MISS VELMA SHIPP CONTINUES TO HOLD LEAD IN CAMPAIGN

As the second period ended and as the third began Miss Velma Shipp continued to hold first place in the contest with Miss Nell Williams determined to go ahead before many days pass. Other leaders are allowing no time to be wasted and with them all so close in the race it is very difficult to guess who will be at the top next Saturday night.

It is a fight for supremacy. Every contestant is out to win as the days pass the light gets hotter and closer.

Last Saturday night there was another wild scramble to get every possible vote in the Herald office before the ending of the second period. Not only contestants were in the office late but friends of the various workers called in deposited votes in the ballot box and gave subscriptions in favor of their favorite worker.

One contestant received a subscription by telegram just fifteen minutes before the second period ended.

The campaign is divided into six periods. The first two have passed. The third is beginning. Four periods remain in which votes may be secured. As the periods change the voting power of subscriptions are reduced. The next change will take place after October 11.

Make the third period the last period.

Rules of Campaign

Only one prize will be awarded any one contestant. The winner of the first will not be eligible for any other prize or commission.

Contestants who remain active in the campaign until the close and who fail to win one of the prizes will be paid a commission of ten per cent on the amount of their subscriptions. The Herald wants no contestants who will work without remuneration and will pay all those who fail to win one of the valuable prizes a commission of ten per cent provided the contest remains active until the end of the campaign.

All votes to be counted to the credit of contestants in this campaign should be mailed to The Sanford Herald of which person to the Campaign Manager at The Herald office.

The Salesmanship Campaign began Friday morning, August 29, and will end at ten o'clock, p. m. Saturday, November 22, 1924.

ANOTHER REDUCTION IN THE VOTING SCHEDULE TAKES PLACE

The third period has started. Another reduction in the voting power of subscriptions has taken place. Subscriptions secured during the next two weeks will bring as many votes as those gotten in previous weeks. But again after October 11 they will be reduced and as the campaign progresses the voting schedules will be decreased until the end of the contest will find votes hard to get.

Contestants are beginning to realize what the voting schedule will be during the last week or two of the campaign. They are wakening to the fact that it is good business to secure every possible subscription during the early stages of the campaign when votes are easier to get.

Four more periods remain. Eight more weeks are left in which votes may be secured and in which the Buick and other prizes may be won. The time is quickly passing.

Study the new voting schedule as it appears on this page today and memorize it. Note if you will the big reduction in votes over those for the second and first periods. And figure, if you can, what the reduction will be at the end of this period.

The contest will soon be over. It will be a wise young lady who makes this third period count for the most.

Prosecution Completes Testimony Monday Night and Case Goes To Jury Today; Victim's Past is Hatred

At the trial of the LaFollette Par-Lafollette party, the prosecution completed its testimony Monday night and the case goes to the jury today. The victim's past is a matter of hatred.

The securing of a major league baseball team to train in Sanford and the large automobile exhibit are the three things most successful to Sanford at the present time in the eyes of C. L. Britt, according to a statement made to the representative of The Herald this morning.

All of these are essentially advertising schemes, said Mr. Britt, and must be had if Sanford is to become the great tourist city it is hoped for. The first, said Mr. Britt, is probably the most important because if this city gets a major league to train here, it will bring the attention of the world through it than by any other method.

He pointed out that the large tourist centers of this state—such as Ft. Lauderdale, Orlando and other places have been advanced most by the publicity received from having a major league team train there. Each day during the train there, he said, newspaper reporters send out an army of reporters to the place picked out by their favorite team as a training ground. This is the case with the major league team, the date line of Florida citizens.

This fact, Mr. Britt thought, put the names of the places where the teams are training before the prospective tourists and then, when they visit Florida, they are more likely to go to the place picked out by their favorite team as a training ground. This is the case with the major league team, the date line of Florida citizens.

Another stated that he saw LeFollette with four sacks in his hands before the attack was made. James Warrenfeltz said he saw the LeFollette with the sacks in his hands before the attack was made. James Warrenfeltz said he saw the LeFollette with the sacks in his hands before the attack was made.

The tarring and feathering is said to have been the result of the charges by Mrs. Shank that the relations between her husband and Mrs. Grandon had been intimate. The case likely will be concluded today.

