

Wednesday Club

By special invitation the Wednesday Club held their regular meeting at "Will Show," the handsome suburban home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Walker Wednesday afternoon. There was a good attendance of the club members and five visitors present.

The president, Mrs. G. L. Maris presided.

On account of illness the secretary, Mrs. S. O. Chase was unable to be present. Mrs. G. B. Waldron was requested to act as secretary pro tem.

Mrs. J. W. Dickins presented to the club a request from Miss Catherine A. Stewart of Virginia, National Field Agent of the Audubon Society and of the Florida, that they cooperate with the clubs of the city in making an effort to assist in the protection of the birds in the state, by signing a petition which will be put in the hands of our representative, Mr. Lake, who will be requested to present the matter to the Legislature. Those of the club who were present signed the petition. Mrs. Dickins stated that a similar petition had been signed by the Welaka Club.

A report from the committee in charge of the program for "Library Day," was received and discussed.

Mrs. F. F. Dutton, leader for the afternoon, opened the program with an exceedingly interesting paper on "Woman's Sphere in Mexico," prepared by Mrs. A. E. Brown, a non-resident member of the club, and which was read by Miss Alice Tetherly. "Child Life in Mexico" was entertainingly and graphically portrayed by Mrs. Dutton.

Mrs. G. B. Waldron gave some interesting and rather surprising facts concerning the "Educational System" existing in Mexico.

The roll was then called, and many of the members responded by naming a Mexican dish, and the recipe for preparing it, which concluded the program.

As a fitting finale, to a Mexican program, and afternoon study of the home life of the people, the hostess surprised her guests by serving real Mexican dishes, such as "Chilli con carne," and "hot tamales," with Mexican bread and Mexican chocolates. Mrs. Walker had hoped to have some real Mexican candy but was disappointed at its non arrival.

Misses Annie Whitner, Ruth Waldron, Ethel Moughton and Claire Waldron, assisted in serving the refreshments.

Mrs. Fannie S. Munson will entertain the club at her studio with a musical program. The members are requested to come promptly at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Fannie S. Munson will entertain the club at her studio with a musical program next Wednesday afternoon, April 9th. The members are requested to come promptly at 8 o'clock.

At the Imperial

The very latest thing in moving pictures is to be seen at the Imperial theater this week in the 101 Ranch Wild West, owned and operated by Miller Bros. of Blinn, Oklahoma. They have toured the country from coast to coast innumerable times during the tenting season, and this is the first opportunity that has been given of seeing the show as it is really, at the moving picture price. Not only do the audience see the entire show, but the incidentals that go to make up the operating of such an attraction. The putting up and tearing down of the arena, the cook tent, the transportation facilities, in fact every detail is portrayed.

In addition there are the scenes on the ranch, showing the round up, the branding, and the cow boys as they really live. Bronco busting by both men and women, a realistic bull fight and other scenes too numerous to mention are included in this set of films, which are the longest in the world.

BORDEAUX ALL RIGHT

Mixture is Harmless and Grows so Informal

On account of adverse criticism from several sources Chase & Co. have made inquiries at Washington and received the following answer which will be interesting to the grower of celery:

Washington, D. C., Mar. 27, 1918.

Messrs. Chase & Co., Jacksonville, Fla.: Gentlemen—Our attention has been called this morning by Mr. Birns, your local representative, to difficulties experienced in marketing celery in Delaware county, Pennsylvania, on account of the presence of Bordeaux mixture on the plants. This problem in its relation to the enforcement of the Pure Food and Drugs Act has already been under consideration and the subject of conference between those members of the Department charged with the control of celery diseases and the Pure Food Board of the Bureau of Chemistry. In a case which came up recently in the District of Columbia it was advised that prosecutions should be suspended pending further investigation by the Bureau of Plant Industry and the Bureau of Chemistry as to the quantity of copper carried by sprayed celery. It is understood, however, that the Pure Food Board will act whenever a harmful quantity of copper is found. The analyses that have been made thus far have not shown a harmful quantity present.

We are furthermore convinced that the celery which has caused this trouble has been improperly sprayed, using too much Bordeaux and applying it with coarse nozzles and low pressure spray pumps. It has been shown in the Department's experiments on celery in Florida this season that the blight can be prevented without incrusting the plants with dry Bordeaux. It is, therefore, of the highest importance to the celery interests of Florida that all concerned should unite to get the right kind of spraying done by the growers. We have instructed our local representative, Mr. Geo. F. Miles, whose present headquarters are in Ocala, to confer with you, as we believe your influence with the growers will greatly assist in this reform.

Yours very truly,

W. A. ORTON.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here The Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

With the Mississippi swelling to what will probably be the highest stage in its history and the flood beating with its greatest force against the embankments about Caruthersville, Mo., and along the Reelfoot levee west of Hickman, Ky., the only report from the levee workers yesterday that might be regarded as unfavorable came from Biggs, Ark., south of Memphis, where a "boll" developed yesterday. Officials of the St. Francis levee board, who have supervision over this section of the levee, expressed the opinion, however, that the situation there was not serious and the trouble would be quickly remedied. Additional men were dispatched from Memphis for work on this stretch of levee yesterday.

Memorial services for the late J. Pierpont Morgan were held Sunday in St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, of which he was for forty-five years a vestryman, and in which his funeral is to take place, probably on April 14. Each worshiper found in the rack before him a church bulletin recording the death of Mr. Morgan, who was a regular attendant and took an active part in the services, one of his accustomed duties being the passing of the collection plate. The pew that he frequently occupied, although all the pews in the church were free, was filled Sunday with strangers. Mr. Morgan's favorite hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," was not on the day's musical program, but hymns of which he was fond, including "Nearer My God to Thee," were sung by the congregation while the choir sang the anthem "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled." The rector, Rev. Dr. Carl Relland, eulogized the late financier in the sermon.

Setting aside precedents of more than a century, President Wilson will appear in the halls of congress today to deliver his first legislative message in person. He announced to Democratic congressional leaders that he would go to the floors of the House, when it convened today, and there give that body his views on the tariff. The decision of the president evoked much comment among the congressional leaders. He will be the first president of the United States to appear officially before either branch of congress in deliberative session since John Adams, in the first few years of the last century. An attempt was made exactly one hundred years ago, in 1813, to revive the custom, but President Madison declined an invitation to discuss foreign relations with the senate. Since then no president has even suggested joining in the deliberations of congress.

Twenty-two men, including the ship's captain, the president of a wrecking company of Portland and the representative of the Marine Underwriters, were trapped in the hold of the German ship, Mimi, which capsized off the beach near Bay City, Ore., early Sunday after having been hauled off a reef on which she had been fast two months. How many perished is not known. Figures were seen on the bottom of the wreck at dark. It was supposed they had cut their way out.

