

Treasury Orders Big Shake-Up in Nation's Prohibition Forces

Changes Effective On August 1, Officials Announce in Public Statement Tuesday

State Lines Give Way to Districts
Tampa Office Affected By Re-Organization Of The Department

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The biggest shakeup in enforcement machinery since prohibition was established in the United States has been ordered by the treasury department, effective Aug. 1.

The new program under which Assistant Secretary Andrews will seek to make the country dry was announced Tuesday and the way was paved for radical changes in the work. Only the broad outlines of the program were made public, but Mr. Andrews' immediate task is to work out its details and to a survey of the fitness of those in the job for reappointment when it is put in operation.

State lines will be abolished. Federal districts for each state will be eliminated, new districts bounded wholly on lines bounding federal judicial districts will be created, and a general decentralization of authority will take place in the reorganization.

Neither Mr. Andrews or other treasury officials would discuss the problem further than to say that those with ability would be retained. The weeding out of undesirable will be accomplished without haste since Mr. Andrews has no intention of filling the entire list of places immediately and later finding he has appointed with whom he is not satisfied.

The Washington headquarters where authority has centered since the Volstead Act was passed, will be conducted under the same officers as at present but their duties will be more of a supervisory and less of an administrative character. They also will have a greater opportunity to spend time in the field and to work more closely with the prohibition administrators, 22 of whom will be named to have charge of as many administrative districts in the United States with two others in Hawaii and Porto Rico.

Each of the district officials will have two assistants, one of whom will have charge of permissive work, or the control of permits and distribution, while the other will devote his efforts to enforcement. The district officials also will have a chief chemist and a analyst, eliminating the necessity for transportation of thousands of cases to Washington.

Mr. Andrews is convinced that a saving of expenditures will be effected under the new system, but believed a considerable reduction in personnel would result.

He already has begun consideration of the question of better pay for the administrators and their two assistants.

His thought is to make the job attractive, financially, to valuable men, and veterans were warned against money-lenders on bonus certificates.

Shipping board delegated ship sales authority to fleet corporation.

Attorney general authorized appeal to the supreme court in the International Harvester case.

