HUGE CREDIT IS GIVEN ENGLAND BY U.S. FRANCE

Offering Extended By Morgan And Paris Bankers Is Larger Than Was Expected

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—(A.P.)—The most powerful banking interests in France and the United States combined yesterday in offering credit of $400,000,000 to the British treasury as a measure of their confidence in Great Britain.

J. P. Morgan & Co. formally announced that a group of more than 100 American banks and banking houses had combined in the extension of half of the credit, while extension of a like amount was announced in Paris.

The credit is believed to be the largest private banking credit to a foreign government in financial history. The negotiations were completed by cable and trans-Atlantic telephone in the extra ordinary short time of 36 hours.

American bankers explained that the credit was substantially larger than the British government had any thought of asking for, and was made of such huge proportions as to banish all doubts as to the stability of British finance. The view was expressed that the credit should affect favorably throughout the world of finance, in view of the traditional position of London as principal bankers in the world.

The formal announcement by the Morgan firm, which was read to reporters by Thomas W. Lamont, said: "We have arranged, in association with a group of American banks and banking houses, to extend a one-year credit of $200,000,000 to the British government. We are informed by the British authorities that they are arranging in the French market for one year credits and loans in the aggregate amount of approximately $200,000,000.

The announcement was issued at the Morgan office at the conclusion of a trans-Atlantic telephone conversation with a representative of the British treasury.

The $400,000,000 credit is distinct from the $200,000,000 credit extended a few weeks ago by the Federal Reserve system and the Bank of France, and was explained as being a measure supplemental to that credit.

American bankers expressed gratification at the spirit of cooperation shown by leading bankers in the three great financial capitals, and regarded the celerity of the conclusion of negotiations as remarkable.

The credit became effective as of yesterday. It was explained that with the utmost confidence in the British government, the bankers had made no stipulations as to the use of it. The terms of the credit were similar to the $100,000,000 credit extended by a private banking group headed by the Morgan firm in 1925, save that it is for one year instead of two. It was recalled that the British government did not find it necessary to use any of the 1925 credit, in view of the favorable psychological effects of the placing of it. Bankers expect that at most only a moderate portion of the new credit will be used. British treasury dollar obligations will be exchanged as drafts are made on the credit.

While no public participation in the American portion of the credit is being offered, half of the French credit will be offered in the open market in the form of one-year notes. Both London and New York have been awaiting with interest the development of Paris as a world capital market, since its vast accumulations of gold in the past few years, and the fact that it is able to make this large offering publicly is favorably interpreted in Wall Street.

British Committees Seek To Fix Budget

LONDON, Aug. 29.—(A.P.)—Bidders by $200,000,000 credit from United States and French bankers, the British government today passed its parliamentary program in the hands of committee to attempt to restore British finance. The committee in the less monetized means of balancing the budget, the other in connection with regard to pushing the proposed British Common. Both are to meet Monday.

MOST CITIES TO HANDLE OWN RELIEF WORK

Survey Of Committee To Determine Sum Needed In Country

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(A.P.)—Reports indicating that most cities expect to be able to handle their own unemployment relief problems next winter were being compiled yesterday for a committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The committee, which will meet here Thursday to draft a report on unemployment, has conducted a survey of more than 1000 cities to determine their expected relief needs and resources.

On the basis of this survey it may be possible for the committee to estimate the total relief funds needed next winter.

Tude bodies in each city were asked to report the amount of money spent for unemployment relief last winter, the comparative amount expected to be needed this winter, and the probable ability of local authorities to handle the situation.

Results of the survey have not been made public but were described as being very encouraging so far, in that they indicate the expected relief burden this winter will not be much greater than last and generally within the capacities of the communities to handle.

The committee, which is headed by Henry L. Harriman of Boston, was appointed to make a study of the continuity of employment in business.

It was primarily set up to study the long range problem of unemployment and will have before it next week many proposals for stabilizing employment.

