Second case of West Nile found

By Christopher Patton Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County is on medical alert for West Nile encephalitis, one week after health officials said the discovery of the virus east of Sanford was an "isolated infection."

Tests revealed that a dead dove found Aug. 23 off Celery Avenue tested positive for the West Nile virus. The next day, a second dove was found in Oviedo.

Health officials say a dove found in Oviedo tested positive for encephalitis Test results received this week indicated that the second dove also was infected with encephalitis.

Twelve counties were added to the encephalitis alert Thursday, raising the total to 48 of Florida's 67 counties. Officials say before the mosquito season ends, the entire state may be put on alert.

"We're not done with mosquitoes until probably December and it's possible the whole state can be under medical alert by then," said April Crowley, spokesperson for the Florida Department of Health.

As of Friday, there have been seven confirmed human cases of West Nile and three confirmed human cases of Eastern equine encephalitis in Florida this year. A 9-year old boy died of Eastern equine in July.

Most infections often go unnoticed with only minor flu like symptoms, but for individuals with low immune sys-

Classic cars heading for Heathrow

Auto show is a new addition to the Art Festival

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

LAKE MARY — More than a hundred classic cars and motorcycles are expected to pull into Heathrow next weekend during the 15th annual Lake Mary/Heathrow Festival of the Arts.

Lake Mary Rotary Club is sponsoring its second Classic Car and Cycle Show to coincide with this year's festival. The show was held at Seminole Community College during its initial year, but organizers decided to change the venue in hopes of increasing public participation.

"One area that we did not do so well in last year was participation," said Mike McLean, member of Rotary and the festival's board of directors. "This year, we are lucky to be able to associate with the arts festival."

The event will be held Saturday, Oct. 6, and Sunday, Oct. 7, during the festival. Organizers expect between 100 and 150 cars and motorcycles to participate in the event, including specialty, muscle and antique cars and hot rods. McLean said the Rotary Club is also tentatively planning a classic car cruise for 11 a.m. Saturday.

Ralph Cowell, chairman of the car show, said including the classic car show in the festival is beneficial for both event organizers and participants.

"It's a win/win situation for everyone," Cowell said. "There will be art, cars, food and entertainment. There will be something for everyone."

"And, the cars are really a form of art," he said, "especially the classic cars. They are a nice tie in."

The show is open to all makes and models of classics, antiques, street rods, muscle cars and motorcycles, and registration continues until Saturday, Oct. 6. Cost is $20 for vehicles and $15 for motorcycles. For more information, call Cowell at 407-805-9292 or Jim Pond at 407-421-1799.

Proceeds from the event go toward supporting the Seminole Community College Foundation. Last year, the Rotary raised more than $5,000 for the organization.

"We hope to do as well if not better this year," McLean said. "Some of the money will also go toward art scholarships."

Other highlights for this year's car show include the Daytona USA's Nascar Exhibit on Saturday, and a raffle for a new limited edition Harley-Davidson Sportster 1200. Raffle tickets are $20, and the winner will be announced during the car show trophy presentation 4 p.m. Saturday.

On Sunday, the Disabled American Veterans Hall in Sanford is planning to begin its "Bringin' Down the Roof" benefit at the festival. The parade of motorcycles will start in Heathrow and end across the street from Wal-Mart on 17-92. The event is sponsored by Seminole County ABATE and the Lake Mary Rotary Club, and money raised during the parade and Poker Run will help fund a new roof at the Disabled American Veterans Hall in Sanford. County pleased with hotel progress

By Christopher Patton Staff Writer

SANFORD — The proposed Sanford conference center passed yet another test Tuesday as county commissioners unofficially gave the project's progression a thumbs up.

During a presentation to the board, City Manager Tony VanDerworp introduced the new conference center development team, while County Manager Kevin Grace announced he appointed County Deputy Manager Sally Sherman and other staff to assist in the project.

While the terrorist attacks are making many Americans clutch their pocketbooks tighter, VanDerworp argued that now is the perfect time to fund large capital projects because of low interest rates.

"This is a great time to get out here with a public project historically," VanDerworp said.

Though a more detailed analysis is forthcoming, preliminary performance projections indicate revenue from the conference center could exceed annual debt payments by 50 percent beginning with the first stabilized year of business.

Commissioner Daryl McLain was particularly pleased with the plans as it "eliminated facilities that are no longer viable to the city while protecting the park."

The county commission will routinely be asked by the city for input during the course of the project's development. In the future, the county will be asked to review and provide recommendations on design, review and comment on the feasibility study, review and comment on the financial plan and decide on project and public funding levels.

Commissioners Randy Morris and Carlton Henley asked questions regarding residential planning around the conference center. Both said for the project to be successful the city needed to

Pan Am bans carry-on baggage

Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD — Pan American Airways, the company that established a number of "firsts" in the airline industry, became the first company to ban nearly all carry-on luggage.

Officials said the decision was part of Pan Am's effort to enhance passenger safety while still maintaining convenience during the check-in process.

The carry-on restriction includes briefcases and laptop computers. Those items must be checked along with all other bags. Passengers will be allowed to carry on wallets, purses and diaper bags if they are traveling with an infant.

Pan Am operates daily flights from Orlando/Sanford International Airport to six U.S. cities and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

The hallmark of PAN AM is the Pan Am experience has been the ability of our passengers to enjoy the ease and comfort of traveling through airports which are less crowded and more customer-friendly," said Dave Fink, president of Pan Am. "We adopted this unique strategy in order to maintain that advantage, while at the same time providing an additional measure of security."

With the increase in checked baggage, Fink said Pan Am is preparing its ground operations to handle the additional work. He also noted that the carry-on restrictions is expected to expedite the check-in process, as well as boarding and getting off the plane.

"(The restrictions) will provide security personnel with the ability to more thoroughly screen passengers and baggage."

Planners finalizing ideas for Riverwalk

City's design team suggests moving hotel project to Civic Center site

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD — Planners for the city's Riverwalk project are beginning to match dreams to dollars as they move forward with the design process.

Peter Sechler of Glattig Jackson, the engineering and design firm overseeing the development of the Riverwalk, briefed the City Commission Monday on where the project stands.

"We've just finished an extensive public input and come up with a set of ideas that we will try to put in a schematic design," Sechler said. "What we've got to do now is get an understanding of how this design ideas will match up to the budgetary limitations."

A series of public meetings generated plenty of suggestions as well as praise for Glattig Jackson's work. At the conclusion of one four hour meeting that ended after 10 p.m., about 30 members of the public gave the design team a standing ovation for their presentation.

"I've been impressed with the work they've done, especially the way they have gone out of

Farmer's wife finds letter that's too hot to handle

DEAR ABBY: I am in a predicament! I don't know what to do. We live on a farm. Last night after the children were asleep, I went out to the barn and found my husband hurrying to put away a mysterious bag. I asked him what he was doing. He said, "Nothing, just going through some old things." When we returned to the house together, he had some old photos of his ex-wife he said he was giving to her sister. I didn't mind. I felt that at least he was getting rid of them.

This morning, after the kids went to school, my curiosity got the best of me. I opened the bag and found some old family photographs and collectibles. Underneath, I found an envelope with his name on it. I opened it and found a letter written by his ex-wife. It wasn't an ordinary love letter — it was a sexual fantasy.

The contents of the letter are disgusting. Now I don't know if I should destroy it, confront him, or put it back and try to forget I ever saw it. I'm afraid if I mention it he'll get angry that I snooped through his private things. If I destroy it, he will get really angry. If I leave it, I'm afraid he will read it from time to time, and I'll be angry all over again. I wish I hadn't found it.

Abby, I love my husband and have never had any reason not to trust him, but after finding that letter, I don't know what to do.

THE FARMER'S SECOND WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Under no circumstances should you be the one to destroy the letter. Tell your husband what you did and offer him an apology for snooping. When you tell him how upsetting the contents of the letter were, he may volunteer to get rid of it. However, the decision should be his. And if he wants to keep it, he won't be the first man (or woman) to keep a souvenir of a dead romance.

DEAR ABBY: So many people can't seem to get off the couch and into an exercise program. May I offer the following "Exercise Program for Lazy People"?

Different world

Rip Van Winkle in Washington

There is something of a Rip Van Winkle quality about returning to Washington after a long summer. I did not have to sleep for 20 years to find a totally different place than the one I left in June.

Richard Reeves

When I left the capital, the United States barely had a president. George W. Bush seemed a rather diffident fellow who appeared every once in a while to try to rally his partisan troops with a few short and hesitant sentences on television. His election was barely accepted and his competence regularly questioned. Now the man in the arena has the approval of 90 percent of his countrymen and women. The opposition, very loyal now, treats him as a reigning warrior statesman.

When I left, the worst things you could say around here were "big government" and "more spending." Now the government is happily disbursing hundreds of millions of dollars for new weapons of self-protection. Folks in power are clamoring for deficit spending, not only to rebuild lower Manhattan, bail out the corporations and build up the military and intelligence services, but also to revive a sagging national economy in ways advocated by John Maynard Keynes. I have yet to hear anyone mention the mantra of May, "market forces."

When I left, Washington, and most of America, too, was pushing a cool "unilateralism" around the world. The sole surviving superpower, it seemed, needed few friends — and if any foreigners resented that, we deemed it envy. Now the warrior statesman and his court are promoting coalitions with peoples and nations no one here has pronounced correctly for years.

When I left, the idea that the federal government should take on a few new jobs — say, assuming responsibility for airport security — would have been laughed at on Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House to the Capitol. One of the big local debates was over reopening that very street in front of the president's house — the closed section was an inconvenience for both locals and tourists. Why did the only superpower, the essential nation, need protection? After all, the global economy depended on us; we could tell other countries how to run their businesses and their elections — and those folks from unpronounceable places loved us just as we were. They were smitten with our decency, our generosity, our compassion, and our movies and basketball, too. And why not? We meant no harm.

