By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

That first year in a new school can be a gay or ghastly experience. It all depends on you.

If you start out on the right foot, school days should be pleasant. But if you are shy or sloppy or prefer to be sophisticated and snobbish, attitudes seeking your company, your school days may be dreary.

It is easy to get along with new acquaintances, and easy, too, to weed out undesirable so that new friendships can be made. Keep in mind these pointers which might make school days happier:

1. Be pleasant. A smile is as big as a handshake when you are making new friends. A dour looking face will discourage others from becoming friendly. You needn't, of course, grin all the time in idiotic fashion to impress others that you are good humored. Situations might occur to challenge your disposition. Try to stay on the bright side of the ledger.

2. Be helpful. If a school friend has a problem and asks your advice, don't reply with a "who-me?" attitude. Even if it takes your time or energy, take an interest in those who seek help. Don't limit your good counseling to favorites.

3. Be a good sport. If you are Miss Moneybags and have a bigger allowance than others in your group, don't try to impress your less fortunate school mates with your wealth.

4. Be congenial. When invited to a party, don't act prudish. When games are played cooperate with the group even if you were bored with that type of entertainment years ago. If you aren't having a good time it is better to go home than spoil the fun of others.

5. Be energetic. Even when studies seem a bore don't inflame your lassitude on your chums. Nobody wants to sympathize with a girl who can't take it. Everybody has his own job to do, so if you must study hard to keep up.

6. Be friendly. Go out of your way to do something nice for a school chum, occasionally. An invitation to your home is a nice gesture to a new friend or a lonely classmate.

7. Be fair. If you are called upon to take sides in an argument, beg off on the grounds that three's a crowd. If a matter of principle is involved, however, do not hesitate to state your views, but try not to be arrogant.

8. If you've been stooled by your family it will be difficult at first to get used to the idea that you are supposed to please others. Once you've tried, however, you'll be thrilled with the happiness you've brought to some less fortunate friend.

9. Be cooperative. If you are on a committee, do your share of the work. There can be no team work if everyone acts like a general. Take your orders from the committee head, and do the best job possible. If you do an effective job as a committee worker, perhaps your co-workers will seek you to head a future enterprise.

10. Be kind. Whenever you think of gossiping about a school chum, ask yourself how you would feel if the same news was circulating about you. Often, too, school gossip can snowball until a minor incident is made to sound like a major tragedy.

11. Be tactful. Rude retorts to those you feel superior to are unnecessary and will put you in the snafu class. Sometimes it turns out that the girl you haven't made a fair estimate of becomes a class leader, and you'll be left holding the bag when other class mates rally round her.

12. The first American Christmas cards were engraved by a Roxbury, Mass., printer in 1874—for export to England. They were not given to the American trade until the following year.

Beauty Notes

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

"Milliners are driving women hatless" according to James Caesar, New York hairstylist. Mr. Caesar objects to new deep hats — "variously named — which hide lovely locks beneath. See —"

"This year's crop of hat styles are so becoming, they are like poor adjectives — detracting rather than adding to the beauty of the milliners. He just can't understand why milliners and hairstylists do not cooperate in trying to enhance woman's beauty. There's nothing prettier in his estimation of a glamorous coiffure and a chic hat. Say he: "There's no reason why our talents cannot complement each other, our skills merge to create a perfect picture. The way things are today a woman must choose between having a becoming hair style or wearing a fashionable hat. She should be able to have both."

Mr. Caesar believes that this is necessary since most women wear hats for a relatively short period each day. When the hat comes off, hair must be exposed. So the coiffure is very important whether the hat is on or off — an attractively arranged coiffure should form a soft, feminine frame for a pretty face, even underneath the hat. He explains:

"The cloche is only passably attractive even on the very young and beautiful. Every woman, no matter what her age, needs the softness of a feminine coiffure. When all the hair is hidden she is denied of an important quality, and might as well be bald."

AN ACTRESS who had received a diamond necklace as a gift from "Diamond Jim" Brady hit upon a device for safeguarding it. She simply left it on her dressing table when she went out, with a note reading: "This is an imitation. The original is in my safe."

One night she returned to find the necklace gone. In its place was this pencilled message: "Thanks, lady. The substitute is just what I wanted. I'm a substitute myself. The burglar who usually covers this hotel is away on vacation."

Maine's Governor Sees "Boss Rule" Running Country

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Gov. Frederick G. Payne of Maine said today that "boss rule" has taken the government away from the people and it must be returned to them.

The Republican governor and U. S. senator-elect came to Jacksonville from Miami to address Duval Democrats for Eisenhower and Republicans at a luncheon.

Payne, campaigning in Florida for the GOP national ticket, said "the gap between the people and the federal government is forever being widened under an administration program which usurps power and authority once held by the individual states."

He said the attempt of the Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell in "purge" Florida committee member Richard D. Barker "was ridiculous."

He said "it is just another denial of states rights just like the attempt to take away from the states the right to tidal lands oil."

Mitchell said in Washington Saturday the National Committee would ignore Barker, Jacksonville real estate man and state committee member, in the future because of his lukewarm attitude toward the Stevenson-Sparkman national ticket.

House Rules Will Get Polishing By New 5-Man Group

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—The rules of the Florida House of Representatives, streamlined in 1949 and revised again in 1951, are in for another polishing.

Speaker designate F. Farris Bryant named a five-man committee Sunday to work over the rules for presentation to the 1953 House.

Bryant appointed Rep. Thomas T. Cobb, Daytona Beach, chairman of the study group. Cobb is expected to become chairman of the House committee on rules and calendar which interprets rules of procedure and determines which proposed laws go to the floor.

Assisting Cobb will be Reps. Perry E. Murray, Frostproof; Willard Ayres, Ocala; T. E. David, Hollywood; and Thomas B. Dowda, Palatka.

The House changed its rules in 1949 after a study of the rules of the legislatures of the 48 states and of congress.

The language was clarified and numerous unwritten procedures which had become traditional were put into words. Reforms did away with some of the mystery of law making so that newer members and the public could better understand what was going on.

Some members opposed the change because the committees during the 1949 session often were unwieldy. Murray, who was speaker then, liked large committees, saying that more careful consideration could be given proposed laws by a 15-man committee than one of five members. But it was difficult for some committees to obtain quorums since committees of overlapping membership often attempted to meet at the same time.

Several older members didn't like the new rules because they deprived them of an advantage over newcomers.

An informal 1950 caucus in Tampa of members elected to the 1951 House proposed shelving the new rules. When the House officially met, the reforms were largely retained but a compromise caused the loss of the non-controversial portion of the new rules.

FBI Takes Suspect In Daring Robbery Of 2 Exiled Cubans

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation in an early morning raid today arrested a Duncan, Okla., machine shop operator in connection with the $248,000 robbery of two Cuban exiles in Ft. Worth Friday.

The FBI identified the man as Gene Paul Norris, who is charged with interstate transportation of stolen property.

