Retired Rail Man Visits Old Friends

Houses and railroads play an important part in the life of F. B. Langley, now visiting Sanford and other old friends. Langley is a retired general superintendent of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad. He now lives in Camp Hill, Ala., which is part of the "houses" phase of his life.

The former railroad executive moved away from Camp Hill at an early age. And 37 years later he built a house within 100 feet of his original home. The other part houses play a role in his life, and Langley tells it with a slight wince.

During his railroading career he was sent to Jacksonville. He ordered a home built. The day it was completed, he moved to Savannah. Mrs. Langley's comments were not recalled by her husband, who visited the Herald office Wednesday afternoon.

Langley manages to return to Sanford each winter and this year he has made the visit, with headquarters at the Valdez Hotel, last two months.

He returned to Camp Hill Monday. Railroading has been the life for Sanford's greatest visiting booster. (He calls Sanford "home" even though his official residence is Camp Hill.)

And he'll talk about railroading, and Sanford, with equal fervor and in that order.

Back in 1915 he was assigned here as train dispatcher, later appointed trainmaster. In 1921 he moved to Lakeland with the title of superintendent of the Tampa Division of ACL. He went to Ocala in 1925 and later to Jacksonville where he was the ACL's superintendent of transportation. His final stopover was in Savannah in 1942 where he was superintendent of the railroad's northern lines.

All in all Langley has lived in Florida for about 30 years and he really has the sand in his shoes. But you can't discount Camp Hill either. There he has several reasons for staying:

His nephew is a bank president and mayor; a niece is postmistress and a nephew a funeral director.

He and Mrs. Langley leave Monday for Camp Hill. Asked if he'll return next year after his two-month visit this season he quickly said: "Yes. For three months."

Choir Honors Adam Muller

The Choir of the DeBary Community Methodist Church honored Adam Muller, who celebrated his 79th birthday on March 19, at the monthly social hour held last Thursday night following the weekly rehearsal.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Allan Duffin and Mrs. Charles Cressney. Twenty-two members were present to enjoy the occasion.

14 Entered In Baby Of Year Contest

Fourteen entries have been received for the annual Baby of the Year Contest sponsored by the Zeta Xi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Proceeds from the event will go to the Little Red Schoolhouse, which cares for exceptional children in the area.

The contest opened last Saturday and concludes April 4.

Votes are one cent each and pictures are being displayed at Roumillat and Anderson Drug Store, Touchton's Drug Store and Ben Franklin's 5 and 10 Store.

The baby's pictures will alternate each week in all three locations.

The first prize will be a $25 Series E savings bond donated by the Florida State Bank and a trophy donated by Wert's Jewelers. Second prize is a loving cup donated by Kader's Jewelers. Third will be a gift certificate for bronzing of the baby's first shoes and donated by Gumm Jewelers.

Other donations consist of cedar floor stands and frames

Audubon Society To See Film

By Mrs. Adam Muller

A film lecture on "Florida's Fascinating Birds" will be presented by S. Carleton Rogers of Orlando at a meeting of the Audubon Society to be held at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the Geneva Community Hall.

Rogers is a director of the Florida Audubon Society, and of the University Club of Winter Park and is a member of the Camera Club of Winter Park.

by R. L. Andrews, contractor, and posts by O'Dee's Sign Service.

The contest chairman is Geraldine B. Linnekugel. Handling publicity is Margaret M. Hudgins.

Four of the entries appear with this news item. The others will appear in succeeding issues of The Herald. "Contestants" whose pictures are appearing this week at Ben Franklin's are:

Castro Orders Retrial Of Old Party Member

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba's Supreme Court scheduled an appeal session Monday on orders of Premier Fidel Castro for the retrial of an old Communist Party member sentenced to die.

Castro ordered the retrial of Marcos Rodriguez Alfonso, 26, after his conviction last week. Castro said he was using his prerogative as premier because there has been "much confusion" in the first trial.

Rodriguez was the first member of the old Cuban Communist party to receive a death sentence in Castro Cuba. He was found guilty of informing on four non-Communist, non-Castroite students who were slain by police after participating in the March 13, 1957, attempt to kill dictator Fulgencio Batista.

(Cuban exiles in Miami said the retrial could be significant as it was bound to reflect the fact that the organized communist apparatus in Cuba remained aloof from Castro's struggle against Batista until late in 1958, just before the triumph of the revolution.)

An armed forces ministry communique Sunday told Cubans for the first time, an army helicopter was hijacked last Thursday and flown to the United States. The two defecting crewmen requested U. S. asylum when they landed at Key West.

Cancer-Free Smoke Seen By Scientist

PALM BEACH SHORES (UPI) — A cancer scientist says science may develop a chemical protection for cigarette smokers against cancer.

Dr. Charles Huggins, director of the Ben May Cancer Research Laboratory at the University of Chicago, said tobacco smoke causes cancer. He said the cancer-causing property in the smoke is the aromatic hydrocarbon compound, benzo a pyrene.

He said compounds of the same chemical family might neutralize its cancerous power in body chemistry and thus protect smokers.

Dr. Huggins Sunday addressed the sixth annual seminar for science writers, sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Seminole County Courthouse is experiencing growing pains and about to "burst at the seams." County Commission voted Tuesday to move the small claims court to the Masonic Building and take over that office in the courthouse as a "Commission office," for private meetings of the Commission and for use by visiting agencies, such as the state auditor.

Chamber of Commerce's Charlie Morrison celebrated his 72nd birthday Tuesday. Says he is the same age as Jack Benny, give or take.

Beware of a week from today, next Wednesday. 'Tis April Fool's Day. (Good golly, that means one-fourth of 1964 is history already.)

Herald reporter Bob Thomas is beginning to learn the "power of the press." He's been harping in his news column that the City Fathers should improve West 13th Street. Approval for this project was granted at Monday night's City Commission meeting. (Memo to Bob: Now pick out some other needed project and "go after" it.)

Although it has been in the public print any number of times that he is running for justice of the peace in District 6, Republican Charles E. Kern wants it known he is not a candidate for constable. (A Herald headline said so when Kern announced — and Kern has demanded a retraction. Now he has it.)

To the many, many inquirers about the future of Sanford Naval Air Station: Seminole County leaders, top Navy officers and our representatives in Congress are bending every effort to obtain the cash to expand the facility... so it appears they are confident it will continue.

Annual pre-Easter Ladies Day Coffee Club will meet at 10 Thursday morning at the Chamber of Commerce.

Demolition of the Palma Hotel and the Woodruff Building continues. Roof nearly off and windows gone from the hotel. Interior walls about gone and part of the roof off the Woodruff Building. (Headline should read: "Larry Verhel's Dream Comes True!" Remember all those "Clock" blurbs?)

The local politicians really are pounding the sidewalks. Last night's mail at home brought a letter from one candidate that he would be around "to visit" shortly. Won't do him any good in the primary... we are of the opposite political faith. But, on the other hand, if he survives the primary we'll vote for him in November. That's a promise.

County Commission forwarded a letter of condolence to Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy at the death of the late President. Commission received a card from Mrs. Kennedy Tuesday.

All Democratic candidates for county offices have been invited to a chicken pilau dinner and will be introduced at 7 p. m. Saturday at the American Legion Hut on Highway 17-92.

Many of our Sanfordites are again looking forward to the Good Friday service, sponsored by the Ministerial Association to be held again this year at First Presbyterian Church. Starting at noon, there will be seven half-hour periods (with five-minute intermissions) on the theme of Christ's seven last words. Special messages, special music, special re-dedication make this a vital part of Holy Week.

Sanford Navy Base Stays With Approval Of Defense Dept. And White House Nod

The Department of Defense, with the knowledge of the White House, today placed its stamp of approval on continued operation of Sanford Naval Air Station.

Sen. Spessard Holland, in a telephoned message to The Sanford Herald at 12:30 p. m., reported the Navy expressed its desire to continue the base "since no other facility is capable of carrying on the reconnaissance missions" of Heavy Attack Wing One.

The decision was reached this morning during a conference in Senator Holland's Washington office attended by State Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., John Krider and Randall Chase, representing the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce; Adm. John S. Thach, deputy chief of naval operations for air, and other high Navy officers; Senator Holland and representatives of Sen. George Smathers and Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr.

Senator Holland telephoned The Herald at 10:30 a. m., saying that a "satisfactory answer" had been reached but that the Navy desired to release the information within an hour or so.

It followed that the Navy sought and received approval of the Department of Defense, with the knowledge of the White House. Senator Holland said he was uninformed whether the matter had been brought to the personal attention of President Johnson.