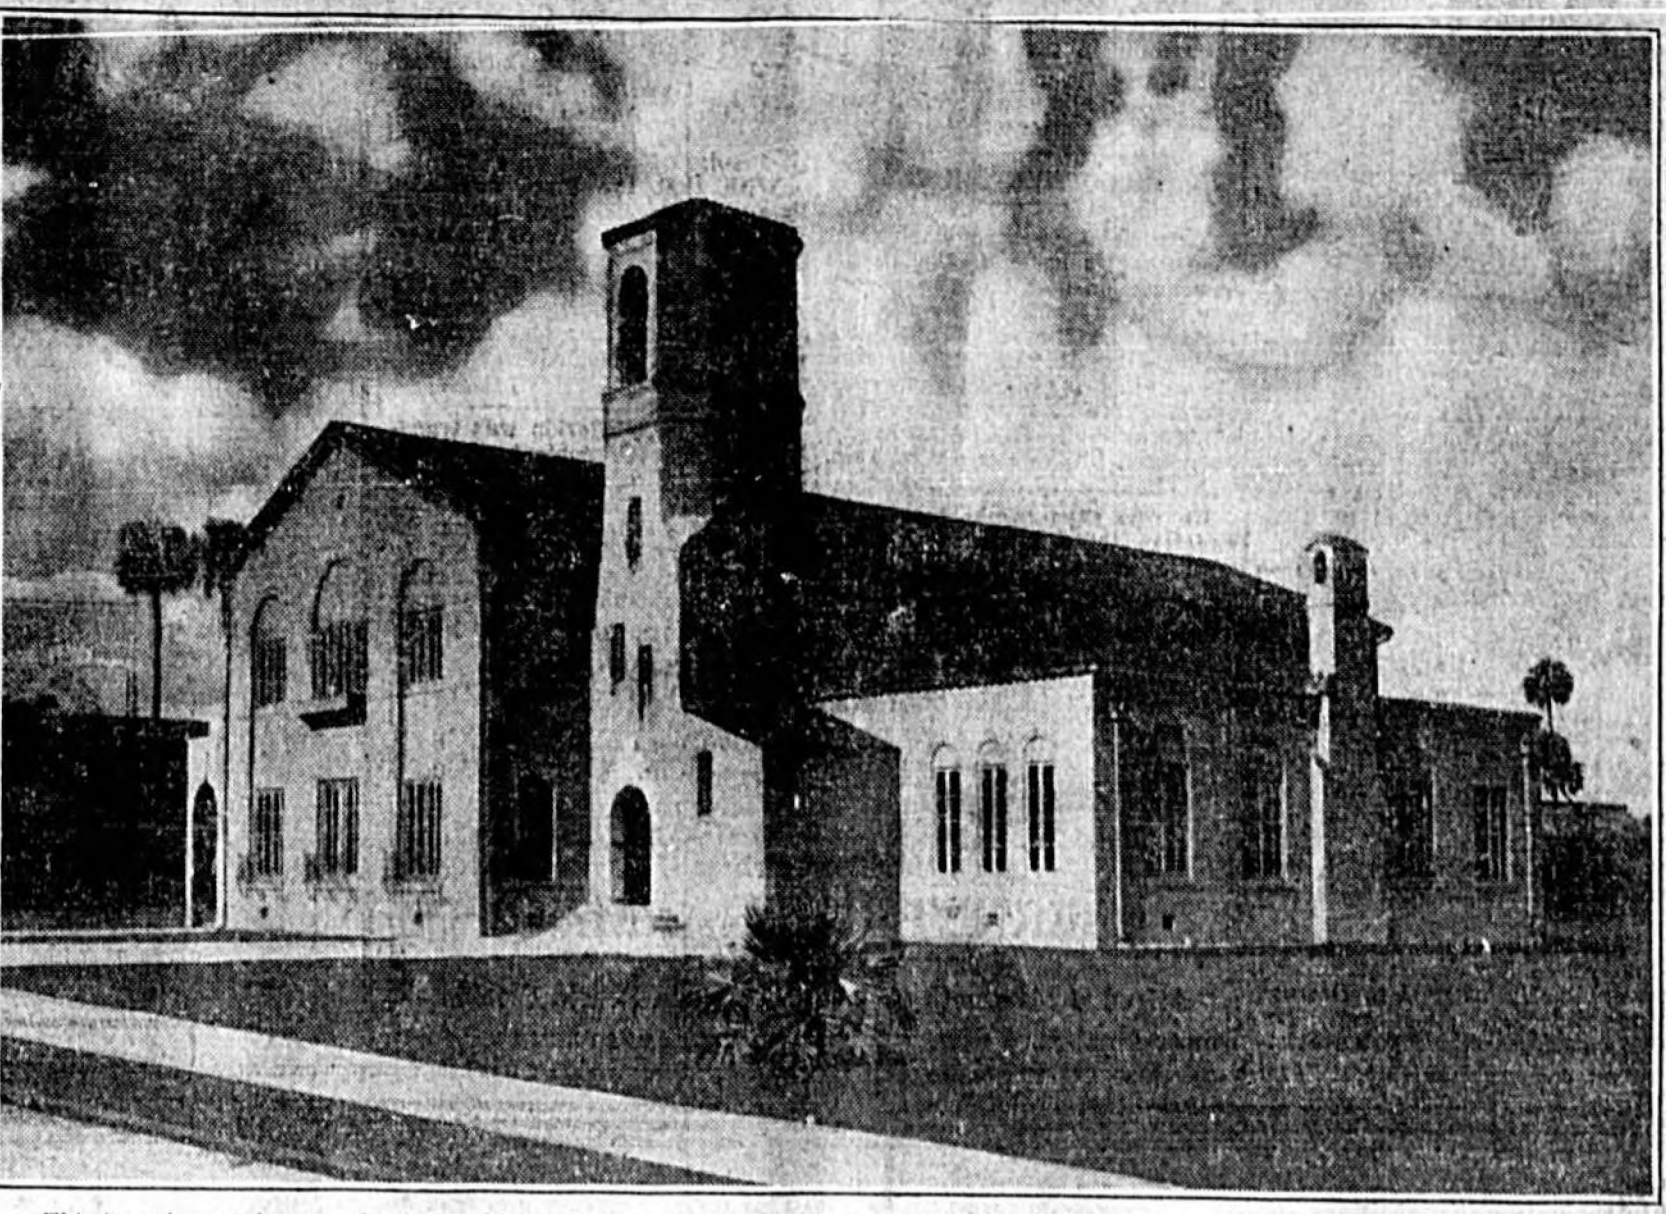

A sweeping organization of prohibition enforcement was announced, effective August 1.

EUROPEANS AND AGITATORS FIGHT; SEVERAL KILLED

Residents of Shameen Flee From Concession Following Outbreak; Situation Has Been Described As Serious

CANTON, June 24.—Several Europeans were killed and many others wounded today when fighting broke out between Chinese agitators and residents of Shameen, a foreign concession here. Women and children are fleeing on the U. S. S. Asheville, preparing to leave for Hong Kong tonight.

HONG KONG, June 24.—Further trouble resulting from the anti-foreign agitation at Canton was anticipated Tuesday morning. The American gunboat, Helena, left here for Shameen, the foreign element at Canton, while the British naval officials were taking further precautions.

The British steamer, Honam, with 500 foreign women and children, arrived here yesterday morning from Shameen.

A British infantry regiment was ordered to stand by in case of need.

CANTON, China, June 24.—British and French marines, using machine guns Tuesday against Chinese demonstrators who were parading along the Bund and around Shamson, the European quarters. One man was killed and several were wounded.

Thousands of students, workmen, citizens and soldiers took part in the parade and demonstration. Opposite the Victoria Hotel in the British concession, firing broke out. The British and French marines replied immediately and the firing lasted 20 minutes.

Chinese soldiers fired from the western side of the Bund. A French merchant was killed and the white commissioner of customs, Arthur Edwards, a British marine and two civilians were wounded.

All the evidence, it is declared, indicates that the first shots were fired by the Chinese from the Bund.

Celerymen Stop Smokers' Winning Streak Tuesday; Hit 3 Tampa Pitchers Hard

The Sanford Celerymen halted the Smokers' winning streak Tuesday afternoon when they fell on three Tampa pitchers for a total of 14 hits and 10 runs while the league leaders could do no more than send over 4 runs on 8 hits off Alverton and Cusack.

The winners earned all but one of their runs, the first one scored. Weik booted Curley's grounder which was the only error made by the Tampa team. Heavy hitting put all of the others over although they were helped by Cooper's wildness. McQue booted two and Frisbie let one go by him, but only one resulted in a Smoker score.

Two fast double plays also cut off Tampa's chances in the fourth inning. Walzak, McQue, and Bailey cut off two Tampa runs when they doubled Lee and Allen, and in the ninth Collier took Alvarez's loft to left and relayed to home plate to Alford to throw Brown out at third.

RALLY HERE OF FLORIDA BOAT CHRISTIANS IS SUNK BY BLAST NEAR NORFOLK

Five Ministers of Neighboring Christian Churches Attend Sessions at Women's Club

Reports made at the rally of the Christian Church of this city at the Women's Club Tuesday afternoon showed that 48 members of that denomination are residing in Sanford, who have not taken out membership in other churches. It is believed by members of the local church that there are still others in or near Sanford, who will bring the number to about 75.

A fine program featured the gathering and good attendance was reported for both sessions and genuine interest was manifested in the work of the organization.

L. J. Jackson, of Ocoee, president of the district including Seminole and five other counties, presided at the meeting. Other ministers present and taking part in the services were J. J. Morgan of DeLand, A. M. Chisholm of Orlando, O. H. Greenwell, of South Orlando, Edward Rudicel of Leesburg and O. S. Brooke, of Sanford.

There was also a delegation of members of the Christian Church of Orlando which attended both sessions of the rally Tuesday.

Among the pleasant features of the program were solos by Mrs. A. M. Phillips, accompanied by Miss Margaret Davis, and "Homer J. Clause," accompanied by Mrs. Clause.

At the evening session a vote was taken as to the desirability of effecting an organization, which was carried without a dissenting vote. It was then decided to ask for those present who desired to become part of such an organization to sign as charter members and all members of the church present signed up for the work.

"Future services," said O. S. Brooke, local minister, this morning, "will be held at the Legion Hall until further notice to which the public is cordially invited. It will be greatly appreciated if any one knowing of members of the Christian Church who are not identified with other churches, will report the names of such to some member already in the work or to the minister."