Orcville Lindsey Chambless, Oklahoma City, gave himself up Saturday after being sought in connection with the robbery.

D. A. Bryce, agent in charge of the FBI in Oklahoma, personally led the raid at Duncan at 3 a. m. today, in which Norris was captured.

The FBI identified Norris as the brother of Pete Norris, formerly No. 1 on the FBI list of most wanted criminals.

The charge was filed at Fort Worth against Norris last night. He will be arraigned here today with Chambless.

Yesterday, Chambless vowed they're not going to make me the goat of the robbery.

Chambless, 35, named by the Cubans as the man who held them up with a Tommy gun, protested he was framed. He said he was sick in Oklahoma City when Manuel F. Madareaga and Candido de la Torre were robbed of the money which police said was to have been used to buy arms for a Cuban counter-revolution.

Banker And Friend Die Together When Fire Engulfs Room

NEW YORK (AP)—A socially prominent San Francisco banker and his woman companion died yesterday in a fire in the fashionable Hotel Warwick.

The two were identified as Lloyd Wiseman, 46, of Berkeley Calif., a vice president of the Crocker First National Bank of San Francisco, and Mary Driscoll, 40, of West Newton, Mass.

Police said Wiseman checked into the hotel alone last Wednesday and registered for Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wiseman.

Miss Driscoll arrived in New York Friday after telling her mother in Massachusetts she planned to meet some girl friends and look for a job here.

Wiseman, a grandfather, gave the fire alarm himself in a telephone call to the night clerk. Hotel employees then chopped through the door of their 20th story room.

They found Wiseman and his companion nude and unconscious—the banker on the floor, she stretched across a window sill—police said. Their clothes may have been burned off.

Wiseman was dead when a doctor arrived. Miss Driscoll died 14 hours later.

Newsmen were barred from the room. A hotel employee said it was gutted and that several empty and one partly drained whisky bottles were in the room.

The fire apparently started near the bed, possibly from a cigarette. It was confined to Wiseman's room.

Wiseman had come to New York after attending a bankers' convention in Atlantic City, N. J.

Colonel Dies With Stab Wound In Side As Wife Sits Dazed

TOKYO (AP)—The Army tonight disclosed that Col. Aubrey D. Smith tried vainly to staunch the flow of blood from his mortal stab wound while his dazed wife, clutching a knife, sat on the bed opposite his.

The wife, Dorothy, daughter of famed U. S. Gen. Walter Krueger, is accused in an official announcement by Gen. Mark Clark's headquarters of "allegedly" slaying her husband. It did not say what prompted the slaying or whether charges would be filed.

Smith died at dawn Saturday, six hours after a knife was plunged into his right side while he was lying in his bed at his Tokyo home.

The 47-year-old officer from San Antonio, Tex., was chief of the entire Plans and Operations Division of the Logistics Section of the U. S. Far East Command.

His attractive wife is undergoing psychiatric examination at an Army hospital here. There are two children, Aubrey Jr., 16, and Sharon, 11.

The Army said it confiscated a hunting knife from the house.

The Army said a Japanese maid testified she entered the Smiths' bedroom and found the colonel lying across his bed holding his bloody right side. She said Mrs. Smith was sitting on her own bed holding a knife.

The Army quoted the maid as saying she took the knife from Mrs. Smith and hid it in the bathroom living room before announcing help. The knife found in the living room was a hunting knife.

The maid summoned a neighbor, Lt. Col. Joseph S. Hart, who called an ambulance and then went to the Smith home.

Hart said in an interview that Mrs. Smith appeared to be in a coma and also needed hospitalization. He made the necessary arrangements.

4 Important Citrus Meetings Scheduled

LAKELAND (AP)—Four important citrus meetings are to be held this week.

Today the drafting committee of the joint industry legislative committee meets to consider proposed citrus legislation.

Starting today is a five-day session of the 14-man merchandising staff of the Florida Citrus Commission. This is the group which pushes the sale of Florida citrus outside the state.

The Florida Tangerine Cooperatives holds its annual meeting Tuesday.

On Thursday the advisory committee to Florida Citrus Mutual is expected to reach a decision on an allotment program for shipping fresh fruit this season.

Tomato Growers To Consider Agreement

TAMPA (AP)—Florida tomato growers with an eye on expanding plantings next year are trying to see whether a formal marketing agreement could be a good thing for them.

The tomato men also will discuss financing an out-of-state advertising campaign to be financed by growers, shippers and wholesalers.

The marketing agreement would be similar to the one now in effect for the Florida citrus industry.

Florida tomato men would vote whether to come under an agreement sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. If an agreement were approved they could reap more and shipper benefits. Such a deal would mean a formal marketing agreement.

Cold Snap Affects Most Parts Of U. S.

By The Associated Press

A cold snap that dropped Sunday temperatures far below freezing between the Great Lakes and the Rockies continued today.

But it was less intense. There were no readings today to match Sunday's 21 at Green Bay, Wis.; Duluth, Minn.; and Fargo, N. C.; or Rapid City, S. D.'s 19.

The unseasonably cool weather covered all but the Atlantic and Pacific coast states and the South. It brought rain in many areas.

There were snow flurries in the Lake Superior region and in the mountains of Colorado.

Early morning temperatures included Chicago 32, Detroit and St. Louis 38, Minneapolis 37, New York 60, Miami 72, Seattle 59 and Los Angeles 61.

CHECK these advantages of SOIL-CEMENT for light-traffic streets

ECONOMY
Soil-cement pavement is low cost because: (1) about 90 per cent of the required material is usually local soil already on the street, (2) it is easy and fast to build. Economy is important to taxpayers.

DURABILITY
The durability of soil-cement for local streets has been proved by years of all-weather service at low-maintenance expense. Thousands of miles of dependable soil-cement pavement are now in use throughout the United States.

ADAPTABILITY
Whether your local street is now dirt, gravel or macadam, it can be transformed into strong, long-lasting pavement with soil-cement. Soil-cement streets can be built and used under a wide range of weather conditions.

New Trees For Old

The largest known pine tree in Maine, the Pine Tree State, was recently cut down to help meet this nation's insatiable appetite for lumber. It took about 250 years for the tree to grow, but less than a day was needed to cut it down. After preliminary work with light-weight equipment had been completed, two lumberjacks working with a big chain saw took 34 minutes to fell it.

The tree, 150 feet high and 22 1/4 feet in girth, will provide about 5,000 board feet of lumber. But once this lumber is used up, what then? Now that this pine, small compared to the redwoods of California, but great by any other standards, is gone, what next? What are we doing to replace this tree?

It may be that only God can make a tree, but certainly man can plant trees. This giant pine, cut down so irreverently, deserves a monument. What better way to commemorate its greatness than to plant acres full of new pine trees which will guarantee the perpetuation of our diminishing woodlands? Only such a replacement can compensate for the sense of futility one feels upon learning that the largest known pine tree in Maine has been required to give its life to provide lumber. It is like destroying a cathedral to get rocks, like slashing a Rembrandt to get a piece of canvas.

