The storming of the courtroom, located in the prison's old administration building, ended a drama that began Monday afternoon when the two inmates, armed with handmade knives, seized two women secretaries hostage and demanded a getaway car.

The inmate killed in the SWAT team assault was Ray Anthony Mitchell, 18, whose murder of two elderly couples last year was one of the most notorious crimes of Dade County's crime-plagued year.

The second inmate, Jerry Rasberry, 27, was taken to the hospital in Gainesville, Ray Gray, district director for the Department of Corrections said. Rasberry's condition was critical early this morning.

Prison officials said Mitchell and Rasberry burst into the office of Assistant Prison Superintendent Paul Gunning at 3 p.m. Monday and took two secretaries hostage — one of whom, Debbie Wright, 26, was immediately rescued by officials who plunged in from an adjoining office. The booming gold market that had kept prices moving steadily upward through most of the '70s flattened out during the past year. From a high, based on closing prices in London, around $900 an ounce at the beginning of 1980, the price declined sharply for a few months, then jogged erratically in the $500-$700 region. Early in 1981, it dropped below $500 and today closed at $490.50. Graph indicates key high and low points during the period. Irish Mourn Fire Victims:

Search On For Witnesses

DUBLIN, Ireland (UPI) - Ireland observed a day of mourning today for the victims of the Starduct Disco blaze and investigators pressed a search for four witnesses who might know the cause of the fire that killed 44 Valentine's Day celebrants and injured 130. Special services for the dead were arranged throughout the republic. Many businesses either closed or gave their employees time off. Prime Minister Charles J. Haughey announced both houses of Parliament would adjourn. Hundreds of police, who painstakingly checked the charred debris of the entertainment complex and interviewed survivors, eliminated electrical failures, careless smoking or flammable liquids as possible causes of an accidental fire.

They appealed to four key witnesses to come forward to help determine if the Saturday blaze in the disco crowded with 800 dancers was arson.

Police were particularly interested in a teen-age girl who told a doorman as she fled the building, "They have started a fire in there." Police said they did not know if the girl meant the fire had been started deliberately. They also sought three women employees who were having a tea break in the area where the fire was believed to have started.

Polish Students Striking

WARSAW. Poland (UPI) - University students across Poland began joining a strike movement today to try to force acceptance of their independent union, but the government indicated a get-tough attitude toward stalemated negotiations. A communique from the students coordinating

Boy, 11, Accidentally Shoots Friend, 7

Sanford police say they expect no criminal charges to be filed in connection with Sunday's shooting in which a sevenyear-old boy was shot in the chest by an 11-year-old friend. James K. Crowe Jr. of 2518 Yale Ave., Sanford, was in good condition today at Seminole Memorial Hospital with a single gunshot wound in the upper left side of his chest.

According to police, Crowe was accidentally shot by Thomas Stanley Oglesby, 11, of 2554 Orange Ave. about 8 p.m. as Oglesby was carrying a .22-caliber rifle into his home.

Police said Oglesby had been out in his front yard allegedly shooting at a black dog when the incident occurred. Eleven empty shell casings were found at the scene. Both boys are students at Midway Elementary School.

FIVE GUNS STOLEN

Police are continuing their investigation into a recent residential burglary in which five handguns were stolen. David Ratliff, 21, of 2512 Highlawn Ave., Sanford, told police that sometime between Feb. 5 and 15, someone took five pistols from a dresser drawer in his bedroom. No signs of forced entry were found and nothing else was taken, Ratliff said. Estimated value of the firearms: $690.

White reported to Seminole County Sheriff's deputies that the couple also left owing her two weeks rent. Stolen was a refrigerator, washer, dryer, vacuum cleaner, china hutch, a wooden dining table and four chairs, a wrought iron ice cream table and two chairs, a clock radio, seven-piece couch, two coffee tables, 19-inch color TV, couch and love seat, two end tables, leather chair and ottoman, a antique foyer table, three mirrors, three beds (twin, queen and double), two dressers a

Known as the Wit Kommando (white commandos), the right-wing white extremists are responsible for more bombings and acts of terror in the last six months than all black nationalist groups in South Africa combined. Terror from the right has become a fact of life in South Africa. The favorite target is anyone who advocates a better deal for the country's blacks. They call them "traitors." NATIONAL REPORT: Scattered rain showers, mild temperatures and dense fog reached across the lower Mississippi Valley to the Great Lakes' region and from New England to the Eastern Gulf Coast. Dense fog reduced visibility to near zero in some midwest areas today. Low pressure over the northcentral Gulf of Mexico and a cold front that moved across the Great Lakes region caused showers from New England to the eastern Gulf Coast.

