

SUNDAY EDITION

Evening Herald

71st Year, No. 98—Sunday, December 3, 1978

Sanford, Florida 33771—Price 25 Cents

7 Pc. Pine Group

3 Cushion Sofa
Chair + Ottoman Rocker
2 End Tables
Cocktail Table
ONLY $299

7 Pc. "Country Villa"

Magnificent, massive design
Covered in rich Antron velvet.

Luxurious Sofa
Rocker + Chair
Ottoman + Table
2 End Tables
ONLY $499

7 Pc. "Country Casual"

This rugged handwoven sofa is covered in stain resistant Hercules.
Big 3-cushion Sofa + Chair
+ Rocker + Ottoman
+ Cocktail Table + 2 End Tables
ONLY $399.95

Special Purchase SALE

5 Piece Contemporary

handsome styling... great looks and a price you can't beat!
All 5 pieces
only $299

HOME ENTERTAINMENT CENTER

To match any of the above 7 piece suites
$79.00

INNERSPRING BEDDING

312 coil count.
Luxuriously quilted
Specially treated for hot or cold climate
PRICE INCLUDES
MATTRESS,
ORTHOPEDIC FOUNDATION
$79.00

CERAMIC GINGER JAR LAMPS WITH SHADE

Pastel Colors
ONLY $9.95

TWIN $88

FULL $98

SWIVEL ROCKERS $64.95

SOLD IN SETS ONLY

FACTORY FURNITURE WAREHOUSE

550 N. HWY. 17-92
LONGWOOD, FLA.

Hours:
Mon.-Fri. 10-8
Sat. 10-6
Closed Sunday

Phone
339-3366

What's In An Address?

— Not much as tangled county postal routes cause identity crisis

By JANE KIRKLETTEN
Herald Staff Writer

Do you find it difficult to relate to being a Seminole County citizen in Orlando, Apopka, Maitland or Winter Park — all in Orange County?

Well, don't feel lonely — this is the case with thousands of Seminole residents.

An effort will begin soon, a year ago by postal officials to renumber all of the addresses caused by overlapping postal delivery areas in South Seminole County.

But it is still bogged down by union grievance appeals, according to John Shugart, manager, delivery and collections, for the Orlando Sectional Center Area.

"Any time we work, business goes down," he says.

"When we submit our route, we adjust them all, so the carriers can get together and decide to file a grievance."

The union is just doing what it thinks right. It is a question of

See ADDRESSES, Page 14

PATRONAGE IN LONGWOOD, DRIVE ON 17-92 ROUTE OF SR 434 HAVE MAITLAND ADDRESS

Sanford Candidate 'Demands' City Panel To Examine Police

By MAX KIRKLETTEN
Herald Staff Writer

Third district Sanford City Commission candidate Dave Farr plans to "demand" the commission create a "blue-ribbon" panel of interested citizens to examine the police department.

Farr said he will go before the commission Dec. 11 whether or not he is elected in Tuesday's balloting and tell it his action.

"I'm going to demand the city commission create a blue-ribbon committee to investigate the police department from the top to the bottom and make recommendations at a public meeting," Farr said.

"If they find irregularities, mismanagement or poor administration, they should make recommendations at a public meeting," commanded Farr.

"If there are no irregularities they should make that finding, too, and put this thing to rest, so we can go about the business of running the city as usual, but somebody or group has got to let the city know what is going on."

Farr said he decided to propose the committee as the result of citizens' concerns voiced to him while canvassing Sanford neighborhoods in his bid for office.

"Their comments to me have been something like, 'the first time we've got to sit down on the name of the police department, that's a typical comment,'" said Farr.

"The citizens of Sanford lost confidence in the police department, because of the alleged irregularities or questions of integrity such as the incident at the Foster Pub; police resignations; low moral at the department; and the fear of retribution by police officers who won't speak out."

Farr was referring to an incident at a local bar in which a former police officer fired by Chief Ben Butler charged Butler with

See POLICE, Page 6A

Heavy Crime Calls Cited; Polk Urging Look At The System

By DENNIS FEOLA
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department received an average number of emergency calls in the history of the department during the month of October.

The statistics coincide with previous reports that crime in Florida is up 4.3 percent in the past year.

Although the compiled call statistics do not reflect actual crime, they do reflect the number of calls handled by sheriff's deputies.

In addition, available statistics indicate crime is increasing in Seminole County at triple the statewide average.

There were 330 crimes reported during October 1977. There were 370 crimes reported in October 1978. That's a 13 percent increase.

"That's a typical increase," Polk said. "The statistics are not available for the total number of crimes reported as for this year."

"Characteristically, October runs high," Polk said. "The increases run directly proportionate to the increase in population in Seminole County."

In addition to increasing population, Polk cited the proximity of Orlando as another reason for crime increases. The Orlando area is a state-designated high crime area, Polk said, and Seminole county is getting some of the overflow.

"The month of October has been our high month for the past three years," Sheriff John Polk said. "If it continues like it is, we'll have to create a position of desk officer to take care of those complaints over the telephone."

"A lot of our calls are not emergency calls or law enforcement oriented," Polk said. "But in the end, those services have always been provided."

"I think you have several reasons for the increase," the sheriff said. "Population is increasing, high density — I read where Disney World had an attendance record, Sea World not an attendance record, this increases the number of transients."

"We are solving our major crimes, but we continue to fall back in solving a lot of vandalism and other misdemeanor-type crimes," Polk said.

"I don't think we can hire enough police officers to put one on every street corner, so to speak," he said.

"It's going to take us look at ourselves. If it continues like it is, we'll have to create a position of desk officer to take care of those calls."

The biggest increase in unexplained calls came in the area of reported disappearances.

There were 100 disappearances reported in October 1978, an increase of 40 percent.

"This is a power play for these candidates, but it is unreasonableness," Polk said.

See CRIMES, Page 6A

Not Invited To Parley, 2 Lake Mary Candidates Miffed

'There is nothing stopping either one of them from coming.'

KAY SANDERMAN

Two Lake Mary City Council candidates feel they have been overlooked by a group that organized a "meet-the-candidate" gathering at the Seminole Community Center.

Both Sanderman and Bacon were left out when invitations to the gathering were distributed. However, both Sanderman and Bacon said Saturday they would attend the meeting.

Most of the meeting guests agreed Lake Mary have returned to the gathering on a "nonpartisan" basis.

However, the meeting was not open to all candidates because it is being held at the Seminole, where city-owned equipment is being stored.

"It's very difficult," said Sanderman, "to get people to come to the meeting, anyway."

"It's a most non-of-the-candidates meeting," said Sanderman. "But since I'm a part of the public and the police invited, I'm going to go down and meet some of the candidates. There are some I haven't met."

Bacon attended the meeting and she is open to all candidates because it is being held at the Seminole, where city-owned equipment is being stored.

"The feeling is that Marty is well known, and so is Bert, because they've been on the council before," said Mrs. Sanderman.

Bacon served on the council until her residence 10 months ago to move to Ocoee. She returned to Lake Mary in August.

"There is nothing stopping either one of them from coming," said Mrs. Sanderman. "They'll come to the public. We just thought that there other candidates here not based on the council and are not as known as people should meet again."

"That's a shabby excuse," Bacon said of Mrs. Sanderman's explanation. "This is a power play for these candidates, but it is unreasonableness," Polk said.

See CRIMES, Page 6A

Who's running for what?

See CANDIDATES, Page 2A

Mixed doubles great — but bring your divorce

lawyer — Page 2B

WORLD IN BRIEF

Refugee Boat Pushed Back; Tips, 142 Feared Drowned

BESUT, Malaysia (UPI) — A crammed Vietnamese refugee boat that was pushed back out to sea by angry residents of the village where it had beached capsized off northeastern Malaysia today and as many as 142 of those on board were feared drowned, police said.

The boat, loaded with 200 people, was one of the many carrying Vietnamese refugees toward the southeast Asian nation of Malaysia. It was pushed back out to sea from a beach by angry villagers who say the Vietnamese are driving up prices.

Israel, Egypt Still Talking

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For nearly three weeks, Israeli officials had insisted the talking was over — that the Jewish state had made all the concessions it could at the U.S.-sponsored peace treaty talks with Egypt. But now, Israel and Egypt have agreed to negotiate once more in an effort to break a 4-month deadlock over the sensitive issue of linking the treaty to Palestinian self-rule in occupied Arab lands.

Prince: Hunting Weekend

MALAGA, Spain (UPI) — Britain's Prince Charles arrived in Spain aboard a Royal Air Force jet with an eight-man crew Friday night for a weekend partridge-hunting party at the Duke of Wellington's estate.