Miss Grandon, who was recovered from the effects of the tarring and feathering, appeared in court today and acted upon her behalf. She said that while at the hotel where she was held, she had been held as a prisoner since July, she had had offers of marriage from many men through the kindness of the hotel manager.

At about 20 witnesses have been summoned for the defense, and 18 for the prosecution. They include a large portion of the adult population of Sanford.

The charges against those held arrested, and tarring and feathering, were made by Mrs. Shank, who is the wife of the late Mayor of Sanford, Fla. She is now in the hospital.

What other Sanford people have said in regard to the great tarring and feathering, does not say half of it. Mr. Britt declared that the tarring and feathering was a case before.

It is a noticeable fact that a large number of the tourists and the better classes of people are motoring to Florida in their automobiles. The Sanford progressive Florida city should have a large and adequate tourist camp and accommodations for hotel accommodations but who.

CITY BUILDING FOR 9 MONTHS TOTALS $445,470

Figures Show Increase 19 Per Cent Over First 9 Months of 1923; Permits Issued September: Run Over $57,091

Building permits issued in Sanford during September totaled $57,091, an increase of $14,000 or approximately 33 per cent over the total of $43,025 for August of this year, according to figures submitted at the office of the city clerk today.

Although this is a considerable number of permits, it is less than the amount of permits for September of 1923. Those for last year totaled $122,923, which shows a decrease of $145,629 or approximately 20 per cent.

During the past two weeks it has been pointed out that more than one-half of the building permits issued in Sanford during the first nine months of 1924 total $445,470, while for the same period in 1923 the total was $374,740. This shows a gain for 1924 of $70,730 or approximately 19 per cent.

At the outset the court ruled that the defense would not be permitted to inquire into the "past life" of Miss Grandon.

Learned from the first of 19 men included in connection with the attack, pleaded not guilty and his attorney asked for a continuance. Grandon, the first witness for the prosecution, positively identified Mrs. Shank as the person who handed Mrs. Shank the bucket of tar and sack of feathers, which the woman admitted she applied to Grandon's body.

Another stated that he saw LeFollette with four sacks in his hands before the attack was made. James Warrenfeltz said he saw the LeFollette with the sacks in his hands before the attack was made.

Washington Clinches Pennant With Victory Over Boston Red Sox

Capital City team wins First Flag in Forty Years It Has Played In Major League

Most Spectacular Race In History

Harris, Griffith And Johnson share Glory Senators' Triumph

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Washington has clinched the first pennant it has had since breaking into big league baseball, exactly 40 years ago, and as the flag bearer of the American League, will fight it out with the New York Giants, four-time National League champions, in the world's series, starting next Saturday at the Capital city.

By defeating the Boston Red Sox Monday afternoon, the Senators brought to a climax one of the most spectacular diamond campaigns in history and accomplished the downfall of the New York Yankees, once proud world champions, who tonight repose irreverently in second place, two and a half games behind the leaders.

The Yankees have two games with Philadelphia today while Washington has one more with the Red Sox, but regardless of the outcome of these, Miller Huggins must step off the American League throne after a three year reign in favor of Stanley Harris, pilot of the Senators and the youngest manager who ever led a major league club to victory.

Washington's rise this year under the aggressive leadership of the 28-year-old Harris, a major leaguer only five years and experiencing his first managerial test, is one of the most dramatic achievements in baseball annals. Sharing the glory of Washington's triumph with Harris are Walter Johnson, one of the greatest pitchers of all time, and Clark Griffith, now president and former manager of the club. In his eighteenth season, Johnson has been the mainstay of the team's twirling corps and now will realize a life-long ambition to pitch in a world's series. Griffith, the "old fox," is credited with being the "man behind the gun" in the Senator's campaign and having had much to do with the club's successful strategy.

Washington's first flag in the 24 seasons the club has been in the American League was won after a terrific closing fight in which Harris and his men came through to victory on foreign fields.

It is taking no credit from the Senator's victory, however, to say that they were on friendly fields. Nearly everywhere Washington has appeared in its final drive, it has been generally picked to repeat on the basis of its brilliant world's series exhibition, with Detroit, Cleveland and Philadelphia "doped" as the most menacing opposition. The Tigers hung on until near the finish and dealt what proved the knockout blow to the Yankees when they took three in a row from the champions on the last western trip.