Then, of course, a handful of those folks attacked us. They hated us, and it seems now they were not alone. People around the world expressed sympathy for the great loss of life on Sept. 11, but there was often a side-mouthed undertone that we deserved it because we were too rich, too arrogant, too selfish, too materialistic, too unilateralist.

Suddenly there is another superpower: fear. It is hard to absorb the idea that people want to hurt us — and some of them may be living right next door.

Washington right now is like a huge re-education camp, and the president himself is the student-in-chief, riding the same learning curve as most other Americans. Who are these people? What do they want? Is it conceivable that they don't want to be like us?

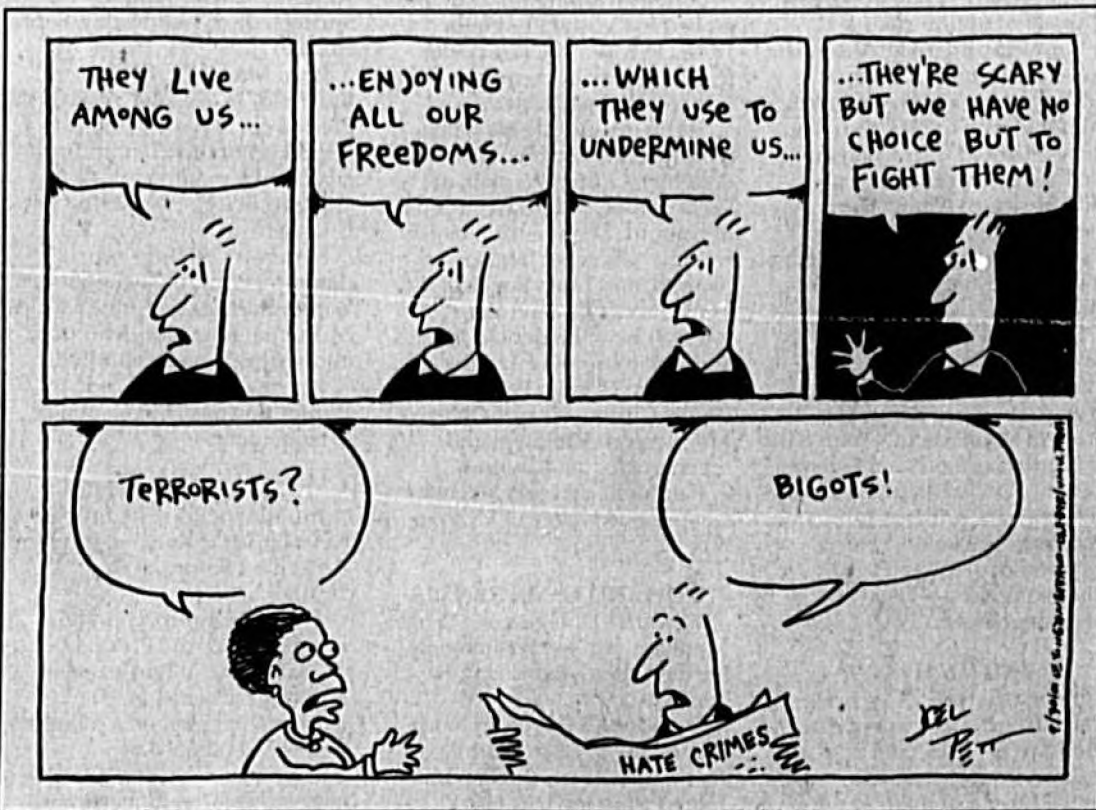

City and country are awakening to a new world, just as if Rip did in Washington Irving's 1819 tale of a farmer who slept through the American Revolution.

Here, we dozed through the 1990s. Once the Soviet Union collapsed, the only remaining superpower turned away from the world, something we have often done since Rip Van Winkle awoke. Sure there were "ragheads" out there someplace who didn't get it yet, but they would once they held a Yankee dollar. The unspoken American theory was that the globe would prosper with us — and we would protect them from themselves. The market would provide.

Then we went home; most of us did, anyway. We elected presidents ignorant of foreign affairs, and then they appointed friends and fund-raisers as ambassadors and occasionally sent out the military to show the flag in some unpleasant places. Most of that work was done from the air — at least after our amazingly incompetent entry into Somalia in 1992 — and the military's mission amounted to self-protection above all. The press closed its foreign bureaus to make more money. No one cared about the news from Afghanistan. The Taliban might as well be an underarm deodorant.

It is a sad time here, because America is on the defensive. After the shock and mourning, all the inspiring words and talk of the moment really amount to doing our best to get our world back to where it was the day before Sept. 11. It seemed simple then, but now we know that was self-delusion, and we have to take a look at a map of the world as it really is.

Normal doesn't mean forgetting feelings of pride

To the editor:

I think most Americans would agree that even though we wish the terrible events at the World Trade Center and the Pentagon had not happened, we as a country and citizenry have never been so proud of who we are.

Out of this tragedy we have been permitted to take stock in our lives and to appreciate what is really important to us. We have taken the time to appreciate family and have become more tolerant of people in general. I have felt, as others, an appreciation of the troubles that every person must endure in their lives.

I have noticed people holding the door for others, using turn signals and granting the right-of-way on the road and conversing more with strangers. There is also a renewed patriotism of the United States that has been easily recognizable.

In reports around the country, individuals stranded by the airline grounding seem to deeply appreciate the uniqueness of traveling cross-country in rental cars together. It is a shame that such a tragedy would have to happen, for us to appreciate the great value that is within each of us.

I agree with others that we should not allow this tragedy to keep us frozen in fear. We need to live on and we need to get back to the enjoyment of life, for it is too short. However, what disturbs me most is what I foresee happening, if we let it slip back into our routine lives as new events happen, thus fading our shock over such an event.

I keep hearing our government leaders saying to get back to our normal routines as best that we can, but I ask, "Was normal really all that great and is it what we want for ourselves?"

I hated the awful story that we watched unfold on television and watching the reruns of film footage with each new report. It most definitely added extreme stress to each of our lives, but it also allowed us a break, from what the television networks and newspapers provide us with every day. It was good to witness the best in people and not just hearing or reading the worst. It was good to witness the unselfishness and helpfulness within us and that most Americans can be trusted as good people.

Now I hope that the shock does not begin to slowly wear off as it has before because new events will surely occur within our communities.

This is a wake-up call America! I don't like what I am already seeing as the television networks begin to slowly decrease the coverage of this event. Are we really going to go back to the normality of before?

I don't really like the return of Stone Cold Steve Austin busting chairs over wrestlers backs, gangster rap singers receiving awards, movie stars best-dressed lists, accusations of police officers, news of murders and drugs on our streets by our own citizens, road rage, domestic violence and abuse of children.

As we return to normal, I hope we remember who the heroes are and that we do not forget our feelings of pride, terror and urgency before things get worse than they already are.

Stadium brings back memories of 'Old Redhead'

To the editor:

I was delighted to see and read of the renovation of Sanford's baseball stadium. Having grown up in another city that was also a member of the old Florida State League, I have many fond memories of the 1930s, '40s, and '50s when baseball was truly the favorite national pastime.

It's great that the city of Sanford has honored those from the local area — Krider, Lake, Rinker, Raines, Eckstein and others — who have made significant contributions and achieved considerable success participating in organized baseball.

But, while reading the article concerning the dedication of the stadium, and of all of those persons associated with its heritage, it struck me that the Sanfordite who perhaps made the greatest contribution to organized baseball — and the only one honored by election to the Baseball Hall of Fame — was omitted.

Although he was born in Mississippi, Walter Lanier "Red" Barber grew up in Sanford and graduated from Sanford High School, where he was not only a member of the baseball club, but was also a star halfback on the high school football team.

After graduation from high school, he enrolled in the University of Florida and later joined radio station WRUF as a sportscaster for the University. In 1933, he became a broadcaster for the Cincinnati Reds and in 1939 became the announcer for the Brooklyn Dodgers Radio Network.

On Aug. 26, 1939, he made history when he was selected to be at the mike for the first televised broadcast of a major league baseball game. In 1954, after serving several years as director of sports for CBS, he joined the New York Yankees as their announcer. All in all, his career as a sports broadcaster spanned 38 years before he retired in 1972. Along the way he also authored six books: "When All Hell Broke Loose in Baseball," "The Broadcasters," "Rhubarb in the Catbird Seat," "The Rhubarb Patch," "Walk in the Spirit," and "Show Me the Way to Go Home."

In 1978, despite the fact that he had never played in a major league baseball game, he joined a very elite group of players when he was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y. He subsequently was inducted into the Florida Sports Hall of Fame, and has been named one of the 50 Top Floridians of the 20th Century.

In 1980, the "Old Redhead," as he often referred to himself, returned to Florida and resided in Tallahassee until his death in 1982. In addition to his broadcasting and his books, many throughout the country enjoyed his weekly syndicated column, "From the Catbird Seat."

It would seem fitting to give recognition to Red Barber now

Residents want to see clean up of neighborhood

To the editor:

A letter to the Sanford City Commission:

We are writing this letter to address the concerns we have regarding the property at Park Avenue and 12th Street. The building consists of the Park Avenue Mart, Sub Shop, Jamland and Starbright Laundry. As a community, we are unfortunately affected by the unlawful acts that occur at this site.

We have observed, and are now documenting by video, a multitude of drug activity. The Sanford Police Department has also observed drug activity at this location. We are working diligently to have the three pay phones removed from the site because of the volume of non-residents using these phones to foster criminal activities. We also have concerns of prostitution, loud music and loitering.