The Navy's news release at 12:30 p. m. today reads as follows:

"Navy representatives met today with Senator Holland and representatives of Senator Smathers and Congressman Herlong to discuss the future use of Sanford Naval Air Station and a recent study whether the functions of SNAS could be consolidated with NAS Cecil Field (at Jacksonville)."

"It has been concluded it would not be feasible to make such a consolidation now. At the present there are no other facilities known to the Navy where SNAS functions could be relocated.

"It is, therefore, planned to continue Sanford Naval Air Station in its present role."

Senator Holland said there is "100 per cent positive support for the continuation of Sanford Naval Air Station as it now functions and as planned for the future."

The Senator added that the next step requested by the Navy will be for him and Senator Smathers to appear before the Senate appropriations committee in support of the Navy's request for a $6.5 million appropriation for extension of the north-south runway and some building.

He indicated that with his and Smathers' support expressed to the committee the Navy will renew its appropriation request. The Navy some weeks ago withdrew the request from the House appropriations committee in view of President Johnson's economy move.

Cleveland, Krider and Chase concluded the long distance telephoned report by praising Senator Holland for spearheading the move to set up this morning's conference and indicated it was his "enthusiastic support for SNAS and the proposed runway extension" that aided the Navy in its decision.

Deadline Near On Exemptions
Homeowners who have not filed for homestead exemption were warned today by Mary Earle Walker, county tax assessor, that the deadline is April 1.

Mrs. Walker said that applications are "coming in slow" and that she expects 2,000 new filings by the last day, April 1. She emphasized that April 1 is the deadline, not the entire month of April. New homeowners applying for exemption should bring in their deeds or contracts and their 1964 automobile license tag registrations.

3 Charged In Citrus Weight Fraud Case

BARTOW (UPI)—Three men, one a prominent citrus dealer, were charged Tuesday with grand larceny and conspiracy to commit grand larceny.

Released on $1,000 bond each were Walter A. Smith, 55, president of the Lake Shipp Fruit Co., of Winter Haven; William Hugh Thompson, 38, Winter Haven, and Edward Leonard Cameron, 42, Auburndale.

They are accused of defrauding Universal Food Products, Inc., of Lakeland, by the falsification of records on actual weight of truckloads of oranges delivered to the processing plant.

County Solicitor Gordon MacCalla said the company is estimated to have been short-weighted by 15,000 to 20,000 boxes of oranges this season. Oranges have been bringing between $5 and $6 per box.

Apple Blossoms And Ladybird

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson will attend the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival on May 1 at Winchester, Va., the White House announced today.

The Johnsons' 16-year-old daughter Luci will be festival queen and will attend all of the festival ceremonies from April 29 through May 2.

Mrs. Swigonski, a junior at Seminole High School, was inadvertently listed as an honor student in a report given by school officials and printed in The Herald Tuesday. Miss Swigonski is, in fact, one of three juniors who achieved a straight "A" average during the marking period.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Welcome Mets!

At Sanford's Municipal Stadium this morning some 60 young baseball players and a host of officials opened Spring training activities for the eastern section of the New York Met farm system.

Sanford is particularly pleased to have the Mets here and to utilize our facilities as they prepare for the summer baseball campaign. We are exceptionally pleased to have Wid Matthews, Joe McDonald, Ernie White, Sheriff Robinson, Walter Millies and Lloyd Gearhart. All of these are former baseball players whose names are more likely to be familiar to more of the "old timers" than perhaps some of younger fans.

The Herald joins with the city and county commissions, the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, the Sanford-Seminole JayCees, a host of other civic organizations and our merchants in welcoming each and every member of the Met organization to Sanford.

We will endeavor to make your training period here memorable, enjoyable and profitable to you during the forthcoming baseball season. In other words, welcome! We're delighted to have you!

Snow, Rain Hit Nation

United Press International
A spring storm which left up to 5 feet of snow in the Rockies and floods in California pushed into the Midwest today, glazing highways from Oklahoma to Illinois, bringing heavy snow warnings to four states and sending thunderstorms grumbling into the Ohio Valley.

Hazardous driving warnings were up in sections of Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Illinois. Heavy snow warnings were posted for parts of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri. Up to 2 inches of rain was forecast for flood-sodden southern Indiana.

Snow fell as far east as Michigan and there were thunderstorms deep into Dixie.

Behind the cold front, stretching from Texas to New England, temperatures dropped sharply 20 degrees in an hour in parts of Texas. The Texas Panhandle had readings 12 degrees below freezing.

It was 20 below zero at Williston, N.D., early in the day and 10 below at Billings, Mont.

Parcel Post Rate Increase Begins April 1

Postmaster Cecilia Heard today reminded residents of Sanford that an effective date of April 1 has been set for a new domestic parcel post rate increase.

The parcel post increase, approved recently by the Interstate Commerce Commission and averaging about 13 per cent, is expected to yield about $75.4 million annually.

Catalogue rates will be increased approximately 13 per cent and will produce added revenue of about $2.4 million if 1962 volume is maintained.

The higher rates do not affect air parcel post or international parcel post.

Miss Heard said she has been advised by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski that the decision of the ICC will assist the Post Office Department in carrying out its objective of reducing the drain on the Federal Treasury by $100 million. The last parcel post increase was on Feb. 1, 1960.

To illustrate the effect of the new rates, the postmaster noted that a six-pound parcel—which is the average weight—for local area delivery will cost 87 cents instead of 32 cents. Other applicable rates may be obtained from local post offices.

'State Action' Asked In 3 Florida Towns

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Negro leaders called on Gov. Farris Bryant today for "state action" in connection with a breakdown of race relations in Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Ocala.

The governor apparently made it clear he would stay out of such matters unless local law and order breaks down and state assistance is requested by local authorities.

Governor Bryant insisted that his meeting with Field Secretary Robert Saunders of Tampa and other NAACP leaders be closed to newsmen. And he refused to meet with newsmen afterwards to discuss it.

Saunders and the others said the meeting was "cordial," and although the governor made no promises "I got the impression that he would intervene if local law and order breaks down."

The meeting was held principally to discuss plans for an integrated civil rights march on Tallahassee Friday. But the tense situation in Jacksonville, where one woman has been killed and several persons injured in the past two days, occupied most of the discussion, according to Saunders.

Saunders, who spoke for the group, said the NAACP's only recourse in Jacksonville may be to the courts. He said leaders had under study a possible lawsuit challenging Mayor Haydon Burns' ban on demonstrations.

Discussing Jacksonville, another of the delegation, William Tunstall, Tampa, said the governor feels the present posture of Jacksonville does not warrant extreme action.

He and Saunders said the governor told them he is in constant touch with Duval Sheriff Dale Carson and has been assured that law and order has not broken down in Jacksonville.

Saunders said when he complained to discuss plans for an integrated civil rights march on Tallahassee Friday. But the tense situation in Jacksonville, where one woman has

Easter Seal Campaign Aids Local Children

The annual Easter Seal Drive now under way by the Crippled Children's Society makes it possible for handicapped children in Seminole County to attend Forrest Park School in Orlando for studies and treatment which are not available here.

The Society contributes a thousand dollars a year toward the school which charges no tuition and depends partially on the support of the crippled children's societies and other civic and fraternal groups.

Twenty-two Seminole County children are receiving training at Forrest Park this year from ages 3-17 including out-patients. Fourteen of these are transported by the county school board and six, who live near the county line, are riding Orange County buses.

There are in, all, between 180-160 pupils attending the school plus 28 out-patients in a speech therapy. Academic courses are taught in conjunction with physical, occupational and speech therapy.

Some of the disabilities suffered by students at the school include cerebral palsy, polio, spinal bifida, hydrocephalus, muscular dystrophy, arthritis, congenital heart, epilepsy, and blindness.

William Cooper Mathews is principal of the school and professional personnel includes three full time and two part time physical therapists; two occupational therapists with one certified assistant; two full time speech therapists and one on part time; nine teachers and six teacher's aides.

In addition to these there are fifty volunteers each giving one morning a week at the school.

Twenty-eight per cent of the meals served in the cafeteria are given free.

The school also is open for a six weeks summer enrichment program which offers swimming and arts and crafts in addition to the needed therapies.

Forrest Park School was organized in 1948 and has been at its present location on Silver Star Road since 1956. It is doing an invaluable service for handicapped youngsters by preparing them for happier, more useful lives.

DeBary Post Celebrates Birthday

By Mrs. Adam Muller

The 45th anniversary of the founding of American Legion was celebrated by DeBary's Herbert D. Gibb Post and Auxiliary at a birthday dinner held at Stetson Union Building in DeLand.

