Japs, Rebels Plan Death Blows For World's Two Wars

Japanese To Muster 1,000,000 Soldiers As Insurgents Plan General Offensive

Softened Sudeten Demands Likely

Britain Protests Unexplained Arrest Of Passport Officer

The second battle between British troops and an Arab band brought the casualty list for two days of bloody conflict in Palestine to 65 dead and hundreds wounded. Five British soldiers were killed and 13 wounded.

The Spanish insurgents took preliminary action for what was expected to be a general offensive to end the civil war, while Japan, at war with China and facing hostile Russia, prepared to add 1,000,000 men to her armed forces.

Genetissimo Francisco Franco's air raiders bombed Barcelona three times. His aides closed the French frontier, the customary custom of an insurgent offensive.

These developments overshadowed dim promises of appeasement both in Spain and Czechoslovakia.

Promoter Juan Negrin of the Spanish government was in Zurich, Switzerland, ostensibly as a delegate to the International Congress of Physiologists, but the presence of the Duke of Alba, insurgent representative in London, led to speculation as to whether they might confer.

Softening of the demands of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten German minority was believed possible as result of the conference between Viscount Runciman, unofficial British mediator, and Konrad Henlein, leader of Sudeten Germany party.

Meanwhile the British government informed Germany it took a "serious view" of the unexplained arrest of Captain Thomas Kendrick, British passport officer in Vienna.

Captain Kendrick was arrested by German secret police at the German-Swiss border yesterday as he and wife were about to leave the country on a vacation.

A new order by the Japanese war office instructed all males in the recruit division, between the ages of 24 and 34 who have had no active training to "stand by."

It was believed this indicated Japan intended to throw vast reinforcements into a drive aimed at crushing China's resistance.

Mercury Soars To 98 Degrees As City Swelters

Temperature Is Highest Since May 22, G. P. Paxton Says

Sanford experienced its hottest day Thursday since May 22 with a recorded high temperature of 98 degrees, G. P. Paxton, local weatherman announced. On May 22 a 98 degree temperature was also recorded.

Mr. Paxton revealed that August, to date, has been the hottest month of the summer, averaging over 90 degrees. Only five days out of the preceding 18 have been below 90 degrees.

Other high temperatures recorded for this month have been 96, 95 on two occasions, 93, and 92 several times.

During the last three years, the average mean high temperature has been 91 or above. In 1936 was experienced the hottest season in many years as the average mean high temperature for the entire summer was 92 degrees. In 1937 the average was 90 degrees. And so far this year, the average is between 90 and 91 degrees.

Mr. Paxton said that if the rest of August is as hot as it has been for the past week, the seasonal high will run at least 91 degrees.

The reason for the extremely high temperatures this month, Mr. Paxton declared, is the lack of rain which kept the temperature down during June and July.

Friday appeared headed for another record-breaking high temperature until rain began falling about 11:00 o'clock.

The extremely hot weather that has been experienced this month is unusual records which show that August is always the hottest month of summer.

Sanford wasn't the only hot spot on the map as many other cities throughout the country sweltered in the torrid heat of an August sun. Dallas recorded a high of 98 degrees while San Antonio had 96 degrees. Jacksonville showed 96 as did Kansas City. Mobile and New Orleans both reported 94-degree weather.

One of the coolest spots in the country was San Francisco with a high of 86 degrees. San Francisco's damp and chilly atmosphere results largely from the cold, thick fogs which frequently sweep over the city from the bay.

Thomas Returns From Vacation In North Carolina

Assistant Fire Chief Visits Fire Departments During Visit

Assistant Fire Chief, R. T. Thomas, who returned recently from a vacation trip through Georgia and the Carolinas, declared that a visit to many fire departments on the trip disclosed excellent equipment and necessary man power aided in limiting fire damages in those centers.

Comparing the excellent record of the Sanford Fire Department with that of those cities, Mr. Thomas pointed out that Sanford has five losses, was mainly due to the efficiency and vigilance of the five-man department, which includes Chief Mack Cleveland.

This state of affairs can't always exist, he asserted, adding that there may be a time a fire will break out on such a scale that both men and equipment will be insufficient to handle it.

More men and better equipment will serve to prevent a possible loss that may greatly exceed the cost of such preventive measures, he said.

