

REPEAL EXCESS PROFIT TAX AND INCOME SURTAX ABOVE THIRTY-TWO PER CENT.

One and All Freight and Passenger Taxes

AGREED ON TODAY

REPUBLICANS OF HOUSE WAYS AND MEANS COMMITTEE AGREE ON IT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Repeal of the excess profits tax and income surtaxes above 32% effective as of last January 1 and of all freight and passenger transportation taxes as of next January 1st were agreed upon today by Republicans of the House Ways and Means Committee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Having agreed to elimination of the soda fountain, ice cream and so called luxury taxes on wearing apparel and a 50 per cent cut in the levy on sporting goods, Republican members of the house ways and means committee returned today to the job of revenue revision determined to make further reductions in the total tax the American people will be called upon to pay this fiscal year.

A 50 per cent cut in the transportation levies, both passenger and freight was declared to be practically a certainty. Those members who heretofore have urged immediate repeal of all of these taxes were understood to be prepared to press their point with the argument that this could be done readily if repeal of the excess profits and higher surtaxes is delayed until next January 1, as now proposed.

The total loss of revenue involved in cutting off the transportation taxes was estimated at $260,000,000, or less, it was stated, than the loss that would be entailed this year through making the repeal of the excess profits and higher income surtaxes retroactive to last January 1. It also was urged that the cutting off the levies on freight and passenger traffic would prove of real help to business through savings in freight charges and added expenses of traveling salesmen.

Formal agreement among the majority members as to the total that will be absolutely necessary to run the government this fiscal year has not yet been reached and it was said that further specific tax cuts might await such an agreement. There also was talk of conferences with President Harding to obtain his advice in the solution of the major problems before the committee.

Having been excluded from participating in the framing of the bill, Democratic members of the committee are giving independent study of the revision question. Representative Kitchen, the Democratic leader, who is detained at his home in North Carolina by illness, has been kept fully informed on the public hearings and it is understood that his counsel will be sought in framing any report that the Democrats may decide to make after they have studied the Republican draft of the measure.

COL. JOHN MARTIN VERY ILL AT HOME NEAR OCALA TODAY.

(By The Associated Press) OCALA, Aug. 10.—Col. John M. Martin, last surviving member of the Confederate States congress, and one of Ocala's oldest citizens, is seriously ill at his home here. He rested well last night but very weak today, physicians said. Little hope is held for his recovery on account of his advanced age, eighty-nine. His wife, two daughters and three sons, are at his bedside.

Representative Garner of Texas, the ranking Democrat on the ways and means committee in the absence of Mr. Kitchen, came out flatly today for full repeal of the transportation taxes and the so-called nuisance taxes, including the ten per cent tax on bottled soft drinks, and against any of the new or increased taxes suggested by Secretary Mellon.

The Texas member also is of the opinion that a much greater return can be had from back taxes than the treasury has estimated. He thinks that instead of the $235,000,000 given in Mr. Mellon's statement to the committee nearly $500,000,000 can be obtained from this source this fiscal year.

VIMY RIDGE HERO LEADER OF CANADIANS

NEW GOVERNOR OF CANADA ARRIVES AT QUEBEC TODAY

(By The Associated Press) QUEBEC, Aug. 10.—Quebec is in holiday attire today for Canada's new governor, General Baron Byng of Vimy, due to arrive this evening on the steamer, Empress of France. Lord Byng, then General Sir Julian Byng, leaped into fame in the spring of 1917 when he led the Canadians in storming and capturing a supposedly impregnable German position on Vimy Ridge.

NO WOMEN ELECTED IN VIRGINIA NOW

SEVERAL RECEIVED VOTES IN PRIMARY BUT NOT ENOUGH

(By The Associated Press) RICHMOND, Va., Aug. 10.—Despite the fact that several women candidates for the Virginia legislature had received votes in the state Democratic primary last week, not one will be a member, according to the list of nominees given out today. All women candidates were defeated.

ELWELL STORY NOT BELIEVED BY FAMILY OF MISS CLARKE —SHE WAS IN STATE AT TIME

Postoffice Inspectors Discredit Loan of $38,000

MIAMI, Aug. 10.—Mrs. J. W. Warner, sister of Lena Clarke (now under arrest in Orlando in connection with the robbery of the West Palm Beach postoffice and the death of F. A. Miltmore,) declared today after returning from a visit with her parents in West Palm Beach, that the statements made by her sister were as much a mystery to the family as to the public. She expressed the belief that Joseph Elwell had never loaned her sister the $38,000 to cover an alleged shortage. She said in her opinion such a shortage never existed.

WEST PALM BEACH, Aug. 10.—Joseph B. Elwell's name was brought into the murder-postoffice robbery mystery in which Lena Clarke, postmistress here and daughter of a retired clergyman, who has confessed both the theft of $32,000 from the local postoffice and the slaying of F. A. Miltmore in Orlando. The name of the whist expert, who was murdered in June, 1920, was mentioned by Miss Clarke in a signed statement given out in Orlando in which she stated that in 1918 Elwell had given her $38,000 to cover a shortage for which she blamed Miltmore.

Officials and towns people here scout her statement about Elwell in its entirety although at the time of the Elwell murder there was considerable reference to the "mysterious Miss Ellis of Palm Beach." Miss Clarke's statement said that she had written to Elwell again for financial aid in May, 1920, a month before his death, and that his death prevented her from getting any reply. Officials here ask the question why Miss Clarke's name was never before associated with the Elwell murder when the letter for money which she says she sent would most certainly have aroused suspicions in New York especially when the police were searching for a woman. Elwell had a winter home here on Lake Trail, south of Palm Beach, but never cut much of a figure in the social activities. The last reference to him is that his yacht Gardenia was stored at a local yacht yard on May 27, 1920.

Miss Clarke's statement was that she met Elwell through her brother Paul, who was at that time employed in the postoffice, and said that the two had been on a hunting trip to the Everglades. Paul was well known here as an intimate friend with the Seminole Indians who inhabit the Everglades. He was an amateur "snake charmer" and met his death on Christmas day from the bite of a Harlequin snake given him by friends which he had struck him in his mouth. He always boasted that the snakes would not bite him.