New Municipal Hall Believed By Citizens To Be Best In Florida

VICE PRESIDENT SANFORD BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN ASSERT STRUCTURE IS A VALUABLE ASSET

Cost Completed Is Nearly $75,000

Although Cost Is Low, Building Is Said To Be Best Obtainable

It is the consensus of opinion of a large number of business and professional men of Sanford who have been approached on the subject that the new municipal hall which will be formally opened with an appropriate celebration Thursday, is the finest in the state of Florida for a city the size of Sanford and that it may be ranked among the best municipal buildings in small cities throughout the entire south.

It is their belief that insofar as quality and quantity are concerned Sanford has secured a very admirable structure in which to house its various city departments. The building was erected and furnished well within the original estimate of the city engineer, it is announced, although it is asserted by those in a position to know that Sanford has secured the very best obtainable in this line.

Short comments or opinions on the new municipal building have been secured from a number of Sanford's representative business and professional men, a few of which follow.

In speaking of the new city hall, J. J. Holly has the following to say:

"The opening of the new city hall and other buildings marks another era in a greater Sanford and demonstrates to the world that this city believes in beautiful architecture and solid and substantial buildings. Whether you get the thought of a certain city having that spirit of progressiveness in the manner of planning public buildings, pretty parks, and subdivisions has much to do with your taking a fancy to that particular city."

"Sanford is bound to attract the right sort of people here through our efforts to have municipal buildings, new schools, and adequate facilities of all kinds for the making and development of a greater city here. Our new city buildings will be in keeping with that right sort of people here through our larger program of lake front development, yacht club, ballparks, and beautiful villas, and everything that goes with such development. In the opening of our new city buildings we can visualize our big city and the spirit that predominates here in such development."

County Judge James G. Sharon, in speaking of this structure, declared that he knows of nothing which adds more to the efficient official convenience of the city of Sanford than the new city hall which has just been completed under the management of the present administration.

"There has long existed a great need for a suitable meeting place for the assembling of the citizens of Sanford in conventions and mass meetings," Judge Sharon continues, "where large bodies of people could be properly and conveniently seated and cared for, and this magnificent building meets this great need of a thriving and growing city. It is greatly appreciated by the public in general. The city commissioners are to be congratulated upon the completion of this structure."

Vote Of Confidence Given Painleve By Members Of Chamber Of Deputies

PARIS, June 24.—Premier Painleve at an early hour this morning obtained a vote of confidence in the chamber on his Moroccan policy. The deputies supported him 510 to 30.

The premier succeeded once more in renewing the "sacred union" of all parties behind him. By its vote the chamber gave him carte blanche to prosecute the war against the Ruffians until "peace with dignity" can be achieved.

The session was suspended eventually. Colonel Picot offered his apologies for the scene, explaining that as he had fought in the war he could not bear to see France attacked.

Then for six hours a verbal battle raged with the Communists Doriot and Berthon holding the stratum from 5 o'clock in the evening until 11 o'clock. The right and centre parties, incensed that Communists representing only twenty-six deputies out of 680, should be permitted to delay the proceedings, scored the Painleve government for its failure to put a stop to the Communist verbiage.

Sun Study Helps Science In Making More Accurate Its Forecasts Of Weather

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The heat of the sun has a proven relation not only to changes in the earth's temperature, but to the variations in weather conditions in general. Smithsonian institution scientists have decided after experiments covering a long period. To increase the dependability of their observations, the experts hope to establish within a few years stations in various parts of the world where data can be gathered.

Through a series of papers dealing with experiments of its astrophysical observatory, the institution says "researchers give clear proof of a connection between solar variations and weather changes, but show that the relation is a complex one."

Whether recent abnormal aspects of world-wide weather have been caused by solar conditions cannot be determined, because extended records of the past history of solar radiation are lacking.

Dr. C. G. Abbot, assistant secretary of the institution and the director of the astrophysical observatory, says that not only does the heat received by the earth from the sun appear variable, but that the changes can be predicted nearly a week in advance by looking at the sun through a telescope.

H. H. Clayton, who for several years was official forecaster of Argentina and recently has been collaborating with Dr. Abbot through study of the sun, has predicted with what the institution asserts is very fair accuracy, the actual daily temperature of New York City nearly a week in advance for more than a year.

For several years the work has been conducted from two observatories, one at Mount Harqua Hala, Arizona, and the other near Calama in the nitrate desert of Chile. Both are in high, arid locations. To increase the accuracy of the observations improvements are being planned for the Chile station while the Arizona observatory is to be moved to a higher location on Table Mountain, California, near Los Angeles.

Stations in the eastern hemisphere are needed and Dr. Abbot will go to Asia this fall and with funds supplied by the National Geographic Society seek a desirable location for an observatory with Beluchistan as his first objective. Later he will go to southwest Africa in search of a probable site for an observatory there.

Since 1922, researches have been conducted under the most unusual solar conditions known to modern science through a marked long continued low period in the amount of heat thrown out by the sun. Whereas the normal has been established as 1.94 calories per square centimeter per minute, this value, known as the solar constant, since 1922 has been as low as 1.90, or 2 per cent below normal. At present it is 1.92 and showing a tendency to rise. The phenomenal drop was first announced by Dr. Abbot in April, 1923, and he then pronounced that departures of some sort from normal weather conditions might be expected.

Mr. Clayton says that changes in the sun's heat almost immediately affect the barometer and the thermometer in western Canada and western United States, perhaps as a reaction from the tropical atmosphere, traveling with the velocity of sound. The atmospheric waves thus set up drift slowly south and east, and three days later are observable at New York City. Strangely enough it has been shown that it is not an increase, but a decrease of solar heating that makes it warmer in the east.

Chamber of Deputies Session Ends In Fight

PARIS, June 23.—Today's session of the Chamber of Deputies, considering the Moroccan question, broke into a free for all fight when white haired Colonel Picot rushed to the rostrum and slugged Communist Deputy Deriot squarely in the face as the latter was attacking the French government. Communists and Nationalists climbed upon the rostrum until 25 deputies were there milling around, wrestling and hitting each other wildly.

Program Halifax Frolics Will Be Widely Advertised

DAYTONA, Fla., June 23.—Fostered by the second largest chamber of commerce in the world, with a membership of 6,320, and an assured annual advertising fund of between $150,000 and $200,000 aside from individual contributions, the movement to establish Daytona, Daytona Beach, and Seabreeze, which in August will be consolidated under the name of Daytona Beach, as the premier combined summer and winter resorts of the country gained full headway last week.

This with the establishment of the membership record by the Daytona Chamber of Commerce, which is now surpassed by that on Los Angeles alone, and with the inauguration of a continent-wide pictorial publicity campaign in behalf of the Halifax Summer Frolics of July 1-4. The Frolics, combined with the world famed Seabreeze-Daytona Beach auto speedway, are being used, in fact, as a basis for attracting the attention of the United States and Canada to Florida's summer period advantages, coastal and interior.