'Twiglet' Born In London

LONDON (UPI) — Twiggy, the British model who in the late 1960s made it chic to be built like a flagpole, gave birth Friday to a 6-pound, 15-ounce girl. "I have realized my dream," said Twiggy, whose maiden name was Leslie Hornby. She said she and her husband, U.S. actor Michael Whitney, had yet to name the child. One British newspaper suggested "Twiglet."

Iran Guns Rout Rebels

TEHRAN (UPI) — Troops opened fire to disperse about 2,000 anti-shah demonstrators gathered in the conservative Moslem stronghold of the Grand Bazaar early today to protest more than three hours of army shooting earlier at white-shrouded mourners.

There were no immediate official casualty figures in today's shootings. Witnesses said two demonstrators were shot.

The estimated 2,000 demonstrators protesting the Friday-night shootings shouted: "Tanks and machine guns will no longer be effective even if gunfire goes on day and night," and "We are the followers of the Koran. We don't want a monarchy."

Doctors Try To Save Leader

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — Nine Chinese doctors have joined medical experts from 10 other foreign countries trying to save the life of Algerian President Houari Boumedienne. Boumedienne, 65, is suffering from kidney failure, circulatory troubles and a rare blood disease causing blood clots in his brain. Some reports also say he has cancer of the bladder.

U.S.-China Joint Programs

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — President Carter's chief science adviser, Dr. Frank Press, says the United States may cooperate with The People's Republic of China in several important non-military, scientific and technological ventures. Press, a geophysics professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, said U.S. and Chinese scientists discussed the projects at a meeting in Peking last summer.

Quake Leveled Mexico Town

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — A town of 1,200 near the Pacific Coast in the southwestern state of Oaxaca was leveled by the fierce earthquake that shook Mexico earlier this week, authorities announced Friday.

MARTIN BACON

FRANCIS MARK

GENE McDONALD

BURT PERINCHIEF

BILL SMATHERS

The Race For Lake Mary Council

Bacon: Change, Don't Ruin Town

Who, What?

Two City Council seats, districts two and four, are up for grabs Tuesday in Lake Mary. Vying for district two are Martin (Marty) Bacon, Francis Mark and Gene McDonald. District four incumbent Burt Perinchief will face Bill Smathers.

— MAX KREKELIAN

support of residents on the street being paved and would be done at their request, according to Bacon.

However, Bacon commented, "most people don't want the paving because they don't want the speeders."

Bacon favors growth that would keep the natural portion of the city's boundaries intact.

"A lot of people feel, 'Let not change.' Well there is going to be a change," said Bacon. "The urging of friends brought him into the race.

"I don't think anybody can stop the growth," said Bacon. "That has been blamed for in the long-range plan and that is not true. It is caused by people's lack of knowledge."

Bacon had not planned to run in this election. The urging of friends brought him into the race.

"I had no intention of running this early," said Bacon, "but I have been contacted by a number of friends and even members of the council saying I should. They talked me into it."

Bacon would like to return to the council, because he is upset over some of the things the city has done.

"They're in a bind with the water, because they have to pay what the customers in Sanford pay and the city has to pay above the standard rates," said Bacon. "The city has federal grants to build its water system."

Bacon also feels the city could improve streets more rapidly than it has. He has proposed the city offer to pay a portion of the paving while residents do the rest of the paving.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

"I would like to see more professional management in city government and I think that can be done by having a manager by appointment instead of the mayor," said Bacon.

...Addresses

(Continued From Page 1A)

jurisdiction whether it will be rural or city delivery and when have been worked out for converting from rural to city. We have no jurisdiction, but are at the mercy of the carriers," said McDaniel.

"We want to make the delivery areas so that it will be a natural expansion of the areas they are in already," McDaniel explained. The request procedure was begun in September, 1977.

Even if the appeals and arbitration go in favor of the postal management there is another obstacle faced before changes can be made. Customers in the area in question will have to be polled to get their opinion of the change.

McDaniel said his office has already received letters from one of the areas objecting to a change as the result of "politicizing" by the carriers.

There is regional agreement for the change among postmasters. McDaniel said, noting it is not like it used to be when a postmaster's salary was based entirely on the number of customers served.

"It's not true anymore and they are not as anxious to play games here," he said.

A retired colonel called from the U.S. Army where he served 23 years in the intelligence service, he and his wife, Elizabeth, and children are active in the Seminole Springs and Longwood Piney Woods.

Of the nine Glascocock children, the two oldest are married and bring out of state; the oldest son at home, Tim, a 1978 graduate of Bishop Moore High School, attends his father in the family business; Mary and Lisa attend Bevwood Elementary School; Carol is studying the piano and flute; Bill and Rose are at Bishop Moore and John and Terence at St. Mary-Magdalene in Altamonte Springs.

Glascocock has been active in the Tavares area, Casselberry would assume responsibility for delivery, which it already does in the rest of Winter Park.

"We got a lot of mail misdirected or addressed to Winter Park because it's a zip code number, because of the confusion with Tavares customers served by McDaniel," said Casselberry Postmaster Robert Kelly.

The need for change was underscored by Kelly when he gave the example of Flower Town, a business on the west side of 17-40 near Park Lake.

"We go to Park Lake at 9 a.m., but they are served by a Mount Dora rural carrier who brings them at 3 p.m.," said Kelly.

Altamonte Casselberry does not serve businesses on 17-40 north of CR 44, that serve residents of the Lake Lucerne area and Winter Springs residents south of CR 44.

"With Winter Springs over gets its own post office."

"I doubt it," said Kelly. "If they get enough people they may get a financial branch of this post office. I am willing to put one in now in the business or the city hall on a dollar-a-year bid if they were interested."

The people in Tavares with an Orange County address will be asked to keep it as a separate entity of their insurance agents, who probably pay more for their fire insurance," Kelly pointed out.

"They are charged Orange County fire rates on their insurance and it is higher than Seminole. A lot of people are probably paying more and don't even know it," he added.

Some of McDaniel's confirmed delivery areas in Seminole will be like it is now, laid out more or less along a four-day drunk. People come in and ask me to point out on the McDaniel map where a certain house with a McDaniel mailing address was located and I say, 'Well, you're going to about miles north.'

McDaniel also serves Oakleaf Shores, Drift Hills, Hidden Estates, Lake Seminole, Lake of the Woods, English Estates, Lake Howell Lane, Forest Park, Lake Howell Estates, Lake Ann Estates and Garden Lake Estates, Spring Lakes, Lake Eola, Lake Eola Heights and Forest Lakes, and the areas south of State Road 434, intersecting with areas served by Altamonte Springs, Fern Park, Casselberry, Winter Park, Longwood, Orlando.

Residents in Bear Lake, Oakleaf Hills and Goldsboro may have an Orlando mailing address.

Seminole County residents west of Forest City may get their mail with an Apopka address, while residents in the Tavares and Eastbrook areas get their mail delivered by Winter Park Post Office - all Orange County addresses.

Indians Ridge residents north of CR 44 also have a mailing problem. This half of the development in Casselberry gets its mail through that city and the rest is served by Fern Park Post Office.

This Year For Christmas
Give Yourself

AN ADVENTURE IN EDUCATION
AT SEMINOLE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Programs in College Credit
Occupational Education

Adult & Continuing Education

Registration Open

MON-THUR 9 AM TO 5 PM

FRI 9 AM TO 4 PM

TERM II CLASSES START JAN. 3

SEMINOLE COMMUNITY COLLEGE

11777 17-40 SOUTH

SANFORD, FLA. (305) 223-3400

The Council Race In Casselberry

Glascocock: Birthday On Election Day

CHARLES GLASCOCK CARL ROBERTSON JR.

What It's About

(The Herald today completes its presentation of views of the 12 candidates running for three seats on Casselberry City Council)

-- DONNA ESTES

Askew Adds To Agenda Of Special Session

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)

Gov. Reuben Askew has given the Legislature a new agenda of bills for the special session convening Wednesday, but the Equal Rights Amendment is not on the list.

Askew broadened his call on Friday to include:

"A delay in the program letting hospitals place mentally disordered sex offenders outside jobs for rehabilitation, and a bill for a six-month extension of the Jan. 1 effective date of energy efficient building codes aimed at reducing utility costs."

The Department of Health and Rehabilitation Services is just now getting around to hearings on rules to govern the program. Before they are adopted, he said, the Legislature should thoroughly re-examine it.

Clarifying a 1973 law exempting new businesses from the sales tax on heavy machinery.