Washington climbed slowly but surely to the top. From seventh place after a month of campaigning in May, they rose to fourth position the middle of June and to second place on July 19. Shortly afterward they had a brief experience at setting the pace, only to have the Yankees sweep back to the top. The Senators clung to second position until August 28 when they dislodged the Yankees with a 11 to 6 victory over the Huggins. Thereafter Washington never was headed, although earlier this month the Yankees managed to pull up into a brief tie.

Washington has had clubs in four leagues since 1884, but never has been able to finish higher than second. A year in the Union Association, two in the American Association and twelve in the National League preceded the club's entry into the American League in 1901, a year after that circuit was launched. Under Clark Griffith, now part owner and president, the club did its best work in 1912 and 1913, when it finished second, behind Boston and Philadelphia, respectively. Otherwise Washington has been a chronic tail ender, getting out of the second division in only four other seasons, outside 1924, and all told Washington was 13 times in last place and nine times 4th to last position.

Washington Has Only One More Game To Play; Yanks Have 2

BOSTON, Sept. 30.—Washington won its first American League pennant by defeating the Red Sox here Monday, 4 to 2, and earned the right to meet the New York Giants in the world series, which is to open in Washington on Saturday. When the last Boston player was out in the ninth inning and the victory of the Senators was assured, a crowd of ten thousand Boston fans cheered the visiting team as it came from the field.

Frank G. Hith, the veteran aviator, Stanley Harris, the "boy manager" and Walter Johnson, famous pitcher, who will take part in his first world's series after eighteen years in the big leagues, were applauded in turn.

Frank Marberry, relief pitcher of the Senators, who held Boston scoreless for the last six innings, will be named the hero of this deciding game. He has acted as relief pitcher in all three games played here in this series and has worked in fifty games for Washington this season. Left hander John Zachary, who was not too effective in the first three innings, but Marberry stopped the Red Sox.

Washington made its bid early for the victory that would give it the pennant regardless of what the New York Yankees do in their double header against Philadelphia today. In the first with two out, Rice singled off Fullerton through short, stole second and went all the way home when O'Neill's wild throw crossed off Lee's glove. In the second the Senators made two runs. Peck singled and scored on singles by Ruel and Zachary. Ruel scored from third on Liebold's single to right. These three runs off Fullerton were enough for the events proved, but the Senator added a fourth off John Quinn in the eighth inning. Stanley Harris doubled against the left field fence and went home on a clean single by Rice.

Boston had all its chances early in the game. Singles by Williams and Wambaganes let the former home in the first. Veach scored in the third. He singled, Boone was hit and Joe Harris bunted Ezzell's harsh grounder off Zachary's glove let Veach score.

ing the secretary of state to show cause October 6 why the Liberty bell emblem and the names of the ten LaFollette-Wheeler electors should not be placed on the ballot for the general election in November.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—William M. Butler, Republican national chairman, who reached New York today from Chicago, issued a statement explaining that his party had had no hand in pressing the case which resulted in the ruling of the California supreme court, refusing the LaFollette electors a place on the ballot as independents.

"If I had discovered that any member of our official group had originated or participated in the election, I would have disavowed the act," said Mr. Butler. In a conversation with newspaper correspondents, the chairman added that he thought the decision would "make no particular difference" in the California vote in the election.

Mr. Butler conceded that LaFollette was "making advances" in the state of Washington, but thought he would not carry it. He declined to predict how many states Senator LaFollette would carry or to say in what states he believed John W. Davis, the Democratic nominee would run third.

fearing inadequate hotel facilities, are preparing to camp out while they are in this state. The Florida people should arrange to care for them.

"And what some of them think about the hotels and apartment houses being crowded during the entire winter will be very nearly true. Enough tourists will come on the trains to fill these places, so where will the auto travelers stay?"

It was learned from Mr. Britt that he has located two families in this city who will arrive here shortly to become permanent residents. He states that a large number of others with whom he talked during his stay in the north will probably visit Sanford during the winter season.

Western Pennsylvania investors who own the Orangehurst Groves Company will spend nearly $1,000,000 improving their property, which lies partly in Seminole and partly in Orange counties, during the winter, stated Mr. Britt. They will establish offices both in Sanford and Orlando.