Referring to his trip in North Carolina where he visited in Asheville, Charlotte, Hendersonville, and other cities, Mr. Thomas said the weather was delightful, being cool and pleasant at night and comfortable during the day due to daily rains.

"Crops in the mountain section of North Carolina," he stated, "are excellent and the corn crop was the largest and best I've ever seen. In fact, it is said that yield of corn and wheat per acre in that section are higher than in the west and mid-west where those two crops are the chief sources of livelihood."

However, he added, the reason those are not large money crops in Carolina as they are in the west and mid-west is because there isn't enough land in the mountain valleys.

Negro Charges Hospital Bond Money Turned Election Set Over To Hines For Sept. 27

"Big Joe" Ison Testifies Tammany Leader Got $125 A Week From Racket

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (AP)—"Big Joe" Ison, a West Indian negro racketeer, today testified in a court case that the Tammany leader, James J. Hines, Tammany district leader, that money he and other racketeers had to pay Ison was turned to a "Jim Hines" racket.

Ison said the $125 a week he got from the racketeer did not go to the political "protection."

"Big Joe" and the money was turned on policy, slot and "the Jim Hines" racket.

Another racketeer, red-haired, testified an election captain for Hines, was recommended to act as a material witness in the policy racket trial of the Democratic boss after he repudiated a sworn statement linking Hines to a member of the Dutch Schultz syndicate.

Jailing of the witness, Julius (Red) Williams, 16, followed a day of testimony in which evidence was offered that the late Magistrate Francis J. Egan, named by District Attorney Thomas F. Dewey as having been "influenced" by the Schultz gang, dismissed 12 prisoners taken in a policy raid.

Pleading that he was threatened with imprisonment by a Dewey assistant, Williams denied he actually had made a statement in which he was quoted as saying Hines lent him to Harlem policy racket headquarters in 1932 to obtain employment from George Weinberg, Schultz henchman who has pleaded guilty to the racket's indictment.

The witness declared under cross examination by Defense Counsel Lloyd Paul Stryker that Sol Gelfa, a Dewey assistant, dictated the statement. Williams added that he did not know what was in the statement because, he said, he could not read and was ashamed to admit illiteracy.

Townsend Club To Conduct Campaign Among Merchants

Decision was made at the Townsend Club meeting Thursday night to conduct a campaign among local merchants to demonstrate the principles of the National Recovery Plan.

Secretary Arthur E. Kirchhoff was instructed to have cards printed and distributed among the merchants who will be asked by the Townsend Club customers to purchase the amount of the purchase on the card. After $10 have been traded out, the merchant will hand the card to the secretary or treasurer of the club together with two cents on every dollar traded out.

The revenue from this plan, it was pointed out, will be used to help defray the expenses of the club in carrying out its educational work. According to Mr. Kirchhoff, every merchant in Sanford interested in the Townsend movement will be given the authorized cards by Monday. He declared "this will be another important step for the people to show their loyalty to Sanford business houses."

NEW BOMBING PLANE LONDON. —(AP)— Production of "subtropospheric" bombing planes for the air ministry is expected to start in the Summer of 1940. The planes will weigh 70,000 pounds and their four engines will speed them along at 275 miles an hour at 25,000 feet. A pressure cabin will shield the crew.

Hospital Bond Election Set

Freeholders To Decide $70,000 Bond Issue For Modern County-Owned Institution

Sanford County will vote on a proposal of approximately $70,000 bond issue to finance the County portion of a PWA project for constructing a 100-bed hospital at E. F. Housholder, County Attorney, announced today.

The bond issue will be held for the election of the County Commission on Monday after a public hearing on the subject will be held before the Board of Freeholders on Monday.

Mr. Housholder explained that the County Commission set the date for the election at a public meeting Monday after a statement by the Regional PWA office for that in a press where a bond election issue required in connection with PWA grants, they must be held before that date.

Applications for a grant from the Public Works Administration of a portion of the cost of the proposed hospital were recently filed by the County Commission. The necessary preliminary work was completed by a hospital committee. Under this setup the County would get a modern three-story, four-story, hospital building over $100,000 for only $5,000 of the total cost.

The PWA would also purchase the County's bond issue in the event the project is given approval both by the freeholders and the PWA.

Mr. Housholder emphasized that under the terms of the special bill under which the election will be held no bonds will be sold or issued by the County if the grant from the federal government is not secured, even though the issue is given approval by the freeholders.