We are grateful to the police department and the city for all the efforts to correct these problems at this site. However, the same problems are evident and are now increasing. We, as a community, are fearful for our safety and the safety of our children. On the Street

The Herald asks people what they think ...

Following the Sept. 11, 2001, tragedy when four airplanes crashed as a result of terrorists, Delta, Continental and other companies reported a decrease in the number of people flying on their jets. Recently, many airlines reacted to the passenger decrease by reducing their workforce and flights. We asked people if, in light of the recent attack on the United States, they are apprehensive about flying.

I'm concerned about flying, but with the added security and to be practical, I am planning to start back in two weeks, which is the first available flight.

Sid Vihlen Jr.
Sanford

No, I am not. Of any time, now is the time to fly because of the enhanced security and if, for no other reason, to show the terrorists they can't shut the country down.

Jay Dinkler
Palm Beach

I think the airplanes are safer than they have ever been, and I am certainly not afraid to fly.

Leonard Williams
Orlando

No, I am not afraid to fly. I will be flying to Washington, D.C. in three weeks, and then to Kansas City.

Len Williams
Orlando

Flying is safer than riding in cars right now. I'll be flying to Texas in four weeks to see my daughter, and I am not afraid.

Winter Springs High School presents the 'Wizard of Oz'

Winter Springs High School is performing the "Wizard of Oz" Oct. 4, 5 and 6 at 7 p.m. and October 7 at 2 p.m. in the WSHS auditorium. The production is the Broadway version, not the MGM/Judy Garland version, so there will be some fun surprises. It is funny and "fantastical" with wing, rap and special effects. The "Wizard of Oz" is timeless and ageless, loved by all. It provides positive lessons in character and is family entertainment at its very best.

A portion of the ticket proceeds will be donated to the victims of the attack on America on Sept. 11 and the Children Home Society of Central Florida.

In his director's note, Chris Bredholt wrote:

"The Wizard of Oz is an American play written at a time when our country was in transition (1900). Each character represents our American spirit and determination. It is very appropriate that we are doing this play at this time of such deep sorrow and transition (2001). The goals we hold as a nation have always been to use our 'brains' and our "heart" and our "courage" to reach for the best in ourselves as well as in others. We, like Dorothy, must always be optimistic.

"There will always be those who, because of the lack of courage, take the easy way out. We are dealing with acts of cowards who attacked us through terrorism. This is not the act of men of valor. The lion is a symbol of strength and mettle. Author L. Frank Baum was making a statement about the lion. Since it already had what it was looking for, the Wizard could easily give him a medal, an outward sign of what the lion already had inside. For this reason, I would like to dedicate this play to those who are in our military. You are the lions who overcome your fears to protect us...."

Bredholt wrote a verse for each attribute the characters in the play are searching for, which can be found on the production's program.

People are encouraged to obtain tickets early as performances may be sold out. For more information call Christine Bredholt, 407-320-8729.

tems infections can be fatal.

Although mosquitoes are the culprit of passing the disease to humans, encephalitis starts in birds. Birds are the original hosts for the various strains of encephalitis, such as West Nile, Eastern equine and St. Louis.

"It's not a panic situation, but don't ignore it — just take precautions," warned Crowley. "It's just common sense. We're not telling the public anything different than in the past. We're in Florida, and you have to protect yourself from mosquito-borne diseases."

Health officials are urging people to avoid outdoor activities during mosquitoes most active times at dusk and dawn. If you must be outside at those times, wear insect repellent with the chemical DEET, long pants, long sleeves, socks and shoes.

"Those are the times you need to be on heightened alert because that's when mosquitoes are out looking for a blood meal, and we're it," Crowley said about dusk and dawn.

Health officials are also urging the public to help in tracking the viruses by reporting any dead birds. Dead birds infected with any form of encephalitis often show no wounds. Crows and Blue Jays are typically the hosts, but according to Crowley, even a Red Winged Tail Hawk and Finch have tested positive for encephalitis.

As part of the medical alert in Seminole, John Cochrane of the county health department said an "enhanced surveillance" with local doctors and hospitals is taking place while the department is also encouraging residents to take precautions and report dead birds.

The 48 counties included in the alert: Alachua, Baker, Bay, attract more residents to the downtown area.

Bradford, Calhoun, Citrus, Clay, Collier, Columbia, Dade, Dixie, Duval, Escambia, Flagler, Franklin, Gadsden, Gilchrist, Gulf, Hamilton, Hernando, Highlands, Holmes, Jackson, Jefferson, Lafayette, Lake, Lee, Leon, Levy, Liberty, Madison, Marion, Monroe, Nassau, Okaloosa, Pasco, Putnam, Santa Rosa, Seminole, St. Johns, Sumter, Suwannee, Taylor, Union, Volusia, Wakulla, Walton and Washington.

"I support the concept of redevelopment because I believe we're approaching build out in this county," Henley said. "If you bring in the residential aspect you would have a better chance of succeeding."

Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard agreed. He compared the planning of the conference center and attracting residents to the downtown like two cars on a train both heading in the same direction.

"I think the county is excited and we're looking toward the next couple months," Lessard said. "It's important we get new people living downtown. I think they're all on the same track."

According to Lessard, several groups have contacted the city about small apartment or townhouse projects close to the downtown area, but he said the city must be wise in picking the "right ones." He said the addition of new residential quarters downtown must compliment the proposed conference center and the $10.8 million earmarked for city improvements to the Riverwalk, First Street, Memorial Park, marina and Fort Mellon Park.

"I think when you see those developments start is when you'll see the major players come in," Lessard said about the possibility of some attractive residential projects coming to the downtown area.

In other business, commissioners unanimously approved the county's $565 million 2002 fiscal year budget Tuesday night. The millage rate for county residents will be 5.2197, including a voter approved increase of .2208 mills in last November's trail construction referendum.

The referendum stated the millage would be less than a quarter and according to Fiscal Services Director Cindy Hall the 2208 is not likely to go up since the bonds for the referendum were sold last Tuesday.

Grace noted that this year's budget process was "notable" because this was the first time county staff developed two fiscal budgets in one year.

"Thank staff for a swift change in process and doing it smoothly," Grace said.

Although commissioners only passed the first of two budgets planned Tuesday, the 2003 fiscal year budget is tentatively approved, said Hall.

"I fully anticipate changes will be made, but we hope there will be no wholesale changes," Hall said about the drafted $488 million 2003 fiscal year budget.

said Diane Beaudry, Pan Am's director of security.

Unlike several major airlines, Pan Am is one of the few carriers not to cut schedule flight service or layoff employees following the Sept. 11 terrorist attacks in New York and Washington, D.C. "Now more than ever, the public deserves to travel with convenience, civility and security," Fink said.

Tuesday's decision to restrict carry-on baggage is not the first time Pan Am has broken new ground in the airline industry. It's inaugural flight in Oct. 28, 1927 — a mail run from Key West to Havana, Cuba — was the first scheduled international flight by a United States airline. The company was the first passenger airline to complete a transpacific flight (San Francisco to Manila in November 1935), a transatlantic flight (New York to Lisbon to Marseille in May 1939), and an around-the-world flight (1942).

Pan Am was the first airline to use jets (a Boeing 707 in October 1956) and ordered the first Boeing 747 in the early 1970s.

Riverwalk planning focuses on four areas of improvements

By Dan Ping
Editor

SANFORD — As details about what the city's waterfront will look like begin to be set in place, the Riverwalk planning team has established four broad pillars on which they'll build their design: seawall reconstruction; marina update; downtown improvements and renewal; and the future of Ft. Mellon Park.

The most obvious aspect of the Riverwalk design is the reconstruction of the seawall and the addition of lakefront amenities.

"This project is really being driven by the reconstruction of the seawall," said Peter Sechler, project manager for the engineering and design firm of Glatting Jackson. "The seawall is 70 years old and it needs a lot of work in some places."

While reconstructing the seawall is a primary concern, the project allows the city to add lakefront amenities like fishing piers, trails and restrooms that aren't currently available. Public space adjacent to the waterfront now is limited to narrow strips of grass that do not accommodate many public uses. Sechler said that during the seawall work, that space will increase.

"One of the things we're looking at is putting the new seawall in front of the old seawall," Sechler said during a meeting with City Commission. "We're also looking at shifting Seminole Boulevard as far south as you can."

The objective, Sechler said, is to provide many different uses along the waterfront without having those uses conflict. For example, there have been discussions about creating two separate trails: one smooth and wide for bikers and inline skaters; another with decorative or imprinted pavement that is conducive to walking and jogging but too bumpy for bikes and skates. Both of those trails, in turn, would be far enough away so residents could still fish from the bulkhead.

The second major aspect the Riverwalk project will incorporate is the public uses of the Sanford Marina. Sechler said he believes the Marina is an integral part of the waterfront, but needs better planning and more space.

"Right now people are doing totally different functions in the same space," Sechler said.

One of the proposals Sechler's team is considering is building a new jetty further east of the marina to provide a bigger basin.

"You don't have much transient boat docking right now," Sechler said. "By moving the break wall east, you can make the east basin big enough to accommodate all of your permanent docking. The west side basin then becomes space for transient docking for people stopping in for the day or overnight."

An expanded basin could also provide space to launch sailboats and host regattas.

The third major aspect of the Riverwalk project is downtown improvements and renewal. Sechler and his team plan to tie-in improvements along the waterfront with 1st Street using the Park, Palmetto and Sanford avenue corridors. Design standards for streetlights, road surfaces, awnings, building improvements and landscaping can help tie the two areas together.

