

WORLD PARLEY TO STUDY ILLS BEING PLANNED

Premier MacDonald Tells Commons Of Contemplated Move To Assist Business

LONDON, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—A great "conference of governments" to investigate all the cases of the world's economic ills is contemplated by the British government, Prime Minister MacDonald told the House of Commons yesterday.

Declaring that the conference would be held, MacDonald said the government would like to have it convene immediately after the banking experts meet at Basel in their report.

One of the specific tasks of the gathering of governments, the prime minister said, would be to examine "questions of international debts which lie at the base of our currency problem."

"It is the view of this government," MacDonald declared, "that there should be such a conference and that it should approach its work in a spirit of realism."

The governments should examine the facts, he continued, and should also at an agreement "which will not merely tide over these difficulties temporarily, but will establish the basis for a new world order."

The first of a series of talks on marketing, to be delivered by F. W. Hlatt, Jacksonville, truck marketing specialist of the State Marketing Bureau, is scheduled for tonight at the weekly meeting of members of the Seminole Agricultural Club at 8:00 o'clock.

Mr. Hlatt will discuss marketing in general with special reference to the marketing process, including the grower and consumer; the wholesaler; the commission firm; the wholesale distributor; the chain store; the co-op; the broker; and will discuss the services rendered by each of these departments of marketing.

Fred V. Horner, president of the club, will bring several routine business matters before the club, matters which he assures need the thought of the entire membership.

2 Negroes Are Taken From Jail, Lynched

LEWISBURG, West Virginia, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—Two negroes were taken from the county jail today and lynched by a mob. The victims were Tom Jackson and George Banks, who were hanged to a telephone pole and their bodiesiddled with bullets.

They were arrested recently in connection with the slaying of Constable Joseph Myles and Jeff Brown, who went to a negro dance and ordered the revelers to be quiet. The mob, composed of 60 men, overpowered the jailer and after the lynching disappeared before authorities arrived.

ORANGE MARKET IS GOOD DESPITE EARLY PROPHECY

Grapefruit Is Holding Own But Tangerines Have Slight Decline

WINTER HAVEN, Dec. 10.—Practically a year ago that the Florida orange market was destined to tumble into red ink with a resultant loss of millions of dollars, have been spent according to a statement of Florida's market performance issued by the Clearing House here yesterday. Tangerines alone have shown a decline in price, while grapefruit has risen along a pretty much the same level for several weeks.

Prices of oranges, however, the Clearing House says, have shown an advance in price of the past few days, while grapefruit prices have been both on the whole. The Clearing House statement, which is to be distributed to its membership, reads in part as follows:

"A few weeks ago publicity of the calamity crop was at its height. Orange production was so heavy that there would be rapidly declining prices, and exceedingly heavy shipments, yet, at the time, we advised our members that there was no reason for alarm.

"Prices on oranges, instead of falling, have as a whole shown an advance. Shipments have been moderate. Our relative position compared with California prices has never been so good this early in the season.

"For instance, for the week ending Nov. 8, Florida's general average at all auctions, all grades and sizes, was $2.26 delivered; California's general average $3.10, or 10 cents higher than Florida's. For the same week a year ago California averaged $1.15 higher. A dollar gain in our relative position with California should put our (Continued on Page Six)

First Shipment Of Celery This Year Will Leave Ovid

Seminole County's mightiest industry, celery, sends its first crop to market tomorrow, marking the earliest shipment from this section within the past five years.

The celery, taken from the Ovid and Morgan farms, is being handled by S. J. and C. Ovid, and is being prepared for shipment to various parts of the state. Efforts will be made to have it all before the market by the end of the week.

It is understood that the celery crop from the five acre tract from which celery has been produced is said to be of exceptionally fine quality considering the season during which it is being sent.

POWERS GOES ON STAND IN MURDER TRIAL FOR LIFE

Accused Slayer Outlines His Relations With Death Victim

CLARKSBURG, West Virginia, Dec. 9.—(A.P.)—Harry Powers sat down today in the witness stand at his murder trial attempting to dispel the shadow of the gallows. The state rested its case today after hearing nearly 25 witnesses. Powers traced his relationship with Mrs. Dorothy Lemke, Northboro, Mass. divorcee, for whose slaying he is being tried.