The emergency problem of relief for existing unemployed will also be considered, however, and the survey has been made for that purpose.

Among the plums which will come before the committee is one for creation of a national economic planning board to propose methods to co-ordinate production and consumption.

The committee also has proposed data on unemployment insurance systems and plans for re-arranging employment to lessen the purse strings of those on the state payroll. He said the main purpose of the act was the construction and regulation of roads of state and payment of county obligations by portion of the gas tax was incidental and not of prime importance.

He said the state has the right to build roads and pay for them, as why not buy roads built by the counties. Validity of the allocation act was also before a group headed by John Mathews, dual legislator. The hearing is expected to close today and Judge F. C. Love will take it under advisement.

The state's seventh cent tax on gasoline for general state purposes was not attacked nor was the first three cents tax of the former six cents levy assailed. The attack centered on the second three cents tax of the six cents levy, and yesterday's arguments were directed almost entirely on the distribution of the revenue from the third cent tax.

In their gsy tour through France, Germany and Sweden, Mrs. Owen did all the cooking en route. Part of the trip was with Yvonne Hurst, mother and long-time friend of Mrs. Owen. She was half-awake.

Silas Strawn, president of the chamber, and Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the board, are expected to attend the committee meetings. They have shown an interest in proposals for assuring continuity of employment to those now working.

The state's seventh cent tax on gasoline for general state purposes was not attacked nor was the first three cents tax of the former six cents levy assailed. The attack centered on the second three cents tax of the six cents levy, and yesterday's arguments were directed almost entirely on the distribution of the revenue from the third cent tax.

The pride was generated by the fact that this is the first year that Seminole county has furnished both the boy and girl scholarship winners of the district, comprising Brevard and Seminole counties. In other years, this county has either produced a boy or girl winner, but never both in one year.

The scholarships, valued at $200 each for a four year term, entitle the winners to attend the University of Florida at Gainesville and the Florida State College for Women at Tallahassee. There they may take any course they wish.

GLASS BRANDS CANNON ALIBI AS Nonsense

Ridicules Bishop's Refusal To Testify In Order To Protect Anti-Smith People

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—(A.P.)—Senator Glass, Democrat of Virginia, yesterday described as "the sheerest nonsense" the statement of Bishop James Cannon that he was refusing to tell what he dug with the anti-Smith campaign funds to "protect" anti-Smith Democrats to whom payments are alleged to have been made.

Relying to the bishop's statement made in London Thursday, the senator said:

"There seems no necessity for serious comment. The good bishop seems to prefer to persist in his hallucination that I demanded this investigation into his financial transactions in the last national campaign."

If this were true, I am unable to discern that the fact could affect in any way the charge that Bishop Cannon diverted to his own private uses funds intended to be expended for political purposes.

However, as previously pointed out, I presented no charges against Bishop Cannon. The charge of embezzlement was made by his former political affiliate, Congressman Tinkham (Republican of Massachusetts). I simply drafted a resolution, which the United States Senate unanimously passed, giving Bishop Cannon an opportunity to immediately disclaim an investigation by the Nye committee of this shocking accusation by his former political companion. One would suppose that the good bishop would be grateful to me and to the Nye committee also for so quickly and completely affording him an opportunity to dispense so fitting a charge against his personal integrity.

This was the information contained in a letter received today by Sidney Nix, secretary of the Sanford Kiwanis Club, from R. E. Evans, secretary of the Florida Kiwanis District.

Several thousand Kiwanians, the letter declares, visit Florida each winter, and are desirous of establishing some central point where Kiwanians can gather, get acquainted with each other, and enjoy with other Kiwanians the pleasures which the locality affords.

Chief among the requirements are satisfactory hotel accommodations, golf courses, good roads, fishing and other amusements.