Glatting Jackson is also developing plans to replace the road surface along 1st Street, possibly with a brick or brick-like surface, and redoing the drainage system to keep water from collecting next to the buildings.

City Commissioner Art Woodruff said he liked a proposal to put back-in parking along 1st Street.

"Instead of pulling in and parking on an angle like you do now on 1st Street, you go just past the parking space and back into it at an angle," Woodruff said. "It makes pulling out into traffic much safer. They're doing it in Seattle."

Downtown renewal is a bit more tricky than making physical improvements to an area, Sechler noted. His team is identifying possible sites for residential buildings in downtown to provide an economic engine.

"I know there is a desire to have more and vital retail in downtown," Sechler said. "The market seeks its own level."

You can't just have more retail without the people to support it. That support comes from people living in and around downtown.

"There is a big interest in downtown residential living," Sechler said. "There is a great desire for kind of the small town, downtown type living. I think this is something Sanford is well positioned for because right now the market only offers suburban living."

A downtown grocery store is at the top of the list for many residents, and Sechler said that's a possibility, especially if the downtown residential population grows.

"Public has a 30,000-square-foot model that it is aggressively pushing in urban settings," Sechler said.

The fourth major aspect of the Riverwalk project is the future use of Ft. Mellon Park. At this point the Glatting Jackson team is developing two plans, one with a hotel/conference center, and one without. The city is working with a team from Acquest/Benchmark Hospitality to prepare a specific proposal for a hotel. The commission established Jan. 31, 2002 as the deadline to determine if the city will move forward with the project.

During Monday's meeting, Sechler show commissioners plans that propose putting the hotel project west of Ft. Mellon Park on the site now occupied by the Civic Center and the Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

"This lets the hotel be a hotel and the park be a park," Sechler said. "It does the most for the park and the most for the city by putting the hotel on Sanford Avenue to serve as an anchor for the east end of 1st Street."

The park could be upgraded with landscaping and divided into two part by a small bandshell, Sechler said.

The planning process is at the stage, Sechler said, where the team is pulling all the design ideas for the four major aspects of the Riverwalk project together and comparing it to the available funding.

"We have a lot of ideas, now we've got to match them with the budget," Sechler said.

Den Ping can be reached at dping@seminoleherald.com or 407-322-2611.

their way to gather input from the public," Woodruff said. "I have limited experience with this type of thing, but before whenever there was talk about building a new school or something, there was very little input from the people who would be using the facilities. That hasn't been the case with the Riverwalk project."

The Riverwalk project is being driven by the need to repair the 70-year-old seawall along Lake Monroe. In addition to overseeing the reconstruction of the seawall, Glatting Jackson will develop a Riverwalk with amenities, like bike and jogging trails, fishing piers and decorative landscaping. The firm will also develop and implement an overall plan for downtown.

Though Glatting Jackson is not charged with creating a plan for the proposed hotel/conference center on Lake Monroe, the firm must design the east end of the Riverwalk with two options: one with a hotel/conference center and one without.

During Monday's presentation, Sechler proposed moving the hotel project out of Ft. Mellon Park and onto the site where the Sanford Civic Center and Sanford Chamber of Commerce are located.

"Objectively, you've got to take a look at those buildings and realize that they have more of their life behind them than in front of them," Sechler said. "Regardless of what happens with the hotel/conference center, you're going to be looking at replacing those buildings, probably sooner rather than later."

Sechler said he envisions a multi-story facility, taller than what is currently downtown but not overwhelmingly tall, with conference space and a parking garage.

"I would think it would be very close and comparable to the Vinoy hotel in St. Petersburg," Sechler said.

Commissioners appeared receptive to the idea of moving the hotel project to the west.

"We I talked to people in my district about moving the hotel to that location, the mood changed real quick for the positive," said City Commissioner Randy Jones. "That location greatly calmed a lot of fears."

Woodruff said he suggest to City Manager Tony VanDerworp that the city persuade those companies interested in building a hotel/conference center locate it west of Ft. Mellon Park.

"I think it's a better place for it, but I'm not yet sure it's the best place for it," Woodruff said.

While the new location would allow the city to save the park, Woodruff said he is concerned about groups that now use the Civic Center.

"We've got 120 groups that use the Civic Center for some type of event during the year,"

Woodruff said. "We need to provide a place for those groups to meet."

City officials have indicated that any operator of the conference center would be required to host certain specific events, like the Martin Luther King Banquet or the annual Prayer Breakfast. There could also be special rates for local organizations. No details have been finalized about local groups using the conference center, and Woodruff said he will work to get more specifics.

"We have to find a way to accommodate local groups," he said.

OCALA — The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) is asking for cooperation from boaters on the St. Johns River, and adjoining creeks and lakes, to use idle speed only until the high waters that have been caused by all the recent rains recede.

"The problem is that wakes caused by boats - even those traveling at slow speed - are causing property damage to residences, docks and seawalls, and are creating dangerous conditions for those living along the water," said Lt. Greg Bason, staff supervisor for the FWC's Northeast Region. The Lake, Volusia and Seminole county sheriffs' offices have posted all areas of the St. Johns River as idle speed only and boaters are asked to please cooperate while this emergency rule is in effect.

Officers from the FWC, as well as the respective sheriffs' offices will be patrolling the river and reminding boaters that they need to keep travel to idle speed only since higher speeds are creating dangerous situations and causing property damage. Those who refuse to comply can be charged with a variety of violations including careless operation and violating speed zones.

FWC EXPECTS FISH
KILLS TO INCREASE
IN ST. JOHNS RIVER

OCALA — The recent rains and cloudy skies in Central Florida are causing more than just flooding problems along the St. Johns River and associated waterways. Fisheries biologists with the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) are concerned that the number and severity of fish kills will increase over the next several weeks.

"We have already seen fish kills resulting from low dissolved oxygen (DO) levels from Lake Washington (Brevard County) to Palatka (Putnam County), but conditions are prime for a major kill," said Sam McKinney, regional biological administrator for the FWC's Division of Freshwater Fisheries in Ocala.

Why do heavy rains and cloudy skies sometimes result in fish kills? The heavy rains wash organic debris, such as plant and animal material, into the waterways, and stir up the bottom sediments. As the debris decays the process uses the dissolved oxygen in the water faster than it can be replenished. At the same time, the overcast skies reduce sunlight so algae does not produce oxygen, and the result is that there is not enough dissolved oxygen in the water for the fish to breathe.

"That is when fish begin coming to the surface and gulping air," said McKinney. "Ultimately the fish die and float to the surface. How low and widespread the DO levels are, determine the size of the fish kills which can range from only a few individuals being affected, to massive kills where hundreds of thousands of fish become victims."

For the past month biologists have recorded DO levels of less than one part per million (ppm) in many portions of the St. Johns River. Fish need DO levels of about five parts per million, and OAKLAND — Not bad for a kid who was supposed to be playing second base in Triple-A.

When Sanford's David Eckstein was hit in the left arm by a Tim Hudson pitch in the sixth inning of Monday night's game with the Oakland Athletics, the Anaheim Angels' shortstop tied the Major League rookie record of 20 hit by pitches set in 1956 by Cincinnati Reds Hall-of-Famer Frank Robinson, who now works in the Commissioner's Office as baseball's disciplinarian, handing out fines and suspensions to players and managers who Eckstein, a Seminole High School and University of Florida graduate and the son of Sanford City Commissioner Whitey Eckstein, was picked up off waivers by the Angels from the Boston Red Sox late last year. He was given the opportunity to make the club as a utility player in Spring Training and, in fact, was about to be sent down to the minors when regular second baseman Adam Kennedy broke his hand.

He opened the season as the starting second baseman, but it was figured he would be sent down as soon as Kennedy came off the disabled list. But he got off to such a good start that manager Mike Scioscia moved the 5-foot-8, 170-pounder to shortstop, a position he had played very little since his days as a player in the Seminole PONY Baseball League's. Eckstein quickly adapted to be position like he was born to play there and has become the best American-born rookie in baseball (Japan's Ichiro Suzuki of the Seattle Mariners and the Dominican Republic's Albert Pujols of the St. Louis Cardinals will win the American League and National League Rookie of the Year awards, respectively).

Heading into Friday night he was on pace to break several more records. In 145 games, he already has the American League rookie hit by pitch record and the Angels overall club record and also has an Angels rookie LAKE MARY — At least it didn't rain.

In baseball it's errors and bases on balls. In basketball it's missed free throws and turnovers. In football it's turnovers and penalties.

What's the question? Mistakes in sports that cost you ball games.

Such was the case at Lake Mary's Don T. Reynolds Stadium Friday night as, despite playing in near-perfect conditions after four weeks of soggy fields, the host Rams turned the ball over three times in the first quarter, and four times in the first half, and visiting Mainland gladly accepted the gifts, turning the first three mistakes into touchdowns and holding on for a 20-7 victory in the Homecoming and Class 5A-District 3 contest.

The loss ended Lake Mary's winning streak at two games and also was the Rams' first defeat in district play, as they fell to 2-3 overall and 2-1 in 5A-3.