With increased appropriations for various events to be staged along the Halifax and Tomoka rivers and the Atlantic Ocean, the Frolics program, it is claimed, will be the most varied yet presented in Florida during either the summer or winter seasons.

The sporting and aquatic events on the speedway and ocean, and in the municipal swimming pool, and the social functions in beach-barred resort hotels and over-ocean casinos, will be outstanding features of the four days' of festivity. Preparations have been completed for housing and feeding of record crowds at rates much lower than those in force in winter.

University of Florida Normal Course Will Be Expanded, Is Report

GAINESVILLE, Fla., June 23.—Plans under which the normal course at the University of Florida summer school will be expanded have just been announced by Dr. Joseph Roemer. These call for a demonstration school for children in the first five grades of grammar school.

Dr. Roemer explained that while the course was primarily for the actual experience that the normal school students will derive from it through observation of the results of specialized training of children, it would also afford the children within those grades an excellent opportunity for acquiring additional credit for advancement in the graded school for work that they will accomplish during the period that they are there.

The department of the University fostering the demonstration school, it is announced, is anticipating a large enrollment by children and students of the normal school.

Jap Consuls attacked

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Sanford Folks When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Sanford resident. Who could ask for a better example?

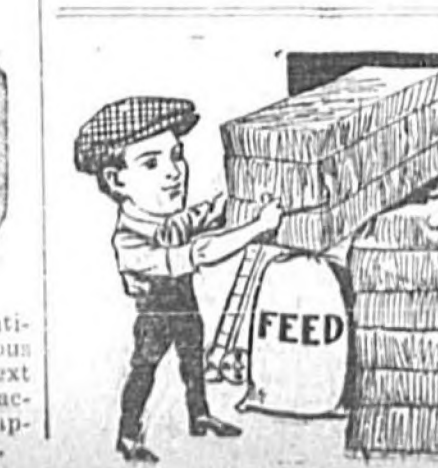

Mrs. A. Smith, 410 Palmetto St., says: "I had a steady, dull ache across the small of my back and felt worn out. I didn't have much ambition to do my household work and there were severe pains in the back of my head. I also had dizzy spells. I used Doan's Pills and they relieved me."

FOUR YEARS LATER, Mrs. Smith said: "I haven't had any signs of kidney complaint since and give Doan's credit for curing me."

FAIMAN STORY TO BE DISPUTED BY DEFENDANT

The defense late Monday produced a surprise witness in Miss Mabel A. McClanahan, of Manhattan, Ill., one of the nurses who attended Billy McClintock in his last illness.

Through her testimony two of the chief accusations in the state's circumstantial case against Shepherd were attacked.

Before his illness had been diagnosed as typhoid fever, Billy told her that he believed he had typhoid, the nurse testified, and it was she who insisted Miss Isabelle Pope, Billy's fiancée, be restrained from visiting the sick room.

The prosecution has said that Shepherd's telling others that the youth said prior to a diagnosis he believed he had typhoid was an "indirect confession," originated in a guilty conscience.

Barring Miss Pope from the room where Billy lay ill was described as a step in the antagonism the Shepherds developed toward the young woman after they found out she was affianced to their foster son upon whom they were dependent for a livelihood.

"Four—All of the attorneys for the state are serving without compensation and at their own expense. The cause is now being prosecuted like any other criminal case. Hon. Ed. Walthall, Co. Seminole Hudson-Essex Co., Sanford, Fla.

Dear Ed:

Evolution is one of the things that people are talking about a great deal these days.

Being a subject that most people know little about, naturally they talk a good deal about it.

But I'd like to ask Mr. Bryan just one question: How does he make his theory of man's not evolving from a monkey out with the fact that he left Nebraska and came to Florida to live in a county seat? Wasn't that the primal instinct asserting itself?

I don't know whether you believe that men were once monkeys or not. But I have this to say, that if a man can get through life with having been a monkey only once, he ought to be awarded the nickle plated shaving brush with the plate glass bristles.

There are arguments pro and there are arguments con on this great question which amounts to so little. Some fellow said the other day that it was hard to believe that Mr. Bryan descended from a "dumb" animal, and it may be remarked that the said man said what was a month plan, but if not running over.

It isn't so important what a man used to be, it's what he is today. That's what counts. It's what a man makes of himself. Some men make monkeys of themselves, and some men make hogs of themselves. Man is an animal. I don't believe even Mr. Bryan would deny that. And while he has no power to change the kind of animal he may have been, he can determine where only speculation and surmise can reach, he can determine what kind of an animal he is to be today and tomorrow.

The hard luck I have had makes me wonder if I didn't evolve from a goat, and I have heard men talk and become perfectly convinced that they must have a great deal of bull in them.

Let's let the intellectuals decide this question of evolution. The important question the average man is interested in today is, "What is the best buy in an automobile?" There is no uncertainty in the answer to that question. It's an Essex Coach. Yours,

OFFICIALS THINK TAX CUT BY NEXT SESSION LIKELY

First Definite Step Taken at Conference on Tuesday; Congressman and Mellon Agree Except on Estates

WASHINGTON, June 24.—The first definite step looking to tax reduction of $200,000,000 by the next Congress was taken Tuesday at a conference between Chairman Green of the House Ways and Means committee and Secretary Mellon and Under-Secretary Winston of the Treasury.

Mr. Green and the Treasury officials were understood to have been in agreement as to the general principles of an administration program. The committee chairman maintained his opposition to repeal of the estate taxes, favored by the administration but was said to have found little other ground for differences on the proposal to lighten the burden of the people by a cut of about the same proportion as was involved in the last tax revision.

No attempt was made yesterday to go into details of new rates and the discussion was confined almost wholly to a question of policy. The Treasury position has been stated repeatedly in official expressions by Mr. Mellon and Mr. Winston, and it will go no further than to submit its facts and figures to the house committee, with statements of its views when they are sought.

Mr. Green was informed yesterday of the state of the Treasury's finances and was given the views of those in charge there as to the way of reduction. It was not what they believed practicable in the returns, on the basis of disclosed whether the analysis of deduction by specific rates, was gone into but it was understood that the trend of income to the government from the surtaxes, lowered by the last law, was considerable.

It was also indicated that Mr. Green had informed the Treasury of his doubt that the estimate of $3,000,000,000 advanced by the president in his budget meeting address last night as the limit for government expenditures in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1926 could be attained.

