

30 Percent Of Strikers Go Back To Work

 The American Federation of Labor and Allied Workers of America has today wired a protest that you have enforced a lockout of all your employees and refused to meet or discuss the situation in any manner with the employees' representatives. Please advise what has happened and your position in the matter.

Mr. Eckerson's reply to the message is as follows:
 "Our relations with our employees has always been to our knowledge satisfactory. We have always pursued a policy of fair treatment and a willingness to co-operate. Our plant has been in continuous operation although somewhat hampered in the last few days by a walkout of a certain division which has hampered activity in other departments and has necessitated operating with a smaller crew. Of those who originally walked out—approximately one-third returned to work immediately, the balance was replaced by new help.

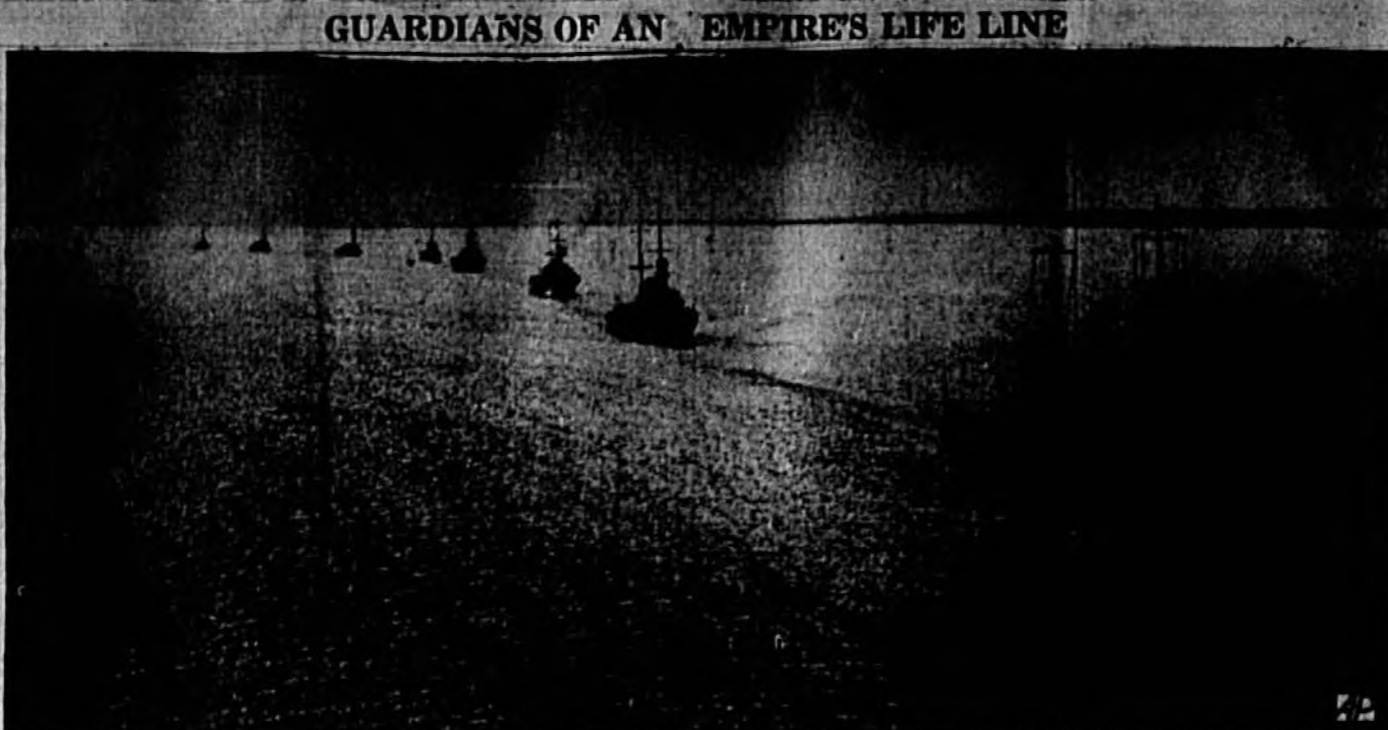

"No demands have been made by employees to officials of the Company. A notice posted yesterday advised former employees that an interview would be granted for the purpose of discussing any differences. No former employees responded to the opportunity, have not been approached by any employee representative and understand that those employed are fully satisfied. Have received petition from those dismissed wanting re-employment at early date and while we had not anticipated resuming full operation until next week we have acquiesced to their wishes and are resuming full force tomorrow morning. Since the occurrence employees desire to form their own association electing representatives to discuss any matters of discrepancies in event any occur with the officials of the Company which we have endorsed with our approval.