Yet only by taking a big fellow here and there, the old grandfather trees who have lived their lives and attained their highest stature, can the young trees crowding around them in the forest get the light and air to live their lives in their turn. Cutting old and young together without replacement is bad; cutting with judgment which preserves the forest provides life, beauty and lumber for one generation after another.

Atomic Warning

Food for thought is found in the copy of Life magazine which released pictures taken during the atom-bombing of Japanese cities. The pure horror of these pictures is enough to make even the most rabid war planner stop and reconsider. The shattered bodies of these civilians stand as eternal monuments to needed peace. The burnt, blistered body of a dying baby is etched on a million American memories. Perhaps that baby, now dead several years, is making a few American consciences wonder. Certainly, had America lost the war through some inconceivable mischance, these pictures would have been offered in war crimes trials as evidence of barbarism and cruelty.

These trips into fancy, this conjecture of what might have been is futile to us living in the present. The main thing is that we should not lose the lesson these photographs teach.

It is not necessary to abolish the atomic bomb. But it is very important that America realize the terrible responsibility she carries. This is no mere block buster we are stockpiling deep in the storage caverns. It is more modern, more terrible than the ones that did the damage. Let America—and the world—take heed.

Supermanager

From a rather clownish player to a supermanager is the story of Casey Stengel, to whom goes the credit of winning four American League pennants in a row. In the two major leagues only John McGraw, who led his New York Yankees to the championship from 1921 through 1924, and Joe McCarthy, the pennant-winning manager of the Yankees from 1936 through 1939, can match Stengel's record.

His success is particularly strange because his previous engagements as a manager were undistinguished. He led the Brooklyn Dodgers from 1934 to 1936 and the Boston Braves from 1938 to 1943, and achieved nothing noteworthy with either. It must have been an inspiration that led the Yankee owners to engage him in 1947.

"Four pennants in a row? That's nothing. We'll make it five," might be Casey's unspoken thought. This outcome is too possible to be reassuring. Nothing could go down less well with the fans in other cities than an unending series of Yankee championships.

The Function of A Newspaper

For some elections past the majority of the newspapers have in their editorial pages supported the Republican candidate. In these same elections the majority of the people have voted for the Democratic candidate.

Whenever editors gather, these incontrovertible statistics—which might be verified again this year—are repeatedly brought forth and used as a springboard to some remarkable conclusions.

Frequently our own colleagues use them for self-justification; should they not do some outside critic is sure to seize upon them as a whiplash for shortcomings. The latest to fret over the sad state of the fourth estate is Governor Stevenson.

The newness of what Mr. Stevenson says lies only in the urbanity of his wit. For his criticism in their editorial pages supported the Republican candidate. In these same elections the majority of the people have voted for the Democratic candidate.

Of course one might comment that what Mr. Stevenson complains of is good fortune for Mr. Stevenson. The statistical majority of newspapers are foolish, then his argument really is that the newspapers should be influenced by the people, that they should receive ideas because of their popularity. Yet this is the reverse of the argument that Mr. Stevenson pretends to make.

But we are not concerned so much with the inconsistencies that glitter through Mr. Stevenson's shining phrases. What interests us in all this talk about the duty of a newspaper and the "public responsibility" of an editor commenting upon the passing scene.

The primary function of a newspaper is to tell people what is happening in the world, be it good, bad or neither. In our own field we report headlines as well as success and "good government" actions as well as "good government" actions. We do not perform a duty but to fulfill a function. We have no duty but to report what we see and to do so and fall to carry out the function of one we would gladly find the readers go to a newspaper editor who becomes

DANGER! MEN WORKING!

Stetson Law College May Be Expanded

DELAND, (Special) — Stetson University's College of Law would be moved to some metropolitan area in Florida and become the nucleus of a new "law center" if the recommendations of a special committee of prominent Stetson law graduates are adopted by Stetson's trustees. It was announced today by J. Oliver Edmunds, president.

The Stetson College of Law, Florida's oldest, celebrated its 50th anniversary last year. At that time the president was authorized to appoint a special committee to study the law school and make recommendations to the board as to the most effective way to expand and improve the school to serve the needs of its students and of the legal profession in the future.

The following were appointed to serve on the committee: The Hon. Louis W. Strum, judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, Jacksonville, Chairman; the Hon. Elwyn Thomas, Justice of the Florida Supreme Court, Tallahassee; former Governor Doyle E. Carlton, Tampa; J. P. Harris Drew, Justice of the Florida Supreme Court, West Palm Beach; Arthur Y. Millam, Jacksonville; the Hon. Frank Smith, Orlando; the Hon. Charles Tom Henderson, Assistant Attorney General, Tallahassee; S. Bryan Jennings, Director, Cecil C. Bailey, Jacksonville; Judge O. R. Reeves, Tampa; John D. Harris, St. Petersburg; and D. C. Hull, Deland.

Conservation

By Arthur A. Murphy, Area Forester, Palatka

For those who would manage their forest lands wisely and in accordance with good forest practices, there is a bright and promising future. The increasing demand for pulp, lumber and many other forest products will insure a steady and profitable income from well managed forests.

Cutting understocked stands should be restricted largely to the removal of inferior trees that do not make good growing stock. In addition, it is desirable to thin in heavy stands. To provide adequate seed trees to be out should be marked with a paint and an eye level. This will guide the cutters and serve as a check against cutting unmarked trees.

A man who is in a position to produce various classes of material such as naval stores, posts, poles, piling and cross-ties ordinarily gets the largest income from his woodlands and can at the same time leave the timber stands in good growing condition. This is done by removing the worked out, defective and undesirable trees and at the same time make him a profit.

TRIPLE FUNERAL PLANNED ONTARIO, Calif.—Mrs. Wilma Jean Dugan, 41, plans a triple funeral next month for her husband, Ralph, 50, killed in Korea, and their two daughters, 16 and 14. The daughters died within 36 hours of their premature birth Sept. 28. Several days later Mrs. Dugan was notified that her husband, Lt. Ralph E. Dugan, was killed in Korea, Sept. 21.

The news followed a doctor's report that another daughter, Lydia, 18 months, may be suffering from leukemia.

The Function Of Editorials

During his long and distinguished career in journalism, which ended with his death Aug. 20 at the age of 78, Henry J. Haskell of the Kansas City Star wielded much influence on the minds of readers. He was under no illusions about the extent of that influence.

"From Mr. Nelson I learned never to be disturbed over the loss of an election," Mr. Haskell wrote. "It is not the function of editorials to win elections. It is their function to bring readers information and intelligent comment; to stimulate people to think intelligently."

