usefully, wholesomely merry. That is the life. The other counterfeit maxim came when youth and folly first tasted the quick dregs that come to those who try the short and merry.

A short life and a merry one! Bah!
There's no such thing, unless it be by accident—the chance cutting off of a life that was to have been a long life and a merry one.—Kansas City Star.

Benedict's Dilemma.

"You seem to be having a struggle over that letter."
"Yes; I want my wife to think I miss her, but I don't want her to get to feeling so sorry for me that she'll hustle home."—Kansas City Journal.

Now all hearts turn to the new year. It is better to make good resolutions even if they do not last than to be careless about even trying to be better than before in purpose and conduct.

Bob Holly says in the Sanford Herald that since gasoline went down to 15 cents his automobile has been wrecked. When gasoline was 30 cents, and cash at that, his hay-tedder was in running order. In other words his car looks like thirty cents now.—Clearwater Sun.

The Sanford Herald has not been reading the Tampa papers lately, a breach that is certain to have a disastrous effect upon the quality of the Herald if it is kept up. Neither Ed. Lambright or Gilbert Leach or Goodie Querry or Justin Worthington or Bob Bentley wrote any "wet" stuff during the recent wet or dry election. Their papers were "on the fence" and there isn't a man in the bunch who likes to see his paper on the fence in any issue. Miami Metropolis.

Seminole county is working steadily towards making the annual fair, to be held in Sanford in February a great success. Many special features for entertainment and interest will be included in the program and thousands of visitors are expected. The county fair is an institution that does not go out of fashion, and it is always a good thing for the county and town where it is held, the only question ever being the amount of benefit Sanford will be ready to receive and entertain the crowds on February 3 and the people of Sanford know how to make visitors enjoy themselves. Times Union.

Five drunks hauled up in dry Orlando in one day; one "wet" St. Petersburg in a week. It is a fair proposition, and the wets are entitled to the use of it. Of course it is not prohibition but negligent officials in Orlando, but results count and the wets can properly point to the results in Orlando.—St. Petersburg Times.

We fail to see the negligence on the part of the Orlando officials if they are arrested five to Petrograd's one. Looks to us like Orlando's officers were strictly on the job and Petrograd officers were very slow.

INTERLOCKING
The legislature meets in April and it will be necessary to elect a speaker of the house. Cary A. Hardee, of Suwannee county and Forrest Lake of Seminole county are the two prominent candidates for the place. The Sanford Herald wants Mr. Lake on that job and says that "he has a great way of getting whatever he goes after." The Telegram has no preference to express at this time, but from long acquaintance with Mr. Hardee we are strong in the conviction that he, too, has a great way of getting whatever he goes after. In fact, he has conspicuous talent in that direction and if he goes after the speakership we shouldn't hesitate to back him as a winner if we were of the betting kind. A hard man to head off is Cary Hardee, and under an exterior as smooth as silk he has an interlocking steel frame work.—Lakeland Telegram.

THE COMMISSION FORM
Cedar Rapids is another city that reports favorable experience with the commission plan of government. Its former government had regularly spent more than its income, and its warrants were commonly at a discount. The new government took over its administration with a bonded debt of $712,000, and placed it immediately on a business basis. In three years the commissioners reduced taxes each year; spent more on improvements than in the ten preceding years; paid off $165,000 of its bonded debt and employed more men than ever before at higher wages. Des Moines and Cedar Rapids then found themselves the centers of a nation-wide interest. Expert testimony was called for and Ernest A. Sherman of Cedar Rapids, and John MacVicar of Des Moines, became its exponents. They campaigned over the United States and spread the gospel of commission rule. Legislation permitting cities to adopt commission government has been passed in Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado, Idaho, California, Iowa, Missouri, West Virginia, Louisiana, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Carolina, South Carolina, Alabama, Michigan, Washington, Montana, New Jersey, and Massachusetts. Florida would have adopted a similar legislation at the 1913 session had it not been for the failure of the members to the legislature to fully appreciate the importance of such an advanced step. There is hope of having the laws so changed at the next session next year whereby each municipality may, providing a majority of the electors so choose, adopt the commission form without the useless formality and delay of securing permission from the state legislature.