"Frankly, we feel those protesting have endeavored to establish a union by radical ball-hoo means, the attempt meeting with failure. If the information contained herein is not adequate please advise and we will be pleased to discuss further with you."

Company officials today distributed passes to a free show at the Princess Theater tonight to all employees who with their friends are invited to attend. Mr. Eckerson indicated that he planned to have several prominent speakers after the regular show.

Mr. Eckerson advised that he had not been officially informed of the election among employees which CIO organizers stated will be held Thursday under the auspices of a representative of the National Labor Relations Board, and indicated that operations at the plant will continue normally.

Uniform time reports from the entire country are compiled quarterly by the federal bureau of investigation.

Alibi Is Seen In Attacks On Big Business

McNary Calls Jackson Speech An Obvious Effort To Explain Current Recession

Says It Is No Way To Handle Problem

Asks For Goodwill Instead Of Political Speeches Of Blame

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—(AP)—Senate Republican leader McNary of Oregon charged that attacks on "big business" by administration spokesmen constituted an "obvious effort to create an alibi" to explain the current recession.

He challenged as "political" two recent speeches of Robert Jackson, assistant attorney general.

"They apparently were made, he asserted, 'to prepare the way' for President Roosevelt's message to Congress next Monday.

"This is not the way of handling a grave domestic problem," McNary declared.

"The approach of the solution of this problem ought to be made in an open and frank way, with encouragement to all citizens. This is the time for goodwill instead of political speeches directed at one group of citizens."

New Tuberculosis Sanatorium Will Be Opened Monday

Occupational License Taxes Must Be Paid Friday To Avoid Penalty

A choice of paying State and County Occupational License taxes before the new year or facing the penalties provided by law for non-payment were the alternatives given Sanford and Seminole County business and professional men who have not paid their license tax for the current year by Seminole Tax Collector Jno. D. Jinkins.

Mr. Jinkins asserted that these taxes must be paid before the expiration of the year or it becomes mandatory, under the law, for the tax collectors to issue warrants directed to the Sheriff of the State of Florida against any person, firm or corporation who has become delinquent 90 days from the date the license was due, which was Oct. 1.

Big Projects For City Get Official Okey

Presidential Approval Given Lake Shore Park Development And Also Sewers

A WPA project for the construction of a municipal park to be located on the Avenue and the Mayfair lake shore between Sanford Hotel, and the $30,000 sewer project previously approved by the Washington WPA officials were given Presidential approval yesterday according to telegrams received from Florida's senators.

"These projects must now be reviewed by the Comptroller General and I am sure they will receive final approval within a few days," Congressman Joe Hendricks stated in his communication.

The park project which calls for a total expenditure of $29,941 and provides for the improvement of the entire west end of the proposed site, is the first strictly beautification project ever approved for this City. The federal allocation for this work is $21,521 while the City's share of the contribution is $8,420.

This project is the first of a series planned by the City in which officials contemplate converting the 11-acre plot into a public park and playground.

The present project provides for grading, draining, and sub-irrigating the entire plot; covering portions of the site with a network of water pipes for sprinkling purposes; covering the entire plot with 7 1/2 inches of mulch; constructing 1.5,000 yards of shifrock sidewalk; planting 2300 trees, shrubs, and vines; fertilization and care for the duration of the project; and constructing the following playing courts at the west end of the park: 10 shuffle board, one tennis court and also horseshoe and roque courts.

The local WPA supervisor stated that he could not determine when the park project could be started, as the sewer project must receive initial attention since it had been submitted at an earlier date. He indicated that work on the sewer project should begin about Jan. 15.

The sewer project calls for a total expenditure of $39,021, of which $22,940 will be furnished by the City, provides for the manufacture of sewer pipe at the City plant, construction of new culverts, retitling and construction of several manholes and the relaying of several thousand feet of old sewers in sections of the City.

Greta Garbo Stars In Drama Of Napoleon

Greta Garbo reaches the greatest heights of her acting career in "Conquest," which opens today at the Ritz Theatre and in which she is co-starred for the first time with Charles Boyer in a memorable portrayal of the role of Napoleon Bonaparte.

Here is acting of a new high order. As the young Polish countess, Marie Walewska, who encourages the infatuation of Napoleon to further the interests of her own country but ultimately falls in love with him herself, Garbo once again stands out as the most distinguished actress on the screen today.

Boyer, likewise, wins fresh laurels in the role of Napoleon, a portrayal which shows the man not in the exaggerated terms in which history has painted him, but as a living and breathing man with a passion-crazed ambition to rule the world but with a tenderness and understanding for those he loved.