There are produced within the state yearly 12,190,753 dozens of eggs, according to estimates of the poultry industry section of the agriculture department. The value of these eggs is placed at approximately $1,370,753.

New Municipal Hall Is Believed Best In State By Citizens

City's Fine Achievement "It has been a pleasure during the past several weeks," asserts C. L. Britt, local realty dealer, "to drive past the new city hall and point it out as one of Sanford's newest achievements to visitors and prospective investors in local real estate who have come here from other cities and states."

From the favorable comment I have heard on the building, it is second to none in the entire state." Mr. Britt has revealed that about a week ago a New York instructor and one knowing to say about the city hall: "Any town that can support a city hall of the character of the one in Sanford, with the population it has, must have a real live bunch of people behind it."

Great Progressive Step In commenting on the matter, Judge E. F. Householder stated that the new city hall marks one of the greatest steps of progress made under the present form of city government. As the housing of the city administration is a public example of the way the people of Sanford believe in doing things.

"The building is beautiful," continues Mr. Householder, "and the City Commission is to be congratulated upon its initiative in having it erected." In a short but concise statement to a representative of The Herald this morning, J. G. Ball, local hardware dealer, declared that the erection of the new city hall was a most constructive business vision in the progress of Sanford as seen by the people and the City Commission.

Elton J. Moughton, architect for the new city hall, stated that for a comparatively small sum, this city has secured one of the finest and largest city halls in the entire state, especially for a city the size of Sanford.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Conditions in China Tuesday took a turn for the worse. The reaction abroad as well as in foreign centers in China, was quickly felt. The New York Stock exchange noted the disturbances; shipping companies in Manila hastily revised their schedules, while missionary societies and others interested in the Far East sought more complete reports of the welfare of their representatives.

Attacks against Japanese featured the day's dispatches. The present wave of anti-foreignism has been directed principally against the Japanese and British, so that phase was not unexpected. Reports of assaults on Japanese came from four different Chinese cities—Wuhu, Chinking, Chungkiang and Wucho—all interior points, although Chungking is close to the mouth of the Yangtze river.

Darrow and Colby Speak to Graduates Of Law Institution

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., June 24.—Clarence Darrow and Bainbridge Colby, associate counsel for the defense of John T. Scopes, charged with violating the Tennessee law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in public schools of the state Tuesday night were principal speakers at the graduating exercises of the John R. Neal College of Law here.

Mr. Darrow, the principal speaker, told an audience which packed the Knoxville high school auditorium his philosophy of life. Touching for a moment during the address upon laws of the country, Mr. Darrow said: "The country has fallen upon evil days. It seems that every organization has some law it is endeavoring to force upon the people. They are binding the people hand and foot. Some time they may wake up. I hope it will be before the last vestige of their liberty is gone."

"Sometime we may have men sent to the legislature to repeal laws instead of to enact more laws. Many of our legislators will vote for anything they think will bring them votes. And such is true of some of our senators. They voted for prohibition when they had liquor in their own possession. And they still have liquor. Sometime we may have a movement to let people alone. Some people would deprive men of all their liberty and save him despite himself."

This opinion to a degree also was voiced by Mr. Colby, who spoke briefly after Mr. Darrow. Many thinking Americans, Mr. Colby said, are viewing the existing conditions with increasing alarm.

Dr. Neal, president of the law school, who was referred to by Mr. Darrow as the man who framed the first juvenile court law, that of Colorado, presented Mr. Darrow, Mr. Colby and Dudley Field Malone with the honorary degree of doctors of laws.

The attorneys motored to Knoxville this afternoon with Dr. John R. Neal, senior defense counsel George W. Rappeyea, former prosecutor in the case.

The trip from Dayton to Knoxville, over slippery roads, was spent in conference.

CORRECTION

Through a typographical error in Tuesday's issue of the Herald in connection with the story on the awarding of contracts by the city for the construction of additional bulkheading, it was stated that the contract for the retaining wall was awarded at a price of $287.75 per linear foot. The figure should have been $27.75 per linear foot.

The City of Orlando Extends Greetings and Congratulations to the City of Sanford on the completion of its new City Hall. JAMES L. GILES, Mayor. J. G. MANUEL J. H. SUTHERLAND J. J. NEWELL F. W. FLETCHER Commissioners

We Extend - - Our Heartiest Congratulations!

Greetings to the people of Sanford and also to the city administration, on the new city hall just completed. It is a beautiful building and sufficient to care for the needs of a rapidly growing municipality. It shows the character of Sanford's citizenship. It is an evidence of the sound and substantial way the city is being built.

We are particularly happy to have this beautiful structure, Sanford's finest public building, located on property purchased from us and situated adjacent to our extensive holdings on the lakefront.

Those who selected the location for the new administration building of the city showed far sightedness and keen business judgment. Park Avenue near the lake, the yacht basin, the municipal pier, the new Dixie Highway, is destined to become one of the city's finest business sections and with the developments which are certain to come to that section of the city, will become its most valuable property.

The officers of this company, which is heavily interested financially in Sanford real estate wish to assure the city officials and the citizens of Sanford that they are most heartily in accord with all big development projects and will at all times be pleased to lend their cooperation and assistance in any way possible so that this city may become a greater city and its people a more prosperous people.

POPULAR WINTER HAVEN GIRL WEDS SIDNEY O. CHASE JR. OF SANFORD

Sidney O. Chase, Jr., second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Chase of Sanford and Miss Margaret Barclay Lane, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lane, of Winter Haven were married at 7:30 p. m. in the Baptist Church at Winter Haven, June 20.

The church, which has been recently remodeled, was decorated with palms, asparagus fern, pink radiance roses and many tall white tapers. While the guests were assembling, N. D. Cloward, brother-in-law of the bride, sang several beautiful numbers.

The ushers entered to the strains of the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and took their places in the chancel; they were Philip Griffin, Herbert Rogers, John Sharp and Henry Tilden, of Winter Haven; Frank Chase and B. F. Whitner, Jr., of Sanford. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. N. D. Cloward, as matron-of-honor, who was gowned in gray with a gaitie fashioned over pink; with this she wore a large gray hat and carried pink radiance roses. Little Miss Patricia Cloward, the tiny niece of the bride, carried a basket of pink flowers.

The bride wore white satin with pearl embroidery, entrain, with a veil of tulle and lace, which was caught with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and valley lilies. She came down the center aisle with her father, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the groom with his best man, Randall Chase of Sanford. The pastor of the church, Rev. Griffin, married them, according to the Episcopal Service.