A DOUBLE STANDARD
There are two very distinct classes of newspapers in this country—two extremes—and the public sets a different standard for each. Just why, no one knows—but it does.

More than fame and more than money is the comment kind and sunny. And the hearty warm approval of a friend. For it gives to life a savor, and it makes you stronger, braver, and it gives you heart and spirit to the end. If he earns your praise, bestow it if you like him, let him know it. Let the words of true encouragement be said. Do not wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover. For he can not read his tombstone when he's dead! Philadelphia Telegraph

Arkansas arrived last week and will spend some time with her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Clark at their country home. She is always a pleasant guest of her many friends. Mrs. Simmie Harrison is the charming guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. M. Jones.

Why the double standard?
ADVERTISE FLORIDA
As the New Year approaches and brings nearer the next session of the Florida legislature, it is time to begin a plan of campaign to secure an appropriation from the legislature to advertise the state of Florida in the north and east. There has never been a state directed plan of advertising for Florida or any southern state. California has had something along that line but not quite broad enough in its scope, and yet a plan out of which great results and benefits for the state have come.

Florida has millions of acres of good lands that have never been touched by a plow. These lands are susceptible of a high state of profitable cultivation and development. They can be made to produce good crops of the things that are now in the greatest demand and are bringing high prices and prosperity to the states that are producing meats and mand from Europe. The demand is bound to increase much more rapidly than the supply can be increased. The agricultural sections that have been producing all the necessary foodstuffs will be overtaxed, and much new territory must be developed. It is our duty as well as our opportunity, and we cannot afford to overlook it, from any standpoint whatsoever. An advertising campaign that would bring thousands of farmers to Florida and open up a few millions of acres of our raw land to development would give Florida an impetus such as she has never had, and that would carry it forward in prosperity and development in ten years, more rapidly than it has gone in a century. A small expenditure would give the state that publicity it so much needs, and would induce thousands to come here who are considering other places. When lands in northern states reach a price too high for purchase and the promotion of farm crops, then the farmer must go to another locality and secure new land in a new country, and develop it as his forefathers developed the land he is leaving. In this way he not only earns a living for himself and family, but every year is creating greater and greater values for himself and family. Land that is tilled and made profitable grows constantly in value, and every time a farmer takes fifty dollars from an acre, he is not drawing any of his principal of land, but adding to its value. Florida has openings for millions of farmers. The soil and the climate are here, and we are near the great market centers. We have every argument in our favor, and only need the right kind of persistent, consistent advertising to make the state what it ought to be.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

DANGER THRILLS LIKED BY PUBLIC

AVIATORS WHO HAVE ACCIDENTS DRAW LARGE CROWDS

Aviator Karl Kuhl, the famous flyer who is to give exhibition flights at Sanford during the Seminole County Fair daily, Feb. 3, 4, 5 and 6 says that after an aviator falls or is injured or killed at a big meet the attendance is always larger the next day. In a recent interview while flying at Cincinnati, Mr. Kuhl has the following to say:

"Statistics show that after an accident there is always a larger crowd the next day. This is one of the sadder and sad sides of aviation, yet an aviator realizes that he takes his life in his own hands and rides with death every time he leaves the ground in his frail craft, and the more he flirts with the grim reaper, the better the spectators like it. After an accident, strange to say, there is always a rush of the morbidly curious to the scene and it is with the greatest difficulty the spectators are kept from carrying away the machine piece-meal. In many cases souvenir crazed people even try to decipher pieces of clothing worn by the aviator. With aviation intentions being brought out considerably, each said to be the problem solver of stability, some are really worth while but none of which have been perfected. Interest of spectators naturally turns to the number of deaths caused by the lack of stability. Records show that nearly 600 aviators have met their deaths since the science of aviation was born.

The chance of seeing another aviation victim always attracts a crowd. Of all the accidents, perhaps the spiral glide has been the cause of more aviators meeting their death than any other one thing notwithstanding this fact, the great majority of spectators always want this feat on the program.