Speaker for the occasion was Maj. Gen. C. H. Chorpeng, (Ret.) who now teaches math at Stetson University. Points of Americanism and the need for strengthening the national loyalty were stressed. Distinguished guests, other than the speaker and his wife, were Commander and Mrs. V. A. Blois of Deland Post 6 and Mr. and Mrs. Line Jacobs of DeLand.

Harry Lys, adjutant, presented five year awards to 11 members; 10 year awards to Virginia Harrison, Robert Henderson and James Hooper; 25 year awards to William Drumbaugh and Peter Koppennal and 40 years awards to Joseph Kries, Albert Mercer, Howard Paine, Edward Patterson and Clarence Shaffer. A large birthday cake presented by the Auxiliary Unit was cut and served during appropriate ceremonies by Mrs. Peter Koppennal, president.

Commander Koppennal presided during the evening. Invocation was given by Eugene Heinert of DeBary and benediction was given by Rev. Elmer L. Patterson of the Orange City Congregational Church.

Chairman Is Elected For Charter Board

By Doris Dean

Robert W. Dean was elected chairman of the five-member North Orlando Citizens Charter Board last Friday night after members of the newly-elected group were sworn into office by acting Village Judge Orville Johnson.

Mrs. Mary Rowell was named assistant chairman. Others receiving the oath of office were Mrs. Etta Harville, Bob Derum and Charles Tressler. Prior to seating the board, Johnson swore in Mrs. Glen Atchinson as temporary assistant village clerk in the absence of Mrs. Barbara Peters who was unable to attend the special ceremonies.

Copies of the present village charter were distributed for individual study by members who set their first public meeting for Saturday, April 11, 7:30 p. m., in the Civic Building.

It was stressed that all meetings of the board will be open to the public and that suggestions from residents on amending the charter will be welcomed.

Organizational by-laws for the charter board, as set forth by the State of Florida, were read by Dean with Mayor W. W. Anderson assisting in interpreting the by-laws and amendments.

The board has a period of 90 days to recommend any changes or additions to the charter before adjournment. Within the next 60 days thereafter an election must be held at which time residents will vote on the board's recommendations.

Post 10050 Sets Meetings

By Jane Casselberry

VFW Post 10050 of Casselberry will meet at 8 p. m. Thursday at the Land O' Lakes Country Club. Delegates will be elected for the district convention to be held at Melbourne Post 4206 April 25-26. Members are reminded that their dues must be paid in order for them to vote in the election of officers to be held Thursday, April 23.

Nominations will be made at the Tuesday, April 14 meeting. The school also is open for a six weeks summer enrichment program which offers swimming and arts and crafts in addition to the needed therapies.

The Ladies Auxiliary will hold a social this Thursday at 8 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Webb at 506 Elm Drive in Howell Park.

All auxiliary members and wives of post members are invited to attend. The group will enjoy a plastic party and following the VFW meeting, the men will join the ladies for refreshments.

Children's Easter Egg Hunt Scheduled In North Orlando

By Doris Dean

Sometime before Saturday morning the Easter Bunny will hop down the north side of Longwood-Oviedo Road and hide 40 dozen eggs in the grass between Cortez and Fairfax Avenues in North Orlando in preparation for the Children's Easter Egg Hunt scheduled to get underway at 8 a. m. Saturday.

The hunt will be conducted for separate age groups—up to five years, from five to eight years and from eight to 12 years.

Three gold and three silver wrapped eggs will be hidden for each group with special prizes going to those finding them. Prizes also will be awarded to the one in each group finding the greatest number of eggs. Overall, a total of 21 prizes will be awarded, seven in each age classification.

Men from the North Orlando Community Committee, headed by Bill Hahn, will assist in hiding the eggs. Mrs. Anton Kreeck and her "bunny" helpers will see that the 480 eggs are resplendent with their hard shells tinted every color in the rainbow.

Moms and dads are invited to come along with their children Saturday morning to join in the fun.

The North Orlando Committee, made up of delegates from the community's Garden Club, Fire Department, Civic Association, Catholic Women's Circle and Civil Air Patrol, is financing the hunt with funds left from the Christmas Party. Immediately after Easter the committee will begin work on the annual Fourth of July Celebration for North Orlando.

Jacobs Speaks For DeBary GOP Club

By Mrs. Adam Muller

John F. Jacobs of DeLand, vice chairman of the Volusia County Republican Executive Committee, was guest speaker at the March meeting of the DeBary Republican Club held last week at the Community Center.

Jacobs, a candidate for the State Legislature, also is a candidate for district delegate to the Republican National Convention, pledged to support Goldwater.

His talk was on the Civil Rights Bill and, at the conclusion, he cautioned that the GOP would have to close ranks and "stand together for victory."

Glenn Smith presided at the meeting which was opened with invocation by Rev. Paul Schultz and salute to the flag led by Earl Merrill. Beatrice Muller led the group in singing the national anthem with Ethel Bertach as piano accompanist.

Five guests were present and Alexander Brockner was welcomed as a new member of the club.

Refreshments were served following a duet by Mrs. Muller and Robert N. McGee, "America, the Beautiful," accompanied by Mrs. Bertach. Hostesses were Mrs. Marie Accardi, Mrs. E. Ackerman and Mrs. Glenn Smith.

The speaker was introduced by Judge Albert D. Williams.

April 'Cancer Control Month'

Because cancer is still a serious health problem in Florida, having been the cause of death of more than 8,800 persons last year, and with an expectancy of 17,000 new cancer cases this year, Governor Farris Bryant has issued a proclamation which endorses April as "Cancer Control Month" throughout the state, according to local Cancer Society officials.

The proclamation points out that 1964 has been designated by the American Cancer Society as, "Tell Your Neighbor To Fight Cancer Year." More than 65,000 men and women in Florida will dedicate their services to urging more people to guard themselves and families against cancer.

Lyman Student Elected By Education Club

Archie Hunnicutt, a member of the Distributive Education program at Lyman High School, was elected state parliamentarian during a meeting of the Distributive Education Clubs of America held last week in Tampa.

The Lyman chapter was represented at the statewide meeting by a delegation of nine members headed by DE-CA instructor, Lloyd Barnes. They were Glenn Huber, Charles Massey, James Kelley, Nancy Hardwick, Sheila LaDree, Linda Willis, Ken Brittain, Hunnicutt and Barnes.

The Seminole group was voted a three-star organization for the current year. Huber, president of the Lyman chapter, participated in a contest based on advertising. Others taking part in various contests were Kelley in merchandising manuals, Miss Hardwick in speech, Miss Willis in job interviews and Hunnicutt in sales demonstrations.

Clarence N. Walker of Atlanta, a Coca Cola Company executive, and Francis T. Auger, a representative of the Credit Bureau of America, were the principal speakers at the conference.

Ervin State Bar President-Elect

TALLAHASSEE—The Florida Bar has announced that Robert M. Ervin, Tallahassee lawyer, has been named to the office of president-elect of The Florida Bar in a recent statewide election among Florida lawyers and judges. He will serve for one year as president-elect before taking office in June 1965, as president of the official organization of the state's legal profession.

Ervin is a law graduate of the University of Florida, where he was a member of Florida Blue Key and Phi Alpha Delta legal fraternity. He is a past president of the Tallahassee Bar Association, and has served on the Board of Governors of The Florida Bar since 1959. In 1963 he was named chairman of a committee of 17 non-members of the legislature appointed by the Legislative Council to study and make recommendations for revision of the Florida Mechanics Lien Law. He is also chairman of The Florida Bar's committee on economics of law practice and president of the National Association of Referees in Bankruptcy.

Idle Insurance Payments Slide

TALLAHASSEE — Payments to Florida jobless during the early months of 1964 signal a banner business year in the state.

State Industrial Commission Chairman Worley Brown said that total unemployment insurance payments are running close to a million dollars a month lower than last year. He said, "The figures for January and February indicate two optimistic business conclusions. They could well signal not only a prosperous spring but a banner business year as well."

Payments in January, at $2,280,020, were $750,820 below January 1963, and February payments, at $1,716,864, were $437,321 below February a year ago.

Brown said the February reductions from January were universal throughout all regions of the state.

Of the total 23 local unemployment compensation offices reporting, 20 had decreases and only three had increases. They were: Ft. Myers, up $1,116 to $29,407; West Palm Beach, up $1,431 to $79,977; and Sanford, up $279 to $11,088.

Politically Speaking..

A third national political party looms on the horizon, according to Jim Talmadge, of Sanford.