A reception was held at "Casa Juanita" on Lake Mirror, the future home of the bride and groom, for the immediate relatives and friends after which Mr. and Mrs. Chase left in their car for North Carolina.

Those attending from Sanford included: Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Chase and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Whitner and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Jr., Mrs. E. D. Mobley, Miss Martha Fox, Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Albert Connelly, Mrs. Dean Turner, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Herringer, Miss Doudney, Miss Ver-nay, John McKee, Caruthers Hutcheson, also J. C. ## MISS SPENCER IS ENTERTAINED BY EPWORTH LEAGUE

Miss Spencer attired in a becoming gown of cream embroidered net over lavender baronette satin entered to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march and was seated in the bride's chair, which was fashioned in white, banked in potted ferns and enclosed in an arch entwined with asparagus ferns and red roses and bearing the letters "Redfern."

An interesting program followed: Vocal selection, Mrs. Claude Herndon; reading, "Engaged," by Miss Virginia Jenkins; piano solo, Miss Clifford Shinholer; reading, "Married," by Miss Edw. S. Ward; solo, "I Love You Truly," by Miss Lillie Ruth Spencer; reading, "Up the Aisle," by Miss Lillian Thornley. Music was furnished throughout the evening by Miss Charlotte Smith.

WHOSE MONEY WILL YOU SPEND ?

Vacation time is here. Thousands of our citizens are planning for their yearly rest periods and fun-time. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will be expended by vacationists all over the United States, and it is as it should be.

But whose money will YOU spend this year? Will it be your own, or will it be money you justly owe Sanford merchants that has been allowed to become long-past due?

However badly you need a rest, can you, with a clear conscience, spend a large sum that would go a long way toward settling up those old accounts, leaving your merchant friend here to "hold the bag."

Every man, woman and child is entitled to a rest period, a vacation. But every man who is a man should see to it that he pays his own way. Before you start out THIS year, make SOME KIND of arrangements to meet your bills promptly, when due.

UNITED STATES FOREIGN TRADE LARGE IN 1924

Volume for Last Year Passed All Previous Records, But This Year Gives Promise Breaking That of All Time

Trend of Trade Is Steadily Upward

Farrell Says War Stimulated Activities and Injected The Fluctuation Element

SEATTLE, June 24.—While the foreign trade of the United States last year passed all previous records in volume, this year gives promise of exceeding it, James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation, told the National Foreign Trade convention today. Mr. Farrell also is chair of the National Foreign Trade Council.

The volume of American exports and imports for the calendar year 1924, Mr. Farrell said, was $7,160,000 long tons and the aggregate value was more than $8,200,000,000. To give an idea of the magnitude of the volume he said that if the tonnage could be handled in a day through any one port it would require a fifty-car freight train every seven minutes during the entire 24 hours to clear the docks.

remunerative prices. Expert prices, however, are determined by competition of foreign markets. Therefore, it behooves us to keep our production costs at the lowest possible level through resourcefulness in the use of mechanical devices, in the utilization of every possible improvement in facilities for production and economy in overseas distribution.

"We can produce, we can sell, and we have done fairly well in meeting foreign competition, even in periods, like the present, of exceptional severity. Neither we nor any other people can sell if we cannot find markets which have the power to buy. That is one respect in which the American exporting manufacturer has advantage over all others. He has a market of enormous capacity at home, almost always capable of absorbing the chief part of his output, thereby enabling him to reduce unit cost through increased production. The constantly mounting sums spent yearly in this country for luxuries, and trivialities, testify to the extraordinarily rapid increase of wealth here. Based on this home market our manufacturers are well justified in looking abroad for fields, the supplying of which will enable them to produce more than they can expect to sell at home. Naturally they seek first for those foreign markets to which their products are likely to appeal, and which have the buying power to take them. In most cases Europe has been our chief foreign buyer.

"There is an impression widely prevalent among Americans, that Europe has been a purchaser only of our raw materials, but even a casual examination of the detailed government reports will show that Europe is a heavy purchaser of a great range of manufactured articles and luxuries, as well as of raw materials and agricultural products.

"Europe will in the nature of things regain a portion of her former trade in neutral markets as soon as industry becomes reconstructed in the nations of that continent.

"Europe is steadily growing into a better condition. The Russian experiment with communism is still slowly working out its disastrous course, but in practically all other countries, with the possible exception of Great Britain, where unemployment continues to be a serious problem, the improvement is marked. In Italy, France, Belgium and Germany, unemployment is practically negligible.

growing. Its production is increasing, and that means increased buying power. International trade grows as the world grows, and we may reasonably count upon getting our share. Such in brief is the situation facing our foreign trade, it is one of hopefulness and we should look forward to it as an increasing element in the prosperity of our country."

Hill Lumber Company Furnishes Plaster and Cement for City Hall

The Hill Lumber Company, home of "Zip Service" in this city for lumber and building materials, furnished the plaster and cement used in the construction of Sanford's new municipal hall.

In a statement to the public, officials of the company announce that they sell only the best quality lumber and building materials. "We are proud to have taken such an important part in the building of Sanford's new city hall," they said.

The Hill Lumber Company has been in existence here for many years at its present location. During the past few months contracts have been awarded for new buildings to house the materials and offices of the company in a less thickly populated section of the city. Construction of these buildings is now well under way.

It is believed that with the facilities offered by the new plant, even better service may be given the people of Sanford than during past years.

An average of one car of fruit every four and one half minutes in the year is shipped by the citrus fruit growers in the state.

Seminole County Bank Rejoices With Friends Over New City Hall

"We rejoice with our friends," assert officials of the Seminole County Bank, "in the completion of Sanford's new city hall, which we believe to be the finest in the state. Sanford people have a right to feel happy and prosperous. Where is there a city in Florida with finer people and a more progressive spirit?"

The Seminole County Bank was organized a number of years ago and at first had only two regular employees in charge. It has kept pace with the growth of Sanford and is now the second largest banking institution in this city.

Officials of the bank declare that co-operation is the secret of Sanford's success and as long as "this spirit continues we may look for even greater days." Mayor Forrest Lake is president of the institution.

Halverson Furnishes Paint For City Hall

All paints, varnishes and interior and exterior stain for the new city hall were furnished by the Sanford Paint and Wall Paper Company of this city. The store of the company is located in the Welaka Building on First Street.