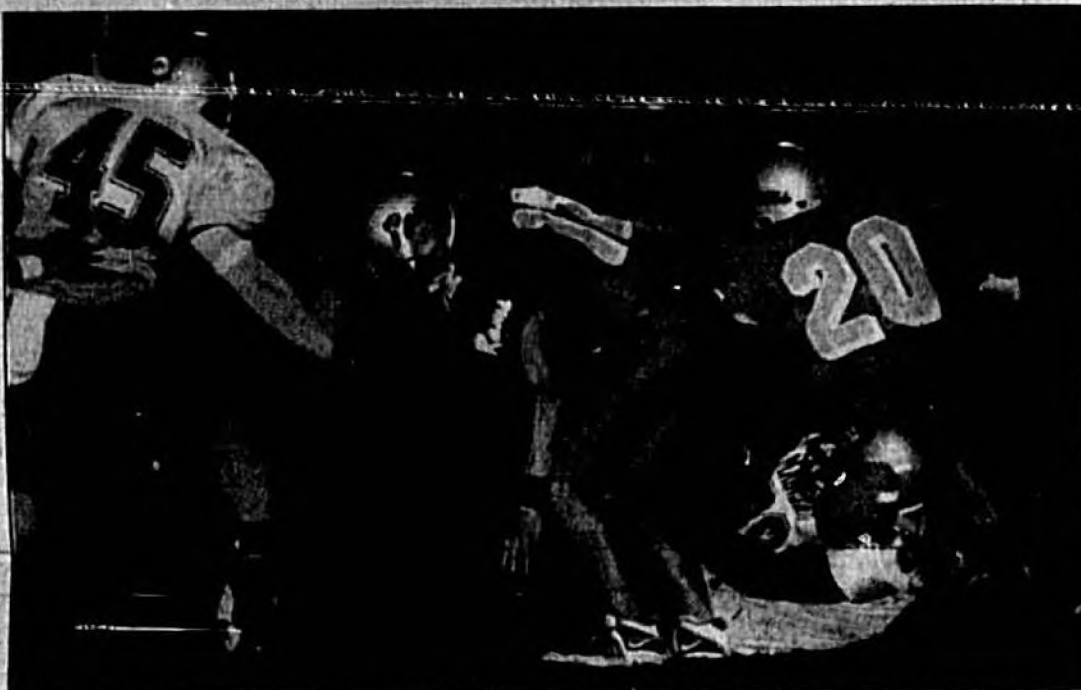

The Buccaneers, meanwhile, improved to 3-1 overall and a commanding 2-0 in district, with the only real threat left figuring to be a make-up game with Winter Springs in late October.

With the home side of the field being full and revved up for Homecoming, the game started well for Lake Mary as Bobby Lee Good returned a short kickoff to the 23.

On first down, quarterback Mike Muzeka hit Good for five yards and a face mask penalty tacked on five more yards for a first down.

Cameron Bateman then ran for nine yards and Reggie

This was pretty much the game in the first quarter as Lake Mary's Jon Clark (No. 12, top photo) and Lewis Hall (No. 20) miss connections on handoff and Mainland recovered the loose ball. The Rams' All-State running back, junior Reggie Campbell (No. 1, bottom photo) did come back to rush for 96 yards, but it came in a losing effort as the Buccaneers beat Lake Mary in its Homecoming game, 20-7, Friday night.

Patriots, Silver Hawks win; others fall

DeLAND — For the first time this season, the Seminole Athletic Conference suffered a losing week in football. In fact, only two of the seven teams were able to post victories.

One of those was Lake Brantley, which was truly awesome in running its record to 5-0 overall and 3-0 in Class 6A-District 1 with a 35-0 thrashing of DeLand at Spec Martin Stadium.

The other winner was surprising Lake Howell, which won its fourth straight game, 21-7, over Satellite at Richard L. Evans Field.

Not only are the Silver Hawks 4-1 overall, they are also 2-0 in Class 4A-District 5.

The news was not good in four other district matchups however.

Both Oviedo and Seminole had tough trips to Jacksonville and both came home with losses in 6A-1 play, the Lions falling to Mandarin, 35-18, and the Fighting Seminoles tumbling to Ed White, 20-14.

Oviedo (3-2 overall, 2-1 in district) only trailed 14-11 early in the second quarter, but the Mustangs (also 3-2 and 2-1) scored before halftime to lead 20-11 and then scored 15 points in the third quarter to take control of the game.

The Tribe (3-2 overall, 1-1 in 6A-1) saw its winning streak end at two games as Ed White won its first district game, after losses to both Oviedo and Lake Brantley, as the pre-season favorites kept their hopes alive.

In Class 5A-District 3 contests, Lyman (0-5 overall, 0-2 in district) and Winter Springs (2-2 overall, 1-1 in 5A-3) both lost close games to Volusia County foes, the Greyhounds falling to Pine Ridge, 14-12, in Deltona and the Bears getting outscored at home, 28-24, by previously winless Spruce Creek.

In another huge upset Friday night, Lakeland, which is ranked in Class 5A in the state and No. 6 in the nation, saw its 60 game winning streak end at the hands of Haines City by the amazing score of 2-0.

The second half of the season begins this coming Friday (October 5th) with only two county teams squaring off.

SANFORD — The young Seminole High School girls volleyball team proved this week that it is improving and maturing as the season wears on, but they are still not quite ready to play with the 'big girls' just yet.

On Tuesday, the Fighting Seminoles hosted unbeaten Winter Springs (12-0) and played one of their matches of the season before falling, 15-9 and 15-8.

"The team still has to produce a stronger defense to be successful," said Seminole head coach Beth Corso. "I was happy with the 18 kills and 21 digs!"

Individually, junior Sara Suddes had a good night with eight assists.

Other contributors were junior Andrea Poloche (seven assists, one kill), senior Jessie Chick (eight kills, two blocks, eight digs), junior Sarah Pegrum (four kills, one block, two digs), junior Hollie Cowan (three kills) and junior Amanda Howard (two kills).

In other games, the SHS freshman won in two games, while the Bears junior varsity also won in two games.

On Wednesday, the Tribe traveled to Deltona to take on the unbeaten Wolves (9-0) and again fell in straight games, 15-7 and 15-3, with Kristen Thorson leading the way with 11 kills and two blocks.

Seminole fell to 3-9 with the loss and has a tough schedule ahead of it next week, traveling to Lake Mary, in a make-up game from Sept. 14, on Monday (varsity at 6:30 p.m.) and Lake Howell on Tuesday, before returning home to host a strong DeLand squad on Wednesday (varsity at 7 p.m.). In a schedule change, the home game scheduled to be played against Lake Brantley on Thursday (10/4) has been moved to Lake Brantley on October 10th.

In other girls volleyball action:

On Tuesday, the other extremely strong squad in the SAC, once-beaten Oviedo, knocked off DeLand, 15-10 and 15-4, as Brittany Kauss had 12 kills and Rachel Bellamy seven aces and three kills as the Lions improved to 13-1.

Also on Tuesday, Melanie Kirby, the daughter of City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Director Mike Kirby, had four kills and four blocks and Nikki Spavisky and Laura Chevermak added four kills each as Lake Brantley downed Lake Howell, 15-7 and 15-12.

Lake Mary also got a straight-games win on Tuesday as Pressey had seven kills and Todd 11 assists in a 15-5 and 15-10 victory over Lyman.

Things did not go as well for the Rams on Wednesday, how-

In Lake Dexter for example, FWC biologists recently recorded DO levels of between 0.2 to 1.0, which has resulted in a minor fish kill involving approximately 600 fish, so far, including largemouth bass, bluegill, black crappie and catfish. On Thursday, biologists recorded DO levels in Lake Woodruff between 0.2 and 1.0, and counted several hundred dead fish there.

Conditions on Rodman Reservoir are prime for a major fish kill, as well, with DO levels well below optimum levels.

BREVARD COUNTY HARD CLAM LICENSE SEMINAR COMING UP

Commercial clambers who have lost their clamming licenses now have a chance to obtain a new license to harvest wild, hard clams from Brevard County waters. To get their new license they must first have proof that they have taken one of the Brevard County hard clam license make-up seminars offered by the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.

Two dates are offered for the make-up seminars: October 3 and December 5. Each will be held from 1-5 p.m., at the University of Florida Extension Service Conference Room, 1455 Treeland Boulevard SE, Palm Bay. Only one make-up seminar is required, however, clambers are also required to attend one of the regular annual Brevard County hard clam license seminars which are scheduled for November 2001 and May 2002. These seminars will provide new information that license holders will need to know for the 2001-2002 license year.

The November regular seminars will be held as follows:
 * Thursday, Nov. 15, 9 a.m. to noon at the Brevard County Agriculture Center, 3695 Lake Drive, Cocoa.
 * Friday, Nov. 16, 6-9 p.m. at the Brevard Community College - Titusville Campus, 1311 North US 1, Titusville.

* Saturday, Nov. 17, 9 a.m. to noon at the Brevard Community College - Palm Bay Campus, 250 Community College Parkway, Palm Bay.

"It is critical for commercial clambers who have lost their license to understand that they will not be able to get a new license until they have completed a make-up seminar AND the regular annual seminar," said Dr. Virginia Vail, chief of the Bureau of Marine Fisheries for the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission.

There is no charge for the seminars, but seating is limited and will be available on a first-come, first-served basis. The fees for a new Brevard County Clamming License are $300 for Brevard County residents, and $1,200 for non-residents. For questions or additional information about the required educational seminars, please contact David Heil at the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services at (850) 488-5471. For questions regarding licensing, call the Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission, Commercial Saltwater Licensing Office at (850) 487-3122.

Conference star as Oviedo's Mark Bellhorn played shortstop for Oakland on Wednesday, hitting his first home run of the season, and second base on Thursday.

On Thursday, Eckstein had a bunt single and stole his 23rd base in 27 attempts (85.2-percent) this season, tying Darin Erstad for the team lead.

With nine games left in the regular season, all of which will be played at home, he also leads Anaheim regulars with a .288 average on 159 hits - putting him on pace to break club rookie records set in both categories by Wally Joyner (.290 and 172) in 1986.

The Angels-A's series also gave Eckstein a chance to see another former Seminole Athletic League East.