Mr. Evans' letter in full is as follows:

Dear Secretary:

I have just returned from a trip North to Chicago at the Woodlawn Kiwanis Club, one of the oldest and best established clubs in the Illinois-Iowa District. I heard the following proposition discussed. They proposed that there be as several thousand Kiwanians visit Florida every winter, there should be three or four central points for Kiwanians head quarters, so that Kiwanians could visit these places, meet other Kiwanians, and enjoy with them the sports and pleasures that Florida offers. Below is what they desire:

1. Rates at one or more hotels.
2. Rates at golf clubs.

3. A statement as to attractions offered visitors, roads, fishing, golf, amusements, nearness to other places.

"Now if you feel that your town would be interested in making a bid for one of these headquarters, then send your information to the address given below. If you do not feel that your town would be a good place for headquarters, then least send them a letter and invite them to come to Florida and show them that Florida Kiwanians would like to entertain them. It is fair to assume that if head quarters of this kind were established, more Kiwanians would visit Florida than have been doing so in the past and would stay longer, have a better time, and go back with better impressions of Florida.

"The negroes, Richard and Charley Smoke, father and son, were taken from their home last night and mowed down with a fusillade from shotguns, rifles, and pistols after being marched down the road.

The negroes were turpentine workers and had been hired out by their employer. The coroner said he learned that Williams struck one of the negroes at the camp last Tuesday and the other took up the fight seriously injuring the white man and he was carried to a hospital in Panama City where he is recovering.

Sheriff R. J. Flanigan started an investigation today but neither he nor the coroner were able to learn the identity of the mob members.

Very truly yours,
R. O. EVANS,
Secretary-Treasurer
Florida Kiwanis District".

Send your proposition to:
D. Gordon Ramsey.

SLAYER OF 4 CONFESSES TO GRUESOME ACT

Admission Is Obtained From Murderer After Night Of Questioning By Officers

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 29.—(A.P.)—Andrew Moore, Harrison county jailor, said today that Cornelius O. Pierson, 45, had confessed to the murder of a woman and her three children whose bodies were found under his garage yesterday. Moore said Pierson had promised to "tell all" today.

Pierson was locked up after a night of questioning. Disheveled, red-eyed and nervous, the once stout correspondent for matrimonial agencies was huddled back to his cell at daybreak.

The bodies, wrapped in burlap and placed in a drain in a sewer beneath an oddly constructed garage six miles from here, were tentatively identified as Mrs. Asta Ruth Eicher, well-known Clarksburg widow, and her children, Harry, 12; Greta, 14; and Anabelle, Charles Franklin Haskins, former postmaster here and a permanent resident of this section for more than 10 years, died at the home of his son, Harold C. Haskins, Sanford Avenue, at 1:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was 81 years of age at the time of his death, and had been in failing health for some months.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:00 o'clock from the First Congregational Church. The Rev. J. Bernard Root will officiate at the church, with members of various Masonic bodies in Sanford, officiating in a short service at the grave. He will be buried beside the body of his wife, who died in 1927, in Lakewood cemetery. The Erickson Funeral Home has charge of the arrangements.

Active pallbearers will be H. F. Kent, Ira E. Southward, H. F. Whitmer, Sr., C. E. Gonsalves, W. L. Harvey, and Carl Pearson. Honorary pallbearers will be J. P. Hall, E. H. Randall, Jr., John Gove, F. P. Foster, C. J. Rumpf, R. C. Shearer, T. C. Carlson, and J. H. Ferguson.

Mr. Haskins was one of the few remaining Civil War veterans in this section, and had a large circle of friends. He was born at Chardon, Ohio, May 13, 1860, receiving his education in schools in that vicinity.

At the outbreak of the Civil War, although he was but 10 years of age, he made an attempt to enter the Union army but was rejected. However, before the war was concluded he was able to enlist and saw actual service as a member of the 13th Ohio Infantry, Ohio.

He moved to Kansas after the war, later to Colorado, and finally to Florida, in 1889. He immediately secured employment on the Miami railroad as a locomotive engineer, and followed the railroads as a loco driver until the early 1900's.