Robertson: His Son Running Campaign

Carl Robertson Jr., seeking for 25 years and living at 1403 relection to the city council in Lady Amy Drive. He is a director of Casselberry in the Dec. 5 election, sees holding the line Casselberry homeownership as major issue in the campaign, representative on the board of the Casselberry Association, as city

"We have to hold down adjustment, is active in the property taxes and see what Veterans of Foreign Wars are doing about franchises the Masonic order. He also wants to see utility rates," said Robertson, playing golf and Robertson, competing his first round robin tournament.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years: the cutting of property taxes, shading the utility tax to 50 percent;

spending cuts in three departments, funding for a community center facility, the purchase of a new fire and brush truck, the purchase of a bicycle path for the safety of school children.

The councilmanship said he is conducting an informative door-to-door campaign, assisted by Orlinda High School, the Robertson family and volunteers workers.

Robertson was at his mother's residence during the past two years

Evening Herald

200 N. FRENCH AVE., SANFORD, FLA. 32771
Area Code 305-823-2021 or 821-0003

Sunday, December 3, 1978-4A

WATFIELD D. DOYLE, Publisher

NORMAN H. OSTERMAN, Editor

THOMAS GIORDANO, Managing Editor

RONALD G. BECK, Advertising Director

Home Delivery: Week, 25 cents; Month, $3.25; 6 Months, $18.50;
Year, $24.00. By Mail: Week, 25 cents; Month, $3.25; 6 Months, $18.50; Year, $24.00.

Keep Morris

On Commission

Sanford City Commissioner John Morris deserves another term on the city's governing body.

Mr. Morris is facing newcomer James Coddington in the race for a seat from District 2. The winner will be seated on the commission. In the other race, from District 3, seven candidates are vying — including incumbent Commissioner A.A. McClanahan. This assures a run-off.

We are impressed with Mr. Morris' recognition that growth, indeed, is coming to Sanford and that it is mandatory the city be ready for it.

And he is not afraid to speak out for this growth, which others disdain, and to acknowledge the benefits that would accrue to the city.

To his credit, Mr. Coddington also has expressed a recognition of the need for growth preparation. But, in our view, Mr. Morris' superior experience and expertise in dealing with Sanford problems gives him the edge.

During his seven years on the commission, Mr. Morris has seemed to many the conscience of the commission.

He has never been afraid to stand up and be counted for what he believes is right — a position often in defiance from the majority of his fellow commissioners.

A recent example was his public criticism of the manner in which Ben Butler was shifted from his assistant to the city manager for public safety position back to police chief. He didn't quarrel with the end result, he said, but with the way it was done.

Candor is refreshing in public servants.

We believe the Sanford City Commission needs John Morris to continue serving all the people of Sanford.

He has the needed experience and foresight to be on the decision-making line during what will surely be the key period of extensive growth for the city.

No To Draft

Gen. David Jones' recommendation to the Defense Department that the mandatory recruitment of draft-age persons be discontinued received little response.

The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said registration — and classification, which he also advocates — would speed mobilization in the event of an emergency. Jones also conceded "problems" with the all-volunteer force, particularly in maintaining a back-up force of trained troops.

But the memories of Vietnam and the ineptitude of the draft, which was viewed as class-oriented because of the deferments granted to college students, remain too fresh.

The legal machinery for the draft was left intact when registration was discontinued.

That is enough for now.

Jones' statement that "it is not conceivable that some day we'll have to go back to a draft..." may be valid.

But this is not the day.

Please Write

Letters to the editor are welcome for publication. All letters must be signed, with a mailing address and, if possible, a telephone number so the identity of the writer may be verified. The Evening Herald will respect the wishes of writers who do not want their names in print. The Evening Herald also reserves the right to edit letters to eliminate libel or to conform to space requirements.

JACK ANDERSON

Libyans Scandalize FAA Academy

ADDING: "Individual test scores dropped dramatically."

The Libya government was finally persuaded to take action. Embassy representatives went to the academy and laid down the law to the fractious students. The three most troublesome and belligerent offenders were kicked out; the rest had to shape up or ship out. And the long-suffering Tufts gave them explicit authority to do so.

"Anderson is experiencing a problem," one cable stated, "with many of the (Libyan) students flagrantly disregarding rules and practices established for class attendance, e.g., arriving late and leaving early with considerable class disruption or not attending class at all."

Almost half the Libyans refused to apply for removal of expired visas, the State Department reported.

Because of "severe confusion" with Libya students seven years ago, the FAA required the Libya government to provide guarantees to its officials to remove the problem and that the students be given better treatment.

BELL'S RESPONSE: We recently reported that Attorney General Griffin Bell "Mediated" — to use the word of a Justice Department official — a dispute over a Savannah, Ga., redistricting plan. The result was to reduce black representation on the city council.

Bell's intervention was appreciated, since the Justice Department received as many as 30 back in the good old days...

Hardly a day passes that I don't hear a reference to the "good old days" — or "do you remember when?" — what is the world coming to?

These situations have been existing for centuries, and I doubt they will be going anywhere.

Not too long ago, I listened to a young man in his mid 20s review some of his past experiences. He wound up his Shakespearean-style monologue with, "But that was back in the good old days."

I nearly burst out laughing at the young guy in my chair, but I didn't laugh.

Most people probably consider the old days when they were the highlight — regardless as to the economic situation of the day. People invariably cling to the music that was popular in their heyday. The same applies to food, including dancing and dress and hair styles.

Back in the good old days...
Many married couples refer back to their torrid courtship and good old days before the young ones come along to drive them to the brink of bankruptcy and insanity.

Some old-timers dwell on the past until it is out of proportion. Yet, they sit in front of their video-screwed color TVs watching reruns of material with gags — and dash off for a "proverb" break or the fridge during commercials.

Back in the good old days there remained citizens who were honest, who drove a well-built auto, had a decent home in hand, to provide in the outside jobs, or used that cold white enamel contraption (hidden under the high bed) that was a standard fixture back in the good old days.

As a kid, I recall that Saturday night was showtime night — a real thorough cleaning and shining job even though shoes were scrubbed nightly before bedtime. Years later, I was to learn that shined shoes were a symbol of affluence. Many didn't have shoes, and many more couldn't afford a bottle of shoe polish. Childhood was reduced poverty.

Were those the good old days?

You know, those good old days and honest about the kind of life they lived. But they seem to forget what a money Aunt Eddie was before she was whisked off to the fence asylum — or the feds cracking down on Uncle Mac for moonshining Shab!

And it's good that nearly everybody can look back to the truly good times.

In reference to the good old days, who was it that said, "We weren't good, we weren't old and they weren't days?"

Ah, those wicked young nights!

Yeah. Those were the good old days, all right.

Around

The Clock

BY DORIS DIETRICH

Rock in the good old days...
Hardly a day passes that I don't hear a reference to the "good old days" — or "do you remember when?" — what is the world coming to?

These situations have been existing for centuries, and I doubt they will be going anywhere.

Not too long ago, I listened to a young man in his mid 20s review some of his past experiences. He wound up his Shakespearean-style monologue with, "But that was back in the good old days."

I nearly burst out laughing at the young guy in my chair, but I didn't laugh.

Most people probably consider the old days when they were the highlight — regardless as to the economic situation of the day. People invariably cling to the music that was popular in their heyday. The same applies to food, including dancing and dress and hair styles.

bedtime. Years later, I was to learn that shined shoes were a symbol of affluence. Many didn't have shoes, and many more couldn't afford a bottle of shoe polish. Childhood was reduced poverty.

Were those the good old days?

You know, those good old days and honest about the kind of life they lived. But they seem to forget what a money Aunt Eddie was before she was whisked off to the fence asylum — or the feds cracking down on Uncle Mac for moonshining Shab!

And it's good that nearly everybody can look back to the truly good times.

In reference to the good old days, who was it that said, "We weren't good, we weren't old and they weren't days?"

Ah, those wicked young nights!

Yeah. Those were the good old days, all right.

ANGLE-WALTERS

Genuine Consumer Assistance

SAN FRANCISCO — In many cities it's called the "Moyer's Complaint Center," but all too often its basic function is to generate good will, publicity and political support for the mayor.

In other communities it's known as the "Office of Consumer Affairs," but it's frequently an isolated, ill-funded agency with an inadequate staff and no real enforcement power.

In this city, however, it's no-nonsense, well-financed (more than $400,000 monthly) team of more than two dozen agents and lawyers on the payroll and a host of volunteers operating as the Consumer Fraud-White Collar Crime Unit and reporting directly to District Attorney Joseph Freitas Jr.

At a time when it has become fashionable for municipal governments everywhere to establish "consumer offices," the operation here probably is the most sophisticated, professional and successful in the nation.

Team: The Board of America, the country's largest financial institution, has adopted two years ago a "very competitive" low bank rate" on auto loans. The Consumer Fraud Unit investigated and found that the interest rates actually were among the highest in the state.

Rather than contest the unit's civil suit alleging false and misleading advertising, the bank agreed to pay $275,000 to settle the litigation out of court.