Postal inspectors doubt the $38,000 shortage in 1918. They continue to insist that the shortage of $20,000 on which they have been specifically working here dates back no farther than six or seven months. In a telegram to a local newspaper Miss Clarke last night said: "Have noticed exaggerated reports concerning my helping other people. Want to say to you to tell my friends the majority of people I have lent money to were soldiers who were down and out because the government they risked their lives for failed to give them a bonus after the war."

This is not borne out by facts in possession of officials. Her lavish expenditures have been carefully checked with her income. They include a diamond ring for one girl, a dinner in a local restaurant to 32 members of a church organization on the night before the robbery and numerous items far beyond the amount of money she earned as postmistress. The many contradictory statements that have been made by the woman are not deviating the postal inspectors from their original theory of her full responsibility for the robbery, and although they give no assurances to this effect they are understood to be closing in on possible suspects who have received some of the $32,000 that has not yet been accounted for.

SEPARATE PEACE COMPACT MAY PROVE UNDOING. REPUBLICAN ADMINISTRATION

SILESIAN QUESTION SIDETRACKED TEMPORARILY BY SUPREME COUNCIL.

(By The Associated Press) PARIS, Aug. 10.—The allied supreme council put the Slesian question, now apparently near a definite settlement, temporarily aside today while admitting a report of experts engaged in drawing a new boundary line between Poland and Germany in this area, agreed upon in the principle between France and England yesterday. The council, meanwhile, discussed the Greco-Turkish situation and the German disarmament question.

GERMAN BEACH OUTFIT

America and France have nothing on Germany when it comes to beach costumes, as may be judged by a glance at this outfit seen at a bathing resort there. Of course the outer garment of net lace is discarded before the lady enters the water—if she ever does.

Secrecy Over Situation Will Get Them in Bad

PUBLIC IN DARK

STATE DEPARTMENT AND PRESIDENT KEEP ALL PLANS SECRET

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 10.—More than a month has passed since congress by joint resolution tried to declare a state of peace with Germany but for reasons which have thus far been clouded in secrecy, neither a proclamation of peace has been issued nor has the American public been told officially by the department of state or the White House what the American commissioner in Berlin and the German government are talking about.

The senate foreign relations committee has not been given a draft of the memorandum now in the hands of the German government though it is known that the German reichstag committee has for weeks had the same under consideration.

It was in the senate that the Wilson administration met its Waterloo by failing to consult that body in the making of peace and Republican senators have been wont to say that the policy of secret diplomacy was repudiated at the polls last November.

The Wilson administration used to argue that international custom and international politics made it necessary to negotiate privately but the Harding administration is keeping the negotiations within the realm of secret diplomacy because of domestic politics—a fear of certain elements in the United States senate which might attempt to criticize the proposals if made public. Indeed, the department of state gives every evidence of intending to follow the Wilson steps by negotiating a treaty with Germany and then sending it to the senate which will be urged to accept it without qualification. The chances are the senate will have to take the treaty without the crossing of a "q" or the dotting of an "i."

The Democrats aren't particularly disturbed over that prospect for they defended it under the Wilson administration, but the elements in the senate which denounced the Wilson methods as unjustified for showing signs of restlessness over the fact that open diplomacy has again gone by the boards.

Their chief fear is that Secretary Hughes is establishing a precedent for the Harding administration which will be used to keep the press out of the disarmament conference and give out formal statements similar to the colorless announcements made daily at Paris while the real agreements and negotiations were kept secret and almost being handed to the public in peacekeeping fashion in books by those delegates who participated in the peace conference. But if the mystery over the conduct of the negotiations with Germany is unexplained, it is no less of concern to capitol hill than the reason why a peace proclamation isn't issued.

Mr. Hughes, it is contended, knows whether a proclamation of peace is necessary, he knows all about the law in the case. The question was referred to the department of justice as a way out—it was hoped the responsibility for the issuance of the proclamation could be placed on the department of justice and not an infringement on the handling of foreign policy by the secretary of state. But something has happened. Even the department of justice has taken its time and general inference is that the president has told the department it needn't hurry the decision. Meanwhile the department of state is hopeful of an early conclusion not its negotiations with Germany and once an agreement with the Berlin government is reached, it will be easier to take the position that the peace proclamation might as well be held up until after the separate peace treaty with Germany is signed by both parties.

Means Abandonment of Negotiations For Famine Relief

RIGA, Aug. 10.—Soviet Russia has released only six of the American prisoners who have arrived at Narva, Estonia, but the fact that only this half dozen were sent out of the country is said today to threaten a long delay in and perhaps abandonment of negotiations for American famine relief in Russia. The prisoners released were: Captain Emmett Kilpatrick, of Uniontown, Ala.; William Flick, Dr. Weston B. Eves, Zenophom Blumenthal, Henry J. Lemarc and Russell Pattinger.

CLEARWATER.—The death of Captain Thomas Lowe, aged 91, at the home of his son, Wesley B. Jones, here last Friday, marked the passing of one of Pinellas county's foremost pioneers. He was for many years engaged in the fishing industry and plied his trade not only in these waters but frequently his ventures led him to Central and South America, Cuba, and the West Indies. He built the first Methodist church and frame dwelling here and later aided materially in the erection of another edifice. Captain Lowe first came to Pinellas county from Key West in 1847 during one of his voyages on his boat, the "Sea Drift." Twelve years later he organized and headed a small party which migrated to the county from Key West. The party lived for some time in what is known as the McMullet place, but later Captain Lowe, brought a boat load of lumber from Cedar Keys, and the dwelling and church were erected. With the coming of the Civil War, Captain Lowe joined the confederate navy and was assigned as pilot to the Savannah. When word came of Lee's surrender, Captain Lowe participated in the sinking of the vessel. He again entered upon his fishing trade and built the "Asa Lowe," which was familiar in the coastwise trade for many years during the period of reconstruction. Captain Lowe is survived by his wife and three sons.

LIVE OAK.—Approximately 440 carloads of watermelons were shipped from Suwannee county during the current season according to shippers here. With incomplete statistics from McAlpin, O'Brien and Branford, on the Atlantic Coast Line, the Coast and Seaboard handled 386 carloads from other stations in the county. It is conservatively estimated that McAlpin, O'Brien and Branford shipped approximately 50 cars. One of the largest shippers placed the average selling price of melons at $150 a car.