He told how they met and how she suggested once that they take their vacations together, of their visits to see each other and how when starting out on a vacation together she left him for a man he called Cecil Johnson.

He said he never saw her again. Powers identified two checks on Worcester banks, introduced yesterday, bearing endorsements of A. R. Weaver and Mrs. Lemke. He said one he cashed was for $1,533.01. He said he used the name Weaver because he didn't want to be responsible.

More than 20 state witnesses paraded to the stand on the stage of the town opera house. With them they brought eight sets of exhibits.

They told how the pudgy little defendant, while he was writing impassioned love letters to widow and divorcee in all parts of the country, supervised the construction of a windowless garage with underground chambers—a place the prosecutor has pictured as a feudal type of torture house.

They told of seeing him dig a grave for the two women and three children he is accused of slaying.

in that out-of-the-way place. Then began the recounting of his relationship with Mrs. Dorothy Pressler Lemke, the Northboro (Mass.) divorcee for whose slaying Powers is being tried.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fleming of Worcester, Mass., brother-in-law and sister of the dead woman, told how they found a picture of Cornelius O. Pierson (one of Powers' aliases), on the divorcee's dresser.

"We are going to get married," Mrs. Fleming quipped her sister as having said.

"He has a big ranch at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and is going to give me everything my heart desires. The Massachusetts couple told how "Pierson" arrived at their home with Mrs. Lemke, talked proudly of his ranch and his plans for the prospective bride and then drove off with her the next day.

Both sought to avoid the stare of the man whose fate their words might be deciding. But when they were required to identify Powers, Mrs. Fleming looked him in the eye for a full minute before speaking, then said:

"That is the man."

Around Mrs. Fleming, as she sat on the stand, were bundles of her sister's possessions which she identified with occasional sobs. They were coats, dresses, shoes, a camera, an umbrella, photographs and checks.

The second day of the trial opened with the orchestra pit, the balconies and even half of the stage filled with spectators.

The first witness exhibited a rotted piece of belting shaped like a nose, which had been knotted around the door.

It was held up almost directly over Powers' head. The man the juror will be asked to send to the gallows glanced at it with the unconcern he showed yesterday then suddenly switched and looked the other way.

He had regained his composure by the time the next exhibit was brought out—the canvas straps with which Mrs. Lemke had been bound.

He continued to look on with indifference while much of the other evidence was unfolded, but he seemed surprised when the state introduced a letter he had written to his wife from his prison cell. She had handed it, without knowing its contents, to an officer who happened to be in Mrs. Powers' home, quizzing her, when it was delivered.

It was filled with affectionate phrases. Powers called his wife, "my beloved dear," and he sent her "love and kisses."

The purpose of the letter, however, was to beg help from the woman who had remained loyal to him while he carried on his "matrimonial racket" and even while the prosecution says, he was luring women to his torture chambers to kill them for their money.

The letter asked her to prepare herself at the trial to help save her husband from the gallows. It expressed concern over the fact that clothing of the slain women had been found in the Powers home, and that suspicion might be attached to a check for $3567 which Powers gave his wife the day he was arrested.

Stories Mrs. Powers might fabricate to explain both these situations were suggested to her.

LENZ AND JACOBY ARE THREE UP ON TWO OPPONENTS

Culbertsons Split 1st Four Bridge Rubbers Played Last Night

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(A.P.)—The Culbertsons divided the first four rubbers played last night with Lenz and Jacoby, their opponents in a 100-rubber match of contract.

The standing in the series after the fourth rubber began was in rubbers won Lenz and Jacoby five, the Culbertsons two; net score Lenz and Jacoby 1530. The seventh rubber was the first of the series to carry a 700 bonus. Lenz and Jacoby got it. The points in the seventh rubber: Lenz and Jacoby 1045; Culbertson, 0.

Make Six On First Hand

Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson contracted for four no trump and made six in the first hand last night.

This game, the Culbertsons game and reduced the Lenz-Jacoby plus score of 1715 attained in the first session to 1415. The hand was played by Culbertson. It was the seventh hand of the series and the first hand of the fourth rubber.

The Fourth Rubber

Hand 25. Culbertson kept a contract of four hearts and had 100 in bonus. He reduced Lenz' lead to 1295.