Then: In advertisements placed in this city's Chinese language newspapers, a travel agency offered bus trips to Reno, Nev., for $9.50. Those who signed up were charged an additional $9 to prevent that it would be refunded at the destination.

When no refunds were forthcoming, the Consumer Fraud Unit filed suit against the tour operator, alleging that the firm bilked its customers. The company promptly agreed to pay $14,000 in fines and restitution.

Now: An elderly woman claimed that a downtown jeweler had sold her a diamond ring for $100 less than its cost. The Consumer Fraud Unit convinced the merchant to refund the overcharge.

Then: A little boy complained that a merchant refused to pay the standard deposit on children's clothing unless the customer paid a lot of federal agencies.

Now: An older woman claimed that a merchant had sold her a diamond ring for $100 less than its cost. The Consumer Fraud Unit filed suit against the jeweler.

Then: A young woman and Marine Corps veteran who left the directorate of the West Coast office of Commodity Union in March 1974 to join Prudential in reviving the thin-mortared unit.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Then: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Now: The U.S. intelligence agencies were told that they had to be paid to keep the secret of their work safe.

Which do you prefer first?

THE WORLD

Cuba's MiGs: Why Now?

By JOHN VIRTUE

HAVANA, Cuba (UPI) — Western diplomats in Havana are puzzled over why the United States claims to have just recently learned of the presence of the swing-wing fighters of the Soviet MiG-23 warjets that Cuba says it acquired a year ago.

U.S. officials, who have been tracking the MiG-23s since they were first seen in 1974, say they have known about the presence of the MiG-23s in Cuba for many months.

"U.S. sources say the planes have been in Cuba for more than a year, then they have been here for more than a year," said one Western diplomat.

President Carter appeared angry — and asked to see the planes — when the issue was raised at a news conference in Havana with foreign journalists last week.

Carter said the planes have been in Cuba for more than a year, have been flying for eight months and will be displayed at the Jan. 1 celebrations marking the 30th anniversary of the revolution.

He said the U.S. intelligence agencies were told they hadn't known about the MiG-23s until two weeks ago, when Washington ordered Prudential to review a cable sent to the U.S. embassy in Havana by the Cuban Foreign Ministry.

Prudential said it was asked to know whether the Cuban government was able to carry nuclear weapons — a violation of the U.S.-Soviet agreement that settled the 1961 Cuban missile crisis. Moscow has denied the planes are MiG-23s in Cuba for many months.

Many Cubans mistakenly thought the jets were either U.S. spy planes or warplanes sent from an aircraft carrier taking part in U.S.-British exercises.

"Cubans are told they are MiG-23s," said one cable. "The planes are tactical, defensive," the angry Castro told foreign journalists last week.

President Carter is believed to be referring to the recently disclosed U.S. spy plane that crashed in Cuba.

Castro's anger is understandable, the cables add. The Cuban government has been trying to keep the secret of the MiG-23s from the world.

Castro's anger is understandable, the cables add. The Cuban government has been trying to keep the secret of the MiG-23s from the world.

Castro's anger is understandable, the cables add. The Cuban government has been trying to keep the secret of the MiG-23s from the world.

Castro's anger is understandable, the cables add. The Cuban government has been trying to keep the secret of the MiG-23s from the world.

Castro's anger is understandable, the cables add. The Cuban government has been trying to keep the secret of the MiG-23s from the world.

Castro's anger is understandable, the cables add. The Cuban government has been trying to keep the secret of the MiG-23s from the world.

RONALD REAGAN</h

Police

(Continued From Page 1A)

For over a year he claimed at least 16 officers have resigned or been dismissed and the three former Chief Wallace LaPeters was dismissed and the new.

Farr criticized his election opponent incumbent A.A. McClellan at last Monday's city commissioners meeting for proposing a new slogan on mode enforcement in establishments serving alcohol for previous consumption as chief in the election. He admitted that some criticism could be turned on him for attacking the leadership of the police department.

"Some people could criticize for the way they do their duty or not," said Farr. "I think the answer is that that something has to be done, because this is the law the people of Sanford seem to be concerned about."

"We don't know whether the election or not is important. Something needs to be done. And number two, this is not a fabricated issue. This is a real issue."

Farr said the panel could do more than the state attorney's probe of the LaPeters firing.

"The investigation was aimed toward a specific incident or certain acts as possible ticket-fixing, collaboration on the city's behalf and other law violations. What I'm talking about is a look at the overall management of the operation of the police department," said Farr.

The panel should be made up of "leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated," said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Present and former police officers, including all of those officers who left the department, said LaPeters' firing should be interviewed by the committee.

Farr claimed some officers have been asked to leave the police department because they have been critical of Butler.

"The officers that have been asked to leave are the only ones who will be able to know what is going on with the police department is to get involved and the only way to get involved is through a citizens panel to review and investigate the police department and its structure," said Farr.

"I'm not going to make any comment, because I'm not getting involved in politics," said Butler. "I don't know of any problems."

Crime Stats Up In County

(Continued From Page 1A)

There was one murder, three rapes and four armed robberies reported during the month of October. However, at that time, the commission voted to endorse the reformation of downtown using the transportation theme, but stopped short of changing the city's slogan.

Sister noted that the commission has emerged from the month with a jump in calls averaging 400 calls a day during October.

He said the average response time on all calls is under seven minutes and the response is prompt and efficient for a sheriff's department.

The Florida Department of State's Bureau of Statistics has reported violent crimes are up 10 percent in October. There have been 46,379 crimes reported in the state through October.

In addition, the proposal has drawn the attention of Auto-Train.

TOM EMBREE HAS THE EXPERIENCE:

1972-75 Member, Casselberry City Council
1974 Chairman, Casselberry City Council
1973 Chairman, Casselberry Board of Adjustment

TOM EMBREE IS COMMITTED TO:

1. Work to see council meetings conducted in a business-like manner.
2. Representing a "Common-sense" approach to legislative decisions on the council.
3. Strive for effective use of Casselberry's financial resources.
4. Always represent the citizen of Casselberry.

VOTE DEC. 5 FOR

TOM EMBREE
CASSELBERRY CITY COUNCIL

Paid political advertising paid for by T. Embree, Campaign Treasurer

'Train Town' Bid: It's Just A Guide

By MAX ERKELIAN
Herald Staff Writer

The idea of changing the city's name to a new one, The slogan has come from "The Gateway City" to "City City" to "The Friendly City," currently in use.

However, a new move is concern in the city's commissioners race also to be decided Tuesday.

The change was proposed last summer by Sanford's Economic Development Committee (SEDECO) and has been presented to that organization of several city commissioners meetings.

Tuesday's ballot on the issue will be advisory and will not bind the commissioners to the change. However, current members of the commissioners indicated they will follow the wishes of the voters.

The commissioners voted 4-1 to put the issue to a vote of the people at the Sept. 11 city commissioners meeting where Sister's Val Collier and Commissioner John McLean voted against the change.

"The panel should be made up of 'leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated,'" said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Present and former police officers, including all of those officers who left the department, said LaPeters' firing should be interviewed by the committee.

Farr claimed some officers have been asked to leave the police department because they have been critical of Butler.

"The officers that have been asked to leave are the only ones who will be able to know what is going on with the police department is to get involved and the only way to get involved is through a citizens panel to review and investigate the police department and its structure," said Farr.

"I'm not going to make any comment, because I'm not getting involved in politics," said Butler. "I don't know of any problems."

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Farr's opposition was based primarily on economics, he told Mrs. Collier. He recommended the commission to take a look at the overall management of the police department, said Farr.

The panel should be made up of "leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated," said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Present and former police officers, including all of those officers who left the department, said LaPeters' firing should be interviewed by the committee.

Farr claimed some officers have been asked to leave the police department because they have been critical of Butler.

"The officers that have been asked to leave are the only ones who will be able to know what is going on with the police department is to get involved and the only way to get involved is through a citizens panel to review and investigate the police department and its structure," said Farr.

"I'm not going to make any comment, because I'm not getting involved in politics," said Butler. "I don't know of any problems."

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Farr's opposition was based primarily on economics, he told Mrs. Collier. He recommended the commission to take a look at the overall management of the police department, said Farr.

The panel should be made up of "leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated," said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Present and former police officers, including all of those officers who left the department, said LaPeters' firing should be interviewed by the committee.

Farr claimed some officers have been asked to leave the police department because they have been critical of Butler.

"The officers that have been asked to leave are the only ones who will be able to know what is going on with the police department is to get involved and the only way to get involved is through a citizens panel to review and investigate the police department and its structure," said Farr.

"I'm not going to make any comment, because I'm not getting involved in politics," said Butler. "I don't know of any problems."