Mr. Britt further stated that he sold Sanford property to about 60 northern people while away from this city. Those who have already invested in Florida property are planning to invest here, he said, and many others who will visit here for the first time this winter are planning to invest heavily in real estate. He states that they seem to realize the great possibilities of this state and are very optimistic about its development.

In conclusion Mr. Britt stated that he is positive that a number of northern capitalists are planning to visit Sanford during the winter and that they intend to make extensive investments here.

Mrs. Ferguson Wins First Round In Battle To Get Her Name on Ballots

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 30.—Brushing aside all the old common law barriers against the right of women to hold office, Judge Geo. C. Calhoun, in fifty-third district court here Monday ruled that Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, legally is qualified to be governor of Texas.

In an opinion which Mrs. Ferguson's lawyers said was a thorough exposition of the law and a complete vindication of the position of the first woman nominee for governor, Judge Calhoun declared that neither the constitution of the state nor the statutes of the legislature bar women from office. He refused to grant a temporary injunction to restrain election officials from placing her name on the ballot, which was requested by the plaintiff, Charles M. Dickson, of San Antonio.

The courts' decision clears the way for final adjudication of the case by the supreme court. The plaintiff's attorney gave notice of an appeal to the court of civil appeals. In order to get the matter before the supreme court without arguments in the court of civil appeals, it will be necessary for the latter tribunal to certify the questions to the supreme court. The parties virtually have agreed that this procedure will be followed.

The supreme court meets next Monday. Judge Calhoun went immediately into the heart of the question as to whether women have the right to hold office under present laws. Going back into the common law of England, on the principles of which the plaintiff had grounded his suit, the court explained that women were not allowed to hold office under the old common law, principally because a custom to that effect had grown up. It was based on the assumption that women were too delicate for the arduous duties attendant upon office and were not educated to the point where they could fill executive positions as well as men. He showed, however, that these conceptions of a woman's position had gradually changed, as women had become more educated and generally enlightened until the old ideas had given way to the modern conception that women are in all things, the equal of men.

MISS VELMA SHIPP CONTINUES TO HOLD LEAD IN CAMPAIGN

As the second period ended and as the third began Miss Velma Shipp continued to hold first place in the contest. Her total score was 10,000 votes. She has a lead of 1,000 votes over her nearest competitor, Miss Mary Williams. The contest will continue until the next Saturday night. It is a fight for supremacy. Every contestant is out to win as the days pass the fight gets hotter and closer.

Last Saturday night there was another wild scramble to get every possible vote in the Herald office before the ending of the second period. Contestants wrote in the office late but friends of the various workers and friends of the contest were in the hall box and gave subscriptions in favor of their favorite workers.

One contestant, reserved a subscription by telegram just fifteen minutes before the second period ended.

The campaign is divided into six periods. The first two have passed. The third is beginning. Four periods remain in which votes may be secured. At the beginning of each period the contest manager will be present. The next change will take place after October 11. Make the third period the best period.

Rules of Campaign

Contestants must be active in the campaign until the close and who fall to win one of the prizes in the campaign will be eligible to win one of the prizes in the next period. The contest manager will pay all those who fall to win one of the prizes in the campaign and will pay all those who fall to win one of the prizes in the next period. The contest manager will pay all those who fall to win one of the prizes in the campaign and will pay all those who fall to win one of the prizes in the next period.

ANOTHER REDUCTION IN THE VOTING SCHEDULE MAKES PLACE

The third period has started. Another reduction in the voting period of subscriptions has taken place. Subscriptions secured during the next two weeks will not bring as many votes as the reduction in previous weeks. But again after October 11 they will be counted and as the campaign progresses the voting schedule will be decreased until the end of the contest will find votes hard to get.

Contestants are beginning to realize what the voting schedule will be during the last week or two of the campaign. They are awakening to the fact that it is good business to secure every possible subscription during the early stages of the campaign when votes are easy to get.

Four more periods remain. Eight more weeks are left in which votes may be secured and in which the bulk and other prizes may be won. The time is quickly passing.

Study the new voting schedule as it appears on this page today and memorize it. Note if you will the big reduction in votes for those for the second and first periods. And figure if you can, what the reduction will be at the end of this period.

The contest will soon be over. It will be a very long lady who makes the third period count for the most.