Hand 26. Lenz made six no trump and game on a contract for three. Net score Lenz 1550. Each side vulnerable.

Hand 27. On a contract for four spades Mrs. Culbertson made five, winning game and rubber. She had 100 bonus. Net score of the match to date Lenz plus 700.

Rubber 5

Hand 28. Culbertson was doubled at a contract for four hearts and was set two. Net score Lenz 260.

Hand 29. Lenz contracted for four hearts and made it giving him game. Net score Lenz 1190.

Hand 30. Culbertson was set on a bid of five diamonds. Net score Lenz 1150.

Hand 31. Mrs. Culbertson was set on a contract for three no trump. Score Lenz 1250.

Hand 32. Culbertson contracted for four hearts and made five, giving him game with each side vulnerable. Net score Lenz 1080.

Hand 33. Jacoby made four on a contract for three no trump and won game and rubber. Net score Lenz 1235.

Rubber 6

Hand 35. Culbertson made five hearts on a contract for four hearts by getting game. Net score Lenz 1065.

Hand 36. Lenz was set one on a bid of three no trump. Net score Lenz 1015.

Hand 37. Lenz contracted for four hearts and game and made five. Net score Lenz 1185. Each side vulnerable.

Hand 38. Culbertson won game and rubber on a contract for five spades. Net score Lenz 535.

Rubber 7

Rubber 7, hand 39. Jacoby fulfilled a contract of four no trump, getting a leg on the rubber. Net score Lenz 675.

Hand 40. Jacoby made five no trump on a contract for three, winning game and rubber. Net score Lenz 1580.

Wagers Another $1000

Culbertson wagered another thousand dollars tonight on the outcome of his contract bridge match with Sidney S. Lenz.

He made the bet with Oswald Jacoby, Lenz' partner at the start of the second session of play. Culbertson already has wagered $5000, to be given in charity in the event he loses, against $1000 from Lenz also designated for charity.

"Want more?" he asked Jacoby, after the bet was accepted.

"Let's play," the other answered. "I'll go up to $25,000," said Culbertson.

"Out the cards," ordered Chief Referee Alfred M. Gruenther.

Culbertson won the bet, dealt, and a real grind of the 150-rubber match was under way.

Strain Apparent

The strain of the opening night became apparent as soon as the first hand was dealt. The players became fidgety, nervous. They glanced apprehensively toward the screen that hid them from view every time the door squeaked.

The principals decided tonight to play a session Friday night instead of Saturday, so that play will be on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays until the match is completed some time before Jan. 15. Only the first half is to be played in the Culbertson apartment. Lenz will be host for the second half.

Some wag brought in a compass last night and discovered that Lenz officially "north" in the play was in reality north by east. Experts, sensing how complicated scoring might become, paid no attention.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—(A.P.)—The first hand of last night's play in the Culbertson-Lenz contract match gave a good illustration of the jump forcing common to both Culbertson's system and the "official" system of Lenz. The contract was four no trump. Six was made through the lay of the cards. The hand:

Lenz (north) S. Q. 10, 8, 6, 5; H. 8, 3; D. 10, 5, 4; C. J. 10, 8.

Mrs. Culbertson (east) S. K. 7; H. K. 9; D. A. K. Q. 9, 6, 3; C. K. 5.

Jacoby (south) S. J. 3; H. A. J. 5, 2; D. J. 8, 2; C. 7, 6, 4, 2.

Culbertson (west-dealer) S. A. 0; H. Q. 10, 7, 6, 4; D. 7; C. A. Q. 9, 3.

Ending: West one heart; north pass; east three diamonds; south pass; West 3 no trump; north pass; east 4 no trump; the contract score made 6—conceded at 7th trick—not vulnerable.

The play:

GERMANY FINDS SELF VIRTUALLY UNDER DICTATOR

Economically And Politically Nation Is Being Run By 2 Men

BERLIN, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—German business realized yesterday that its independence was gone.

Twenty-four hours of meditation on the drastic emergency decrees issued Tuesday night by President von Hindenburg brought home the fact that two men now rule Germany, economically as well as politically.

These men are Chancellor Heinrich Brüning and Dr. Carl Goerdeler, the "price" dictator, who has absolute control over all business, from the most mighty to most minute.