Biggest Fight Of Civil War Is Under Way

More Than 200,000 Insurgent And Government Troops Are Involved In Conflict

200 Airplanes Are Thrown Into Fray

Government Lines Are Reported Holding On Right And Center

MADRID, Dec. 31.—(AP)—More than 200,000 insurgent and government troops and 200 airplanes were thrown today into the greatest battle of the civil war outside Teruel.

The bitterness of the fight developed from a powerful insurgent counter offensive to take that city into which the government fought its way last week.

The government yesterday dynamited one of two fortified buildings within Teruel in which between 3,000 and 4,000 insurgent soldiers and civilians had been holding out since government troops took the city.

There were grave fears that many of the insurgents had been killed although some are known to have escaped.

More tanks, airplanes, artillery and men than in any previous single battle were thrown together in a conflict outside Teruel.

Government lines on the right and in the center were reported holding under terrific pressure. The government gave ground to insurgents on the left.

Douney Ready For Applications Under Homestead Ruling

After more than a month's preparation of blank forms, Seminole County Tax Assessor Sanford Douney, announced today that his office will begin receiving applications for homestead exemptions on Jan. 3.

These applications must be filed annually. The Tax Assessor reminded that if they are not in by April 1, the homestead owner waives his right for exemption for that year.

After filing the applications, home owners are entirely exempted from taxes on assessed valuations up to $5,000. Mr. Douney said, but are required to pay the debt service levies for County and the schools.

"Therefore," Mr. Douney pointed out to home owners who may think they are required to pay no taxes, "the fact that exemption is granted does not mean that there will be no taxes on the property since the amounts levied by the School Board and the County Commissioners for debt service or the retiring of bonds must be collected even though exemption has been granted."

The Tax Assessor reported that 2000 applications were filed last year but that there will probably be an increase in the coming year.

Blanks have already been prepared for all those who were granted exemption last year. The assessor stated, adding that his office will be glad to assist in any way possible those making application for the first time.

Mr. Douney also reminded that the Intangible Personal Property tax returns must also be filed before April 1.

Minority Of Business Group Held To Blame

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—President Roosevelt indicated today that the anti-monopoly attacks made by administration officials were directed at only a small minority in the business world.

He was asked of a press conference to comment specifically on the two speeches by Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general, and one by Secretary Hoover. They charged at wealthy individuals with facilitating a strike against the administration.

Ford Optimistic Over '38 Outlook

DETROIT, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Henry Ford in a statement on business conditions said "there is nothing to prevent our going ahead" and revealed he expects to produce a low priced tractor of unusual design within a few months. No details were made available. Expressing the opinion that the nation is on the verge of an era of greater quantity production, the founder of the Ford Motor Company said "almost every reason for temporary stoppage of business can be discounted. People are naturally cautious at this time of year because they want to know how the rest of the winter will be."

Ickes Attacks Big Business In Radio Talk

Secretary Blames Recent Recession On Concentration Of Power Among Few

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes, continuing the administration's attack upon "big business," asserted last night that the power of concentrated wealth "must be compelled to conform to our laws" at the coming session of Congress.

An "irreconcilable conflict" between "the power of money and the power of the democratic instinct" has reached such a juncture in recent months, he said, that it is "clear that it must be fought through to a finish—until plutocracy, or democracy—until America's 60 families, or America's 120 million people—win."

His speech was the third assault upon "big business" to come from within the inner administration circle within a week. Two such addresses were delivered previously by Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general. All are regarded as a prelude to President Roosevelt's message to Congress and a drive for anti-monopoly legislation.

Like Jackson, Ickes accused concentrated economic power of going on a strike against the administration, or threatening to do so, unless business, unless governmental restraints upon business are removed. Referring throughout to capital as "America's 60 families," a phrase borrowed from a book by Ferdinand Lundberg, he said:

To the 120 million people of the United States, they have made the threat that unless they are free to speculate, free of regulations which are free to accumulate through legal tricks, by means of corporations, without paying their share of taxes; unless they are free to dominate the rest of us without restrictions on their financial or economic power; unless they are once more free to do all these things, then the United States is to have its first general all-outdown strike—not of labor—of the American people—but of the 60 families and of the capital created by which the 60 families have obtained control.

Secretary Blames Recent Recession On Concentration Of Power Among Few

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Secretary Ickes, continuing the administration's attack upon "big business," asserted last night that the power of concentrated wealth "must be compelled to conform to our laws" at the coming session of Congress.