The special bill also provides that over 75 percent of the County's registered freeholders must cast ballots on the election and a majority of those must vote in favor of the issue before the bonds can be floated.

The election will be held with out cost to the County since all clerks at the polls will serve without pay. The County Commissioners pointed out that this was necessary because no funds had been budgeted for this purpose.

Mr. Housholder stated that a meeting of the hospital committee will be called soon to discuss matters incident to the election.

Pastor Is Tried At Night For Murder MANDAN, N. D. Aug. 18. —(AP)—Special midnight court session to avoid trouble with an aroused populace provided speedy justice today in one of North Dakota's strangest murder cases. Explaining impressively that "the devil overcame me," Rev. Hein Janssen, 51-year-old Evangelical Lutheran pastor at Krem, admitted in court that he had poisoned Alma Kruckenberg, 16, his housemaid, because she was pregnant, and then burned the paragon containing her body.

Acting swiftly at the request of the state counsel, who told him feeling was running high among the people in Mandan, District Judge H. L. Berry sentenced the pastor to serve a life term in the state penitentiary. Janssen was rushed to the prison within short time after his confession, ending two days of questioning. The fire occurred Monday night.

Plan Announced To End Controversy Over Merit Tests

FAIR HAVEN, Aug. 18. —(AP)—The Industrial Commission appointed a new personnel advisory committee today and its members immediately put into operation a plan for ending the two-month controversy over the June merit system examination.

The committee ruled that each of the 1100 applicants for jobs in the Unemployment Compensation Division must make an affidavit that he neither gave nor received help in taking examinations. Those who fail to sign the oath will be discarded by a staff of examiners.

E. Hanson, Caster, Jr., of Clearwater and E. D. Patterson, of Jacksonville, were appointed on June to fill two vacancies on the committee and Caster conferred with a third member, Arthur E. Boring of Plant City, by telephone, and announced the compromise.

Loaf Dogs Found By Aids In This Paper

Hound could make rabbits and chickens appear out of a sack hat, but the Sanford Herald's classified ads perform feats of magic almost as amazing. The return of a lost dog a few minutes after the finder had read an ad in this newspaper, is the latest example called to our attention by a satisfied customer.

Clyde Prewer, of Fort Orange, brother-in-law of W. T. Woolley, lost his dog some time ago, who lived at 2224 Willow Avenue. He had his dog on Monday. An ad in the Tuesday Sanford Herald carried the information which was read by a member of the F. T. Stanley family at 1811 Sanford Ave. A few minutes later the dog was seen in the back yard of the Stanley home and its owner was notified.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

A GOOD LIFE MAKES DEATH GLORIOUS WITH HOPE: For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.—Phil. 1:21

OPEN HOUSE

The rain goes searching for a dry spot to rest its feet. The wind is in without a knock. And out, and down the street.

By every real and random door When wind is gone, and rain's done, By every pane and every pore Comes towering in the sun.

And stars let down on spider thread Between the rafters where he lies; The moon starts up about his head And flutters to the skies.

The cricket sings upon its knees. The ant climbs up and up and in. And secretly the mouse sees If welcome's crust be thin.

Lloyd Frankenberg.

Some of those fellows who have been speeding on Park Avenue must have thought Chief Williams was just kidding.

There is only one thing that is certain about when the next war is going to start and that is that it won't begin on the day that everyone expects.

Prominent Sanford residents are beginning to return from their summer vacations and the long lean months will soon be passing into history.

There is one argument in favor of the cross state canal. It would make a good boundary between north and south Florida when we get around to dividing the state.

Col. Lindbergh has recently flown from England to Moscow, via Hanover, Germany, and Warsaw, Poland, taking a last bird's eye view of Europe before it is blown off the map.

There is more construction, new enterprise, and signs of progress in Sanford this summer, in spite of the bad celery year, than last summer following a comparatively good season.

Gen. Chiang Kai-shek has named a million men for the defense of Hankow, but what is worrying the Japs just now is the mosquitoes which have been breeding in the flooded Yangtze River valley.

The Florida Power and Light Co. saved the State's financial neck by paying $120,000 of its 1938 taxes now. Most of us think it is an imposition to have to pay our taxes when they are due, much less a year earlier. And there are a good many in Florida who do not even pay when due, who let them pile up after year in the hope of getting ultimately for ten cents on the dollar. That is one reason why the State's financial neck needs to be saved.