Diversified Plantings Are Safe Plantings

Never before was the wisdom of diversification in both planting and both growing so apparent as now. The ill-effects of the one crop policy never was so acute. Diversification should be practiced in the general conditions of the country. It will produce a more permanent and profitable business. A properly diversified planting provides the greatest profits and an all-around security.

Figs and Assorted Fruits Insure Permanent Profitable Diversification

Plant figs for home consumption, to supply local markets, and third, for commercial shipping to distant markets. Figs are well adapted to both high land and low-lying country. Careful selection of figs and growing and very profitable. If you plant figs, you will have a permanent source of income. Figs are well adapted to both high land and low-lying country. Careful selection of figs and growing and very profitable. If you plant figs, you will have a permanent source of income.

Large Soft Shell Pecans, Staple as Bacon or Beef

Pecans are one of the most profitable crops that can be raised in the South. They are well adapted to both high land and low-lying country. Careful selection of pecans and growing and very profitable. If you plant pecans, you will have a permanent source of income.

Jobs, Shade Trees and Shrubbery Make the Home More Attractive

The best time to plant shade trees and shrubbery is now. They will give you a permanent source of income. They are well adapted to both high land and low-lying country. Careful selection of shade trees and shrubbery and growing and very profitable. If you plant shade trees and shrubbery, you will have a permanent source of income.

Griffing's Macleady Trees are Tested, Tried and True

At our Macleady Nursery, near Jacksonville, Fla., we have the true Macleady tree, which is the best of all shade trees. It is well adapted to both high land and low-lying country. Careful selection of Macleady trees and growing and very profitable. If you plant Macleady trees, you will have a permanent source of income.

Oranges and Grapefruit Trees Grown in Northern Florida

This season we offer citrus trees only from our Macleady Nursery, located in Northern Florida. We have the best of all citrus trees, which are well adapted to both high land and low-lying country. Careful selection of oranges and grapefruit trees and growing and very profitable. If you plant oranges and grapefruit trees, you will have a permanent source of income.

Griffing's Service Bulletins

Give in confidence to the experienced men who have selected the best of all citrus trees, which are well adapted to both high land and low-lying country. BASEBALL

Sunday baseball in Washington has been declared illegal.

If the Feds are through and are seeking to quit cold, why do they keep on signing players?

Being turned back to Pittsburgh has about exhausted the publicity gamut for Marty O'Toole.

George Stallons receives $15,000 for six weeks in vaudeville—which is nothing compared to what the public receives.

Rodgers, a Pacific coast star from Portland, is said to be slated for Larry Lajole's job with Cleveland. The coast is popular since Bill James came through.

Texas is coming back as a training ground after the Florida boom of the last two years. The Browns are going back to Houston after spending one season in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Babe Barton, who was relegated to the minors after falling to supplant Hal Chase in New York's affections, and who has played a brilliant first base for Venice in the Coast league, has signed a St. Louis Federal contract.

Some old may explain the "why" of secret football practice, but it isn't us.

Walter Kennedy, captain of the 1899 championship Chicago eleven, is engaged in the newspaper business in Albion, Mich.

Penn State students, celebrating the tie with Harvard, touched a match to five barrels of gasoline. This proves the value of higher education.

Willie Heston, one of the best backs who ever graced a western gridiron, is practicing law in Detroit. Aside from his law practice, Heston officiates in minor football games in the northern peninsula.

PUGILISM

Mick King is touted as a comer in Milwaukee. He weighs in at 158.

Tom O'Rourke's new fight palace in Brooklyn will soon be a reality.

England is sending boxing gloves to its men at the front. Now look out for the Irish.

Bob Moha is training for his re-entry into the ring. He may meet Jim Smith or Battling Levinsky for a new start.

They say Willie Lewis is to retire. He gave Georges Carpentier a hard go two years ago and showed well with other tough ones.

HORSE RACING

Directum I is at Kirkwood, Del., where he will be wintered by Dr. J. C. McCoy.

I. G. D., 2:12 3/4, a trotter about which a lot is being said, is a brother of Luella Spler, 2:07 3/4.

Pittsburgh, Fort Erie and Hartford are sure to drop out of the grand circuit, according to Cleveland advices.

Geers has driven five trotters in better than 2:04. They are the Harvester, Anvil, Etawah, Dudle Archdale and Highball.