It has not been a great season in a couple of trips to the "biggs" for Bellhorn this season, he is only hitting .141, but he is the only Seminole County resident who's club is assured of being in the playoffs next week. Lake Howell's David Martinez also has a chance to be in the playoffs for the first-time ever if his Atlanta Braves can hold off the Phillies and Mets to win the National

SPOTLIGHT ON BUSINESS

Sam's Flea Market

The advertisement for Sam's Flea Market describes it as an old-fashioned flea market offering new and used items. But, one visit will tell you it's much more than that.

Sam's is located at the former Big Lots Store in the Sanford Plaza on Highway 17-92. "We opened for business about four months ago," said Store Manager Diana Dunn.

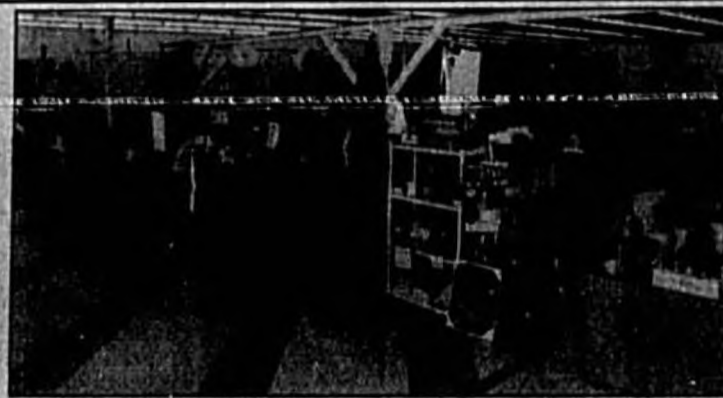

According to Dunn, one of the unique things about Sam's is no two vendors sell the same merchandise. "We offer one of a kind items. Every vendor has different items for sale," Dunn said. Another great feature about Sanford's newest flea market is shopping in a clean, air-conditioned environment.

Although most of the merchandise is new, Dunn said they are trying to promote the older, garage sale items. "People really like the garage sale merchandise."

In fact, if you would like to sell your garage sale stuff, Sam's will rent you a space for $5 a day — with no long-term lease required. But, if you have something more permanent in mind, Dunn said you can rent a space for as little as $100 a month.

Currently, Sam's has some 20 vendors with about 25 spaces still available. "And new vendors are always welcome," Dunn said.

Some of the hottest items offered at Sam's include gold jewelry, ceramic dolls, men's and women's clothing, compact discs and tapes, tools, fishing equipment, exotic fish, NASCAR T-shirts and collectibles, lamps, knives, musical instruments, and much, much more.

If shopping makes you hungry, visit the snack bar; or, starting Sept. 1, a Soul/Southern style restaurant will be opening.

Sam's Flea Market is open 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday through Saturday, Sunday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information about the flea market call 407-324-2027.

Record-breaking night at New Smyrna Speedway

By Hank Sanders
Special to the Herald

SAMSULA — It was a record breaking night last Saturday at New Smyrna Speedway as 106 cars were on hand to race.

The pre race ceremonies were especially patriotic as the drivers lined up on the front straight, and Stacy Dye sang the National Anthem. The fans, drivers, employees and track donated a total of $4,000 to the September 11 Fund.

Once the action got started fans got to see great stock car racing combined with the School Bus race and it made for a great night for all involved. Tonight (Saturday, September 29th) the FASCAR brass has been scheduled another block-buster card with Demolition Derby's being run for both V-8 and 4-Cylinder cars.

Fans will also get to see heats and features being run in the regular FASCAR divisions of Late Model, Sportsman, Mini-Stock, Super Stock and Strictly Stock. The Super Late Models have the week off.

Gates open at 5 p.m. and racing begins at 7:30 p.m. every Saturday night at the track located at the corner of SR. 44 and C.R. 419, between New Smyrna, DeLand and Daytona.

Last week's racing started with Orlando's David Rogers putting the #11 TM Ranch Dodge out front as he slipped by past champ B.J. McLeod on the low side to start the Super Late Model feature. It looked liked Rogers was the sure winner until Justin Drawdy pulled the slick move of the night and passed both McLeod and Rogers on the back stretch and drove away from both of them.

It was a popular win for the #12 DBC Chevy driver, as Pete Orr, Justin's dad Troy, and a big crew celebrated in Victory Lane. Fourth went to Jacob Warren and fifth was Sammy Graham in the #1.

Tank Tucker again used every bit of his energy and experience to put the move on Jim "Hoot" Flynn to get the Modified win. The #15 Graham Custom Fabrication Modified has won most every Mod race this year. Flynn was second with Bobby Blake in Yankee Chuck's 00 coming home third ahead of Rob Underwood and Justin Henderson.

Chris Lawrence battled Dave Snodgrass' #22 for the Late Model lead, but the #63 of Lawrence held on for the eventual win.

Lawrence donated all his winnings as well as sponsor matching funds to the 9/11 relief fund.

Robert Andrecheck drove the #90 to third, Jerry Symons had a good run in the #66 claiming fourth, and the fast #77 of Brian Bellaw charged to fifth.

Rick Tumey "The Concrete King" in the #55 T.H.E. Ford Probe drove from the rear to take the Mini-Stock win over veteran Ted Vulpius in the black #71 Pinto. Vulpius ran good, and held off Conrad Grenier's 01 Ferguson Ford. Fourth went to Dale Casteel in the T-bird, and fifth went to The Missile.

It was a big win for Donnie Williams in the #111 Camaro as he took the measure of the Sportsman field. Williams celebrated in Victory Lane, and noted he was a 18 year veteran of the Florida National Guard. Dale Clouser in the #30 was second, while Doug Samion ran third in the #04.

Fourth was Ron Luffy in the #07 over the Golden Florida Mgt. #47 of Dave Gibbs.

Billy Spade and Ted Helmes ran 1-2 at the finish line in the Super Stock feature, but had problems in tech relative to pistons. This gave Jim Winterstein the win in the #13. Jim Snyder was paid for second, Tim Ewing for third, Mike Soukup was fourth and Joe Evans was fifth.

The Strictly Stock finale again saw Geno Smith cross under the checkered flag first ahead of Robert Skinner, David Smith, Shane Stacey and Josh Wronkowski.

Rick Angles from KARNAC won the School Bus race over Chuck Rush, Pug Puglisi, Randy Dye and Robert Hart in a special event that drew 15 'kid-haulers'.

Rams

Campbell fought for two yards and another first down.
But after another Campbell two-yard run, sophomore Travis Roland read a Muzeka pass perfectly and stepped in front of the intended receiver and raced 55 yards untouched into the end zone.

The extra point was no good, but with just 2:26 off the clock, the home forces were already down 6-0.

Again the Rams got good field position on the kickoff, starting at the 28, but on the second play, a missed handoff turned into a fumble and Craig Lloyd picked up the loose ball and dashed 18 yards into the end zone. Antonio Hamilton then added the two-point run and the score was 14-0 with 8:48 still to play in the first period.

Two plays after the next kickoff, it happened again, as Lake Mary put the ball on the turf and Mainland recovered at the Rams 20.

Freshman quarterback Jonathan Garner, who was making his first start, hit Donnell Golphin for 18 yards on first down and Golphin then danced into the end zone from the two. The extra point was blocked by Geraud Riggins, but with 7:35 left in the first quarter the score was 20-0 and everyone, fans, players and coaches were up in arms.

Lake Mary could get nothing going on the next series and the Buccaneers appeared ready to apply the dagger as they moved from their own 30 to the Rams 30. But the Lake Mary defense held and forced a punt as the quarter mercifully ended.

Lake Mary's offense moved out to the 29 before Mainland again picked off a pass as Muzeka tried a desperation heave with preseason All-America candidate James "Buster" Davis draped all over him.

But a clip put the ball near midfield and the Bucs punted moments later.

Things again appeared bleak as the Rams were forced to punt from the five and the punt was shanked out of bounds inside the 20. But another Mainland penalty gave the ball back to Lake Mary.

That break seemed to give the Rams a needed boost and they moved down the field, with the help of a 13-yard run by Lewis Hall on a fake punt and finally got on the scoreboard on the 17th play of the 95-yard drive, with Drew Burns getting wide open behind the Mainland secondary and Muzeka throwing a perfect strike for 17 yards.

Kris Kessler added the extra point and Lake Mary was right back in the game, down just 20-7 at intermission.

The Rams had the better of it in the third quarter as their defense smothered the Bucs' attack, and the offense kept the ball mainly near midfield or in Mainland territory.

But nothing came of any drive and the game turned into a punting contest.

Lake Mary's best chance to get back in the game came late in the third quarter as it started a drive from its own 33 with 3:17 left and drove to the Buccaneers 38 with 9:48 left on the clock in the fourth quarter.

But that's where the drive stalled on an incomplete pass on fourth down and Mainland was able to use up nearly 3:30 of the clock.

Getting the ball back at their own 37, the Rams started one final try to get closer, but a penalty slowed things down and another fourth down pass was broken up and the Bucs took over at the 49 with 3:52 left and ran out the clock.

In boys golf: Bobby Valentine shot a 1-over-par 37 as Lake Mary edged Seminole, 153-156, on Tuesday despite Anderson and Smith shooting 35 and 36, respectively, for the Tribe.

In other Tuesday matches, Lake Brantley (159) nipped Oviedo (161) and Lyman (177), to improve to 11-1 and Winter Springs got past Lake Howell, 156-175.

On Wednesday, Trinity Prep shot a school-record 144 to best Oviedo (156) and Seminole (162).

In girls golf: Lake Mary knocked off Seminole, 207-241, on Tuesday, and on Wednesday, Mandy Smith and Sarah Davis shot 36's and Stephanie Delgado and Lauren Davis chipped in with 38's as Oviedo (9-0) whipped the Tribe, 148-225.