Dr. Goerdeler indicated his course of action by declaring in an interview he would take immediate drastic steps to meet and conquer the nation's ills.

One of his first moves he designed will be to cut the prices of industrial products. Next will come budget rates and the prices of standard articles.

Government circles interpreted Chancellor Brüning's dramatic radio speech Tuesday night as marking the end of the first public dispute between the nation's two leading political personalities—the chancellor and Adolf Müller, emergency leader of the country's fascists.

By bringing the long backstage struggle into the open the chancellor pushed Müller off the front page so far as domestic discussions are concerned.

Already the effects of the sweeping emergency decrees are being felt, a considerable number of political meetings which had been scheduled for the next few days have been cancelled.

Shortly after the decrees were announced a hundred Hitler followers at Wuppertal in the Rhineland were arrested for ostentatiously wearing the Nazi uniform.

The reichsbank as well as Berlin banks have reduced interest rates. Provincial banks are expected to follow suit.

Last night Vice Chancellor Hermann Brüning followed the Brüning broadcast by hammering into the nation's ears the necessity for the emergency decrees. All Germany was waiting to see if Dr. Brüning's "only way out" would bring enduring relief.

Dr. Goerdeler, now wielding the power of life and death over the business falling to empty with the provisions of the emergency decrees, will attend the cabinet meeting today, at which means of putting the decrees into action will be discussed.

Government circles today minimized the danger of a Hitler government and declared that, barring accidents, there was no chance of a Brüning-Goerdeler coalition following the chancellor's emphatic denunciation of national socialist aims.

The Hitler organ, Voelkischer Beobachter, denounced the Brüning approach as unparalleled for its "total lack of control" and at the same time referred to the "hard voice of a septic."

Prohibition Agents Are Disciplined By Director Woodcock

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—Three prohibition agents were accused of recklessness in protection and the third already suspended for his connection with the agents of a Colorado youth yesterday but also with an Iowa band of prohibition Director Woodcock.

To a fourth federal agent recently in trouble in court the federal dry chief dealt out "another chance."

Woodcock suspended W. W. Schultz of Pittsburgh and David David of Baltimore immediately after a federal grand jury indicted them for violation of evidence brought by the federal superior.

Schultz was found guilty of a crime and sentenced to prison for a year. Woodcock explained to get the federal prohibition agents and their families.

Henry Clark was temporarily suspended yesterday. Woodcock suspended him recently after Milton G. Smith, young Englishman, Clark, truckman died from a wound Clark is accused of inflicting in a scuffle over a bottle of wine.

Lester Woodcock investigated administration in the district, and John F. Vireo, accused as deputy administrator.

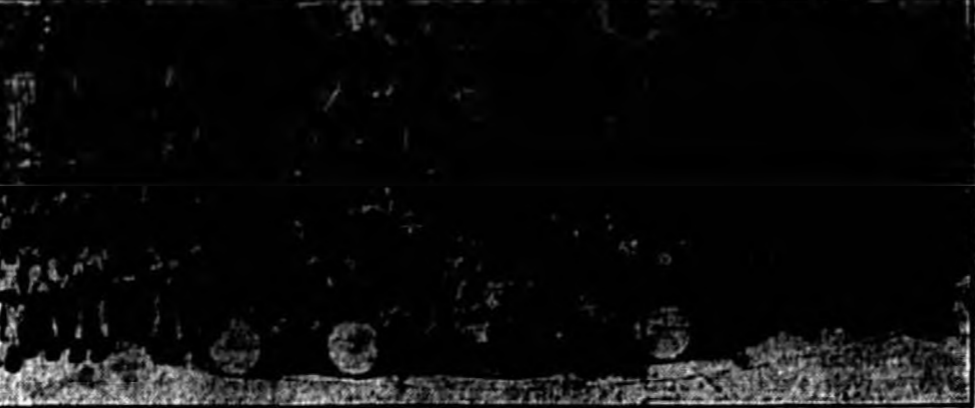

Fredrick W. Wilson of Buffalo, N. Y. was the fourth agent to be suspended. He was suspended for an alleged violation of an alcohol prohibition law. He was convicted of "false reports" against the prohibition agents.