Talmadge, recently retired Navy officer, is a candidate for Florida delegate-at-large to the Democratic National Convention in August at Atlantic City.

He is on the slate pledged to draft Sen. Strom Thurmond South Carolina, as the Democratic candidate for president.

"Ours is a nation-wide movement," said Jim. "We are conservatives and should the Democrats and the Republicans nominate liberals, we will form a third party and enter a candidate in the November elections."

MEMO to the Orange County Republican Executive Committee and all Seminole County Republicans: Name of the GOP candidate running for U. S. Senator is Claude R. Kirk Jr. of Jacksonville. (The Herald last week sought to learn his name and none of the GOP-ers knew it.)

Also seeking election was Strom Thurmond delegates-at-large from Sanford are Leon R. Minnie and LaVerne N. Bass.

That Chamber of Commerce barbeque for the Navy brass last week at the FP&L recreation area took on the semblance of a political rally: Candidates all over the place, shaking hands and being "a jolly good fellow."

Local Democratic candidates are throwing their campaign into high gear, girding for a concerted drive to garner votes for party nomination for 12 county offices. The five Republican candidates have no opposition and will not appear on the primary ballot.

Interest will focus mostly on the hotly contested campaigns for state representative, tax collector, tax assessor and the three county commission posts. Another interesting race will be for constable in District 4.

That voting interest is high in the coming elections is seen in the report of Cami Bruce, supervisor of registration, that there is a steady stream of persons qualifying to cast ballots. Cami believes the total will reach an all-time high after final day of registration, Saturday April 4.

Sen. Fred Dickinson is aiming for the 600,000 senior citizen votes in his campaign for governor by proposing a plan for old age assistance increase, support of a state commission on aging and an expanded medical care program.

Sen. Spessard L. Holland made his first campaign speech last Saturday at Fort Lauderdale. His local campaign manager, Tommy Peterson, says he will appear in Seminole County before the May 5 primary.

Miami Mayor Robert King III had his pocketbook in a news release, listing his assets and liabilities. He says the "voting public should know the personal financial condition of each candidate" for governor. Among his assets he lists a $13,000 equity in a new $60,000 home and cash on hand of $21,600.

Florida Trend magazine has endorsed Rep. Fred B. Karl for governor.

Bob Petree is campaigning hard to unseat Joe Davis as Seminole County representative at Tallahassee. He attended the Miami Beach dinner for President Johnson and a news release for him is signed by Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late FDR.

Sen. Scott Kelly has turned to agriculture for his votes for governor by claiming that "beef is being imported into Florida at a price less than the Florida cattle producers' costs." He promises to work with the Florida congressional delegation "to restrict the importation of agriculture products that are in an unfair competitive position."

Columbia University was chartered as King's College in 1754 by King George II of England.

MRS. DORIS DEAN

North Orlando Reporter Joins Herald Staff

Mrs. Robert W. (Doris) Dean this week joins The Sanford Herald staff as correspondent-reporter for North Orlando.

Residents of the village at 10 N. Second Street for the past 4 1/2 years, the Deans are parents of three children, son, Bruce and daughters, Marty and Cathy, all students at South Seminole Junior High. Dean just recently was elected to serve on the Citrus Charter Board and Bruce is a member of "The Vibrations," a new dance band which rehearses at the Dean home every Saturday.

Doris was founder of the North Orlando Garden Club and served as president for 18 months. She names gardening as her number one hobby, other than interests in varied activities of three busy teenagers. She likes to sew and reads for relaxation, preferably historical novels and biographies.

By nature a civic minded person, Doris has agreed to serve her community as reporter and will be ready to accept news items of all events and to make photos upon arrangement. She may be contacted by telephone at 822-1989.

College Choir Program Set In Paola

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson
The College Choir of Central Wesleyan College, Central, S. C., will present an Easter program at Paola Wesleyan Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

The 32-voice choir, now in its 14th concert year, tours extensively during the Easter Season appearing in special programs for churches and schools. The choir's repertoire includes choral anthems, special arrangements of hymns and gospel songs, selected spirituals and numbers from the great masters. Feature numbers are presented by the Ladies Trio and Sextette. Director is Leonard C. Brank.

Rev. Earl L. Baker, pastor of Paola Wesleyan, has extended invitation to the public to attend the program.

Grace Church Announces Service

Judge Kenneth McIntosh will be guest speaker at Maundy Thursday services to be held at Grace Methodist Church of Sanford at 7:30 p.m.

His address will deal with legal intricacies of the trial of Jesus Christ and the injustice of man against the only totally innocent one who ever lived.

Following the talk, Holy Communion will be administered by the Pastor, John H. Hires Jr., who points out that this service will lead to deeper understanding and appreciation of the Easter message of the Resurrection.

Club Meeting Canceled

By Maryann Miles
The March meeting of the Bear Lake Home Demonstration Club scheduled for 8 p.m. this Thursday has been canceled.

Next meeting of the group is scheduled for Tuesday, April 28. Location will be announced.

Spring's Here; Circus Begins New Season

NEW YORK (UPI) — All winter long, Madison Square Garden was in the hands of well-meaning Philistines who permitted the great amphitheater to be corrupted by such barbarisms as basketball, boxing and hockey.

This is an annual dark age which descends upon the Garden and during the winter months, New Yorkers of taste and breeding never venture near the place, preferring to brood in silence and yearn patiently for a return to a culture with lofty values.

But Tuesday night — as is the case every spring — deliverance came in the form of John Ringling North and his multitude of circus performers: A joyous reminder that there still is something to be said for the old virtues.

This was the 94th annual production of the greatest show on earth and to make certain that none of the subtleties of Mr. North's spectacle was overlooked, this reporter brought along an accomplice—a young lady who, though she just recently celebrated her eighth birthday, knows a thing or two about circuses.

"I saw the Russian circus when it was here last fall, but I like ours a lot better," she said with unabashed patriotism.

"Why?" she was asked. "Cause it's bigger," she explained.

Big it is, and for nearly three hours, a near-capacity crowd was lavishly entertained by an unending procession of aerialists and clowns, jugglers and animal trainers; and of course the animals themselves, expertly trained beasts of all shapes and sizes, temperaments and talents.

But the young lady's pride in Mr. North's extravaganza certainly didn't blunt the severity of her critical judgment. She continually cast a discerning eye over all three rings and was quick to point out the occasional flaws as they occurred.

During one of the most difficult aerial acts, she exhorted: "Don't forget to write about how many times they fell into the net. They're not supposed to fall like that."

The young critic was not so tough on the animals. She liked all the animals, but "mostly the monkeys and tigers."

"Monkeys are easier to train than any other animals because they look the most like people," she explained.

As for the tigers, which looked properly menacing, she wondered if they were "related to my kitty. I have a kitty named Melvin."

"They're Melvin's cousins," she was told. "Distant cousins."

"Would Melvin have fun watching his cousins?" she asked.

"I imagine he might." She reflected on that a moment and then said: "Next year I think I'll bring Melvin to the circus. Melvin has never seen a circus and everybody should see a circus at least once."

And who could possibly argue with that?

The Smart Place To Go...

No Cabs, Police Car Answers An Urgent Call

By NICHOLAS C. CHRISS
United Press International
JACKSONVILLE, Fla.
(UPI) — Several hundred young Negroes stood on the street, some angry and some jovial. Nearby, the burned-out blackened hulk of a car still was smoking on the lawn of a Negro high school.
The nearest building that might have a telephone was St. Paul's AME Church in the Negro neighborhood still increased by a rock-throwing battle between the Negro students and police.

I left the police and began walking to the church in hopes of finding a telephone.
"Wait man, tell them we're just beginning," shouted a young Negro following close behind.
"There ain't no telephone around here," a girl shouted.
"Ya'll stand back now," cried out an elderly Negro man who pressed his way through the crowd of youngsters. "Try across the street," he said, pointing to a restaurant.

The restaurant was locked.
A laundry next door had no phone.
"Hey, white man," a Negro youth shouted again. "You better get the — out of here before something — bad happens to you."

I returned to the school yard and entered the Stanton High School building which had now been cleared of most of the crowd.
Principal Charles Brooks
directed me to a telephone.
After I had completed two calls I left the building and went back to the street to hitch a ride to the police station with a patrol car.
The demonstrations were over and the police and other white newsmen had left.

Brooks came out and took me by the arm. "Don't stay out here. It's too dangerous," he said.
I called a cab company.
They said they couldn't send any cabs into the Negro area.
"Why don't you call the police. They'll give you a ride," Brooks said.
I did, and within 10 minutes up drove Capt. J. B.