President Theodore Roosevelt appointed him as postmaster of Sanford on Oct. 1, 1902, after years of activity as a Republican councilman and leader. He served as postmaster until late in 1910, when he retired from the service.

Mr. Haskins was married to Miss Clara Viola Coulby, on Jan. 1, 1878. Mrs. Haskins died in 1910. He is survived by three children, two daughters, Mrs. Sam L. Smart, and Mrs. James D. Parrish, both of Jacksonville, and a son, Harold C. Haskins, of Sanford.

Warrants charging him with kidnapping and manslaughter were on their way here from Park Ridge, Ill., the woman's home, but the basis on which these warrants were obtained was not revealed.

Preliminary examination of the woman's body indicated she had been slain by being smashed over the head with some heavy instrument. Her hair was torn from her scalp, but whether that was the result of a struggle that preceded her death was not determined.

While officers said they believed there was no doubt that the bodies were those of the missing woman and her children, Capt. Duckworth said the condition of the corpse made positive identification impossible.

The discovery apparently affected Pierson little. "I haven't a thing to say," Duckworth reported him as saying.

MacDonald Banned From Another Group

LONDON, Aug. 29.—(A.P.)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has been expelled from the Hampstead labor party for forming an anti-socialist government formed for the purpose of getting through Parliament anti-working class legislation. It was announced today.

MacDonald has his private residence in Hampstead, a London suburb, and has been a member of the party there several years, holding a membership in the other party group there.

MIDDLE OF LINE SEEN WEAK SPOT OF GATOR TEAM

Absence Of Clemons,
Clark From Lineup
To Be Sorely Felt

By FRANK S. WRIGHT.
GAINESVILLE, Aug. 28.—One of the heaviest losses the 1931 football team of the University of Florida sustained was in the middle of the line when the gridiron careers of Ben Clemons and Frank Clark terminated.

The outstanding abilities of these two gridiron athletes seemingly were never fully appreciated by John Public. Representing two distinctly different types, Clemons and Clark from the day they entered the university as freshmen in 1927, competed for the position of center on the football team, and both rendered unusually fine services to the Gator grid cause.

The third man in the "centering" last year was Jim Ramsey, virtually unknown as the approaching season dawns. Not a spectacular player in any degree, Ramsey found little opportunity to show his wares against such sterling competition as afforded by Clemons and Clark, but this season he has a clear road among seasoned players to the first starting position.

Some of the freshmen from last year, and some of the reserves of a year or two about the lot, may give Jim a stern battle, but the husky W. St. Florida boy is grooming himself in a big way to carry on in the stead of his able predecessors.

Blountstown, Chipley and Bristol high schools, all have an interest in the grid fortunes of Jim Ramsey for he attended each in succession. His four year average of over .92 was an exceedingly commendable attainment, and this was achieved along with his participation in four sports.

In 1926 Jim was picked at the All West Florida center, but shifted into the backfield the next season. He was twice captain of his high school basketball team. He pitched two years in baseball, tossed the shot and discus and ran the half-mile with the track team. He has never had time taken for him in football.

Jim has been swimming in West Florida, and expects to return to Coach Bachman for the fall practice weighing 175 pounds, or more. He says he is in the best condition of his career.

The battle for center will be one of the interesting angles of the 1931 season, and redoubtable Jim will not be easily displaced by the younger and scrappy fresh, though keen competition is expected since Coach Bachman used both Ferrazzi and Barnhard in the middle of the line during spring practice.

Bunching hits in the 4th and 5th inning the Sanford Celery Feds came through yesterday afternoon at Municipal Athletic Field, defeating Winter Park 4 to 2.

Roddy Lake was on the mound for the Feds and pitched one of the prettiest games seen this season. Although the Parkers nicked him for eight hits, aside from the first inning Lake kept the hits well scattered and, from the second inning on, only one Parker was able to get as far as third base.