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Farr's opposition was based primarily on economics, he told Mrs. Collier. He recommended the commission to take a look at the overall management of the police department, said Farr.

The panel should be made up of "leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated," said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Present and former police officers, including all of those officers who left the department, said LaPeters' firing should be interviewed by the committee.

Farr claimed some officers have been asked to leave the police department because they have been critical of Butler.

"The officers that have been asked to leave are the only ones who will be able to know what is going on with the police department is to get involved and the only way to get involved is through a citizens panel to review and investigate the police department and its structure," said Farr.

"I'm not going to make any comment, because I'm not getting involved in politics," said Butler. "I don't know of any problems."

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Farr's opposition was based primarily on economics, he told Mrs. Collier. He recommended the commission to take a look at the overall management of the police department, said Farr.

The panel should be made up of "leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated," said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Present and former police officers, including all of those officers who left the department, said LaPeters' firing should be interviewed by the committee.

Farr claimed some officers have been asked to leave the police department because they have been critical of Butler.

"The officers that have been asked to leave are the only ones who will be able to know what is going on with the police department is to get involved and the only way to get involved is through a citizens panel to review and investigate the police department and its structure," said Farr.

"I'm not going to make any comment, because I'm not getting involved in politics," said Butler. "I don't know of any problems."

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Farr's opposition was based primarily on economics, he told Mrs. Collier. He recommended the commission to take a look at the overall management of the police department, said Farr.

The panel should be made up of "leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated," said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Present and former police officers, including all of those officers who left the department, said LaPeters' firing should be interviewed by the committee.

Farr claimed some officers have been asked to leave the police department because they have been critical of Butler.

"The officers that have been asked to leave are the only ones who will be able to know what is going on with the police department is to get involved and the only way to get involved is through a citizens panel to review and investigate the police department and its structure," said Farr.

"I'm not going to make any comment, because I'm not getting involved in politics," said Butler. "I don't know of any problems."

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Farr's opposition was based primarily on economics, he told Mrs. Collier. He recommended the commission to take a look at the overall management of the police department, said Farr.

The panel should be made up of "leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated," said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Present and former police officers, including all of those officers who left the department, said LaPeters' firing should be interviewed by the committee.

Farr claimed some officers have been asked to leave the police department because they have been critical of Butler.

"The officers that have been asked to leave are the only ones who will be able to know what is going on with the police department is to get involved and the only way to get involved is through a citizens panel to review and investigate the police department and its structure," said Farr.

"I'm not going to make any comment, because I'm not getting involved in politics," said Butler. "I don't know of any problems."

"I feel like these officers would come forward if they had confidence in the panel and Farr."

Farr's opposition was based primarily on economics, he told Mrs. Collier. He recommended the commission to take a look at the overall management of the police department, said Farr.

The panel should be made up of "leading citizens who are interested in the matter and not politically motivated," said Farr.

"The panel should be constituted by the commission and have a free hand to look into all concerns they feel merit their attention, according to Farr. He also suggested a 90-day deadline to complete the investigation.

Ahead how citizens could be sure the recommendations of such a committee would be carried out, Farr stated: "If a group of citizens they picked made the recommendations, I think it would be better if they had the power to carry out those recommendations."

Farr said he is not convinced the panel should have subpoena powers. He said he felt police officers who previously received reprimands might come forward in confidence without being subpoenaed.

BUSINESS IN BRIEF

Anti-ERA Mood Hurting Conventions, They Claim

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — The convention trade is down because Florida has not ratified the ERA, says Miami Beach convention officials who have called for its passage.

Louis DeMangus, of the Tourist Development Authority, says south Florida has lost $10 million in convention business this year alone as major convention groups boycotted all states that had not passed the controversial amendment.

Authority head Jesse Weiss renewed his plea for the Florida Legislature to pass the federal Equal Rights Amendment.

Mr. P's Reopens In Sanford

Mr. P's Restaurant and Show Lounge at 119 S. Magnolia Ave., Sanford, closed since September for renovation and vacation opened again Friday.

The restaurant will feature entertainment six nights a week in addition to a daily happy hour, according to owner Bob Patrick.

Several new features have also been added including a Wednesday Ladies Night, a Sunday Family Night and a Tuesday Senior Night, according to Patrick.

Cardinal Opens New Motel

Cardinal Industries, Inc., Sanford-based producer of factory-built modular apartment and motel units, has opened its first Florida Knights Inn motel in Kissimmee. The motel is the 21st in a chain of Knights Inns developed by Cardinal and operated by the firm in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Pennsylvania, Kentucky and now Florida.

Stensstrom Sets Sales High

Stensstrom Realty in Sanford has announced 32 residential sales during November, erasing October's all-time high of 27. According to owner Herbert Stensstrom, this is the first time in 23 years the firm has reached the coveted "sale-a-day" mark. November's dollar volume totaled $1,070,555 for residential sales, an average of $33,554.

73rd Store For Sterchi Bros.

Sterchi Bros. Stores Inc., will open its 73rd home furnishings store at 10 a.m. Wednesday in DeLand at 1625 S. Woodland (U.S. 17-92). Store manager will be Joe Barnes of Lake City. Jerry Jones has been named office manager. The DeLand store will be the eighth in central Florida.

FP&L: 2 Million Customers

Florida Power & Light added its two millionth customer when a family of new Florida residents was connected for service this week in Palm Beach County. The Charles H. Roberts family was added to the utility's lines in Wellington, a community south of West Palm Beach, to become FPL's two millionth customer—just 12 years after the company reached the one-million-customer mark in 1966.

Big T At New Sanford Site

Big T Tire Co. is now open for business in its newly constructed building located at 2400 French Ave., Sanford, according to owner, Tom Taylor. Big T Tire Co. has served this area for years at former locations, 2600 Orlando Drive and U.S. 17-92 at Lake Mary Blvd. Besides tires, the company installs Monroe shocks and mufflers and has facilities for wheel alignment and balancing, complete brake work, fleet service and tuneups.

Make Home 'New' Before Selling

Many homeowners wonder about preparing their homes for sale — there is a simple answer: Prepare your property for sale to be as close to possible to new condition.

Don't leave anything for the new owners to have to do, don't add unnecessary items, but you will surely receive more money if you take the time to bring the house up to snuff.

If you decide to sell your home as a "drop-in," that is, the buyer must spend time and money, then you must discount your price even more than the cost of repairs.

Mostly, the home ready to sell will be nearly perfect inside and out, carpeted clean,

COLOR 'EM WINNERS

Five-year-old Johnny Graham is outnumbered in the gender department—but he could care less as he proudly displays his first-place-winning Santa Claus coloring contest entry for his co-winner, Beth Outlaw (left) and Julie Sierpowski. And for Mary Brought, operations manager for Zayre in Zayre Plaza, Sanford, sponsor of the contest. Prizes: $25 gift certificate from Zayre for each.

Shell Gas Cutback: Hoax Or Germ Of Crisis Mood?

By United Press International
Shell Oil Co. dealers across the nation are reluctantly — sometimes bitterly — curtailing night or weekend operations, closing their self-service pumps and laying off employees despite the approach of the Christmas season.

Some say Shell's decision to ration dealers this month to 75 percent of the gasoline volume they get last December has created a crisis atmosphere and fears of another major gas shortage.

But some called the shortage "a play on the price" and Paul Eberth, a Shell dealer in Pittsfield, Mass., said it was "as one the few years ago."

But some called the shortage "a play on the price" and Paul Eberth, a Shell dealer in Pittsfield, Mass., said it was "as one the few years ago."

Shell announced Thursday it is rationing distribution of all grades of gasoline to dealers through at least Dec. 12. It blamed shortages caused by federal regulations, breakdowns at two refineries and unusually high demand.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

Shell, the industry's leading marketer with 5 percent of the nation's gasoline sales, was in the worst shape of any oil company.

But other companies also had problems, particularly with unblended gas where demand increases with each new car and supplies have been cut by an environmental ban on the use of MTBE.

The company also reduced gasoline prices by a half-cent a gallon Friday because, even though it charges generally less than its competitors, it had exceeded Energy Department price limits.

Industry officials blamed the tight supply in part on an unprecedented demand all year, aggravated by unusually mild weather that kept materials on the road beyond the end of the summer driving season.

The API — noting U.S. gasoline stocks grew by 5.1 million barrels in its last report — said it plans to allow higher prices that would reduce demand and avoid further rationing.

In And Around Lake Mary

Chamber Extends Invite To 'Meet The Candidates'

The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce is holding a "Meet the candidates" meeting next Monday at 8 p.m. at the Forum Clubhouse.

President Al Gutfeld urges all the people of the city to attend and have a chance to meet and talk to the candidates running for council seats 3 and 4 and for Mayor.