H. A. Halverson, owner of the paint store, has announced that he has a complete line of high grade paints, stains, varnishes, kalsomines, oils and brushes. # Another Notable Achievement

In the completion of Sanford's new Municipal Building the city government has added another notable achievement to its steadily increasing list of things well done. Sanford has a city hall, modern in every respect, and one bringing great credit to this prosperous and progressive city. Few cities in Florida, if any, have as fine public buildings as Sanford.

Our city is accomplishing great things in this day of development. With the building of public buildings, the erection of new churches, the construction of business blocks, the paving of many miles of asphalt streets, the bulkheading of the lake, and many other worth while and far reaching projects, Sanford is showing the way to many other Florida communities.

And while the city is doing great things, there are other forces at work also striving to bring to Sanford the approval of the public. We have in mind the development of property, the laying out of high class residential areas, the building of parks, and in general the carrying on of a constructive program on the part of realty developers.

The development work at Fort Mellon is steadily going ahead. Great surprise has been manifested on the part of residents who have driven over the new streets in that development. Sidewalks have been put down, and as quickly as the landscape men can get to it the beautification program will be gotten under way.

Pine Heights is growing to be the logical location for high class residences. Persons who desire to live in the southern section of the city are purchasing homesites in this subdivision which lies within convenient reach of the city and in line with rapid development.

Both of these properties are being developed by the Fort Mellon Development Company, and while nearly all of the lots in the first section of Fort Mellon have been sold, there still remain a few that are available. We are not pushing the sale of lots in Pine Heights but are always willing to assist those desiring to live in this part of the city, in the selection of a most desirable location for their homes.

Sanford property is daily becoming more valuable. Such developments as the building of new public buildings add greatly to the value of real estate in this city, and this company could not allow the opportunity to pass, without extending its congratulations and best wishes to those who have been instrumental in bringing to Sanford such a fine municipal building.

We Welcome Our New Neighbors

On the completion of the new Masonic temple we secured office space on the first floor and move our business to that location. To a certain extent we were pioneers in the real estate business in that part of the city, which used to be off the beaten line of travel.

Conditions have changed a great deal and we feel now that we have a right to welcome into the new business section, on Park Avenue near the lake, the city government and all those who come this way.

We shall be glad to have you call to see us tomorrow or any other time you happen by.

Revised Labor Provisions For Immigration Advocated By Secretary Labor Davis

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Revision of the new immigration law to provide a selective system for bringing immigrants to the country will be sought at the next session of Congress by Secretary Davis of the Labor Department, who has irritation over immigration questions.

Chief among the changes proposed will be one in connection with the contract labor provisions of the law, under which aliens are not permitted to come to this country at present if they have promise or contract for employment after reaching these shores.

This provision, in the view of Secretary Davis, attaches a maximum risk to emigration from other countries, and discourages from coming here the class of immigrants most desirable to this country. He believes that the hard-working, substantial type of immigrant who has a family to support is almost barred under the present law because if he comes here he must do so blindly, with no assurance that he may have employment after arriving.

If such aliens were given assurance of work before leaving their home-lands, the secretary believes that under proper supervision, such a plan would induce a higher type of foreigner to take up citizenship here.

American labor, however, the secretary insists, must be given complete protection, work being offered to prospective immigrants only after it is found that there is no available American labor for the places to be filled.

It is to this end that the secretary proposes to maintain agents of the immigration bureau abroad, much after the method of maintaining commercial attaches in foreign lands.

These agents would be kept advised, under the secretary's plan, of the labor needs of industry in this country, and from the list of prospective immigrants in the hands of the immigration attaché, the best available men abroad would be picked and brought to this country. The plan contemplates removal of the alien's entire family, which in itself, the secretary feels, would remove one of the greatest evils of the present system, the effect of which requires the alien to come here and find employment before sending abroad for the remainder of his family.

One of the greatest advances the secretary believes possible under the present law was made recently when agents of the State, Treasury and Labor departments were sent abroad to establish in the Irish Free State and later, if possible, in other countries, a system of inspection and examination of aliens abroad. This system, combined with a system of selecting immigrants abroad, Secretary Davis feels, would remove the two greatest problems of the immigration bureau.

Bischof, secretary of the local club, welcoming the club into the association.

Coleman Gift Shop Furnishes City Hall Office Equipment

Office equipment and fixtures for the new city hall which will be formally opened Thursday were furnished by the Coleman Gift and Stationery Shop. Any kind of office and executive equipment, it is understood, may be secured through this firm, which is located in the Bishop building, south of the Milane Theater on Magnolia Avenue.

W. S. Coleman, owner of the shop, personally supervised the installation of the new city hall equipment which included chairs, desks, tables, file cabinets and other office supplies.

The Coleman Gift and Stationery Shop has been located in Sanford for the past two years. The volume of business, it is declared, has grown considerably during the past several months and now articles and lines of goods have been added from time to time. Books, current magazines, stationery, office equipment and all kinds of gifts, tokens and the like may be secured there.

Sturdy Boat Celebrates Long Useful Career

years ago and still in service between Southampton and Newport on the Isle of Wight, completed recently her 38,000th crossing of the Solent channel. The Bee began her sea duty in 1881 and is one of the very few ships remaining from whose decks men witnessed a British naval victory at sea with Nelson on board. During one period of her career she was commanded for 48 years by the same captain.

The Bee has been on the Isle of Wight run virtually all of her existence up to the present time and, according to members of her loyal crew, she is good for many years yet to come. The little craft has carried more than 500,000 tons of cargo between the mainland and the Isle of Wight, covering something like 600,000 miles, although the distance between Newport and Southampton is but 18 miles.

J. MOUGHTON RAWS PLANS NEW CITY HALL

Architect Is Author Plans and Specifications The Municipal Building

Plans and specifications for the new city hall were drawn by J. Moughton, architect, who in the past three years has been architect of the new city hall. A number of other local structures were designed by Mr. Moughton, these including the city jail which is under construction, the proposed county jail for which bids are now being advertised, the new Side Primary School, the new Building, the Masonic Temple and the Edward Higgins Garage. It is learned, first at his profession in Sanford a number of years ago, working here as an architect for a period of two years. He then went to Pennsylvania, where he was engaged in structural steel work. He was next located in Birmingham, Ala., in the employ of the York Steel Corporation again engaged in structural steel work. Following his employment in Birmingham, Mr. Moughton moved to Ocala, Fla., where he remained for approximately three years until he moved to this city. The architect returned to this city three years ago and since that time has drawn plans and specifications for a large number of business, civic, and residential buildings, among which are those now named.