Meanwhile, the Rams shot better, but still lost to Lake Brantley on Wednesday, 181-205.

It was not a good week for the Seminole boys in swimming as they lost a pair of meets, 118-63 to Lake Mary on Tuesday and 153-142 to Winter Springs on Thursday, but the Tribe girls did get a split, falling to the Rams, 124-62, but topping the Bears, 175-135.

The Hokies are averaging 44.3 points and 477 yards a game on offense this season.

Football

Seminole Athletic Conference contest at Richard L. Evans Field.

Seminole returns home to face its third Jacksonville-based team in as many weeks, hosting Class 6A-District 1 foe Mandarin at Thomas E. Whigham Stadium.

Oviedo also returns to the friendly confines of John Courier Field after its second trip of the season to Jacksonville and faces its first non-J-Ville squad in three weeks as the Lions host DeLand in a 6A-1 game.

Lynan will also be on its home turf, welcoming Class 5A-District 3 opponent Spruce Creek to the Carlton D. Henley Sports Complex for Homecoming.

Winter Springs returns to the road, heading to Deltona to take on Pine Ridge in a 5A-3 game.

The final matchup of the evening may be the most intriguing as long-time foes Lake Brantley and Apopka square off in a non-district game at Larry Payne Field. The Blue Darters will be smarting for this one as they lost for the first time Friday night, 21-14 at the hands of Edgewater. All of the games are set for 7:30 p.m. kickoffs.

Displaying the U.S. flag ...

In 1942 Congress passed a joint resolution summarizing the customs and rules for display of the U.S. flag. The basic rules include:

- When flown from a pole the fly end of the flag should be able to fly freely. Do not secure it to a frame.
- Display the flag only during daylight in good weather. Take it down when it gets dark or if it starts to rain or snow. You may display it at night in good weather if it is lighted.
- Do not let the flag touch the ground, water, buildings, or merchandise. Do not carry the flag in a parade by the edges (flat) or attached to a pole along the top.
- The flag should not be draped on a car or podium. Instead use red, white, and blue bunting with the blue at the top.
- If the flag is used to cover a casket the canton should be placed over the left shoulder. Remove the flag before lowering the casket into the grave.
- When displayed on a wall, the flag's canton should be on the left as you view it.
- When the flag is no longer fit for duty (threadbare, faded, torn, or dirty) it should be destroyed in a dignified manner (preferably by burning).

The colors of the U.S. flag ...

The colors of the United States flag were derived from British flags familiar to the men who made the first American flag.

The colors red, white, and blue did not have meanings for The Stars and Stripes when it was adopted in 1777.

However, the colors in the Great Seal did have specific meanings. Charles Thompson, Secretary of the Continental Congress, reporting to Congress on the Seal, stated:

"The color of the pales (the vertical stripes) are those used in the flag of the United States of America; white signifies purity and innocence; red, hardness and valour; and blue signifies vigilance, perseverance and justice."

- The parts of the U.S. flag include the canton or field, the hoist or heading, the short, the long, and the fly end.

Patriotism reigns at Woman's Club 'Hello Luncheon'

Patriotism was the order of the day on Sept. 19 when the Woman's Club of Sanford officially launched the 2001-02 season. The event called for a traditional "Hello Luncheon" when members brought guests eligible for club membership.

The clubhouse was attractively decorated in red, white and blue as a salute to the victims, their loved ones, friends and volunteers caught up in the Sept. 11 disaster. Mindy Tooley read an inspirational message to get the event under way.

Club President Betty Jack, wearing a smart suit complemented with a red and white corsage, a gift from Mindy, welcomed the members and their guests. Betty explained the functions and structure of the club and introduced the following Board of Managers: Helen Hamner Polgar, first vice president; Mindy Tooley, second vice president; Linda Sparrow, third vice president; Marty Colegrove, recording secretary and parliamentarian; Carol Dennison, treasurer; Lisa Finnerty, house and rental chairman; and the following department chairmen: Peggy Mergo; Education: Carole Kirchhoff; Arts; Roberta Zittrower, Home Life; and Toby Troutman, Public Affairs. The club also has a Literary Club and a Bridge Social.

The president announced the accomplishments of the club during the past year to include contributing to the following: Seminole High School Health Academy, DARE, Tajiri School of Performing Arts, Multiple Sclerosis, Special Olympics, SafeHouse of Seminole, Hacienda Girls Ranch, Student Museum and Library and Rescue Outreach Mission.

The club also presented scholarships to Seminole Community College to two deserving women returning to the classroom. The recipients are: Donna Galati, 42, and Gail Sersanna, 49.

Also, the club honored the Firefighter of the Year, Karyn Matthews, and the Law Enforcement Officer of the Year, Deborah Jacobs. Both women were surprised and excited over the honor. President Jack said at the time, "It's so special to have women recognized."

During the luncheon, members voted to donate a love offering from the club to the September 11 disaster fund and members also contributed a sizable amount to accompany the club's donation. The exact amount will be determined at the next board meeting.

Peggy Mergo announced that "Food and Fashions for Education," the club's annual fund-raiser for the scholarship fund, will be held Nov. 14 at the clubhouse.

Fashions will be from Dillard's and club members will serve as models. This event is usually a sparkling affair and preview of the exciting holiday season ahead. Co-chair is Viola Frank, and for information and reservations, call Vivian Buck, 407-324-4899.

Linda Sparrow distributed the yearbooks containing the forthcoming events as well as a list of the entire membership. As the third vice president, one of Linda's duties is compiling the yearbook and securing hostesses for the monthly club meetings.

The guests and prospective members included: Vernice McCarty, Collette Colegrove, Lu Cindy Russell, Jane Sadler, Marion Smith, Jeanne Gold, Cheryl Maughan, Joyce Hinton, Karen Lackey, Valeri Davis and Margaret Richards.

The Board of Managers served as hostesses for the luncheon under the chairmanship of Mindy Tooley. The clubhouse was decorated with arrangements of roses placed at vantage points. A red and white wreath topped with flags centered the mantel above the fireplace.

The tables, covered in lace-trimmed white cloths, were centered with a red rose in a bud vase, surrounded by white pearls, on a mirror base. Red napkins, held by colorful handmade napkin rings, completed the table setting.

Further adding a patriotic touch, which raised eyebrows and plaudits, was the arrival of member Audrey Luck wearing a star-studded top and a sequined flag hat with a matching bag. She did Old Glory proud.

It's A Boy
Mr. and Mrs. Frederic F. (Susan) Gaines III announce the birth of their son, Frederic F. "Ricky" Gaines IV, on Sept. 5 in Tampa. Ricky was welcomed home from the hospital by his sister, Elise.

Maternal grandparents are Sanford City Commissioner Whitey Eckstein and his wife, Patricia, and paternal grandparents are Ruth and Fred Gaines Jr., all of Sanford.

Whitey probably foresees young Ricky as another family baseball player. He just adores the new baby. As a teacher for 33 years, the commissioner said, "I love children," love 'em...love 'em."

Church Notes

Whale of a Sale

Seven years ago, a few volunteers put together a church garage sale at First United Methodist Church of Oviedo. Limited to a small church annex, the group managed to raise $2,500 for both the church and Oviedo community.

Now, the same group is poised to raise more than $25,000 as the church prepares for its Harvest Jamboree, which includes the Whale of a Sale rummage sale.

The annual event mixes family activities with two other fall weekend essentials: food and shopping. Items up for grabs include furniture, household items, linens, books, clothing, toys, appliances, antiques, collectables, electronics and much more.

This year's festivities begin with the Whale of a Sale on Friday, Oct. 5, at the First United Methodist Church of Oviedo, located at 263 King Street, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. The sale will continue with the same hours on Saturday, Oct. 6, along with the added activities of the Harvest Jamboree.

For more information, contact the church office at 407-365-3255.

Pumpkin Patch

The Community United Methodist Church youth group invites the public to come and share in its annual Pumpkin Patch. Pumpkins will arrive on Wednesday, Oct. 3, and will be on sale through Oct. 30. About 4,000 pumpkins will arrive on Oct. 3, with an additional 4,000 arriving later.

In addition to the patch, a fully stocked Pumpkin Store will be available, which will include North Carolina jams, jellies and pickles, Georgia walnuts and pecans and hand crafted items.

Each weekday morning, the patch will be filled with pre-schoolers who will have story time with Grandma Pumpkin.

For more information, call the church at 407-831-3777.

The church is located at 4921 S. Highway 17-92 in Casselberry, just north of the 436 intersection.

Riders 4 Christ release new rap album

By Marva Hawkins
Herald Correspondent

Riders 4 Christ has released a new gospel Christian rap CD.

The three young men from Sanford recently took on the task of presenting their musical rap to the public. Cherubim Production of Deltona and Umpstart Studios of Orlando released the CD, which can be purchased at the Bethel Book and Bible Center.

Bernard Smith, Jessie McKinnie and Bernard Knight Jr., are members of Community House of Prayer, where Dr. Theron Stringer is pastor.

The three members of Riders 4 Christ have been quite busy lately as a group. They originally started their singing careers as Relverton, but have been called Riders 4

Riders 4 Christ

Christ for the past two years. They are available for engagements at churches and other programs, and they are still working on a full music career. They were first exposed to the music world by appearing at Calvary Temple of Praise and Carpenture Home Church of Lakeland. Call Knight at 407-321-5911 for booking information.

Volunteer Opportunities

The Salvation Army of Seminole County needs volunteers for court ordered supervised visits and monitored exchanges. This amazing group of volunteers make it possible for children and parents to have a fun, safe place to visit and maintain a positive relationship.