Charges of illegally dominating and controlling the cotton seed oil industry of the South in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, made against the American Cotton Seed Oil Company, will be laid before the federal grand jury at Augusta, Ga., today. Witnesses from every state in the union will be present and testify during the trial. The Beckwith Seed Co., the Proctor and Gamble Company and others are the principal subsidiary corporations of the alleged trust.

Legislative Session Convenes Today at the Capital City

Sanford Delegation is Already on the Ground and will Push County Division Fight

(By R. J. HOLLY.)

Today the Florida Legislature expects to convene for business. The preliminary skirmishing and jockeying for place will then be over, the Speaker of the House will be known and the President of the Senate. At an early stage in the game it looks as though Ion T. Ferris of Jacksonville will be Speaker and Senator Drane of Lakeland, President of the Senate. That is the proper dope today, but may be changed. Nothing is certain in Tallahassee. Every man you see can give you a line on or that but every opinion has a string attached to it and unless you have something to give you cannot expect to pull down anything for yourself.

If any readers of The Herald have never been to a meeting of the Florida law makers they should come up now and become familiar with the workings of our law making machinery and see what makes the wheels go round. Certainly we will not tell anything at this stage of the game but to a rank outsider the legislative body has ways that are peculiar to the outlooker and yet we would not have them changed for the world.

A meeting of the legislature without the old members of the members of the third house would be an utter failure and have very little of the proper stage setting.

Your correspondent will not touch upon the question of county division in this letter because it has not been presented yet and to the anxious inquirers we will only say that the bill will pass but it will take some good work and the members of the delegation who fondly imagined the bill would be found in a few hours will find out that the legislative wheels never revolve fast enough to cause friction and the house will not be in good working order before Wednesday or Thursday.

There seems to be strong tendency among the members of the legislature to get through with local bills as quickly as possible and the anxious ones here hope this may be true.

The delegation made a visit to the Florida Female College yesterday and were most agreeably surprised to find so many fine buildings and such beautiful surroundings. McCuller was on of the committees and with several others has made application for the position of janitor of the buildings.

The only Sanford girl that we were able to see was Lillian Higgins. We expect to go out there some evening and see all of them and find out how they stand on county division.

Tallahassee is a great place to see crackers from the lowlands of South Florida. All of us have sore tendons from walking up and down the mountains around here.

The weather is cool and the bunch almost froze to death last night and this morning sought the grateful blaze of the big fire place.

The city itself is packed upon a high hill and is an old time southern town. The negroes are so thick that last Saturday night they occupied the main street to the exclusion of every one else and L. P. McCuller was crowded off the sidewalk while rubbering at an ox team. The state capitol building is another historic old pile that looks better than it has for some time, having just received a new coat of paint, but really our State ought to have a new building in keeping with the progress of new Florida. A former Sanford man, Thos. Appleyard, is state printer here and has a fine office. He is the same genial, whole-souled old Tom of old and is giving the Sanford delegation the glad hand.

Milton Smith, editor of the True Democrat, is putting out a daily paper now and it is a credit to Tallahassee. The city is paving the streets with brick and putting on other metropolitan airs and will soon be making a noise like a real live city.

The legislators are coming by every

ION L. FERRIS
Candidate for Speaker of the House

train now and the city is rapidly filling up with alive bunch. The usual bunch of little boys are present seeking jobs as pages, a position that is said to pay $4 per day. Other applicants are waiting for a chance to be heard and if any of our delegation go broke they

WHITNER FOR DIVISION

Mr. H. A. Whitner
Ex-Member Legislature
Sanford, Fla. April 5th, 1913
Hon. Forrest Lake, Tallahassee, Fla.

Dear Sir: Referring to our conversation about dividing Orange county, I have this to say:

In 1897 when an effort was made to divide the county I was opposed to the division for several reasons. The principal one being the poverty of the people consequent upon the freeze of 1895, and because people were leaving the county instead of immigrants coming in. Since that time the change in conditions is marvelous, almost beyond belief even by those most familiar with them. It is not necessary to enumerate them to you; suffice it to say the, now growing population of that portion of the proposed new county supplied from the Sanford post office has approximately as many inhabitants as then lived in Orange county. Lands now known as the "Sanford Celery Delta" at that time sold for taxes and as late as 1899 actually sold for 25 cents an acre, are now held at $150.00 per acre. At that time we had not enough inhabitants to forbid cows to roam our streets. Today we have miles of paved streets (and more being paved); city and suburban street car service. We have in the course of construction twenty odd miles of country brick roads, etc. etc.

In other words, we have enough people and property, with ample territory to require for our best interests, our own county with local home rule.

I not only admit but boast of my affection for Orange county, but in my opinion the time for sentiment is past and the time for action has arrived. I say this because this division is inevitable in the near future, therefore, it should be done now of account of the friction and bad feeling which has arisen from indiscreet talk, added to natural jealousy of two rival towns in the same county.

To defeat this movement now would gall the people of this section, and give an unkind and needless triumph to those, some of whom at least would make capital of it to the hurt of Sanford and her citizens.

Should it appear to you necessary to, advance this movement for me to appear before the proper committee of the legislature I shall hold myself in readiness to do so.

Trusting that you will give this matter your best and most earnest efforts in the interest of all the people, I wish for you speedy success in the matter.

Yours truly,
J. N. WHITNER.

expect to hang on to the coat tails of law makers and get a position as Chief Chancellor of the cuspidors or something equally as important. Those who have never played the game think it is a cinch to come up here as a representative but the poor fellows certainly earn their money for they are pulled and hauled and badgered to death by a swarm of buzzards long before they ever get to the legislative halls and so unpleasant has this become that many of them do not get here until the opening day simply to escape this worry. Of course the Sanford boys never bother anyone or bore them to death. They are only here to view the landscape and nothing else and just to watch the deliberation of the august body of law makers. And after watching the preliminaries we have all come to the conclusion that we do not care to become a legislator. We like Tallahassee but the celery fields call us and not for work would we leave our happy homes in the sunny valley of the St. Johns to come up here and freeze and be frozen.

It is a cinch that more people in West Florida know about Sanford now than they ever knew before for the busy band of boosters have certainly talked about it. We have asked all about celery so often that McLain wired Chase & Co. for five crates and we will put it on the hotel tables and let these people see what Sanford celery really is. There will be something doing from now on and The Herald will have it.