Secretary Wallace, after five years of failure as Agricultural Secretary, is said to be planning an export subsidy in order to dispose of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in foreign lands. An export subsidy for the protection of the farmer, such as it is, consists of most government expenditures so worse than prohibitive as to be unworkable.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lundquist and family spent a pleasant day Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Peterson at Holly Hill, taking a dip in the ocean and returning by Coronado Beach. L. E. Hodgins also accompanied them on the trip.

T. O. Tysar and family extended their trip to Chattanooga and enjoyed a trip to Lookout Mountain and after a pleasant visit with relatives at Florida, Ga. returned here Sunday evening.

Leroy Hodgins is treating his neighbors to some good music with his new graphophone which he has recently purchased.

The Danger Of War

On the heels of a border incident between Japan and Russia which threatened to start another big war, on the eve of large scale German war maneuvers which have all Europe in a hopeless state of jitter because of the delicate Sudetan-German situation in Czechoslovakia, Secretary of State Hull on Tuesday night issued an appeal to reason to the aggressor nations of the world and warned of the imminent danger of a frightful international conflict.

The warning is all the more impressive because Secretary Hull is a mild-mannered man not given to alarms of fear or hatred or to the boastful pomposity which characterizes so many of the world leaders today. He seldom talks at all or issues any statements or warnings, but when he does there is something about the quiet direct forcefulness of this Tennessee mountaineer that carries weight. Calling upon every peace loving nation of the world to be on its guard, Secretary Hull asks who her the future is to be based upon armed force, aggression, and international anarchy, or whether we want the practices of peace, morality, and justice under law to prevail. We are, he suggests, at the parting of the ways, and the first of these ways leads to military adventures and international lawlessness which are bound to produce only chaos, untold human suffering, and possibly the collapse of civilization.

Unfortunately, this seems to be the way which certain nations of the world have already chosen. "Orderly and peaceful processes and methods of international cooperation have in many regions given way to military aggression and armed force," Secretary Hull states, pointing out recent invasions of sovereign states, interference in internal affairs of other nations, and the wholesale violations of treaty obligations.

Such illustrations of the utter disregard of the rights of others are not isolated incidences which might have happened once, in an unusual case, never to be repeated. They are, as Hull says, "increasing in number, coming more and more to be the rule, the approved method of conducting international relations." And they are spreading to other countries, unfortunately some of them in our own hemisphere, where our "good neighbor policy" has resulted mainly in the theft of our oil.

And as Secretary Hull further points out, if there is to be another great war in the world, we cannot expect to remain wholly unaffected by it. "When destruction, impoverishment and starvation afflict other areas," he says, "we cannot, no matter how hard we may try, escape impairment of our own economic well being. When freedom is destroyed over increasing areas elsewhere, our ideals of individual liberty, our most cherished political and social institutions are jeopardized."

"When the dignity of the human soul is denied in great parts of the world, and when that denial is made a slogan under which propaganda is set in motion and armies take the field, no one of us can be sure that his country, or even his home is safe. We well know, of course, that a condition of wholesale chaos will not develop overnight; but it is clear that the present trend is in that direction and the longer this drift continues the greater becomes the danger that the whole world may be sucked into a maelstrom of unregulated and savage economic, political and military competition and conflict."

The Jaycee News

Latest publication to come to our exchange desk is the Florida Jaycee News, official publication of the more than 5,000 members of the 40 odd Junior Chamber of Commerce organizations throughout the State of Florida. It is ably edited by Tom F. Smith, orilliant young member of the Miami Herald staff. Andrew Carraway of this city is a vice president.

In a lead editorial in issue No. 1, Vol. I, the Jaycee News states it will be independent in politics. Its purpose is to promote Florida industries and natural resources, to stand for good government and to work for legislation beneficial to the state. It boasts the ambition, vigor and courage to crusade for a better Florida "against veteran political parasites who think they are secure in the positions they hold."

Outstanding on the Junior Chamber of Commerce program is the campaign to dethrone the cow as queen of the highway. It will battle for laws in the next session of the Legislature which will give human beings equal rights with cattle. Its bill would make the cattle owner personally liable for property damage and personal injuries resulting from traffic collision.