With his definition The News and Courier agrees. We would not if we could set up a government by editors. Nor do we believe public affairs should be dominated by the notions of a publisher or a scribbler. As a citizen, the newspaper has the right to support or oppose candidates and to take up or dodge a position on political issues. Whatever influence it has must be earned by the goodwill and the good sense that go into its pages.

If its advice is ignored and its counsel unheeded, does that mean the newspaper has failed in its duty to the public? Just as one swallow does not make a summer, neither does victory or defeat in one election—or several—prove anything about effectiveness of the press. Ever since the New Deal and the Fair Deal began to roll, opposition has been voiced in editorials. Throughout the country, the great majority of editorial opinion opposes the Democratic Party, yet it stays strong. Despite editorial thunder many citizens are determined to stay with the Fair Dealers and to vote for more of the same kind of government in the future. Just as defeat in popular elections does not prove editorials are un sound, neither would victory prove editors to be geniuses. Public opinion ebbs and flows, and so does editorial opinion. In the newspaper craft as in other professions some men stand straight and tall among their fellows. Such a man was Mr. Haskell. He was a scholar, but his erudition did not prevent him from writing intelligently for the average reader. He had principles on which he stood firm, and knowledge to illuminate his principles. He had no false hopes of making over the world or reforming mankind. He was the kind of editor that subscribers and other editors admire.

THE WORLD TODAY

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most of us take our U. S. citizenship pretty much for granted. We were born in this country, or possibly born abroad of U. S. parents. Our citizenship was none of our doing. And no matter how ornery or worthless we may be, no one can take our citizenship away.

To be sure, we can take to voters and we can lose our citizenship rights, such as the right to vote. Or we can decide to become citizens of another country. But that's something we decide to do, not something the government decides to do to us.

Gen. McGranery had in mind another type of citizen—the naturalized citizen—when he said last week he wanted to rid this country of about 100 foreign-born racketeers. "Ungrateful recipients of American hospitality," McGranery called them.

He hopes to have their naturalization papers revoked and then deport them. And he said he has similar plans for some Communists. McGranery didn't discuss details, but any carry out such a program would be a long, tedious legal operation. In the first place, a naturalized citizen who got papers legally and honestly can't be deported. This country can't kick him out even though he later becomes criminal. It is on the FBI list.

To naturalize a foreign-born citizen the government must prove in court that he obtained his papers illegally or through fraud. McGranery expects the Justice Department to make its case. Many of those he calls "unsavory characters" were unsavory to begin with, and possibly lied in getting their citizenship papers. But let's suppose the case finally is proved. Is the unsavory character on his way back to wherever he came from?

No, he merely has reverted back to his former status. He's an alien again, one of the three million or so in this country. Now the government must begin deportation proceedings. Here again the defendant has every legal right to fight back and to appeal. But, again, let's suppose the case finally is proved. Are we rid of him at last?

No, not necessarily. We must have some country to deport him to. He may not be a citizen anywhere. His country may not take him back. L. Paul Winings, general counsel for the Immigration and Naturalization Service, says there are 3,487 deportable aliens this country wants to get rid of, but can't.

Defense Mobilizer Proclaims Need Of Price Control Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defense mobilizer Henry H. Fowler says a strong stand-by price control law "and an organization ready to deal with a possible emergency" will be needed when controls expire April 30.

While asserting he sees no new inflationary threat, despite some signs of a revival of pressures during the past three months, Fowler reported to President Truman last night that stand-by legislation "much stronger than the law we have today" will be needed.

The present act, he said, limits authority to restrain inflationary pressures. Only 50 per cent of consumer prices are under "firm control" at present, he said, while 75 per cent of wholesale prices are under control.

Fowler's report presented an optimistic picture of defense production, but said "the greater part of the defense mobilization effort still lies ahead." Industrial expansion, he said, is generating a capacity greater than needed for present defense requirements, while at the same time maintaining a "high level" of civilian supply.

Fowler said the output of planes, tanks, ships, guns and other military "hard goods" has risen since the start of the Korean War in June, 1950, from a rate of 500 million dollars every three months to about six billions, or three-fourths of the target rate.

Many ambitious persons tend to live too much in the future missing many pleasures of each day. Most regrettable however is that with thoughts centered on tomorrow these persons often neglect their health.

Seminole Battle Larger Leesburg Eleven To 6-6 Tie

Junior Metts Paces Fed Attack With Touchdown; Over 1,700 Watch Game

By KENT CHELAIN

A Seminoles offensive team, spearheaded by triple threat star Junior Metts, provided the momentum for a game underized Seminoles High School football team to tie the much larger Leesburg Yellow Jackets, 6-6, last Friday night in the Memorial Stadium before the season's biggest turnout of over 1,700 fans.

Metts climaxed an effective Fed offensive thrust by running, leaping and zigzagging 28 yards in the second period to give the Seminoles a 6-0 halftime margin.

Leesburg bounced back, after an apparent inspirational intermission with Coach Ed Stack, to march yards for the game tying touchdown in the third quarter. The Yellow Jackets rode the crest of the explosive little half-back Jimmy Marshall's brilliant running and the contributive efforts of halfback Jack Peachey and fullback David Morris, who scored the Jacket TD on a one-yard line buck.

Both extra-point conversions failed. Jimmy Fox had his blocked by the Jackets and Leesburg's Jimmy Allen booted his wide to the right.

Again as in last week's opening victory, Sanford was outplayed on the statistical chart. Leesburg picked up 299 yards, all on the ground, as compared to the Seminoles' 131 and 23 more via the aerial route.

Metts was without a doubt the best individual performer on the field for either team. The Lake Monroe Locomotive ran savagely all night picking up 90 yards running for an impressive 7.4 average. Junior Metts' try while he completed two of seven tosses good for 23 more yards. One of Metts' aerials passed through the hands of End Cecil Sheppard, who was in the clear on the Leesburg 10-yard stripe.

Metts' quick kicking, which caught the Jackets napping several times, was probably the most outstanding feat of the night since the little Seminoles senior averaged 36.1 yards for his five punts. His last effort rolled dead on the Jackets' five-yard line covering 60 yards.

Marshall was the individual star for the Lake Seminoles as he rolled up 108 of the team's net 800 yards. Peachey added 71 to the total and Morris contributed 50.

Sanford's defense tightened in the clutch again this week but was woefully lacking in the center of the field. Ray Davis, the Fed's Easton hero, intercepted two more passes last Friday night to give him three interceptions in five total passes attempted by the opposition.

Friday night the Seminoles will be at home in the Memorial Stadium for the third straight week to face Tavares in the Kiwanis children's benefit game.

Room 8 Wins Grade School Grid Tourney

Mrs. Sybil Routh's Room 8 won the recent touch football tournament at the Sanford Grammar School, routing out Room Eight by three points. Henry Schumacher and Kelly Lake, who were elected by secret ballot, were the co-captains of the winning room.

The 15 points scored by Room Eight were most tallied by any one team in a single game. Captains for the runner-up team were Henry Folds, Cecil Danbridge and William Bowser.