Tallahassee, April 8. The session of the Florida legislature, which begins here today promises to be enlivened by a vigorous fight to secure the calling of a constitutional convention, and an active effort on the part of the Florida anti-alcohol league to secure the adoption of a resolution provided for an election on a state wide prohibition amendment to the constitution. The advocates of a constitutional convention claim the state has outgrown its present constitution, adopted in 1885.

The legislature also will be called upon to act on the proposed amendment to the national constitution provided for the direct election of United States senators by the people.

Many other subjects of general interest are to be presented for consideration and action. Among these is a recommendation of Governor Park Trammell that the state adopt a bank guarantee law.

The special tax commission created by the legislature of 1911 to study the tax system of the state and recommend changes will make its report through the governor and will ask for an entire remodeling of the system of taxation, divorcing state from county taxation. Under the system to be suggested the state would derive its tax revenues from railroads, telegraph and telephone lines, and from occupational license taxes, while all local property, real and personal, would be assessed for county revenue only.

Under the present system the state derives a revenue from taxing a real and personal property. The law requires that all property shall be assessed at full cash value, but this is never done, some counties placing the valuation for taxation as low as twenty per cent of real value. As there is no state board of equalization this makes the burden of state taxation bear heavily on those counties where the assessors strive to do their duty and as nearly as possible obey the law. It is to adjust these inequalities that the change is suggested.

An organized movement is now underway to induce the legislature to provide for an issue of bonds sufficiently large to give a state wide system of hard surfaced roads, to be constructed under the supervision of a state engineer.

Secretary of State H. Clay Crawford will recommend the establishment of a state hall of history, with an appropriate

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain

The fruit growers of this state, whether members of the Florida Citrus Exchange or not, are being urged to attend the fruit growers' meeting in Tampa on the 17th of this month. The Citrus Exchange convention will be held the day following.

Buena Vista will be included in Greater Miami, according to the plan of the council committee now working on the new charter. The new city limits have been decided upon for the most part by the council committee and it is expected that the new city map will be drawn within a few days and presented to the council and later to the people for their approval. The northern, western and southern limits have been definitely fixed, as far as the committee is concerned, though no decision has been made as far as the eastern limits—across the bay are concerned.—Miami Metropolis Franchise for a new railroad into St. Petersburg was granted to the proposed St. Petersburg and Gulf Coast road by the city council of that city last week. Two routes were designated by the council. C. H. Lutz, president of the company, explaining that one of them was to be used as a freight yard and the other for the passenger service, respectively. The road will touch Clearwater and Largo before reaching St. Petersburg, entering the city on the western limits.

A week ago, George Robinson, secretary and treasurer of the Key West Cigar Factory, received a small but heavy box by express, shipped from St. Augustine. Upon opening the box Mr. Robinson was fairly stunned to behold a quantity of jewelry, from which precious stones scintillated. He concluded that the gems had been stolen and immediately got in touch with a number of the hotels along the East Coast, and also with a prominent jewelry firm of Philadelphia, whose name appeared on one piece of the jewelry. He shortly afterward received a post card from Chief of Police U. G. Quigley of St. Augustine, stating that the residence of a prominent citizen had been robbed of a quantity of jewelry on March 24, 1913. The owner of the jewelry arrived in Key West yesterday, and after identifying the jewelry, it was turned over to him by Mr. Robinson, and it might be added that both gentlemen were mutually happy over the event, the owner because he had recovered gems valued at $15,000, and Mr. Robinson because he had gotten rid of valuable jewelry which did not belong to him. Just why the box was addressed to Mr. Robinson is not known, but in all probability the sender took the chance that there was no person of such name in Key West, and intended to call for the box himself later on.

After an hour or more pleasantly spent playing cards, delicious pineapple sherbet and wafers were served by the hostess. Mrs. Wallace's guests were Mrs. George A. DeCottes, Mrs. J. H. Roumillat, Mrs. Gertrude Keely, Mrs. C. G. Butt, Mrs. C. C. Howard, Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, Miss Sallie Williams.

The Wednesday Club and Music Club will be entertained by Mrs. Fannie S. Munson at her studio Wednesday afternoon, with a musical program. The members of the two clubs are requested to come promptly at 8 o'clock.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

Budget of Opinion "Just Between You and Me."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chief is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em"—So Says Saunterer.

Many people in Orange and Harney counties are worrying about the county division question this week and my advice to both sides is to cut it out. Orlando has no need to worry because the question will be decided in favor of county division and Sanford need not worry because justice and truth always prevail and if ever there was a case of county division that had merit and justice to it this same Harney county bill is one of them. There has never been a county division matter turned down flat by the Legislature yet and Harney county will be created all right just as soon as the legislators can have the matter presented to them and look it over. Harney county has the people, the property and sufficient causes to separate, and separate we will if it takes a hundred years to do it. Orlando is the little city that needs to worry because county division will hang over them like a spectre all the time and the only way to get rid of it is to grant it with the best grace possible. The Sanford end of the county will pay no more allegiance to Orlando. We are big enough and able enough to run our own business.

There is some complaint about the Coast Line having a lot of fill near the new depot that are menacing the horses and automobiles and several complaints have been made to the city authorities about it. Of course the present conditions at the new depot are not what the Coast line wants to have there, but they are waiting for the brick paving to solve all these troubles and until the brick is down the public will have to suffer along with the railroad and every one else. Ninth street is on the burn proper at present and conditions are as bad as they well could be but the brick is on the ground and the men are at work and all will be well in a few months. I believe in kicking for things that are not in sight with the idea of getting them, but when the brick are piled up on the street it certainly seems that the public would be patient and wait until the city and the railroad can make the improvements. It seems that the distance of the new depot will never get out of the craws of some people and regardless to what the company may do in the future to accommodate the public that move will still stick in their craws.

Some people knock just to be knocking. Some knock just because they can't help it and some knock to get results. Usually the knocker can find trash before his own door to keep him busy but he is usually too busy watching his neighbor's yard.

Several times I have been importuned to jump on the people for sending out of town for their goods and several times I have jumped and yet at times the thought occurs to me that many of the merchants themselves ought to practice what they preach and the Georgetown (S. C.) Times expresses the same thought in the following:

"The Times the other day received a letter from a merchant requesting the publication of a strong editorial urging Georgetown people to do their shopping and general retail buying in Georgetown. Several reasons were advanced for incorporation into the "strong" editorial, showing why home people should patronize the local merchants. The editorial was very good. We have no reason whatever in endorsing the idea and commending it in the heartiest possible fashion. With all of the strength we are able to exert, we herewith urge the buyers of Georgetown to patronize the local merchants, and other local business men as well.