Mr. and Mrs. J.O. Germany (left) of Linda Jean, had an open house Sunday afternoon for Friends Mark, a candidate for council seat 2.

During the hours of 3 to 5 many area residents came by to meet Mr. Mark and his attractive wife, Dafra, the parents of five children. They have been living in the area for the past year and a half.

They both served a delicious fruit punch and very tasty hors d'oeuvres.

Also Dr. J. Branson Murphy and his wife Jean gave a coffee at their Lake Mary home for Bert Perinchief, a city commissioner running for reelection for seat 4.

Their many friends came in

PAULA HUGHES
Lake Mary Correspondent
222-6261

during the hours of 7 to 9 where they were served refreshments prepared by Mrs. Arlyn True.

White talking to Virginia Mercer, president of the Volunteer Firemen's Auxiliary, she informed me that their membership voted to donate $50 to the Lake Mary Toy Fund Drive.

David Blightshoefen of the Police Department who was in charge of the fund, was presented with a check for that amount.

Also the Auxiliary has put together a cook book which is being sold for $2.50, anyone interested in buying it can get it at Mrs. Murphy's barbershop.

Their many friends came in

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C.

Lewis (Elizabeth), from The Forest had a very nice surprise last week. Her son and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dabney from Birmingham, Ala., came to see them and also to present for her birthday party. About 20 of their friends have been invited. Some will be coming from Dallas.

Happy birthday, Lewis! And many more to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Durges (right) of Linda Jean, the newest residents in the area, gave a wonderful reception yesterday Saturday at the Forum Club in Sanford in honor of their daughter, Ann Marie, and her new husband, Mark Benschop, of Daytona Beach. About 120 guests attended the before reception.

I had a nice chat with Ardel Reitz from The Forest. Ardel, president of the SISTERS of Loretto, is home from her last trip, a 10-day cruise to the Caribbean, where she sailed with a group of friends from Delray.

She had a great time.

Jo Ann Decker, who is working part time at Seminole Community College as an instructor for sign language and community services, is giving a birthday party at her home for her old friend Linda, who will be 70 years young Wednesday.

About 20 of their friends have been invited. Some will be coming from Dallas.

Happy birthday, Linda! And many more to come.

The Lovins also spent a nice Thanksgiving day at the home of Orlando of Mr. Lovins, now retired Air Force Lt. Colonel Robert L. Lovins and wife Linda. Quite a few!

I had a nice chat with Ardel Reitz from The Forest. Ardel, president of the SISTERS of Loretto, is home from her last trip, a 10-day cruise to the Caribbean, where she sailed with a group of friends from Delray.

She had a great time.

And her plans for the coming holiday? "Just slow down," Clark says.

That's it, visita.

Got well wishes are in order for Gloria Premer, who fell at home last week and broke her left arm. Her arm will be in a cast for the next four to six weeks.

And her plans for the coming holiday? "Just slow down," Clark says.

That's it, visita.

The other half of the Jaycees — the Jaycettes — were not overlooked during the Altamonte-South Seminole Jaycettes Awards Night. Jaycette Nancy Farling (from left) presented chapter awards to Miss Pojanavetka, Zena McIntosh, Marilyn Hataway and Marcia Hayes. Mrs. Hataway and Mrs. Pojanavetka each won state awards at the recent convention.

Photo credit: Jimmie Johnson

JAYCETTES AWARDED

...Soccer

Continued From Page IC

The business manager, Cathie Well, played the strictest of rules this year but now spends more time promoting the team than playing. She also coaches a boys under-14 team.

"Don't let anyone tell you women aren't competitive," says Arden. "I would say we are quite competitive. But we try as a team not to be as competitive that we get nasty. We like to be friendly in addition to being competitive, but we're not afraid to be aggressive."

And it does. The team recently played a double-header with the University of Florida and Florida State University. Both teams won but the Seminoles were beaten by the Central Florida Kickers.

It's a great team.

Photo credit: Jimmie Johnson

soccer, you must be aggressive."

The women appreciate the strictness of Cathie Well, played the strictest of rules this year but now spends more time promoting the team than playing. She also coaches a boys under-14 team.

"Don't let anyone tell you women aren't competitive," says Arden. "I would say we are quite competitive. But we try as a team not to be as competitive that we get nasty. We like to be friendly in addition to being competitive, but we're not afraid to be aggressive."

And it does. The team recently played a double-header with the University of Florida and Florida State University. Both teams won but the Seminoles were beaten by the Central Florida Kickers.

It's a great team.

Photo credit: Jimmie Johnson

Crickett's

OVER 20 yrs. EXPERIENCE

We're Cleaning Up

from Daytona to Disney

CLEAN KITCHEN CABINETS

OVENs, REFRIGERATORS

INSIDE & OUT

DRYWALL, FLOORS

SHOWER, TILE & TUB

WOOD WORK

ROOFING & STEAM

CARPET

Even the dog, if he gets off

it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

CALL FOR 223-3455

ORLANDO 227-1577

24 HRS. A.M. SERVICE

ALL WORK

GUARANTEED

If it's not clean, it's not Crickett's

Guaranteed

For FREE ESTIMATES

SAVE WITH WINN DIXIE
THE BEEF PEOPLE

Double
Bingo odd Bingo even

OPENING DAY
CHANCE

PRICE VALUE	NO. OF PRIZES	CARDS FOR ONE STORE VISIT	CARDS FOR 13 STORE VISITS	CARDS FOR 26 STORE VISITS
$1,000.00	20	204,000 to 1	20,400 to 1	14,282 to 1
1,001.00	50	145,000 to 1	11,210 to 1	8,000 to 1
200.00	100	72,017 to 1	5,600 to 1	2,800 to 1
100.00	140	15,025 to 1	1,200 to 1	600 to 1
20.00	1,000	7,012 to 1	600 to 1	300 to 1
5.00	6,000	2,100 to 1	100 to 1	50 to 1
2.00	10,000	701 to 1	50 to 1	25 to 1
1.00	120,000	105 to 1	8 to 1	4 to 1
TOTAL	180,204	57 to 1	7 to 1	3 to 1

SAVINGS
SIRLOIN TIP
$1.39
Lb.
Ground Beef .99¢

SAVINGS
TIP ROAST
$1.49
Lb.
Ground Beef .99¢

SAVINGS
PORK CHOPS
$1.19
Lb.
Pork Chops .99¢

W.G. BRAND
100% PURE RAZED FINE
GROUND BEEF
10 Lb. $9.99

FRUIT COCKTAIL
2 Lb. 88¢

COLD DUCK
2 Lb. 2.89

ELBOW MACARONI
3 Lb. $1.09

TOMATO JUICE
58¢

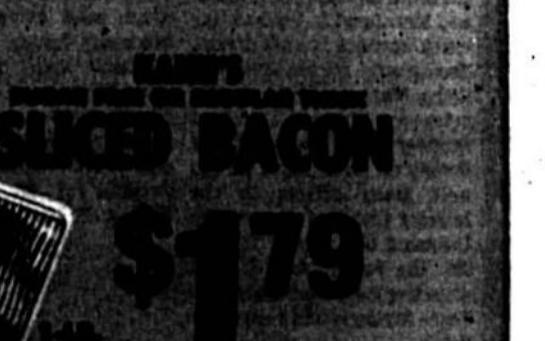

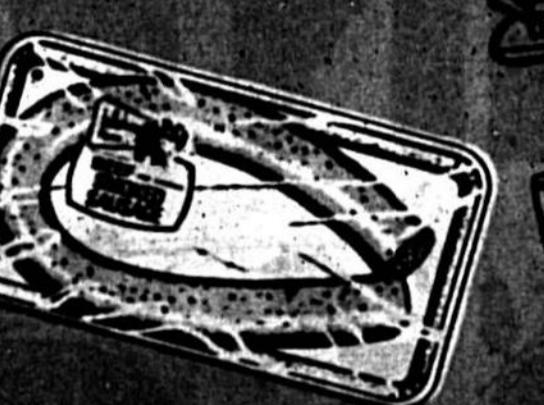

APPLE CIDER
2 Lb. $2.19

PRESERVES
99¢

HICKORY SMOKED
WHOLE PICNIC
89¢

MORTON (INCLUDES MACARONI & CHEESE, SPAGHETTI & MEAT)
POT PIES
4 8-oz. PIES. 99¢

Kahn's

Dairy Specials
SAVINGS
BISCUITS
6 Lb. 79¢

SAVINGS
COTTAGE CHEESE
1/2 LB. 75¢

SAVINGS
PIMENTO CHEESE
99¢

SAVINGS
RICOTTA CHEESE
99¢

BIG CASH WINNERS!