Principal B. C. Steele, who supervised the tourney, stated that the general play was not up to the standards of previous years. Room Seven showed the greatest improvement in the tourney and I thought Room Eight had the best play attack," he said.

Four Sixth Grade Rooms competed in the round robin tournament.

Lions Club Will Sponsor Ski Capades' Show Here On Oct. 19.

Local Talent Will Be Permitted To Appear With Bill Martin's Troupe

Brooksville, Fla., is a mecca for water skiers. The annual water skiing show will be presented on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 19.

The famous skiing troupe, sponsored by the Sanford Lions Club, operates out of Orlando and has just completed a successful eastern and mid-western summer tour that attracted thousands and earned the plaudits of northern critics.

C. C. Welsh, chairman of the Lions' committee for the event, has arranged for a special person, who wants to participate in the show, a chance to do so.

The thrill-packed show, which will last two hours, is composed of a ballet, various solo artists, and numerous crown acts, one of which will be performed by owner Bill Martin himself.

The officials have agreed to rope off a section of the lakefront between the Mayfair Inn Hotel and Park Avenue to permit the Lions Club to charge a nominal admission fee, which will be used for the club's charity fund.

Practically all of the stars who were on the summer tour will take part in the show here. Sally Hill, Phyllis Brettel, Nancie Conner, Lynn Smith, Chu Chi Coker, Sharon Crosby, Jan Halm, Jean Clark and Jane Pedrick are the beautiful water skiers who will be supported by Jerry Imber, Red Casares and Bill Martin in the sking extravaganza.

They will provide the thrills, spills and chills in the 20-odd act show that has been besieged by requests to stage return engagements next summer.

"We think Sanford should see the show that was advertised by thousands everywhere we played," Martin said in announcing he would bring his water ballet troupe here.

Welsh, meanwhile, said he would work out the final details with Martin at tomorrow's Lions Luncheon at the Yacht Club. Committee appointments will also be announced then.

This is just one of the many interesting acts from Bill Martin's famous Ski Capades which will be staged here at the Lakefront Sunday, Oct. 19, under the auspices of the Sanford Lions Club. This water sking show has attracted thousands during its summer tour in the east and mid-west.

Gators Face Task Of Preparing For Single-Wing Team

By F. T. MACFEELEY

GAINESVILLE (AP)—It's a big problem to get ready for a single-wing team in a week. Florida Coach Bob Woodruff remarked as he faced last night's prospect.

When Coach Frank Howard brings the Orange County Tigers here next Saturday it will be the first time the Florida Gators have gone against a single-wing attack since they met Wyoming in the opening game of 1951.

Woodruff put his Gators through some preparations for Clemson at the same time they were preparing last week to meet The Citadel. As every one expected, Florida beat The Citadel in stride, 33-0.

But the biggest news of that one for Florida fans was the experiment that sent Dick Casares to the Gator attack after that one. Doug Dickey onto the offense as T quarterback. Fred Robinson also played quarterback and Casares took over the position toward the end of the game to keep his hand in.

Casares will play both quarterback and fullback. Dickey will continue to be used at quarterback and be ready at safety man.

When Casares was at full and Dickey at quarter against The Citadel, the Gators moved 65 yards to a touchdown the first time they got the ball. There wasn't much to the Gator attack after that until late in the third quarter. Casares, J. L. (Papa) Hall and Buford Long ran well again and Florida continued their two touchdowns in the final period.

Long smacked over for two touchdowns on short runs. A new face in the Florida lineup, former Navy pilot Tommy Hadden, former Jacksonville, scored two touchdowns of five and 16 yards. Robinson passed 24 yards to Curtis King for the other.

Dave Hulse, barefoot place kicker, ran his string of conversions, six straight by booting two Florida touchdowns after the final Florida touchdown.

Stapel Rolls 206 Game To Set High Score Of Season

Despite Stapel's record breaking 206 game and high series total of 514, term No. 2 was defeated in two games of three by No. 1 in the Navy Bowling League play last Thursday night at the Sanford Bowling Alley. Stapel's 165 paced the winning attack for No. 1's.

The two wins kept No. 1 in a tie for first place in the sailor circuit with the "Red Hot" No. 6's, who won three straight games from the No. 3's, Frank Dumont's 513 series, including a 197 single line performance, paced the way for No. 6's clean sweep. Yates rolled a 129 to top the losing No. 3's.

"Log" Rogers' 470 series spearheaded the last place No. 1's to two wins in three over the fifth place No. 5's. St. Peter scored a 425 series to lead the loser's effort.

The Navy League will tangle for the sixth week Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Ansley Cautions Hunters About Bird Sanctuary

By JIM FISHER

Hunters are warned by A. W. Ansley, State Wildlife Officer, against shooting game in a bird sanctuary and game reserve lying between Lakes Monroe and Lake Jessup.

"Game wardens have been ordered to make arrest of any one shooting game in this area," he pointed out.

The area, as outlined by the wildlife officer, extends from the town of Lake Monroe across to Crystal Lake at Lake Mary, thence to Sanford Avenue, thence to Lake Jessup, along Lake Jessup northerly to Lake Monroe and thence back to the starting point.

Deer season began last Wednesday and will extend until Oct. 15, to reopen Dec. 15 and close again Dec. 20, while the season on rail and gallinule (marsh hens) started Sept. 15 and will continue until Nov. 13. The day's bag on deer is eight birds, while for rail and gallinule, the daily limit is 15, each.

The next season to open will be for duck, geese and coot on Nov. 17, to last until Jan. 10.

Daily shooting hours for doves are from noon until sunset, while rail and gallinule may be taken from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

Rifles of all kinds are prohibited when taking migratory birds, while shotguns must be limited to a 12-gauge capacity. Shooting birds over baited areas is prohibited.

Open season is continual on the English sparrow, sharp-shinned hawk, Cooper's hawk, goshawk, great horned owl, crow, jackdaw, buzzard, butcher bird, wildcat, weasel, skunk, flying squirrel, opossum, red and gray fox, bobcat, hare or rabbit, and raccoon.

An interesting hunt, to come up Oct. 17 and last until Oct. 26, is the Ocala archery hunt in the northern portion of Ocala Wildlife Management Area. Legal game for this hunt will be two deer with one or more five-inch antlers, two bear or two panther.

Only a long bow of at least 40 pounds draw pull shall be used according to the special hunt rules. Arrows shall have well sharpened, steel broadhead blades, of not less than 3/4 nor more than 1 1/2 inches width. A special archery hunt permit costing $5 also will be required.

Already in progress is the Ocala and Apalachicola bear hunt in the portions of these wildlife management areas closed to hunting. Open season is until Oct. 28. Three days per week, arranged at option of hunters, is classified as a hunt until Oct. 26.

Legal game is two bear and one panther and no limit on fox, skunk, opossum, bobcat, civet cat and rabbit. A special permit, costing $50 is required for each hunt.