By all the rules of community of interest, the Georgetown merchant should have the preference of Georgetown buyers on every possible occasion. The local merchant contributes by taxes and otherwise to the upkeep of the city and the furtherance of its interests. He gives employment to various persons at living wages. He gives of his time and money to public causes. He loses the string of his purse in behalf of charity. He labors to build up the city, perhaps not with an entirely unselfish motive, since he knows that as the city grows he will have a chance of growing with it. But that part of it is all right; he is entitled to a share of the benefits that may accrue to the community by reason of his cooperation with other public spirited persons. As a matter of reciprocity and fairmindedness he should be given the opportunity of supplying to the local buyers those things in his line which they may need. To patronize the home merchant is in the nature of making an investment that will bear interest, since as the merchant class thrives the city will thrive. Cooperation and reciprocity will spell success and prosperity every time. Those who do not patronize the home merchant and business man have no right to expect the local merchant and business men to patronize them. We hope that is clear, "strong" and urgent.

But, stop a moment. We note that the letter head of the merchant on which was written the letter to the Times bears the imprint of a Louisville, Ky., job printing house; yet there are job printing houses in Georgetown. The Times, for instance, is a local merchant selling job printing. We note again, that the name of the merchant in question does not appear in the advertising columns of the Times, and yet the Times is a local merchant selling advertising space. An examination of the books fails to disclose the name of this merchant on the Times subscription list, still the Times is a local merchant selling a good local newspaper.

Again we venture to express the hope that we have made the editorial requested of us clear and strong.

Keep your eyes on your neighbors. Take care of them. Do not let them stir without watching. They may do something wrong if you do. To be sure you never knew them to do anything bad, but it may be on your account they have not. Perhaps if it had been for your kind care they might have disgraced themselves a long time ago, therefore do not relax any effort to keep them where they ought to be. Never mind your own business—that will take care of itself. There is a man passing along—he is looking over the fence—he is suspicious of him; perhaps he contemplates stealing, some dark night; there is no knowing what queer fancies he may have got into his head.

If you find any symptoms of any one passing out of the path of duty, tell every one else what you see, and be particular and see a great many. It is a good way to circulate such things. It may not benefit yourself or anyone else particularly. Do keep something going—silence is a dreadful thing; though it is said there was silence in heaven for the space of half an hour, do not let such a thing occur on earth; it would be too much for this mundane sphere.

If, after all your watchful care you find that a bad fellow has done anything bad, show out hints that they are no better than they should be—that you should not wonder if the people found out what they were after awhile, then they may not carry their heads so high. Keep it going, and some one else may take the hint and begin and help it along after awhile—then there will be music, and everything will work like a charm.

Follow the above directions and you will be pretty sure to make plenty of mischief.

Now comes the Orlando Board of Trade with requests to all voters in Sanford asking our support in getting a road built to Orlando from the St. Johns river below Ft. Christmas.

Dear Orlando Brethren, we would like to see you get the road all right. Sanford believes in good roads. Sanford is the prime mover in good roads projects and always has been, but does it not appear just a little inopportune at this time to ask our aid in building a road to Orlando from the other end of the present county?

Not any today, thank you. We build our own roads with our own money, not from choice but because we were forced to do it. It is Orlando's road policy and a great many other things that has caused the present county division fight. How hard must you be bumped before you will wake up?

J. PIERPONT MORGAN

He was the last of his line. There will not be another J. Pierpont Morgan. Never again will such power as Mr. Morgan exerted over money and credit and prosperity be concentrated in the hands of a single individual. Never again will conditions of government make it possible for any financier to bestride the country like a Colossus.

Even Mr. Morgan waited until he was nearly sixty for the opportunities that made him a master of money. These opportunities were finally achieved through partnership with government. After the triumph of Hannibal in 1896 this country was given over to Wall Street to be exploited like a conquered province. The welfare of Wall Street was made the national welfare. The law of the Stock Exchange became the law of the land, all statutes to the contrary notwithstanding.

Out of this welter of politics and plutocracy emerged J. Pierpont Morgan, who was known nationally only by his operations as a gold-broker for the Cleveland administration. Having greater force, greater character, greater intellect and greater vitality than any other man in Wall Street, he naturally became the leader, and he remained the leader. No other banker or financier knew so well what he wanted to do or how to do it. None other could command the kind of confidence that Mr. Morgan could command. Mr. Morgan did not always see far, but he saw further than anybody else in Wall Street and in the realms of the blind the one-eyed man is king.

What Mr. Morgan knew was that this is a country of almost inexhaustible resources, and that the industry and ingenuity and productiveness of the American people are well nigh inexhaustible. He believed in them, and believed in them sincerely. It was a farm of patriotism with him, and a very intense patriotism. He believed in the United States, just as he believed that power belonged to him who could seize it and use it.

Sanford H. S. vs. Daytona.

The Sanford High School basketball met the Daytona High School five on the home court last Friday. What was expected to be a hard fought game was only a medium practice for the locals.

The ball was in Sanford's possession almost all of the time and all that prevented them from running the score up farther was the pity they had for the visiting team.

In the last half Sanford ran in three of her second team men in hopes of livening up the game and make it more exciting, but even then the visitors were helpless.

At the end of the game the score was 32 to 4 in favor of Sanford.

Eight of the goals were thrown by Gilbert and five by Crosby. The line-up was as follows:

Sanford.	Daytona.
Crosby	R. F.
Raynor	Hawn
Kanner	L. F.
Gilbert	Gardner
Routh	C.
Fry	R. G.
Field	Wilder
Spicer	L. G.
	Drake
	Referee (Daytona).
Kanner, Timekeeper; Pattishall, Scorekeeper.

The locals will play a return game at Daytona next Friday.

tion ample to cover its maintenance, and to pay the salary of a competent librarian.

Gubernatorial Recommendations

Governor Trammell in his message to the legislature among other things will recommend.

Abolition of the office of county treasurer, claiming that this is absolutely an unnecessary office which now costs the state in fees some $125,000 a year, which might just as well be saved to the taxpayers.

Reduction of the legal rate of interest from 8 to 6 per cent per annum.

Law to authorize cities to change their charters without having to ask a special act of the legislature, which is now a source of annoyance and a great waste of time, often interfering with the consideration of important state legislation.

Law to enable commercial travelers to vote anywhere in the state they may happen to be on election day.

Law fixing a grade license tax on all corporations.

The commercial travelers of the state will send a strong delegation to the legislature to urge the passage of a hotel inspection law.

A vigorous fight will be waged to secure the abolition of the present convict lease system, some favoring the work of the public roads by the convicts and others that the state establish an extensive farm to employ them.