2,000
WINNERS

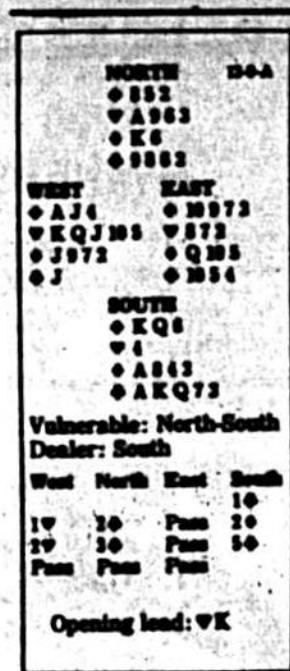

500
WINNERS

THE IDEAL GIFT
THE IDEAL GIFT

IDEAL GIFT CERTIFICATES

WIN AT BRIDGE

Ask the Experts

You hold:

Opening lead: VK

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Seeger

Here is another "case on the premises," give East the ace of spades and if you can't get it, then drop him with 13 tricks but a quick look at all the cards shows that trumps are in your hand and South has the ace of diamonds.

I will bid spades. This is a conventional expert bid and it is safe to do so with a sound trump control or two clubs in the air of diamonds.

If South tries to ruff his two losing diamonds in dummy, East is going to be able to overruff him and South will still have two spade losers.

Do you see how South can make his contract by bidding a pre-emptive play? South starts by bidding

1 Spade.

(Do you have a question for the experts? Write "Ask the Experts," care of this newspaper. Individual questions and answers will be printed in the column of "Ask the Experts" and stamped, self-addressed envelopes. The most interesting questions will be used in the column. Send them to me at the column address.)

By JACOBY MODERN

1 Spade

2 Spades

3 Spades

4 Spades

5 Spades

6 Spades

7 Spades

8 Spades

9 Spades

10 Spades

11 Spades

12 Spades

13 Spades

14 Spades

15 Spades

16 Spades

17 Spades

18 Spades

19 Spades

20 Spades

21 Spades

22 Spades

23 Spades

24 Spades

25 Spades

26 Spades

27 Spades

28 Spades

29 Spades

30 Spades

31 Spades

1 Spades

2 Spades

3 Spades

4 Spades

5 Spades

6 Spades

7 Spades

8 Spades

9 Spades

10 Spades

11 Spades

12 Spades

13 Spades

14 Spades

15 Spades

16 Spades

17 Spades

18 Spades

19 Spades

20 Spades

21 Spades

22 Spades

23 Spades

24 Spades

25 Spades

26 Spades

27 Spades

28 Spades

29 Spades

30 Spades

31 Spades

1 Spades

2 Spades

3 Spades

4 Spades

5 Spades

6 Spades

7 Spades

8 Spades

9 Spades

10 Spades

11 Spades

12 Spades

13 Spades

14 Spades

15 Spades

16 Spades

17 Spades

18 Spades

19 Spades

20 Spades

21 Spades

22 Spades

23 Spades

24 Spades

25 Spades

1 Spades

2 Spades

3 Spades

4 Spades

5 Spades

6 Spades

7 Spades

8 Spades

9 Spades

10 Spades

11 Spades

12 Spades

13 Spades

14 Spades

15 Spades

16 Spades

17 Spades

18 Spades

19 Spades

20 Spades

21 Spades

22 Spades

23 Spades

24 Spades

25 Spades

1 Spades

2 Spades

3 Spades

4 Spades

5 Spades

6 Spades

7 Spades

8 Spades

9 Spades

10 Spades

11 Spades

12 Spades

13 Spades

14 Spades

15 Spades

16 Spades

17 Spades

18 Spades

19 Spades

20 Spades

21 Spades

22 Spades

23 Spades

24 Spades

25 Spades

1 Spades

2 Spades

3 Spades

4 Spades

5 Spades

6 Spades

7 Spades

8 Spades

9 Spades

10 Spades

11 Spades

12 Spades

13 Spades

14 Spades

In And Around Casselberry

Music, Dance Set Mood For Holidays

The South Seminole Middle School Chorus will help to get us in the Christmas mood as they sing carols in the Altonian Mall Tuesday.

South Seminole's beginning band will present a Christmas concert at 7:15 p.m.

A Christmas dance, featuring a disco jockey, will be held in the middle school gymnasium on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike German and their son, Michael, of 5 Hicking Post Lane, were visited this week by her parents, Ed and Marion Mann and sister, Shirley, from New York, all of Somersbury, N.Y.

Happy birthday to Cindy Russell, sweet sixteen; Arthur Puglisi, pastor of Community United Methodist Church; John Derry, pastor of St. Augustine Church, and Francis Ritter.

Instead of exchanging gifts with each other, Angels' EKCO members decided to contribute to a collection basket for the less fortunate children. Each club member is to bring a monetary or in-kind gift to the Dec. 8 Christmas party to be held at St. Augustine Church Hall.

The Comets' Banumakers Club has elected the following new officers to be installed at Alabama. They didn't bring home much game, but they had a good trip.

Congratulations to Cathy Diffey, 16, who won the "Little Miss Casselberry" contest. She sang "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" and demonstrated a cheer.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Diffey of 618 Ivanhoe Way. The event was held at the St. Augustine Circle.

Don't forget to get out and vote in the Casselberry general election Tuesday. There are 13 council candidates to choose from.

Junior Girl Scout Troop 28 recently toured the Casselberry Fire Department as fulfillment of a requirement for "My Community Badge."

Those interested in the Church and Development Council of SCC are in the same boat.

This week they went to Orlando to view the private African art collection which was exhibited at Church Street Station Art Gallery. The children have been studying Africa.

Chuck Beutinger, Jack Richeson and his son, Jackie, recently returned from a hunting and camping trip in

ROBERT CARTER JR., KELLY YOUNG

Area Engagement

Young-Carter

The winter performance of the Choral Art Society will take place at 8 p.m. Monday in the auditorium of the Loch Haven Art Center in Orlando.

The program has been entitled "A Little Green Music" and will feature the music of four centuries by representative African composers: Beethoven, Mozart, Schubert and Benjamin Britten.

Singers who have had some experience in school, college, community, or church choirs are invited to join when rehearsals resume in January.

Further information can be obtained by calling Adult Education at 422-4151.

In And Around Longwood

VFW Benefit Gains $$ For Drug Center

VFW Post 888 and Ladies Auxiliary benefit auction, spaghetti dinner and jeans dinner was a huge success.

The community response and support was tremendous, raising, as of this writing, $1,207 toward the goal of $1,500.

A check will be presented to Samson Thomas, executive director of the Drug Action Committee of Seminole County, Inc., in whose honor this benefit was held.

A big "thank you" to Art Grimes who "overperformed" working for 9½ hours.

Thanks too, to the residents and merchants of our area for their donations and contributions, without which this event would not have been possible. Volunteers worked over 2,000 manhours to help make this event possible.

Entertainment, refreshments and dancing were provided by Bill Pitts and the Wreckers, Dan Wade and other area musicians.

Contributions to this worthwhile organization are still being accepted and can be sent to VFW Post 888 and Ladies Auxiliary, P.O. Box 38, Longwood 32750. Your contributions are tax deductible.

Terry and Jim Neale of DeLand entertained friends recently. Julie and Wayne Enake of Orlando, helped "counsel" the least Terry prepared. Special guests at the family gathering were Terry and Jim's children, Diane and James.

Arriving after Thanksgiving were friends who recently moved to Ft. Lauderdale from Chester, N.Y.

Enjoying the Central Florida atmosphere were Thomas Seville and children, Disney, Laurie and Debbie. Their other son, John, decided to remain with his grandmother in Ft. Lauderdale, rather than venture north.

Visited Disney, however, did venture north and found himself in South Dakota on "Turkey day."

Disney is a long-distance hiker.

Congrats to "Johnny jogger" upon completion of his first marathon. John was among several area residents who participated in the Second Annual Marathon in Melbourne. John came in No. 105 out of over 200 runners with a time of 3:42:44.

Other than stiff muscles, he said he "felt great and is ready for Boston."