BILLIARDS

Bill Bowman, veteran billiardist, who taught many of the present-day stars of the game, is dead at Cincinnati.

De Oro announces that he is ready to defend the three-cushion billiard championship against Willie Hoppe for any sum up to $10,000. The Cuban does not believe that Hoppe is his master at this style of play, as the balk-line wizard's father claims.

MISCELLANEOUS

St. Louis has 50 ten-pin leagues, comprising 490 teams and 5,000 players.

England has applied for 100,000 chauffeurs. Well 100,000 chauffeurs ought to whip any army.

Capt. Ernest Graves, who has coached the line candidates for the Army eleven in recent years, is once again on the job at West Point.

The war is serving to bring the blue blood of English kennels this side the Atlantic, as continental markets are no longer open for breeding purposes.

Walter Camp has resigned from the treasurership of the Yale Athletic union, a position he has held since founding the union 21 years ago. The step marks his gradual retirement from the active field of Yale athletics, a point he has evidently desired to reach for some years.

Uncle Sam Offers All Americans a Chance to Feed Starving Belgium

Arrangements Made For Sending Parcel Post Packages From Rural Districts. How to Aid the Stricken Little Sister of the World

By WILL IRWIN

HOMELESS BELGIAN WOMEN ON THE WAY TO THE BREAD LINE.

FOR the first time in its history the postoffice department has been enlisted in a charitable undertaking. From this time forth any American who wishes to give food to the starving people of Belgium has only to stamp his parcel in the regular way and send it through the parcel post. It will go as straight and fast as rail and water will carry it to the doors of the starving Belgians, and the money he has paid for stamps will be refunded to the donor by the American Commission For Relief In Belgium, the executive offices of which are at 71 Broadway, New York city.

Seven million people, mostly women, children and old men, are still shut up in Belgium. Industry stopped when the Germans came; the money gave out through the payment of fines, and indemnities; the crops were mainly ruined. With the coasts cut off, Belgium, which imports three-quarters of her food supply in normal times, could import no more. Work is gone; money is gone; most important of all, food is gone. The German conquerors, who need their own supplies to guard against the proposed "siege of Germany" by the allies, cannot and will not feed them. The allies, fearing that the Germans will seize any food coming from a hostile source, cannot or will not feed them. America must feed them or they will starve. There is no other way. Seven million people, until last year the most industrious, peaceable and prosperous nation in Europe, will go to their graves this winter unless America gives us never nation gets before.

While Belgium needs everything, she needs most of all just food—non-perishable food which will stand the test of ocean transportation, such as flour of any kind, peas, beans and preserved meats. The donor has only to put up his gift in packages of not less than twenty-five pounds nor more than fifty pounds, stamp it in the usual way and mail it at the nearest postoffice. If the donor adds his own name and address, TOGETHER WITH THE LETTER "R," the money he has paid for stamps will be refunded to him by the commission.

Mail from Florida should be addressed to THE WAR-HOUSE COMPANY, WAREHOUSE NO. 14, JACKSONVILLE, who are collecting agents for this district.

MARY OF THE WAR

There are in British observance a serious allied movement against the whole German line in the west will be postponed until after contingents of Lord Kitchener's new army take the field. Losses of the allies in tentative thrusts forward here and there have been heavy in proportion to the gains achieved, and it is understood the various leaders unite in the opinion that the sacrifices entailed by a general advance at this time would be too great.

The turn of events in the east, where Russia appears to be more than holding her own, necessitates, nevertheless, continued hard pressure against the German lines in the west to prevent them from moving any more of their troops to the eastern field.

In the west the town of L. Basse, still held by the Germans is proving to be one of the hardest problems the allied forces have to solve. The invaders have thrown up exceptionally strong earthworks around L. Basse, quartered in the city. To take this stronghold by direct assault would mean a terrible loss of life, but its taking is essential to any concerted move forward in order to afford protection to the allies' communications.

All news reaching London from the east tends to confirm the rout of the Austrian forces which now appear to be trying to make their way laboriously back over the Carpathians. There are indications in London that the entire continental political situation which involves Greece, Italy, Roumania and Portugal a developing day by day.