The membership of the Florida legislature is as follows:

Lovely Birthday Party

Mrs. Fred L. Williams entertained a large number of the little neighbors and friends at a very delightful birthday party, in honor of her little daughter, Sarah Evelyn, whose sixth birthday was so charmingly celebrated. The little guests enjoyed a very pretty May pole dance.

A very variety of entertainment was prepared for the little folks. Presents were thrown in the grass furnishing sport for the children in hunting for them. The prize, a very large peanut shell filled with salted peanuts, was won by Francis Watson, for finding the largest number of hidden peanuts. A mammoth "Jack Horner Pie," with a number of strings extending from the sides of the pie, next claimed the attention of the children, who each pulled a string and drew from the pie a pretty little favor. A toy musical instrument wrapped securely and with a string fastened to it was placed in a convenient place. The children were blindfolded and told to find the string. Bertha Masey succeeded in finding the string, which won for her the cute little violin, which was the prize. The next amusement was trying to hit and burst with a stick a large paper bag fastened to the ceiling, while blindfolded. When this feat was at length accomplished a shower of dainty little paper hats, one for each guest, fell to the floor and they had the fun of scrambling for their hats.

The games concluded the guests were invited into the dining room, which was lovely with its decorations of violets and pink roses, and the long handsomely appointed table with dainty violet decorations, a beautiful white birthday cake, with six little candles for the center piece, and a smaller cake with one little candle, for the young hostess' little brother.

Covers were laid for twenty-three. The guests were served chicken in timbales, sandwiches, celery, olives, strawberry ice cream, cake, candy and salted peanuts.

The little hostess received a number of very pretty and useful birthday gifts, among them was one very much appreciated, a handkerchief made by Mrs. Minerva Holly, who is seventy-seven years of age.

Mrs. Williams was assisted in entertaining and caring for the little folks by Mrs. J. O. Packard, Mrs. S. O. Shinholser, Mrs. W. Fields, Mrs. R. H. Marks and Mrs. Holly.

The little friends who enjoyed the happy occasion with their young hostess, and those invited were: Mildred and May Holly, Katherine Waldron, Margaret Neal, Mollie (and Waverly) Abernathy, Emily Griffin, Babe Schaal, Olive Newman, Bertha Macey, Francis and Junior Dutton, Majorie and Virginia Packard, Clifford Shinholser, Mina Heally, Earl Field, Sarah and Thomasville Wight, Theresa Hand, Edna Chittenden, Ethel Goodwin Perkins.

Mrs. Jacobs of Lakeland is the charming house guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Connolly this week, arriving Sunday.

Beautiful Birthday Party

"I'm going to have a birthday tomorrow at three.

Won't you come over And celebrate with me?"

April 5th, 1908-April 5th, 1913.

Theodore Louise Miller.

The above invitation was received by about thirty little acquaintances of the pretty little hostess at the beautiful birthday party given in her honor by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller at their home Saturday afternoon.

The rooms were attractively decorated with pink and red roses, nasturtiums and asparagus ferns.

The little guests were entertained with pretty outdoor games by Misses Norma Herndon, Esther Miller, Helen Peck and Elizabeth Stafford.

When the outdoor fun and games were over the children were invited into the dining room, with its pretty decorations, and seated at a long low table, the beautiful centerpiece of which was a large white birthday cake with five little lighted candles, and served sandwiches, pickles, ice cream, cake, candy and punch, by Mrs. J. J. Purdon, Mrs. T. S. Davis, Mrs. F. L. and O. L. Miller, who assisted Mrs. T. J. Miller in serving and entertaining the little folks.

The little hostess received a large number of pretty birthday gifts. Later in the afternoon, Rev. A. S. Peck, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Peck came in to see the pleasure of the happy little folks. Theodore's invited guests were Mary Guthrie, Rebecca Stevens, Ethel Goodwin Perkins, Mildred Holly, Bettie Housholder, Jean Maxwell, Margaret Neal, Mary Elizabeth and Camilla Puleston, Harriet Rossetter, Olive Newman, Helen Terwilliger, Margaret Stockton, Emma and Lillie Ruth Spencer, Dora Harpold, Elizabeth Whitner, Pearl Robeson, Deane Turner, Luella

The guest prize, a deck of cards, was won by Mrs. F. J. Gonzales, who made the highest score at the guest table. Mrs. B. W. Herndon won the prize, a handsome table cover. When the interesting games of cards were concluded a delicious pear salad, wafers, cheese and iced tea was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Connelly's guests were Mrs. W. R. Anno, Mrs. Q. W. Brady, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Jr., Mrs. F. J. Gonzales, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. F. L. Miller, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. T. A. Neal, Mrs. Barrett.

Prominent Workers Here

We assure Rev. Wm. H. Hopkins, the new Congregational Supt. of the south, Hon. T. S. Johnson, chairman National Council Apportionment Commission and Rev. Jas. P. O'Brien, D. D., Educational Secy. for the south in S. S. work for the C. S. S. and P. S., that they will very quickly realize that they are not among strangers, for the fame of their works has preceded them and we are but awaiting the opportunity to extend to them a welcome.

The splendid work which Mr. Hopkins has done in other fields and the high esteem in which he is held by those among whom he has labored gives the assurance good in store for Sanford. Mr. Hopkins has organized churches, established Bible classes and has been the much sought after adviser of other pastors. Wherever he has served a pastorate he has put new life and energy into the church and touched the community life with his mid week Bible class. Chiefly a man of prayer, he not only prays himself but continually urges others to pray. His special hobbies are his Bible classes. He likes to teach the Bible in these rallies. He outlines the best methods for Bible classes.

Hon. T. S. Johnson of Largo, Fla., has been in Sanford before in attendance at the National Council Apportionment commission and has in charge the placing on a business basis the benevolences of the denomination. He will use as the subject of his address, "Opportunity."

Dr. O'Brien comes to us with a fine record, having served one church in Kansas City for fifteen years as its well loved pastor. He has been for many years the Educational Secy. of the Congregational S. S. and Pub. Society and is an expert in the religious education of the young. Splendidly equipped for instructing, Dr. O'Brien is a valuable man in Sunday school work and modern, up to date methods for conducting Sunday schools. His address, "The Organized Sunday School" is anticipated with much interest.

Rev. Geo. B. Waldron needs no introduction to the people of Sanford. He is well loved by the Congregational people, whom he served as several years as their pastor. His genial sunny nature to all with whom he comes in contact. Mr. Waldron's address, "That Boy and His Father," in which he outlines the proper training of boys will create much interest, for it is a well known fact that all Mr. Waldron's boys are girls.