JACKSONVILLE.—For the first time in the history of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce steps are being taken to determine the stand of the organization on the labor question with numerous members expressing the opinion that the "open shop" would be favored. Secretary Kessler has mailed to each member a questionnaire asking that the member vote for or against the "open shop" principle.

GAINESVILLE.—All crops in Florida are practically "laid by" and preparations for fall planting are in progress, according to the weekly review of crop conditions in this state made by the Federal Department of Crop Estimates, for the week ending Saturday. Late corn was reported generally, in excellent condition. Wet weather is unfavorable for the cotton crop; picking has started. Late planting of sweet potatoes continues, the report said, and early potatoes are moving in car lots. Prospects for hay and pasture were described as good. Rain is said to be interfering with harvesting. The condition of pasture continues to improve. No change from last week's review is reported for the citrus crop. Prospects are placed at fair to good. Local markets are said to be full of mangoes, guavas and other tropical fruits. The condition of all live stock continues good. There is a prospective shortage of hogs for fattening, the review says. Truckers are busy planting seed beds and preparing ground for winter crops. Supply and wages of farm labor are about normal in most sections.

TAMPA.—Federal prohibition agents under the direction of Deputy Marshal J. E. Cox, who say they are well versed in the lore of the moonshiner, recently encountered an irresistible barrier in their relentless hunt for illicit whiskey distillers. They pounced down upon a moonshiner right in the midst of operations near Six Mile creek, and immediately placed the man under arrest. The paraphernalia was destroyed and they started away with their captive. But a little eight year old daughter of the man couldn't see things in that light and tugging at Deputy Cox's trousers, pleaded hysterically that "Daddy" not be taken away. "I didn't have any heart left for that job," the deputy said. "None of the boys did. There was that little girl talking broken English mixed with French, and asking for her Daddy. I don't suppose they had enough to eat in the house. And if we took the man away and left the mother and kids—there were five in all—alone in that part of the woods, you couldn't tell what might happen." He was asked what did happen. "Well, I don't know

Augustine Election on License Tax Fee Postponed by City

ST. AUGUSTINE, Aug. 9.—The Ancient City had two special elections last month, and is to be saved another this month, at which it was expected it would be ascertained whether or not the electorate of St. Augustine approves the local bill of the last Florida Legislature authorizing the city of St. Augustine to fix license tax fees regardless of what the state assesses. It has been decided not to hold election this year, owing to the discovery by City Attorney E. Noble Calhoun and other city officials that such referendum election could not be legally called and held and the necessary license ordinance enacted in time to become effective before October, when the new license fees will be due. Since it is too late to affect this year's license fees, it was deemed advisable to postpone the election until January, when it can be held in connection with a regular general election in the city, thereby saving the cost of a special election.

As a result of considerable litigation with the St. Johns Electric Co., originating in the Circuit Court and finally appealed to and settled by the Florida Supreme Court, the city of St. Augustine found itself without legal authority to impose license fees greater than 50 per cent of those assessed and collected by the State of Florida. As a result, the local charter was amended by the 1921 session of the Legislature to give the city of St. Augustine authority and power to fix the amount of the license fees it shall impose, regardless of what the State charges various individuals, firms and corporations to do business, the legislative act containing a referendum clause, providing that the act would not become effective until it should have received approval by the voters at the polls.

REPUBLICANS TO INCREASE RATE OF PARCEL POST.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Parcel post rates must be increased, if an investigation shows that this service is responsible for an expected deficit of $70,000,000 in the postal revenue this year, Postmaster General Will H. Hays told the United Press yesterday.

Accountants and postoffice engineers are now checking through the entire country to learn if the parcel post is, as suspected, one of the two big losing ventures of the department. Until 1920 postal revenues exceeded expenditures for several years, but now deficits are showing, due to business depression, increased wages and increased compensation to railroads for carrying mail.

"The parcel post system is a commercial venture pure and simple," said Hays. "There is every reason, therefore, why it should be made at least self supporting. This does not hold true of some other services rendered by the postoffice which necessarily must be accomplished at a loss."

Hays declined to say whether he approved of the proposed one cent an ounce increase in first class mail rates as proposed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as a revenue producer. Postal officials, however, are known to be against this.

Hays explained why a deficit is expected this year and gave an itemized statement showing where and how the department plans to reduce operating costs by nearly $15,000,000.

"For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, the deficit will be found to be approximately $84,000,000 when the reports are all available. Of this, about $73,000,000 was due to increased compensation ordered by congress to employees, and $11,000,000 was additional pay to railroads under interstate commerce decisions.

whether the boys want it known, but we sort of agreed between us to make up the old man's bond ourselves and let him stay out there."

OCALA.—The state convention of the Florida Division of the National Farmers' Union will be held in Ocala August 24, 25, and 26 and in addition to the regular business sessions the delegates will be addressed by prominent speakers, including C. S. Barrett, president of the National Farmers' Union, Dr. C. K. McQuarrie, of the State Department of Agriculture and L. M. Roads, State Marketing Commissioner. Entertainment features arranged include a picnic and sight-seeing trip down the Silver and Oklawaha rivers.

Mr. Barrett will discuss "The Part the Farmers' Union has Played in National Legislation From Its Birth Until Now and Its Aims for the Future" and Dr. McQuarrie "The Part the Farmers' Union Has Played in the Fight for Better Farming in Florida." Both will speak at the initial session of the convention.

County Commissioner Takes His Position Despite Whitecapping

BUSHNELL, Aug. 9.—H. R. Fields, who on the evening of July 29 was kidnapped by five masked men and severely whipped, was yesterday to assume office as county commissioner of Flagler county, to which position he was appointed just prior to the beating.

Although the situation is Bunnell has been quiet since the whipping of Fields, citizens from the western section of the county have established and maintained a bodyguard about Fields' home for the past week in order to prevent any further violence. Fields was ordered to leave the city in 48 hours, but has refused to do so.