Hardly less important in the Jaycee drive for better government is the movement to ban "Cuba" and "Bolita" gambling. The Jaycees were largely instrumental in the passage of the anti-slot machine law by the Legislature. With respect to "Cuba" and "Bolita" they are attempting to obtain pledge cards from individual citizens promising not to participate.

The Jaycees are doing a fine thing in Florida. It is a splendid organization of the best young business and professional men in the State. They deserve the wholehearted support of all decent and law-abiding citizens. The Herald welcomes the appearance of the Jaycee News and wishes it every success.

60-TO-1 VICTOR... Successfully fighting off 60 German attack planes, Lt. Colonel William George Barker, Canadian flying ace, brought his ship back from over the German lines after one of the most one-sided and spectacular aerial dog fights in aviation history.

The event took place on October 27, 1918, over the Western Front. Barker had been scouting over German territory and was returning to his base when the sky above him darkened with German airplanes. Diving and slashing at him, the Germans ripped Barker's ship from propeller to tail with machine gun bullets.

landings, his plane was wrecked, but he escaped alive. Barker was awarded the coveted Victoria Cross for this amazing feat, and finished the World War with honors. He shot down 50 enemy planes and nine balloons. While other World War flyers have been credited with a greater number of planes shot down, Barker's story is outstanding for the fact that he entered a fight with odds against him of 60-1, yet emerged a winner. Amusements To Kill Time Best Liked By Girls

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 19.—(AP)—Verna E. Shaffer, University of Tennessee graduate student, decided after questioning 250 girls that the special interests of most high school girls appear to be only "time-killing amusements."

Mrs. Shaffer reported that movies were first among the girls' special interests; listening to the radio, second; going to parties, third; talking with friends, fourth; making candy, fifth, and reading, sixth.

Cooking was far down the list and "caring for children," at the very bottom. More consideration, Mrs. Shaffer concluded, "might well be given to movie appreciation, worthwhile reading materials, pursuance of hobbies, and other personal interests."

Bedtime Of British Baffles Broadcasters

LONDON, Aug. 19.—(AP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation, semi-government radio monopoly, would like to have people make up their minds about going to bed.

The BBC broadcast late news at 9:00 P. M. during the winter, but when summer came, with sunset around 10:30 o'clock, the news was changed to 10:00 P. M.

The protest was instant, and George Bernard Shaw led the attack on the new "late hour." So the BBC changed to 9:40 P. M. with a promise to get back to 9:00 o'clock this winter.

Conserves Skunks

WAUPACA, Wis.—(AP)—Conservative Warden George F. Whalen really believes in conservation. When an unwelcome skunk was found by a housewife in her basement, Whalen and several cautious assistants chloroformed it and carried it to a marsh. There it revived and scampered away.

An aerial survey crew, flying in Nebraska, recently found grasshoppers while at an elevation of 10,000 feet and at 11,000 feet they captured a huge fly more than one inch long.

Mexico Sparkles In Gay Screen Fiesta

Castanets, waltz guitars will chime in the moonlight and dark-eyed serenades will work from beneath their mandolas when romantic Mexican melodies town in the new musical comedy, "Tropic Holiday," which opens at the Ritz Theatre Sunday.

The picturesque land below the Rio Grande, now brought to the screen for the first time in all its native color, forms a delightful background for the doings of a spirited cast of Hollywood favorites, headed by Dorothy Lamour, Ray Milland, Bob Burns and Martha Raye.

The story tells of a bored young movie script writer, played by Milland, who dashes away to rural Mexico to "get away from it all." Although he hopes to gather material for a new picture, he soon succumbs to the spell of lazy tropical skies and the beauty of a native daughter, Miss Lamour. The spell is not broken until his Hollywood fiancée swoops down upon him by airplane and forces him to choose between a return to his work and the land he has grown to love. His decision is just what you would be under the circumstances.

"Tropic Holiday" boasts six outstanding musical numbers written especially for it by Augustin Lara, Mexico's most popular composer. They are unique in combining the touch of the native thumbe with the swing of America's best-loved hits. Those destined for widespread popularity on the airways and dance floors are: "Tonight Will Live," "The Lamp on the Corner," "My First Love" and "Tropic Night."

A talented supporting cast, which includes many of Mexico's favorite entertainers, increases the charm of the production. The lovely British actress, Binnie Barnes, has the role of Milland's fiancée, while Tito Guizar, the serenader last seen in the "Big Broadcast of 1938," plays a romantic native. Theodore Reed, who brought Bing Crosby's "Double or Nothing" to the screen, directed for Paramount.