With such teams as these able men at each meeting there is a feast of good things coming to the people of Sanford, April 9 and 10, and a cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mass Meeting.

The club women of Sanford are requested to meet promptly at three o'clock on Saturday, April 12, at the Star Theatre.

On this occasion the constitution for the proposed Woman's Club of Sanford will be read and voted upon. It is earnestly desired that every club woman in Sanford should be present and express her opinion.

The various cities and counties and commercial bodies are heartily in favor of the legislature making into a law the following bills respecting cities and counties having an advertising fund and making same legal:

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Florida:

Section 3. This Act shall take effect upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its becoming a law without such approval.

A bill to be entitled: "An Act to authorize Cities and Towns to levy a Special Tax for Publicity Purposes."

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the state of Florida:

Section 1. Any city or town in this state is hereby authorized to levy a special tax not to exceed two mills, upon the real and personal property therein, to be assessed and collected as other city and town taxes are assessed and collected, for the purpose of giving publicity to the advantages, facilities and productions of such municipality.

Section 2. All laws in conflict herewith be and are hereby repealed.

Section 3. This Act shall take effect upon its passage and approval by the Governor, or upon its becoming a law without his approval.

Should Keep Name in Paper

No business man in any town should allow a newspaper published in his town to go without his name mentioned somewhere in its columns. This applies to all kinds of business, general stores, dry goods stores, groceries, furniture dealers, professional men, and in fact all classes of business men. This does not mean that a man should have his whole or even a quarter page ad in every issue of the paper, but that your name and business should be mentioned if you do not use more than a two line space. A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell just what business is represented in a town by looking at the business mentioned in the paper. This is the best possible town advertising. The man who does not advertise his business does an injustice to himself and his town. He is the man who expects the paper to do most of the boosting for his town. The life of any town depends upon the live, wide awake and liberal business men in it.—Eustis Lake Region.

J. C. Calhoun

Brother J. C. Calhoun, one of our oldest citizens passed away Monday morning, March 31st, 1919. Beginning with his latter days and going back to his youth, Brother Calhoun lived to the extreme old age of eighty years six months and nine days, although living on borrowed time with a steady step, a firm purpose and heart fixed on God, he kept right on going to church, supporting its institutions, and discharging his religious duties. Having the courage of his convictions, he condemned what he believed to be wrong, and admonished people to live right in the sight of God.

He did not believe in half heartedness but lived and advocated a life wholly devoted to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Having the same mind that was in Christ Jesus and a heart clean as the blood of Christ could make it, of course he was ready when death came to be transplanted from earth to the purest realms, where God and the angels dwell. The writer was with him a few days before his departure, when he had strength of body to sit up in his chair and strength of mind to converse on the doctrines of the Bible. He gave his belief in its pure teachings with no uncertain sound, then requested that his obituary be sent to the Pentecostal Herald. He was not ashamed of the gospel of Christ, but felt that it was the power of God unto salvation to them that believed.

The last eleven years of his life were spent in Sanford, Fla. He had lived in Orlando and Plant City, Fla., moving into this state in the fall of 1876, married Miss Evelyn Watts of Brantley, Ga., in the year 1887, unto whom was born four boys and one girl. His daughter and three sons survive him. Brother Calhoun was a true and tried soldier of the Confederate army, joined the Methodist church in early life, and was a native of Green county, Georgia.

Instead of occupying one seat now in his church, his influence is felt all over the town.

May his children follow in his footsteps.

Pastor

School for Corn Club Boys

The College of Agriculture of the University of Florida will offer a special course in Field Crops and Live Stock of one week, beginning Dec. 15, 1913, and ending December 20, 1913, for the Corn Club boys who win scholarships in the county contests.

The assembly hall, class rooms and laboratories of Agricultural Hall will be thrown open and the facilities of the College of Agriculture will be available for the special school. The instruction will be specially suited to these boys.

Arkansas and Oklahoma have held several schools for Corn Club boys and all have been highly commended. Expending money for training boys in better farming seems most wise and every county will want to devote part of their prize money for scholarships to this special school for corn club boys. It is expected that from three to five or more scholarships will be offered by each county. The coming together of boys from many counties of the state will be of immense benefit to itself. Visiting the College of Agriculture and the Experiment Station alone will be worth the trip and the coming in touch with many different instructors, including men from the United States Department of Agriculture, will add still further to the benefits and pleasures to be derived.

Arrangements have been made through the ministers of Gainesville for these boys to be cared for during the week of the school in the homes of the members of the different churches. The necessary expense for each boy after arriving in Gainesville will be $1.00 for the week.

Florida farm boys have never had such a splendid opportunity offered them before and we expect that our boys will work all the harder to win these scholarships in the county contests.

There are also three state prizes of $50.00, $30.00 and $20.00 in cash, of which the state champion boy will also receive a free trip to Washington, D. C.

This is Their Town

The way that some people knock you would think that this is some one else's town.

But it isn't—it is their town all the while.

You would think that, if there is something lacking, the town is to blame for it. But it isn't the town that is to blame—it is the people in the town.

And the knockers are part of the people.

When they knock the town they knock themselves.

What they ought to do is not to complain merely but also to correct.

If this town has anything the matter with it.

If it needs some improvements.

If it needs to do more of its buying at home.

If it needs home pride, more of a community spirit.

If it needs to develop its resource encourage home investment.

Then we, the people, must do it.

Let's get together and start something.—Ex.

Elegant Banquet

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, an elegant four course banquet was given by the Presbyterian church to the men and young men of the church and congregation in the Masonic Hall Friday evening, April 4th.

At a long and handsomely appointed table in the shape of a letter T and decorated with large bowls of beautiful nasturtiums placed at intervals on the table, the guests were seated and served the "splendidly prepared four course banquet by members of the Aid Society. One of the objects in tendering the banquet and social meeting to the men only was the desire of the pastor, Rev. E. D. Brownlee, and the officers of the church to bring the men together in closer touch with each other and to organize among them a Presbyterian Brotherhood and Bible study class. After the conclusion of the delicious banquet several splendid talks on the subject and plans for the Brotherhood and work contemplated were made by Rev. J. F. McKinnon of Orlando, Rev. E. M. Brownlee, Messrs. J. N. Whitner and Chas. Ingold.

The Brotherhood was organized with thirty-five charter members and a church work of incalculable benefit and far reaching was inaugurated. It is needless to say that the pleasant evening was enjoyed by the guests, numbering over fifty. The following ladies served the banquet, Mrs. C. H. Dingee, Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher, Mrs. B. A. Howard, Mrs. Kent Rosseter, Mrs. F. L. Woodruff, Mrs. F. L. Miller, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. Gillon, Mrs. T. K. Bates.