Retroactive Job Freeze May Thaw

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Federal workers challenging President Reagan's retroactive hiring freeze are winning preliminary skirmishes in court and a judge's comments on the controversy may mean trouble ahead for the ad-

U.S. District Judge Charles Richey ordered Monday that three federal employees remain on the payroll until he decides the legality of the freeze that Reagan instituted as his first official act in office.

Richey's comments — although not having any legal weight - cast doubt on the administration's ability to convince the courts Reagan did not act unconstitutionally as the National Treasury Employee's Union claims. The judge set a Feb. 25 hearing on the case that both sides say affects 10,000 to 60,000 people promised by the government between Nov. 5 and Jan. 20 that they had jobs. Reagan ordered the freeze Jan. 20, the day of his inauguration, and backdated it to Nov. 5, the day after his election. The union claims the retroactivity exceeds Reagan's constitutional authority and has created hardships for the people involved, many of whom quit other jobs or moved from other cities to another to take government jobs. No matter which way Richey rules, appeals are certain and it seems likely the case ultimately will be before the

At the hearing Monday Richey, wincing and looking startled, frequently challenged Justice Department lawyer Al Alfano's arguments. He asked Alfano if he was "really serious" in saying the government wanted to find out if every person who had sent letters offering federal employment had the authority to make such appointments. As to the government's argument that there was a hardship provision for those people hurt most by the order, Richey said, "It's so narrow I can't agree with you it's really a hardship avenue at all." Neither employees' attorney Robert Tobias nor Alfano was willing to speculate on whether Richev's questions indicated a predisposition by the judge.

Housing Authority Lays Off 3 The Sanford Housing Authority laid off three staff workers

Edward Blacksheare, chairman of the housing authority said the layoffs were due to a budget adjustment. He said although the authority's goal is to rehabilitate 35 houses annually, only nine rehabilitation projects were accomplished during the past year due to funding shortages.)

"Consequently we were heavy in administrative operations and three positions were cut," Blacksheare said. Those laid off held the positions of deputy director for Rehabilitation: rehabilitation manager and counsellor for rehabilitation. The layoffs will result in a savings of $35,000 to $40,00 annually for the authority, Blacksheare said. America Terrorized By Common Crimes

Amid the talk in Washington of combatting international terrorism, Chief Justice Warren Burger went before the American Bar Association in Houston to ask if Americans were not being made hostages in their own homes by another kind of terrorism—the wildfire spread of common

The rising crime rate in this country highly alarms most Americans. Indeed, crime has become the number-one concern for the average urban dweller. The statistics Justice Burger guoted in his speech are terrifying: New York City, with the same population as Sweden, has 20 times as many homicides. The United States has one hundred times the rate of burglary of Japan. More than one-quarter of all households in this country are victimized by some kind of crime every year.

The statistics are no more comforting elsewhere in the country. Wanton murder is a hideous phenomenon of the 80s in Southern California. The question now is what can be done. Chief Justice Burger prescribes more police, better prisons and—most particularly—tougher

More police are indeed required. This is particularly true in California cities, which have always had a lower ratio of police to population than older eastern cities. It is instructive to note that Chicago, with about the same population as Los Angeles, has twice as many police officers. Between 1974 and 1979, Chicago's per capita crime rate dropped by 22 percent while the crime rate in Los Angeles rose 20 percent.

The prison equation is equally bleak in California. With 22,500 men and women behind bars in state prisons and another 25,000 in city and county jails, the California prison system is swamped.

Chief Justice Burger recognized the problem on a national scale when he called for better prisons. a review of the probation and parole system, and better vocational and educational programs for

The chief justice reserved his harshest words for the courts, which he accused of failing to provide the greatest deterrents to crime: prompt trial, certain penalty, and finality of judgment. The judicial process, as he warned, mocks justice if it is forever open to appeals and retrials for errors in the arrest, the search, or the trial. And this, to our great misfortune, is what has happened. The judicial system has elevated pettifogging to an art form, encouraged delays as a standard criminal defense tactic. And by a willingness to review and review, the courts have all but foreclosed the possibility of speedy trial and finality of judgment.