Only one shoulder weapon, a high-powered rifle or a shot gun of not less than 16 gauge, is allowed for the hunt, plus one side arm. Rifle ammunition must be of the hollow point, soft nose type, and full-automatic type weapons are prohibited for hunting. Hunting will be allowed on Sunday.

Crooms Gridders Nose Out DeLand Tigers, 14 To 13

By T. V. DAVIS

The Crooms Academy Panthers trimmed the Euclid Tigers last Friday night 14-13 at DeLand's Municipal Stadium. It was Croom's 9th win in their last 10 games, the other game was a 12-12 tie with Florenceville last year.

Crooms spotted the Tigers seven points in the first quarter, only to tie the score in the second period. Captain Oscar Williams scored the Panthers' first touchdown in the second quarter. Co-captain Louis Jackson and Calvin Collins, providing excellent blocking, opened the hole for the Panthers to sail through.

The third quarter saw End Gray Edge kicked off to DeLand's Captain James Tomlinson, who all paces the Panthers line right into Edge's arm when captured. The Panthers' second touchdown came when Larry End Eddie Elly recovered one of the Tigers' fumbles on the fourth down.

DeLand trailing 11-7 in the final half, the Tigers tried desperately to come from behind. They succeeded in getting a touchdown that made the score 11-13 but they missed the extra point that could have tied the game.

The Tigers extra point try was stopped when Crooms quarterback Earnest Thorne made a heroic do or die leap, using his body to stop the ball, succeeding in knocking the ball down. If Thorne had failed to stop this kick the score might have been tied, 11-14.

Bill Wynn, who leads the Crooms fans with songs and football hypes, instilled the winning spirit for the Panthers again in Friday.

DeLand 7 0 7 0-14
Crooms 0 7 7 0-14

Touchdowns: Crooms — Oscar Williams, Eddie Elly; DeLand — Stephens, Tomlinson.

Extra points: Crooms — Arthur Knight, Joseph Baker. DeLand — Witherspoon.

Bob Steele Plummets From 9th To 5th In City Bowling Averages

Robert "Bob" Steele's record breaking 231 single game performance for the Post Office last Wednesday night against Stine Machine Company boosted him up from the No. 9 position to 5th place in the City Bowling League averages this week.

Stanley Rogers, Paul Pezold continued to hold his domination over the circuit again this week, although he dropped off by one point to 173.6. Meanwhile, the entire league showed a definite trend downward.

Orville Touchton, Harold Appleby, Post Office, was second from fourth place as Carl Von Herbulis and Orville Touchton, both of Stine's, fell off.

Von Herbulis didn't live up to his nickname, "Hot Shot", this week after pressing "Kingfish" Pezold for first place last week. Von Herbulis slumped off from second to fourth as his average nose dived from 170.5 to 163.2.

Touchton maintained his third place ranking but his average suffered a loss of about five points. Jack Kanner, Ace Glass, moved up for the league leaders with a point jump to 154.1.

It is interesting to note that last year, at this corresponding point in the City League, Paul

Mayo Sees Florida As Big Cattle State

KISSIMMEE — (Special) — "Florida is destined to become the cattle feeding ground of the Southeast," Commissioner Nathan Mayo declared today as he participated in ground breaking ceremonies for the new Kissimmee Valley Livestock Pavilion.

The pavilion, designed to accommodate 350 head of cattle, will be the largest of its kind in the state, will cost some $55,000, and will be ready for occupancy by the time the Valley Livestock Show and Fair, scheduled to open February 18.

Commissioner Mayo referred to the increasing interest in finishing of beef in the Everglades area. His visit to Kissimmee followed an appearance at Belle Glade, and attendance at the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Committee convention.

County Agent J. R. Gunn introduced Mayo, L. H. Lewis, Jacksonville livestock specialist with the state marketing bureau, W. L. Wilson, Winter Haven, state director of markets, Max Bavar, Orlando, contractor, and Addison Bedford, Kissimmee, construction engineer who will supervise the job.

Gunn said the building would have an overall length of 300 feet, and the arena section would be 120 by 90 feet. On either side of the arena are quonset type barn areas 80 by 105 feet. The building will be completely enclosed and bird-tight.

"I look forward to the day when we will have the front of this building devoted to officers of the various agricultural services in the county," Mayo said, and urged his listeners to see that the greatest possible use is made of the structure.

Highway Restaurant Robbed On Sunday

Cigarettes, chewing gum and a box of cigars, all valued at approximately $30 were taken early Sunday morning during a break-in at the Griddle, restaurant south of Sanford on Highway 17-92, Sheriff P. A. Meru, revealed today.

The place was entered at some time between 2:30 a. m. and day light, he said, through a screen window on the south side of the building. The screen had been cut open.

Tracks, which he thought to be those of a man and a boy, led down the side of the highway from the restaurant, the sheriff said. He followed them a short distance but was unable to tell whether the people had entered an automobile.

Two people, one tall and the other short, were frightened away from a car in the immediate area at about 4:00 a. m. he stated.

State Demos

Barker has never said he would vote against Stevenson in November. Nor has he followed the Wright vote for him. Waybright hasn't said either.

But Barker, who was elected national committeeman last spring on an anti-"New and Fair Deal" platform, has said that Stevenson is veering further and further to the left and now follows the Truman line almost completely.

The coolness of some Florida Democratic leaders toward Stevenson and an outright defection on the part of at least one county committee has caused "loyalist" Democrats in the state considerable concern. This concern has been heightened by reports of steadily increasing sentiment in the state for Dwight D. Eisenhower of the Republican presidential candidate.

Al R. McFadyen, Sarasota, state finance director for the Democratic campaign, asked Mitchell Thursday to remove both Barker and Waybright.

On Saturday Mitchell announced the national party would refuse to recognize Barker as its representative in Florida for the rest of the campaign.

Mitchell said he would not ally himself with Barker for his post. He added he could not do anything about Waybright because Waybright is a county party official.

RAIN HIT MIAMI

MIAMI — More rain was dumped for the Miami area today after heavy showers brought Southeast Florida a wet Sunday.

The downtown Miami weather bureau recorded 1.84 inches of rain during the day, while at Miami International Airport the fall totaled 2.14 inches during the afternoon and 2.32 inches for 24 hours ending Sunday night.

Hialeah, Miami Springs, Coconut Grove and the southwest section of Miami caught the heaviest fall, some reporting as much as five inches.

