This amazing little gadget can measure a car's speed whether the vehicle is traveling in the same direction as the patrol car or in the opposite direction and the trooper can still get a reading on how fast the vehicle is traveling. The computer basically measures the distance between two fixed points being traveled by the patrol car and then measures the time it takes for another vehicle to travel the same distance. The combination of the distance measured by the patrol car and the time it takes another vehicle to cover that distance equals the speed of that car,
