PARIS (UPI)— Ayatollab Ruhollah Khomeini today began what he hoped would be his last day in exile after 15 years and prepared with quiet satisfaction to return to riolence-torn Iran.

Both the 78-year-old holy man's entourage and Air France said he would depart Paris about 5 p.m. today, barring any last-minute developments in Iran that would once again block Khomeini's return

3 Executed For Bombing

MOSCOW (UPI) — The official Soviet news agency Tass reported today Stepan Zatikyan, an Armenian dissident, and two other people were executed for exploding a bomb in the Moscow subway in January 1977. The first official confirmation of the report had been given to Western reporters by Nobel laureate and dissident leader Andrei Sakharov on Monday. Tass described Zatikyan as a "very dangerous repeat criminal" and said he and two accomplices were tried in open court by the criminal branch of the Supreme Court Tass did not name the two accomplices nor the charges they faced, nor did it say when the bombing trial took place or when the sentence was carried out.

Europe Cuts Tobacco Tariff

RALEIGH, N. C. (UPI)— U. S. tobacco will become more competitive in Europe because of a recently agreed-to 30 percent tariff cut by the Common Market nations, the chief U.S. agricultural trade negotiator said. Speaking to the North Carolina Corn Growers Association, James Starkey said the tariff reductions in the European Economic Community will drop the tariff from the current 24-25 cents per pound to about 16 cents a pound. The United States annually sells about $400 million of its leaf to the Common Market nations.

New Jail Construction 3 Months Behind Schedule

Herald Staff Writer

Construction at the Seminole County sheriff's complexdetention center is three months behind schedule, County Administrator Roger Neiswender has reported to the county

The cause, he said, is a delivery problem with the supplier of doors and door frames out of Miami. "There's a great number of doors in the complex and some especially-built door frames," John Percy, director of county development and liaison for the county on the complex construction, added. . The contract with the project general contractor, Standard Construction Associates, for the construction calling for completion of the project within 570 days - sometime in January 1980 - also provides a penalty clause of $300 per day for every day after the completion date it takes to finish construction, JoAnn Blackman, county purchasing agent, said. Mrs. Blackman said the contractors have not asked, as yet, for a time extension. Percy said the contractors, at this point, believe they can make up the time lost. Of the $4.29 million construction cost, the county has paid so far $1,441,436.40 including $201,362.40 approved for payment this week. Most of the construction cost is being reimbursed through a federal grant approved by the U.S. Economic Development The county commissioners Tuesday approved execution of a 20-

The contract extending to Sept. 30, 1981, calls for two ambulances with advanced life support and manned by a para-medic to be stationed in Sanford and Casselberry and a third with basic life support and to be used primarily for routine patient transport to be stationed at Florida North Hospital in Altamonte Springs. In addition, a fourth ambulance will be available from Orange County for emergency use, mostly in the southeast section of the

"The saving feature of the contract is the ability by either the county or Herndon to cancel or negotiate a new contract with 90 days notice. Neither party is locked in," County Commissioner ROGER NEISWENDER

A section of the contract provides that Herndon will furnish ambulance service for all indigents duly certified by the proper county officials without any additional charge to the county. Commissioner Bill Kirchhoff voted against the contract, saying more effort should have been given to finding alternative methods of providing ambulance service.

Although the county looked into providing ambulance service in house, Public Safety Director Gary Kaiser said it would take eight-to-nine months to implement a program. Commissioner Bob Sturm asked the staff to gather information

Problems Of Alien Signups

The United States Immigration and Naturalization Service is conducting its annual ritual of registering all aliens living in this country. The registration takes place every January. It is a formality that all legal aliens must observe.

There are nearly 5 million of them. It's also a farce because there are millions of illegal aliens who never register.

Just how many millions is a matter of debate: estimates range from 2 to 12 million.

It has been estimated that for every legal immigrant who enters the U.S., two illegal im-

Zero Population Growth Inc., a private, Washington-based organization that lobbies on population control issues, projects that from 1970 to the year 2000 illegal immigrants and their descendants will add 20 million people to the population, as against 15 million from legal immigration and 38 million from natural increases at current birth and death rates.

And the odd thing about it is that most persons seem little concerned by this massive violation of our immigration laws. They could care less. Whenever any practical suggestion is made for a new procedure or requirement that would offer some hope of stemming the illegal tide, objections immediately arise. The civil rights of citizens and legal immigrants would be violated, it seems, by any effective effort to identify and deport the illegal immigrants.