The Reporter-Star Boys Band which will appear at Benharts High School tonight at 8:00 o'clock in an interesting program which has for its feature solos by Harold Bundy, youthful vocalist, Edgar A. Ball, well-known bandmaster, will direct the band which only last week presented him with a large silver loving cup for his efforts in their behalf during the past few years. Proceeds of the concert for which an admission of 25 and 10 cents is being asked, will be turned over to the Seminole High School Glee Club and Orchestra, and all music lovers are urged to be present.

Orlando Newsman Will Join Staff Of Tampa Daily Times

ORLANDO, Dec. 10.—W. M. Glenn, former editor and publisher of the Orlando Morning Sentinel, will leave next week for Tampa where he will be in the news department of the Tampa Daily Times.

Glenn came to Orlando in 1914 when the paper had a paid circulation of 690 and built the figure to over 6,000. The plant was then located in the Magruder Arcade and boasted one linotype machine.

In Orlando he quickly became identified with the growth of the community. He is a charter member of the Rotary Club, past president of the Orlando G.C.C., served on the park board for four years as secretary, and was commander of Olivet Commandery.

Before coming to Orlando he was with the Indianapolis Star and the old Chicago Herald, now Hearst-owned, in the news department.

He was appointed colonel on the staff of Gov. Martin and is a past president of the Florida Press Clubs. He is a charter member of Sigma Delta Chi, national newspaper fraternity, and was graduated from DePaul University and the University of Illinois.

After the merger of the Orlando Morning Sentinel with the Evening Reporter-Star, Editor Glenn continued at the head of the editorial department. With this return of D. H. McKay, former Tampa mayor, to management of the Times, Glenn was asked to become a member of the staff of the Tampa paper. He and Col. McKay are old friends.

France Opens Fire On German Effort To Get Debt Relief

BASEL, Switzerland, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—France opened fire last night before the World Bank advisory committee on the attempt that is being made to reduce Germany's reparations obligations.

The attack was started by Prof. Charles Rist, Bank of France expert, who declared the German case was invalidated by the very evidence submitted by Dr. Carl Meißner, Berlin's representative on the committee which is examining Germany's capacity to pay reparations.

The French delegate made this statement after Dr. Meißner had presented figures on German short-term credits and other financial problems facing the committee.

The Meißner summary, Professor Rist said, showed the great uncertainty in Germany and was sufficient justification for the belief that the present was not the time to re-evaluate Germany's capacity to pay.

Professor Rist declared the French thesis that only a temporary arrangement was necessary to tide Germany over an abnormal period of business had been confirmed by Dr. Meißner himself.

The German representative painted a black picture of the future of Germany. He produced evidence that the favorable trade balance of 350,000,000 reichsmarks (about $7,500,000) the monthly average for the last six months would not last.

He gave exhaustive figures on four categories of German payments: Long term credits, loans not publicly issued, bonds and shares issued in Germany but held by foreigners, and short-term credits.

Plans For Air Tour Of State Revealed At St. Petersburg

ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 10.—City planes, piloted by some of the country's famous fliers, will make the annual Florida tour leaving Miami, January 11, after the close of the Miami air races, January 7-9. Fred V. Blair, announced yesterday. Mr. Blair is a former Florida governor for the National Aeronautical Association and is a member of the State Aviation Association and a member of the State committee on tour arrangements.

Preliminary plans for the tour were discussed at a recent meeting held in Orlando, said Mr. Blair. Members of the State Association committee who will have charge of making the aviation tour arrangements are: A. H. McMullen, Tampa; Dr. Ralph Green, Jacksonville; Louis Sevier, Miami; E. C. Nielsen, Orlando.

Tentative itinerary for the tour includes: Palm Beach, Fort Myers, Sarasota, Wauchula, Winter Haven, Bartow, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Lakeland, Orlando, Titusville, Sanford, Ocala, Gainesville, Tallahassee, Madison, Live Oak and Jacksonville.

The plane pilots expect to make two stops daily, staging air shows at each city visited.

All cities on the tentative route will be urged to participate in the tour, and those that do not show an interest, said Mr. Blair, will be eliminated when the definite itinerary is set.