Mr. Fields was expected to make a strenuous effort to effect the re-organization of the county board with himself as chairman in place of N. E. Roberts of the third district and also endeavor to annul the F. F. Smith road-building contract for the hardsurfing of the Haw Creek road for 30 miles.

Strong efforts have been made to have Fields come down and let the business heads of Bunnell select a disinterested man—that is, one who has been in no way connected with the political controversy—for the place and recommend his appointment to the governor.

It is asserted that to stop the present contractor will involve the county in a number of lawsuits. The general fund of the county is very low owing to the large list of delinquent taxes and the county is in no shape to fight law suits at this time and may not be for months, and it is this future of the affair that lends so much bitterness to the opposition to Fields—he having pledged himself at the meeting last Sunday to fight the Smith contract and to have it annulled. The validity of the contract was maintained by the Circuit Court by enjoining the board of county commissioners from making any change in it several months ago; it was also passed upon by Landis, Fish and Hull, of DeLand as attorneys for F. F. Smith, contractor, as well as being passed upon as legitimate and of full force at the time the Harper contract was assigned by H. G. Harper to J. N. Pidecock in the early part of this year. It is Pidecock's assignment of the contract to F. F. Smith that Fields objects to and expects to kill.

CANTALOUPE CROP ON PACIFIC HEAVY.

Of special interest to Florida growers of cantaloupes is the announcement just made by the United States department of agriculture which declares that on July 9th, the movement from Imperial Valley, Cal., had reached 9,952 cars, or 857 cars in excess of the total movement for 1920, which was the heaviest preceding season. Although the movement has been exceptionally heavy, the department adds, the total might have reached 12,000 cars had it not been for the ravages of aphids, which resulted in the condemnation of between 6,000 and 8,000 acres of late melons.

Railroads and cantaloupe growers have been told that the movement of upward of 10,000 cars of food cantaloupes in such a short time has been a Herculean task, but has been handled with a minimum of confusion. Cars and ice were plentiful, the report concludes, and the melons reached the market in good condition.

One Born Every Fourth Minute

A lady who had a family of three children didn't want any more because she had heard that every fourth child born in the world was a Chinaman.

A ludicrous, perhaps, as an old misconception some skeptical folks used to have about advertising.

There was a time, when some advertisements had to be taken with a grain of salt. A few misguided advertisers thought they could sell their goods better by misrepresenting them. Those advertisers have long since gone out of business or mended their ways. Hard experience taught them that untruthful advertising didn't pay.

Other advertisers proved that the only way to advertise successfully, make regular customers, and build up good will was to TELL THE ABSOLUTE TRUTH about their goods in their advertisements.

You can depend on the merchant or manufacturer who advertises. The concern that tells you frankly what it is doing is a good concern with which to do business. The store that advertises is a progressive store that has something really worth while to say to you. And companies that advertise their products or their service have confidence in them. You can safely share their confidence.

Inferior merchandise cannot masquerade in the quality clothes of advertising.

BILLY SUNDAY IS RELEASED FROM HIS ORLANDO ENGAGEMENT.

Billy Sunday wants to fling his engagement with Orlando, according to a statement made public today by the President of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Sunday was to speak here next winter. His reason for requesting a release is that he will be needed in other parts of the country and he is afraid Orlando will be too busy entertaining the tourists to give much attention to his meeting. By unanimous vote the Chamber of Commerce released Mr. Sunday with regret.—Reporter-Star.

METZ AND THOMPSON ON DYE PROPOSITION.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The senate finance committee today heard a lengthy statement in opposition to dye embargo provisions in the Fordney tariff bill from H. A. Metz, New York dye maker and importer, and a defense of the administration of the present war time dye import restriction from Henry B. Thompson of Greenville, Del., chairman of the state department's advisory committee on import applications. Mr. Metz charged Francis P. Garvan, former alien property custodian, with having brought pressure to bear against firms opposing a dye embargo when such a plan was before congress in 1919.

The hearings before the committee in the controversy as to whether the tariff shall contain dye embargo provisions neared the end tonight and Chairman Penrose said he hoped to clean up the subject early tomorrow.

CHIC AND DEMURE

It is one of the favorite ways of Paris this season to fashion the blouse and skirt of a costume in contrasting materials. Here the skirt is of white sports silk, accordion plaited, while the blouse is of orange crepe Georgette trimmed with lace. The sash is of cotton ribbon, with orange dominating the color scheme. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 36-inch material for the skirt and 2 1/4 yards 36-inch Georgette for the blouse, with 3/4 yard filet insertion and 1 yard medallions. NOT A RARE ANNUAL, EITHER.

The fish bite better at certain times than others. The mosquito, too, has his periods of activity, and the despised red bug, or chigger, only attacks your skins at stated seasons. Also the rattlesnake and the moccasin desist from biting and take a rest during the cooler months, but there is one species of animals bite that claims all seasons for its own. It only attacks its own kind, and, like death, it leaves a shining mark. Its venom is not fatal, but it will sometimes disfigure its victim for life. Its peculiarity is that it bites most often where there is least provocation. No one is immune from its attacks. It is called the back-biter.—Eustis Lake Region.

REVIVAL OF THE LUMBER BUSINESS

The opening of the lumber business to full swing in the south is expected to be realized within three months, it was the consensus of opinion of the representatives of the Southern Pine Association in an all-day conference Saturday in the Mason Hotel.

The present marking time period would soon be supplanted with haste and activity and Jacksonville and other southern ports would share shipping business and railroad orders, it was declared.

Jacksonville was recently selected as headquarters of the association for development work in Florida and Georgia and it was particularly to discuss conditions in these states that the session was held. Over 30 members from all parts of the Southern pine belt attended.

This was the first session to be held in the city. The local office was opened July 1 by W. E. Gardner local manager, well known lumber man.

Thomas Hamilton, of Live Oak, vice-president at the session, J. E. Rhodes, secretary and manager, with offices in New Orleans, and J. E. Jones, chief inspector, were also present.—Florida Metropolis.

IN MEMORIAM.