Water Essential To Maintaining Beauty Of All Cut Flowers

Flowers wilt when they do not get sufficient water. Yet the matter is not quite as simple as this. For flowers placed in a bowl of fresh water will after a short time fade and die. It happens that water cannot always be taken up by the plant, though there may be plenty of it.

The theory of the recent scientific research, now accepted as very nearly approaching truth, holds that a continuous water stream must be present in the stem of the plant if water is to be taken up. If the flowers are in the garden or in the market and carried home, the stem is exposed and air enters. At the same time the flowers lose water by transpiration and the stem starts to dry.

The flowers start to wilt when they are taken home and placed in water. If there is a continuous water stream in the garden, snaps or dahlias will have a hard time trying to catch up with water and replace what is needed until there is a continuous water stream.

Many people observe a wilted plant without even knowing why. They cut off a small portion of the stem before placing their selections in a vase. This removes the part of the stem that contains air bubbles. The flowers are better chance for recovery. But there is an even better method. The stems are cut under water and placed in a vase directly without exposing them to the air. This insures a continuous water stream. It takes little trouble to do this and the result is remarkably long-lived flowers.

Water makes the plant stem stretch. It makes the cells turgid and bulging. To keep up the supply, to replace any water lost, is important, but only has the effect in all living tissue as in the flower. There are air ways built up and new ones being built up to replace them. There must be a constant supply of new material to turn the building material for the plant cells.

In pure water there is little or no nourishment, and though the plants have the extraordinary ability to take up as their food from the air, without the elements contained in the soil they cannot make growth and live indefinitely. Of course every one knows from observation that some flowers will remain fresh longer than others. Even in the garden there are some that excel in length of their flowering period and some that only last for a day, like the daisy. The purpose of a flower is to bear the

War On Cuss Words Is Waged In Spain

BURGOS, Spain, Aug. 19. (AP)—Minister of Interior, Sr. Garcia Somo, has directed provincial governments in Autonomous Spain to wage a campaign against blasphemy and slander.

The Nationalist press has claimed that the order authorizing civil cases against blasphemers and slanderers is a full measure of the law against offenders.

One newspaper commented: "No censor demands this measure as much as Spain, the country of the most beautiful and rich of the world, to smother in many who blaspheme it with their impious and blasphemous words." Some of the papers cited for blasphemy and slander are published in the newspapers.

The Florida Waterways Commission has developed a plan for the construction of a canal through the Florida Everglades. The canal would be 100 miles long and would connect the Atlantic Ocean with the Gulf of Mexico. The plan is to be completed in 1940.

Something new in water sports has been developed at McIntosh Florida. The water sport is called "water polo" and is played in a pool. The game is very popular and is played by many people.

St. Augustine Defeats Lookouts By 9 To 6 Score

Heim, Saint Leftfielder Has Perfect Day At Plate

Carl Weigel Limits Lookouts To 10 Hits While Bazner And Cox Permit Fourteen Base Knocks

The St. Augustine Saints battled out a 9 to 6 victory over the Sanford Lookouts Thursday night at the Municipal Ball Park behind the effective hurling of Carl Weigel.

While Weigel was giving up 10 hits to the Lookouts, Bazner and Cox were permitting the Saints 14 safeties.

Heim, Saint leftfielder, helped his team along no little as he had a perfect day at bat, getting a triple, double and two singles in four times at plate.

The Saints scored first in the second inning as Heim tripled and came in on Judy's single to centerfield. In the third frame they added three more to their total on an error and three singles by Weigel, Batan, and Rosenk. In the sixth they added three more markers and in the seventh scored their last two.

The Lookouts scored all their runs in two innings, the seventh and ninth. Each of the two innings saw three runs cross the plate for the Rodgersmen. In their half of the seventh, Pitman opened the attack with a single to left field and on Davis' triple crossed the plate as Davis pulled up at third. Bobby Smith drove Davis home with the second run on a single to short and scored from third on DeRamus' single. That ended the scoring for Sanford until the ninth inning. Davis, the first man at bat, doubled to leftfield and went to third on Hudson's single to right and scoring on DeRamus' double to centerfield. Meanwhile Hudson who had advanced to second on

FHA States Best Security Offered By Lower Rentals

The greatest security that may be obtained by investors in rental-housing projects is to be found in developments that are situated enough to be able to withstand neighborhood deterioration and whose rental schedules are low enough to appeal to the large number of renters whose incomes are in the lower brackets, according to the Federal Housing Administration.