Mr. Moughton, during his stay in Pennsylvania and Alabama, designed under several of America's foremost architects. He sets to this as a great factor in the successful outcome of his work during recent years.

Edward F. Lane Proud of New City Building

As a resident of Sanford for 34 years, who has seen the city grow from a small hamlet to the prosperous and progressive community that it is today, I am proud to extend my congratulations to the City Commissioners and others connected with the construction of the city's handsome new municipal building.

Dyer Does Painting In New Municipal Hall

Painting in the new municipal building was done by G. Taylor Dyer, painter, of this city. Mr. Dyer calls the attention of the people to the wall finish, the paper painting and the stained glass work and varnishing in the hall. Mr. Dyer, in addition to being a painter of long experience is also a decorator.

City's Oldest Banking Firm Congratulates People On City Hall

The First National Bank is among the business institutions extending its congratulations to the people of Sanford, to the city commissioners and all those who had a part in the erection of the new city hall.

Sanford's oldest banking institution is headed by F. P. Forster, who has been connected with it in this capacity a great number of years. Mr. Forster is one of Sanford's pioneer citizens and has witnessed the growth of this city from a small town to the Sanford of today.

The institution, it is pointed out, showed its confidence in Sanford when, two years ago, it erected its present six-story home at First Street and Park Avenue.

General Andrew Jackson was the first military governor of the territory of the two provinces and he served until March 3, 1822. He was succeeded by William P. Duval of Kentucky, who was the first civil territorial governor. Duval served two years.

W. D. GERBRICK IS BUILDER OF NEW CITY HALL

Jacksonville Contractor Congratulates Sanford On Completion of City Building

W. D. Gerbrick, contractor and builder of Sanford's new municipal building says this structure is not only one of the best of its kind in all Florida but that it is also a credit to the entire state. City officials recently declare that Mr. Gerbrick, as a competent judge of municipal buildings, has highly complimented them upon their initiative in erecting Sanford's $75,000 city hall.

In speaking of the city hall Mr. Gerbrick has the following to say in behalf of his company:

"We congratulate Sanford on the completion of her new city hall.

"This is but another manifestation of the dignity and high quality of civic pride maintained by the citizens of Sanford. You are to be congratulated on having such an efficient, capable, energetic, progressive body of city officials, who are today building a substantial foundation for a great city with real American principles and ideals to rest upon. And I feel safe to predict that when the rains fall and the floods come she shall not fall because of her solid foundation. Sanford is rightly named the "City Substantial."

"For these reasons we predict for Sanford a wonderful steady, normal, natural and substantial growth. We are backing this judgment with our dollars by buying Sanford real estate. We think that it is as good as United States Bonds.

"We wish to take this means of thanking the city officials for the confidence imposed in us in granting us this contract."

Mr. Gerbrick also has the contract for Sanford's new city jail which is fast nearing completion. It is declared that this building also will be one of the finest of its kind in the state.

The new Hotel Forrest Lake in this city, which is now nearing completion, is also the work of the W. D. Gerbrick Company.

The 1924 registration of automobiles in Florida showed that there were 195,128 motor vehicles in the state. The gross revenue derived from licenses placed on these motors totaled $6,077,610.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER
By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON—This is a hard one. Unless the reader is deeply learned, as I'm not, he never'll be able to grasp its fine points. But the broad general principle is clear.

Ever hear of pi? Not pi of printer's pi. Pi—16th letter in the Greek alphabet. Higher mathematics, as you know if you're up on such stuff, pi is used to denote the ratio of a circle's circumference to its diameter. It starts with 3 and ends with an infinitely—literally so—of decimals. The dictionary runs it up to 3.14159265 and then stops, out of breath.

To scientists the impossibility of arrivals, in this life, at the final decimal is an infernal nuisance. It prevents the solving of certain riddles, like squaring the circle, which it's every mathematician's burning ambition to find the answer to.

Well, speaking of freak laws, Prof. Fisher, the political economist, has dug up the fact that a Tennessee legislator once tried to help science out of this difficulty—by statute. He introduced a bill to make pi stand for 3 flat.

Compared with anti-evolutionary enactments, what do you know about that?

Practically nobody is perfectly bi-lingual. This is very noticeable in Washington, with its large assortment of foreign diplomats—highly educated, especially in the languages, and some of them even longer practiced in English than in their native tongues. But they started with the latter and what they started with is what sticks. They may fool you for a while, but sooner or later some little accent or mistaken interpretation of a shade of meaning gives them away.

More than anything it's difficult to write naturally in two languages. To illustrate: Connected with one of the Latin American legations here is a secretary whose conversational English is fluent and accurate as any American's, but he writes a trifle stiltily. One day it occurred to me to ask one of his legation mates what this chap's letter was like. "Oh," said the latter, "it's as good as you can expect from anybody who knows English so well." That's it. Either one language has a slight edge on the other or neither is quite right.

The Latin, particularly the Spaniard, has the strange delusion that his language is very rich and English very poor. "We have a word for everything," as one Spanish speaking diplomat there explained to me, "but in English you have to use combinations of them to make yourself clear." The mere fact that the English dictionary contains at least 30 per cent more words than any Latin tongue's, isn't recognized as counting for a thing—except, if you do prove it you're very apt to lose the Latin friend you've proved it to.

Pronunciation will work wonders with a word. The O-fahr-rail pronounced with the r's strongly rolled and the accent on the last syllable—family frequently has a visiting member in Washington from Spain. On the hotel register he signs it O'Farrel. One of the Latin American attaches I know, a great movie fan, has a lot to say about Norma Tahl-mahd-kay—accent on the second syllable—but it wasn't until he showed it to me in print that I realized he meant Norma Talmadge. Once I saw "coq-tela" on the wine list in a Barcelona hotel and when I ordered a Martini seco, or dry, I found I'd guessed right.

Lighting Fixtures Of City Hall Provided By Peninsular Company

Lighting equipment which was installed during last week in the new municipal hall was furnished by the Peninsular Electric Company of this city. Selection of part of the fixtures, according to the city manager, was left up to E. B. Randall, proprietor of the large chandeliers, which were hung from the center of the ceiling in the auditorium, and his choice of fixtures has been highly commended.

The company has been operating in Sanford for a number of years in the Merrivether building on Magnolia Avenue. All kinds of electrical equipment, including lighting fixtures, electric fans, vacuum cleaners, percolators and other cooking utensils, are handled by the company.

There is also an electrical installation department, supervised personally by Mr. Randall.