Josief Erl Walker, born April 2nd, 1919, died August 7, 1921, aged 2 years, 4 months and 5 days. Not only will father, mother and little brothers, miss the sounds of his little foot steps, but all of his kindred and friends as well, for the beautiful and attractive little darling was loved by all who knew him. With his perfect features, seeming good health and cheerful nature, it is not a wonder that the truth came as a blow almost unbearable; still, let us pray earnestly that the old vision of our baby may fade into a more lovely one. He is safe in the arms of the first, real true friend that children ever knew. We recall just now, something of the great love and sympathy which He possessed for all the little children. He is the same Saviour today, as in those days. A real Saviour gone to prepare a real place for us. Is it not wonderful?

How can we grieve more, when we know that our fair little Joe is at home with the loving and powerful Saviour of us all. He will never again suffer pain, sorrow, or death.

We can go to him, see his beautiful countenance, his beaming blue eyes, and know for ourselves that there will never, never, be no more parting.

What more could we ask?

By His Aunt,
MRS. W. A. HOPKINS.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with coated tongue, foul breath or a dull headache; or if your meals sour and ferment, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to headaches, backaches, bilious attacks, constipation or stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying the morning inside bath.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.—Adv.

THE MAN ALWAYS

"JUST GOING TO."

He was just going to help a neighbor when he died.

He was just going to pay a note when it went to protest.

He meant to insure his house, but it burned before he got around to it.

He was just going to reduce his debt when his creditors "shut down" on him.

He was just going to stop drinking and dissipating when his health became wrecked.

He was just going to introduce a better system into his business when it went to smash.

He was just going to quit work awhile and take a vacation when nervous prostration came.

He was just going to provide proper protection for his wife and family when his fortune was swept away.

He was just going to call on a customer to close a deal when he found his competitor got there first and secured the order.—Philadelphia Association Bulletin.

The Rotary Club of Miami is attempting to come to the rescue of the school children of Dade county. Briefly put, the school finances of the county are in a "deplorable condition" and unless relief is forthcoming immediately there will be no school this coming autumn. Indeed, the situation is so bad that the receipts from taxes will not be enough to pay the outstanding and past due indebtedness let alone the maintenance and operation of the schools for the coming year. Therefore it is proposed by the Miami Rotarians to organize an incorporated company, sell stock to the amount of $400,000, loan this money as needed to the Dade county board of public instruction at 8 per cent interest, the money to be used for operation only and not to pay off debts and eventually to be refunded as rapidly as possible. Miami is always doing big and interesting things. The whole state will watch the outcome of this effort to keep Dade's schools open.—Lakeland Telegram.

THE A B C OF TICK ERADICATION

By DR. W. F. BLACKMAN, of THE WEKIWA RANCH
(Former Member of the State Livestock Sanitary Board)

"Nothing is ever decided until it is decided right"; this ancient and sagacious saying applies in tick-eradication as well as everywhere else.

The people of Florida are certain, sooner or later, to decide and decree that the cattle fever tick must go. The range cattlemen and others who oppose this reform may as well understand that the agitation of this matter will go on with increasing vigor until the right verdict is pronounced by the people, and completely executed.

Meantime, there are a number of misapprehensions about the work—its necessity, methods and value—which should be cleared away.

(a) To begin with, it must be understood that some half-dozen or more different varieties of tick are found on cattle in Florida. With only one of these, the margaropus annulatus, have we any concern.

(b) This particular tick, and no other, carries in its body (usually though not invariably) the germ of Texas fever, just as one certain variety of mosquito harbors the germ of malaria. It introduces this micro-organism into the blood stream of cattle when it bites them.

(c) This species of tick is not found on the bodies of rabbits, possums, coons, dogs, gophers or other animals, but only on cattle, deer and bison, and very rarely on horses and mules. There is therefore no need of dipping gophers, as some assert, in order to destroy this pest.

(d) The fever germ, when introduced into the body of cattle by ticks—and there is no other way in which it is ever so introduced—multiplies with incredible rapidity, attacks the blood cells, breaks down the red corpuscles, and engenders poisons which produce a specific disease, called tick fever or splenic fever. Young calves which harbor the tick commonly survive the disease and become largely "immune" to it in later life; other cattle, not thus "immunized" are made permanently sick, impoverished in blood, thinned in flesh, reduced in strength and breeding power, and they usually die. If a native-born calf happens to escape the infection until he is a yearling, he is then and thereafter as susceptible to tick fever as though he were imported full-grown from Virginia or Nebraska.

(e) It is unsafe to introduce purchased sires or dams into an infected territory, for the purpose of improving the native stock, unless these animals come from a tick-infected area, in which case they are of inferior value.

(f) On account of the quarantine regulations of the Federal government and the various states, it is impossible to ship cattle out of a tick area without encountering grave delays and difficulties and considerable expense. Thus, we in Florida, are practically excluded from the markets of the country.

(g) Directly and indirectly, the cattle tick causes an unnecessary loss to this state of millions of dollars annually.

(h) The word "eradication" must be understood and emphasized. The effort is not to keep down the number of ticks on cattle to a safe and reasonable point, to dip them "when they need it," as the foolish phrase runs; what is proposed is the total eradication from the entire state of this pest. Fundamentally, we are treating, not individual cattle, but LAND, a given territory, a state. This fact is hard to lodge in the brains of our people. If the land, the ground, is freed of ticks, the cattle will be free also.

(i) It is possible to eradicate ticks from Florida. This, I think, will be agreed to by any ordinary intelligent and honest person who clearly understands the following points and soaks his mind with them thoroughly:

(j) The tick is hatched from an egg on the ground. So long as it remains on the ground, it does not eat, does not grow, and does not breed; in time, it dies of starvation. If cattle be completely excluded from a fenced pasture for a certain number of months, there will be no fever ticks left alive in that pasture, though there may be other and similar varieties of ticks which the sapient cattleman will mistake for our fiendish friend, the margaropus.

(k) If a cow comes its way, the tick attaches itself to it, finds a tender spot, pierces the skin, passes thru two "moult," copulates, sucks blood, poisons the animal with fever germs, if a female matures eggs, becomes engorged, loosens her hold, and drops to the ground where she deposits from a thousand to five thousand eggs. If all these eggs were to hatch and produce mature insects, I compute that a single female tick might have four generations of descendants at the end of a single summer season, amounting to thirty or forty trillions of individuals, and since a trillion is a thousand billions, and a billion is a thousand billions, this might properly be called a sizable family.