Justice Burger's own Supreme Court, along with the lower courts which have expanded its decisions, must accept the blame for creating in the last two decades, a maze of constantly shifting procedural rules that result in the freeing of criminals without regard for their guilt.

Pearson Captures Sportsman, Pockets $15,115 Present

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UPI) - Veteran driver David Pearson gave himself a 29th wedding anniversary present Monday — the $15,115 first prize check in the rain-delayed Sportsman 300 at Daytona International Speedway. Pearson, 46, held off Rusty Wallace with some crafty maneuvering on the last lap and won by the length of his Pontiac. Wallace tried to get around Pearson on turns three and four, but the cagey Pearson blocked him off. Then in the stretch, Pearson hung behind four or five slower cars and Wallace couldn't get around him. It was Pearson's first Sportsman race at Daytona.

Tribe Girl Netters Whip Lions

Seminole's girls' tennis team captured four-of-five singles matches Monday to whip Oviedo 5-2. The boys' team dropped its fifth straight match by an identical 5-2 score. Second singles player Lisa Harper, Angie Barley, Candi Crocker and Ginny Bishop all whipped their opponents. Number one singles player Patti Edgemon lost to Oviedo's Kassi Hynes 8-2. Following the setback, though,

Sanford took control. Harper whipped Beddi Ward 8-3, Barley plastered Val Cowal 8-1, Crocker sliced Lisa Rowlson 8-2 and Bishop overturned Marnie Callihan 8-2. In the doubles, Crocker-Susana Huaman defeated Callihan-Cowal 8-3 while the Lions' Hynes-Ward beat Harper-Barley 8-4. In the boys' action, Bill Kirchhoff smoked David Lewis 8-1 and Brent Hafner doubled Pat McCartney 8-4 for the two Tribe victories.

Tribe Soccer Hosts Apopka

Seminole's top-seeded soccer team, paced by Five Star Conference first team member John Jane, hosts Apopka at 4 p.m. today in the first round of the district.

Other games in the 4A-9 tournament include secondseeded Lake Howell entertaining Spruce Creek and thirdseeded Lyman playing in DeLand. Mainland invades fourth-seeded Lake Brantley. All these games are at 7 p.m.

The upper bracket teams, Seminole-Apopka and Mainland-Lake Brantley, will meet Thursday at Lake Brantley. The winners will play at 8 p.m. The lower bracket winners of Spruce Creek-Lake Howell and Lyman-DeLand play at 6 p.m. The championship contest is Saturday at 8 p.m. Seabreeze and Lyman emerged as the conference co champions with 6-2 records. Lyman beat the 'Crabs during the regular season.

Fordham, Ruiz Gloves Bound

Things went as planned for Sanford's two entries in the Central Florida Golden Gloves championships Friday as both 32-year-old heavyweight Mike Fordham and 132-pound wonder Manuel Rivera-Ruiz posted wins. Both men will advance to the state Gloves championships to be held in Tampa March 11-14.

Fordham won his match by default when no one showed up to fight the 6"6', 230-pound novice heavyweight. Ruiz had almost as easy a time as he decked Jacksonville's Golden Gloves 132-pound champion Richard Lasker with his first punch 21 seconds into the first round.

It was Ruiz's sixth fight as opposed to Lasker's 40-plus. Under normal circumstances, Ruiz would have fought in the less talent-laden novice division, but because of his record of five knockouts in five fights, he moved up to the open division and still didn't even have to break a sweat.

Six of Central Florida's community college presidents, faced with the headache of the University of Central Florida's recently imposed enrollment cap, have banded together to file a complaint against UCF with the Department of Education's Articulation Coordinating Committee.

Seminole Community College president Dr. Earl S. Weldon met with representatives from five other Central Florida Community colleges at Valencia Community College West, Tuesday to charge that UCF is violating the terms of a longstanding agreement to admit graduates of junior college programs.

The collective complaint of SCC, Valencia, Brevard, Polk, Daytona Beach and Lake-Sumter community colleges was