A plane equipped with autogere will accompany the sky cavalcade, said Mr. Blair. Captain Frank Hawks, Major Doolittle and Ruth Nichols, holder of the woman's trans-continental speed record, are expected to be among aviators who will make the tour.

Mr. Blair also announced that arrangements have been made for the annual meeting of the State Aviation Association to be held in Miami, Jan. 8.

SPIVEY GIVEN CLEAN BILL ON HERESY COUNT

(Continued from Page One) Moore that recommendations would be submitted to reduce the presiding elder districts from nine to eight.

Appeals by the bishop and prominent laymen for a revival of millennialism.

Rumors of the move against Dr. Spivey had been current throughout the Florida conference since the special committee was named to investigate his statements made in the Southern college chapel last February regarding the debate in Tampa between Dr. George Hyman, pastor of the Bayshore Baptist Church, and Clarence Darrow, noted Athelst, and others.

The original charges of heresy were based almost entirely it was explained yesterday, upon Dr. Spivey's comments in chapel on the Tampa debate and published in The Tampa Tribune on Feb. 22. In his debate with Mr. Darrow, Dr. Hyman said that "one must believe all the Bible is true."

Commenting on Dr. Hyman's remarks in addressing Southern college students at chapel services, Dr. Spivey was quoted in a Lakeland dispatch by The Tribune as follows:

"Dr. Hyman is free to believe as he chooses. He is a personal friend of mine and a sincere man, but it so happens that 80 percent of the members of the Protestant Church do not believe with him that every word of the Bible is true. By accepting Dr. Hyman's statements as representing Protestantism, Mr. Darrow was able to set up a lot of straw men, knock them over and say that he had done away with the Christian Church."

"Dr. Hyman represents only a will to argue to participate in the tour, and those that do not show an interest, said Mr. Blair, will be eliminated when the definite itinerary is set.

A plane equipped with autogere will accompany the sky cavalcade, said Mr. Blair. Captain Frank Hawks, Major Doolittle and Ruth Nichols, holder of the woman's trans-continental speed record, are expected to be among aviators who will make the tour.

Mr. Blair also announced that arrangements have been made for the annual meeting of the State Aviation Association to be held in Miami, Jan. 8.

Japan Has Offered Accept League's Peace Proposal

(Continued from Page One) cleared the Chinese were prevailing desire to the east from China. London being that a group of the bandits attacked Japanese police who were searching five foreign newspaper correspondents to Shanghai, 25 miles west of Hankow.

PARIS, Dec. 10.—(A.P.)—The council of the League of Nations came out into the open last night after 18 days of secret negotiations and planned down the League-American compromise plan for peaceful adjustment of the Manchurian conflict.

The Japanese representative, who was "still without instructions from Tokyo," shows widespread approval of the peace proposal. Another open session will be held today at which attempts will be made to obtain Japan's support.

The heart of the plan worked out by representatives of the United States government and League authorities is an international commission of inquiry of five "big men"—including the American—to examine fully into all circumstances which may be at the bottom of the Sino-Japanese trouble.

The negative features of this scheme, which is embodied in a resolution and an accompanying declaration, are:

(1) It leaves the Japanese military occupying most of Manchuria.

(2) It declines to put the status of approval upon Japan's "right" to take military action against bandits.

(3) It fails to organize a no-man's land between the Chinese and Japanese armies.

Strong hope prevailed in quarters that the Japanese would accept the plan, but some apprehension was felt that they make difficulties over anti-bandit measures.

It was understood that British Yoshida, foreign minister, would approve the program but would insist upon making a declaration setting forth the Japanese claim to the right to take anti-bandit measures.

Such a declaration by the Japanese would be likely to draw fire from Dr. Alfred Soong, China's spokesman, and from some neutral members of the council.

It was considered probable that after these conflicting views had been aired the council would accept the plan and adjourn.

2 ALIBI LETTERS ARE PRESENTED BY MAIL ROMEO

Powers Weeps When He Tells Story Of His Married Life

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Dec. 10.—Two "alibi letters" were exhibited to the jury today in the trial of Harry Powers, accused murderer of Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, Northboro, Mass., divorcee.

Powers wept yesterday as he told of his unhappy married life and his desperate attempts to escape for the murder for which he is on trial.

The married difficulties extended over four years, he said, and he finally left a matrimonial home to seek his fortune and independence.