The appointment of Leonel Castillo as commissioner of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service has come to symbolize for many INS officials in the lower ranks the frustration of their job.

That's an unadulterated euphemism that has no place in a law-enforcement officer's vocabulary. Perhaps our immigration laws are wrong. Perhaps the quotas are out of date.

Perhaps they should be changed. But until the Congress changes the law, it is the duty of federal officialdom to enforce the law as written. Not to find excuses for violators.

College Bankrupts

The last Congress enacted the first major revision of federal bankruptcy laws in 40 years.

Under the pressure of last fall's adjournment deadline, the House and Senate took the extraordinary step of reconciling their separate and conflicting bills without submitting them to a

An apparent consequence of taking such a short-cut with a complicated piece of legislation has surfaced in the federal courts in San Diego, Calif. Inadvertently, we must assume, Congress opened the way for students fresh out of college to use bankruptcy as a means of discharging debts for government grants and student loans that The Higher Education Act of 1965 and other federally financed student aid programs have included provisions to prevent such obvious abuse. Congress repealed those earlier sections of the law and incorporated them into the new Bankrupcy Act. R now appears, however, that the repeal has gone into effect

Not that the government is ready to concede the $2 bill is a failure. And, if inflation continues at its rapid rise, the $2 bill may yet find a place in the hearts of the people.

But, there is one little item the government's planners, analyzers and braintrusts forgot to take into consideration. That is, in order for the $2 bill to become a permanent part of everyday currency, it must be distributed and exchanged from retail

Three Florida Lawmakers Want Speedup On Lawsuit

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Senate's three most powerful members may have changed tactics in their fight to avoid "full financial disclosure."

Senate President Phil Lewis, Ways and Means Chairman Jack Gordon and Rules Chairman Dempsey Barron asked the Florida Supreme Court Tuesday to speed up action on a suit contending they aren't covered by the Sunshine Amendment.

The ruling in that case may determine whether they ask the U.S. Supreme Court in Washington to reconsider its decision dismissing their suit contending the amendment is unconstitutional.

From Hartman To Hellman

BY UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL Dramatically, it's a quantum leap from the role of the dicey housewife in "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman," but Louise Lasser says moral conviction will carry her across the gap. She's playing the role of Lillian Hellman - a guest spot for one week - at New York's Century Theater in the play "Are You or Have You Ever Been?" In the second act, she reads Miss Hellman's famed defiant answer to the House Committee on Un-American Activities in the 1940's. Says she, "I'm doing the play because of my moral beliefs ... I'm glad it's being exposed." She costars soon with Marty Feldman in the film "In God We Trust."

A Multi-Talented Artist, She Loves To Make Bread

By ELDA NICHOLS Herald Correspondent

Maryon Mensing and her husband, Raymond, of Lake Mary, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary last year. But neither of them is about to sit back and take it easy! Known as a good cook by ner friends, Maryon loves all phases of cooking, but added, "I especially love making bread! I make several loaves of whole wheat bread at one time. It is so much better for you than what you can buy.' She is also enthused bout her microwave oven. 'It's the most marvelous hing! There's just nothing to heating up frozen food. I defrosted a chicken the other day in just 10 minutes!" she explained. She and her husband both attended classes at

College in microwave and specialty cooking. Another kitchen convenience Maryon enjoys using is her food processor. "You can use it for so many things. I gave my blender away after I started using the food processor," she ones reflect her own wellbalanced diet, with plenty of fresh fruits and salads prevailing. "My husband is good cook too. After I had heart attack, he did most f the cooking while recuperated. Now, he makes a wonderful pound cake, delicious bran muffins, brownies and chocolate chip cookies. We're not supposed to eat hese things, but we do sometimes." she said

Maryon's beautiful skin

A terrific artist, Maryon has many of her lovely works on display in her home. She also sculpts. She and her husband make jewelry, cutting and polishing their own stones. "I do the designing," she said. Reading and travel round out her hobbies. She is a member of the Lake Mary's Woman's Club.

Good cooks in Charleston, S. C., where the 1979 National Chicken Cooking Contest will be held, often serve "Hunter's Chicken." Your favorite chicken recipe could win $10,000 if you enter it in the competition prior to April 1 deadline.