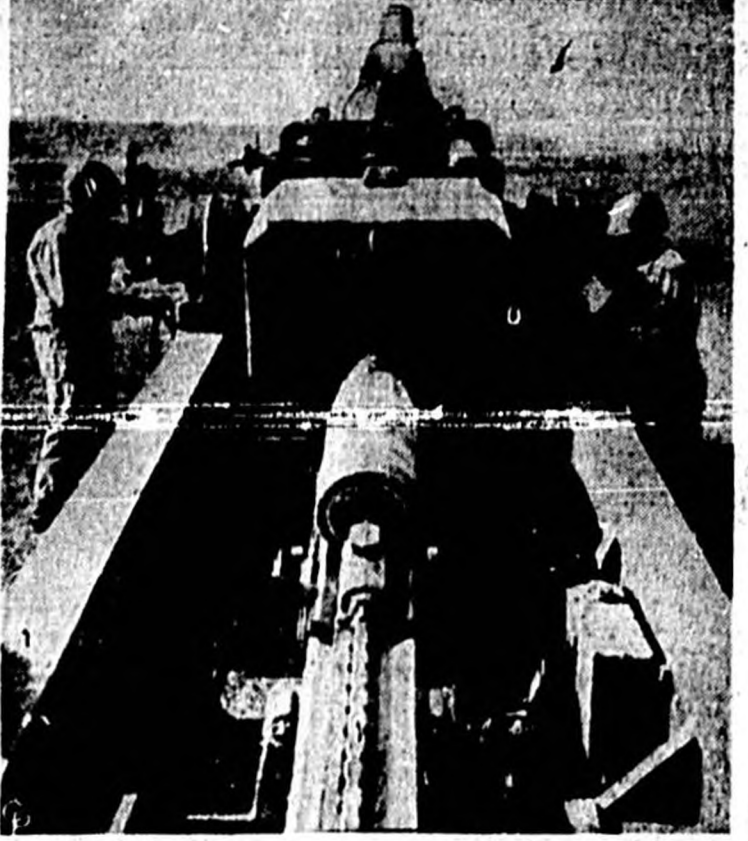

A low pressure trough was named for the downpour, which brought Miami a year in 1952, still 2.41 inches below normal.

PVT WESLEY WRIGHT WITH THE 2D INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA

Wesley Wright, whose wife, Huron, lives at Cassia Brewer Project, Sanford, recently arrived in Korea and has been serving with the 2d Infantry Division.

This division gained fame in two of the hardest fought battles of the Korean war, captured "Heartbreak Ridge" in October 1951 and took "Old Baldy" last July.

Private Wright, last stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., is serving as a medical technician in the field.

Democratic Strategists Are Happy Over Campaigning Discount Fears of Adlai's Wisetracks and 'Big Words'

The Democratic officials say that Stevenson has surprised even some of his strongest supporters by his ability as a speaker and the reception at his first address.

They insist that only television cut into the audience that heard the nominee in Michigan on Labor Day.

"They maintain that the Illinois governor is winning increasing support because he has shown honesty, truthfulness and a refusal to engage in political mudslinging.

These observers also discount the fear by some Democrats that Stevenson talks "over the heads" of his audience and say that he makes his aims clear despite the use of some "big words."

But some of the candidate's staunchest supporters are afraid that his frequent wisetracks and other displays of a keen sense of humor may get Stevenson laughed right out of winning the election—by being considered a comedian instead of a serious executive.

That his down-to-earth speeches may not be winning laughs, but are getting plenty of votes.

DOUBTFUL ISSUE

Washington experts doubt whether pronouncements by Stevenson and Eisenhower at the Kaason, Minn., National Flaming contest will do much to swing the vital farm vote either way.

Observers say it seemed as though the GOP presidential nominee was trying to bull his way through by promising to out-price-support the Democrats.

And the Democratic candidate seemed bent primarily on getting out from under the stigma of the Truman administration's much-maligned Brannan price support plan.

At issue is the key mid-west farm vote, which did so much to tip the scales in favor of President Truman's re-election in 1948.

Like's proposal for higher price supports is NOT likely to please the leadership of the largest U. S. farm organization, the powerful "flexible" support program.

But the federation high command privately opposed Mr. Truman in 1948, and like's stand is not likely to cause any serious defection this time.

The experts consider Stevenson's opposition to the Brannan plan as all to the good. But they added that it will be hard to gloss over the fact that, in general, the margin of farm income has been falling for the past four years under the Democratic administration.

FRIEND OR FOE

The recent accident in which a B-17 bomber was shot down by one of the new electronically controlled jet fighter planes has pointed up one of the chief weaknesses of these highly complicated craft—their lack of an adequate identification system to tell friend from foe.

Two new planes—the P-86-D and the F-94-C—are both liberally packed with electronic equipment that "locks on" to an enemy plane and stays with it until the foe is shot down.

The problem is that although the jet fighters can "lock on" to a plane at great distances, the radar screen which the pilot uses still gives out "clutter" that does not differentiate between friend and foe. In fact, on the radar scope, a giant B-36 would give off a blip similar to a tiny cub airplane.

Therefore, the Air Force is putting pressure on its research and development section and the various electronic manufacturers to work out a device that will enable the pilots of these sub-sonic fighters to identify other aircraft more surely.

Hospital Election

The Citizens Committee urged every property holder to vote for the bond issue. Fifty percent of the property owners must vote for the referendum to be valid. It was pointed out, "Every citizen who wants a hospital here should vote for the bond issue."

Co-chairmen Touhy and Stenstrom stated that the Citizens Committee since its inception has been negotiating with the Trustees of the Fish Estate concerning the hospital question and that a statement would be forthcoming immediately from Under Secretary of the Navy Francis Whitehair, who is president of the Board of Trustees of the Fish Estate.

Judge Stenstrom, commenting upon the action of the County Commissioners in voting to hold the hospital referendum at the November General Election, said that the commissioners had done their plain duty in permitting a public expression on this vital question and that the matter was now squarely and simply up to the people to go to the polls and vote.

World Series

Hodges struck out—his 15th of the field at bat without a hit. Furillo singled to left. Loes fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Third Inning Yankees Raschi was thrown out, Reese to Hodges. McDougald popped to Campanella. Rizzuto's long drive was pulled in by Snider. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Third Inning Dodgers McDougald whipped out Cox. Woodling made a running catch of Reese's low liner. Snider grounded out, Martin to Mize. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fourth Inning Yankees Mantle popped to Robinson. Mize walked on four pitches. Berra bounced to Robinson, forcing Mize. Berra moved to second on Reese's bad throw to Robinson. Woodling filed to Snider. No runs, no hits, one error, one left.

Fourth Inning Dodgers Robinson struck out. Shuba also fanned. Campanella singled to left. Hodges struck out for the second time. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Fifth Inning Dodgers Furillo struck out. Low rolled out, Martin to Mize. Raschi bounced to Rizzuto, who forced Cox at second. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Sixth Inning Yankees McDougald popped to Reese. Rizzuto walked on four pitches. Mantle filed to Shuba. Mize grounded out, Robinson to Hodges. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

Sixth Inning Dodgers Hank Bauer went to right field for the Yankees. Rocky Nelson, pinch hitting for Hodges, struck out. Furillo walked.