Mashburn.
"Hop in," he said. The police car moved two blocks and stopped near a group of elderly Negro men.
"Preachers," Mashburn
said.
"Howdy, gentlemen, how's it going," Mashburn asked them. Mashburn drove to a police substation where we talked to Negro patrolmen.
"They are good men, real policemen," the captain said.

We drove to the police station near a Negro and white fringe neighborhood.
The palm tree-lined streets were quiet and in the sunshine Negro and white children played games on the sidewalks.

'5-Day Plan To Stop Smoking' Coming Here

The famous "Five Day Plan to Stop Smoking," a unique and successful way to kick the tobacco habit, and already used by thousands in the United States and Canada, is coming to Sanford.
R.L. Mathews, pastor of the local Seventh-day Adventist Church that sponsors the plan and John G. Marsh M.D. will be co-directors of the group therapy clinic.
The Five Day Plan is not a religious program. The plan features both a psychological and physical approach designed to conquer the habit in five days. It is a free public service to our community.
The clinic will begin Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the Assembly room of the Health Department Building, French Avenue and Ninth Street. The size of the class is limited and reservations will be accepted on a first come first served basis and must be received before Friday noon, March 27. Call 322-3020 before Friday noon. The course ends Thursday night.

Sorority Sponsors Oriental Party

"Shangri La" was the theme of the Oriental Party held Saturday evening for members of Theta Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and their husbands. The Policemen's Benevolent Association building was transformed into a beautiful Oriental garden, complete with a flower laden bridge over a pond of sparkling water. The party rooms were decorated throughout with pink cherry blossom trees, hanging lanterns, an illuminated red and white screens.

For appetizers, miniature shashabobs were cooked to each one's individual taste over habachis placed on the snack tables.

The buffet tables were galley decorated with authentic Japanese figurines and branches of gum drop trees. The menu consisted of chicken chow mein, rice and noodles, casseroles, assorted salads, hot rolls, fortune cookies and fudge cake. "Gehaha" girls, in colorful attire, served the guests.

Although each couple came dressed in appropriate Oriental costume, one outstanding couple was Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rivero, who wore colorful authentic costumes from Japan. Mrs. Rivero even wore the "getas," which are Japanese wooden sandals.

Party games and dancing were enjoyed throughout the evening. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Al Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cahill, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Peacock, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Dekle, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Bahannon, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rivero, Mr. and Mrs.

Bob McKee, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Starna Bolle, Rusbees and their husbands attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles

Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kuhlke, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Dennison.

Reasons For Gardenia Buds Dropping

If you find most of your gardenia buds on the ground instead of on the shrub, then you have a problem common with many people, says horticulturist Charles Conover with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

One of the main reasons for premature flower bud drop is root injury, which may occur as a result of nematode infestation, poor watering practices, poorly drained soils, excessive fertilization, or mechanical injury. Other reasons are insects and weather.

For example, insects often chew on the succulent flower buds. Two of the most common are thrips and aphids, which are very small and may go undetected until considerable damage to the bud has been inflicted. Conover recommends a phosphatic insecticide such as malathion, but cautions against improper use since such insecticides sometimes cause damage on certain varieties of gardenia.

For more information in diagnosing the cause of bud drop on your gardenias, contact a reputable nurseryman or your county agent.

New Officers Elected By Oviedo Garden Club

By Bernice Kelsey
The Oviedo Garden Club met recently at the home of Mrs. M. L. Gary, with Ruth Davidson as co-hostess. Each member present spoke briefly of some outstanding tree or plant they were enjoying this time of year.

Election of officers was held and the ladies who will be installed at the May meeting for 1964 are Mrs. J. R. Battle, president; Mrs. Charley Niblack, vice president; Mrs. Lynn Mosler, secretary; and Mrs. C. R. Miller, treasurer.

Various committee chairmen gave their reports following the treasurer's report. High light of the program was a film festival presented by Mrs. W. H. Martin of her trip to Hawaii last summer. The films began from the time the Martins left town until their arrival back. The ornate French Gardens of Disneyland were featured along with colorful slides of scenic Hawaii. Mrs. Martin was dressed in an elegant sheath of Hawaiian design, and wearing a lei, which she created from azalea blossoms. She also placed a lei around Mrs. Gary's neck.

The hostesses presented Mrs. Martin with a Gloxinia plant in warm appreciation of her avid interest in the club.

Seminole Chapter OES Meeting Held

At a recent meeting of Seminole Chapter No. 2, Order of Eastern Star, Mrs. L. E. Estes, Worthy Matron, with the assistance of Mrs. J. J. Nicholson Jr., Associate Matron, Mrs. Charles B. Cole, Marshal and the five Star Officers gave a very inspirational Easter program.

Mrs. Nicholson placed a tall lighted white candle on the altar. Each Star officer in turn lit their small white taper from the candle on the altar and gave appropriate praise to the life of Jesus. The lights were turned low while Mrs. Joe L. Corley sang "In The Cross of Christ," accompanied by Mrs. Jos. Leinhart at the piano.

The Marshal lit her small white taper from the large one on the altar and lighted the taper by the open Bible in the East and all other tapers in the chapter room.

A memorial was read and the charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Florence Snider who had been a member of the Eastern Star for many years. After the charter was draped Mrs. Corley sang "Sunrise."

There were 4 members and visitors attending the meeting. Mrs. Charles B. Cole was the only substituting officer. Mrs. Cole substituted as Marshal.

SS Golden Circle Class Has Supper

The Golden Circle Class of the First Baptist Church met at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Hodges last Tuesday evening for their regular monthly meeting with eleven members present. A St. Patrick's Day supper consisting of Irish stew, salads, hot breads, and choice desserts was served by the hostess, with her husband, "Bobby," assisting. The tables were decorated in an attractive traditional manner, including place cards. Mrs. M.N. Cleveland, teacher of the class, opened the meeting with the invocation, and later told an Easter Story, "The Carpenter," by Peter Marshall. Mrs. Dorothy Stapleton, devotional chairman, presented an inspiring message, using "Faith" as her topic. Sentences prayers followed. The class president, Mrs. Hodges, presented over the brief business meeting. Various reports were given, and a love offering was taken. The meeting was concluded with several piano selections furnished by the talented daughters of the Hodges', Ginger and Robin. Others attending were Misses. Vernon Hardin, Ed Alderman, Bill Johns Jr., Richard Copeland, Carlton Henley, Charlie Thomas, Dan Batten, and Miss Martha Grogan.

On Thursday April 9, all parents are asked to bring their children. Please bring the child's birth certificate. However, if the child doesn't have his birth certificate, bring him any way. Physical examinations will be given also.

O. T. Brown and Isaac Singletary were weekend visitors to our city. Former residents of this city, they reside in Rochester, N. Y.

St. Paul Baptist Church hosted the United Organizational Candlelight Program Sunday. It was for the benefit of the St. Paul Gospel Choir. The audience received a wonderful treat of music. The program was sponsored by the Young Community Club.

GLENDIA CARR

Glenda Jean Carr, a seventh grade student at Crooms High School, composed a poem in memory of the late President John F. Kennedy. She sent it to Mrs. Jacquelyn Kennedy, and the former First Lady sent a thank you card. "I am most thrilled over receiving the card," she said. Mrs. Katie B. Sandifer, her homeroom teacher, said "She loves to write poems." Congratulations, Glenda Jean, and keep writing. Could be your best talent.

The Crooms High School Band attained ratings of good and excellent at the District Festival in Titusville Saturday. Barbara Givens, Nelwyn Henderson, Shirley Barrington, and Devoria McNeely rated superior in solos and ensembles. They will attend the State Band Festival in Jacksonville next month. Bruce Johnson, band director, will accompany them.

Members of Troops No. 264 and No. 268 attended the Girl Scout Week program at the Civic Center. Girl Scouts of troop No. 264 attending were: Eleanor Hardy, Dora Peoples, Marvina Kates, Mattie Harden, Shirley Guy, and leader Mrs. Ruth Church. We are inviting all girls, ages 9-17 to join the troop of your choice.

Lawyer-Doctor Takes Ruby Defense

DALLAS (UPI) — The revolving-door job of chief defense attorney for condemned killer Jack Ruby, held previously by two flashy courtroom performers, wound up in the hands of a bespectacled college professor today.

He is Dr. Hubert Winston Smith, director of the Law Science Academy at the University of Texas, who holds both a law degree and a medical degree from Harvard University.

His hiring was announced by Ruby's sister, Mrs. Eva Grant, at a press conference Tuesday night.