Married in Orlando

There was considerable excitement in the city on Saturday when it became known that two of Sanford's most popular young people had stolen a march on their friends and gone to Orlando and been married the afternoon before.

Mr. Paul G. Biggers, one of Sanford's prosperous young business men, who has long since found that "single blessedness" was "single cussedness," but who had, so far, been unfortunate in his efforts to make a change, persuaded Miss Irene Thurston, one of Sanford's fairest and most petite young ladies, to join him in one long ride through life, and, accompanied by Misses Mabel and Charlotte Hand, motored to Orlando, secured a license and hastening to the residence of Dr. Stagg, of the Presbyterian church, there said the solemn words which made them one.

Mr. and Mrs. Biggers are at home to their many friends for the present at the home of the grooms parents on Ninth street, but will shortly move into a home of their own.

The Herald wishes this happy young couple a long and prosperous life, and may their shadow never grow shorter.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here The Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

King Nicholas of Montenegro has definitely arranged plans to abdicate his throne if force is employed by European powers against his little kingdom. This announcement was made in official Montenegrin circles Wednesday.

Representative Emmitt Wilson of Florida urged the president to remove from office collector of internal revenue in Florida, Joseph Lee, a negro republican leader. Representative Wilson said the negro had held the office for sixteen years, and he believed a democrat should be appointed. He recommended H. H. Lewis of Marianna for the position. The president took the matter under consideration.

President Wilson let it be known that the federal government would not interfere with pending legislation in California by which aliens who have not declared their intention of becoming naturalized as American citizens are prohibited from owning lands or property. He communicated this decision informally to Representative Baker yesterday.

Though the measure is aimed primarily at the Japanese, the fact that it makes no discrimination of race, as well as the desire of the president not to interfere with the sovereignty of the state, has precluded any action by the federal government at this time.

The flood waters of the Mississippi early last night were creeping up on a half dozen or more points along the levee of the Mississippi. Admittedly the levees were weakening, the water already at an unprecedented height, is pounding against the dikes with increasing force and whether the embankments can longer withstand the pressure is problematical.

The levee near Wilson, Ark. went out. It is said to be due to the desertion of about 150 negro laborers.

All official reports regarding the condition of Pope Pius X., agree that his condition is not grave and there is no immediate danger. Anxiety, however, continues on account of the weakness of the pontiff and the action of his heart, which is in need of constant stimulation. The attending physicians found that the condition of the pope had improved during the night and this improvement was maintained throughout the day, although the afternoon temperature showed a slight increase. Again yesterday his temperature rose slightly but the difference was hardly perceptible.

Entre Nous Bridge Club
Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin was the charming hostess of the Entre Nous Bridge Club Thursday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played, one being a guest table.

Mrs. A. H. Wallace won the club prize, a deck of cards.

The guest prize, also a deck of cards, was won by Miss Charlotte Keeler. After the interesting games of cards, a delicious grapefruit salad with tomato jelly, wafers and iced tea was served by the hostess whose guests were Mrs. J. H. Rounhill, Mrs. Geo. A. DeCottes, Mrs. C. G. Butt, Mrs. A. B. Wallace, Miss Genie Wickler, Miss Saidie Williams, Miss Charlotte Keeler, Miss Irene Brady, Miss Ruth Butler, Misses Madge and Veda Ward.

County Division Bill Has Not Yet Come Before The House

Sanford Delegation is Still in Tallahassee and Expect to Stay to the Finish

(Special to The Herald)
Tallahassee, Fla., April 10.—The Sanford contingent are still enjoying themselves and county division seems to be a pleasant pastime judging from the smiles upon the faces of the Herney county men. There was strong talk of calling the new county Seminole, and this may be the name if one of the other county divisions do not claim priority on this name. Seminole has a pleasing sound but to the general public and the Sanford people in particular there will be nothing in a name. What we want in division first and the name will be a secondary consideration.

The Herald correspondent has some very sad news to relate. Frank P. Forster, Charles Hand, L. P. McCuller, W. J. Hill and T. J. Miller were defeated for the position of pages in the House of Representatives, although Harry Floyd put up a hot fight in the lobby of the hotel for these fine young gentlemen from Sanford.

There is no chance for them to stay here now because their money has given out and unless they can get positions in the city laying brick on the streets or hunting blind tigers there will be a turning out of the crowd.

There is absolutely so little being done here by the opposition that the Sanford people can get the privilege of the floor of the House to discuss the high cost of living with Harry Floyd there will be no excitement until the Orlando Invincibles come in force. As the matter stands our proposition is in everybody's mouth and they all seem most favorably impressed with not only our reasons for dividing but with our general appearance. The people of Sanford would indeed be proud of their delegation could they see them dressed up in the very latest kind of socks and looking pretty. Mr. Forster has given orders that every member shall have a bath every morning and as yet no one has seen the chairman going towards the bath room. He states that the water is too cold. Bates and Holly have discovered that by placing their trousers beneath the bed mattress every night the ergases can be maintained without the additional expense of pressing and they have imparted this information to their colleagues. Result, most of them stay in bed all morning while the pressing club is working on their one pair of trousers.

We are all proud of our representatives here and our good looking senator, Donegan. Forrest Lake has the esteem of his colleagues and Sanford ought to send him back here again unburdened by local bills, in order that he could be honored as he deserves.

The only Sanford ladies here are Mrs. Lake, Mrs. Fernald and Mrs. H. E. Tolar. They claim to know where their husbands are but a doubt is raised in our minds and the said husbands are kept busy explaining that county division is taking up all their time.

The Sanford people probably want to know how the matter of division is going and in this respect we can safely say that from all appearances Orange county is bound to be divided.

A. J. Connelly just arrived in charge of the Orlando delegation of four prominent citizens. Connelly was so afraid that they would not get here safely that he came all the way from Sanford with them and explained confidentially that Orlando really believes in Sanford's contention, but they have to make a show of it. We will show them a good time and see that they have everything here. They are at our hotel on the main cause there is nothing but Sanford people able to stay here and we expect to have some very exciting moments from now on. The division question will be brought up about Thursday and then there will be news sure enough and the Sanford Herald will get the first flash by wire.

Until then let us have your prayers.