Andy Palko, pinch hitting for Joe, popped to Snider. Mize grounded out, McDougald to Collins and the Yanks won, 3-2. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

Seventh Inning Yankees Berra homered over the right field screen making it 1-1. This tied the 7 game series home run record set by Washington and Pittsburgh in 1925.

The Dodger bullpen got busy. Woodling singled to center. He moved to second when Loes dropped the ball and was charged with a balk.

Noren struck out. Martin popped to Cox. Raschi's hot grounder bounced off Loes' knee into short right for a single, scoring Woodling to put the Yanks ahead, 2-1.

McDougald walked on four pitches. Rizzuto grounded out, Cox to Hodges. Two runs, three hits, no errors, two left.

Seventh Inning Dodgers Hodges fanned for the third time. Furillo bounced to Mize. Loes singled to right, then stole second.

Mize popped to Hodges. Berra hit Snider. Woodling walked. Noren singled, Woodling stopping at second.

Martin dribbled out, Cox to Hodges. One run, two hits, no errors, two left.

Eighth Inning Dodgers Collins replaced Mize at first for the Yanks. Reese bounced out, Rizzuto to Mize.

Snider hit his second homer over the right field screen and scoreboard. It was his fourth of the series, tying the record held by Babe Ruth (1926) and Lou Gehrig (1928).

Robinson filed to Woodling. Shuba doubled to left-center. Alie Reynolds moved Raschi. Campanella struck out.

One run, two hits, no errors, one left.

Ninth Inning Yankees Tommy Holmes went to left field for Brooklyn. Reynolds was out, Loes to Hodges. McDougald beat out an infield single.

Rizzuto's long single sent McDougald to second. Prosser replaced Loes. Mantle walked on four pitches.

Eisenhower

But he was stung to anger by the attacks on him by Truman who asserted he was a "front man" for special lobby interests.

Eisenhower decided to pinpoint Truman as his main target in the Fargo speech. All day Saturday as he flew between stops in the Dakotas, he made notes aboard his plane. Some of his aides tipped reporters a surprise speech was coming up.

First night Eisenhower opened his address by reminding his audience that "another campaign" had preceded his through the city a few days before. This was a reference to Truman's appearance in Fargo.

"Now from my rear platform," he said, "I am told, salvo after salvo, that I am a 'front man' for special lobby interests. Now I merely say that I have been shot at by rear artillery. I am far too old to be greatly disturbed by noisy but harmless blanks."

"However, it seems that we are supposed to accept that kind of racket as typifying the purpose or nature of the current Democratic campaign: sound without substance; promise without performance; hollow without harmony."

His audience roared with laughter and Eisenhower appeared to be enjoying himself, too, in this kind of assault on his opposition.

"The audience roared with laughter and Eisenhower appeared to be enjoying himself, too, in this kind of assault on his opposition.

"Now the whole is blended into a raucous din and jangle led for seven years by the drum major of the administration's band," he said. "He asserts that the Democrats must march to the weird clatter of his hand-picked lieutenant shows definite signs of annoyance, even disagreement. He has gone so far as to imply that the drum major has made a major of things—no confusion reigns among them. And now we are getting an educated accent welded on to the old Democrat demagoguery."

This was the kind of "give-'em-hell" talk that Eisenhower had never attempted before. His reaction to the audience was the reaction from the Fargo audience.

Leading the bases Collins struck out. Berra lined out to Furillo. No runs, two hits, no errors, three left.

Ninth Inning Dodgers Hank Bauer went to right field for the Yankees. Rocky Nelson, pinch hitting for Hodges, struck out.

Furillo walked. Andy Palko, pinch hitting for Joe, popped to Snider. Mize grounded out, McDougald to Collins and the Yanks won, 3-2. No runs, no hits, no errors, one left.

Four Killed In Auto Crash At New Smyrna

NEW SMYRNA BEACH — Four members of an Orlando family, including a honeymoon couple, were fatally injured in a two-car crash here Sunday when one auto tried to get back on the road after riding off on the shoulder.

Robert Shulman, 29, and his father, John Raneri, 57, a merchant, were killed outright. Robert's bride of a month, Mrs. Adeline Brito Raneri, 19, and Robert's sister, Rose Raneri, 7, died early today.

Mrs. John Raneri, 42, wife of John, was critically hurt. Neal B. Brown, 25, a Miami bank clerk, suffered serious injuries.

State Highway Patrolman Jerry Wells said skid marks indicated the northbound Raneri car was attempting to right itself after getting off U. S. 1 onto the shoulder. I rammed into the side of Brown's car.

"Don't Forget, Ability Counts," is the slogan of the observance this year. Letters have been sent concerning the feasibility of hiring the handicapped to all large employers of this area and churches, Mr. Prescott said. Also civic clubs have been notified and are cooperating with the week.

"The FSBZ office in Sanford has handicapped workers registered who are seeking employment," he stated, "and any employer who is interested in hiring such workers may contact the office at 111 South Palmetto Avenue or may call 1089. Any one who knows disabled persons in need of employment should refer them to this office."

Last year, six disabled veterans and seven persons, non-veterans, were placed in positions of employment during the observance, Mr. Prescott said.

U. S. Destroyer Used Light To Scare Reds

Aboard U. S. Destroyer Walker off Korea — Lookouts on this destroyer spotted North Korean work parties trying to clear debris of a bomb-wrecked train near Songjin recently.

The Walker fired its five-inch guns. The workmen fled at the first flash. Soon they were back again. The Walker's guns dashed and the workers scattered.

Ensign Dennis O'Connor, Honolulu, suggested flashing the searchlight on the beach, five miles away. It flashed. Time and again the flash lit up the beach.

The destroyer's skipper, Comdr. Marion C. Walley, Honolulu, and Tichon, Miss., managed the nearby Canadian destroyer Iroquois.

"Have discovered that searchlight flashes shoreward caught workmen very effectively. Am conserving ammunition and possibly running them to death. Request services of two Indians and a blanket to furnish smoke to go with searchlight flashes."

WHEN BOAT OVERTURNS

MIAMI BEACH — An outboard boat was struck by wave and overturned in Biscayne Bay Sunday, causing the death of Edward J. Schneider, 57, New York resident. It was not immediately determined if two Indians and a blanket to furnish smoke to go with searchlight flashes.

Cocoa Is Named District Leader Of Kiwanis Club

38th Annual Convention Of Organization Ended Today

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Postmaster of Cocoa, named Florida's district governor of Kiwanis Club, at the state's 38th annual convention today.

The first onslaught Monday night gained the Reds some ground and a renewed assault against United Nations troops on the heights of the White Horse mountain.

The U. S. Eighth Army said the Reds were driven back to the 150-mile battlefield.

Attorney Williams' appearance on the scene had the effect of oil upon troubled waters, as he approached the Board after various Lake Mary residents had expressed their objection to the road blocking in no uncertain terms.

He said the American economic future is bright and that the annual outlay for farm and industrial equipment should rise 10 per cent.