Smith said he will serve without fee.

Working as his assistant, also without fee, will be Prof. Charles Wright, a colleague at the university. Defense attorneys Phil Burleson of Dallas and Joe Tonahill of Jasper, Tex., will remain on the case.

Smith replaced famed Texas criminal attorney Percy Foreman of Houston who quit the case Monday in a dispute with Mrs. Grant. He said she was trying to run the defense. Bell was fired by Ruby for denouncing Dallas and the trial court in a wild tirade after Ruby was given the death sentence.

Mrs. Grant Tuesday night complained about Foreman's charges and said he had "stood me up" for a breakfast date they had to discuss his contract to try to save Ruby from the electric chair.

She said the contract Foreman presented the family "made me sick," but that Ruby seemed "very pleased" with the hiring of Smith.

Tonahill said the motion already filed for a new trial "only scratched the surface," and a new motion would be presented within 17 days.

Smith said he plans to ask to have Ruby taken to some hospital, perhaps the Austin

State Hospital at Austin, Tex., for medical tests.

Smith said he anticipated introducing new evidence into the case within 30 days, probably sooner.

"Holding a Candle" The expression "can't hold a candle to you" alludes to the typical apprentice or boy servant in England who was given the task of holding a candle while his master read books.

Long Way From Well

The social dislocations caused by the automation revolution are going to get a lot worse before they get better.

According to Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, machines are taking the place of about 4,000 workers every 24 hours. Though the effects are severest in the unskilled worker category, they are by no means confined to it.

Neither are the effects confined to any one age bracket, which is one reason why there can be no all-embracing solution to the problem. There will have to be a number of "solutions" and the field is wide open for suggestions.

Wirtz, himself, looking at the near side of the age spectrum, recently came out in favor of raising the compulsory school age limit to 18 and for providing two extra years of free public education beyond high school.

This, he said, would have the immediate effect of reducing by a couple million the number of job occupants or job seekers. More importantly, its long-range effect would be the upgrading of the work skills and employment potentials of these youths.

A more general "solution" has been recommended by Edwin F. Shelley, director of the National Council on the Aging. Under his plan of "earned educational leave," workers would be withdrawn from the labor force every year and sent back to school, while still drawing their pay.

If unemployment equaled, say, 5 per cent of the labor force, 5 per cent of the employed workers would take their leave each year. If unemployment were 10 per cent, then 10 per cent of those working would be removed from the rolls.

"This," says Shelley, "would leave job openings across the board for the unemployed to fill."

The next year, the workers returning from leave supposedly would fill the void left by another crop of furloughed workers.

Obviously, this "solution" would be ideal if all jobs were the same and the only problem was that of shifting the troops. Unfortunately, it is not that simple.

Both "solutions" rely on the magic power of education and the fact that much unemployment is of the so-called "structural" type. That is, there are jobs available, but unemployed workers either don't possess the skills necessary to fill them, or the available jobs are in one location and the unemployed in another.

At present, education is undoubtedly the best answer to the challenge of automation. What will happen when machines begin decimating the ranks of management and brain workers, no one can say.

We can only try to solve those ills we have, rather than look ahead to others we know not of.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Communist Committee. He goes to dances and even plays dominoes with the kids.

His young wife also wastes no time. The girls come to her to do dressmaking and obtain her advice on intimate questions. Even Young Communist League member Yury Efimov succumbed and baptized his child.

To meet the problem, Khrushchev has ordered another drive against religion. He has decreed establishment of an "Institute for Scientific Atheism" and reorganization of the national Soviet network for promoting atheism. Beginning with the 1964-65 year, every student in universities specializing in medicine, agriculture and education will be required to take a course and pass an examination in "The Basics of Scientific Atheism." New courses on atheism will be introduced into elementary schools.

Teaching of atheism will be "modernized." Night classes are being organized.

Government agencies, the press and radio have been told to set up programs for pushing atheistic thinking. Party workers are being given more rigorous training in how to discourage religion.

American analysts think this antireligious drive will boom. With scientists, intellectuals and students already questioning Communist tenets, public antireligious debate probably will raise the intensity of their soul-searching.

This questioning by scientists, intellectuals and youth as of now is immature, disorganized and nebulous. But U. S. analysts see in it the beginning of something that could eventually weaken Russian communism from within.

Q's and A's

Q—What percentage of human blood is made up of cells?
A—Almost half the blood is made up of cells. Blood cells are so small that 60,000 of them could be put on the head of a pin.

Q—How does the scarlet pimpernel relate to weather?
A—It is supposed to close its petals at the approach of rain. This flower has been called the "peasant's weather glass" or the "poor man's warning."

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE S-421: Nora Q., aged 22, is a school teacher.

"But, Dr. Crane," her mother protested, "Nora is almost sick with constant fear of germs."

"She washes her hands all the time. As a result her fingers are raw, even though she employs mild soaps."

"She is also obsessed with worry about having strangers enter the house."

"She grows agitated while they are here and as soon as they leave, she insists on going over the furniture with rubbing alcohol or even lysol."

"When I protest, she even cries and says she doesn't know why she has this constant obsession about germs."

"She says she'd like to get over it but she doesn't know how. What would you suggest?"

"This is a common obsession of cultured people who have a sexual guilt complex."

Reasonable cleanliness is natural and desirable in modern society but when patients go to such extremes as Nora, you can begin to suspect an ulterior reason.

You may remember that Lady Macbeth also had an excessive handwashing obsession.

She felt guilty of murder, so she was frenzied in her constant attempts to wash out the imagined blood spots on her hands.

For the excessive washing of one's hands has long been symbolical of an attempt to erase guilt.

Thus, you Bible scholars will recall that Pontius Pilate admitted Christ's innocence, yet sent him to his death on the cross.

But in plain sight of the courtroom mob, he then asked for a bowl of water, so he could show the crowd that he was washing his hands of any guilt.

So what would an attractive young woman like Nora have on her conscience?

What supposedly sinful act would be linked with her fingers and thus impel her to wash them constantly in a vain attempt at atonement?

If you have read this clinical column very long, you can make a shrewd guess.

Hail The One Percenters

Clevelanders, who pioneered the Community chest concept, are hoping that another of their ideas will be as universally copied around the nation.

This is the One Percent Plan, launched in 1960, under which business pledge one per cent of their annual income before taxes to the support of local institutions of higher learning.

Actually, the average donation of the 32 companies in the plan last year was 1.14 per cent.

The idea has now leaped across a couple of state lines to Rochester, N.Y., where the Xerox Corp. has joined the cause. The company's pledge will mean about $400,000 given yearly to schools in the Rochester area.

It will be surprising if One Percent clubs do not begin springing up all over the country. It is not only good public relations but good investment, for firms will one day be hiring some of the young people they are now helping to educate.

It is also good citizenship. The nation needs thriving private schools as well as public ones. The One Percenters are simply taking the initiative and spending a few of their tax dollars where they want them spent before the government gets hold of them.

Thought For Today

If a man love me, he will keep my words; and my father will love him, and we will come unto him and make our abode with him. — John 14:23.

From the greatest minds to the most ignorant among men, people are people. In the darkest continent the greatest need is a knowledge of God. In the most enlightened society and culture, the need is the same to know God. We think harshly of the savage of dark continents for their primitive ways. Yet, some of our countrymen are just as primitive. The Holy Scriptures at work in man — is the answer a better world. — Rev. Robert L. Strickland, Jr., Pastor, Church of God Prophecy, Sanford.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As has often been noted, the statements and comments from baseball spring training camps have a lot of the airiness and charm of pure fantasy.

This is particularly true of the statements and comments emerging from the training camp of the Washington Senators, where there is talk once again of rising from the American League cellar.

My reading of the sports pages recently started me wondering what it would be

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who used to arrive on my doorstep daily for a two-hour coffee break. I finally had to tell her that I didn't have the time for it. She is the sensitive type who is easily hurt, so, ever since then, she has acted very cool towards me, and hardly speaks. I must admit that I enjoy the freedom from these coffee breaks, and therefore hesitate to revive our friendship. However, our children play together and I would rather be on friendly terms with her. How can I accomplish this without getting back on those two-hour coffee breaks?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: You can't leave well enough alone. You don't know when you are well off.

DEAR ABBY: A second man has entered my life. I am a church woman, but if you will let me explain, perhaps you will find some compassion for me. I think it was his eyes that first breached my reserve. A lily white, beautiful, they sometimes appear gray and turbulent, like mountain lakes whipped to anger by a passing storm. His hair, rivaling the beauty of his eyes, has the windblown freshness of the open field. His physique is as perfect as his smile is disarming. And when he looks into my eyes, as he did tonight, I can see no end to this relationship. You see, Abby, he is my grandson, just one year old, and this is his first visit to our home. Aren't some women just plain—

LUCKY?