Lookouts To Meet G-Men In Contest On Local Diamond

Large Attendance Expected For Postponed Ladies Night

Engaging the hapless Gainesville G-Men here at the Municipal Ball Park tonight, the Sanford Lookouts will attempt to drop the G-Men further in the standings and the chances appear opportune inasmuch as the University City club has struck a bad slump recently and has been unable to climb out.

Tonight will be "Ladies Night" at the park and a good crowd should be on hand to witness the fight between the two clubs. With Leesburg's winning of last night's game in Gainesville the Gundollers are now two full games ahead of the former loop leaders and if the G-Men lose tonight's battle they may well be counted out of the race for the pennant.

Should they win from the Lookouts and the Gundollers win their game, the G-Men would again be in striking distance of the league lead. There is a great deal of difference between a one game lead and tonight's game may indicate whether Gainesville will make a fight of it for the loop leadership or whether they are already the beaten team they appear to be.

It has been announced that prior to the game Sunday afternoon with the DeLand Reds, there will be a "field day". This will include base running, distance throwing of a baseball, relay running, and many other events by members of both clubs. The "field day" was postponed from a few weeks ago on account of rain.

President Agrees Changes Needed In National Labor Law

Green Tells Roosevelt Of Complaints On Administration Of Law By Labor Board

HYDE PARK, Aug. 20.—(AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor said today that he and President Roosevelt "are in accord on the necessity of making some changes" in the National Labor Relations Law.

Green said he had called attention to the "present complaints against the administration of the labor law by the Labor Relations Board."

"We went over certain specific cases of the administration," Green told reporters. He added that in some instances the board had departed "from the spirit of the law" in reaching its decisions.

He did not detail what changes in the law might be effected but said that in a broad outline they either might curtail the board's present powers or clarify its duties.

The chief executive rested today after yesterday's trip from Canada.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Mrs. Hazel Huffman of New York City testified before the House committee on un-American activities that the federal theater project of WPA was dominated by radicals and using public funds to spread the doctrine of Communism.

In addition, the committee received testimony from two veterans of the war in Spain that Representatives O'Connell, Democrat, Montana, and Bernard, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, reportedly used the "Soviet salute"—the raised clenched fist—when addressing members of the Spanish government army while on a visit to that country.

Director Says 296 In Seminole Receive Old Age Pensions

After completing what Mayor Winlaw, district director of the State Welfare Board, termed an unusual volume of work, the State board concluded its first year of operation on June 30. Mrs. A. G. Wagner, of Chulohita, is the Seminole County member of the board.

The district director reported that during the fiscal year the board approved 236 new cases for old age assistance while rejecting 125 cases. The report also stated that at present 296 persons were receiving this assistance in Seminole County.

It was also pointed out that in addition the board had approved the eligibility of 236 persons for old age assistance and that a total of 137 cases were awaiting approval. During the year the board approved 11 cases for blind assistance in this county while rejecting one application.

Two applications are pending action, the report said. The district director pointed out that the workers of the State board also spend a large amount of time on other federal programs. During the past year, she said, a large number of persons were made eligible to receive commodities. The present number of certified clients at present for this county is 314, the report showed.

The State board also approves all persons for WPA, NVA and CCC enrollment. A CCC enrollment will be held in October for which the board is now taking applications, it was pointed out.

Texas Puma Cubs, Gift Of Kiwanians, Arrive At Zoo

Superintendent of Park, James Moughtin, announced this morning the arrival of the two Texas puma cubs recently purchased for the zoo by the Kiwanis Club at a cost of $100.

The three-month-old cubs are now on exhibition. Mr. Moughtin said they were in fine condition and that, for such young animals, they appear remarkably sturdy and strong. "We'll have a fine pair of mountain lions when they grow up," he said, "and they'll be a good match for the leopards we'll build a case just like that of the leopard with a tree in it for the animal."

Pumas, cougars, or mountain lions—they are called by all three names—are great tree-climbers. In the West where the mountain lions make their homes, hunters often have great sport chasing them into the hills and mountains until the animals take to the trees whereupon they are shot.