(l) And now for a vital fact, never for an instant to be lost sight of—the shortest time in which the female tick, after attaching herself to the cow, can reach maturity and be ready to lay eggs, is fourteen days. If she is destroyed on this fourteenth day, not only she but all the thousands of eggs within her body are destroyed. Is it not as plain as a pike-staff that if all of the cattle in a given area, small or large, are dipped in an arsenical solution which kills ticks every fourteen days for a certain length of time, the supply of ticks in that area will be exhausted? No ticks, no more eggs; no eggs, no more ticks. Is it not clear that when people say, "It will be better, or about as well, to dip cattle once a month or so," they are utterly missing the vital point and use of the process? Dipping once a month gives a chance for two broods of ticks to mature on every cow between dippings and spawn their thousands of fertile and fatal eggs on the ground. This process would not eradicate ticks in a thousand years; but a dipping every fourteen days, for a period long enough to starve such ticks in the pasture as fail to find a bovine host, will stop the supply of eggs, and thus dry up the life stream at its source and obliterate the species. An area treated in this way thoroughly (mark the word) will never again till doom's day have any ticks, unless these are brought in from some other infected region.

(m) Cattle are not killed or injured in any considerable numbers by being dipped, when this is carefully done. Reports to the contrary are either fabrications, intended to deceive the public, or else, in cases of such disaster, the arsenical solution used was not properly made and tested, or the cattle were over-driven, over-heated, over-excited or otherwise improperly handled.

(n) But some of our cattlemen say that it is impossible to round up the cattle on the open ranges and in the marshes and jungles, for the purpose of dipping them. But is it impossible? I admit that it is a difficult and costly thing to do, but I cannot think that it is impossible—and the chief reason I cannot think so, is this big fact, that throughout a stretch including several entire states, the tick has already been eradicated, in pine woods and dense hammocks, in regions of fenced farms and on open ranges, in swamps and marshes. The man who opposes his mere opinion as to what can be done to an accomplished and gigantic FACT like this, is amusing, and also disheartening.

If the cattlemen who say that the tick cannot be exterminated in Florida are honest in this contention, let the Cattle Raisers Association send a committee of investigation to one county each of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas—not, indeed, to counties where cattlemen have dynamited vats and in every other way obstructed the work, but to counties whose people have heartily and faithfully supported it. Let this committee inform itself as to what has been done, under what conditions, by what methods, at what cost, and with what net results, and let them report back to the Association, whether favorable or unfavorable.

Will the Association do this? If not, why not?
I will not now go further with this alphabetical lesson—enough has been written to set forth the chief elements of the problem. I hope so simply and clearly that "the wayfaring man, tho' a fool, need not err therein."

The citizens of Florida, especially, I may say, our large new body of women voters—are gradually learning what the facts and bearings of the case are. The attitude of the Florida Times-Union, the Tampa Tribune and other influential organs of opinion is helping the cause along, and the timid and indifferent editors will in due time be converted. Our lending county, Duval, is bestirring herself. If we of the late lamented Livestock Sanitary Board made mistakes, as I think we did, it should be generously remembered that "to err is human," especially in the beginning of new and difficult enterprises. The present board, which is mostly composed of members of the old board, has no doubt learned something from our errors and will not repeat them. Fortunately, it has as chairman, Governor Hardee, a man of abundant ability, good sense, courage and determination, and who has warmly espoused the cause of tick eradication. He may perhaps have the satisfaction—and the lasting renown—of seeing (and himself in large measure securing) during his term of office, the doom of this pest, and the consequent opening up to the cattle industry of Florida of a sure and bright future.

Have you put your money into the Sanford Building & Loan Association?

Or have you invested your Sanford money in some out-of-town wildcat proposition that will never bring in a cent to you?

W. H. Ott said yesterday men's collars were being cut lower in accordance with the shortening of women's skirts—to give plenty of freedom in the neck.—Lakeland Star.

See in the Sanford Herald lost column where someone lost a "small stray suit case," suppose it just strayed away.—Reporter-Star. If it came from the East Coast, we would say "yes."

We do not need to praise our town now? Every visitor to the city is doing it for us. One man here today said it was the most prosperous looking place he had seen in the entire South.

Remember the golf links and country club. All else pales into insignificance. No golf links, no tourists. No tourists, no big town. Get it straight and keep it straight. It all comes back to the golf links and you can't rub it out.

"Who is Henry Wilson and what connection has he with the Clarke case?" asks the Orlando Reporter-Star. We don't know, brother, but Judge Housholder would probably say he was "old man Wilson's son" according to the records of Pinellas county.

The class of merchandise that Sanford merchants are selling now is bringing the trade to this city. Getting away from the country store style of selling goods and getting into the big city style has brought our city into notice with the buying public. The old days of merchandising are past. It is the live, wide awake advertiser who gets the business now. It does not come to you any more—you have to go after it.

Billy Sunday cancels his engagement with Orlando this winter and his reason is that Orlando would be too busy entertaining tourists to give his meeting much attention. We say that Sanford is also in the same class. We are too busy entertaining those that bring something instead of those that carry out. The Orlando Chamber of Commerce released Billy from his contract right now. That meeting would have bankrupted Orlando.

Dr. Blackman has a good article on tick eradication in this issue of the Herald. We still believe in tick eradication. So does the man who owns the cattle. Just how to operate this dipping is the question and eradication will be carried on regardless of opposition. But the Herald agrees with Dr. Blackman in the statement that no question is settled until it is settled right and this certainly applies to the cattle question. We will await the result with the hope that all parties can get together on the broad plane of the greatest good to the greatest number.