DEAR LUCKY: Yes, and I was getting ready to reply, "It will never work, forget him."

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who says, "I am going to GET a bath." I keep telling him that he should say, "I am going to TAKE a bath." Who is right?

FASSIO

DEAR FASSIO: One who bathes himself TAKES a bath. If he is given a bath by someone else, he GETS a bath. Unless your friend is at an age where his mother is still bathing him, he is all wet.

CONFIDENTIAL TO BETSY AT LOCKHEED: I think you are wise to wait. A man who has been divorced three times is a very, very poor risk.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3888, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

"You cannot fill your life with prefabricated entertainment to fill the hours when you are not working and still remain a human being."

The woman who made that statement is Dr. Dorothy Lee, author and former Harvard University anthropology professor.

How about your own family? Are your evenings and weekends filled with "prefabricated entertainment"?

—Does the family sit for hours before the television set, watching one time-skilling program after another? —Are evenings out usually spent going to movies? —When it comes to sports, are you watchers, instead of doers?

These are important questions, because a husband and wife who have no creative hobbies, who depend on "made" entertainment to fill their leisure hours, who aren't interested in making education a lifelong pursuit are in for a pretty dull existence. And the children brought up in such a home are bound to be bored, restless and mentally undernourished.

There are so many things today that families can do together, so many challenging and interesting ways they can spend their leisure, that it is a pity so many families do rely almost entirely on prefabricated entertainment to fill their nonworking hours.

Why not, for one month, try to do something that is new, that is different, that is yours? These are important questions, because a husband and wife who have no creative hobbies, who depend on "made" entertainment to fill

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

Science is a fine thing for scientists. Usually it is a fine thing for bridge players, but on occasion the most scientific way to bid a hand is to slam-bang your way into a slam.

When the student held the North hand in the weekly duplicate he bid as shown in the box and was very proud of his accomplishment. His bid of three clubs followed by the jump to five spades had clearly told South to go to six with second round heart control and had suggested seven if South could handle the first heart lead.

It had also told West exactly what suit to open and West's heart opening had given of his bidding when he noted that the professor's partner had played six spades and made seven.

"How did you get to six?" asked the student. "And how did you stop a heart lead?"

"It was easy enough to get to six," replied the professor. "I opened one diamond. My partner responded one spade. I jumped to six."

He continued with: "I did nothing to encourage or discourage a heart lead. Instead, I gave West full freedom of choice. He was just as likely to open a club as a heart and might even have led a diamond or a trump. Actually he had a rather normal club opening and made it."

Mothers Honor Sanford Woman

Mrs. Geneva Whitehead Park, wife of Dr. Charles L. Park Sr., a Sanford physician, has been selected one of Florida's 18 outstanding mothers by the state chapter of the American Mothers Committee.

The announcement was made today by Mrs. E. C. Williams of the Sanford Story League, the organization which nominated Mrs. Park for the honor.

Mrs. Park will be among the 18 nominees for the Florida Mother-of-the-Year Award to be conferred during a meeting in the Capitol's House of Representatives Chamber in Tallahassee, 8 p. m., April 2.

Mrs. Park will join the other nominees and Mrs. Farris Bryant in a receiving line. The nominees will be recognized by Supreme Court Justice Richard Erwin. Music for the occasion will be provided by a group from Florida State University.

Gov. Wallace No Joke, Says Demo Leader

By United Press International
Alabama Gov. Wallace's efforts to win votes in Wisconsin's Democratic primary drew political attention away from the West Coast Monday.

Wallace made another foray into the Midwestern state seeking support in Wisconsin's April 7 presidential primary. Democratic "truth squads" were expected to dog the segregationist governor wherever he went in an effort to offset any votes he may be able to garner.

Wisconsin Democrats led by Gov. John Reynolds warned party members that Wallace "must not be looked upon as a joke." A substantial vote for the Alabama leader, Reynolds said, would "give heart to the hatemongers from coast to coast."

Skin Disease Study Fails To Solve Mystery

By Debra Smith
UPI Science Editor

NEW YORK — A newly written "natural history" of the itchy skin disease which is connected somehow with allergies, although medical science doesn't know just how, offered little hope to its many victims. And it only accentuated its mysteries.

The average duration among long-term victims who provided facts for this "natural history" was about 30 years. The longest single duration among them was 63 years. The disease is "atopic dermatitis." It is an on-and-off itches and is believed due to deep-down allergic reactions.

Among the now historical victims 55 percent were also given to asthma, hay fever, and allergic rhinitis which is a runny nose not caused by the common cold. All this emphasized its connections to the generalized allergic state called "atopy."

In 65 percent there was a family background of atopy. On the other hand the attacks of itches were brought on most frequently by nervous tension and fatigue in 80 percent. This gave some support to a psychiatric theory that it has some connection with unconscious emotional conflicts.

Furthermore, many of the victims found relaxation and release of tension the most effective remedy. But avoiding the substances to which they were allergic was also effective.

The history-takers were Drs. Harry L. Roth and Robert R. Kierland of the Mayo Clinic and Foundation of Rochester, Minn. They reported to a technical organ of the American Medical Association.

They questioned 492 persons who were treated for atopic dermatitis in the Mayo Clinic 20 years ago to find out how they had fared meanwhile. They were divided between "severe" cases this no-disease-now rate was 29 percent.

Cataracts and pneumonia sometimes are associated with atopic dermatitis. Roth and Kierland found the rate that could be expected was 4 percent for the "mild" and 23 percent for the "severe" as regards cataracts and 13 percent for pneumonia.

Admiring Mob Injures Liz

BOSTON (UPI)—Improper Bostonians have given Liz Taylor and Richard Burton anything but a proper reception.

"My wife was almost killed!" Burton thundered, trembling with rage.

One thousand shouting, clawing admirers swarmed the newlywed stars in the lobby of the usually staid Sheraton Plaza Hotel Sunday night tearing at their hair and clothing for souvenirs.

Miss Taylor suffered back and arm injuries. She was treated by a doctor, given a sedative and put to bed in a plush suite once used by the late President Kennedy, former President Eisenhower and other notables.

Union Official, 3 Others Held In Bomb Plot

MIAMI (UPI) — A railroad union official and 10-year employee of the Florida East Coast Railway was arrested Wednesday and charged with setting a 50-pound dynamite bomb trap on a track south of Vero Beach March 12.

Three other men were arrested within hours after the dynamite bomb was rigged under the noses of FBI agents who had staked out the tracks on a tip from an informer. But a fourth man escaped, agents said.

John Katsikas, 40, recording secretary for Local 555 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Car Men at Miami, was apparently the fourth man.

Katsikas was charged both with conspiracy to set the dynamite trap and with actually placing the bomb on the railroad trestle spanning a canal south of Vero Beach.

After FBI agents watched the bomb being set from their hiding places near the trestle, they said they followed Joseph Leo Vetter of Miami and John Wesley into Fort Pierce and arrested them. The next day, Hugh Winn of Miami was arrested.

All three were former FEC employees and members of operating railroad unions. They are awaiting trial on federal train wreck charges under $50,000 bond each.

Agents said Katsikas, a native of Cleveland, Ohio, was formerly employed by the sabotage-plagued FEC for 10 years as a car inspector.

He lost his FEC job after the carrier was struck (Jan. 23, 1963) by members of 11 non-operating unions. The operating unions, including the Brotherhood of Railroad Car Men, have refused to cross the picket lines set up by the non-operating unions.

Ladies Day Held By Coffee Club
Eighty business women, plus some 25 men, members of the Sanford business community, were honored this morning at a Coffee Club meeting of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce in the USO lounge.

Registrar Camil Bruce will have her office in the courthouse open from 9 to noon Saturday for the benefit of county residents wishing to register in order to vote in the May 5 primary.

WID MATTHEWS, administrative assistant to George Weiss, general manager of the New York Mets, and Joe McDonald, (right) camp supervisor, discuss progress being made at Sanford's Memorial Stadium where the eastern section of the Met's farm system is engaged in spring training activities.

Meany Assails LBJ Wage-Price Guidelines

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI) — AFL-CIO President George Meany assailed President Lyndon B. Johnson's wage-price guidelines today and said they could lead to government control of the economy.

Meany challenged the guidelines in a speech to the United Auto Workers convention which heard them reaffirmed Monday by President Johnson.