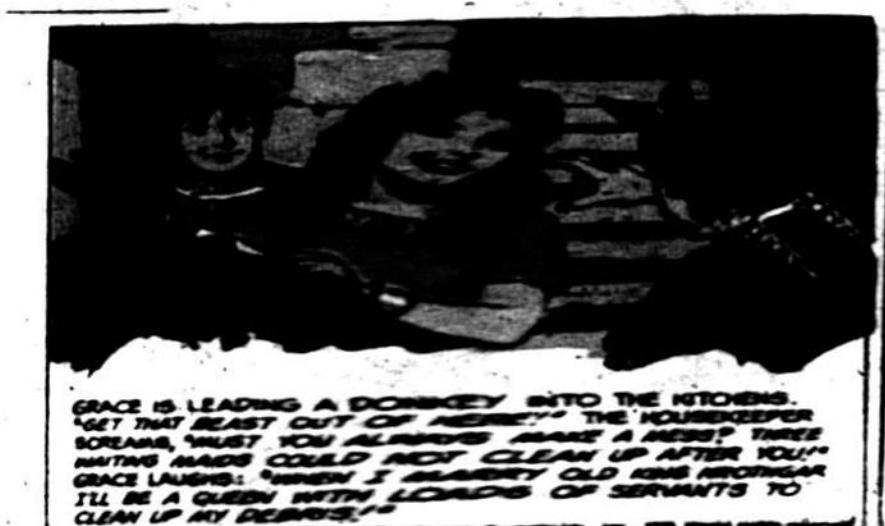

Spectrum... an exhibition of photographs by six women will open at the Matthaei Art Center on Sunday, Dec. 3, at 3 p.m. The exhibit will feature six women whose images reflect concerns from the whimsical to the intensely personal, and runs through Dec. 30.

Sunday Herald

December 3, 1978

SANFORD, FLORIDA

DOONESBURY

Closeout savings!

Your choice-----

Orig. to $16

4 99

Junior crinkle coordinates.

100 pct. cotton crinkle cloth coordinates. Blouses, shirts, big tops, skirts and pants in teal or mocha. Sizes S-13.

Junior fashion jeans.

Junior style jeans in polyester-cotton twill. Choices of styles in khaki, olive or rust. Sizes S-13.

This is JCPenney

SANFORD PLAZA
Hwy. 17-92 and State St.
Open Monday-Saturday 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Open Sunday 12 noon to 6 p.m.

ORLANDO DOWNTOWN
128 N. Orange Ave.
Open Monday-Saturday 9:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.
Open Sunday 12 noon to 6 p.m.

WINTER PARK MALL
Hwy. 17-92 and Lee Road
Open Monday-Saturday 10 a.m. to 9:30 p.m.
Open Sunday 12 noon to 6 p.m.

PONYTAIL

BY LEE HOLLEY

TIGER

by Bud Blake

BUGS BUNNY

by Stoffel & Heimdal

THE KATZENJAMMER KIDS

by Mike Senich

RIPLEY'S - Believe It or Not!

the small society

by brickman

ALLEY OOP

by Dave Graue

HUBERT

by Dick Wingert

TUMBLEWEEDS

by Tom K. Ryan

WEE PALS - kid power

by Morris Turner

Evening Herald

71st Year, No. 71—Monday, Dec. 4, 1978

Sanford, Florida 32771—Price 15 Cents

Of Lice...

-Parental Apathy, Wrong Treatment Blamed For Continuing Problem

By LEONARD KRAMDORF
Herald Staff Writer

It's been nearly two months since the Seminole County school district discovered it has a major head lice problem at its elementary schools — and today the problem is unchanged because of incorrect treatment and parental apathy, according to Marion Snell, district health supervisor.

Mrs. Snell said today children sent home from school because they have head lice are being treated by parents with conventional shampoo instead of medicinal shampoos, or not being treated at all.

And, she noted, in those cases where children are sent home, they are supposed to be checked by school personnel before being re-admitted, but in many cases the check isn't made and those children are getting back into the schools unchecked.

"I would say the problem is still the same as it was earlier this year and we haven't seen any real change," said Mrs. Snell, current supervisor of health education and health services for Seminole County schools.

"In some cases the parents are just not giving the students any treatment for the lice," she noted.

See LICE, Page 1A

...And Midges

-Reservoir Near FP&L Eyed As Breeding Site

By DONNA EITZES
Herald Staff Writer

The University of Florida...

But, said Dr. Ali, much more work is required before it can be determined for a certainty that the cooling reservoir is "the" major breeding place.

Then it must be determined how to reduce the midge population at that site and the effects on the fish population from various forms of reducing the midge to acceptable levels.

Dr. Ali said he has been sampling Lake Monroe every week for more than three months. The level density of the larvae is very low compared to problem areas in

See MIDGE, Page 1A

Commissioners: Sanford PD Panel Would Find Nothing

By MAX KRISTELIAN
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford city commissioners today said any panel established to look into the affairs of the city police department would find no evidence of wrongdoing or mismanagement.

These were the thoughts expressed by the commissioners who reacted today to an Evening Herald article published Sunday in which a committee of citizens said it would demand a panel be established to look into the police department's affairs.

He said he would not ask for the panel because of statements made to him by the general public during his campaign.

The candidate in David Farr speaking a third district seat opposing incumbent A.A. McClellan. Farr said he would ask the commission establish such a panel.

McClellan referred to the move as "political theater" today.

"It is regrettable any committee would deal in last minute political theater in an attempt to enhance their position," said McClellan.

"The citizens of Sanford lack confidence in the police department, because of the alleged irregularities or questions of impropriety such as the incident at the Povet Pub; police resignations; low morale at the department; and the fear of retribution by police officers who went to speak out," Farr said.

Commissioners' opinions of the panel were mixed. McClellan and John Morris, Commissioner Julian Stastrom said he did not feel the review is necessary, but would vote for such a panel if citizens demanded it. Mayor Lee P. Moore said he felt more information was needed on the proposal. Commissioner Eddie Keith said he did not feel the committee is needed but would like more information.

"From my personal contact with the police department," said McClellan, "there is a lot of morale at the police department at higher levels than in the ranks."

McClellan also said he did not feel citizens were calling for such an investigation.

"In making 1,300 phone calls in the past week and from my workers calling an over 4,000 households not one time has that question been raised," said McClellan.

McClellan said he received about 20 telephone calls since the article revealing Farr's

See POLICE, Page 1A

HERE'S WHAT'S IN STORE

Seven-year-old Butch Myers (above) picks gift from Santa, while Edmond Whack, Jr., ponders his selection with saleswomen Wilhelmina Hoorn and Linda Howard — all part of five-day shopping spree begun today at Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce "Christmas Store" sponsored by RSVP (Retired Senior Volunteer Program) for 511 first graders from compensatory classes in county schools. Butch and Edmond are from Lake Mary Elementary.

County PTA: From Tea And Cookies To Speaking Out

By LEONARD KRAMDORF
Herald Staff Writer

A pleasant group of women are sitting around a table chattered with tea cups and cookies. Their conversation is filled with the latest gossip about friends and neighbors.

For some, this scene has been the image of the Parent Teacher Association (PTA).

However, across the country and in Seminole County this scene has changed to where social activities have taken the place of the idle conversation and more men are taking an interest in the workings of the organization.

"There is no doubt we are getting away from the image of mothers just sitting around drinking tea and eating cookies and doing crafts for the school or community," says Lila Liter, who served for two years as president of the Altamonte Elementary School PTA.

"I think as a whole parents are becoming more knowledgeable and aware of issues and community involvement and are starting to see the PTA as a way to share their interest," she noted.

Mrs. Liter cited her recent unsuccessful attempt to have the school board place a fence around an area of the school that the PTA thought was a hazard to students.

"Although we were defeated I think it showed people the PTA has many diverse concerns," she said.

A similar viewpoint is shared by Patry Prusky, who is serving her second term as president of Tamarac Middle School PTA.

"I think parents are looking more at the family and what affects them and feel they want to have more say, especially on what is going to affect their children," she said.

'Parents are becoming more knowledgeable and aware of laws and community involvement...'

She cited the PTA's recent stand against the attempt to legalize casino gambling in Florida. "PTA's took a no stand against that issue because it was feared that it would have an adverse effect on children of all ages," she said.

One organization which has been active in promoting this action is the County Council of PTA.

The president of this council, Ann Boston, is also aware of the change.

"Several years ago the PTA would just be interested in fund raising for parties," she said, "but within the last few years PTAs are starting to speak out on issues and have even established a lobbying office in Washington, D.C."

PTA membership last school year was 6,625 a decline from 7,000 two years ago. Mrs. Boston attributed the decrease to the dismantling of some PTAs last year.

Although the complete figures have not been compiled for this year, Mrs. Boston is predicting an upsurge. She attributes this to the opening of the new Wakiva Elementary School and the forming of new PTAs in other schools.

One area where there has been another change has been in the involvement of men in the organization.

Of the 26 Seminole County PTAs 18 have male presidents.

"A firm believer in involving everyone and I think we are making good moves in that direction in this country," she said.

One of these male presidents is Jay Robert who is serving his first year as Lynx High School PTA president.

"I became interested in the school and the students and thought

See PTA, Page 1A

LILA LITER (LEFT), ANNE BOSTON