HIGH RAILROAD RATES MUST BE REDUCED

The Times publishes in another column an article appearing as a cover page editorial in the Manufacturers Record, with the heading "Exorbitant Railroad Rates Must Be Reduced." The truth, expressed in the headline is so manifest that it ought to need no argument. The 600,000 idle freight cars scattered on sidings all over the country, attest it in tones that the railroad managers should hear and heed. Why are all these cars idle at the beginning of the busiest season in the railroad year? The country is full of grain that must be moved to the seaboard, and the shelves of the manufacturers are groaning with goods to be transported to buyers in the interior. There should be freight moving in long train loads, both ways across the country. Why all this inertia and stagnation of business? Why is it that shippers all over the country are turning to the water routes with a unanimity they have not known since the railroad first took over the business of transportation? Have the railroad managers ever considered this matter in the broad light of reason and common sense? If they have, the answer would seem so obviously that the wayfarer man, though a fool, could not miss it, and the managers are not fools by any means. They rank among the shrewdest and best business men in the whole country. If they are, why do they persist in adherence to a policy which is not only proving suicidal to their own interests, but destructive to the entire business of the country as well? Can they not see what their general turning to water routing and motor trucks means to them? Do they not realize that their long-time domination of the transportation interests of the country is slipping away from them, and the vital importance of retaining their hold upon it? The only answer possible is that they have allowed their greed for immediate profits to overcome their judgment. They have placed a heavier burden on the business of the country than it can carry. They have attempted to grab all, like the dog and the bone, and they are in danger of losing what they had. When the farmer and the manufacturer cannot see a reasonable return for his toil and trouble and investment, he will cease to produce, and there will be no freight for the railroads to move. It has come perilously near to that in the recent past, as the fields of rotting, ungathered produce, and the smokeless factory chimneys testify. When the railroads exact more for carrying the farmer's produce to market than he gets for raising it, he begins to realize that he is playing a losing game with the cards stacked against him, and he will withdraw as soon as possible. When he drops out, the railroads must soon follow.

Their true policy would be to cut rates to the bone, even if doing so should eliminate all profits for a year or two. This getting back to normalcy is a hard and painful process for all of us, and the people can see no reason why the railroads should not do their bit with the rest of the world. We recognize the burdens which an inefficient and unwise government management placed on the roads in the way of depleted and worn-out equipment, of superabundant and exorbitantly paid labor, etc., but that era has passed out, and the roads will eventually succeed in raising the incus. All that we ask of them now, is their assistance in returning to normal conditions. If they give us that in the way of fair and reasonable rates, they will find the public glad to co-operate with them in the effort to restore better conditions. If they refuse, and continue to gouge the public with unjust and unreasonable rates they will arouse a spirit of animosity which will result in restrictive measures, which will make those of the past seem like the extreme of liberality. The people rule in the last resort, and the railroad managers may as well acknowledge it first as last and shape their course accordingly.—Tampa Times.

SEE YOUR BANKER.

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce was among the first organizers in Florida to call attention to the fact that Florida people were being buncoed in many instances by foreign stock companies. In some instances, the stock was good, but in the majority of the cases it was worthless, and on account of the fact that Florida was prosperous this summer, the State was flooded with stock salesmen of all kinds. The Sanford Chamber of Commerce put on a campaign taking space in the Herald to call attention to these fake stock selling schemes, and told the people to ask their bankers. A committee of bankers was appointed by the president of the Chamber of Commerce to investigate all stock selling schemes and pass judgment on them for the benefit of the investors. Tampa and other cities have awakened to this danger also, and just now Tampa papers are filled with good advice about the selling of fake stock. The Tampa Tribune has the following very good advice to its readers:

"It is due a man's own common sense and his pride in his business judgment to investigate before he buys. Some of them are good, others, and the most of them, are bad, so had that you will kiss your money good bye if you put it in, say the bankers.

"Florida has much money for investment. Florida has many opportunities for the investment of that money. Florida needs that money invested in it. But Florida does not pretend to be so selfish as to require all the money in it to be spent for Florida development. Any man has the right to invest as he pleases, every man should scatter his investments; but no man can afford to shut his eyes to probable facts and open his ears to the sweet somnolent song of a stock salesman, and sink his salary or his savings in stuff the savors of nothing so much as it does of swindles.

"The Tribune urges again; go to your bankers and ask to see the confidential reports they have on these stock projects. You may not like what you learn, especially if you have been foolish enough to invest without investigating; but at least you will not put any more money into bad schemes after your eyes are opened.

"Then, too, you owe it to the meritorious offerings to know them from the bad ones. The banks have the name of the good ones, as well as of the bad ones. Don't damn the whole because one or two are inferior, or rotten at the heart. Find out which are good and assist them with the capital they need to make them a big success they can be. The test of a stock is not, 'Will I get my money back at once?' But, 'Is it sound?' 'Is it meritorious? Is it well organized? Is there a market for its products? Can it manufacture, produce and distribute in sufficiently large quantity and at sufficiently profitable a figure to pay a fair dividend on the capital invested?' If it can meet these tests, it is usually a good thing. But find out these things."

OPEN OPPOSITION IS AT LEAST HONORABLE

A Republican newspaper is to be established in Florida, at Winter Park.

The property of the Winter Park Post has been purchased and the new paper will begin publication in the near future. It will be a daily and is being financed by individuals who are able to foot the bills of such a project. We have heard nothing which would indicate that the paper is not to be a newspaper first and affiliated with the principles of the Republican party afterwards; in other words, at present there is no reason to believe that it will be an organ.

Florida already has Republican newspapers—at least one; but the Republican standard is missing. The practice has been to sail under the Democratic colors and attack the party at every opportunity, but to smile while doing it—the smile of betraying friendship.

In coming out flat-footed and announcing what it stands for we admire the beginning of this new paper and register no objections against its existence. If there is anything more disgusting and contemptible than a newspaper pretending to be one thing and consistently being another thing it has not come to our attention, for the newspaper is the individual magnified, and as such its virtues and faults are more striking.

Open opposition is at least honorable, and perhaps the presence of this Republican-inclined sheet will force the canno-fleurs into the open, which will be a good thing for the Democratic party.

The Florida Metropolis is conscientiously and steadfastly Democratic, and being this its position is always known. And if another newspaper is conscientiously and steadfastly Republican this paper will never be found doubting its sincerity, although there will be no hesitancy in assailing it in politics. But the Republican paper posing as a Democrat, a wolf in the fold, as it were, a political traitor, deserves nothing but ridicule—and must stand it until it discards its false skin.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

CO-OPERATION BETWEEN THE FARMERS OF STATE

"Life is pretty easy for South Florida people, particularly the owners of tracts of developed lands," says the Palm Beach Post, going on to say:

"Able to grow a large part of the articles for their tables, with surplus for sale almost every week of the year if they chose to produce surpluses, and the range of products almost without limit, they have never felt the pressing need for economics which elsewhere have required the application of the most business-like methods."