The leader of the giant labor federation said he would ask the AFL-CIO to take a strong stand against the White House position that wages should not exceed increases in productivity.

"If we go down this road far enough, it leads to the end of free collective bargaining," Meany said. "As far as I am concerned, I don't propose that labor at any time agree to go down this road."

Meany said that the government would have to propose guidelines for executive salaries, stockholders' dividends and corporation cash reserves once it gets into the wage-price field.

He said it would be the first step toward government control of industry.

Spring Training For Met Teams Begins

By Julian Stenstrom
With 61 young ball players on hand Wednesday and more expected today and Friday, the eastern division of the New York Met farm system began spring training at Sanford's Memorial Stadium.

Joe McDonald, camp supervisor, said that the initial workout went off in a more than satisfactory manner when camp officials, managers and scouts expressed surprise at the excellent physical condition of the athletes and the progress displayed at the plate by most of the players during a spirited batting drill.

McDonald said that sometime next week more players are expected to arrive. "This will be the result of the parent club cutting back personnel and sending them to the Buffalo Bisons of the International League. The Bisons, in turn, will cut players and send them to Sanford," he explained.

Arriving last night was Clyde McCullough, former catcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Chicago Cubs, who has been named to manage the Mets' Auburn (N. Y.) farm club in the New York-Pennsylvania League. McCullough has also been a coach with the Minnesota Twins of the American League.

Until his arrival here, McCullough has been coaching for the parent Mets club, serving under Manager Casey Stengel, Sheriff Robinson, originally assigned to manage Auburn, has been named a coach for Stengel's club.

McDonald also announced this morning that two more scouts had arrived and will serve as instructors during the training period. They are Len Zank and Lloyd Gearhart. Zank and Gearhart are in the Connecticut-Rhode Island area.

Met officials are well pleased with the facilities here, McDonald reported. "The layout at Memorial Stadium is just great," said McDonald, and "we're happy with the facilities and particularly the weather."

Leaders Hail Decision To Keep Big Facility

By Fred Van Pelt

Fall of gloom which hung over Seminole County's economy during the last 10 days to two weeks, because of persistent rumors, was quickly dispelled Wednesday afternoon with the announcement by the Navy, sanctioned by the Pentagon, that operations will continue as planned at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Over and above the pleasant personal relationship which exists between the Navy personnel assigned to SNAS and the civilian population, there is the selfish point-of-view: Seminole County's economy. While the continuation of the Navy base does not necessarily mean a boost in the economy at this time, it does mean that the county will not face a "financial bust" with the closing of the facility.

More than 3,000 persons—mostly military—derive their livelihood at Sanford Naval Air Station. This means a monthly payroll of more than $1 million. And most of this is spent or invested in Seminole County.

These base personnel own an estimated 500 homes in the county, which would soon be vacated should the base be closed.

But, happily, the payroll will continue and the homes will be occupied by the Navy friends.

Navy's decision to continue Sanford Naval Air Station, and not consolidate its operations with those of Naval Air Station, Cecil Field, Jacksonville, at that facility, was announced Wednesday afternoon following a conference in Sen. Spessard Holland's Washington office, attended by Senator Holland, representatives of Sen. George Smathers and Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr.; high ranking Navy officers, and State Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr., John Krieger and Randall Chase, of the armed forces committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Sen. Cleveland, chairman of the Chamber's armed forces committee, this morning released the following statement on his return to Sanford from Washington:

"On behalf of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce armed forces committee, we want to express our sincere gratitude to all the individuals, city and county government officials and civic leaders for their outstanding efforts in the successful drive to keep and expand our Naval Air Station.

"We cannot over-emphasize the all-out support of the wonderful folks stationed at NAS. The entire effort is another example of unity, with everyone joining the team.

"When called on to help, Senator Holland was magnificent, with complete support from Senator Smathers, Congressman Herlong, and the entire Florida Congressional delegation.

"The story would not be complete or the successful conclusion possible without mentioning the whole-hearted cooperation of the press."

Howard H. Hodges, president of Sanford Atlantic National Bank, had this to say this morning:

"The fact that Sanford's principal industry, its largest payroll is to continue in its vital role here undoubtedly is a source of consolation to everyone who is interested in our continuing progress.

"While the economic support to our area is very important, most of us are very conscious and most appreciative of the other outstanding contributions made by our friends at SNAS. They are active workers in our churches, schools, welfare and charity groups and do outstanding jobs, not only as contributors to the highly efficient Navy base, but as citizens who are boosting the vitality of our entire community.

"The essentiality of our Navy base to our city—to Central Florida, as a matter of fact—cannot be over-emphasized."

State Rep. S. J. (Joe) Davis Jr. remarked: "Sanford Naval Air Station is an important factor to the economic picture of Seminole County. Retaining this facility will maintain the economic stability in the county. In addition to this factor, the Navy station makes us aware of the national defense program of this country. It also brings many fine, talented men and women who add to and contribute to the leadership of the civic, cultural and social environment of the community."

Run On Silver Dollars Spiked

WASHINGTON (UPI) — From now on the Treasury will redeem paper dollars only in silver bullion or silver dust.

Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon called a halt to the great silver dollar raid Wednesday with an announcement that the Treasury no longer will exchange silver certificates for silver dollars.

Dillon said that the recent run on silver dollars at the Treasury had reduced the stock to about 2 million. Since virtually all these would be of value to coin collectors, he said, it would not be possible to distribute them equitably.

Leaders Hail Decision To Keep Big Facility

"The effect of Sanford Naval Air Station on the economy of Sanford had been most forcefully brought home to me by the obvious reluctance of businessmen to go ahead with expansion plans and merchandising plans during that period of uncertainty about the permanency of the installation.

"As it now stands to have an uplift of spirit today after the announcement and I think we will see the pleasant effect of it in the very near future."

Karlyle Housholder, president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, released this statement:

"Needless to say I am most happy with the decision of the officials in Washington to keep the Sanford Naval Air Station in operation and I believe we all realize that if our Navy base was to be moved it would have a disastrous effect on the economy of our county, which would take years of hard work to overcome.

"As it now stands, we will maintain our economic level in relation with the Navy base and we can have high hopes that the operation of the base will expand so that it will mean even more to our general economy."

State Rep. Jan Fortune said: "It was a terrific job (keeping the base in operation). The people who brought it about are to be sincerely congratulated and the county owes them a great debt of gratitude."

George Touhy, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association, stated:

"The fact that Sanford's principal industry, its largest payroll is to continue in its vital role here undoubtedly is a source of consolation to everyone who is interested in our continuing progress.

"While the economic support to our area is very important, most of us are very conscious and most appreciative of the other outstanding contributions made by our friends at SNAS. They are active workers in our churches, schools, welfare and charity groups and do outstanding jobs, not only as contributors to the highly efficient Navy base, but as citizens who are boosting the vitality of our entire community.

"The essentiality of our Navy base to our city—to Central Florida, as a matter of fact—cannot be over-emphasized."

State Rep. S. J. (Joe) Davis Jr. remarked: "Sanford Naval Air Station is an important factor to the economic picture of Seminole County. Retaining this facility will maintain the economic stability in the county. In addition to this factor, the Navy station makes us aware of the national defense program of this country. It also brings many fine, talented men and women who add to and contribute to the leadership of the civic, cultural and social environment of the community."

Senate Votes To Take Up Civil Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate, after almost three weeks of Southern opposition, voted to take up the House-passed civil rights bill. It then moved into a second test over sending it to committee.

The vote to take up the bill was, as expected, one-sided—67 to 17.

Senate leaders were confident they could defeat Sen. Wayne Morse's motion to send the measure to the Judiciary Committee for 10 days. But the Oregon Democrat, backed by Senate GOP Leader Everett Dirksen, Ill., argued strongly that the Senate—and the courts—are entitled to full committee consideration of the bill.

The Senate wasted no time voting on the long-pending motion to take up the bill. It started voting 21 minutes after it opened a 9 a. m. session. Senators were racing to get away for a three-day Easter weekend.

Adoption of the first motion was a forgone conclusion. Southern senators led by Sen. Richard B. Russell, (D-Ga.), did not even make any closing arguments after 16 days of talk on Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield's move to formally consider the legislation. Neither did Mansfield, Dirksen, who has drafted major amendments to two sections of the bill, suggested changes of some degree to virtually the entire bill.

In a speech prepared to support Morse's committee referral motion, Dirksen spelled out in detail his proposed revision to the bill's section on banning job discrimination against Negroes or other minority groups. He skipped his proposed amendment to the public accommodations section. He plans to spell out these details later.