Both sides and defense professed their own during the day. The chief witness of the state charge was Powers, who said he had never seen the woman who was killed.

It was considered probable the jury would return today to the court house for the first of the five days of the trial.

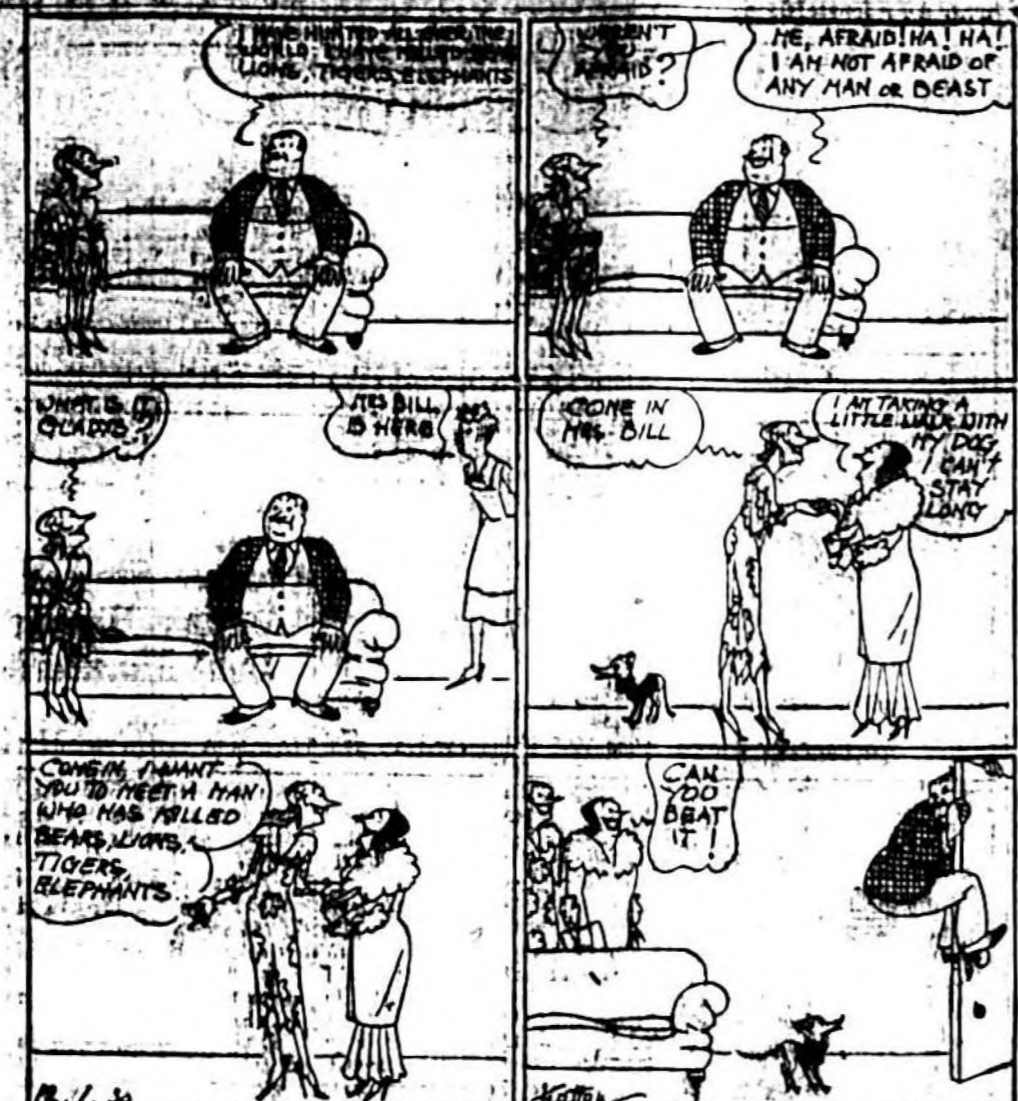

The defendant, who pictured himself as a leading creditor in the law firm he had around the country, had his fingers crossed for a conviction.

Powers joined the matrimonial party and described himself as a successful engineer.

He said he had made any number of marriages in his life, but that he had never been married to the woman who was killed.