True, but the Post goes on to say:

MICKIE SAYS—

SOME FOLKS DONT REALIZE IT, BUT ITS JEST AS POOR MANNERS TO COME IN HERE AN' START READIN' PROOFS AN' NOSIN' ROUND AS IT'D BE TO GO INTO SOME BODYS KITCHEN AN' LOOK IN TH' VESSELS ON TH' STOVE TO SEE WHAT THEY'RE GOING TO HAVE FER DINNER!

CHARLES SUSHOROE

"If the time ever comes when increased production requires them to seek wider markets, South Florida farmers will be as quick to go into marketing associations as farmers elsewhere were."

The time has come when the farmers of Florida can seek wider markets, for never was the world in greater need of foodstuffs, and increased production is under way and a production one thousand-fold larger is possible.

Economy is not opposed to plenty. The farmers of Florida can economize by utilizing the full resources of the state and still enjoy plenty which is enjoyed by them now. Waste is never permissible and by beginning co-operation and greater utilization now the farmers of Florida will avoid many of the obstacles encountered by the farmers in other states when they were forced into the co-operative field.

It is not essential that there be great numbers to perfect co-operation. A limited number can, in proportion to the volumes of business, render each other as much effective service as if their organization was many times larger. Complete co-operation is the thing.—Florida Metropolis.

WOMAN NOT A CHATTEL; MAY CHOOSE HER FRIENDS.

The supreme court of Florida has handed down a decision which is in keeping with the times—but which will be deemed by some at first glance as unreasonable. The case was one where a husband finding his wife in the company of another man, proceeded to get busy with the man—striving to take his life. The court said the assault was unprovoked unless the man in the company of the woman had first committed some act of violence. In the decision Judge Chief Justice Brown said:

"There may have been a time when a wife was regarded as her husband's chattel, and being out alone on a public road with another man regarded as sufficient provocation to justify the husband in making an assault upon her companion, but this is no longer true, when women enjoy equal freedom with men. The mere walking or driving of a married woman with another man, or a married man with another woman, is not sufficient provocation to justify an assault by either spouse, and the greater the freedom of intercourse between men and women in this day protects them from unwarranted attacks by a jealous husband or wife, who sees in innocent acts of social intercourse 'confirmation strong as proofs of holy writ' that they are flagrantly immoral."—Wauchulla Advocate.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

The old bulb ran up a notch on us yesterday while we were busy getting out this blooming sheet of distress and yet we don't see just when it was hot enough to go to 90 but the records show it and the records never lie. But regardless of what the thermometer says for the middle of the day, the nights are delightfully cool and are just as comfortable as any in the mountains, the shore or any other part of this terrestrial footstool. It's great to live in Sanford:

$368,000 GONE OUT OF ORANGE COUNTY FOR PUNK STOCK.

It developed at the Chamber of Commerce that Orange county citizens have fallen victims of worthless stock purchases to the tune of $368,000. This, according to one member of the organization, is but half of the actual money which has flickered away never to return.

Many prominent men gave their experiences in purchasing stocks which apparently bore all the earmarks of good investments, but which have since proven worthless.

In the language of James L. Giles, ex-mayor of this city, "Keep your dollars for Orange county and Orlando investments."—Reporter-Star

FORD ONLY MAN TO MAKE BID ON MUSCLE SHOALS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Secretary of War Weeks returned to his desk today from his vacation in New England prepared to give favorable consideration to the offer of Henry Ford for the government nitrate plant at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

When the secretary departed for New Hampshire with President Harding he left instructions with his subordinates that any new offer received should be forwarded to him promptly. No such offer was forwarded because none was received, and when the secretary got back into the harness today it was with the conviction that if business is to be done it must be done with Ford.

War department officials have practically given up the idea that the Dupont Company intends to make an offer for the Alabama plant. They have been in communication with the Dupont people and have let it be known that they would welcome an offer, but the powder company officials have made it plain that they are not in the market for so ambitious an enterprise as that of Muscle Shoals.

The reported offer of the Alabama Power Company, officials said, was really only an inquiry from company officials for information concerning certain details of the project. No definite offer has been received from the Alabama company, it was flatly stated.

KILLS SWEETHEART'S SISTER AND HIMSELF

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Aug. 10.—At Oneida, yesterday morning, Frank Sager, twenty-six, of that place, shot and killed Miss Pearl Hook and seriously wounded her sister, Miss Bernice Hook. Sager then killed himself. The shooting is believed to have been actuated by jealousy. Sager was engaged to marry Miss Bernice Hook.

REGARDED AS "NECESSITY."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Enactment of the administration's railway funding bill by early fall is understood to be viewed as a necessity by President Harding. It is understood today that his attitude would be indicated to congressional leaders at a White House conference on the legislative program.

FANCY SILK SHIRTS AND SOX ARE DOOMED SAY THE HABERDASHER.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Fancy silk shirts and sox and loud, expensive cravats of the war prosperity period are doomed to give way to cotton, lisle, and plain knitted goods because men are slashing their clothing bills, haberdashers today told the board of review when questioned about their personal property taxes. Most of the dealers say the value of their stock is decreasing because the public is demanding "a cheaper grade of goods," said a member of the board.

Hupmobile

There are four real questions when you buy a car—What will it cost to run? Will repairs be heavy? How long will it last? What will it bring when sold?

If you get the same answers as the man who buys the Hupmobile, you can be sure you have not paid too much. Hupmobile running economy is known to be truly exceptional.

Owners will tell you their repair bills are unusually light. It is a fact that many Hupmobiles serve three or four long-time owners before they wear out.

Used car dealers all know the car commands a price above the average.

These things are true of the Hupmobile because it is built to last and to keep going on a minimum of outlay; and because they are true, the car is worth what it costs.

Table listing Hupmobile models and prices: 5 Passenger Touring $1685, 5 Passenger Sedan $2695, 2 Passenger Roadster $1685, 4 Passenger Coupe $2645.