Even the participation in the army of at least some of those states will soon become a reality. This in view of certain of the British commentators on the situation. Among the factors contributing to this situation is Italy's occupation of Avlona and the reported racial unrest in Austria-Hungary.

Turkish Loss Heavy

Petrograd, Dec. 30 (Delayed in Transmission) The following communication from the general staff of the army of the Caucasus was given out here tonight:

"The battle of Sardanysh in Trans-Caucasia, 30 miles southwest of Karas against large Turkish forces continues. Our artillery fire dispersed a strong column of Turks who endeavored to save themselves by flight after having lost half of their contingent.

Part of the Turkish forces concentrated in the region of Yalinz-Cham Pass are marching upon Ardahan (Ardahan is a fortified town in Trans-Caucasia 45 miles northwest of Karas. The Yalinz-Chame Pass is southwest of Ardahan.)"

Describes Eastern Situation

Berlin (via The Hague and London, Dec. 31) Major Morant, the military expert, discussing in the Tageblatt the eastern war situation says:

"All military authorities have agreed that the Polish capital must soon be evacuated. Its value as a fortress, as is well known, is slight, but the strongly fortified positions in front of the forts, it must be expected, will be well defended. Nevertheless it would require strong forces to hold them.

"It appears, moreover, as if the Russian general staff attaches greater importance in bringing its main forces unbroken behind the Vistula rather than develop the full strength of the Russian staff are unknown, and hence, it is not impossible that it still intends holding the region west of the Vistula, with political prestige as the factor, despite the dangers attending such a plan.

"At any rate the defeat of the Russians north of the Plic will settle the fate of the army operating in Galicia."

Among the prominent visitors to the city this week was Louis Entzinger, a former resident of this county but now superintendent of the Sunday schools of Ft. Worth, Texas, the largest Sunday schools in the world. Mr. Entzinger was here to attend the funeral of his father, J. N. Entzinger, which occurred at Longwood in the 25th inst.

The Touchstone of Charity.

Never to despise never to judge rashly, never to interpret other men's actions in an ill sense, but to compassionate their infirmities, bear their burdens, excuse their weaknesses, make up and consolidate the breaches of charity happened by their fault, to hate imperfections, and ever to love men, yea even your enemies therein the touchstone of true charity is known.—N. Causin.

Victims of Wild Beasts.

China sees every year a thousand of her people fall victims to the ferocity of wolves, bears and tigers. Even little Korea has failed to totally exterminate the long haired tiger, the largest and most ferocious of its kind which infests the mountain regions. These formidable man-eaters slaughter yearly an average of 2,000 peasants and hunters.—Wide World Magazine.

Righteous Indignation

"The idea of not voting for a man because he goes to another church!" exclaimed Mrs. Twickenbury. "I never heard of such bigamy."

BRAVE STORM FOR LIQUOR

Thousands of Russians Stand in Snow to Lay in Stock Before Baskets Close.

Petrograd.—Thousands of men, women and children stood in a driving snowstorm before the doors of the liquor shops on the last day in which it was possible to purchase light wine and beer under the prohibition act of the Russian government, which has now become absolute. Applicants for a final supply of beverages came with baskets, sacks, carts and wheelbarrows, many having pawned their last belongings to procure means to purchase.

This final prohibition act is the last of three distinct liquor reforms, the first curtailing the sale of vodka and the second abolishing it absolutely. The third measure extends the prohibition to every form of alcoholic drink in all portions of the empire under martial law. Cities included under the prohibition are Odessa, Warsaw, Moscow, Kiev and virtually all cities of western Russia.

HELPING THE WOUNDED

French colonials giving first aid to one of their number injured in the battle with the Germans outside Dixmude.

USE RUSE 600 YEARS OLD

British Employ With Success, Trick Used by Scots at Bannockburn.

London.—A correspondent of the London Chronicle in northern France states that the ruse employed by the Scots to help bring about the defeat of the English at Bannockburn in 1314 has been repeated successfully by the British in the battle of the Yser. He says:

"About twenty five yards in front of our trenches deep pits were dug. These were covered with branches and loose turf, as at Bannockburn, and into these the Germans fell in heaps, calling out piteously when, too late, they discovered the stratagem."