For information, call 407-322-2642, ext. 233.

Volunteers Needed

The Christian Sharing Center Longwood has urgent need for volunteers to fill various positions, including receptionists and interviewers to interview families in crisis to help meet their needs. Other volunteer positions include pantry workers to stock shelves and fill grocery orders for client families and van drivers to pick up food donations. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Thrift Store volunteers are also needed to sort donations, assist customers and run the cash register. Other positions include "fix it folks" to check small appliances and make repairs and truck assistants to help with donation pickups. Hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

For more information or to volunteer, call Diann at 407-260-9155, ext. 6, Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The Local Advocacy Council, which protects the rights of residents in Orange, Seminole and Osceola counties who have unique social services needs, is seeking volunteers. Duties include conducting investigations and monitoring service agencies. Training will be provided. Please call 407-245-0400, ext. 111.

Dedication ceremony held for Altermese Bentley Elementary

A dedication ceremony for the new Altermese Smith Bentley Elementary School was held 3 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 23. Principal Ron Nathan presided at the dedication.

Marva Hawkins

Lake Mary High School ROTC presented the colors, with the pledge to the flag led by the Bentley School Safety Patrol. Greetings were given to the more than 300 in attendance by Dr. Paul J. Hagerty, superintendent of Seminole County Public Schools, and from Sandra Robinson, chairman of the Seminole County School Board.

School Board members were recognized, along with Deputy Superintendent Dianne Kramer, Executive Director Rita Ramsey and Geraldine Wright of elementary school education.

Remarks were given on behalf of Altermese Bentley by her daughter, Sue Camille Bentley Baker, who spoke about the special lady for the school is named. She talked about the lady whose thirst for knowledge is never ending.

Ms. Bentley said Baker used skills learned at home, church, school and the community to mold, engage, cultivate and produce a crop of people who spans generations. She has been constantly nudging her children and others to seek excellence in all that they do. The true mission of the educator is to encourage, intrigue, inspire and challenge each student to reach for the stars.

Bentley-Baker reminded the audience that we have a beautiful building that is brand new, up to date and state of the art, and the challenge is to provide a safe, nurturing environment for learning and maintaining high standards. We are commissioned to teach a living, vibrant and inquisitive child. The starry-eyed child is open to receive and is thirsting for knowledge.

At the close of her remarks, she thanked the superintendent, School Board and all who bestowed this great honor on her mother,

Local Girls Scouts send banner to New York City

Seeing the carnage after the attack in New York left many children feeling frightened and helpless. Within a day of the attack, online websites were posting advice for parents. To help your children cope, they advised, return to normal activities as soon as feasible. And, if possible, find something for the children to do to express their emotions or to show their support for the survivors.

and troop number and wrote something special. Between Friday night and Saturday morning, about 80 girls signed the banner, as well as a couple of siblings and parents.

Mary Rowell

One girl drew a small American flag and in two lines of the flag she wrote, "America's Bond is too strong to be broken." Other girls wrote prayers and words of encouragement.

It was hard for local Girl Scouts or anyone in Central Florida to return to their activities. Gabrielle came in and disrupted everything. All Girl Scout Camps were closed the weekend after the attack because of Gabrielle. So, local Girl Scouts leaders tried to help girls show their support. Girl Scouts in the Whispering Winds Service Unit in Sanford got together on Thursday, Sept. 13 to make red, white and blue ribbons to hand out. Girl Scouts in the Stardust Service Unit in Lake Mary got together on Friday night and Saturday morning Sept. 14 and 15, despite horrible wind and rain from Gabrielle, to make a banner.

The activities in Lake Mary started Friday night with a candlelight service led by Troop Leader Nancy Wong and her troops 1277 and 146. The girls held a moment of silence and then sang the Star Spangled Banner. Then they got to work. First through seventh grade girls helped make red, white and blue ribbons which they pinned to the banner. Each girl signed her name

The sister of Girl Scout leader Mary Kott works just 40 blocks from where the World Trade Centers stood. The troops sent the banner overnight to her on Monday. She will see that it gets to the fire station closest to the area.

As the days go on, children will continue to see pictures from September 11. They will have lots of questions. Answer them honestly. You may find that children are asking the same question over and over again. That's perfectly normal. Just keep answering it.

It's important to make children feel safe, so don't restrict their normal activities because of your own fears. It's also important to let them know people locally are doing what they can to help. Local schools are pitching in. For instance, Greenwood Lakes and Lake Mary Elementary are collecting money for the Red Cross.

Local businesses are also stepping up. For instance, the Meredith Corporation, parent organization of Fox 35 in Lake Mary, is matching employees' donation to a Disaster Relief

Yellow blooms indicate fall has arrived

Fall is here. Golden rain trees are blooming all over the places. It is very exciting to see the trees covered with yellow flowers announcing the change of season.

Golden Rain trees belong to the Sapindaceae or soapberry plant family, which include the lychee, Spanish lime (mamoncillo), and longan. The Golden Rain trees are grown for their extraordinary display of beautiful yellow low flowers and reddish fruit pods that appear later in the season in Central Florida.

The flowers appear in September, produced in very showy panicles, visible above the foliage, often covering the tree. It is easy to see why they are called golden rain trees as you watch the large quantity of small yellow petals falling to the ground.

The Tree

Golden rain trees are deciduous and grow about 30 to 40 feet tall. Leaves are pinnately compound with leaflets mostly serrated. The small, yellow, fragrant flowers, that last about two weeks, are borne in terminal panicles measuring 1.0 to 1.5 feet long. The fruits, about 2 inches long and containing three round, black seeds, resemble Chinese paper lanterns. The seedpods are colored pink, salmon or shades of red, before turning tan-brown. Seedpods can hang on the tree for several months. It is not unusual to see the blooms and seed pods on the same tree, at the same time.

Species

There are three species of golden rain trees cultivated in Florida. The common golden rain tree or Varnish tree, Koelreuteria paniculata, with single pinnate compound Fund. Publix and local 7-11's are collecting money for the Red Cross.

Finally, avoid news overload for children. You may want to watch the news every evening to keep up with what's going on, but it might not be what's best for your child. Watch the news in another room away from your child if possible. This isn't just for elementary age and younger children. Seeing the scenes of the attack over and over again can overwhelm even middle school children.

• After the banner arrived in New York City, the girls received a letter of appreciation from Sara Hafele:

Dear Mary and girls,

There are a few things I really want you to pass on to everyone that helped make this possible.

Attached are the photos from the absolutely beautiful banner that your troop made for the New York City Fire Department. It is hanging in all of its glory at a fire house in Midtown Manhattan on 43rd St. between 5th and 6th Avenue. The station is home to Engine 65, who heroically battled the blazes and helped save many lives in the World Trade Center catastrophe. Their efforts did not come without a price, unfortunately. Engine 65 lost its only fire truck and are still waiting for the return of a "lost brother", who was last seen rescuing victims when one of the towers collapsed. Many other men of Engine 65 are still in the hospital with injuries. They continue working each day down at the scene digging through the rubble and they remain hopeful that they will find more survivors, including their "brother". It has been hard for the people of New York to show their support in any way they can. There is nothing left on the shelves in New York that is remotely patriotic for the people here to wear, hang or display. Especially ribbon. If it is red, white and blue — it's gone. When I first took your banner downstairs to the Fire Department, people were stopping me on the street asking me for a ribbon. I proudly gave them one and made sure to tell them it was with love from some very special girls in Central Florida. As I passed the fire house a few minutes ago, I noticed that there are only a few ribbons left on the sheet that is SO proudly hung next to the new fire truck they got to replace the one that was destroyed. Many people were taking pictures. I cannot tell you how happy you have made many New Yorkers as we wear these ribbons to display our love and support for our country, our co-workers, our families and those who have worked so hard to help us overcome this tragedy. Tears have come to the eyes of many that have read your messages of prayer and hope. Your ribbons are now scattered throughout Manhattan and even the surrounding areas.

Just know this, you have reached so many people with your caring. Especially the men of Engine 65. When they suit up and get back on the truck to head down to the scene of disaster, your banner is what they see leaving the station. And when they come back, exhausted from a long day of sadness, they can read your messages and it will make them smile.

I am very proud of each of you young ladies for your kindness and heartfelt messages. You are truly the future of this great country, and for that I am thankful.

leaves, and flowers with four petals. This tree is the most widely cultivated specie because of its freeze tolerance. The Chinese Flame tree or Bougainvillea Goldenrain tree, Koelreuteria bipinnata, have twice-compound leaves, and flowers with five petals. The other specie Koelreuteria elegans, have bipinnate, continuously serrate leaflets and flowers with four petals. K. elegans and K. bipinnata are typically found in central and south Florida, while K. paniculata is grown more in the northerner parts of the state.

Culture

Trees grow best in full sun in a wide range of soil types and pH. Established trees have a high drought tolerance. Requires pruning to develop a strong structure. Dead wood is often present in the canopy and should be removed periodically to maintain appearance. Roots grow deep and are noninvasive.

Propagation

Plants can be propagated from root cuttings or seeds. Seedlings can be found growing under adult trees.

Problems

Occasionally, scale insects may affect this tree. Sprays with horticultural oils can control the overwintering stages. Boxelder bugs may build up large populations and can become a nuisance around this tree. Chemical control is not usually recommended. Verticillium wilt disease can affect goldenrain trees. This disease causes wilting and death of leaves on infected branches.

Eventually the entire tree may be killed. There is no chemical control for this disease. Another fungal disease, canker, causes dead and sunken areas on the bark. Minute pink fungal structures may develop on the diseased bark.

Seeds germinate readily and may create a weed problem. It should be planted in wind protective areas because its brittle wood can break easily in windy weather.