Now's The Time To Enter Chicken Cooking Contest

The entry period has opened for the 1979 National Chicken Cooking Contest and April 1 is the deadline for submitting recipes to compete for a top prize of $10,000.

The National Broiler Council, sponsor of the contest has announced that anyone may enter and the only required ingredient in recipes is chicken—whole or any part or parts. A total of $20,000 in prizes will be awarded at the national cook-off, to be held July 25 in Charleston, South Carolina.

From all the recipes entered, 51 finalists — one from each state and the District of Columbia — will be selected. These will be chosen in preliminary state cook-offs or, in states where no cookoff is held, by independent recipe judging and kitchen testing

No official entry form is needed. Just write name, address and telephone number on each recipe and send to Chicken Contest, Box 28158 Central Station, Washington, DC 20005.

Enter as many recipes as you like but each must be on a separate sheet of paper. Recipes should be written for approximately four servings and total preparation time (including boning, marinading, etc.) should not exceed three hours.

Judging at both the state and national levels will be based on four equal points: taste, appearance, simplicity and appeal. Each national finalist will receive a trophy and an expense-paid trip to historic Charleston for the cook-off.

The National Chicken Cooking Contest is the nation's oldest continuous annual cooking competition, dating back to 1949. To get you thinking about a favorite chicken recipe that could make you a winner, try "Hunter's Chicken" (below). It's one of the traditional chicken dishes of the South Carolina Low Country, adapted from "Charleston Receipts," compiled and edited by the Junior League of Charleston.

HUNTER'S CHICKEN (Adapted from "Charleston Receipts")

- 1 broiler-fryer chicken, cut in parts 1/2 cup cooking oil
- ½ pound mushrooms 2 shallots, sliced thin, OR 4 tablespoons chopped onion
- ½ clove garlic, minced 11/2 pounds tomatoes, peeled and chopped 12 cup dry white wine 2 tablespoons tomato puree
- teaspoon salt 4 teaspoon pepper l bay leaf

1 tablespoon butter 1 tablespoon minced parsley

Remove chicken from pan and saute mushrooms, shallots and garlic in the oil. Put the chicken back in pan and add remaining ingredients, except butter and parsiev. Cook, covered, over low chicken with ease. Arrange chicken on platter; add butter and paraley to sauce in pan and pour over chicken. Serve over rice.

A 30-Year Guest Shows Bad Taste With Criticism

DEAR ABBY: We work with an attractive woman who is in her early 50s. She was born in England and has lived in the U.S. for 30 years.

Three years ago she started working in this office, and because of her English accent we were all charmed by her. But lately she has begun to irritate us because she never loses an opportunity to put down this country. (According to her, everything is better in England!)

She has never bothered to become an American citizen. Do you think a person who is not a citizen of this country has the right to criticize it?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: Yes, freedom of speech gives her the right to criticize. But as a resident alien who has lived on the American economy for 30 years, she shows poor taste in exercising that right. Basically, she is a guest of Uncle Sam, and a good guest does not criticize her host.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is the woman my husband used to see before he married me. She keeps sending Arthur "miss you" cards, birthday telegrams, Christmas cards, etc., to remind him that she's still around. These reminders are sent to our home and signed, "with love."

Arthur makes no effort to hide them. He just drops them in the wastebasket, and I find them when I empty the trash. I have begged him to ring up this woman and tell her to please leave him alone, but he won't do it. He says he has never done anything to encourage her. I believe him, but don't you think if Arthur really cared about my feelings he would do something to put a stop to all this?

I am 53 and Arthur is 62, and this is the second marriage for both of me

JEALOUS IN JOPIAN

DEAR JEALOUS: If you're wise, you'll stop begging your husband to ring up his old flame for any reason. By ignoring her he is discouraging her in the best possible way. She probably never enters his mind until you bring her up.

DEAR ABBY: Ever since I remember, my husband has given me $100 in cash and told me to buy myself a Christmas present. It's been all right with me because Alex hates to shop. Besides, his taste is so lousy that whenever he'd buy me something I'd have to exchange it for something else.

Well, for the last three Christmases Alex has given me the usual cash gift, then a week later he'd ask to "borrow" it until after the first of the year—and that was the last I saw of my "present."

Some present, huh? Any suggestions?

GIFTLESS

DEAR GIFTLESS: Yes. As seen as you get the cash, either spend it or bank it.