"Although the Germans more than filled the pits, others came on in great numbers and the pits soon became a scene of appalling horror. The Germans struggled, cried and fought one another in their vain attempts to extricate themselves. Many were accidentally transfixed by the bayonets of those who had first fallen, while others were shot by comrades. A shell fell into one pit and the fuddled mass within was blown out of existence."

SING AS THEIR SHIP SINKS

Russian Transport Men Go to Death Rather Than Surrender to Turks.

London.—A dispatch to Reuter's Telegraph company from Petrograd says:

"A graphic account has been received here of the end of the Russian transport Truth, which the Russians sank rather than surrender her to the Turkish cruiser Goeben. When called upon to surrender her captain headed the Truth for the shore, opened the valves and blew a hole in the bottom of the vessel. Lieutenant Ragowsky perished while attempting to fire a second charge of explosives. Part of the crew got off in boats, while the others jumped into the water and were picked up by the Turkish ships.

"The ship's chaplain and a handful of men were left aboard. As the ship went down the chaplain was seen on deck giving his blessing to the men who remained about him cheering and singing the national anthem."

PAPER RUN BY TELEPATHY

French Prisoners in Germany Publish Sheet to Overcome Longing for Home.

Amsterdam.—French prisoners in the concentration camp of Zossen, near Berlin, are publishing a weekly paper in the French language, which they call Le Herault (the Herault). Le Herault boasts of being the only paper which is in connection with the whole world—by telepathy. The aim of the paper is "to overcome the ardent longing for their country by the reaction of a sound, amiable, inoffensive and salutary humor."

Significant Name.

Singapore.—Makepeace is the name of the place where the German inhabitants of the Straits settlement and adjacent British territories are being interned.

Shows German Spirit.

Herlich.—A shopkeeper at Breslau has an advertisement in his window promising to pay 30,000 marks to the German soldier who first lands in England.

Ben Bolt

The popular song called "Ben Bolt" was not written by an Englishman. Its author was Thomas Dunn English, a thoroughly American whose home latterly was in New Jersey. English was born in Philadelphia in 1819, and was by profession a lawyer. He represented the Sixth congressional district of New Jersey in the Fifty-second and Fifty-third congresses.

Historical Armed Coalitions

Six thousand English troops cooperated in Cromwell's time with the French army under Turone against Conde. Again, in 1672 6,000 English were sent to help the French against the Dutch. Among these was John Churchill, whose military talents were noticed by Turone. At Navarino, too, the British, French and Russian fleets were joined against the Turks.

"Dead" Hen Lays Eggs.

"Oh, papa," excitedly shouted little Willie Leonardo, running into Louis Leonardo's place of business, "one of those chickens you killed last night has come to life and laid an egg." Much to Leonardo's surprise, one of the hens which he had stuck the night before and which he had left for dead was really alive and standing by its best cackling. The hen had laid a good-sized egg. Leonardo caught the chicken, examined it, and, sure enough, it was the hen which he had attempted to bleed with a penknife.—Coatsville (Pa.) dispatch to Philadelphia Record.

Monster Aqueduct.

The aqueduct conducting the water of the Owens river to Los Angeles is said to be the largest in the world. It is designed to deliver a minimum of 258,000,000 gallons of water daily into the San Fernando reservoir, 25 miles northwest of the city. No pumping plant is required, as the source of supply is several hundred feet above the city. The water will furnish a great amount of power—70,000 horsepower is anticipated—for electric lighting and other purposes. The total cost of the waterworks will be $25,000,000, and the installation of the power plant will be approximately $5,000,000 more.

Carlyle's Opinion of War.

Food for grapeshot, Messelgneurs, on one condition; that the shooter also were made of metal. But unfortunately he is made of flesh; under his buffa and bandoleers your hired shooter has instincts, feelings, even a kind of thought. It is his kindred, bone of his bone, he has brothers in it, a father and mother—living on meal husks and dried grass.—Carlyle.