An "irreconcilable conflict" between "the power of money and the power of the democratic instinct" has reached such a juncture in recent months, he said, that it is "clear that it must be fought through to a finish—until plutocracy, or democracy—until America's 60 families, or America's 120 million people—win."

His speech was the third assault upon "big business" to come from within the inner administration circle within a week. Two such addresses were delivered previously by Robert H. Jackson, assistant attorney general. All are regarded as a prelude to President Roosevelt's message to Congress and a drive for anti-monopoly legislation.

Like Jackson, Ickes accused concentrated economic power of going on a strike against the administration, or threatening to do so, unless business, unless governmental restraints upon business are removed. Referring throughout to capital as "America's 60 families," a phrase borrowed from a book by Ferdinand Lundberg, he said:

To the 120 million people of the United States, they have made the threat that unless they are free to speculate, free of regulations which are free to accumulate through legal tricks, by means of corporations, without paying their share of taxes; unless they are free to dominate the rest of us without restrictions on their financial or economic power; unless they are once more free to do all these things, then the United States is to have its first general all-outdown strike—not of labor—of the American people—but of the 60 families and of the capital created by which the 60 families have obtained control.

Communists Back CIO Movement In State, Says Report

Cannery Workers Decide To Handle Their Own Union

Eckerson's Employees Vote To Operate Association Of Own

Employees of the Eckerson Fruit Cannery, by a large majority, voted to operate through their own association according to the results of an election conducted at the plant this morning under the supervision of the employees association which was tentatively formed to combat the efforts of the organizers for the United Cannery, Agricultural and Allied Workers of America, a CIO affiliate.

Approximately 225 cast secret ballots in the election; 147 ballots were cast for the employees association; 62 voted for no organization; 4 ballots were cast for the American Federation of Labor while the Committee for Industrial Organization received only two ballots. Eight unaffiliated ballots were thrown out.

After the results of the election were made known, employees elected representatives from each of the departments of the cannery and these will be in charge of the election of officers for the Workers Union this afternoon.

The election this morning followed a non-appearance of representatives of the National Labor Relations Board whom CIO organizers stated would be at the plant Thursday to hold a similar election.

Employees feel, a Herald reporter was advised, that the organization of this association will form a nucleus for all labor activities at the plant and will tend to prevent outside disturbances similar to that effected by the CIO organizers.

Those appointed as representatives are: Tom Yates, utility labor; Paul Mansfield, outside labor; H. Yates, peeler; Joe Kelly, reemers; Mrs. L. D. Hall, section leaders; and Mrs. L. H. Harrow, packers.

Tsingtao Is Left Desolated To Jap Armies At Gate

Foreign Volunteers Attempt To Maintain Order In City

SHANGHAI, Dec. 31.—(AP)—Chinese devastation squads marched out of Tsingtao leaving undefended the once rich north China seaport marked for conquest by the advancing Japanese armies.

A corps of foreign volunteers armed with clubs attempted to maintain order in the city from which the exodus of Americans and other foreigners was underway. When the Chinese police started leaving Tientsin ran into the Japanese business section.

They ransacked what Japanese property had not been destroyed in nearly two weeks of systematic looting. The chief aim of the foreign vigilantes was to prevent damage to foreign property.

The departing Chinese dismantled a dozen new fires. The arrival of the Japanese army expected any hour.

American teaching Shanghai from Tsingtao described conditions in interior Shanghai as chaotic. Dr. Philip Price, of Baltimore, Md., who made the rail journey from Tientsin to the port, said a wave of Chinese refugees and troops fleeing eastward from Tientsin was meeting a similar wave moving westward from Tsingtao.

More than 200 Americans remained in Tsingtao, where the United States cruiser Marblehead and the destroyer Pope stood by ready to take them to safety. The Americans did not join the Tsingtao vigilantes, following advice of their consular authorities. The volunteer corps consisted of about 240 British, German and Russian men, armed only with batons.

In Shanghai foreign consular officials and Japanese leaders sought a solution of the tangled problem of the Chinese customs service. The Japanese were understood to be insisting that all revenues be kept in one sum and deposited in Japan's Yokohama specie bank until a final settlement of the customs issues had been reached. The consuls were understood to have urged that customs collections at Shanghai be turned over to an international committee, deposited in banks of various nationalities and that servicing of China's foreign loans and bond indentures with-out interruption be guaranteed.

The Tax Assessor reported that 2000 applications were filed last year but that there will probably be an increase in the coming year.

Blanks have already been prepared for all those who were granted exemption last year. The assessor stated, adding that his office will be glad to assist in any way possible those making application for the first time.

Mr. Douney also reminded that the Intangible Personal Property tax returns must also be filed before April 1.