(Special to The Herald)
Tallahassee, Fla., April 10.—The days pass so slowly while the legislature is getting ready to get ready that one has need to watch the calendar to see the time of day. The very important work of forming the committees is to be finished today (Thursday) and then there will be something doing in earnest. When the committees have been named the important bills like county division and other local legislation will be introduced and presented before the committees. An Orlando and Sanford delegation are both on the ground a very pretty fight is looked for about Monday or maybe Saturday and as the committee on county matters is said to be a large one and the matter of county division will have a full hearing the action of this committee on our bill is looked forward to with great interest by our delegation and our dear friends from Orlando. The general consensus of opinion among all the people here seems to be that the county division questions will be settled strictly on their merits and this means that our bill will not only receive a favorable report from the committee but will be passed, because if ever a county division had merits ours is the one.

U. S. Senator Nat Bryan made a fine address before the legislature last night regarding a new primary law he is fostering and in the course of his remarks stated that because he did not choose to allow Judge Cheney to retain his office as Federal Judge the Orlando Sentinel had made the statement that 4,000 Republicans would vote against him backed by some Orlando Democrats, and that the people of Florida should not allow this to be done simply because he had refused to allow a man to hold office who was backed by a negro Republican.

and did not please the Orlando contingent a little bit. We sincerely hope that our Orlando friends will not think that Sanford is trying to use Senator Bryan to help county division. While we have some influence we are not quite that strong.

Our cause is getting better day by day and we do not fear the result. The Orlando people are still digging the wet and dry question into county division and making people sick of the subject. The wet and dry question has no more place in the matter here than it had in Orange county and Senator Starbuck is getting mighty cold comfort from the level headed legislators when he spins his little yarn.

They will have to go some if they defeat county division with some such flimsy statements and as formerly they have no real arguments.

R. J. HOLLY.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain

Continuing the wholesale clean-up recently instituted in St. Augustine a number of arrests on felony charges will be made within the next few days and will be taken before the April session of the circuit court which convenes here soon. The latest move comes as a thunderbolt to those against whom the warrants are directed as they had supposed that there was to be a little let-up after the first ruffle.

Burglars who sought $1700 hoarded up by Joseph L. Wread an aged recluse of Nichols, a town eight miles south of Lakeland, killed him at an early hour Wednesday morning and set fire to his home. The house was completely destroyed.

The charred body of the old hermit was found in the ashes of the house today by friends.

Wread, who had long lived alone, had a fear of the banks, and saved up his meagre earnings in an old box. The thieves, learning of the money, said to total $1700, evidently entered the house about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning and killed the old man, afterward firing the house to hide their crime.

The people of Tampa rejected the commission form of government charter prepared by the Commission Government League and submitted to them under the auspices of the white municipal party on Tuesday of this week.

The commission advocates who believed they would walk away with the proposition, were dumbfounded when the vote was counted. They carried but four wards out of the ten wards in the city. In but one ward, the Ninth, did they get a decision majority.

The election, had it carried for commission for of government, would have meant a virtual recall of the city administration one year from date, and election of five commissioners. The city recently bonded for nearly $2,000,000 for public improvements, now under way in great part, and the people did not feel that they should make a change in the administration at this time.

W. T. Field's Home Burns

Fire at noon yesterday burned to the ground the fine home of W. T. Field on the shores of beautiful Lake Onoro, a few miles south of the city. Every effort of the neighbors and friends of the family failed to check the flames and the strong wind that was blowing at the time made it impossible to get the fire under control.

The origin of the fire has not as yet been learned. Mr. Field, who is now in business in Tampa, is away from home nearly all the time. Two of the sons are employed in Sanford and the rest of the children were away at school at the time. The neighborhood was summoned by sight of the flames, but despite their heroic efforts nothing could be done as the fire had already gained too much headway.

Couch-Watson

Friends of the groom in Sanford are in receipt of the announcements of the recent wedding of Miss Lenna Belle Watson of Jackson, Mich., to Mr. Claude Ditta Couch of this city. The wedding took place at Jackson, Mich., the home of the bride.

Mr. Couch, who is well known in this city has been a resident of Sanford for about a year, coming here with his parents from Jackson, Mich., and has been farming on the West Side for the past season. He was also identified with the Orange county fair, having charge of the Sanford exhibit.

Mr. Couch left a few weeks ago to claim his bride at his former home city. They will be at home to their friends at 518 W. First St. after April 30th. The Herald is joined by their many friends in hearty congratulations.

Lovely Birthday Party

The little neighbors and friends of dainty little Margaret Neal enjoyed with her the celebration of her fifth birthday at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Neal, Wednesday afternoon, when she was hostess at a lovely birthday party.

The pretty color scheme was pink, which was carried out in all the decorations, and was all the color of the ribbons worn by the little hostess.

After the little guests had been entertained with juvenile games on the lawn until 5 o'clock they were served ice cream, cake and candy on the spacious porch, where the beautifully decorated table with the handsome cake with its five little pink lighted candles was the attractive centerpiece.

A number of pretty birthday gifts were received by the little hostess.

Mrs. Strong Barrett, Mrs. Crum Barnes and Miss Charlotte Hand assisted Mrs. Neal in entertaining and serving the little guests who were Mary Elizabeth and Camilla Puleston, Olive Newman, Sarah Williams, Elizabeth Whitner, Ethel Goodwin Perkins, Margaret Zachary, Charlotte Smith, Margaret Peters, Jean Maxwell, Lila Murrell, Martha Chappell, Theodora Miller, Doris and Mildred Hand, Joe Caldwell, Deane Turner, Jr., Billie Pitta, Walter Carter, Junior Dutton, Thomas Wight, Frank Chase, Arthur Zachary, E. ### "Oliver Twist" Coming Here

Manager J. F. Karnata will offer to the patrons of the Imperial Theatre on Monday, April 14th, the remarkable motion pictures of the famous comedian Nat C. Goodwin in his equally famous portrayal of the "Fagin" in Charles Dickens' masterpiece, "Oliver Twist". In this picture which embraces five reels and requires two hours to display, will be seen the complete all-star cast which supported Mr. Goodwin during the memorable year's run at the New Amsterdam and Empire Theatres in New York. Although the prices of admission in the metropolis were $2.00 per seat the pictures as shown here will cost but ten cents.

Local theatregoers will probably not be slow to take advantage of seeing so great an artist as Mr. Goodwin at such trifling expense.

Lovely Dinner Party

About 7:30 the party sat down to the enjoyment of a delicious eight course dinner, which was served in a specially pleasing style and manner, reflecting the gracious hospitality of the pleasant host and hostess.

After the conclusion of the dinner the guests enjoyed a pleasant social evening with their host and hostess.

Mrs. Stevens presented the hostess with a handsome cake, as the following day was the anniversary also of Mr. and Mrs. Moses. Mrs. Moses invited the dinner guests to return the next afternoon and help her enjoy her lovely cake in celebrating her anniversary.