JACKSONVILLE HAS A SERIOUS BLAZE

DYAL-UPCHURCH BUILDING SUFFERS HEAVY LOSS BY LARGE FIRE

Early Tuesday morning called the Dyal-upchurch building, a six story structure in the heart of the business district...

On the top floor of the building was the United States Weather Bureau, which was totally wrecked...

A general alarm was sent in which called every piece of apparatus in the fire department and for a time, when the water pressure was poor...

The Dyal-upchurch building was erected in 1901, just after the great conflagration which destroyed practically the entire city...

The firemen did excellent work after the high pressure service became regulated and their quick work saved several buildings adjoining.

Owners of the building state that the structure, which originally cost $125,000, was damaged sixty-five per cent.

NEW INVESTORS OPEN OFFICES

THE PURCHASERS OF HOTEL PROPERTY WILL BECOME SANFORD RESIDENTS

The old days are returning to Sanford. These are just a few of the things to be undertaken by the Women's Department.

Today R. D. Waring and associates open a suite of offices on the second floor of the Bishop block and these offices will be a scene of activity.

As Mr. Waring stated to a representative of The Herald last week he expects to place these vast holdings on the market at once and will sell city property and develop in every way the city and country.

One of the prime objects of coming to Sanford was the building of a new hotel and this great work will also occupy their attention in connection with their real estate operations.

The advent of Mr. Waring and his associates into the business life of this city will be fraught with great importance as it will serve to liven up business along every channel.

This company is in communication with many investors in the north who are eager to purchase parts of the real estate and also wish to invest in the hotel and it is safe to assert that they will add greatly to Sanford's population in the next twelve months.

LETUCE JUMPS TO GREAT PRICES

ONE HUNDRED MORE CAR LOADS SHIPPED OVER LAST SEASON

Just as a gentle reminder to the world at large that Sanford is the greatest winter vegetable center in the world The Herald announces that since the season for lettuce began in November and up to the 31st of December 500 refrigerator cars of lettuce and 50 cars of lettuce by express were shipped from this section.

Some of the lettuce did not bring good prices on account of the inclement weather. We have had all kinds of weather from a frost to summer heat and fogs and mist and it has worked a hardship on the lettuce growers but lettuce last Saturday brought $4 and $4.50 in the northern markets and yesterday lettuce brought $2.50 to $3.75 in eastern markets and even better prices in some of the western markets.

Letuce is one of the greatest crops of the Sanford section. Celery is supposed to be king and of course comes in for a share of the spotlight of publicity and will follow later.

Just now cauliflower is coming into full bloom and this really fine vegetable is bringing a good price in the local markets and also in the northern markets. Cauliflower is fast becoming one of the big crops here and the growers usually get good prices, providing the weather is clear and cool.

The growers here are expecting a good season and from this time on until the last crops are harvested in the late summer the growers will be busy getting their crops to the markets and placing the money in their broadcloth pocket.

NARROW ESCAPE IN A COLLISION

GEO. RANDALL ON WHEEL IS RUN DOWN BY AN AUTOMOBILE

Automobile accidents are becoming common and every day chronicles some injury received by those who drive cars seemingly with the thought that roads were made for automobiles alone.

One of the most narrow escapes from death that that of George Wandall last Sunday, who, as he was returning from his farm on his wheel on the West Side was run down by an auto and dragged for some distance before the car was stopped.

Mr. Wandall suffered several contusions on the body, was badly bruised all over the body, his leg broken in two places and he was almost dead when rescued from his position under the car and taken to the physician.

Mr. Wandall's version of the affair was that he was riding his wheel and hearing the car took the side of the road when the car dragged WW the road when the car ran into him and dragged him for a distance before it stopped.

The real facts in the case will probably be brought out as soon as Mr. Wandall and the parties in the car can be brought together, as neither of them are at present in the city.

TRY DYNAMITING

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 5.—An attempt was made Saturday night by unknown persons to blow up the plant of the E. O. Painter Fertilizer Works, on the south side of the river.

The explosion was terrific and was heard all over Jacksonville, causing great excitement. The work was evidently that of amateurs, for the sticks of dynamite were so carelessly placed that they did not wreck the plant, doing only slight damage.

Sheriff Dowling and his deputies are working on the case, but have as yet no direct clue.