In the first inning Powers, first up, flied out to center field;

Buddy Lake Hurls Excellent Game For Winners Thursday

The people of Orlando are now beginning to wonder whether in fact they have ever had a real good girls' diamond ball team.

The Seminole Laundry team of Sanford went down to Orlando last night, and played the Black Wall Cleaners, which is supposed to be the best Orlando affords. When the game was over the score stood, Sanford 15, Orlando 2.

Ethel Gates started for Sanford and pitched wonderful ball, holding the Orlando team to five hits for two runs, one of the runs a circuit smash in the fifth inning off the bat of Stinson. Dot Powell went in the box in the sixth, and only six players faced her in the two final rounds.

Hong started for Orlando and pitched the first four innings the Sanford girls got to her from the start, singles, doubles, triples and home runs coming with monotonous regularity. Mayo, who is claimed to be their star pitcher, went into the box in the fifth but from the way the Sanford girls were hitting the tall all-pitchers looked alike to them, and Mayo was not able to stem the tide, the Sanford girls continuing their hitting like it was nobody's business.

Dot Powell was the heavy hit-er for Sanford, getting four hits out of four times up, two singles, a triple and a home run. Spencer also hit for the circuit in the two final rounds.

The Sanford girls played alright ball in the field, making several difficult catches.

won from Orlando, and from the way the Sanford girls have been playing until now, nothing

Overstreet singled to left field; Moseley hit a grounder to third base which was too hot to handle for a single; Gofford fumbled out to Peters at first; Rodenbaugh singled to center, scoring Overstreet and Moseley; Hall went out second to first to end the inning and incidentally ending the run getting so far as Winter Park was concerned.

Dennis, erstwhile Fed pitcher, hurried for the Winter Park team and for three innings had the Feds completely buffaloed.

In the second inning he served the Feds with nothing but curves, striking in succession. In the third inning after Harrison went out second to first, he struck out Lake and Britt to 2.

Roddy Lake was on the mound for the Feds and pitched one of the prettiest games seen this season. Although the Parkers nicked him for eight hits, aside from the first inning Lake kept the hits well scattered and, from the second inning on, only one Parker was able to get as far as third base.

In spite of the threatening weather a good crowd was out to the game and was in there pulling for the Feds from the first man up until the last out was made.

Dramatics Are Given Part In Church Life

Recognizing the fact that dramatization becomes evident in the early stages of the development of children through their desire to imitate in play the social activities about them, the leaders of the Junior Christian Endeavor of the Presbyterian Church are making use of this natural tendency by incorporating an educational force in the religious activities of the department.

A Players Club has been organized and includes all children enrolled in the Junior Christian Endeavor of the church. No effort is made to use ready-made plays but rather the native impulse is allowed to develop naturally and grow through the criticism of the children themselves. All the scenes and lines are of the players' own thought.

The club has been attempting, according to the Rev. K. D. Brownlee, as an experiment with the hope that it will be a nucleus for further dramatization as a means of religious education.

"The response from the children was exceedingly gratifying," Mr. Brownlee said, "and during the three club meetings they dramatized and presented in a small group of girls the two well known parables, The Good Samaritan and The Wise and Foolish Maidens."

The following are members of the Players Club and took part in the presentation: Evelyn Wilkerson, Dorothy Viele, Doris Rokey, Laura Mae Brown, Anna Belle Brown, Mary Frances Andrews, Silvia Melendron, Jack Purdon, Billie Zachary, Julian Strandstrom, Douglas Strandstrom, Herbert Smith, Charles Robertson, Robert Groves, Jimmie Groves.

Illustrating his point by the ubiquitous baseball war between Orlando and Sanford, Yowell said,

"That baseball war had more to do with taking Seminole out of Orange than any other one thing."

He said he trusts the women in the community together, the men are too lazy.

President Yowell, Lehmann, making his last speech as Orange County secretary, expressed pleasure and appreciation for the privilege of serving the county for nine years, which, he said, is five years more than the average at the time he assumed his duties, and six years more than the average now.
